However, these matters will not be elaborated on; the main purpose is to explain the background of the story and so on...

179: Qi and blood golden elixir, soul power core, spiritual spirit

Spirit City.

Supreme Pontiff Palace.

Hu Liena, Xie Yue, and Yan were reporting to Bibi Dong about their recent hunt for The Fallen.

"So the Heaven Dou Royal Academy got the first pick? With him there, it's understandable that you couldn't compare," Bibi Dong said with a chuckle, as if she had thought of something. "It seems that little fellow hopes to defeat the Spirit Hall Team in the All-Continent Advanced Soul Master Academy Elite Tournament and become famous in one fell swoop."

"May I ask, Supreme Pontiff, who are you referring to?" Yan asked respectfully, bowing his body.

"You don't know?" Bibi Dong was surprised. "Didn't you ask who was on the Heaven Dou Royal Battle Team?"

"Uh... we set off immediately after arriving, and it was over in almost just one day." Time was too tight, and Yan indeed didn't know who the new members of the Heaven Dou Royal Battle Team were.

"Tang San, he's the captain of the Heaven Dou Royal First Team." Hu Liena, however, thought of something, her eyes burning. "That Martial Soul Theory Master!"

"What? It's him!" Yan was greatly startled, then immediately realized he was in the Supreme Pontiff Palace and hastily begged Bibi Dong for forgiveness.

"No matter." Bibi Dong didn't mind. Her gaze towards Hu Liena was filled with satisfaction. "That's right, it's him, Tang San. His Spirit is Blue Silver Grass, possibly mutated. His innate spirit power was rank six, but now, at the age of thirteen, he has become a Spirit King."

"Spirit King! Thirteen years old!"

The three looked at each other, their eyes full of disbelief.

What kind of monster is this?

"Currently, I only know that he has become a Spirit King. His Fifth Spirit Ability is still unknown, as he has never revealed it. He probably hopes to give everyone a surprise at next year's All-Continent tournament." Bibi Dong was also curious about Tang San's Fifth Spirit Ability. "I estimate it to be around fifty thousand years."

Fifty thousand years!

Hu Liena and the others were shocked.

According to the theory published by Tang San, the lifespan a Spirit Master can withstand for a spirit ring is related to multiple factors: whether the Spirit Beast that dropped the spirit ring matches the type and attribute of the Spirit; the Spirit Master's own physical strength; the strength of the Spirit Master's mental force, and so on.

Among them, physical strength is the foundation for withstanding high-year spirit rings, and powerful mental force is the key to resisting the spiritual will of the Spirit Beast within high-year spirit rings.

And the compatibility between the spirit ring and the Spirit is the icing on the cake.

Before the effect of whale jelly was published by Tang San, for ordinary Spirit Masters, only the Spirit Douluo level could withstand a fifty-thousand-year spirit ring.

Even the Ninth Spirit Ability of some Titled Douluo was only fifty thousand years.

And Tang San's Fifth Spirit Ability has already reached the fifty-thousand-year level?

What terrifying physical strength!

"This is just my guess. The exact number of years is uncertain, but it's definitely over twenty thousand years." Bibi Dong said this because Hu Liena, Xie Yue, and Yan's Fifth Spirit Ability were all over twenty thousand years, between twenty thousand and thirty thousand years. As the one who published the effects of whale jelly, Tang San must have also consumed ten thousand year whale jelly.

"Teacher, my spirit power has already reached rank fifty-nine. Before the Spirit Master tournament begins, I plan to cultivate diligently and strive to raise my spirit power to rank sixty." Hu Liena's eyes were incredibly serious. "I hope my Sixth Spirit Ability can be from a fifty-thousand-year Spirit Beast."

In Hu Liena's opinion, Tang San joining the Heaven Dou Royal Academy would certainly lead him to formulate extremely rigorous tactics for the Heaven Dou Royal First Team. As the Martial Soul Theory Master who proposed the "analysis of the self-positioning of soul masters," competing with him in tactics would definitely not work.

As the Golden Generation of Spirit Hall, they could not lose, because they represented the honor and pride of Spirit Hall.

Therefore, they could only rely on stronger strength to crush the opponent!

Spirit Emperor!

That was the best guarantee!

"Alas, it's just that there's too little ten thousand year whale jelly on the Douluo Continent right now, and not much thousand-year whale jelly either.

Otherwise, perhaps your Fifth Spirit Ability could also reach fifty thousand years." Bibi Dong sighed, looking out of the Supreme Pontiff Palace, her gaze seemingly passing through the entire continent and falling upon the deep, mysterious ocean.

The resources in the ocean were far more abundant than on land.

It's just that they couldn't be developed yet.

Also, to develop the ocean, the place where the Sea God's faith resides: Sea God Island, is a big problem that also needs to be resolved first.

"I agree to your request." Bibi Dong smiled faintly. "As my disciple, a mere fifty-thousand-year spirit ring is well within your capacity to bear. And according to my estimation, when you reach rank eighty, you will be able to withstand a Ten-thousand year soul beast. At that time, I will personally take you to hunt a Ten-thousand year soul beast."

"Thank you, Teacher!"

Hu Liena was overjoyed. With the Supreme Pontiff's guarantee, her Eighth Spirit Ability could be of the ten-thousand-year level.

And Tang San?

Without the protection of a Titled Douluo-level existence, even if he could withstand a Ten-thousand year soul beast when he reached the Spirit Saint stage in the future, he wouldn't be able to hunt a Ten-thousand year soul beast and could only choose a Spirit Beast above fifty thousand years.

Unless he could join Spirit Hall and become a disciple of the Supreme Pontiff or one of the Elders in the Hall of Offerings.

"Oh, right, this is Tang San's new theory, related to Martial Soul Fusion Skill. It hasn't been published through the Wuhun News yet. Take a look; it might deepen the level of Martial Soul Fusion between you and Xie Yue." Bibi Dong remembered something and took out Tang San's "Three Major Classifications of Martial Soul Fusion Skill," "Distinction between Human and Martial Soul Primary and Secondary Roles"...

...

"Achoo!"

Tang San pinched his nose, feeling like someone was talking about him behind his back. "Who's badmouthing me again?"

Immediately, Tang San stopped thinking about it and took out the Silver Crystal Dragon Pattern Sword from his storage bracelet. He injected spirit power into it, and the dragon patterns within it began to circulate in a very peculiar way.

Using his Purple Demon Eye, Tang San memorized the energy circulation circuits within it. He then connected them with his Qi and Blood Golden Core, finding that Qi and Blood Golden Core was easier to control and could even be released from his body, solidifying into substance.

"The Jade Bone Golden Muscle Divine Treasure Method only develops an extremely strong physique. The five zang organs and five qi can protect oneself, and the six fu organs and six dao have the power to destroy, but the corresponding methods are somewhat lacking."

"Now, by utilizing the dragon patterns within this Silver Crystal Dragon Pattern Sword, I've developed a method for condensing and externalizing Qi and Blood Golden Core. This will give me more offensive options in the future."

"And based on the method of condensing a Soul Power Core, can I condense Qi and Blood Golden Core into a Qi and Blood Golden Core in my lower Dantian?"

Involuntarily, Tang San thought of this idea.

The human body has three treasures: essence, qi, and Spirit.

Essence can be Qi and Blood Golden Core; qi can be considered spirit power; Spirit can be mental force.

Condensing a Soul Power Core, while not increasing spirit power, can assist a Spirit Master in cultivating faster, improving the quality of their spirit power and their recovery speed.

If this is used as a foundation, is it feasible to condense the three treasures of essence, qi, and Spirit separately, and then construct energy circulation circuits for their mutual conversion?

Daoism speaks of refining essence into qi, refining qi into Spirit, and refining Spirit to return to emptiness.

In the Douluo Continent series, in the first part, the Qi and Blood Golden Core is still unclear because there are no clear examples. However, in "peerless tang sect," Huo Yuhao's First Soul Skill was to convert spirit power into mental force.

In this era of Douluo Continent, there are also Spirit Masters who specialize in mental force cultivation—Shi Nian of Canghui Academy.

spirit power can be converted into mental force, so Qi and Blood Golden Core can naturally also be converted into spirit power. As long as the conversion rate and efficiency between the three are found, and with Mysterious Heaven Skill as the foundation, by studying the different energy circulation methods of the three and integrating them, it might be possible to condense the three treasures of essence, qi, and Spirit into a core.

Thinking of this, Tang San immediately began to try, stirring up the Qi and Blood Golden Core within his body, circulating the spirit power in his Dantian, and condensing the mental force in his mind, combining them, and then—

"Pfft!"

He spat out a mouthful of blood, and Tang San's face turned pale. But with the release of his Blue Silver Emperor Martial Soul and the activation of his First Soul Skill Endless Recovery, his injuries quickly recovered.

This was also why Tang San dared to experiment on himself.

As long as he had a breath left, his First Soul Skill could restore all his injuries.

"The conversion between mental force and spirit power seems to have some direction, but the conversion between Qi and Blood Golden Core and spirit power creates a huge conflict, as if both are vying for control." Tang San frowned, touching the area three inches below his navel, where the spirit power cultivated by Mysterious Heaven Skill was condensed, and where Qi and Blood Golden Core was also condensed. "Can't one mountain hold two tigers?"

Involuntarily, Tang San thought of the concept of three Dantians.

The lower Dantian is the Guanyuan acupoint; the middle Dantian is the Tanzhong acupoint; the upper Dantian is the Yintang acupoint.

spirit power and Qi and Blood Golden Core are both in the Guanyuan acupoint, while mental force is stored in the Yintang acupoint. The Tanzhong acupoint is empty, though spirit power circulation passes through it.

"So, do I need to move either spirit power or Qi and Blood Golden Core to the Tanzhong acupoint?" Tang San first tried to move Qi and Blood Golden Core, and immediately his face turned red, as if his whole body was burning, so he quickly stopped.

Under the repair of the Endless Recovery Spirit Ability, he began to transfer the spirit power cultivated by Mysterious Heaven Skill again.

Buzz—

When the spirit power's main body transferred to the middle dantian, the qi and blood occupied the entire lower dantian, and a natural resonance occurred between the two. Subsequently, the mental force in the three dantians also joined the resonance.

Tang San's will entered his soul, allowing him to clearly see every circulatory system, every organ, every piece of tissue, and every cell in his body.

The physical body is the universe!

The soul is the Heavenly Dao!

This instant felt like a fleeting moment, yet also like eternity.

After Tang San opened his eyes, he felt as if he understood the mysteries of the entire universe, yet it also seemed like a hazy dream, understanding nothing, like a dream, an illusion, a bubble.

Upon re-examining his internal situation, the upper, middle, and lower dantians each contained condensed qi and blood power, spirit power, and mental force, respectively. Between the three, there was a natural method of conversion.

This was not the spirit power circulation cultivation of Mysterious Heaven Skill, but rather a natural rhythm, similar to instinctive breathing.

As long as Tang San was alive, the conversion between these three would not stop.

"A natural instinct?" Tang San mused, "However, in the future, I will still rely on methods like Mysterious Heaven Skill and Soul Core condensation to research more complete energy conversion, circulation patterns, and circuits."

"Speaking of which, wasn't I supposed to be researching Spirit? How did I end up on a path similar to cultivation?"

Stretching, Tang San rose from his seat, left the study, and prepared to find Huo Wu, Yu Tianheng, and others.

After all, he had promised them that he would help them develop their own self-created Spirit Abilities.

Hu Liena believed that Tang San had a great deal of research into tactics. However, from beginning to end, Tang San's greatest forte had always been theoretical aspects of Spirit cultivation.

Tactics?

What was that?

"Third Brother, you're out of the study?" Xiao Wu, who despite having her own dorm and yard insisted on coming to his place to practice Three Swords Style, leaped to Tang San's front in a few steps. "Just now, I felt a scorching aura in your room, with an extremely strong sense of oppression. Did you research some new cultivation method?"

"That's the power of qi and blood. I've researched some offensive and protective methods. Besides that—"

Tang San placed his hand on Xiao Wu's abdomen, causing her face to flush. "Is it not good to do it here for the first time?"

"Don't get the wrong idea." Tang San pushed his detection glasses up his nose, controlling his spirit power to inject it into Xiao Wu's body, guiding her spirit power from three inches below her navel to the middle dantian.

spirit power cultivated by different Spirits possesses different attributes. If it is transferred into another Spirit Master's body without some form of conversion, it will lead to conflict between the spirit powers.

However, Tang San's spirit power was full of Life force and could almost integrate into any Spirit Master's spirit power, even being actively absorbed by other Spirit Masters' bodies, unless—

The other person's spirit power carried 阴邪 attributes like corrosion or death.

Xiao Wu calmed down, controlling the spirit power within her body to circulate along with Tang San's spirit power, reaching her middle dantian. She was surprised to find that her control over her spirit power had significantly strengthened.

"What's going on?" Xiao Wu asked.

"The location where spirit power is stored is closer to the brain, so it's naturally easier to control." Tang San offered the most easily understandable explanation. "However, you mustn't try this recklessly. There aren't many places in the body that can store a large amount of spirit power. Reckless attempts could lead to big problems."

"I naturally know that." Xiao Wu rolled her eyes, finding Tang San's warning quite exasperating. Was she really that impulsive?

Also—

"What can the place where spirit power used to be stored do now? Store qi and blood?"

"Exactly." Tang San said, "In the future, when you cultivate the Jade Bone Golden Muscle Divine Treasure Method to its peak, the qi and blood power will be abundant and overflow, and it can be stored in the lower dantian, or rather, the qi and blood power will naturally condense there."

"Lower dantian? So, the place where we currently store spirit power is the middle dantian, right? Is there also an upper dantian?" Xiao Wu inferred.

"There is indeed an upper dantian, which is at our glabella, used to store mental force." Tang San smiled, "Upper, middle, and lower, respectively, store the qi and blood power cultivated by oneself, the spirit power converted from absorbing the energy of heaven and earth, and the mental force that grows with increasing experience."

"I call them the three treasures of the human body: Essence, Qi, and Spirit."

"In the future, perhaps these three treasures can all be condensed into a mode similar to a Soul Core. When qi and blood power condenses, it's called the Qi and Blood Golden Core; when spirit power condenses, it's called the Soul Power Core; and when mental force condenses, it can be called the Spiritual Mindset."

"The Qi and Blood Golden Core also represents Life, for immortality, and gold is also immortal, so it's called Golden Core."

"Soul Power Core is just a renaming of Soul Core, with the addition of the character '心' (heart), meaning one can control spirit power as one wishes."

"Spiritual Mindset, this is related to the soul... Originally, I wanted to name it 'Divine Mindset', but after thinking about it, it didn't quite fit reality, so I changed '神' (divine) to '灵' (Spirit)."

Listening to Tang San's introduction, Xiao Wu couldn't help but exclaim, "Third Brother, have you already condensed the Golden Core, Soul Core, and Spiritual Mindset?"

"No, I estimate that under normal circumstances, I would need my spirit power to reach the Spirit Saint level at least. Furthermore, the energy circulation and conversion circuits between qi and blood, spirit power, and mental force have not yet been fully constructed. Currently, these three things in my body are only instinctively pulsating and converting, with very low efficiency, though they have accelerated my absorption of heaven and earth energy." Tang San shook his head, "But I have thought of the names in advance."

"You haven't even finished cultivating, but you've already picked out the names. That's so you." Xiao Wu was speechless, but she already believed from the bottom of her heart that with Tang San's ability, he would certainly succeed.

Because he was Tang San.

At this moment, Xiao Wu already unconditionally trusted Tang San.

Subsequently, the two found Guang Ling's dormitory and entered the study (the three of them each had a key to each other's rooms, allowing free entry and exit). Tang San helped her transfer her spirit power to the middle dantian and informed her about the three treasures of the human body.

"Qi and Blood Golden Core, Soul Power Core, Spiritual Mindset!" Guang Ling's eyes showed adoration, "As expected of my teacher, he's truly amazing. In terms of self-cultivation, I'm afraid no one can compare to you."

"Haha, it's not that amazing." Tang San laughed twice, then noticed a device similar to a crossbow on a nearby desk, with corresponding spirit tool patterns on it. "Is this a bow-type spirit tool you made?"

"I just engraved the patterns that appear after my Spirit absorbs spirit rings onto it, to see what effect they have." Guang Ling spoke truthfully, "Third Brother, your guess might be correct. spirit tools might have evolved from Spirits and spirit rings."

Picking up the crossbow, Guang Ling slipped his hand into the fixed device underneath, which was a ring, and aimed it at a stone outside the window.

Whoosh!

A spirit power arrow shot out from the crossbow, carrying the attribute of light. In just an instant, it pierced through the stone, leaving a hole in it, and then exploded with a bang.

"This is the current effect. I adopted the Golden Sun Aura patterns, and the arrows shot out carry the light attribute," Guang Ling explained. "However, because they are condensed from spirit power, once they encounter an obstruction after being shot, they will dissipate, making them less stable than the Spirit Abilities cast by relying on a Spirit."

"Of course, the explosion caused by dissipation is not necessarily a stronger offensive method."

"Within it, I also added a spirit power storage device. Ordinary people without spirit power who obtain this spirit tool crossbow can also use it, but only use it."

Having a spirit tool storage device indeed meant that ordinary people could use this spirit tool crossbow, but the recoil at the moment the arrow was shot could make an ordinary person fall.

Tang San understood this point and also knew that powerful offensive spirit tools, unless they were simple button-operated ones, could only be better used by Spirit Masters. Even in his previous Life, heavy firepower weapons required a certain level of physical strength to use; otherwise, the recoil would be enough to shatter human bones and internal organs.

"A good offensive spirit tool. However, in the short term, I hope you can create more novel daily-use spirit tools." Tang San first gave his affirmation, but then suggested making daily-use spirit tools. "Moreover, try to choose materials that are in high demand and cheap on the market, striving to make them affordable for ordinary people on the continent, meaning the price can be low enough to be purchased with bronze coins."

"As for offensive weapons, I'm not against them, it's just not the right time for them to appear yet..."

180: Analyzing self-created soul skills for the Tiandou Team

On the training ground of Heaven Dou Royal Academy.

Huo Wu, Yu Tianheng, and others practiced climbing trees, or sparred in pairs, the fluctuations of exploding Soul Power from their collisions blowing through the air on the ground.

The arrival of Tang San, Xiao Wu, Guang Ling, and others caused everyone to stop training and gather around.

"A rare visitor, you don't often come to the training ground." Huo Wu put one hand on her hip and teased Tang San. "Among the Captains of the Heaven Dou Royal Battle Team throughout history, you are the most leisurely."

"You can't say that. I just have research in other areas." Tang San said with a smile, scanning around. Seeing everyone was present, he continued, "Next, I will examine each of your Martial Souls, Soul Skills, and the rough method of refining World energy into Soul Power during meditation, and plan how you can create your own Soul Skills."

Yu Feng was so happy he danced around. "Finally! The flowers I've been waiting for have all withered!"

Oslo was speechless. "Isn't that a bit exaggerated? It's only been two days since we returned from hunting The Fallen."

Huo Wu said, "Shall I go first?"

"Okay, in pairs. Huo Wu and Yu Tianheng come over first, everyone else continue training." Tang San had Xiao Wu and Guang Ling spar with others as well, while he called Huo Wu and Yu Tianheng to him.

The three walked to the lakeside. Tang San first analyzed the six-dimensional chart of Sun Goddess for Huo Wu—Strength: 9. Although Sun Goddess is not a strength-type Martial Soul, its strength is comparable to the Blue Lightning Tyrant Dragon.

Speed: 7. Movement speed is relatively slow, but attack speed is faster; taking the balanced value.

Defense: 8. Although the Martial Soul appears to be a weak woman, it can withstand strong attacks and can be used as a human shield.

Stamina: 5. Soul Power consumption is quite high.

Energy: 10. Can release energy with immense power.

Special: 10. Possesses Light attribute and Fire attribute, with a special characteristic of floating, suspected to be gravity.

Total Score: 46.

"Forty-six, is this data considered good?" Huo Wu was quite new to the six-dimensional chart.

"The total score is sixty. Exceeding thirty is already very powerful." Tang San said, "As you can probably see, your Sun Goddess Martial Soul is excellent in all aspects except for stamina, which is Soul Power consumption. The only other slight issue is slower speed."

"Indeed, my Martial Soul is powerful, but its Soul Power consumption is quite high. I estimate I won't be able to use its abilities freely and without restraint until I reach Soul Saint." Huo Wu also knew the weakness of Sun Goddess, which is a common problem for powerful Martial Souls—it's difficult to unleash their full power when Soul Power is low.

"Next, I'll talk about the path for you to create your own Soul Skills."

Tang San said, "Your Soul Skills, Sun Star Ring, Sun Ascent, Fire Dance Bright Sun, Fire Sun Armor Transformation, and Double Suns Across the Sky, include control, amplification, ranged output, and close combat. They don't conflict with each other and are already very strong when combined."

"But the stronger the Soul Power, the greater the control required."

"Coincidentally, your Martial Soul happens to have a special ability that can help you control—floating, or rather, gravity."

Huo Wu asked, "What is gravity?"

Tang San picked up a small stone, then let go. The stone fell to the ground. He said, "Why did the stone fall to the ground instead of flying into the sky?"

Huo Wu was dumbfounded. "How should I know?"

"Because of the existence of gravity." Tang San then pulled Yu Tianheng to his side and said, "Taking Yu Tianheng as an example, why was I able to pull him to my side just now?"

Huo Wu blurted out, then froze, realizing something. She said, "The so-called gravity is the earth pulling us, applying a downward force with an 'arm' that we cannot see."

"Exactly, that's the principle. When I pulled Yu Tianheng, it was horizontal, while the earth's pull on us is downward, or rather, towards the center deep within the earth."

Tang San smiled, thinking Huo Wu was quite capable of thinking.

From this, it can be seen that a Soul Master's mind is not bad when it operates; it's just that most people are influenced by their living environment and the power gained from cultivating their Martial Soul, making them less inclined to use their brains.

After all, with power, most problems can be solved with a fist, so why would one think about using their brain?

Furthermore, for adults, their concepts are fixed. Without external, objective, and difficult-to-change factors imposed upon them, their thinking is hard to change.

For Huo Wu and others, being in their youth, it is relatively easy to accept new ideas.

"By the way, I was just used as a demonstration." Yu Tianheng complained.

"Sorry."

Tang San said without much sincerity, then continued speaking to Huo Wu, "And the floating ability of your Sun Goddess should also be an application of gravity. If you can develop gravity, your strength will increase exponentially."

"After all, the sun also has gravity."

Huo Wu looked up at the sun in the sky, puzzled. "Since the sun has gravity, why aren't we pulled towards the sun?"

"Because we are too far from the sun, and based on the phenomenon of things appearing larger up close and smaller far away, how big do you think the sun is?" Tang San didn't wait for Huo Wu to answer before giving the answer. "Based on my visual observation, it is at least ten thousand times larger than the World we are in, perhaps even tens, hundreds, or even thousands added before the ten thousand."

"The sun's gravity might already be pulling us, but it's pulling the World we are in."

Huo Wu was startled by this statement. "How is that possible? How can the sun pull our World?"

"This is just my conjecture. If you are interested, perhaps after becoming a Title Douluo, if you have the ability, you might be able to fly outside the World to see." Tang San created some suspense before getting to the main point. "In short, gravity is the direction you need to create your own Soul Skills. Once successful, you will be able to leverage one of the four fundamental interactions of the World, or even the entire universe."

"So, how do I do it?" Huo Wu didn't know about the four fundamental forces of the universe, but she understood that if she could control gravity, she would become stronger. She couldn't help but feel anticipation.

"The key lies in your First Soul Skill: Sun Star Ring."

Tang San pointed out the key point.

Sun Star Ring, when Sun Goddess was still Fire Shadow, was called Repelling Fire Ring by Huo Wu. It didn't have strong attack power, just a burning ring with flames that could push enemies away, preventing close-range attacks. It was considered a group control type Soul Skill.

After Fire Shadow evolved into Sun Goddess, the Soul Skill was also enhanced. The Repelling Fire Ring was renamed Sun Star Ring. Although it still pushed enemies away, its range was larger, the Light and Fire attributes were more intense, and the ring could rotate at high speed, possessing extremely strong cutting ability.

In Tang San's observation, this cutting ability wasn't achievable by the Light and Fire elements alone, but rather another power condensed it to achieve the rotating cutting effect.

And this kind of power is gravity.

"When you cultivate in the future, you can have your Sun Goddess Martial Soul condense the Sun Star Ring, and you can sit cross-legged within it to cultivate, injecting Soul Power into the Sun Star Ring to see if it can make you levitate." Tang San gave the cultivation suggestion.

"Not relying on the Martial Soul to carry me, but relying on the Sun Star Ring Soul Skill to free myself from the earth's gravity?" After her surprise, Huo Wu considered the possibility. "This kind of flight isn't using wings, but relying on the interaction between my gravity towards the star ring and the earth's gravity. It's like two equally strong people pushing against each other, both being pushed away by the other's force. And I need to engage in 'gravity fisticuffs' with the force the earth applies to all objects."

"A very interesting analogy, but I'm more inclined to say it's like doing push-ups, after all, we don't have the power to push away the entire World beneath our feet."

Tang San smiled slightly. "And if you can use your First Soul Skill to fly, then controlling the speed and direction of flight will require adjusting the rotation speed and tilt angle of the Sun Star Ring. Furthermore, to help you fly better, you may need to create and control multiple star rings, which has extremely high requirements for Spiritual Power."

"However, controlling it during the training process is also a test of Spiritual Power."

If Huo Wu could truly achieve gravity control, her future would be limitless.

After Huo Wu went to the side to start trying, Tang San's gaze fell on Yu Tianheng, and he slowly said, "Let me also analyze your Blue Lightning Tyrant Dragon Martial Soul—"

"Strength: 10. The Blue Lightning Tyrant Dragon is the overlord among beast Martial Souls; its strength is extremely high, considered peak."

"Speed: 8. Slightly faster than Huo Wu's Sun Goddess, but not by much. Although its straight-line running speed isn't slow, it can't fly, lacks flexibility, and its attack speed isn't fast either."

"Defense: 8. Thick-skinned and tough, with strong recovery ability."

"Stamina: 6. A common problem for top-tier Martial Souls; consumption is relatively high when Soul Power is low."

"Energy: 7. Energy can be released externally, but without relying on Soul Skills, the range is limited. It's mainly suitable for melee combat, not ranged output."

"Special: 9. Possesses the power of thunder. Due to consuming the petals of the Strange Velvet Sky Chrysanthemum, the Martial Soul has evolved in a more powerful direction, gaining Light and Metal attributes."

"Total Score: 48."

Although Yu Tianheng's Blue Lightning Tyrant Dragon didn't score full marks in any category, its strength lies in its balance, with a total score two points higher than Huo Wu's Sun Goddess.

However, if the two were to truly fight, Huo Wu would still have the upper hand.

After all, this is just a comparison of the basic six-dimensional graphs of their Martial Souls without using Soul Skills, which helps people understand their own advantages, not to evaluate combat power.

The burst power of the Sun Goddess is stronger, fiercer, and more intense than the Blue Lightning Tyrant Dragon.

Moreover, the four Soul Skills Yu Tianheng currently possesses—

First Soul Skill, Thunder Dragon Claw, attaches thunder to the dragon claws, used for melee;

Second Soul Skill, Thunderous Might, uses lightning to strike enemies, a ranged group attack Soul Skill that can be used to clear weak opponents, but is mainly for controlling the enemy's movement;

Third Soul Skill, Wrath of Thunder, a self-buffing skill that can increase attack power by one hundred percent and Soul Power by fifty percent. The buff attribute is fixed and cannot increase with the increase of Soul Power;

Fourth Soul Skill, Blue Lightning God Dragon Swift, a single-target attack Soul Skill with the effect of condensing a blue electric dragon over a meter long with the power of thunder and then blasting it out.

Melee, control, buff, single-target strong attack.

Without considering the bloodline bonus effect of the Soul Rings on the Blue Lightning Tyrant Dragon Martial Soul and the element enhancement effect, in terms of Soul Skill effects, he made the same mistake as Xiao Wu in the original work, not considering the perfect combination between Soul Rings and Soul Skills, basically just filling gaps.

That is, the Blue Lightning Tyrant Dragon Martial Soul is a top-tier beast Martial Soul, and the power of the Soul Skills is strong, so the flaws are not obvious.

Huo Wu's Sun Goddess is actually in a similar situation, but the combination between her Soul Skills is a bit more harmonious.

Regarding this, Tang San didn't comment too much. After all, he didn't want to discourage the other party, and for the Blue Lightning Tyrant Dragon Family, enhancing the Martial Soul's bloodline, improving the thunder attribute, and perfecting the dragon transformation are the most important things. Large families have strong backing and don't need to be as 'meticulous' as commoner Soul Masters like him in the combination and connection of each Soul Skill to achieve what is most suitable for themselves.

However, what kind of self-created Soul Skill is suitable for Yu Tianheng?

Thunder element can develop towards electromagnetic force.

But after consuming the petals of the Strange Velvet Sky Chrysanthemum, he also gained Light element and Metal attribute.

However, Yu Tianheng's main ability is still thunder, which can develop in the electromagnetic direction. The Light element and Metal attribute are relatively weak. This situation is different from the gravity inherent in the Sun Goddess and cannot be specially developed unless Yu Tianheng's Martial Soul undergoes a transformation and completely becomes a Golden Sacred Dragon or a Light Sacred Dragon.

Otherwise, currently, it can only be developed from the perspective of the Blue Lightning Tyrant Dragon.

According to Tang San's estimation, if Yu Tianheng wants the Blue Lightning Tyrant Dragon to completely transform into a Golden Sacred Dragon or a Light Sacred Dragon, his subsequent Soul Rings will need to be chosen from sub-dragon species or dragon-type Soul Beasts with corresponding attributes, and their strength must reach at least the Soul Douluo level.

From the perspective of family inheritance, the future is promising.

But in terms of enhancing his current personal strength, it doesn't have much effect. It might even cause the thunder element to be greatly weakened or even disappear due to the Martial Soul transforming into a Light Sacred Dragon or Golden Sacred Dragon. Yu Tianheng will likely be unable to perfectly control the new ability in a short period, thus unable to fully display his proper strength.

"Is that so?" After listening to Tang San's analysis, Yu Tianheng thought for a while and asked, "If my future Soul Rings are all based on thunder, will the Light element and Metal attribute fade away?"

"No, after all, that is the elemental power born after you consumed the petals of the Strange Velvet Sky Chrysanthemum. At most, it won't be as strong as your thunder, and there's a chance it will be inherited by your descendants," Tang San said, stating his guess.

"Then let my future descendants try it. I, this 'ancestor' of the Light Sacred Dragon or Golden Sacred Dragon, should continue on the path of thunder. Anyway, I am most familiar with the power of thunder." Yu Tianheng was open-minded. "To evolve into a Light Sacred Dragon or Golden Sacred Dragon, it's better to absorb Soul Rings with corresponding attributes from a young age. I'm already at the fourth ring, and absorbing Soul Rings with Light element or Metal attribute at the fifth ring is obviously a bit late."

"Furthermore, Soul Beasts with Light and Metal attributes and Dragon Clan bloodline are not easy to find, even sub-dragon species are difficult to seek."

Seeing that Yu Tianheng had thought it through, Tang San nodded, took out two thumb-sized iron balls, and said, "Then, the self-created Soul Skill you need to train is to use the power of thunder to pull the iron balls, make them float, and be able to control them as you wish."

"When you can control thumb-sized iron balls, you can continuously increase the volume and mass of the metal iron balls, and even change their shape."

"I call this, Electromagnetic Control Training."

Yu Tianheng found it quite simple. He took the iron balls and controlled the Soul Power with thunder attribute around the two iron balls. Besides pushing them a certain distance apart, he couldn't make them float.

Moreover, Yu Tianheng also discovered a strange phenomenon: after being covered by his power of thunder, these two small iron balls actually attracted each other.

The iron balls became magnetic!

Just like magnets!

No wonder Tang San called it "Electromagnetic Control Training." There is a certain connection between electricity and magnetism...

...

After Yu Tianheng went to ponder the principle behind it, Tang San called the next group of people: Yu Feng and Oslo.

First was Yu Feng. The self-created Soul Skill plan Tang San considered for him was to let him fly in strong winds, sense the flow of air, comprehend the true meaning of wind, and thereby truly control the wind, or rather, control the airflow.

As for the training conditions, Yu Feng could ask his family for help, or with his family's accompaniment, go to the outer area of the Storm Grand Canyon, where there are constant strong winds, making it a natural training ground.

If one day Yu Feng could soar freely in the strong winds of the Storm Grand Canyon, even if he couldn't create his own self-created Soul Skill, he himself would become the overlord of the sky.

As for Oslo.

His Martial Soul is the Ghost Leopard, which is relatively balanced in all aspects. His speed is the fastest, but he moves in a straight line, which easily causes him to be unable to immediately straighten his body when turning due to inertia.

Therefore, Tang San transmitted a little technique for using force to twist the waist, which is to suddenly stop while running fast, and when the body is leaning forward, twist the waist and step out in the desired direction.

This not only saves the time of sliding in place but also allows for continuous acceleration by using the inertia of running.

Oslo was overjoyed and immediately began to practice.

Next were Ye Lingling and Dugu Yan.

For Dugu Yan, the key for her currently is to become familiar with and control the Nine Headed Bi Lin Snake Emperor Martial Soul. As for self-created Soul Skills, Tang San's suggestion was: "Based on the Bi Lin Snake Pearl, feel the effect of the Bi Lin Snake's Martial Soul poison under various Soul Skills, thereby planning the corresponding Soul Power circulation routes within the body and combining them."

As for Ye Lingling, whose Martial Soul is the Nine Hearted Sea 棠 and whose Soul Skills are only for healing, Tang San fell into deep thought and couldn't give any substantial suggestions for a while.

After all, the Nine Hearted Sea棠 is too special.

"Sigh~ Our family's Martial Soul has a flaw, and the Soul Skills can only be for healing." Ye Lingling sighed.

"Flaw?"

Tang San had Ye Lingling release the Nine Hearted Sea棠, stroked its nine red heart-shaped petals, and used his own Soul Power aura to sense its condition. Finally, he shook his head and said, "Perhaps this is just my personal opinion, but based on my observation, your Martial Soul has no flaws whatsoever."

"According to my research, when a Martial Soul obtains Soul Rings and gains Soul Skills, under normal circumstances, these are abilities that the Martial Soul itself can evolve into."

"This is also the reason why Martial Souls need to cultivate—"

"A newly awakened Martial Soul is like the core framework of a puzzle, and various Soul Skills are the puzzle pieces. Nine puzzle pieces make the Martial Soul complete."

"But some peculiar Martial Souls are already complete upon awakening, or rather, nearly complete. That is to say, the puzzle already exists, but it is gray. Due to the rule that Martial Souls need Soul Rings to use Soul Skills, a Soul Ring is needed to color the already existing puzzle."

181: Analyze self-created soul skills for Tiandou Team (continued)

“This is the first time I’ve heard of such a thing,” Ye Lingling said in surprise, never having imagined that a Spirit’s Spirit Ability, gained after acquiring a spirit ring, could be compared to a puzzle.

Most Spirits are born with only a framework, and the puzzle pieces need to be acquired later through spirit rings, depending on one’s own situation.

However, a small number of Spirits awaken with the puzzle already complete and existing, but due to the rules of the World, they need spirit rings to unlock the “seal.”

“So, you don’t need to feel that the Nine Hearted Sea 棠 Spirit has flaws.” Tang San smiled, “In my opinion, what others see as a flaw is simply that your Spirit Abilities are only healing Spirit Abilities. But what kind of flaw is that? When you become a Titled Douluo, your healing ability will probably be unmatched in the World.”

“When one aspect is pushed to the extreme, who can mock you?”

“It’s just that in this era, the common perception of Spirit Masters is that we have powerful combat strength.”

“This is true, but why must a Spirit be used for combat?”

“Just like your Nine Hearted Sea 棠, it’s not suitable for combat.”

Comforted by Tang San, Ye Lingling felt much better.

It wasn't that Tang San's ideas immediately corrected her viewpoint; rather, conversing with an existence like Tang San, who carried such a strong Life aura, inherently led to being nourished by Life energy, resulting in a pleasant mood.

“And you want to develop a self-created Spirit Ability...?”

The Spirit Abilities of the Nine Hearted Sea 棠 Spirit are all for healing. The method of use is that, under Ye Lingling's control, petals fall and drift from the Spirit, landing on other people.

They can directly penetrate the skin and enter the body, or they can be ingested; the effects of both are almost identical.

Tang San asked Ye Lingling to demonstrate the skills of each spirit ring and found that when Ye Lingling couldn't precisely control the movement of the petals—

Using her First Soul Skill, nine petals would fall, circling Ye Lingling's body in a peculiar trajectory; using her Second Soul Skill, eighteen petals would also circle Ye Lingling's body in a peculiar trajectory.

For the Third Soul Skill, there were thirty-six petals.

For the Fourth Soul Skill, there were seventy-two petals.

“So that's how it is,” Tang San seemed to understand something.

“This is also a characteristic of my Spirit. My First Soul Skill can separate nine petals, capable of healing nine people. My Second Soul Skill can heal eighteen people, and so on, with the number of people who can be healed doubling,” Ye Lingling said, thinking Tang San was surprised by the exponential increase in the number of people each of her spirit rings could heal simultaneously. A hint of pride appeared on her face.

“That's not what I meant,” Tang San shook his head. “Haven't you noticed that every time you use a healing Spirit Ability, the petals differentiated from your Nine Hearted Sea棠 Spirit all move around your body in a specific trajectory?”

“That’s true, but what’s the use of that?” Ye Lingling asked, puzzled.

“It does look useless,” Tang San stroked his chin. “But you also know that Guang Ling and I are researching spirit tools, and inside spirit tools, there are spirit tool patterns composed of basic spirit tool runes, which allow spirit power to flow.”

“The use of Spirit Abilities, to some extent, is actually similar to how spirit tools work, except that most of the spirit power circulation routes are within the spirit ring, with the spirit ring helping the Spirit Master complete them.”

“And for a Spirit like your Nine Hearted Sea棠, according to my previous puzzle analogy, the Spirit Abilities themselves already exist within the Spirit. They just need to be illuminated by the spirit ring when used, like an electrical switch... Never mind, let’s not talk about that, you wouldn’t understand.”

Ye Lingling: “.....”

In Tang San’s view, a Spirit Master using a spirit ring’s Spirit Ability could be compared to a simple series circuit experiment where a light bulb emits light.

Although the “series connection” inside the spirit ring is much more complex, the principle of operation is similar—

Activating the switch is equivalent to illuminating the spirit ring; spirit power flowing through the spirit ring is equivalent to current flowing through a circuit; and using a Spirit Ability is like a light bulb emitting light.

It’s just that for most Spirit Masters, the “switch” and “circuit” are mostly on the spirit ring, and a small part requires the Spirit Master to make specific gestures or recite corresponding Spirit incantations.

But for Ye Lingling, her Spirit itself comes with the spirit power circulation route for its Spirit Abilities, and the spirit ring is merely the “circuit switch.”

The advantage of this is that she doesn’t have to be like other Spirit Masters who cannot use multiple spirit ring skills simultaneously... Well, it’s not that they absolutely cannot, but other Spirit Masters generally don’t pay much attention to the combination and integration of spirit ring Spirit Abilities. Even if their mental force becomes strong in the future, spirit ring skills can only be used one after another; they can just better control the timing of their use.

And what about Ye Lingling?

Her Spirit Abilities are innate, and conventional spirit rings (non-divine賜, non-100,000-year-plus, non-special circumstances) cannot change them; they merely add a switch that allows her to use them.

Her Spirit Abilities are all the same and are all inherent to her Spirit.

Isn’t this a “series circuit”?

Based on the execution of each of Ye Lingling’s Spirit Abilities, the principle is actually the same; it’s just that the number of petals increases, and the efficiency also increases, nothing more.

Viewed this way, since the principle is the same, this also means that Ye Lingling can use all her Spirit Abilities simultaneously, which is an innate advantage, far surpassing other Spirit Masters.

It’s just, how should he make Ye Lingling realize this?

After thinking for a while, Tang San said, “Lingling, the direction for your future self-created Spirit Abilities will be to combine the flowing trajectories of the petals after you use your spirit rings. Combine the petal movement trajectories of two Spirit Abilities, and once you achieve that, you can combine three Spirit Abilities, and so on, eventually combining all nine Spirit Abilities.”

“This counts as a form of self-Spirit Fusion, and it might even form a certain Spirit Ability formation or a Domain.”

“I’ve observed that your Spirit inherently possesses light, water, and Life attributes. These three types are inherently suitable for healing. In the future, when you try to combine the movement trajectories of your Spirit Ability petals, you can come to me, or Guang Ling, and ask about the patterns constructed by the three basic spirit tool runes of light, water, and Life. This will most likely reduce the time it takes for you to complete your Spirit Ability into a self-created Spirit Ability.”

Ye Lingling was overjoyed. Although the path for self-created Spirit Abilities Tang San suggested for her wasn’t towards a combat system, as a support system Spirit Master, if she could create skills similar to formations or Domains, her value would greatly increase, and her importance would be self-evident.

“Thank you, Captain,” Ye Lingling thanked him, then called Ning Rongrong and Bai Chenxiang over.

As for Bai Chenxiang, her Spirit Abilities were all about acceleration, but her situation was different from Ye Lingling’s. Her Spirit Abilities weren’t inherent to her Spirit; instead, the Speed Clan would only choose Spirit Beasts that could grant them acceleration Spirit Abilities when selecting spirit rings.

Therefore, although all her Spirit Abilities were acceleration, the spirit power circulation routes within each spirit ring were not largely similar, so her situation couldn’t be treated like Ye Lingling’s.

“Chenxiang... Never mind, I’ll just call you by your full name, Bai Chenxiang, otherwise I’ll think of a certain filial boy,” Tang San decided to call Bai Chenxiang by her full name, otherwise his first impression would be of Chenxiang who split the mountain to save his mother.

Bai Chenxiang: “.....Alright, Captain, I don’t mind.”

Despite saying so, judging by Bai Chenxiang's slightly resentful gaze, she did mind a little.

“Cough, with your speed, flying in a straight line, without considering sharp turns, among the team, only Xiao Wu and I can match it with our self-created Spirit Ability, Nine Steps to Heaven; no one else can compare.”

Tang San coughed slightly awkwardly, then began to analyze seriously, “This also means you have no combat power and need to rely on weapons to assassinate enemies with an advantage that ordinary Spirit Masters cannot perceive.”

“Primarily reconnaissance, secondarily assassination, and then interference. But how should I put it, your Spirit Abilities are too singular, and your situation is different from Ye Lingling's.....”

“Therefore, I can't give you many ideas for your self-created Spirit Ability path, but there are many ways to become stronger.”

Bai Chenxiang also knew how peculiar her lineage was in choosing spirit rings, so she wasn't too disappointed, but hearing that Tang San had other ways to make her stronger, she was still eager to hear the details.

“First, practice swordsmanship, preferably with daggers. Although other weapons are not allowed in the All-Continent Tournament besides Spirits and Spirit Bones, outside the Tournament, there aren't so many rules.”

“In the past, I also analyzed the advantages of your agility-attack system. Besides reconnaissance, it's assassination. With a speed that ordinary Spirit Masters find hard to detect, as long as you train a bit and understand the basic requirements of an assassin, your lineage produces the best assassins in the World, bar none.”

Bai Chenxiang nodded.

She already knew this, but most people in her family still didn't like that method. After all, her clan didn't want to be feared by others.

Moreover, they had now joined the Seven Treasure Glazed Tile School?

Although privately, some clansmen were already practicing how to become qualified cold weapon assassins, openly—

A good reputation was very important.

“The second type is to learn from Yu Feng. His First Soul Skill is Wing Blade, which means transforming his wings into blades for attack.”

“Although you don’t have corresponding attack Spirit Abilities, Needle Tailed Swift and Wind Chime Bird are both birds, so you can imitate them. And in terms of the sharpness of their wings, Needle Tailed Swift has an advantage, because for faster flight, the wings of a Needle Tailed Swift are as thin as cicada wings.”

“Furthermore, speed and strength.”

“If your speed advantage is brought into play, it can turn your wings into the strongest weapon!”

A sheet of paper, accelerated to a certain extent, can cut through trees, let alone a Spirit like the Needle Tailed Swift, which has extreme flying speed?

As for why the original Speed Clan didn't think of it...

Most likely, it was rigid thinking.

Some ideas, if no one brings them up, will never be thought of.

“The third type is that when adding spirit rings in the future, do not focus on speed, but add one or more spirit rings that can strengthen your wings, or even make them like steel.”

“If you don’t want to become a pure speed-type Spirit Master, this is the best choice.”

Bai Chenxiang nodded and said, “I will consider it.”

To be honest, the three suggestions Tang San gave her were all very objective, but she was a bit hesitant about which one to choose...

“How do I create my own Spirit Ability?” Ning Rongrong asked with interest.

“Your situation is similar to Ye Lingling’s...” For Ning Rongrong, Tang San just slightly modified his analysis of Ye Lingling. “However, compared to the Nine Hearted Sea棠 Spirit, your lineage’s Seven Treasure Glazed Tile Pagoda still has flaws. Although your Spirit has evolved into the Nine Treasure Glazed Tile Pagoda, except for the first seven Spirit Abilities which are inherent, when you acquire the eighth and ninth spirit rings in the future, the Spirit Abilities may not necessarily be inherent to the Spirit.”

“Although it is possible that they are inherent, it’s not certain, as there are no relevant historical records.”

“However, that will only happen when you reach the Spirit Douluo and Titled Douluo levels. For now, I think you can try to use all four of your current Spirit Abilities simultaneously.”

Ning Rongrong said as a matter of course, “My Seven Treasure Glazed Tile School has Heart Separation Control, which allows for simultaneous use.”

“Previously, when using multiple Spirit Abilities simultaneously, I only thought it was the effect of strengthening mental force. But as my research into Spirits and spirit tools deepened, I understood that your Heart Separation Control is merely an auxiliary.”

The protagonist in the original work, after acquiring the Heart Separation Control method, only made the use of Spirit Abilities more flexible, evolving the Blue Silver Thorn Array, but could not use multiple spirit ring skills simultaneously.

This also indirectly proves the completeness of Spirits like the Seven Treasure Glazed Tile Pagoda and Nine Hearted Sea棠.

“And what I mean by using multiple Spirit Abilities together is not just simply using them, but combining, or even fusing, the Spirit Abilities.”

“The manifestation of your Spirit Abilities relies on light illumination, so have you ever considered that light also has a trajectory?”

“If you comprehend the trajectories of the amplification light of your current four major Spirit Abilities and fuse them, your support ability will become even stronger.”

Ning Rongrong pondered, then finally nodded: “I will try it.”

“If you don’t understand anything, you can come to me, or Guang Ling. We can provide corresponding suggestions and guidance for the light element’s spirit tool construction circuit.” To motivate Ning Rongrong, Tang San continued after saying this, “By the way, my suggestion to Ye Lingling is similar to yours. If she succeeds in the end, the Nine Hearted Sea棠 might be able to surpass the Nine Treasure Glazed Tile Pagoda.”

“Although one of you is amplification-type and the other is healing-type, there is no direct conflict of interest, and the Nine Hearted Sea棠 Spirit is limited by quantity, with only two able to exist simultaneously. According to the development concept of this World, the scale of a family or Sect will never surpass the Seven Treasure Glazed Tile School.”

“But most ordinary people and common Spirit Masters don’t understand these things. They will only think that both are support system Spirits, and that Nine Hearted Sea棠 has surpassed the Seven Treasure... oh no, the Nine Treasure Glazed Tile Pagoda.”

Hearing Tang San say this, Ning Rongrong knew that he was provoking her, but she actually fell for it. Members of large Sects all believe their own Spirit is the best.

She snorted softly and said, “Just wait and see, I won’t let any other support Spirit surpass the Nine Treasure Glazed Tile Pagoda.”

The last two were Shi Mo and Shi Mo.

“Both of your Spirits are identical, the Black Tortoise, with a focus on defense, possessing water element. You are both physical and energy dual-defense type Spirit Masters.”

At this point, Tang San suddenly paused and asked, “Do you two have a Martial Soul Fusion Skill?”

“Uh... we’ve tried, but our Spirits cannot fuse.” Shi Mo shook his head, “However, our brothers’ Spirit Abilities can be combined.”

“That is indeed the case.” Shi Mo echoed.

“I recently submitted a theory titled ‘Three Major Classifications of Martial Soul Fusion Skill’ to the Wuhun News. It might still be in the testing phase and hasn’t been published yet, but in my opinion, the combination of Spirit Abilities is also a type of Martial Soul Fusion Skill.” Tang San said confidently, “And you two are twins, with identical Spirits and attributes, which proves that the spirit power you cultivate also carries the same attributes.”

“This way, you naturally possess an advantage that others do not: the ability to fuse spirit power.”

Shi Mo and Shi Mo looked at each other: “spirit power fusion?”

“Exactly. In my opinion, this is also a type of Martial Soul Fusion Skill. Moreover, a Martial Soul Fusion Skill doesn’t necessarily require two Spirits to fuse together. The fusion of Spirit Abilities and the fusion of spirit power are all considered fusion.”

“It’s just that Martial Soul Fusion is more comprehensive compared to the fusion of spirit power and Spirit Abilities.”

“But Martial Soul Fusion requires two Spirits to be complementary, or one can attach to the other. Spirits of similar quality, identical attributes, or even exactly the same type, under no external interference, are basically impossible to fuse.”

“However, I do have a way to make you truly undergo Martial Soul Fusion.”

Shi Mo and Shi Mo were shocked, asking in unison, “How do we fuse?”

“Positive and negative opposition, yin and yang harmony.”

During his Spirit examination of these two brothers, Tang San discovered that although their Spirits were identical and both possessed the water attribute, there was a slight difference in their two water attributes.

The elder brother, Shi Mo, had a more violent water attribute, similar to a surging river with a strong current, and his personality was more unrestrained.

The younger brother, Shi Mo, had a calmer water attribute, like a still lake reflecting like a mirror, steady and conservative, and his personality was more introverted.

Water, when fierce, can cause towering waves, destroying Life; when calm, it can carry boats and nourish all things.

If the two brothers strengthen themselves based on different states of the water attribute, and then perform spirit power fusion, slowly changing the Spirit's inherent attribute, they might be able to truly fuse their Spirits.

Even if they can only achieve the fusion between spirit power and the water element, then after they become Titled Douluo, the power of their Martial Soul Fusion Skill will certainly be no less than the Dual Polarity Static Domain of Chrysanthemum Douluo and Ghost Douluo.

“The method you should practice is rotation. Release your spirit power, bind it in your palm, and rotate it for fusion, thereby deepening your mutual connection.”

“Captain, is it that simple?” Shi Mo sounded a bit uncertain.

“Don’t think it’s simple. You’ll know when you try.” Tang San smiled.

The two, not believing him, exchanged glances, raised their hands, condensed their spirit power, and controlled it to rotate. Then their four hands moved closer to each other.

Immediately, two blue spirit powers began to actively attract each other.

The two brothers were startled, realizing that Tang San's words were correct, and immediately increased their spirit power.

However, the amount of spirit power they applied was different, causing the blue spirit power mass to lose control and instantly collide five meters away, enveloping both brothers.

“Ah!”

“Help!”

The two rotated within the spirit power mass. In less than ten seconds, the spirit power light mass dissipated, and the two directly flew backward thirty to forty meters in opposite directions, landing in a daze...

Book setting: Ye Lingling heals with flower petals, and regarding Ye Lingling's Spirit, the so-called flaw is that no matter what Spirit Beast's spirit ring she obtains, her Spirit Ability is fixed as healing... The author still believes this is a limitation of Douluo people's thinking. Personally, I think this type of Spirit is the most perfect manifestation among Spirits—at least it achieves perfection in its respective aspects.

The inability of external spirit rings to change her Spirit state proves its extremely strong stability.

Evil Fire like Ma Hongjun's is a mutation flaw. Nine Hearted Sea 九心海棠 is not a flaw; it simply dedicates everything to healing, being more specialized.

182: Pry Douluo, hunt for soul rings, absorb Tianmeng energy

After helping the two of them up, Tang San infused them with spirit power containing Life force to assist in healing their external injuries, and asked, "How is it? It sounds simple, but doing it is another matter, isn't it?"

Shi Mo nodded excitedly, "Indeed, and it's very powerful. I didn't use much spirit power just now, probably less than five levels, and my brother should be about the same. I didn't expect the rotating power to be so great, able to throw us thirty or forty meters away. If we can control it well in the future, it can perfectly protect us, forming an absolute defense. High-speed rotation can throw off enemy attacks, or even bounce them back."

Shi Mo was also happy, "Moreover, within that spirit power orb, my brother and I had a faint, almost imperceptible connection between our Spirits. Although the connection disappeared as soon as the spirit power fusion stopped, your captain's prediction is correct. Following this method, my brother and I might really be able to achieve Martial Soul Fusion."

This was Martial Soul Fusion!

An extremely rare unique skill in the World, they never thought that their brothers would have the chance to master it. They were truly lucky!

As expected of a theoretical Grandmaster in Spirit cultivation!

Afterward, it was Zhu Zhuqing's turn.

Compared to others, Zhu Zhuqing's Spirit, after obtaining the Dark Demonic Evil God Tiger's spirit ring, had its speed, strength, defense, energy, and special attributes all reach above nine, and they continued to strengthen with the increase in spirit power.

Moreover, in terms of stamina, there was no weakness of high spirit power consumption in the early stages like other powerful Spirits. Once the Spirit was possessed, it could autonomously absorb Heaven and Earth energy to maintain itself, without consuming her own spirit power.

However, she could not use this energy that sustained the Spirit's existence for cultivation.

It was as if there were two sets of energy circulation circuits: one for absorbing Heaven and Earth energy to maintain the Spirit's existence, and another for absorbing Heaven and Earth energy to refine into spirit power. These two circuits seemed to be parallel and did not intersect.

However, in Tang San's view, the Spirit was one entity, and it was impossible for there to be no intersection between the two energy circulation circuits.

Just like the human body's nervous system and blood circulatory system, don't they also have an exchange of material elements?

Therefore, regarding Zhu Zhuqing's self-created Spirit Ability path, Tang San hoped that she could find the common ground between the Spirit's "refinement circuit" and "maintenance circuit" for external Heaven and Earth energy.

After finding it, she wouldn't need to deliberately refine the Heaven and Earth energy in the maintenance circuit to speed up cultivation. Instead, she should use the "refinement circuit" to control the "maintenance circuit," thereby using her own spirit power to leverage the entire Heaven and Earth energy from the outside World.

If it were an ordinary Hell Civet, Tang San wouldn't have hoped for it, but after absorbing the Dark Demonic Evil God Tiger's spirit ring, Zhu Zhuqing's Spirit could be said to be constantly evolving.

Within the Spirit, there were two energy circulation circuits with different functions: the "refinement circuit" was the fundamental way Zhu Zhuqing communicated with her Spirit during meditation, refining Heaven and Earth energy to increase her own spirit power; while the "maintenance circuit" was the Spirit's autonomous absorption of Heaven and Earth energy to maintain the possessed state, thereby reducing Zhu Zhuqing's spirit power consumption.

It could be said that Zhu Zhuqing's current Hell Civet, with its two energy circuits, could be likened to a lever.

As long as Zhu Zhuqing found that "fulcrum," which was the point between the two energy circuits, then she could use her own faint spirit power to leverage the energy of the entire Heaven and Earth.

"Isn't this too exaggerated?" Although Zhu Zhuqing already had unconditional trust in Tang San, was it really possible to use her own spirit power to trigger the energy of the entire World?

"This is not a fantasy," Tang San shook his head. "It's a fact. However, even if I point out the direction, it will take you a lot of time to explore to achieve it."

Then, Tang San took out a small wooden stick and demonstrated a lever experiment to Zhu Zhuqing, deepening her understanding of the concept of the two energy circuits of her Spirit, and said, "The balance of a lever depends on the weight at both ends, or rather, the applied force, multiplied by the length of the distance on each side from the fulcrum."

"Theoretically, without considering air resistance, if there is an incredibly hard, unbendable, and infinitely extendable stick, and the fulcrum is also fixed somewhere and is indestructible, then even an ordinary person can leverage the entire World."

"And what you need to do is to find the 'fulcrum' between the two circuits of your Spirit, and then move it to the point where your spirit power can apply the minimum force to leverage the external Heaven and Earth energy."

"The external Heaven and Earth energy is equivalent to the heavy object, the maintenance circuit is equivalent to the lever arm on the side of the heavy object, and the refinement circuit is the lever arm on the other end, while your own spirit power is the force that needs to be applied."

"Finding the 'fulcrum' and moving the 'fulcrum' is your future path."

"As for whether you can move it after finding the 'fulcrum'... I think it can be moved by external force, after all, Spirit is a magical thing between matter and energy, and it evolves with each spirit ring added."

"Secondly, your Spirit itself can autonomously absorb Heaven and Earth energy to maintain itself, helping you reduce the spirit power burden, proving that the existing 'fulcrum' can already allow you to control Heaven and Earth energy with relative ease."

"Therefore, even if you find that 'fulcrum' and cannot move it, it will absolutely allow you to leverage Heaven and Earth energy within a certain range with relative ease."

The more she listened, the more Zhu Zhuqing felt that this was possible, but how should she do it?

"The top priority is to strengthen your mental force," Tang San extended a finger. "Only with stronger mental force can you better 'see' the connection between yourself and your Spirit."

"Secondly, it's about improving your spirit power control ability."

"Climbing trees, walking on water, or controlling spirit power to change on the surface of your body, all these are methods to increase your control over spirit power."

In fact, Zhu Zhuqing's best training method would be to cultivate Purple Demon Eye and Controlling Crane Catching Dragon, but Zhu Zhuqing was different from Xiao Wu and Guang Ling; she didn't grow up with him from the age of five or six.

Tang San's trust in Zhu Zhuqing had not reached one hundred percent.

Finally, there was Lan Yinzi...

...

After planning the corresponding individual强化 training paths for everyone, Tang San took Xiao Wu and Guang Ling and requested a month-long short vacation from Qin Ming.

Xiao Wu had broken through to level fifty.

Guang Ling had reached level forty.

Both of them needed to acquire spirit rings.

"Don't I need to go with you?" Qin Ming asked.

"Thank you for your kindness, Teacher Qin Ming, but the Spirit Beast Guang Ling needs is in the Extreme North Land, and the Blazing Flame Wolf cannot exert its strongest power there," Tang San politely declined. The main reason was that Xiao Wu needed to return to the Star Dou Great Forest to condense her fifth spirit ring, and this matter could not be known by Qin Ming.

"Then be careful on your journey." Qin Ming knew that Tang San had a strong will and did not insist too much.

"Don't worry, we will definitely return safely."

At the school gate, after bidding farewell to Qin Ming and the Heaven Dou Royal Battle Team, Tang San, Xiao Wu, and Guang Ling headed out of Heaven Dou City.

At the crossroads, Xiao Wu waved to Tang San and Guang Ling and went alone towards the Star Dou Great Forest.

"Third Brother, is Xiao Wu Jie okay by herself? You seem very at ease with her hunting Spirit Beasts alone." Guang Ling didn't know Xiao Wu's Ten-thousand year soul beast transformation identity, but she also realized some issues—Xiao Wu Jie hunting Spirit Beasts and acquiring spirit rings seemed to never happen in front of her and Third Brother.

At Notting Academy, Wang Sheng, Mo Hen, and others said that Xiao Wu came from a big family.

But she and Third Brother seemed to have never met her family members.

Could it be some reclusive family?

"Her identity is special. When she wants to tell you, she will naturally tell you," Tang San stroked Guang Ling's head, watching Xiao Wu's figure disappear into the Star Dou Great Forest, and slowly said, "Although I know, I promised her not to tell anyone else, including you, my disciple."

"I think I know..." Seeing Tang San's solemnity, and recalling Xiao Wu's personality and temper, as well as the Spirit Beast habits described in her 'The Wonderful Adventure of Little Rou' which Tang San approved of, Guang Ling guessed Xiao Wu's true situation.

"Very smart."

Tang San praised, extended a finger, and placed it before his lips, saying, "However, shh—"

Guang Ling nodded, a hint of inexplicable emotion flickering in her eyes:

A Ten-thousand year soul beast transforming into human form and combining with a human, surely they wouldn't have babies, right?

...

Star Dou Great Forest core area.

In the center of the calm Life Lake, Xiao Wu sat cross-legged, condensing her fifth spirit ring by relying on her Ten-thousand year cultivation and the abundant energy around her.

Half an hour later, as a profoundly black spirit ring emerged, Xiao Wu stood up from the Sky Azure Bull Python's head. With her Spirit possessed, white fur like sleeves grew on her arms, and two circles of golden flame-like fur appeared on her wrists, as if burning.

When she surged her spirit power, the golden fur on her arms ignited, and her punches were so fast that they left afterimages. The flame energy on them could even condense into a giant rabbit burning with golden flames, which Xiao Wu blasted out.

It can be used for close combat or long-range attacks.

In close combat, her fists are imbued with flames. Upon contact with an enemy, this energy can be injected into their body, disrupting their spirit power condensation, interrupting Spirit Abilities, and causing interference.

For long-range attacks, it has a direct linear range of up to five hundred meters and can explode, with a blast radius exceeding fifty meters.

Although the range is far, if the target is more than sixty meters away from Xiao Wu, her accuracy is extremely low, unless it's a stationary target.

However, Xiao Wu doesn't mind this, as her primary focus is assassination and interference for agility-attack system, supplemented by close-range crowd control. She isn't overly eager for long-range output capabilities.

Xiao Wu named this Spirit Ability Blazing Flame Fist, and the spirit ring came from the Blazing Flame Rabbit that Xiao Wu traced back to its origin.

With a light step on the Sky Azure Bull Python's head, Xiao Wu landed by the lake.

"Have you condensed your spirit ring?" Emperor Tian surveyed the fifth spirit ring on Xiao Wu's body. "A fifty-thousand-year-level spirit ring. I didn't expect that you, a Soft Bones Rabbit who transformed, could reach this stage. Among us fierce Spirit Beasts, if we had the same cultivation as you, we might not necessarily be able to defeat you."

"I'm still far from it," Xiao Wu said with a giggle, having learned a bit of humility from Tang San. Secretly, she cursed, "Just you wait, old hag! I'll make you call me Xiao Wu Jie in the future!"

Although fierce Spirit Beasts are powerful, the transformed Xiao Wu, after Tang San's guidance, and cultivating the Jade Bone Golden Muscle Divine Treasure Method, Carefree Wind Riding, Mysterious Heaven Skill, and Middle Dantian Qi Storage and other methods, is already no weaker than an ordinary fifty-thousand-year-level Spirit Beast.

If all these cultivation methods are cultivated to their peak, and her cultivation reaches the Titled Douluo level, combined with all her spirit ring skills and her Three Swords Style assassination techniques, defeating Emperor Tian is not impossible.

"Having spent so much time in the human World, you're becoming less and less like a Spirit Beast," Emperor Tian said indifferently. "Spirit Beasts always say what they mean; they don't know how to be humble."

"Ah, yes, yes, yes," Xiao Wu replied, feigning a dazed expression, agreeing with Emperor Tian. Deep down, she thought these fierce Spirit Beasts were quite foolish, not at all as intelligent as humans.

Good thing I'm no longer a foolish Spirit Beast...

Hmm~

In the future, I need to find a way to make Da Ming and Er Ming also transform. If they plan to undergo the Heavenly Tribulation, then after becoming fierce Spirit Beasts, they should transform into human form, hide their aura, and live in the human World. Only then will they become intelligent.

Staying in such a small place, eating, drinking, and sleeping, then just accumulating spirit power and increasing cultivation, for tens of thousands of years, their brains must not be very sharp.

Emperor Tian was somewhat speechless, he snorted coldly and said, "Your talent is good, but the Ten-thousand year cultivation origin you accumulated before transforming must be almost used up, right?"

Transformed Spirit Beasts can condense the first seven spirit rings. The energy cannot be generated out of thin air; it comes from the Ten-thousand year cultivation origin accumulated during their time as Spirit Beasts.

Before Xiao Wu transformed, she was just an ordinary Ten-thousand year soul beast. Her first four spirit rings had already consumed nearly twenty thousand years of cultivation, and now her fifth spirit ring consumed fifty thousand years.

The remaining cultivation origin she possessed was only about thirty thousand years.

Therefore, even if Xiao Wu could withstand a Ten-thousand year level spirit ring for her sixth spirit ring, if she wanted to condense it, she could only condense a spirit ring of about thirty thousand years.

And to obtain the seventh spirit ring after that, she might only be able to condense a thousand-year level spirit ring.

"This is indeed a problem," Xiao Wu lowered her head in thought, then suddenly remembered something and said, "Lord Beast God, how about you find some Ten-thousand year soul beasts or fierce Spirit Beasts who feel they cannot pass the Heavenly Tribulation, and let them sacrifice themselves to me? With my talent, I might be able to become a god in the future, and then I can revive them."

"You dream big," Emperor Tian raised an eyebrow, sneering unceremoniously, then led Xiao Wu to a cave entrance and said, "Come, follow me inside. There's something in there that can increase your cultivation origin."

As soon as she stepped into the cave, Xiao Wu felt a chill.

After walking for a while, Xiao Wu felt like she was going deeper, and it was getting colder and colder. Ice crystals appeared around them, emitting wisps of cold air.

However, the light inside the cave was still sufficient. There were luminous mineral crystals on both sides of the cave walls, which, when refracted by the ice crystals, made it very bright.

Two hours later, Xiao Wu and Emperor Tian arrived at an open space, filled with frost. Ice-sealed stalactites hung from the ceiling, their ends extremely sharp.

Directly ahead, more than ten Spirit Beasts were absorbing an extremely pure energy. That energy was almost solidified, with extremely high quality.

Xiao Wu's gaze followed the light flow of those energies to the end, where she saw a huge fat worm, over twenty meters long, bound on an ice platform.

"You guys just wait for me!"

"Don't let me find an opportunity!"

"Otherwise, I'll show you what cruelty is!"

"Damn it! My ninety-nine-thousand-year cultivation! My huge, plump body! Now I'm only twenty-something meters long, how will I face Bingbing in the future!"

"..."

The big worm kept muttering, but no Spirit Beast paid attention, not even Emperor Tian, who remained silent as if accustomed to it.

"Is this a Heaven Dream Iceworm?" Having been with Tang San for a long time, Xiao Wu also recognized some Spirit Beasts, such as the Heaven Dream Iceworm. Doesn't this Spirit Beast live in the Extreme North Land?

Why is it in the Star Dou Great Forest?

Moreover, it was clearly also a Ten-thousand year soul beast capable of speaking human words, and according to its own information, it was even a ninety-nine-thousand-year-old fierce Spirit Beast.

Ninety-nine thousand years, why would it be bound here?

Could it be that Lord who she hasn't met yet?

"My name is Heaven Dream Iceworm, little sister." Heaven Dream Iceworm heard Xiao Wu's words, and its large eyes noticed Emperor Tian bringing a new person over. It immediately corrected her and said to Emperor Tian, "Why did you bring a transformed Spirit Beast here? And looking at her condition, she's almost reaching maturity, her Ten-thousand year cultivation is almost used up, and that aura... Tsk tsk, in my nearly million-year Life, I've never seen a transformed Spirit Beast so much like a human. If I weren't a mental force type, I really wouldn't be able to tell."

"Is this guy really ninety-nine thousand years old?" Xiao Wu looked at Emperor Tian with a serious expression. "Isn't it a living history of the Douluo Continent?"

"Don't listen to his nonsense. This worm's cultivation is just close to a million years, and he was lucky enough to fall into an ice marrow place, eating and sleeping, sleeping and eating, to reach ninety-nine thousand years of cultivation," Emperor Tian explained. "In terms of age, although it has indeed lived for a very long time, it basically sleeps, so it can't be called a living history of the Spirit Beast World. It's just a lucky fellow who got a bit lucky."

"I brought you here so you can absorb its energy."

"This worm, it has a body full of cultivation but doesn't know how to use it. In terms of strength, it's not even as good as some powerful ten-thousand-year Spirit Beasts. This energy is wasted on it."

Heaven Dream Iceworm cursed, "Hmph! Another seductive slut coveting my body!"

Originally, Xiao Wu didn't want to do that, but this Heaven Dream Iceworm had a foul mouth, and that phrase "seductive slut" made her angry.

So, without another word, Xiao Wu activated the remaining Ten-thousand year cultivation origin within her body, drawing in the Heaven Dream Iceworm's energy, rapidly refining and integrating it.

"Ah~ I was wrong, little sister, spare me!" Heaven Dream Iceworm felt its cultivation rapidly draining away and became frightened—this speed was much faster than what other Spirit Beasts consumed!

This was naturally the effect of Mysterious Heaven Skill.

In addition, a portion of Heaven Dream Iceworm's energy was also used by Xiao Wu to cultivate the Jade Bone Golden Muscle Divine Treasure Method. It is estimated that in a month, all of Xiao Wu's Jade Bone will be fully condensed, and her Ten-thousand year cultivation origin will also be fully replenished, even surpassing Ten-thousand year to reach two hundred thousand years.

As for Heaven Dream Iceworm's wailing, Xiao Wu turned a deaf ear, because she was already immersed in the joy of her Ten-thousand year cultivation origin rapidly increasing.

Xiao Wu decided to absorb more, not knowing if she would have another chance to absorb the Heaven Dream Iceworm's energy in the future. If her Ten-thousand year cultivation origin was sufficient, then even if she became a Spirit Saint and reached maturity, the remaining energy could still condense spirit rings, without having to hunt Spirit Beasts.

Why not?

[Hehehe! Heaven Dream Iceworm, who told you to curse Xiao Wu Jie? You brought this upon yourself!]

Zhu Zhuqing: Give me a fulcrum, and I will pry open the entire Douluo Star!

183: The time traveler from Dou Er

In the blink of an eye, half a month passed swiftly.

Xiao Wu Jie's Ten-thousand year soul beast cultivation base had already been fully restored, but she was still refining the Heaven Dream Iceworm's energy, and using a portion of it to cultivate Jade Bone.

"Damn rabbit, how can she be so ruthless?" Heaven Dream Iceworm was terrified, unable to imagine why a transformed Soft Bones Rabbit's absorption speed could be so fast.

At this rate, he wouldn't even be able to last another five thousand years.

This Soft Bones Rabbit's bloodline must have mutated!

After much thought, Heaven Dream Iceworm decided not to suppress the energy within his body anymore and prepared to inject it into that rabbit, directly performing an initiation to make her explode—

"Absorb brother's cultivation? Let you absorb your fill!"

"A Spirit Beast's body is strong, brother can't explode, and I have to try hard to prevent the energy in my body from being drawn out, brother doesn't believe that you, a transformed Spirit Beast, who is not yet a Titled Douluo, can withstand brother's vast cultivation!"

"Die for brother!"

"Hmph!" Feeling the sudden increase in energy within her body, Xiao Wu Jie grunted, her entire body trembling, but she didn't feel too uncomfortable. She merely opened her eyes, glanced at the Heaven Dream Iceworm who was showing a mocking smile towards her, and then fully circulated the Jade Bone Golden Muscle Divine Treasure Method, absorbing and refining this energy, condensing it into Jade Bone.

"What? So much absorption?"

Heaven Dream Iceworm's face showed a ghostly expression, wanting to retract his energy, but found that Xiao Wu Jie was like a glutton opening its blood-filled maw. The energy entering her body was like prey entering the glutton's mouth; there was no way it could escape again.

In just half an hour, Heaven Dream Iceworm's body shrunk by one meter.

"Oh, brother's perfect figure, just now it was twenty meters, now it's only nineteen meters, it's over, I'll have no face to see my beloved Bingbing in the future."

However, Xiao Wu Jie didn't care and continued to absorb the Heaven Dream Iceworm's energy, while condensing Jade Bone and replenishing her own Ten-thousand year soul beast cultivation base.

Coupled with other Ten-thousand year soul beasts and fierce beasts also devouring the Heaven Dream Iceworm's energy, in just another half a month, Heaven Dream Iceworm's body became only eight or nine meters in size.

"Brother is going to lose it!"

Under Xiao Wu Jie's exploitation, Heaven Dream Iceworm felt that the psychological torment he suffered in this one month was more agonizing than all the Spirit Beast absorption processes he had endured in the past thousands or tens of thousands of years.

Under mental anxiety, Heaven Dream Iceworm continuously compressed his mental force, causing it to condense. Finally, the tenth golden pattern even appeared on his body.

In an instant, golden light burst forth, illuminating the entire cave.

When the light dissipated, Heaven Dream Iceworm's figure had already disappeared.

Di Tian arrived upon hearing the news, investigated for a bit, and said, "That bug escaped. That fluctuation just now should have been a breakthrough to the million-year level."

"However, most of his energy has already been absorbed. At most, his mental force and soul have transformed to a level close to Divinity."

"I really underestimated him."

Bi Ji asked with some concern, "Will his movements disturb the Divinity inheritances on the Douluo Continent? For example, Spirit Hall?"

"Probably not." Di Tian shook his head, "There is the Lord's aura covering this place, so the Divinities of the God Realm won't detect it... However, with Heaven Dream Iceworm's ability, he can't escape this Star Dou Great Forest. I will have Wan Yao Wang seal the important exits of the forest, and also Chi Wang can go search."

Ziji said, "But what if our actions are too big and attract human attention?"

Currently, not many humans can explore the core area of the Star Dou Great Forest, but if the commotion is too great and attracts human attention, it wouldn't be very pleasant.

There are also supreme powerhouses among humans.

"Just try to search for him. If that bug runs to the outer area, consider him lucky." Di Tian pondered for a moment and added the previous command, "Anyway, most of the energy in his body has been extracted, and even if we find his mental energy, we can't utilize it."

Heaven Dream Iceworm, having become a million-year soul beast, had become a 'chicken rib' for Di Tian and the others. Catching him was only to prevent him from acting foolishly and revealing their existence to humans...

...

"Haha, brother is free!"

Heaven Dream Iceworm, relying on the power released at the moment he became a million-year soul beast, confused all the Spirit Beasts and Xiao Wu Jie in that cave and escaped. He was now happily burrowing through the ground, arriving at the outer area of the Star Dou Great Forest.

"It's just a pity for brother's million-year cultivation..."

"Ptooeey!"

"You bastards, and that rabbit, just you wait, I will definitely make you pay!"

"But, how should I get revenge?"

Heaven Dream Iceworm achieved the million-year soul beast status, but most of his cultivation was almost completely lost. Although a vast amount of mental energy remained, he himself found it difficult to develop strong offensive Spirit Abilities from it, only auxiliary ones.

After much thought, Heaven Dream Iceworm felt that if he wanted revenge, one silkworm couldn't make a big impact; he needed to borrow the power of others.

For example: human Spirit Masters.

"Spirit Master's cultivation advancement requires a Spirit Beast's spirit ring. So, wouldn't it be the best revenge to make those damned guys become the spirit rings for the one brother chooses?"

"Brother is so amazing, I can definitely cultivate a Divinity. By then, not only can brother himself become a true Divinity, but I can also bring my beloved Bingbing."

"Hehe, killing two birds with one stone, just thinking about it makes me excited."

Thus, Heaven Dream Iceworm took action and, based on his detection ability, found a seven-person team coming to hunt Spirit Beasts.

If one looked closely, they would find that the middle-aged leader was wearing an Elder's robe from Spirit Hall, with a golden badge pinned to his chest, inscribed with the words "Devil Bear."

This was the symbol of a Titled Douluo.

Heaven Dream Iceworm also sensed the powerful spirit power of the other party and, in excitement, immediately jumped out.

"Stop!"

Devil Bear Douluo immediately shouted, scrutinizing the creature in front of him, and was stunned, "Icworm? Why would this kind of Spirit Beast appear in the outer area of the Star Dou Great Forest?"

"Hehe, of course, it's because brother is a unique million-year soul beast!" Heaven Dream Iceworm spoke, and an invisible mental force pressure was released. The powerful oppressive feeling made Devil Bear Douluo and the six Spirit Hall members behind him, who needed spirit rings, dare not move at all.

Speaking human words!

Mental deterrence!

This is a Ten-thousand year soul beast!

Devil Bear Douluo felt like he had seen a ghost. It was one thing to see an Iceworm in a place like the Star Dou Great Forest, but it was also a Ten-thousand year soul beast... No, this Iceworm said he was a million-year soul beast.

Can a Spirit Beast reach a million years?

"Don't be afraid, brother is giving you a great opportunity." Heaven Dream Iceworm chuckled, "You Spirit Masters cultivate to break through level one hundred and become a Divinity, and we Spirit Beasts are the same. Your spirit power is vast, you should be a Titled Douluo, right?"

"Yes, esteemed Million-Year Iceworm Your Excellency." Devil Bear Douluo felt the mental pressure on him lessen, allowing him to speak, and he responded respectfully.

"That's good. Brother wants to sacrifice himself to you, to let you have the tenth spirit ring!" Heaven Dream Iceworm emitted powerful mental pressure and ice attribute, sealing the space within a fifty-meter radius around him. "Moreover, brother will also let you have a second Spirit, and you, in the future, will need to bring brother along to become a Divinity, and then severely punish those bastards in the Star Dou Great Forest who absorbed brother's cultivation."

As he spoke, before Devil Bear Douluo could even suspect if it was too good to be true, Heaven Dream Iceworm's vast mental energy, as if without regard for his own life, poured into Devil Bear Douluo's body, especially into his brain.

Then—

Bang!

Devil Bear Douluo's eyes widened in fury, his entire brain exploded, and he fell into a pool of blood.

A generation's Titled Douluo, thus met his demise.

"Huh? So weak, couldn't withstand brother's mental energy?" Heaven Dream Iceworm was stunned, then looked at the remaining six people, "Maybe the attributes weren't suitable. Anyway, there are still six people, so I can try six times."

"Gulp!"

The remaining six people continuously swallowed their saliva. One of them suddenly bit his tongue, forcibly waking himself from Heaven Dream

Iceworm's mental deterrence, and ran out of the Star Dou Great Forest without looking back.

Heaven Dream Iceworm's strength was not strong; even his mental force deterrence was merely deterrence, without actual offensive capabilities. If Devil Bear Douluo had reacted at the beginning, perhaps he wouldn't have died.

After all, the guy who bit his tongue and ran away just now was only a level seventy quasi-Spirit Saint.

Even he could break through the mental deterrence, let alone Devil Bear Douluo?

It was just a pity that Devil Bear Douluo was intimidated by Heaven Dream Iceworm's "million-year cultivation."

"One ran away."

Heaven Dream Iceworm experimented with the remaining five people, but none of them could withstand his mental energy, and all died from brain explosions.

After experimenting with five people, Heaven Dream Iceworm also summarized some patterns: it wasn't that these people were too weak, but that their attributes didn't match his mental attribute.

"So, brother needs to find humans with a mental attribute Spirit. Secondly, ice attribute, but mental attribute is still the best." After Heaven Dream Iceworm determined what kind of Spirit-wielding humans he should look for, he crawled over the six corpses and continued to wander in the outer area of the Star Dou Great Forest, sensing the Spirit attributes of Spirit Masters who came to hunt Spirit Beasts.

Perhaps it was a stroke of luck, for Heaven Dream Iceworm truly encountered a human whose Spirit was of the mental attribute, and he appeared out of thin air, as if having traveled from another plane.

Other planes...

Heaven Dream Iceworm had heard of them, but the rules of each plane were different. Did other planes also have Spirits?

Unable to comprehend, Heaven Dream Iceworm decided not to ponder further. Instead, he suddenly appeared before him and said, “Little brother, your opportunity has arrived! I am going to become your spirit ring, and not just any spirit ring, but the first ever million-year-level intelligent spirit ring!”

The young man with eyes as bright as stars blinked, a hint of confusion in his gaze: “I transmigrated twice?”

“Transmigration? Coming from another plane, that word is indeed appropriate to describe it, isn’t it? But, obediently become my person, okay? Hehehe, don’t worry, I’ll be very careful, it won’t hurt...” Heaven Dream Iceworm chuckled vulgarly, initiating his sacrifice to the young man before him, entering his mental force sea, and then—

He saw another version of himself.

“Damn it! Who the hell are you?! How dare you try to snatch him from me! And you look just like me!”

“I should be you, but from a different time and space. According to Huo Yuhao, it’s something like a multiverse... The reason I came to your time and space is because I encountered a strange temporal turbulence.” Dou Yi Tianmeng, who was already in Huo Yuhao’s mental force sea, explained, “However, your sacrifice to Huo Yuhao is the wisest choice. Together, we can strive to give Huo Yuhao four Spirits in the future, then defeat Tang San, conquer the God Realm, hehehe!”

The newly arrived Heaven Dream Iceworm: “...” He felt that his other self wasn’t very intelligent. By the way, who was Tang San?

After Heaven Dream Iceworm completed his sacrifice, he also understood Huo Yuhao’s memories and discovered that this guy was actually a fusion monster, with the life experiences of two lifetimes.

And through his memories, Dou Yi Tianmeng also understood who Tang San was: a God King who was both Sea God and Asura God, and also Xiao Wu... Wasn't that woman the transformed Spirit Beast brought by Di Tian to absorb his cultivation?

The plot was a bit different.

However, Dou Yi Tianmeng didn't say much, only assuming that there was a discrepancy between the novel and reality. Then he said to Huo Yuhao, "It seems you can't return to your original time and space. According to the novel in your mind, the era I am in should be the first part of Douluo Continent. Xiao Wu was still young then, probably around thirteen or fourteen years old according to her transformed age."

"Is that so? Then that bastard Tang San should have joined Shrek Academy, and even Blue Tyrant Academy might have been renamed Shrek Academy." A sharp glint flashed in Huo Yuhao's eyes. "What do you think about me snatching Xiao Wu?"

"I raise all my legs in agreement." Dou Yi Tianmeng's soul truly raised all his legs, chuckling, "Let's poach God King Tang's corner! Hehehe!"

Dou Er Tianmeng also chuckled, "Excellent, during this Dou One period, God King Tang is still weak. Just be careful of his poisoned Hidden Weapons, as we can't detoxify them."

Huo Yuhao also imitated Blackbeard's laughter: "Thief hahahaha~"

The two worms and one human all chuckled vulgarly...

...

Time rewinds to half a month ago—

Extreme North Land.

A ten-thousand-year-level Bing Luan Bird was pulled down by Tang San using Blue Silver Emperor and brought before Guang Ling. Tang San said, “Shoot it, then absorb its spirit ring. With your mental force, you should be able to withstand the soul shock.”

“Thank you, Third Brother.” Guang Ling released Sun Chasing Bow, drew the string like a full moon, condensed a spirit power arrow, and then released it.

Whoosh—

The arrow pierced through the Bing Luan Bird’s eye, entered its brain, and then emerged from the other eyeball.

Immediately, the Bing Luan Bird stopped struggling, and a black spirit ring slowly emerged from its corpse, exceptionally dazzling amidst the ice and snow.

Guang Ling took a deep breath. Within the windbreak constructed by Tang San using Blue Silver Emperor, he adjusted his state, then used spirit power to guide the spirit ring, letting it encircle Sun Chasing Bow, and began absorbing his fourth spirit ring.

Two hours later, Guang Ling opened his eyes, his face filled with joy: “Third Brother, I succeeded in absorbing it. The effect is as you expected: it condenses an ice-attribute arrow. Once it hits a target, it will explode, covering it with ice and snow, freezing the enemy.”

As he spoke, Guang Ling used his fourth Spirit Ability. An ice-blue arrow condensed, emitting wisps of cold air.

Whoosh—

The ice-blue arrow shot out, hitting an iceberg fifty meters away. Then, ice and snow energy erupted from the arrow, rapidly spreading white and blue ice and snow around the iceberg.

“I call it Ice and Snow Aura, what do you think?” Guang Ling asked expectantly.

“The name is acceptable.”

Tang San examined Guang Ling’s Sun Chasing Bow. He saw that its bowstring now had four colors: crimson, golden, blue, and white. The sharp blades on both sides of the bow had become even sharper, and the feathers at the end were even more exaggerated. Furthermore, some transparent blue and white ice crystals floated around it.

After obtaining the fourth spirit ring, Guang Ling’s Spirit evolved again. Each time he used his fourth Spirit Ability, it would absorb ice-attribute energy and become stronger.

Adding the previous three attributes—gold, light, and lightning—Guang Ling’s Sun Chasing Bow now possessed four attributes.

“Let’s go, we should head back. Xiao Wu is probably getting anxious waiting outside Star Dou Great Forest.”

Xiao Wu had taken leave with the two of them. At this point, whether she returned to Heaven Dou Royal Academy first or they returned first, it wouldn’t be ideal. It was best for everyone to return together.

Half a month later.

Tang San and Guang Ling, using the Walker’s Sprint method from Carefree Wind Riding: Nine Steps to Heaven, quickly rushed to a town outside Star Dou Great Forest and found Xiao Wu.

“Have you already obtained a spirit ring?” Xiao Wu looked at the slightly taller Guang Ling and asked with concern.

“I have, a ten-thousand-year level. The Spirit Ability is Ice Frost Aura, but the most important thing is the improvement to the Spirit itself. Now the quality of my Sun Chasing Bow Spirit is comparable to some powerful Tool Spirits.” Guang Ling narrowed his crescent-shaped eyes, very happy with the evolution of his Spirit. “Xiao Wu Jie, have you obtained your fifth spirit ring?”

“Naturally, and it’s a fifty-thousand-year spirit ring.” Xiao Wu put one hand on her hip and held up a “five” with her other hand towards Guang Ling. “Moreover, this time, I gained a great benefit, Third Brother, can you tell?”

Tang San fixed his gaze and saw that Xiao Wu was full of vitality and had a long, steady breath. He asked in surprise, “Jade Bone Golden Muscle Divine Treasure Method, you’ve already completely cultivated the Jade Bone stage?”

“That’s right!” Xiao Wu lifted her chin thirty degrees, quite pleased. “That’s the great benefit I gained, from a large worm.”

Heaven Dream Iceworm!

Tang San immediately thought of that both lucky and unlucky million-year Spirit Beast. He hadn’t expected Xiao Wu to be fortunate enough to obtain energy from that “experience package.”

It seemed that Xiao Wu had gained the attention of those fierce beasts, but didn’t they look down on transformed Spirit Beasts?

Unable to comprehend... Hmm?

Instantly, Tang San sensed someone probing him with mental force. He immediately turned his head, his steps pausing. He used Nine Steps to Heaven, covering a hundred meters in one step, two hundred meters in two steps.

In just a flash, he arrived before the person who had been probing him with mental force.

Xiao Wu and Guang Ling followed closely behind.

The person before them was dressed in clothes similar to modern times, completely out of place with the common styles of this era. He had short black hair and a relatively ordinary face. The most striking feature was his eyes, which were very bright.

“Who are you? Why did you just probe us with mental force?” Tang San’s expression was indifferent, his tone cold.

“I... my name is Huo Yuhao.”

Huo Yuhao trembled all over, quite afraid. He never expected that just a slight probe with a Spirit Ability would lead to him being discovered.

Moreover, according to the two Heaven Dream Iceworms in his mental force sea, the Tang San before him had mental force as vast as the sea and as profound as an abyss. If one were to apply the mental force realm settings from his memory of dragon king legend: Spirit Origin, Spirit Comprehension, Spirit Sea, Spirit Abyss, Spirit Domain, Divine Origin, Divine King, then the opponent was only one step away from the Spirit Domain.

Such a mental force realm was not something Heaven Dream Iceworm, who only possessed mental force but couldn’t maximize its utilization, could compare to.

More importantly, before he came here due to temporal turbulence, he hadn’t learned Tang Sect’s martial arts, and the Tang San before him knew Purple Demon Eye!

In terms of mental force attacks, Huo Yuhao dared not say he could surpass the other party.

It’s just, why was Tang San so strong?

Could it be that he had been reborn?

“I didn’t ask your name, I asked why you probed us with mental force?” Tang San understood. The guy before him was another transmigrator, not the original Huo Yuhao, but from another time and space. “Don’t you know that if you casually probe others with mental force, even if the one being probed kills you, no one will seek justice for you?”

184: Just right, I like to be clean

"S-sorry, I was just curious." Huo Yuhao decided to back down, figuring he'd escape this predicament first before anything else. Now wasn't the time to go against Tang San.

However, this grudge, he definitely had to repay!

"Curious? Just with a word 'curious', you can casually use your mental force to peek at others, and from over three hundred meters away, directly targeting the three of us." Tang San said slowly, "With a very clear purpose, not looking at others, just looking at the three of us. Is there anything special about us?"

"Well, handsome men and beautiful women are very eye-catching," Huo Yuhao came up with a clumsy excuse.

"Is that so? But just now I felt that most of your mental force was on me, and I was even facing away from you at the time." Tang San narrowed his eyes, "If you don't have some kind of癖好, then you must know me. Now, your eyes also tell me that you know me, but not many people know me."

Huo Yuhao swallowed, thinking to himself: "Dou Yi Tianmeng, Dou Er Tianmeng, I'm on this guy's 'path to death' list! Quickly think of a way!"

Dou Er Tianmeng said: "Your current strength definitely cannot clash head-on with him. According to the novel descriptions you read in your previous life, the opponent is at least a Spirit Ancestor, and also has the Mysterious Heaven Treasure Record and Tang Sect Hidden Weapons. Killing you would be too simple."

Dou Yi Tianmeng, however, had a different idea: "Perhaps, the two of us can combine our mental force and see if we can shatter his brain? Although his mental force is only one step away from the Domain, and he has methods like Purple Demon Eye that utilize mental force, we are, after all, million-year Spirit Beasts. The superposition of our mental force is not weaker than his."

Huo Yuhao also offered a suggestion: "That makes sense. The opponent is clearly confident he has me, so he will definitely relax his guard. If we catch him off guard, we might succeed."

In an instant, the two worms and one person had discussed their countermeasure, and Huo Yuhao showed a fawning smile to Tang San, his footsteps unconsciously retreating, and then he quickly ran.

This was his plan: first, run away, showing weakness to the enemy.

Tang San would certainly want to understand the situation and wouldn't kill him immediately. When he caught up, whether he grabbed him from behind or leaped in front of him, Huo Yuhao would be able to react.

After all, Dou Yi Tianmeng and Dou Er Tianmeng were both in his spiritual sea, able to fully assist him in a surprise attack!

"Third Brother, that guy ran." Xiao Wu was startled, but seeing Tang San calm and composed, she understood that with his speed, no matter how fast he ran, he wouldn't escape.

It's just, why did that kid have a familiar cold aura about him?

Heaven Dream Iceworm?

Seeing Huo Yuhao run about fifty meters, Tang San then said to the two girls: "Let's go, he's entered the nearby forest. There's no one there."

The three pursued him.

Just one step, and it was a hundred meters away.

Guang Ling leaped onto a treetop, the Sun Chasing Bow appearing in his hand. His First spirit ring glowed, and an arrow of Crimson Gold Aura condensed. The blades on both sides of the bow also manifested as crimson energy blades, attaching themselves to the sides of the arrow.

Whoosh—

The arrow shot out, the energy blades on its sides directly cutting through trees, heading straight for Huo Yuhao's head.

"It seems they want to kill you directly!"

Dou Er Tianmeng was startled, sensing the extremely penetrating and cutting arrow. Realizing Huo Yuhao couldn't dodge, he hastily controlled his body, turned around, and pointed a finger. Mental and ice-attribute aura erupted, colliding with the Crimson Gold Aura arrow, blocking and even destroying it.

And that ice-blue energy stream, carrying ice and mental attributes, shot towards Guang Ling's glabella at an extremely fast speed.

If it hit, with Guang Ling's strength as a Spirit Ancestor, he would be crippled if not dead.

At that critical moment, Guang Ling was pulled away by a Blue Silver Emperor, dodging the fatal blow.

"Thank you, Third Brother." Guang Ling nodded, and at the same time realized Huo Yuhao's power. A mere two-ring Spirit Grandmaster, and both were white spirit rings, yet he was able to break through her First Spirit Ability.

He couldn't be underestimated.

And Xiao Wu, through that attack, completely confirmed Huo Yuhao's identity—the million-year Heaven Dream Iceworm!

He actually became human?

No!

It should be a sacrifice, becoming this person's spirit ring. With a million years of mental force and soul, it's not incredible to perfectly preserve the soul.

It's just, why are there two spirit rings?

Xiao Wu had a premonition that both spirit rings were from the Heaven Dream Iceworm... Could it be that a million-year Spirit Beast sacrificing itself to a human can autonomously condense multiple spirit rings for the human?

Whoosh!

Just then, as Huo Yuhao ran, dense Blue Silver Emperor vines grew out, countless leaves Binding the opponent's limbs and body, and sealing their eyes.

"Damn it!" Huo Yuhao struggled, but it was useless.

"Brother's coming!" X2

Dou Yi Tianmeng and Dou Er Tianmeng used ice-attribute energy to break the Blue Silver Emperor restraints on Huo Yuhao's limbs, freezing them into ice that shattered upon touch.

Although Blue Silver Grass had strong immunity to low temperatures, it still couldn't withstand two million-year Spirit Beasts.

But the Endless Grassland was rooted deep in the earth, its power inexhaustible, and the Blue Silver Emperor naturally regenerated endlessly.

Dou Yi Tianmeng, detecting with his mental force, said in shock: "This Spirit Ability can't be dealt with. These Blue Silver Grass draw energy from the entire earth, their roots extending about five hundred meters deep underground, covering an area of over a thousand meters. This thing can almost be called a materialized Domain. Although we are million-year Spirit Beasts, we cannot compare with the power of the entire Douluo Continent."

Dou Er Tianmeng was also incredulous: "Is this the power of the Great God King Tang? Compared to Huo Yuhao, this one is the true Son of Fortune, no, he's the Son of the Earth of the Douluo Continent!"

The two worms who had read the novel "peerless tang sect" in Huo Yuhao's mind finally understood why the original Huo Yuhao was trained like a dog.

Huo Yuhao was at most the Son of Fortune of an era, while the Tang San before them, whose Blue Silver Emperor could draw upon the power of the earth, was the eternal Son of the Earth.

As long as Tang San didn't die, the Douluo Continent would always stand by him.

Through this Endless Grassland, the two Heaven Dream Iceworms saw more of the situation.

That is, when Tang San's Blue Silver Emperor drew upon the earth's power, its roots also absorbed soil, making the earth more solid. And the Blue Silver Emperor leaves would instinctively absorb light, automatically condensing a basic substance that was invisible to the naked eye but could enhance the energy concentration of the entire Douluo Continent.

This was not plundering the earth's power, but a mutually beneficial process.

Tang San was definitely favored by the World's will!

He was treated like a "favorite son"!

Moreover, according to the two Heaven Dream Iceworms' investigation, Tang San's physical body was also unnaturally strong for a human. The intensity of his blood qi, under their mental force observation, was like a surging sea of blood, 炽热 and 澎湃, completely capable of engaging in close combat with super Spirit Beasts approaching the hundred-thousand-year level.

What kind of monster was this?

Even if Huo Yuhao was a transmigrator and had Iliex, he couldn't win!

Iliex was strong, but according to the two worms' comparison of the settings in "god seal throne", "peerless tang sect", and "dragon king legend", they found that the cultivation realms of the Saint Magic Continent and the Douluo Continent were actually not much different. The nine realms corresponded to each other; at most, the Saint Magic Continent didn't require spirit rings to advance.

Precisely because there was no convenience of spirit rings directly granting Spirit Abilities, the creativity of humans on the Saint Magic Continent was stronger than on the Douluo Continent, and their use of power was more refined.

Conversely, the Douluo Continent was much cruder; a large portion of spirit power was wasted when using Spirit Abilities.

That was the main difference.

Therefore, at the same realm, the combat power of human powerhouses on the Saint Magic Continent was considerably stronger than on the Douluo Continent, perhaps even one or two levels higher, but in terms of cultivation realms, they could actually be equated.

Furthermore, Iliex was still in slumber and couldn't make a move until a critical moment.

"How about we choose someone else?" Dou Yi Tianmeng set up a mental barrier to prevent Huo Yuhao from hearing his conversation with his other self. "Anyway, our goal is to get revenge on those bastards. Wouldn't choosing Tang San be better? The fierce beasts in the Star Dou Great Forest are all power-type, or their power isn't weak, which suits his Clear Sky Hammer better."

Dou Er Tianmeng narrowed his eyes: "You want to betray Huo Yuhao?"

Dou Yi Tianmeng stared, saying: "What do you mean 'betray'? He's just a waste. If it weren't for us, what kind of Son of Fortune would he be? His past life memories in his mind, without extraordinary power, but he's almost forgotten all the knowledge from what he called 'nine-year compulsory education,' only basic arithmetic and some strange ideas left... Can we let him mess around?"

“Although we previously echoed Huo Yuhao’s desire to confront Tang San together, the current situation is clear. Reality differs from novels, and one thing is certain: we have only one goal—to get revenge on those bastards who absorbed our cultivation, then become gods and enter the God Realm.”

“But our status after becoming gods depends on the person we choose.”

“Tang San, who turned the Douluo Continent into his private garden, or Huo Yuhao, who was trained like a dog? It should be an easy choice, right?”

Although the current Huo Yuhao is a transmigrator, Dou Yi Tianmeng has already understood that this guy, apart from his past life memories, is no different from Huo Yuhao in the peerless tang sect. In fact, because of the so-called past life memories, his personality is even worse.

If Tang San as described in the peerless tang sect is a hypocrite, then this Huo Yuhao is a true villain.

Tang San is hypocritical, but at least on the surface, he repays kindness and has a certain facade, making him easy to talk to. Huo Yuhao, on the other hand, seeks revenge without delay, and his hatred is directly displayed... With such a personality, if the two of them were looking after him, it would be fine for him to be a protagonist like Long Aotian. But if he encounters an unbeatable opponent, he’s definitely doomed.

Not to mention, the current Tang San already shows a tendency to become the eternal Son of Fortune of the Douluo Continent. Opposing him would likely lead to them and Huo Yuhao being targeted by the entire Douluo Continent’s plane will.

That would be a barbecue.

“You make a lot of sense.” Dou Er Tianmeng was persuaded. After all, before he and Huo Yuhao came to this era due to a space-time乱流, which was just after their sacrifice, he only briefly looked at Huo Yuhao’s memories and didn’t have such deep feelings for him. Moreover, both of them have already replicated Huo Yuhao’s memories.

They also possess the knowledge of modern Earth society!

It’s just—

“There’s a problem right now. Tang San doesn’t seem to have a Spirit with a mental force attribute, does he?” Dou Er Tianmeng continued, “Are we supposed to sacrifice to the Clear Sky Hammer?”

mental force attribute, ice attribute, attached to a strength-type Tool Spirit—it feels like there would be big problems.

“Indeed, he doesn’t, but we can take Iliex with us.” Dou Yi Tianmeng looked at the gray bead above the mental space. “The mental force of one million-year Heaven Dream Iceworm cannot shake him, but now there are two, and he is relatively weak. With our mental force, we should be able to carry him along, and then, with two million years of mental force and our inherent ice attribute origin, forcibly turn him into Tang San’s third Spirit, possessing mental, ice, and death attributes.”

Dou Er Tianmeng nodded: “Not bad, we can try... But is this really okay? We’re fine, but this Iliex is Huo Yuhao’s fortuitous encounter...”

“Idiot! Whether Huo Yuhao can even survive is still unknown. What good is leaving this guy to him? Besides, we are Spirit Beasts; do we have a moral compass?” Dou Yi Tianmeng understood that Dou Er had spent more time with Huo Yuhao than he had, so he might feel a bit reluctant. “Moreover, Tang San’s mental force is so powerful, and his mental sea is even wider, which will definitely allow us to live more comfortably.”

“Alright, let’s do it.” Dou Er Tianmeng agreed...

...

“Now, can you speak?” Tang San looked at Huo Yuhao, whose limbs were bound by Blue Silver Emperor and eyes covered. “Why did you run away?”

“Bah! If you have the guts, kill me, you hypocrite!” Huo Yuhao was certain that the hypocritical Tang San, in order to maintain the image of a humble gentleman, would never dare to kill him in front of Xiao Wu and another girl, so he cursed out loud.

Slap!

Xiao Wu couldn't hold back and kicked him in the groin.

There was a “crack” sound, like eggs breaking, and blood stained his pants.

“Ah!”

Huo Yuhao's features twisted, and his face turned pale at an extremely fast rate.

At this moment, his mind was blank, feeling that everything was over, his lifeblood severed.

“When I ask you a question, you answer. Still daring to yell? Can't see the situation clearly, can you? Or do you have a Titled Douluo backing you up?” Xiao Wu had followed Tang San for many years, and her temper had improved, but the “wildness” in her heart had never disappeared. She just learned to be reserved and to rein it in when necessary, and display it when appropriate—

Dare to curse Tang San?

Seeking death!

And that Heaven Dream Iceworm, really can't pick people!

Guang Ling also had an unpleasant expression. Tang San was the older brother who changed her destiny. Even if he was the worst villain in the World and wanted to destroy the World, she would willingly give everything to follow him.

What right did this guy in front of her have to curse him?

Huo Yuhao gritted his teeth in pain and knew who had just kicked him—Xiao Wu.

He almost forgot that in the original work, most of the big and small troubles were caused by Xiao Wu, and she acted without regard for the consequences—damn it! What the hell! Wasn't it just that he thought about stealing Tang San's woman earlier? Now he's directly been rendered impotent by the “woman”!

Birds of a feather!

Everyone with Tang San is birds of a feather!

Buzz!

Suddenly, a powerful mental force fluctuation erupted from Huo Yuhao's body, solidifying the surrounding space, and an icy aura covered Xiao Wu and Guang Ling.

Tang San resisted with his formidable physique and vast mental force, manipulating the Endless Grassland to send the two girls five hundred meters away, resisting the surrounding mental pressure.

“Competing with me in mental force?” Tang San forcibly activated his vital energy and blood, converting it into spirit power, and then spirit power into mental force, to counter the mental force fluctuation emanating from Huo Yuhao.

The lower dantian nourishes vital energy and blood, the middle dantian cultivates spirit power, and the upper dantian condenses mental force.

The three can convert into each other instinctively.

Tang San hadn't found a better conversion method, such as building a way to “refine essence into qi” and “refine qi into Spirit.” Forcibly converting with Mysterious Heaven Skill caused great damage to his body.

But Tang San didn't care.

Because the Endless Grassland could continuously restore him; minor injuries, as long as he didn't die, could be recovered!

Two powerful mental energies collided, creating layers of ripples in the void, and the surrounding trees trembled, shedding leaves.

“My goodness, Tang San is that powerful?” Dou Er Tianmeng was dumbfounded, especially when he sensed the five spirit rings emerging from Tang San’s body: one yellow, two purple, one black, and one red.

This was actually a Spirit King!

His fifth spirit ring was a hundred thousand years!

Huo Yuhao, apart from being lucky enough to obtain their two million-year spirit rings, simply couldn't compare to Tang San.

“Must be quick!” Dou Yi Tianmeng desperately urged the gray bead, wanting to take it out of Huo Yuhao’s mental force. Dou Er Tianmeng, beside him, also forcefully urged his mental energy.

“Alas~”

Suddenly, Dou Yi Tianmeng, Dou Er Tianmeng, Huo Yuhao, and Tang San all heard a long sigh, then a voice said: “Since this place doesn’t welcome this old man, then this old man will go elsewhere.”

Outside, where Tang San’s and Huo Yuhao’s mental force collided, time seemed to stand still. A point of gray airflow condensed, forming a bead, which slowly sank into Tang San’s glabella.

And as Dou Yi Tianmeng and Dou Er Tianmeng tried to follow, circles of gray airflow suddenly appeared on Huo Yuhao’s forehead, forming a peculiar rune—that was a necromantic sealing magic.

This barrier trapped the two of them in Huo Yuhao's mental sea.

Dou Yi Tianmeng was dumbfounded: "What the hell?"

Dou Er Tianmeng was stunned: "What are you doing?!"

"Since you dislike this old man so much, don't follow. It just so happens that this old man also likes peace and quiet, not crowds." The old voice echoed beside Dou Yi Tianmeng and Dou Er Tianmeng's souls, then disappeared.

After Tang San regained his ability to move, he felt his entire body's mental force vibrating, his vital energy and blood, and spirit power in disarray. Realizing what had happened, he ignored killing Huo Yuhao and directly leaped towards Xiao Wu and Guang Ling's location.

Executing Three Steps to Heaven, Nine Steps, Tang San saw Xiao Wu and Guang Ling, who had already broken free from the ice. His consciousness was already a bit blurry. Before fainting, he uttered his last words: "Take me to a nearby town, find a safer inn. That guy seems to have injected something into my upper dantian, affecting my mental force..."

As Tang San's eyes closed, Xiao Wu and Guang Ling immediately helped him up and headed towards the town next to the Star Dou Great Forest.

"Huo Yuhao, right? Just you wait, I'll definitely kill you later!"

Guang Ling looked back at the tranquil forest. Having absorbed the Bing Luan Bird, she possessed an icy aura, and with her cultivation of Purple Demon Eye, she could clearly sense that the ice attribute energy had not completely dissipated.

The guy who hurt her Third Brother was still alive!

She must avenge this grudge for her Third Brother!

185: Huo Yuhao's Douyi Travels

(Part 1)

Within Tang San's spiritual sea, or rather, his upper dantian.

Under the stimulation and nourishment of Tang San's energy, which was full of Life aura, the gray airflow instantly grew considerably, awakened, and transformed into a human form with a relatively solidified body.

His appearance was that of an old man with an aged face, wearing a phantom black robe with a strange, indistinct golden rune on it.

A phantom white cloak was draped over his back, with the hood pulled over his head, forming a stark contrast with the black robe.

In his right hand, he held a phantom staff that was two meters longer than his height, entirely composed of a mixture of black, white, and gold.

The black emitted a pure death aura, while the gold emanated a sacred light aura.

As for the white, it seemed to have spatial fluctuations.

These three colors spiraled up the staff, and at its apex was a large, white crystal carved into the shape of a skull.

"How unexpected. I, a death Saint Archmage, was actually nourished by mental force with a hint of Life, allowing me to even condense a phantom representation of my peak appearance before my death. A part of my memory has also resurfaced... The rules of this World are very special, and you are even more special."

Iliex gazed at Tang San, the true master of this spiritual sea, and slowly began, "Your body is incredibly powerful, and you can even convert your body's energy, spirit power energy similar to spiritual energy or magical energy, and mental energy into each other... This is simply a genius idea. If you truly complete it, you will possess the divine force of a God, and even achieve true eternal Life!"

"Even a God cannot compare!"

"Excellent, truly excellent! At your age, even I could hardly match your achievements! It's truly remarkable!"

Tang San cupped his fists, bowed slightly, and then said, "Senior, isn't it inappropriate to intrude without the host's permission and even look through my memories?"

"It is indeed impolite of me, but please don't mind it. Although I was a Demigod before my death, I am now just a wisp of a remnant soul. Furthermore, your mental force is vast and profound in quality, so I cannot see all of your memories, only a glimpse of your research process... If I were in your position, I would definitely not be as good as you." Iliex sighed again, Tang San's excellence deeply moved him, and besides—

Life and death are perfectly opposite, aren't they?

Perhaps this is the arrangement of fate.

Moreover, Iliex also sensed another power within Tang San's body, containing ultimate destructive force.

Tang San simultaneously possessed Life and destruction.

And Iliex simultaneously controlled light and death.

Life, light...

Destruction, death...

This was definitely the arrangement of fate!

"Demigod?" Tang San feigned surprise, "It seems Senior was very powerful during his lifetime, already touching upon the level of a God."

"Holding the sun and moon, plucking the stars, there is no one like me in this World!"

Iliex stroked his beard and laughed heartily, "If I wished, I would have long been the God of death. Unfortunately, in my plane, becoming a God meant assimilation with the elements, which also meant death... However, this World is different. I sense that above this World, there exists an even more powerful God Realm, which governs many planes."

"And thanks to the nourishment of your mental force, otherwise, I wouldn't have been able to sense it."

"It's quite ironic, isn't it? I, who control necromancy, am actually nourished by Life-related mental energy... Perhaps, I myself have never given up on light..."

Tang San interrupted Iliex, "Sorry, I'm not interested in your story at the moment."

Iliex: "...You have a unique sense of humor."

"It's merely self-preservation. Before possessing the corresponding strength, knowing things one shouldn't know is not a good thing," Tang San said indifferently, "When I break through to a level similar to a God in the future, it won't be too late for Senior to tell me your story."

"Very well." Iliex was silent for a moment, then agreed to Tang San's suggestion, "Coincidentally, my memories have not fully recovered yet, and I need a period of recuperation to see if they can all be restored. Although I can sense that it might be an unbearable past, with incomplete memories, I am not truly myself."

"Then, Senior, since you might be living in my upper dantian for the rest of your Life, do you need to pay rent?" Tang San revealed a shrewd merchant's smile.

Iliex was speechless but still asked, "I can give you cultivation methods from another World, magic, how does that sound?"

"That is indeed good, but being broad and not specialized is not what I desire. Qi and blood, spirit power, mental force, as well as Spirit, spirit ring, Spirit Bone, spirit tool, and so on, already occupy most of my time, so it's not suitable to research other World systems," Tang San's eyes flickered, "Moreover, in my opinion, no matter what kind of cultivation system, it cannot escape two words: matter and energy."

"I haven't seen magic before, but I estimate it also uses energy to interfere with matter, and the medium used, besides chanting spells, is the energy flow circuit that constructs and displays the form."

"May I ask, Senior, is my understanding correct?"

Iliex was speechless; even he hadn't seen through this point, yet the young man in front of him had, which was truly remarkable.

"I am not as good as you... So, what kind of rent do you want? You wouldn't be hoping for me to become your Spirit, would you?"

"I can do that, anyway, I'm already dead, so it doesn't matter."

Tang San shook his head, "No need. Two Spirits are enough; more would be troublesome to control. What I value is Senior's mind."

"Or rather, wisdom."

Upon hearing this, Iliex laughed heartily and said, "Interesting, truly interesting. I have met many people; they either desire power, crave wealth, or pursue authority and status."

"And the purest person I've ever met possessed pure love... That was a guy who moved even me, and then I took him as my disciple..."

"But you are the first person who wants my mind."

Tang San smiled slightly, "In this World, only truth is eternal, and love is one of the truths. Being moved by it is only natural."

"I'm not as open-minded as you..." Iliex seemed to recall something and sighed, "Love is indeed truth, but truth is not just love. I only realize this now!"

"Tsk~"

"Perhaps I should call you Teacher."

Tang San raised his head and said with a chuckle, "If Senior is willing, this junior wouldn't mind."

Iliex: "..."

Thump!

Tang San's soul jolted, returning to his body. He opened his eyes and woke up, but Iliex's words echoed in his ears: "Kid, I agree to the rent you asked for. In the future, if you want to research anything, you can call me along. I'm also quite curious about the Spirit of this World~"

"Third Brother, you're awake!"

Seeing Tang San wake up, Guang Ling immediately brought over a bowl of water.

Tang San drank the water, placed the bowl on the bedside table, looked around, and found himself in an inn. He got out of bed, patted Guang Ling's head, and said, "Thanks, I'm fine now. Moreover, this time, I've gained a great benefit."

The Necromancer Saint Archmage, the Undead Scourge.

Had become his "Old Grandfather."

"Third Brother, are you alright?" Xiao Wu walked in from outside the door. Seeing that Tang San had recovered, she rushed over, hugged him, and asked with concern.

"I'm fine now, and don't cry." Tang San patted Xiao Wu's back, signaling her to be mindful, as Guang Ling was still watching enviously from the side.

Releasing Tang San, Xiao Wu said, "Third Brother, don't worry, that guy is dead for sure in the future!"

During the time Tang San was unconscious, Xiao Wu returned to the Star Dou Great Forest and told Ditian and others about the Heaven Dream Iceworm sacrificing itself to a human, and provided a portrait of Huo Yuhao — Xiao Wu also drew illustrations in a realistic style while writing "Xiao Rou's Wonderful Adventure," and her drawing talent was quite good.

To ferocious Spirit Beasts like Ditian, the Heaven Dream Iceworm sacrificing itself to a human was a betrayal of Spirit Beasts.

Although the ferocious Spirit Beasts had captured the Heaven Dream Iceworm and absorbed its cultivation to train, Xiao Wu had also absorbed the Heaven Dream Iceworm's energy, and the human chosen by the Heaven Dream Iceworm had also harmed Tang San.

Since they had offended him, they might as well offend him completely and give him no way out.

In the future, the human chosen by the Heaven Dream Iceworm would not be allowed to enter the Ten-thousand year Spirit Beast area or the core area of the Star Dou Great Forest, otherwise all Ten-thousand year Spirit Beasts would besiege him.

"Don't worry about him, that Huo Yuhao is not worth fearing." Tang San didn't know what Xiao Wu had done, thinking Xiao Wu wanted to avenge him, and comforted her, "My unconsciousness actually had no direct relation to that guy, but rather a remnant soul of a Demigod powerhouse from another plane entered my upper dantian... The time I was unconscious was when he and I were communicating."

“A demigod?” Xiao Wu was shocked, then asked anxiously, “He won’t hurt you, will he?”

“No, my body is mine to control,” Tang San said confidently.

Iliex: “.....” He just blurted out my situation like that? He trusts these two women too much, doesn’t he? I feel like this isn’t good... The memory I haven’t recalled yet, it seems to be related to a woman...

“By the way, how long have I been unconscious?” Tang San asked.

“One day and one night,” Xiao Wu replied.

“Then, it’s time to return to Heaven Dou Royal Academy. In the coming time, we need to properly improve our cultivation and strength.” Tang San’s eyes were exceptionally bright, as if he could already see the moment the All-Continent Advanced Soul Master Academy Elite Tournament began.

At that time, he would show everyone the power of a Martial Soul Theory Master...

...

“A million-year Spirit Beast?”

Bibi Dong frowned tightly, looking at the Spirit Saint kneeling below, then at the Devil Bear Douluo’s corpse brought back by Ghost Douluo, and the other five corpses of Spirit Emperors and Spirit Saints. She asked coldly, “Ghost Douluo, is what he said true?”

“The way Devil Bear Douluo and the others died, they indeed couldn’t withstand the injection of mental force, leading to brain rupture.” Ghost Douluo respectfully said, “Currently, among the Spirit Beast species on the continent that have been explored and recorded as proficient in mental force, even a Ten-thousand year soul beast might be able to kill a Titled Douluo, but to directly burst a Titled Douluo’s brain... Please forgive my ignorance, but perhaps only a Spirit Beast whose cultivation exceeds one hundred thousand years can achieve this.”

“Moreover, Supreme Pontiff, I used my Spirit to probe the memories recorded by this survivor, and I indeed saw an Iceworm that could speak human words.”

“Although it wasn’t seen very clearly, based on Devil Bear Douluo’s stunned state at the time, it can be confirmed that the Iceworm that appeared on the outskirts of the Star Dou Great Forest definitely had a cultivation age exceeding the one hundred thousand-year level.”

“As for whether it reached a million years, that remains to be discussed.”

“Also, regarding why the Iceworm would sacrifice itself to a human, that Iceworm did indeed say things like ‘I want to get revenge on those bastards in the Star Dou Great Forest’... If true, then there might be Spirit Beasts with cultivation exceeding one hundred thousand years in the unexplored areas of the Star Dou Great Forest, and quite a few of them.”

Bibi Dong waved her hand, signaling for the terrified Spirit Saint to be taken away.

Although it should be accurate after Ghost Douluo’s mental probe, if that Iceworm was a million-year Spirit Beast, why would it allow this guy to find an opportunity to run back?

Was that Iceworm too stupid?

Or was it that the Iceworm deliberately left this Spirit Saint alive to transmit the message to humans, attracting powerful Spirit Masters among humans into the core of the Star Dou Great Forest?

Also, for an Iceworm Spirit Beast to be able to cultivate to the million-year level, isn’t that too fantastical?

For a moment, Bibi Dong thought of many possibilities, but she didn’t think of going to the library to search for information. Instead, she pondered whether to go to the Star Dou Great Forest to investigate.

After all, her second Spirit, Soul Eating Spider Emperor, only had seven spirit rings, and her seventh spirit ring was only a Ten-thousand year soul ring, obtained from a one hundred thousand-year-level Soft Bones Rabbit.

It must be said that this spirit ring did not match her Soul Eating Spider Emperor at all; it only provided a greater spirit power increase from the one hundred thousand-year-level spirit ring and Spirit Bone.

This was also why Bibi Dong placed it in the seventh position, as the seventh Spirit Ability would definitely include Martial Soul True Body.

That is, the Ten-thousand year soul ring had two Spirit Abilities; besides Martial Soul True Body, the remaining Ten-thousand year Spirit Ability was extremely useless.

As for the remaining two spirit ring slots for Soul Eating Spider Emperor, Bibi Dong did not immediately go to search for them, realizing this point. She prepared to wait and observe for a period of time before the time for the Rakshasa God inheritance's divine examination [to complete both Spirits' spirit rings and reach ninety-ninth level] arrived.

This was both to investigate the traces of Ten-thousand year soul beasts and to see if there were suitable spider-type Spirit Beasts.

If she truly couldn't find a suitable spider-type Spirit Beast, she would choose other one hundred thousand-year-level Spirit Beasts.

Now, the Star Dou Great Forest actually contained Spirit Beasts exceeding the one hundred thousand-year level, and even so-called million-year-level Spirit Beasts, which truly made Bibi Dong somewhat tempted.

Although the Iceworm and Soul Eating Spider Emperor did not have a strong compatibility, Soul Eating Spider Emperor also had a mental attribute and could inherit the Iceworm's mental attribute, not to mention its million-year-level cultivation.

This truly moved her heart.

However, the All-Continent Advanced Soul Master Academy Elite Tournament was imminent. Searching for a million-year Spirit Beast would inevitably waste a lot of time. How should she choose?

Ultimately, Bibi Dong still decided to search after the tournament.

The current Bibi Dong was not completely insane; rationality still held the upper hand, and the hatred in her heart for Spirit Hall, primarily for the Angel lineage of the Qian family...

...

On the other side, Huo Yuhao, who had narrowly escaped death, learned from Dou Yi Tianmeng and Dou Er Tianmeng that Iliex had sacrificed himself to save him, making his hatred for Tang San even more intense.

“Damn Tang Dog!”

“My cheat!”

Dou Yi Tianmeng and Dou Er Tianmeng exchanged glances, secretly vowing never to tell Huo Yuhao that Iliex’s departure was actually due to their desire to move. Otherwise, with Huo Yuhao’s personality, it’s hard to say that he wouldn’t target them once he became stronger.

In terms of double standards, this guy was even worse than Tang San.

However, now they could only stay with Huo Yuhao... But things weren’t actually that bad. As long as Huo Yuhao didn’t provoke Tang San and his group and diligently cultivated, with their help, becoming a god in the future wasn’t impossible.

At least, the current Huo Yuhao had two unformed ice-attribute Spirits, and in the future, he could possess two ice-attribute Beast Spirits.

Ice Jade Emperor Scorpion, that’s confirmed.

For the remaining one, he could choose the Snow Empress. At this time, she probably hadn’t chosen to transform into human form and become an embryo... Letting her become Huo Yuhao's Spirit wasn't impossible.

After all, without Iliex, the Ice and Snow Empress could no longer become a Soul Spirit.

It's just unknown where the Snow Empress is.

Among the three Heavenly Kings of the Extreme North Land, although they knew each other, it was only limited to acquaintance. If one were to say how intimate their relationship was, perhaps it was just that both the Titan Snow Demon King and the Ice Jade Emperor Scorpion liked the Snow Empress?

This is a tragic story.

"Huo Yuhao, don't be so agitated. You still have us. That old man's magic isn't worth learning; it's too broad and not refined. Once your spirit power reaches level thirty, we'll go to the Extreme North Land to help you obtain your second Spirit, and even your third Spirit. You'll still have three Spirits; this won't change," Dou Er Tianmeng comforted him.

"You're right," Huo Yuhao calmed down, but he was still angry in his heart. After all, how could two ice-attribute Spirits compare to Iliex, the Necromancer Saint Magus?

But no matter how angry he was, it was useless.

Currently, he could only take it one step at a time, and when he became powerful in the future, he would definitely regain his dignity.

Dou Yi Tianmeng asked, "Do you know where to go now? If you want to cultivate quickly, you still need to find a more advanced meditation method. The novel peerless tang sect only glosses over it. With only ideas, your spirit power won't increase quickly. Although my situation is better than Dou Er Tianmeng's and I can provide you with more cultivation, it's not much."

"Moreover, your physique is too weak."

Compared to Tang San's physique, which was like a humanoid dragon, Huo Yuhao was like a piece of paper, the kind as thin as a cicada's wing. The other party could probably poke through him with a little force.

There was no comparison at all.

"That is a problem." Huo Yuhao frowned tightly, "Then, can you apply gravity to me?"

"We don't have that ability. Our mental force cannot be converted into gravity. The so-called sense of oppression only affects your or others' mental force," Dou Er Tianmeng said. "Also, if you want to undergo gravity training, you need to eat well. You're so frail that with even one times gravity, your internal organs would shatter."

"It seems I really need to join an academy." Huo Yuhao frowned tightly, realizing the seriousness of the problem, and prepared to head to Heaven Dou City...

Original setting: Bibi Dong's second Spirit's seventh spirit ring was only dropped by Xiao Wu's mother. The sequel changed it to being eaten by a fierce beast.

As for Bibi Dong's first Spirit's ninth spirit ring (one hundred thousand-year level), the original work didn't state where it came from, but in the comic, it seems to show that this was Xiao Wu's mother's spirit ring.

However, it's not important. This book adopts the original setting for this point.

186: Huo Yuhao's Douyi Travels

(Part 2)

“Selling newspapers, selling newspapers! Wuhun News! Grandmaster Tang has published new theories, related to Martial Soul Fusion Skill!”

Half a month later, Huo Yuhao arrived at Heaven Dou City. As soon as he entered the city gate, he heard shouts similar to a newsboy, feeling that the style of painting was a bit off. “Did Dou Yi already have newspapers? Or did I just not pay much attention to outside news when I was in Dai’s Mansion?”

Heaven Dou City was not far from Star Dou Great Forest. If he took a carriage, he could arrive in seven days, but Huo Yuhao had no money and got lost, so he wasted more than twenty days.

“Which academy do you want to join?” Dou Yi Tianmeng asked.

“According to your memory, in this era, the famous academies in Heaven Dou City are only Four Element Academies, Tiandou Royal, and Shrek. Oh, Canghui Academy and other smaller academies also seem to be in Heaven Dou City.”

“Shrek,” Huo Yuhao’s eyes narrowed as he spoke a name.

“Are you crazy? Isn’t Tang San at Shrek?” Dou Er Tianmeng felt Huo Yuhao was being reckless. “Aren’t you just walking into a trap?”

“The most dangerous place is the safest place. With my strength, I should be able to get in, and two white spirit rings won’t attract attention,” Huo Yuhao stated his reasons. “Four Element Academies have certain requirements for Spirit attributes, especially Heaven Water, which only accepts females, so I can't join at all."

"Canghui Academy, this academy is more suitable for me. After all, my Spirit is mental-type, and that Shi Nian is also mental-type. His meditation method might even be usable for me, perhaps even quite compatible. However, he is similar to Tang San, a sinister villain, and I don't trust him much."

"Heaven Dou Royal Academy, although they also recruit commoners, if I release my two spirit rings, I won't even be able to enter the door, unless I happen to meet a faculty member or something inside who can demonstrate my abilities... Without connections, I can't get in."

"Shrek Academy, the protagonist group is basically on two parallel lines with ordinary students, with not much interaction between them. Moreover, Liu Erlong comes from the Blue Lightning Tyrant Dragon Clan, and the academy's library might have meditation methods suitable for mental-type Spirits."

Seeing Huo Yuhao's logical analysis, Dou Yi Tianmeng and Dou Er Tianmeng didn't say much more.

If they encountered Tang San in the future, they would just control Huo Yuhao. If another conflict arose, at worst, they would abandon Huo Yuhao again.

The undead magic seal left by Iliex had already been broken by them.

Iliex was a demigod, but they were also million-year Spirit Beasts, and mental-type ones at that. Even if their mental force methods were not as exquisite as his, they had quantity!

Thus, Huo Yuhao asked passersby for directions to Shrek Academy and began to act.

However, as soon as he arrived at the entrance of Shrek Academy, he was stopped by the gate-keeping students, who said, "No unauthorized personnel allowed.”

“I’m here to enroll,” Huo Yuhao took a deep breath and said politely.

“Enroll?” One of the students frowned. “You’re late. This year’s entrance exam ended half a month ago. Come back next year.”

“There’s an entrance exam?” Huo Yuhao was stunned. This was different from what he had heard on the way. “I heard that this academy only requires Spirit Grandmaster level, not over eighteen years old, and only commoners can join at any time. I’m twelve, so my age is suitable.”

“Your information is outdated,” another student standing on the right said. “The academy changed its name from Blue Tyrant Academy to Shrek last year, and the dean has changed. The requirements for new students have also increased. You must reach Spirit Grandmaster level before the age of fourteen... If you truly are a Spirit Grandmaster, you meet that point, but currently the academy is short-staffed and cannot conduct a special test for you alone, unless—”

The student on the left interjected, “Unless you are exceptionally outstanding, with strength close to a Spirit Elder.”

The student on the right continued, “Release your Spirit and spirit rings. Let us see. If it’s acceptable, we will go in and report.”

Huo Yuhao thought for a while, then opened his eyes. His Spiritual Eye Spirit attached, his eyes became exceptionally bright and clear, followed by the appearance of two white spirit rings.

The student on the left: “His Spirit is an eye?”

The student on the right: “Two ten-year spirit rings?”

Both were dumbfounded, having their horizons broadened.

It was their first time seeing a Spirit that was a part of one’s own body, and also their first time seeing someone whose two spirit rings were both ten-year, and judging by the color, the shades of white were identical.

“Sorry, you are not qualified to join Shrek Academy,” the student on the right said bluntly. “Although being able to cultivate to Spirit Grandmaster level at twelve years old proves your innate spirit power should be good, two white spirit rings are truly too poor.”

The student on the left even mocked directly, “If our Shrek had a student like you, it would be too embarrassing. We don’t want a trash junior like you.”

Of course, both of them were also good at reading expressions.

Huo Yuhao’s clothing was a bit strange but plain, and his body was thin, so he was certainly not a rich person, and thus an object they could bully.

The new dean had said: Not daring to cause trouble is mediocrity.

Such powerless and influence-less trash Spirit Masters were the easiest to provoke.

Huo Yuhao clenched his fists, gritting his teeth, and said, “Today’s humiliation, I will repay a hundredfold!”

“Oh, you dare to insult Shrek!” The student on the left sneered, glancing at the student on the right, who immediately understood and began rubbing his wrist.

Facing the two’s attacks, Huo Yuhao had no power to resist. Dou Yi Tianmeng and Dou Er Tianmeng didn’t help at all—it would be too embarrassing for them to intervene against two Spirit Grandmasters who hadn’t even released their Spirits.

Moreover, they felt it was good for Huo Yuhao to learn a lesson, not to boast when he had no strength, lest he be beaten to death.

If Huo Yuhao asked, Dou Er Tianmeng also had a reason: Iliex suddenly left, and they both suffered from the shock of his mental force, occasionally falling into slumber.

And Dou Yi Tianmeng had another reason: his own sacrifice had directly raised Huo Yuhao's cultivation to twenty-one levels, consuming more than Dou Er Tianmeng.

Therefore, they had plenty of reasons.

“Hmph!”

The student on the left snorted coldly, giving Huo Yuhao one last kick, and said, “See if you dare to provoke Shrek again in the future. If we see you again next time, don't blame us for teaching you another lesson.”

“Eh?” The student on the right noticed the White Tiger Dagger tucked into Huo Yuhao's waist, took it down, and toyed with it. “What a beautiful dagger! It looks like a spirit tool, an offensive spirit tool? This is an antique among antiques! If it were sold...”

Immediately, greed appeared in both their eyes.

The student on the left said, “This spirit tool will settle the matter of you insulting us earlier. Now get lost.”

“What settling the matter?” The student on the right escalated, “This dagger is clearly our common wealth, just stolen by this kid.”

“Uh... right, that's how it is.” The student on the left reacted, chuckled, and kicked Huo Yuhao again, saying, “Get lost, don't let us see you again.”

It wasn't until these two Shrek students returned to their posts in front of Shrek Academy that Huo Yuhao staggered to his feet, his eyes filled with killing intent.

Shrek!

Damn it!

Being beaten like this, joining Shrek now would be asking for trouble.

Without a word, he glared at the two for a while before turning around, preparing to head to Canghui Academy.

In front of Canghui Academy's gate, Huo Yuhao displayed his Spirit and Spirit Ability, once again drawing ridicule, but this time it was different, because Shi Nian happened to return from outside with students after hunting Spirit Beasts.

"What's all this noise? What kind of conduct is this?" Shi Nian's voice was old but carried a hint of magnetism, extremely authoritative. He looked at Huo Yuhao, who had two white spirit rings, and asked, "Who are you?"

Facing Shi Nian's unquestionable tone, Huo Yuhao wanted to be firm for once, but for some reason, he was a little afraid, and honestly said, "Hello, teacher, I want to join Canghui Academy. My Spirit is an eye."

"Join Canghui Academy? You?" The students following Shi Nian burst into laughter. "Two white spirit rings, and you dare to join Canghui Academy? That's hilarious."

"Did I give you permission to speak?" Shi Nian questioned in a deep voice, scaring the students who were laughing behind him into silence.

"Our Canghui Academy welcomes talented students. How old are you this year?" Shi Nian asked.

"Twelve."

"Twelve years old, Spirit Grandmaster, your talent is indeed not bad. Born in a remote small village, I presume? Your clothes are a bit strange," Shi Nian said rather objectively. "However, two white spirit rings are indeed a bit lacking... What are your Spirit Abilities?"

"My First Soul Skill is Spiritual Detection, and my Second Soul Skill is Spiritual Sharing."

Heaven Dream Iceworm granted Huo Yuhao four Spirit Abilities: Mental Detection, Mental Sharing, Mental Interference Domain, and Soul Impact.

Both of his spirit rings contained these four skills, and identical Spirit Abilities could be stacked.

However, Huo Yuhao absolutely could not tell the truth about this, so he could only choose what to reveal.

“Detection and Sharing?” Shi Nian pondered, “Sounds pretty good, but I don’t know how powerful it is. How about we try it? If it works, I can make an exception and let you join Canghui Academy.”

“Good!”

Huo Yuhao nodded, and his First spirit ring flickered, detecting everything within a twenty-meter radius. Then his Second spirit ring flickered, transmitting the detected images to Shi Nian.

“This is!”

Shi Nian felt as if he could see everything within a twenty-meter radius, 360 degrees, including the sky and underground, without any blind spots.

He immediately realized that this was a perfect detection Spirit Ability.

More importantly, he could actually use two spirit rings’ skills simultaneously; his talent was truly impressive.

It’s just—

“Is the detection range only twenty meters?” Shi Nian was not very satisfied with this point, as the power of a Spirit Ability is fixed, so the utility of this skill would be limited.

“No, my Spirit is an eye, which I named Spiritual Eye, a mental-type Spirit. As long as my mental force increases, the range can also increase. Moreover, my spirit power can also be converted into mental force, though the consumption will be relatively high.” Huo Yuhao tried his best to show his value, “Although my spirit ring’s age is a bit low, my Spirit Ability is very useful. In terms of support, I dare say, no one can match me.”

At this moment, Shi Nian's gaze towards Huo Yuhao was filled with excitement, and he extended an invitation to Huo Yuhao, saying, "Be my disciple! As a mental-type Spirit Master, only under my guidance can you unleash greater power. My Spirit is Remnant Dream, also a mental-type. Your Spiritual Eye and my Remnant Dream might even form a Martial Soul Fusion Skill."

"Isn't this a bit too sudden?" Huo Yuhao didn't really want to take him as a master, as the Shi Nian in front of him was not an easy character to get along with.

"What's sudden? Even if you join Canghui Academy, you need to pay tuition. Looking at you, you don't have money. If you don't become my disciple, can you afford it?" Shi Nian chuckled, "Five hundred gold coins per semester."

Huo Yuhao: "...Teacher!"

"Haha, from today onwards, you are my disciple!" Shi Nian was exhilarated. In the Douluo Continent's belief, once a student truly takes a master, it is the closest relationship outside of parents.

Moreover, Shi Nian believed that this little fellow from a small village would absolutely not betray him.

"What's your name?"

"Huo Yuhao."

"Good name."

Shi Nian put his arm around Huo Yuhao's shoulder and said to the students behind him, "From today onwards, Huo Yuhao is my disciple, your senior. If I ever find anyone bullying him, you'd better weigh your own strength."

"Yes."

The students who had been laughing earlier immediately dared not make a sound, and the two students on duty also lowered their heads, not daring to look at Huo Yuhao.

Who would have thought that the poor boy from just now would transform and become Shi Nian's disciple?

Fate truly plays tricks on people.

They only hoped that Huo Yuhao would not seek revenge on them in the future; that would not be pleasant...

...

On the other side.

After Tang San, Xiao Wu, and Guang Ling returned to Heaven Dou Royal Academy, they either trained, studied Spirits, researched spirit tools, or delved into medicine and herbs, living very fulfilling lives.

In their free time, Tang San took Guang Ling to the Spirit Hall to apply for the intellectual property and patent of the Sub-Mother Soul Guidance Photography Ball. Afterward, they collaborated with the Seven Treasure Glazed Tile School and began production.

For this, Tang San even specially produced a ten-minute animated film with Xiao Wu.

That's right, an animated film.

Who would have thought that the first movie to appear on the Douluo Continent would not be live-action, but animation?

For this ten-plus minute animation, Xiao Wu drew tens of thousands, nearly nine hundred thousand, almost identical drawings, making her not want to create anything in the realm of drawing anymore.

However, this kind of creation was also a challenge to her mental aspect, capable of enhancing her mental force—a clumsy way to improve mental force: exhaust it, sleep, and recover.

spirit power could also be accelerated in this way.

The content described in this ten-plus minute animated film was about a girl named Xiao Rou who came out of the mountains, ventured into a big city, later met a pharmacy owner named Xiao Tang, worked as an assistant in the pharmacy, and by relying on her knowledge of various folk remedies and herbs from living near the mountains, eventually became a renowned physician.

A very simple story.

The audience's attraction point was solely that the characters, which looked like paper cutouts, could move.

This micro-animated film, broadcast in a Heaven Dou City opera house, caused an extremely strong sensation. Most of the audience saw this kind of moving drawing for the first time and simply did not understand how it moved.

In response, Tang San was not stingy and had Guang Ling publicly reveal the principle of how animation moves—that is, drawing countless similar yet different pictures and flipping them quickly.

Such a simple principle, while shocking the World, also gave rise to an “I can do it too” mindset.

However, most people gave up.

In an era without industrial measures, it would take an ordinary person more than half a year to draw tens of thousands of pictures.

Nevertheless, some ordinary people still united and persisted in drawing.

Some sculptors and painting masters realized that making their works move was an artistic sublimation that could attract more viewers and recognition.

When this ten-plus minute animated film was presented before Bibi Dong's eyes, it also drew considerable attention from her, but compared to focusing on the story it told, she was more concerned with the Sub-Mother Soul

Guidance Photography Ball, a spirit tool that encompassed photography, video recording, and message transmission.

According to tests by Spirit Hall personnel, with the Sub-Mother Soul Guidance Photography Ball, the mother ball could record, and the sub-ball could play images. The two were a set, and one mother ball could have multiple sub-balls.

The message propagation between the sub-ball and the mother ball was almost instantaneous. Even if they were thousands or tens of thousands of miles apart, the sub-ball could project the images recorded by the mother ball.

However—

At a distance of a thousand miles, the image projected by the sub-ball would have a ten-second delay.

At ten thousand miles, it would be a hundred seconds.

For every additional thousand miles of distance, there would be a ten-second delay. Within a thousand miles, the delay time was negligible.

The convenience of message transmission far surpassed carrier pigeons or having agility-attack system Spirit Masters run or fly.

“Tang San, and his disciple, truly gave our Spirit Hall and other forces a great gift.” Bibi Dong realized that the mass production and spread of this item, whether for Spirit Hall or the Two Great Empires, would greatly strengthen their control over various forces within their territories.

But what was Tang San’s purpose in doing this?

Bibi Dong pondered, starting from the perspective of a Martial Soul Theory Master’s research, to conduct better research, a stable environment was needed.

The spread of this spirit tool, in addition to strengthening the control of the continent’s three major forces over their own Domains, would also allow the three to understand some of each other's trump cards, thereby making them hesitate to act rashly and preventing a potential war...

Actually, Bibi Dong overthought it.

Tang San had only two goals:

First, he hoped to see the second dimension again; that was his youth.

Second, he hoped that when the Spirit Master Grand Tournament began, its competition scenes would not only be seen by people in Heaven Dou City but also by residents in various cities and even villages across the entire Douluo Continent.

To be circulated only within the Spirit Master's world was too thin, after all, Spirit Masters constituted a very small proportion of the total population on the Douluo Continent.

He!

Tang San!

Would announce to the entire Douluo Continent:

【I have been to this World!】

The first goal was selfish.

The second goal was to better expand his own influence; in the final analysis, it was also selfish.

“Nana, what do you think?” Bibi Dong suddenly asked Hu Liena, who was meticulously staring at the screen.

Huh?

Hu Liena was startled, immediately came back to her senses, and respectfully said, “Teacher, this moving image, turning inanimate objects into living ones, is truly miraculous...”

Hearing Hu Liena say this, Bibi Dong knew that she had absolutely not thought of the importance of the Sub-Mother Soul Guidance Photography Ball. She sighed inwardly: “Nana is still too young and hasn’t experienced much. Mere arduous cultivation will not be enough for her to control Spirit Hall in the future. After the Grand Tournament ends, perhaps I should arrange for her to gain experience at a branch hall?”

187: The relationship between Electrolux and Tang San deepened

“I succeeded!”

Half a year later, in Heaven Dou Royal Academy, Yu Tianheng roared, using his lightning power to suspend two thumb-sized iron balls.

After achieving this, Yu Tianheng also found that his control over spirit power and lightning power became more refined.

Besides that, Yu Tianheng also noticed that his faint mental force seemed to be able to combine with lightning power... No, not lightning, but some kind of magnetic field.

This ability allowed Yu Tianheng to perceive everything within a hundred-meter radius, and the range should be able to expand as his strength increased.

But the problem was, it consumed a lot of mental force; if he used it continuously for just half an hour, he would feel drowsy. The good thing, however, was that once he recovered, he would feel his mind become sharper.

This could also be considered a method of cultivating mental force, similar in principle to the spirit power improvement method of recovering after completely exhausting spirit power.

It was very primitive and simple, but compared to the ordinary meditation methods for cultivating spirit power, this method of improvement was much faster, though it would leave him physically and mentally exhausted during cultivation.

An excited Yu Tianheng found Tang San, shared his joy, and asked, “Captain, what do you think I should name this ability of mine?”

“Electromagnetic Overdrive.”

After a series of tests on Yu Tianheng, Tang San gave him this name.

“This ability of yours is a type of Domain-like ability formed by the combination of lightning power, or rather, the characteristics derived from electricity, and mental force.”

“For you currently, this Domain can only be used for detection, but with continuous development in the future, you might be able to control the World’s magnetic fields.”

“Moreover, in this state, all aspects of your body’s attributes are doubled, far exceeding your amplification Spirit Ability, especially your five senses and skin, which become extremely sensitive.”

“This surpasses the senses of ordinary Spirit Masters of the same level.”

“Therefore, I named it: Overdrive.”

In Tang San’s eyes, if Yu Tianheng continued to develop this Electromagnetic Overdrive in the future, it was not impossible for him to control all magnetic fields in the World.

Members of the Blue Lightning Tyrant Dragon Clan were obsessed with draconic transformation and the destructive power of lightning, but in Tang San’s view, magnetism, derived from lightning, or rather electricity, was the truly crucial element.

If one could control electromagnetic force, wouldn’t it be much stronger than any draconic bloodline or lightning?

Draconic transformation could strengthen the bloodline and enhance physical strength, but if one could refine the body with electromagnetic force, using the magnetic field of the entire Douluo Star, what would draconic transformation count for?

No matter how powerful a dragon was, it was still just a creature. How could it compare to electromagnetic interaction, one of the four fundamental interactions of the universe?

Of course, with Yu Tianheng's current ability, even if he became a Titled Douluo and broke through level 100, it would be impossible for him to control electromagnetic interaction. However, if he continued to develop in this direction, it might not be impossible for a Titled Douluo with such strength to crush a level 100 Divinity.

After all, from the original work, the divine force used by Divinities was merely a stage higher in quality than spirit power, and fundamentally incomparable to the bedrock of the entire universe.

"Electromagnetic Overdrive? A novel name, but I think it works." Yu Tianheng agreed to the name, then asked, "So, my next development method is to constantly increase the volume and weight of the small balls and change the shape of the metal I control, right?"

"That's right, this is still about improving your control."

Tang San nodded, then added, "However, it's not impossible to apply it to attack. The two ends of a magnet repel each other. If you can find the law of the electromagnetic field, what kind of effect would a tiny metal ball, propelled by a powerful repulsive force, produce?"

"The speed would be very fast." Yu Tianheng, in the process of practicing controlling the small metal balls, would occasionally send them flying, and the speed was faster than an arrow shot from an ordinary bow.

If he increased that electromagnetic force, the speed would be even faster, and Yu Tianheng could no longer imagine how much destructive power it could cause.

“Yes, it would indeed be very fast, but ordinary small metal balls cannot withstand the friction with the air.” Tang San shook his head.

“Friction, I know, when two hands rub against each other, they get hot, but is there also friction between the air and the small ball?” Yu Tianheng was puzzled.

“Of course there is.”

Pushing up the sliding detection glasses on his nose, Tang San gave an example that Yu Tianheng could understand: “When a person runs, they feel the wind in their face. That is actually the air hindering a person from running quickly. Spirit Masters can run fast only because our physical quality is stronger than ordinary people, and agility-attack system Spirit Masters even more so. When using Spirit Abilities, an almost imperceptible protective film will spontaneously appear on the body surface, which can repel the air on both sides as much as possible, thereby reducing friction.”

“To give another example, meteorites, when falling from the sky, usually carry flames and drag a long tail. This is because their speed is too fast, causing intense friction with the air, thus burning up.”

“From this perspective, no substance is ‘fire-immune’; it’s just that the ignition temperature is different. Ignition point is the temperature at which an object can be ignited.”

Yu Tianheng recalled picking up the small ball that had been shot out and feeling a higher temperature than usual, immediately understanding that what Tang San said was correct.

Moreover, he also accepted the new concept of “ignition point.”

However, Yu Tianheng would not deliberately publicize it. After all, Tang San was the first to propose it; he hadn’t published it, so he couldn’t let it spread and be plagiarized by others.

“Therefore, when you practice, you need to find some metals with a higher ignition point.” Tang San gave the final summary, “However, for now, ordinary steel beads are sufficient.”

And after Yu Tianheng, it was Huo Wu’s turn.

Regarding the development of gravity, Huo Wu had also found some tricks. She was already able to “ascend” without the aid of her Spirit, relying solely on her First Soul Skill: Sun Star Ring.

However, this “ascension” was nothing more than hovering, with a maximum distance of only three meters from the ground, and it was wobbly and extremely unstable.

Moreover, Huo Wu found that every time she experimented, her body would become very dirty, covered in dust.

“This is gravity. You’ve attracted the dust in the air to yourself.” Tang San smiled, realizing his guess was correct: Sun Goddess’s floating was truly due to gravity, and not the Spirit itself consuming some spirit power to float.

“Gravity, I already feel its power, but is there a way to prevent dust from getting on me? Bathing is such a hassle.” Huo Wu complained that she now had to bathe ten times a day.

Originally, as a fire-attribute Spirit Master, she disliked water. After her Spirit transformed from Fire Shadow to Sun Goddess, it got much better, but she still didn’t like it much.

Now bathing ten times a day, how could she stand it?

“No big problem. You can try to shape the Sun Star Ring smaller, not around yourself, but condensed in front of you.”

Listening to Tang San’s suggestion, Huo Wu immediately experimented, condensing a small Sun Star Ring with a diameter of only thirty centimeters in front of her hands.

Subsequently, under Huo Wu’s control, countless dust particles from the surroundings converged towards the center.

Gradually.

A spherical “stone” composed of various dust particles from the air formed.

Looking at the fist-sized “star,” Tang San thoughtfully glanced at Huo Wu and said, “Not bad. If you could create a vacuum environment, shape a few more, and then add some other elements, you could become the Creator God.”

Huo Wu only took Tang San’s words as a joke, but this method consumed less spirit power, and the dust indeed wouldn’t actively stick to her. Once she strengthened her control in the future, she could use it on herself and also figure out a way to repel the dust.

It’s just—

“There’s actually so much dirt in the air?”

“How much dust do we inhale in a day?”

Tang San said, “There’s no need to be so scared. I can tell you clearly that if there were no dust in the air, there would be no Life in this World. The sunlight alone would be enough to destroy all living beings on Earth.”

“As for how much dust there really is...”

“I haven’t studied it, but if all the dust in the World were to condense, it would most likely be able to create a new continent no smaller than the area of Douluo Continent.”

Although she didn’t know if it was true, Huo Wu was willing to believe Tang San, after all, he was a Martial Soul Theory Master.

After Yu Tianheng and Huo Wu, no one else came to Tang San. Although the upper limit of gravity and electromagnetic force was extremely high, their lower limit was also low. With corresponding attributes, the entry threshold was not high, and one could perceive them through various observation methods to make progress.

As for the others, Yu Feng and Bai Chenxiang needed specific practice environments; Oslo's main training was on utilizing inertia. All three of them needed to train hard.

Ning Rongrong and Ye Lingling are relying on their Spirit Abilities from their own Spirits to create combined Spirit Abilities similar to formations.

Shi Mo and Shi Mo are training their Martial Soul Fusion Skill.

Dugu Yan is integrating her own toxins based on her Fourth Soul Skill: Jade Phosphor Pill.

Zhu Zhuqing is still searching for the "refinement circuit" and "maintenance circuit" within her Spirit. She has made some progress and is currently intensifying her control training in mental force and spirit power.

As for Lan Yinzi...

The remaining Xiao Wu and Guang Ling are working on self-created Spirit Abilities. Xiao Wu is beginning to combine her soft skills with the Three Swords Style, while Guang Ling is focusing on spirit tools. For self-created Spirit Abilities, he is considering the fusion of four Spirit Abilities.

After sending Huo Wu away, Iliex's voice echoed in Tang San's mind: "You are quite popular with girls. Besides Xiao Wu and Guang Ling, Ning Rongrong, Zhu Zhuqing, and Huo Wu all have a good impression of you. Especially Zhu Zhuqing, she completely obeys your every command. I can't even tell if she likes you or if she treats you as her master."

"It's just a strong admiration," Tang San said indifferently. "Over the past few days, you've learned a lot about Spirits and Spirit Beasts. How do you feel about the cultivation system of this World?"

"How should I put it? Although all cultivation systems are artificially created, the cultivation method of this World is very strange, especially the need for a Spirit Beast's spirit ring to break through a major realm. I don't understand it at all. It feels as if there is an existence deliberately targeting Spirit Beasts," Iliex also understood the principle of "not of my kind, their hearts must be different.” However, in his opinion, Spirit Beasts cannot be considered a race at all. Even if they possess wisdom, they spend too long to obtain this wisdom, making their habits difficult to change.

Unless they transform into humans, integrate into human society, and slowly accept change.

In Iliex's view, this situation must have arisen because Spirit Beasts were once very powerful and oppressed humans. Then, one or more extremely powerful existences emerged among humans, that is, existences beyond ordinary Divinities, who eliminated the strong among the Spirit Beasts and then changed the World rules of this continent.

As for the God Realm interfering to modify plane rules...

Iliex felt it was unlikely. Even his remnant divine soul could sense the existence of the God Realm... Those Gods shouldn't be powerful enough to modify the rules of a World, right?

At most, they could utilize its rules.

At least, most Divinities in the God Realm should not be able to do it.

“It is indeed targeting Spirit Beasts, but this is not a situation that can be changed currently. However, in the future, the cultivation of Spirits must break free from Spirit Beasts.” Tang San flipped through an ancient book titled “Identification of Ten-thousand year soul beast Transformations” borrowed from the Royal Library. It recorded twenty existing cases of transformed Spirit Beasts.

Among them, three were killed by Spirit Douluo or Titled Douluo among humans, and the remaining seventeen escaped, their whereabouts unknown.

The identification method recorded therein was basically only one: Spirit Douluo and Titled Douluo could discern whether a Spirit Beast had transformed.

A very primitive judgment.

According to Tang San's judgment, as long as one's mental force is strong, they can determine if it is a Ten-thousand year soul beast transformation. However, for Spirit Masters of this era, the role of mental force only gradually becomes apparent at the Spirit Douluo or Titled Douluo level.

Of course, if a person understands Spirit Beasts well enough, even if their mental force is not strong, they can still make an initial judgment based on the personality and behavior of the transformed Spirit Beast—this only applies when the transformed Spirit Beast first enters human society and has not been influenced by it.

“Xiao Wu has already confessed to me and told me how to self-condense a spirit ring, but there is no corresponding energy to condense it. The spirit power cultivated by oneself cannot be used as the energy for spirit ring condensation.”

“Secondly, the most important aspect of spirit ring condensation is the spirit power circulation circuit within it, which is the key to releasing Spirit Abilities.”

“spirit rings obtained from Spirit Beasts carry the aura, bloodline, and soul of the Spirit Beast. When paired with a Spirit, they can spontaneously evolve derivatives suitable for the Spirit. However, self-condensation relies entirely on what Spirit Abilities one's own Spirit can transform into.”

“If one has to construct the circuit themselves, it would be a considerable undertaking.”

Energy and circuits.

These two are the keys to condensing a self-condensed spirit ring.

Tang San knew that he had one opportunity to self-condense a spirit ring, which was to find the Blue Silver King and have him help condense a spirit ring that could evolve with his own cultivation.

If the aura in his bloodline could not be changed, the Spirit Ability of that spirit ring would definitely be the Blue Silver Tyrant Emperor Spear.

No other reason, it's inherited from the previous Blue Silver Emperor.

To be honest, Tang San didn't think much of this Spirit Ability. Although it could kill enemies on the battlefield at close range and break through single targets from afar, his Blue Silver Emperor path was one of Life. Why would he specifically need an attack system Spirit Ability?

He wasn't lacking in offensive methods.

Alas~

Who told the previous Blue Silver Emperor to have the heart of an attack system after transforming?

Transformed Spirit Beasts are probably all like that.

Therefore, if he couldn't change the spirit power circulation circuit within the self-condensed spirit ring, then his one chance for a self-condensed spirit ring could only be placed on the Seventh spirit ring.

At least, the Martial Soul True Body skill could be equivalent to one of the two Spirit Abilities of a Ten-thousand year spirit ring.

“Regarding the spirit power circulation circuit, I have already figured it out and understood how to construct it. It's not much different from magic and battle techniques,” Iliex spoke eloquently. “Within your Blue Silver Emperor Spirit, there is a peculiar energy that can form a spirit ring, but it cannot form due to insufficient energy. I think this might be supplemented by the power of the earth and the essence of the sun and moon, but for the corresponding energy combination, I need some time to experiment.”

“As for the spirit power circulation circuit, according to my observations, it is not fixed. For a self-condensed spirit ring, as long as your intention is strong enough, the Spirit Ability of the spirit ring should be able to evolve in the corresponding direction... I have to say, this Spirit thing is quite peculiar; it touches upon the impractical ability of the mind.”

At this point, Iliex fell silent. He found that in this World, besides the restriction of needing a Spirit Beast's spirit ring for Spirit Masters, the Spirit system was far more powerful than the extraordinary system on the Saint Magic Continent. However, the Spirit Masters of this World were still in the primitive stage of using Spirits and spirit power.

That is, they knew how to throw stones and hit with wooden sticks.

However, they didn't know what shape, size, or weight of stone would hurt the most when thrown, nor did they know that sharpening a wooden stick to stab would achieve the greatest lethality.

However, Iliex also understood.

After all, by obtaining a spirit ring, one could directly release a skill. How many people would bother to think about how to use spirit power more reasonably and subtly?

And Tang San, in Iliex's view, was an anomaly, far surpassing this era.

Especially the three major Dantian cultivation methods he proposed: essence, qi, and Spirit; blood qi, spirit power, and mental force; and the slow construction of energy circulation and transformation circuits between these three, finally condensing the Spirit Core.

This is equivalent to constructing a miniature universe prototype within the human body!

Using the human body's small universe to reflect the external great universe!

During this time, Iliex gained insights from Tang San's cultivation and felt that his previous belief that this system could grant eternal Life was conservative. Once Tang San completed this, in the near future, it would not be as simple as becoming a Divinity; he could completely control the great universe!

If a talent like Tang San had been born on the Saint Magic Continent, the demon race that had troubled the various Holy Temples for over six thousand years could probably be completely resolved by Tang San in less than thirty years.

There was no special reason; Iliex simply felt that if Tang San went to the Saint Magic Continent and still possessed his current wisdom, thirty years would be enough for him to achieve perfect godhood, unassimilated by heaven and earth.

This was also why Iliex was willing to “pay rent.” Just by witnessing Tang San's cultivation, he himself gained considerable benefits, especially from the Yin-Yang theory, which further advanced his integration of light and death. This remnant divine soul also became increasingly solid, and there was even a great possibility of rebirth in the future.

“Is that so? That saves some effort then.” Tang San had already guessed that if a Spirit self-condensed Spirit Abilities, it would be related to a person's thoughts.

Now, Iliex's words semi-confirmed it.

However, if one didn't know what Spirit Ability they wanted, perhaps the self-condensed spirit ring would evolve based on the Spirit's own circumstances...

188: The third martial spirit: Five-clawed Golden Dragon

“What do you think of this Silver Crystal Dragon Pattern Sword?”

Tang San took out Blood Sword Norman's materialized Martial Soul and asked Iliex.

"A peculiar short sword, it seems like materialized energy, especially the dragon patterns within it, which are like a natural law... I have an idea, do you want to try it?" Iliex said half-jokingly, then suddenly spoke mysteriously.

"What idea?" Tang San suddenly became wary.

Although Iliex shouldn't harm him, this guy, perhaps influenced by his own Spiritual Power with Life attributes, had gained a hint of humor in his personality.

He might just make a fool of himself.

"Don't be so nervous, your Spiritual Sea is churning." Iliex was a little speechless, "Before I came to your Spiritual Sea, which you call the Upper Dantian and the Yintang acupoint space, I stayed in another person's Spiritual Sea. At that time, I was relatively weak and hadn't seen his memories, so I didn't know what kind of person he was, but in his Spiritual Sea, there were two fleshy worms."

"According to the naming of this World, they are Ice Silkworms, and they are million-year-level Ice Silkworms."

"I have to say, that guy's luck is simply off the charts!"

Tang San raised an eyebrow: "Did you learn any new strange vocabulary from the memory library I opened up to you?"

"Cough! After all, I can be considered reborn and have become younger, so don't mind." Iliex became serious, "According to my observation, Martial Souls can be bestowed. Those million-year-level Ice Silkworms, in addition to Spiritual attributes, also have Ice attributes. Because that person himself has Spiritual attributes, the Ice attribute origin was preserved. I estimate that as long as he hunts a Soul Beast, the Ice attribute origin can be shaped and molded to form a completely new Martial Soul, and it must be a Beast Martial Soul."

"Moreover, there are two Beast Martial Souls."

Two?

Tang San's eyes narrowed slightly.

In other words, that transmigrator, Huo Yuhao, also obtained the sacrifice of the Heaven Dream Iceworm in this timeline?

Interesting.

Even transmigrating to this era, you still can't change the setting of having three Martial Souls, right?

However, so what?

He was already powerful and had nothing to fear!

"And the golden dragon patterns within this Silver Crystal Dragon Pattern Sword are similar to laws, and they have already taken shape. I can try to let you absorb them, and at that time, you will also possess a Beast Martial Soul."

Iliex continued, "This way, you will have all three major Martial Souls: Plant, Animal, and Object! I have a vague feeling that a large part of the World's luck has been bestowed upon you, and in this World dominated by Martial Souls, as long as you possess three types of Martial Souls, and they are all top-grade among the three categories, you will inevitably become the Son of the World."

"The Son of the World and the concept of luck are too ethereal and will not be mentioned for now. Let's go back to the third Martial Soul." Tang San looked at the Silver Crystal Dragon Pattern Sword in front of him, its dragon patterns flickering, "Too many Martial Souls may not necessarily be a good thing, as they require more energy to manage and also require consideration for which Soul Ring to choose."

"With my help, if you obtain the third Martial Soul by relying on the dragon pattern rules within the Silver Crystal Dragon Pattern Sword, you won't need to acquire an additional Soul Ring." Iliex vowed, "Because this law itself can form a Soul Ring under the rules of this World, and it's a law-based Soul Ring that only Gods can control, or rather, a God Ring."

"A God Ring? Without corresponding divine power, the consumption of using the Soul Ring's skills will definitely be very large." Tang San was not confused by the power, but clearly analyzed the pros and cons, "However, the power will inevitably be extremely strong. It should be a good choice as a Life-saving skill."

"So, you agreed?" Iliex was a little eager to try.

"I agreed, it's worth a try." Tang San looked at his left hand, "If something goes wrong, I will shatter it with the power of Destruction contained within the Haotian Hammer. As for my own injuries, with the Blue Silver Emperor, it won't take much time to fully recover."

"Then I'll get started. Bear with it, it might hurt a little." Iliex said with a chuckle.

Tang San: "..."

Under Iliex's divine sense connection, the Silver Crystal Dragon Pattern Sword floated up from Tang San's hand, attached itself to Tang San's glabella, and slowly pierced into it.

Strangely, the skin on Tang San's forehead was not pierced; it was as if the entire Silver Crystal Dragon Pattern Sword had drilled in.

Subsequently, Tang San felt a slight pain, like being pricked by a needle, and his soul trembled for a moment.

But after the tremor, Tang San came inside the Yintang acupoint and found that under Iliex's manipulation of the Silver Crystal Dragon Pattern Sword, the dragon patterns inside were extracted and formed a Five Clawed Golden Dragon within Iliex's continuously constructed magic circuit.

It wasn't the Western type of dragon, but a Chinese dragon!

The moment it took shape, its soulless eyes turned towards Tang San, as if confirming his identity, and then it plunged fiercely into Tang San's soul.

"Roar--"

In the study, Tang San suddenly opened his eyes. Accompanied by a faint low roar, golden dragon scales appeared on his body, with peculiar elemental power flowing within them; his hands transformed into dragon claws, the ten claws appearing silver-white and extremely sharp; on his arms, there were cyan-blue fine hairs that danced without wind.

There wasn't much change in his face, except for a pair of golden dragon horns growing from two points on his forehead towards the back of his head. They were symmetrical, each extending three branches, with extremely sharp tips.

When his Soul Power surged, clouds surrounded his body, and there were energy patterns similar to flames flowing behind him.

However, the most eye-catching was the "God Ring" that Iliex mentioned. It was entirely golden, yet transparent, like crystal, and it wasn't the conventional type of God Ring completely covered in gold.

This Soul Ring was broken, divided into eight parts, each part being a peculiar character "≡", but in some of the "≡" characters, the strokes were broken.

This was the Eight Trigrams!

Qian, Kun, Xun, Dui, Gen, Zhen, Li, Kan

The eight parts were interconnected: Heaven and Earth, Wind and Thunder, Mountain and Lake, Water and Fire, forming a peculiar circle. On its top, bottom, left, and right sides, which were the edges of the inner and outer circles encompassing the Eight Trigrams, there were also four kinds of peculiar cloud-like, flame-like, wave-like, and natural patterns constructed.

Especially in the interior of the Soul Ring, there were two small beads, one black and one white, rotating, vaguely forming the Two Principles.

"Dragon patterns, first appearing on Yang Long, spear, Bagua, Eight Trigrams... What a great cheat, but unfortunately, he didn't think carefully and went to Notting City to cause trouble for me, the 'protagonist', losing his Life in vain. This cheat, after several twists and turns, actually came into my hands." For a moment, Tang San sighed at the capriciousness of fate, and then he sensed the state after the Five Clawed Golden Dragon Martial Soul possessed him, finding that he had an extremely strong perception of elemental power, and his physical strength had been enhanced to an unprecedented level.

In this state, even without using Fusing Rings, his strength could probably contend with Tang Hao when he had held back.

You know, he was still a Soul King!

And the Soul Skill of this peculiar Soul Ring gave Tang San the feeling that he could control everything in the World and dominate time and space.

Taiji generates Two Principles, Two Principles generate Four Phenomena, Four Phenomena generate Eight Trigrams.

It was nothing more than this.

However, Tang San dared not use it, because he felt that this skill would drain everything he currently had: Soul Power, Qi and Blood, Spiritual Power... This was definitely not an ability that could be used before level 100.

Once used, he might not even have time to use the Blue Silver Emperor to recover himself.

"Huff~"

Iliex exhaled a turbid breath and said with a smile, "I didn't expect the rules within these dragon patterns to be so powerful. Are there such powerful characters among the dragon species?"

"Thanks, I'm very satisfied with this Martial Soul, and the form of this God Ring will greatly help me in constructing the three Dantians." Tang San was excited, "Especially when condensing the Soul Power Core in the future, the Two Principles within it can provide significant assistance when I condense Life and Destruction."

As for the Soul Power Core, Tang San didn't just want to condense the aura of Life; the aura of Destruction also needed to be condensed, making it form the Two Principles of Yin and Yang.

Mystic Heaven Skill is a Taoist cultivation method, and the internal force cultivated is upright and harmonious. After passing through the Blue Silver Emperor, it is imbued with the aura of Life. After passing through the Haotian Hammer, it will be imbued with the aura of Destruction.

Currently, unless it was a necessary moment, Tang San would not let his Soul Power be imbued with the aura of the Haotian Hammer, because the two auras of Destruction and Life were not yet balanced.

In Tang San's view, the main reason was that the two were not completely opposite.

The opposite of Life is death.

The opposite of Destruction is Creation.

Regarding death, after the Haotian Hammer became the host of Austin Griffin, it experienced the siege of Blood Sword Norman, devouring a large amount of fragmented soul power, and the sixth head will be death, which can be considered to have brought the power of death to the Haotian Hammer, allowing it to be opposite to Life.

However, Austin Griffin's own Destruction is not something that Life can cope with, thus, Tang San needed to evolve Creation from Life before condensing it.

Even just a little bit would be enough.

And where did this bit of Creation power come from? Since Tang San returned from hunting Blood Sword Norman, he had searched for a large amount of information related to Cloud Trees, and combined with the feeling of communicating with that ninety-thousand-year-level Cloud Tree, he had a certain guess—Historically, the Soul Master who obtained a Cloud Tree Soul Ring and gained the Falling Feather Soul Skill, the essence of their Soul Skill was very likely truly 'turning the void into reality', and this peculiar plant Soul Beast, the Cloud Tree, has a possibility of over ninety percent of having touched the threshold of a tiny bit of Creation's great power.

"Controlling death and Destruction, Life and Creation, you are truly insane."

After learning of Tang San's idea, Iliex couldn't help but get excited, "In my plane, there are also legends of a Creator God, and I am fortunate enough to be involved, truly blessed for three lifetimes!"

After the excitement, Iliex also calmed down and said, "However, this path is not easy, luckily, you have me. I have already fused Light, death, and Space, so I have experience and can provide you with a lot of help."

"In the future, I will help you resurrect," Tang San gave Iliex his guarantee.

"Resurrection... that's good. I used to be too pessimistic and needed to start a new Life, just like those famous quotes from your previous Life: 【The World is so big, I want to see it!】 【Our journey is the sea of stars!】 "

Iliex initially didn't want to resurrect, after all, his previous Life was quite tragic and he was disappointed with Life, but this wisp of residual soul saw the memories, thoughts, and concepts of Tang San's previous Life that he had opened up to him, and his perspective broadened considerably.

After all, a wisp of residual soul, growing strong again, even if it remembers the past, will not have exactly the same personality as its original self during the process of growing strong and accepting new ideas.

Iliex didn't think about philosophical questions like 【Am I me?】 or 【Am I not me?】 because of this; after all, intelligent beings are always growing, and it is the various experiences of the past that form the current personality.

For this, Iliex also admired the World Tang San was in during his previous Life; although there was no extraordinary power, various ideas emerged one after another, and mere ordinary people could create various technological tools with wisdom, flying into the sky and burrowing into the earth, causing artificial rain, and even moving mountains and filling seas.

Especially those large-scale weapons of mass destruction, which mortals could not resist.

Furthermore, regarding the universe, the mortals in that World even calculated various formulas and simulated images... Unfortunately, Tang San did not know those specific formulas, only the general idea, and needed to deduce them one by one in the future...

He really wanted to go and see the World Tang San was in during his previous Life!

"There will be a chance," Tang San looked at the sky outside the window, "However, before heading towards the sea of stars, we also need to be grounded. A single person, two people, or ten people cannot go to the stars; it requires the unity of all."

"That's difficult."

Iliex knew the evil of human nature; how difficult is it for everyone to be of one mind?

"It's not difficult, you have seen my memories, so you know what unity of purpose is," Tang San shook his head, "And the first step we need to take is to expand our influence."

"The All-Continent Advanced Soul Master Academy Elite Tournament is the foundation for us to step onto the stage of this World."

"To change the World, you need to first adapt to the World, but in the process of adapting, you cannot let your own thinking be assimilated, otherwise, everything will be in vain."

Iliex was filled with emotion and completely convinced by Tang San, knowing that such a person, unless a God descended into the World and directly tampered with his memory, could not be changed in the slightest.

However, how could a God suddenly descend into the World?

With Tang San's talent, Iliex estimated that as long as the Cloud Tree could truly bring the power of Creation to Tang San's Blue Silver Emperor, then it was highly likely that he could condense the cores of the three Dantians before becoming a Soul Saint.

In Iliex's calculations, the Spiritual Mindset is the foundation of the Godhead, and by then, Tang San would also have the Qi and Blood Golden Core and Soul Power Core as two major energy supports, making it difficult even for a God to modify his memory.

Moreover, with his demigod's divine sense, combined with Tang San's strength, at the Soul Saint realm, even without using his third Martial Soul:

Five Clawed Golden Dragon, Iliex felt that he could already rival the Gods in the God Realm...

...

On the other side, Yu Tianheng was practicing his "Super Electromagnetic Cannon" when he suddenly sensed a wave of dragon might; his Blue Lightning Tyrant Dragon Martial Soul trembled, his entire body vibrated, and his Soul Power became slightly disordered.

"Such strong dragon might!"

Yu Tianheng looked around in confusion, not knowing where this dragon might came from, but his heart was extremely heavy, "It's even stronger than the Blue Lightning Tyrant Dragon, which is a true dragon Martial Soul. Is there someone in the academy whose Martial Soul surpasses the Blue Lightning Tyrant Dragon's true dragon Martial Soul?"

And as the dragon might spread, many Soul Masters with dragon or sub-dragon Martial Souls sensed a tremor from the depths of their hearts; their Martial Souls wanted to resist but could only submit.

Especially the direct disciples of the Blue Lightning Tyrant Dragon Family and the Sacred Dragon Sect, their feelings were the deepest, as if an extremely powerful true dragon had been born.

In addition, most powerful beast Martial Souls also sensed a pressure.

"What's going on?"

"Suddenly my heart trembled, and my Martial Soul also trembled."

"A powerful dragon-type Martial Soul has been born!"

"Perhaps it's a true dragon Soul Beast."

"Investigate!"

All major forces secretly took action...

...

Star Dou Great Forest.

Core area.

Space at the bottom of the Life Lake.

The enormous body moved, and one eye opened, transmitting a message to Di Tian: "Among the dragon species, a true dragon not of the Dragon God lineage has been born; its pressure is extremely powerful, comparable to the Dragon God, or even... Whether it is a Soul Beast or a Martial Soul, find it. If it is a Soul Beast, it is the key for us to create our own beast Gods; if it is a Martial Soul, we can also befriend its owner and borrow its destiny to protect us."

Di Tian received the order and immediately arranged for various fierce beasts to investigate within the Star Dou Great Forest, while the Emperor Beast, the Three-Eyed Golden Lion, observed its destiny and detected that the true dragon's destiny was accompanied by a hundred-thousand-year transformed Soft Bone Rabbit... Is it the same person?

After getting the Three-Eyed Golden Lion's answer, Di Tian was puzzled: "Is that Soft Bone Rabbit so lucky?"

The Three-Eyed Golden Lion couldn't answer; she also didn't understand why a hundred-thousand-year transformed Soft Bone Rabbit could encounter such great fortune and meet the Child of Destiny...

...

Although Bibi Dong of the Spirit Hall also sensed the dragon might, she didn't pay much attention to it; no matter how strong the dragon species was, it couldn't compare to her, who was destined to become a God.

Moreover, the All-Continent Advanced Soul Master Academy Elite Tournament was about to open soon, and all her energy was focused on this matter.

This time, Bibi Dong had decided to invite the contestants from the Two Great Empires to Spirit Hall City; the preliminary rounds, elimination rounds, and finals would all be held in Spirit Hall City.

Thanks to the development of Soul Guidance Photography Boxes, Soul Guidance Cameras, and Sub-Mother Soul Guidance Photography Balls, the process of each match could be recorded and transmitted to all cities and towns that had Spirit Hall Branches.

Under the promotion of the local Spirit Hall personnel, almost everyone on the entire Continent knew that this Continental Elite Tournament could be 'live-streamed' for people across the Continent to watch.

Furthermore, the local Spirit Hall personnel could also charge the spectators for viewing, setting different ticket prices based on the cost of living in each city and town, with a general range of one Copper Soul Coin to one Golden Soul Coin per person.

This was another considerable income for the Spirit Hall.

Among the Spirit Hall personnel in various places, there were bound to be those who were corrupt, and this was also a good opportunity to replace some Hall Masters of the Spirit Hall Branches...

189: Douluo Continent Classic: Opening!

Time flew by like a galloping horse; in the blink of an eye, half a year had passed.

Tang San, Xiao Wu, and Guang Ling returned to Nuoding City once more to celebrate the New Year with Old Jack.

Before returning to Heaven Dou, Tang San left the Sub-Mother Soul Guidance Photography Ball's sub-ball and a large number of soul guidance energy storage devices, teaching Old Jack how to use them and leaving behind an instruction manual—mostly filled with operational diagrams.

This way, Old Jack could play images in the village, allowing the villagers and children to witness battles between Spirit Masters.

After all, people in small villages had to be frugal, even with a single bronze coin, and were reluctant to spend it.

The soul guidance energy storage devices Tang San left for Old Jack were all very small, only thumb-sized, and came in a whole large box, enough for him to use for three to five years...

...

Upon returning to Heaven Dou Royal Academy, Tang San, Xiao Wu, and Guang Ling were called away by Huo Wu, who was waiting at the entrance, and then headed to the Tian Dou Great Spirit Arena.

"Has the Elite Tournament started?" Xiao Wu asked.

"No, we're gathering to go to Spirit City; this year's tournament, both the preliminaries and the promotion rounds, will be held there," Huo Wu explained the rules of this year's Continental Elite Tournament. "I thought it was Spirit Hall's temporary decision, but actually, I heard from Teacher Qin Ming that the royal families of the Two Great Empires and the deans of the various regular academies knew about it long ago; they just informed us recently."

"Fortunately, you returned in time, otherwise, you would have missed it."

"Because we're departing this afternoon."

Heaven Dou City was quite a distance from Spirit City, so they indeed had to depart early. Moreover, Heaven Dou City had quite a few academies, and combined, the scale of the team was considerable.

If they moved together, their speed wouldn't be fast.

Arriving at the Tian Dou Great Spirit Arena, they reached the Heaven Dou Royal Academy's area. Yu Tianheng, Dugu Yan, Yu Feng, Oslo, Shi Mo, Shi Mo, Ye Lingling, Ning Rongrong, Lan Yinzi, and others were all there. With Huo Wu, Xiao Wu, Guang Ling, and Tang San, all thirteen members of the Heaven Dou Royal First Team were present.

In addition, nearby was the Heaven Dou Royal Second Team, led by Wang Chen, comprising seven official members and five substitutes, totaling twelve people.

Other areas were occupied by the Four Elemental Academies, Canghui Academy, Shrek Academy, Mars Academy, Elephant Armor Academy, Barak Academy, and other academies.

Among them, Mars Academy, Elephant Armor Academy, etc., were also in Heaven Dou City, but Huo Wu was not familiar with these two academies, and their reputation was not as good as the Four Elemental Academies, so she did not take Tang San to visit them.

As for Barak Academy, it was originally located within the Balak Kingdom, not in Heaven Dou City. At this time, it had arrived in Heaven Dou City along with other kingdoms' advanced academies.

Observing the different logos and uniforms of the various academies, Tang San carefully counted and found that there were a total of fifty-two advanced Spirit Master academies present.

The Star Luo Empire was comparable to the Heaven Dou Empire, so the number of advanced Spirit Master academies must be similar.

Combined, the Two Great Empires had no more than a hundred advanced Spirit Master academies.

And according to the Heaven Dou Empire's census recorded a hundred years ago, the Empire had a total of three million residents...

Although this census was three hundred years ago and a large portion of people were certainly not registered, making the data inaccurate for comparison, it can still be roughly deduced that the number of Spirit Masters, when placed within the entire continent's population, is less than two percent (assuming one academy has one thousand Spirit Masters, including students and teachers).

If one only looks at this data, one in fifty might seem acceptable, with one Spirit Master appearing among fifty people.

But the truth is, among a thousand people, one might not even see a Spirit Master, as Spirit Masters basically stay together with other Spirit Masters and rarely pay attention to the lives of ordinary people.

For example, in a small village like Saint Spirit Village, with about a hundred households, it's considered good, but typically, they only see a Spirit Master once a year—the Spirit Hall personnel who help villagers awaken their Spirits.

"[The road ahead is long and arduous. With so few Spirit Masters, the situation on the continent cannot be changed. Either ninety-nine percent of Spirit Masters must disappear, or ninety-nine percent of the people on the continent must be able to cultivate. This ratio of one in twenty, calculated as the maximum on the surface, is very bad.]"

This was not Tang San's compassion for humanity, but he simply felt that with such a ratio, the time required to achieve the goal of [conquering the stars and the sea] would be more than ten thousand years?

However, it was better to take the first step before talking about anything else...

...

In front of the Tian Dou Great Spirit Arena, after Emperor Xue Ye delivered an impassioned speech, it was the turn of Spirit Hall's Platinum Bishop Salas to speak.

Compared to Emperor Xue Ye's lengthy discourse, Salas was much simpler, merely offering simple congratulations to the various academies within the Heaven Dou Empire, wishing them good results in the tournament.

Afterward, before their departure, an exhibition match was held.

The so-called exhibition match was for Heaven Dou Royal Academy to demonstrate its strength as the Heaven Dou Royal First Academy to the other academies.

Heaven Dou Royal Academy had two teams.

According to usual rules, the main battle team was directly promoted to the finals. Although the venue for this year's tournament had changed, this rule remained.

The Heaven Dou Royal Battle Team participating in the exhibition was naturally the Heaven Dou Royal Second Team.

"Please welcome the members of the Heaven Dou Royal Second Team to the stage!"

As the host, holding a soul guidance amplification device similar to a microphone, shouted, the members of the Heaven Dou Royal First Team, who were seated, stood up with confident expressions, descended through a nearby passage, and entered the Spirit Arena one by one.

"Actually, we could have gone up too, but this kind of opportunity is usually given to the second team."

Huo Wu quietly explained to Tang San and the others, "Compared to our first team, the members of the second team are either born into the royal family or closely related to them. While our first team's combat power is strong, we are not entirely on the same boat as the Heaven Dou Royal family, being primarily based on families and Sects. You three are currently commoners..."

"From this perspective, although Emperor Xue Ye appreciates our team more, he trusts the Heaven Dou Royal Second Team the most, because their ancestors fought alongside the Xue family's ancestors to establish the Heaven Dou Empire."

"After all, we primarily focus on cultivating Spirits. Even if Emperor Xue Ye eventually bestows titles upon us, in most cases, it's just an official position with a name and salary, without actual feudal territory. At most, we're given a manor or something."

"Because currently, the prosperous cities and towns within Heaven Dou territory already have owners. If we want our own feudal territory, we either have to wait for a noble to make a mistake and step down, then we inherit his territory, or we lead people ourselves to open up undeveloped deep mountains, old forests, and barren wilderness within the Empire."

"Therefore, this exhibition match is actually meant to build momentum for the members of the second team, to let them show their faces, display their strength, and prove that they have the corresponding ability to inherit the feudal territories and positions left by their ancestors."

"Of course, Wang Chen doesn't count. He is Crown Prince Xue Qinghe's guard, and was forcibly arranged into the Heaven Dou Second Team just to improve their performance in the upcoming matches."

After Huo Wu clarified the inside story, Salas began to draw for the other team to participate in the exhibition match, the purpose of which was to serve as a stepping stone for the Heaven Dou Second Team.

Although Salas didn't want to do it, Emperor Xue Ye personally invited him, so he still had to show some respect.

Then, Salas drew a paper ball from the box, with the words "Shrek Academy" written on it.

"Please welcome the Shrek Academy's participating team to the stage!"

Shrek?

Upon hearing these three words, Tang San was slightly stunned and chuckled to himself: "Tsk, I didn't join Shrek Academy, and Salas didn't deliberately target them this time, but they still drew Shrek Academy. What a coincidence."

And when the seven members of Shrek Academy took the stage, almost all the teachers and students of the other academies started complaining.

This was simply because their team uniforms were too bizarre, a yellowish-green, feces-like color.

Yu Feng laughed uncontrollably: "Haha, Xiangxiang, look, Shrek Academy's clothes are so ugly! If I wore clothes like that, I wouldn't dare to go out. How dare they appear in public like that? And are those advertisements pasted on their backs, chests, and shoulders?"

"Indeed, that guy who's as fat as a ball looks so ugly." During training, Bai Chenxiang was mostly with Yu Feng, and their relationship had grown closer; they were now officially a couple.

Oslo interjected, "It takes courage to wear clothes like that on stage."

"That actually sounds about right. How about you change into them when we finally compete?" Yu Feng put his hand on Oslo's shoulder, suggesting with a grin.

"Go away! I would never!" Oslo slapped away his hand.

Admiring Shrek's courage to wear such outfits on such a grand occasion was one thing; wearing them himself was another.

These two things could not be confused.

"I'm not so poor that I need to put small advertisements on my clothes and make a fool of myself."

At this moment, Ning Fengzhi, acting as Emperor Xue Ye's "deputy," began to draw lots to select the competition venue.

For this, Tang San's theory of diversified competition venues was largely to thank.

At the very least, Tang San had already, by virtue of his theory, brought about a certain degree of change in the Spirit Master's world...

"Desert terrain!"

Ning Fengzhi drew the Desert terrain.

Immediately, on the Great Spirit Arena, the regular arena descended, revealing a deep opening, and then, a hundred-meter-long and wide competition venue covered in yellow sand emerged from underground.

After both sides entered the stage, they both felt somewhat unaccustomed.

Stepping on yellow sand was completely different from stepping on solid ground; whether walking, running, or jumping, it required more effort and spirit power.

Especially Ma Hongjun from Shrek, his legs sank into the sand up to his knees, and every step required more effort.

"Damn it, what kind of terrible suggestion did that Martial Soul Theory Master come up with? This kind of terrain completely restricts us bird Spirit Masters. When the match officially starts, I'll have to move faster, or I'll waste spirit power flying in the sky the whole time." Ma Hongjun complained. For a Spirit Elder like him, flying also required additional spirit power consumption.

Later, when spirit power was higher, it would be fine; the spirit power consumed by flying could be ignored, but for him, who was only at thirty-two ranks, flying continuously would consume a lot of spirit power.

"Now, please have both sides state their names, Spirit, and rank, as a sign of respect," the referee said. "This is also the time for you to activate your Spirit."

As the Heaven Dou Royal Second Team, they naturally introduced themselves first.

Wang Chen took the lead and said, "Wang Chen, twenty years old, Spirit: Death Scythe, forty-fifth rank close-range control-type attack system Spirit Master."

After Wang Chen, came the other members, but they were all Spirit Elders, not a single Spirit Ancestor among them.

On the Shrek side, Mu Tian stared intently at Wang Chen, this fellow... He had once thought of teaming up with him to deal with Tang San, but after learning that he was Xue Qinghe's personal guard, he immediately gave up.

If he could betray to Qian Renxue, it would be strange if he didn't stab his fellow countryman in the back.

In this cruel Douluo World, trusting other transmigrators was not as good as trusting the original Tang San.

Wang Chen had also considered cooperating with Mu Tian, but considering that he was from the Seven Treasure Glazed Tile School, he gave up the idea... Their positions were different. If they cooperated, with Qian Renxue's keenness, she would surely discover it—Qian Renxue's desire for control was extremely strong. Over the years, Wang Chen had already figured this out and dared not test her again.

Therefore, one more transmigrator meant one more competitor; it was better to eliminate them.

Next, it was the Shrek side's self-introduction.

Dai Mubai: Seventeen years old, Spirit: White Tiger, forty-first rank close-range control-type attack system Spirit Master—After confirming that he had truly lost his competitive ability, he had given up on himself for a while. After recovering, he did not return to Star Luo, but his cultivation also slackened, barely reaching Spirit Ancestor.

Mu Tian: Fifteen years old, Spirit: Bright Moon, thirty-ninth rank close-range control-type, physical defense-type Spirit Master—Born with full spirit power, his Spirit was once possessed by Austin Griffin. His efficiency in refining heaven and earth energy was good, but due to Austin Griffin's transfer, and his own misjudgment, he forcibly absorbed a thousand-year rank spirit ring, causing his body to recuperate for some time before recovering. Even with diligent cultivation afterward, he was still one step away from Spirit Ancestor.

Oscar: Fifteen years old, Spirit: Sausage, thirty-fifth rank, close-range control-type Spirit Master, food-type amplification-type support system Spirit Master—Born with full spirit power. From the age of seven, he was taken as a disciple by Yu Xiaogang and cultivated. Although his Spirit was Sausage, he possessed attack-type Spirit Ability that only battle Spirit Masters had, developing in an unconventional way. But with his external Spirit Bone Eight Spider Lances and strong physique, he could relatively easily defeat attack system Spirit Masters of the same rank, as long as the opponent's Spirit was not particularly powerful.

Ma Hongjun: Fourteen years old, Spirit: Evil Fire Phoenix (crossed out) Evil Fire Chicken (referee corrected), thirty-second rank long-range output-type attack system Spirit Master—Shrek Dean, Flender's disciple. His development was not much different from the original, except that he did not consume the Phoenix Cockscomb Immortal Herb, and was still plagued by evil fire.

Subsequently, there was the healing-type support system Spirit Master, Jiang Zhu; the assassination-type agility-attack system Spirit Master, Jing Ling; and the all-around balanced Huang Yuan.

As for Tai Long, as a close-range control-type attack system, his type overlapped with Dai Mubai, Mu Tian, and Oscar, so he could not participate for now and could only be a substitute.

"Three minutes."

As the referee gave the command, the battle began, but Mu Tian raised three fingers towards Wang Chen, "In just three minutes, we'll knock you off this stage."

Although the distance between the two teams was a hundred meters, Wang Chen heard him and sneered, "Heh heh, what big talk. Do you think you've replaced Tang San?"

Although the other members of the Heaven Dou Royal Second Team were useless, he was not, and the Shrek side also had many Spirit Elders, with only two Spirit Ancestors.

Without Tang San giving you Immortal Herbs, how could Shrek defeat them within three minutes?

Do you really think the Heaven Dou Royal Second Team is as useless as in the original novel?

The battle was on the verge of breaking out.

Both teams exerted all their strength and began to charge.

And the members of the various advanced academies sitting in the audience observed the two sides fighting in the vast yellow sand.

The Shrek side was very unaccustomed to the Desert environment, and among the seven-person team, their abilities did not coordinate that well with each other.

Individually, they were all quite strong, capable of surpassing most Spirit Masters of the same rank, but their coordination was still in the old mode, without any particularly brilliant tactics.

And the Heaven Dou Royal Second Team?

There was no need to say more; their coordination was even worse, as they spent much more time playing than cultivating.

However, their Spirit talent was there, and they actually managed to fight the seven members of Shrek to a standstill for a while.

For most lower-level advanced academies, these two teams were formidable opponents, but for the Four Elemental Academies and the members of the Heaven Dou Royal First Team, aside from Dai Mubai, Mu Tian, and Oscar from Shrek, and Wang Chen from Heaven Dou Second Team, who had some skill, everyone else was just amateurish.

"Tianheng, if you went alone, how many minutes would it take you to knock all fourteen of them down?" Tang San turned and asked Yu Tianheng, who was sitting behind him.

"Me?" Yu Tianheng put his hands on his hips and smiled confidently, "In normal state, it might take within ten minutes to resolve. The Death Scythe is of good quality, and the White Tiger is also decent. That mutated Earth Fire Lizard is a bit tricky, and there's also that Sausage... It's used as a weapon by Oslo's relative. If caught off guard, it might cause me some minor trouble."

"If I activate my overclocked state, I can resolve it in three minutes."

Oslo: "...Vice Captain, don't talk nonsense. Although both Oscar and I are surnamed Os, we are really not relatives. The surname Os is common within the Heaven Dou Empire."

"Sorry, I thought you and Oscar were distant relatives." Yu Tianheng apologized, as he usually didn't pay much attention to surname issues within the Heaven Dou Empire. He just thought Oscar and Oslo's names were very similar.

"Don't blame Vice Captain. After all, the surname Os originated from the great Os family three hundred years ago. Later, they were suppressed by the Three Great Sects together, and finally shattered, with various branches scattered throughout the Heaven Dou Empire." Oslo spoke of some past events recorded in his family, "It can be said that people surnamed Os, three hundred years ago, were indeed relatives, but three hundred years later, the bloodlines have diverged too much, and they have no contact with each other at all... It can be said that besides the surname, there is really nothing else in common."

"Sorry." Yu Tianheng apologized again, after all, he was from the Blue Lightning Tyrant Dragon Clan, one of the Three Great Sects.

"Cough, what's there to apologize for? I don't even know what happened three hundred years ago. In our branch of the Os family whose Spirit is the Ghost Leopard, only fragmented words remain, and not many clan elders care about it."

Three hundred years ago?

Tang San recalled his experience in the Infinite Desert. Huo Feng of the Huo Family had mentioned that Spirit Hall had organized an expedition three hundred years ago, and apart from three Titled Douluo, the entire army was wiped out.

Perhaps the Os family of three hundred years ago also participated... Perhaps one of the three surviving Titled Douluo might have been born from the Os family... Perhaps the demise of the great Os family was related to that Titled Douluo obtaining something from the Golden Ancient Tree...

190: Set off! Different thoughts!

Amidst the vast yellow sand, in the end, there were two people still standing on Shrek's side.

Mu Tian and Oscar.

Relying on the Eight Spider Lances' ability to devour spirit power, and his First Soul Skill, Big Recovery Sausage, Oscar managed to hold on.

"The winning side, Shrek Academy!"

The referee immediately announced, and then rescue personnel took all the injured away. However, few people present could cure the Man Faced Demon Spider's poison. In the end, Oscar used his Eight Spider Lances to absorb the poison back into his Spirit Bone.

It can be said that this external Spirit Bone also served as a guarantee for Oscar in the future, preventing his Spirit from being poisoned when he added poisonous spirit rings to his Sausage.

Because the poison could be forced into the external Spirit Bone, and this external Spirit Bone, the Eight Spider Lances, could evolve not only by the owner's spirit power increase but also by absorbing the Life force, spirit power, and poison of other Spirit Masters and Spirit Beasts.

After all, it came from a Man Faced Demon Spider.

Its devouring ability was perfectly inherited.

However, revealing the Eight Spider Lances in this exhibition match, Oscar really loved to show off... Tang San noticed Grandmaster Yu Xiaogang frowning on Shrek's side, clearly displeased with Oscar's display of the Eight Spider Lances.

Although an external Spirit Bone that had been completely absorbed could not be stolen, others would become envious, leading to a lot of trouble later.

Previously, Oscar revealed his external Spirit Bone in front of Tang San and others because Yu Xiaogang felt it was fine. After all, he thought they could join Heaven Dou Royal Academy at the time, and his disciples would inevitably need to integrate with Tang San, Xiao Wu, and others in the future. Revealing it was nothing, and there was even a bit of showing off involved—after all, at Notting Academy, Tang San and Xiao Wu looked down on him. Now, his disciple had an external Spirit Bone, so they must regret it, right?

However, at that time, neither Tang San nor Xiao Wu paid attention to his expression, and they didn't envy Oscar's external Spirit Bone at all.

Especially after Tang San created and cultivated the Jade Bone Golden Muscle Divine Treasure Method, his body was very repulsed by external Spirit Bones.

For Tang San, Spirit Bones might only be one of the raw materials for researching spirit tools with Guang Ling in the future.

Absorb them?

Forget it.

That would only make his Jade Bone impure. In the future, Tang San even planned to strip away the 100,000-year Blue Silver Emperor Right Leg Bone from his right leg and use it for research...

...

After the exhibition match, Emperor Xue Ye spoke again, saying, "Since this All-Continent Advanced Soul Master Academy Elite Tournament is being held in Spirit City, I, Xue Ye, as the Emperor of the Heaven Dou Empire, will accompany the team to Spirit City!"

As soon as these words came out, the entire audience was in an uproar.

Emperor Xue Ye was actually going to accompany them to Spirit City?

How shocking!

This indicated that this competition would definitely be very exciting!

But if Emperor Xue Ye left, who would oversee Heaven Dou City?

"During my absence, Heaven Dou City and the Heaven Dou Imperial Palace will be temporarily managed by my son, Crown Prince Xue Qinghe!"

Emperor Xue Ye had always seen Xue Qinghe's efforts over the years. Although his other sons died mysteriously, it wasn't necessarily all Xue Qinghe's doing. After all, his own brother Xue Xing was connected to Poison Douluo... As the Emperor of Heaven Dou, he would never fully trust those around him, even his own brothers.

Brotherly strife, Emperor Xue Ye had also experienced such things—

When he was young, he had more than just Xue Xing as a brother.

But now, the only prince who could stand by him was Xue Xing.

Currently, Xue Beng had two fingers broken and his body was incomplete. For the sake of royal dignity and etiquette, it was highly unlikely he would find another opportunity to ascend.

Since that was the case, it was better to let Xue Qinghe manage. Anyway, the future of the Empire would be his. He could become a retired Emperor early and enjoy his later years.

After all, he was old, and his health wasn't good. Poison Douluo secretly examined him and said he was poisoned, but didn't know what kind of poison it was... This was also one of the main reasons he didn't fully trust Xue Xing and Xue Beng.

He suspected they were putting on a show for him.

"Crown Prince Xue Qinghe!"

"He's actually going to temporarily manage Heaven Dou City!"

"It seems Emperor Xue Ye has confirmed that Xue Qinghe is truly the next Emperor of the Empire."

"Crown Prince Xue Qinghe is young and promising, gentle and refined, with extraordinary eloquence. Under his leadership, the Heaven Dou Empire is sure to surpass the Star Luo Empire."

"....."

Xue Qinghe stood below Emperor Xue Ye, one hand across his chest, bowing to Emperor Xue Ye and respectfully saying, "I humbly obey Father Emperor's decree. Your son will certainly not fail in his mission and will manage Heaven Dou City well."

"Qinghe, no need for such formality." Emperor Xue Ye personally helped Xue Qinghe up. The warmth between father and son made Xue Beng's eyes redden nearby, as he secretly clenched his fists tightly.

Seeing this, Xue Xing subtly pulled him behind him, preventing his ferocious gaze from being noticed by Emperor Xue Ye and Xue Qinghe. He whispered, "Since the overall situation is set, there's nothing I can do. You should truly become a profligate in the future, like your uncle. That way, if Xue Qinghe wants to maintain his gentle facade, you will certainly be able to live smoothly into old age."

A sentence squeezed out from Xue Beng's clenched teeth: "But I'm not reconciled."

"You're not reconciled, and I was once not reconciled either." Xue Xing looked at the feigned intimacy between Xue Ye and Xue Qinghe, finding the scene so familiar... Oh, right, when Xue Ye ascended the throne, it was a similar situation. He was much like Xue Beng, only able to clench his teeth and hold it in—at that time, he wasn't as lucky as Xue Beng to have an uncle helping him. To prevent Xue Ye from seeing his ferocious gaze, he could only lower his head forcefully.

The next imperial throne of Heaven Dou, the overall situation, was settled.

Xue Beng couldn't contend for it. As long as he didn't cause trouble in the future and became a leisurely prince, his Life would naturally be safe.

This was actually quite good...

...

Noon.

Emperor Xue Ye held a "Departure Feast," which all participating academy teachers, team members, and substitute members going to Spirit City could attend.

Huo Yuhao of Canghui Academy saw Tang San at Heaven Dou Royal Academy, while Shrek Academy had an extra Mu Tian. Coupled with what he had heard recently about the Martial Soul Theory Master Tang San, Huo Yuhao already understood that this Tang San was not that Tang San.

No wonder he was so terrifying!

It turned out he was like himself, a fellow transmigrator, and this Douluo World didn't just have Tang San as a transmigrator.

Mu Tian, that guy too. His Spirit was most likely the Nine-Headed Chimera, the legendary God of Heavenly Condemnation.

And Wang Chen, with his Death Scythe, a top-tier Tool Spirit.

However, the strongest was definitely Tang San, after all, he could rival the mental force of two million-year Spirit Beasts, making him a formidable opponent.

"Huo Yuhao, why don't you go apologize to Tang San?" Dou Yi Tianmeng suggested, "Since he's also a transmigrator, he probably recognized you long ago. And looking at him, he doesn't seem narrow-minded, otherwise he wouldn't publish those theories. At worst, you can work for him, it's not shameful."

Dou Er Tianmeng also chimed in, "That's right, it's not shameful."

The Ice Jade Emperor Scorpion also said, "What are you two talking about?"

"Bingbing, you're new here, you don't know how terrifying that Tang San is..." Dou Yi Tianmeng explained. Dou Er Tianmeng also wanted to interrupt, but Dou Yi Tianmeng pushed him aside.

This was his World's Bingbing, not the one from the Dou Er World.

Even another version of himself couldn't get close.

As for why the Ice Jade Emperor Scorpion was also in Huo Yuhao's mental sea, it was naturally because within this year, under the resources provided by Shi Nian and the cheat-like assistance of the two Heaven Dream Iceworms, Huo Yuhao had reached level thirty.

Then he went to the Extreme North Land, "accidentally" separated from Shi Nian, and was led by the two Heaven Dream Iceworms to find the Ice Jade Emperor Scorpion, persuading it to sacrifice itself, becoming Huo Yuhao's second Spirit and adding a nearly 380,000-year red spirit ring to Huo Yuhao.

Huo Yuhao truly could be called unprecedented.

After obtaining the Ice Jade Emperor Scorpion's Spirit, spirit ring, and Spirit Bone, Huo Yuhao was ready to continue adding a third spirit ring, but found that Shi Nian was very close to him, so he continued searching for a suitable third spirit ring for his Spiritual Eye.

To avoid wasting the position of the third Spirit, Huo Yuhao and Shi Nian searched for a long time and found a five-thousand-year-old ice dragon.

Originally, with Huo Yuhao's physical quality after absorbing a 380,000-year Ice Jade Emperor Scorpion torso bone, he was strong enough to withstand a ten-thousand-year spirit ring. Plus, he had a mental attribute and the help of three Spirit Beast souls, so the residual souls of ten-thousand-year Spirit Beasts were just child's play.

However, Shi Nian wouldn't allow it. He would never let his disciple act recklessly unless Huo Yuhao showed absolute confidence.

However, Huo Yuhao did not dare to reveal the Ice Jade Emperor Scorpion's spirit ring... He suspected that if he dared to reveal it, Shi Nian would immediately turn hostile, kill him, and seize the 380,000-year torso bone.

How could a master-disciple relationship compare to a 100,000-year Spirit Bone?

And it was a torso bone!

Moreover, it was a 380,000-year-level torso bone!

Although he had Heaven Dream Iceworm and Ice Jade Emperor Scorpion, Shi Nian couldn't do anything to him, but now was not the time to turn hostile with Shi Nian.

"Indeed, it's not embarrassing." After Dou Yi Tianmeng told Ice Jade Emperor Scorpion the full story, she also persuaded Huo Yuhao.

"No, as fellow transmigrators, how can I be beneath others?" Huo Yuhao was very resolute, "Besides, he made me lose a cheat, and I must avenge this grudge."

Dou Yi Tianmeng and Dou Er Tianmeng looked at each other, remained silent, and quietly activated a mental force barrier to prevent Huo Yuhao from eavesdropping on their conversation.

Although Iliex's departure was their 'doing,' and they described Iliex as having his soul scattered, it was a last resort.

Now, to prevent Huo Yuhao from offending Tang San in the future and being targeted by the will of the entire World, which would also implicate them, they had to plan a fallback.

Going all-in was never their choice.

They all had backup plans.

"Third Brother, that Huo Yuhao is also here." Guang Ling noticed Huo Yuhao's intense gaze, quietly walked to Tang San's side, and softly pointed in a direction.

Guang Ling had no good feelings for Huo Yuhao.

He had made her Third Brother so 'embarrassed' last time, it was absolutely unforgivable!

"I noticed him earlier, don't worry about him for now." Tang San glanced in the direction of Canghui Academy's students and saw Huo Yuhao immediately lower his head. "That guy is not to be feared."

Without Iliex, adding an Ice Jade Emperor Scorpion was still useless.

"I have to say, that kid's luck is really good." Iliex sensed the three soul bodies on Huo Yuhao and sighed slightly, "It's just that his magnanimity is a bit small."

Tang San was noncommittal.

At this moment, Crown Prince Xue Qinghe came to their table, raised his cup to invite them to drink, and then said to Tang San, "Brother Tang San, are you confident in winning the championship?"

"Of course." Tang San smiled slightly, clinked cups with Xue Qinghe, and said confidently, "It's just that with so many people in our team, we're directly advanced to the finals, and some people might not get to play."

It was normal for a team to have official members and substitute members, but for those who couldn't play, it was inevitable to feel disappointed.

After all, after so much hard training, if they didn't even get a chance to show their faces, how could they be excited?

"You're overthinking it." Xue Qinghe said with a chuckle, sharing the advance information he had learned, "Although this year's Continental Elite Tournament is the same as usual, with the main teams of the Two Great Empires directly advanced to the finals, they still have to participate in the preliminary and qualifying rounds. However, no matter how they perform in the preliminary rounds, they can enter the finals, and other academies competing against the main teams of the Two Great Empires, regardless of winning or losing, will not have their scores counted."

"This!" Huo Wu nearby was surprised, "Was this decided by the Supreme Pontiff of Spirit Hall?"

"Yes." Xue Qinghe confirmed Huo Wu's guess. "This decision, it is said, is to demonstrate the strength of the main teams of the Two Great Empires to the entire continent, especially since the appearance of the Sub-Mother Soul Guidance Photography Ball has greatly accelerated the spread of information..."

Speaking of this, Xue Qinghe secretly gritted his teeth a bit at Tang San and Guang Ling.

Damn it!

With this thing out, his identity absolutely could not be exposed, otherwise, if the news spread throughout the entire continent, the Qian family's reputation would definitely become infamous—usurping another's nest, this reputation would be enough for her, Qian Renxue, to be infamous for ten thousand years, and the faith in angels would be ruined.

However, she didn't want to always pretend to be a male; she had to find a way to openly revert to her female form after ascending the throne...

On the surface, Xue Qinghe still maintained a smile and said, "However, there's no need to worry. The Spirit Hall Team will also participate in the preliminary and qualifying rounds, so for Heaven Dou, Star Luo, and Spirit Hall, it's relatively fair. Moreover, the three can understand each other better, so that more reasonable tactics can be arranged for the final."

And upon hearing Xue Qinghe say this, Tang San's first reaction was to think that Spirit Hall's plan was to ascertain the strength of the main teams of the other Two Great Empires.

Or rather, Bibi Dong wanted to understand what capabilities he, the Martial Soul Theory Master, possessed.

After all, the theories he had published had gradually changed the Spirit Master's world.

"In this way, all the members of our First Team can play and demonstrate their own strength." Tang San smiled, because for the members of the Heaven Dou Royal First Team, cultivation, besides becoming a Titled Douluo, was for officially obtaining a noble title.

Having an official position would make it much more convenient for them, whether for enjoyment or for continued cultivation, in the future.

After all, this Continental Elite Tournament was a large-scale 'graduation job fair,' and their performance in the competition was their respective 'resumes.'

Prerequisite: This job fair was limited to Spirit Masters, and specifically young and talented Spirit Masters.

Three in the afternoon.

The academies were all ready to go, departing together with two thousand Imperial Knights, a mighty procession, like an army marching to war, with fierce momentum.

Xue Qinghe accompanied Emperor Xue Ye for three hundred li before stopping, and at Emperor Xue Ye's persuasion, he led the team back to Heaven Dou City.

This scene also made everyone sigh with emotion at Xue Qinghe's filial piety.

And after Xue Qinghe returned to Heaven Dou City, the first thing he secretly did was to release the news of him accompanying Emperor Xue Ye for three hundred li, to build up even greater momentum for himself.

Xue Xing wanted to stop it and forge news, but the Heaven Dou Royal Newspaper had already been controlled by Xue Qinghe. Information unfavorable to Xue Qinghe simply couldn't pass the review and was directly thrown into the trash.

Some smaller private newspaper groups in the city dared to publish it, but the Heaven Dou Royal Newspaper's credibility was higher than these tabloids, so not many people believed them.

As for these private tabloid groups, Xue Qinghe thought about it and didn't bother to deal with them.

As an angel, one must be tolerant...

Moreover, if a person has no flaws at all, it will also make people feel strange. As long as his positive impression outweighs the negative, the controversy placed upon her will also become an advantage.

This was something Xue Qinghe had learned from years of disguise.

"Young Master, Emperor Xue Ye has delegated power to you. Heaven Dou City is now yours to command." Porcupinefish Douluo's figure quietly appeared beside Xue Qinghe. "The Continental Elite Tournament won't be short; it will last at least two months. Should we take advantage of this time to eliminate the Heaven Dou Imperial officials who oppose us?"

"No, that's too much. Xue Beng, due to his physical disability, has lost the ability to compete with me. If we eliminate all those officials during this time, wouldn't it make me, the Crown Prince, seem narrow-minded? My previous disguise would also be in vain." Xue Qinghe shook his head.

"So?" Porcupinefish Douluo, having followed Xue Qinghe for a long time, also knew her thoughts. She wouldn't eliminate those officials who had caused her trouble, nor would she easily forgive them.

"So, we must keep a portion." Xue Qinghe sneered, "And the portion that must die, we cannot personally act upon. At least, on the surface, I cannot have direct conflict with them."

"Xue Xing, my 'good uncle,' is domineering, arrogant, and ill-tempered... Perhaps, like Xue Beng, it's also a disguise, but I have to say, he might have been disguising for a bit too long, to the point where he really picked up these bad habits."

"Don't you think he's a good scapegoat?"

Porcupinefish Douluo's eyes were filled with reverence: "Young Master is brilliant."

Brilliant?

Xue Qinghe secretly sighed. It was just that she had been disguising for too long and had gotten used to thinking this way.

Xue Xing was in disguise, Xue Beng was in disguise...

She, Xue Qinghe, was also in disguise.

How ironic!

She originally thought Bibi Dong's treatment of her was already outrageous enough, but she never expected the Heaven Dou Royal family to be so absurd... From this perspective, she was still lucky.

However, she still had to prove it to Bibi Dong!

And make her regret it!

191: Arriving at Wuhun City

In a blink, half a month had passed.

Spirit City was now in sight.

Legend has it that this city is the oldest place on the Continent, established by a god.

"Captain, do you think this legend is true or false?" As a member of the Blue Lightning Tyrant Dragon Clan, Yu Tianheng had naturally heard of the legend of the Angel God, but no one in his clan believed it, thinking it was Spirit Hall trying to glorify itself.

Moreover, some elders in his clan said that Spirit Hall was in decline.

After all, every previous Supreme Pontiff of Spirit Hall had been from the Angel lineage, but now, Bibi Dong, who did not possess an Angel Spirit, had ascended to the position. Wasn't this a sign of decline?

Although Spirit Hall had grown in scale and expanded its sphere of influence under Bibi Dong's development in recent years, in the eyes of some elders of the Blue Lightning Tyrant Dragon Clan, the Supreme Pontiff's position being occupied by a Spirit user of a different lineage definitely signified decline, and they began to look down on the Angel lineage from the bottom of their hearts.

"Whether it's true or false isn't that important," Tang San said ambiguously, without giving a clear answer.

Whether Spirit City was founded by the first Angel God was unclear.

Spirit Hall's public records contained no clear documentation, only a vague legend describing the glory of the Angel God.

However, the Angel God had indeed existed, and in the near future, would reappear—barring any unforeseen circumstances.

As they spoke, the Heaven Dou team had already arrived at the gates of Spirit City.

Compared to Heaven Dou City, the city gates and walls here were even taller, nearly two hundred meters high, with wall thickness exceeding one hundred and fifty meters. It was said that there were extremely spacious interiors capable of accommodating Spirit City guards and Spirit Masters for rest, living, and dining.

Passing through the spacious passage, everyone truly entered Spirit City.

The architecture here combined the common advantages of the Heaven Dou and Star Luo Empires, being tall and densely packed; the ground was paved with a kind of bluish-grey brick, very hard, rumored to be three meters thick for each piece, tightly fitted together, making it difficult for even a Spirit Ancestor to cause much damage.

However, what most attracted Tang San and Guang Ling's attention were the various types of daily spirit tools.

Compared to the daily spirit tools in Heaven Dou City and Star Luo City, those here were more diverse in style, clearly indicating ongoing research. However, based on Tang San and Guang Ling's observations, the internal Spirit guidance紋路 structures showed little difference from those of the Two Great Empires; only the external styles were more luxurious.

The so-called research primarily focused on aesthetic design.

Besides spirit tools, the Spirit Masters themselves were also noteworthy to those present.

Among the residents living within this Spirit City, excluding children whose Spirits had not yet awakened, everyone else possessed spirit power. Among adults, five out of ten were Spirit Masters, and the remaining five all had spirit power above rank five.

It is said that the Spirit Master population in Spirit City reached over fifty thousand.

It could be said that this was a city that gathered the most Spirit Masters on the Continent.

"No wonder Spirit City is the holy land longed for by most Spirit Masters on the Continent, because it has the most Spirit Masters in the entire World," Xiao Wu remarked, sensing the faint spirit power fluctuations emanating from the people nearby.

"Indeed, no other power can compare to this," Huo Wu sighed. "In terms of Spirit Master numbers, Spirit Hall has the most. Moreover, in terms of the number of powerful Spirit Masters, Spirit Hall also has the most. After all, Spirit Hall is the known power with the most Titled Douluo on the surface, and it also possesses a very mysterious Elder Palace, within which are all Titled Douluo above rank ninety-five."

"Titled Douluo above rank ninety-five, huh." If it were in the past, Xiao Wu would have felt that she would never dare to come to such a dreadful place. But now, she had methods to disguise her Spirit Beast aura and conceal the origin of her hundred-thousand-year cultivation. After transforming, her physical body had completely become human, so even Titled Douluo above rank ninety-five wouldn't be able to discern her true identity.

Upon entering the city, Spirit Hall, in a show of sincerity, personally dispatched a Titled Douluo to receive them.

"Hmph! Old Chrysanthemum, I didn't expect it to be you."

Dugu Bo, who was guarding Emperor Xue Ye, snorted coldly upon seeing his old rival. He wasn't fond of Chrysanthemum Douluo, but it wasn't a good time to act out—the Continental Elite Tournament was beginning, and Emperor Xue Ye had personally come to Spirit City. Dugu Bo was ostensibly on Heaven Dou's side and needed to show support.

"Old Poisonous Snake, how did your hair turn white? Are you getting old?" Chrysanthemum Douluo also scoffed at his old rival.

However, both knew that now was not the time for conflict, otherwise both the Heaven Dou Empire and Spirit Hall would lose face.

Therefore, after exchanging a few sarcastic remarks, they fell silent.

After Chrysanthemum Douluo arranged for Emperor Xue Ye and the various academies from Heaven Dou to stay in their respective inns, he left, clearly not wanting to interact much with Dugu Bo.

Dugu Bo, meanwhile, found Tang San and discussed matters concerning the Spirit Hall Team privately.

"I've found out some information. The Spirit Hall Team has two Spirit Kings and one Spirit Emperor," Dugu Bo's eyes were quite grave. "The Spirit Emperor should have just broken through recently, at rank sixty-one. As for the two Spirit Kings, I have definite information: their strength has already reached rank fifty-nine, just one step away from breaking through to Spirit Emperor. It's possible they might reach rank sixty during the competition. This is the worst-case scenario."

"Just a Spirit Emperor is no match for me," Tang San said calmly.

"Indeed, a Spirit Emperor can't compare to you, who possesses a hundred-thousand-year spirit ring." Dugu Bo smiled. "By the way, what rank is your spirit power at now? At the Spirit King stage, the speed of spirit power cultivation slows down significantly."

"Fifty-five," Tang San stated a number.

"Fifty-five, that's quite fast... Wait, how much? Fifty-five?" Dugu Bo reacted with a shocked expression. "You increased five ranks in one year? How do you cultivate?"

"My third Spirit Ability, called Photosynthetic Breathing, can utilize the essence of the sun and moon to condense Heaven and Earth energy, accelerating cultivation."

This was just one of the keys to Tang San's rapid cultivation. The remaining factor was the Golden Ancient Tree located in the heart of the Infinite Desert, which could provide Tang San with an endless supply of pure energy.

It was also because Tang San spent most of his time discussing with Iliex how to construct a more efficient energy circulation circuit between the three Dantian, and a large portion of the Golden Ancient Tree's energy was used to cultivate the Jade Bone Golden Muscle Divine Treasure Method to strengthen his vital energy and blood. Otherwise, he could easily break through not just to Spirit King, but even Spirit Emperor and Spirit Saint by now.

"You truly are a monster," Dugu Bo sighed emotionally. "After I obtained the method of Spirit Core condensation and resolved my toxins, I accumulated greatly, and my bottleneck disappeared. Later, I befriended those Immortal Herbs and obtained many leaves and petals from them that could improve my physique. After consuming them, my energy was replenished, and my spirit power only increased by three ranks, reaching rank ninety-five. But you, without consuming any Immortal Herbs, can increase your spirit power by five ranks. You truly don't seem human."

Tang San chuckled, "Five ranks of spirit power for a Spirit King cannot be compared to three ranks of spirit power for a Titled Douluo."

"Hmph, can they be the same? I've eaten many leaves and petals from Immortal Herbs." Dugu Bo knew that if he relied solely on his own speed of refining Heaven and Earth energy, coupled with the increased quality of spirit power after condensing his Spirit Core, it would be difficult to make up for these three ranks of spirit power in ten years.

Tang San smiled but said nothing.

Being able to obtain the leaves and petals of those intelligent Immortal Herbs was also Dugu Bo's skill.

"Forget it, let's not talk about these things. Anyway, with your talent, Titled Douluo is just within reach. This Continental Elite Tournament is merely a stage for you to display your strength to the World." Dugu Bo could already imagine Tang San's future achievements, and then he asked a question:

"There's one more thing. In this Continental Elite Tournament, the three main teams from Heaven Dou, Star Luo, and Spirit Hall will also participate in the preliminary and promotion rounds, but their scores won't be counted; they'll automatically advance to the finals. When do you plan to make your appearance and reveal your Spirit and spirit rings?"

"Of course, in the first match."

Tang San answered without hesitation.

He wanted to announce to everyone on the Continent: he had arrived in this World!

As for the other transmigrators...

It wasn't that Tang San was arrogant, but rather that he already possessed strength comparable to a Titled Douluo.

This was also a warning and declaration of war to those transmigrators:

He, Tang San, was right here!

If they had the ability, they could come and challenge him!

He, Tang San, would accept!

"How... confident."

He had wanted to say "arrogant," but considering Tang San's strength, Dugu Bo felt, wasn't it the truth?

"The most important thing for a person is confidence, right?" Tang San smiled. "Being timid won't allow one to move forward. Of course, one must also consider one's own abilities and the broader social environment."

"I don't understand these intricacies, but after the Continental Elite Tournament, Spirit Hall will definitely invite you. Will you join them?" Dugu Bo asked curiously.

"Old Poison, do you have an opinion of Spirit Hall?" Tang San suddenly asked.

"No, it's just that I have a grudge with Chrysanthemum Douluo." Dugu Bo, hearing Tang San's question, probably understood his thoughts. "Also, Xue Xing saved my life. I can't not repay that kindness."

"There's no need to be so pessimistic." Hearing the slight disappointment in Dugu Bo's tone, Tang San smiled. "Who can say for sure about the future?"

"Yes, who can say for sure about the future?" Dugu Bo laughed heartily. "Anyway, I'm just Xue Xing's guest elder. Even if a major war breaks out in the future, I don't necessarily have to stand on Heaven Dou's side. Saving his life will be enough."

Status, power.

He, Dugu Bo, disdained them.

A true friend was the most precious.

At least, Tang San was one of his current one and a half friends; the remaining half was Chrysanthemum Douluo. They knew each other inside out, and despite their grievances, they could barely be considered half-friends.

Tang San looked deeply at Dugu Bo and said, "It seems you know a lot."

"Ha, what kind of person is this Old Poison?" Dugu Bo laughed loudly. "Having lived for so many years, what great storms haven't I seen? Spirit Hall has branch halls in cities all over the entire Continent, aren't they the best intelligence gathering stations? If this Old Poison were in the Supreme Pontiff's position, he would also want to attack the other Two Great Empires."

"The war hasn't broken out yet, simply because the Two Great Empires still have their foundations, and Spirit Hall can't find a suitable, legitimate reason."

"Only these two points."

Tang San believed that those with foresight within the Two Great Empires could see through these two points and were largely wary of Spirit Hall.

However, Spirit Hall had not truly revealed its ambition, and the sacred and majestic Angel God faith also did not allow Spirit Hall to launch an unjust war, which went against Spirit Hall's governance policy.

Unless someone wanted to destroy Spirit Hall, destroy the glory of the Angel God.....

Therefore, the mutual wariness between the Two Great Empires was stronger than their wariness of Spirit Hall.

As for the original work...

One could only say that Bibi Dong went completely mad in the later stages, disregarding the image of justice and fairness that Spirit Hall had cultivated for many years. Her desire for revenge against the Angel God lineage had shifted to avenging the entire World, the entire society.

After parting with Dugu Bo, Tang San returned to the team and informed his teammates about the strength of Spirit Hall's Golden Generation: two Spirit Kings at level fifty-nine, and one Spirit Emperor at level sixty-one.

"Spirit Kings and a Spirit Emperor!" Yu Tianheng exclaimed. "They must be the three people we met when we hunted The Fallen. They are all formidable opponents."

“What are you afraid of? We have four Spirit Kings.” Huo Wu crossed her arms. “They just have a bit higher spirit power. Captain Tang San, Xiao Wu, me, and you, who recently broke through to Spirit King, are not afraid of them. Even if it’s a Spirit Emperor, two of us are enough to hold one back.”

“At that time, you still need to be vigilant. As far as I know, among those three, Hu Liena and Xie Yue are biological siblings and possess a Martial Soul Fusion Skill. It belongs to the Martial Soul Fusion within the three major Martial Soul categories I’ve classified. With one at level fifty-nine and the other at level sixty-one, their fusion could potentially unleash power close to the Spirit Douluo level.”

A Spirit Douluo-level powerhouse was manageable for Tang San, but for Huo Wu and Yu Tianheng, it would be very troublesome.

Although both of them had made breakthroughs in self-created Spirit Ability, especially Huo Wu, who could destroy the entire stage with her full power, her destructive power was extremely strong.

But Xie Yue and Hu Liena were Spirit Hall’s Golden Generation and could also fight above their level.

The Martial Soul Fusion of those two absolutely could not be treated as an ordinary Spirit Douluo.

“A Martial Soul Fusion approaching the Spirit Douluo level?” Huo Wu showed no fear. Instead, she rubbed her fists together. “This tournament will definitely be very exciting.”

At this moment, Yufeng ran in from outside the meeting room and said, “I have big news!”

“What news?”

“The reward for the champion of this competition is a Spirit Bone, and it’s a Spirit Bone over ten thousand years old!” Yufeng excitedly said, “They are the Blazing Incineration Flame Right Arm Bone, the Rapid Advance Wind

Chasing Left Leg Bone, and the Mental Concentration Wisdom Head Spirit Bone.”

“Especially the last head Spirit Bone, it’s said to be over fifty thousand years old!”

Spirit Bones were extremely rare items.

Spirit Bones over ten thousand years old were even priceless treasures!

Upon hearing this news, all the members of Heaven Dou First Team, except for Tang San, Xiao Wu, Guang Ling, and Lan Yinzi, were invigorated.

“Captain, aren’t you interested in the Spirit Bones?” Yufeng noticed the calmness of Tang San and Xiao Wu’s group and was a bit curious.

“Hmm~” Tang San pondered for a moment and then offered a suggestion, “The names of these three Spirit Bones are quite long.”

Yufeng: “.....”

Yu Tianheng and the others: “.....”

No, is that your only focus?

“Cough! The Spirit Bones are indeed good, but there are only three of them, aren’t there? It won’t be easy to distribute them then,” Tang San pointed out the key issue.

“Indeed, only three, not easy to distribute.”

After calming down, everyone also thought of this point.

“Only that Blazing Incineration Flame Left Arm Bone is suitable for Vice Captain Huo Wu. As for the remaining two, none of us have a Spirit of the mental system or wind system. However, we do have four agility-attack system members: Zhu Zhuqing, Bai Chenxiang, Oslo, and Xiao Wu.” Yu Tianheng began his analysis.

Xiao Wu was the first to speak: “I don’t want it.”

As a hundred-thousand-year transformed Spirit Beast, why would she want a ten-thousand-year Spirit Bone?

Besides, having cultivated the Jade Bone Golden Muscle Divine Treasure Method, what did a Spirit Bone even count for?

Tang San stopped everyone from discussing premature distribution, saying, “The preliminary rounds haven’t even started yet. Isn’t it a bit too early to discuss distribution?”

Yu Tianheng and the others reacted, giving an awkward smile.

“Indeed, it’s a bit early to discuss now.”

“If others heard us, I don’t know how they’d laugh at the members of our first team.”

“O(∩_∩)O Haha~”

However, as everyone blamed themselves, Tang San spoke up, saying, “But if we really win the championship, can I arrange the distribution of those three Spirit Bones? Don’t worry, I will give each of you benefits worth no less than a ten-thousand-year Spirit Bone.”

“Captain, that’s too formal. If you want them, just take them.” Huo Wu laughed heartily, hooking her arm around Tang San’s neck. “The value of the self-created Spirit Ability you guided us to create, I estimate, is already worth no less than a hundred-thousand-year Spirit Bone.”

“Exactly, Captain, there’s no need to be so formal.” Yu Tianheng also agreed. “We all know that you and Guang Ling are researching spirit tools, and Spirit Bones, in your eyes, are also a material for making spirit tools... Although we don’t understand, and even feel that using Spirit Bones as materials is quite wasteful, spirit tool cameras, spirit tool photography boxes, Sub-Mother Soul Guidance Photography Ball, and other daily spirit tools have created considerable wealth.”

“Spirit Bones, to put it plainly, primarily serve to increase physical strength and provide a Spirit Bone ability.” Oslo stated his opinion. “With your help, Captain, we will definitely move towards the direction of self-created Spirit Ability in the future. Our strongest means will definitely be self-created Spirit Ability, making Spirit Bone skills somewhat optional.”

Yufeng said, “Too many skills, if not used well, are also a waste.”

The rest of them also expressed that mere Spirit Bones were not worth mentioning, and Tang San could use them however he wished.

“Then I thank you all. However, I promise to give you benefits worth no less than a ten-thousand-year Spirit Bone, and I will definitely deliver. I won’t let you exert yourselves in battle for nothing.”

Having obtained everyone’s consent, Tang San felt much more relaxed.

For the next two days, the academy teams from Heaven Dou Empire and Star Luo Empire were in a rest and adjustment phase, awaiting the true start of the tournament—after all, traveling to Spirit City, although without major incidents along the way, long-distance travel, even sitting, left both people and Spirit Masters physically and mentally exhausted, requiring time to adjust.

Two days later, the tournament officially began!

The venue for the competition was the Spirit Great Spirit Arena in the center of Spirit City. Its architectural appearance was similar to the Roman Colosseum, and its style was consistent with the Spirit arenas within the Two Great Empires, only larger in footprint and more spacious inside.

It was said that this Great Spirit Arena could accommodate over one hundred thousand people watching at once.

I wonder if that’s an exaggeration...

“This is actually not the venue for the finals, but only for the preliminary rounds and promotion rounds.” Qin Ming began to explain when he saw the members of Heaven Dou First Team enter.

My personal guess is that the inheritance of the Rakshasa God might distort the inheritor's consciousness. The gods who appeared in the God Realm all seem to have some personality issues. Especially the kind and evil ones, who just quit their jobs to experience love.....

192: I'll give you 20 minutes to catch up

Chapter 192: I Give You Time to Catch Up 2.0

“Originally, for the Continental Elite Tournament, the Two Great Empires first had to select the corresponding advancing teams, and the final championship would be held in Spirit City... However, with the emergence of the Sub-Mother Soul Guidance Photography Ball and the rapid spread of information, to ensure fairness and impartiality, Spirit Hall decided to hold the tournament in a single location.”

Qin Ming slowly explained, “This is both for the fairness and impartiality of the competition, and to demonstrate the powerful influence of Spirit Hall. This time, it’s in Spirit City; next time, it could be in Heaven Dou City, or Star Luo City, or still in Spirit City, depending on the situation in each country.”

“Back to this session.”

“This Great Spirit Arena in Spirit City is only for the preliminary and advancement rounds. The final championship will be held in another location.”

“In front of the Supreme Pontiff Palace...”

The members of the Heaven Dou First Team couldn't help but look in the direction of the Supreme Pontiff Palace, which was located on a thousand-meter-high mountain peak, with the Supreme Pontiff Palace built on its mountainside.

“It is said that the Spirit Hall Pope ordered a brand-new competition venue to be opened in front of the Supreme Pontiff Palace, with a length and width of a thousand meters, covering all currently achievable terrain—”

Qin Ming continued, his face full of amazement.

“Desert, grassland, mountain forest, river, ice and snow, volcano, etc., and even the ocean.”

“There’s even a rumor that it’s a miniature Douluo Continent!”

Listening to Qin Ming’s description, everyone was astonished.

“This is truly exaggerated.”

“However, when they fight, with such a large distance, it will be difficult to determine a winner, right?”

“Idiot, there must be rules set, for example: passive fighting leads to disqualification.”

As everyone discussed, Xiao Wu walked up to Tang San and complained, “If what Grandmaster Qin Ming said is true, then Spirit Hall is truly wealthy.”

“Any power, once its scale expands to the point of being able to build a city, having this small amount of money is not surprising.” Tang San shook his head, “In terms of wealth, Spirit Hall still cannot compare to the Two Great Empires. However, if what Grandmaster Qin Ming said is true, then I am more curious about how that miniature Douluo Continent venue was created.”

Grasslands, Deserts, and forests are easy to explain; they just need regular maintenance and repair. But how are ice and snow, and volcanoes, managed?

Spirit Master assistance?

That would be unfair.

Therefore, it must be assisted by spirit tools or similar items.

With Spirit Hall's vast resources, it's not impossible for them to possess some powerful spirit tools...

...

Once the teams from a hundred or so advanced academies had entered and taken their seats, and the ticket-holding spectators in Spirit City had also arrived, Bibi Dong stood up from her seat in the VIP spectator section belonging to the Supreme Pontiff Palace.

At this moment, all the spectators in Spirit City fell silent.

The participating teams from the advanced academies of the Heaven Dou and Star Luo Empires also couldn't help but close their mouths, not daring to make too much noise.

The current Spirit Hall Pope, at this moment, declared her prestige and renown to the World.

Everyone across the continent who witnessed this scene through the Sub-Mother Soul Guidance Photography Ball was also astonished by Bibi Dong's beauty and nobility.

"Welcome, everyone, to Spirit City, to participate in this grand event of the entire continent. Here, I also thank the Martial Soul Theory Master, Tang San, and his disciple 'Chasing Sun,' for inventing and designing the Sub-Mother Soul Guidance Photography Ball, which can record images and transmit visuals, allowing people across the continent to watch this grand feast of Spirit Masters."

Bibi Dong's voice was clear and cold, yet gentle, and without losing tenderness.

"Hereby, I, Bibi Dong, the current Pope of Spirit Hall, sincerely declare: The All-Continent Advanced Soul Master Academy Elite Tournament!"

"Is officially open!"

As soon as her voice fell, the entire venue erupted in cheers.

Enthusiastic applause and shouts echoed through the sky.

Everyone was thrilled by this moment!

Boom!

However, the heavens were uncooperative.

At this supposedly exciting moment, the already overcast sky grew heavier with dark clouds, and even thunder rumbled.

Seeing that it was about to rain, Emperor Xue Ye, sitting to Bibi Dong's left, stood up and asked Bibi Dong, "Your Holiness, should we hold it tomorrow instead?"

"No matter."

Her clear, cold voice seemed to possess a magical power, spreading throughout the entire venue, causing everyone to quiet down.

Then, Bibi Dong did not release her Spirit, but simply revealed her spirit rings.

Yellow, purple, purple, purple, black, black, black, black, red!

Nine spirit rings, in the gloomy weather, were so dazzling.

Two thousand-year spirit rings, one hundred-thousand-year spirit ring!

All the Spirit Masters present could feel Bibi Dong's restrained yet immense spirit power, like a surging tide.

Bibi Dong did not use a Spirit Ability, but merely raised her right hand, her slender index finger pointing towards the sky, concentrating her spirit power.

Whoosh!

With just one strike, that small purple spirit power bead shot towards the sky, exploding within the thick clouds.

Those present couldn't hear any sound, but they saw a large hole rip open in the dark clouds, which then dispersed at an extremely fast speed.

In an instant.

Overcast to clear.

The warm sunlight shone down, making everyone in Spirit City feel warmth.

But for some, Bibi Dong's move truly terrified them.

Changing the weather with one's own power!

How terrifying was that?

Ning Fengzhi transmitted his voice to Sword Douluo beside him, "Uncle Sword, what level of strength has the Spirit Hall Pope reached?"

Sword Douluo quietly responded, "Previously, our guesses about her were only level ninety-five or ninety-six. Now, it seems she's at least level ninety-eight! I even suspect that she is the youngest Titled Douluo on the continent, but it hasn't been publicized, which is why that position has always been occupied by Tang Hao."

"At least level ninety-eight? So, possibly level ninety-nine?" Ning Fengzhi asked again.

"Uncertain. From that one moment, I cannot accurately judge, and I have never personally witnessed a level ninety-nine powerhouse." Sword Douluo shook his head, looking at Bibi Dong with completely different eyes. Originally, he only thought of Bibi Dong as an extraordinary woman with means and talent, but now, it seemed her cultivation talent far surpassed ordinary people, and a hint of admiration involuntarily appeared in his eyes.

Regardless of stance, it was simply respect for a powerhouse...

...

On Shrek Academy's side.

Witnessing Bibi Dong's move of "parting the clouds to reveal the sun," Yu Xiaogang was deeply shocked, thinking, "Is this the strength of a Titled Douluo above level ninety-seven? No wonder she back then... We were simply not from the same World... But, my disciple, Oscar, will also definitely reach that realm!"

"All those who looked down on me, just wait for me!"

"I, Yu Xiaogang, will definitely prove it to you all!"

Noticing Yu Xiaogang's trembling, Liu Erlong held his hand and said, "Xiaogang, don't be angry. She's not worth it."

"Yes, I've already let go..." Yu Xiaogang tried to calm himself. He felt a bit uncomfortable with Liu Erlong's affection, after all, he and she were cousins...

...

The leader of Thunder Academy, Yu Luomian, after witnessing Bibi Dong's display, snorted coldly, thinking, "The current Pope of Spirit Hall truly has some real skill. To have such strength at such a young age is truly incredible."

Just as Yu Luomian was thinking about training the young ones in his clan even harder when he returned, his gaze flickered towards Shrek's direction and he saw Liu Erlong and Yu Xiaogang together, even holding hands, which immediately infuriated him.

"Rebellious girl!"

"And my good elder brother's son, Yu Xiaogang, is also an unruly fellow!"

But in the end, Yu Luomian still suppressed his temper, forcing himself not to investigate.

At this grand assembly, with so many people and eyes, and many spectators having Spirit-guidance cameras, Spirit-guidance photography boxes, and Sub-Mother Soul Guidance Photography Balls, if this incident were recorded and spread, it would damage the reputation of the entire Blue Lightning Tyrant Dragon Clan...

...

“So strong!” Xiao Wu couldn’t help but exclaim, “Such a powerful female Spirit Master is truly a role model for our generation!”

Tang San gave Xiao Wu a strange glance, thinking, When you realize she’s the one who killed your mother, your reaction won’t be like this.

However, Xiao Wu’s mother’s soul is probably within Bibi Dong’s spirit rings and Spirit Bones, but it seems to be the seventh spirit ring of her second Spirit, right?

No wonder Xiao Wu can’t sense it now.

“Spirit Masters like the Supreme Pontiff are the ones we should strive to catch up to.” Huo Wu also expressed her opinion, her eyes filled with admiration, “Captain Tang San, how many levels do you think the Supreme Pontiff’s spirit power has reached?”

“At least level ninety-eight.” Tang San’s tone was slightly uncertain. After all, he couldn’t accurately judge the spirit power level of a Titled Douluo; he could only judge based on the original work—due to the Rakshasa God’s trial, her original level ninety-nine strength was suppressed to only level ninety-eight.

Honestly, changing the weather was beyond Tang San’s expectations. He now understood why for Spirit Masters above level ninety-five, each level increase was a qualitative leap.

Just like Bibi Dong currently, although she wasn’t yet level one hundred, to ordinary people, such an ability was no different from a legendary Divinity.

However, Tang San also understood that Bibi Dong's move was merely shooting out condensed spirit power, causing it to explode within the clouds, relying solely on immense spirit power.

If he wanted to do it, he could too.

It would just take some effort.

"Brother Iliex, what do you think of Bibi Dong's talent?" Tang San secretly asked.

"My surname is Iliex, not I," Iliex corrected him, somewhat exasperated, then began his assessment. "This woman has extraordinary talent, carries a death aura, and has fluctuations of a Divinity. She must have inherited from a certain Divinity, and it's likely a relatively dark one... However, in my opinion, her compatibility with that Divinity is not high. Her innate death aura and soul aura would be best suited for an inheritance like that of the God of death."

"Perhaps there is no God of death in this World," Tang San mused. In novel settings, the God of death actually existed as the predecessor of the God of Destruction, but the original author later changed the setting, turning the God of death into the God of Destruction.

Tang San had already seen the God of Destruction.

Therefore, the God Realm likely doesn't have a God of death. Otherwise, if souls were all under the God of death's control, Ma Hongjun, who became a Divinity in the original work, wouldn't have needed to be so sad...

"No God of death? That's possible," Iliex pondered for a moment. "I indeed haven't felt any death-related aura in the spatial passage connecting the God Realm to this plane... It seems that God Realm is incomplete."

After the sky cleared, the qualifiers began!

Unlike the previous point system, this time the qualifiers adopted a knockout system: two-on-two matches, with winners advancing to the next round and losers directly eliminated from the competition.

After all, this time there were no Heaven Dou or Star Luo competition zones. Over a hundred advanced academies gathered together, and if they continued with a point system, this tournament would probably take more than half a year to finish.

Therefore, a knockout system was adopted.

This rule was also discussed and finalized by Bibi Dong, Emperor Xue Ye, and Emperor Dai Legao over two days.

(Dugu Bo: Is my information outdated?)

However, if a team lost to the Heaven Dou Royal Main Battle Team, the Star Luo Royal Main Battle Team, or the Spirit Hall Main Battle Team, they could participate in a resurrection round.

The so-called resurrection round meant that teams that lost to these three teams, who were guaranteed entry into the finals, would not be completely eliminated. They would have another match among themselves to advance and continue participating in the knockout stage.

"The first round of the preliminary knockout matches has been arranged!" Chrysanthemum Douluo, as the referee, completed the match arrangements for over a hundred teams and projected them onto the curtain set up at the edge of the Great Spirit Arena via a Sub-Mother Soul Guidance Photography Ball, for everyone to see.

"Now, please welcome the first two teams of the first group!"

"From the Heaven Dou Royal Academy of the Heaven Dou Empire, they are one of the three teams guaranteed entry to the finals."

"And their opponents, also from the Heaven Dou Empire, are the Shrek Team from Shrek Academy!"

"Both sides please enter the arena within three minutes."

"It's our turn in the first round. Which people should we send out? The Shrek Team will definitely be Dai Mubai, Oscar, Mu Tian, Ma Hongjun, Jiang Zhu, Jing Ling, Huang Yuan, etc., and the remaining Tai Long might replace Mu Tian or Dai Mubai," Qin Ming began analyzing for Tang San and the others.

Although he graduated from Shrek Academy, as the current leader of the Heaven Dou Royal Academy team, he had to be responsible.

"Me, Xiao Wu, Guang Ling, Yu Feng, Oslo, Shi Mo, Shi Mo," Tang San arranged.

"You're going out in the first round?" Qin Ming was surprised. "Aren't trump cards usually hidden until the end?"

"That's true, but my theories have all been published through Wuhun News. Others may not know me, but Spirit Hall is well aware, so there's no need to hide," Tang San explained. "Moreover, as a Martial Soul Theory Master, my identity should be truly revealed."

"Alright, since you have your own plans, I won't say anything more," Qin Ming couldn't stop Tang San's thoughts, so he could only let it go. "Besides, I also want to see what level your fifth spirit ring is."

Once both teams were on the field, Chrysanthemum Douluo began to draw the competition venue.

Grassland!

Accompanying the tremor of the ground, a hundred-meter-long and hundred-meter-wide grassland slowly rose from below.

This type of terrain, compared to the ground, simply had grass, making it a bit slippery, but it was much better than a Desert terrain.

"Oh? Is Tang San going first?" Bibi Dong's eyes lit up when she saw Tang San enter the arena, thinking to herself, "A young prodigy, and a Martial Soul Theory Master, he should indeed be this confident."

Once both sides stepped onto the actual competition ground, at Chrysanthemum Douluo's signal, they approached each other, about ten meters apart.

"I declare the first match of the first round officially started!"

"Now, both sides have one minute to release their Spirit, attach their Spirit, and adjust themselves to their best state."

Immediately, both sides released their Spirit and Spirit attached to their bodies, and yellow, purple, and black spirit rings shone.

Especially the black ten-thousand year spirit rings, which gave the audience a feast for their eyes.

Although the effect of Whale Glue had already been announced, four-ring Spirit Masters with ten-thousand year spirit rings were still extremely rare. It was unexpected that the Heaven Dou Royal Battle Team would have three of them directly.

More importantly, two of them were even Spirit Kings!

However, there was something even more astonishing—the fifth spirit ring of the Heaven Dou Royal team captain was red, with one deep red and one ice blue pattern on it, extremely dazzling.

"A ten-thousand year spirit ring!"

Bibi Dong's pupils suddenly constricted, and she unconsciously tightened her grip on her scepter, her voice trembling almost imperceptibly, "What a Tang San! What a Martial Soul Theory Master!"

"A mere Blue Silver Grass, yet it can cultivate to such a level!"

"And, a Spirit King can withstand a ten-thousand year spirit ring... How much Whale Glue did this guy secretly acquire before announcing its effect? His physical strength must have already reached the Titled Douluo level, right?"

That being said, Bibi Dong didn't feel that Tang San had done anything wrong.

If there's a benefit, it's natural to enjoy it first.

On the Spirit Hall Team's side, Hu Liena's eyes trembled, and she couldn't help but clench her fists: "As expected of Tang San, the legendary Martial Soul Theory Master. I originally thought that my sixth spirit ring being able to withstand a fifty-thousand year spirit ring was already very powerful, but I didn't expect you to be able to withstand a hundred-thousand year spirit ring."

After the shock, Xie Yue quickly calmed down and said, "Although a hundred-thousand year spirit ring is good, he is still only a Spirit King. We also have our trump cards."

Yan also comforted her, "Yes, Nana, your and Brother Xie Yue's Martial Soul Fusion can reach the Spirit Douluo level."

"That's right, I shouldn't be so pessimistic. In terms of spirit power level, I'm higher than Tang San, and I have a Martial Soul Fusion Skill," Hu Liena encouraged herself, but inwardly she wasn't as confident as she appeared—

A hundred-thousand year spirit ring meant that Tang San had hunted a hundred-thousand year Spirit Beast, and the strength of a hundred-thousand year Spirit Beast, at its worst, was at the Titled Douluo level.

Did this mean that Tang San was already capable of fighting against a Titled Douluo?

Hopefully, Tang San just picked up a severely injured hundred-thousand year Spirit Beast...

The red hundred-thousand year spirit ring shocked everyone present, especially Yu Xiaogang, who stood up from his seat, his eyes wide with fury: "Impossible!"

"The fifth spirit ring can withstand one hundred thousand years!"

"What kind of monster is this?!"

Flender and Liu Erlong wanted to console him, but they didn't know where to start.

After all, Tang San on the field had broken the norm.

And besides Shrek and the others, Xu Xing of the Star Crown Sect and Wang Chen of the Heaven Dou Royal Second Team were also full of shock...

...

On the grassland arena.

Chrysanthemum Douluo looked at the red spirit ring, secretly swallowed, and recalled his past thought of taking Tang San as a disciple, feeling a pang of shame in his heart.

Such a guy truly wasn't someone he could teach.

"Battle start!" With that, Chrysanthemum Douluo exited the stage, leaving the spotlight to Tang San.

"Wow, Captain, you're amazing! You kept it hidden for so long, I didn't expect your fifth spirit ring to be at the hundred-thousand year level!" Yu Feng gave a thumbs up, his eyes filled with admiration.

The other team members also showed admiration, including Xiao Wu and Guang Ling, who already knew.

"Calm down," Tang San smiled, his gaze falling on Mu Tian opposite him. Seeing him grit his teeth and purse his lips, Tang San's lips moved slightly, forcing his voice into a line, transmitting: "I told you, those I surpass are never considered opponents by me. I will give you time to catch up, until you can no longer see me in the distance."

The original God of death appeared in "God of Wine," appearing alongside Life, both being enforcers. Correspondingly, they never appeared again later, becoming Destruction and Life instead.

It's estimated that the God of death was changed to Destruction.

It actually makes sense. After all, if the God of death truly existed, he would inevitably have the authority to manage souls. Then, many Divinities ascending from mortal stars would definitely ask him for help, and the God Realm would certainly open up a specialized underworld or similar place to store souls.

But the God Realm didn't have one, so to fix the bug, the God of death was changed to Destruction...

I don't even believe what I'm saying; it must be a retcon!

After all, he also wrote a novel called "Kind God of death," where Ah Dai eventually formed the Great God Circle with other God Realms, including the Douluo God Realm.

193: Game 1 of the first round: Oscar's third soul

“Bastard! Is this guy really that vengeful?” Mu Tian gritted his teeth, feeling a bit annoyed that he hadn't understood the situation back then when he provoked Tang San.

After all, since meeting Tang San, his luck had been consistently bad. He even almost failed when absorbing his second spirit ring... He couldn't understand why there was such a big difference, even though they were both transmigrators.

Is Austin Griffin not as good as the Blue Silver Emperor and the Clear Sky Hammer?

Meanwhile, on the Heaven Dou Royal side, Yu Feng brought up the main topic: “Captain, why don't you just not make a move? You should at least give us a chance to show off.”

“I'm a support system Spirit Master.” Tang San gave Yu Feng, Oslo, Shi Mo, and Shi Mo four doses of reassurance. “Dai Mubai, Mu Tian, and Oscar from Shrek are all quite strong, especially Oscar who possesses the Eight Spider Lances and has potent venom. Try to avoid contact.”

Xiao Wu said, “I have medicine to counteract the Man Faced Demon Spider's poison.”

“You can't use medicine during the match.” Tang San was speechless and turned to Guang Ling, saying, “You should aim for Oscar first. If he uses the Eight Spider Lances or some bizarre Spirit Ability, use your Second Soul Skill. Control the spirit power a bit, as your Spirit Ability's penetrative power is too strong, and I'm afraid the opponent might die.”

This Oscar had received Yu Xiaogang's education since childhood, but he ultimately grew up in Shrek in Soto City, spending a long time with Dai Mubai and Ma Hongjun. The last time they met, Tang San didn't get to know him much, but he guessed that Oscar must have picked up some lewd bad habits.

Therefore, it was better to be vigilant.

“Understood.” Guang Ling nodded.

At this moment, among the Shrek Team members, Dai Mubai had already rushed forward, with Mu Tian's detached Beast Spirit, the Three-Headed Hellfire Lizard, Bright Moon, following closely behind.

Xiao Wu and Guang Ling immediately jumped away, and Yu Feng and Oslo also separated.

Shi Mo and Shi Mo, the two brothers, exchanged a smile. With their Profound Tortoise possession, they stood in front of Tang San, blocking Dai Mubai, who was accelerating and charging towards them. They couldn't even make them retreat a single step.

“What?!” Dai Mubai was shocked, feeling his claws impact on their arms like striking two incredibly hard profound iron blocks, only causing his own claws to tremble.

“Your strength is too small.”

The brothers spoke in unison, exerting force together, pushing Dai Mubai away.

Bright Moon, running behind him, completely disregarded Dai Mubai, pushing him aside with its head and crashing towards the Shi Mo and Shi Mo brothers.

Just as the two were about to test the power of this peculiar detached Beast Spirit, Tang San's voice came from their ears: "Don't resist head-on."

The brothers immediately moved aside.

Facing the enormous Bright Moon, Tang San lightly tapped his foot and leaped up, landing on Bright Moon's middle head.

The other two heads immediately bit at Tang San.

However, Tang San's steps were light, and he quickly dodged, jumping onto another head, and the remaining head then bit at him again.

"Damn it, he's toying with me!" Mu Tian used his First Soul Skill: Fire Element Control.

Immediately, Bright Moon's leftmost head opened its sharp fangs, and raging flames spewed from its mouth, transforming into a fire snake that coiled in the air, wrapping towards Tang San.

Fire Element Control: The flames spat out by Bright Moon's first head could be controlled by Mu Tian and transformed into various shapes. However, Bright Moon and Mu Tian themselves seemed to prefer close combat—this might be a common problem for all Spirit Masters with Beast Spirits.

Facing the fire snake that was Binding him, Tang San still didn't use a Spirit Ability. He merely lightly tapped Bright Moon's left head, jumping out of the flame's Binding range.

Crack!

And Bright Moon's left head, which Tang San had tapped, slammed violently onto the grass, almost passing out.

This also caused Mu Tian's spirit power to be greatly consumed.

"Damn, so ruthless?" Mu Tian ate a Super Big Recovery Sausage, recovering his spirit power. Seeing Yu Feng aiming at Jiang Zhu, he immediately ran over.

As long as Bright Moon was not defeated, all attacks he received could be offset by his spirit power.

Oscar had left him quite a few Big Recovery Sausages.

“With me here, you won't defeat us so easily!”

Mu Tian's shout was very cool.

But—

“First Soul Skill: Wing Blade!”

Yu Feng circled in the air at an extremely fast speed, using the self-created Spirit Ability techniques trained during this period, utilizing airflow to accelerate himself, then quickly crashing towards Mu Tian and activating his First Soul Skill.

“Whoa!”

Mu Tian's eyes widened, his waist bent, and he spat out a mouthful of bitter bile. He struggled to look up into the distance—Bright Moon's figure had slowly dissipated. Beside Tang San, two adorable little girls, one red and one blue, floated.

Octagonal Mysterious Ice Grass, Scorching Apricot.

Mu Tian hadn't seen clearly, but the others saw it distinctly: they had emerged from Tang San's Ten-thousand year spirit ring.

The red-haired little girl merely raised her hand and lightly tapped Bright Moon. The latter trembled all over, as if ignited, and then dissipated.

“Thank me for holding back, otherwise, with that hit, you would have been cut in half at the waist.” Yu Feng chuckled, and with a slight exertion of force, his Wing Blade sent Mu Tian flying again.

Jiang Zhu, who was behind him, quickly ducked to avoid being hit by Mu Tian.

At this moment, Jing Ling and Huang Yuan arrived, pouncing towards Yu Feng.

“Tsk!”

Yu Feng leaped up, flying into the air.

As a Spirit Ancestor, facing two Spirit Elders, even if he wasn't the type who could both fight and tank, he wasn't afraid. But he wanted to play a bit longer.

However, Oslo didn't think so.

As an agility-attack system assassin, he quietly came behind Huang Yuan at this moment, striking out with a claw, shattering the opponent's back, and sending him flying.

Huang Yuan lost his combat capability.

“What?!” Jing Ling was greatly alarmed and quickly leaped to the side, completely disregarding Jiang Zhu's safety.

“Phoenix Fire Wire!”

Just then, Ma Hongjun in the distance noticed Oslo and hurriedly spat out a scorching fire line, temporarily avoiding Oslo, who had no energy attack methods.

Bang!

However, less than a second after Ma Hongjun spat out the flames, his stomach received a kick, and his entire body immediately rolled out like a ball.

At this point, Mu Tian, Ma Hongjun, and Huang Yuan of the Shrek Team lost their combat capability.

This had nothing to do with tactics; it was a pure power suppression.

All the major advanced academies saw this. The coordination among the Shrek Team members was actually decent, for example, at the beginning, Dai Mubai pushed forward, and Mu Tian's peculiar Beast Spirit followed.

However, the defense of the Shi Mo and Shi Mo brothers was too strong, and Tang San's strength was too formidable, even the skills from his Ten-thousand year spirit ring were bizarre.

This rendered the Shrek Team completely powerless to resist.

Dai Mubai, Oscar, Jiang Zhu, and Jing Ling gathered together, wary of the six people surrounding them, momentarily at a loss for what to do.

In terms of numbers, the opponent had more.

In terms of strength, the opponent was stronger.

“Do you want to step down yourselves, or should we send you down?” Xiao Wu rubbed her fists, crouching down and pressing her thighs, as if she would suddenly make a move if the four opponents said “no.”

“Shrek, never surrender!” Oscar shouted, his clothes on his back tearing to reveal the Eight Spider Lances. He chanted the incantation for his Third Soul Skill: “Your daddy has a Mushroom Sausage!”

The lewd incantation caused the members of the Heaven Dou Royal Battle Team to frown.

Although they knew incantations were uncontrollable, this was too lewd. Also, couldn't incantations be chanted quietly? Why so loud? Was he deliberately trying to disgust them?

After Oscar used his Third Soul Skill, the tip of the Vajra Sausage stick in his hand began to deform, truly resembling a “mushroom,” but more like a reproductive or excretory organ used by some upright walking creature for procreation.

He aimed the tip at Xiao Wu and shouted, “Spray!”

Whoosh!

Guang Ling was quick-witted. His Second Soul Skill, Golden Sun Aura, activated, and a light arrow shot out instantly, piercing through the tip of the lewd Mushroom Sausage, blocking its opening.

In an instant, the “mushroom” began to swell, and then—

Bang!

An explosion sounded, and white sticky threads scattered and splattered everywhere, firmly Binding Dai Mubai, Jiang Zhu, Jing Ling, and Oscar himself. And except for Oscar, the other three all had ashen faces.

Not only was it disgusting, but it was also because these sticky threads were poisonous.

Oscar's Third Soul Ring came from a fungal Spirit Beast that could spray poisonous sticky threads to capture insect-type Spirit Beasts, inheriting the ability to spray threads.

It must be said that, combined with Oscar's Spirit, this Third Soul Skill was truly extremely lewd, even to the point of being an eyesore.

This scene not only left Tang San and the others speechless, but everyone present, unless they were mentally twisted, felt speechless, and even had something to complain about, but didn't know where to start.

“This Spirit, this Spirit Ability, it's obscenely powerful to an outrageous degree!”

“Won't it be banned?”

“Children shouldn't see this.”

“ ... ”

The audience discussed animatedly, and Supreme Pontiff Bibi Dong's eyes even showed a hint of killing intent.

Although Oscar was interrupted by Guang Ling and did not truly manifest the effect of that Spirit Ability, Bibi Dong still guessed its normal effect. It was precisely because she guessed it that it reminded her of a past she never wanted to recall.

“Yu Xiaogang, your disciple truly brings you honor, or rather, was this Spirit Ability obtained under your guidance?”

Bibi Dong knew who Oscar's master was, even if she hadn't known before, the news reached her as soon as Shrek Academy entered Spirit City.

She had thought that Oscar, as Yu Xiaogang's disciple, would be more open and honorable...

Although Oscar's “bold and unrestrained” performance couldn't exactly be called “dishonorable,” Bibi Dong simply couldn't like it; in fact, she found it somewhat repulsive. Her good feelings and affection for Yu Xiaogang also diminished. — “Are you using such a disciple to prove yourself? Even if you succeed, it will only be a joke! A huge joke!”

Dai Legao laughed heartily, teasing Emperor Xue Ye, “Your Heaven Dou Empire's academies certainly have both talents and ‘talents’.”

“Talent” referred to Tang San.

“Talent” referred to Oscar.

“Cough, I am usually busy with myriad affairs and was unaware when a Shrek Academy appeared among the advanced academies.”

Emperor Xue Ye immediately distanced himself, stating he knew nothing of Shrek Academy, much less any Oscar, and inwardly added the latter to his blacklist. — “Such a fellow, unless he becomes a Spirit Saint or above, will never be employed by the Empire, otherwise, the entire Heaven Dou Empire would become a laughingstock.”

Ning Fengzhi, sitting beside Emperor Xue Ye, did think Oscar was indeed a talent, but such a person could never join the Seven Treasure Glazed Tile School.

The reason was the same as Emperor Xue Ye's: the Seven Treasure Glazed Tile School also needed a good reputation and could not accept such a "despicable" fellow.

At this moment, on the grassland arena.

Oscar struggled out of the sticky silk threads, using the disgusting sticky threads on his body to keep Xiao Wu and the others from approaching. He summoned another Vajra Sausage Stick and grinned at Xiao Wu and the others, "How about it? Scared now?"

"What kind of trick is this? If you have guts, don't use such a disgusting Spirit Ability!" Xiao Wu cursed, wishing she could shatter every bone in Oscar's body.

"Hehe, why shouldn't I use it?" Oscar felt like he had reached his peak at this moment. As a Spirit Elder, he could actually force a group of Spirit Ancestors and Spirit Kings to keep their distance. Isn't that awesome?

Although the method was indeed a bit shameless, as long as it worked, it was fine.

"Clap clap!"

Tang San clapped his hands twice and slowly walked over, saying, "This is indeed your method and advantage; others truly can't say anything about it. So, I will make my move."

As soon as his voice fell, Tang San raised his index finger, and countless Blue Silver Emperor vines immediately emerged from the ground, Binding all seven members of the Shrek Team. Even with Oscar's strenuous struggles, it was futile, and they could only be sent off the grassland arena.

This scene also made people from other academies realize that Tang San could make his Spirit grow to cover the entire arena, extending and spreading.

However, in reality, only Tang San himself knew how much the Endless Grassland was limited in such a competition arena.

In this type of arena, the range where the Blue Silver Emperor could take root was limited. Below that was a hollow space, and further down were other types of competition arenas.

The efficiency of absorbing the power of the earth was reduced to an extremely low level.

However, it was fortunate that the Blue Silver Emperor consumed little spirit power, and the Blue Silver Emperor could also maintain the Endless Grassland by absorbing the light of the sun and moon, not requiring him to consume too much spirit power.

“Heaven Dou Royal First Team wins!”

After all the Shrek Team members fell off the grassland arena, Chrysanthemum Douluo immediately announced the result and had people treat the Shrek Team members.

Yu Xiaogang, Liu Erlong, Flender, and others immediately rushed to the Shrek Team, checking their injuries. Seeing that they only had superficial wounds, they all breathed a sigh of relief.

“Xiaogang, it seems we can only find a way to defeat the other teams in the resurrection match.”

Flender had wanted to persuade Yu Xiaogang to choose more normal spirit rings for Oscar in the future, but considering that Oscar’s Second Spirit Ability gave him considerable offensive capabilities, and his Third Spirit Ability, aside from being a bit despicable, had excellent control effects that even Dai Mubai found hard to break free from, he suddenly didn’t know what to say.

After all, Yu Xiaogang had made Oscar's Sausage Spirit possess offensive and control capabilities, and also given Oscar an external Spirit Bone whose value was second only to a Ten-thousand year Spirit Bone.

These were undeniable facts.

It was just that the children encountered opponents who were too abnormal.

His Fifth spirit ring was Ten-thousand year... Tang San was the true monster; these children from Shrek couldn't be compared to him.

Therefore, Flender could only hope that these children from Shrek would successfully return to the preliminary elimination rounds in the resurrection match, and then pray that they wouldn't encounter the three main battle teams of Heaven Dou, Star Luo, and Spirit Hall afterward.

Only then could their Shrek Academy achieve a good result and attract more students to enroll at Shrek.

"That's the only way." Yu Xiaogang watched Tang San, Xiao Wu, and the others walk off the arena, chatting and laughing, a strange look in his eyes, pondering whether, if Tang San became his disciple, he would be fortunate enough to share in this honor... Afterward, he lectured Oscar, saying, "Oscar, knowing that the opponent has two Spirit Kings, you should have resisted using your Third Spirit Ability. You held back during the exhibition match at the Tian Dou Great Spirit Arena, so why couldn't you hold back now?"

Originally, Oscar's Third Spirit Ability could have caught everyone off guard.

Now it was exposed, and others would certainly be prepared in the future.

"Sorry, Teacher, it's just that they were too arrogant, actually telling us to surrender..."

The honor of Shrek...

Yu Xiaogang secretly sighed.

To be honest, he wasn't interested in this at all, but his disciple, when in Soto City, was greatly influenced by Shrek's ideology, and Shrek's philosophy indeed helped team unity.

"Forget it, let's discuss how to successfully return to the preliminaries in the resurrection match."

When Tang San and the others returned to the Heaven Dou First Team's area, Huo Wu, Yu Tianheng, and others gathered around.

"Amazing, Captain Tang San, your Fifth spirit ring is a Ten-thousand year one." Huo Wu raised her arm and hooked it over Tang San's shoulder, looking completely like a tomboy. "Tell us, how did you get that Ten-thousand year spirit ring?"

"Yes, Captain, tell us." Lan Yinzi also asked. She was still somewhat interested in Ten-thousand year Spirit Beasts and wanted to know how Tang San obtained this Ten-thousand year spirit ring.

At least, as the former Blue Silver Emperor Spirit Beast, she could sense that Tang San's Ten-thousand year spirit ring was not self-condensed.

"Naturally, I obtained it from Dugu Yan's grandfather's medicinal garden..." Tang San briefly explained how the Octagonal Mysterious Ice Grass and Scorching Apricot had sacrificed themselves, and then summoned them both. "Here, this is what they look like. They currently reside within my Spirit and can emerge directly from my Spirit or spirit ring. They possess complete souls and consciousness, and I call them: Soul Spirits."

"So cute!" Huo Wu reached out to touch the red-haired Scorching Apricot, exclaiming in admiration, and the Scorching Apricot also seemed to have a fondness for Huo Wu, allowing her to caress her.

The Octagonal Mysterious Ice Grass was much colder; she was completely indifferent to Huo Wu, who possessed the Sun Goddess.

"Are their names just Octagonal Mysterious Ice Grass and Scorching Apricot?" Lan Yinzi secretly breathed a sigh of relief. She raised her hand and touched the Octagonal Mysterious Ice Grass, asking curiously, “Why don’t we give them names?”

Lan Yinzi felt a pang of compassion. She thought these two were both plant Spirit Beasts who had sacrificed themselves to Tang San and become Soul Spirits, which essentially made them Tang San’s family.

Calling them by their full names wasn’t very pleasant.

“You’re right, I was indeed negligent.” Tang San patted his head and said to the Octagonal Mysterious Ice Grass and Scorching Apricot, “Scorching Apricot, you are of fire attribute; simply naming you ‘Fire’ would seem like I’m taking the easy way out. I see you are as red as an autumn phoenix tree, and when you float, you seem to dance. How about ‘Wu Tong’? Octagonal Mysterious Ice Grass, your original form was ice-blue, layered like dragon scales. How about ‘Wu Lin’?”

“As for your surname, it will be Tang, like mine. How does that sound?”

Scorching Apricot: “Tang Wu Tong!”

Octagonal Mysterious Ice Grass: “Tang Wu Lin!”

“Thank you, Valley Master!” x2

The two spoke in unison, each floating to Tang San’s left and right shoulders, affectionately rubbing against his cheeks. They clearly loved these two names.

Lan Yinzi, who possessed the memories of a transmigrator: “...6!”

194: Speculations about Huo Yuhao

"Soul Spirit, how does Tang San have it?"

Among the Canghui Academy team, Huo Yuhao's expression was extremely ugly, as gloomy as a lump of charcoal just dug out of a cellar.

He had already confirmed that Tang San was a transmigrator...

But why could he create a Soul Spirit?

This is unscientific!

That Soul Spirit thing, in Dou Er, was clearly created with Iliex's help. How could Tang San possess it?

Could it be that he has a cheat like a system?

Damn it!

How can I play like this?

Just wash up and go to sleep!

"Dou Yi Tianmeng, do you know what's going on?" Huo Yuhao asked Dou Yi Tianmeng, feeling that he might know something.

"Don't ask me, bro? Although I've lived a long time, you know, I'm basically either sleeping, or running for my Life, and then I'm being absorbed... Ahem, I'm not sure how Tang San's Soul Spirit came to be, but one thing is certain, Tang San was already a Spirit King when he fought us."

Dou Yi Tianmeng said a lot of nonsense, and only then did he give useful information: "We don't know how to create something like a Soul Spirit, but Tang San's two little things shouldn't be the kind of Soul Spirit from 'peerless tang sect.' After all, a single spirit ring having two Soul Spirits is like a Ten-thousand year soul beast having two souls, and their attributes are completely opposite."

Dou Er Tianmeng interjected, "If it were a chimera-like Spirit Beast, it would make sense, but that Ten-thousand year spirit ring is a plant Spirit Beast... Perhaps it's grafting?"

Ice Jade Emperor Scorpion said speechlessly, "Huo Yuhao's memory has been messed up, right? Plant Spirit Beasts are not like ordinary plants. Ordinary plants won't die immediately if their roots aren't pulled out, but plant Spirit Beasts die as soon as their trunk breaks. Grafting simply won't work on plant Spirit Beasts."

Dou Yi Tianmeng said, "Maybe Tang San has a way to do it?"

Ice Jade Emperor Scorpion rolled her eyes, "He's not a god."

Looking at the 'flirting' between one worm and one scorpion, Dou Er Tianmeng wanted to cry without tears, missing his Bingbing, and then analyzed to Huo Yuhao: "Tang San's two Soul Spirits may be related to the Blue Silver Emperor's Life force. The Blue Silver Emperor's abundant Life force caused those two souls to manifest, and perhaps there was also energy like vital essence at work."

Huo Yuhao frowned, thinking of a possibility, and asked, "Similar to the situation in the original work, after Xiao Wu sacrificed herself to him? It's just that his Blue Silver Emperor focused on the improvement of Life force, so the souls, under the effect of abundant Life force, were able to materialize for a long time?"

Dou Er Tianmeng's answer was ambiguous: "Probably, perhaps, maybe."

However, Huo Yuhao had already somewhat confirmed it.

Tang San was able to create existences similar to Soul Spirits precisely because the Blue Silver Emperor followed the path of Life...

...

"What are the abilities of those two little dolls? Spirit Abilities?"

After the first match of the first round ended, the second match began three minutes later, but Bibi Dong had no interest in watching the contest between Elephant Armor Academy and Star Luo Royal Team. Her mind was constantly pondering Tang San's Ten-thousand year spirit ring and its skills.

If those two little dolls were Spirit Abilities, they were too agile, just like real little girls.

But if they weren't Spirit Abilities, how could the red-haired girl with a gentle touch on the detached Beast Spirit, which was of the same type as Yu Xiaogang's, make it vanish? Isn't that a Spirit Ability effect?

And—

Although the venue was noisy at this time, Bibi Dong, with her formidable strength, was still able to distinguish the discussions from the Heaven Dou Royal First Team amidst the commotion.

Tang San's two little girls could speak, had different personalities, and clearly possessed their own soul wills.

Emerged from a Ten-thousand year spirit ring...

Could it be that Tang San tamed the soul will of a Ten-thousand year soul beast and made it his own?

Is this also one of Tang San's research achievements that he used on himself but hasn't published yet?

However, what kind of plant Spirit Beast has two souls, and one is ice and the other is fire?

But no matter what, Tang San is a rare talent. If he joins Spirit Hall and unifies the continent, it will surely accelerate the process. It's just, what kind of position should he be granted?

While Bibi Dong was thinking about how to reward Tang San, Emperor Xue Ye, on the side, was extremely delighted, thinking to himself, "I never expected that Heaven Dou Royal Academy would gain such a powerful genius. Heaven truly blesses Heaven Dou!"

"Upon returning to the Empire, I shall bestow upon him a noble title!"

"Perhaps, I can even marry my daughter to him!"

Star Luo Emperor Dai Legao, however, was pondering a question: Zhu Zhuqing seems to have an interest in Tang San, and according to the intelligence obtained from the previous exchange between the two academies, Tang San comes from a commoner background. So, is it possible to win Tang San over to the Star Luo Empire through Zhu Zhuqing?

Although Dai Legao was confident that no matter how powerful the Blue Silver Grass was, it couldn't compare to the Hell White Tiger, the Ten-thousand year spirit ring was indeed extremely formidable. And based on Tang San's performance in the previous match, his strength and speed were also top-notch. Even without using his Spirit, he could probably contend with a Spirit King of the same level.

His defensive power, however, was not demonstrated.

But without considering the Spirit's enhancement, his body's basic attributes should be balanced, and his defensive power should not be too bad.

If he doesn't die in the future, he is estimated to reach the strength of the current Supreme Pontiff of Spirit Hall, changing the times with his own power... Worth winning over!

At this time, Tang San did not know what the various forces observing him were specifically thinking, but it was nothing more than three attitudes:

winning him over, assassinating him, and observing.

In the future, his troubles would be constant.

However, Tang San felt that he could handle it.

The prerequisite was that he could display strength comparable to a Titled Douluo.

The Clear Sky Hammer Spirit was not something that couldn't be exposed.

It was true that Spirit Hall rejected the Clear Sky Sect.

But a Spirit Master born in Saint Spirit Village, who only possesses a Spirit similar to the Clear Sky Hammer, is definitely not a Hao Tian Disciple—after all, whose Clear Sky Hammer can transform into a beast form?

You're right, Nine Haos.

"Little freak, you've really made a name for yourself this time." Dugu Bo walked over from not far away. Guang Ling voluntarily stepped aside and walked to Xiao Wu's side.

"Anyway, I'm going to make a name for myself, whether it's early or late, it's all the same." Tang San shrugged, looking indifferent. "It's you, Old Poison, walking over so brazenly. It immediately lets people know that our relationship is close. After all, there's a well-known piece of news in the Spirit Master's world: Poison Douluo has a strange temper."

"The fact that I can talk to you will probably make people think I also have a strange temper."

Dugu Bo chuckled, "Heh, you're blaming me now."

"Grandpa."

Dugu Yan patted Poison Douluo's shoulder, then jumped to Dugu Bo's side, giggling, "Tell me, what kind of benefits did you get from the captain?"

"That can't be said." Dugu Bo dotingly stroked Dugu Yan's head, then vigilantly glanced around, "Grandpa can only tell you that in my lifetime, Grandpa has hope of breaking through to a higher spirit power level."

Realizing the seriousness in her grandfather's words, Dugu Yan stopped asking.

"Poison Douluo senior."

Yu Tianheng and the others finally had a chance to greet him.

"Hmm, you're all good." Poison Douluo swept his gaze over the others and found that their spirit power had all improved, especially Huo Wu and Yu Tianheng. Their spirit power was even more condensed, and the fluctuations emanating from them were minimal.

It was evident that before this Continental Elite Tournament began, they had undergone intensified training in spirit power control.

Subsequently, Dugu Bo said to Tang San, "Little freak, before the second round begins, many people will surely come to test you. My coming over this time is also to deter those petty individuals."

"Understood, thanks." Tang San thanked him.

"Why thank me? Isn't that being too polite?" Dugu Bo smiled, "If it weren't for you, I would still be troubled by the poison of my Spirit..."

"Grandpa, is it alright if people hear what you just said?" Dugu Yan asked worriedly.

"Your grandpa has now controlled the poison of his Spirit, it's already resolved. Even if others know I was poisoned before, they can't hold it against me." Dugu Bo snorted, "Besides, some people probably already suspected that I was poisoned before. After all, there's a book called 'The King of Poisons' in Spirit Hall's library. Connecting it to my situation, it's actually easy to guess, it's just that they don't quite understand why I could cultivate to the Titled Douluo level while being poisoned."

"That's true." Dugu Yan suddenly realized that her grandfather's Spirit poison was no longer a problem, so any attempts by others to target him based on that would naturally be futile.

"Then I'll leave first, Yanyan, and also, Little freak." Dugu Bo came suddenly and left just as gracefully.

"Captain, should we continue watching the match?" Oslo yawned. "After this one, the subsequent matches are quite boring. Most are Spirit Elders, and there are pitifully few Spirit Ancestors."

Oslo also said: "There are over a hundred advanced academies. Even if ten matches can be held in one day, the first round will probably take about ten days."

Although some changes have occurred in the Spirit Master's world with the publication of Tang San's theories, resources are limited. Most Spirit Masters in advanced academies haven't seen much improvement in their individual strength. Their research is mostly focused on team coordination.

Unfortunately, regarding team coordination, Tang San only published "Self-Analysis and Positioning of Spirit Masters" and didn't delve much into how to arrange things reasonably. His focus was mainly on the strengthening of Spirits and the improvement of individual strength.

It's just that these theories haven't been published yet.

Or rather, before he becomes powerful himself, publishing these theories would only cause trouble for him, with more disadvantages than advantages.

Therefore, for most academies, the individual strength of their students has not improved much.

"Let's watch. The Spirits and Spirit Abilities of students from other academies are quite interesting, and we can learn something." Tang San didn't think of leaving. "This period can be considered relaxation. After all, we trained so hard before, with our Spirits taut. Combining work and rest is also greatly beneficial for the improvement of spirit power and mental force.”

Yu Tianheng nodded: “That's not bad. For example, the current Elephant Armor Academy team, their defense is quite good, and that formation is like a military formation, which should play a significant role on the battlefield.”

The Elephant Armored Academy’s formation relies on forming a queue with their identical Diamond Mammoth Spirits and then charging.

It’s very simple.

But such a formation is very effective for most Spirit Master teams.

The Diamond Mammoth has thick skin and flesh, and its sharp tusks are like swords and scimitars. In addition, when the Mammoth runs, its linear speed is actually not slow. Seven or more Diamond Mammoths combined, their power is indeed impressive.

There are also drawbacks, such as being too straightforward and lacking adaptability.

In a Spirit Battle Tournament like this, they can overwhelm most academy teams, but they are easily countered when encountering Spirit Masters who can use poison, mental abilities, or flying abilities.

Although the Diamond Mammoth has resistance to poison, it is not completely immune to toxins.

If the number exceeds twenty, their power could greatly increase, but seven are not to be feared.

In short, as Yu Tianheng said, such a formation is most suitable for the battlefield.

And Tang San added a prefix to this—

The battlefield of the cold weapon era.

And as Tang San and the others were discussing, the Star Luo Royal Team achieved victory, crushing their opponents with their Martial Soul Fusion Skill, Hell White Tiger.

Although with the strength of Dai Weisi and the others, even without using Martial Soul Fusion, they could win relatively easily, in the first match, Tang San displayed a Ten-thousand year soul ring, and Dai Weisi also wanted to demonstrate his strength, so he used Hell White Tiger as his trump card.

As for the issue of exposing their trump card?

Dai Weisi himself didn't care. Besides his personality, the Martial Soul Fusion of the Dai Family and Zhu Family was extremely famous in the Spirit Master's world.

As long as there were members of the Dai Family and Zhu Family in the Star Luo Royal Team, every academy's teachers and members would guess whether there was Martial Soul Fusion between them and thus take precautions.

Hell White Tiger, this card, was already an open card, fundamentally difficult to hide.

Therefore, it was better to use it directly and clearly tell everyone: the Star Luo Royal Team has Hell White Tiger, if you have the ability, come and break it.

This was not just confidence. After all, even if Hell White Tiger was openly revealed to others, most academy students could only stare blankly.

A very simple truth—

Their strength was evident.

They couldn't win.

“This Dai Weisi is issuing a challenge to us.” Tang San smiled when he saw Dai Weisi, the captain of the Star Luo Royal Team, look in his direction and make a fist gesture after their victory.

Compared to Dai Mubai, Dai Weisi was about three levels higher in terms of personality, aura, and strength.

After Tang San also waved his fist in acknowledgment to Dai Weisi, he watched the next match.

The third match was Canghui Academy VS Mars Academy.

The venue was: a lake.

Among the Canghui Academy team, there was also an acquaintance of Tang San: Huo Yuhao.

Those two white and one purple spirit rings left most of the audience speechless.

“What the heck is that guy from Canghui Academy? He actually has white spirit rings, and two of them!” Oslo rubbed his eyes, suspecting he might have seen wrong.

One must know that among these hundred-plus advanced academies, the members qualified to participate in this tournament were at least Spirit Elders with two yellow and one purple spirit rings.

White spirit rings were seen for the first time.

And two of them!

However, the third spirit ring was also at the thousand-year level... This spirit ring configuration was truly bizarre. Could it be that before being discovered by Canghui Academy, this guy had been staying in some remote area?

“The color of the spirit ring doesn’t really represent anything.” Tang San knew what level Huo Yuhao’s two spirit rings were, but he wasn’t overly envious. “The benefits a spirit ring can bring to a Spirit Master are mainly two: the strengthening/evolution of the Spirit, and Spirit Abilities. The remaining, the greatest use of high-year spirit rings, is that after absorption, they can strengthen body speed to a certain extent, and after breaking through to the next Spirit Master cultivation stage, they provide a large amount of energy that can be directly refined into spirit power.”

Huo Wu put her hands on her hips and narrowed her eyes: “So, that guy’s two white spirit rings should have very good Spirit Abilities, right?”

“His Spirit is an eye, it’s a mental type.” Tang San analyzed for Huo Wu, Yu Tianheng, and others based on what he should know, “And, the first two spirit rings are not necessarily ten-year spirit rings.”

“Not ten-year spirit rings?” Oslo exclaimed, “But they are clearly white!”

“The white of his spirit rings is not normal.” Tang San pushed up his detection glasses on the bridge of his nose. “Ordinary ten-year spirit rings, even ninety-nine years, their white is a paper-white, but his two spirit rings are like white jade, looking warm and lustrous.”

“Moreover, the diameter of those two spirit rings is incorrect; they are even larger than that thousand-year spirit ring, as if some force is deliberately suppressing them...”

“Of course, this is not entirely my first impression’s analysis. At the edge of the town outside the Star Dou Great Forest, Xiao Wu, Guang Ling, and I had a confrontation with him.”

“At that time, he could use mental abilities to spy on us, as if he had ill intentions.”

Hearing this, Huo Wu was slightly stunned and asked: “He’s that bold? Wait, so, you three let him escape?”

Yu Tianheng was surprised, pondering the reason why Huo Yuhao could escape from Tang San’s hands, and asked: “Was it because Canghui Academy had a large group of people at that time, and even Spirit Kings, or even Spirit Saints leading the team?”

“Captain, why didn’t you say you were wronged?” Oslo said, “When we meet Canghui Academy on the arena, we will definitely show no mercy and let them know the price of bullying our captain.”

“No.” Tang San was speechless, he hadn’t expected his status to have risen so high unknowingly. “He hadn’t joined Canghui Academy at that time.”

“However, the reason he ran away wasn’t because his individual strength surpassed ours, but because he was too lucky.”

“I had a mental collision with him, and I could sense that the other party’s mental force was impure, with other wills... Those two spirit rings should be similar to my fifth spirit ring, obtained through sacrifice.”

Upon hearing the word “sacrifice,” everyone except Xiao Wu and Guang Ling was shocked.

“Sacrifice, isn’t that something only Ten-thousand year soul beasts with intelligence can do?” Influenced by Tang San, Yu Tianheng and others also knew some secret information about Spirit Beasts that had not been revealed to the public.

For example: Ten-thousand year soul beasts can sacrifice.

And for example: Plant Spirit Beasts, at ten thousand years, can possess the intelligence that animal Spirit Beasts only have at the ten-thousand year level, and can also sacrifice early (Nine Revolution Soul Reviving Herb), or fuse and sacrifice together (Octagonal Mysterious Ice Grass, Scorching Apricot).

Could it be that Huo Yuhao’s two spirit rings were both ten-thousand year?

195: Seven-in-one martial soul fusion skill

A Ten-thousand year spirit ring?

No!

It's a million-year!

Tang San and Xiao Wu shouted in their hearts.

“This Huo Yuhao is truly outrageous, actually possessing two Ten-thousand year level spirit rings. So, the white color was just a disguise?” Huo Wu clenched her fists, wanting to see what kind of strength Huo Yuhao truly possessed.

“Most likely,” Tang San said. “As for why he can't do what I can, allowing the two Spirit Beasts that sacrificed themselves to him to manifest in the form of Soul Spirits, it's probably because his eyes are his Spirit, lacking the powerful Life force of my Blue Silver Emperor. They can only hide in his mental force sea.”

“What is the mental force sea?” Huo Wu was startled.

“It's a place for cultivating mental force, related to the soul. Generally, people can only access it after reaching Spirit Douluo. Someone with strong mental force like me can access it early. For someone like Huo Yuhao, whose Spirit is his eyes, and who also received a Ten-thousand year level Spirit Beast sacrifice, the sacrificed Spirit Beast is most likely a mental type, so he probably can also access it early.”

Considering that Huo Wu, Yu Tianheng, and others had a vague concept of mental force, Tang San gave a rough explanation, but did not mention the concept of the “three Dantians.”

After all, this concept was still being perfected by him and Iliex...

“The sacrifice of a Ten-thousand year Spirit Beast... Captain, if your guess is correct, then this Huo Yuhao is truly fortunate.” Yu Feng grumbled.

Two Ten-thousand year Spirit Beasts?

Who has such luck?

Oh—

The Captain seems to have it too.

That Cloud Tree, thinking about it with current understanding, seems to be the Captain’s pre-ordered sixth spirit ring. Although it’s only ninety thousand years old, it’s not far from a hundred thousand years. Perhaps when the Captain reaches sixty levels, that Cloud Tree will also break through the Ten-thousand year level.

However, the Captain’s luck was earned by his own ability.

If he couldn’t help the Cloud Tree that was polluted by The Fallen, he wouldn’t have gotten the corresponding opportunity.

As for Huo Yuhao...

They weren’t familiar with him, and he hadn’t published any theories on the Douluo Continent. Currently, it seemed like he was just lucky.

But what kind of luck would allow two Ten-thousand year Spirit Beasts to sacrifice themselves?

Perhaps it’s hidden very deeply.

However, Yu Feng and the others were overthinking it. Huo Yuhao's ability to obtain two million-year level spirit rings truly relied on luck. Who told him he was fortunate enough to possess the Spiritual Eye Physical Martial Soul?

Besides that, the Heaven Dream Iceworm was also an oddity.

“Battle Start!”

On the lake arena, the battle between the two teams was about to erupt.

The so-called lake arena was a large pool, but within it, there were rocks, wooden stakes, and other footholds for both Spirit Masters to stand on, and in the center, there was an “island” with a diameter of over thirty meters.

Such a venue was a challenge for both sides.

Especially the Mars Academy team. Their members were similar to Blazing Academy, primarily using fire elements, but they weren't as pure as Blazing Academy. As long as their Spirit carried a bit of fire element, they could join.

Therefore, a lake venue was very disadvantageous for them.

On Canghui Academy's side, except for Huo Yuhao, the remaining six people all had gem-type Spirits. Although water doesn't restrain gems, none of them could fly, and if they fell into the water, it would be difficult to get out.

Objectively speaking, although the lake venue had a greater impact on the Mars Academy team, as long as they didn't fall into the water, they could basically overpower most of Canghui Academy's members.

However—

After the match officially began, Huo Yuhao led the six people away from the “island” in the center of the lake arena, leaping onto the rocks and wooden stakes in the lake.

Huo Yuhao released his Spiritual Eye Spirit, and the other six also released their gem Spirits.

Immediately, a connection was formed between the seven.

Six colorful gems converged around Huo Yuhao, his eyes emitted a white light, and a massive eye pattern slowly emerged above his head, opening.

The six gems formed a circle, their gaze fixed on the members of Mars Academy.

“Martial Soul Fusion Skill!”

“And it’s a seven-in-one Martial Soul Fusion Skill!”

At this moment, not only was the Mars Academy team shocked, but the audience was also stunned.

Martial Soul Fusion Skill!

And with seven people!

It was simply unbelievable!

Bibi Dong sighed, “The academies of the Heaven Dou Empire are truly full of talent.”

Emperor Xue Ye was in a very good mood and said, “The main reason is that my Heaven Dou Empire adopts a system of enfeoffment, where kingdoms and duchies have autonomy, thus allowing a hundred flowers to bloom.”

“Hmph!” Dai Legao snorted coldly, feeling that Emperor Xue Ye was implicitly criticizing the “barbarism” of the Star Luo Empire.

Bibi Dong paid no attention to the verbal sparring between the two emperors, only staring at the two pulsating white spirit rings on Huo Yuhao’s body, muttering, “Judging by the spirit power fluctuations emanating from the spirit rings, they don’t seem to be at the ten-year level.

From this point of view, they even surpass a hundred thousand-year spirit rings. Moreover, this person's body also hides an extreme ice attribute... Is it twin spirits?"

"However, speaking of ice and mental two attributes, the Iceworm's attributes are also ice and mental dual attributes, and the Iceworm can provide mental Spirit Masters with skills like disguise..."

"Did that million-year level Iceworm choose him?"

"But why are there two spirit rings?"

"Can a million-year Spirit Beast provide two spirit rings?"

Thinking of this, Bibi Dong decided to secretly have someone investigate Huo Yuhao's background.

If it truly was a million-year level Spirit Beast sacrifice, even if it was just good luck, he had to be brought into Spirit Hall.

Otherwise—

A million-year level Spirit Bone is worth the entire Spirit Hall dispatching all its forces...

...

The Mars Academy team reacted at this moment and, despite being restrained by water, rushed towards Huo Yuhao and the others.

A seven-in-one Martial Soul Fusion Skill!

If it were used, they wouldn't have any chance to resist; it had to be interrupted.

However, the eye above Huo Yuhao's head suddenly shot out a white beam of light, instantly enveloping everyone from Mars Academy.

The dazzling white light also made it difficult for the audience to see clearly.

“What happened?”

“Ah, my eyes!”

“Too bright!”

“ ... ”

When the white light dissipated, Huo Yuhao and the others’ seven-in-one Martial Soul Fusion Skill also dissolved, returning to their normal states, while the members of the Mars Academy team all fell into the water.

Canghui Academy won.

But no one knew why the members of Mars Academy suddenly fainted.

“Captain, which category does that move belong to in your three-category theory of Martial Soul Fusion Skills?” Huo Wu’s eyes were somewhat serious. She had a feeling that if she were hit by that white light, she would also lose consciousness, and for some reason, she felt that spirit power could not block that white beam of light.

“The first category: spirit power fusion and the second category: Spirit Ability fusion.”

Tang San pondered for a moment, then spoke of the essence of that seven-in-one Martial Soul Fusion Skill, “Because the seven people’s Spirits did not truly merge together, the six gems merely formed a circle, placed in front of the Spiritual Eye. Their role should be to provide mental force, spirit power, and even aiming or locking.”

“However, your feeling is correct; that attack cannot be blocked by spirit power.”

“Because the essence of the attack is mental force.”

“Unless your own mental force is strong, or you possess a Spirit Ability that can convert spirit power into mental force, or a treasure that blocks mental force attacks, otherwise, if you’re hit, you’ll be instantly defeated, with no other possibility.”

“Once this fusion Spirit Ability is used, ninety-nine percent of the teams participating in this competition will be wiped out.”

Yu Tianheng’s gaze was extremely solemn: “Being able to escape from the hands of the Captain, Xiao Wu, and Guang Ling, it seems it’s not just luck; he also possesses a certain level of ability.”

Yu Feng, however, had an indifferent expression: “There’s no need to be so pessimistic. Can’t we just prevent them from using it? My speed, Bai Chenxiang’s, Oslo’s, and Zhuqing’s are all very fast.”

“Indeed, speed and defense are their major weaknesses,” Tang San affirmed Yu Feng’s analysis, “But who can be sure that they absolutely need such a long preparation time to unleash their Martial Soul Fusion Skill? Perhaps it’s just to mislead people like us.”

Two million-year spirit rings, two Heaven Dream Iceworms.

Even if Huo Yuhao wasn’t capable, and those two Heaven Dream Iceworms were foolish, the sheer quantity of mental force was there. It was impossible for it to require such a long preparation time.

[I just don’t know if Huo Yuhao has obtained the Ice Jade Emperor Scorpion Spirit...]

Tang San considered this possibility.

The feud between Huo Yuhao and him had already been established. As long as the other party wasn’t stupid, they would have surely guessed by now that he wasn’t the original character.

Reconciliation wasn’t impossible.

But then again.

Transmigrators all come with their own arrogance. Tang San himself learned to control it due to his childhood experiences, but Huo Yuhao... with two million-year spirit rings, if he were put in that position, he would also become arrogant.

Therefore, reconciling with him would require a lot of effort, and the payoff wouldn't be cost-effective.

The reason I was considering whether Huo Yuhao had obtained the Ice Jade Emperor Scorpion Spirit was because it concerned the issue of encountering Canghui Academy later.

If Huo Yuhao had already obtained it, then it would be easy; I would just apply a little pressure to force him to use his second Spirit, as well as the 300,000-year-old red spirit ring skill, or even the Spirit Bone skill.

After all, it's just the Ice Jade Emperor Scorpion Spirit without Spirit Abilities, so it can't display much power.

If he hadn't obtained it...

Then we'd have to plan for the long term, as the competition rules don't allow killing.

Speaking of killing, it seems I've never killed anyone?

Suddenly thinking of this question, Tang San almost laughed at himself.

"Third Brother, what are you laughing at?" Xiao Wu noticed Tang San suddenly laughing and was a little curious.

"Cough, nothing, I just realized I had been overthinking unnecessary things before, and now I've come to my senses." Tang San smiled casually, signaling everyone not to mind...

...

"Huo Yuhao, Canghui Academy has such a person?" On the Shrek Academy's side, Mu Tian's heart was greatly shaken. "Spirit Eye, two white spirit rings, this guy must have transmigrated from Douluo Dalu 2, right?"

Compared to Tang San, this one is even more significant!

Moreover, Mu Tian has already confirmed that this Huo Yuhao also received the Heaven Dream Iceworm's sacrifice in this Douluo Dalu 1 World, which means he possesses two million-year spirit rings.

Damn it!

Comparing people, it's infuriating!

"I just don't know if this Huo Yuhao is a native of Douluo Dalu 2 or if his situation is similar to mine... emmm, most likely the latter, otherwise he wouldn't have chosen to join Shrek."

It's a pity Mu Tian didn't know that Huo Yuhao originally wanted to join Shrek Academy, but he was taught a lesson by two gate-keeping students and then driven away.

"Just how many transmigrators are there in this Douluo Continent?"

Mu Tian couldn't help but start pondering this question...

...

On the Heaven Dou Royal Second Team, Wang Chen's expression darkened even further.

Huo Yuhao's appearance made him realize that the plot of this Douluo Continent had completely gone off the rails, beyond his control, and the strength of Tang San, the transmigrator, also far exceeded his imagination.

Between Huo Yuhao and Tang San, with both being transmigrators, who would ultimately be superior?

Wang Chen pondered this question and finally came to an answer: Huo Yuhao was more formidable.

Although Tang San's spirit power is currently higher, Huo Yuhao has two million-year spirit rings, and at this moment, he might even possess the Ice Jade Emperor Scorpion Spirit, a spirit ring of over 300,000 years, and a Spirit Bone.

These are all things Tang San cannot compare to.

"Perhaps, letting them fight each other is also a good option." A flash of inspiration struck Wang Chen, and he realized that he didn't need to contend with these protagonists and transmigrators at all.

As Xue Qinghe's guard, he would inevitably have to obey Qian Renxue's orders in the future, and increasing Qian Renxue's favorability towards him was the key.

Why bother confronting transmigrators?

Instantly.

Wang Chen understood.

Back to Tang San's side.

After the Canghui Academy team left the lake arena, Tang San secretly asked, "Illyasviel, when that Huo Yuhao used the Seven-in-One Martial Soul Fusion Skill earlier, did you record the energy flow method of spirit power converting into mental force?"

"I recorded it." Iliex replied, "I have to say, although the humans in this World use spirit power very primitively, the skills carried by spirit rings are truly not weak. If they can be applied reasonably, they can even catch up to the high-level mages and summoners in the Magic Temple and Soul Temple on the Saint Magic Continent where I once resided."

"This World is truly blessed."

"But precisely because it is overly blessed, the development of spirit power utilization requires more time... Let's get to the point."

"I have already recorded the method of converting spirit power into mental force; I will transmit it to you now—"

Feeling the relevant memories and the corresponding conversion circuit, Tang San suddenly realized, "So these meridians need to be used; this is indeed much simpler. Integrating it into Mysterious Heaven Skill should have good results."

"I have another idea, do you want to try it?" Iliex suddenly said mysteriously.

"What idea?" Tang San was curious.

"Am I not a Necromancer Saint Mage? Mages, controlling magic, also require powerful mental force. I naturally have multiple methods for cultivating mental force, which perhaps can be combined with your Purple Demon Eye." Iliex then transmitted multiple methods for enhancing mental force, and even cultivating the soul, to Tang San.

After a brief scan, Tang San frowned slightly and said, "It's certainly possible, but combining them would probably take a lot of time."

"What's there to it? This old man is already dead; I am now an immortal existence, and your Life force is so vast that living for a few thousand years is no problem." Iliex didn't care at all. "Moreover, the mental force cultivation methods I provided are complete, and they have some overlap with your Purple Demon Eye cultivation. As long as you construct the spirit power and mental force conversion circuit, modifying it is actually not difficult."

"Besides, you don't have to modify it alone; this old man will help too."

This was the key.

If Tang San were to modify it alone, the mental effort would surely make him bald.

The subsequent matches were unremarkable but also had bright spots, such as Blazing Academy. Their opponent was the Heaven Dou Royal Second Team, and the match venue was a forest.

Huo Wushuang, Huo Wu's older brother, brought out players who were all long-range damage dealers, directly destroying the entire forest arena. The dense smoke choked the members of the Heaven Dou Royal Second Team, forcing them to surrender.

Honestly, the forest arena could burn because it was man-made; the dry leaves on the ground were paved with withered leaves, making it quite dry.

If it were a tropical rainforest environment similar to the Star Dou Great Forest, where The Fallen branches and leaves on the ground are extremely damp, ordinary flames would be difficult to ignite.

Although Wang Chen was unwilling, his six dragging teammates surrendered one after another, even running off the field. His persistence alone until the end was futile, so he had no choice but to surrender.

However, Huo Wushuang and the others were not feeling well either; when they walked off the burning arena, they were also covered in ash and constantly coughing.

Although they all controlled Spirits capable of releasing flames, the flames and fire elements generated by excessively high temperatures were not the same thing and could also harm them, though their resistance to temperature was higher.

Secondly, they were human after all and could be choked by smoke.

"Brother is really something, actually burning the entire forest arena." Huo Wu blamed Huo Wushuang's bold action, but there was a hint of a smile in her eyes. "However, Captain Tang San, would you consider this a reasonable use of the arena?"

Tang San stroked his chin and nodded slightly, "Indeed, but outside of a competition, it's not advisable. After all, a real forest, unless in a specific climate zone, wouldn't ignite with such a small flame."

Moreover—

Setting fire to a mountain means rotting in prison.

No force would allow Huo Wushuang to use such destructive methods outside the arena, whether it's a Spirit Beast forest or major cities, they would not tolerate an arsonist.

Huo Wu nodded in agreement, saying, "It seems Brother just took a shortcut this time. However, the members of the Heaven Dou Royal Second Team, except for that Wang Chen who has some skill, are all good-for-nothings. Even if we were to prove ourselves by directly confronting and defeating them, it wouldn't take ten minutes."

This statement was not an exaggeration.

After all, it was a fact that the Heaven Dou Second Team only had Wang Chen as a Spirit Ancestor, so defeating Blazing Academy would indeed be a little difficult.

And this also indirectly demonstrated the decline of the Heaven Dou Imperial family.

The Heaven Dou Royal Academy could be called the Heaven Dou's top academy mainly due to its faculty and the performance of its main team, which was guaranteed to reach the finals in each major competition.

The ancestors of Tiandou Royal struggled and founded the Heaven Dou Empire, allowing their descendants to enjoy prosperity, which is not wrong. However, if the descendants only know how to enjoy prosperity, then the problem becomes significant.

Without strength, everything created by the ancestors cannot be preserved...

Regarding the issue of transmigrators appearing...

It's mainly a setting problem from the past era of web novels.

At that time, both Western and Eastern fantasy needed to add a bunch of "Sino-Western" combined settings.

To be more rigorous, it could actually be set that: in such worldviews, transmigrators have descended throughout history, leaving behind ruins.

As long as this setting is accepted, the appearance of multiple transmigrators becomes more logically sound.

Wang Chen's role will be reduced in the future.

Because he "understood," it meant that Qian Renxue's previous taming of him had taken effect, with a taming degree of ninety-nine percent.

196: Tang San: You already have a way to die

Chapter 196: Tang San: You Have Already Taken the Path to Death.....

A day of competition quickly came to an end.

After dinner, the members of the Heaven Dou Royal First Team dispersed to explore Spirit City.

After all, it was the first time any of them had visited this city of Spirit Masters.

Spirit City at night was even more beautiful than during the day.

No other reason.

Mainly, under the effect of various spirit tools resembling neon lights, the entire Spirit City was brightly lit, as if it were daytime.

Xiao Wu was very curious about everything here, looking left and right, stopping at various stalls for a while, buying some novel trinkets, and sharing her joy with Tang San and Guang Ling.

“Third Brother, this pastry is so delicious.”

“You try some too, Guang Ling.”

Before long, Tang San and Guang Ling’s arms were laden with many large and small bags. The two exchanged helpless glances and could only help put them into their storage wristbands and white jade belt.

Compared to Xiao Wu's curiosity about all sorts of new things, Guang Ling appeared much more "sensible." Although he was also curious, he was only interested in some unfamiliar daily-use spirit tools. Moreover, once he understood the approximate operating principle of a spirit tool, he would not buy it, being very frugal.

Suddenly, Xiao Wu's nose twitched, and she beckoned Tang San and Guang Ling towards a small shop.

Helplessly, the two could only follow.

When the three arrived in front of the small shop, Tang San and Guang Ling had already put the items Xiao Wu had previously bought into the white jade belt and storage wristbands.

Looking up, there was a plaque above the small shop with three large characters written on it: "Treasure Medicine Shop."

No wonder Xiao Wu was attracted; it turned out she smelled the scent of medicine.

"Three guests, what kind of medicinal materials would you like to buy?" As the three entered the shop, an old man by the counter came forward, his face looking quite kind.

"Do you have any special medicinal materials here? I smell a very fragrant scent; it seems very effective for increasing qi and blood." Xiao Wu's small nose twitched, and her gaze turned to the leftmost side of the medicine cabinet.

The old man quickly blocked Xiao Wu's sight, then realized his behavior was too nervous. With a face full of smiles, he said, "The guest's nose is really sensitive. Is your Spirit a rabbit?"

"Why do you ask?" Xiao Wu raised an eyebrow, wondering how the old man in front of her had figured it out. Could it be that this was an otherworldly expert from Third Brother's stories?

“Please wait a moment.”

The old man turned and went to the far left of the medicine cabinet, pulled open the middle drawer, took out an antique bronze wooden box, and carefully placed it on the counter, gently opening it, as if fearing any mistake.

As the wooden box opened, its contents were revealed.

It was a ginseng plant that looked entirely like crystal, resembling a natural work of art.

“This is crystal carrot ginseng. It is formed when carrot seeds and blood ginseng seeds sprout together, intertwining to form a single entity, growing into this carrot ginseng that resembles crystal diamonds.”

The old man slowly said, “This kind of carrot ginseng has a fatal attraction for rabbits, and the same goes for Spirit Masters with rabbit-type Spirits.”

“If an ordinary person consumes it, it just replenishes qi and blood. But if a rabbit-type Spirit Master consumes it, it is said to grant the ability of space.”

“Of course, it is rumored that only crystal carrot ginseng over ten thousand years old has that effect. This one is only about five hundred years old.”

Xiao Wu was very satisfied with the old man’s honesty and asked, “How much does this crystal carrot ginseng cost?”

“Although this one is only five hundred years old, it can also be added to some secret medicinal bath formulas to enhance their effect. So, ten thousand gold coins, no bargaining,” the old man did not beat around the bush and directly stated the price.

“Can it be cheaper?” Xiao Wu stared with her cute big eyes, making the old man turn his head away and say, “Nine thousand nine hundred, no less. Otherwise, I’ll lose money. I bought it for nine thousand gold coins, only earning nine hundred from you. It’s a good deal.”

Cost price nine thousand?

Xiao Wu was much smarter now. It must have been bought for less than five thousand—Third Brother had said that merchants prioritize profit the most. The most conscientious merchants sell their goods at least twice the cost price.

Just like the small workshop they bought in Heaven Dou City, where they hired people to produce spirit tool cameras, spirit tool photography boxes, and Sub-Mother Soul Guidance Photography Balls. A spirit tool camera only cost twenty bronze coins to produce, but it was sold for twenty gold coins, a thousand times the profit.

Exorbitant profit!

So, Xiao Wu continued to bargain with the shop owner, and eventually, she purchased it for eight thousand eight hundred eighty-eight gold coins.

Just as Xiao Wu was about to put it into the white jade belt at her waist, a voice of prohibition suddenly came from outside the door:

“Wait!”

Tang San turned his head to look, and it was Huo Yuhao—daring to appear directly in front of him, his guts were truly not small.

Guang Ling glared at the other party. If Tang San hadn't held her hand, she would probably have directly released her Spirit and shot him through—still holding a grudge about Tang San fainting last time.

“Is there anything?” Xiao Wu picked up the box and put it into her white jade belt, not giving the other party any face at all.

“Shopkeeper, can you sell me that ginseng just now? I am willing to pay double the price.” Huo Yuhao didn't know what kind of ginseng it was or what its effect was, but just by its appearance, he knew it was extraordinary.

Moreover, since he had already offended Tang San, he might as well offend him completely.

However, Huo Yuhao overlooked one thing:

This was Spirit City.

“Double the price, this old man is indeed very tempted. So, little girl, are you willing to return the goods?” The old man asked kindly.

“No,” Xiao Wu flatly refused—money for goods, goods for money, a clear transaction. The crystal carrot ginseng was already hers.

“That’s truly a pity.”

The old man sighed and said to Huo Yuhao, “There’s nothing I can do. Since this little girl won’t return it, I can’t force it back. This shop is a small business; we don’t do forced buying and selling or forcibly demanding customers to return goods.”

“If you really want it, young brother, you can discuss it with this little girl.”

Double the price, did the old man not want it?

Of course he did.

But this was Spirit City. Once an item was sold, unless the customer found a reason to return it, the shopkeeper could not forcibly demand the customer to return the item.

This was also to avoid malicious bidding.

It could be said that any merchant who could make their business big and strong would not maliciously raise prices because of multiple competing customers. After all, a shop is not an auction house; if they were confused, their peaceful days would be over.

Hearing this, Huo Yuhao turned and left without another word.

Besides not expecting the shops in Spirit City to be so principled, he also didn’t want to humiliate himself.

He knew without thinking that Xiao Wu would absolutely not give it.

“This guy is really audacious. He actually dares to snatch something from your grandmother! When we meet Canghui Academy in the later rounds of the competition, just wait and see how I teach him a good lesson,” Xiao Wu said fiercely. “And that big worm, he really knows how to pick people. They’re both equally disgusting, truly birds of a feather.”

“Big worm?” Guang Ling was stunned.

“I’ll tell you later,” Xiao Wu realized she had misspoken, but Guang Ling was one of them, so it didn’t matter. As for the old man in the medicine shop, he had no idea what “big worm” she was talking about, so there was no need to worry.

“Let’s go.”

Tang San was the first to walk out of the medicine shop.

Guang Ling and Xiao Wu followed closely behind.

After strolling for a while, the three returned to the accommodation arranged by the Spirit Hall personnel. Tang San called the two girls into his room, and the moment the two girls entered Tang San’s room was seen by Yu Feng, who had gone out to the restroom. He was so surprised that his mouth hung open: “Holy cow, Captain is awesome, a threesome!”

Inside the room, Xiao Wu took out the crystal carrot ginseng. Tang San took it, cast Blue Silver Domain, manipulated the roots, and pierced them into the ground from the inner side of the wall, drawing in the power of the earth and transmitting it into the ginseng.

The First Soul Skill, Endless Recovery, for humans, at most provides comprehensive recovery, but for plants, it can indeed increase cultivation.

Perhaps the energy of the earth itself is beneficial to plants and can be directly absorbed; whereas for humans, it needs to be transformed into an energy that the human body can accept, and this energy cannot be directly used to increase spirit power.

With the infusion of the power of the earth, the crystal carrot ginseng became increasingly translucent, even faintly emitting a silvery-white light. Within the nearby space, countless silvery-white light particles flowed into it.

“This crystal carrot ginseng is only five hundred years old. To raise it to ten thousand years, it will take at least ten years. If it were in a place like the Ice and Fire Yin Yang Well, one year would be enough,” Tang San said, feeling the age of the crystal carrot ginseng slowly increasing with the infusion of the power of the earth, giving a relatively objective report of the two timeframes.

“One year? I can wait.” Xiao Wu didn’t mind. “Once it reaches ten thousand years, after I consume it and it merges with the trace of spatial power I already possess, it will definitely enhance the origin of my spatial attribute. By then, when I reach Spirit Saint, the probability of awakening a spatial-type Domain will be one hundred percent.”

Speaking of Domain-type skills, Xiao Wu was moving towards Tang San’s planned direction, striving to possess a spatial Domain herself.

And what about Tang San?

The Blue Silver Emperor would inevitably come with the Blue Silver Domain, but for Tang San, although the Blue Silver Domain had the Life attribute and could provide a certain degree of amplification for his side, the most striking performance of the original protagonist when using this Domain was deception and disguise.

In short, the Life attribute of the Blue Silver Domain was not pure enough.

Since he was walking the path of Life, the Domain he awakened in the future would at least have to be a Life Domain, not just a useless Blue Silver Domain.

As for Guang Ling's future Domain...

Tang San currently couldn't judge this, and whether Guang Ling could even awaken a Domain-type skill was still an unknown.

After all, the recorded Domain cases on the Continent were far fewer than the number of Spirit Bones discovered.

Only when he had the opportunity to consult the books in Spirit Hall, find a large number of cases, and consult those Titled Douluo who possessed Domains, would Tang San be able to truly determine how Domains objectively existed.

On this point, Iliex also couldn't give a clear definition—he was indeed a powerful individual from another world, with extensive knowledge, but he lacked the relevant knowledge reserve for Domain-type skills and couldn't explain it clearly.

However, Iliex could provide a concept: the birth of a Domain was related to a Spirit Master's mental aura. When a Spirit Master's own mental aura resonated with their Spirit in a certain way, a Domain could be born.

According to this theory, all Spirit Masters could give birth to a Domain.

But in fact, owners of Domains were very few; even Titled Douluo might not necessarily possess one.

For this reason, Tang San felt that the birth of a Domain was also related to the affinity between a Spirit Master and their Spirit... However, ultimately, more information needed to be found to perfect this theory.

Furthermore, Tang San felt that once his Blue Silver Emperor awakened its Domain, he could conduct a large number of tests to serve as a reference for whether Guang Ling could awaken her Spirit.

After all, Guang Ling's spirit power was one level lower than his and Xiao Wu's, with a time difference and spirit power difference, so they could afford to wait.

Besides, it wasn't to say that if a Domain couldn't be awakened before Spirit Saint, it could never be awakened again. According to the relevant information Tang San could find, most Spirit Masters explicitly recorded as possessing Domains awakened them at the Titled Douluo level.

So, no need to panic.

"Guang Ling, your future Domain-type skill will be a bit delayed," Tang San comforted.

"It's fine, being able to cultivate is already very good, there's no need to wish for too much." Guang Ling wasn't too concerned about whether her Spirit could awaken a Domain-type skill in the future.

spirit tools, that was one of her true loves!

The other one—

"It's getting late, you two should go back to your rooms and rest."

Tang San glanced at the sky, walked to the door, and opened it...

Bang!

Yu Feng, Oslo, Yu Tianheng, Shi Mo, Shi Mo, and others tumbled in.

Fortunately, Tang San was quick-witted and wasn't knocked down.

"What are you doing?" Tang San tilted his head, face dark, a question mark.

"This, well..."

Yu Tianheng saw that Tang San, Xiao Wu, and Guang Ling were all fully dressed, and their blankets weren't disturbed, so he knew that his group's pure thoughts had been led astray by Yu Feng—after all, they hadn't heard any moaning or other sounds outside the door just now.

"It's like this, Yu Feng said that Xiao Wu and Guang Ling came into Captain's room for a private meal, so we wanted to come and listen." Oslo, quick-witted, immediately thought of an excuse and conveniently pushed the reason for their presence onto Yu Feng.

“Damn it! Is that how you treat a brother? You just sold out your brother!” Yu Feng roared, grabbing Oslo’s neck and shaking him vigorously.

Oslo was not to be outdone and grabbed back.

Neither of them used spirit power; they were just putting on a show of a bitter ploy, while Shi Mo, Shi Mo, and Yu Tianheng awkwardly laughed and retreated out the door.

“Stop choking! Your faces aren’t even red, who are you putting on a show for?” After Yu Tianheng, Shi Mo, and Shi Mo disappeared, Tang San shouted at the two still choking each other, “They’re all gone.”

“Damn it! Not true brothers, they didn’t even pull us along!” Yu Feng immediately released his hands from Oslo’s neck, straightened his collar, and forced an awkward smile: “Uh, Captain, we interrupted your good time, you won’t mind, right?”

“Hmph, what good time? I’m leaving.” Xiao Wu now realized the reason Yu Feng and the others had been outside earlier, her face flushed, and she walked straight out of the room.

“Third Brother, then I’m leaving too.” Guang Ling’s cheeks were also flushed, like a red apple, and she followed Xiao Wu out.

Yu Feng and Oslo both felt a ‘thump’ in their hearts.

“It’s over! We really interrupted Captain’s good time, he won’t kill me, will he?” Yu Feng screamed in his heart, beads of sweat the size of beans seeping from his forehead.

“It’s over! Yu Feng got me into trouble! Am I going to be buried with Yu Feng tonight?” Oslo seemed to have a telepathic connection with Yu Feng, his heart jolted, and he pondered how to break the situation.

Tang San walked up to the two with a beaming smile, hooked his arms around each of them, and chuckled, “So idle late at night, not resting well, but coming here to eavesdrop on me, and even bringing Shi Mo, Shi Mo, and Yu Tianheng along, you guys are something.”

“Especially you, Yu Feng, aren’t you in a relationship with Bai Chenxiang?”

“Not going to find her, but instead coming here to join the fun?”

“Is it that you’re not capable in that regard?”

Oslo immediately said, “I can prove it, Yu Feng really isn’t capable. His previous girlfriends broke up with him because he was impotent and needed to take ‘golden flies’.”

“You’re spewing nonsense!” Yu Feng roared, “I’m not capable? It’s because their spirit power was too weak to handle it, how could I not be capable? How could I need to take ‘golden flies’? Are you looking down on me too much?”

“You really don’t need to take it?” Tang San’s eyes held amusement, “Then how do you know what ‘golden flies’ are?”

‘Golden flies’, on Douluo Continent, were categorized as ‘aphrodisiacs’.

To be honest, Tang San knew about them because he had read “Douluo Continent” in his previous Life—Oscar’s Seventh Soul Skill.

“Captain, don’t talk nonsense, how would I know what ‘golden flies’ are? Ask Oslo, he knows.” Yu Feng immediately distanced himself from any knowledge of ‘golden flies’.

“Cough, Captain, actually, I don’t know either.” Oslo said feigning ignorance, “I only heard Vice Captain Yu Tianheng say that this medicine can enhance a man’s hard power, after all, among us, only he and Dugu Yan established a boyfriend-girlfriend relationship and have ‘opened the meat’.”

“Is that so?” Tang San was suspicious, his eyes revealing only three words: I don’t believe it.

With the open atmosphere of Douluo Continent, if Yu Feng and Oslo’s words could be believed, sows would line up to jump into the ditch.

“Captain, how do you know about ‘golden flies’?” Yu Feng felt he couldn’t let this continue and decided to turn the tables on Tang San, “Could it be that Captain, you also use them?”

“The effect of whale glue, I was the first to discover and announce it, right?” Tang San asked with a chuckle.

“Right.” Yu Feng felt his scalp tingle hearing that laugh.

“Then you should know that before the body-strengthening effect of whale glue was publicized, it was also an aphrodisiac, right?” Tang San patted Yu Feng’s shoulder, “I naturally have corresponding research on medicines and the like, how could I not know what ‘golden flies’ are?”

This was naturally Tang San tricking Yu Feng, after all, ‘golden flies’ were a finished synthetic medicine, not a raw material like whale glue. If he bought that kind of stuff, the owner of that pharmacy in Nuoding City would look at him strangely for the rest of his Life.

“So, Captain, what will it take for you to let us go?” Yu Feng looked distressed, not knowing what to do, wishing he hadn’t been so curious.

Tang San said sinisterly, “Let you go? What are you thinking? Do you know? You have already found the path to your own demise.”

Yu Feng: “???”

197: Cleverness leads to misunderstanding

"Captain, wasn't it just that we disturbed your good thing? You're not really going to kill me, are you?" Yu Feng's face was bitter, his life was without hope, and he began to consider the prices of burial plots near Spirit City.

If he was really beaten to death by the captain, being buried in this holy land of Spirit Masters would also be an honor.

"What are you thinking?" Tang San hooked their shoulders and went outside, slowly saying, "It was just a joke, don't take it seriously, but 'death is pardonable, but living punishment is unavoidable.' You two don't need to sleep tonight. I'll give you both a task: record a rough map of Spirit City. Of course, don't enter any areas that are forbidden to us."

Yu Feng was stunned: "Ah?"

Oslo: "All night?"

"Anyway, there are about ten days until the end of the first round. You can rest all day tomorrow." Tang San patted their shoulders, "So, work harder tonight. Who told you two to be unlucky and get sold out by Yu Tianheng and the others?"

"Alright, alright, we deserve it." Yu Feng resigned himself to his fate. Isn't it just a map? He'll draw it.

"I was set up!" Oslo complained, looking at Yu Feng with a gaze full of resentment, then asked, "Captain, what do you need a map of Spirit City for?"

"Caution makes for a safe journey. We're unfamiliar with this place. Understanding every area here will make it easier to escape if something happens in the future." If there wasn't a place to buy maps in Spirit City, why would Tang San need these two?

"Captain, you are truly cautious." In Yu Feng's opinion, Spirit City could be said to be the safest place on the entire continent. How could anything happen?

However, he also knew that the captain, Xiao Wu, and Guang Ling came from a small city like Nuoding City. Even though the captain was a Hao Tian Disciple who had wandered outside, he had not received any education from the Clear Sky Sect itself. He had risen from obscurity to this point, so his personality was naturally more vigilant than ordinary people.

Such thoughts were also reasonable.

Tang San sent the two out of the hotel entrance and watched their figures disappear into the lamplight. Just as he was about to return to his room, he suddenly sensed something and looked back in a certain direction, his eyes moving slightly. With a few leaps, he covered thousands of meters and arrived at a dark alleyway.

"What can I do for you, esteemed sir, for leading me here?" Tang San sensed the mental force fluctuations and spirit power fluctuations emanating from the other party, which were only at the Spirit Saint level. Therefore, although he used a respectful address, his tone was quite nonchalant. He secretly opened a specially made Sub-Mother Soul Guidance Photography Ball, only the size of a thumb, and threw it to the edge of a nearby trash can, its lens aimed at the other party.

Sneaky, secretive.

Definitely not a good person.

"As expected of someone who possesses a hundred-thousand-year spirit ring as their fifth spirit ring." The newcomer turned around, revealing a relatively aged face with gloomy eyes and a tuft of beard on his chin.

Tang San recognized the other party: Shi Nian of Canghui Academy.

"Shi Nian?"

"Tsk tsk, it's truly an honor to be recognized by the captain of the Heaven Dou Royal First Team." Shi Nian sneered, "You bullied my disciple, Huo Yuhao, right?"

"Coming to seek justice?" Tang San smiled, "As the captain of the Heaven Dou Royal First Team, I represent the face of the Tiandou Royal. This is one point."

"Secondly, I indeed had some conflict with Huo Yuhao, but he hadn't joined Canghui Academy at that time, had he?"

"If we're talking about recent conflicts, it was just a conflict in a pharmacy in Spirit City over a crystal carrot ginseng, but we bought it first. Is there a problem with us not giving it to Huo Yuhao?"

"He himself was a step late, so who can he blame?"

Shi Nian's expression darkened. He hadn't expected the captain of the Heaven Dou First Team to be so eloquent and to say things that he couldn't refute.

However, he had led the other party into this dark alley, so he had no intention of resolving things peacefully.

In terms of strength, he was a Spirit Saint, and Tang San was a Spirit King. Even if Tang San had a hundred-thousand-year spirit ring, what then? The difference in spirit power gave Shi Nian enough confidence.

Moreover, this Tang San was indeed an obstacle to Canghui Academy winning the championship and had to be eliminated.

Killing Tang San.

He dared not.

But beating him half to death was not impossible.

Even if Tang San had some means and he might not be able to defeat him, he also had a backup plan—after all, fighting and brawling without reason were not allowed in Spirit City.

"Anyway, you bullied my disciple, whether before he became my disciple or after. As his teacher, I must help him get justice." Shi Nian said arrogantly, his intention very clear: he wanted to cause trouble for Tang San.

"Born from the same root, why be so eager to destroy each other?"

Tang San sighed helplessly, "We are clearly both from the Heaven Dou Empire... Oh, I almost forgot, Heaven Dou values balance, and the competition among them is quite fierce. And you don't understand what it means to consider the bigger picture."

"Hmph! I only know how to consider the bigger picture for my Canghui Academy." Shi Nian snorted coldly, his Spirit, Fading Dream, emerged. A phantom shadow appeared behind him, like clouds and mist, yet resembling a human figure. A peculiar light enveloped Tang San.

However, Tang San merely glared, and his mental force surged out, his powerful mental force directly crushing the light that had manifested from mental force.

Pfft!

Thump, thump, thump!

Shi Nian retreated three steps, his eyes filled with blood, his face visibly paling at a rapid speed. His legs trembled, and he collapsed into the corner of the wall, looking at Tang San in horror: "You..."

"In a contest of mental force, even a Titled Douluo wouldn't make me flinch, let alone a mere Spirit Saint like you? Don't you even consider what level my physical body and mental force have reached to be able to withstand a hundred-thousand-year spirit ring? Besides spirit power level, what can you compare to me?"

Tang San chuckled, then turned around and casually raised a hand as if celebrating his victory. In reality, he used the Controlling Crane Catching Dragon spirit power manipulation technique to retrieve the Sub-Mother Soul Guidance Photography Ball from the side, taking it into his hand, and then admonished Shi Nian, "Live with gratitude. You should be glad this is Spirit City."

Shi Nian's eyes were unfocused, and he didn't see what Tang San had taken with his gesture just now. Only after Tang San's figure disappeared did he call out to the eaves nearby, his voice hoarse and quite weak: "Aren't you coming down!"

Swish!

Huo Yuhao, holding a Spirit Guidance Photography Box about half the size of a human head, jumped down from the roof. He helped Shi Nian up and asked with concern, "Teacher, are you alright?"

"Do I look alright?" Shi Nian was in a very bad mood. He never expected Tang San to be so powerful, so much so that even he, a Spirit Saint, found it difficult to resist.

In that instant, he truly felt—that as long as Tang San had the thought of killing him, that powerful mental force impact could have shattered his brain.

Although he had escaped with his life, his mental force was completely chaotic, and he couldn't perfectly control his spirit power. It would probably take a lot of time to fully recover.

"Was the scene just now recorded?"

This was Shi Nian's fundamental goal.

As long as a conflict occurred between them, Tang San might lose his qualification to continue participating in the competition.

"It was recorded, but, Teacher, you and Tang San didn't truly engage in combat, and from the footage, it looks like you made the first move..." Huo Yuhao felt that this might not be enough to completely corner Tang San and that they needed to plan for the long term.

"Idiot, isn't it enough to just keep the footage of Teacher collapsing at the end?" Shi Nian grumbled, "The result is the most important thing; no one cares about the process!"

Huo Yuhao suddenly understood. He thought of those incredible netizens in the comment sections when he used to scroll through short videos in his previous life... Shi Nian, this supporting character from the original work, was actually so intelligent, definitely the most underestimated character!

For a moment, Huo Yuhao felt that he had chosen the right teacher.

However—

Those who can become Spirit Masters are never stupid. It's just that because they possess power that ordinary people cannot, they can easily obtain wealth and status that ordinary people cannot acquire through a lifetime of labor, so they don't particularly like to use their brains.

Only when brute force fails will the brain start working again.

Night passed quietly.

Day slowly dawned in the east.

Tang San and Guang Ling, as usual, woke up early to cultivate Purple Demon Eye. Xiao Wu woke up a beat late, but at the last moment of sunrise, she also leaped onto the roof and absorbed the purple qi of the morning sun with the two of them.

After cultivating, the three jumped down from the roof together and knocked on the doors of the Heaven Dou First Team members, preparing to go have breakfast together.

However, Yu Feng and Oslo, who had stayed up all night, hadn't gotten up...

"Why haven't those two guys, Yu Feng and Oslo, come down?" Yu Tianheng asked Shi Mo and Shi Mo about the two while drinking his rice porridge, his gaze involuntarily darting towards Tang San—could they have really been "taken care of"?

"Not sure, I heard he was pulled by the Captain for special training and didn't sleep all night," Shi Mo responded in a low voice.

"That's truly miserable." Yu Tianheng was glad he ran fast last night, otherwise, he would have had to accompany the two old men for special training, and Yan Yan would have had to guard an empty room all night.

However, before the first round ended, it didn't matter if Yu Feng and Oslo slept all day; it wouldn't waste much time.

After breakfast, everyone decided not to disturb Yu Feng and Oslo's rest and prepared to go watch the matches together.

However, Tang San was stopped by a team of Spirit Hall enforcement officers.

"Tang San of Heaven Dou Royal Academy, correct?" The person's face was firm as he confirmed Tang San's identity, a hint of admiration appearing in his eyes, but he still asked seriously.

"Yes, may I ask what's the matter?" Tang San nodded.

"Students from Canghui Academy have reported to Spirit Hall that you used your mental force to attack their leader, Shi Nian, causing his mental force to collapse and his spirit power to become chaotic, almost paralyzing him....."

Listening to the string of four-character idioms that followed and seeing the other party's upright demeanor, Tang San suddenly found the other party quite humorous.

“Moreover, they also provided footage recorded with a soul guidance photography box—”

“However, we at Spirit Hall believe that the footage is only a short segment and doesn’t show your face; only your hair color, hairstyle, and clothes are similar to yours. Therefore, we plan to invite you over for confirmation.”

If it were anyone else, Spirit Hall’s enforcement team wouldn’t be so polite, but Tang San was a Martial Soul Theory Master.

After the first match of the first round, everyone knew the name of the Captain of the Heaven Dou Royal Battle Team, who shared the same name as that Martial Soul Theory Master.

Fourteen years old, a Spirit King, with a two-thousand-year spirit ring, a ten-thousand-year spirit ring, and a hundred-thousand-year spirit ring as his fifth.

This Tang San was that Tang San!

As a Spirit Hall enforcement officer, he naturally understood that such a talent must be recruited into Spirit Hall, and Supreme Pontiff greatly admired Tang San.

By all accounts, they had to be polite.

“No problem, lead the way.” Tang San did not make things difficult for Spirit Hall’s enforcement officers and stopped Xiao Wu, Guang Ling, and others from trying to argue on his behalf. “A righteous person fears no slander. I believe Spirit Hall will give me justice.”

Seeing Tang San’s confidence, Xiao Wu and Guang Ling relaxed. Yu Tianheng, Huo Wu, and others became even more furious at Canghui Academy, vowing to beat them to death if they ever met again.

They arrived at the enforcement hall.

It was extremely spacious, with fully armed Spirit Hall enforcement knights standing in rows on both sides, clad in bright silver armor, holding conical long spears, and with swords at their waists.

And the judge at the very front was none other than Ghost Douluo!

Originally, any Spirit Hall enforcement Elder could have presided over this judgment, but considering it was Tang San, Ghost Douluo came personally.

After all, Tang San was a Martial Soul Theory Master admired by His Holiness the Supreme Pontiff, a Spirit King himself, and his fifth spirit ring was a hundred thousand years; he naturally deserved to be taken seriously.

“Greetings, Your Excellency Ghost Douluo.” Tang San ignored Shi Nian and Huo Yuhao standing to the side and respectfully bowed to Ghost Douluo, showing his respect for a Titled Douluo.

“Hmm, no need for such formality.” Ghost Douluo had a poker face, but at this moment, he still squeezed out a stiff smile, then had someone pull up a curtain and project the image from the soul guidance photography box onto it.

The footage was only one segment, and it was a top-down view, not capturing Tang San’s face, but there was no doubt that Shi Nian was attacked by the person in the footage using some kind of mental method.

“After my inspection, Shi Nian’s mental force and spirit power are indeed in disarray. Without three years of recuperation, he won’t be able to fully recover,” Ghost Douluo explained Shi Nian’s condition.

“Tang San, what do you have to say?” Huo Yuhao questioned.

“Hmph!”

Ghost Douluo let out a cold snort, mixed with a hint of mental force, instantly making Huo Yuhao and Shi Nian’s faces extremely pale. “Shi Nian, control your disciple. I haven’t given you permission to speak, so don’t make a sound. Don’t you understand even this basic rule?”

“Please forgive me, Your Excellency Ghost Douluo. This disciple of mine is from the countryside and doesn’t understand the rules. Please forgive him,”

Shi Nian hastily apologized on behalf of Huo Yuhao, begging for forgiveness.

“I don’t need to argue with a little brat.” Although he said that, Ghost Douluo naturally had no good impression of Huo Yuhao’s interruption—a country child wouldn’t be so lacking in discernment.

After this interlude, Huo Yuhao lowered his head, looking like a quail.

“Is the person in this footage you?” Ghost Douluo raised his hand, pointing at the person on the curtain, his gaze fixed on Tang San.

Tang San admitted, “It is me.”

Ghost Douluo frowned—if Tang San didn’t admit it, this matter would be over, and Spirit Hall was biased towards Tang San.

But he actually admitted it?

Too honest, wasn’t he?

“Is that so? How do I feel like this isn’t you?” Ghost Douluo felt that he could still defend Tang San a bit more. Surely Tang San understood his meaning now?

Shi Nian’s eyes widened. His heart was greatly alarmed: “Could it be that Tang San and Ghost Douluo have some unknown connection? It’s over. Not only have I offended Tang San, but I’ve also offended a Titled Douluo, and possibly even the entire Spirit Hall!”

Huo Yuhao also opened his mouth wide, incredulous, thinking: “Ghost Douluo is actually helping Tang San find an excuse! Why would I have such a dream?”

“Your Excellency Ghost Douluo, you said he isn’t me.....” Tang San took a deep breath, then glared angrily at Shi Nian and Huo Yuhao, “I said this is not the f*cking me!”

“It’s not—the! Com! Plete! Me!”

The last four words were spoken one by one, mixed with a trace of mental force, almost causing the space within the enforcement hall to solidify.

Such powerful mental force!

Ghost Douluo was shocked, unable to imagine how Tang San had cultivated, but one thing he could confirm was that the quantity and quality of Tang San's mental force were no less than his own, and in terms of quality, it was even much higher.

If his mental force was like sand by the sea, then Tang San's mental force was like brilliant diamonds.

“Apologies, I was a bit agitated just now. Please forgive me, Your Excellency Ghost Douluo.” Tang San bowed again, his manners impeccable, then took out a Sub-Mother Soul Guidance Photography Ball and handed it over. “Please, Your Excellency Ghost Douluo, investigate thoroughly. I also have a recording of the situation at the time.”

“No matter, youthful impulsiveness is understandable.” Ghost Douluo himself didn't believe what he said—other fourteen-year-old youths might be impulsive, but if a Martial Soul Theory Master like Tang San couldn't control his emotions, then it would truly be a ghost...

(☉o☉)...

It really was a ghost (Douluo).

Shaking off the strange thoughts in his mind, Ghost Douluo took the Sub-Mother Soul Guidance Photography Ball handed over by Tang San and projected the footage onto the curtain. Immediately, the complete sequence of events, including sound, was displayed.

It was Shi Nian who lured Tang San into the alley...

It was Shi Nian who wanted to vent his anger for his disciple Huo Yuhao...

It was Shi Nian who made the first move...

In the end, Tang San merely resisted out of self-defense and even held back.

For a moment, Shi Nian and Huo Yuhao's expressions turned ugly.

Initially, they thought that even if this "evidence" couldn't inflict any substantial punishment on Tang San, it could at least belittle him and make him despised by the world.

But they never expected that Tang San had also recorded it, and the footage and sound were so clear.

"Don't look at me like that. Soul guidance photography boxes and Sub-Mother Soul Guidance Photography Balls were all invented and created by my disciples. Don't you think it's ridiculous to use such methods against me?" Tang San's expression became calm, as if everything had nothing to do with him. "Also, why do you think I wouldn't notice someone hiding on the rooftop?"

Shi Nian and Huo Yuhao were speechless.

"The matter is now clear. It was Shi Nian who caused trouble for Tang San," Ghost Douluo concluded, extremely displeased with the master and disciple. "Unprovoked trouble, slandered others, deceiving Spirit Hall, disrespecting a Titled Douluo, do you admit your guilt?"

Shi Nian understood that, by all accounts, he couldn't gain any advantage, so he said, "I was solely trying to vent my anger for my disciple, and I indeed went too far. I am willing to accept punishment."

"Good," Ghost Douluo felt that Shi Nian was still somewhat responsible. "Since that's the case, then accept the corresponding punishment: for deceiving Spirit Hall and causing us to waste energy, one hundred strikes and confiscation of one hundred thousand gold coins; for slandered Tang San and damaging his reputation, compensation for his losses, one hundred thousand gold coins."

"Any objections?"

Shi Nian gritted his teeth and squeezed out one word: “None.”

198: Xu Xing wears the crown of stars: I am the stars

When Tang San emerged from the Enforcement Hall, Xiao Wu, Guang Ling, Yu Tianheng, Huo Wu, and the others at the entrance immediately gathered around him, anxiously asking about the situation inside.

“Brother San, are you alright?”

“The Spirit Hall people didn’t make things difficult for you, did they?”

“How are those two from Canghui Academy?”

“When we meet them, we’ll definitely smash their heads in!”

“.....”

Listening to their concerns, Tang San chuckled, waving the gold coin card in his hand, and said, “Of course I’m fine. I even got a hundred thousand gold coin compensation for reputational damage.”

Then, Tang San explained the whole process in detail.

“That Huo Yuhao is truly despicable, actually trying to use such a method to prevent you, Captain, from participating in the competition,” Yu Tianheng cursed. “Even if he has two hundred-thousand-year spirit rings, it’s just good luck.”

“Look, Huo Yuhao and Shi Nian are coming out,” Huo Wu discovered them as Huo Yuhao helped the Shi Nian, who had been beaten with a hundred rods, out of the Enforcement Hall. She couldn’t help but mock loudly, “Why are you so disheveled?”

Xiao Wu sneered, “They must have been barking too loudly and got beaten.”

Guang Ling’s eyes sharpened, and he echoed, “Xiao Wu Jie is right!”

“A scholar can be killed, but not humiliated!” Huo Yuhao gritted his teeth upon hearing this. For the first time, he felt that everyone from Heaven Dou Royal Academy was so detestable—sure enough, following Tang San made people disgusting and hypocritical.

“Oh, you’re the ones with ill intentions, and you have the nerve to criticize us?” Huo Wu rotated her wrist, sneering, “It’s only because fighting isn’t allowed here, otherwise, we’d beat you until you couldn’t take care of yourselves.”

“Let’s go, ignore them.” Shi Nian didn’t want to offend the main members of the entire Heaven Dou Royal Battle Team. The reason he dared to scheme against Tang San, besides Tang San’s strong power which could lead to Canghui Academy Team’s defeat, was that Tang San was of commoner origin. Although he was the captain of Heaven Dou First Team, he didn’t have any official status.

While individuals like Huo Wu and Yu Tianheng didn’t have official Heaven Dou noble titles, they all had prominent families behind them, especially Yu Tianheng, whose backing was the Blue Lightning Tyrant Dragon Clan, one of the Upper Three Sects.

They truly couldn’t afford to offend them.

Moreover, he only now realized that Tang San had a good relationship with these people, even a close one... He should have clarified the intelligence earlier.

Watching Shi Nian and Huo Yuhao’s disheveled figures depart, Xiao Wu clapped her hands and said, “Brother San, that old man and young man really look like two dogs.”

Tang San sighed faintly, “I still prefer them when they were arrogant and unruly.”

Yu Tianheng, Huo Wu, and the others: “.....”

“Let’s go, we’re going to watch the competition.” Tang San called out and led them towards the competition arena.

When they arrived, the fourteenth match of the first round was just beginning.

Competing parties: Heaven Dou Plant Academy, Star Luo Plant Academy

Competition venue: Desert

Goodness, the venue was disadvantageous for both sides.

“The Heaven Dou Plant Academy, I remember it’s within the Balak Kingdom, and it was originally one of my preferred advanced academies,” Tang San said, recalling a consideration he had back in Nuoding City.

“Hmph, if you had gone to Plant Academy, Captain, then our Heaven Dou Royal First Team would have become a stepping stone for Heaven Dou Plant Academy,” Shi Mo, no longer restrained by Yu Feng, became lively.

“Speaking of which, my first meeting with you, Captain Tang, was in the Hunting Spirit Forest within the Balak Kingdom,” Ning Rongrong said with a mischievous smile, her eyes narrowed. “At that time, you seemed to have just obtained your second spirit ring, a thousand-year one, which I still remember vividly.”

“There was such a thing?” Huo Wu was surprised. “That’s even earlier than when I met him.”

“That was indeed our first meeting, but the process wasn’t very friendly,” Tang San chuckled.

“It’s all that Mu Tian’s fault. He’s weak but too eager, insisting on challenging you, and then he was defeated by you. Now, he’s far from catching up to you...” Ning Rongrong was also very talkative, recounting Mu Tian and Tang San’s first encounter to everyone, and also describing how Mu Tian almost failed to absorb his second spirit ring, practically exposing all of Mu Tian’s dark history.

Everyone listened with great interest, also realizing the importance of concealing their own dark history.

Just as everyone’s topic shifted from the ongoing battle between the two Plant Academies on the field to their past dark histories, the fourteenth match concluded.

In the end, Star Luo Plant Academy prevailed.

This was because two of their members had Spirit of Cactus and Spirit of Pincushion Cactus, which gave them a significant advantage in adapting to the Desert environment compared to other plant Spirit Masters.

And the fifteenth match quickly began.

The opposing sides were:

Star Crown Academy Team.

Spirit Hall Academy Team.

“The Spirit Hall Team has entered! Now we can properly see their trump cards,” Yu Tianheng and the others stopped their off-topic discussion. “Ever since your theory was published, Captain, in the previous two sessions, the Spirit Hall Team won by relying on rational team composition. This time, with diverse competition venues, it also tests the Spirit Master’s adaptability. I wonder how this Golden Generation will arrange their tactics.”

“Or, will they simply rely on overwhelming strength to crush them?”

After all, Yu Tianheng and the others already knew that two members of the Spirit Hall Team possessed a Martial Soul Fusion Skill, with strength approaching that of a Spirit Douluo.

The diverse environment of the competition venue was, after all, not a true external environment. If one's strength was powerful, they could change the venue, and there would be no need to consider the impact of the venue environment on themselves.

“Most likely the latter.” Trump cards are naturally meant to be played last, but for those with extreme self-confidence, even if they reveal their trump cards at the beginning, others are helpless.

For example: Tang San, who revealed his hundred-thousand-year spirit ring from the start.

Tang San believed that the arrogant Spirit Hall Team would be the same.

However, Tang San also cast a glance at the Star Crown Academy Team, because there was an acquaintance there: Xu Xing.

He was also a Transmigrator.

Their first meeting was in the Hope Oasis of the Infinite Desert.

Their second was at Star Luo Royal Academy.

He had originally thought that Xu Xing would become a member of Star Luo Royal Academy's second team, or a substitute for the first team, but he unexpectedly ended up representing Star Crown Academy in the competition.

The rules didn't seem to explicitly prohibit students from changing academies.

As the match unfolded, the members of Star Crown Academy arranged themselves in the Big Dipper formation. The Spirits of all seven members were imbued with the power of the stars.

The dazzling starlight was extremely brilliant, even in broad daylight.

“A seven-in-one Martial Soul Fusion Skill?” Hu Liena had witnessed the Martial Soul Fusion Skill of Canghui Academy Team. Seeing the stars interweaving above the Star Crown Academy Team members and their spirit power converging towards the Spirit Elder whose Spirit was a Star Crown, she sneered and said to the others, “You don’t need to interfere. This time, let the World see our Spirit Hall’s trump card!”

After speaking, Hu Liena secretly transmitted to Yan, “Just in case, if anything unexpected happens, you lead the team to act. When they use the Martial Soul Fusion Skill, their spirit power consumption will definitely be enormous.”

A Charming Fox is naturally cunning.

“Don’t worry, Nana, I’ll be careful,” Yan chuckled, staring intently at Xu Xing—this guy was the core of the Martial Soul Fusion Skill. If Nana and Brother Xie Yue encountered any accidents, he would blast this guy out first.

Subsequently, Hu Liena and Xie Yue exchanged glances, held hands, and as their spirit power circulated and fused, their two figures overlapped while walking towards the Star Crown Academy Team.

Martial Soul Fusion: Charming Fox!

A completely new figure, with a nine-tenths resemblance to Hu Liena, was covered in a layer of silver armor. She held a curved moon blade in each hand, and nine Charming Fox tails, about five meters long and covered in silver armor, grew from her lower back.

Her spirit power fluctuation almost reached the Spirit Douluo level, and the outward aura even caused the air to vibrate, with the resulting airflow blowing towards the nearest audience seats.

“Spirit Douluo-level spirit power!” The faces of some strong individuals in the audience changed.

Although Martial Soul Fusion was powerful, was it not too exaggerated to directly jump from Spirit Emperor to Spirit Douluo?

Even if two Spirit Emperor-level White Tigers and Hell Civets fused, their strength could at most reach the Spirit Saint level, completely unable to touch the Spirit Douluo level.

Could it be that the compatibility of these two people's Spirits was even higher than that of the White Tiger and Hell Civet?

Dai Legao's expression was unpredictable.

Bibi Dong, however, understood why the two's Martial Soul Fusion was so strong.

Firstly, they were biological siblings, growing up together, blood-related and in sync, so their tacit understanding was natural.

Secondly, although they did not inherit the same Spirit, the Charming Fox was charming and soft, while the Moon Blade was strong and sharp. According to Tang San's published "Three Categories of Martial Soul Fusion" in his Martial Soul Fusion conjecture, the two were one strong and one soft, with opposing attributes, just like two interlocking building blocks, perfectly compatible.

Third, based on Tang San's theory, the three classifications—spirit power fusion, Spirit Ability fusion, and Martial Soul Fusion—can also be seen as a method to gradually increase the compatibility of Martial Soul Fusion.

Furthermore, it is a method for Spirit Masters whose Spirits have no mutual sensing but whose attributes can complement each other, to create a Martial Soul Fusion Skill through mutual attempts and refinement.

Although it doesn't describe exactly how to do it, the spirit power fusion, Spirit Ability fusion, and finally the Martial Soul Fusion, have already pointed out a correct direction.

Moreover, if Tang San were to reveal the specific methods in his theory, it wouldn't be a theory anymore, but a secret technique capable of founding a Sect, which certainly couldn't be published casually...

However, Bibi Dong herself also considered the issue of Spirit types; under normal circumstances, even if their attributes are compatible, they can only achieve Spirit Ability fusion.

For example, Chrysanthemum Douluo and Ghost Douluo's Martial Soul Fusion Skill, Two Extremes Static Domain, falls into the category of Spirit Ability fusion.

As for Hu Liena and Xie Yue's Martial Soul Fusion Skill, it is the ultimate Martial Soul Fusion.

Furthermore, after training in spirit power fusion and Spirit Ability fusion, their subsequent fusion activated Hu Liena's Charming Fox bloodline, causing her to become a Nine-Tailed Charming Fox after the Martial Soul Fusion.

It was precisely this reason that allowed Hu Liena and Xie Yue's Martial Soul Fusion to reach the Spirit Douluo level of spirit power.

Star Crown Academy Team.

The seven members formed a seven-star array, transforming their spirit power into starlight, which converged on Xu Xing's Star Crown, causing it to transform into an extremely strong, shining crown—

It was entirely purple-gold in color, with ancient patterns on it, divided into three layers: the first layer was covered with myriad stars, the second layer was the moon, from crescent to full moon and then to waning moon, and the third layer was a golden orb, radiating light, like the sun.

Seven-in-One Martial Soul Fusion Skill: Star Crown!

“The sun is a star, the moon is a star, and the myriad stars in the night sky are also stars!”

“I am—”

“Lord of the Stars!”

As Xu Xing's grand voice fell, the Star Crown also landed on Xu Xing's head; in the ethereal realm, it seemed as if a supreme deity was crowning him.

Watching this scene, the audience present held their breath.

But a few people showed meaningful expressions.

For example: Dai Legao, Dai Weisi.

Although Xu Xing's action was merely a Martial Soul Fusion Skill and had no other implications, as the Emperor and Crown Prince of Star Luo, they instinctively found the sight of someone else wearing a crown an eyesore.

The Star Crown Sect will inevitably harbor inappropriate ambitions in the future.

As for winning over Xu Xing and enfeoffing him as a King...

Although the Star Luo Empire also had the system of enfeoffing Kings, no Kings had been enfeoffed for three hundred years, and most of the power was concentrated in the Dai Family imperial family.

This was a gradual means to make the Star Luo Empire the Dai Family's Domain.

Now, if a King were to be enfeoffed just because Xu Xing displayed his talent and strength, wouldn't that be giving away power?

Absolutely not!

Even if Xu Xing were to make great contributions to the Star Luo Empire in the future, it would still be unacceptable; the Star Luo's rewards for its subjects were mostly promotions, money, stipends, and land.

Kingship...

Unless one day, the Star Crown family directly defeats the Dai Family, or rescues the Star Luo Empire from peril and seizes the imperial throne of the Star Luo Empire, then his Dai Family's White Tiger lineage might be demoted to King due to the merits accumulated by their ancestors.

That is to say, titles like Marquis and Prince can only be bestowed upon his Dai Family after they step down from the imperial throne.

It is impossible for Xu Xing of the Star Crown Sect to obtain a title like Prince.

Unless he directly defeats the Dai Family and seizes the imperial throne!

After all, the Star Luo Empire governs with military power, and strength is respected; as long as a corresponding family member can challenge and defeat a Dai Family member under the witness of various major families, they can naturally seize the imperial throne—this is an ancestral instruction left from the early days of Star Luo's founding: the Dai Family and the Zhu Family are one, so to challenge, one must face two, defeating the Martial Soul Fusion Skill between the Dai Family and Zhu Family members.

From this perspective, no one in the Star Luo Empire can directly seize the Emperor's position from the Dai Family.

However, Xu Xing on the field indeed made Dai Legao extremely vigilant.

Seven-in-One Martial Soul Fusion Skill?

In Dai Legao's view, having read Tang San's theory, this was spirit power fusion; Xu Xing absorbed the starlight transformed from the spirit power of the other six, causing his Star Crown Spirit to undergo a transformation—

This means that as long as Xu Xing's spirit power reaches the corresponding level in the future, his Spirit will also be able to evolve into its current appearance.

Isn't this a challenge to the Star Luo imperial throne?

What a Star Crown Sect!

At this moment, Xu Xing, wearing the Star Crown, was unaware that he had already been noted down by Dai Legao, Dai Weisi, and others; he was reveling in his current power, looking up to the sky and roaring, “Now, I am invincible in this World!”

“This kid, isn’t he a bit too arrogant?” In the audience stands where the Heaven Dou Royal First Team was located, Shi Mo couldn’t help but say, “Although his spirit power is a bit stronger, there’s no need to be so conceited, right?”

“Understandable. After all, he’s only thirteen, far from mature. It’s normal to get overconfident when you gain power,” Tang San said more objectively. “Moreover, he truly has the capital for it, because his current strength has already reached the Spirit Saint level, and that Star Crown is also a Martial Soul True Body.”

“More importantly, I feel there’s also a special power within it...”

“If my guess isn’t wrong, it’s a Domain.”

Domain!

Huo Wu exclaimed in surprise, quickly asking, “Are you telling the truth? That Xu Xing, possesses a Domain?”

Yu Tianheng also said, “Impossible, right? According to my family’s intelligence, the Star Crown Spirit of the Star Crown Sect has never produced a Domain-type skill.”

“Just because others haven’t, doesn’t mean Xu Xing hasn’t.”

Tang San shook his head, “After all—”

Xu Xing is a transmigrator.

The transmigrators he encountered all came with some good things.

For example, Yang Long, though dead, the Dragon Patterned Spear's dragon patterns were indeed a good thing, allowing Blood Sword Norman to cultivate to near Spirit King level within five or six years, and now it has even become his third Spirit: Five Clawed Golden Dragon.

For example, Mu Tian, whose Spirit was originally Austin Griffin's reborn host, but unfortunately, the God of Heavenly Condemnation, representing destruction, actively detached from him and chose to reside in his Clear Sky Hammer.

Another example is Wang Chen.

His Spirit, death Scythe, probably inherently carried concepts like “death” and “soul” within it, and with future effort, finding a way to absorb faith power, it wouldn't be impossible for him to achieve the position of God of death.

It's just a pity that he seems to have been completely tamed by Qian Renxue for now.

As for the current Xu Xing, his unique aspect is probably similar to inherently possessing “star aura” or “imperial aura,” which acts on his Spirit, causing it to transform and give birth to a Domain; there's nothing strange about that.

“Starlight vast, encompassing the universe!”

“Sun and moon's radiance, transforming into myriad forms!”

Xu Xing was heard treading on air, chanting, and a brilliant circle of starlight spread out from the Star Crown, enveloping the entire arena, yet the audience outside could still see the scene within.

Because the light shield was transparent.

“Domain!”

Bibi Dong blurted out, turning her gaze to Dai Legao and sighing, “The Star Luo Empire also has many talented individuals; in the future, an Emperor who controls the stars will surely emerge. Truly remarkable.”

“A mere Star Crown is not worthy of such high praise from the Supreme Pontiff.” Dai Legao was very sensitive to the words “Emperor,” but still remained composed.

On the other side, Tang San had activated his Purple Demon Eye, recording the movement trajectories of the stars within the Domain, and Iliex also, through Tang San's vision, recorded the energy transformation methods of the stars within the Domain.

“This World is indeed uniquely blessed,” Iliex sighed again, then said to Tang San, “Brother Tang, our previous conjectures about Domains were partially correct. Aside from those situations where powerful bloodlines inherently possess them, other individuals, as long as they adjust the frequency of their state with their Spirit to reach a corresponding fluctuation, can awaken their own unique Domain. This requires the ‘tacit understanding’ between a person and their Spirit to reach a certain degree, meaning their mutual understanding reaches one hundred percent.”

“And those born with full spirit power are those whose compatibility with their Spirit inherently reached one hundred percent from birth; their Spirit instinctively serves them. This type of person, as long as they reach the corresponding strength required by their respective Spirits, will most likely awaken a Domain.”

“Those not born with full spirit power can only see if they can understand their own Spirit more thoroughly during their cultivation process.”

Tang San nodded slightly and said, “There’s also another pleasant surprise, which is that the energy transformation circuit and the flickering starlight of that Domain can be incorporated into the Purple Demon Eye and Mysterious Heaven Skill.”

199: Xu Xing: Zhoutian Starry Formation!

"Zhou Tian Xing Dou Great Array!"

On the field, Xu Xing stood in mid-air, feeling that he possessed infinite power. He looked at Yaomei, let out a soft cry, raised his hand, and pressed down.

In an instant, the stars within the Domain began to rotate, like meteorites falling from the sky.

"Hmph!"

A dual male and female voice emanated from Yaomei's mouth. She bent her legs slightly, leaped up, and swung her Moon Blades at the closest star.

Boom!

A huge explosion sounded, and Yaomei was shaken back to the ground. She looked up at the hundreds of stars assailing her and immediately dodged, not preparing to meet them head-on.

With that last strike, Yaomei had already tested the power of these stars. Each shattered star was equivalent to the explosion of Spirit Ancestor-level spirit power.

A Spirit Ancestor naturally could not harm a Spirit Douluo-level powerhouse.

However, the Martial Soul Fusion was time-limited and consumed a vast amount of spirit power. She could not waste time contending with these stars. Instead, she needed to seize the opportunity, leap in front of Xu Xing, and win with a single blow.

And these stars were not only attacking Yaomei but also Yan and the others.

As for Xu Xing's teammates, after transmitting all their spirit power to Xu Xing, they were already exhausted and collapsed on the ground, without any attacking capability, essentially eliminated directly.

The Spirit Hall Team naturally could not attack those who were completely defenseless.

"Damn it!" Yan's body was covered in lava, and he condensed a lava wall, telling the other four to come over while he resisted the impact of the stars.

"A bit of skill."

The competition venue this time was a Desert.

Under the temperature of Yan's lava, the sand crystallized, which also increased the defense of the lava wall, allowing it to withstand the star impacts from Xu Xing.

Of course, the main reason was that Xu Xing had placed most of his attention on Yaomei.

Ching!

A moon-blade-shaped sword light slashed towards his back, but at that critical moment, Xu Xing's body spun 180 degrees, narrowly dodging the attack.

"I really can't be careless in the slightest."

Cold sweat broke out on Xu Xing's forehead.

Just now, he had only glanced at Yan and the others, and Yaomei had seized the opportunity to launch a close-range attack.

If he had been hit, he would probably have been cut in half at the waist.

Fortunately, within this Star Domain, he himself was the brightest star, able to move and fly freely.

He was the master of this Star Domain!

"I am the Lord of the Stars!"

As his voice fell, Yaomei, Yan, and the other five, including the members of the Star Crown Academy Team, all felt as if they were in the sky, about to fall downwards.

And to the audience outside, it looked as if Yaomei, Yan, and the others were flying upwards, and the sand from the Desert venue also went upwards, finally covering the top of that light barrier.

"Is this gravity?" Xiao Wu exclaimed, confirming with Tang San.

"Similar," Tang San pushed up his detection glasses on the bridge of his nose. "That Domain space might be centered on Xu Xing's position... To put it simply, where Xu Xing stands, above him is the sky, and below him is the earth. The gravity of that space will adjust according to Xu Xing's standing position."

"He himself can't control gravity, but gravity will adjust according to the direction he stands."

"To summarize in four sentences, that is—"

"I am the direction! I am time and space! All things in the four directions! All are under my command!"

Hearing Tang San's description, everyone was shocked, unable to imagine how such a terrifying Domain Skill could have been born.

Lord of the Stars...

This was not an exaggeration, but a fact!

However, Tang San was not too shocked, after all, for Xu Xing to become the true Lord of the Stars, becoming a Titled Douluo was not enough.

On the other side, Bibi Dong was also shocked by Xu Xing's ability. After all, when Tang San and the others arrived, she had diverted a sliver of her attention to listen to their discussion.

Especially hearing Tang San's evaluation of Xu Xing's Domain, she paid even more attention to Xu Xing, thinking, "This person is from the Star Crown Sect. In the future, he will definitely stand with the Star Luo Empire. The chance of him being used by the Spirit Hall is extremely small. Perhaps I can provoke Dai Legao more."

On the field, Yaomei emerged from the sand, looked up at the field above, and then glanced at the audience sitting outside the field, immediately realizing that the gravity of the space had changed.

Now, they were in the sky.

"What a terrifying ability." The mixed male and female voice sounded. Facing the stars that continued to shoot at him, he still did not attack, only dodged.

Hu Liena and Xie Yue naturally discussed it—

As long as they didn't waste spirit power, Yaomei's sustained state could last for a longer time, and the opponent's reversal of gravity would undoubtedly consume a lot of spirit power.

Therefore, the strategy adopted was just one word: drag.

Xu Xing also realized the consumption of spirit power in his body. Gritting his teeth, he threw his team's six members out of the field, then waved his hand, and all the stars within the Domain arranged themselves in an extremely peculiar way, forming an extremely complex three-dimensional star chart.

"Zhou Tian Xing Dou Great Array!"

"Destroy!"

Buzz!

In an instant, three hundred and sixty-five stars accelerated in a mysterious way. Their speed was so fast that even the Spirit Douluo-level Yaomei found it difficult to resist. She was continuously bombarded, and the silver metal armor on her body constantly shattered. Her two Moon Blades also cracked, and even three of the tails behind her waist broke off.

"Martial Soul Fusion Skill: Demonic Moon Shield!"

Yaomei used her Spirit Ability, but it shattered instantly with just one hit from a star.

"Cough!"

After a round of bombardment, Yaomei's figure slowly dispersed, reforming into Xie Yue and Hu Liena.

Xie Yue's clothes were tattered, and his aura was weak.

Hu Liena had blood at the corner of her mouth, kneeling on one knee in the sand.

A Spirit Douluo-level Martial Soul Fusion Skill was actually shattered by a Spirit Saint-level Domain! And it even severely injured both of them!

This shocked the experts present and made them sigh at the talent produced by the Star Crown Sect.

Bibi Dong narrowed her eyes, thinking, "To dare to hurt Nana so badly... If this person cannot be used by the Spirit Hall, he must be eliminated. He must not be given any more time to grow."

Just a Spirit Elder, absorbing the spirit power starlight of six people, was able to achieve this level. If his own cultivation were to strengthen and he absorbed the spirit power of more people, wouldn't he be able to rival a Titled Douluo?

Wang Chen, Mu Tian, Huo Yuhao, and others also noticed this scene, and their hearts sank.

Wang Chen: "Another guy who didn't appear in the original work. Eight out of ten, he's also a transmigrator."

Mu Tian: "There are quite a lot of transmigrators on this Douluo Continent."

Huo Yuhao: "Damn it, Zhou Tian Xing Dou Great Array! Why is your cheat so awesome? Can this small Douluo Plane withstand a formation from the Primordial Era?"

Meanwhile, Tang San quietly asked Iliex in his dantian, "Illyasviel, did you record the method that Xu Xing named 'Zhou Tian Xing Dou Great Array' just now?"

"Naturally," Iliex said. "That formation is indeed extremely subtle. I can't fully comprehend it, but I did see a bit of its secrets—constructing three hundred and sixty-five stars, condensing the power of the stars for attack, with immense power."

"However, this old man feels that the main purpose of this formation is not for attack, but for condensing the power of the stars for cultivation, or for adjusting the four seasons of the great heaven and earth, or for Creation."

"Using it directly as a bomb-like attack method... I always feel it's a bit of a waste of natural resources."

"Forget it, that's that kid's business, this old man is too lazy to bother. Anyway, the corresponding energy circulation circuits have been recorded, and the trajectory of the stars within the formation has also been replicated. We two will have plenty of time to study it later."

Regarding the Zhou Tian Xing Dou Great Array, Tang San felt that it was Xu Xing's exaggerated statement. After all, based on the power it displayed so far, it was just that, nowhere near the level of destroying heaven and earth.

Of course, it was also possible that Xu Xing's strength was insufficient, and he had not fully developed it.

However, even if the Zhou Tian Xing Dou Great Array recorded by Iliex was not complete, but rather a basic version, it was enough. After all, if it were to truly correspond to the heavens, it would correspond to the Zhou Tian stars of this universe, not creating a strange universe, starry sky, and Zhou Tian stars out of thin air.

"Adapting to local conditions" was the kingly way.

At this moment, on the Desert venue, Xu Xing, who had unleashed the full power of the "Zhou Tian Xing Dou Great Array," also lost all his spirit power, and his Domain dissipated.

Everyone fell down, covered by sand.

Finally, Yan and the others carried Hu Liena and Xie Yue out of the sand, and also brought out the unconscious Xu Xing.

Winner: Spirit Hall Team.

Although they were the winning side, the Spirit Hall Team had nothing to be happy about, because they had fought very miserably in this match. They only managed to salvage a round by relying on their numerical advantage...

...

"Nana, what do you think of today's match?"

At noon, the competition paused, and all personnel had lunch and a rest. Bibi Dong called the Spirit Hall Team into the Supreme Pontiff Palace, her tone flat, revealing no joy or anger.

But Hu Liena knew this was because her performance had disappointed her teacher.

"It's all my fault, Teacher. I shouldn't have given the Star Crown Academy Team time to prepare." Hu Liena realized her mistake and immediately admitted it.

“Supreme Pontiff, I am also at fault. As an older brother, I always indulged my sister and didn't stop her.” Xie Yue also admitted his mistake, hoping to receive punishment alongside Hu Liena.

Yan opened his mouth, then gritted his teeth and said, “Supreme Pontiff, I was also wrong. I should have interrupted their spirit power fusion the moment the match began.”

The other four also admitted their mistakes.

“Mm.” Bibi Dong nodded, somewhat satisfied with the seven's performance. She said, “It's not entirely your fault. Tang San's display of his hundred-thousand-year Fifth Soul Ring in the first match affected you, causing you hot-blooded youngsters to also want to show off your strength immediately to intimidate your opponents.”

“In this regard, the other Academy Teams are much the same.”

“There aren't many young people in this world who can resist impulse and hide their trump cards, especially after Tang San stole the limelight... This was also his calculation, to observe the trump cards of these hundred or so academies.”

Hu Liena was startled and asked incredulously, “Teacher, are you saying that Tang San deliberately revealed his trump card in the first round, not just out of confidence in his own strength, but also to calculate the personalities of all the team members participating in this tournament, so as to observe each team's trump cards and then arrange tactics?”

Xie Yue was shocked: “If that's truly the case, then Tang San is too terrifying!”

Yan was also surprised: “Did he actually calculate the thoughts of every team?”

Bibi Dong stopped the three from overthinking and slowly said, “This is just a simple open scheme. Knowing that the participants are all young people is enough.”

“Youthful arrogance is a common problem at your age. Most people are like this.”

“Tang San displayed his hundred-thousand-year spirit ring, astonishing everyone. The other Academy Teams, to showcase their own strength, would inevitably reveal all their trump cards.”

“Because for most academies, compared to the distant championship, displaying their full abilities, winning the favor of Spirit Hall, Heaven Dou Empire, and Star Luo Empire, and gaining a good reputation across the entire Douluo Continent, is most crucial. After all, this tournament is being broadcast live across the entire Douluo Continent... ‘Live broadcast,’ that term was even created by Tang San.”

“You can imagine, almost everyone on the Douluo Continent is watching. For fame and face, how could they not do their utmost?”

“No one wants all their thunder stolen by Tang San...”

Hu Liena and the others completely understood.

In other words, the teams that didn’t want Tang San to steal all the thunder would inevitably reveal all their trump cards, and once their trump cards were revealed, Tang San would know them and formulate countermeasures.

An open scheme, it truly was an open scheme.

However—

“In that case, wouldn’t all our forces and academies be able to know the trump cards of the other Academy Teams?” Hu Liena asked, puzzled.

“Because Tang San didn’t reveal his trump cards at all,” Bibi Dong said indifferently. “He only revealed his hundred-thousand-year spirit ring, but what about those two small dolls? Are they Spirit Abilities? What are their specific effects? Does he have other trump cards?”

“Aside from what Ma Xiunuo reported about Tang San’s First Soul Skill: Endless Recovery, which can restore a Spirit Master’s full condition, his Second Soul Skill, suspected to be able to amplify teammates, and his own identity as a support system Spirit Master.”

“The rest, we know nothing.”

“But can you say he is just an all-around support system Spirit Master capable of healing and amplification?”

Hu Liena, Xie Yue, and Yan looked at each other, all shaking their heads.

In the first match of the first round, Tang San’s performance in speed and strength was not something ordinary attack system or agility-attack system Spirit Masters could compare to.

All-around support system?

That was definitely a disguise!

Perhaps he was a control system Spirit Master, after all, Tang San’s final manipulation of the Blue Silver Emperor, sending the Shrek Academy Team and others out of the arena, wasn’t that a tactic a control system should possess?

“Ghost Douluo.” After admonishing the few, Bibi Dong called Ghost Douluo and asked, “Previously, you personally went to enforce the law. Did anything happen?”

“Tang San was slandered by Canghui Academy...” Ghost Douluo recounted the events.

“Heh, this is the drawback of the Heaven Dou Empire, each acting independently, even within the same camp, they still target each other.” Bibi Dong scoffed, then said to Ghost Douluo, “This match, the Spirit Hall Team won a tragic victory, but also turned misfortune into a blessing. Xie Yue and Yan both reached Spirit Grandmaster under the Domain suppression of that kid from the Star Crown Sect. You will lead them to hunt for spirit rings.”

“It is my honor.” Ghost Douluo respectfully bowed to Bibi Dong, then led Xie Yue and Yan away from the Supreme Pontiff Palace and headed towards the Star Dou Great Forest.

“Then—”

Bibi Dong looked at Hu Liena and the others, who were still half-kneeling, and said, “Get up. For the next few rounds, the other substitutes will temporarily take Xie Yue and Yan’s places.”

“Nana, will you be alright on your own?”

Hu Liena shook her head, her eyes resolute: “No problem.”

She knew this was her Teacher’s test for her.

After all, Xie Yue and Yan hunting for Spirit Beasts would definitely take more than ten days. If their luck was bad, they might not encounter a suitable Spirit Beast for a month.

Therefore, before the finals, it was highly likely that the situation of “the Golden Generation of the Spirit Hall Team only has Hu Liena left” would occur.

If they lost...

The three exempted teams—Heaven Dou, Star Luo, and Spirit Hall—would lose the qualification to continue participating in the elimination rounds and could only participate in the subsequent promotion rounds and the finals.

It sounded pretty good, but in reality, these three exempted teams could not afford to lose.

Because once they lost, even if they qualified for the promotion rounds and the finals, they would be looked down upon by other academies, who would think they relied on the background of the three major powers rather than genuine talent.

“In the upcoming matches, I cannot give anyone the opportunity to use Martial Soul Fusion Skills.” Hu Liena secretly warned herself, otherwise if they lost, it wouldn’t just be the Spirit Hall Team’s face that was lost, the honor of the entire Spirit Hall would also be affected. The Elders of the Elder Palace have always been at odds with her Teacher—

Just like those three ten-thousand-year-level Spirit Bones, which her Teacher personally hunted and obtained, but when she wanted to directly bestow them upon the three members of their Golden Generation, the Elders of the Elder Palace prevented it, forcing her Teacher to make them prizes for the tournament, indirectly giving them to the three.

However, this Continental Elite Tournament is truly full of hidden dragons and crouching tigers. It will not be easy to maintain Spirit Hall’s honor of consecutive championships...

...

Over the next seven days, it was the competition between the other advanced Academy Teams.

The strength of these team members was mostly Spirit Elders, with not many Spirit Ancestors, but they also showed their strength to the world. Many teams even won against stronger opponents by relying on the environmental advantages of the arena.

For example, there was a match on a river arena, between the two participating sides:

On the Heaven Dou side, it was an obscure advanced academy. Their team members were all Spirit Elders, and there was even a Spirit Grandmaster; their opponent was a relatively famous advanced academy from the Star Luo Empire, whose team members included six Spirit Elders and one Spirit Ancestor.

The match between the two sides should have been without suspense, with the Star Luo advanced academy most likely winning.

But the reality was that all seven members of the obscure advanced academy team from Heaven Dou could swim, and they were all experts. As soon as the match began, they jumped into the river, using the convenience of the river arena to avoid the opponent's Spirit Ability attacks.

However, simply dodging was not enough; they would be warned by the referee and judged as passive play. If it exceeded three times, they would be disqualified and directly ruled as a loss.

Therefore, these seven took advantage of the intervals after the opponent released their Spirit Abilities to launch long-range Spirit Ability attacks... The soul-fighting competition between the two sides completely turned into a turn-based game.

Although this match was frustrating, this obscure advanced academy also gained widespread fame. Its seven team members were also noticed by some major powers, who felt they could be recruited.

Although their combat style was somewhat "sneaky," at least it was better than that Oscar from the beginning; that was truly sneaky, while these seven were just more flexible-minded.

Sects and families also need smart people to join.

In the original work, there were over a hundred advanced academies, and for ordinary advanced academies, generally, a three-ring Spirit Elder could graduate.

200: Shrek Academy

"Resurrection"

In the blink of an eye, the first round of preliminary elimination matches concluded.

However, before the remaining victors could proceed to the second round, a resurrection match was necessary.

This included Shrek Academy, which was defeated by the Heaven Dou Royal First Team; Elephant Armor Academy, which was instantly defeated by Star Luo Royal Academy; and finally, Star Crown Academy, which narrowly lost to Spirit Hall Academy.

Teams that lost to the three teams guaranteed a spot in the finals needed to participate in a resurrection match to qualify for the second round.

Similarly, in the second round, teams that lost to those three teams guaranteed a spot in the finals would also have to participate in a resurrection match to enter the third round.

Shrek Academy, Elephant Armor Academy, Star Crown Academy.

Among these three academies, the one that left the worst impression on the audience was naturally Shrek, for no other reason than Oscar's Spirit and Spirit Abilities being too vulgar.

Although battles between Spirit Masters were not meant for grand display, they shouldn't be so crude, practically tearing off the veil of decency and trampling it underfoot.

Everyone believed that Shrek Academy would be eliminated first.

For no other reason.

Because Shrek Academy had nothing outstanding about it.

And before the final resurrection match began, Yu Xiaogang also sought out Bibi Dong, hoping she could change the relevant rules.

“Why?” Bibi Dong looked at the man she once admired, her tone extremely calm, devoid of any emotion.

Perceiving that hint of aloofness, Yu Xiaogang felt very uncomfortable in his heart, only saying, “This is unfair to Shrek, Elephant Armor, and Star Crown Academies.”

Although Shrek's strength could not win the championship, it should not be eliminated in the first round.

However, Yu Xiaogang also understood that he couldn't just consider Shrek; he needed to include the other two academies as well.

“Then why don't they send someone to propose it? Or are you able to represent all three academies simultaneously?” Bibi Dong questioned.

“Naturally not.” Yu Xiaogang sighed, “It's just that this is unfair to these three academies; their strength should not be limited to the first round.”

“Is there any difference? They will still be eliminated if they encounter other strong teams,” Bibi Dong insisted, “Moreover, different venues can also show the performance of different people; it's not necessary to have a high ranking to display one's strength and wisdom.”

“They just had bad luck.....” Yu Xiaogang was somewhat speechless, but he still bit the bullet and said.

“Didn't you often say that luck is also a part of strength?”

For some reason, facing the somewhat unreasonable Yu Xiaogang, Bibi Dong compared him to Tang San and suddenly felt that he was nothing special. Was it because too much time had passed?

“Also, the rules of the competition were agreed upon by me and the emperors of the Two Great Empires. It’s useless for you to only come to me.”

“The fact that I’m talking to you this much is only out of consideration for our past relationship.”

“Go. If you really want to prove yourself, just like Tang San, reread the materials you once wrote down. If you can summarize something useful from them, that would also be a form of self-proof.”

Hearing the words “Tang San,” Yu Xiaogang couldn't help but clench his fists—

It’s him again!

That guy took everything from him!

After a long silence, Yu Xiaogang left without a word, but before his final departure, he said faintly, “Bibi Dong, we may not meet again in the future, but at least I loved you.”

With that, Yu Xiaogang strode out of the Supreme Pontiff Palace, his back exceptionally dashing.

Bibi Dong clenched the scepter in her hand, an unprovoked surge of anger rising within her, not because of the phrase “will not meet again,” but because of “at least I loved you”—

This is a World of the strong!

The weak are not worthy of saying such words!

Compared to the original work where Bibi Dong always held a lingering thought for Yu Xiaogang, the current Bibi Dong, having read many of the theories written by Tang San, unconsciously made comparisons with Yu Xiaogang.

In the past, she could still plead for Yu Xiaogang in her heart.

But now, Yu Xiaogang's attitude made her completely understand why the name Grandmaster was a joke for him.

The weak can also have pride, but at least they must have the confidence to become strong.

Yu Xiaogang's ten theories were not confidence, just a joke...

...

The resurrection match adopted a free-for-all system, meaning three parties competed on the same stage.

This was also to save time.

The conditions for victory were also simple: either two parties surrendered, or all members of two parties lost their combat ability, not much different from a regular one-on-one team Spirit battle.

After the three parties entered the arena, Chrysanthemum Douluo began to draw the venue—

Ice and Snow.

As the ice and snow arena rose, Tang San, as a spectator, finally understood how the ice and snow arena was created.

At the four corners of the arena, there were four ice mountains, with cylindrical spirit tools inside, which had countless small holes that could release white cold air.

That cold air emerged from the openings at the top of the ice pillars, able to merge with each other to form an artificial dark cloud that could bring down ice and snow and blow cold winds.

“It seems I guessed correctly; ice and snow type venues are indeed made with spirit tools.”

Tang San looked at the four ice pillars, lost in thought, “Moreover, the cold air that emerges can condense together, which is clearly a structure similar to the spirit power circulation route in a spirit ring.”

“I have to say, my little brother Tang, the civilization development of your World, in the distant past, might have been more advanced than the Saint Magic Continent. Perhaps it experienced some great catastrophe, which led to its decline.” Iliex, through the spirit tool that could release ice and snow, saw something, “That thing is much more ingenious than the spirit tools you and Guang Ling are researching, and the spirit power circulation patterns are also extremely complex.”

“Who can say for certain about ancient matters?” Tang San’s eyes were unfathomable, and then he asked Iliex another question, “If gods need faith, Illyasviel, do you think mortals are better off ignorant or intelligent?”

“Naturally, ignorant.” Iliex blurted out, then paused, understanding, “So that’s it, is it caused by the gods? After all, the wisdom of mortals is actually no less than that of gods; the only difference is power... Ignorance gives birth to faith.”

“This is a kind of speculation; what exactly it is remains unknown, and one cannot be too arbitrary.” Tang San changed the subject, looking towards the arena. At this moment, the resurrection match had already begun.

Regarding the ice and snow arena, among the three teams, Elephant Armor Academy was the most adaptable. After all, mammoths naturally live mostly in icy and snowy regions, and Diamond Mammoth’s cold resistance is even better.

As for the other two teams, no one in Shrek Academy was accustomed to the cold climate. Jiang Zhu even put on a thicker cotton coat before learning that the competition venue was ice and snow.

As a support system Spirit Master, she needed to be ready to heal her teammates at all times and couldn't use extra spirit power to resist the frost; she needed to conserve it.

On Star Crown Academy's side, not many people could withstand the cold either, and they were all wearing thick clothes.

With a command from Chrysanthemum Douluo.

All three parties activated their Spirits.

Huyan Zhuo, the captain of Elephant Armor Academy, didn't even put the Shrek Team in his eyes. He only had three team members guard against their sneak attacks, while he himself, with the remaining three, charged directly towards the Star Crown Academy Team.

After all, Star Crown Academy's performance was truly too dazzling. Xu Xing, after receiving the spirit power starlight from other team members, reached Spirit Saint, and even possessed a Domain-type Spirit Ability. Even the Spirit Hall Team's Spirit Douluo-level Martial Soul Fusion method was difficult to fuse.

If Xu Xing hadn't run out of spirit power in the end, the Spirit Hall Team would have been eliminated.

Therefore, Huyan Zhuo's first target was Xu Xing.

After all, this guy himself wasn't strong, just a Spirit Elder. He brought three people to break up their team and prevent them from using their Seven-in-One Martial Soul Fusion Skill.

And the Star Crown Team indeed dared not confront Elephant Armor Academy head-on. In terms of raw strength, the members of the Star Crown Team were all Tool Spirit Masters, their physical bodies not as strong as the muscular men of the Elephant Armor Team.

Moreover, the speed of the mammoth's charge was not slow.

Therefore, with four against seven, the Star Crown Team was instantly scattered. Huyan Zhuo even charged straight for Xu Xing, completely ignoring the attacks of others, relying on his Diamond Mammoth Spirit to withstand them, and quickly arrived in front of Xu Xing.

He threw a punch!

Xu Xing immediately hunched his back, his eyes bulging.

As a disciple of the Star Crown Sect, he naturally had some hand-to-hand combat skills, but compared to a thick-skinned giant like Huyan Zhuo, he was indeed weaker, and Huyan Zhuo's spirit power was higher than his.

Strong physique, high spirit power, and fast linear speed.

Plus, for Spirit Masters with the Diamond Mammoth Spirit, the ice and snow arena was not a weakening factor.

In terms of individual strength, Xu Xing only had an advantage in agility over Huyan Zhuo, but because he wore warm clothing, his agility decreased, and this advantage was also weakened.

After being struck by Huyan Zhuo's punch, Xu Xing naturally couldn't get back up.

"Heh, I thought you were so formidable, but it turns out you're just a silver spear and wax candle, good for show but useless." Huyan Zhuo mocked, "Forcing the Spirit Hall Team to that extent was because they were overconfident and gave you time to use your Martial Soul Fusion Skill. This daddy won't give you any."

Grabbing Xu Xing's hair, Huyan Zhuo lifted him up with one hand, clenched his other hand into a fist, and slammed it into the opponent's abdomen again, simultaneously letting go of his hair.

Instantly, Xu Xing was sent flying over thirty meters, losing his combat capability.

"He has a good Spirit, but only just a good Spirit." Tang San shook his head secretly, "His own combat ability is too poor. Real combat isn't a turn-based game of Spirit Ability bombardment... Speaking of which, the Star Crown Sect focuses on support, supplemented by control. Perhaps the Sect doesn't have any powerful offensive self-created Spirit Abilities, which is in line with the concept of this era—taking the primary function of the Spirit as its foundation.”

“However, although the Star Crown Sect is gone, the Elephant Armored Academy may not necessarily gain the qualification for ‘resurrection’...”

This was because the three Spirit Elders from the Elephant Armor Academy Team who were vigilant against the Shrek Team had already been defeated.

One of them was defeated by Dai Mubai, as he was a Spirit Ancestor with higher spirit power. Even though the Diamond Mammoth was thick-skinned, those three were all Spirit Elders, and there was a spirit power gap between them and Dai Mubai.

Yet, even so, Dai Mubai was panting a little after breaking through their defense.

As for the remaining two, they were jointly defeated by Mu Tian and Oscar. Oscar was the main attacker, as he possessed the Eight Spider Lances and the Man Faced Demon Spider’s venom. The Diamond Mammoth had strong vitality, but its resistance to poison was not very high.

As for how to poison them?

As long as the Eight Spider Lances touched them, Oscar didn’t even need to deliberately control it; the Eight Spider Lances’ venom could infiltrate the opponent’s skin.

Seeing this, Huyan Zhuo ignored the remaining Star Crown Team and charged directly towards the Shrek side, enduring Ma Hongjun’s Phoenix Fire Wire, his target squarely on Oscar.

But with his Eight Spider Lances, Oscar’s flexibility was far beyond what Xu Xing could compare to. He instantly dodged Huyan Zhuo’s punch, quickly retreated, and didn’t forget to give Ma Hongjun a Big Recovery Sausage as he passed by him.

However, Ma Hongjun wasn't too keen on eating it at this moment—after experiencing Oscar's third Spirit Ability's "Self-Imprisonment" incident, he felt that Oscar's first Spirit Ability was very indecent.

Although it was already indecent before...

In the end, Ma Hongjun still swallowed it in one bite.

After all, the most troublesome Star Crown Team had already been neutralized, so the next thing to do was to deal with the Elephant Armor Team.

These thick-skinned guys were extremely difficult to deal with.

Especially Huyan Zhuo; even Dai Mubai would probably struggle to cope with him. To win, they could only rely on Oscar's poison.

"Roar!"

Under Mu Tian's control, Bright Moon rushed towards Huyan Zhuo and spewed out balls of flame towards him.

Huyan Zhuo still chose to take the hit head-on.

Bang!

He punched one of Bright Moon's heads, and the other two heads immediately bit over, gnawing on his shoulder.

"Ah! Bastard!"

Bright Moon's teeth were still extremely sharp, biting through the Diamond Mammoth's defense and piercing his flesh, causing Huyan Zhuo to roar in pain and try to raise his arms to clamp Bright Moon's neck.

However, at this moment, Oscar, using the movement speed of his Eight Spider Lances, arrived behind Huyan Zhuo. Two spider lances pierced his skin, injecting venom.

“Hmm? It’s really hard; it only pierced the skin!” Oscar sensed the vibration from the Eight Spider Lances. While astonished by Huyan Zhuo’s defense, he immediately retreated.

Although it only pierced the skin and entered the muscle, the venom had already entered, making Huyan Zhuo’s collapse only a matter of time.

However, to restrain Huyan Zhuo’s movements, Oscar used his third Spirit Ability: “I have a Mushroom Sausage!”

Without using the second Spirit Ability, the third Spirit Ability directly produced a “ZWB Sausage,” whose length was not as exaggerated as shown in the first match.

But—

It was still unsightly.

“Spray!”

With the enhancement of spirit power, the created Sausage began to expand, then shot out clumps of white silk threads, like a spider preying, firmly binding Huyan Zhuo.

Mu Tian controlled Bright Moon to breathe fire, and Ma Hongjun also seized the opportunity to use Phoenix Fire Wire on him.

As the great fire burned, Huyan Zhuo felt pain, and the silk threads in Oscar’s third Spirit Ability also contained venom. In the flames, they turned into smoke, which Huyan Zhuo inhaled, accelerating the outbreak of toxins in his body.

“Ah!” Huyan Zhuo screamed and plunged into the ice and snow.

However, this sudden hot and cold sensation stimulated him so much that he directly fainted.

“Captain!”

The remaining three members of the Elephant Armor Team were shocked and wanted to check on him, but they were entangled by the six members of the Star Crown Team.

It wasn't that the Star Crown Team and the Shrek Team had a tacit understanding, but rather they both knew that with Xu Xing incapacitated, the Elephant Armor Team was the most troublesome and had to be eliminated first.

And after the Shrek Team dealt with Huyan Zhuo, except for Ma Hongjun and Huang Yuan who stayed to protect Jiang Zhu, everyone else launched indiscriminate attacks on the remaining three members of the Elephant Armor Team and the six members of the Star Crown Team.

“Fourth Spirit Ability: White Tiger Meteor Shower!” Dai Mubai used his fourth Spirit Ability, launching long-range area-of-effect firepower, carpet bombing the nine individuals.

This move was effective. The dense bombardment caused another member of the Elephant Armor Team to fall, and three members of the Star Crown Team either couldn't dodge in time or were hit by the aftershocks of the explosion, losing their combat capability.

After all, this was an ice and snow arena, with ice and snow.

The energy attacks of the White Tiger Meteor Shower could be dodged, but the secondary attacks caused by these attacks landing on the ice and snow—splashing ice shards—were not so easy to dodge (refer to grenades, whose main area-of-effect lethality is not the explosion itself, but the splashing fragments from the explosion).

At this moment, all members of Shrek were present, while the Elephant Armor Team and the Star Crown Team combined had a total of four members.

So, these four united to deal with Shrek...

...

“The battle is decided.” Huo Wu knew that there was no suspense left in this resurrection match. Shrek would be “resurrected” and enter the second round of the preliminary knockout stage.

Honestly, Huo Wu found this resurrection match quite comical.

The Star Crown Team was targeted by the Elephant Armored Academy immediately, which led to Xu Xing being unable to borrow spirit power from his teammates for enhancement, and he was the first to lose combat capability—his Star Crown Spirit should have undergone some mutation, making it extremely powerful, but his actual combat ability was not strong.

Without the Seven-in-One Martial Soul Fusion Skill, the Star Crown Team had already lost any chance of winning.

And Shrek’s victory was entirely due to Oscar. Those Eight Spider Lances were too bizarre; not only could they allow him agile movement, but they could also inject venom.

The Elephant Armor Team had no means to counter poison, so they were naturally extremely passive.

Moreover, Shrek’s final coordination—Mu Tian having Bright Moon engage Huyan Zhuo for initial control, Oscar sneaking in to poison and bind him, and finally Ma Hongjun and Mu Tian using fire attacks together—the entire process was almost seamless, clearly having been discussed beforehand.

Besides that, Dai Mubai’s White Tiger Meteor Shower caught both the Star Crown Team and the Elephant Armor Team off guard, which allowed Shrek to find the opportunity to win.

“These people from Shrek cooperate quite well. As long as they don’t encounter the Four Elemental Academies, Canghui Academy, and the three main teams in the second round, they can basically advance to the third round.” Yu Tianheng also began his analysis, then looked at Tang San, “After the first round ends, there will be a one-day rest. The matches resume tomorrow. Which team do you think we’ll be matched with?”

“How would I know that?” Tang San shrugged, unconcerned, “Don’t think of me as a god; I don’t have the ability to foresee the future.”

“However, the arrangement of the opposing teams is definitely not a completely fair and just draw.”

Yu Tianheng nodded: “Well said. Under-the-table operations are also understandable, a common problem among major forces... But we are strong, and no matter what kind of opponent we face, we can win!”

201: Force out the second martial spirit

One day passed in a flash.

The second round of preliminary elimination matches began.

Including the "resurrected" Shrek Team, there were a total of fifty-two teams participating in the second round of elimination matches, which made for exactly twenty-six matches.

If the number of teams was odd, the extra team would not automatically advance. Instead, they would need to draw lots to select an already advanced team to challenge.

If they won, they would replace that team.

If they lost, they would be eliminated.

The first match of the second round was again the Heaven Dou Royal First Team.

Their opponents were Canghui Academy.

"There's definitely some foul play," Yu Tianheng's eyes narrowed. "Spirit Hall probably wants to see more of our trump cards, and find a way to eliminate Canghui Academy."

Huo Wu agreed, "Indeed, the captain's Ten-thousand year soul ring is too dazzling, and that Huo Yuhao from Canghui Academy is truly a big problem."

"However—"

"Isn't this perfect? We can finally teach those people from Canghui Academy a lesson."

Xiao Wu narrowed her eyes, "We should really thank Spirit Hall, hehe."

How dare they use such despicable methods to frame Third Brother?

They were practically courting death.

"This match, I, Yu Tianheng, Huo Wu, Ning Rongrong, Zhu Zhuqing, Shi Mo, and Shi Mo will be participating," Tang San arranged the lineup.

"Why am I not included?" Xiao Wu was unhappy. She really wanted to teach that Huo Yuhao a good lesson.

"With so many of us, everyone needs a chance to participate. If we weren't facing Canghui Academy this time, I would even want to give my spot to Lan Yinzi," Tang San explained his reasoning, which was to take care of all the members of the Tiandou Royal Battle Team.

"Alright then," Xiao Wu wasn't unreasonable, she was just a little dissatisfied that she couldn't personally go up and teach that Huo Yuhao and the big worm a lesson.

"Xiao Wu, haven't I not been in a single match?" Lan Yinzi walked over, smiling as she comforted her, "It's no big deal, and besides, girls should be graceful."

As Tang San's mother, Lan Yinzi, though still concealing her identity, actually regarded Xiao Wu as her future daughter-in-law. Her past memories resurfaced, making her believe that if Xiao Wu were to become Tang San's wife in the future, her demeanor and attitude should be more graceful, rather than as... lively as she was now.

"Whether one is graceful or not doesn't really matter, as long as they don't cross the line, being a bit more open-minded is fine," Tang San said fairly, also reminding Lan Yinzi not to bring her 'previous life' memories into 'this life'—although Lan Yinzi hadn't been completely open with Tang San, at this point, with Iliex's help, Tang San had confirmed his previous suspicions: Lan Yinzi was Ah Yin, and according to Iliex's observations, Lan Yinzi's soul appearance and physical appearance were different.

Body snatching!

Tang San thought of that term. The Blue Silver Emperor had seized control of Lan Yinzi's previous body.

That's why the current Lan Yinzi didn't possess the inherent aura of a Ten-thousand year soul beast, because she fundamentally lacked the cultivation origin of a Ten-thousand year level.

And Lan Yinzi's previous body was most likely a female transmigrator who, by chance, found the relevant location, then harbored ill intentions, and finally became the Blue Silver Emperor's wedding dress.

No matter what, even if the Blue Silver Emperor was young, its bloodline was still that of the Blue Silver Emperor. And looking at its performance in the original work, even in its sprouted state, with an estimated cultivation of only a dozen years, its spirituality was still extremely strong, capable of controlling leaves to interact simply with Tang Hao and the original Tang San. This was absolutely incomparable to an ordinary ten-year plant Spirit Beast, and even some ten-thousand-year level plant Spirit Beasts couldn't achieve it—evidently because the Blue Silver Emperor's soul, which had cultivated to the ten-thousand-year level, resided within the seedling, not within the Spirit Bone or spirit ring.

This might be the special characteristic of plant Spirit Beasts.

If this deduction holds true, those fanfiction protagonists who directly swallowed the Blue Silver Emperor, if they didn't have a protagonist's halo or specific cheats, their soul level would definitely not be able to compare to the Blue Silver Emperor—because even a reborn Blue Silver Emperor seedling, even with a ten-year spirit ring, contained the soul vibrations of a Ten-thousand year level.

"The captain is right," Lan Yinzi no longer insisted. After all, she had taken over a transmigrator and inherited her memories, so she also knew some modern societal ideas.

Therefore, she wasn't entirely unable to accept Tang San's words.

"By the way, is it really okay for us to be so relaxed?" Ning Rongrong looked at Tang San, Xiao Wu, and Lan Yinzi, feeling that there was something off about the three of them. It wasn't the kind of jealousy seen in "two women fighting for one husband," but rather like a mother-in-law looking at her son and daughter-in-law—Lan Yinzi was the "mother-in-law."

"With the captain here, isn't being relaxed only natural?" Yu Feng joked, "That Huo Yuhao is definitely going to suffer."

"That's true," Oslo chimed in.

"Let's go," Tang San chuckled softly, leading Yu Tianheng, Huo Wu, Shi Mo, Shi Mo, Ning Rongrong, and Zhu Zhuqing down from the spectator stands and towards the competition arena.

When they entered the arena, almost all the spectators cheered.

Although most of the audience here were local residents of Spirit City, it was precisely because of this that their admiration for the strong was undisguised.

Of course, if the Heaven Dou Royal First Team's opponent were the Spirit Hall Team, these spectators would definitely prioritize supporting them.

Ning Rongrong rather enjoyed being the center of attention. She scanned her surroundings and giggled, "It seems we're quite popular."

Huo Wu, however, was unfazed, as if she had long grown accustomed to it. She said, "It's the privilege of the strong, especially here in Spirit City, the world of Spirit Masters. Powerful Spirit Masters are even more highly regarded. In fact, powerful Spirit Masters, as long as they don't commit major, principled mistakes, can resolve other minor issues with their strength, or have their punishments lessened."

At this moment, Chrysanthemum Douluo began to draw the competition venue.

"I announce that the venue for the first match of the second round is:"

"The Ice and Snow Arena!"

As the ice and snow arena was fully changed, both sides entered in an orderly fashion.

"Hiss—"

Ning Rongrong rubbed her shoulders and said, "It really is a bit cold... Captain, what was your psychological basis for proposing the theory of diversified competition venues back then?"

"It was just to make the Spirit fighting competition more interesting," Tang San took out an ice-blue feather cloak from his white jade belt and draped it over Ning Rongrong, saying, "This is a feather cloak made from Bing Luan Bird feathers. It has no defensive power, but it's effective for keeping warm and won't be judged as a weapon; it's just clothing. Speaking of which, there's a rumor in the Extreme North Land of a fish species called the 'Arctic Catfish.' Its body surface has a sticky silk that can be used to weave nets. It's said to be as warm as cotton clothing and extremely light. If combined with Bing Luan Bird feathers and crafted by a master tailor, it can be woven into a fabric called 'Fallen Net,' which is extremely precious. Unfortunately, it's said that this catfish is very slippery and rarely seen."

Ning Rongrong's beautiful eyes sparkled, and she was very moved. "Thank you, Third Brother."

"You're welcome," Tang San turned around and took out five more feather cloaks. To the other five, whose gazes were somewhat playful, he asked, "Do you want them?"

Yu Tianheng: "Uh... never mind, a little ice and snow doesn't affect me much."

Huo Wu actually wanted one, but considering that once she used her Spirit, the light and heat would ignite and burn it up instantly, she also shook her head.

"I want one."

"I want one too."

Shi Mo and Shi Mo, the two brothers, were not polite. After all, the Mysterious Tortoise Spirit was water-attributed, not ice. In this environment, after Spirit possession, their movements would become sluggish. Having two cold-resistant feather cloaks would be much better.

Finally, Zhu Zhuqing, wearing a leather outfit, also blushed and asked for one.

On the Canghui Team's side, except for Huo Yuhao, the other six also put on cold-weather clothing. It was a type of clothing made from Soft Bones Rabbit fur—"Damn it! It's Soft Bones Rabbit fur! Those bastards are dead!" Xiao Wu, in the spectator stands, gnashed her teeth and cursed inwardly.

After both sides were ready, Chrysanthemum Douluo announced, "Activate your Spirits, adjust your state, one minute."

Immediately, white, yellow, purple, black, and red spirit rings flashed. Especially Tang San's Ten-thousand year spirit ring, even though it was only the second time it was revealed, it still shocked everyone.

"Captain, can your Endless Grassland be used in this kind of venue?" Yu Tianheng asked.

"Yes, but it will be quite restricted."

Aside from the hollow ground beneath the arena, more importantly, in such icy and snowy weather, even if the Blue Silver Emperor could grow, it would be difficult to control it flexibly.

Although the Blue Silver Emperor had gained cold resistance, cold weather still had a significant impact on plants.

"So—"

Tang San paused here, and before the minute was up, he asked Chrysanthemum Douluo, who had already retreated off the field, "Your Excellency the Referee, may I destroy the arena?"

Chrysanthemum Douluo's breathing hitched. He looked towards the VIP section and, seeing Bibi Dong nod, said, "Yes, the competition rules do not prohibit Spirit Masters from destroying the arena."

"Also, you may call me Your Excellency Chrysanthemum Douluo."

Your Excellency the Referee?

If Old Ghost knew he was called that, he'd be laughed at for a whole year.

"Thank you for the information, Chrysanthemum Douluo Your Excellency." Tang San replied politely, then said to Huo Wu, "Later, you will directly convert your spirit power into light and heat, melting all the ice and snow on the entire field."

"No problem." Although Huo Wu felt it wasn't necessary to be so troublesome, as long as Huo Yuhao and the others didn't have a chance to use their Seven-in-One Martial Soul Fusion Skill, it would be fine.

But Tang San clearly had other ideas...

For this, Huo Wu was willing to do it; after all, she also wanted to show her power to the world.

"One minute is up!"

"Spirit Battle commence!"

As Chrysanthemum Douluo's words fell, Huo Wu converted her spirit power into light and heat. The scorching energy spread in all directions, causing the ice and snow on the ground to begin melting.

From the audience's perspective, it was as if a great sun had appeared on the arena, its blazing flames causing the ice and snow to retreat.

However, this heat was not only unbearable for Canghui Academy Team, but Yu Tianheng and the others also found it difficult to completely resist. Only Tang San could still stand beside Huo Wu with relative ease.

It was just that Ning Rongrong, Shi Mo, Shi Mo, Zhu Zhuqing, and the others did not take off their feather robes because of this, as the four pillars around the field were still emitting cold air.

“Such scorching energy!” Dou Yi Tianmeng in Huo Yuhao’s mind exclaimed, “Is that ultimate fire, or ultimate light?”

“No, that’s the ultimate sun!”

Although the Ice Jade Emperor Scorpion lived for a shorter time than Heaven Dream Iceworm, it knew much more than Heaven Dream Iceworm, who spent most of his time sleeping.

“Unbelievable, there is actually a Spirit Master who can combine light and fire to create something like the sun.”

“That is the vitality of all things, and it also possesses ultimate destruction.”

Huo Yuhao was also shocked, not understanding why Huo Wu had been strengthened to such an absurd degree.

Did she eat the Phoenix Cockscomb Sunflower?

“Yuhao, why don’t we just concede?” Dou Er Tianmeng reminded him, “It’s not wise to contend with Tang San, and he is very likely a transmigrator.”

“Precisely because he is a transmigrator, we must oppose him, otherwise what will happen to the plot’s direction?” In order to cope with the future, Huo Yuhao felt that he must eliminate Tang San.

Dou Yi Tianmeng only felt that Huo Yuhao was obsessed.

Huo Yuhao continued to ask, “If I use the Seven-in-One Martial Soul Fusion Skill, plus the mental energy of you three, can I turn Tang San into an idiot?”

“Theoretically speaking, with that, your mental shock could shatter the soul of a Titled Douluo above rank ninety-five.” Dou Er Tianmeng gave an estimate.

But this was also theoretical.

Tang San’s mental force was not weak; he was only a step away from the Spirit Domain realm.

Also, they hadn't told Huo Yuhao that Iliex had gone to Tang San’s spiritual sea. If they alarmed him, they might not have a chance of winning.

More importantly, Tang San was highly likely to be the Child of the Plane, the Child of Luck, making him difficult to kill. And even if he were killed, they would be unlucky for a long time, targeted by the entire world.

Even Dou Yi Tianmeng, Dou Er Tianmeng, and the later-joined Ice Jade Emperor Scorpion did not want Huo Yuhao to contend with the current “protagonist group.”

Wouldn't it be better to just surrender and then fight in the resurrection match?

Isn't it the best option to strive for a good ranking, join a larger force, and then use that force's resources for cultivation?

Why must he antagonize Tang San?

Be mature, please.

“Alright then, we can give it a try.” Huo Yuhao made up his mind. As for why he insisted on opposing Tang San... Heh, who told him he transmigrated as Tang San?

All Tang dogs should die!

After transmigrating as Huo Yuhao, his first reaction was that once he became powerful in the future, he would ascend to the God Realm, step on the head of the God King Tang San, and with women on both sides, sleep with his daughters and play with his wife.

Now that he had arrived in the Dou Yi era, Tang San's strength was far from that of the God King Tang San. Although it was a bit absurd at the moment, if he could be taught a lesson, he certainly should be.

All Tang-licking factions should die!

When all the ice and snow on the field melted, Huo Wu stopped releasing light and heat. Her consumed spirit power rapidly recovered with the help of Tang San's First Soul Skill.

“Black soil.”

Tang San squatted down, grabbed a handful of soil, and released Endless Grassland, binding Huo Yuhao and the others from Canghui Academy Team who were preparing for Martial Soul Fusion.

“It's quite realistic. I thought after the ice and snow melted, it would be a tiled arena.”

Tang San didn't care about Huo Yuhao and the others whose Martial Soul Fusion Skill was interrupted. Instead, he was concerned about the realism of the arena, then told Huo Wu, Yu Tianheng, Shi Mo, and Shi Mo the positions of their opponents.

Ning Rongrong was responsible for attribute amplification.

Although it was possible without her amplification, since she was on the field, she still needed to show some use, otherwise this battle would truly just be a formality for her.

The four of them, using the cover of the Endless Grassland, quickly arrived beside the members of Canghui Academy Team and individually knocked them off the arena.

The strength of any single Canghui Academy Team student was not strong, so Yu Tianheng and the others completely crushed them.

The only problem was that Tang San's Blue Silver Emperor grew too luxuriantly, blocking the audience's view and making their viewing experience very poor.

Fortunately, most of these spectators were from Spirit City, otherwise they would have demanded refunds.

"Third Brother, what should I do?" Zhu Zhuqing asked, seeing that Tang San had not given her any orders.

"Wait until Yu Tianheng and the others knock those six people down... Hmm, almost there." Tang San sensed the situation, then pointed in a direction to Zhu Zhuqing and said, "You go that way. The Blue Silver Grass will guide you to Huo Yuhao's location."

"Is my target that Huo Yuhao?" A sharp glint flashed in Zhu Zhuqing's eyes—those two white spirit rings were very likely Ten-thousand year spirit rings, which made it challenging. It seemed Third Brother trusted her very much.

"That's right, and I want you to attack him at the back of his neck." Tang San pointed to a spot on the back of his own neck, making sure Zhu Zhuqing remembered it.

"This... will kill him, won't it?" Zhu Zhuqing didn't care about Huo Yuhao's life or death, but if Huo Yuhao died, their team might be disqualified.

"No, you underestimate him. With his trump cards, it would be strange if you could actually kill him." Tang San's expression was extremely grave. "I can sense with my mental force and Blue Silver Emperor that there is an ultimate ice-attribute energy within him, extremely powerful. I estimate he possesses another Spirit, but a second Spirit without a spirit ring couldn't be that powerful with ice-attribute... Either his strength is more than Spirit Elder, or his second Spirit also has a spirit ring, and it's also Ten-thousand year level."

After speaking, Tang San released Wu Lin, letting her perch on Zhu Zhuqing's shoulder.

"Just in case, Wu Lin possesses ultimate ice-attribute, which can protect you."

And Zhu Zhuqing also understood Tang San's purpose—

To make Huo Yuhao reveal all his trump cards, attracting the covetousness of major forces and creating trouble for him.

Tang San had a Ten-thousand year spirit ring, plus he was a Spirit King, a theoretical Grandmaster, under Spirit Hall's attention, cared for by Poison Douluo, and had a good relationship with the Seven Treasure Glazed Tile School, among other factors, so few people dared to lay a hand on him.

But Huo Yuhao was different.

Canghui Academy and Spirit Saint Shi Nian could not protect a Ten-thousand year level Spirit Bone from major forces.

However, Zhu Zhuqing did not think there was anything wrong with Tang San doing this, after all, Shi Nian and Huo Yuhao had plotted against Tang San first, wanting to disqualify him from the competition.

This was just a tit-for-tat.

Moreover, Zhu Zhuqing also wanted to test just how powerful Huo Yuhao, with his Ten-thousand year spirit ring and twin spirits, truly was.

"Understood." Zhu Zhuqing nodded, her eyes narrowing. She quickly moved through the Blue Silver Emperor grass, and in less than three seconds, she arrived behind Huo Yuhao. She activated her external Spirit Bone: Dark Demon Bone Armor, and unleashed her First Soul Skill, Hell Rush Stab.

Darkness, wind, and lightning attributes were also gathered into Zhu Zhuqing's claws, striking towards the back of Huo Yuhao's neck.

If this attack hit, Huo Yuhao would surely die.

However, Huo Yuhao suddenly jolted, and the three soul bodies in his mind frantically warned him, but his own reaction speed was not enough.

“Oh no!” Dou Er Tianmeng immediately took control of Huo Yuhao's body and released his Second Spirit: Ice Jade Emperor Scorpion.

Clang!

The hard scorpion back blocked Zhu Zhuqing's attack, and the collision produced an explosion, destroying more than ten meters of the nearby Blue Silver Emperor, revealing a clear space.

At this moment, all the spectators could see Huo Yuhao's current appearance.

The two white and one purple spirit rings had disappeared, replaced by a deep crimson spirit ring, which also had three golden lines on it, with a faint fourth one.

More importantly, the Spirit Huo Yuhao revealed at this time was not the Spirit Eye, but—

Ice Jade Scorpion!

202: The final cry: leave the big picture!

“A Ten-thousand year spirit ring!”

“And it even has golden patterns!”

“Wait, is that a second Spirit? An Ice Jade Scorpion?”

“twin spirits!”

“The first spirit ring being Ten-thousand year, unprecedented.”

“There are so many monstrous talents this year...”

The audience discussed animatedly.

However, Shi Nian, the leader of Canghui Academy, had eyes splitting with rage, and he said hatefully, “Damn it, twin spirits, and he didn't tell me! I'm his teacher!”

Yet, Shi Nian asked himself, and he truly couldn't hold back if he knew his disciple had a second Spirit, and its spirit ring was Ten-thousand year.

Disciple?

He was certainly not as good as a Ten-thousand year Spirit Bone.

However, Shi Nian would never forgive Huo Yuhao for concealing it from him because of this...

On the stage, Huo Yuhao, whose body was controlled by Dou Er Tianmeng, was also extremely helpless.

If he could, he really didn't want to use the Ice Jade Emperor Scorpion.

Although all three of them had backup plans, they couldn't leave Huo Yuhao's body as they pleased; they had to find a suitable host first... If he didn't use his second Spirit, the Ice Jade Emperor Scorpion, Huo Yuhao would be in grave danger.

As for the third Spirit, the Ice Dragon...

It hadn't added a spirit ring yet, so it had no Spirit Ability.

Zhu Zhuqing's attack just now was extremely lethal; if it weren't for Ice Emperor's Protection, one of the Spirit Abilities from the Ice Jade Emperor Scorpion's three hundred eighty thousand year spirit ring, he would have definitely been finished.

"Damn it, at such a young age, so vicious?" Dou Er Tianmeng, using Huo Yuhao's voice, cursed at Zhu Zhuqing.

"Hmm?" Zhu Zhuqing wasn't angered by this; she just felt that the other party's personality had undergone a completely different change from before. This looked... a bit funny?

Was it the mental split that Third Brother had mentioned?

Or was it that the current Huo Yuhao wasn't the one from before, but rather his body was occupied by some other existence? Like the soul of a Ten-thousand year Spirit Beast?

At this moment, the surrounding Endless Grassland also dissipated.

"Clap, clap, clap!"

Tang San clapped his hands, his face filled with astonishment, "I originally thought I was amazing enough to be able to bear a Ten-thousand year spirit ring for my fifth spirit ring, but I didn't expect there to be someone even more formidable than me. twin spirits, and the first spirit ring is Ten-thousand year. Truly remarkable, worthy of being called unprecedented, as long as—”

【You are not from the future.】

The latter half of the sentence, Tang San transmitted into Huo Yuhao's ear using the method of sound transmission.

“It's you!”

Huo Yuhao, enraged and humiliated, regained control of his body, his eyes bloodshot, staring intently at Tang San, wishing he could eat his flesh and drink his blood.

Because he now completely understood that Zhu Zhuqing's fatal attack was ordered by Tang San.

Now that he was exposed, he was being watched by forces all over the continent!

It was simply—

A bastard!

“I am a magnanimous person, but also a petty one. Those who trouble me for no reason... Tianheng, Huo Wu, what do you think? If I endure this, how will others see me?” Tang San asked the two.

Yu Tianheng chuckled at Huo Yuhao, “If you don't retaliate, I'd look down on you, Captain.”

Huo Wu placed one hand on her hip, smiling, “Captain Tang San, my opinion is the same as Yu Tianheng's.”

“See, everyone says so.” Tang San revealed a benevolent smile and transmitted his voice to Huo Yuhao again:

【Don't even think about joining Spirit Hall. I can tell you clearly that Bibi Dong admires me quite a bit. If I ask her to research you, she's highly unlikely to refuse. Moreover, I think that compared to cultivating another twin spirits owner, she might prefer to obtain a three hundred eighty thousand year torso bone, or perhaps research the two Heaven Dream Iceworms in your head.】

Dou Yi Tianmeng: “...”

Dou Er Tianmeng: “...”

They were 100% sure now, this Tang San was a transmigrator, and he had killing intent towards them... Damn it! They could only go all the way with Huo Yuhao!

“Damn it! Tang Dog! You're a fucking beast...” Huo Yuhao cursed, as if completely broken by Tang San, losing all composure, spewing out obscenities and foul language.

【Tsk~】

Tang San's expression remained unchanged, because this only showed Huo Yuhao's own weakness. Therefore, he added fuel to the fire, continuing to verbally attack Huo Yuhao, saying, “Accept your fate. We have seven people. Your barking won't change the fact of your incompetent failure.”

“Tang San, do you think I don't have anything on you?” Huo Yuhao, after cursing for a while, was parched, and said coldly, “Do you believe I'll reveal your true identity?”

“Suit yourself.” Tang San looked indifferent, and then transmitted his voice again: 【After all, secrets always come to light. What do you think, will my cheap old man, hiding in the dark, suddenly jump out, kill you, and take your torso bone? After all, even if there are two worms, it doesn't change the fact that they can't even defeat a portion of Ten-thousand year Spirit Beasts.】

Although after the last spar with Tang Hao, and based on Tang San's current mental force level, he could already confirm that Tang Hao was not by his side, Huo Yuhao didn't know that.

To survive, he had to endure.

This was the information gap.

Unless he was beaten to the point of losing his mind...

As for whether Tang San's Clear Sky Hammer Spirit should be exposed... it definitely had to be exposed, after all, to join Spirit Hall, he also needed to show some sincerity.

Moreover, if he still didn't join Spirit Hall this time, Bibi Dong would start to think, "He's asking for death."

Dou Er Tianmeng's irritable voice echoed in Huo Yuhao's mind: "Damn it! Fight him to the end!"

Dou Yi Tianmeng also felt humiliated, but he couldn't act impulsively at this moment. He comforted his other self and then said to Huo Yuhao, "Yuhao, surrender. With the three of us here, helping you escape won't be a problem. If you stay in this place any longer, I estimate everyone will become envious."

Huo Yuhao.

An orphan.

Possessing a Ten-thousand year spirit ring and Spirit Bone.

twin spirits.

These exposures were enough to make everyone on the current arena envious—

If you're not for me, then die!

This was the common thought of all major forces, only differing in the degree of their thoughts.

As for why Tang San wasn't afraid...

Dou Yi Tianmeng and Dou Er Tianmeng both had to admit that he had already established his power, with background and allies, and he himself was a Martial Soul Theory Master, revered by almost all common Spirit Masters across the continent—those who had read Wuhun News and guessed it was the same person, this point... when Tang San exposed his Ten-thousand year spirit ring, it's estimated that any Spirit Master would have guessed it.

If others wanted to deal with him, they not only had to weigh the opponent's strength but also consider whether they could afford to provoke the network of vested interests that had already formed behind him.

None of these were comparable to Huo Yuhao, this lucky fellow.

“Damn it! Don't assume I can't fight one against seven!” Huo Yuhao was practically fuming, completely ignoring the Heaven Dream Iceworm's persuasion, activating his three hundred eighty thousand year torso bone, and unleashing Eternal Frozen Domain!

Eternal Frozen Domain was a Domain type Spirit Ability that could rapidly freeze the area around the body, capable of freezing a thousand miles.

Layers of ice emanated from Huo Yuhao's body, and in just two blinks of an eye, they covered the entire arena, even freezing all seven of Tang San's group.

Even though Tang San used Blue Silver Emperor to cover the others, they were still frozen.

After all, this was a skill from a three hundred eighty thousand year Spirit Bone!

“Ten-thousand year Spirit Bone!”

“Domain type skill!”

“And it's the finest among Ten-thousand year Spirit Bones, the most crucial torso bone!”

At this moment, all the major forces witnessed what kind of Ten-thousand year Spirit Bone Huo Yuhao possessed, and that it came with such a powerful Domain type Spirit Ability.

However, Huo Yuhao no longer cared; he only wanted to kill Tang San in front of him.

After using Eternal Frozen Domain, Huo Yuhao then planned to use Ice Emperor's Rage, saying to Dou Yi Tianmeng, Dou Er Tianmeng, and the Ice Jade Emperor Scorpion, “Help me! While Tang San is sealed by ice, it will take some time to break free. Let's kill them all in one go!”

After a moment of silence, the two worms and one scorpion agreed.

This Tang San, although a transmigrator, was determined to kill Huo Yuhao, and he had bound them to Huo Yuhao, so he wouldn't listen to their explanations in the future.

Therefore, they had to be ruthless!

As for the Child of Destiny or whatever... go to hell!

Both Heaven Dream Iceworms were angry and no longer wanted to endure; they decided to kill Tang San... At least, Huo Yuhao was also a Child of Destiny of an era.

Thus, the two Heaven Dream Iceworms injected their massive mental force into Huo Yuhao's body, integrating it into his torso bone, converting it into spirit power, and condensing a ball of ice-blue energy.

“Ice Emperor's Rage!”

With a loud roar, Huo Yuhao struggled to stand upright, and an extremely powerful freezing aura surged out, heading towards the seven blocks of solid ice on the arena—since he had already offended them, he might as well offend them completely; they all had to die anyway!

Boom!

Blazing flames emanated from one of the blocks of solid ice. Huo Wu leaped out from it, and the Sun Goddess assumed a corresponding pose with her.

Her third spirit ring lit up.

A golden-red halo instantly appeared, and a golden stream of light erupted from the Sun Goddess's hands, like brilliant sunlight, clashing with Ice Emperor's Rage.

However, the stalemate lasted no more than three seconds before Ice Emperor's Rage crushed Huo Wu's Fire Dance Bright Sun and charged towards her?!

“What?!”

As the icy aura was about to strike Huo Wu, freezing her, the ice that had bound Tang San shattered in an instant.

A Blue Silver Emperor Binding wrapped around Huo Wu's waist, pulling her away, and then more Blue Silver Emperor Bindings were released, forcefully flinging the remaining five blocks of ice out of the arena.

Tang San intended to face the Ice Emperor's Rage by himself.

However, Tang San did not display any peculiar abilities; he simply leaped up into the air.

“Idiot! How will you dodge by jumping into the air?!” Huo Yuhao laughed loudly, abruptly changing the direction of the Ice Emperor's Rage to sweep towards Tang San.

However, Tang San remained unhurried, wrapping Blue Silver Emperor Bindings around his hands and feet, and weaving a Blue Silver Emperor snowboard under his feet.

Tang San performed a somersault in the air, landing steadily on the upward-sloping Ice Emperor's Rage current with his Blue Silver Emperor snowboard, continuously controlling his body to slide towards Huo Yuhao.

“What?!”

Huo Yuhao was greatly astonished, not expecting Tang San to have such a move, actually using the current of his Ice Emperor's Rage, with the Blue Silver Emperor snowboard underfoot, to slide down with the help of gravity.

Was this skiing?

Or surfing?

And this maneuver—

Bang!

Tang San had already arrived in front of Huo Yuhao.

He lightly lifted his left foot, applied a hint of spirit power to his back foot, causing him to leap from the Ice Emperor's Rage aura, then spun around, slamming the snowboard into Huo Yuhao's face.

In an instant, Huo Yuhao was sent flying backward, and the gushing Ice Emperor's Rage abruptly ceased.

Boom!

Huo Yuhao crashed into the spirit tool that created ice and snow in a corner of the arena, his body sinking into it.

At this moment, Tang San slowly landed, his movements extremely graceful.

“No matter how strong an attack is, if it doesn’t hit, it’s useless, lucky young man.” The Blue Silver Emperor snowboard under Tang San’s feet shattered, having been frozen by contact with the Ice Emperor's Rage aura.

But the way it shattered, as if he were stepping on ice lotuses, each step radiating brilliance, left all the spectators present dumbfounded.

Tang San’s series of actions flowed seamlessly, happening in a flash of lightning, yet the movements left a lasting impression.

“Oh my god! I filmed it!” A female Spirit Master raised the Sub-Mother Soul Guidance Photography Ball in her hand, shouting excitedly, “I’m keeping it as a souvenir!”

“Sell it to me! I’ll offer ten thousand gold coins!”

Spectators nearby who hadn't captured the scene immediately shouted, hoping to purchase it at a high price.

Compared to these ordinary Spirit Masters, those from major powers saw something deeper—Tang San’s masterful control over his spirit power!

That scene was actually extremely perilous; anything that touched the Ice Emperor's Rage aura would be frozen stiff.

But Tang San, upon contact, used spirit power to isolate himself, and during the descent, an impact repulsion force was generated between the snowboard and the air current, allowing him to float and slide on it, which was truly incredible.

Moreover, according to their perception, from the beginning of this process to the final turn where he used the Blue Silver Emperor snowboard to send Huo Yuhao flying, the spirit power Tang San used did not exceed level twenty!

In other words, Tang San did not overpower Huo Yuhao with spirit power, but rather used less spirit power than Huo Yuhao to achieve the maximum offensive effect.

“A heaven-sent prodigy!” Bibi Dong’s eyes gleamed.

As for that Huo Yuhao...

What if he has twin spirits?

He’s just a waste, his use of spirit power is so crude, and he even had a personality change when Zhu Zhuqing ambushed him earlier... it must have been the hundred-thousand-year Spirit Beast he sacrificed for temporarily possessing him.

Also, Tang San and Huo Yuhao seem to have a conflict...

If she had to choose, Bibi Dong would certainly pick Tang San.

A Martial Soul Theory Master is much more useful than a lucky individual, and that quick torso bone looks very good.

Although it’s not suitable for Nana, its age is probably over a hundred thousand years, so Nana absorbing it wouldn’t pose any major problems.

In the shadows, Bibi Dong had already decided Huo Yuhao’s future fate.

At this moment, in the arena.

Tang San waved to Huo Wu, Yu Tianheng, and the others he had sent out of the arena, then glanced at Huo Yuhao, who was still embedded in the spirit tool, and turned to Chrysanthemum Douluo, bowing respectfully and saying, “Your Excellency, can the results be announced now?”

Chrysanthemum Douluo finally reacted, coughed twice, and stepped onto the stage, saying, “I announce that in the match between Heaven Dou Royal First Team and Canghui Academy team, Heaven Dou Royal First Team wins...”

“Tang San, I’m not dead yet!” Huo Yuhao suddenly woke up, interrupting Chrysanthemum Douluo’s announcement.

He pressed his hands against the metal sheet behind him, forcefully jumping down from the spirit tool that created ice and snow.

“Cough cough!”

Spitting out a mouthful of blood, the bruised and swollen Huo Yuhao glared fiercely at Tang San, “I won’t accept defeat! Why should this continent be named Tang?!”

“What nonsense are you spouting?”

Chrysanthemum Douluo’s expression was displeased.

A mere Spirit Elder, even with a second Spirit, a hundred-thousand-year spirit ring, and a Spirit Bone, could not shout in front of a Titled Douluo.

If this weren't a competition venue, with many eyes watching, he would have killed this kid immediately and dug out that hundred-thousand-year-level torso bone.

However, this was the Continental Elite Tournament.

It was broadcast live across the entire continent.

As a referee, he had to maintain his reputation.

“Look at how injured you are! Do you still want to fight?”

“I advise you to surrender and try your best in the second round of the revival matches.”

Chrysanthemum Douluo’s words were objective, but Huo Yuhao might have suffered a concussion from Tang San’s blow—that hit was to his head, which might have made him less clear-headed now, intent on fighting Tang San, so he didn’t appreciate the advice and even shouted, “I want a life-and-death battle with Tang San!”

Chrysanthemum Douluo: “.....”

Is this person crazy?

Lose once and demand a life-and-death duel? What do you think this place is?

As a referee, he naturally wouldn't allow such a thing to happen.

Chrysanthemum Douluo said, "This is not the place to settle your personal grievances.

Don't make trouble; life-and-death duels are not permitted."

"Supreme Pontiff!"

Unexpectedly, Huo Yuhao turned towards the VIP section and shouted loudly, "I want to compete with Tang San to determine who is superior, and who lives or dies! I hope the Supreme Pontiff will grant permission!"

At these words, the entire arena fell silent.

Everyone thought that Huo Yuhao of Canghui Academy had gone mad, daring to directly propose to the Spirit Hall Supreme Pontiff—what was his status?

Just a common student from Canghui Academy, what right did he have to directly question the Supreme Pontiff?

Bibi Dong's impression of Huo Yuhao worsened, but at this moment and in this venue, she still stood up, her melodious voice echoing throughout the hall, asking, "May I ask what grievance you have with Tang San? This Seat may be able to preside over justice for you."

"As a human, I just can't stand a hypocritical fellow like Tang San, that's all." Huo Yuhao seemed truly to have been driven insane by Tang San, speaking nonsense.

Bibi Dong's expression darkened slightly as she asked Emperor Xue Ye and Dai Legao, "The rules of the tournament were jointly discussed by our three parties.

Now that someone is making trouble, what should be done?”

Dai Legao, with an attitude of detachment, said, “This is a matter between two academies within the Heaven Dou Empire, and it has nothing to do with our Star Luo Empire.

You two can discuss it.”

Emperor Xue Ye’s gaze towards Huo Yuhao was also displeased, feeling that this fellow had good talent, but why was his temper so stubborn?

It was just a loss, what was the big deal?

Really...

With such a character, if he didn’t change in the future, he would surely cause countless disasters.

“Both have hundred-thousand-year spirit rings, a match would be good.” Emperor Xue Ye thought for a moment and said so.

He believed Tang San would know his limits and could properly teach the reckless Huo Yuhao a lesson.

“Since that’s the case—”

Bibi Dong turned back, using her powerful level ninety-eight spirit power to make her voice resonate throughout the entire venue once more: “The match between the two academies continues.

Those who fall out of the arena or lose their combat ability will be considered defeated.”

She didn’t say that a life-and-death duel was permitted, only that the match would continue.

Chrysanthemum Douluo sneered at Huo Yuhao, then turned and bowed to the Supreme Pontiff, saying, “As per the Supreme Pontiff’s command, the match between Heaven Dou Royal First Team and Canghui Academy team continues!”

Good advice is wasted on those determined to die.

Since he was asking for a beating, even if Huo Yuhao wanted to surrender later, as long as his voice wasn't loud, he would pretend not to hear, only intervening to stop it at the moment Huo Yuhao was about to be beaten to death—after all, if a Titled Douluo was watching and someone was still beaten to death, then he, as a referee, would be seen as unjust.

“Isn’t that Huo Yuhao just asking for a beating?”

The spectators discussed animatedly.

“He wouldn’t think he can defeat Tang San, who has already reached the Spirit King level, with his Spirit Elder level strength, would he?”

“Maybe he has masochistic tendencies.

I know, people like that are usually very cheap, they need to be scolded, they bark loudly but when it comes to a real fight, they act like a dog, a lapdog even.”

“Isn’t that right?”

“But this Huo Yuhao is still good, at least he dares to shout in front of Tang San himself...”

203: Humans transform into soul beasts?

Huo Yuhao was deaf to the noisy mockery from the audience; his eyes were fixed on only one person: Tang San.

He knew he was not Tang San's match in cultivation, but Dou Yi Tianmeng, Dou Er Tianmeng, and the Ice Jade Emperor Scorpion had analyzed that Tang San, in this competition, should be relatively rule-abiding.

In Huo Yuhao's view, this was even more hypocritical.

Therefore, he could use every trick he had, while the other party couldn't actually kill him.

Being famous had its advantages.

But the downside was that once one did something out of line, they would be criticized, and the mouths of the World could not be stopped.

Whether before or after transmigration, there was one thing Huo Yuhao was very certain about: the World's idiots were an extremely large group.

This was also Tang San's fault; who told him and that Guang Ling to create things like the Sub-Mother Soul Guidance Photography Ball?

"I'll take over," the Ice Jade Emperor Scorpion's voice rang in Huo Yuhao's mind, and then it instantly took control of Huo Yuhao's body, causing him to fall to the ground.

From Tang San's and the various spectators' perspectives, Huo Yuhao at this moment was baring his fangs, his hands transformed into icy crystal pincers, and with the scorpion tail emerging from his lower back, he looked like a real scorpion.

If it were just the Ice Jade Emperor Scorpion alone, it naturally couldn't achieve such a feat, but with the mental force amplification of the two Heaven Dream Iceworms, the three hundred eighty thousand year spirit ring and Spirit Bone reached an extremely perfect level with Huo Yuhao's body, making him seem like he had truly transformed into an Ice Jade Scorpion.

Even in Tang San's eyes, Huo Yuhao was no longer a human but a... Ice Jade Scorpion—the hundred-thousand-year transformed kind.

Tang San grinned, muttering, "Overly clever! Are scorpions and worms, after living for over three hundred thousand or a million years, only this intelligent? Facts prove that living a long time has little to do with intelligence; not interacting with people just leads to this."

"Speaking of which, during the sacrifice, you should have seen Huo Yuhao's memories... Right, for someone who doesn't distinguish right from wrong and judges a person based on personal preference, what useful things could exist in their memories?"

Why did Tang San say the other party was overly clever?

Because at this moment, in the eyes of all the Spirit Douluo and Titled Douluo in the venue, Huo Yuhao was not a human but a transformed hundred-thousand-year Ice Jade Emperor Scorpion.

Although, a hundred-thousand-year transformed Spirit Beast would be unlikely to have twin spirits.

But—

What if this one was an exception?

Anyway, most of these Spirit Douluo and Titled Douluo had never seen what a transformed hundred-thousand-year Spirit Beast looked like or what its situation was.

From this moment on, whether Huo Yuhao was or wasn't, in their eyes, he was a hundred-thousand-year Spirit Beast in human form.

No other reason.

Spirit Bone, it was too tempting!

However, everyone present held back; they wanted to see how strong Tang San truly was and if he could deal with a transformed hundred-thousand-year Spirit Beast.

Whoosh!

Under the Ice Empress's control, Huo Yuhao, like a scorpion, rapidly attacked Tang San. His linear speed, forty meters per second, already surpassed that of an ordinary Spirit Saint-level agility-attack system Spirit Master.

However, Tang San's eyes flashed with purple light, seeing his movements clearly, and he quickly dodged to the side.

However, Huo Yuhao was able to make a ninety-degree turn without any decrease in speed, even accelerating quite a bit.

"Ice Empress, one of the three great Heavenly Kings of the Extreme North, truly has some skill," Tang San sighed inwardly, his feet moving continuously, his figure becoming ethereal, like an immortal treading on waves, engaging in a speed battle with it.

Leaping, shifting, his figure was ethereal.

Everyone saw that Tang San's entire being was like the wind, each time dodging Huo Yuhao's charge by an extremely small margin.

Such precise control—

"Is this movement technique some kind of self-created Spirit Ability?" Bibi Dong recalled the information on various Sects, but no Sect or family had such a movement technique.

So, was it self-created by Tang San?

Tang San, light as the wind, laughed as he moved and jumped, saying, "Can you go any faster?"

"Damn it! You're infuriating me!" the Ice Empress roared, accelerating again, disregarding whether Huo Yuhao's Spirit Elder-level body could withstand it, only wanting to severely teach this mocking fellow a lesson.

Huo Yuhao's body had been completely treated as her own, and even with the two Heaven Dream Iceworms' persuasion, she wouldn't listen.

Helplessly, the two Heaven Dream Iceworms could only help.

After all, they were both "henpecked."

Moreover, if they were to stop the Ice Empress now, Huo Yuhao's body would suddenly halt, and his internal organs truly wouldn't be able to bear it, ensuring he wouldn't survive.

"Eternal Frozen Domain!"

As Huo Yuhao ran, white air currents emerged from his body. At this point, Huo Yuhao no longer aimed to chase Tang San but rapidly circled him. A hundred-meter-high frozen air current enveloped Tang San.

In terms of Domain, the Ice Empress using it herself was much more skilled and varied than Huo Yuhao.

But this point further convinced those Titled Douluo:

Huo Yuhao was indeed a hundred-thousand-year Ice Jade Scorpion transformed!

After all, the current Huo Yuhao was completely different from before, clearly revealing the true form of a Spirit Beast!

At this moment, Tang San was at the center of the frozen air current tornado. He stopped, looking at the white air current, realizing that the Eternal Frozen Domain unleashed by the Ice Empress was on a completely different level from when Huo Yuhao himself used it.

Although it wasn't impossible to break out by force, trump cards should be saved for last; using it against a mere scorpion would be overkill.

"Ice Emperor's Rage!" Huo Yuhao, controlled by the Ice Empress, condensed a ball of light at the base of his scorpion tail, unleashing the Ice Emperor's Rage and charging towards the air current tornado formed by the Eternal Frozen Domain.

Instantly, the air current tornado became even larger, and due to its rotation, countless ice crystals shot towards Tang San's central position.

Facing the torrential barrage of ice crystals, Tang San remained calm. His hands turned jade-like, but at this moment, they displayed a golden hue.

Clink!

With the first crisp sound emanating from it, Tang San also moved, stepping on the ice crystals and gradually ascending. His golden-jade hands unleashed Controlling Crane Catching Dragon, borrowing and transferring force, continuously shattering and pushing away the ice crystals.

And the clinking sound was not a chaotic noise; it was like a melodious tune. At first listen, it seemed chaotic, but upon closer listening, it was as if a person was dancing gracefully in a storm, constantly dodging and deflecting raindrops.

What kind of courage was this?

And what kind of confidence!

Ding-dong!

With the final collision of finger and ice crystal, Tang San had already used the ice crystals to leap out of the air current, "standing" in the hundred-meter-high sky.

What does it mean to be independent of the World?

The current Tang San showed the World the concrete manifestation of this term—standing in the sky, looking down on all living beings, alone.

At this moment, all the spectators present were speechless.

But Tang San's movements did not stop. His hands moved continuously, rotating with a peculiar rhythm, their direction consistent with the tornado's rotation below.

Using the principle of the Rasengan, Tang San, with the momentum of Controlling Crane Catching Dragon, accelerated the rotation speed of his spirit power to match the tornado's, making contact with it, and then accelerating even further.

By this point, the control of the frost tornado below had fallen into Tang San's hands.

Once a Spirit Ability is released, if its power is too strong, the caster might find it difficult to control. However, if others understand a bit of the principle of interacting forces and have the corresponding spirit power to achieve it, temporarily taking control of a Spirit Ability is not impossible.

"Rise!"

Tang San roared, suddenly raising his hands. The giant tornado, over a hundred meters high and almost covering the entire venue, was lifted by Tang San like a ribbon.

Then he suddenly swung it downwards.

Whoosh!

The vast frost tornado charged towards Huo Yuhao.

"What?!" The Ice Empress was dumbfounded. She wanted to undo the Spirit Ability she had unleashed, but once a Spirit Ability forms, it contains not only spirit power but also natural air currents, and the rotational inertial force had been doubled by Tang San using the method of borrowing force to strike.

The Ice Empress could dispel the frost elements within it, but how could she withstand the rotational inertia?

This World was not entirely unscientific!

"Run!" Dou Yi Tianmeng and Dou Er Tianmeng were terrified, immediately urging the Ice Empress and Huo Yuhao to jump out of the arena.

But—

How fast was the descending frost?

In just an instant, Huo Yuhao was struck by the tornado, completely sucked into it, and countless ice crystals continuously pierced through Huo Yuhao's body, riddling him with holes.

"Boom!"

A huge roar resounded, and the ground below was completely destroyed, revealing a large pit, and even other areas hidden beneath were affected.

Chrysanthemum Douluo gasped, trembling all over: "The hardness of this ground is difficult for even a Spirit Saint to destroy, yet it was shattered by a single blow!"

"Truly terrifying!"

"The attack of this Ten-thousand year soul beast is too powerful, but Tang San is even more formidable, actually being able to return that attack... Truly unbelievable."

"To what extent has his control over spirit power reached?"

At this moment, Chrysanthemum Douluo already had a guess: that Tang San being able to absorb a ten-thousand year spirit ring might not have been due to picking up a heavily injured Ten-thousand year soul beast, but rather genuinely defeating a Ten-thousand year soul beast.

Moreover, even a heavily injured Ten-thousand year soul beast is equivalent to a Titled Douluo!

Tang San's strength is truly terrifying!

Furthermore, Chrysanthemum Douluo had a premonition that this was not all of Tang San's trump cards, but merely the tip of the iceberg of his full strength...

...

"No, Huo Yuhao is too heavily injured, he won't survive, and we will die too, we must find a way." Dou Er Tianmeng felt Huo Yuhao's aura weakening and became frightened.

"Now there's only one way: to make Huo Yuhao a Spirit Beast!" Dou Yi Tianmeng's eyes were solemn, "A Ten-thousand year soul beast can transform into human form; this process involves shaping the beast body into a human body, then sealing the Ten-thousand year cultivation. Similarly, if we go in the opposite direction and reverse this process, we can also transform a human body into a true Spirit Beast form."

"We have both the Ten-thousand year origin and the Spirit Bone."

"Huo Yuhao's human body is riddled with holes at this moment. To continue living, he must take a desperate risk... With our two million-year mental force, we can completely achieve this."

Dou Er Tianmeng asked, "Then who will be the main body?"

"Naturally, it's Bingbing."

Dou Yi Tianmeng rolled his eyes, feeling that his Dou Er self might have been absorbed for longer, and his intelligence was also affected a bit, "We're both Ice Silkworms. If the reversal succeeds, and Huo Yuhao turns into our appearance, what good would that do? There are so many Titled Douluo on site, and even a ninety-eighth-level one, and that Elder Palace even has a ninety-ninth-level one. Wouldn't doing that be seeking death?"

"Bingbing is different. Once the reversal succeeds, she should be able to directly exert the strength of a three hundred eighty thousand-year cultivation. Even if some cultivation is wasted during the transformation process, her cultivation will definitely remain above three hundred thousand years."

"We might not win, but we can definitely escape."

"Moreover, we can use our insect skin to resurrect."

"But Bingbing can't."

Bingdi listened to Dou Yi Tianmeng's analysis, her forehead covered in black lines, and cursed, "I must have lost my mind to sacrifice myself with you two idiots! Why didn't I choose Tang San in the first place?!"

Humans are hypocritical, so what does it matter to them, the Spirit Beasts?

At least if she helped Tang San, he would maintain appearances. For example, that Soft Bones Rabbit, in the original fate trajectory, the Silver Dragon King would even call her grandma.

And those Sky Azure Bull Python and Titan Giant Ape also revived, and even became Divinities.

Damn it, this worm can't even pick a person, choosing a brain-dead idiot... There was no conflict between Huo Yuhao and this Tang San at first, yet they had to go looking for trouble, peeking with mental force, not admitting mistakes afterward, and even arguing back. Now look, they're seeking death.

Dou Yi Tianmeng helplessly said, "Brother wanted to too, but who told me I didn't meet Tang San first? Also, that Iliex was truly unscrupulous, directly sealing off our exit passage."

“Bah! If it were me, I wouldn’t want to live in the same room as you two brain-dead morons!” Bingdi was exasperated, but at this moment, she had no choice but to do as the two big meat worms said.

After all, she wasn’t a million-year Spirit Beast. If Huo Yuhao died, these two meat worms would have a backup plan to be reborn, but she couldn’t—damn it, she must have been tricked by this worm into being completely infatuated...

...

“Hiss—”

On the shattered ground, Tang San slowly descended from the sky, and the tornado in front of him suddenly dispersed.

“Hmm?”

Tang San’s Spirit trembled, and he quickly retreated to the edge of the arena.

Where he had been, a azure-blue scorpion appeared, with crystal-like pincers, a bamboo-jointed tail, and eight slender legs... It was an Ice Jade Scorpion!

Moreover, it was an Ice Jade Emperor Scorpion!

At this moment, Tang San almost doubted whether Huo Yuhao was human or a Ten-thousand year soul beast that had transformed.

However, Tang San had a guess.

After all, Xiao Wu was a Ten-thousand year soul beast in human form, her physical body no different from a human’s. The only difference was that she possessed the Ten-thousand year soul beast origin and could autonomously condense spirit rings.

So, is the process of transformation reversible?

Spirit Beasts can transform into humans by sealing their Ten-thousand year cultivation origin.

Then, can humans also transform into Spirit Beasts?

As long as they have the corresponding conditions: a Ten-thousand year level cultivation origin, a corresponding Spirit Bone, a similar Spirit, and knowledge of how to transform.

Huo Yuhao had the Ten-thousand year level cultivation and origin.

Huo Yuhao also had the Ice Jade Emperor Scorpion Spirit.

Huo Yuhao didn't know the method of transformation, but he had two meat worms and an Ice Jade Scorpion in his head. They knew that by reversing the process of transforming into human form, it might actually be possible for a human to transform into a beast.

That's truly impressive.

Those two worms still had some real skill; they probably saw Huo Yuhao's memories and had a sudden burst of inspiration.

After the Ice Jade Emperor Scorpion glanced at Tang San, it did not continue attacking but immediately ran towards the exit passage of the Spirit Arena, preparing to escape this place.

“Presumptuous!”

Chrysanthemum Douluo stepped forward to block, but was pushed away by a scorpion tail, hitting a nearby railing.

Although he was a ninety-fifth-level Titled Douluo, compared to a ferocious beast of over three hundred thousand years, he was still somewhat lacking.

“Bastard!” Chrysanthemum Douluo got up and shouted towards outside the arena, “Old Ghost! Help me stop this evil beast!”

“Coming!” Ghost Douluo rushed over and performed a Martial Soul Fusion Skill with Chrysanthemum Douluo.

In an instant, golden and black lights burst forth, freezing the space of the arena, making it difficult for everyone to move.

And within this Dual Polarity Static Domain, although the Ice Jade Emperor Scorpion’s movements slowed down, it could still move. This scene shocked the Titled Douluo who were not caught in the Dual Polarity Static Domain.

“What kind of Spirit Beast is this? It can’t even be completely frozen by the Martial Soul Fusion Skill of two Titled Douluo?”

“Its cultivation must exceed one hundred thousand years, right?”

At this moment, Bibi Dong rose from her seat, her ninety-eighth-level spirit power pressing down on the Ice Jade Emperor Scorpion, and she lightly exclaimed, “This Spirit City, is it somewhere you can come and go as you please?”

As her words fell, the scepter in Bibi Dong’s hand, representing the authority of the Supreme Pontiff, shot out, instantly piercing through the Ice Jade Emperor Scorpion’s tail, pinning it to the ground.

“Bastard!”

The Ice Jade Emperor Scorpion roared, but a fiery female voice came out. With a surge of spirit power, it actually broke through the Martial Soul Fusion Skill of Chrysanthemum and Ghost Douluo.

“Black Widow, let me go, or I’ll self-destruct! My three hundred eighty thousand years of cultivation is equivalent to a ninety-eighth-level powerhouse among your Titled Douluo. Even if I can’t kill you, the inheritor of a Divinity, most of the people in Spirit City will be buried with me!”

“Even that ninety-ninth-level old scoundrel in your Elder Palace can’t stop me!”

The information revealed by the Ice Jade Emperor Scorpion caused both fear and shock.

This Spirit Beast had actually cultivated for three hundred eighty thousand years!

And the current Supreme Pontiff of Spirit Hall was actually the so-called inheritor of a Divinity... Does that mean the current Supreme Pontiff can continue to break through and become a god in the future?

Moreover, Spirit Hall also had a ninety-ninth-level Titled Douluo!

Bibi Dong’s expression darkened. She was also surprised that a Spirit Beast could cultivate for over three hundred thousand years, but she didn’t expect such a Spirit Beast to be able to discern that she had received the inheritance of a Divinity.

However, she was determined to kill this Spirit Beast!

Although its attribute didn’t match the Soul Eating Spider Emperor, its appearance was similar to a spider, and both scorpions and spiders are venomous creatures, so it could be absorbed.

And it had three hundred eighty thousand years of cultivation!

This quality was enough to compensate for the attribute mismatch.

Moreover, the most important reason was that this Ice Jade Emperor Scorpion called her a “Black Widow”...

That hit her sore spot!

Completely intolerable!

204: Summoned beasts of the soul: Jihuo Tianmeng and Jibingtian

After the Ice Jade Emperor Scorpion finished speaking, countless cold frost auras condensed on her body, and the majestic energy startled all the Titled Douluo present.

If this energy truly exploded, it would probably destroy most of Spirit City, just as the Ice Jade Emperor Scorpion threatened.

Bibi Dong hesitated.

If this beast really self-destructed, even if she dealt with it in the end, those bastards in the Elder Palace would have a legitimate reason to impeach her, and those old fogies had always disliked her.

However, Tang San saw through the Ice Jade Emperor Scorpion's bravado.

The so-called self-destruction, the Ice Jade Emperor Scorpion couldn't do it at all; the outer energy film was merely an imitation created by Heaven Dream Iceworm's mental force, not true cultivation origin energy.

Inside, this fellow was actually very weak.

“Spirit Beast transforming into a human should take time; it's impossible to achieve overnight, and it should also start from an embryo, for example: the Snow Emperor in Dou Er.”

Tang San thought to himself, “It takes time... The reverse transformation process, a human transforming into a Spirit Beast, should also take a lot of time, but the Ice Jade Emperor Scorpion didn't take much time... According to my Purple Demon Eye observation, the cultivation origin energy within her body is pitifully small, meaning her physical body is terrifyingly strong, capable of crushing a Titled Douluo like Chrysanthemum Douluo.”

“So, she looks powerful on the outside, but in reality, she's severely depleted inside... It's estimated there was a mistake in the transformation, after all, those two Heaven Dream Iceworms, apart from their strong mental force, are useless otherwise; I shouldn't have too much hope for them.”

“Over three hundred thousand years of cultivation, more than half was consumed and wasted.”

After confirming her situation, Tang San slowly walked towards the Ice Jade Emperor Scorpion, his Purple Demon Eye noticing the weak point in the mental force layer. He used Nine Steps to Heaven, and in an instant, he arrived in front of her.

He clenched his left fist, infused spirit power, which was converted by the Clear Sky Hammer, condensing a wisp of destructive aura. It instantly broke through her energy shield and slammed into the Ice Jade Emperor Scorpion's head.

Buzz!

In an instant, the energy layer on the Ice Jade Emperor Scorpion's body dissipated. The destructive force poured into her mind, shattering the souls of the Ice Jade Emperor Scorpion, Dou Yi Tianmeng, Dou Er Tianmeng, and Huo Yuhao.

In less than three seconds, the souls of Ice Emperor, Dou Yi and Dou Er Tianmeng were extremely weak, while Huo Yuhao's soul was completely shattered, his Spirit scattered.

Tang San was a magnanimous person. Behind his back, whatever you said didn't matter, but if you dared to jump in front of him, then you would have to pay the corresponding price.

Benevolence and cruelty are antonyms, but they can also coexist in the same person and are not contradictory.

That strike just now happened in a flash, even Bibi Dong didn't react until she saw the red spirit ring with three golden patterns and the two platinum spirit rings, only then realizing that this three-hundred-eighty-thousand-year-old Spirit Beast was dead, and had even dropped three spirit rings.

“It's a pity I didn't kill it myself, so I can't absorb it.”

Bibi Dong sighed inwardly, also realizing that the Ice Jade Emperor Scorpion might have just been strong on the outside but weak on the inside. After transforming back into a Spirit Beast, the cultivation within her body was far less powerful than it appeared on the surface.

And Tang San might have discovered this point, thus he struck and killed her.

However, most Spirit Master probably didn't know; they could only see the surface: Tang San killed a three-hundred-eighty-thousand-year-old Spirit Beast with one punch... Thus, for the residents of the entire Spirit City, Tang San was their savior.

Courageous and resourceful!

Incredible!

Yu Xiaogang, if you had even one-tenth of Tang San's ability, how could you have fallen to such a state?

“Tang San, you have rendered meritorious service by killing this beast and saving Spirit City.” Bibi Dong's voice was high-pitched, preparing to elevate Tang San to a higher position and completely bind him to Spirit Hall. “You are a Martial Soul Theory Master, benefiting the continent. I hereby confer upon you the title of Honorary Elder of Spirit Hall, a position second only to mine. You may freely enter and exit Spirit City and the library within the Supreme Pontiff Palace. How do you feel about this?”

“Thank you, Supreme Pontiff Your Excellency, for the conferment.” Tang San smiled slightly, bowed, and accepted Bibi Dong's conferment.

Being an Elder or whatever, it didn't matter.

What was important was that he could freely browse the books within Spirit City and the Supreme Pontiff Palace!

This was the key!

Next, it was the Ice Jade Emperor Scorpion's problem.

He had killed this fierce beast, so her spirit rings and Spirit Bone naturally belonged to him.

However, in terms of attributes, none were suitable.

Iliex said, "Release Wu Lin. With my help, she can devour those three spirit rings. I have ways to train those three fellows into obedient pets."

Upon hearing this, Tang San released Wu Lin, an ice-blue little person, who opened her big mouth and sucked all three spirit rings into her body. Then she also dismantled the Ice Jade Emperor Scorpion's torso Spirit Bone and swallowed it in one gulp.

This scene left everyone dumbfounded—

Was this absorbing spirit rings?

Or some kind of storage method?

Was that blue-haired little girl a storage space?

Bibi Dong was a little curious and asked, "What is this?"

Tang San first asked Iliex, then said, "This might be the special ability of Wu Lin and Wu Tong; they can store spirit rings and Spirit Bone, but only those of corresponding attributes: ice and fire."

"Although I haven't thoroughly researched how they do it, they can indeed preserve spirit rings indefinitely. I estimate that when my future strength is higher, I can achieve the sealing of spirit rings, so that even if they are not killed by others, they can still be absorbed. However, Wu Lin and Wu Tong can most likely only seal spirit rings of ice and fire attributes.”

As a woman, Bibi Dong's sixth sense told her that Tang San was hiding something. She was a little angry, but considering it was a public occasion, her questioning of his abilities had already touched upon some taboos, so it was normal for him to hide something. She sighed and said, “That truly is unique. In the future, you could even go into the business of selling spirit rings.”

“Don't even mention it, Your Holiness's idea truly reminded me. If I can research the corresponding principles and create a spirit tool device for storing spirit rings of corresponding attributes, then perhaps in the future, some Spirit Master from large families won't even need to hunt Spirit Beast; they can just buy spirit rings with money.”

Seeing Tang San in a pensive mood, Bibi Dong's eyelids twitched slightly—she had only mentioned it, but she didn't expect Tang San to actually have that idea.

Storing and selling spirit rings?

If it really happened, it would be a huge business.

Afterward, Huo Yuhao / the Ice Jade Emperor Scorpion's corpse was taken away by Spirit Hall personnel, and Tang San was given a purple-gold card with one billion gold coin stored in it, valid throughout the continent. It was considered Spirit Hall buying the Ice Jade Emperor Scorpion's corpse from Tang San.

A three-hundred-eighty-thousand-year-old Spirit Beast, even if its spirit rings and Spirit Bone were gone, its terrifyingly powerful physical body could still be used for research, making it a rare and precious material.

“Captain, you've really stolen the show! You actually killed a hundred-thousand-year transformed Spirit Beast.” Yu Tianheng and the others gathered around, unable to help but exclaim.

“Calm down, it was just good luck. I couldn't have broken her defense on my own.” Tang San motioned for everyone to quiet down, then raised his left hand, “I used my left hand at the time.”

Everyone suddenly understood. After all, they had all experienced the Life and death Arena and understood what kind of power was contained in the Clear Sky Hammer in Tang San's left hand.

However, they still admired him!

After all, even before, Tang San, without using the Clear Sky Hammer, was still able to remain unharmed in the ice and snow tornado, and even forced out the true form of that hundred-thousand-year Spirit Beast.

Moreover, at that time, Tang San had not used any spirit power!

This was proof of his strength!

Team leader Qin Ming also ran over at this time, anxiously asking about Tang San's condition. After learning that he had used the power of his left hand, he finally breathed a sigh of relief.

He had thought Tang San could really kill a hundred-thousand-year Spirit Beast with one punch.

Then there would be no need for the competition to continue; the championship would go directly to their Heaven Dou Royal First Team.

And before leaving the arena, Tang San scanned the audience, his gaze deliberately lingering on Mu Tian, Wang Chen, Xu Xing, and others for a second or two.

This was a warning, and also an announcement:

Don't provoke me!

Otherwise!

Even in broad daylight, I have ways to kill you!

Mu Tian's heart trembled, already scared out of his wits, and he thought to himself: "I absolutely cannot provoke Tang San right now. I'll wait until I've developed sufficiently before considering anything else."

Wang Chen had already given up, marveling at Tang San's strength, already numb: "As fellow transmigrators, Tang San's luck is too good. I'll just obediently listen to Qian Renxue... Come to think of it, I don't seem to have any conflict of interest with Tang San, do I? I only provoked him once, and Tang San didn't actively seek trouble with me afterward... I'll just focus on flattering Qian Renxue, after all, this Tang San now doesn't seem like he'll have much conflict with Spirit Hall."

Xu Xing's eyes, however, narrowed, and he thought to himself: "Tang San's growth is too terrifying; he's invincible at the moment. However, my Spirit is not bad either. Once I cultivate to Spirit Saint and the Myriad Stars Domain truly awakens, completing the true Zhou Tian Xing Dou Great Array, I will surely unify the World!"

Compared to the first two, Xu Xing had already become arrogant after realizing the power of his own Spirit.

However, he needed time to develop...

Because the venue was destroyed and needed to be rebuilt, it would take some time, so the second round's second match would only resume seven days later.

This was an uncontrollable factor.

But it also allowed students from other academies to understand Tang San's formidable strength and gave them time for targeting and analysis.

Although Tang San's performance was dazzling, the powerhouses from various academies could see that Tang San's own spirit power level was not high. That punch that hit the Ice Jade Emperor Scorpion, broke through its energy defense, and killed it, was likely due to his extremely exquisite control over spirit power, enabling him to use one part of strength to achieve the effect of ten parts, or even more.

After all, Tang San's punch that hit the Ice Jade Emperor Scorpion didn't create an opening in its head. Most powerhouses believed that it was highly probable that Tang San's force was injected directly into the Ice Jade Emperor Scorpion's brain...

This seemed even more outrageous!

After returning to the inn, Xiao Wu came over and asked, "Third Brother, is that Ice Jade Emperor Scorpion really dead?"

"No." Tang San shook his head and released Wu Lin and Wu Tong. Between the two of them, there were also three small energy-filled light clusters, which were Dou Yi Tianmeng, Dou Er Tianmeng, and the Ice Jade Emperor Scorpion.

Among them, the Ice Jade Emperor Scorpion's body was the most solid, like an energy scorpion, and its eyes were quite agile, almost identical to the state of Wu Lin and Wu Tong.

"Did this Ice Jade Emperor Scorpion also become a Soul Spirit?" Xiao Wu knew that Tang San had Illiex's assistance, and with his help, it was not impossible for the Ice Jade Emperor Scorpion to become Tang San's Soul Spirit.

"It's not my Soul Spirit, but Wu Lin's." Tang San explained, "With Illiasviel's help, the Ice Jade Emperor Scorpion became an attachment to Wu Lin. The Ice Jade Emperor Scorpion's soul has merged with a spirit ring and Spirit Bone, allowing Wu Lin to command it."

"Besides that, these two Heaven Dream Iceworms are the same. However, one of them, Illiasviel and I are currently modifying, preparing to transform its ice attribute into a fire attribute and give it to Wu Tong."

How could an ice attribute be converted into a fire attribute?

This was also the magical aspect of this World. The ice attribute was not actual ice, but a type of elemental power. As long as it was thoroughly analyzed, by operating it in the opposite way, it could be converted into other elemental powers.

Among them, elements with opposite attributes were the easiest to convert.

"So that's how it is." Xiao Wu suddenly understood, "So, they can live on?"

"Yes." Tang San nodded and asked curiously, "Can a Soft Bones Rabbit resonate with a scorpion and an iceworm?"

"Of course not!" Xiao Wu shook her head vigorously, "But as fellow Spirit Beasts, if the other party dies, it's inevitable to feel a sense of sorrow like 'when the rabbit dies, the fox grieves'... By the way, how did you come up with the idiom 'when the rabbit dies, the fox grieves'? Why does the rabbit have to die, and not the fox dies, rabbit grieves?"

"Just take it as its literal meaning. Foxes feed on rabbits. If a rabbit dies, the fox has no suitable food to eat, so it naturally grieves. From this, it extends. Correspondingly, the other way around, that concept doesn't exist, as rabbits eat grass." Tang San gave Xiao Wu an easy-to-understand explanation, then asked, "Aren't you curious why Huo Yuhao turned into an Ice Jade Emperor Scorpion?"

"Why?" Xiao Wu was startled, then thought of a possibility, trembling all over, "Could it be, transformation?"

"That's right, it's transformation. A Ten-thousand year soul beast can transform into a human, so can a human transform into a Spirit Beast if they meet certain conditions?" Tang San's eyes flickered, "At least, Huo Yuhao met the relevant conditions and was experimented on by these two worms, appearing before us."

"Setting aside external non-material factors like culture and tradition, the boundary between Spirit Beasts and humans doesn't seem to have any fundamental difference..."

Xiao Wu's scalp tingled at this, and she didn't intend to think about it. Instead, she asked, "Why are there two Heaven Dream Iceworms? There should only be one!"

Xiao Wu couldn't understand this point at all.

"It's simple. The other one and Huo Yuhao, this person, are not from our World, but from other Douluo timelines..." Tang San briefly explained the concept of parallel timelines to Xiao Wu, "That is to say, the two of them come from a future similar to our World, where time is probably about ten thousand years ahead of ours."

Xiao Wu wasn't curious about these things; she was only concerned about whether another her existed in another timeline.

"Definitely, but it's been over ten thousand years, so she must have turned into ashes." Tang San remained sharp-tongued; he didn't want to bring up the matter of the Xiao Wu from that timeline—'scabbard' was the best synonym for that Xiao Wu.

Xiao Wu didn't believe it: (¬▽¬ ~) Tch~~

"I won't argue with you." Xiao Wu pouted and walked out of Tang San's room, but inwardly she was happy for Tang San gaining three major new aids, and at the same time, she felt a sense of urgency.

The gap between her strength and Tang San's was growing wider and wider, and she needed to cultivate even harder.

After Xiao Wu left, Tang San and Iliex began to research how to change the attribute of one of the Heaven Dream Iceworms to a fire attribute—

"This is the foundation of the ice attribute's origin."

In Tang San's upper dantian, Iliex analyzed the basic runes of the ice attribute's origin, which were somewhat similar to the spirit tool patterns of the ice attribute, looking like flowing water ripples.

Under Iliex's manipulation, the ice attribute's origin gradually changed, transforming into flame-like patterns, becoming the fire attribute's origin.

"So that's how it is."

After noting the operation, Tang San's soul also began to try, using his mental force, to transform a wisp of the ice attribute's origin into a fire attribute.

Such an operation seemed incredible, but in fact, as long as the corresponding rules were found, and one possessed the power (mental force) to perform the transformation, through experimentation, induction, and summarization, one could leverage the corresponding rules to perform the conversion.

All the great Daos and rules in the World were actually very simple.

The Great Dao is simple!

Nothing more!

Thus, over the next seven days, Tang San worked with Iliex to transform Dou Er Tianmeng's ice attribute origin into a fire attribute.

Once the transformation was complete, it was given to Wu Tong. Iliex carved a master-servant contract between them, ensuring that Dou Er Tianmeng had to obey Wu Tong's commands.

The same applied to Wu Lin's Dou Yi Tianmeng and the Ice Jade Emperor Scorpion.

When the three souls reawakened, seeing their own state, they felt humiliated, but at the same time, they breathed a sigh of relief.

After all, their lives were saved, and if they listened to Tang San in the future, they might even ascend to the God Realm together.

Their three dreams were just that pure.

As for the future of the Spirit Beast race?

None of their business!

Spirit Beasts preyed on each other. Dou Yi Tianmeng and Dou Er Tianmeng had both had their cultivation devoured by fierce beasts in the Star Dou Great Forest. If they had the ability, they would want to slaughter them all.

"From now on, you three are Wu Tong's and Wu Lin's summoned beasts respectively. You, from Dou Er, will be called Heaven Dream from now on; and you, from Dou Yi, will be called Heaven Dream."

Tang San gave the two worms new names. "From now on, you three will no longer reside in my upper dantian. Illyasviel doesn't like to be disturbed, so you will reside in the mental spaces that Wu Tong and Wu Lin possess, as they are also autonomous intelligent Life forms."

"However, if Illyasviel wishes, you can be summoned by him at any time for research."

Heaven Dream was speechless: "So we're not even considered Soul Spirits, but rather summoned beasts of Soul Spirits? But why can the 'me' from Dou Yi be with Ice Ice?"

Heaven Dream didn't mind being converted to the fire attribute; he didn't use the ice attribute much anyway. As for the fire attribute... at least the attack power would be a bit higher.

But what he couldn't stand was why the other him could be with Ice Empress?

"Because you are not native to this World." Tang San said faintly, "You and Heaven Dream are not entirely the same person... The same iceworm, do you really want to NTR yourself from ten thousand years ago?"

Heaven Dream: "???" That idea wasn't impossible, actually.

Heaven Dream noticed Heaven Dream's strange gaze and immediately became angry, saying, "Don't think that just because you're the brother from ten thousand years later, I wouldn't dare hit you. If you dare to have any crooked thoughts, I'll kill you."

Heaven Dream wanted to cry but had no tears, pleading, "Brother doesn't want to be single either!"

Tang San ignored him, only asking, "How did you come to my World?"

"We encountered a spatial turbulence." Heaven Dream changed his expression extremely quickly, shedding his tearful appearance and slowly recounting the whole story...

205: Shrek's defeat is determined

As Heaven Dream described, Tang San also learned how Huo Yuhao came to this World.

Space-time turbulence.

This event was also reflected in the original work, even leading to the plot of “Douluo 3” and “Douluo 4”.

As for the reason for the space-time turbulence, Heaven Dream did not know, it was just—

“Brother... I once saw a chair-like object in the space-time turbulence. It was completely black, with a tall, ancient, and stable backrest, subtly exuding a magnificent aura.” Heaven Dream tried his best to describe the scene he had witnessed, “Its surface was covered with various strange gems and metals, seemingly having traversed multiple planes... That thing must be a supreme treasure!”

“I haven't told Huo Yuhao about this!”

“Boss Tang, I’m sure that thing has also landed in our time and space, but I don’t know if it’s on Douluo Star or somewhere else.”

Tang San understood. That was the god seal throne, and it should be the Eternal and Creation God Seal Throne, the Creator God's divine tool!

The reason for such certainty?

Naturally, Austin Griffin is in this plane, so as his twin-like existence, the Eternal and Creation God Seal Throne will naturally follow.

The two “love and kill each other” endlessly.

However, the Creator God in the god seal throne should not be powerful enough to traverse parallel universes, and space-time turbulence cannot possibly sweep a person and a worm into his time and space.

There should be deeper reasons, for example, why there are so many transmigrators in the Douluo he transmigrated into, as if it were a great battle of transmigrators...

“That should be the god seal throne.”

Iliex, listening to Heaven Dream's description, also realized what the chair he saw was.

“Moreover, it is the most powerful Eternal and Creation God Seal Throne, the Creator God's super divine tool. Before my true death, the person who inherited my light power, who can be said to be my disciple, should serve as the temporary master of that super divine tool... If this old man's guess is correct, no one can become the true master of that god seal throne except the original Creator God. Everyone else can only temporarily borrow the power of that super divine tool.”

“As for the will of some cosmic plane...”

“This old man might have believed it in the past, but now, having accepted some of Tang San's memories and concepts from his previous Life, this old man feels that this is just a pretense. The real authority should be in the hands of the original Creator God, and the artifact Spirit, Eternal Lord, is a wisp of the Creator God's remnant soul.”

“As for inheritors, unless there are some constraints, who would truly be willing to give their power to others?”

“Great people and gods are not perfect.”

Heaven Dream, Heaven Dream, and Ice Jade Emperor Scorpion looked at each other, not knowing what to say.

After all, Huo Yuhao had not read the plot of “god seal throne” before he transmigrated, only heard about it. Therefore, the three of them did not know the specifics of the god seal throne, but hearing Iliex’s description, Heaven Dream already understood what a great opportunity he had missed.

“You don’t have to hope for it.” Iliex seemed to see Heaven Dream’s annoyance and said indifferently, “The Eternal and Creation Throne will never choose an ice silkworm like you, nor will it choose a human with spiritual attributes. Even on the Saint Magic Continent, that Creator God’s Throne will only choose humans with light talent.”

“But even a Son of Light, even if he gains its recognition, only has temporary use rights, not true control.”

“Perhaps, the people of the Six Great Temples all guessed wrong... Indeed, mere mortals, just because the Creator God’s chair is close to the light attribute, they boldly speculate that it only recognizes humans with strong light attributes and acknowledges the Son of Light. Isn’t this also a kind of arrogance?”

However, Iliex believed that if the Eternal and Creation God Seal Throne truly descended upon Douluo Continent, Tang San would be the most likely person to fully control it.

After all, he now knew where the destructive power in Tang San’s hammer came from—the God of Heavenly Condemnation, representing the will of destruction: Austin Griffin.

Tang San must subdue this Heavenly Condemnation.

Moreover, Tang San’s Mysterious Heaven Skill was truly miraculous: upright and peaceful, yin and yang opposite, two儀 rotating.

Life against death!

Eternity against instant!

Creation against destruction!

As long as Tang San's previous speculation was correct, and he chose Cloud Tree for his sixth spirit ring, then the Blue Silver Emperor would inevitably give birth to a trace of Creation Power, turning the illusory into reality.

Thus, when destruction and Creation, Life and death flow and change between eternity and instant, Tang San will surely be able to achieve the true prototype of a human mini-universe!

"The matter of the god seal throne can wait. After all, it is unknown where the Eternal and Creation Throne is." Tang San was more pragmatic. He would not deliberately pursue things that were elusive and untraceable.

He might as well spend that time reading more books in Spirit Hall's library.

Those books alone would be enough for Tang San to read for three to five years and derive more research theories.

"Speaking of which, this old man actually remembered the method for forging the god seal throne." Iliex suddenly said, "As long as there are corresponding materials, it can be reforged, and even the corresponding attributes can be changed."

Heaven Dream, Heaven Dream, and Ice Jade Emperor Scorpion looked at Iliex with strange expressions.

"Cough! Why are you looking at this old man like that? Are 'Undead Scourge' and 'death Holy Mage God' good titles?" Iliex snorted, "Although it wasn't this old man's original intention, this old man did indeed seize the method for forging a god seal throne of divine artifact level... To be honest, this old man intended to forge six demonic seal thrones corresponding to the six great god seal thrones during his lifetime, but later found that the collected materials could not compare to the Creator God's Throne, and those metals and gems that had undergone transformation due to its divine force."

“Therefore, I planned to compensate for the quality with the quantity of materials and create an Undead Holy Throne to make myself stronger. Unfortunately, fate was against me, and I suffered a curse... In order to nourish my physical body, I could only forge those precious metal materials and gems into an Eternal Tower, integrating offense and defense, to protect myself...”

These words were mainly for Tang San, describing his experiences. For Iliex, it was also a kind of nostalgia and release for the past.

Only then could he continue to move forward and pursue truth.

After obtaining the forging method for the god seal throne, Tang San’s face fell and he said, “The requirements are a bit too high. Each metal must at least reach the soul forging level?”

If Tang San hadn't neglected blacksmithing after joining Heaven Dou, it wouldn't have been difficult.

Unfortunately, after the Jade Bone Golden Muscle Divine Treasure Method was perfected, Tang San no longer had the heart to find a blacksmith shop to forge iron. After all, his initial purpose for forging iron was merely to exercise his physique, temper his blood and qi, and research vibration.

Now, only the aspect of vibration has not been further researched...

“Practice more. Anyway, you’ve almost neglected your blacksmithing skills recently. Picking them up again is not bad. This is intangible cultural heritage.” Iliex gave Tang San a thumbs up, grinned, and showed his big white teeth... It’s unclear why a soul body would be so realistic.

Tang San broke out in a cold sweat: ㄟ ㄎ ㄟ | |

Perhaps he shouldn’t have shown Iliex modern memories back then. What kind of mess is this?

Forget it, at least after this competition, he can pick up his research on “vibration” again to further improve his physical body and the techniques of exerting force and power...

...

Seven days passed quietly, and the second round, second match officially began.

Competing teams: Blazing Academy VS Shrek Academy.

Competition venue: Desert.

For the Blazing Academy team, all of whom possessed fire attributes, the scorching heat of the Desert venue was a boost, enhancing the power of their flames.

However, the soft sand would also affect those among them who could not fly.

On the Shrek side, it was quite miserable. Except for Ma Hongjun, who was slightly better, the others were extremely unaccustomed to the Desert terrain. Stepping on it felt soft and made it difficult to exert force.

Even Ma Hongjun found it difficult to adapt, as he was too heavy, and every step was very strenuous.

His third Spirit Ability, Phoenix Wing Skyfall, could make him fly, but he was only a Spirit Elder, and his spirit power was insufficient to fly continuously. Most of the time, he still had to run on the ground.

This was also why his Spirit was considered the Evil Fire Chicken.

Without the phoenix cockscomb purifying the flames and cleansing the evil fire, it would ultimately be impossible to transform into a phoenix; it would remain a mere ground chicken, even if it flapped its wings and flew, it couldn't be as agile as a true bird.

“Among the Shrek Team members appearing this time, Huang Yuan is gone, replaced by Tai Long, whose Spirit is the Great Ape.” Huo Wu saw Tang San approaching with Xiao Wu and Guang Ling, she pursed her lips and began to introduce the situation of the Shrek Team, “However, Oscar is still there, I guess he’s going to gross out the audience again.”

Honestly, Spirit incantations being vulgar is fine, there’s nothing wrong with that.

But shouting them so loudly is a problem.

As if he’s afraid people won’t know he’s a man, with a big, Vajra, mushroom-like Sausage.

Following the principle of “the less you have, the more you emphasize it,” Oscar’s reproductive organ is probably only the size of a toothpick.

“One can only say, that’s his personality.” Tang San smiled, “The fact that he can use his Sausage Spirit as a weapon is also a unique talent, I suppose.”

Spirit is closely related to a person’s personality.

The original meaning of Sausage was a type of meat food that could be preserved for a long time, but with the development of the times, new meanings have emerged.

And Spirit can evolve with the development of the times, truly keeping pace with the times, for example: He Caitou’s Cigar Spirit in Douluo Dalu 2.

In the era of Douluo Dalu 1, there was no concept of cigars.

Perhaps Oscar brought out another meaning of Sausage... However, if Tang San were to say it, it would still be the same: although Spirit has many possibilities, one must ultimately find the one most suitable for oneself.

Sausage, after all, is food.

“Captain, how about we make a bet?” Yu Feng leaned over and said with a grin, “Let’s bet on which team will win, what do you say?”

“Alright, but what will we bet?” Tang San asked.

“Just for fun, no need to be so serious.” Yu Feng chuckled, he just felt that watching the match was a bit boring and wanted to add some fun.

If he had to bet something, whether money or anything else, Yu Feng felt he would lose everything.

“That works too.” Tang San smiled, “Then everyone can participate. For those who win the bet, I will bring out the meat of the Bing Luan Bird, and we’ll have a hearty meal together at noon or in the evening. Those who guess wrong can only watch others eat.”

The Bing Luan Bird, of course, was the one that provided a spirit ring to Guang Ling. Tang San had preserved all the useful parts of its body, especially the meat—because this bird lived in the Extreme North Land year-round and also flew, its muscles were extremely firm and very chewy.

For ordinary people, this meat would be difficult to swallow, and even if swallowed, difficult to digest, but for Spirit Masters, it was a fine delicacy and a tonic.

“Then I’ll go first.”

Xiao Wu had tasted Bing Luan Bird meat before, and now that she thought about it, after “excluding” the feeling of shared sorrow, she understood the deliciousness of edible Spirit Beast meat, so she enthusiastically participated.

Although she would still get to eat it even if she didn’t participate, winning it through a bet gave her a sense of accomplishment.

“I choose Shrek Team.”

“Although they are all oddballs, Oscar possesses the Eight Spider Lances, which makes him difficult to deal with.”

Tang San nodded, looked at the others, and asked, “What about you?”

“Blazing Academy.” Huo Wu put her arms on her hips, hesitated for a while, and still chose her own academy, “No matter what, I came from Blazing Academy, so I have to support them. Moreover, Blazing Academy has a geographical advantage, and secondly, my brother and the others must have understood the abilities of the Shrek Team and have countermeasures.”

Yu Tianheng: “Captain, which one do you choose?”

Tang San smiled slightly: “I don’t choose, after all, the Bing Luan Bird meat that the winners get comes from me. How can the banker also participate?”

“Then I’ll choose Blazing Academy.” Yu Tianheng heard this, pondered for a moment, unable to discern anything from Tang San’s face, and finally chose Blazing Academy.

Although the students of Blazing Academy had single abilities, their attributes were the same, and with the advantage of the venue, their cooperation would certainly be stronger than Shrek Team.

After all, judging from the exhibition match in Heaven Dou and this match’s performance, the Shrek Team was extremely unaccustomed to the Desert environment, clearly indicating that Shrek Academy did not have corresponding training grounds.

“I also choose Blazing.”

“Shrek Team.”

“Shrek Academy.”

“Blazing.”

“.....”

After everyone had made their choices, Tang San looked at Qin Ming, who was beside him, and asked, “Teacher Qin Ming, why don’t you also guess?”

“I have to participate too?” Qin Ming didn’t expect to be included, and then he began to analyze the situation of the two teams on the field—although he really wanted to choose Shrek Team, Oscar's Spirit Ability was truly outrageously vulgar... It didn't matter what the children he led chose, but if he chose, would he be considered to blindly trust Shrek Team?

After all, he graduated from Shrek Team, but this batch of Shrek Team members were truly all oddballs.

Especially Oscar.

If his third Spirit Ability wasn't so vulgar, he would be willing to accept it, but being so vulgar... he really found it hard to choose.

After hesitating and deliberating for a while, Qin Ming ultimately did not choose Shrek Academy: "I choose Blazing Academy."

A glint flashed in Tang San's eyes; he realized that Qin Ming's impression of Shrek Academy had declined—tsk, it really was all thanks to that guy Yu Xiaogang.

After confirming their choices, everyone looked towards the Desert arena.

At Chrysanthemum Douluo's command, both sides had already released their Spirit and begun their contest.

Surprisingly, the students from Blazing Academy participating this time, aside from Huo Wushuang, a close-combat control-type attack system, and two energy-type defense systems, the remaining four were all long-range output types.

At the start of the battle, those four long-range output-type attack systems immediately released fireballs for long-range bombardment, preventing the Shrek Team from getting close while also blinding them with splashed sand.

"Damn it!" Dai Mubai roared, unleashing his fourth Spirit Ability, White Tiger Meteor Shower, also wanting to use the same method to affect the vision of the Blazing Academy Team members.

However, the two energy-type defense Spirit Masters jointly created a huge energy fire shield, blocking the barrage of the meteor shower, while the four output-type Spirit Masters continued to bombard through the gaps in the fire shield.

This formation could be described as an integrated offense and defense.

What did Huo Wushuang do?

He acted as an intelligence officer, providing the four with the positions of the Shrek Team—he didn't need strong dynamic vision; on this hundred-meter-long and wide arena, just being able to see the approximate location of the enemy was enough.

In addition, Huo Wushuang also served as a bodyguard for this formation, preventing anyone from Shrek Team from breaking through and launching assassination-type attacks against them.

After two rounds of bombardment, on the Shrek Team side, Tai Long and Jing Ling, while protecting Jiang Zhu, were both hit by flames and lost their combat ability.

And Jiang Zhu was also affected, one arm was burned, her body covered in yellow sand, she endured the pain, treating herself, and treating Tai Long and Jing Ling.

Mu Tian, on the other hand, stood in front of Jiang Zhu and the others, letting Bright Moon and himself jointly withstand the opponent's fireball bombardment.

After Oscar left them seven or eight Big Recovery Sausages, he released his Eight Spider Lances, dodging the fireballs from the opposite side, preparing for a decisive strike.

However, Blazing Academy had already prepared for Oscar.

As he approached, the two energy-type defense Spirit Masters blocked the Eight Spider Lances with their fire shield, and Huo Wushuang seized the opportunity to punch him directly in the abdomen.

Bang!

Oscar, who flew backward, was just about to steady himself when a long-range output-type Spirit Master from Blazing Academy released his third Spirit Ability, a scorching pillar of flame released from his palms, hitting his body.

Roar!

The pillar of fire dispersed, Oscar's entire body was charred, but he still had signs of Life and was not dead, though he no longer had any chance of recovering.

“Little Ao!”

In the audience stand where Shrek Academy was located, Yu Xiaogang stood up with a whoosh. After all, Oscar was raised by him personally, how could he not feel distressed?

He wanted to tell the remaining students of Shrek Team to surrender, but he just couldn't bring himself to say it—

How could they stop at the second round?

How could they?!

But Flender, sitting beside him, directly shouted: “Surrender! There's still a chance in the next competition!”

However, how noisy was the entire venue?

Even if Flender used his spirit power, Dai Mubai, Mu Tian, and the others on the field could hardly hear him.

Nevertheless, Shrek Team's defeat was sealed!

206: Undercurrents are surging, the promotion competition begins

“Shrek really lost, huh?”

Watching Mu Tian, the last one standing on the field, fall, Huo Wu curved her lips. “As expected, our Blazing Academy’s own people are stronger. As for this group from Shrek, only those four can fight. The remaining three seem to be just making up the numbers, forcibly added in.”

Qin Ming also sighed slightly at this.

In Qin Ming’s opinion, Shrek Academy had already compromised with the secular World—joining Blue Tyrant Academy... Although it was renamed Shrek, Qin Ming believed that the standard for accepting students had been lowered.

While they couldn't continue operating without compromise, when Shrek truly stepped into the secular World, a sense of loss couldn't help but rise in Qin Ming's heart.

The true Shrek was a thing of the past.

The familiar people and things were only Flender, Zhao Wuji, Shao Xin, Li Yusong, and others. The other students couldn't be considered his true junior disciples.

[This is good too. Dean Flender and the others can establish themselves in Heaven Dou City, and their later years should be secure.]

With this thought, Qin Ming felt that he had let go of his insistence on Shrek, and his heart felt much lighter. He had other plans for the future.

For example: cultivating the next Heaven Dou Royal Battle Team.

For the current one, he was only serving as the team leader. Training and practical combat didn't require his arrangements at all, so there wasn't much sense of accomplishment.

Although a teacher would be happy because of a student's excellence, Qin Ming felt that if students were too talented, it would lead to him, the team leader, having no sense of experience at all—it was the same with or without him.

Perhaps some team leaders would be very happy, able to get promotions and raises, and become famous, but Qin Ming was a person with ambition and didn't want to "loaf around waiting to die." Only by demonstrating his own talent, gaining the recognition of others, and making corresponding contributions could he obtain what he desired: wealth, status, and honor.

He was a person with self-respect.

Seeing the relief and determination in Qin Ming's eyes, Tang San subtly smiled and said to everyone, "Next round, we'll also gamble, and the reward is still Bing Luan Bird meat!"

This way, someone would always guess correctly, and everyone would be able to enjoy a good meal...

...

Night quietly arrived.

In the splendid hall of the Supreme Pontiff Palace, Bibi Dong asked the Elder guarding the library, "Has Tang San been to the Supreme Pontiff Palace's library within the past seven days?"

"Reporting to Supreme Pontiff, he has not," the Elder bowed and replied respectfully.

"No?"

Bibi Dong's expression was calm, but a hint of doubt appeared in her eyes. Then she thought of a possibility. "It seems that punch also had a considerable impact on him. He must be recovering from his injuries."

Huo Yuhao's corpse, the Ice Jade Emperor Scorpion, the Elders of the Spirit Hall, and the theoreticians who studied Spirit Beasts had already examined it. Its hardness was ten times greater than Thousand Refinements steel.

At first, they didn't know how Tang San had killed it. Only after breaking open the carapace on its head did they discover that its brain had become a paste.

Therefore, most people in the Spirit Hall believed that Tang San's control over power and spirit power had reached an exquisite level, allowing him to strike directly at the interior through the outer carapace.

Of course, Chrysanthemum Douluo and Ghost Douluo found the broken crack in the dissected carapace and had other opinions, believing that Tang San might be hiding some peculiar power.

That was the true method to kill this three hundred thousand year old Ice Jade Emperor Scorpion.

Bibi Dong felt that both reasons were plausible, but based on Tang San's absence from the Supreme Pontiff Palace for the past seven days, using that power must have also caused him considerable injuries.

This way, Nana, Xie Yue, Yan, and the others, when united, might not be unable to defeat Tang San... Losing actually didn't matter, as Tang San would certainly join the Spirit Hall after this tournament.

Besides that, the two girls, Xiao Wu and Guang Ling, one being Tang San's adopted younger sister and the other his disciple, would also surely join with him.

Those two were also exceptionally talented, especially Guang Ling. With innate spirit power level three, she could actually be trained by Tang San to be so powerful, achieving Spirit Ancestor at the age of thirteen... Whale glue couldn't make up for deficiencies in natural talent.

On the other side, Yu Luomian of Thunder Academy found Yu Tianheng.

“Second Grandfather.”

Seeing Yu Luomian approach, Yu Tianheng hurriedly stepped forward to greet him and led him to his room. “Is there something you need? It couldn't be to ask Heaven Dou First Team to go easy when facing Thunder Academy, could it?”

“Although I am indeed from the Blue Lightning Tyrant Dragon Clan, wouldn't that be a bit inappropriate?”

“It would go against the prestige of the Blue Lightning Tyrant Dragon...”

Yu Luomian looked up—

Slap!

He slapped Yu Tianheng on the head and said exasperatedly, “What are you thinking? The Blue Lightning Tyrant Dragon Clan doesn't need you to go easy. Even if we can't win, there's nothing shameful about it. Who told that Tang San to be such a monster?”

“I came here this time mainly to tell you something—”

“Tang San will most likely join the Spirit Hall after this grand assembly ends. You should join too.”

This was obvious to anyone with eyes, as once Tang San's identity as a Martial Soul Theory Master was exposed, everyone knew that most of the cases in his theories came from the publicly available books of the Spirit Hall.

From Tang San's age, it was reasonable that he had been exposed to the Spirit Hall since childhood and had a good impression of it.

It's just, he has to join too?

“Second Grandfather, I am the direct heir of the Blue Lightning Tyrant Dragon Clan, aren't I? Is it really alright to join the Spirit Hall?” Yu Tianheng felt that his position as the direct heir might not be worth much anymore.

“Who stipulated that a direct heir cannot join the Spirit Hall?” Yu Luomian snorted coldly. “Moreover, it's just you personally joining, not the entire Blue Lightning Tyrant Dragon Clan, right?”

“Isn't this a bit unreasonable?” Yu Tianheng felt that this wasn't quite right.

“It's a helpless move. Haven't you seen how astonishingly talented Tang San is? Only by staying with him can you make greater progress,” Yu Luomian sighed. “He and that ‘Chasing Sun,’ which should be Guang Ling, the new type of living spirit tools they created, have caused the entire continent's situation to undergo earth-shattering changes.”

Yu Tianheng also had some understanding of this, but—

“It doesn't seem like the continent has undergone any significant changes because of the spirit tool camera, spirit tool photography box, and Sub-Mother Soul Guidance Photography Ball, has it?”

“That's just the surface,” Yu Luomian shook his head. “In unseen places, undercurrents are surging. Each of those three items can greatly speed up the recording and dissemination of information.”

“In the short term, the friction between various major forces has decreased.”

“After all, once news spreads, the force that incites conflict will inevitably be scorned by everyone in the World.”

“But in the long run, these things are also powerful tools for inciting continental conflicts.”

“After all, who stipulated that the recorded information must be true and not false? Aren't movies fake? Ordinary people don't care about the truth; they only care about what they can see, the superficial results.”

Yu Tianheng's heart sank, realizing the seriousness of the problem.

If a force were to release a piece of footage to slander the Blue Lightning Tyrant Dragon Clan, it would take them a lot of effort to clarify it.

Spreading rumors only required a mouth.

In the past, major forces could ignore it, because with just words, it couldn't spread far. It was estimated that within ten li, the rumors would become varied and even reach extremely absurd levels, and anyone with a bit of intelligence wouldn't believe them.

But now, with the emergence of spirit tool photography type items, the spread of information is much faster. If something is taken out of context, even if it is clarified later, the reputation will be greatly affected.

The Blue Lightning Tyrant Dragon Clan couldn't control the mouths of everyone on the entire continent.

In this World, only three major forces could prevent people from daring to spread rumors freely: Heaven Dou Empire, Star Luo Empire, and Spirit Hall.

Among them, Spirit Hall was the strongest, because this force had branch halls within the territory of the Two Great Empires.

And besides these three major forces, there was one other person who could not be slandered.

Tang San.

He was a Martial Soul Theory Master, and over ninety percent of the common Spirit Masters on the continent benefited from his theories: “analysis of the self-positioning of soul masters,” “History of spirit ring Evolution,” “Analysis of Factors Affecting the Lifespan of spirit rings a Spirit Master Can Bear,” “On Whale Glue,” “Three Major Classifications of Martial Soul Fusion Skill,” and so on.

Especially since his Spirit was Blue Silver Grass, yet he could reach Spirit King at fourteen years old, with his fifth spirit ring being a Ten-thousand year soul beast.

This grand assembly was even broadcast live across the entire continent!

His reputation was widely spread. Anyone who dared to slander him would surely be scorned by Spirit Masters across the continent, and even the local Spirit Hall would arrest and punish them.

After all, seven days ago, Tang San was appointed an Honorary Elder of the Spirit Hall by the current Spirit Hall Pope!

And Yu Tianheng also understood why the clan wanted him to join the Spirit Hall.

It was because of Tang San.

As long as he and Tang San are on the same side, and he doesn't do anything foolish in the future, the reputation of the Blue Lightning Tyrant Dragon Clan will certainly not be bad; at least no one will dare to slander them casually. Moreover, Spirit Hall is ostensibly a neutral force, so as long as the current Supreme Pontiff doesn't suddenly go mad, the Blue Lightning Tyrant Dragon Clan can also grow stronger by leveraging Spirit Hall's reputation.

Beyond that, it's probably about waiting for Tang San and Guang Ling to invent new spirit tools in the future, and the Clan hopes he can strive for cooperation with Tang San.

This point is mainly due to the envy of how much the Seven Treasure Glazed Tile School is earning now—the gems on the scepter Ning Fengzhi holds are three times larger than before!

"I understand, Second Grandfather." As a member of the Blue Lightning Tyrant Dragon Clan, Yu Tianheng valued his Clan greatly. Therefore, he could only nod heavily, "I will join Spirit Hall, under my personal name."

"Good child, I didn't misjudge you." Yu Luomian's face showed a hint of a smile. "However, don't be so pessimistic. Joining Spirit Hall is actually not bad. Besides the aspects mentioned earlier, you can also transmit intelligence about Spirit Hall to the Sect. It's killing two birds with one stone, and you can also use Spirit Hall's resources for cultivation."

Speaking of this, Yu Luomian once again felt resentful towards his Elder brother's son, Yu Xiaogang.

He had entered Spirit Hall's library and almost memorized most of the information, yet he didn't send any back to the Clan, only thinking of gaining fame for himself.

Truly—

He had no sense of responsibility at all.

Now, he's even staying with Liu Erlong again. Is he really not afraid of being ridiculed by the whole World?

If it weren't for the many eyes and ears in Spirit City, he would have definitely taught Yu Xiaogang a good lesson!

Unfortunately, family shame should not be aired.

The more Yu Luomian thought about it, the angrier he got, and his good mood vanished. After a few words of instruction to Yu Tianheng, he left.

Yu Tianheng took a long time to come back to his senses, muttering to himself, "The Clan's responsibility is truly heavy... Well, thinking about it carefully, joining Spirit Hall can at least free me from worrying about the Clan for a long time. I only need to focus on cultivation, or follow Spirit Hall's arrangements to capture The Fallen or something. That really suits my taste."

Temporarily setting aside the Clan's responsibility and looking at the bright side, Yu Tianheng suddenly felt that joining Spirit Hall didn't seem to have too many restrictions. Moreover, Spirit Hall has always been lenient towards geniuses—provided they don't make fundamental mistakes.

It's just, he is Yu Tianheng!

How could he not understand reason?

"Time to find Yan Yan and sleep." Having figured it out, Yu Tianheng suddenly felt his whole body relax, and he felt that the bottleneck in his spirit power had loosened a bit. It probably wouldn't be long before he could break through to level fifty-two...

...

In the blink of an eye, the second round of competition ended within five days.

And in the second round of the resurrection match, Canghui Academy advanced.

Although Canghui Academy was once believed to be colluding with a Ten-thousand year soul beast that had taken human form due to Huo Yuhao, and was considered a traitor, Canghui Academy strongly explained, and the Spirit Hall Pope, being reasonable, clarified the situation and cleared Canghui Academy's name.

However, Canghui Academy's reputation still plummeted. Even Canghui students far away in Heaven Dou City, after learning about the situation through the live broadcast on the screen, some prepared to drop out.

After all, they didn't want to be called traitors.

Canghui Academy's ability to advance was mainly because the person who replaced Huo Yuhao, along with the remaining six members, could still form a seven-in-one Martial Soul Fusion Skill: Seven Asura Illusion.

This Domain-like skill could make enemies recall their most unwilling past memories, thereby sinking into pain within the illusion created by their own memories.

This also showed the audience that Canghui Academy's leader, Shi Nian, still had some real skill and wasn't entirely lucky to have encountered a Ten-thousand year soul beast in the form of a scorpion.

After two rounds, there were only twenty-four participating academy teams left.

And after the third round, there were twelve left, plus the one team that "resurrected" in the third round's resurrection match, making a total of thirteen teams.

At this point, the preliminary elimination rounds concluded.

Next up was the promotion match.

The promotion match involved two teams of seven people each, with one-on-one duels. The winner could continue to challenge until all seven participating students of a team were defeated.

The main purpose of the promotion match was to assess a Spirit Master's individual combat ability, primarily for talent selection in the past.

However, after the diversification of battlefields, this promotion match became a competition to showcase a Spirit Master's individual bravery. After all, the previous methods of recruiting talent, which did not consider various environmental factors and only relied on the strength of spirit power, were indeed too general and crude.

Therefore, in the current promotion match, each team needs to fight each other once, not by the academy's win or loss, but by individual points, meaning winning one match earns one point.

If one's ability is strong and they are the first to appear every time, then this powerful Spirit Master can single-handedly defeat eighty-four people from the other twelve teams, achieving a perfect score of eighty-four points.

If someone possesses such strength, whether they consider environmental factors in future battles becomes irrelevant, as such a strong individual can completely overwhelm opponents and is worthy of everyone's attention.

"The promotion match is about to begin." Yu Feng leaned on the railing, looking at the first pair of teams to enter the arena. "Blazing Academy versus Tianshui Academy, a clash of water and fire."

"It just depends on whose spirit power is stronger." Oslo expressed his opinion, "After all, water can extinguish fire, and fire can also evaporate water."

Although fire and water elements are not true water and fire, their respective characteristics are inherited, and the mutual restraint between them... Setting aside factors like individual proficiency in using Spirit Abilities and timing in combat, it really just comes down to a contest of spirit power strength between the two.

Tang San agreed with part of Oslo's view, but the part he disagreed with was that in a real battle, when spirit power is not significantly different, it's not just about comparing spirit power. Combat techniques, the timing of Spirit Ability usage, and the interference of external environmental factors are all crucial to the outcome of a match.

Fairness is always relative.

"Captain, which academy do you think will win?" Yu Feng asked.

"The Bing Luan Bird meat is already finished." Tang San spread his hands, telling the truth.

"I'm not a foodie." Yu Feng was helpless. "Captain, tell me, in terms of individual strength, which of the two academies will get more points?"

"Considering the situation of both academies, in terms of academy wins and losses, Tianshui has a higher probability, after all, Shui Bing'er's Spirit is the Ice Phoenix, a top-tier Beast Spirit." Tang San began his analysis, "However, she probably won't be the first to appear, as top-tier Spirits all have a common problem: they consume a lot of spirit power."

"She needs to conserve her strength."

"And in terms of individual points, among the two academies, Huo Wushuang's score should be the highest, after all, he alone is stronger than everyone else in Tianshui Academy except Shui Bing'er."

"After all, the promotion match tests individual bravery, not the academy's victory, so the academy's win or loss is not very important in this promotion match."

Yu Feng was curious: "So, Huo Wushuang will be the first to go? Then why isn't Shui Bing'er the first to go?"

Tang San pushed up his detection glasses and said lightly, "Their personalities are different. Huo Wushuang is outgoing, while Shui Bing'er, though also lively, is more proud. I've noticed this in the matches these past few days. She doesn't want Tianshui Academy to have any losses, even in this promotion match where the academy's win or loss doesn't affect entering the finals."

Oslo exclaimed, "What a stubborn girl."

"No, she's actually quite smart." Tang San, however, had a different opinion. "After all, this grand competition is broadcast live across the continent. Spirit Masters and commoners who can't come to Spirit City don't fully understand what exactly the promotion match is about. They only care which academy won, which helps the academy's recruitment."

"So that's how it is." Huo Wu suddenly understood. "But, wouldn't showcasing individual bravery, like one person defeating six, also attract new students?"

"That depends on others' choices. Which method is better will require time to prove." Tang San said cautiously, "However, from the perspective of the many commoner Spirit Masters on the continent, Shui Bing'er's actions are more conservative."

207: Ice and Snow Honey City

Sweet Honey

The venue for the promotion rounds was not diverse, but rather the most ancient arena style, made of hard bricks.

The first person sent by Blazing Academy was, as Tang San expected, Huo Wushuang.

The person sent by Tianshui Academy was a Spirit Elder, which was also as Tang San expected; Shui Bing'er would not be the first to appear, and other team members would be dispatched.

"I am Huo Wushuang. May I know the name of this young lady from Tianshui Academy?" Huo Wushuang's eyes lit up when he saw the little girl in front of him, and he immediately introduced himself.

"Mi Xue." This female student from Tianshui Academy had not appeared in the previous three rounds of the preliminary elimination matches, and her disposition now seemed quite cold.

"That's a good name, just a bit too cold in temperament." Huo Wushuang complimented, then activated his Spirit. A single horn grew on his forehead, his hands transformed into dragon claws, and the spirit power surging from his body carried a hint of heat. "However, since your temperament is a bit cold, let me melt your ice and snow."

"If you have the ability, come and try." Mi Xue sneered, releasing her Spirit. A cute little snowman appeared in the palms of her hands, with a round head and a round body, only the size of a doll.

Chrysanthemum Douluo, seeing that both sides had finished releasing their Spirits, said, "Battle start!"

As soon as he finished speaking, Mi Xue used her First Soul Skill.

"Ice Snow Field!"

As the yellow First Soul Ring lit up, the snowman in Mi Xue's hand emitted a burst of cold air in all directions. Centered around it, an area of about thirty meters in radius was completely covered with a thick layer of frost.

Huo Wushuang, seeing this, couldn't help but retreat.

Although he could resist it or use flames to melt the field, he was aiming for a seven-win streak and couldn't waste too much spirit power. He needed to save more spirit power to deal with others, especially the genius from Tianshui Academy—Shui Bing'er.

After the field was set, Mi Xue used her Second Soul Skill. The snowman in her hand seemed to come alive, jumping from Mi Xue's hand, swaying from side to side as if dancing.

"What's the use of this Second Soul Skill...?" Huo Wushuang was stunned, not understanding the necessity of making this snowman move. It didn't even seem fast.

"Hehe, I also have a Third Soul Skill." Mi Xue's only thousand-year spirit ring lit up, and the snowman released another layer of frost. But strangely, this time, an ice crystal castle, about ten meters high, rose vertically from the field.

The castle was entirely made of ice, crystal clear, and the cold air it emitted even made Huo Wushuang sneeze. Then he asked, "So, what exactly are your three Spirit Abilities for?"

Originally, Huo Wushuang, out of gentlemanly conduct towards a female opponent, wanted to let her use her Spirit Abilities. He didn't expect that among these three Spirit Abilities, apart from the first "Ice Snow Field" having some effect, the other two—snowman activation and ice snow castle creation—didn't seem to be for attack... No wonder she didn't appear in the preliminaries.

Huo Wushuang now suspected that this person was sent out to exhaust his spirit power.

After all, the opponent was now sitting on top of the castle, and he didn't have specific long-range output Spirit Abilities, so he could only find a way to melt the ice snow castle first.

"You love me! I love you! Ice Snow Honey City is sweet!"

Just as Huo Wushuang was about to make a move, Mi Xue actually started singing, and the snowman, accompanying the rhythm, danced even more joyfully, even splitting into two snowmen, then the two snowmen split again into four, and finally split one more time, becoming eight.

The eight doll-sized snowmen performed synchronized movements, accompanied by Mi Xue's monotonous yet enchanting song, swaying within the castle. The round hands colliding with the ice snow castle created a melody that even the spectators outside the arena found mesmerizing, unsure how to evaluate such a method.

And Huo Wushuang on the field, looking at those cute snowmen and listening to that enchanting song, was momentarily brainwashed and almost sang along.

Fortunately, he fiercely bit the tip of his tongue, waking himself up, and exclaimed, "A spiritual type Spirit Ability? A self-created Spirit Ability?"

Immediately, Huo Wushuang became extremely vigilant!

Perhaps, this person in front of him was one of Tianshui Academy's trump cards...

...

"Oh my god, this song is really too enchanting!" Yu Feng quickly stuffed cotton into his ears, but he had already heard it, and his mind couldn't help but sing along. He immediately shivered, feeling at a loss. "It's over, even with my ears closed, it's still echoing in my mind. What kind of bizarre Spirit Ability is this?"

"It can't be considered a Spirit Ability, but this song is indeed very enchanting." Tang San's mouth twitched. He never thought he would hear a familiar song on this Douluo Continent... Had the advertisement for Ice Snow Honey City reached Douluo Continent too?

His thoughts returned to the present, and Tang San's gaze fell upon Mi Xue. He probably confirmed her identity as someone like Mu Tian, Wang Chen, or Xu Xing.

But did she transmigrate as a female, or was she female in her past life?

Hmm, that's not important.

What's important is that this transmigrator didn't cause him trouble, so she should be the more rational type, or perhaps she just wants to live her own life and doesn't pay any attention to the various major forces in the outside World.

There's also another possibility: she hadn't read the Douluo Continent series in her past life, didn't know the plot, and just thought she had transmigrated into an extraordinary World with Spirit, spirit power, and other powers.

"Can't this be considered a Spirit Ability?" Xiao Wu asked, puzzled. "It's like a demonic sound piercing the ears, making it unforgettable."

"After all, when someone mentions some familiar phrases or stories, we can instantly recall them, can't we? Her situation is similar to that." Tang San saw clearly that there was no spirit power attached to the song at all. It was just the snowman splitting and colliding with the ice snow castle, causing it to become a device similar to a loudspeaker.

If Huo Wushuang were to attack directly, he would find that it wasn't actually very sturdy.

However, Spirit Masters on the Douluo Continent were encountering this kind of bizarre form for the first time, so Huo Wushuang was extremely vigilant at this moment, his spirit power circulating rapidly within him, his Spirit almost taut to the extreme.

None of Mi Xue's three Spirit Abilities had offensive capabilities. Her purpose in entering the arena was likely to make Huo Wushuang lose his composure and to create a layer of ice crystals on the field, which would benefit the subsequent Tianshui Academy students.

Through his detection glasses, Tang San analyzed that Mi Xue's First Soul Skill: Ice Snow Field, the covering ice layer, was not only condensed spirit power but also absorbed moisture from the air, condensing it into real ice, which would last for a relatively long time.

Hearing Tang San's analysis, everyone suddenly understood. Huo Wu was even more surprised: "So, Mi Xue is actually very weak, but my brother encountered this situation for the first time and was intimidated, causing him to become tense all over. Even if he wins, his psychological and mental state will decline, thereby affecting his physical state?"

"That's exactly it." Tang San affirmed Huo Wu's statement, pushed up his detection glasses, and sighed, "That Mi Xue is a master of psychology. I estimate that when your brother has the idea of attacking, she will surrender immediately, or delay for a bit, making your brother even more anxious... After all, your brother seems to have quite the gentlemanly demeanor."

The so-called gentlemanly demeanor, in a Spirit battle, means that one will be caught off guard by a female opponent.

"How despicable!" Yu Feng looked at Yu Tianheng. "Vice Captain, if you encountered such a female opponent, and she was very cute, would you suddenly make a move or not?"

Yu Tianheng turned away, refusing to answer the question—

Indeed, facing such a rogue female Spirit Master was very tricky.

Of course, such a tactic could only be used in a very formal Continental Elite Tournament like this one. In ordinary Spirit battle arenas, those Spirit battle teams would not show pity.

Not to mention situations outside of Spirit battles.

In addition, a female Spirit Master using this move also needed a special quality: beauty. At the very least, she couldn't be too ugly, otherwise it would provoke the opponent's anger and lead to a ruthless attack.

"Captain, what would you do?" Seeing Yu Tianheng ignore him, Yu Feng pouted and asked curiously.

"As for me, the moment the referee announces the start, I would knock out the opponent, not giving them any chance to speak." Tang San described a countermeasure.

"Good idea!" Yu Feng's eyes lit up. "If I encountered her, once the match starts, I would directly use wind to blow her out of the arena."

And female Spirit Masters like Xiao Wu, Guang Ling, Huo Wu, Zhu Zhuqing, and Lan Yinzi didn't have as many scruples. As fellow females, they could directly go up and beat the opponent up.

In a flash, five minutes passed. Huo Wushuang couldn't take it anymore and charged forward with a loud shout, intending to smash the ice and snow castle with one punch and stomp all the snowmen.

He didn't know why, but his mood was extremely irritable; he just wanted to destroy everything in front of him!

However—

“Chotto Matte!”

Mi Xue saw Huo Wushuang was serious and immediately yelled.

Although he didn't understand what that meant, Huo Wushuang instinctively stopped and asked, “What gibberish?”

“Cough~” Mi Xue coughed, drew out her tone, and then faced the referee: ♪(^ `)♪, “I surrender!”

Chrysanthemum Douluo: “.....Huo Wushuang wins.”

Huo Wushuang was furious!

But since the opponent surrendered, it was naturally not good to continue fighting. His chest heaved continuously, clearly angered—what exactly was Tianshui Academy doing by sending out such a team member?!

“Still a two-dimensional person.” Tang San had a deeper understanding of Mi Xue in his heart.

When the second person from Tianshui Academy entered the arena, Huo Wushuang noticed that the ice and snow field and the ice and snow castle created by Mi Xue had not dissipated, and the opponent had already retracted their Spirit, as if understanding what Mi Xue's first appearance was for—to create a favorable field for Tianshui Academy.

After using a Spirit Ability, for the Spirit Ability effect to continue to exist is generally the privilege of food-type support system Spirit Masters. Other types of Spirit Masters rarely achieve an effect that persists for a certain period after using a Spirit Ability.

He didn't expect Mi Xue's Spirit Ability to be so special.

“However, even with a terrain advantage, I won't lose!” Huo Wushuang's mood was irritable at this moment, and he struck the second Tianshui Academy student a bit harder, consuming more spirit power.

Undoubtedly, in this second match, the Tianshui student lost, and Huo Wushuang gained two points.

Next, the third and fourth students of Tianshui Academy also lost to him, but his spirit power was already depleted by nearly eighty percent, making him unable to face the fifth student, and he ultimately lost.

At this point, he also understood Mi Xue's purpose: in addition to creating a terrain advantage, it was to disrupt his mentality.

“Well done, Mi Xue.” Shui Bing'er high-fived Mi Xue, a smile in her eyes. “If Huo Wushuang were to defeat six of our Tianshui students in a row, even if I ultimately defeated him, I wouldn't necessarily be able to completely defeat all six members of Blazing Academy. Ice Phoenix consumes a lot of spirit power. Now, counting myself, we still have Xue Wu and Shui Yue'er, a total of three people. As long as those two can defeat two people, facing the remaining four isn't a big problem for me.”

“Hehe, it's nothing much, it's just that his mentality is too poor. People with fire attributes are usually more irritable, right?” Mi Xue said with a confident expression.

“Blazing Academy can win with tactics, but it's not certain when facing Heaven Dou Royal First Team.” Shui Bing'er looked towards the audience seats where Heaven Dou Royal First Team was located, her gaze falling on Tang San, Huo Wu, Yu Tianheng, Xiao Wu, and Guang Ling, “I estimate those five can each defeat seven in a row, and even their other team members and substitutes are extremely strong.”

Mi Xue's mood also sank, and she nodded helplessly, saying, “Indeed, each of them is unnaturally strong, especially that Tang San. His Fifth spirit ring is 100,000 years old, and he can kill a Spirit Beast over 300,000 years old with one punch... Although his body isn't robust, he can unleash such powerful strength, which is truly incredible.”

As a transmigrator, Mi Xue originally felt that she could look down on everyone in this World. Even when she first saw the theories published by Tang San, she thought he was an elderly theoretical researcher and didn't take it seriously.

It wasn't until the first preliminary elimination match began that she truly realized how terrifying Tang San was, becoming a Spirit King at only fourteen years old!

But what shocked her even more was that Tang San was that Martial Soul Theory Master, not the elderly man she had imagined... In other words, Tang San started organizing data and preparing to publish theories when he was six or seven years old.

Isn't this some kind of reincarnated demon?

Mi Xue even had a premonition that Tang San was the same type of person as herself, but unlike her past life of just getting by with [eating, sleeping, working, watching palace dramas], Tang San's past life might have been some kind of scientific researcher, the kind who specialized in writing papers.

Honestly, Mi Xue was quite happy to meet someone from her hometown after transmigrating, but she didn't know how to approach him and figure out how to return to Earth.

Although there were extraordinary powers here, Mi Xue truly hoped to taste Ice Snow Honey City again...

“We really need to figure out a way to deal with them... What do you think of a honey trap?” Shui Bing'er offered a bad idea, interrupting Mi Xue's wandering thoughts.

“Captain, you're not interested in Tang San, are you?” Mi Xue, who knew Shui Bing'er well, knew that her captain was very proud and would not use her charm to entice others unless she was truly interested in that person.

“Is there a problem?” Shui Bing'er did not hide her feelings.

“There's no problem with liking someone, but he seems to have quite a few excellent women around him.” Mi Xue said faintly, scoffing in her heart: Bah, men, you can have a harem in another World, can't you? But he's really handsome, and his strength is also great. Being protected by him must feel very safe.

“So what?” Shui Bing'er didn't care at all. “Is it not reasonable for a powerful male lion to have multiple lionesses?”

“As long as he has the ability to conquer all the lionesses.”

“Shui Yue'er and I are half-sisters, so my acceptance of such matters is easier than that of other powerful female Spirit Masters.”

“Of course, the premise is that Tang San is interested in me.”

Mi Xue was speechless and could only change the topic: “I think the honey trap is still unreliable. Let's think about how to defeat Heaven Dou Royal First Team when we encounter them.”

“I think we can still use psychological tactics, after all, they probably don't know what I did in the first match.”

Although Mi Xue guessed that Tang San was also a transmigrator, she believed he was a scientific researcher in his previous life, and such a group generally doesn't pay attention to the entertainment industry, so maybe she could scare him...

...

The contest between Blazing and Tianshui ultimately ended with Tianshui Academy winning. As Tang San expected, due to Mi Xue's actions, Huo Wushuang's mentality became imbalanced, leading to him wasting too much spirit power in a series of subsequent challenges, ultimately causing the entire academy to lose to Tianshui.

However, the main purpose of the promotion match was to demonstrate the individual strength of Spirit Masters, using a point system. Therefore, it didn't matter much that Blazing Academy lost; they still had to compete against the other eleven teams to accumulate individual points.

After the first promotion match ended, the second match began five minutes later. The teams on the field were still not Heaven Dou Royal First Team, but Star Luo Royal Team and Canghui Academy.

That's right, Canghui Academy actually advanced to the third round. Their Seven Asura Illusion, a seven-in-one skill, was indeed very powerful, and they hadn't encountered the three guaranteed advancement teams, the Four Elemental Academies, or other strong teams afterward.

However, in terms of the promotion matches, Canghui Academy could be said to be the worst, because their participating students all had gem-type Spirits, all of which were energy-type control system or amplification-type support system. In terms of individual strength, they could be said to be at the bottom among the thirteen teams.

But even so, the students of Canghui Academy had to participate with a stiff upper lip.

The result was naturally predictable: Canghui Academy was completely swept by Dai Weisi of Star Luo Royal Academy, and everyone received negative one point... It could be foreseen that in the subsequent promotion matches, they would remain in a state of negative points at the bottom.

Heaven Dou Royal Battle Team, on the other hand, truly entered the arena on the second day, and their opponent was Shenfeng Academy Battle Team.

“Long time no see, little brother Tang San. No, now I should call you Martial Soul Theory Master.” Feng Xiaotian greeted him warmly, actively hooking Tang San's shoulder, and said with a grin, “I've gained quite a bit of insight into rotation. You'll be surprised then, you know.”

208: Dance of Gale Spiral Blades!

Roaring sky strike!

“Is that so? Then I’ll have to look forward to it.” Tang San smiled, then changed the subject. “However, that might not happen this time, after all, I won’t be participating.”

“What?!”

Feng Xiaotian was greatly alarmed. “I prepared specifically for you, and you’re not participating?”

“Don’t get excited, this isn’t looking down on you.” Tang San patted Feng Xiaotian’s shoulder, turned him around, and looked at the large group of people behind him. “Our team, if we had one more person, we could form two teams. We have to give the team members a chance to participate, right? As the Captain, I don’t want to be the only one in the spotlight.”

“Is that so? You really take care of your team members, I’m not as good as you.” Feng Xiaotian felt the gap between himself and Tang San, then he became relieved—for Tang San, participating in this promotion match would merely be icing on the cake.

After all, Tang San’s identity as a theory Grandmaster had been exposed, and he was already famous. Whether he participated in this promotion match or not didn’t matter, not to mention that he had previously killed a male-dressing female scorpion that was over 300,000 years old with a single punch.

Why say the Ice Jade Emperor Scorpion had a male dressing habit?

Because in the eyes of the world, that Huo Yuhao was a Ten-thousand year soul beast that had taken human form, appearing as a male, but when he transformed back into a Spirit Beast, his cries were female.

“Feng Xiaotian, you’ve also become much stronger.” Huo Wu walked over and greeted him. “You’ve actually become a Spirit King as well, your strength is quite good.”

“Sister Huo Wu, long time no see, I missed you so much!” When Feng Xiaotian saw Huo Wu, he immediately released his hand from Tang San’s shoulder and spread his arms towards Huo Wu, as if to give her a hug.

Slap!

Huo Wu pressed her palm against Feng Xiaotian’s face and said, “Don’t come close, we’re not that familiar.”

Huo Wu had always been indifferent to Feng Xiaotian, finding him quite annoying. It was only because he had a good temper and wasn’t ugly that she could tolerate his “chatter.”

According to Tang San, humans and Spirits influence each other. Could it be that Feng Xiaotian’s Storm Devil Wolf Spirit, because it had an extra head, made him talk more?

“Don’t be like that, Huo Wu, I am truly devoted to you...”

Feng Xiaotian wanted to say more sweet nothings, but Huo Wu immediately interrupted him, saying, “Please, spare me. We’re not suitable, and besides, you’re just one-sided.”

Although Feng Xiaotian’s talent and strength were good, Huo Wu simply didn’t feel anything for him. Moreover, they hadn’t met much in the past two years, and the sense of familiarity they once shared had slightly faded.

“I’m so sad~” Feng Xiaotian was on the verge of tears, acting completely like a clown rather than a Spirit King.

Chrysanthemum Douluo, who was the referee, couldn't stand it anymore and said, "Shenfeng Academy's Captain, if you're going to participate, do it quickly, don't dawdle."

"Coming, coming." Feng Xiaotian immediately jumped onto the stage, shedding his previous foolish demeanor, and said to Tang San and the others, "Come on, let me see your abilities."

Xiao Wu leaned over to Huo Wu and said seriously, "Looking at the situation, he doesn't seem to have been thinking about you all this time."

"Nonsense." Huo Wu rolled her eyes at Xiao Wu. "We haven't met in nearly two years. If he really thought about me day and night, it would be impossible for him to reach the Spirit King level. Moreover, he also needs to create his own self-created Spirit Ability, which requires even more focus, not wasting energy on other things. He was probably just joking with me just now."

Chrysanthemum Douluo spoke at this moment: "Please, the first student from Heaven Dou Royal First Team, come to the stage."

"Who goes first?" Yu Tianheng turned to look at Tang San, eager to try.

"Since you can't hold back, then you go first." Tang San saw the burning fighting intent in Yu Tianheng's eyes, pulled him forward, and pushed him onto the stage. "Feng Xiaotian has innate full spirit power, and before I joined Heaven Dou Royal Academy, I had a match with him and guided him on how to create his own Spirit Ability."

"Is that so? Then I must be careful." Yu Tianheng's eyes narrowed, and he began to take Feng Xiaotian even more seriously.

Spirit King means a spirit power level equivalent to his own.

Innate full spirit power means that the Spirit quality and his own cultivation talent are not weaker than the Blue Lightning Tyrant Dragon, and may even be a bit stronger.

A self-created Spirit Ability, and having been guided by Tang San, further indicated that this was a true powerhouse capable of fighting above his rank.

“I smell the aura of a strong person.” Feng Xiaotian saw that the Heaven Dou First Team had sent out a member of the Blue Lightning Tyrant Dragon Clan for the first match, his pupils contracted, but he still maintained a calm expression and a rather chuunibyou attitude. “Yu Tianheng of the Blue Lightning Tyrant Dragon Clan, I’ve heard much about you. I’ve always wanted to test just how powerful the Blue Lightning Tyrant Dragon truly is.”

“I cannot represent the entire Blue Lightning Tyrant Dragon Clan, only myself.” Yu Tianheng’s entire body vibrated, his Spirit instantly possessed him, and five spirit rings—two yellow, two purple, and one black—appeared. Electrical arcs exploded all over his body, sizzling and flowing in a peculiar manner.

“Spirit King? Who isn’t?” Feng Xiaotian grinned, and the Twin-Headed Gale Demon Wolf possessed him. His entire body grew wolf fur, a tail grew from his back, and five spirit rings—two yellow, two purple, and one black—also surrounded him.

Before the two even touched, their auras collided, unleashing a strong current of air.

One’s spirit power carried a greenish hue, imbued with strong wind elements, rapidly spinning around his body as if capable of cutting through all things; the other’s spirit power crackled in the air, seemingly forming a unique magnetic field that made one’s heart tremble.

“Battle start!”

With Chrysanthemum Douluo’s command, the two immediately clashed.

Dragon claws and wolf claws, in their confrontation, wind-attribute spirit power and lightning-attribute spirit power touched, forming a small lightning storm around the two, enveloping them both.

Boom!

After a thirty-second stalemate, the small lightning storm exploded and dissipated, and both were sent flying backward.

Yu Tianheng retreated over ten meters, while Feng Xiaotian retreated nearly twenty meters.

In terms of strength, the Blue Lightning Tyrant Dragon, being a true dragon species, was still superior, but Feng Xiaotian was not greatly affected in this strength competition.

“As expected of the Blue Lightning Tyrant Dragon, truly formidable.” After Feng Xiaotian stopped, he praised, shaking his arm. “However, this tingling sensation isn’t entirely the power of lightning, is it? There’s a pulling force, like a magnet. Although not strong, it disrupts some of my spirit power, and even the metal buttons on my body have a tendency to stick to you...”

Clap clap!

Yu Tianheng applauded, sighing, “As expected of a genius, your observation is meticulous. To be able to discover this point, yes, this is the application of my self-created Spirit Ability, developed with the Captain’s help.”

“Tang San? I really want to fight him, but even to defeat you, I’m afraid I’ll have to go all out.” Feng Xiaotian sighed slightly, his eyes gradually sharpening. “Next, let me show you my strongest skill, my self-created Spirit Ability: Gale Spiral Blade Dance! Howling Sky Strike!”

There was no need for further probing; it was better to strike with full force and crush the opponent!

Whoosh—

In just an instant, Feng Xiaotian himself began to spin, so fast that he was almost invisible. All of his spirit power transformed into wind elements, driving the external airflow to form a cyan and white airflow tornado.

“Woo!”

A wolf howl came from the wind.

Then, the tornado was seen rising into the air, its swirling top aimed at Yu Tianheng. The rapidly rotating blades within it seemed to form a Twin-Headed Gale Demon Wolf, each biting a cyan spiral sphere, with blades also rotating on both sides.

“That form!” Huo Wu, below the stage, was shocked. She suddenly looked at Tang San and asked, “Isn’t that the move you used to counter Feng Xiaotian back then?”

“It is.” Tang San nodded, smiling slightly. “I didn’t expect Feng Xiaotian to actually learn it, and even use it in his own way, just because I gave him a hint about the concept of rotation.”

One had to admit, Feng Xiaotian was truly talented. His talent was definitely not weaker than all the Shrek members in the original work. In fact, if it weren’t for the Immortal Herb that improved their aptitudes and Sea God Island for leveling up in the original work, the Shrek members would have been crushed by Feng Xiaotian, even the protagonist of the original work would have been the same.

After all, methods like Controlling Crane Catching Dragon, Mysterious Jade Hand, and Ghost Shadow Perplexing Track were not inherently suited for direct combat; they were all for assassination.

At this moment, Yu Tianheng faced the charging tornado without dodging or evading. He also condensed all his spirit power, causing lightning to flash around him, entering a super-frequency state, and constructing an electromagnetic induction field around himself using electromagnetic force.

This was Electromagnetic Super-frequency!

The first time he demonstrated this ability to Tang San, Tang San said that it could only be used as a sensing method for now, with a promising future, and gave relevant training suggestions.

During subsequent training, Yu Tianheng not only researched the “Railgun” but also discovered another phenomenon: after forming an electromagnetic over-frequency Domain field and injecting lightning power, its magnetic field would strengthen and its range would expand.

That feeling was as if he could control everything in the world.

The only drawback was: the spirit power consumption was extremely high.

However, this time—

The opponent had brought out their strongest attack, so if he were to dodge, wouldn't that be disrespecting them?

He! Yu Tianheng! Was willing to pour everything into Feng Xiaotian!

“Electromagnetic Tyrannical Dragon Cannon!”

Amidst a furious roar, Yu Tianheng’s Fourth spirit ring lit up, and the Spirit Ability Blue Lightning Divine Dragon Swift was condensed and compressed into his right fist within the confines of the electromagnetic over-frequency field.

As the lightning was continuously compressed, it changed from blue to white, forming rings of electricity within the energy dragon head of that right fist.

The fluctuations emitted by that energy had already surpassed a Spirit Emperor, directly approaching a Spirit Saint!

Boom!

Wind and thunder collided, erupting into an endless storm. The immense energy pressure and rising air currents caused layers of cracks to appear on the ground.

At this moment, everything was silent!

No one had expected that this match would be so spectacular. The power of the attacks unleashed by both individuals was no less than that of an attack system Spirit Emperor or Spirit Saint.

“Is this the younger generation of Spirit Masters? Truly terrifying!”

In the VIP section, Sword Douluo was full of admiration.

Although the two people on the field did not use swords, to be able to unleash such powerful force at such an age and with such strength was truly shocking.

Sword Douluo could not understand the methods of that boy from the Blue Lightning Tyrant Dragon Clan. He only felt that it was not pure lightning power and should be related to the self-created Spirit Ability that Tang San taught him to develop.

However, he did understand Feng Xiaotian’s self-created Spirit Ability, which was to use rotation, not only to make himself rotate but also to make the spirit power within his body rotate, then transform it into wind-attribute energy to form a tornado with endless wind blades hidden within.

He could also learn from this method to enhance his own swordsmanship.

“If he thought of this self-created Spirit Ability by himself, without any guidance from others, then Feng Xiaotian is indeed more outstanding than Yu Tianheng,” Ning Fengzhi exclaimed, “However, even if he didn’t think of it alone, he is only slightly inferior to Yu Tianheng. Can we recruit him into the Seven Treasure Glazed Tile School?”

Sword Douluo shook his head: “I’m afraid not. His father is the dean of Shenfeng Academy. Unless the academy can no longer operate, it’s impossible for him to join other forces.”

It was at this moment that the winner and loser were determined on the field.

The rotating wind, after all, could not compare to the repulsive force of the magnetic field. The Electromagnetic Tyrannical Dragon Cannon ultimately pushed Feng Xiaotian back, sending him flying out of the arena and embedding him into the outer wall.

Boom!

When the Blue Lightning Divine Dragon Swift exploded, the entire surrounding wall developed spiderweb-like cracks, scaring the spectators leaning by the railing into retreating constantly.

When the smoke cleared, Feng Xiaotian was already on his last breath, but he still forcefully gave Yu Tianheng a thumbs-up: “Am-amazing!”

“Captain!”

“Are you alright?”

“Quick, call a healing Spirit Master!”

The other students of Shenfeng Academy hurriedly called for help.

Tang San said to Ye Lingling: “Lingling, you go help with the treatment.”

“No problem.” Ye Lingling quickly jogged over, released her Nine Hearted Sea棠 Spirit, and used all five Spirit Abilities simultaneously. Sea棠 petals drifted onto Feng Xiaotian’s body and merged into him.

In just over ten seconds, Feng Xiaotian recovered as before, except his clothes were scorched black, his hair was still standing on end, and the spirit power consumed within him had not yet recovered.

After all, Nine Hearted Sea棠 primarily treats injuries and does not include the function of restoring spirit power.

“Thanks.” Feng Xiaotian revealed a mouthful of white teeth, which, combined with the layer of scorched skin that had not yet peeled off his face, was very striking. He then gave a thumbs-up again to Yu Tianheng, who was kneeling on the field: “Yu Tianheng, this time, I lost. However, next time we fight, I will win it back!”

“Haha, I’ll be waiting.” Yu Tianheng laughed heartily, slowly stood up, and looked at the next member of Shenfeng Academy, who was only a Spirit Elder.

Defeating this guy was certainly no problem. In fact, with his remaining spirit power, it wouldn’t be a big problem to defeat the remaining six members in a row.

However, Yu Tianheng felt that as a Vice Captain, he should be like Captain Tang San and not just think about showing off himself. He should give his teammates a chance to shine.

After all, once the roster for the final general finals was determined, no substitutions could be made. Heaven Dou First Team had many members, so those teammates who were bound to not be able to play should be given more opportunities to perform.

Thus, Yu Tianheng voluntarily stepped down.

“However, only by letting go of unnecessary pride can one go further in the future.” A hint of approval flashed in Tang San’s eyes. He used his First Soul Skill to restore Yu Tianheng’s spirit power and simultaneously treat the injury on his right hand.

Although electromagnetic power was stronger than rotating wind, Yu Tianheng was still made of flesh and blood, and his right hand had still suffered a certain degree of cutting.

If not treated immediately, it could lead to disability.

“Captain, your Spirit Ability, every time I see it, it gives people the illusion that you are relatively weak.” Yu Tianheng looked at his slowly healing wound. He had thought that after two years, he had gotten used to Tang San’s positioning of his own Spirit Master type, but in the end, he found that he still couldn’t quite accept it.

“What does the strength of a Spirit’s Spirit Ability have to do with my own combat power?” Tang San said with a matter-of-fact expression, making Yu Tianheng and the others extremely speechless.

However, for Tang San, when dealing with ordinary enemies, he didn’t even need to use his Spirit. He could win just by relying on his fist and foot techniques.

His physical strength was something even he, a Blue Lightning Tyrant Dragon, couldn’t compare to.

He really didn’t know how he cultivated.

Then, Tang San said to Lan Yinzi: “You haven’t been on the field once before. How about you go this time?”

“Do the others not want to go?” Lan Yinzi looked at the others. The boys gracefully yielded, and the girls also took care of her, pushing her forward. Xiao Wu even said: “Oh, since we’re participating in this competition, we have to show ourselves, otherwise what’s the difference from a freeloader? Go on, show everyone how powerful your Blue Silver Grass truly is!”

“Since that’s the case, then this humble one will not decline.” Lan Yinzi pretended to cup her fists towards everyone, then leaped up and jumped onto the field.

Her posture was agile, her landing silent, and her steps were extremely light, as if she had no weight.

“I thought she didn’t like to talk much, but I didn’t expect her to be quite humorous.” Xiao Wu was a little surprised to see Lan Yinzi’s demeanor, then quietly asked, “By the way, Third Brother, how did you guide her with her self-created Spirit Ability? I used to ask her, but she always brushed me off with various excuses, and I still don’t know.”

“I’m quite curious too.” Huo Wu also leaned over, wanting to listen.

“Actually, my guidance to her was very simple: I just told her to sway her body and become soft, like a real Blue Silver Grass,” Tang San revealed the truth.

Xiao Wu was incredulous: “It’s that simple? She didn’t offend you in some way, did she?”

“What are you thinking? Am I that petty?” Tang San was speechless, “The main thing is that she has the heart of an attack system, and her Spirit is the innate Blue Silver Emperor.”

“More importantly, her situation is quite special, just like yours.”

Huh?

Just like her?

Xiao Wu immediately reacted, narrowed her big eyes, and carefully scrutinized Lan Yinzi, who was knocking the Shenfeng Academy student off the field, muttering: “I can’t tell at all.”

Huo Wu was a little confused: “What secret codes are you two talking about? Or what kind of secret signals? Why don’t I understand a single word? What do you mean, ‘just like Xiao Wu’s situation’?”

“It’s a secret.” Xiao Wu intimately rested her hand on Tang San’s shoulder, a hint of smugness in her smile, “This is something only siblings and master-disciple pairs can know.”

“Hmph ~ who cares.” Huo Wu snorted coldly, turned her head away, but perked up her ears, wanting to eavesdrop on something to join the “secret team” and become Tang San’s true “insider.”

Beside them, Yu Feng saw the “open and covert struggle” between Huo Wu and Xiao Wu, Guang Ling watched intently from the side, and Zhu Zhuqing and Ning Rongrong also focused their attention on Tang San, subtly nudging Oslo beside them with their shoulders, motioning for him to look over, and whispered: “Look, Captain is really popular with women. I wonder if he’ll be able to handle so many women in the future.”

Oslo: “...You want to seek death, but don’t drag me into it. I still vividly remember the incident with the map last time.”

209: Swift Wind Grass: Swift Wind Step! Strong grass fist!

Facing the remaining students of Shenfeng Academy, Lan Yinzi was able to deal with them relatively easily.

Compared to her previous use of Spirit Abilities like Lan Yin Seed and Blue Silver Network for control, in this promotion match, she showed the world what agile footwork truly was.

Carefree Wind Riding, Tang San naturally did not teach her.

Tang San's suggestion to her was to sway her body, just like a real Blue Silver Grass in the wind.

This point, for others, might be very difficult, but for Lan Yinzi, it was relatively easy, and she might even be able to achieve a profound state where her body moved with her will.

This was simply because Lan Yinzi was the Blue Silver Emperor... through soul possession.

At least, her soul was, so she must possess memories from her time as the Blue Silver Emperor.

And she had a heart that desired to be an attack system and control system Spirit Master, so she naturally needed a set of extremely flexible footwork, rather than just standing foolishly in place and relying solely on Spirit Abilities for attacks.

The reason he didn't teach her Carefree Wind Riding was primarily because Lan Yinzi hadn't been open with him, and genetically speaking, there wasn't any blood relationship between them.

Secondly, Tang San wasn't sure if Lan Yinzi herself had inherited the memories of a transmigrator, and what her attitude towards him, her 'son,' was... he needed to remain vigilant.

Finally, as the Blue Silver Emperor, Lan Yinzi was better able to imagine herself as a true Blue Silver Emperor, swaying in the strong wind, soft yet unbroken, firm yet difficult to snap.

This experience was far beyond what others could compare to.

Tang San's plan for her was ultimately to integrate the footwork realized by the Blue Silver Emperor into his own Carefree Wind Riding. Furthermore, his planning and guidance for the self-created Spirit Abilities of Huo Wu, Yu Tianheng, Shi Mo, Shi Mo, Ye Lingling, Ning Rongrong, Zhu Zhuqing, and others were ultimately to leverage their respective achievements, with the ultimate goal of combining those advantages with his own.

One for all, and all for one.

This was the best explanation.

Thirty minutes later, Lan Yinzi took down all of Shenfeng Academy's members in a six-win streak and happily walked off the stage, though her spirit power consumption was indeed quite high.

“Thank you, Captain.” Lan Yinzi had never imagined before that she could defeat enemies so easily. Without using Spirit Abilities, just by making herself like a true Blue Silver Grass, swaying with the wind, she could dodge any enemy attack, and even use the force of the sway to return to position and counterattack the enemy.

During the brief moment of stiffness when the Shenfeng Academy members used their Spirit Abilities on her, Lan Yinzi, in that instant of dodging, rooted her feet firmly to the ground like the roots of the Blue Silver Emperor, leaning back in various directions while dodging the opponent's attacks, then suddenly snapping back to strike the opponent's weak points with her fist.

To achieve the strongest effect with the least amount of effort.

Truly extraordinary!

To achieve this, precise control over spirit power was essential.

This was also thanks to the tree-climbing training.

“You're welcome. This is the footwork and steps you comprehended yourself. I merely pointed you in a direction.” Tang San did not take credit. “However, for you at present, it cannot deal with overly strong enemies. You still need to practice continuously.”

To be honest, Lan Yinzi's ability to achieve a six-win streak was mainly because the other members of Shenfeng Academy had lower spirit power than her, and all had wind attributes, which just happened to be suitable for Lan Yinzi's training.

“Got it.” Lan Yinzi stuck out her tongue, more lively than usual.

This made Xiao Wu extremely wary, feeling that Lan Yinzi also had a “covetous heart” towards Tang San, and furthermore, both of their Spirits were the Blue Silver Emperor, so she had to be on guard.

“Captain, what do you think I should name this self-created Spirit Ability of mine, which is a type of movement technique?” Lan Yinzi hoped her good big son could name it.

“As for the name, let's call it 'Swift Wind Tough Grass.’” Tang San said without hesitation, “This technique of yours is about imagining yourself as grass and sensing how grass sways in the wind. This name couldn't be more suitable. If you create new techniques in the future, they can be divided into two categories.”

“Swift Wind Step, Tough Grass Fist.”

“Swift Wind Step: The footwork is steady, like the Blue Silver Grass rooted in the earth, with the upper body swaying non-stop, which can confuse people's eyes. Tough Grass Fist: Uses the sway of the body to generate force, with rapid speed. If spirit power is circulated, the speed and power of the punch will undoubtedly be stronger.”

“If you develop any spear-type Spirit Abilities for your Spirit later, you can also evolve Tough Grass Fist into Tough Grass Spear.”

Lan Yinzi nodded repeatedly, feeling that what Tang San said made a lot of sense, but then she reacted, a look of deliberation on her face:

Why would he know that she would develop spear-type Spirit Abilities in the future?

Could it be that her good big son had already guessed her identity?

However, Tang San did not answer Lan Yinzi's suspicious gaze. Instead, he led everyone off the stage, as the next match was not for their Heaven Dou Royal First Team to fight again.

Thirteen teams, competing two by two, required a total of seventy-eight matches.

Moreover, because it was a single-person contest between two teams, the time taken was not less than that of the preliminaries. In fact, when the equally matched Shenfeng Academy and Thunder Academy teams met, they fought for a full day.

In the blink of an eye, seven days passed.

The members of the Heaven Dou Royal First Team encountered and defeated teams like Blazing Fire, Thunder, and Tianshui. The players who appeared were mostly Yu Feng, Oslo, Lan Yinzi, Shi Mo, Shi Mo, and even Ye Lingling, a healing support system Spirit Master.

That's right, Ye Lingling also appeared.

Although she didn't have a single offensive Spirit Ability, with her relatively high spirit power and control over it, she could still defeat one or two Spirit Ancestors with her fist and foot techniques.

After all, during the training of self-created Spirit Abilities, Ye Lingling would also seek guidance from Tang San, and he would occasionally accompany her to train in fist and foot techniques and footwork.

It's not to say how powerful Ye Lingling's fist and foot techniques were, but simply, under Tang San's training, she gained an instinctive understanding of when to punch and when to kick in certain situations.

That is, she could grasp the timing of her punches.

The other members of Heaven Dou Royal did not appear much, especially Tang San, who never went on stage for a single-person match against an opponent. He was basically always strategizing for his teammates.

This disappointed many spectators, as they just wanted to see Tang San crush everything!

And people from large Sects and prominent families had two conjectures regarding Tang San's behavior.

Firstly, he didn't want to show off and gave the opportunity to other team members.

Secondly, in the preliminaries, killing that 300,000-year-old Spirit Beast actually caused him severe injuries, which had not yet recovered.

Although the powerhouses among these forces couldn't see any weakness in Tang San, they all felt that the second conjecture was more likely.

After all, which young man doesn't love to show off?

“Captain, yesterday during the match against Tianshui Academy, Shui Bing'er directly confessed to you.” Yu Feng followed behind Tang San, heading towards the arena, grinning playfully, “Those Tianshui girls are really bold.”

“It's just the restlessness of adolescence.” Tang San said something that no one understood. “I wouldn't take such words seriously. I'd never seen her before, and suddenly she confessed. We don't understand each other, so how could it be serious?”

Oslo chuckled, “Perhaps it's love at first sight.”

“So-called love at first sight is merely lust at first sight, for both men and women; they're just craving each other's bodies.” Tang San shrugged, saying indifferently, “Without a shared experience of growing up together, love at first sight is nothing more than a fleeting moment. That passion comes quickly and goes quickly, unless one is heartless, otherwise both sides will be left with irreparable pain.”

Huo Wu was surprised, “Captain Tang San, you know quite a lot? But why are you still a virgin?”

Tang San's mouth twitched, and he asked, “How can you tell I'm a virgin?”

“It's hard to say, but there's a difference between boys and men, you can tell at a glance.” Huo Wu thought for a while, unable to figure out the reason, but still stated her opinion.

“Third Brother is pure!” Xiao Wu retorted, but her heart secretly rejoiced, thinking: This way, Third Brother's first time will definitely be mine, hehehe!

“Don't say that about me, I just don't want to get sick.” Tang San gave a reason that Xiao Wu couldn't refute. After all, during the process of seeking pleasure, if one isn't careful, they can indeed get sick, and some illnesses cannot be cured by simply supplementing vitality. On the contrary, because of abundant vitality, the illness might even worsen.

According to Tang San, it was a type of virus.

This kind of virus was difficult for even spirit power to eradicate. In fact, when Tang San and Xiao Wu were researching medicine, they discovered a virus that could continuously proliferate using spirit power as nourishment...

“Moreover, maintaining a virgin body is beneficial for cultivating spirit power,” Tang San continued. “This is also one of the reasons my spirit power has increased so quickly.”

“There’s such a saying?” Yu Feng was startled, then nodded thoughtfully. “Indeed, once you’ve experienced that kind of thing between a man and a woman, it’s harder to calm your mind... If I have a son in the future, I definitely won’t let him lose his virginity before he’s twenty. What do you say, Xiangxiang?”

Bai Chenxiang’s face flushed. She spat and said, “What are you talking about? We just started dating, and you’re already thinking about having children? How shameless.”

Yu Feng’s face fell, and he whined, “No, Xiangxiang, we’ve already...”

“Cough!”

Tang San coughed, interrupting Yu Feng, and said, “Let’s not talk about such topics. We’re not interested.”

As the Heaven Dou Royal First Team entered the arena, their opponents also took the stage.

Hu Liena, Xie Yue, Yan, and four other Spirit Ancestors above forty-fifth rank – the Spirit Hall Team was also filled with talented individuals.

“Xie Yue and Yan were nowhere to be seen in the last two rounds of the preliminaries. I heard they went hunting Spirit Beasts, and now they’re back,” Yu Tianheng’s eyes blazed with fighting spirit. “Does that mean the Spirit Hall Team now has three Spirit Emperors?”

Huo Wu stretched her wrists, being the first to jump onto the stage. She turned to Tang San and said, “I’ll go first, is that okay, Captain Tang San?”

“Naturally,” Tang San said with a smile.

In terms of strength, although Huo Wu was only a Spirit King, she was not inferior to a Spirit Emperor. In fact, she could even defeat a Spirit Saint in a one-on-one fight.

Among the Golden Generation of Spirit Hall, only Yan could match Huo Wu in terms of power.

And Yan happened to be the first to enter the arena. He immediately performed Spirit possession and released six spirit rings—two yellow, two purple, and two black—and said, “We both play with fire. How about we have a competition?”

“How can a mere Flame Lord compare to my Sun Goddess?” Huo Wu raised her hand and snapped her fingers. Her Spirit, Sun Goddess, appeared, her golden-red hair fluttering. Five spirit rings—two yellow, two purple, and one black—accompanied her, making her resemble a heroic goddess. Especially her closed eyes, if opened, would reveal a serene demeanor of ‘let others clamor, I remain unshaken’.

Looking at Huo Wu’s Spirit, Bibi Dong’s heart stirred, and she thought, “Aside from the preliminaries, this is the second time I’ve seen this Spirit called Sun Goddess. Its quality is excellent. In terms of the purity of light and fire, it surpasses even Seraphim. It contains no hint of faith, making it a powerful Spirit comparable to Seraphim.”

“Unfortunately, it seems there is no Sun God in this world, so she cannot receive divine inheritance.”

“However, if she is willing to join Spirit Hall, I might consider taking her as a disciple.”

Evidently, Huo Wu’s talent had moved Bibi Dong.

In addition, the talents of Xiao Wu, Guang Ling, and others were also sufficient for them to become her disciples.

As for Tang San...

She would not take male disciples, no matter how talented, because that experience was a lifelong pain for her.

Moreover, Bibi Dong did not believe she could teach Tang San.

“Battle start!”

Chrysanthemum Douluo could sense that Huo Wu’s Spirit was extremely powerful, stronger than the Flame Lord by a notch, but Yan’s spirit power had reached sixty-first rank, so he should be able to contend.

“Then I won’t be polite!” Yan was a straightforward man who didn’t understand what it meant to cherish and pity women. He immediately activated his Spirit Ability, transforming his arms into giant lava hands, and attacked Huo Wu.

When spirit power reaches the Spirit Emperor level, even if one is not an agility-attack system Spirit Master, their speed is much faster than agility-attack system Spirit Masters below Spirit Ancestor, unless that agility-attack system Spirit Master is pursuing an extreme style.

Facing those fists, Huo Wu’s lips curved into a smile. She crossed her arms in front of her chest, and the Sun Goddess behind her also crossed its arms, protecting Huo Wu’s forearms.

Boom!

As the two unleashed their spirit power, the entire arena was filled with rolling heatwaves, as if a midsummer gale had swept through. The spectators in the front row felt their mouths dry.

“What?!”

Yan looked at his ineffective giant lava arms, his eyes filled with astonishment.

One must know, he was a Spirit Emperor!

The opponent was merely a Spirit King, yet her spirit power quality was not inferior to his. Furthermore, his attack did not make her retreat in the slightest.

Involuntarily, a cold sweat broke out on Yan's forehead, but it was quickly evaporated by the heatwave and dissipated into nothingness.

“Can you push the sun?”

Huo Wu chuckled softly and lowered her arms, but the Sun Goddess's arms remained crossed, protecting Huo Wu.

“Not good!”

Yan's heart pounded with fear. He wanted to break free but found his lava arms seemed to be adhered to the Sun Goddess's crossed hands, making it difficult to struggle free.

This feeling was like a bird looking for a perch. No matter how high it flew, it would eventually land on a treetop, a roof, or the ground. No bird could fly forever.

However, when a bird landed, it moved downwards.

But the Sun Goddess's adhesive force was like being horizontal, parallel to the ground... No! That's not right! It's not parallel to the ground!

Yan discovered that countless dust particles were rapidly approaching the Sun Goddess at an extremely fast speed, forming circles of dust halos around her.

Under the illumination of that light and fire, it was so dazzling and shimmering.

“First Soul Skill: Sun Star Ring!”

As the first spirit ring shone, a golden-red halo emerged from around the Sun Goddess, merging with the dust halo and then rotating at high speed.

Crack!

In just an instant, Yan's lava arms were cut open, turning into countless lava fragments that were absorbed by the Sun Star Ring and integrated into the dust within it.

"Is this a self-created Spirit Ability?" As his lava arms shattered, Yan temporarily regained his freedom and immediately retreated backward, his eyes filled with vigilance.

Although Huo Wu was now using her First Soul Skill, that suction force was definitely not the effect of a spirit ring Spirit Ability. It should be a self-created Spirit Ability with extremely strong adhesive force, developed from the inherent characteristics of her Spirit.

"That's right."

Huo Wu slowly raised her hand, aiming at Yan. The Sun Goddess also slowly raised its hand, and the high-speed rotating Sun Star Ring encircled its arm, constantly distorting the surrounding airflow, giving the illusion of cutting through space.

"Go!"

With just a slight push, the Sun Star Ring was directly propelled outwards. Under the influence of gravity, its speed was extremely fast, almost imperceptible to the naked eye.

"Lava Armor!" Yan cried out in alarm. Unable to dodge, he hastily used his Sixth Soul Skill, covering himself with a thick layer of lava-like armor.

At this moment, he was over ten meters tall, like a giant.

But the Sun Star Ring still enveloped him, and a certain gravitational force within the ring bound him, making him unable to move.

Under the influence of gravity, the dust and sand within the Sun Star Ring rapidly approached and adhered to Yan. Even the continuous supply of dust from the air was being drawn into it.

In just one minute, Yan was completely enveloped by countless sand particles, forming a large sphere over ten meters in diameter, which slowly rose into the sky under the gravitational pull of the Sun Star Ring.

Huo Wu also gritted her teeth at this moment, clenching her hands into fists and bringing them together sharply, saying, “Starburst!”

Pop!

With a crisp sound, the Sun Star Ring no longer expanded outwards but rapidly contracted, cutting towards the stone sphere.

Sizzle!

In just an instant, the entire stone sphere was cut into two halves, beginning to fall and scatter.

Yan was not cut in half, but two large gashes appeared at his waist, indicating severe injury, though his Life was not in danger.

“The winner is Huo Wu of the Heaven Dou Royal Battle Team!”

To be honest, Chrysanthemum Douluo couldn’t understand what method Huo Wu had used. How could her First Soul Skill be so outrageous?

Gravity?

It didn’t feel quite like it.

Moreover, how could a Spirit with light and fire attributes possess gravity-related abilities?

Did Tang San help develop it?

It was too unbelievable.

However, the opponent won, and that was clear for everyone to see.

As for using weapons—sand and gravel condensed from dust—Chrysanthemum Douluo felt that it was difficult to judge. After all, there was countless dust invisible to the naked eye in the air. It was impossible to demand that Spirit Masters not breathe during battle, right?

“This Huo Wu, isn’t she too outrageous?”

“Universal gravitation?”

“Is she really going to become the sun?”

210: Xiao Wu VS Wuhundian Team

Compared to the strong individuals among the Douluo natives who were puzzled and speculated about Huo Wu's ability, the Transmigrators immediately guessed the essence of Huo Wu's ability.

But even if they guessed it, they had no solution.

After all, they couldn't possibly stop Huo Wu from continuing to develop that ability, could they?

They would probably be beaten badly.

“Is that Tang San crazy? Is he really not afraid of those people from the Heaven Dou Royal Battle Team dealing with him in the future?” Mu Tian was greatly shocked, “And that Yu Tianheng, now that I think about it, he wouldn’t be developing in the direction of a ‘Railgun’, would he? The attack method of that Blue Lightning Dragon Flash is really similar to Sister Cannon, only the attacking projectile has become a Spirit Ability condensed from lightning.”

Mu Tian could still understand Huo Wu, just assuming Tang San wanted to build a harem.

But Yu Tianheng...

Could it be that Tang San was bisexual?

However, Mu Tian immediately discarded this thought, believing that Tang San must have other motives. Anyway, taking himself as an example, if he had transmigrated as Tang San, even if his teammates had that talent, he would never help them develop such a grand ability...

In the Heaven Dou Royal Second Team, Wang Chen's thoughts were almost identical to Mu Tian's, but he didn't think too much. After all, he had already made up his mind to lie flat. Whatever the other party wanted to do, he would just focus on obeying Xue Qinghe's orders and flattering her; that would be enough. Qian Renxue should at least, probably, possibly, or might remember old affections...

And Xu Xing of the Star Crown Sect narrowed his eyes and thought, "I'm playing immortal cultivation arrays, and you're talking about cosmic laws, right? Hmph! My Great Desolation will crush everything!"

Ever since he was able to complete the Seven-in-One Martial Soul Fusion Skill with his academy members before the tournament started, realizing that his transmigration golden finger was similar to the Zhou Tian Xing Dou Great Array, Xu Xing had become unprecedentedly confident.

The Douluo natives were nothing but chickens and dogs.

And the reason why Star Crown Academy could not enter the promotion round, in Xu Xing's view, was only because he was ambushed by that Hu Yan Zuo of the Elephant Armored Academy. Otherwise, how could he have lost?

Once the Zhou Tian Xing Dou Great Array is unleashed, it can crush everything!

On the other side, Mi Xue of Tianshui Academy was dumbfounded by the scene just now, her heart greatly shaken: "Was that a Planetary Devastation? My goodness! Could it be that Huo Wu, like me, is also a Transmigrator who likes anime? Or rather, are all the members of the Heaven Dou Royal First Team Transmigrators?"

"In my previous Life, I seem to have indeed watched an anime where multiple people transmigrated to another World, Recoome, Spider-Girl..."

“Could it be that my situation is also the same?”

At this moment, Huo Wu on the field exhaled a turbid breath and thought, “That last move used almost half of my spirit power. Gravity, this ability is truly powerful.”

Yan's injuries were healed by Ye Lingling, and he walked off the field dispiritedly.

He couldn't believe that he had actually lost to a Spirit King.

A spirit power gap of nearly ten levels!

The opponent treated it as nothing!

Was the opponent's Spirit too powerful?

Yan wanted to find a reason for his failure, but then he shook his head and thought, “No! It's definitely not because the opponent's Spirit is stronger than mine. Although that is a fact, it's not the main factor. The powerful spirit power control methods and that gravity-like attraction are the main reasons she defeated me with just her First Soul Skill!”

After realizing the gap between himself and Huo Wu, Yan felt relieved and decided to find a way to research powerful self-created Spirit Ability based on the characteristics of his own Spirit in the future.

At least, having been trained by Spirit Hall since childhood, he understood one thing: it was rumored that those Super Douluo in the Elder Palace rarely used Spirit Ability in combat, relying instead on powerful self-created Spirit Ability and extremely rich combat experience.

Whether one possesses self-created Spirit Ability has already become a criterion for judging whether a Spirit Master is truly powerful.

“Yan, you've done well. In the next match, I'll help you regain your face.” Xie Yue patted Yan's shoulder, comforting him, “The opponent is really strong, but that last move should have consumed a lot of spirit power...

Sigh, it might be an unfair victory, but who said this isn't a promotion round?"

However, when Xie Yue went on stage, Huo Wu jumped down, and Xiao Wu jumped onto the ring. After Spirit possession, five spirit rings—one yellow, two purple, and two black—appeared around her body.

Two thousand-year rings, four ten-thousand-year rings.

Excluding the fifth spirit ring, her configuration could be said to be no less than Tang San's in the slightest.

"Tang Wu, Tang San's younger sister, right?" Spirit Hall naturally had information on Xiao Wu, but because it was reported by Ma Xiunuo (at Tang San's request), Spirit Hall's understanding of Xiao Wu was that she was Tang San's biological younger sister. After all, the full name of Xiao Wu reported by Ma Xiunuo was Tang Wu.

"That's right, but not by blood," Xiao Wu deliberately corrected.

"Is that so?" Xie Yue didn't mind this, after all, according to the information, both were commoners. Soft Bones Rabbit and Blue Silver Grass could be said to be waste Spirit among animal Spirit and plant Spirit.

However, it was precisely these two waste Spirit that, under Tang San's planning, became so powerful.

The title of Martial Soul Theory Master.

Tang San truly deserved it!

"Let me see your capabilities."

Xie Yue's eyes narrowed, and he drew a circle with his arms in front of his chest, slowly spreading them. Two moon blades appeared in his hands, their sharp edges gleaming with cold light, and two beams of light shot out.

Facing these two lightning-fast blades, Xiao Wu seemed to have anticipated them. She tilted her body and slightly bent her knees, dodging both attacks, and then her fourth spirit ring suddenly lit up.

Electric Light Flash!

Zzzzt!

A golden electric arc flashed for an instant, and Xiao Wu, as if by Teleportation, lunged in front of Xie Yue. Her hands transformed into blades, solidified into cold Jade Bone, and with her fifth spirit ring flashing, two clusters of golden flames entwined around her Mysterious Jade Hand blades.

Xiao Wu's Fifth Soul Skill was Blazing Flame Fist, which could be used for close combat or long-range attacks, but with enhanced control, the power of the Spirit Ability could also be condensed onto her hands, transforming into Blazing Flame Blades.

After all, weapons could not be used in the Continental Elite Tournament, so short blades naturally could not be used, and this served as a substitute.

But even so, with Xiao Wu's current physical quality, having condensed Jade Bone throughout her body, coupled with the speed inertia of her Fourth Soul Skill and the flame burst of her Fifth Soul Skill, even an ordinary Spirit Saint would find it difficult to contend.

This was with Xiao Wu not even using her Third Soul Skill, True Spirit Bone.

Otherwise, even a Spirit Douluo would not be able to defeat Xiao Wu within a hundred moves.

Therefore, facing Xiao Wu's lightning-fast frontal assassination, Xie Yue had no time to react. Even though he instinctively protected himself with his moon blades, he was still continuously pushed back by Xiao Wu's two blazing flame hand blades.

If he hadn't reacted quickly and stabbed his moon blades into the ground to increase friction, Xie Yue would have fallen out of bounds.

“Such strong power, is this guy really an agility-attack system?” Xie Yue sensed one foot was already in the air, and without looking back, he realized he was already standing at the very edge of the arena.

After this strike, Xiao Wu did not immediately pursue, but slowly straightened her body, flexing her wrists, and said, “Not bad, those two blades are quite hard.”

Hard?

Xie Yue's heart sank.

He had taken that blow just now, but his two moon blades hadn't completely stopped vibrating yet, and the tiger's mouth of his own hand had split open, the vibrating force spreading throughout his body, churning his internal organs.

If it happened again, whether he could withstand it was an unknown.

Moreover, the opponent's speed was too fast for him to see clearly. His own speed was not slow, but compared to hers, it was like a turtle and a rabbit.

“Again!”

Xie Yue, who stood up with great effort, was incredibly stubborn. As part of the Spirit Hall Team, he could not admit defeat.

“Hehe, you're quite durable, but in front of Xiao Wu Jie, enemies either flee or are utterly defeated.” After trash-talking, Xiao Wu's figure instantly vanished.

“Where is she?”

When Xie Yue saw clearly, he felt a breeze by his ear. He hurriedly swung the moon blades in his hands towards his head, but he swung at empty air.

At this moment, Xiao Wu had just tilted her head to dodge the attack, but her body was at a sixty-degree angle to the ground.

“Watch your step.”

Xiao Wu's long braid was tied around Xie Yue's ankle, and then with a pull, Xie Yue completely lost his balance.

“Not good!” Xie Yue was startled. Normally, he wouldn't lose his balance so easily, but earlier, he had taken a blow from Xiao Wu, which had rattled his internal organs, leaving him in poor condition. Furthermore, his twin blades, which were swinging upwards at the moment, were momentarily stuck, and he couldn't swing them downwards in time to cut off Xiao Wu's hair.

As Xiao Wu's body forcefully tilted to one side, after her right hand touched the ground, Xie Yue was also lifted upside down. And at that moment, Xiao Wu activated her First Soul Skill, Waist Bow, using her waist strength to kick Xie Yue's abdomen with her legs, which were like coiled springs, while the scorpion tail braid wrapped around his ankle also loosened at that instant.

Whoosh—

Xie Yue was like a cannonball, flying out of the arena and embedding himself in the wall.

The force of this blow was astonishing.

At Tang San's signal, Ye Lingling immediately rushed over to treat him, so as not to harm the harmony between the two academies...

...

“That child's physical quality is very strong.” Bibi Dong saw Xiao Wu's strength. Not only was her spirit power profound, but more importantly, her body was incredibly tough, second only to Tang San, and perhaps even superior in flexibility.

The Soft Bones Rabbit's flexibility was fully displayed on Xiao Wu.

It's just, why did that long braid feel a bit familiar?

Bibi Dong fell into thought about this point, but ultimately shook her head, muttering, "There's no Ten-thousand year soul beast aura, it must just be a similarity... Huo Yuhao didn't seem to have a corresponding Spirit Beast aura before revealing his true form, but it seems he really was human before..."

Compared to others, Bibi Dong was clearer about Huo Yuhao's situation, but precisely because she was clear, she was even more puzzled, not understanding why a human would transform into a Spirit Beast.

Could it be the trick of that million-year-level Ice Silkworm?

Spirit Beasts can transform into humans.

So, can humans also transform into Spirit Beasts?

This World is truly crazy...

"Heaven Dou Royal Academy, Xiao Wu wins," Chrysanthemum Douluo announced, then added, "Please send out the third person from the Spirit Hall Team."

Subsequently, a Spirit Ancestor entered the arena.

Compared to Hu Liena entering, she intended to observe more of Xiao Wu's strength to find weaknesses and secure a decisive victory in one blow.

After all, the members of the Tiandou Royal Battle Team were extremely powerful. Yu Tianheng and Huo Wu, each of them could fight above their rank, even a major rank.

And while their Golden Generation had higher spirit power, they were somewhat lacking compared to these geniuses who could create their own Spirit Abilities.

There was also Xiao Wu. This girl grew up with Tang San since childhood and received the most guidance. In terms of overall strength, she was probably second only to Tang San, the strongest in the Heaven Dou Royal Battle Team.

In the previous preliminary elimination rounds and the first few promotion matches, Xiao Wu hadn't shown much. Entering the arena today, she would certainly not fight just one match.

And indeed, as Hu Liena expected, Xiao Wu did not leave after winning one match, but continued to challenge and consecutively defeated four Spirit Ancestors from the Spirit Hall Team.

Compared to Xie Yue, Xiao Wu did not use Spirit Abilities when facing these four people. She defeated them simply by relying on the speed advantage brought by Spirit possession.

After all, Tang San had trained her as an assassin, teaching her which parts of the human body were weak and which acupuncture points, when struck, would cause weakness.

Therefore, after consecutively defeating four people, Xiao Wu used almost no spirit power.

In the eyes of the audience, Xiao Wu merely struck some body parts of the Spirit Hall Team members, and her force wasn't great, but the four members of the Spirit Hall Team seemed to have their strength drained, either crying out in pain, trembling, or fainting.

It felt like—it was a rigged match.

If this weren't the Spirit Hall Team, and most of the audience were from Spirit City, and the current Supreme Pontiff, the emperors of the Two Great Empires, and various judging panels were also watching, a large group of people would probably be clamoring for refunds.

"Uncle Sword, do you know what method Xiao Wu used?" Ning Fengzhi was also puzzled, asking Sword Douluo.

"Some of the areas she attacked, I understand, are weak points of the human body. When hit, spirit power will be obstructed, and muscles will be paralyzed. But the remaining locations..." Sword Douluo pondered, pinching his sword finger, comparing the attacked areas on the field, finding the corresponding locations on his own body, and pressing down.

"Hiss—"

Sword Douluo gasped, quickly smoothing out the turbulent spirit power within his body, and said, "Those locations should also be able to affect the flow of spirit power, and even cause spirit power to run wild within the body."

"This requires a very strong understanding of body structure."

"So, was it Tang San who taught her?"

Sword Douluo guessed correctly.

The parts Xiao Wu attacked were all acupuncture points of the human body.

Within the Mysterious Heaven Treasure Record, there were naturally diagrams marking the various acupuncture points of the human body, though this had little to do with the cultivation of Mysterious Heaven Skill. Its main purpose was to provide an explanation for Tang Sect disciples, allowing them to accurately target the enemy's acupuncture points when using Hidden Weapons, and attack them, breaking the whole from a single point.

Although Tang San did not inherit the methods of Hidden Weapons manufacturing or usage, he could test the effects of specific acupuncture points on the human body and then teach them to Xiao Wu, allowing her to use them in combat. This was certainly a means of subduing enemies.

Moreover, knowing the functions of various acupuncture points in the human body was of immense help to Xiao Wu's side profession: medicinal research, making it a win-win situation.

However, in the eyes of the audience, Xiao Wu's methods were a bit strange.

However, to achieve the current effect, it also required extremely strong spirit power control to precisely inject one's own force and spirit power into the corresponding acupuncture points of the enemy.

Furthermore, different Spirits have different spirit power attributes. Rashly injecting incompatible spirit power into another's body can cause even greater damage.

"Only you are left, the last person of the Spirit Hall Team, Hu Liena." Xiao Wu waved to Hu Liena, signaling her not to dawdle.

"Hoo~ Haa~"

Taking a deep breath, Hu Liena calmed her emotions.

Xiao Wu had fought five matches. Besides the battle with her brother Xie Yue, where she used her First Soul Skill, Fourth Soul Skill, and Fifth Soul Skill, she had no idea what methods Xiao Wu used in the remaining four matches.

"Battle start!" Chrysanthemum Douluo shouted, then jumped off the arena, leaving the stage to the two women.

"You look very nervous." Xiao Wu stood with one hand on her hip, the other hand holding her scorpion braid, constantly swinging it. The golden tree short sword tied at the end spun rapidly, forming a blur.

Her relaxed demeanor made Hu Liena feel underestimated, and she couldn't help but say, "Is that a weapon tied to your hair?"

"It is indeed, but I didn't use it when dealing with your brother, otherwise he wouldn't have lasted a single round against me." Xiao Wu continued to swing her scorpion braid with a nonchalant expression, "After all, this is a competition, and I can't use killing moves, otherwise he wouldn't even have time to heal..."

Before the word "heal" could escape her lips, Hu Liena lunged forward, her surrounding spirit power transforming into pink mist, seemingly intending to cover the entire arena.

"Oh?"

Xiao Wu leaned back, dodging Hu Liena's lunge. Then, while Hu Liena's body was directly above her, she immediately performed a backflip, executed a Waist Bow, clamped her legs around Hu Liena's waist, performed a reversal, and pinned Hu Liena's hands, controlling her on the ground.

Xiao Wu herself was sitting on Hu Liena's stomach.

"As expected of a fox, cunning indeed, but trying to eat this rabbit won't be easy." Xiao Wu chuckled, then quickly glanced at the surroundings covered by pink mist, sniffed her nose, sneezed, and then continued, "Your Spirit Ability can block external vision. If inhaled by others, it will cause muscle weakness, and those with insufficient willpower will even hallucinate. And one more thing, it seems you can slightly recover some spirit power if you inhale it yourself, right?"

Hu Liena felt as if she had seen a ghost, momentarily forgetting to struggle: "You actually knew the effect of my Spirit Ability just by sniffing?"

"Is that difficult?" Xiao Wu said with a matter-of-fact expression, then released Hu Liena's hands, slowly stood up, and stretched, leaving herself completely open, as if not at all worried about Hu Liena suddenly attacking.

And Hu Liena indeed did not attack, wary of whether this was Xiao Wu's tactic to lure her in.

Xiao Wu continued, "I've followed Third Brother for so many years, and I also study medicine. I'm extremely knowledgeable about the body's bones, internal organs, meridians, and acupuncture points. Furthermore, I've done more research on medicinal substances. There are similar medicinal effects to your Spirit Ability in the World."

Bones, internal organs, Hu Liena knew about, but meridians, acupuncture points, etc., she had no concept of, but she probably realized they were human organs. And for a medical practitioner, applying such methods to the human body could achieve unexpected effects. Those four people earlier were hit by Xiao Wu in places like meridians and acupuncture points, causing them to lose the ability to fight.

It was even possible that Xiao Wu was using those four people to practice!

In this book's setting, Douluo Star is not large, similar in area to Earth, but the outer space of the universe can be very vast, no different from the real universe.

The universe mentioned by the God Realm is defined in this book as the scope that those Divinities themselves recognize and control, which is about 108 planets in size.

It can be said that the Gods of the God Realm, due to their limited knowledge, do not understand science, and their cognition is limited, or different from our modern understanding. They believe that the small star cluster they control, which has 108 Life planets, is the universe, and other star clusters are other universes.

However, it cannot be said that the entire vast universe where Douluo Star and the God Realm star cluster are located is small.

In short, it's still a cognitive issue of information asymmetry.

211: The qualifiers are over, their dreams

How much confidence does it take to do that in a promotion match?

Hu Liena was deeply shocked.

At the same time, she also felt angry.

Because this method meant that Xiao Wu had completely disregarded the strength of their Golden Generation!

"Take this!"

An enraged Hu Liena forced herself to calm down, preparing to use her sixth Spirit Ability, but as soon as she activated her spirit power, her whole body trembled, and her internal organs felt as if they were about to explode.

"Cough!"

Hu Liena spat out a mouthful of blood and fell straight down, looking at Xiao Wu with unwillingness, "What kind of method is this again?"

"Didn't I just say?"

"I just hit your acupoints and disrupted your spirit power."

Xiao Wu shrugged, looking at the gradually dissipating smoke around them, and slowly explained, "Although spirit ring skills can be used as long as spirit power is injected, Spirit Masters themselves also need to perform specific movements, which counts as assisting the spirit ring's skill activation. And your spirit power circulation was disrupted by me, so forcibly using a Spirit Ability..."

"Let me think, how should I put it?"

"Right, it's like a Spirit Guiding Lamp; if a line in its spirit power circulation circuit breaks, the lamp can't light up, or it short-circuits."

Xiao Wu kindly finished explaining, and the surrounding pink smoke also dissipated. The scene on the field became clear—

Hu Liena had fallen to the ground.

"Heaven Dou Royal Academy, Xiao Wu wins." Chrysanthemum Douluo sighed inwardly, feeling pity for the Spirit Hall Team, and helplessly announced the final result.

This result was unexpected.

Although the members of the Heaven Dou Royal Battle Team were indeed powerful, almost everyone could accept the Spirit Hall Team's defeat, but they never expected that the Heaven Dou side only sent two women to defeat all seven members of the Spirit Hall Team—among these seven, there were even three Spirit Emperors!

Why was the Heaven Dou Royal Academy Battle Team so powerful?

However, one thing was certain: the "Twin Wus" of Heaven Dou Royal Academy would definitely become famous.

"Xiao Wu Jie, you're amazing." Guang Ling's eyes showed admiration, "You actually continuously defeated one Spirit Emperor, four Spirit Ancestors, and then the remaining Spirit Emperor."

"Hehe." Xiao Wu (#^.^#) waved her hand casually, "It's nothing, I just didn't expect their one-on-one combat ability to be that weak."

In reality, in terms of actual combat ability, everyone in the Spirit Hall Team was stronger than Xiao Wu. After all, from the "Encircling The Fallen" incident, it could be seen that the members of the Spirit Hall Team usually performed similar tasks to hone their combat ability.

However, under Tang San's guidance, Huo Wu moved towards controlling gravity, and Xiao Wu followed Tang San's steps closely. Even if her combat experience was inferior, as long as her hard conditions were superior, she could overwhelm the Spirit Hall's Golden Generation in terms of strength.

After Hu Liena was healed, she walked towards Xiao Wu, extended her hand, and said, "You are a very good opponent. I hope there will be another chance to fight you in the future."

"Xiao Wu Jie doesn't mind." Xiao Wu held Hu Liena's hand, which was also an acknowledgment of Hu Liena as an opponent, "In terms of cunning, you can't compare to a rabbit."

"Tch~ That's not necessarily true." Hu Liena released her hand and shook it with a hint of disdain, which angered Xiao Wu, but she ultimately said nothing.

Hu Liena looked at Tang San and asked, "Are you not planning to participate in the promotion matches?"

"I personally don't like to show off." Tang San smiled.

Hu Liena: "..."

Doesn't like to show off?

Then why did you reveal a Ten-thousand year soul ring in the first preliminary elimination match?

It's probably because he was severely injured in the previous fight with that three hundred thousand year Spirit Beast and hasn't fully recovered, and it's even unlikely he'll be at his peak in the subsequent Grand Finals.

If that were truly the case, then the Spirit Hall's chances of winning were still quite high.

After all, she and her brother had the Martial Soul Fusion Skill: Demonic Charm, whose strength was comparable to a Spirit Douluo. Even if Xiao Wu, Huo Wu, Yu Tianheng, and others were strong and could fight above their level, Demonic Charm should be able to handle them.

However, it would still be a tough battle.

"I didn't realize you, the Martial Soul Theory Master, were quite humorous." Hu Liena chuckled softly, "I look forward to competing with you in the Grand Finals, but don't say we won unfairly then."

"I look forward to it." Tang San didn't explain anything, just exchanged pleasantries and shook hands with Hu Liena, which was equivalent to mutual recognition between the captains of the two teams...

...

After competing with the Spirit Hall Team, the Heaven Dou Royal First Team only had the match against the Star Luo Royal Team left.

However, when it was time for these two teams to meet, the Star Luo Royal Team suddenly surrendered, forfeiting the match.

"Why aren't we fighting?" Tang San asked curiously.

"Since you, the captain, aren't participating, I don't think it's interesting. It's better to just admit defeat." Dai Weisi stretched, his broad chest rising and falling with his breath, like a sleeping tiger awakening, his kingly might pressing down on everyone in the Heaven Dou Royal Battle Team.

Except for Tang San and Xiao Wu, who remained unperturbed, everyone else showed a hint of solemnity to varying degrees.

Evidently, Dai Weisi had been hiding his strength in the previous preliminary matches, and the power he now unleashed carried a trace of kingly pressure—that was the true majesty of a tiger king.

Everyone found it hard to imagine what kind of brutal training Dai Weisi had undergone before the start of this Continental Elite Tournament.

"To fight you, even without the pressure of the imperial throne competition, I've been working hard, going directly to Spirit Beast gathering places like Sunset Forest and Star Dou Great Forest to fight Ten-thousand year level tiger kings."

Dai Weisi's tone was relaxed, but everyone present couldn't help but feel awe. After all, not everyone had the courage to go to places like Star Dou Great Forest and Sunset Forest to challenge Ten-thousand year level tiger kings one-on-one.

Subsequently, everyone couldn't help but once again compare him to Dai Mubai, whom they had seen before, and found that in every aspect, whether it was the pride of a prince, the diligence of a Spirit Master, or the courage and bravery to face danger, he was incomparable to the Dai Weisi before them.

The two were completely not on the same level!

Dai Mubai simply couldn't compete!

No, he didn't even have the qualifications to compete! And the current Dai Mubai had indeed long since lost the qualifications to compete!

"Then, let's compete in the Grand Finals." Tang San stepped forward and extended his right hand to Dai Weisi.

As their hands clasped, Dai Weisi exerted force and circulated his spirit power, but Tang San felt like a towering mountain, or perhaps the entire starry sky, utterly impossible to lift.

What kind of terrifying physique was this?

He was absolutely not injured!

These two thoughts popped into his mind, and Dai Weisi already understood that in the Grand Finals, the Star Luo Royal Team could not possibly defeat Tang San. This guy was so strong he didn't seem human, but rather a Ten-thousand year level Spirit Beast!

"Um, can we let go now? Holding on like this would be impolite for a Prince, you know." Tang San reminded him with a smile.

"Haha! My apologies, I got a bit carried away for a moment." Dai Weisi said with slightly ambiguous words, laughed twice, and released his hand. He had wanted to chat more with Tang San but was both ushered away by Chrysanthemum Douluo on the grounds of "not obstructing the next match."

"Weisi, how is that Tang San?" Zhu Zhuyun turned to look at the Heaven Dou Royal Battle Team walking towards another exit passage, asking about Tang San's condition, "Was he really severely injured during the fight with that three hundred thousand year Spirit Beast? Do we have a chance to win?"

"No." Dai Weisi's expression was solemn, "His physical body is terrifyingly powerful, even stronger than the Ten-thousand year tiger king I fought. In terms of spirit power, I can't sense it, but if his physical body is that strong, I imagine his spirit power isn't much of an issue either. I estimate his strength can already rival a Titled Douluo."

"Isn't that too exaggerated? Even if he possesses a Ten-thousand year spirit ring, he's still just a Spirit King." Zhu Zhuyun's heart pounded.

Titled Douluo?

Then what were they fighting for? To seek death?

"Perhaps." Dai Weisi wasn't entirely sure, "But what's certain is that as long as he's on the field and wants to, even if it's seven of us against him, we won't be his match."

"So—"

"We need to consider what tactics to arrange for the Grand Finals to find a way to first trap Tang San."

For Dai Weisi, even an unbeatable opponent needed to be challenged. He would never harbor a mindset of settling for second place if he couldn't get first.

If he had such a mindset, what would be the difference between him and Dai Mubai?

Zhu Zhuyun, however, came up with an idea. "How about," she said, "we call Xu Xing from Star Crown Academy when the finals begin? Although his strength is poor, that Domain of his, which he calls the Zhou Tian Xing Dou Great Array...that formation looks quite powerful. It almost defeated the Martial Soul Fusion Skill of the Spirit Hall Team."

"Him?" Dai Weisi was startled at first, then his expression darkened. "His existence is not a good thing for our two families."

"Isn't that even better?" Zhu Zhuyun smiled coldly. "The Star Crown Sect produced such a monster. In the future, he will definitely covet the throne. That boy is also a presumptuous fellow. During the period when the Tiandou Royal Battle Team visited us for exchange, I heard that Xu Xing had some opinions about Tang San."

"Using a borrowed knife to kill someone?"

Dai Weisi pondered for a moment, weighing the pros and cons. He said, "It's not a bad scheme. With Xu Xing's arrogant nature, he will definitely want to compete with Tang San. Although Tang San's temper is easygoing, he will also strike hard against unwarranted mockery from others."

"However, for Xu Xing to use that Domain-type skill, he needs six other people to convert their spirit power into astral power and transmit it to him. Otherwise, if he joins our team, he'll be a burden, and we'll have to expend effort to protect him."

He thought, 'Abolish Xu Xing.'

He thought even more, 'Win the championship.'

"Does the competition rule stipulate that participating members cannot receive spirit power transmission from other Spirit Masters before entering the arena?" Zhu Zhuyun countered.

"It seems there really isn't." Dai Weisi was stunned. He thought carefully about the rules of the Continental Elite Tournament, and indeed, there was no such explicit rule. After all, in previous tournaments, even if other Spirit Masters transmitted spirit power to participating members, it was only to help them adjust their condition.

Moreover, the conditions for transmitting spirit power are extremely strict. If the spirit power attributes are inconsistent or incompatible, it can easily cause spirit power conflicts within the Spirit Master's body.

But Xu Xing wouldn't...

However, it is estimated that when the next Continental Elite Tournament begins, a rule will be added: no spirit power transmission from non-participating Spirit Masters!

This point, in fact, should also be attributed to Tang San's "Three Categories of Martial Soul Fusion Skills."

Otherwise, it would have been impossible for so many Martial Soul Fusion Skills to appear in this tournament—you should know that in previous tournaments, Martial Soul Fusion Skills were extremely rare. Even Spirit Hall and the Star Luo Empire might not have been able to find two people capable of Martial Soul Fusion...

...

Two days later, in the battle between the Spirit Hall Team and the Star Luo Royal Team, Dai Weisi won against a stronger opponent. With his Spirit King strength, he defeated Yan, who was a Spirit Emperor. In the second match, due to insufficient spirit power and the serious injuries sustained from fighting Yan in the first match, he was defeated relatively easily by Xie Yue, and then the Star Luo Royal Team was swept by Xie Yue.

"Dai Weisi is still quite formidable, able to defeat the Spirit Emperor Yan with a slight advantage." Yu Feng finished speaking, then thought of something and said to Huo Wu, "Huo Wu, Vice Captain, that Yan, clearly a Spirit Emperor, was defeated by you and Dai Weisi, two Spirit Kings, respectively. Will he be considered the weakest Spirit Emperor?"

Huo Wu 'tsk-ed,' as if mocking Yu Feng's ignorance. With one hand on her hip and the other leaning on the railing, she chuckled, "Yan is not weak. He can also fight above his level. It's just that both I and Dai Weisi can cross even higher levels. If you become a Spirit King and, under Captain Tang San's guidance, perfect your self-created Spirit Ability, challenging him at this stage wouldn't be so easy to win."

Yu Feng shrugged, "But I'd still win, right?"

Huo Wu nodded, then added a prerequisite: "You have to be a Spirit King, and during your process of becoming a Spirit King, his strength must not improve."

Tang San also spoke at this moment: "Although that Yan seems a bit straightforward, that's in terms of his personality. In terms of Spirit cultivation, being able to reach the Spirit Emperor level at this age is not just because of abundant resources; he himself also has a certain understanding and comprehension of Spirit. I estimate that after two defeats, he will definitely be able to research something."

"The thing this world lacks least is geniuses." Yu Tianheng sighed, "But there's definitely no one more talented than the captain."

"Don't flatter me, isn't Huo Yuhao one?" Tang San laughed.

"Can that be the same? That's a Ten-thousand year soul beast transforming, and a three-hundred-eighty-thousand-year-old Spirit Beast at that... Maybe there really are million-year-old Spirit Beasts in those unexplored areas." Yu Feng's eyes flickered with an inexplicable light, then he solemnly told Tang San and the others his dream, "I've decided, after this tournament ends, I'll go out with Xiangxiang to explore unknown territories and be a pair of adventurer spouses!"

Bai Chenxiang's face flushed, and she cried out, "Hey, I haven't agreed yet!"

"Huh? You haven't agreed?" Yu Feng was startled, then chuckled, knelt on one knee, and sincerely asked, "Then, I'm asking for your opinion again now. Do you agree now?"

"That depends on the Sect's situation. My grandpa's side is easy to talk to, but the Seven Treasure Glazed Tile School's side—"

Ning Rongrong snorted lightly, saying, "You're someone who forgets friends for love, but this young miss will reluctantly agree to your marriage with Yu Feng. My father's side, I will persuade him, you don't have to worry."

Bai Chenxiang was immensely grateful: "Thank you, Rongrong."

"Hmph!" Ning Rongrong put on a face ㄟ(ㄟ ^ ㄟ)ㄏ, "You used to call me 'Young Miss,' now you call me 'Rongrong,' just like when San Ge first met me. But, this young miss agrees to you calling me that."

After the laughter, Tang San asked about everyone else's future plans: "What do you all plan to do in the future? Go back home and inherit your family businesses?"

Yu Tianheng chuckled, saying, "My family has arrangements for me, but it's a secret for now."

Dugu Yan glanced at Yu Tianheng and smiled helplessly: "As for me, naturally, I'll follow my husband wherever he goes."

Huo Wu shrugged: "No plans. Maybe just accept the noble title bestowed by the Heaven Dou Empire, have a noble title, and then return to Blazing Academy to inherit the family business? Or perhaps diligently cultivate and strive to reach Titled Douluo... Probably something like that."

Oslo scratched his head, saying, "My situation is similar to Huo Wu, Vice Captain. I'll just go home and manage the family, since I'm the legitimate son of the family. Before my parents decide to have another child, I definitely can't be too reckless."

Shi Mo said, "My brother and I plan to go to the coastal areas after graduation. After all, both of our Spirits are Profound Turtle, water-attributed, so we can cultivate faster there."

Shi Mo said, "Besides that, we want to explore the ocean. After all, since the effects of whale gum became known, our family has always dedicated a portion of its efforts to the coastal cities, hoping to one day capture whales and obtain whale gum."

Ye Lingling considered for a while, then said, "As for me, I might consider the suggestion the captain once made to me: to be a doctor, treating illnesses and saving lives. After all, my Spirit is best at healing. I just need to figure out how to convince my family."

After all, as a Spirit Master, even if one's Spirit has no offensive power, one should not become a doctor and provide cheap services to commoners.

Even if it's healing, it should be for nobles or other Spirit Masters.

This could be said to be common knowledge on the continent.

Ning Rongrong said, "My future plan is to strive to become the first Titled Douluo in the Sect, and then rename the Seven Treasure Glazed Tile School to the Nine Treasure Glazed Tile School."

"That's a bit difficult." Tang San couldn't help but laugh, after all, if only one person's Spirit is the Nine Treasure Glazed Tile Pagoda, what kind of Nine Treasure Glazed Tile School would that be?

If the Spirit's flaw can only be resolved by Immortal Herb, even if the Seven Treasure Glazed Tile School is renamed the Nine Treasure Glazed Tile School, the individual strength of the Sect will not change much.

"What about you?" Tang San looked at Lan Yinzi.

"As for me, if the captain doesn't mind, I can temporarily follow you." Lan Yinzi smiled slightly, her words, almost a confession, surprised everyone with their boldness.

"You can."

Surprisingly, Tang San actually agreed, only to then say, "There are some things I also want to ask you privately. I hope you won't refuse or try to gloss over them with other excuses when the time comes."

212: Douluo Continent's first chicken-eating contest

“Hmm, there are some things I really need to talk to you about later.” Lan Yinzi seemed to know what Tang San was going to ask her afterward and nodded.

The two of them spoke in riddles, and among the others, only Xiao Wu felt she might know a little, while everyone else was completely confused.

Finally, Tang San looked at Zhu Zhuqing: “What about you, Zhuqing? Is there anything you want to do in the future?”

“Cultivation,” Zhu Zhuqing pondered for a moment, her eyes firm, staring intently at Tang San. “After all, in this World, only by constantly becoming stronger can one have the right to speak. I never want to experience that feeling of having my fate controlled by others again. As for dreams, does pursuing that power which captivates me count?”

“What you said... is a bit poetic.” Tang San understood something from Zhu Zhuqing's fervent gaze, so he decided to offer a suggestion, “You can practice music in the future.”

“You hope I can become a musical instrument master in addition to cultivating?” Zhu Zhuqing was surprised, but she had already made up her mind: if this was what Tang San hoped, then she would do it.

“That's not it. Haven't I guided you in the direction of self-created Spirit Abilities to find the ‘Refining Circuit’ and ‘Maintaining Circuit’ fulcrums for your Spirit?” Tang San shook his head. “To leverage the entire Douluo Continent's heaven and earth energy with your own strength is no small task. And sound can travel through the air; music is organized sound. If you can understand how every different sound can form a beautiful piece of music, perhaps it will inspire you on your path of self-creation.”

“So that’s how it is.” Zhu Zhuqing was a little disappointed. She had thought Tang San wanted her to become a musical instrument master, but it turned out to still be related to cultivation.

That’s right, the other party was a Martial Soul Theory Master, so he was probably only interested in things like cultivation.

“Don’t be so disappointed. Living for yourself and playing a unique piece of music that belongs only to you is the meaning of Life.” Tang San saw the hint of confusion about Life in Zhu Zhuqing’s heart. “Think about your past. In the future, within your family, perhaps two sisters will once again experience what you and your elder sister went through. Have you thought about changing that?”

Zhu Zhuqing froze, murmuring, “How can I change it?”

Tang San looked at the Supreme Pontiff of the Spirit Hall.

At this moment, Zhu Zhuqing understood: power!

Previously, she pursued power so that her fate would no longer be controlled.

Now, during this period, influenced by Tang San, her thoughts and personality had changed somewhat. Now, with Tang San’s further guidance, a sense of responsibility immediately emerged in her heart.

“People always need to find something to do for themselves, to have a goal, and after achieving it, to set a more advanced goal, step by step. If one cultivates merely for the sake of becoming stronger, then they are merely a puppet of power.” Tang San’s inspirational words were not just for Zhu Zhuqing, but for everyone present. “Throughout Douluo history, those Spirit Masters who only pursued power basically never came to a good end, after all, they could do all sorts of absurd things for power... I think The Fallen originally came from this.”

Everyone nodded gravely, feeling that they indeed needed to find a side occupation in addition to cultivating, as the time spent cultivating each day was limited, and too much time spent cultivating spirit power would lead to aches and pains throughout the body.

Therefore, during the leisure time of cultivating spirit power and practicing skills, finding something one is interested in and immersing oneself in it is not necessarily a bad thing.

Moreover, according to Tang San, if one could immerse oneself in what one liked and continuously improve, it would also be of considerable benefit to increasing mental force.

Everyone left the Tian Dou Great Spirit Arena chatting and laughing.

Qin Ming approached with the information about the final grand finals and said, “The final grand finals will begin in seven days, and the Star Luo Royal Team, the Spirit Hall Team, and our three teams, due to being directly advanced, do not need to participate in the competition among the ten teams. We can just rest and wait.”

“However, the current Supreme Pontiff and the Emperors of the Two Great Empires seem to have had new discussions about the competition format for the final four teams. The rules will be changed, but we won’t know until then...”

“That’s pretty good, we can watch the show.” Yu Feng stretched, not surprised by this, and besides, he definitely wouldn’t need to be on the field for the final showdown.

“That is indeed a good thing.” Qin Ming agreed with Yu Feng’s idea. “Moreover, we can also take this opportunity to see if there are any other hidden trump cards in those academies.”

“By the way, Tang San, who do you plan to choose as the seven participants for the final match?”

Tang San said without hesitation: “Xiao Wu, Ye Lingling, Huo Wu, Yu Tianheng, Ning Rongrong, Zhu Zhuqing, and me.”

The others had no objections.

After all, before the competition began, they knew that among their large group, some would definitely have to stay off the field as cheerleaders.

Moreover, those who couldn't participate had performed well in the previous preliminary and promotion rounds, which would be enough for the Tian Dou Emperor to bestow them with noble titles upon their return.

Although they were still a bit disappointed about not being able to participate in the final grand finals, they also knew that facing the three Spirit Emperors and four Spirit Ancestors above forty-fifth rank from the Spirit Hall Team, there was a high probability they would lose the match if they were to go on the field.

“Is there any particular meaning behind this lineup?” Although with Tang San present, defeating the three Spirit Emperors of the Spirit Hall should not be a big problem, Qin Ming still wanted to understand the mystery of this lineup.

“Xiao Wu and Zhu Zhuqing are assassination-type agility-attack system, both of whom can also serve as close-combat control-type attack system based on their respective physical and Spirit talents; Yu Tianheng, close-combat control-type attack system; Huo Wu, long-range output-type attack system; Ning Rongrong, all-around amplification-type support system; Ye Lingling, healing-type support system; and I, all-around support system.”

Tang San stated the primary roles of the seven individuals, including himself. “In terms of combination, this lineup isn’t actually good: two agility-attack, two attack, and three support.”

“However, besides me, Xiao Wu, Huo Wu, and Yu Tianheng, who are all Spirit Kings and must participate, Ye Lingling, Ning Rongrong, and Zhu Zhuqing have appeared less frequently in previous matches. So, this is an opportunity for them to show what they can do.”

These words also conveyed Tang San’s confidence:

I am invincible!

You can do as you please!

Qin Ming smiled: “You truly are a gentle captain. However, I estimate that among all the Heaven Dou Royal Battle Teams throughout history, only you would dare to do this. Future captains will probably only consider maximizing the team’s benefits.”

“Haha, since the captain is invincible, he naturally has to consider our feelings as team members.” Yu Feng stepped forward, hooked Tang San’s shoulder, and laughed loudly.

“Saying invincible and such is a bit exaggerated.” Tang San smiled, then continued, “My arrangement is also to unite the three forces of the Continent. Yu Tianheng and Ning Rongrong were born into the Blue Lightning Tyrant Dragon Clan and the Seven Treasure Glazed Tile School respectively, supporting Heaven Dou, and can be considered representatives of the Heaven Dou side; Zhu Zhuqing comes from the Star Luo Empire, and can be considered a Star Luo representative; Ye Lingling and Huo Wu are from prominent families, and although their clans are located in Heaven Dou and are naturally close to Heaven Dou, they primarily represent their family identities; Xiao Wu and I are commoners.”

“Although there’s a bit of a stretch in the interpretation, from the perspective of external Spirit Masters, these seven of us will indeed be labeled similarly.”

“In a sense, this can also be considered a grand unity among the various Spirit Master classes of the Douluo Continent.”

Qin Ming was surprised, then thought carefully, and said happily: “Good, this can certainly be promoted.”

Over the next seven days, everyone rested and adjusted their condition, striving to return to their best. Tang San, however, found Guang Ling’s room, knocked on the door, and walked in: “Are you a little unhappy that I didn’t let you participate?”

“No.” Guang Ling shook his head, instead asking about another matter, “Third Brother, you must have other plans, right? Before the Continental Elite Tournament began, you said you needed to arrange those three ten-thousand-year Spirit Bones independently and compensate others. And this team arrangement of seven people, besides the reasons you mentioned before, I also see that it can greatly preserve your own strength.”

“In this grand event displayed to the entire Continent, why preserve your strength?”

“I can only think that you might have to fight someone extremely powerful later, and those three Spirit Bones will definitely be used in that battle.”

Tang San smiled, very pleased, and patted Guang Ling’s head, saying, “Very clever. You have already learned my way of thinking. You can graduate now.”

Guang Ling stared blankly at Tang San’s smile, as if sensing a determination, and couldn’t help but ask, “So, Third Brother, are you really going to fight someone?”

“Martial Soul Theory Master, this title is impressive, but some people in the dark are also wary of my talent and do not wish for me to grow. To be on the safe side, I still need to show my strength to the entire Continent!” Tang San looked out the window at the Supreme Pontiff Palace standing halfway up the mountain. “The best challenge would be the current Supreme Pontiff of the Spirit Hall.”

Guang Ling froze, standing dumbfounded.

Having grown to this point, Guang Ling was no longer an ignorant child.

The Supreme Pontiff of the Spirit Hall was the most noble person in the World! Even the Emperors of the Two Great Empires would be a step behind her in aura when facing her!

This was not just the aura of nobility, but more importantly, her formidable ninety-eighth-rank strength!

On the path of a Spirit Master, she had also reached a level close to the peak!

“Are you really not going to be beaten to death?” Even though she had always believed in Tang San, she now had doubts. Then, thinking of something else, she asked, “Is it by relying on the demigod’s divine force?”

“A challenge must be fair. I will not rely on Illyasviel.” Tang San shook his head, then continued, “However, Illyasviel will also act to take two things from Bibi Dong.”

Tang San had once promised Xiao Wu to revive her mother.

Xiao Wu’s mother’s spirit ring and Spirit Bone were absorbed by Bibi Dong, and the spirit ring was even on the Soul Eating Spider Emperor, her second Spirit. To complete the resurrection, her soul must be retrieved.

As for the Spirit Bone...

According to Iliex’s prediction, that was not the key to resurrection. The vital energy contained within it was the fundamental, the source of Life, and the origin of the bloodline.

That is, it recorded the fundamental information of a creature.

Bloodline factor information.

Just a trace extracted at that time would be enough.

The key to resurrection was solely the soul.

“So that’s how it is.” Guang Ling completely understood the fundamental reason for Third Brother’s challenge; it was merely to revive Xiao Wu’s mother... Hmph, she felt a little jealous.

“You are the first person to know this secret, you know.” Tang San saw Guang Ling’s petulant behavior and once again patted Guang Ling’s little head, “So, you must keep it a secret from Xiao Wu.”

“Mm, I definitely won’t tell, but Third Brother must also promise me one thing.” Guang Ling smiled mysteriously.

“What is it?”

“Stay here tonight and sleep with me.”

“Ah?”

Before Tang San could react, Guang Ling hugged Tang San and pulled him onto the nearby bed.

Just as their gazes were becoming more intense, the door opened.

“Guang Ling, have you seen Third Brother? He’s not in his room, I...”

Before she could finish her sentence, Xiao Wu saw Tang San and Guang Ling hugging each other, lying on the bed.

“Xiao Wu, you came at just the right time! Quickly pull Guang Ling away, she’s trying to bully her Master and betray her ancestors!” Tang San shouted.

But who knew, Xiao Wu actually closed the door and locked it, then pounced onto the bed as well.

Immediately, Tang San bore the weight of two people.

“Oh, Guang Ling, you’re eating alone!” Xiao Wu was displeased, “Tonight, I’m sleeping here too.”

Guang Ling was unhappy: “This is my room!”

“So what?” Xiao Wu seemed to be acting shamelessly, “Among the three of us, don’t we each have a key to the rooms? Besides, back in Nuoding City, didn’t we two often sleep together? Just think of him as a ‘Tang San’ named pillow.”

Tang San: “...”

After an absurd night, Tang San woke up the next day, tidied the clothes he hadn’t even had time to take off the previous night, washed up, groomed his hair, and then re-coiled the Nine-Section Emerald into the ponytail at the back of his head, admonishing the two girls: “Don’t be like this again in the future. I didn’t even have time to take off my clothes last night.”

Xiao Wu, however, puffed out her chest, her eyes full of playfulness: “What, Third Brother still wanted to take off his clothes?”

“I did,” Tang San admitted, then immediately shook his head, feigning seriousness, “I just wanted to appreciate the pure beauty of women.”

Xiao Wu showed a (￣_ , ￣) expression, then: “(¬▽¬ ~) Che~~”

Guang Ling’s face was flushed, not understanding why things had been that way last night—oh, it was so embarrassing!

“Today is the start of the Grand Finals. Let’s go watch the competition.” To avoid further awkwardness, Tang San changed the subject after the two girls had finished washing up.

“That’s true.” Xiao Wu was the first to agree.

“Agreed.” Guang Ling felt she had been too bold yesterday and also wanted to distract herself, so she agreed.

Thus, Tang San called the others, and they all went together to the venue of the Grand Finals.

Unlike the previous preliminary elimination rounds and promotion matches, the venue for the Grand Finals was at the entrance of the Supreme Pontiff Palace. The judging panels from the Two Great Empires and the Spirit Hall had all relocated there.

Ordinary spectators were not qualified to watch the competition there.

After all, the Supreme Pontiff Palace represented the dignity of the Spirit Hall.

However, compared to previous years, this year was much better. They could watch through the live broadcast of the Sub-Mother Soul Guidance Photography Ball, instead of relying on word-of-mouth, or the textual descriptions in the Wuhun News, Tian Dou News, or Star Luo News.

Upon arriving at Wu Hun Mountain, they showed their Heaven Dou Royal Battle Team's participation qualifications to the Spirit Hall Knights guarding the area, and they were allowed to pass.

As for the other academies that had already lost their qualification, no matter how their leaders pleaded, they would not be allowed to enter.

Upon reaching the mountainside, Tang San already saw the magnificent Supreme Pontiff Palace. The architecture was reminiscent of medieval Western churches from his previous Life's memories, but it was even more splendid, surrounded by a continuous cluster of buildings. The tallest main hall exceeded two hundred meters in height.

In addition, in front of the Supreme Pontiff Palace, there was an extremely vast open space, estimated to be about three kilometers long and wide. Within it, there was an even larger area, a thousand meters long and wide.

It featured ice mountains, grasslands, forests, rivers, lakes, volcanoes, Deserts, swamps, mountains, and more. Surrounding it was a circle of azure circular lakes, representing the ocean.

It could be said that this was a miniature Douluo Continent landmass!

Although he had heard about it, seeing it with his own eyes still made him marvel at the Spirit Hall's grand scale!

In front of the Supreme Pontiff Palace, there was a World!

Shocking!

Amazing!

Praise!

This was not just a competition venue; it was a depiction of the entire Douluo Continent, the ultimate expression of art!

"Incredible! Truly incredible!" Huo Wu couldn't help but exclaim, "Such a competition venue, for the academies that can enter the Grand Finals, even if they can't win the championship, it's still worth it."

"Yes~" Tang San sighed with emotion, a hint of excitement also showing in his eyes, "Who could refuse to fight on this 'Douluo Continent'?"

Just being able to stand on this stage and compete already satisfied the vanity of most Spirit Masters.

After all, how many people could stand at the pinnacle of the entire "Douluo Continent"?

Just to defend this honor, both sides standing on this field would exert two hundred percent of their combat power to defend their position on the "Douluo Continent"...

...

After the amazement, the Grand Finals officially began after Bibi Dong announced the rules.

Excluding the Heaven Dou Royal Battle Team, the Star Luo Royal Team, and the Spirit Hall Team, the remaining ten teams were all to enter the arena together!

Seventy people competing together!

One team had already advanced!

“Isn’t this rule a bit too chaotic?” Yu Tianheng’s forehead broke out in a cold sweat. “Is this a grand melee of ten teams?”

“Actually, it’s normal. After all, the venue is too large. If it were one-on-one battles, it would probably take a lot of time.” Tang San put his hands on his waist and commented, “Moreover, this way, we can also see the cooperation and backstabbing among the ten teams... You can treat the ten teams as ten forces on this ‘Douluo Continent’. They can form alliances or attack each other.”

“If there were no time limit, it would probably take three days and three nights to determine the final winner.”

“Fortunately, this battle royale has a time limit: one day. The team that ultimately advances can be determined by the number of remaining people.”

“Moreover, the rules state: no passive play, meaning no escaping. If there is no engagement with an opposing academy or assistance to teammates for more than ten minutes, the referee will issue a warning. After three warnings, the team will be directly disqualified.”

“It can be said that this mode extremely tests the cooperation among the participating team members and also trains the minds of the participating teams... At least, in such a competition, participants not only need to consider their own strength and teamwork but also factors like the venue and cooperation among other teams. Or, they might need to figure out how to cooperate with other teams first for strategic planning, their minds have to be active.”

At this point, Tang San subtly glanced at Bibi Dong, Xue Ye, Dai Legao, and the judging panel of the three major forces. His ears twitched slightly, vaguely hearing them discussing which team was stronger... He suddenly felt that they might have just wanted to save trouble and hadn't considered the situations he had analyzed.

Upon Tang San's arrival, Bibi Dong had already diverted a sliver of her attention. She was quite pleased that Tang San was amazed by the grandeur of the "Douluo Continent" venue.

As for Tang San's subsequent analysis of the ten teams entering the arena together, she was a bit stunned, thinking: "Did I consider this situation when discussing the rules of the Grand Finals with Xue Ye and Dai Legao?"

"However, the upcoming battle really seems to be developing in the direction Tang San analyzed..."

On Tang San's side, Yu Feng scratched his head, thankfully saying: "Fortunately, I don't have to go on stage. I can't figure out things that require brains."

Huo Wu was silent for a moment, then asked: "Eating chicken, it shouldn't be the literal meaning, right?"

"It means advancing and getting first place." Tang San specifically explained, "I estimate that after this competition is broadcast live, many major forces will do the same. As it spreads, this type of competition might also be jokingly referred to as a 'chicken dinner' match."

213: Find loopholes in competition rules

Battle Royale.

Tang San never expected that because of his published ‘Advantages of Diverse Venues,’ Spirit Hall would actually create a ‘Douluo Continent’ as the final battleground for the finals, even leading to the birth of ‘Battle Royale.’

What a sin!

However, to be able to witness an ‘Otherworldly Wuxia Battle Royale Tournament’ on the Douluo Continent... truthfully, Tang San was quite moved: another familiar thing.

“Battle Start!”

In this ‘Battle Royale,’ the referees were not just Chrysanthemum Douluo, but also Ghost Douluo, both shouting together, which truly gave face to the ten participating teams.

The captains of the Tianshui, Blazing, Thunder, and Shenfeng Four Elemental Academies’ teams exchanged glances, and with surprising默契, did not initiate an attack first. Instead, they charged towards the other six teams, preparing to eliminate these weaker academies.

However, when Shenfeng Academy challenged a team composed entirely of Spirit Ancestors, another team attacked from behind; that should have been the enemy Tianshui Academy’s team was facing.

Where is the Tianshui team?!

Feng Xiaotian kicked away a Spirit Master whose Spirit was a giant bear, then quickly turned around to look at the Tianshui team. He heard Shui Bing'er smile sweetly, leading her team to jump into the ice and snow area, then she said with a beaming smile, "My apologies, everyone from Shenfeng Academy. The Xingfeng Academy team, which our Tianshui team is fighting, has always coveted your Shenfeng Academy's position, and they are also fans of our Tianshui team, so it's hard to attack them."

"Damn it!" Feng Xiaotian cursed.

Although he was a Spirit King, fighting fourteen opponents was not impossible, but it would consume a lot of spirit power, and he might be ambushed by the captains of the other three academies then.

He still needed to conserve most of his spirit power to deal with Huo Wushuang, Shui Bing'er, and Yu Tianxin.

"Adjust tactics, don't waste spirit power, just defend and dodge. To avoid being judged for passive combat, just maintain engagement with the other academies." Calming down, Feng Xiaotian shouted to his team members, changing their tactics and luring the two teams towards Blazing Academy's direction.

"What are you doing, Feng Xiaotian?" Huo Wushuang's eyes almost popped out when he saw this, and he coldly questioned, "Do you want to fight our Blazing Academy in advance?"

"Don't say that, brother-in-law, share some of the pressure," Feng Xiaotian said, trying to pull strings.

"Who's your brother-in-law?!" Huo Wushuang suddenly felt that his younger sister's dislike for this two-headed wolf was the correct choice. How could there be such a backstabbing fellow?

He initially wanted to ignore them and leave with the Blazing Academy members, but if he ran, would it make people think that their Blazing Academy was afraid of Shenfeng Academy?

Facing this dilemma, Huo Wushuang decided to charge in. He absolutely had to teach Feng Xiaotian a lesson!

Meanwhile, on Thunder Academy's side, Yu Tianxin led his team to find Canghui Academy immediately, targeting their seven-in-one Martial Soul Fusion Skill: Seven Asura Illusion, and defeating them all until they lost their combat ability.

After all, spiritual illusions and the like are truly strange, so it's best not to engage with them...

...

Cooperation, alliances...

Attacks, backstabbing...

In this great melee, the various forces watching witnessed the contest of strength and wisdom among the ten participating teams. Although their strategies were still relatively immature, the high-level personnel of the major forces all found these scenes a bit familiar—

Wasn't this a microcosm of the hidden confrontations between the major forces across the entire continent at present?

Except for the smaller scale and no deaths, the scene was exactly the same.

Was this a mockery of the open and secret struggles among the major forces on the Douluo Continent?

Or was it to show that Spirit Hall had already transcended power struggles, stood aloof from the world, and was perched above all living beings?

Ning Fengzhi secretly glanced at Bibi Dong, then his gaze fell on the 'Douluo Continent,' and he secretly shook his head: "No matter which possibility, it doesn't matter much to the Sects under Spirit Hall. The Titled Douluo above ninety-five levels in the Elder Palace basically don't meddle in worldly affairs and focus on cultivation, but this is also the fundamental reason why Spirit Hall is the strongest force on the continent—possessing the largest number of Titled Douluo on the entire continent.”

And at this moment, on the ‘Douluo Continent,’ only four teams remained.

As expected, they were Thunder, Blazing, Shenfeng, and Tianshui, all academies from Heaven Dou, while the academies from Star Luo had been completely wiped out.

Emperor Xue Ye stroked his beard and smiled, saying to Dai Legao, “It seems that my Heaven Dou Empire’s academies are more diverse than your Star Luo’s academies.”

“Hmph! At least my Star Luo academies must obey the commands of my Royal Academy!” Dai Legao was not to be outdone. In terms of imperial unity and administrative efficiency, his Star Luo Empire was more effective.

Heaven Dou?

Although it was diverse, the various kingdoms and duchies were autonomous. If those small countries became powerful in the future, it was inevitable that they would harbor rebellious intentions.

However, Dai Legao did have to admit one thing: in terms of Spirit Master academies, the strong autonomy of the various small countries could indeed create more diverse training methods.

Different Spirits, different methods, varied and each with its own merits.

And what about the Spirit Master academies of the Star Luo Empire?

Although the methods used by various academies to train Spirit Masters were not entirely the same, influenced by Star Luo’s military atmosphere, students who joined the academies would undergo a certain degree of militarized training in the initial stages.

The purpose of this was for them to adapt to the army more quickly and obey orders when war broke out in the future!

Spirit Masters in the Star Luo Empire were the army's reserve force!

“Heh heh, in this aspect, we are indeed inferior.” Emperor Xue Ye also admitted that in terms of the academies' obedience to the Empire, Heaven Dou's academies were basically for their own sake, not for the Empire. Their choice to fight for the Empire was merely because their hometowns were in the Heaven Dou Empire, so they naturally had a good impression of the Heaven Dou Empire.

To be honest, Emperor Xue Ye also wished that the Heaven Dou Empire could truly subdue all forces within its borders, which would certainly create an extremely powerful Empire.

Instead of the current situation, where they needed Spirit Hall to hold back Star Luo, giving the Heaven Dou Empire time to slowly catch up, thus achieving the current tripartite balance.

However, Emperor Xue Ye was not grateful to Spirit Hall. Besides believing that Spirit Hall had greater ambitions, there was also the fact that Salas, the Platinum Bishop in Heaven Dou City, had an overly arrogant temperament. At certain times, his attitude was so presumptuous that he didn't even put Emperor Xue Ye in his eyes.

It can be said that Emperor Xue Ye's dislike for Spirit Hall, besides the instinctive vigilance against forces on the continent not controlled by the Heaven Dou Empire, the most direct and superficial factor was Salas's arrogant attitude.

No emperor could tolerate a person beyond his control appearing right under his nose, let alone someone who was beyond his control still jumping around in front of him.

Unfortunately, the Tiandou Royal family did not have the ability to unify all kingdoms, guilds, families, and Sects within its borders...

...

The final winner of this seventy-person Battle Royale was Shenfeng Academy.

Relying on his self-created Spirit Ability, the Dance of the Gale Spiral Blade, Feng Xiaotian defeated Yu Tianxin, Huo Wushuang, and the Martial Soul Fusion Skill of Shui Bing'er and Shui Yue'er in one fell swoop.

Although Feng Xiaotian was exhausted after this move, and his arm was even twisted, Shenfeng Academy still had two team members who retained nearly 30% of their spirit power.

It can be said that Shenfeng Academy's victory in this battle also had an element of luck. After all, those two Shenfeng Academy members, after being surrounded and knocked down by four Thunder Academy members in the final struggle of the Four Elemental Academies, had been playing dead on the ground until the very last moment when they jumped out to ambush the remaining contestants from the three academies.

As for whether this counted as passive play...

It's hard to say, as the two students uniformly stated that they only regained consciousness from their昏厥 at the last moment.

"There are still many loopholes in these competition rules," Xiao Wu mused.

"There are no flawless rules. Finding loopholes is actually very simple, but I don't recommend doing so, as the right of interpretation lies with the organizers. To find loopholes in the rules, two prerequisites are needed—"

Tang San extended two fingers, "First, the organizers must abide by the rules, not care, or find it interesting; second, one's own strength must be formidable, or the power behind them must be strong enough to force the organizers to agree."

“The former is easy to say; it can be seen as the organizers being magnanimous. As for the latter, it’s forcing others to comply, which makes the competition completely lose its fairness and become a game for the strong.”

“Moreover, for most people, finding loopholes in the rules is like a big gamble. If you win, it might be beneficial to you, but if you lose, you will even lose the qualification to participate in the competition.”

Tang San would not engage in such a high-stakes gamble by exploiting loopholes, unless it was absolutely necessary, such as when his own or his companions' lives were at risk or it was a matter of life and death. Otherwise, it would be irresponsible to himself and to those around him.

"Only the weak look for loopholes in rules; the strong naturally forge ahead and break the rules!" Huo Wu declared with great confidence and a loud voice, so much so that Feng Xiaotian and the others, who were approaching them, must have heard her.

Tang San could tell that Huo Wu was expressing mockery and provocation towards Feng Xiaotian. He estimated that when Feng Xiaotian heard her words, it would sound like—"Oh, oh, oh, what's wrong? You're so weak after a few days? You actually need to rely on such petty tricks to qualify?"

Feng Xiaotian scratched his head, a bit embarrassed, and said, "This has nothing to do with me; those two made their own decisions."

"Tsk tsk, now you're making excuses. You're not being honest." Huo Wu acted flippantly, raising her eyebrows, and said to Huo Wushuang, who was walking over, "Brother, what a pity you couldn't advance."

"It's nothing. Anyway, we have you, so it doesn't matter whether our Blazing Academy can enter the final battle or not." Huo Wushuang wasn't disheartened. "To be able to fight on this Douluo Continent, my life has been worth it!"

Huo Wushuang's thoughts were also the thoughts of the other six eliminated teams.

For most of them, this was their first and last time participating in the Continental Elite Tournament. After all, they were all around twenty years old, and the age limit for the competition was under twenty-five.

And the tournament was held every five years.

In the next Continental Elite Tournament, they might only be spectators or team leaders, unable to enter this Douluo Continent arena for battle again.

"How can brother be so spineless?" Huo Wu scorned. "You'll only be twenty-four in five years, so you can still participate in the next one."

"Let's not," Huo Wushuang waved his hands repeatedly. "You said it yourself, I'll be twenty-four in five years, so my spirit power will definitely reach the Spirit King level, or even close to the Spirit Emperor level. How would that give others any competition experience?"

"I can't believe it, when did you start caring so much about the other academies' competing teams, brother?" Huo Wu was surprised, as if she was meeting Huo Wushuang for the first time. "You haven't been swapped, have you?"

"What are you thinking? Even if I were swapped, it's impossible for my Spirit to be swapped too, right?" Huo Wushuang smiled helplessly, only able to state the true reason. "The main thing is that the family plans for me to learn how to manage the family and develop the medicinal bath industry, and the opportunity, well, that's for the younger generation in the family..."

"Indeed, there are many family affairs." Huo Wu understood. As the eldest son of the Huo Family, unless Huo Wushuang's cultivation reached the Spirit Saint level, he would have to focus on cultivation and be supported by the entire family's resources.

After all, the Huo Family was not a large Sect like the Seven Treasure Glazed Tile School or the Blue Lightning Tyrant Dragon Clan; their family foundation was not that abundant, so they couldn't concentrate all resources on the younger generation's cultivation.

Huo Wu didn't have to worry about family matters because her Sun Goddess Spirit was truly incomparably powerful, with the hope of breaking through to Titled Douluo, and her exceptional strength allowed her to fight above her level.

"Feng Xiaotian, you play well, leading people to my side." Then, Huo Wushuang pinched Feng Xiaotian's nape and chuckled coldly, "If it weren't for you, our Blazing Academy might not have failed to advance to the final top four."

"Ow, ow, ow! Be gentle!" Feng Xiaotian cried out in pain. "I have something to tell you. Maybe we all have a chance to compete with those in the top four."

"We?"

Hearing the key phrase, Huo Wushuang frowned. After saying something to Huo Wu, he led his people and Feng Xiaotian's group towards the location of Tianshui Academy and Thunder Academy not far away.

"So mysterious, I wonder what they're discussing..." Huo Wu frowned, watching the Four Elemental Academies gather together for a secret discussion. She felt a little antsy, wanting to find out what was going on.

"Perhaps they want to unite, after all, only Shenfeng Academy has qualified. Anyone with eyes can see that they can't make it into the top three." Tang San pushed up his detection glasses and offered a possibility. "Even if Shenfeng has good luck and is matched against the Star Luo Royal Team, and Feng Xiaotian alone can block the Star Luo Royal Team's Martial Soul Fusion Skill, the strength of the remaining six Shenfeng students is not as good as Star Luo's five Spirit Ancestors."

"Then how do they unite?" Yu Tianheng was puzzled. "Once the finals begin, the list of participating team members is submitted and cannot be changed. Even if someone is absent, a substitute cannot be brought in, unless the list was changed from the start."

"You said it yourself, the list of participating members cannot be changed, but the name of the participating academy can be changed. Anyway, they can change it back after the competition ends." Tang San proposed an idea. "Just like I said before, they are looking for loopholes in the competition rules and making a big gamble—it just depends on whether the organizers will approve of their actions."

Xiao Wu complained, "I suspect that the rules of the Continental Elite Tournament were added one by one after people found loopholes in them."

Ning Rongrong nodded, "It should be like that. I heard from my father that the previous Continental Elite Tournaments didn't have so many rules."

Zhu Zhuqing also agreed, "I've heard something similar."

On the other side.

After Feng Xiaotian finished explaining his idea, he asked the people from the other three academies, "What do you think of my proposal?"

"Not much." Yu Tianxin's face was cold. "Also, if we win the final championship, how will the Spirit Bone be distributed?"

"I truly experienced the arrogance of the Blue Lightning Tyrant Dragon."

Champion?

Spirit Bone distribution?

Feng Xiaotian just wanted to say, what are you thinking!

They couldn't defeat either the Spirit Hall Team or the Heaven Dou Royal Battle Team. Even if the Four Elemental Academies united, they only hoped to take third place.

"Let's not talk about the Spirit Bone first. I just want to ask you, don't you want to fight Tang San?"

Yu Tianheng enticed, "In the preliminary qualifiers, we didn't encounter the Heaven Dou Royal First Team; in the advancement rounds, he didn't participate, giving all opportunities to showcase himself to his teammates."

"Once, when he first came to Heaven Dou City, he met me and even fought me once. I lost and was guided by him. The self-created Spirit Ability, Swift Wind Spiral Blade Dance, was created with his pointers."

Shui Bing'er's focus was a bit different: "So, the name, Swift Wind Spiral Blade Dance: Howling Sky Strike, was also given by Tang San?"

"How could that be?"

Feng Xiaotian was displeased. "I admit I got his pointers, but I really came up with that name myself! It's pretty cool, isn't it?"

Shui Yue'er breathed a sigh of relief: "Indeed, a simple and handsome guy like Tang San would never come up with such an exaggerated name."

Feng Xiaotian: "..."

What's exaggerated about it?

It's clearly realistic!

"Ahem, enough idle talk. I'm indeed very much looking forward to battling Tang San and his team." Huo Wushuang interrupted the digression, looking seriously at Feng Xiaotian. "But is this kind of thing really allowed by the rules? We, the eliminated ones, naturally don't care, but your Shenfeng Academy is different. You could very likely be disqualified directly, thus becoming a laughingstock to everyone."

"To be able to fight Tang San, I'm willing to take a gamble." Feng Xiaotian's eyes were sharp, changing from his usual comical demeanor, displaying the bloodlust of a wolf.

"Heh, so you hope we can help you hold back the other members of the Heaven Dou Royal Battle Team?" Yu Tianxin sneered, but to Feng Xiaotian's surprise, the other party actually agreed. "Then, I'll join. After all,

I also want to see more carefully what kind of self-created Spirit Ability my cousin learned under Tang San's guidance, that he was able to defeat me, his cousin, in the advancement round."

"However, Tang San is also my target. When the time comes, it will depend on who acts faster to fight Tang San first."

Feng Xiaotian extended his hand and said, "Since that's the case, let's arrange the roster."

Thus, the members of the Shenfeng Team became the following seven, who came from:

Shenfeng Academy: Feng Xiaotian, Lu Renjia, Xiao Bingyi

Blazing Academy: Huo Wushuang

Tianshui Academy: Shui Bing'er, Shui Yue'er

Thunder Academy: Yu Tianxin

214: human nature! It won't change!

The All-Continent Advanced Soul Master Academy Elite Tournament!

The final battle for the champion, runner-up, and third place!

Officially begins!

As the four teams entered the Douluo Continent arena, Bibi Dong slowly walked out from the Supreme Pontiff Palace. Emperor Xue Ye, Emperor Dai Legao, and their review committee also entered from both sides, positioning themselves on three sides of the Douluo Continent, forming a stable triangular formation, as if signifying that the Douluo Continent belonged to these three major powers. The four teams in the arena were like fierce beasts in this gladiatorial arena, each representing Heaven Dou, Star Luo, and Spirit Hall.

Among them, there were two teams representing Heaven Dou: the Heaven Dou Royal Battle Team and the Shenfeng Academy team.

However, to everyone's surprise, of the team from Shenfeng Academy, only Feng Xiaotian, Lu Renjia, and Xiao Bingyi were originally from Shenfeng Academy. The other four were actually from the other three great elemental academies.

Yu Tianxin, Huo Wushuang, Shui Bing'er, and Shui Yue'er.

Tang San could understand Huo Wushuang, Shui Bing'er, and Shui Yue'er temporarily joining Shenfeng Academy, but what was the deal with Yu Tianxin? Where was the pride of the Blue Lightning Tyrant Dragon Clan?

Or was it that, because he had never fought him, he had always been unconvinced and was prepared to set aside his pride for a fair and square match against him?

In addition, a certain "new" member of the Star Luo Royal Team also caught Tang San's attention.

Xu Xing, this guy actually joined the Star Luo Royal Team!

Although that Domain was indeed powerful, without the Star Crown of others, he himself would be a burden, wouldn't he? It would instead lead to a lack of tacit cooperation between them, thereby reducing their overall strength...

"Congratulations to you all for reaching the final grand finals!" Bibi Dong began her speech, her voice gentle yet not lacking in majesty, making it impossible for anyone to harbor disrespectful thoughts.

"Here, I especially want to congratulate Shenfeng Academy. They entered the top four of the entire continent based on their own strength, and then, relying on their own wisdom, they made more reasonable arrangements for their team, making the Shenfeng Team even stronger."

Her soaring tone made it impossible to tell whether Bibi Dong was praising Shenfeng Academy's wisdom or mocking their petty cleverness.

Bibi Dong continued, "Next, I announce the rules for the grand finals. Unlike previous years, this year's decisive battle offers you two choices."

"Firstly, it's a free-for-all among the four teams, just like the previous four teams. This will determine the champion, who is outstanding in both strength and wisdom, while the remaining three teams will determine the runner-up and third place."

"Secondly, it's a two-on-two match, as usual. The winners will compete for the champion and runner-up, and the losers will contend for the third-place position."

"Make your choice, the four strongest teams in the entire continent!"

"The final result will be decided by the majority!"

Qin Ming couldn't help but feel nervous outside the arena: "I wonder which one Tang San and his team will choose. The second option is best; the first one might lead to a three-sided encirclement."

It wasn't surprising that Qin Ming thought this way. After all, Tang San was simply too powerful. From the preliminary knockout rounds until now, no one had ever seen Tang San use his full strength.

For the three academies, the Heaven Dou Royal Academy, or rather, Tang San himself, was too unpredictable. He had to be eliminated first.

Sword Douluo transmitted a message to Ning Fengzhi: "The situation is very unfavorable for Heaven Dou Royal Academy."

Ning Fengzhi sighed, "There's nothing we can do. After all, Tang San is too powerful. Moreover, after this competition, he must choose a power to join. There are many who don't want him to grow stronger. If it weren't for Rongrong's good relationship with him, and the Seven Treasure Glazed Tile School also having a cooperation with him, I would have wanted to make a move."

"However, in this era, if one wants to make a move, it must be done very discreetly. After all, the emergence of the Soul Guidance Photography Box and the Sub-Mother Soul Guidance Photography Ball has made information spread too quickly."

"This might also be a means for Tang San to protect himself."

Sword Douluo sighed slightly and said, "I have to admit, his methods are all open and aboveboard, completely straightforward. He doesn't play those deceptive games. His overt schemes are the most difficult to deal with because others have no choice but to accept them."

Three minutes later, Bibi Dong spoke again: "Everyone, have you made your choice? Please, each of your Captains step forward and state your choice. If it's two against two, we will draw lots."

Hu Liena, the Captain of the Spirit Hall Team, stepped forward and respectfully said, "I choose the first option."

Even if encircling the Heaven Dou Royal Battle Team with the other two teams might be seen as an unfair victory—

However, the Spirit Hall Team's winning streak in the Continental Elite Tournament could not be broken by their Golden Generation!

This was the honor of Spirit Hall!

Dai Weisi, the Captain of the Star Luo Royal Team, was the second to step forward. He bowed slightly towards Bibi Dong, showing his respect for the strong, and then slowly said, "I also choose the first one."

Feng Xiaotian's lips curved upward as he strode out, saluted Bibi Dong, and then looked at Tang San, smiling, "Our Shenfeng Academy chooses the second option, two-on-two. We just want to have a fair duel with the Heaven Dou Royal First Team! A true strong person must dare to challenge the strong!"

These words were meant to mock both the Spirit Hall Team and the Star Luo Royal Team.

However, most members of these two teams showed disdain.

After all, if Feng Xiaotian truly had courage, he wouldn't have replaced the original four Shenfeng members with the four "aces" from Thunder Academy, Tianshui Academy, and Blazing Academy.

Now he's here to stir up trouble, pretending to be a good guy, huh?

Finally, Tang San stepped forward. He first nodded to Feng Xiaotian, acknowledging his appreciation for him siding with the Heaven Dou Royal

First Team, and then bowed to Bibi Dong, saying, "My Heaven Dou Royal First Team chooses the first option."

Those outside the arena and those watching this scene through the Sub-Mother Soul Guidance Photography Ball could not understand why Tang San made such a choice.

"So confident?" Ning Fengzhi was stunned, then smiled, "It seems we were all wrong. Perhaps Tang San wasn't too seriously injured when he dealt with that 300,000-year Spirit Beast earlier, or perhaps he has already recovered."

Sword Douluo was also expectant: "Perhaps, in this match, we can witness Tang San's full strength."

Heaven Dou City.

In Xue Qinghe's study, the Soul Guidance Photography Ball projected the corresponding scene onto a screen, making Xue Qinghe stare blankly, then he smiled and said, "Interesting! Truly interesting! A five-ringed 100,000-year Spirit Master, who killed a 300,000-year Spirit Beast with a punch, his trump cards seem endless, and now he's going to fight one against three!"

"In terms of Spirit Master talent, this person is already no less than me!"

"Even in terms of combat power, I, as I am now, might not be his opponent... To achieve the greatest star from the most insignificant blade of grass, it is truly dazzling."

"Such a person, with such talent, if I could subdue him—"

Thinking of Tang San surrendering beneath her in the future, Qian Renxue was so excited she couldn't control herself, filled with a sense of accomplishment!

But she quickly calmed down.

It wouldn't be easy to subdue someone as independent as Tang San; it required long-term planning...

Moon Pavilion.

Tang Yuehua, who had temporarily closed her teaching, was also in a dimly lit room, watching the scene on the screen.

Battles between Spirit Masters were once something she yearned for.

After Tang Hao left, she also considered Tang San's suggestion to abandon this arrogance, but in the end, she couldn't let it go. And if she left the Moon Pavilion, what would happen to the Clear Sky Sect?

Without news from the outside world, the Clear Sky Sect would truly be stuck in its ways!

"Second Brother, perhaps you really made a mistake back then. You should have brought him for me to raise!" Tang Yuehua said with deep regret, "Even if his Spirit wasn't the Clear Sky Hammer, with such talent, he could have established his own Sect!"

At the same time, within the Clear Sky Sect, Tang Xiao and the Five Elders gathered together, also watching the images transmitted by the Soul Guidance Photography Ball, each with different thoughts.

Originally, the Clear Sky Sect had Seven Elders, but the First Elder and Fourth Elder were killed by Spirit Hall personnel before the Sect was sealed off, leaving the Clear Sky Sect with only Five Elders.

However, these five cultivated diligently during the period of seclusion and all reached the Titled Douluo level, becoming the Clear Sky Sect's foundation.

As for Tang Xiao, although his strength was the strongest among them, his prestige was not as high as that of these Five Elders. And because of Tang Hao's matter, which led the Clear Sky Sect to its current state, he, as the Elder brother, truly had no face to ask the Five Elders to forgive Tang Hao... Of course, the most crucial reason was that Tang Xiao couldn't defeat the Five Elders combined.

Within the Clear Sky Sect, among those of the same clan, there was a strong admiration for strength. But for those with non-Clear Sky Hammer Spirits who were stronger than them, they were extremely unconvinced and intensely jealous.

Arrogant and conceited.

People who grew up in this Sect, more or less, carried these two personality traits. Even during their seclusion, there was no change at all. They could be said to be prime examples of self-deception and sticking to old ways.

It was only because the Clear Sky Hammer Spirit was powerful; otherwise, such a Sect would not even compare to a small family in Heaven Dou City.

"This Tang San really has some skill, reaching the 100,000-year level for his fifth spirit ring," the Second Elder said relatively objectively. "The Martial Soul Theory Master is much stronger than that Yu Xiaogang."

The Third Elder also expressed his opinion: "We need to be careful. The theories this guy publishes mostly use information from the Spirit Hall, so he naturally has a good impression of the Spirit Hall."

The Fifth Elder said, "It seems that after this tournament, he is bound to join the Spirit Hall."

The Sixth Elder said, "The Spirit Hall is indeed full of talent, but my Clear Sky Sect's Clear Sky Hammer is the strongest Spirit. No matter how powerful that Blue Silver Grass is, it's still just a weed."

The Seventh Elder even cursed impolitely, "People from the Spirit Hall all deserve to die, and this kid deserves to die even more. He will definitely become a great enemy of my Clear Sky Sect in the future. Sect Master, shouldn't we secretly prepare to assassinate him?"

Tang Xiao, who had been in a daze, reacted, shook his head, and said, "Currently, the Clear Sky Sect is in seclusion and it's not suitable to go out. Moreover, we are still not sure of Tang San's specific strength."

"Still need to confirm? He's just a Spirit King!" The most irritable Seventh Elder directly cursed, as if Tang Xiao had no right to refute, "That so-called 300,000-year Spirit Beast is probably strong on the outside but weak on the inside, which is why that kid was able to instantly kill it with one punch. What's there to be afraid of? The Spirit Hall cannot have such a terrifying talent join."

Tang Xiao was helpless. After all, Brother Hao owed these Five Elders an explanation. Therefore, he could only say, "The Clear Sky Sect currently cannot afford assassins. Moreover, according to the news from Tang Yuehua, the Speed Clan has already joined the Seven Treasure Glazed Tile School. They have truly lost heart in the Clear Sky Sect and will not help."

"Hmph, a bunch of ungrateful traitors!" The Seventh Elder continued to curse.

"Alright, Old Seven, the Clear Sky Sect was the one who wronged them first, and when Tang San offered the agility-attack system, we didn't send anyone to find them. It's understandable that they hate us." The Second Elder was more reasonable, but in his eyes, the Speed Clan had ultimately betrayed them. It was just that it was not appropriate to offend the Seven Treasure Glazed Tile School now, otherwise the Clear Sky Sect would be attacked from both sides.

"Let's continue watching the competition." Tang Xiao redirected the topic back to the screen, looking at Tang San's face in his heart, muttering, "He really looks like Ah Yin. Could he be Ah Yin's son? But Tang Yuehua is in Heaven Dou City, why hasn't she sent back any relevant news?"

"Since that is the case, then for this final battle, the four teams will enter the arena simultaneously to determine the champion, and the remaining three teams will compete in two-on-two matches, using a point system, to determine the runner-up and third place."

In front of the Supreme Pontiff Palace, Bibi Dong struck her scepter, and surging spirit power gushed out, forming a transparent protective shield over the entire Douluo Continent.

"To prevent the spirit power aftershocks from your collisions from affecting the three judges and the audience who are qualified to enter and watch, I have applied a layer of spirit power protection."

"However, I will not favor any side. On this point, you and the judges present can rest assured."

No one dared to doubt the fairness and impartiality of the current Supreme Pontiff.

After the four teams entered the arena, Xu Xing of the Star Luo Royal Team suddenly ran to the edge of the arena. The six members of his Star Crown Team converted their spirit power into starlight and transmitted it to Xu Xing—the Star Crown Team was originally not qualified to watch in person, but the Star Luo Royal Team temporarily included them all as substitutes for the Star Luo Royal Academy.

"Is this allowed?" Yu Feng, watching from outside the arena, widened his eyes and shouted to Qin Ming, "Teacher Qin Ming, isn't this against the rules?"

"Your Holiness, is the Star Luo Royal Team's behavior fair?" Qin Ming bowed and then questioned.

"I also don't know... Emperor Star Luo, what do you have to say?" Bibi Dong calmly threw the question to Dai Legao, "Please, Emperor Star Luo, explain in detail, after all, through the Sub-Mother Soul Guidance Photography Ball, everyone in the world is watching."

Damn it, I forgot about that!

When Dai Weisi suggested this, Dai Legao felt it was beneficial and agreed, completely ignoring the impact of the Sub-Mother Soul Guidance Photography Ball.

This was a grand event broadcast live to the entire continent!

However, as expected of the Emperor of Star Luo, he immediately thought of a reason and said, "Just as the Shenfeng Academy found a loophole in the rules through wisdom, this young man named Xu Xing from the Star Crown Sect also found a loophole in the rules."

These words pushed everything onto Xu Xing, excluding the "credit" of the Star Luo Royal Team.

"It seems that the rules of the Continental Elite Tournament are still not perfect, and we will have to continuously check for and fill in gaps in the future." Bibi Dong's tone was calm as he explained to everyone, "Since the Continental Elite Tournament began, in almost every session, someone has found loopholes in the rules, and in the next session, those loopholes will be patched."

"Therefore, Xu Xing's actions do not violate the competition rules."

"Unless our three parties jointly discuss and exclude him, the competition will continue."

Emperor Xue Ye held an opposing view.

Dai Legao, however, had a different opinion: "If Xu Xing is excluded, then the teams that found loopholes in the rules and won in the past would also have their achievements erased, which would not be fair to them... What does His Holiness think?"

Seeing the ball kicked back to her, Bibi Dong was displeased and looked at the participating teams below, asking, "Everyone, what do you think?"

The three teams naturally didn't want an oversized guy to come in, but they all wanted to see what Tang San would say, and they could also stall for more time, allowing Xu Xing to consume a bit more spirit power—that state couldn't last long, after all, Xu Xing himself was only a Spirit Elder, and his body couldn't withstand that much energy for too long.

"Fairness is inherently relative; his ability to find a loophole in the rules is also his skill." Tang San saw everyone's gaze on him and stepped forward without hesitation, as if he didn't care about Xu Xing's power at all. "After all, the conditions for spirit power fusion and transmission are extremely strict, and his success is also accidental."

"Your Holiness, we have no objection either." Hu Liena, seeing this, echoed, deciding to stay further away from Xu Xing when the time came; that Domain's range couldn't cover the entire Douluo Continent.

The remaining Shenfeng Academy naturally had no major objections, as they themselves had found loopholes in the rules and it was not good to find fault with other teams.

After the four teams found their respective positions on the Douluo Continent arena, Yu Tianheng said to Dai Weisi, "I didn't expect your Star Luo Team to also exploit rule loopholes."

Dai Weisi laughed heartily and said, "This is a method allowed within the rules, but for you, it is indeed a bit of cleverness."

"It seems you are ultimately affected by the cruel competition of the Star Luo Empire." Yu Tianheng sighed slightly.

"No choice, born into an imperial family, one cannot only consider one's own dignity, especially after my good-for-nothing younger brother lost his competitive ability." Dai Weisi's tone sank... Although he missed the experience of the Heaven Dou Royal Academy leading a team to the Star Luo Royal Academy for exchange, and he considered those from the Heaven Dou Royal First Team as friends.

But—

Heaven Dou and Star Luo were ultimately not one family. The so-called "peaceful coexistence" was only because the Spirit Hall balanced the situation.

If not for the Spirit Hall, the Star Luo Empire would have already unified the continent!

After all, when the Clear Sky Sect had not yet closed its mountain gate, it was a strong supporter of the Star Luo Empire, and the Clear Sky Sect rose to prominence through war, which suited the Star Luo Empire's appetite perfectly. The characteristics of the Clear Sky Sect's former four affiliated Sects were precisely to be gathered for war, and this is the most compelling evidence...

If he could, he would have refused immediately when Zhu Zhuyun first proposed it, but Xu Xing's threat to the Dai Family's throne and the power struggle between Star Luo and Heaven Dou were like two great mountains pressing down on him.

Furthermore, before the Continental Elite Tournament began, he had been training desperately, even seeking out a ten-thousand-year Tiger King to duel it for this purpose.

If Dai Mubai still had the ability to compete and could defeat him, then he could lose, as long as the strongest "Hell White Tiger" was chosen, it would be beneficial to Star Luo.

But now—

He, Dai Weisi, and the Star Luo Royal Team, absolutely cannot lose to the Heaven Dou Royal Battle Team!

Only victory!

Only victory!

Then, the world will only see the victor and will not pay too much attention to the process.

Even though there is now a Sub-Mother Soul Guidance Photography Ball and information spreads quickly, Dai Weisi believes:

Human nature! It will never change because of this!

In the original work, the Five Elders of the Clear Sky Sect were clearly identified as four in the book, and the remaining one was not specified as the Fourth Elder or the Sixth Elder.

Here, it is set that the Fourth Elder died.

As for the reason, 'four' and 'death' are homophones, making it easy to remember.

As for Dai Weisi... gentle, domineering, and a qualified king, but born into such an environment, he must also have a ruthless side.

215: Nine Treasures, Nine Orifices and Nine Days Formation

The four teams stood at the east, south, north, and west positions of the Douluo Continent.

Heaven Dou was in the east, Star Luo in the south, Shenfeng in the north, and Spirit Hall in the west.

Everyone was waiting for Bibi Dong's command, especially Xu Xing, who was even more anxious, as his surging spirit power was limited!

If he continued to suppress it within his body without releasing his Spirit, he would probably explode and die.

"Champion Character Match!"

"Officially Begin!"

Bibi Dong's voice finally rang out, high-pitched yet steady, pleasant yet majestic.

"I am the Lord of the Stars!"

Xu Xing shouted excitedly, raising his hands, as a three-layered star crown appeared, "crowning" himself, which made Dai Weisi and Zhu Zhuyun twitch at the corners of their mouths.

However, everyone reacted very quickly, moving away from Xu Xing.

After all, his Domain did not distinguish between friend and foe.

Perhaps this was the overbearing nature of being the sole sovereign?

Hu Liena and the others from the Spirit Hall Team ran even faster—having experienced the taste of that Domain once, they knew best how peculiar it was.

They did not want to endure that feeling of upside-down powerlessness a second time.

Shenfeng Academy also did not want to try that strange Domain.

"You all retreat, I want to try this Star Domain and the so-called Zhou Tian Xing Dou Great Array." Tang San told Xiao Wu and the others to stay far away, intending to personally comprehend the energy flow rhythm of this Domain. Together with Iliex, he planned to make more precise records of the operation trajectory of the Zhou Tian Xing Dou Great Array within it and compare if there were any unrecorded areas.

"The captain is truly bold."

Huo Wu watched Tang San actively enter that Domain, a hint of admiration appearing in her eyes. She then said to the others, "Now that the captain isn't here, I'll be in command. Let's fight six against twenty, no problem, right?"

Xiao Wu's Spirit possessed her, her two rabbit ears twitching, full of vigor: "Naturally, no problem. Let's have a grand fight."

Zhuqing manifested her Dark Demon Bone Armor, energy flowing around her body, even causing slight distortions in the surrounding air. She said, "Let's go."

"Do we need any tactics?" Yu Tianheng asked.

"Tactics?"

Huo Wu chuckled, "There's no need at all. You just need to protect Ning Rongrong and Ye Lingling, the two support system Spirit Masters. Next, let's see how the three of us unleash our divine force."

"Nine Treasure Glazed Tile emerges!"

Ning Rongrong lightly shouted, and a Nine Treasure Glazed Tile Pagoda appeared from her hand. Four spirit rings, one yellow and three purple, simultaneously shone, and four streams of light encircled the pagoda body.

Ring, ring, ring!

Accompanied by a light, bell-like sound, the Nine Treasure Glazed Tile Pagoda became illusory and transparent, its size also enlarging, enveloping Ning Rongrong and Ye Lingling.

"Martial Soul True Body!" Ning Fengzhi was startled. He looked closely, then shook his head, calming down. "No, it should just be a similar Ability. Does Tang San know about this self-created Spirit Ability Ning Rongrong developed?"

"Nine Treasure Nine Apertures Nine Sun Array!"

As Ning Rongrong's voice fell, four streams of light emerged from the pagoda's spire, forming a peculiar array pattern above it. With her Nine Treasure Glazed Tile Pagoda as the center, it covered an area of nearly a hundred meters.

Yu Tianheng, Huo Wu, Zhuqing, Xiao Wu, Ye Lingling, and Ning Rongrong herself, all received the enhancement of the four beams of light shining down from the array. Their four attributes—strength, agility, defense, and spirit power—were all increased by over forty percent on top of their original stats.

Moreover, behind each of them, four streams of light formed a peculiar disc-like shape, slowly hovering behind them.

After the enhancement was complete, the Nine Treasure Glazed Tile Pagoda dissipated and was retracted into Ning Rongrong's body. The giant array pattern in the sky also slowly vanished, but the six disc-shaped energy array patterns behind everyone remained.

This was the self-created Spirit Ability Ning Rongrong cultivated: the Nine Treasure Nine Apertures Nine Sun Array.

The uniqueness of the Seven Treasure Glazed Tile Pagoda Spirit meant that no matter what Spirit Beast was added, the enhancement attributes of the first seven Spirit Abilities were already fixed; only their order could be changed.

Even when Ning Rongrong's Spirit evolved into the Nine Treasure Glazed Tile Pagoda, her first seven Spirit Abilities remained unchanged. Through Tang San's mental force perception, he found that each time she used them, although the spirit ring lit up, the spirit power circulation patterns were actually engraved within each floor of the Nine Treasure Glazed Tile Pagoda, not on the spirit ring itself.

For others, the spirit ring was a combination of the "switch" for using skills and the "spirit power circulation circuit"; both were indispensable.

But for Ning Rongrong's Nine Treasure Glazed Tile Pagoda, or for all Spirit Masters with the Seven Treasure Glazed Tile Pagoda, their Spirit, before Spirit Saint and Spirit Saint, excluding Martial Soul True Body, had fixed first six Spirit Abilities, only the order of enhancement was different.

Therefore, when Ning Rongrong sought Tang San to understand how to better combine the spirit power circulation patterns within each layer, Tang San taught her some basic Spirit Tool rune combinations, letting her figure out how to combine them herself.

After all, his Spirit was not the Nine Treasure Glazed Tile Pagoda. In terms of perception, even with his Purple Demon Eye, it was definitely not as accurate as Ning Rongrong's own personal perception.

After receiving Tang San's guidance, Ning Rongrong kept experimenting before the competition began. Coupled with her frequent inquiries to Tang San and Guang Ling about Spirit Tool circuits and runes, her efforts finally paid off. Combined with the Heart Separation Control method of the Seven Treasure Glazed Tile School, she finally created this Nine Treasure Nine Apertures Nine Sun Array.

It uses four enhanced spirit power circulation circuits as a base, combining them to form an array pattern, which is then applied to others' backs.

This way, Ning Rongrong doesn't need to constantly provide enhancements, because once the array pattern is formed, it can last for four hours.

To be honest, Ning Rongrong herself didn't expect that once the array pattern was formed, it could last for such a long time. This wasn't four minutes, nor forty minutes, but four hours!

Moreover, the array pattern circulates in the form of light. Unless the enemy has a counteracting attribute or extremely strong power, it cannot be destroyed.

There are also drawbacks: after Ning Rongrong uses this move, her spirit power is less than one-tenth of its original amount.

What is fortunate is that Ning Rongrong can apply this array pattern to herself, allowing her spirit power to recover faster.

In reality, if Ning Rongrong's spirit power and mental force were stronger, she wouldn't need to cause such a large commotion; she could directly form the array patterns on everyone's backs with four enhanced light beams.

Unfortunately, Ning Rongrong's mental force was insufficient, so she could only first cast a super-large array pattern, and then use it as a template to successively apply it to her teammates.

This process sounds slow, but in reality, it happened in an instant.

"Hoo~"

Ning Rongrong, exhaling a breath of stale air, put one hand on her hip and said to everyone except Yu Tianheng and Ye Lingling: "You've been strengthened, go!"

Her posture was quite dashing.

If one didn't know Ning Rongrong came from the Seven Treasure Glazed Tile School, they would think she was a female general on the battlefield.

"Watch Xiao Wu Jie's power!" Xiao Wu led the charge, as if lightning was wrapped around her legs, her speed nearly fifty percent faster than usual, instantly breaking into Shenfeng Academy's territory.

This was the grassland terrain in the Douluo Continent.

"Just one?" Yu Tianxin sneered, thinking Xiao Wu had come for a one-on-one fight. "Are you looking down on me a bit?"

"Eh? Don't misunderstand." Xiao Wu held up a finger, shaking it and her head. "I'm not looking down on you. What I mean is, I don't put any of you here in my eyes."

This instantly enraged everyone from Shenfeng Academy.

"Looks like you're very arrogant," Feng Xiaotian said with a chuckle. "Same name as Huo Wu, but you seem much more flamboyant."

"Why not?" Xiao Wu put her hands on her hips, leaving herself wide open, as if she didn't care about being ambushed by the seven opponents. "My strength is my confidence."

Whoosh!

As soon as she finished speaking, Yu Tianxin instantly appeared in front of Xiao Wu, reaching out a claw towards her neck, showing no mercy.

However, the claw merely passed through Xiao Wu's neck, bringing no sensation of contact to Yu Tianxin.

"Afterimage!"

As Yu Tianxin's thoughts raced, he instinctively turned, swinging his right arm violently backward.

Xiao Wu had appeared behind him at some unknown point.

She was seen jumping slightly, her legs slightly bent, as if to kick Yu Tianheng.

"Do you want to compare strength with me?" Yu Tianxin roared in anger, suddenly exerting force with his right arm, imbued with the power of lightning, determined to compete with this Soft Bones Rabbit.

However, Xiao Wu's goal was not to clash head-on with Yu Tianxin. Her legs merely touched his turning right arm's swing. She suddenly squatted down, then abruptly exerted force, straightening her legs.

Boom!

With this stomp, utilizing the lightning from Yu Tianxin's right arm, combined with her own Fourth Spirit Ability, Electric Light Flash, she became like an arrow released from a bowstring, rapidly charging towards Feng Xiaotian and the others.

Because of Xiao Wu's counterforce, Yu Tianxin spun three to five times in place, then retreated seven or eight steps before finally stopping. When he looked up again, he saw that three of his teammates had already lost their combat ability.

From the moment Yu Tianxin and Xiao Wu engaged, only five seconds had passed. In such a short time, after Feng Xiaotian and the others realized Xiao Wu's objective, she had already "flown" over.

Even though Feng Xiaotian shouted for everyone to scatter, several of the weaker members of the team simply didn't have time to react.

Therefore, Lu Renjia and Xiao Bingyi's necks were directly constricted by Xiao Wu's two arms, and they were slammed heavily onto the ground. Their occiputs received a heavy blow, their eyes rolled back, and they fainted.

The remaining one was Huo Wushuang—

After Xiao Wu knocked out two cannon fodders, she immediately stopped, using the inertia to transfer the force to her scorpion tail braid, swinging it forcefully towards Huo Wushuang, who was charging at her, and instantly Binding his neck.

Then, with a pull, she used Huo Wushuang's running inertia to swing him, followed by a kick to his abdomen, which pained him so much that he had to release his hands from her braid.

Subsequently, the First Soul Skill, Waist Bow, was activated!

In just an instant, Huo Wushuang was swung in a semicircle in mid-air by Xiao Wu's hair and slammed heavily onto the ground, receiving better treatment than the previous two cannon fodders.

"From just now until now, it's only been fifteen seconds..." Feng Xiaotian swallowed, a drop of cold sweat trickling down his cheek.

The girl in front of him used only physical techniques, but every step was exquisitely precise: she provoked them with words, causing their mentality to slightly lose balance; Yu Tianxin suddenly attacked, but she dodged it with her Qi, then used the force of Yu Tianxin's arm swing to target their six people; she instantly killed the two weakest, then, relying on that scorpion tail braid and her First Soul Skill, defeated Huo Wushuang, who had no time to use his Spirit Ability.

All of this happened in a flash.

Is this Tang San's little girlfriend?

So powerful!

Moreover, the opponent's spirit power should still be very abundant, right?

Difficult to deal with.

Feng Xiaotian wanted to use his self-created Spirit Ability, but the arena was too large, and the opponent's speed was extremely fast. She would certainly not take a direct hit, so he had to lock onto a target, otherwise, it would be a waste of his own spirit power.

"Martial Soul Fusion Skill! Ice and Snow Falling Ice Phoenix!"

Shui Bing'er and Shui Yue'er embraced each other, their spirit power perfectly fused, and the chilling aura they emitted forced Xiao Wu to retreat.

"It's a bit difficult to interrupt such a Martial Soul Fusion Skill," Xiao Wu glanced at Yu Tianxin and Feng Xiaotian nearby, realizing that they wouldn't leave for other areas, and she relaxed slightly, "However, I also want to see what tricks you can come up with for a Martial Soul Fusion Skill."

On the other side, Zhuqing approached the Star Luo Royal Team.

This was the river arena.

"Good sister, do you want to fight with your sister?" Zhu Zhuyun giggled, her posture alluring.

"To be precise, I want to fight with the Hell White Tiger." Zhuqing said calmly, but the hint of confidence in her voice surprised Dai Weisi and Zhu Zhuyun.

"Alright, then let's see how strong you are now." Dai Weisi sent the other four to deal with Yu Tianheng, Ye Lingling, and Ning Rongrong, intending to play with her and Zhu Zhuyun.

After all, Zhuqing was his sister-in-law, so he had to give her face.

"I hope you go all out, otherwise, if the Hell White Tiger loses to a Spirit Ancestor like me, it would be embarrassing." Zhuqing said coldly, and then her figure vanished from their sight like a ghost.

"Such speed!" Zhu Zhuyun asked herself, her current spirit power was at level forty-eight, but she didn't have such speed—the Dark Demonic Evil God Tiger, what kind of Spirit Beast was that?

However, no one answered Zhu Zhuyun's question.

Feeling the wind by her ear, Zhu Zhuyun instinctively turned and dodged Zhuqing's revealed claw, but when she tried to counterattack, the opponent's figure disappeared again, like an illusory existence.

This was not a mental Spirit Ability, but rather speed that was so extreme that it left afterimages in Zhu Zhuyun's eyes.

Left with no choice, Zhu Zhuyun and Dai Weisi could only stand back to back.

"Zhuqing has grown to an extremely powerful level." Zhu Zhuyun watched her surroundings vigilantly, trying to sense the airflow in the air, wiped the wound on her face, and her heart sank.

"I think she might want to return all the trouble you caused her back then." Dai Weisi felt he had guessed the truth, "Although you two have reconciled, women are actually quite petty. The grievances they suffer cannot simply be laughed off so easily. This tournament might be her only chance to teach you a lesson, and she must seize it."

Zhu Zhuyun gritted her teeth: "If that's truly the case, then she really is my good sister!"

While they were talking, Zhuqing still attacked them more than ten times. Although each time it only caused a minor scratch, compared to the instant pain of a severe injury that would make people wail and their minds go blank with no other thoughts, this kind of minor scratch pain was continuous and piercing, making it very easy to affect a calm state of mind.

Left with no choice, the two decided on Martial Soul Fusion.

After all, every wound Zhuqing inflicted on them had a wisp of spirit power mixed with dark, lightning, and wind attributes invading their bodies.

That kind of spirit power was extremely corrosive and required more spirit power to counteract.

With one side gaining and the other losing, the situation was very unfavorable for them...

In the volcanic lava arena, on the Spirit Hall Academy side, Huo Wu single-handedly stopped Hu Liena, Yan, and Xie Yue, while the other four went to trouble Yu Tianheng and his team.

However, Huo Wu believed that with Ye Lingling present, Yu Tianheng wouldn't have to worry about getting injured. As long as they conserved some spirit power, dealing with eight Spirit Ancestors shouldn't be a problem.

At worst, they could hold out.

Thus, the entire battle on the "Douluo Continent" was divided into five parts:

Huo Wu, fighting against Hu Liena, Xie Yue, and Yan, three Spirit Emperors, unable to achieve a quick victory.

Xiao Wu, fighting against Shui Bing'er and Shui Yue'er's Martial Soul Fusion Skill, and guarding against Yu Tianxin and Feng Xiaotian, also found it difficult to escape for a while.

Zhuqing, facing Dai Weisi and Zhu Zhuyun's Martial Soul Fusion: Hell White Tiger, also found it impossible to decide the victor in an instant.

Yu Tianheng, responsible for protecting Ning Rongrong and Ye Lingling, fighting against eight Spirit Ancestors, four from the Spirit Hall Team and four from the Star Luo Royal Team.

The last one, Tang San, was within Xu Xing's Domain, engaging in a one-on-one duel with Xu Xing, whose strength had reached the Spirit Saint level.

"Tang San, you actually voluntarily entered my Domain, you're truly bold." Xu Xing seemed to have victory in his grasp and was not in a hurry to activate the Zhou Tian Xing Dou Great Array—as long as he didn't deliberately waste spirit power, the Star Crown Spirit's existence time could last a long time, which was why he could be so leisurely.

"I just want to see what's so mysterious about the so-called Zhou Tian Xing Dou Great Array." Tang San responded casually, scanning the Domain, recording the trajectory of energy flow within it with Iliex, and finally fixing his gaze on Xu Xing's Star Crown.

That was the foundation of the Domain!

Iliex, relying on his divine force, quickly and accurately replicated the energy flow circuit within the Star Crown, making up for any omissions in the previously inscribed patterns.

"Tsk, you're really confident." Xu Xing couldn't stand Tang San's attitude and didn't plan to hide anymore. He asked coldly, "You've transmigrated, and you love showing off so much?"

"Yes, that's right." Tang San nodded, "Any transmigrator who has read 'Douluo' can tell. I never intended to hide it, after all, in this real World, without system-like cheats, if you want to kill me or trick me, you can't learn those tricky maneuvers from fanfiction. Without a basic understanding of this World, you simply can't grow."

"Just like absorbing a spirit ring beyond your level, the larger the power you're born into, the less likely the elders in the family will let their direct descendants take risks, because for a Sect, the most important thing is the continuation of its legacy."

"For Beast Spirits, it might be alright; some specific types of spirit rings provide a boost to the Spirit's bloodline."

"But for Tool Spirit Masters, based on what I currently understand, whether the spirit ring's age is high or low doesn't really matter. What's important is the Spirit Ability. High-year spirit rings, aside from the Spirit Ability and compatibility with the Spirit, can only provide spirit power and physical enhancements to the Spirit Master themselves, saving some time in cultivation."

216: Jiu hao's first battle, crushing the golden generation of Wuhun Palace

Facing Tang San's incessant chatter, Xu Xing only felt that the other party was showing off, flaunting his extensive knowledge, and subtly mocking his lack of learning.

Damn it!

In his previous life, he hated studying and couldn't read a single book. Now that he had transmigrated, did he still have to be dominated by a straight-A student?

This was simply too much!

"Shut up, I'm not interested in any of this," Xu Xing interrupted Tang San's lengthy discourse. "And don't even think about stalling for time. As long as I don't waste spirit power, this Domain can last for a very long time."

"Oh? You actually figured out I was stalling for time?" Tang San smiled slightly, raised his hand, and countless Blue Silver Emperor emerged from the ground. Especially the Blue Silver Emperor at the edge of this Domain, it climbed upwards like a creeping fig.

Xu Xing, however, didn't take it seriously and sneered, "In this Domain, I am the center! I am the Lord of the Stars, and wherever I point, that is the front!"

However, when Xu Xing tried to reverse himself, he found it difficult to adapt for a moment and almost fell. He quickly righted himself to avoid falling headfirst due to the influence of gravity.

"What did you do?"

Xu Xing was puzzled, even fearful.

This was his Domain, under his control, so why couldn't he control it as his body reversed?

"How much do you know about stars?" Tang San asked.

"What do you want to say?" Xu Xing was a little scared.

"This continent beneath our feet is also a star, which can be called Douluo Star," Tang San replied. "Those stars in the night sky, anything visible to the naked eye, are mostly fixed stars. Even the God Realm is a spherical World that can be called materialized energy... So, why do you think that all stars revolve around the moon, and the moon revolves around the sun, is the truth?"

"You should know that this World, like Earth, has the moon revolving around Douluo Star, and Douluo Star revolving around the sun."

"Although there are extraordinary powers, friction generates heat, ripe apples fall to the ground, and electromagnetism can intergenerate. In this World, everything has its rules, and most physical laws are no different from Earth's."

"Exploration, discovery, generalization, and organization—these are the true great paths, not empty fantasies."

"Just like you can change the space-time of this Domain because the star power within the Domain rotates with you, but if they were real stars, would you have the power to turn them?"

The 'Douluo Continent' battlefield below was not hollow. Therefore, the Blue Silver Emperor could take root in the earth and draw power from it.

Since the Douluo World is a planetary World, the power of the earth, to some extent, is also a form of star power.

Furthermore, under Tang San's manipulation, the Blue Silver Emperor's leaves clung to the edge of the Domain and, with a specific spirit power flow, interfered with the energy circuits on it, fixing the entire Domain to the earth, or rather, to Douluo Star.

Previously, although this Domain was in contact with Douluo Star, there was no connection between them. It was merely like two smooth spheres, one large and one small, placed very close together. Xu Xing's "sphere" could naturally rotate in any direction according to his control.

But now, the Blue Silver Emperor's leaves were adsorbed onto the edge of the Domain and fixed, with their roots firmly embedded in the earth.

Although they hadn't rooted into the core of the planet, for the two "spheres," it was equivalent to gluing them together with industrial-strength adhesive.

And comparing their volumes, if Douluo Star were a basketball, the volume of Xu Xing's Domain wouldn't even be comparable to a single bacterium on that basketball.

Given this, how could he possibly move the entire Douluo Star?

Forget Douluo Star, he couldn't even move the underground areas where the Blue Silver Emperor had taken root by an inch.

Xu Xing understood, his expression horrified. "You're using the power of the entire Douluo Star to contend with my Domain? You're cheating!"

Tang San raised an eyebrow, then smiled, "This is the ability of a Spirit Ability. Within the rules, if you're not convinced, you can go to the organizers and ask them to forbid me from using Spirit Abilities, and see if they'll allow it... On the other hand, you directly found six people to transmit star power to you, exploiting a loophole in the rules, tsk tsk~"

Xu Xing was furious but had nothing to say.

After all, the organizers would never forbid Tang San from using his Spirit Ability just because it could draw power from the earth; that would be truly unfair.

And he, by borrowing the power of six others to temporarily reach the Spirit Saint realm, was indeed exploiting a loophole in the rules and wasn't entirely in the right.

"Zhou Tian Xing Dou Great Array!"

The more Xu Xing thought about it, the angrier he became. He directly employed an offensive method, activating the three hundred and sixty-five silver-white stars within the Domain. They operated in a peculiar way, forming a three-dimensional array pattern that enveloped Tang San from above and below, left and right, front and back, continuously impelling the stars to bombard him.

Gazing at the shooting stars, a purple light flashed in Tang San's eyes. His feet seemed to step on the wind, and his hands turned golden-jade. Using the Controlling Crane Catching Dragon technique, he utilized force to generate counter-force and, with spirit power vibrations, he dodged while pushing away unavoidable stars, deflecting them with skillful leverage.

Although it's best to catch the leader first, Tang San wanted to test this offensive array and reconfirm whether there were any errors in the energy flow patterns of the Zhou Tian Xing Dou Great Array he had previously recorded.

"Damn it! Slippery like a loach!"

"Fight me head-on if you dare!"

Xu Xing felt the consumption of spirit power within him and provoked Tang San.

"Then I shall grant your wish." Tang San stopped, punched and shattered a star that was hurtling towards him, and extended his left hand. Extremely destructive energy emerged from it, and a black-glowing hammer appeared in his hand.

"Is that the Clear Sky Hammer?!"

In the VIP section, among the three major powers, those with knowledge all recognized what Spirit that was.

"It's actually a twin spirits!" Ning Fengzhi was shocked, then looked at Bibi Dong, only to find that besides surprise, there seemed to be no hatred in her eyes.

"Hao Tian Disciples?" Bibi Dong recalled the information Ma Xiunuo sent from Nuoding City. It should be true that Tang San was raised by Old Jack of Saint Spirit Village.

So, was he the offspring of a Clear Sky Sect Disciple who had a fling outside?

It didn't matter.

As long as he was close to Spirit Hall, it was fine.

Moreover, his talent wasn't due to the Clear Sky Hammer; after all, his main cultivation was the Blue Silver Grass...

...

In Heaven Dou City, Moon Pavilion, Tang Yuehua was shocked: "It's actually twin spirits! Little San, are you even hiding this from your father? And, Second Brother, what exactly did you do to Little San before his Spirit awakened? To the point where he's wary of you..."

Inside the Clear Sky Sect.

The Five Great Elders and Tang Xiao, watching through the screen, saw Tang San reveal his Clear Sky Hammer Spirit, and their reactions varied from joy to anger.

"The Clear Sky Hammer, Blue Silver Grass, that Tang San is the bastard child of that scoundrel Tang Hao and that Spirit Beast!" Seventh Elder roared furiously. "No wonder he's so talented; it must be because he inherited our Sect's Clear Sky Hammer Spirit!"

These words were clearly sophistry, but the other four Elders did not refute him. After all, in their view, only the Clear Sky Hammer could make Tang San so outstanding.

"Seventh Elder, please mind your words. He is my second brother's son!" After confirming that Tang San was his nephew, Tang Xiao could no longer bear it. A vast spirit power pressed down on Seventh Elder, and the other Elders also released their spirit power.

"Hmph!" Seventh Elder snorted coldly. "If he wants to return to the Sect in the future, unless he can defeat me at the Spirit Emperor level, he can forget about it!"

Tang San's potential and strength had already been revealed; they couldn't ignore it.

But Seventh Elder held a grudge against Tang Hao and had to vent it.

Only then did Tang Xiao withdraw his power.

As for Seventh Elder's condition, Tang Xiao didn't think it was a problem. After all, Tang San could absorb a 100,000-year spirit ring at the fifth spirit ring level. Defeating Seventh Elder when he reached Spirit Emperor wouldn't be an issue.

However, these Five Elders, as well as Tang Xiao, had not considered whether Tang San, based on his personal subjective will, would be willing to return to the Sect...

...

At this moment, Tang San, holding the Clear Sky Hammer, faced the dense bombardment of stars. He blocked left and right, showing no flaws, and even used the recoil force to continuously increase the power of the heavy hammer in his hand.

This hammer technique was not the Rampaging Wind Technique from the beginning, but a more refined method of using force to generate counter-force that Tang San created with the help of vibration.

Its main function was not to confront enemies, but to temper the body and regulate qi and blood by using the vibrational force of the recoil.

Therefore, within the inferior Zhou Tian Xing Dou Great Array displayed by Xu Xing, Tang San appeared to be shattering the incoming stars. In reality, he was using the impact force of those stars and the vibrational force generated after their explosion to temper his body.

In this process, Tang San himself was the refined iron!

Thus, Tang San unleashed three hundred and sixty-five hammer strikes, shattering all the stars.

This hammer technique, improved from the Rampaging Wind Technique, naturally accumulated the force of three hundred and sixty-five strikes, and its power was so immense that Tang San himself could barely withstand the 反震之力 of its impact.

Therefore—

Boom!

Tang San threw the Clear Sky Hammer in his hand, and when it struck the ground, it immediately caused an extremely strong tremor.

The enormous aftershock instantly broke through Xu Xing's Domain, and its lingering power nearly shattered the riverine area where the two of them were, causing the entire land to crack.

Moreover, that lingering power also transmitted across the entire "Douluo Continent."

Volcanoes collapsed, and icebergs shattered.

Forest trees tilted and fell; Deserts and swamps shook and undulated.

Even the surrounding "Ring Sea" at the edge surged with waves, and the spray was shaken more than ten meters high.

Even the spectators at the edge felt the trembling of the earth.

"That strike just now, even if it were me, if I didn't dodge, I would probably be severely injured," Sword Douluo's pupils constricted sharply, and he said in horror, "This Tang San can be said to have shaken the entire 'Douluo Continent' with one hammer."

Although everyone present understood that the "Douluo Continent" Sword Douluo spoke of was not the real Douluo Continent, no one dared to refute him at this moment.

After all, the power of that hammer strike, even a strength-type Spirit Douluo, could not reach such an exaggerated level.

That Tang San was simply a monster!

More importantly, Tang San primarily cultivated Blue Silver Emperor, and the Clear Sky Hammer had not a single spirit ring added to it.

If spirit rings were added, to what level could he unleash this Spirit?

On the field.

Tang San's hammer strike also affected others in combat.

"Clear Sky Hammer? twin spirits?" Hu Liena dodged the furious bombardment of flame attacks and light rays, diverting a sliver of her attention to gaze at the commotion Tang San had caused in the distance, her expression growing more serious.

"I hope that strike just now consumed most of his spirit power."

But things did not go as she wished; with the skill Endless Recovery, Tang San didn't need to consider the consumption of spirit power at all.

He walked over to the Clear Sky Hammer, picked it up, then glanced at Xu Xing, who had been heavily injured and thrown out of the arena by the lingering aftershock, and turned his gaze to the others.

"Everyone, need some help?" Tang San waved to Yu Tianheng, Zhu Zhuqing, Huo Wu, and Xiao Wu respectively, asking with a relaxed expression.

Xiao Wu was the first to answer: "Yes, this big ice bird is a bit troublesome, and those two guys, Feng Xiaotian and Yu Tianxin, are also very annoying, constantly conserving their spirit power."

Zhuqing transmitted: "No need, a mere Hell White Tiger can be dealt with."

Huo Wu shouted: "Help me out, three Spirit Abilities, even with Ning Rongrong's amplification, I'm a bit overwhelmed."

These three guys simply won't give me a chance to use my self-created Spirit Ability."

Yu Tianheng finally replied: "Captain, you come over too."

There are eight people here, all very cautious.

I'm a bit overwhelmed by myself."

Facing a situation where all three sides needed support, Tang San once again unleashed Endless Grassland, extending it towards Yu Tianheng and the others, instantly trapping the eight Spirit Ancestors.

Even if these eight Spirit Ancestors could break free, it gave Yu Tianheng enough time to defeat them.

Moreover, Tang San's second Spirit Ability was activated; a positive buff ring floated behind Yu Tianheng, echoing Ning Rongrong's array pattern, further amplifying Yu Tianheng.

Immediately, Yu Tianheng felt all his attributes increase by nearly double, greatly reducing his pressure.

"Come on, watch me instantly kill you all!"

For Huo Wu's support, Tang San directly threw the Clear Sky Hammer in his hand towards their direction.

Bang!

Seeing the Clear Sky Hammer attack, Xie Yue and Yan quickly jumped away, while Huo Wu also took a big step back, using this time to gather spirit power and prepare her self-created Spirit Ability.

"Just throwing the Clear Sky Hammer over, isn't that looking down on us too much?" Although Yan was shocked by Tang San's strength, at this moment, he felt insulted.

"Roar—"

The Clear Sky Hammer suddenly vibrated, letting out a beast roar, and then, under everyone's bewildered gaze, it transformed into a creature resembling an Earth Dragon covered in metallic scales.

It was over twelve meters long, and its height, even with its head raised, was five or six meters.

More importantly, it had five heads, and the eye color and pattern on each head were different, representing the five elemental attributes of fire, light, wind, water, and poison.

Furthermore, if one included its black and golden scales, one could say its body inherently possessed the metal attribute.

"I now suspect whether Tang San's hammer is truly the Clear Sky Hammer," Sword Douluo felt his mind struggling to process it.

He couldn't understand how a hammer could transform into an detached Beast Spirit with multiple heads.

Was this a Tool Spirit or a Beast Spirit?

"However, the appearance of this peculiar metallic Earth Dragon is somewhat similar to Mu Tian's Earth Fire Lizard, except his are all fire-attributed, while this one has five heads, five attributes, plus the metal attribute inherent to its body, making a total of six."

Ning Fengzhi looked thoughtful, "Also, there's a bulge on the side of those five heads.

Perhaps when Tang San's spirit power reaches level sixty, a sixth head can grow, and it will be of a different attribute...

When he becomes a Titled Douluo, he will probably have ten different elemental attributes."

Meanwhile, in Spirit City, Mu Tian, who witnessed this scene through the Sub-Mother Soul Guidance Photography Ball, had bloodshot eyes, finally understanding why Bright Moon's cultivation speed had slowed down ever since he first encountered Tang San.

At the time, he thought it was his own fault, but he never expected it was—

"Bastard! He actually stole the real Bright Moon!"

"Unforgivable!"

"Absolutely unforgivable!"

The enraged Mu Tian furiously smashed things in his room.

In a moment, the entire room was in disarray.

"Just you wait, Tang San, dare to steal my things, I will definitely make you pay the price!"

On the competition grounds, Nine Haos looked back at Huo Wu, and Heavenly Fire stretched out its head, carrying her on its back, then Nine Haos rapidly charged towards Hu Liena and the other two.

Xie Yue held his moonblades in both hands and slashed at one of the heads, but the moonblades collided with the scales on its neck, sending sparks flying, yet not harming Nine Haos in the slightest, not even leaving a trace.

"So hard?" Xie Yue was startled and prepared to jump away, but Heavenly Light bit down, moving so fast that Xie Yue had no time to react and was bitten in the waist.

"Pfft!"

The sharp teeth in Heavenly Light's mouth pierced through Xie Yue's defense, even injuring his spine, causing his lower body to almost lose control.

"Damn it!" Xie Yue swung his moonblades, attacking Heavenly Light's eyes—any creature's eyes are vulnerable, and even a Spirit is largely the same.

However—

Bang!

Xie Yue's blade touched Heavenly Light's eyes, also sparking, completely unable to break through its defense, not even leaving a scratch.

After all, Nine Haos' body was transformed from the Clear Sky Hammer, and its hardness was not something the moonblades could penetrate.

Thud!

Although Heavenly Light felt no pain, it was annoyed by Xie Yue's attack, so it flung him to the ground, then Nine Haos pressed him down with one claw to prevent him from moving too much.

Subsequently, the five heads looked at Hu Liena and Yan.

The two felt as if they were being targeted by some extremely terrifying predator, and for a moment they stood frozen in place, unsure of what to do.

Heavenly Fire spewed out raging flames, surrounding Hu Liena and Xie Yue, while Heavenly Light's eyes shot out light, forming an array-like pattern above their heads.

Countless rays of light, like rain, bombarded the two from above.

Fortunately, Yan timely activated his Lava Shield, barely managing to resist.

Heavenly Wind, meanwhile, stirred up a fierce gale, forming a tornado around the flames, and in conjunction with Heavenly Fire, they formed a massive fiery tornado.

Facing the hot wind, even Yan found it somewhat unbearable, beads of sweat seeping from his skin, but they were quickly dried and evaporated, leaving only streaks of salt residue.

Heavenly Poison did not act; after all, if the poison attribute were used, it would not be easy for the two to recover afterward.

Finally, Heavenly Water sprayed a water column onto the fiery tornado.

Instantly, fire and water collided, causing a violent explosion.

The entire tornado burst apart in an instant, and scorching steam diffused, enveloping an area of nearly a hundred meters.....

217: The final champion and choice

The scorching steam can scald skin, and even more, for the human body, the damage caused by steam to the skin is more intense than direct fire or water attacks.

“Whoosh—”

The Sky Wind blew a breath, dispersing the white mist, revealing Hu Liena and Yan lying on the ground.

At this moment, their skin was red and their eyes were dull, as if they had been steamed.

If not for their lingering breath, no one would have thought they were still alive.

“They’re so badly injured, can they last until the end of the match?” Huo Wu originally thought that even with Nine Haos joining, it would take some time, but she didn’t expect three Spirit Emperors to be instantly defeated.

This beast-transformed Clear Sky Hammer truly couldn't be measured by common sense.

Nine Haos seemed to understand Huo Wu’s words. Tian Guang and Tian Shui looked at each other, and their eyes glowed simultaneously. Two peculiar patterns condensed in front of their mouths, and light, like flowing water, slowly sprinkled onto Hu Liena and Yan, causing the scorching heat on their bodies to recede and their damaged skin to recover as before.

Seeing this scene, almost all the spectators felt that Tang San’s second Spirit was definitely not the Clear Sky Hammer... After all, which Clear Sky Hammer could transform into a beast and also help people heal?

Hu Liena and Yan woke up, but their spirit power had been completely exhausted in resisting the Flame Tornado, Light Rain, and steam earlier, and had not recovered.

“We lost.” Hu Liena’s face was full of bitterness. She knew there was a gap between herself and Tang San, but she had never thought that she couldn’t even defeat one of his Spirits.

Moreover, this Spirit had been acting independently, not under Tang San’s control.

Yan also looked dejected at this moment and said to Huo Wu, “We concede.”

On the other side, Tang San was simultaneously facing Yu Tianxin and Feng Xiaotian, one against two, using only the Mysterious Jade Hand and the method of redirecting force, he was evenly matched with the two.

“Damn it, is the gap really that big?” Yu Tianxin secretly gritted his teeth, his chest heaving violently, and the lightning coiling around him flickered on and off, his spirit power clearly insufficient.

“My apologies, both of you, I still need to conserve spirit power for other uses.” Tang San didn’t intend to drag it out any longer. He took a step, and a hundred meters was covered in the blink of an eye.

This was extreme speed!

Among those present, only Bibi Dong could discern some of the intricacies, her eyes filled with solemnity: “Such speed, if used for assassination, even an ordinary Titled Douluo would find it difficult to evade!”

Tang San simply raised his hand and lightly tapped the back of Yu Tianxin’s head, causing his eyes to blacken and him to collapse to the ground.

Seeing this, Feng Xiaotian hastily retreated, his eyes fixed on Tang San.

But in an instant, Tang San’s figure disappeared.

“Where did he go?”

Feng Xiaotian hurriedly stopped, looking left and right, when he suddenly felt his back lean against someone else’s back, and drops of sweat immediately appeared on his forehead.

Bang!

His back of the head was heavily struck, Feng Xiaotian felt his vision blur, losing control of his body below the neck, and he fell stiffly to the ground.

“This way, only Dai Weisi, Zhu Zhuyun, and Shui Bing’er and Shui Yue’er are left.”

Looking back at the volcanic lava region, Hu Liena, Yan, and Xie Yue had already been defeated by Nine Haos; on Yu Tianheng’s side, with the help of the Endless Grassland, solving those Spirit Ancestors was only a matter of time.

And on Xiao Wu’s side—

Shui Bing’er and Shui Yue’er’s Martial Soul Fusion Skill formed a colossal, almost solid ice phoenix, and even within sixty meters of it, ice and snow covered the ground, clearly possessing a Domain-type skill they named “Snowfall.”

Perhaps because Yu Tianxin and Feng Xiaotian were both defeated, the ice phoenix decided to go all out. With a flap of its wings, countless ice crystal phoenix feathers shot towards Xiao Wu.

However, Xiao Wu was no longer what she used to be.

Waist Bow gave her extreme flexibility in her waist, coupled with her long braid, it was always effective; Listening to the Wind allowed her to perceive air fluctuations, enhance her mental force, and foresee three seconds into the future; True Spirit Bone made her bones both strong and flexible, enhancing her attributes; Electric Light Flash strengthened her legs, making her speed reach its extreme; and the final Blazing Flame Fist increased her arm strength and gave her a powerful attack-type Spirit Ability that combined both close-range and long-range combat.

Therefore, facing the myriad ice crystal phoenix feathers, Xiao Wu flew up, dodging attacks while using the incoming phoenix feathers to continuously leap upwards.

Amidst the flashing electricity, Xiao Wu arrived in front of the ice phoenix's head, activating her True Spirit Bone skill to strengthen herself. Then, she swung her scorpion tail braid, Binding the ice phoenix's neck, and with a twist of her waist, like a downward cleave of Mount Hua, she kicked its neck.

“Go down, Xiao Wu Jie!”

With another burst of strength, the ice phoenix, with a wingspan of over ten meters, was actually kicked down seven or eight meters by Xiao Wu's kick.

After Xiao Wu's scorpion tail braid released the ice phoenix's neck, she briefly hovered in mid-air, using the recoil from that kick, and her fifth spirit ring flashed.

“Fifth Spirit Ability: Blazing Flame Fist!”

Xiao Wu clenched her fists, condensing the power of flame. The blazing flames seemed to come alive, transforming into a flaming rabbit over ten meters long.

The Blazing Flame Fist Spirit Ability had two uses in Xiao Wu's hands.

One was to attach the power of flame to her hands and strike rapidly.

The second was as seen now: condensing the power of flame in her hand, forming a rabbit-shaped flame energy to blast out.

The ice phoenix had just taken a hit from Xiao Wu and hadn't fully adjusted its state. Now, the Blazing Flame Fist's impact had reached its back. The immense force combined with the scorching flames made it difficult for the ice phoenix to resist, and it was directly blasted to the ground.

Bang!

The ice phoenix shattered, and Shui Bing'er and Shui Yue'er fell to the ground, having lost all combat capability.

Xiao Wu, meanwhile, did a somersault in mid-air and landed steadily.

At this moment, only the battle between Zhuqing and the Hell White Tiger remained on the field.

In the first match of the preliminary knockout rounds, Dai Weisi and Zhu Zhuyun had already displayed the Hell White Tiger, but compared to the one now, it was a World of difference.

The one before them was over twenty meters tall, with agile eyes, exuding black and white currents all over its body, and its outstretched wings behind it were nearly fifty meters long.

It was no exaggeration to say it covered the sky and obscured the sun.

"Dai Weisi should not be underestimated." Yu Tianheng led Ning Rongrong and Ye Lingling to Tang San's side, looking at the Hell White Tiger not far away, his eyes burning with fighting intent.

If Zhuqing hadn't said not to help, and this also seemed to be an internal affair of the Star Luo Empire, he would have wanted to challenge it himself and truly witness the real power of the Dai Family and Zhu Family's Martial Soul Fusion Skill.

If there were a Spirit called Hell White Tiger in the World, and it formed a Sect, then the title of top Beast Spirit would have to transfer from the Blue Lightning Tyrant Dragon.

"Roar!"

Nine Haos now ran over with Huo Wu, letting out a roar, and his five pairs of eyes all showed disdain towards the Hell White Tiger.

How could a mere Hell White Tiger compare to Him?

Tang San patted Nine Haos' five heads one by one, signaling him to calm down and not to disturb the match between Zhuqing and the Hell White Tiger.

"Third Brother, can Zhuqing win?" Xiao Wu asked with some concern.

"Yes." Tang San gave an affirmative reply, "She is also practicing her self-created Spirit Ability in this battle, presumably gaining some insights from that Hell White Tiger."

The truth was exactly as Tang San had guessed. Besides dodging the Hell White Tiger's attacks, Zhuqing was observing the Hell White Tiger's energy flow and comparing it to her own Hell Civet.

According to her observations, after her Spirit absorbed the Dark Demonic Evil God Tiger's spirit ring, it awakened the power of darkness, whose nature was somewhat similar to the dark attribute within this Hell White Tiger.

If she were to circulate the spirit power within her body according to the flow trajectory of the dark attribute energy on the Hell White Tiger, would it be feasible?

Zhuqing was a woman of action; once she thought of something, she would implement it without much hesitation.

And as her spirit power imitated the circulation, Zhuqing perceived the "fulcrum" between the "refining circuit" and the "sustaining circuit" within her Spirit.

In the past, when cultivating spirit power, Zhuqing could only vaguely perceive it, but now, she could perceive it much more clearly and noticed her mental force injecting into it.

"Is it like a key?" Zhuqing dodged the Hell White Tiger's sweeping claws, her eyes turned pitch black, without any whites, and her pupils became bluish-green, looking quite eerie.

And in this state, Zhuqing felt as if she saw another World—the sky, clouds, earth, trees, everything around her, seemed to have countless invisible energy flowing.

That was the Heaven and Earth energy that Spirit Masters could convert into their own spirit power using their Spirits!

Looking at the Hell White Tiger in front of her again, Zhuqing discovered that it was an entity formed by the intertwining of two energy masses: half light, vaguely forming a white tiger, constituting the Hell White Tiger's skeleton; and half dark, like a civet, but only flesh, striving to extend and cover that skeleton.

“So that's it. Is this the truth behind the Martial Soul Fusion of the White Tiger and the Hell Civet?”

“White Tiger and Hell Civet aren't important. The most crucial thing is that light and darkness achieve a certain balance, and the higher the degree of balance, the higher the so-called Martial Soul Fusion compatibility.”

Having seen through this, Zhuqing released her Dark Demon Bone Armor, flew up, and stood in mid-air. Her entire spirit power surged, causing the Heaven and Earth energy of more than half of the “Douluo Continent” to churn.

Ordinary people didn't feel much, only thinking that Zhuqing was about to unleash some terrifying Spirit Ability.

However, the Spirit Douluo and Titled Douluo level powerhouses looked horrified!

Because Zhuqing, relying on her Spirit Ancestor level spirit power, actually stirred the Heaven and Earth energy, and the covered area exceeded more than half of the competition venue!

Even Titled Douluo whose strength exceeded level ninety-five could not control the Heaven and Earth energy; they could only rely on their powerful spirit power to disturb the Heaven and Earth energy, or use certain special spirit ring skills.

But the current Zhuqing had broken the norm!

How did she do it?

“It seems Zhuqing found a trick: using the spirit power of her inner Heaven and Earth to leverage the energy of the outer great Heaven and Earth, thereby achieving the goal of controlling Heaven and Earth energy.” Tang San looked at Zhuqing, who was like a born Divinity, with a look of relief on his face. “And, is that ‘fulcrum’ indeed closer to the ‘maintenance circuit’ end?”

Inside the Hell White Tiger, Dai Weisi and Zhu Zhuyun felt completely seen through by Zhuqing, with no secrets to speak of.

They wanted to resist, but the Hell White Tiger was actually out of their control!

The White Tiger trembled.

The Civet wailed.

The feelings their Spirits fed back to them were as if they had encountered divine force; let alone resisting, they didn’t even dare to think of escaping, as if it was an immense fear.

Spirits possess their own spirituality, and the memories inherited from ancient bloodlines made the Hell White Tiger, formed by the fusion of the White Tiger and the Civet, not dare to move an inch.

“Disperse!”

Zhuqing roared, and the Heaven and Earth energy she stirred, under her control, formed two claws, each tens of meters long.

One was entwined with spiral wind blades, and the other was entirely composed of lightning.

The two claws simultaneously pressed onto the Hell White Tiger, grabbed it, and then pulled!

Rip!

The entire Hell White Tiger was torn into two halves!

The energy of light and darkness dissipated, revealing Dai Weisi and Zhu Zhuyun's figures again, but because their Martial Soul Fusion Skill was forcibly torn apart, both suffered heavy injuries and were no longer able to resist.

At this point, the Heaven Dou Royal First Team, fighting one against four, defeated the Shenfeng Academy Battle Team, the Star Luo Royal Team, and the Spirit Hall Team, winning the overall championship of this All-Continent Advanced Soul Master Academy Elite Tournament!

At this moment, the entire venue cheered, and the audience watching the live broadcast through the Sub-Mother Soul Guidance Photography Ball was also excited.

“Tang San won!”

“The Heaven Dou Royal First Team won!”

“The champion of the Continental Elite Tournament is finally not Spirit Hall anymore!”

“Speaking of which, the composition of this Heaven Dou Royal team is quite mixed: the Blue Lightning Tyrant Dragon Clan, families within the Heaven Dou Empire, nobles from the Star Luo Empire, commoners, and even criminals...”

“What criminals?”

“That Tang San.....”

“He is a Martial Soul Theory Master, what does it have to do with the Clear Sky Sect? That hammer probably just looks like the Clear Sky Hammer, after all, whose Clear Sky Hammer can transform into a five-headed dragon-type detached Spirit?”

“I heard that Tang San’s innate spirit power is only level six.”

Everyone discussed animatedly, but no one would think that Tang San’s success relied on his second Spirit.

After all, the Spirit Tang San mainly cultivated was Blue Silver Grass/Emperor.

“Lingling, it’s your turn to act. Restore everyone.” Tang San gestured to Ye Lingling, letting her also demonstrate her ability—it could be said that having Ye Lingling participate was to prevent anyone from suffering future cultivation issues due to severe injuries, thereby forming grievances with them.

“Watch me, Captain!”

Ye Lingling stepped out of the team, cupped her hands, and the four spirit rings on her Nine Hearted Sea 棠 Spirit simultaneously lit up.

Nine, eighteen, thirty-six, seventy-two petals.

A total of one hundred and thirty-five petals of Nine Hearted Sea 棠 appeared, forming circles of formations, interlocking.

Subsequently, those one hundred and thirty-five petals formed an entire massive Nine Hearted Sea 棠, slowly descending towards the ground.

Viewed from above, it looked like a holy flower blooming on the “Douluo Continent,” extremely beautiful and brilliant.

“Instant Bloom!”

“A moment, also eternity!”

On the field, almost all the defeated individuals were nourished by those petals, awakening and having their bodies, including spirit power, restored to their optimal state.

Ye Lingling's Nine Hearted Sea棠, as a single Spirit Ability, could only heal injuries, but when combined into a formation-like structure, it could condense Heaven and Earth energy and purify it, making it easier for Spirit Masters to absorb.

Thus, it achieved the goal of healing Spirit Masters while also injecting Heaven and Earth energy into their bodies, assisting their Spirits in rapidly recovering spirit power.

However, Xu Xing was still severely injured.

Because he was shaken out of the arena by the aftermath of Tang San's hammer, he had already been pulled away by those from Star Crown Academy, missing this perfect healing.

With the power of that hammer, even if it didn't directly hit his body, the mere aftermath was enough for Xu Xing to lie in bed for more than half a year.

After all, not all healing Spirits' effects could compare to Nine Hearted Sea棠.

"As expected of Nine Hearted Sea棠, unparalleled in healing. It's just that the efficacy of Nine Hearted Sea棠 is different from our Seven Treasure Glazed Tile School, and its Spirit inheritance has flaws; otherwise, it would indeed pose a threat to my Seven Treasure Glazed Tile School."

Although surprised by Ye Lingling developing such a powerful healing effect with Tang San's help, Ning Fengzhi did not feel that the Nine Hearted Sea棠 lineage was a threat—

A family whose Spirit cannot be widely inherited, no matter how it develops, its scale will never compare to Sects like the Seven Treasure

Glazed Tile School or the Blue Lightning Tyrant Dragon Clan, whose Spirits can be stably inherited.

Unless they learn the Spirit Hall's path to prosperity...

But Spirit Hall would not allow any family to replace them; therefore, the Nine Hearted Sea 棠 lineage could only ever be a small family.

After the champion was decided, it was time for the battle for second and third place.

And because Ye Lingling's healing effect was extraordinary, all three teams recovered completely (except for the unlucky Xu Xing), so Bibi Dong didn't waste time and had the three teams compete in turns to decide the victor.

The three teams competed against each other in a round-robin format, based on points.

Ultimately, Spirit Hall Academy secured second place.

And the Star Luo Royal Team took third place; although they were one person short, they had the Martial Soul Fusion Skill as a great weapon, and their coordination was quite tacit, which the Shenfeng Academy, a hastily assembled team, could not compare to.

Even if Shui Bing'er and Shui Yue'er could perform Martial Soul Fusion, they still couldn't surpass Dai Weisi and Zhu Zhuyun's Hell White Tiger.

Therefore, they could only rank fourth.

This final of the Continental Elite Tournament was the most exhilarating in history, and also the fastest to end, as it hadn't even reached noon from start to finish.

But when the competition ended, it ended. Bibi Dong ordered someone to bring out the three ten-thousand-year Spirit Bones and said to the Heaven

Dou Royal Battle Team standing on the dilapidated “Douluo Continent” arena: “Will the winners please come to the stage to receive your awards.”

Under the fervent gazes of the Heaven Dou Royal Battle Team members and everyone else, Tang San took a deep breath, opened his eyes, adjusted his state, and slowly walked towards Bibi Dong in front of the Supreme Pontiff Palace.

One step.

Two steps.

When Tang San walked in front of Bibi Dong, she tapped her scepter, and the three Spirit Bones placed on the jade plate floated forward, supported by spirit power.

However, Tang San’s gaze was not on those three Spirit Bones.

This caused Bibi Dong to show an approving look.

“Congratulations, Tang San, by virtue of your own strength, you led the Heaven Dou Royal Academy to win the championship of the tournament and stood before me.”

“The future of the Spirit Master’s World will be your era!”

“May I ask if you have any intention of joining Spirit Hall?”

Tang San asked, “Am I not already an honorary Elder of Spirit Hall?”

Bibi Dong shook her head: “This is different. What I mean is, truly join Spirit Hall, become a member of Spirit Hall, and if you have the ability in the future, the position of Spirit Hall Pope can also be passed on to you.”

At this moment, everyone looked at Tang San; some hoped for his joining, while others did not want him to be close to Spirit Hall.....

218: Tang San VS Bibi Dong (Part 1)

At this moment, all sounds were silent.

Everyone who was watching this scene directly or indirectly couldn't help but become nervous.

Tang San, the Martial Soul Theory Master, his choice could already influence the situation of the entire Continent—the common Soul Masters who had benefited from the theories he published would choose to join Spirit Hall in large numbers after Tang San joined Spirit Hall.

In Heaven Dou City, within the Crown Prince's palace, Xue Qinghe hoped Tang San would join Spirit Hall, but also didn't want Tang San to become that woman's subordinate: "He should clearly be my talent!"

At Moon Pavilion, Tang Yuehua was even more worried: "Xiao San, how will you choose? Don't do anything foolish. Although Haotian Sect didn't raise you, your second Martial Soul ultimately comes from Haotian Sect."

Haotian Sect Headquarters.

The Five Great Elders and Tang Xiao also couldn't help but clench their fists.

How could such an excellent junior join Spirit Hall? Wouldn't that be recognizing a thief as a father?

"What is that idiot Tang Hao doing?" The Seventh Elder was furious. "Didn't he tell Tang San that he is from Haotian Sect? He should refuse immediately!"

"Perhaps, Brother Hao really hasn't told Tang San where he is from yet."
Tang Xiao thought of something, his face full of bitterness.

"Hmph, even if he hasn't told him, I don't believe that with Tang San's brain, he doesn't understand what his second Martial Soul represents." The Second Elder also lost his good temper.

The Third Elder was puzzled: "It's just, why can his Clear Sky Hammer be beastized?"

No one could figure this out, they could only guess in the direction of mutation, but the Tang San in the screen slowly raised his hand and asked Bibi Dong: "Respected Pope, I think you should know what my second Martial Soul means... Can Spirit Hall accommodate me? It is rumored that the previous Pope was severely injured by a Clear Sky abandoned child and later died from his injuries..."

These words could be said to be bold.

And the smart people present also realized which Hao Tian Disciple's son the Tang San before them was.

Tang Hao!

That lunatic!

Not many people present knew why the previous Pope had made things difficult for Tang Hao back then, but what could be confirmed at the moment was that after that battle, Tang San was born, and Tang Hao also broke through to Title Douluo and severely injured the previous Pope Qian Xunji, causing him to eventually die from his injuries...

Although many people had doubts about the point of "died from his injuries" (after all, at the Title Douluo level, as long as there was still a breath left and their Life force wasn't exhausted, they could be saved by healing Soul Masters and survive; Spirit Hall had plenty of healing type Soul Masters at Soul Saint and above), no one could doubt Tang Hao's combat power.

Moreover, Haotian Sect and Spirit Hall had a grudge.

How would the current Pope, who was the previous Pope's disciple, treat Tang San now?

"It can accommodate you." To everyone's surprise, Bibi Dong actually smiled, causing the atmosphere that should have been serious to instantly dissipate. "Spirit Hall welcomes anyone to join. Even though Haotian Sect had clashed with Spirit Hall in the past, we only ordered them to seal their mountain and reflect behind closed doors, and we didn't forbid them from descending the mountain to purchase supplies or hunt Soul Beasts."

"Therefore, you don't need to worry."

"If those Elders in the Elder Hall disagree, I will speak with them. Since my identity as a God Realm inheritor has been exposed by that beast, I no longer need to hide—"

"Within twenty years, I will definitely break through to level one hundred and achieve Godhood."

"Moreover, I can tell you clearly that my strength has already reached level ninety-nine, unparalleled in the current era, but because I am undergoing the God Realm assessment, my Soul Power is restricted, and under normal circumstances, I can only display level ninety-eight strength."

"Whether in the past... or now, or in the future, those Elders in the Elder Hall must give me face."

When she mentioned the past, Bibi Dong paused slightly. Tang San keenly noticed this and guessed that she might be thinking of her past unpleasant experiences.

And Bibi Dong's words were also meant to show her strength and capital to the world—

As for God, she could achieve it within twenty years!

Joining Spirit Hall was the future!

After a long while, Bibi Dong calmed her emotions and looked at Tang San: "Now, give me your answer, Tang San. Are you willing to join Spirit Hall? In my eyes, your talent is far more astonishing than all the Elders in the Elder Hall combined. If you join Spirit Hall, I can directly appoint you as the Saint Child, a candidate for the next Pope. After I become a god and ascend to the God Realm in the future, you will be the next Pope of Spirit Hall."

Facing the temptation of power, Tang San was silent for a while, then sighed.

This scene made many people's hearts sink.

Is he unwilling?

"Pope, I believe you know that I am not someone interested in power. Recruiting me with power will not succeed." Tang San placed one hand across his chest and bowed to Bibi Dong at a ninety-degree angle, his attitude extremely sincere. "However, it is not impossible to join Spirit Hall."

Seeing Tang San perform such a grand bow, Bibi Dong's eyebrows slightly raised. She felt that he might say something astonishing next and couldn't help but ask: "What are your conditions?"

"Please conquer me!"

Tang San's words were astonishing. "Whether it's with martial force or with your personal charm... Of course, you don't need to sacrifice your appearance. After all, beautiful appearances are a dime a dozen, but interesting souls are one in a million."

In an instant, the entire place was silent. Even the audience watching through the Sub-Mother Soul Guidance Photography Ball were speechless upon seeing this scene.

Someone who dares to speak to the Pope like this...

Tang San,

is the first!

The reason Tang San dared to say this was also because he had roughly figured out Bibi Dong's personality, and that in such a setting, she would never suddenly attack.

After all, everyone on the entire Continent was watching directly or indirectly.

Hmm~ There's a bit of moral blackmail in there.

After a moment of silence, Bibi Dong spoke: "You are indeed very humorous, and I understand your meaning. Martial force is the right to speak for Soul Masters, and the strong can arrange the fate of the weak. And personal charm can be said to be wisdom... Martial force, wisdom, a ruler needs excellent ministers to assist him, but excellent ministers will also choose excellent rulers."

"I admit your excellence, but challenging me is a provocation to Spirit Hall!"

"If I were to punish you, how would you appease my anger?"

Tang San replied without hesitation: "How about using these three ten-thousand-year Soul Bones won by the Heaven Dou Royal First Team as compensation?"

Bibi Dong's breath hitched.

These three ten-thousand-year Soul Bones originally belonged to Spirit Hall, but as the champion's prize, they now belonged to the Heaven Dou Royal Battle Team. Using them as compensation could indeed offset Tang San's offense of disrespect.

After all, even Title Douluo coveted ten-thousand-year level Soul Bones.

However, for some reason, she always felt that the Tang San before her was very punchable? She couldn't help but want to teach him a lesson, but at the same time, she couldn't bring herself to dislike him, just like an Elder's tolerance for a junior's naughtiness and playfulness... Is this the so-called "interesting soul"?

"Three ten-thousand-year Soul Bones are indeed enough, but can you make decisions on behalf of the entire Heaven Dou Royal Battle Team?" Bibi Dong questioned.

"Yes!"

Below, all the members of the Heaven Dou Royal Battle Team, those who were on the stage and those who were not, spoke in unison.

"Pope, did you hear that?" Tang San smiled slightly. "I can make the decision... So, now, may I ask you, the supreme expert standing at the peak of Soul Masters, to give this junior some guidance?"

Bibi Dong withdrew her gaze from the members of the Heaven Dou Royal First Team and heard Tang San's flattery. She sighed: "You are a very charismatic Captain, and I also admire your wisdom and courage, but in terms of self-awareness, is there perhaps a lack in challenging the peak of the Continent from the realm of a Soul King?"

As soon as her voice fell, Bibi Dong's vast aura was released, like a mountain-toppling and sea-overturning force, causing the airflow throughout the entire mountainside to become chaotic.

Countless strong individuals present lowered their heads in fear. Only Title Douluo level experts could grit their teeth and endure the pressure that felt like the sky collapsing, trying their best to look at Bibi Dong.

What shocked these Title Douluo was that Tang San actually endured the pressure and looked directly at Bibi Dong.

"Indeed interesting." Bibi Dong retracted her aura and smiled slightly. "To be able to withstand my pressure, your physical body must have reached the Title Douluo level, right?"

"Pope, I have always had self-awareness, and—"

Tang San clasped his fists and bowed at forty-five degrees, "To hear the Dao in the morning, one can die in the evening."

"Good!"

Bibi Dong was shocked in her heart—[To hear the Dao in the morning, one can die in the evening], the young man before her was a true theory master, and his heart was also extremely resolute.

Such talent!

Such courage!

How could she not fulfill his wish?

The two came to the "Douluo Continent" arena, and everyone else withdrew.

Bibi Dong said, "In this match, I... I won't use Soul Skills or Martial Soul. I can suppress my Soul Power to below ninety-fifth level. What do you think?"

Above ninety-fifth level...

This proved that Bibi Dong admitted that Tang San, a Soul King, already possessed the strength to contend with a Title Douluo, at least for a while.

"Junior feels that Pope can raise her Soul Power higher, for example, to ninety-eighth level." Tang San released his Blue Silver Emperor, and five Soul Rings—one yellow, two purple, one black, and one red—appeared. The five Soul Rings began to interlock in a peculiar manner, big rings enclosing smaller ones. "As long as you give me a little time to prepare, I will possess strength that won't disappoint you."

Noticing the qualitative leap in Tang San's Soul Power fluctuations after the first and second Soul Rings interlocked, Bibi Dong's eyes became slightly solemn, but she still smiled and said, "Naturally, as long as you don't need an entire afternoon to prepare."

"Thank you for Pope's understanding."

Tang San thanked her. The third, fourth, and fifth Soul Rings also interlocked, forming five interconnected Soul Rings. From the inside out, three rotated clockwise, and two rotated counter-clockwise.

Moreover, intricate patterns slowly emerged on the Soul Rings, subtly combining with each other to form a unified whole.

The Blue Silver Emperor Martial Soul also grew wildly, wrapping around Tang San's entire body and transforming into pieces of silver-blue armor: chest plate, shoulder guards, waist guard, battle skirt, leg guards, and battle boots. Everything was complete and fit snugly against his body, as if it were part of him, extremely resplendent.

And the color of the Soul Ring formed by the fusion of the five Soul Rings changed, becoming golden-blue. A phantom of the Blue Silver Emperor appeared in its center, with twelve long leaf-like blades extending out, passing through the gaps and spreading outwards, emitting blue-white energy that illuminated Tang San as if he were divine.

The strong aura of Life emitted covered the entire arena, causing Blue Silver Grass to grow everywhere. The surrounding spectators also felt refreshed.

But what shocked the Title Douluo even more was that Tang San's Soul Power fluctuations at this moment had already reached the level of a Title Douluo, and were extremely close to the ninety-sixth level!

"In the realm of a Soul King, he can already rival a Title Douluo, and a ninety-fifth level one at that!" Sword Douluo couldn't help but exclaim, "Although I don't know what's going on with Tang San's state or how long it can last, he can already stand alongside us Title powerhouses. Is this the weight of a true Martial Soul Theory Master?"

Poison Douluo also wiped the cold sweat from his forehead and thought to himself, "Fortunately, back at the Ice and Fire Yin Yang Well, my offer to spar with him after he finished cultivating was just talk. I didn't actually make a move, otherwise, I might have really lost."

The others were speechless, only able to stare blankly at the fourteen-year-old boy who had surpassed most of them. Their hearts were filled with awe, envy, and shock, with jealousy being the least of their emotions.

The gap was simply too large.

"Clap clap clap!" Bibi Dong clapped her hands, and five Soul Rings—one yellow, three purple, four black, and one red—rose up. She exclaimed, "I have never seen such a dazzling Soul Master. May I ask, what is this technique of yours? It looks like Fusing Rings?"

"It is indeed Fusing Rings, but I've improved it a bit." Tang San smiled faintly. "The skills of each of my Soul Rings can complement each other, and they all follow the path of Life. Fusing them in this way is much stronger than the previous crude method of simply attaching and sticking Soul Rings together."

"This way, it can be said that all the energy within the Soul Rings is unleashed. It's equivalent to the energy of the five Soul Beasts, the predecessors of the Soul Rings, bursting forth. And because the energy is too powerful, it will infuse the Martial Soul and automatically condense into this energy-like armor..."

"I haven't fully understood the specific reason yet, but I call this process, Martial Soul Energy Materialization."

"And the style of this set of armor, I call it:"

"Martial Soul True Body Armor!"

"It is indeed stronger than Martial Soul True Body, but it has a time limit, right? Aren't you afraid I'll stall for time?" Bibi Dong asked curiously.
"Aren't you afraid I'll stall for time?"

"Pope has questions, so naturally I must explain. Moreover, due to the characteristics that my Soul Rings and Soul Skills grant my Martial Soul, my Blue Silver Emperor can draw Earth Power from the ground to recharge, and also obtain energy from the light of the Sun and Moon."

Tang San continued to explain, "Therefore, the duration is actually not short. The only thing to consider is whether I can withstand the Soul Power at the Title Douluo level. But it is clear that my body and Spiritual Power have already reached the Title level above ninety-fifth."

"So, Pope doesn't need to worry about junior's endurance."

Bibi Dong's eyebrows raised slightly, feeling that Tang San's words had a hidden meaning.

"However, this alone might not be enough to satisfy Pope." Tang San raised his left hand, and the Clear Sky Hammer appeared, transforming into Nine Haos. It was connected to Tang San's will and exploded, turning into pieces of purple-gold armor that slowly inlaid onto the silver-blue battle armor.

Instantly, a purple-gold chimera relief condensed on the chest of the battle armor. Five heads were attached to the chest, vaguely forming a giant 饕餮 mouth, within which five elements—Fire, Light, Wind, Water, and Poison—surged, subtly forming an extremely destructive force, as if capable of destroying everything.

And after Nine Haos transformed into armor and integrated into Tang San's Blue Silver battle armor, Tang San's Soul Power fluctuations increased again, directly reaching the ninety-eighth level.

At this moment, Bibi Dong's eyes were filled with appreciation and desire. Her ninety-eighth level Soul Power also surged out, colliding with Tang San's Soul Power, which carried the aura of Life and Destruction.

Bang—

Bang bang bang!

The collision of their Soul Power from a distance churned the surrounding air, raising endless strong winds. The entire "Douluo Continent" arena was a mess. The nearby spectators, except for powerhouses above the Soul Douluo level, all retreated, already speechless.

Tang San, relying on his Twin Martial Souls and his research on Fusing Rings, was actually able to reach such a powerful state, even rivaling a ninety-eighth level powerhouse.

On this Douluo Continent, besides Spirit Hall, perhaps no one could threaten Tang San anymore?

His strength was his greatest asset!

Boom!

Just then, a sonic boom came. The "Douluo Continent" had already split directly in half. Without anyone seeing the movement, Tang San and Bibi Dong had already collided, their arms meeting, Soul Power erupting, and surging energy emanating from both of them.

One was gray, enveloping everything, as if everything was about to wither; the other was blue and gold, mixed with a bit of purple, carrying a strong vitality, as if capable of reviving everything, but also containing a trace of terrifying destructive power, as if capable of destroying everything.

"Isn't it a Soul Ring Soul Skill?"

Bibi Dong felt a faint tendency for her Soul Power and Tang San's Soul Power to merge, and immediately understood—

If she didn't use her Soul-Devouring Spider Emperor and Tang San didn't use his peculiar Clear Sky Hammer, analyzing it solely from the perspective of the Death Spider Emperor and Blue Silver Emperor, one represented death and the other Life. Although their attributes were different, they were relative, and as long as they reached a balance, they could unleash a Martial Soul Fusion Skill.

According to Tang San's three major classifications of Martial Soul Fusion Skills, this would be Soul Skill Fusion.

However, now was not the time to consider these things.

"Now, junior's Soul Power is already comparable to Pope's. Since Pope is not using her main Soul Ring skills, I won't either." Tang San smiled politely, but inwardly he was secretly shocked: "Indeed, the inheritor of a God cannot be measured by common sense. Her physical strength is not much inferior to my Jade Bone Golden Muscle body achieved through cultivating the Jade Bone Golden Muscle Divine Treasure Method. For powerhouses above ninety-fifth level, each level of Soul Power increase, besides meeting the Spiritual Power requirement, doubles the total previous Soul Power. To withstand so much Soul Power, the physical body must naturally be strong. It seems I must finish this quickly."

"Illyasviel, get ready when the time comes."

Iliex nodded: "Don't worry, with this old man here, how could anything go wrong? The soul in this woman's body is a bit mixed. Her methods of using death and soul are too weak..."

219: Tang San VS Bibi Dong (Part 2)

Although Tang San, under the effect of spirit ring fusion, unleashed the full energy of his spirit rings, achieving Martial Soul True Body Armor...

Coupled with Nine Haos' armor transformation, his strength reached level ninety-eight.

However, the fusion between Life and death indeed presented a huge problem. If not for Mysterious Heaven Skill being a Daoist cultivation method, upright and peaceful, and with his three Dantians pulsating in unison to balance these two energies, Tang San felt he would have exploded and died instantly.

As for the problem of twin spirits not being able to be used simultaneously?

This did not exist for Tang San.

When a Spirit is first awakened, both Spirits can manifest simultaneously. The reason people believe twin spirits cannot be used at the same time is because the spirit power cultivated through the Spirit carries corresponding properties.

If the properties of two Spirits are opposite, then the spirit power naturally cannot be used interchangeably and requires conversion.

The conversion process takes time, thus giving people the illusion that twin spirits cannot be used simultaneously.

Secondly, owners of twin spirits only need to consider whether their body can withstand nine spirit rings of ten thousand years or more when attaching spirit rings to the second Spirit.

These two points were not an issue for Tang San, as his spirit power was primarily cultivated through Mysterious Heaven Skill. Although he had also researched meditation methods, he did not consider them his primary means.

Moreover, Tang San felt that the scarcity of twin spirits owners also led to many loopholes in past research on twin spirits—historically, the number of recorded twin spirits owners did not exceed five.

Currently, known cases include Bibi Dong, Tang San, the deceased Huo Yuhao (because he was a “Spirit Beast transformation,” strike that), and a documented case: when attaching spirit rings to the second Spirit, the body could not withstand it, leading to a final explosion and death.

Furthermore, after Tang San's Clear Sky Hammer was possessed by Austin Griffin, it gained a true self-will and could act independently, which to some extent also reduced Tang San's pressure.

"Supreme Pontiff, how about we fight in the sky?" After Tang San finished speaking, he soared into the air, relying on his powerful spirit power to use Carefree Wind Riding, treading on air.

This was not merely the power of Carefree Wind Riding, but the connection of the three Dantians' qi and blood, spirit power, and mental energy, forming a small universe within the human body that resonated with the larger external universe, thus allowing him to naturally stand in the void.

In fact, as long as one masters the method and condenses a Spirit core, one can tread on the void and ride the wind even at the Spirit Saint stage.

But in this era, flying was not an easy feat. Even a Titled Douluo, if they wanted to fly, unless their Spirit itself could fly, or they possessed Spirit Ability or Spirit Bone Ability related to flight, they could only waste spirit power to lift themselves free from the shackles of gravity.

In short, the Spirit Masters of this period were still in a very primitive stage regarding the use of spirit power, only accumulating quantity without considering the subtlety of spirit power usage.

Titled Douluo were also like this.

However, Tang San felt that a powerful person like Bibi Dong should be able to discern some of his flying techniques.

Sure enough, Bibi Dong also flew up, and the fluctuations of spirit power around her body, which were initially chaotic, became stable, even subtly balancing with the surrounding air.

"You've certainly taught me a lesson. I never imagined there was such a way to fly, just forming some upward force with the surrounding air currents? What an ingenious idea!" Bibi Dong admired Tang San even more. Then, a gray aura surged around her, darkening the sky.

"I wouldn't dare say that, Supreme Pontiff is also incredibly talented and learned it instantly." Tang San smiled humbly, his blue-gold spirit power surging, standing in opposition to the gray aura.

As the two energies collided, they continuously spread outwards from the mountainside, almost covering the entire Spirit City. The invisible pressure made everyone afraid to even breathe.

Even newborn infants stopped crying, only daring to gasp silently.

Buzz—

The earth trembled, and the gray and blue-gold colors in the sky instantly contracted, enveloping the two individuals respectively, and intense collisions began.

"Bang!"

"Thump!"

"Boom!"

Those on the ground could no longer clearly see the movements of the two, only witnessing two streams of light constantly colliding in the air, emitting blue and gray lightning.

Two of these lightning bolts intertwined and struck downwards, sweeping past the buildings near the Supreme Pontiff Palace, instantly shattering them.

Fortunately, at this moment, everyone was observing the battle outside the "Douluo Continent" arena...

But at this moment, everyone's scalps tingled, feeling that staying on the spot to watch was an extremely unwise choice—even though the two's battle was high in the sky, the aftershocks could still cause heavy casualties.

Ning Fengzhi murmured, "Such power, even if not level one hundred, for us, it is no different from the Divinities of legend."

Level ninety-eight, yet so strong!

Sword Douluo, on the other hand, recalled his father, a level ninety-seven powerhouse, who had only been defeated by that Elder from the Elder Palace... Was a one or two level difference really that great?

A hint of longing arose in Sword Douluo's heart...

...

Above the firmament, Tang San and Bibi Dong both saw the aftershocks of their attacks land on the ground, destroying a building, and they couldn't help but fly higher again.

"Supreme Pontiff, a house was damaged, I don't need to compensate, do I?" Tang San asked in a negotiating tone.

"Naturally, you do."

Bibi Dong was in a good mood. The close-quarters combat made her feel a long-lost passion—how long had it been since she yearned for such a satisfying battle, instead of spending most of her Life in the Supreme Pontiff Palace, dealing with trivial matters, or engaging in numb slaughter in places like Slaughter City.

Therefore, she played along with Tang San's joke, returning it with one of her own.

"I don't have that much money." Tang San certainly wasn't short on money, but he wasn't the only one who damaged the building.

"It's alright, you just have to compensate me." Bibi Dong said something that could be misinterpreted, but at this high altitude, only they themselves could hear their conversation.

"It seems, Supreme Pontiff, you are not one of those boring people who only pursue power." Tang San threw a punch, and Life energy erupted.

Bibi Dong also clenched her fist, condensing death aura, and collided with him.

Boom!

Life and death intertwined, revival and decay rotated.

The energy flows of the two almost formed a single entity, reflecting each other.

It was at this instant that Iliex made his move. His divine sense infiltrated Bibi Dong's body, locating her second Spirit: the Soul Eating Spider Emperor.

"This disgusting soul collective is truly sanity-draining!"

In the sight of Iliex's wisp of divine sense, the Soul Eating Spider Emperor Spirit was covered with human faces, wailing and struggling, wanting to break free, and constantly transmitting resentment and malice.

Bibi Dong herself was unaware of this, but in front of Iliex, the death Saint Archmage and undead calamity, it was all laid bare.

"However, it's also fortunate. This violent devouring cannot obliterate the soul fragments." Iliex carefully examined the human faces, sensing their corresponding auras, and finally found a face similar to Xiao Wu's, whose features exuded a hint of Soft Bones Rabbit aura.

"Get out here, old man!"

That wisp of divine sense raised its hand, constructed a magic pattern, and peeled the broken soul from the Soul Eating Spider Emperor without the Soul Eating Spider Emperor noticing the slightest bit.

After sealing Xiao Wu's mother's soul in the constructed soul-storage prison, Iliex looked at the distorted faces on the Soul Eating Spider Emperor, and then arranged grey magic patterns on them, muttering to himself: "Thus, these undead devoured by it can be slowly and truly digested by this Spirit. In the future, this little girl only needs a vessel that can carry resentment, or create some secret method to utilize resentment, and she will be able to perfectly solve the flaw of resentment affecting her temperament."

"Speaking of which, am I strong-arming her into this?"

"Moreover, exchanging one soul for this one-time intervention of mine, it feels a bit like a loss."

Subsequently, Iliex found the hundred-thousand-year-level Soft Bones Rabbit Spirit Bone absorbed by Bibi Dong and extracted a wisp of the hundred-thousand-year flesh bone's blood essence origin from it.

"Thus, the bloodline factor information and the soul are all complete."

"Time to leave!"

When Iliex returned to Tang San's upper Dantian, Tang San knew that the fundamental purpose of this challenge had been achieved, and winning or losing no longer mattered.

However, he still wanted to fight until the very end!

As for Bibi Dong, for some unknown reason, she felt completely light, as if one of the two great mountains pressing down on her had slowly been eroded by wind and rain, gradually collapsing.

"Is it due to the influence of Tang San's Life aura?" Bibi Dong could not perceive Iliex's divine sense, so she could only guess this, and her desire for Tang San deepened in her heart.

Whether it was his talent, his brilliance, or the fact that the Life energy could alleviate the pressure on her, he was worth fighting for!

Perhaps at first, Bibi Dong thought Tang San's words, "conquer him," were a joke.

But now, Bibi Dong was serious!

She wanted to conquer Tang San!

Conquer this fourteen-year-old boy!

As Bibi Dong's emotions grew more intense, and as she used her spirit power more skillfully in battle, Tang San gradually found it hard to keep up.

After all, Tang San's level ninety-eight strength was achieved through spirit ring fusion, while Bibi Dong's level ninety-eight spirit power was genuine, and her full-strength spirit power was level ninety-nine, only reduced by one level due to inheriting a Divinity.

"Stop!"

Just then, a loud shout came from below, and a hundred-meter-long Golden Crocodile opened its bloody maw from below, aiming its wide-open mouth at the two of them.

Its two yellow, two purple, four black, and one red spirit rings already proved its identity.

The second-ranked powerhouse of the Hall of Offerings, Titled Douluo Golden Crocodile, with spirit power reaching level ninety-eight!

“How dare you act so recklessly outside the Hall of Offerings!”

It turned out that Tang San and Bibi Dong had fought from halfway up the mountain to the peak, in front of the Hall of Offerings, disturbing the seven Elders who were cultivating diligently inside the Hall of Offerings.

However, the High Priest did not act easily, and due to the strength of the disturbers, the other five Elders were only level ninety-six, so only Gold Crocodile Douluo could be dispatched.

Facing the roaring Golden Crocodile charging up, Tang San and Bibi Dong seemed to have a telepathic connection, each clenching their right and left fists, respectively, with the auras of Life and death intertwined, indistinguishable from each other, and struck out together!

Boom!

As the two fists struck, the rotation of Life and death evolved into a scene of decay and vibrant resurgence, pressing directly towards the Golden Crocodile.

In just an instant, the Martial Soul True Body-level Golden Crocodile was shattered by the Life and death fist imprint jointly unleashed by Tang San and Bibi Dong, and it was smashed towards the Douluo Hall and the Hall of Offerings below.

“Stop it!” Gold Crocodile Douluo, revealing his human true body, surged all his spirit power, but the auras of Life and death surged within his body, sealing his Spirit, Spirit Ability, and spirit power.

If there were no accidents, Gold Crocodile Douluo would perish under this strike.

Was Gold Crocodile Douluo weak?

No, he was very strong.

But this punch jointly thrown by Tang San and Bibi Dong was unleashed naturally, as if perfectly formed, and in its rotation, it formed the momentum of reincarnation, and coupled with their current strength both being level ninety-eight, this jointly thrown punch had already reached the level of a God.

As for Gold Crocodile Douluo's demise...

Bibi Dong actually quite hoped to see it, after all, none of these guys in the Hall of Offerings obeyed her, or even listened to her commands, not even showing superficial respect.

Although these Elders were the foundation of Spirit Hall, if they did not obey her, they were an uncertain factor, and if they died, she would not feel much pity.

Killing a chicken to scare the monkeys was not out of the question.

Moreover, as long as Tang San joined Spirit Hall, it wouldn't matter if everyone in the Hall of Offerings died.

However, Gold Crocodile Douluo was not destined to die.

From within the Hall of Offerings, a golden light shot straight into the sky, assisting Gold Crocodile Douluo in resisting the reincarnation momentum of Life and death rotation.

A level ninety-nine super Douluo!

Qian Daoliu!

He had made his move!

However, even he, without the aid of Angel God's divine force, expended nearly forty percent of his spirit power to block this strike, his heart filled with shock—Bibi Dong had become so much stronger, and who was that young boy beside her? He didn't seem to be skilled in preserving his youth; he seemed genuinely only a teenager?

Had the world changed too quickly?

Teenage, level ninety-eight...

Was this guy the biological son of some Divinity?

And at this moment, the battle armor on Tang San shattered, the peculiar spirit ring behind him dissipated, and he fell downwards, his level ninety-eight aura instantly vanishing, returning to the level fifty-five stage.

But at this moment, Tang San's vital energy, spirit power, and Spirit were all severely depleted, leaving him unable to stay airborne, and he fell straight down.

Seeing this, Bibi Dong instinctively caught Tang San, holding him in a princess carry, and slowly descended in front of Qian Daoliu.

"Some secret method that can raise a Spirit King to level ninety-eight?" Qian Daoliu licked his lips; it wasn't that he was greedy, even a super Douluo yearned for such a secret technique.

"He is the champion of this Continental Elite Tournament, and also a Martial Soul Theory Master, challenging me with the championship prize as the stake..." Bibi Dong showed no joy or sorrow, but her gaze towards Qian Daoliu and the other Elders was filled with indifference: "Gold Crocodile Douluo, you have disturbed this Supreme Pontiff's mood, what is your crime?"

Gold Crocodile had always greatly looked down on Bibi Dong, but he had just narrowly escaped death from the Martial Soul Fusion Skill unleashed by Tang San and Bibi Dong, and with lingering fear, a hint of dread arose in his heart, so much so that he dared not retort anything at this moment.

"Bibi Dong! Don't be presumptuous!" Qian Jun Douluo scolded, "This is the Hall of Offerings, and you two were the ones who first disturbed the peace and solemnity of the Hall of Offerings."

"As the current Supreme Pontiff, everything in Spirit Hall belongs to me, and the Hall of Offerings is no exception." Bibi Dong's expression was cold, pressing down on everyone.

Qian Daoliu's face changed, realizing that Bibi Dong was serious, and he questioned, "Do you want to subdue us?"

"Old man, you should know what your son did. This is what your Angel lineage owes me." Bibi Dong's face was frosty, giving Qian Daoliu no face at all.

"Indeed, my son was in the wrong back then, his methods were a bit extreme, defiling the honor of the Angel, but do you really think I would feel guilty towards you because of that, and not kill you?" Qian Daoliu's tone sank, and he too unleashed a sacred aura, contending equally with Bibi Dong's momentum.

However, Qian Daoliu found that Bibi Dong was actually able to slightly overpower his aura, and even her originally chaotic and mixed spirit power had become much purer and more orderly.

Why had her progress been so great?

"Do you really want to fight me?" Bibi Dong sneered, "I am a Divinity's inheritor, my true spirit power level is no different from yours. At worst, I'll just extend the assessment period. After all, my Rakshasa God inheritance doesn't require any level ninety-nine powerhouses to be sacrificed."

Qian Daoliu's face was extremely grim.

The inheritance of a Divinity has nine trials, and the final trial requires a super Douluo to be sacrificed to open the door to inheritance.

Angel God, Sea God.

These two Divinities that Qian Daoliu knew about were both like this.

But the Rakshasa God Divinity that Bibi Dong inherited did not require a powerful person to be sacrificed; as long as the standard was met, the door to inheritance could be opened, and one could enter the inheritance land.

Besides this, Qian Daoliu guessed that the Asura God's inheritance might also not require a powerful person to be sacrificed... Although he didn't want to admit it, Qian Daoliu understood that even among Divinities, there were differences in strength and hierarchy.

The Rakshasa God should be on the same level as the Angel God, but in terms of power and destruction, it should be stronger.

In a single thought, Qian Daoliu considered many things and finally compromised: “What compensation do you want?”

“A hundred-thousand-year Spirit Bone.” Bibi Dong looked at Gold Crocodile Douluo, “Rumor has it that before he obtained his ninth spirit ring, Gold Crocodile Douluo already had a full set of Spirit Bones, so that hundred-thousand-year Spirit Bone must still be there. Bring it out.”

Gold Crocodile Douluo finally couldn’t help but question, “Why don’t you just rob me?”

Bibi Dong said faintly, “You are an Elder of Spirit Hall, everything belongs to Spirit Hall, which means it belongs to me. Therefore, that hundred-thousand-year Spirit Bone also belongs to me.”

Gold Crocodile roared, “What kind of twisted logic is that?!”

“After all, you also used the power of that old man Qian Daoliu when you hunted that hundred-thousand-year Golden Crocodile, so it’s not entirely yours.” Bibi Dong continued, “Or are you saying you want to betray Spirit Hall and defy my orders as Supreme Pontiff?”

Gold Crocodile gnashed his teeth, wishing he could tear Bibi Dong to shreds.

“Give it to her.”

Qian Daoliu chose to compromise, “Everything is for the future of Spirit Hall.”

And with Qian Daoliu’s words, even with all his reluctance, Gold Crocodile Douluo could only take out the hundred-thousand-year Spirit Bone, glaring at Bibi Dong with a dark, man-eating expression.

Bibi Dong put away the hundred-thousand-year torso bone, then carried Tang San down the mountain, saying without looking back, “If this Spirit Hall does not belong to me, then there will be no future!”

(PS: In the original work, the location and skills of Gold Crocodile Douluo’s hundred-thousand-year Spirit Bone were not clearly marked. Therefore, in this book, it is set that Gold Crocodile Douluo already had a full set of Spirit Bones before obtaining his ninth spirit ring—)

220: Officially joined Wuhundian

“Since you’re awake, how long do you plan to pretend to be asleep?”

After walking a short distance down from the mountain peak, Bibi Dong suddenly released her arms. Tang San immediately opened his eyes, propped himself up with his hands and feet, rolled to the side, righted himself, and stood steadily in front of Bibi Dong, smiling, “After all, facing so many powerful individuals, this junior was rather apprehensive.”

“Now, have I convinced you?”

Bibi Dong didn’t dwell on that topic, but instead asked the question she cared about most.

“In terms of martial prowess, for now, yes,” Tang San bowed deeply, took a deep breath, and looked up into Bibi Dong’s eyes. “In terms of personal charisma, I have already witnessed the calmness and wisdom you displayed when facing six super Douluo and one super Douluo.”

“Therefore, I will join Spirit Hall.”

Bibi Dong smiled, “In terms of martial prowess, only for now? That’s not untrue. Given time, it’s not impossible for you to reach the same level as me, or even surpass me.”

“As for personal charisma, it seems I still don’t meet your standards...”

“However, in the future, I will let you understand how broad my mind is.”

Glancing at Bibi Dong’s chest, Tang San laughed heartily, “I’ve already seen it.”

“Tsk.” Bibi Dong naturally noticed Tang San’s small gesture and chuckled, “If it were anyone else, I would have slapped them, but you, I will forgive your slight impudence.”

Tang San gave an awkward laugh.

Then, Bibi Dong suddenly asked, “You should know something about Divinities, right? With your talent, as long as you find a suitable Divinity inheritance place, you should also be able to obtain a Divinity’s inheritance, such as: the Divinity of Life, or the Divinity of Destruction? However, I don’t know where such Divinity inheritances can be found.”

“Actually, is there a possibility that when a person’s talent is excellent enough, the Divinity will seek them out?” Tang San proposed a possibility and described his experience of meeting Destruction and Life, “The two Divinities of the God Realm, Destruction and Life, both sought me out, hoping that I would jointly inherit their God Position and succeed their positions in the God Realm.”

“Oh? I’d like to hear more,” Bibi Dong said, surprised, gesturing for Tang San to continue. After all, her understanding of Divinity inheritance only came from the Rakshasa God. She knew that the Sea God, Angel God, and Asura God had appeared on the Continent before, but she knew nothing about the matters of the God Realm.

After Iliex confirmed there were no external divine souls observing, Tang San spoke with more ease: “Destruction and Life are husband and wife. According to them, the God Realm has Five Great God-Kings, three great enforcers, and numerous First-Rank Divinities, Second-Rank Divinities, Third-Rank Divinities, and divine officials.”

“Among them, the Five Great God-Kings are: Goodness, Evil, Life, Destruction, and Asura. The latter three are also enforcers, while Goodness and Evil are the supreme God-Kings of the God Realm. They form the God Realm Committee.”

“As for other Divinities, such as Angel, Rakshasa, Sea God, and the like, they are all only First-Rank Divinities. According to Life and Destruction, after becoming a Divinity, one is not allowed to extensively interfere with the affairs of mortal stars, and can only stay in the lower realm for one hundred years. After one hundred years, if they do not ascend to the God Realm, the three enforcers will dispatch their subordinate enforcement divine officials to the lower realm. If the lower realm God-level powerhouse still does not obey, then they will be judged, even alarming the Five Great God-Kings, who will jointly judge the lower realm powerhouse, stripping them of their divine body, annihilating their divine soul, and eroding their divine force.”

“The God Realm governs one hundred and eight mortal stars, which means one hundred and eight Worlds, but the number of Divinities in the God Realm is extremely scarce. Therefore, apart from what is needed for enforcement, they have a lot of free time.”

Bibi Dong frowned.

If what Tang San said was true, that after becoming a Divinity, one cannot extensively interfere with human affairs, then her eventual decision to wage war would only be an act of self-defeating folly?

However, Bibi Dong now wanted to know more whether Tang San had accepted the inheritance of Life and Destruction.

“No,” Tang San shook his head.

“Why?” Bibi Dong was puzzled, even showing suspicion. “Since it’s the inheritance of two God-Kings who are also enforcers, and it perfectly matches your two Spirits, why wouldn’t you accept it?”

“I will strive to break through to hundredth rank myself; I don’t need others to bestow it upon me,” Tang San’s eyes gleamed. “If a God Position is truly that good, then why would they seek successors?”

“Could it be that the previous Divinity wants to abandon their God Position and eternal Life?”

“Or is it that they’ve lived too long, causing their Spirit to be unable to bear it and on the verge of collapse?”

“Or perhaps, the God Position in the God Realm is some kind of irresistible restraint, causing those Divinities to wish for talented people to replace them so they can regain their freedom?”

“There are too many possibilities.”

“I will obtain power through my own cultivation. If I don’t understand the benefits given by others, I wouldn’t dare to accept them casually.”

Listening to Tang San’s seemingly boastful words, Bibi Dong was stunned, because she had never considered whether there was a pitfall behind the God Position, only craving power.

Whether in wisdom or disposition, she was inferior to Tang San before her.

“Your words, however, belittle me,” Bibi Dong said faintly.

“Cough, it’s just a guess. Maybe I missed a great opportunity,” Tang San laughed heartily, indicating that his previous statements were just speculation, and perhaps the Divinities of the God Realm truly just wanted to cultivate the next generation.

However, Bibi Dong now believed Tang San’s previous guess more.

Putting herself in their shoes, if she were the original Divinity and hadn’t died, would it be possible for her to give away all of a Divinity’s power, status, and rights to someone else?

Impossible!

Bibi Dong already had the answer in her heart.

Unless it was one of the reasons Tang San guessed, living too long, finding everything boring, and having a mental breakdown...

...

Back outside the Supreme Pontiff Palace.

When everyone saw Bibi Dong and Tang San walking out from the back of the mountain with smiles and laughter, they breathed a sigh of relief, and at the same time, realized one thing: Tang San had joined Spirit Hall.

Some were surprised...

Some sighed...

Some were resentful...

But one thing remained unchanged: Tang San was already a member of Spirit Hall, and his status was only below the current Supreme Pontiff.

Below one person, above ten thousand.

No one felt it was inappropriate to say that Tang San had risen to prominence overnight.

After all, Tang San had earned the Supreme Pontiff's recognition through his own strength.

And the other academy battle teams present, or those watching this scene through the Sub-Mother Soul Guidance Photography Ball, were all庆幸 that they had not truly fought against Tang San during the competition.

That monster who could fly and burrow was actually a Spirit King!

Who would believe it?

Bibi Dong stood before the Supreme Pontiff Palace and announced to everyone, "From today onwards, Tang San shall be an Honorary Elder and a Formal Elder of Spirit Hall, his name recorded in the Elder Palace. His treatment shall be on par with Titled Douluo-level Elders. Furthermore, I shall bestow upon him the title of Spirit Hall Saint Child, his status second only to mine. Let all of you and the entire Continent be aware."

At these words, the entire audience erupted in an uproar!

They hadn't expected Bibi Dong to be serious!

However, with Tang San's strength and abilities, he was certainly worthy of this honor. Perhaps in the future, after Bibi Dong becomes a Divinity, Tang San would be the next Supreme Pontiff of Spirit Hall.

Ning Fengzhi thought to himself, "It seems I'll have to maintain good relations with Spirit Hall from now on. After all, the Seven Treasure Glazed Tile School and Spirit Hall originally don't have much conflict of interest, and because of that intellectual property and patent, the Seven Treasure Glazed Tile School has gained quite a lot of benefits."

Sword Douluo, however, felt a grudge about this, as his father had died at the hands of the High Priest of Spirit Hall...

It's just that Bibi Dong seemed to be at odds with the Elders of the Hall of Offerings. Previously, that Golden Crocodile had launched an attack on both of them simultaneously, using his Martial Soul True Body, as if he had used all his strength, attacking with the intention of severely injuring both at once.

If that were the case, supporting Bibi Dong for Tang San's sake wouldn't be out of the question.

Just then, Yu Tianheng stepped forward, bowed to Bibi Dong, and said, "Respected Supreme Pontiff, I, Yu Tianheng, wish to join Spirit Hall. I hope you will grant my request."

"What is the Blue Lightning Tyrant Dragon Clan doing?" Ning Fengzhi felt his mind was insufficient. "To actually let their direct successor join Spirit Hall... Is this choosing a side?"

Sword Douluo pondered for a moment and speculated, "Perhaps, it's just in Yu Tianheng's personal name..."

"In his personal name?" Ning Fengzhi also calmed down, pondering the reason. "Yu Tianheng's talent is much stronger than Yu Tianxin's. He shouldn't be joining with him... Is it because of Tang San?"

"It's also possible that his Spirit underwent some slight mutation," Sword Douluo offered another idea. "It acquired light and metal elements, making it more powerful, but his future descendants might not inherit it. There's a lot of uncertainty, so it's better to keep him by Tang San's side; the gains from that would be greater."

"That makes sense, but the most important thing is still to foster a good relationship with Tang San." Ning Fengzhi's eyes showed a hint of hesitation, unsure whether he should let Ning Rongrong also join Spirit Hall.

Although the appearance of the Nine Treasure Glazed Tile Pagoda Spirit had already confirmed that Ning Rongrong would be the next Sect Master of the Seven Treasure Glazed Tile School, having her name on Spirit Hall's roster didn't seem like too big of a problem. He himself was an honorary Elder of Spirit Hall.

Given its status as one of the Upper Three Sects, Spirit Hall couldn't forcibly order Rongrong to do anything.

With Tang San's talent, as long as no accidents occurred, it was only a matter of time before he became the next Supreme Pontiff of Spirit Hall. If Rongrong were to develop something with Tang San, wouldn't Spirit Hall and the Seven Treasure Glazed Tile School become in-laws?

Thinking of this possibility, Ning Fengzhi was moved. He sent a telepathic message to Ning Rongrong, telling her to join Spirit Hall in her personal capacity as well.

Ning Rongrong didn't hesitate. She immediately stepped forward and said, "I'll join Spirit Hall too."

At this, many people revealed meaningful expressions.

First the Blue Lightning Tyrant Dragon Clan, then the Seven Treasure Glazed Tile School, plus Tang San's suspected Clear Sky Sect origin (at least his physical bloodline couldn't be refuted)—was Spirit Hall planning to capture all three major Sects in one swoop?

Bibi Dong's face showed joy.

Although Yu Tianheng and Ning Rongrong had joined in their personal capacities, it wasn't impossible for these two great Sects to join Spirit Hall in the future.

Originally, Bibi Dong had planned to prepare for a few years, then launch a surprise attack on these two great Sects to annihilate them in one fell swoop.

But now, the appearance of the Sub-Mother Soul Guidance Photography Ball and Tang San's emergence had caused too many things to exceed her expectations... However, the current situation wasn't completely out of her control.

Spirit Hall, in the near future, might be able to conquer the entire Douluo Continent without shedding blood.

Among the remaining members of the Heaven Dou Royal Battle Team, Xiao Wu, Guang Ling, and Huo Wu also chose to join Spirit Hall. The first two go without saying, and as for the latter, she felt that following Tang San would lead to greater progress.

The most surprising was Zhuqing; she actually chose to join Spirit Hall as well.

Dai Legao had quite a few complaints about this, but there was nothing he could do. After all, Zhuqing's strength was evident; she could single-handedly contend against Dai Weisi and Zhu Zhuyun's Martial Soul Fusion: Hell White Tiger, giving her the right to independent autonomy.

Moreover, Tang San was simply too powerful. The future situation of the Continent might change because of him. Zhuqing joining Spirit Hall might even provide a fallback for the Dai Family and Zhu Family.....

And for the teams that remained in Spirit City, after this conference, a large portion of those who were about to graduate chose to stay in Spirit City and join Spirit Hall directly.

But—

Where there was joy, there was also sorrow.

Inside the Clear Sky Sect.

The screen was directly torn down by Seventh Elder, who cursed, "That unfilial brat! He actually joined Spirit Hall! How did that bastard father of his even teach him?"

Through the live broadcast of the Soul Guidance Photography Ball, they had already learned about Tang San's talent and strength, especially that improved spirit ring fusion secret technique, which could enable a Spirit King to unleash such powerful force, directly approaching that of a level ninety-eight Super Douluo.

That kind of thing looked much safer and more powerful than Ring Explosion by more than one level. If everyone in the Clear Sky Sect could possess it, wouldn't they be the strongest Sect?

What was Spirit Hall compared to that!

Fifth Elder said, "Perhaps, if he acknowledges his ancestors and returns to the Sect in the future, we can ask Tang San to hand over that secret technique, and we won't make things difficult for him."

Tang Xiao looked at Fifth Elder as if he were an idiot and said, "I think the issue now isn't whether Tang San acknowledges his ancestors, but how to deal with Spirit Hall."

"Both the Blue Lightning Tyrant Dragon and the Seven Treasure Glazed Tile School have had people join Spirit Hall. Although it's in a personal capacity, everyone knows they are getting close to Spirit Hall."

"As for Tang San..."

"I didn't notice it before, but now, it seems he's long suspected, or even confirmed, his Clear Sky Sect origin, and he doesn't care much for the Clear Sky Sect."

"Acknowledging his ancestors doesn't seem that important to him."

Although he said this, Tang Xiao also had a stubborn insistence on "acknowledging his ancestors," feeling that Tang San was a bit excessive—knowing he was from the Clear Sky Sect, yet choosing to join Spirit Hall, wasn't that too disrespectful?

Tang Xiao also had some complaints about Tang Hao.

"Hmph! If I meet that bastard, I'll have to teach him a severe lesson!" Seventh Elder said hatefully.

"It's good if you don't get killed by him." Second Elder said something more objective, full of worry, "When he uses that secret technique, even if the five of us, plus Tang Xiao, go against him, we'd be killed. It's not on the same level at all."

"Can't we just make him not use it?" Seventh Elder said nonchalantly, "He's just a Spirit King after all."

"How can you guarantee that he needs that much time to use that secret technique?" Second Elder retorted, "Moreover, even before he uses that secret technique, his strength is not to be underestimated. Do you expect him to 傻傻 stand there and wait for your attack?"

Seventh Elder's breathing hitched. He didn't know how to refute, so he just snorted coldly and said nothing more.

"Second Elder, what are your thoughts?" According to Tang Xiao's idea, they should announce their emergence from seclusion, go to Spirit Hall, and question Tang San. After all, even if the Clear Sky Hammer was a bit peculiar, it was still the Clear Sky Hammer and couldn't be hidden.

Tang San must return to the Clear Sky Sect!

"It's not advisable to make a move; continue to bide our time." Second Elder closed his eyes and rested for a while, then offered his suggestion, "Judging from those few words before the two sides' battle, Tang San's attitude towards the Clear Sky Sect is clearly indifferent. If we force the issue, it might provoke his resentment, and even give Spirit Hall a legitimate reason to deal with us openly."

Spirit Hall was a massive mountain pressing down on the Clear Sky Sect.

No matter what they considered, this factor could not be excluded, otherwise, it would be irresponsible to themselves and to the Sect.

"Hmph! Spirit Hall, sooner or later, we'll wipe them all out!" Seventh Elder hated Spirit Hall immensely, wishing he could kill all their members. Even Tang San was on his kill list.

Reason?

Spirit Hall was the Clear Sky Sect's enemy!

Tang San, knowing he was from the Clear Sky Sect, still joined Spirit Hall. He was unfilial, aided evil, and was intolerable by heavenly law!

Tang Hao was the main culprit who provoked Spirit Hall, causing the Clear Sky Sect to fall into such a predicament!

A son must pay his father's debts! It was only right and proper!

It was just that he couldn't defeat them, otherwise, how could he only show off his might in this meeting room?

"Alright, say less of such words; they're annoying to hear." Although Spirit Hall was indeed the Clear Sky Sect's enemy, and the Sect was currently promoting hatred among its disciples, they themselves, having heard it too much, felt it was a bit unrealistic. Therefore, Second Elder stopped Seventh Elder from continuing to bluster, as there was no one else here anyway.

Third Elder said, "Look on the bright side. Whether Tang San admits it or not, he has the Clear Sky Sect's bloodline. Him becoming the Spirit Hall Saint Child might not be a bad thing. If he becomes the Spirit Hall Supreme Pontiff in the future, wouldn't Spirit Hall then be surnamed Tang?"

Although Third Elder's words made sense, the others present, including Tang Xiao, felt that such an action insulted the pride of the Clear Sky lineage.

To make Spirit Hall surnamed Tang, they had to fight their way there!

Relying on Tang San, this Saint Child, to carry on the lineage...

What kind of talk was that?

This was trampling the Clear Sky Sect's pride!

Second Elder said sternly, "Third Brother, don't say such things either."

Third Elder shrugged and said, "I just mentioned it; don't take it seriously."

Among the Five Elders, Third Elder's lineage suffered the least damage six years ago, and therefore, his 心态 was better than the other Five Elders.

"Let's wait for Tang Yuehua's news." Tang Xiao concluded the meeting. It wasn't very substantial, but with the Clear Sky Sect in seclusion, this was all they could do for now.

The other Five Elders had no objections.

Seventh Elder grumbled, "Hmph, Tang Yuehua is only useful for this much."

Tang Xiao clenched his fists but ultimately released them. After all, during the accountability process with Spirit Hall back then, Seventh Elder's lineage suffered the greatest losses; even his brother died.

This was what Brother Hao owed Seventh Elder. He, as the Elder brother, and Tang Yuehua, as the younger sister, being scolded a few times was nothing.....

221: Compensation to the Tiandou Royal Team, and the

After the All-Continent Advanced Soul Master Academy Elite Tournament concluded, Tang San and the others did not remain in Spirit City directly. Instead, they followed the Heaven Dou side's team back towards the Heaven Dou Empire, to Heaven Dou City.

After all, Tang San and the others had represented Heaven Dou Royal Academy in the competition, bringing honor to the Heaven Dou Empire. Both in terms of sentiment and reason, they had to return to receive Emperor Xue Ye's commendation.

During the journey, Tang San also passed on the method of condensing a Spirit core to Huo Wu, Yu Tianheng, and the others, to compensate for the value of those three ten-thousand-year Spirit Bones.

Compared to ten-thousand-year Spirit Bones, the value of a Spirit core was even more self-evident.

Once condensed, spirit power would be purer, recovery faster, and it would also greatly benefit mental force cultivation.

Although it didn't increase cultivation directly, everyone present clearly saw that the method of condensing a Spirit core was far more valuable than ten-thousand-year Spirit Bones, and even a hundred-thousand-year Spirit Bone couldn't compare.

Especially the point about purifying spirit power, it could greatly increase their chances of becoming a Titled Douluo.

"Is this too precious?" Inside the luxurious royal carriage, Yu Tianheng couldn't believe that such an exquisite cultivation method existed in the World. "If this thing gets out, I'm afraid the number of Titled Douluo on the Continent will double within a period of time, right?"

Taking his Blue Lightning Tyrant Dragon Clan as an example, many Spirit Douluo who died of old age in the past were unable to break through to the Titled Douluo level because their spirit power was impure.

But now, Tang San had directly provided a way to purify spirit power.

Was this the weight of a Martial Soul Theory Master?

"This wasn't researched by me alone; Xiao Wu also helped," Tang San said with a smile. "After all, I impulsively exchanged three ten-thousand-year Spirit Bones for a chance to challenge the Supreme Pontiff, so I had to give you all a better return."

"This... I'm undeserving," Yu Tianheng didn't know what to say, only managing, "Captain, rest assured, without your permission, I will never pass it on to my family."

"That's fine, after all, for most people, even if they know the method, it's difficult to condense. If their mental force isn't up to standard, and their control over spirit power isn't precise enough, they might never be able to condense a Spirit core in their lifetime," Tang San waved his hand casually. "And don't think I'll suffer a loss; after all, I have something even better."

Apart from Xiao Wu and Guang Ling, who knew that Tang San truly had a better method for condensing a Spirit core, everyone else just assumed Tang San didn't want to ruin their friendship because of this, and their hearts were filled with immense gratitude.

"Alright, enough small talk. I have another benefit here, do you want to try it?" Tang San suddenly let out a sinister chuckle, causing Yu Tianheng, Huo Wu, and the others' hair to stand on end.

Huo Wu tentatively asked, "What benefit?"

"It's about trying my fifth Spirit Ability."

The Blue Silver Emperor's fifth Spirit Ability had two parts: Blazing Sun Poison and Profound Ice Yin Poison. When used together, they formed a golden body that could help a person cultivate a body immune to all poisons.

It was called: Ice and Fire Refinement Golden Body.

After obtaining his fifth spirit ring, Tang San had never used this Spirit Ability, so he wanted to experiment with it to see its specific effects and whether it could allow someone to reach the level of the protagonist in the original work.

"It won't kill us, will it?" Yu Feng asked weakly.

"Don't worry, it won't," Tang San pulled Yu Feng in front of him, making him sit cross-legged on the carriage floor. "Seeing how lively you are, you'll be the first to experience it."

Oslo gave a thumbs-up and grinned, "I support you, Yu Feng. If you accidentally die, I'll go to your grave to pay my respects."

Yu Tianheng encouraged, "Come on, Yu Feng, you can do it."

Huo Wu smiled, "I'm impressed with you."

Ye Lingling was indeed very practical and said, "Don't worry, as long as you still have a breath, both I and the Captain can save you."

"No, when did I agree?" Yu Feng was speechless. "And why does it feel like I'm about to die?"

"Get ready, I'm releasing my fifth Spirit Ability," Tang San said, not waiting for Yu Feng's refusal. His fifth spirit ring flickered, and the Blue Silver Emperor instantly enveloped Yu Feng, turning him into a large sphere.

Wu Lin and Wu Tong appeared, circling the Blue Silver Sphere and releasing ice and fire elements, which intertwined with the red and blue patterns on the Blue Silver Emperor.

"So hot!"

"So cold!"

Yu Feng's muffled shouts came from within the Blue Silver Sphere, but Tang San ignored them, only instructing Wu Lin and Wu Tong to continue their efforts.

Half an hour later, the Blue Silver Emperor dissipated, revealing Yu Feng's body.

From the surface, Yu Feng's only change compared to before was the absence of his clothes; he was completely naked, though Tang San, with quick hands, covered him with Blue Silver Grass.

"Captain, you have to take responsibility!" Yu Feng could feel his body getting stronger, but having all his clothes destroyed, wasn't that a bit too embarrassing?

"Stop clowning around, put your clothes on quickly," Tang San said irritably. "There are many girls here, do you want to run around naked?"

Helpless, Yu Feng could only hide under the Blue Silver Emperor, taking out appropriate clothes from his spirit tool and rustling as he put them on.

"Any changes?"

When Yu Feng emerged from under the Blue Silver Emperor, Huo Wu immediately asked, "It doesn't look like you've grown three heads and six arms or anything."

"It's not that exaggerated. Ice and Fire Refinement Golden Body only cultivates a body immune to all poisons; it doesn't have the ability to change species," Tang San pinched Yu Feng's muscles and bones, making him jump around in pain, confirming the effect of the Ice and Fire Refinement Golden Body. "Yu Feng's physical strength, for his future fifth spirit ring, can withstand a thirty-thousand-year level, but considering his mental force, twenty-thousand years is optimal."

"Really?" Yu Feng's eyes lit up with joy, feeling as if his suffering had finally paid off.

"Can I still lie to you?" Tang San retorted.

"Then is the immunity to all poisons also real?" Yu Feng asked excitedly. "From now on, when I travel the Continent with Xiangxiang and go on adventures, I won't have to worry about being tricked."

"As for immunity to all poisons, it's only relative. Some metallic mineral toxins might not be effective," Tang San reminded him. "Also, don't think you can eat poison like food; that would only be seeking death."

"Hehe, those who are good at swimming often drown; I understand that principle," Yu Feng stated, indicating that he was just a bit lively, not foolish. How could he possibly try poison?

He avoided such things at all costs.

Upon learning the effects of the Ice and Fire Refinement Golden Body, the others were also eager to try, but considering they would be naked, their faces showed quite embarrassed expressions.

Noticing this, Tang San coughed twice and said, "Since Yu Feng has already experimented, and my fifth Spirit Ability is fine, then the others can try it after we return."

"No, why? Why am I the only one who has to be naked?" Yu Feng refused to accept it, grabbing Oslo's collar. "At least this guy has to try it once... Damn it, he even said he'd go to my grave to pay respects, I can't stand it!"

Oslo made an excuse, "I was just concerned about you!"

"Only a ghost would believe that!"

The two started pulling at each other. No one else stepped forward to stop them; they all watched the commotion with amused smiles, and Ning Rongrong even had sparkling eyes, quietly shouting, "Fight! Fight!"

Unfortunately, the two ultimately didn't fight.

Mainly because Bai Chenxiang couldn't stand it anymore and tugged Yu Feng's ear, signaling him to be quiet.

The others all showed expressions of regret...

...

Outside Heaven Dou City.

Xue Qinghe led the Royal Knight Order to greet them, congratulating Emperor Xue Ye, "Father Emperor, this time, the champion of the Continental Elite Tournament has fallen to our Heaven Dou Empire, also proclaiming the prosperity and flourishing of our Heaven Dou to the entire Continent!"

"Hahaha! Cough cough!" Emperor Xue Ye laughed excitedly, but his laughter was mixed with coughing, as if telling him—he was already old.

"This is indeed a blessing!"

"Qinghe, I plan to hold a grand banquet to celebrate Heaven Dou's victory and to bestow awards upon the outstanding performers from Heaven Dou's many academies."

Tang San's talent was truly astonishing.

Emperor Xue Ye wanted to hold a banquet mainly to win over Tang San, thereby solidifying the Heaven Dou Empire's position.

"That's perfectly fine. In fact, your son has already prepared everything in the Imperial Palace and has sent invitations to all nobles, big and small, the deans of various academies, and the managers of families," Xue Qinghe smiled slightly, full of confidence.

"Not enough."

However, Emperor Xue Ye shook his head. "For this banquet, I want all the common people of Heaven Dou City to participate and celebrate with the people!"

"This... won't it be a waste of resources and labor?" Xue Qinghe hesitated.

"Qinghe, a great man does not bother with trifles." Emperor Xue Ye felt that this son was a bit too pretentious, perhaps even believing his own act. He sighed and said, "Although the number of Spirit Masters compared to the common people of the All-Continent is only one-tenth, or even one-twentieth, this World is led by Spirit Masters."

"You've also seen Tang San's strength and talent through the Sub-Mother Soul Guidance Photography Ball, haven't you?"

"Although the full scene of his challenge to the current Supreme Pontiff of Spirit Hall was not filmed, who can deny his future? At the Spirit King realm, he rivals a Titled Douluo, and even a Level 98 Super Douluo!"

Speaking of this—

Whether as Xue Qinghe or Qian Renxue, the Crown Prince by Emperor Xue Ye's side didn't know how to phrase his thoughts.

In fact, Qian Renxue was already doubting whether she could truly subdue Tang San... In terms of martial prowess and personal charisma, though she didn't want to admit it, Qian Renxue knew that she was inferior to Bibi Dong in every aspect.

The footage transmitted back by the Sub-Mother Soul Guidance Photography Ball confirmed one thing at the end: Tang San had joined Spirit Hall.

However, the outcome of their confrontation was still undecided.

Did she truly have the confidence to recruit a talent like Tang San?

For the first time, Qian Renxue doubted herself.

Seeing Xue Qinghe silent, Emperor Xue Ye thought he had acquiesced and continued, "It's settled then. You go make the arrangements. No, wait, let Prince Xue Xing go. Even if it's a waste of resources and brings a bad reputation, let him bear it."

There is no kinship in the Royal family. Isn't the purpose of brothers to be scapegoats?

If problems really arose afterwards, let Xue Xing come out and admit a mistake, and he, as the Emperor, would then reprimand him a few times and give symbolic punishment, which would appease public anger.

Then, the matter would pass.

"Your son will go make the arrangements now." Xue Qinghe nodded and left the procession first, heading towards Prince Xue Xing's mansion to inform him of Emperor Xue Ye's arrangements.

Xue Xing didn't react much. He had experienced many such incidents when he was young.

Isn't it just about being a scapegoat if something goes wrong later?

He was used to it.

Therefore, when the teams from various academies entered Heaven Dou City with Emperor Xue Ye's Royal Knights, they witnessed what true prosperity was like.

The residents of the entire city were cheering, overflowing with joy at Heaven Dou Royal Academy's victory.

The crowds on both sides of the main street were throwing flowers at Heaven Dou Royal Academy, and shouting the names of Tang San, Xiao Wu, Huo Wu, Yu Tianheng, and others.

Everyone also lifted the curtains of the Royal carriages and waved to the crowds along the road ㄖ(^ 0 ^)ㄗ.

“Why did the Tiandou Royal family make such a grand display?”

Xiao Wu was also seeing the prosperity of Heaven Dou City for the first time, her mouth slightly agape, “The liveliest scene I’ve ever seen before was during the Nuoding City fair, when people from nearby villages would flock to Nuoding City, and the whole city was like a hotpot full of people.”

“But compared to here, it’s like a small witch seeing a great witch.”

Huo Wu laughed, “Those small cities naturally cannot compare to Heaven Dou City.”

“However, even if we won, there shouldn’t be such a grand display, making the entire city lively.” Yu Tianheng said thoughtfully, looking at Tang San, “It’s probably for you, Captain?”

“Isn’t it obvious?” Huo Wu shrugged, “Only a powerhouse like Captain Tang San, who can fight against a Level 98 Super Douluo at the Spirit King realm, is worthy of such importance from Emperor Xue Ye.”

“I’m a bit overwhelmed.” Although he said so, Tang San’s face was calm, as if unmoved by the outside commotion, and he was inwardly thinking about how to repay Heaven Dou Royal Academy.

After all, the Three Education Committee had granted him reading access to the Heaven Dou Royal Library, where he could read any book he wished. This kindness had to be repaid.

Besides that, he was considering how to choose if Spirit Hall and the Heaven Dou Empire came into conflict later... Wait, it seemed that as long as Xue Qinghe ascended, the Heaven Dou Empire and Spirit Hall would be like one family.

As long as he handled the issue between Bibi Dong and Qian Renxue, who had a tendency for “motherly kindness and filial piety”... However, Tang San did not intend to meddle in Qian Renxue's "Prince and the Pauper" affair.

Tang San had always been clear about his own positioning: a Spirit theory researcher, supplemented by spirit tool research, medical research, martial arts research, and so on.

As for activities like vying for the throne or continental dominance...

He really had no interest in that.

Such things would only waste his time for cultivation and research, bringing a hundred harms and no benefits.

"You're too perfunctory, aren't you?" Huo Wu was speechless. No matter how she looked at it, Tang San seemed to have no interest in such matters, but this was Tang San.

If Tang San were interested in power, they would all suspect if he had been swapped...

...

When the Heaven Dou Royal Battle Team members returned to Heaven Dou Royal Academy, the grand banquet officially began.

If one were to describe the liveliness, a poem could be used:

Joyful laughter in disarray, wine fragrance intoxicating many hearts.

Guests from north and south drink together, delicious dishes, both plain and rich.

Serving dishes and wine, coming and going, old friends and new, like one family.

However, Tang San was not very accustomed to such occasions, especially after his identity was exposed. Many nobles came to toast him, which truly exhausted him.

He would rather have another great battle with Bibi Dong.

Three days and three nights later, the banquet finally ended, and after resting for a day and a night to regain their mental force, Tang San and the others were ready to officially graduate from Heaven Dou Royal Academy and go their separate ways.

Yu Feng and Bai Chenxiang had already planned to explore and adventure in the unknown lands of the Continent before getting married...

Shi Mo and Shi Mo, the two brothers, also set off with the personnel arranged by their clan, heading towards the coastal cities...

Ye Lingling was preparing to persuade her family to open a medical clinic in Heaven Dou City, where both commoners and nobles could seek treatment...

Yu Tianheng, Dugu Yan, Huo Wu, Ning Rongrong, Zhu Zhuqing, Lan Yinzi, and other females, along with Tang San, Xiao Wu, Guang Ling, and others, chose to join Spirit Hall.

However, these six individuals joined in their personal capacities. Even if they joined Spirit Hall, they could still do other things and did not need to fully obey Spirit Hall's arrangements.

Especially Yu Tianheng and Ning Rongrong, these two could not follow Tang San to Spirit City.

"Boo hoo, we're about to separate, it's so sad."

It was indeed quite sad, but with Yu Feng crying like that, the atmosphere immediately vanished, leaving everyone a bit speechless.

"How about we set a time for everyone to gather again in the future?" Ye Lingling suggested, "Let's set a five-year limit, how about it? In five years, everyone gathers together to see each other's progress."

"That's a good idea." Yu Feng agreed, embracing Bai Chenxiang, and looking at Tang San, "It's just that Captain's cultivation speed can slow down a bit, otherwise, if he becomes a Titled Douluo, we'll be very awkward."

"Don't worry, I won't stop my cultivation. By then, whoever has the lowest cultivation will be the one who's awkward." Tang San encouraged everyone with a joking tone.

Everyone looked at each other and burst into laughter.

"Oh, right, the others haven't undergone the Ice and Fire Refining Golden Body yet. Who's first?" Tang San suddenly spoke, and the laughter around them abruptly stopped.

"I'll go first. Perfect, we can have a good chat." Lan Yinzi smiled sweetly and spoke first.

"Alright."

Tang San nodded, led Lan Yinzi into the dormitory, locked the door, and drew the curtains to prevent outsiders from peeking.

In terms of character, Tang San never expected that he could be so "upright."

After undergoing the Ice and Fire Refining Golden Body, Lan Yinzi's clothes were shattered, but she did not hide herself. Instead, she stood generously in front of Tang San: "My good son, am I pretty, Mama?"

Tang San narrowed his eyes, chuckled twice, and said with interest, "This shouldn't be your body, right? From the perspective of genetic bloodline factors, we are not mother and son... Or are you expecting some R-rated content to happen?"

Lan Yinzi immediately lost the mood to tease her son, quickly put on her clothes, and asked, "When did you know my identity?"

"If you mean when I discovered it, I had some suspicions from the beginning. The time I truly confirmed it was about half a year before the Continental Elite Tournament began.” At that time, a tenant had moved into Tang San’s upper dantian...

222: Shura God's Selection Criteria

“How does it feel to regain your youth?” Tang San asked Lan Yinzi.

“What do you mean by regaining youth? When I died... um, that might sound a bit strange, but I was actually quite young.” Lan Yinzi thought for a moment, realizing that when she sacrificed herself, she wasn't very old by human standards, only around thirty years old. “And after being reborn, I feel even younger.”

Women are always particularly sensitive when others discuss their age.

“Alright, let's not talk about that. Next question.” Tang San decided to skip the topic, pushing up his detection glasses. “So, whose body is this?”

“A transmigrator's.”

Lan Yinzi felt she had nothing to hide. She raised a hand to touch her face, revealing a sickly smile.

“Plucked me out by the roots, then chewed me up and swallowed me... I have to say, that was quite bold. After reading a few fanfics, she thought swallowing me would grant her the Blue Silver Emperor bloodline. Tsk, and she even had nine years of compulsory education. She doesn't even understand genetic inheritance. Is my son a copy-paste of Tang Hao's genetic material? It's not cloning.”

“Even in this World, there should be some rules.”

“So, she failed, and my soul remained. Based on her own Blue Silver Grass, I slowly influenced her personality and finally eroded her soul... Do you think I'm despicable?”

Tang San shook his head.

Those who kill will be killed.

Since that transmigrator wanted to devour the Blue Silver Emperor to gain its bloodline, then being 反噬 and having her body taken was her just deserts. She brought it upon herself.

“Looks like you’re quite open-minded.” Lan Yinzi sat next to Tang San, feeling that this son was more adaptable than the one in the books.

“Let’s put that aside for now. I want to know, who do you consider yourself to be?” Tang San asked this question. “A transmigrator? Or the Blue Silver Emperor? Or both?”

“To be honest, the mutual erosion between souls, hmm, how should I put it, it’s just very complex. If you ask me to explain it, I don’t even know myself.” Lan Yinzi frowned, as if deep in thought. “However, if we’re talking about memories, I feel like I am the Blue Silver Emperor, just with another person’s memories.”

A person’s self-awareness is based on memory.

The Blue Silver Emperor has Ten-thousand year soul beast memories and thirty years of human memories. Although far less rich and colorful than the transmigrator’s memories, the long years ultimately dominated.

If the Blue Silver Emperor’s memory was a缸 of clear water, then the transmigrator’s memory was a drop of colorful ink. Although it would momentarily blacken the clear water when dropped in, it would quickly disperse, making it impossible to see what changes had occurred in the缸 of clear water.

However, one thing was unquestionable: that drop of ink had already blended into the clear water, and the resulting change was that the Blue Silver Emperor now called herself Lan Yinzi, and her personality had also changed slightly.

Otherwise, she should have gone to find Tang Hao first, instead of coming to find him, her son.

“Then, what do you think of me? After all, I’m not exactly an original either.” Tang San asked the crucial question.

“No, you are.” Lan Yinzi, contrary to expectations, said with certainty.

“Oh? How so?” Tang San raised an eyebrow, not understanding why Lan Yinzi was so confident. After all, in his understanding, if purely based on bloodline, he was indeed the son of Tang Hao and the Blue Silver Emperor, but in terms of personal identity, he was not, being a transmigrator from modern times.

“Your soul and your appearance are the same.” Lan Yinzi stated her reason.

“Is that all?”

Tang San was a bit speechless.

If his soul and appearance were not the same, whether he could flexibly control this body would be a big problem.

Moreover, when it came to the soul, in Tang San’s view, the most important thing was self-awareness, and awareness was based on one’s experiences and memories.

His memories from his previous life were still fresh.

Therefore, his self-awareness had always been very clear; this life was merely a new beginning.

“What? Do you have a different opinion?” Lan Yinzi looked puzzled, then hugged Tang San, pressing her face against his and saying, “Anyway, you are my son, and you can never deny that.”

“That’s hard to say, since you’re just a normal person’s body now, without any Blue Silver Emperor bloodline.” Tang San used one hand to support

Lan Yinzi's face, somewhat disdainfully pushing her away, and said faintly, "Also, don't get so close. I'm afraid others might misunderstand."

Lan Yinzi tearfully wiped away non-existent tears, whimpering, "Oh dear, my son actually dislikes his mother. What will I do about old age support?"

Tang San watched Lan Yinzi perform for a while, then placed his right hand on his right leg, activating Mysterious Heaven Skill to circulate his blood and Qi.

Under the combined effect of spirit power and blood and Qi, a Spirit Bone was gradually peeled away.

Pop!

When the Spirit Bone was finally taken out, Tang San's face was slightly pale, but in less than three breaths, he recovered completely.

"You!"

Lan Yinzi stared at the Blue Silver Emperor Right Leg Bone, looking at Tang San in shock, not knowing how he managed to strip the Spirit Bone without cutting off his leg, nor understanding why he would do such a thing.

"Here, this is your Spirit Bone." Tang San returned the Blue Silver Emperor Right Leg Bone. "For me, Spirit Bones are not that important; they even hinder the purity of my blood and Qi. Even if this Spirit Bone is from the same origin as me, it ultimately doesn't belong to me. Even if I forcibly imprint my mark, it won't change that."

Lan Yinzi dazedly took the Spirit Bone, then a look of surprise, even sadness, appeared on her face: "You don't want what Mama left for you?"

This time, tears truly welled up in her eyes.

"I just think it suits you better." Tang San involuntarily raised his hand and wiped away the tears from the corner of Lan Yinzi's eyes. "Smile, don't cry so much. You're a grown woman."

At this moment!

Compared to Lan Yinzi's identity as a mother, Tang San seemed more like her father, with a gentle and caring attitude that Lan Yinzi had never experienced before.

Finally, at Tang San's persuasion, Lan Yinzi absorbed this Spirit Bone.

Since the energy for increasing spirit power had already been absorbed by Tang San, Lan Yinzi only improved her physical strength.

However, for Lan Yinzi, this Spirit Bone was connected to her soul. Even if this body didn't belong to her, she could perfectly absorb it and fully utilize its complete function.

"What are you going to do next?" Tang San asked about Lan Yinzi's future plans.

"Didn't I join Spirit Hall just like you? Of course, I'll stay with my son." Lan Yinzi said without hesitation, as if it were obvious, "At least, I want you to call me Mama."

Tang San's mouth twitched, feeling a bit at a loss. He retorted, "Not going to find Tang Dahammer?"

"Why would I find him? He won't die anyway." When Tang Hao was mentioned, a hint of nostalgia appeared in Lan Yinzi's eyes, but perhaps due to her rebirth through possession, her feelings for him had faded. "Besides, I've been reborn. Starting a new life isn't out of the question, is it?"

"Then why are you bothering me?" Tang San was speechless.

"Hehe, who told me I'm your Mama? What's that saying? Mother follows son, son follows mother, mother and son are one heart and one body, their unity can cut through metal." Lan Yinzi spoke nonsense with a straight face.

"Next one." Tang San decided to ignore this somewhat unreasonable and spoiled stepmother, pulled open the curtains, and called out to the person outside.

“Coming!”

Yu Tianheng strode towards the dorm door, looking forward to the process of Ice and Fire Forging Gold Body...

...

Half a day later, everyone except Xiao Wu and Guang Ling had undergone the Ice and Fire Forging Gold Body. After the girls forged their Gold Body, Tang San would pull the curtains for them to change clothes.

While helping others forge their Gold Body, Tang San also collected a lot of data and provided everyone with future cultivation suggestions.

“Everyone, see you in five years!”

Everyone waved their hands, bidding each other farewell.

Before leaving, Tang San found the Three Education Committee of Heaven Dou Royal Academy and left a general teaching outline.

If this general outline were given to other academies, it would certainly improve the teaching quality of their teachers, but at Heaven Dou Royal Academy... most of the students were nobles and probably wouldn't submit to discipline.

Tang San couldn't do anything about that.

After all, the Heaven Dou Royal family itself was rotten. The reason Heaven Dou Empire could still contend with Star Luo Empire was not only because Spirit Hall had previously stalled Star Luo Empire's conquest, but more importantly, there were numerous large and small Spirit Master families within Heaven Dou Empire, and the Heaven Dou Royal family held military power, with several Spirit Douluo-level generals in the army.

Therefore, Tang San specifically gave the Three Education Committee another item: a set of spirit power circulation methods tailored to the characteristics of their Spirits.

Their effects, besides accelerating cultivation speed, were to purify spirit power.

The Three Education Committee were immensely grateful, because the method of spirit power circulation that Tang San had created for them allowed them to see the hope of breaking through to Titled Douluo; otherwise, they could only die of old age in the Spirit Douluo realm.

After bidding farewell to the Three Education Committee and Qin Ming, Tang San also visited Ma Xiunuo, then took Xiao Wu, Guang Ling, and Lan Yinzi, preparing to return to Nuoding City for a visit to old acquaintances.

Originally, Tang San hadn't planned to bring Lan Yinzi, but she had followed him on her own.

Su Yuntao and Sisi's strengths had both reached Spirit Elder, and they even had a one-and-a-half-year-old son named Su Haitao.

Wang Sheng had just obtained his second spirit ring three days prior, becoming a twenty-first level Spirit Grandmaster, and had established a romantic relationship with a girl his age from the patrol team.

Old Jack was as usual, spending most of his time in Saint Spirit Village, only going to the manor in Nuoding City to live during winter.

Seeing Tang San return to Saint Spirit Village, Old Jack was overjoyed, especially when he saw Tang San brought back another beautiful girl, which made him even more ecstatic.

Lan Yinzi smiled without speaking, looking at Tang San with a playful expression.

Mother?

Sister?

The relationships were completely messed up!

Xiao Wu, having noticed a few clues, pulled Tang San aside to the blacksmith shop and asked, “What exactly is going on with Lan Yinzi? Is she really a Ten-thousand year soul beast that transformed into human form?”

“Hmm, not entirely.” Tang San first nodded, then shook his head, “She is a Ten-thousand year soul beast that possessed a body. She was originally a Ten-thousand year Blue Silver Emperor, who sacrificed herself and was reborn, but during her development, she was picked and eaten by someone. Then her soul slowly influenced the person who ate her, eventually taking over the body and completing her rebirth.”

“There’s such a situation?” Xiao Wu’s eyes widened.

“Her situation is quite special; it’s not common.” Tang San sighed, “Moreover, she and I actually do have a bit of a connection; her previous form was my birth mother.”

Lan Yinzi...

Mother...

Blue Silver Emperor...

Xiao Wu’s mind froze, but she quickly thought of something and roughly guessed: “So, your mother sacrificed herself for your father, then was reborn, was eaten by someone, and then, she took over that person’s body to be reborn?”

“That’s exactly it.” Tang San nodded, “She already confessed to me earlier, but calling a girl who is my age, or even a bit younger, ‘mother’ just feels a bit strange...”

“Indeed, if I were to call her mother-in-law, I’d also feel a bit strange.” Xiao Wu mumbled.

“Hmm?”

“Cough, I mean, in her current state, can she also condense spirit rings by herself?” Xiao Wu quickly changed the subject, asking about Lan Yinzi’s spirit rings.

“I’m afraid not. After all, it’s just soul possession, and she doesn’t have the cultivation origin of a Ten-thousand year level herself. Didn’t she obtain her fourth spirit ring by hunting a Spirit Beast?” Tang San shook his head, “Even if she could, the energy for condensing a spirit ring cannot be generated out of thin air.”

When the two finished their private conversation and returned to Old Jack’s house—

Sure enough, Old Jack had taken Lan Yinzi as his granddaughter and admonished Tang San to treat all his sisters equally.

Tang San and Xiao Wu looked at each other, both speechless.

Lan Yinzi giggled: ㄣ (ノ ∇ ッ) ㄣ

Guang Ling: ???

After staying in Saint Spirit Village for half a month, Tang San decided to set off for Spirit City.

The books there were still waiting for him to read.

“Third Brother, when we go to Spirit City, are we not taking the original path?” Seeing that they weren’t taking the familiar road, Xiao Wu asked puzzled.

“Read ten thousand books, travel ten thousand miles.” Tang San had his own reasons, “Spirit City is built on the outskirts of the Star Dou Great Forest. How about we circle around the cities on the edge of the Star Dou Great Forest and see different sceneries?”

“Alright.” Xiao Wu readily agreed. After all, the Star Dou Great Forest was her home, with everything she was familiar with. Even if the core area was occupied by some annoying ghosts, it didn't hinder her nostalgia.

Of course, if she were to choose between human society and the core area of the Star Dou Great Forest now, she would definitely choose human society.

For Xiao Wu, the core area of the Star Dou Great Forest had no advantages other than having more natural energy; it was far less lively than human society.

She was already a human.

And Guang Ling, looking like a husband following his wife's lead, said, "Wherever Third Brother goes, I will go."

Lan Yinzi, however, seemed thoughtful: "The Star Dou Great Forest? To be honest, I've never been there before. This time, it's a good opportunity to take a look."

"We're just traveling around the peripheral cities, not going into the Star Dou Great Forest." Tang San corrected, "After all, none of us need to hunt spirit rings."

"I know, no need to remind me, I was just saying it, really..." Lan Yinzi felt a little wronged: This child, he doesn't know how to be considerate to his mother at all, why is he so serious? It's completely different from coaxing Tang Hao... Sigh, it's still because he inherited his mother's wisdom... I miss the simple-minded Tang Hao a bit, at least he was adorably foolish...

Meanwhile.

Tang Hao, who had been mentioned by Lan Yinzi, was currently leveling up frantically in Slaughter City.

Due to his Slaughter God Domain, he could use Spirit Abilities in this fallen city created by Divinity, thus no one could defeat him, not even the Slaughter King, who was difficult to contend with.

The Slaughter King was Tang Chen, but during his Asura God trial, he was affected by the Rakshasa God's divine sense. When facing the Nine Headed Bloody Crimson Bat King, he was parasitized and lost his sanity.

And the Nine Headed Bloody Crimson Bat King was not the original owner of this body; it could not unleash Tang Chen's World-shaking power, nor could it even use the Clear Sky Hammer Spirit.

Moreover, after being parasitized, the Nine Headed Bloody Crimson Bat King instinctively corroded Tang Chen's physical body, causing his body to continuously decay—something the Nine Headed Bloody Crimson Bat King itself could not stop.

As Tang Hao continued to slaughter, he discovered that his Slaughter God Domain was evolving rapidly, and his spirit power was also increasing.

When his spirit power reached the peak of ninety-sixth level, the Slaughter God Domain, having absorbed tens of thousands of killing intent and blood energy, evolved into a Slaughter Domain, and the patterns inscribed on his Clear Sky Hammer also became more complex.

Furthermore, the entire Clear Sky Hammer turned blood-red, emitting a strong killing intent, as if a true Slaughter God had descended into the World.

Therefore, with himself weakened and the enemy strengthened, the Slaughter King could only parry in Tang Hao's hands, even making the Nine Headed Bloody Crimson Bat King consider leaving Slaughter City.

After all, the guy in front of him was a madman!

“Slaughter God! Why destroy Slaughter City? We clearly have no grievances!”

The Slaughter King struck away the Clear Sky Hammer with a claw, his entire body shaking, and his crimson wings behind him flapped violently, dodging Tang Hao's attack that came from the rebound force of his own claw.

The Rampaging Wind Technique, which used an opponent's force against them, was also something the Slaughter King understood, as this body belonged to Tang Chen, and he had experienced all the Clear Sky Sect's绝学.

But unable to use the Clear Sky Hammer, he didn't know how to use those绝学 as a bat.

“Die!”

Tang Hao didn't answer at all, vigorously swinging his great hammer towards the Slaughter King.

After the Slaughter God Domain on the Clear Sky Hammer evolved into the Slaughter Domain, Tang Hao had a vague premonition: as long as he killed the Slaughter King in front of him, he would gain immense benefits, even causing the Clear Sky Hammer to evolve further!

He chose to trust this feeling!

“You're really crazy!” The Slaughter King dared not resist directly and could only continuously dodge. At least, with wings, his speed was a bit faster than Tang Hao's.

As for Tang Hao's actions, the Slaughter King, after seeing the Slaughter God Domain on the Clear Sky Hammer, actually had some guesses.

After all, as the master of Slaughter City, he clearly knew what kind of existence had built this place.

Asura God!

Compared to the inheritances of other Divinity, Asura God's selection of inheritors was extremely strict—

Because he was in charge of slaughter, even without the interference of the Rakshasa God's divine sense, this place would not become a place for faith to gather like the Sea God or Angel God.

Therefore, for the selection of inheritors, Asura God only had one condition: obtain the Slaughter God Domain and evolve the Slaughter God Domain to a level capable of opening the Asura God's trial...

Stripping the Spirit Bone—

Chopping off hands and feet together would cause a drop in level (refer to Tang Hao in the original work).

But directly stripping it would not (refer to Tang San during the Sea God's Ninth Trial in the original work, whose spirit power did not drop after stripping his Spirit Bone).

This is also why Spirit Bones are set to inherently possess an energy that can increase spirit power levels (one of the reasons).

First drop (Spirit Beast), absorption can increase spirit power.

Second drop (human), absorption only strengthens physical body.

223: Tang Chen's recovery, Mu Tian's adventure (extra

While Tang Hao and the Slaughter King were engaged in a life-and-death duel, an uninvited guest arrived in Slaughter City.

Mu Tian.

After realizing that his cheat had been taken by Tang San, his mindset became unbalanced, and after graduating from Shrek Academy, he returned to the Seven Treasure Glazed Tile School.

Dai Mubai, Ma Hongjun, Oscar, and others were also introduced by him to the Sect.

Ning Fengzhi welcomed them, except for a slight unnaturalness in his expression when facing Oscar... However, none of the students introduced by Mu Tian truly joined the Seven Treasure Glazed Tile School.

Dai Mubai was a prince of the Star Luo Empire; having lost his competitive edge, he would most likely join the White Tiger Sect in the future.

Oscar became Yu Xiaogang's disciple, believing he could establish his own family or Sect in the future... He did have the idea of pursuing Ning Rongrong, but Ning Fengzhi directly rejected him.

Ma Hongjun was thoroughly a Shrek Academy lineage.

When Mu Tian conversed with Ning Rongrong, he found that his relationship with her was becoming increasingly distant, even lacking common topics... He blamed all of this on Tang San.

Thus, Mu Tian requested permission from Bone Douluo to go out and gain experience.

Bone Douluo felt that Mu Tian had truly matured and would not be swayed by personal affections, so he agreed to his idea of going out to gain experience.

However, Bone Douluo never imagined that Mu Tian would come to Slaughter City.

"To surpass Tang San, I must rely on the power of a Divinity."

When he first awakened his Spirit, Mu Tian felt that with Austin Griffin, he didn't need to bother with the Divinity inheritance places in this World, but after realizing his cheat was gone, he understood that he could only seek a Divinity's inheritance.

Only then could he catch up to Tang San!

It must be said that Mu Tian was fortunate.

Because Tang Hao caused a disturbance in Slaughter City, most of The Fallen who were Spirit Ancestor and above were dead, and those who were still alive were hiding in the shadows, not daring to show their faces.

Otherwise, Mu Tian wouldn't even be able to enter the gates of Slaughter City.

And when Mu Tian entered Slaughter City, looking at the scene of rivers of blood, broken limbs, and internal organs tumbling in the blood, his first reaction was—

"Ugh!"

For a normal person, witnessing such a disgusting scene would be unbearable.

Especially the various foul smells emanating from the blood, which were even more nauseating.

"Is this Slaughter City? It's even more exaggerated than described in books, but why is there no one? What kind of butterfly effect happened again?"

After vomiting for a while, Mu Tian took out a bag of water from his storage soul tool, gulped down a large mouthful, and only then slowly recovered, his eyes trembling.

If his stomach hadn't been completely empty, he would have continued to vomit.

As he came back to his senses, he also heard the tremor coming from the center of Slaughter City, as if the entire city was shaking.

"Who is fighting the Slaughter King?" Mu Tian couldn't see clearly, guessing whether the scene of rivers of blood in Slaughter City was related to the Slaughter King.

But even if it was, it wasn't something he, a Spirit Elder, could get involved in at the moment.

"However, if everyone in Slaughter City dies, do I still need to gain experience?" Mu Tian pondered his current situation, his face involuntarily turning serious, "I should leave."

Mu Tian came to Slaughter City to temper himself and to obtain the Slaughter God Domain.

Now, Slaughter City was deserted, with only the Slaughter King and some unknown strong individual fighting in the center; staying in this place would not only prevent him from gaining experience but might even lead to death from being unable to withstand the aftermath of their battle.

Splash ~ Boom!

Just as Mu Tian was about to return the way he came and leave Slaughter City, a figure quickly landed in front of him, splashing the river of blood and crashing onto the ground.

Facing the surging blood wave, Mu Tian bore the brunt and ran outwards.

But with his strength as a Spirit Elder, how could he resist?

Even though he released his Bright Moon Spirit, letting it carry him as he ran, he was ultimately submerged by the blood river...

"Is that a detached Beast Spirit?" The Slaughter King, who climbed out of the blood river, noticed the three-headed Earth Fire Lizard, his eyes flickering slightly, and then he released his spirit power, stirring away the surrounding blood and once again facing Tang Hao, who was swinging a hammer as large as a small mountain.

"Great Sumeru Hammer!"

"Nine Rings Explode!"

Tang Hao's nine spirit rings around him exploded simultaneously, and all the energy within them converged into the Clear Sky Hammer, causing the already enormous Clear Sky Hammer to expand again.

Gazing at the Heaven-toppling attack, the Slaughter King roared in fury, activating all his energy to meet it.

Boom!

The collision of the two sides unleashed an energy burst that instantly vaporized and evaporated the surrounding river of blood, and the surrounding buildings were instantly reduced to dust.

"Cough!"

The Slaughter King coughed up a mouthful of dark red blood, the crimson in his eyes flickering as if another will was about to awaken.

"Damn Tang Chen!"

"To think at this moment..."

Under the bombardment of Tang Hao's Great Sumeru Hammer and Ring Explosion, the previously dormant consciousness of Tang Chen suddenly awakened, vying for control of the body.

But it was also the struggle between the two that rendered the Slaughter King powerless to resist further, and the hammerhead, like a collapsing sky, slammed the Slaughter King heavily onto the ground.

Rumble!

In an instant, the ground cracked like a spiderweb.

After this strike, the Clear Sky Hammer returned to its normal size and fell into Tang Hao's hand, but he did not notice a wisp of bloody energy sinking into the blood river that had been stirred away by the Slaughter King's spirit power, drilling into the body of an unconscious person...

"Hahaha!"

Unrestrained laughter rang out from the center of the cracked ground; compared to the Slaughter King's gloomy demeanor, this laughter was incredibly bold, even somewhat familiar to Tang Hao.

Buzz—

The Slaughter King stood up again, his clothes torn, but the crimson wings on his back disintegrated inch by inch, and his pale face returned to a healthy wheat complexion.

Even the contours of his face changed slightly.

Tang Hao was vigilant and also shocked, muttering, "You... You are... Grandpa!"

"It's Hao'er, isn't it?" Tang Chen recognized Tang Hao's identity at a glance and laughed heartily, "I never thought it would be you who awakened me! My Clear Sky Sect has a successor!"

Thump!

However, to Tang Chen's surprise, Tang Hao knelt directly, kowtowed three times loudly, and said, "Grandpa, I have failed the Clear Sky Sect, causing the Sect to fall to its current state. I hope Grandpa will punish me!"

"What are you doing?" Tang Chen realized that something had happened to the Clear Sky Sect, quickly flashed to Tang Hao's side, helped him up, and asked what had happened.

So, Tang Hao recounted how he fell in love with Ah Yin, who had transformed from a hundred-thousand-year-old Spirit beast, had a child, and was then ambushed by the previous Supreme Pontiff of Spirit Hall, leading to his expulsion from the Clear Sky Sect and the Clear Sky Sect sealing its mountain.

"So much has happened." Tang Chen sighed, then his eyes sharpened, "Hmph! Those Elders of the Clear Sky Sect, and your father, are too foolish!"

"What's there to fear? Just fight back directly!"

"Although Spirit Hall is powerful, other forces will not sit idly by and watch the Clear Sky Sect be destroyed. Those Sects will never allow Spirit Hall to dominate! Why don't they understand the principle of 'when the rabbit dies, the fox grieves'?"

"Unfortunately, your father and those Elders lack that foresight!"

Tang Hao couldn't help but get excited: "Grandpa, are you saying I wasn't wrong?"

"What did you do wrong? Didn't you kill the previous Supreme Pontiff of Spirit Hall?" Tang Chen snorted, "Let me tell you, my good grandson, your mistakes are only two—"

"First, you are not strong enough!"

"As long as you are strong enough, right and wrong in the World are defined by you. The weak can only accept the fate of being dominated by the strong! If the weak can resist fate, it is also because they are strong enough! This is the only truth in the World!"

"Second, you neglected your descendants, and can't even be called a father!"

Tang Hao's heart trembled, and he couldn't help but feel ashamed.

"Get up!"

"I am your grandfather, why are you kneeling?"

Tang Chen pulled Tang Hao up, patted him on the shoulder, and seeing that the Slaughter God Domain on his Clear Sky Hammer had evolved into the Slaughter Domain, he immediately understood why he wanted to challenge "himself."

He had also encountered such a situation—the key to starting the Asura God's trial was to evolve the Slaughter Domain further, making it the Asura Domain, and the key to this evolution was to absorb vast amounts of killing intent, or to devour other evolved Slaughter God Domains or Slaughter Domains.

The inheritance of the Asura God was extremely perilous; it was both casting a wide net and raising gu worms in a jar.

Whether by one's own power or by devouring other Slaughter God Domains, as long as the Slaughter God Domain evolved into the Asura Domain, the divine trial could truly begin.

"Grandpa, have you been in Slaughter City all these years?" Tang Hao asked about Tang Chen's past.

"Indeed, it's an unbearable memory..." Tang Chen then recounted his promise to Bo Saixi, coming to Slaughter City to seek a God Position inheritance, evolving the Slaughter God Domain into the Asura Domain, starting the divine trial, and being Parasite by the Scarlet Nine-Headed Bat King, one by one. Towards the end, he showed a hint of shame, "A dignified super Douluo, actually provoked evil thoughts by a Scarlet Nine-Headed Bat King and then was Parasite, living in a daze for decades, truly pathetic to have wasted so much time."

Grandpa, aren't you recovered now?" Tang Hao said excitedly, "As long as you return to the Sect, the Clear Sky Sect will surely be able to create new glory!"

"No, I can't go back, it's too late." Tang Chen looked bitter, "My physical body has been riddled with holes after decades of Parasite by the Scarlet Nine-Headed Bat King. Without a super treasure medicine, or several Titled Douluo level Healing System Spirit Masters to help, it's impossible to repair."

Compared to the original work, Tang Chen recovered earlier this time and was not affected by the Snowy Swan Kiss. Even if he was hit by Tang Hao's Great Sumeru Hammer, he could still be saved.

This was also one of the reasons why he was willing to talk so much with Tang Hao instead of going directly to Sea God Island to find Bo Saixi—with his current physical condition, if he received treatment within ten years, he might be able to continue the Asura God Position.

Becoming a Divinity!

This was not just an agreement with Bo Saixi!

It was also his pride as a super Douluo!

Did he really not see that Bo Saixi had clearly rejected Qian Daoliu back then?

It was just that pride did not allow him to simply surpass Qian Daoliu. Only by becoming a Divinity could he prove to Qian Daoliu that he was more outstanding.

Perhaps even Tang Chen himself didn't realize that Qian Daoliu held a position in his heart no less than Bo Saixi.

He was both a well-matched opponent and a friend with whom he could confide...

If it weren't for the different forces they belonged to, they would have become the closest brothers.

What a pity—

Their stances were just different.

"Grandpa, treasure medicine and the like can be found. The Clear Sky Sect still has its foundation, and there's definitely a way to heal your injuries."

The opportunity for the Clear Sky Sect to rise again was right before his eyes. His own, and even Little San's, opportunity to return to the Clear Sky Sect and acknowledge their ancestors was also before him. How could Tang Hao let it go?

Seeing Tang Hao's thoughts, Tang Chen suddenly wanted to smash this disappointing grandson to death with a hammer.

"No wonder the Clear Sky Sect was forced to seal the mountain by Spirit Hall. Among the Clear Sky Twins, Hao'er, whom I thought most highly of, actually has such a temper, wanting to rely on me, his grandpa... It seems I have to return to the Sect once, otherwise, the Clear Sky Sect might become history in the near future."

Thinking of this, Tang Chen sighed, "Alright, I'll go back to the Sect with you. After all, I still have a little hope..."

What hope?

Becoming a Divinity, fulfilling his promise, marrying Bo Saixi, and showing off in front of Qian Daoliu...

...

By the side of the shattered building, Mu Tian ignored the sticky blood on his body and slowly climbed up, feeling the power within him, surprised beyond measure: "What happened to me?"

"Isn't it good to have powerful strength?" Bright Moon voluntarily jumped out of Mu Tian's body. However, compared to before, Bright Moon was now covered in blood, with black stripes, and a pair of scarlet wings emerged from his back, looking extremely demonic.

"You are not my Spirit!" Mu Tian reacted immediately, wary of "Bright Moon," and kept retreating.

"No need to be so nervous. If this King wanted to kill you, I would have killed you long ago." Bright Moon's three heads approached Mu Tian, speaking in unison with an eerie echo, "This King is the Slaughter King of this Slaughter City. Because I lost to Tang Hao by one move in the previous battle, I had no choice but to find a new host."

"Originally, this King wanted to directly occupy your body, but later I found that your detached Beast Spirit is extremely compatible with this King..."

Bright Moon was originally Austin Griffin's host. Although the God of Heavenly Condemnation was no longer there, he himself was still powerful enough to give birth to nine heads.

The Scarlet Nine-Headed Bat King also had nine heads, making him an ideal host.

"Don't worry, I won't seize your body in the future. After all, this King doesn't perfectly control a human body." Seeing Mu Tian still wary, Bright Moon said disdainfully, "And with this King, your cultivation speed can be accelerated. This King can absorb blood and draw spirit power to speed up cultivation."

"Within twenty years, you can reach the ninety-ninth level!"

Blood-sucking?

Mu Tian shuddered, but thinking that only by becoming The Fallen, becoming an Evil Soul Master, could he catch up to Tang San's pace and surpass him, he couldn't help but be tempted.

Sensing Mu Tian's heart rate quicken, Bright Moon realized that the other party was tempted and continued to tempt him: "Abandon those ethics and morals. This World is inherently one where the strong reign supreme. We only want to become stronger, what's wrong with that?"

"If you must blame, blame them for being too weak."

"This World is inherently a jungle where the weak are prey to the strong. For the weak to accept their fate of being eaten is a grace from the strong!"

As Bright Moon's allure took effect, Mu Tian, who craved power, agreed. His eyes flashed with a bloody red color, and he sneered, "You're right. In this World, the strong are the law of justice!"

Bright Moon nodded in satisfaction and returned to Mu Tian's body—provoking evil thoughts was one of the Nine Headed Bloody Crimson Bat King's instincts. Even Tang Chen couldn't resist (although there was the Rakshasa God's influence, Tang Chen's personality had also changed somewhat during the Nine Headed Bloody Crimson Bat King's Parasite), let alone Mu Tian, a Spirit Elder?

"An obedient puppet is a good puppet!"

Compared to Mu Tian's "adventure," another transmigrator, Xu Xing, had a much more miserable experience.

Ever since he was severely injured in the great competition, he had been in a state of recovery. Even the Dai Family and Zhu Family members implicitly began to ostracize the entire Star Crown Sect.

As a result, the large and small families close to the Dai Family and Zhu Family dared not openly associate with the Star Crown Sect, fearing being targeted by both the Dai Family and Zhu Family.

"Why is the Dai Family so narrow-minded? They can't tolerate Xu Xing?"
At a meeting called by the Star Crown Sect due to pressure from other families, a Spirit Saint level Elder spoke indignantly.

The others remained silent.

Their Spirit was the Star Crown, and it was in the style of a royal crown. No matter who sat in that position, they would be wary, not to mention that Xu Xing's Star Crown Spirit was the best of the best.

"We shouldn't have let him display that seven-in-one Martial Soul Fusion Skill in the competition back then," another Spirit Emperor level Elder said mournfully.

"What's the use of saying that now?" The Sect Master of the Star Crown Sect spoke, his Spirit Douluo level pressure making all the Elders present feel awestruck. "Although the Continent hasn't experienced large-scale warfare for several hundred years, Spirit Hall and the Heaven Dou Empire must both be guarded against. The Dai Family and Zhu Family only dare to adopt an attitude of outward disregard towards us, and don't dare to truly act."

Everyone present knew that in the presence of external hostile forces, the Star Luo Imperial Family would not act against them.

However, if this continued, the reputation of the Star Crown Sect and the Star Crown Family would be ruined!

Recently, they had heard many people secretly discussing baseless rumors such as "the Star Crown Family is going to rebel" and "the Star Crown Sect is contacting a certain family."

Needless to say, someone with ulterior motives must have released these rumors to slander their Star Crown Sect.

It was even possible that the Dai Family and Zhu Family secretly sent people to spread these false messages.

This affected the reputation of their Star Crown Sect and their subordinate industries.

"After Xu Xing recovers from his injuries, all resources will be prioritized for his use," the Sect Master of the Star Crown Sect continued. "He is the future of the Star Crown Sect. Once he grows up, it will not be impossible for our Star Crown Sect to establish itself independently in the future."

The implication was that since the Dai Family and Zhu Family were forcing them to rebel, they would truly rebel for them to see!

First, Xu Xing was his biological grandson, and it was impossible to abandon him.

Second, the Star Crown Sect also had a strong foundation. If a real fight broke out, they might not necessarily lose to the Dai Family.

Finally, he wanted to see if the Dai Family and Zhu Family would truly disregard the covetous gazes of the Heaven Dou Empire and Spirit Hall, two continental-level forces, for the sake of eliminating Xu Xing, a threat, leading to an empty interior within the Star Luo Empire.

If the situation truly reached the worst possible step, then they couldn't stay in the Star Luo Empire anymore. It would be better to seek refuge with Spirit Hall or the Heaven Dou Empire as soon as possible, which would allow them to maintain the family bloodline...

In the original work, was the Asura Sword bestowed by the Asura God or condensed by Tang Chen himself?

Personally, I feel that Tang Chen condensed it himself, but the Asura God could control it. After all, according to the original description, that Asura Sword was formed by Tang Chen's own blood-red Clear Sky Hammer melting and reorganizing.

Tang San in the original work simply picked up a ready-made one, thus skipping the process of condensing his own Clear Sky Hammer into a divine artifact.

Therefore, in this book's setting, under normal circumstances, Tool Spirit Masters who become a Divinity need to condense their own Spirit into a divine artifact, or melt their Tool Spirit into the form of the divine artifact of the Divinity whose God Position they inherit.

Under abnormal circumstances, one can pick up a ready-made one. After all, the Asura God is a God King, so a special situation is understandable.

Just like Ji Dong and Lie Yan, they were completely played by Goodness and Evil. Then these two God Kings went out to play and left the mess to these two. Neither of them went through a proper God Test. Although they obtained the God Positions of Goodness and Evil, their strength was far inferior to the previous incumbents.

224: Phoenix City, Phoenix Seeking Phoenix (1)

Tang San, accompanied by Xiao Wu, Guang Ling, and Lan Yinzi, walked all the way, passing through many villages and towns, witnessing various unique Spirits.

For Xiao Wu and Lan Yinzi, most of their attention was on the agricultural styles and architectural scenery of the different villages and towns, but for Tang San, it was about recording data on various Spirits and inquiring about local history from the elderly.

And Guang Ling?

She bought some peculiar metal materials and daily-use spirit tools, seriously researching spirit tools!

However, there were also troubles along the way, which was due to the widespread Sub-Mother Soul Guidance Photography Ball, causing people everywhere, more or less, to have an impression of Tang San and the others.

Left with no choice, the four could only cover their faces or wear veils when walking.

“Being famous is really troublesome; there are people asking for autographs everywhere.” Walking out of the town, Xiao Wu took off her veil and looked at the big sun in the sky. “It’s so hot, covering my face made me sweat all over.”

Tang San, who had removed his mask, had not a single drop of sweat on his face, because his Jade Bone Golden Muscle Divine Treasure had already been cultivated, and his physical divine abilities were self-formed, naturally making him impervious to heat or cold.

“Everything has two sides. Isn’t others’ admiration proof of one’s own excellence?”

“Just get used to it.”

Xiao Wu snorted, “You’re telling me? Aren’t you wearing a mask too?”

“I’m doing this to prevent you from getting jealous.” Tang San stated that if he took off his mask, the people who admired Xiao Wu would gather around him instead.

Males, sometimes, also attract each other.

“Vain.” Xiao Wu stuck out her tongue, then jumped onto Tang San’s back, saying in a spoiled tone, “As my older brother, you’ve never carried me. I’m tired from walking, so carry me now.”

“Stop messing around, Guang Ling hasn’t even complained about being tired yet.” Tang San didn’t indulge her, putting Xiao Wu down from his back, and pointing at Guang Ling, said, “You’re really bad, not even as good as Guang Ling.”

Is he that dense?

Lan Yinzi, who was nearby, was stunned, momentarily unsure if Tang San was doing it on purpose or by accident.

“Exactly, Xiao Wu Jie, you’re already a Spirit King, and I, a Spirit Ancestor, don’t feel tired yet.”

Although Guang Ling and Xiao Wu were extremely close, even having “slept in the same bed” with Tang San, she couldn’t stand Xiao Wu monopolizing him—

If Xiao Wu absolutely had to be carried by Brother San, then she wanted to be carried too. If one back could only carry one person, then she could reluctantly hang around Brother San's neck and have him hold her.

(#^.^#)

Seeing the three of them playfully bickering, Lan Yinzi, for some reason, felt a bit jealous, feeling as if the cabbage she had planted was about to be monopolized by two pigs.

Although, after she planted this cabbage, she hadn't really fertilized it much...

...

Three days later, Tang San and the others arrived at Phoenix City.

Outside the city gate, there was a lush forest, mostly comprised of phoenix trees, with large, wide leaves that were fiery red, as if burning.

Upon asking a passerby, they learned that most of the trees in this phoenix tree forest were Feng Wu Tong, which had red leaves all four seasons, appearing as if on fire, a truly magnificent sight.

"What a magical tree, it's red all year round."

Xiao Wu picked a phoenix tree leaf, sniffed it, and could smell a faint fragrance. She then took out a medical book from her white jade belt and opened it, revealing pages filled with various herb leaves.

She placed the leaf inside, to collect it, or to use as a bookmark.

"This kind of leaf has a relatively strong Life aura, and also contains fire attributes. If I research it, it should be usable in medicine."

Closing the medical book, Xiao Wu put it back into her white jade belt.

The city walls of Phoenix City were no less tall than those of Heaven Dou City, only they were entirely dark red.

Legend has it that this city has a history of ten thousand years, and the crimson color on its city walls is not from any special material, but rather from a Phoenix Spirit Beast that fell ten thousand years ago, its Phoenix blood spilled and covered the walls, forging them into an indestructible Phoenix Blood Phoenix Bone.

“I’ve been to this place before.” Lan Yinzi recalled her memories, “Every year in early April, the people in this city hold a grand event called ‘Phoenix Seeks Phoenix’.”

“At that time, young, innocent men and women can sing and dance in the city, and search for their beloved other half. If both parties are willing, they can get married under the witness of the Feng Wu Tong in the city...”

“In legend, if the couple’s singing and dancing are extremely beautiful, they can gain the favor of the Phoenix God and receive blessings.”

“However, no one has ever received a blessing, so this is just considered a legend.”

“But Spirit Hall once investigated the Feng Wu Tong in the city center. It’s not a plant Spirit Beast, but it has indeed lived for over ten thousand years, and people who live nearby for a long time, even if they are not Spirit Masters, can live to over ninety years old.”

“Therefore, Phoenix City is also a retirement place for nobles and high-ranking officials of Spirit Hall within the Heaven Dou territory.”

Tang San nodded slightly, recalling how Ma Hongjun failed to inherit the Fire God in the original work and settled for becoming the Phoenix God instead.

Perhaps the inheritance of the Phoenix God was located on the Feng Wu Tong in the center of Phoenix City.

The four entered the city and headed straight for the city center.

At this time, it was March twenty-eighth, only three days until April.

Therefore, every household in the city had phoenix statues and lanterns displayed at their doors, phoenix-patterned decorations on their windows, or crimson banners hanging.

Along the way, many couples walked hand in hand, discussing the “Phoenix Seeks Phoenix” grand event three days later, and agreeing to sing and dance together then.

Some men and women even kissed directly on the street, expressing their love for each other.

Such occurrences were commonplace in Phoenix City.

Especially in the few days before the “Phoenix Seeks Phoenix” grand event was about to begin, one could find men and women pouring out their hearts and describing their vows of eternal love in any corner.

“How can they say such things? Isn’t it too cheesy?” Xiao Wu heard a couple singing poems, using Sausage and bread as metaphors, and felt goosebumps rising.

Guang Ling, on the other hand, had her ears covered by Tang San, who explicitly told her: children cannot listen to such infatuated adult poems.

Guang Ling: “...”

In reality, Guang Ling knew everything about the affairs between men and women.

After all, she was born in a small village, and her house was only so big. She usually slept on the same bed as her parents, so how could she be unaware of what they did?

However, Guang Ling was still very touched by Tang San’s protection.

Lan Yinzi interrupted the trio’s “jokester” behavior, pointing at the Feng Wu Tong in the center, which was about a hundred meters tall, and said, “Look, that is the legendary residence of the Phoenix God, the Feng Wu Tong.”

Where the Feng Wu Tong stood, there was an open space of nearly a thousand meters around it, paved with dark red bricks, and surrounded by a railing, not high, only five meters, which ordinary people could easily climb over.

However, the outer perimeter was patrolled by a joint team from Spirit Hall and the City Lord's Mansion to prevent unauthorized entry.

This place was only open on specific holidays; otherwise, it remained closed.

“Illyasviel, have you noticed anything?”

Tang San focused his mental force, but perhaps because his mental force was still quite far from the divine level, he couldn't discern what was contained within the Feng Wu Tong. He could only feel a peculiar scorching heat... but this scorching heat could only be perceived by humans with extremely strong mental force; ordinary people couldn't detect it, at most, they would be passively influenced, causing their qi and blood to become more active.

The reason for longevity was that passive influence of the scorching heat.

“Within this Feng Wu Tong, there is a wisp of a Phoenix Spirit Beast's remnant divine soul.” Iliex possessed divine sense, and with a glance, he perceived the origin within the Feng Wu Tong. “From my perspective, this Feng Wu Tong should have developed sentience, but due to the influence of that wisp of Phoenix Spirit Beast's remnant divine soul, it has been unable to transform into a Spirit Beast.”

“If it could perfectly devour and absorb that wisp of Phoenix Spirit Beast's remnant divine soul, it might directly become a plant Spirit Beast of over nine hundred thousand years.”

“A God's remnant divine soul, for mortals, is an extraordinary tonic.”

“And a Spirit Master whose Spirit is a phoenix or similar bird, if they obtain that wisp of remnant divine soul, might have the chance to achieve the Phoenix God.”

Although that wisp of Phoenix Spirit Beast’s remnant divine soul was a true divine soul, more advanced than Iliex, to him, a phoenix was ultimately just a wild beast.

Aside from its noble bloodline, what else could compare to him?

Not to mention that the other party only had a wisp of remnant divine soul left.

To refine it, Iliex had plenty of methods.

For example: refining it into a corpse ghost puppet of the undead type.

“Then, the annual ‘Phoenix Seeks Phoenix’ grand event is actually also an opportunity for that wisp of remnant divine soul to absorb the power of faith?” Tang San thought of a possibility.

“Power of faith?” Iliex was startled, sitting cross-legged in Tang San’s spiritual sea, rubbing the Staff of the Undead in his hand for a while before slowly saying, “I almost forgot, the Gods of this World, apart from those God King level powerhouses, seem to pay special attention to the absorption of the power of faith.”

“If some parts of your memory of ‘Douluo Continent’ can serve as concrete references, then the Sea God Trident on Sea God Island was probably intentionally left in the mortal realm by the Sea God, perhaps not originally for the purpose of selecting an inheritor, but rather to use the power of faith for nurturing, so that it could advance to a super divine tool.”

“It’s just that later, he wanted to leave the God Realm, so he planned to leave the Sea God Trident behind, after all, with one experience, he could completely replicate it in other areas not under the jurisdiction of this God Realm in the future.”

“After all, that divine tool was the materialized Spirit of the Sea God before he became a Divinity. And for Spirit Masters with Tool Spirits, if their Spirit is shattered, they can spend time and cultivation to reform one... From this, it can be inferred that if the Spirit transforms into a divine tool and is passed to others, the Sea God himself could actually condense another one, but it would consume a lot of cultivation and energy. Most Divinities wouldn't do that.”

“However, to escape the God Realm, it's not impossible to abandon one's divine tool. After all, they have experience and can completely re-forged one. Moreover, leaving the divine tool to the successor can save the successor the time of re-condensing the divine tool, allowing the successor to control the power that the Divinity position should possess more quickly.”

“Tsk, this World is truly blessed.”

Speaking of this, Iliex once again marveled at the wonder of the Douluo Continent, then answered Tang San's question: “Your guess is correct. That remnant divine soul does indeed absorb the power of faith at specific times to contain a divine soul, but it's impossible for it to revive. The power of faith is too little, and the method of use...”

“Although I, your old man, don't know exactly how to use the power of faith, I estimate that the remnant divine soul's use of the power of faith is like most Spirit Masters' crude use of spirit power—it's all about stacking quantity.”

It's no wonder Iliex stands at the peak, looking down.

Although the Douluo Continent possesses mystical and magnificent Spirits, the methods for using spirit power are akin to primitives who have just learned how to tie sticks and stones together.

As for the subtlety of Spirit Abilities...

That's the effect of a Spirit Beast's spirit ring; what does it have to do with a Spirit Master?

“Brother Tang, why don't we take the opportunity tonight to seize that Phoenix God's remnant divine soul? I'm confident I can refine it into a Phoenix Undead and turn it into our summoned beast,” Iliex suggested. “In the future, there will definitely be God-level powerhouses appearing on this Continent, Rakshasa and Angel, at least two. We also need to be prepared.”

Iliex had also seen the Douluo Continent through Tang San's memories. He could only say that currently, only some settings could be referenced. As for the plot, everything else was an unknown, except for the appearance of Angels and Rakshasa.

For the sake of Tang San's and his own safety, “employing” a God-level undead as a bodyguard was imperative.

“A bodyguard?” Tang San looked at Feng Wu Tong, but he had a different idea. “I'd rather hope Feng Wu Tong can refine that remnant divine soul of the Phoenix God and become a Spirit Beast.”

Iliex frowned, thought of something, and tentatively asked, “Nirvana?”

“Born from death, that is Nirvana.” A glint flashed in Tang San's eyes. “Compared to getting a bodyguard, I'd rather this Parasol Tree become my ninth spirit ring and Soul Spirit.”

“Of course, it's just a backup. If I encounter a better choice later, I can switch.”

Iliex pondered for a moment, then nodded: “Alright, for summoned beasts, you can just find some Spirit Beast or Spirit Master corpses. When you go to Slaughter City later, The Fallen there can be put to good use.”

The Fallen, with hearts like demons, have already departed from the realm of humans. Using them as materials for undead doesn't require any psychological burden.

Even if there were innocents, Iliex himself wouldn't care too much.

Before he died, to exact revenge, he created an undead army, and the innocent people who died either directly or indirectly were countless.

“Slaughter City is indeed a good place for you to collect ‘raw materials’.” Originally, Tang San had hoped that after gaining power, he would make Slaughter City a gathering place for The Fallen to research their psychology and physiology.

Unfortunately, plans don't keep up with changes.

Iliex's joining caused his future plans for Slaughter City to change...

...

“Third Brother.” Xiao Wu interrupted Tang San's conversation with Iliex, pointing to a church not far away. Above its main entrance was a statue of a phoenix. “Is that the Spirit Hall of Phoenix City? Why are so many people gathered around it?”

Tang San saw the Spirit Hall's angel emblem beneath the phoenix statue, nodded, and said, “It is indeed Spirit Hall, but this Spirit Hall in Phoenix City is very distinctive. The phoenix emblem is actually above the Spirit Hall emblem. Let's go and have a look.”

Walking to the entrance of Spirit Hall, Tang San patted the man queuing in front and asked, “What are you doing here?”

The man turned around and saw Tang San wearing a mask, feeling a bit wary. But upon seeing the three young girls behind him, he was momentarily dazed—although Xiao Wu and the others wore veils, besides Guang Ling, who was the enduringly beautiful type, the other two, even just seeing the upper half of their faces, would astonish countless people.

The man said, “You must be from out of town, right? This is where you sign up for the ‘Phoenix Seeks Phoenix’ ball. My girlfriend and I are queuing to sign up.”

“Your girlfriend?” Tang San was puzzled. The person in front of this man was also a male. This queue was basically all males.

“How could I bear to let her queue?” The man said with a serious face, “This kind of hard work, I’ll do it. The people in front of me are also like me. By the way, you brought three female companions?”

“The four of us are travelers journeying together, just passing through Phoenix City.” Tang San smiled, not directly answering, but led the three girls past the crowd and into the hall.

“It seems they are Spirit Masters...” The man pondered whether he had said anything disrespectful just now. For commoners, most Spirit Masters were arrogant and short-tempered people who would resort to violence at the slightest disagreement.

After entering Spirit Hall, Tang San removed his mask. The local Hall Master, Sanos, immediately rose to greet him, bowing and saying, “Greetings, Spirit Hall Saint Child.”

Although the Continental Elite Tournament had ended, due to the influence of the Sub-Mother Soul Guidance Photography Ball, the video recording of that competition was still spreading.

Spirit Hall naturally recognized Tang San's appearance.

Although recently there had been many people dressed as Tang San, Xiao Wu, and others, becoming the first batch of cosplayers on the Douluo Continent, the discerning eye could tell the real from the fake at a glance.

Not to mention, the Tang San in front of him also showed the Saint Child token—personally bestowed by Bibi Dong before he left Spirit Hall.

“No need for formalities.” Tang San waved his hand casually. “We’re just passing by, coming to join the fun. Mainly, I want to see that Feng Wu Tong.”

“I’ll arrange it immediately!” Sanos said hurriedly.

“No need to alarm anyone else. Isn’t the Phoenix Seeks Phoenix ball scheduled to start in three days? Just help us sign up.” Tang San stated his request.

“This... is just a small matter.”

Sanos breathed a sigh of relief. The Saint Child was easy to talk to, and he was happy to relax, but—

“Four people?”

“Guang Ling and I are a team, and Xiao Wu and Lan Yinzi are a team. There's no rule that girls can't dance with girls, right?” Tang San asked with a smile.

“There's indeed no such rule...” Sanos was a bit speechless but nodded in agreement.

“Why are you and Guang Ling in a team?” Xiao Wu was like an anxious rabbit, pursing her lips and puffing out her cheeks.

“Relax, we can switch dance partners then.” If he didn't comfort her, Tang San felt that Xiao Wu would raid him tonight and take his precious chastity.

Only then did Xiao Wu snort lightly and say, “That's more like it.”

Sanos, beside them, secretly sighed that the Saint Child knew how to have fun, looking utterly ashamed of his own inferiority...

...

Three days later, early April arrived.

The entire Phoenix City became lively. Long, continuous tables filled the streets and alleys, laden with various delicacies. One only needed to drop a silver coin into the coin box placed at the entrance of each street to receive a pass, and then the delicacies on that street could be enjoyed freely.

Tang San, Xiao Wu, Guang Ling, and Lan Yinzi casually found a street and enjoyed the fine wine and local specialties. Aside from the sour smell of romance emanating from all around, it was quite pleasant.

After all, there were no nobles trying to curry favor with them here.

Moreover, all four had covered their faces in their own ways. Aside from Xiao Wu's long braid being somewhat attention-grabbing, no men or women came up to strike up a conversation—

In terms of eating habits, all four directly held their food, pulled down their masks or veils, and stuffed it into their mouths, without any noble elegance or decorum.

Phoenix City mostly consisted of noble children and retired high-ranking Spirit Hall members and their children. Seeing Tang San and the others' eating habits, even if they saw the attractive half-faces revealed by the four, they wouldn't approach.

Commoners and nobles were completely two different circles. In most cases, behavior and manners were enough to judge one's identity and status.

However, when the “Phoenix Seeks Phoenix” grand event truly began, the nobles and commoners of Phoenix City could joyfully gather together. Commoner women could ask noble young masters to dance, and rural boys could choose noble young ladies to sing with, without distinction, sharing joy.

During this selection process, both men and women could refuse, but not more than three times. If they exceeded that, they could no longer participate in the ball.

Under the witness of the Phoenix God, on this day, everyone in Phoenix City was equal, without distinction of high or low, noble or humble.

At least, that's what Tang San heard in the promotions.

But when the final ball truly began, Tang San was certain that even if commoners and nobles could dance in the same venue, there would surely be very few pairs of commoner boys (or girls) and noble ladies (or young masters) holding hands and singing and laughing together.

Chapter 222 was harmonized, which is hard to understand. Is JIU · Nian ` Yi ` Wu ` Jiao ` Yu also a sensitive word?

225: Phoenix City, Phoenix Seeking Phoenix (2)

"Third Brother, try this. It tastes good." Xiao Wu picked up a jelly-like, grayish-brown agar object from a nearby long table, pulled down Tang San's mask, and directly stuffed it into his mouth.

Tang San, who subconsciously opened his mouth, chewed, and swallowed, was slightly startled, then tasted it carefully and said, "The taste is indeed good. It's refreshing with a hint of sweetness. It's perfect for summer."

"Don't say those things when you're enjoying food!" Xiao Wu pouted unhappily. "You just need to say, 'It's delicious' or 'It's not delicious.'"

"Delicious," Tang San smiled. Just as he was about to pull up his mask, Guang Ling on the side handed him a crescent-shaped biscuit and said, "Third Brother, try this. This moon biscuit tastes good too."

"Mm~ It's indeed good," Tang San commented.

However, this remark displeased Xiao Wu, who took another star-shaped pastry, bit a small piece, and then put it into Tang San's mouth: "This is also very delicious."

Guang Ling imitated her, picking up a round pastry, tasting a small bite, and offering it to Tang San's mouth: "This round pastry tastes very refreshing too."

Just like that, as the two fed him, Tang San accepted everything, swallowing it all as if he were a bottomless pit, his stomach not swelling in the slightest.

Lan Yinzi also wanted to participate, but Xiao Wu and Guang Ling stopped her with threatening glances.

Xiao Wu knew that Lan Yinzi was Tang San's mother on a soul level, but not physically!

To prevent anything unethical from happening, Xiao Wu felt it was necessary to keep Tang San and Lan Yinzi at a distance, as she always felt Lan Yinzi's gaze towards Tang San was off—most likely due to occupying someone else's body, which caused a distortion in her personality.

Lan Yinzi could only pitifully eat the pastry in her hand.

And Xiao Wu and Guang Ling, who had initially been feeding Tang San, turned their attention to a competition between themselves, with only each other in their eyes.

Others who witnessed this were either envious, sighing, or disdainful.

"Miss, may I invite you to dance later?" Just then, a hoarse yet somewhat delicate voice sounded beside Lan Yinzi's ear.

Lan Yinzi looked up and saw a person wearing a red jacket, as round as a ball, with two small mustaches above his upper lip, looking very comical.

Ma Hongjun of Shrek Academy?

How did he get here?

"No, you're too ugly." Lan Yinzi didn't think much of it and righteously rejected his invitation—although she wasn't a lookist, she wouldn't let just any crooked melon or cracked date approach her, especially since this guy looked like a bird and had a lecherous personality, having probably played with countless women.

"Uh... I just look fat, but actually~ I am a bit fat, but my heart is very kind." Ma Hongjun felt a little wronged, not understanding why every beautiful woman paid so much attention to appearance. Only Cuihua understood him better, but unfortunately, she wasn't a Spirit Master and couldn't withstand his strength.

This Evil Fire truly made him both love and hate it.

"Sorry, whether you're kind or not has nothing to do with me," Lan Yinzi said with a rather disgusted look. "Ugly rejected!"

However, Ma Hongjun did not intend to give up. Noticing that most of Lan Yinzi's gaze was on Tang San, who was being "fed" by Xiao Wu and Guang Ling, and adhering to Shrek's teaching of "being a mediocre talent if you don't dare to stir up trouble," he decided to display his strength and shouted at Tang San: "You masked pretty boy, isn't it bad for you to be two-timing like this?"

"Who the hell are you?" Her feeding interrupted, Xiao Wu was not in a good mood. She glared fiercely at the other party, then slightly froze, "You look a little familiar."

Although Xiao Wu had met the Shrek group a few times, Ma Hongjun's performance at the convention was basically just making up the numbers; there was nothing outstanding about him.

Therefore, Xiao Wu had a slight impression, but not much.

She wouldn't deliberately remember irrelevant people, and the main reason Ma Hongjun left an impression on Xiao Wu was his plump, round figure.

"It's Ma Hongjun from Shrek Academy." Guang Ling, however, remembered him. After all, anyone who might become an obstacle for Tang San in the future was on her "kill" list.

Among them, Ma Hongjun's threat, if calculated out of a hundred points, was two points, mainly because of his unique sticky, corrosive, purplish-red flame.

If he didn't have that Evil Fire, Ma Hongjun wouldn't be on her list.

"That's right, I am one of the most outstanding students of Shrek, Ma Hongjun." As he spoke, he made a "seven" with his right hand, rested it under his chin, striking what he considered a handsome, charming smile, and constantly flirting with Xiao Wu, Guang Ling, and Lan Yinzi, "Haven't you been charmed by Brother's handsomeness?"

"Ugh~" Xiao Wu retched, "I'm about to throw up. Who gave you the confidence to say you're handsome?"

Guang Ling was much more direct: "How shameless."

Lan Yinzi nodded: "It's good to have confidence, but just look in the mirror at home."

Meanwhile, Tang San was pondering why Ma Hongjun would be here—

Phoenix City, Evil Fire Phoenix...

Without the Phoenix Crested Cockscomb to resolve the Evil Fire problem, the higher Ma Hongjun's strength improved, the more severe the Evil Fire's influence on him would become. If it wasn't completely resolved, reaching the Spirit King stage would be his death sentence.

After all, in terms of willpower, he was far inferior to Ma Xiaotao in 'peerless tang sect'.

So, to solve the Evil Fire problem, it wasn't a big issue for Ma Hongjun to come to a place with Phoenix legends to investigate. However, the wisp of Phoenix remnant soul in the Feng Wu Tong could not possibly choose him.

After all, with Ma Hongjun's talent and personality, even in the original work, only after consuming the Phoenix Crested Cockscomb and the Ten headed Fierce Yang Serpent's inner core was he qualified to receive the inheritance of the Phoenix God.

The position of Fire God was out of the question; he was not worthy.

Now, with the Evil Fire defect, Ma Hongjun's strength was only that of a Spirit Elder. If the remnant soul of the Phoenix Spirit Beast were to choose him, there would only be one possibility: it was blind.

At this moment, Ma Hongjun's face turned red with anger, and he shouted at Tang San, "If you have guts, let's go to the arena here and fight to see who's stronger!"

"Did I offend you?" Tang San's expression remained unchanged. "Don't be like a rooster, eager to show off. Even if your Spirit is a rooster, a person is not poultry after all."

Rooster?

Chicken?

Although he started the trouble, calling his Spirit poultry was a blatant insult!

"My Spirit is a Phoenix!"

Ma Hongjun exerted himself, his Spirit possessing him, a bloody cockscomb appearing on his head, and red feathers growing on his arms. Disregarding the rule against private fights in the city, he was about to use his First Soul Skill.

However, as soon as the flames left his mouth, Ma Hongjun's pupils suddenly constricted, and he immediately clamped his mouth shut, causing the flames to explode inside. Grayish-black smoke billowed from his nostrils, mouth, ears, and eyes, presenting a vivid image of "smoke coming out of all seven orifices" to the world.

"Um, I was wrong. Can you forgive me?"

The reason he suddenly changed his arrogant attitude was because Ma Hongjun saw Wu Lin and Wu Tong appear on Tang San's shoulders. Those two little girls left a deep impression on him—Mu Tian's Earth Fire Lizard had dissipated with just a touch from the red-haired little girl among them. If he were touched, he would probably die too.

Of course, more importantly, through these two little girls, slightly larger than a palm, Ma Hongjun confirmed who the person in front of him was.

This was the monster among monsters!

He couldn't afford to provoke him!

Absolutely couldn't afford to provoke him!

"Let's go."

Tang San ignored the extremely nervous Ma Hongjun, greeted the three girls, and headed towards the center of Phoenix City.

Ma Hongjun, who had breathed a sigh of relief, felt like he had survived. He couldn't help but say, "He's really quite easygoing... Forget it, I'm not staying in this place. I'll go check out other places with Phoenix legends. I refuse to believe I can't solve this Evil Fire."

The four people who arrived at the city center no longer thought about Ma Hongjun.

At this moment, with the Feng Wu Tong as the center, the railings within a thousand meters had all been removed. Sanos, the Hall Master of the local Spirit Hall, personally presided over the most crucial ball!

As night gradually fell, flames ignited in the trenches across the entire venue, illuminating the dance floor and intertwining with the stars in the sky.

"Welcome everyone to the annual 'Phoenix Seeks Phoenix' ball!"

Sanos, holding a megaphone-like spirit tool, shouted excitedly, attracting the attention of everyone nearby.

"Perhaps for the locals, this is old news, but I still want to introduce the origin and rules of this grand event to guests and friends from other cities:"

"Legend has it that ten thousand years ago, the Phoenix Spirit Beast underwent Nirvana here, its blood spilling across the sky, staining the outer city walls, and its sacred beast soul resided in this Feng Wu Tong, forever guarding our peace and tranquility."

This grand event was originally used to worship the Phoenix God, but with the development of the times, it gradually became a festival for men and women to express their love. Under the witness of the great divine Phoenix, lovers will eventually become companions!

When this was mentioned, most of the people gathered outside the venue, whether locals or foreign travelers who came from afar, cheered.

Next, I will explain the rules!

First, because the venue is not large, the men and women singing and dancing in this sacred place will be divided into multiple groups. According to the current number of registrants, they will be divided into thirty-three groups, with about a hundred people in each group.

Second, Spirit Masters, commoners, and royalty can all participate, and nobles cannot use their status to oppress others. In this grand event, the Phoenix God treats everyone equally, meaning that today, everyone's status is equal.

Third, both men and women can refuse invitations from others, but they cannot refuse more than three times, otherwise their participation will be disqualified. It would be unpleasant to occupy a spot otherwise.

Fourth, when men and women extend invitations, if the invited person's refusal count is within three times, then the inviter must not force them further.

Fifth...

All in all, Sanos stated a total of twelve rules, finally summarizing: "If you do not wish to abide by the above rules, you may withdraw. However, if you forcefully violate the rules, then I, Sanos, the Hall Master of Phoenix City's Spirit Hall, and the City Lord of Phoenix City, will not forgive anyone who dares to disrupt our rules and traditions!"

As soon as these words were spoken, the atmosphere suddenly became somewhat solemn.

Then, Sanos's tone shifted, and he laughed loudly: "Now, let the ball officially begin! If you receive the approval of the Phoenix God residing on the Feng Wu Tong, you might even be granted a blessing to live happily ever after!"

Immediately, almost everyone cheered!

"Cough cough!" Sanos coughed twice, using a bit of his spirit power, and said loudly: "Now, please welcome the first group of participants to the stage!"

As soon as he finished speaking, a middle-aged woman came to Sanos's side. There were some wrinkles around her eyes, but her face was well-preserved. She was the City Lord of this Phoenix City.

Only today would the City Lord appear in public, enjoying herself with the people.

Through conversations with those around him, Tang San learned some things. This City Lord's name was Feng Xi, and her Spirit was the Wind Spirit Peacock, which possessed Phoenix bloodline. She herself was also Sanos's wife.

Whoa!

Phoenix City belonged to the Heaven Dou Empire. Although it was independent, the fact that the City Lord and the local Hall Master of Spirit Hall were husband and wife was truly unexpected.

Feng Xi took out a list and began to call out names.

Those whose names were called had to enter the venue. If they did not enter after three calls, it meant they had given up, and the next person would take their place.

Upon hearing the words "Guang" and "Wu", Guang Ling and Xiao Wu entered the venue and were arranged in the positions closest to the Feng Wu Tong—privilege was everywhere.

Once a hundred men and women stood in their respective positions, Sanos shouted: "Now, please welcome the partners of these one hundred ladies and gentlemen to the stage!"

"You can choose your pre-determined dance partner, but before the end, you can also invite others."

These words, like those of a devil, tempted men and women of weak will.

This was also, in fact, a test of whether the feelings between couples were sincere.

If one's feelings were not sincere, then after this ball, not only would they fail to gain new love, but their old love would also see through their partner's true colors, leading to the loss of everything in terms of relationships.

Unless one possessed qualities that could make their significant other devoted: wealth, power, or even formidable strength.

Along with the crowd, Tang San, wearing a mask, and Lan Yinzi, veiled, entered the venue.

"Would you like to dance with me?" Tang San extended his right hand to Guang Ling.

"I would!"

Guang Ling unhesitatingly placed her hand in Tang San's, just like that first scene in the village, when Tang San invited her, she had already given her all.

Forever and ever, without regret.

Xiao Wu, who was standing nearby, couldn't help but feel a hint of jealousy, and then Lan Yinzi's gentle voice came to her ear: "My dear sister, would you like to dance with me?"

"Okay, but don't think I've fallen for you. My sexual orientation is normal." Xiao Wu took Lan Yinzi's hand and began to dance.

However, Xiao Wu had never danced before and stepped on Lan Yinzi's toes several times, making Lan Yinzi's eyes twitch in pain.

"I'm sorry, I've never danced before." Xiao Wu's face flushed, and her gaze flickered towards Tang San and Guang Ling, finding that Tang San's dance steps were also very unfamiliar, and Guang Ling would occasionally step on Tang San's foot, continuously apologizing.

Hmm~ I feel much better.

"It's okay, the first time is always a bit awkward." In reality, Lan Yinzi was also very unfamiliar with dancing. Even in her "previous Life," having been here, she had never danced with Tang Hao. Besides him being a "fool," more importantly, she and Tang Hao hadn't truly confirmed their relationship at that time.

On Guang Ling's side, Tang San saw her face flushed with excitement and shame, and he gently said: "Don't be nervous, it's okay, I'm not familiar with it either, am I?"

And Iliex, seeing Tang San truly enjoying the fun of dancing, couldn't help but complain: "By the way, have you forgotten what this grand event is actually for?"

The target is this Feng Wu Tong!

"Illyasviel, just do it, I have other urgent matters right now." Tang San replied, then focused on dancing with Guang Ling, comforting her nervous, restless heart.

"Damn it! Forgetting friends for beauty! Teacher-student relationships weren't really accepted by the world in your previous Life, isn't this too ahead of its time? Also, wasn't this Guang Ling raised by you? Grooming? Scumbag!" Iliex, feeling like he had eaten a large bowl of dog food: (°—° "), "Forget it, who told me, your big brother, to be kind."

Iliex, whose heart was severely attacked, released a wisp of his divine soul into a unique space within the Feng Wu Tong, finding the remnant soul of the Phoenix God.

The Phoenix remnant soul, sensing an intrusion, flapped its wings and darted over, its fiery red eyes filled with ferocity, devoid of any intelligence.

"Only instinct left?" Iliex was an expert in manipulating souls. Even if it was just a wisp of his divine soul, it was not something the Phoenix remnant soul could easily destroy.

"It seems those guys in the God Realm are extremely wary of non-human beast Divinities."

"Is it because of the Dragon God?"

Iliex dodged the attacks of the remnant soul, which was like a completely irrational beast, while speculating on the conflict between Divinities and divine beasts based on the information he had.

Of course, he wasn't just doing these two things.

While dodging, Iliex applied magical patterns throughout this mental space, trapping the Phoenix remnant soul, and then imprinted the edges of the magic onto the barrier of the mental space.

"This way, this remnant soul can be absorbed by the Feng Wu Tong, giving birth to a unique sentience belonging to this Feng Wu Tong. And because this wisp of Phoenix remnant soul has reached the divine level, the Feng Wu Tong can also directly avoid the heavenly tribulation."

Iliex breathed a sigh of relief, then quickly recorded the divine force energy flow patterns on the Phoenix remnant soul, exclaiming: "This is the most precious thing!"

Outside, sensing that Iliex had returned, Tang San, while exchanging dance partners with Lan Yinzi, subtly cast Blue Silver Emperor, submerging it into the Feng Wu Tong. The aura of Life and the Golden Ancient Tree caused the Feng Wu Tong to immediately develop a unique sentience belonging to herself...

...The newly reborn Feng Wu Tong immediately sensed a warm and familiar aura, wanting to leap into Tang San's embrace, but because her sentience was too weak, she couldn't even manifest an energy body, let alone sway her body.

"Don't get excited, grow well. When the time is right, I will come and pick you up."

Tang San's mental force entered it, soothing the tiny sentience.

"That wisp of the Phoenix's remnant soul occupied your body for many years. Now, it has been trapped by my friend. You can absorb it as nourishment."

"In the past, it occupied your mental space for recuperation; now, you absorb its shattered divine soul for growth."

"One good turn deserves another, that's all."

Two chapters written on October 24th, one was blocked, one was under review, it's frustrating, I can only mention it in this chapter.

226: Phoenix City, Phoenix Seeking Phoenix (3)

After Tang San's wisp of mental force separated from Feng Wu Tong's intelligence and returned to his upper Dantian, he focused on dancing with Xiao Wu.

Compared to their earlier awkwardness, their dance steps were now much lighter and more agile.

Spirit Masters have good learning abilities, so even if they were unaccustomed at first for hundreds of years, after a short practice, they could dance more proficiently than ordinary people who had been immersed in dance for many years.

At this moment, Xiao Wu's eyes only held Tang San, and she murmured, "Third Brother, I feel like I'm seeing our wedding, and you're holding my hand, dancing under everyone's gaze."

"Is that so? Then you must be dreaming." Tang San chuckled, "We are siblings."

"Is that so?" Xiao Wu narrowed her eyes, "We're not biological siblings. Don't tell me you can't see it; Grandpa Jack deliberately acknowledged me as his granddaughter from the start to bring us together."

"Huh? Is that so? I really didn't notice..." Tang San played dumb, "If that's truly the case, then isn't it the same for Guang Ling and Lan Yinzi?"

Xiao Wu couldn't help but roll her eyes and say, "Hmph! I'm ignoring you! Guang Ling is one thing, but Lan Yinzi? Don't you know what her relationship with you is?"

"You're really slow when it comes to feelings."

"I've decided! Tonight, I'm going to 'ambush' you. Get ready to be dominated by Xiao Wu Jie, he he he!"

Tang San also couldn't help but roll his eyes back: "Is it your estrus period?"

"What estrus period?" Xiao Wu pouted unhappily, and even with her veil on, a hint of cuteness shone through, "I'm not an ordinary animal, and my mother is always watching. How could I have an estrus period?"

Thus, people dancing nearby could see Tang San and Xiao Wu, a pair wearing masks and veils respectively, dancing while "arguing." They looked like their relationship was very bad, but also very good, almost talking about everything, even topics like "estrus."

Was it because their faces were covered that they were especially bold?

Some people felt that covering their faces was a good idea, as some people are socially anxious, but once they put on a mask, they can become social butterflies, even releasing their true nature.

So, after the group including Tang San, Xiao Wu, Guang Ling, and Lan Yinzi finished, the next group all put on masks, face coverings, or veils—anything that could cover their faces.

This was both to test if their other half could recognize them and to better release their true nature.

However, this would also lead to more emotional disputes...

It was a mixed blessing.

However, these things had nothing to do with Tang San and the others; after all, if others wanted to imitate them, they couldn't stop them, could they?

Most of the people attending this dance were already adults and needed to be responsible for their own actions...

...

Upon returning to the inn, Tang San entered his room and discussed the divine force circulation circuit recorded from the phoenix remnant soul with Ilyas.

"Although it's a remnant soul, the divine force circulation circuit is surprisingly complete."

Ilyas constructed a phoenix divine pattern in his mental force sea, "However, its essential abilities are not fire, but flight and rebirth, or rather, Nirvana."

Phoenixes also have multiple attributes, for example: Ice Phoenix.

Although this phoenix Spirit Beast's attribute was fire, its original abilities represented flight and Nirvana. Especially Nirvana, according to Ilyas's preliminary research and inference, each time a phoenix underwent Nirvana and rebirth, it would become stronger than before. Theoretically, after nine Nirvanas, it could reach a level far surpassing that of a God King in the God Realm.

However, the obvious problems also emerged.

That is, each Nirvana required double the energy of the previous one, and each Nirvana had to start from the weakest state, with too many accidents and uncertainties.

Therefore, even when this phoenix Spirit Beast fell, it did not choose Nirvana. Instead, it relied on its broken divine soul to reside within Feng Wu Tong's mental space, slowly accumulating power of faith to seek a chance to recover its memories and revive.

"Theoretically, the ability of Nirvana can continue indefinitely, ten times, a hundred times, a thousand times, ten thousand times, right?" Tang San observed the phoenix divine pattern for a long time and asked Ilyas.

"Indeed, theoretically, there is no limit, but because the risk of Nirvana is too great, I estimate that no phoenix in the entire World has undergone Nirvana more than nine times."

Ilyas sighed, "Just like this Douluo Continent, pure-blooded Spirit Beasts like True Phoenix and True Phoenix have disappeared, hunted clean, unless other Spirit Beasts with phoenix bloodlines purify their bloodlines by chance..."

"This indeed brings up a problem: powerful bloodlines are rare, not only because they are difficult to survive, but more importantly, because others covet them."

"Does a powerful bloodline truly represent power?"

"Even survival is a problem..."

Tang San interrupted Ilyas's philosophical thoughts, saying, "The method of Nirvana can be added to Mysterious Heaven Skill or mental force cultivation methods later, but that's for the future. Now is not the time to touch upon such a grand concept. Flight, however, can be considered for research."

For Tang San currently, flight was only possible when using the spirit ring fusion secret technique.

Or if he could condense a Spirit core before becoming a Spirit Saint, then he could naturally fly through the air.

Why couldn't he fly now?

Because the 100,000-year Blue Silver Emperor Right Leg Bone had already been stripped off by Tang San himself and returned to Lan Yinzi, so he naturally lost the flight skill.

With Ilyas's help, Tang San, based on the patterns of his Blue Silver Emperor Spirit and combining them with the flight circuit in the phoenix divine pattern, circulated Mysterious Heaven Skill and condensed six pairs of blue-gold energy-like patterns behind him, resembling the Blue Silver Emperor's veins. Their roots connected to his back, appearing golden, and the wings were like energy-transformed Blue Silver Emperor leaves. The longest wingspan exceeded ten meters.

When flying, he didn't rely on flapping his wings to create airflow and lift his body. Instead, he relied on the energy flow within these eight wings to resonate with the World's energy, actively supporting his own weight.

Thus, if he could fly away from Douluo Star in the future and enter outer space, such energy-transformed wings would also be able to resonate with the energy of outer space, thereby achieving the goal of traveling through the World.

"As expected of a phoenix Spirit Beast, it has allowed me to master yet another ability comparable to a divine level."

Tang San was overjoyed, but quickly calmed down, put away the Blue Silver Twelve Wings, and gazed at the stars in the sky, studying the stars of this World with Ilyas, striving to improve the energy circulation circuit of the Star Domain and Zhou Tian Xing Dou Great Array recorded from Xu Xing into the Purple Demon Eye.

Since the Continental Elite Tournament ended, every night before going to bed, Tang San would discuss with Ilyas. Now, he had already created a method that could absorb the power of the stars to train his eyes and mental force.

Ilyas called it: Sun-Moon Dual Pupils Star Brain.

Whoa ~

Tang San dared not compliment Ilyas's naming taste and named it: Cosmic Meditation.

"Tsk ~ Your taste isn't much better than mine." Ilyas clicked his tongue, "Anyway, according to our deductions, by continuously adding meditating stars in the future, one can forge a pair of eyes as brilliant as the sun and moon, and construct a mind as vast and magnificent as a sea of stars."

"How do your descriptive adjectives sound so strange?"

Tang San complained weakly, but he also knew that Ilyas's description was extremely vivid.

His current eyes, around the pupils, already had a hazy energy-like golden and silver color, with tiny white star points within. If one looked closely, they could even notice those stars subtly pulsating.

"Creak ~"

The door to the room suddenly opened, and a figure with electric light suddenly darted onto Tang San's back. Her budding graceful figure made Tang San's thoughts wander.

Ilyas immediately cut off his mental force connection with Tang San and fell into self-isolation.

"Are you serious, Xiao Wu?" Even without turning his head, Tang San realized who was hanging on his back, and even sensed that she wasn't wearing much clothing.

"Xiao Wu Jie always keeps her word and never breaks a promise."

Xiao Wu rested her chin on Tang San's shoulder, her smooth cheek pressed against Tang San's, and her legs wrapped around Tang San like an octopus.

"How is it? Are you getting excited?"

"Hehe!"

Tang San licked his lips, wondering what excuse he could find to refuse. After all, they were still young... or maybe not so young anymore. Counting his previous life's age, he was nearly forty, and Xiao Wu... was even more significant.

So, who was the one eating tender grass?

"Do you want to relax?" Xiao Wu leaned into Tang San's ear and said in a muffled voice, "Cultivating every day always makes one tired, you know. Combining work and rest is the kingly way."

"The scent of Blue Silver Grass on your body makes my mouth water!"

Xiao Wu had hinted to this extent, what else could Tang San do?

He could only sacrifice his life to accompany the girl.

At this moment, the two began another kind of cultivation...

...

The next morning, the two once again began their morning cultivation—

Phoenix cries, and phoenix calls.

The two were like Phoenix Seeks Phoenix, their "songs" lingering and melodious, their "dances" natural and harmonious...

They had been harmonized...

227: No. 9 Shura Town

The morning cultivation quickly ended.

As the two of them emerged composedly from the same room, Guang Ling also happened to walk out from the door opposite, seeing Tang San and Xiao Wu come out of the same room, his eyes were slightly strange.

But Xiao Wu casually brushed it off, taking Guang Ling downstairs for breakfast, without a hint of shyness.

No one could find anything wrong.

However, Lan Yinzi saw that something was off with Xiao Wu, having been through it in her "previous life," she could tell that Xiao Wu was no longer a maiden, but had already transformed into a true woman.

Therefore, Lan Yinzi revealed an aunt-like smile, mixed with a bit of jealousy:

My good son is finally going to achieve a positive result with his good daughter-in-law!

What a pity!

He's also leaving his mother!

I'm really a little reluctant!

Over the next two days, Xiao Wu and Tang San had a new research topic: the study of blood qi vibration frequency, and both of them were tireless in this matter.

But such frequent research activities naturally couldn't be hidden from Guang Ling for long.

On the third day, Guang Ling quietly entered Tang San's room and saw something that left her dumbfounded, wanting to run out, but her legs felt as if filled with lead, staring blankly at Tang San and Xiao Wu's blood qi cultivation research topic.

Finally, Guang Ling was annoyed that the two didn't bring her along to research the new topic, cursed at Tang San for a while, and then eagerly joined the study of blood qi cultivation, conducting a truly meaningful "practice" of the blood qi resonance theory.

As researchers, they must be rigorous!

And Iliex was in a state of self-isolation during this time...

...

Five days later.

The three who had finished their blood qi vibration cultivation research topic, along with Lan Yinzi, were preparing to leave Phoenix City together, but were stopped by Sanos, the Hall Master of the local Spirit Hall.

"Saint Child, could I trouble you for a favor?" In the Spirit Hall's council hall, Sanos had a slightly uneasy expression, and beside him sat his wife, the City Lord of Phoenix City: Feng Xi.

Tang San asked: "What is it?"

"Three hundred li north of Phoenix City, there is a remote town called Shura Town, which has a passage leading to Slaughter City."

Sanos gave a piece of information.

"There are actually more than a dozen such Shura Towns, built in the outer areas of Slaughter City, where Fallen Soul Masters who yearn to enter Slaughter City reside.

It's just that because these Soul Masters haven't wantonly killed outside, the Spirit Hall hasn't sent people to capture them."

"But recently, something happened in Shura Town, The Fallen Soul Masters inside have started running out, and some people say that Slaughter City has been destroyed, and so on..."

"Cities near the other Shura Towns, the local Spirit Halls have also received similar intelligence and have reported it, hoping that the higher-ups will pay attention."

"The Pope has also issued an order and will send two Title Douluo to investigate the situation in Slaughter City."

"And our branch halls near these Shura Towns also need to send people to capture The Fallen who have escaped, to prevent them from attacking villages and civilians."

"Originally, I shouldn't trouble the Saint Child, but a force that has gathered a large number of The Fallen has appeared in that Shura Town."

They also call themselves Evil Soul Masters and have formed the Holy Spirit Cult, extensively recruiting followers."

"The City Lord and I sent people to encircle and suppress them half a month ago, but the Holy Spirit Cult's Cult Master is extremely powerful, and we ended up mutually wounded..."

Honestly, we plan to continue forming a search team to encircle and suppress them after the Phoenix Seeks Phoenix grand event ends, but whether we can take down the opponent is still an unknown."

Tang San didn't expect the Holy Spirit Cult to appear in this era, and that Slaughter City had actually undergone changes... But when soldiers come, generals resist, and when water comes, earth covers, so he asked:

"Regarding the Holy Spirit Cult, haven't you reported it to the higher-ups?"

"We reported it, but the main force of the higher-ups is currently investigating the situation in Slaughter City and doesn't have time to deal with the Holy Spirit Cult, after all, this cult only stays in the Shura Town on our side."

Sanos smiled bitterly, "Therefore, I earnestly requested the Saint Child to help eliminate that Holy Spirit Cult and the Evil Soul Masters."

"Evil Soul Masters, as long as there are people who crave power and become addicted to it, can never be completely eliminated."

Tang San felt that one person couldn't change this point, it required the people of the entire Continent to work together to promote the development of the era and popularize basic education to gradually change it, "However, I will handle the matter in Shura Town."

"By the way, there are more than a dozen Shura Towns, are they all called Shura Town? Won't they get mixed up?"

Hearing Tang San agree, the wrinkles on Sanos' forehead smoothed out, and he smiled: "No, because they have numbers, there are a total of sixteen Shura Towns, the one three hundred li outside our city is Nine No. Asura Town."

Thus, a day later, Sanos and Feng Xi assembled a legion of three hundred Soul Masters and over a thousand knights to crusade against the Holy Spirit Cult, heading towards Nine No. Asura Town.

Half a day later, the legion had already arrived at Nine No. Asura Town.

The town was not large, but to be safe, Feng Xi still dispatched five hundred knights to block the main exits leading out of the town, leaving three hundred knights to set up camp on the spot, while the remaining two hundred knights and three hundred Soul Masters were led by Feng Xi to investigate inside the town.

Tang San, Xiao Wu, Guang Ling, Lan Yinzi, and others followed in this five-hundred-strong investigation team.

At this time, all four of them took off their masks and veils, and everyone else recognized them, all were excited and exhilarated—they were actually able to act together with the champions of the Continental Elite Tournament!

It was truly too lucky!

Walking into Nine No. Asura Town, Tang San's Spiritual Power spread out, investigating everything around him, and he found that the entire town was filled with corpses, and they were all mummified corpses.

And in a building similar to a church in the center, there was an extremely strong bloody aura.

"These Evil Soul Masters of the Holy Spirit Cult can be said to be a fallen version of The Fallen, they have no humanity left at all."

Feng Xi looked at the mummified corpses dragged out of the houses by the Soul Masters, checked the clothes on them, and said angrily, "These are ordinary civilians living in the villages near Phoenix City.

Recently, village chiefs have been reporting to us that elderly people, children, and women have gone missing from the villages.

We didn't expect them to be captured by these Evil Soul Masters and have their blood sucked."

Looking at the mummified corpse of a seven or eight-year-old child, Tang San's eyes also turned cold: "Evil Soul Masters, they are not human!"

Everyone was filled with righteous indignation, searching along the way, moving the mummified corpses out of the houses and piling them by the roadside, preparing to take them back together later for disposal and burial—if the corpses were not dealt with, they would breed plague.

When everyone arrived in front of the church, the people inside had already come out, standing in strict formation, ready for battle.

These people were all wearing black cloaks with red lining, with hoods on their heads, their faces were unclear, half male and half female, and they were dressed very revealingly, especially the women, it wouldn't be an exaggeration to say they were "bare-chested and exposed".

"Heh heh, you're here again, we're not opposing your Spirit Hall, so why bother us?" A young and hoarse voice sounded, and those wearing cloaks made way, a person wearing a red cloak with black lining and a white hood walked out, judging by his appearance, he should be very young.

"Hmph!

You arbitrarily capture nearby villagers and harm their lives, that is against the laws of nature!"

Feng Xi snorted coldly, raising her right arm high, and the two hundred knights bent their bows and nocked their arrows.

Among the three hundred Soul Masters, energy-type Defense System Soul Masters were in front, long-range output Strong attack system Soul Masters were at the back, and melee control-type Soul Masters were scattered on both sides, constantly vigilant against the opponent's sneak attack.

The remaining scout-type agility-attack system Soul Masters scattered, investigating the entire town, checking if there were other Evil Soul Masters hiding in the Darkness, or if there were any hidden passages to escape to the outside world.

"The strong prey on the weak, that is the law of nature.

Who says that people cannot be treated as food by others?"

The young man chuckled coldly, his gaze hidden under the hood sweeping over the more than five hundred people opposite, thinking about how much Soul Power these "meat" could increase for him, when he noticed Tang San and the others, his smile abruptly stopped.

"I'll give you one last chance, surrender, and you can avoid death!"

Seeing that the other party was stubborn, Feng Xi's expression turned cold, and she issued the final warning, her raised arm about to swing down.

"Go, kill them!"

The young man came back to his senses, quietly retreated backward, and ordered the others to go forward.

It was at this moment that countless Blue Silver Emperor emerged from the ground, binding all these Evil Soul Masters.

"Release!"

At this moment, Feng Xi gave an order, the knights released their bowstrings, and the arrows converged into an arrow rain, shooting towards the living targets bound by the Blue Silver Emperor.

The long-range output Soul Masters also aimed at their targets and unleashed their Soul Skills.

If the enemy couldn't move, and they still missed too much, they could just go home, wash up, and go to bed.

"Roar!"

A fierce roar came from the Endless Grassland, a bloody four-headed Earth Dragon broke free from the Blue Silver Emperor, spewing blood-red Fire, disregarding the lives of its own people, and even bit down on an Evil Soul Master wearing a black cloak with red lining, sucking its blood.

Its enormous body, over twenty meters long, had black patterns flowing on its blood-red skin.

Although it spewed Fire, it gave off an especially chilling feeling.

Guang Ling held the Sun Chasing Bow, drawing the bow like a full moon, activating his second Soul Skill, Golden Sun Aura, and his Soul Power condensed into a Light element arrow.

Whoosh—

228: News from the Holy Spirit Cult: The leader can't last more than one chapter

Chapter 228: News of the Holy Spirit Cult... The Cult Master Won't Last More Than One Chapter

The light arrow shot out in an instant, piercing through one of the blood-colored four-headed Earth Dragon's heads, then, triggered by Guang Ling's spirit power, the light element arrow exploded.

Boom!

In just an instant, the exploding arrow rain from the light element arrow burst open one of its heads, and the secondary damage caused by the scattered light element arrows' explosion inflicted no small amount of injury.

“First Soul Skill: Crimson Gold Aura!”

Immediately after, Guang Ling condensed another arrow with sharp properties. The two blades on her Sun Chasing Bow also condensed into two energy-form blades, floating on either side of the arrowhead.

Whoosh—

The Crimson Gold arrow shot out, aiming for the neck of the blood-colored Earth Dragon's second head. Its extreme penetrative power, coupled with the sharpness of the two energy-form blades, actually cut it off directly.

Plop!

The head that fell to the ground turned into a puddle of blood, flowing towards the Earth Dragon, and then a new head grew back. Even the first head that Guang Ling had destroyed also regrew.

“A very strange Life form.” Guang Ling frowned slightly. “It seems like a Spirit, but also not. Its appearance looks similar to Shrek Mu Tian’s Earth Fire Lizard, but it’s more ferocious and evil.”

“Mu Tian?”

Reminded by Guang Ling, Tang San instantly remembered who the young man in the outer red, inner black cloak was.

He hadn’t expected him to become an Evil Soul Master.

“It’s that guy.” Xiao Wu had no good feelings for Mu Tian. It wasn’t because he was a Shrek member, but because when Tang San was hunting for his Second spirit ring, this kid had needlessly caused trouble, bossing them around... Rabbits are very vengeful.

And now, this guy had fallen to such a state.

The Fallen are not even considered human!

Karma truly comes full circle!

“Bastard, you wasted the blood I painstakingly absorbed! Unforgivable!” The blood-colored Earth Dragon spoke human words, its wings spread behind it, about to fight Guang Ling and the others to the death, but Mu Tian stopped it, saying, “Don’t go head-to-head. Let’s leave here first. You’ve seen my memories, you should know who the person standing next to that girl is, right?”

Bright Moon’s gaze was extremely solemn.

Tang San...

A five-ringed hundred-thousand-year Spirit Master, capable of contending with a Level 98 Super Douluo. If he truly made a move, I might really be finished.

Thinking of this, Bright Moon no longer lingered in battle. After breaking free from the Blue Silver Emperor, it took Mu Tian and flew into the sky.

“Attack!”

Feng Xi shouted to everyone.

And Guang Ling, at Tang San’s signal, drew her bow again. This time, four spirit rings shone simultaneously.

Crimson Gold Aura, Golden Sun Aura, Lightning Aura, and Ice and Snow Aura. Four arrows condensed simultaneously, held by Guang Ling, aimed at the four heads of the blood-colored four-headed dragon.

For ordinary Spirit Masters, Spirit Abilities need to be used one after another. Some special Spirits, such as Nine Hearted Sea 棠 and Seven Treasure Glazed Tile Pagoda, allow multiple Spirit Abilities to be used simultaneously as long as the Spirit Master’s mental force is strong.

How could Guang Ling use four Spirit Abilities simultaneously?

Besides her strong mental force, more importantly, bow and arrow Spirits can inherently shoot multiple arrows simultaneously, as long as the Spirit Master has corresponding control and technique, and meticulous control over their spirit power.

Moreover, Guang Ling’s Sun Chasing Bow is constantly evolving, from its initial most ordinary Iron Bow to its current features of sharp blades, wings, spider patterns, and ice crystals. Furthermore, there are four patterns resembling spirit tool circuits—crimson, gold, blue, and white—on the bow itself. Each time a Spirit Ability is used, it can draw corresponding energy from the world to strengthen the Spirit.

It can be said that the current Sun Chasing Bow, in terms of Spirit quality, can already rival the Clear Sky Hammer of the Clear Sky Sect.

Currently, with Guang Ling's mental force, she can only shoot four arrows simultaneously. In the future, she might even be able to condense four arrows into one.

Furthermore, Tang San hopes that she will eventually be able to freely combine and compose various elemental powers to achieve a "thousand changes" effect with her arrows.

Even if Guang Ling can only possess nine elemental powers in the future, each elemental power, when combined and condensed with different amounts of energy, can still form arrows with various different abilities and effects.

Achieving this step is very difficult for others; in fact, they might not even know where to begin.

But for Guang Ling, there is a relevant reference—spirit tools.

spirit tool circuits.

Twelve basic spirit tool runes.

The combination of elements has a similar effect to the spirit tool patterns inside different spirit tools.

It is precisely because Guang Ling herself is interested in spirit tools, immersed in them, and has researched new types of Life-oriented spirit tools, that Tang San dares to assert that in the distant future, Guang Ling will be able to achieve various unimaginable effects with her Sun Chasing Bow Spirit.

However, this is still in the future.

And now, Guang Ling has just begun—

As the four arrows shot out, they instantly caught up to Bright Moon, who had flown a certain distance. The Crimson Gold arrow pierced and cut off one of its heads; the Golden Sun arrow exploded mid-flight, turning into countless arrow rain, covering it comprehensively; the Lightning arrow split into twelve arrows, forming an electric net that restricted its movement, causing its massive body to fall towards the ground.

The final Ice and Snow arrow directly hit one of the remaining three heads, spreading a freezing aura that completely bound it.

“Good! Watch me!”

Xiao Wu clenched her fists, her Fifth spirit ring flashing. Golden flame-like energy condensed, forming a rabbit shape.

Blazing Flame Fist!

Xiao Wu punched out the golden flame rabbit, hitting Bright Moon and Mu Tian, who had been heavily wounded by Guang Ling’s four arrows.

Boom!

In an instant, a dazzling explosion occurred in the sky, creating a blinding fireworks display. The resulting wind swept down, forcing Feng Xi and the others to raise their hands to block it.

“So strong!”

“Is this really the power of a Spirit King level?”

“As expected of the Continental Elite Tournament champions, they are terrifyingly strong. Ordinary Spirit Masters encountering them would probably need to surpass them by a major rank to even barely contend, right?”

“No, at least two major ranks, especially Tang San. When he goes all out, he can fight the Supreme Pontiff to a draw!”

Feng Xi, who reacted first, stopped everyone’s discussion and had someone bring over the Holy Spirit Cult leader who had fallen from the explosion.

Alive, see the person; dead, see the corpse.

When Mu Tian was brought to the team, his whole body was scorched, his hair and beard curled and blackened, stuck to his scalp, and his face was beyond recognition. Even familiar people would find it difficult to recognize who this was.

“Still has a breath, his Life is really tough.” Tang San put his hands in his pockets and said to Feng Xi, “City Lord Feng Xi, simply treat him a bit, then tie him up and send him to Spirit Hall in Heaven Dou City. Have Salas contact the Seven Treasure Glazed Tile School.”

Although Tang San, Guang Ling, and the Seven Treasure Glazed Tile School have cooperation in terms of spirit tools, cooperation is cooperation, and friendship is friendship. When it comes to principles and bottom lines, one must view it objectively.

The Fallen, Evil Soul Master...

With conclusive evidence, Tang San believed that Ning Fengzhi would make the most appropriate choice.

“Seven Treasure Glazed Tile School?” Feng Xi had intended to kill Mu Tian directly to eliminate future troubles, but at this moment, she had to consider the consequences of acting directly.

This guy, is he from the Seven Treasure Glazed Tile School?

That would be more troublesome.

“This guy, named Mu Tian, was a member of the Shrek Academy team in the Continental Elite Tournament. I just don’t know why, after the tournament ended, he didn’t stay in the Seven Treasure Glazed Tile School but instead came to this Shura Town and became one of The Fallen...”

Tang San introduced Mu Tian’s situation in more detail, “Currently, Spirit Hall and the Seven Treasure Glazed Tile School are in a cooperative relationship (Spirit Hall is the protected party for intellectual property applications and patent protection), and the Sect Master's daughter, Ning Rongrong, has also personally joined Spirit Hall. It would be best if this matter isn't spread externally and the Seven Treasure Glazed Tile School resolves it privately."

"Understood."

Feng Xi's husband, Sanos, is the Hall Master of the local Spirit Hall in Phoenix City, so she herself leans towards Spirit Hall and would never do anything detrimental to it.

Especially since many people were analyzing the situation of each member of the Heaven Dou Royal Battle Team, among them, Ning Rongrong of the Seven Treasure Glazed Tile School had feelings of admiration for Tang San.

If Ning Rongrong truly becomes Tang San's person in the future, then even if the Seven Treasure Glazed Tile School remains an independent force, it will be a faction close to Spirit Hall.

Therefore, it's best not to offend them if possible...

...

Outside the Clear Sky Sect.

Tang Chen looked at the small village outside the Sect, his face extremely grim: "When did the Clear Sky Sect need to use such a small village for disguise?"

"And you still have the nerve to recuperate?"

"If it were me, I would have fought back long ago! Why endure such humiliation? Truly a bunch of cowards... In comparison, you at least have some backbone."

Tang Hao was overwhelmed with shame, bowing his head as if he had no face to confront any of this.

“Who are you? Our village does not welcome outsiders, please leave!” Two villagers carrying hoes saw Tang Chen and Tang Hao staying outside the village and immediately scurried over, secretly telling someone to report the news.

Tang Hao said nothing, directly releasing his Clear Sky Hammer Spirit.

The two villagers immediately became reserved, and envy showed in their eyes. After all, only those with the Clear Sky Hammer Spirit were true direct descendants of the Sect.

And they weren’t even gatekeepers; they were only responsible for leading travelers and outsiders who mistakenly entered this place out—even if the Clear Sky Sect was closed off, not just anyone could trespass.

Soon after, two twins with nine-tenths similar faces arrived at the village entrance. Seeing Tang Hao, excitement appeared in their eyes: “Second Uncle, you’re back!”

Although Tang Hao had been expelled from the Clear Sky Sect, there were still many juniors in the Sect who greatly admired Tang Hao, after all, he was the one who killed the Supreme Pontiff (though he didn’t actually die directly by Tang Hao’s hand).

“Tang Long, Tang Hu, it’s you two.” Tang Hao forced a smile on his face, then looked at the middle-aged man beside him with a respectful gaze, “I’m back, with Grandpa—”

“Grandpa?” X2

Tang Long and Tang Hu were stunned, looking at Tang Chen, recalling where they had once seen this face—

This was the former Sect Master’s father, the legendary super Douluo who had reached Level 99!

Tang Chen!

At the same time, he was also the great-grandfather of all current Clear Sky Sect disciples!

He actually came back!

Two hundred twenty-six and two hundred twenty-seven have been blocked and are being unblocked...

229: Tang Chen returns to Haotian

(Part 1)

“Great Ancestor! Please!”

Tang Long and Tang Hu hastily led the way outside, but Tang Chen leaped, bringing Tang Hao, Tang Long, and Tang Hu across several thousand meters to the Clear Sky Sect mountain gate.

Tang Hao still had some perception, but Tang Long and Tang Hu only felt their eyes blur, and then they found that their surroundings had changed from the small village to the open space in front of the Sect.

“Is this the power of a super Douluo?”

“It's too powerful!”

At this moment, Tang Long and Tang Hu had no more doubts; the middle-aged man in front of them was none other than the former Sect Master: Tang Chen, the supreme expert whose cultivation was unmatched in the current era!

“Who dares to trespass into the Clear Sky Sect!”

Sensing the spirit power pressure of a super Douluo, the Five Great Elders and the current Sect Master, Tang Xiao, all poured out from within the Sect, accompanied by their respective nine spirit rings, and arrived at the Sect entrance.

“Brother Hao!”

Although Tang Hao's face was weathered and he had a full beard, looking unkempt, Tang Xiao recognized him immediately, his eyes filled with pleasant surprise, and he quickly put away his Spirit and spirit rings.

However, the other Five Great Elders still held their Clear Sky Hammers, vigilant towards Tang Hao and the person beside him.

Although he looked familiar, this pressure suggested that the newcomers meant trouble!

"Big Brother!" Tang Hao was also incredibly excited to see Tang Xiao again, and quickly introduced, "Elders, don't act rashly, this is my father, the former Clear Sky Douluo."

"You are...!" The Second Elder finally remembered who the person in front of him was, and his body trembled.

"Ho~ It seems I haven't been forgotten by the Clear Sky Sect." Tang Chen flicked his right hand, and spirit power erupted, sending the Five Elders flying backward instantly, spitting blood, their internal organs churning.

But no one was afraid or scared; their eyes were full of excitement and thrill.

The backbone of the Clear Sky Sect!

He's back!

"You are all truly useless. Becoming a Titled Douluo, yet so weak, you've completely disgraced the Clear Sky Hammer." Tang Chen cursed, "Now, I don't even have the mood to teach you a lesson."

Tang Xiao helped the Five Elders up, and together they knelt, admitting their mistake to Tang Chen.

As for what they did wrong, they didn't know; anyway, Tang Chen was the strongest, and what he said was correct, the supreme decree that Hao Tian Disciples needed to obey unconditionally!

“From now on, Tang Hao returns to the Sect.” Tang Chen issued his first command, “Just because he killed the former Spirit Hall Pope, you expelled him from the Sect and chose to live in seclusion. You truly trampled the Clear Sky prestige and pride I established into worthlessness.”

“When I fought Qian Daoliu back then, I always thought of killing each other. Why don’t you have even a shred of that fighting Spirit?”

“No wonder the Clear Sky Sect has fallen to this state today.”

“If Spirit Hall wants to fight, we will fight them. What if they have more Titled Douluo? Will other Sects just watch the Clear Sky Sect be annihilated? Don’t other Sects understand the principle of ‘when the lips are gone, the teeth are cold’?”

“If you aren’t ruthless, you deserve to be suppressed!”

Tang Xiao and the Five Great Elders were filled with shame. Even if they had different thoughts, they dared not voice them at this moment, after all, this one was an overwhelmingly domineering figure.

“Oh, and Tang Hao’s son, Tang San, although his Spirit isn’t the Clear Sky Hammer, he also has the Clear Sky Sect’s bloodline and should return to the ancestral Sect. After all, Tang Hao’s grandson has far more fighting Spirit than all of you. Even if it’s an act of furious impulsiveness for a woman, he’s still stronger than you.” Regarding direct bloodline descendants whose Spirit wasn’t the Clear Sky Hammer, Tang Chen actually wouldn’t pay too much attention, but he was Tang Hao’s son after all, and Tang Hao said that Tang San’s strength was good, and his Blue Silver Grass Spirit had been developed to a very strong level... He was his direct great-grandson, so he had to save some face.

However, as soon as he finished speaking, Tang Xiao and the Five Elders’ expressions turned strange, especially Tang Xiao, who even stared at Tang Hao and asked, “Brother Hao, you haven’t paid any attention to outside matters all these years, have you?”

“The Continental Elite Tournament is over, right? My son achieved good results?” Tang Hao recalled fighting the four-ring Tang San before. If that secret technique was used, winning the championship wouldn’t be a problem.

Although Spirit Hall was a bit troublesome, they wouldn’t withhold prizes, and Tang San’s Spirit was Blue Silver Grass. Spirit Hall couldn’t possibly connect him to the Clear Sky Sect just because his surname was Tang, could they?

There are many people in the world with the surname Tang!

“It seems you don’t understand your son at all.” Suddenly, Tang Xiao felt that giving Ah Yin to his younger brother back then was a mistake.

After all, from the current situation, Tang Hao didn't even know his son had twin spirits.

As a husband, he couldn't protect his wife, which was unacceptable, though in that situation, there was truly no way...

As a father, even his child didn't trust him, concealing the matter of his twin spirits. There was no excuse for that...

“What exactly happened?”

Tang Hao realized that something might have happened to Tang San, and in his excitement, his spirit power leaked out. That ninety-sixth-level peak, nearly ninety-seventh-level spirit power, made Tang Xiao and the Five Elders tremble—could it be that Tang Hao had been diligently cultivating all these years, solely focused on avenging himself against Spirit Hall, which led to Tang San being almost completely neglected during his growth, to the point where he didn't care about his Clear Sky Sect bloodline at all?

“Grandfather, Brother Hao, please follow me.” Tang Xiao led the two to the deliberation hall, had someone pull up a screen, and pressed the button on the Sub-Mother Soul Guidance Photography Ball, playing the video of the Continental Elite Tournament, mainly the Heaven Dou Royal Battle Team's combat footage.

“Two rings, a thousand years; four rings, ten thousand years; five rings, a hundred thousand years.” Tang Chen paid no attention to the marvel of the Sub-Mother Soul Guidance Photography Ball, his sharp gaze fixed on the hundred-thousand-year spirit ring hovering beside Tang San in the footage. “Moreover, his utilization of physical strength and control over spirit power have reached an extremely high level, even faintly containing a vibrating rhythm within it...”

Seeing Tang Chen's gaze, Tang Hao immediately shook his head: “Grandfather, I only taught him the Rampaging Wind Technique. At first, I thought his Blue Silver Grass Spirit awakening meant his talent was too poor, so I gave him a foundation to establish himself. I never even mentioned Clear Sky Nine Absolutes or Great Sumeru Hammer to him.”

Clear Sky Nine Absolutes and Great Sumeru Hammer were both secret techniques of the Clear Sky Sect, not to be passed down. Even direct disciples within the Sect who possessed the Clear Sky Hammer Spirit needed to at least reach the Spirit Saint level to cultivate these two unique arts.

“So, he comprehended it himself through the Rampaging Wind Technique, which uses borrowed force to strike? Applying it to explosive power, compared to the Clear Sky Nine Absolutes, it focuses more on physical training rather than attack. Besides that, there seems to be a method that can stimulate qi and blood...”

Through the footage, Tang Chen could deduce a lot, but he wasn't clear on exactly how Tang San stimulated the power of qi and blood. However, he vaguely felt that if he could find a way to circulate qi and blood, it would also be a means to repair his own damaged body.

Circulating qi and blood?

What a genius idea!

This Tang San truly has extraordinary comprehension. If the Clear Sky Sect had him, it would surely grow even stronger.

However, the subsequent footage left Tang Chen with a head full of questions.

twin spirits were not unusual, but why did the Clear Sky Hammer turn into a five-headed... metallic Earth Dragon? Was the Clear Sky Hammer a Beast Spirit? Or was it because Tang San was the child of a hundred-thousand-year transformed Spirit Beast, causing the Clear Sky Hammer to mutate in such a bizarre way?

Tang Hao, on the other hand, clenched his fists tightly, thinking, “Good! So that ‘Three Thousand Worlds of Creation and Destruction’ back then used the power of the Clear Sky Hammer!”

As for why Tang San’s Clear Sky Hammer had such extreme destructive power, Tang Hao didn’t even consider it. At this moment, he only had one thought: Tang San was his son!

And—

Cutting off their father-son relationship so decisively back then was indeed a bit too rash.

Next, Tang Chen and Tang Hao saw Tang San, using his self-improved spirit ring fusion method, condense a unique spirit ring, his strength soaring. He fiercely battled the current Spirit Hall Pope in the air, and the two even jointly used an attack similar to a Martial Soul Fusion Skill, crushing and defeating a Golden Crocodile True Body that had intervened in the battle.

This part of the video was somewhat blurry, but Tang Chen keenly noticed a wisp of golden light appearing after the Golden Crocodile True Body was defeated... Qian Daoliu had made his move!

What is extraordinary talent?

This is it!

Tang Chen had never seen such a monstrous individual, a Spirit King fighting against a Titled Douluo, even battling a ninety-eighth-level expert... If they were the same age, he would probably be crushed by that Tang San, wouldn't he?

At this moment, Tang Chen was actually moved, wanting to spar with Tang San, his great-grandson.

Then, Tang Chen saw the final scene—

Bibi Dong announced that Tang San had joined Spirit Hall, and had even become Spirit Hall's Saint Son...

In an instant, the entire meeting room fell silent.

Unlike Tang Hao's furious shouts of "Unfilial son," Tang Chen's face was calm. He even slapped Tang Hao to the ground, shouting, "Shut up!"

Immediately, Tang Hao dared not say another word.

As for Tang San joining Spirit Hall, Tang Chen himself was surprised, but he wasn't too angry, even feeling it was natural. Just as in the video, before Tang San challenged Bibi Dong, he said, "Please conquer me." Did he join Spirit Hall afterward because he was conquered by the current Supreme Pontiff?

This feeling was a bit subtle.

Moreover, the current Supreme Pontiff was not an owner of the Angel Spirit... When did his old friend become so open-minded? Oh, this Bibi Dong seemed to have said that she was a Divinity inheritor.

No wonder.

Furthermore, the appearance of this new device capable of recording and playing footage could also expand this propaganda, thereby encouraging more Spirit Masters to side with Spirit Hall... She lacked neither talent, strength, nor means, and if the Angel lineage had no successor, she truly could suppress them.

If the position of Spirit Hall's Supreme Pontiff in the future was not based on bloodline, then Tang San might indeed become Spirit Hall's next Supreme Pontiff.

At that time, would his old friend's family fortune take the surname Tang?

Unlike the Five Elders, who felt this method trampled the pride of the Clear Sky Sect, in Tang Chen's eyes, this was something Tang San earned through his own talent and strength!

What was there to be ashamed of?

These Elders only dared to fight amongst themselves, that was the most shameful!

The first two chapters have been released... I didn't expect that metaphors like two armies clashing, flooding seven armies, and the language immersion of Nora from "Atomic Heart" wouldn't work. Qidian is getting stricter and stricter...

230: Tang Chen returns to Haotian Sect (Part 2)

“Brother Hao, how did you raise your son?” From the recorded video of the Continental Elite Tournament, Tang Chen could tell that the relationship between Tang San and Tang Hao was not close. Otherwise, when Bibi Dong invited Tang San to join Spirit Hall, he would at most show hesitation, not say something like “Please conquer me.”

Although the matter of his great-grandson becoming the Spirit Hall Saint Child...

To him, it was indeed very delicate.

“I basically didn’t raise him much. In fact, after he concealed the Clear Sky Hammer from me, I directly cut ties with him. After all, the Blue Silver Grass couldn’t compare to the Clear Sky Hammer, so I originally intended for him to live a peaceful Life...” Tang Hao’s face was red, but he still recounted his six years of decadence in Saint Spirit Village.

As for Ah Yin’s disappearance, he didn’t mention it. After all, his Elder brother was still thinking of Ah Yin, and if it were known that he had carelessly allowed Ah Yin’s reborn seedling to be stolen, his Elder brother, the Elders, and his grandfather would probably look down on him even more.

No matter how disheartened he was, that bit of self-respect still remained.

Fortunately, everyone present, including Tang Chen, didn’t know that a 100,000-year-old plant Spirit Beast could be reborn through its seeds after sacrificing itself... Yue Hua probably wouldn’t tell his Elder brother.

“You, oh, you!” Tang Chen didn’t know what to say, but since it had already happened, there was no point in dwelling on it, as that would only cause internal discord.

“First Elder, since you’ve returned, why not take back control of the Clear Sky Sect?” The Second Elder suggested excitedly, “With you here, the Clear Sky Sect will surely be restored to its former glory!”

“Yes, First Elder!” The other Elders chimed in.

Tang Xiao also intended to relinquish the position of Sect Master of the Clear Sky Sect.

After all, ever since he became the Sect Master, he had constantly been subjected to the whims of the Five Elders, finding the position unpleasant and preferring the freedom of being an Elder.

Tang Xiao even suspected that his father, a dignified Titled Douluo, might have been directly angered to death, possibly due to staying in that position for too long, constantly bickering with the Elders, accumulating exhaustion, and finally being stimulated by Brother Hao’s matter, leading to a breakdown... Otherwise, how could a Titled Douluo be so easily angered to death?

As the Sect expands, there are more things to consider.

Sigh~

He still missed the time when he, Brother Hao, and Ah Yin traveled together. How wonderful it would be if they could return to the past.

“The position of Clear Sky Sect Master will still be held by Xiao’er. Since I have already stepped down, there is no reason for me to take it up again, and my body is not in its peak condition...”

At Tang Chen’s signal, Tang Hao concisely described Tang Chen’s experience of receiving the Asura God’s inheritance in Slaughter City and getting lost during the God’s Trial.

“Grandfather is currently undergoing the Asura God’s trial, but his body is now being corroded by the Scarlet Nine-Headed Bat King, so he needs to recuperate first.”

“If there were some peerless medicinal herbs, the effect would surely be even better.”

The Five Elders immediately stated that they would order members of the Sect to search the nearby undeveloped primeval forests to find precious medicinal herbs capable of restoring Tang Chen’s body.

“Right now, our Clear Sky Sect needs to accumulate strength.” If Tang Chen were at his peak, he naturally wouldn’t compromise like this, but at this time, he had no choice. After all, Spirit Hall was powerful and had Qian Daoliu and Bibi Dong, two peerless experts. Although the two were at odds, if the Clear Sky Sect were to directly announce its re-emergence, it would surely attract Spirit Hall’s attention.

Especially his great-grandson, who had caused the Seven Treasure Glazed Tile School and the Blue Lightning Tyrant Dragon Clan to become closer to Spirit Hall. Or rather, those two Sects had no direct conflict of interest with Spirit Hall, and they could gain benefits, or under the general trend, it was not impossible for them to completely pledge allegiance to Spirit Hall.

But his Clear Sky Sect was different; that pride absolutely could not be lost!

Moreover, Qian Daoliu and he were both old friends and sworn enemies. How could he be willing for his family to work under Spirit Hall?

Wouldn’t that mean that he, Tang Chen, was inferior to Qian Daoliu?

Absolutely not!

“Everything will wait until my injuries are healed and I inherit the God Position of Asura.” Tang Chen said in a deep voice, “Slaughter God Domain, whoever obtains this Domain is one of the candidates for the Asura God. It depends on which candidate can continuously evolve the Slaughter God Domain to achieve the Asura Domain... Although Slaughter City still exists, The Fallen inside have been killed by me and Brother Hao. If you want to obtain the Slaughter God Domain, there is no way to open the Hell Road again, going there is useless.”

“However, I have already completed the Asura’s Eight Trials. The Asura Domain can create an illusion. For those who pass the trial, I can split off a trace of Asura Domain aura and attach it to their Spirit. As long as it is nourished with killing intent, there is a chance for the Slaughter God Domain to be born.”

With that, Tang Chen squeezed his right hand, and a Clear Sky Hammer radiating endless killing intent appeared, entirely crimson, like a branding iron.

Then, the Clear Sky Hammer began to melt and reassemble, transforming into a blood-colored longsword, over two meters long, covered in dark gold patterns, with a strange energy flowing on it. Everyone present felt an innate sense of oppression, and the Clear Sky Hammer within their bodies trembled with fear.

“This is the divine tool I wield, and also my current Spirit: Asura Sword!” Tang Chen introduced, “The eighth trial of the Asura God’s Trial is to face one’s inner self and condense one’s own Spirit into the form of a divine tool.”

“However, this Asura Sword is currently only a demigod tool. There are two ways to fully condense it—”

“First, I truly complete the Asura’s Nine Trials and achieve the God Position of Asura, and this sword will naturally condense into a true divine tool.”

“Second, is... forget it, no need to mention it.”

The second method was for Tang Chen to consume his own Life force and cultivation to nurture the Asura Sword, bringing it forth prematurely and achieving its divine tool status.

But this was the last resort.

Unless it was absolutely necessary, Tang Chen would never do that.

But if it truly came to the point of no return, sacrificing himself to achieve a divine tool and leaving it in the Clear Sky Sect, perhaps in the future, the Clear Sky Sect could also become a sacred land for Divinity inheritance like Sea God Island...

...

“Thank you for your assistance, Saint Child!”

Outside Phoenix City, Sanos and Feng Xi saw Tang San and the others off, expressing their gratitude.

“No worries, we were just joining in the fun.”

Tang San understood that before heading to Nine No. Asura Town, Sanos and Feng Xi must have already investigated the place and secretly sealed it off. Even the passage to Slaughter City was closed, otherwise Mu Tian and the others wouldn't have hidden in that church, and even tried to confront them head-on at that time.

Of course, it's also possible that after Spirit Masters become The Fallen, their thinking and logic differ from normal humans; they are more impulsive, irritable, extremely arrogant, and crazy, so they chose to confront them head-on...

“Saint Child, please don't say that. If you hadn't joined, there would likely have been very heavy casualties.”

Sanos had experienced the terror of The Fallen, and the Evil Soul Masters of the Holy Spirit Cult were even more powerful. Last time, they had fought the Holy Spirit Cult to a draw.

This time, if it weren't for the Saint Child and the others' assistance, even if they could win, there would probably be huge casualties. Unlike now, there was hardly a single seriously injured person.

Sanos and Feng Xi led their team to escort Tang San and the others for nearly a hundred miles before returning the way they came.

After Tang San and the others had walked a hundred miles, they headed towards Nine No. Asura Town and arrived at the church where the Holy Spirit Cult was originally located.

Inside the church, the surrounding walls were covered with strange blood-colored patterns, and directly in front, there was a blood-colored bat statue with nine heads, made of human bones.

Tang San summoned Wu Tong and had her burn it.

In the blazing fire, the statue turned to dust, which was then blown away by Wu Tong.

A blood-colored rune was revealed on the ground.

Boom!

Tang San punched out, smashing a large hole in it, revealing an opening about seven or eight meters wide and twenty meters deep.

But at a depth of twenty meters, there were all sorts of debris: chairs, stones, trees, and the corpses of animals and humans.

Undoubtedly, this was the path to Slaughter City, but it had been blocked by various things.

“It stinks!” Xiao Wu pinched her nose, frowned, and vigorously fanned the air in front of her. “Sanos and the others blocked the entrance to Slaughter City in this way?”

“This is the simplest method, and the stench can also deter most Spirit Masters from exploring... Even Evil Soul Masters, their noses should be no different from ordinary people.” Tang San had Wu Lin also come out, and together with Wu Tong, they used the power of ice and fire to burn and destroy the debris below... In less than thirty minutes, a deep passage was revealed.

Tang San was the first to jump in, followed closely by Xiao Wu, Guang Ling, and Lan Yinzi.

Lan Yinzi, possessing the 100,000-year Blue Silver Emperor Right Leg Bone, could fly.

[Having a wife means forgetting your mother!] Lan Yinzi complained in her heart, then felt a chill and shivered, saying, “It’s a bit cold here.”

This chill came from the bottom of her heart, causing a sense of dread.

Xiao Wu and Guang Ling also trembled, but clinging tightly to Tang San’s arms, they felt a refreshing Life aura and began to feel better.

“Stop feeding me dog food!” Lan Yinzi couldn’t take it anymore. For the past few days, these three had been constantly together, making her eyelids twitch and even feel jealous.

Why could she only eat carrots?

Xiao Wu was clearly the rabbit!

“Cough, pay attention.” Tang San awkwardly coughed and got to the point, “This chill is the roar of souls. Slaughter City has become a gathering place for the undead.”

This, of course, was told to him by Iliex.

In his perception, Slaughter City was silent, with only unwilling souls roaring, but they couldn’t transform into true undead. There were simply too many of them, trapped within, mixed together, and gradually beginning to affect reality...

I can’t stand ten thousand words, it’s still two chapters a day, and when I first started writing, I only planned to write 700,000 characters, so this book is also nearing its end.

231: The city of killing? The city of the dead!

Slaughter City was created by a Divinity. Although it is connected to the real continent, it is actually a self-contained space. The souls of humans who die within it cannot escape.

Iliex analyzed and speculated based on the information he observed, "Although the souls will still dissipate, it will be slower than in the outside world."

"In addition to this, none of these souls retain their pre-death intelligence; only their obsessions remain, and they are constantly devouring each other..."

"Under these circumstances, this old man estimates that in just a thousand years, a Lich King capable of influencing reality will be born here, and its strength will be at least Demigod level."

"The power of a Divinity, even if the Divinity itself does not care, can passively affect surrounding things."

"No wonder the God Realm stipulates that Divinities do not interfere with the mortal world..."

"Even if a Divinity itself does not wish to, if it cannot control its own power well, even a tiny bit escaping will have an extremely significant impact on beings below the Divinity level."

"As for now, this place can be called the City of the Undead!"

Tang San echoed, "In a sense, Divinities are still quite rule-abiding; it's just that they also have emotions, joy, anger, sorrow, and happiness."

"Let's go, let's go in and take a look."

Iliex already wanted to collect all the undead in Slaughter City.

"These are all precious materials to me."

"When a Lich King is cultivated, we will be more composed when facing God-level powerhouses."

Tang San led the three women forward. On the way, they saw a patrol team of Slaughter City Knights, but only their corpses remained. Their deaths were extremely gruesome, either with shattered heads or sunken chests, all killed with a single hammer blow.

Hammer?

Tang San felt as if he had guessed who caused the change in Slaughter City.

Arriving at the true entrance of Slaughter City, looking at the hundred-meter-high, open city gate, Tang San took a deep breath and stepped inside.

After walking a hundred meters, they finally entered the outer city of Slaughter City.

Slaughter City is divided into three areas: the Outer City, the Inner City, and the Slaughter Arena and the Slaughter King's palace.

The Outer City was originally where The Fallen who dared not enter the Inner City area resided. The Slaughter King's patrol team would patrol regularly every day to prevent them from fighting too much, leading to everyone dying—the people of the Outer City were the fresh blood supply for the Inner City and the Slaughter Arena. If they all died at once, the outside world couldn't replenish them.

The Inner City, on the other hand, was a complete paradise for The Fallen. As long as one was strong enough, they could do anything and kill anyone at will, seizing everything from others—the Slaughter King and the patrol teams would not interfere. After all, entering the Inner City meant one was prepared to face death.

As for the Slaughter Arena...

There's no need to say more; it's one of the core parts of Slaughter City, specifically providing a legitimate place for slaughter, and also the gateway to Hell Road.

However, these were all past circumstances.

Now, the entire Slaughter City,除了 the four of them, or outsiders exploring in other areas, there was no one else. Only various dark red bloodstains, shriveled limbs, and decaying, blackened internal organs remaining on the buildings and streets indicated that a cruel massacre had taken place here.

Although The Fallen who entered Slaughter City all deserved their deaths, such a massacre clearly shocked the four's worldview.

To avoid the disgusting smell emanating from the severed limbs, broken bodies, and damaged internal organs, Tang San wore four Blue Silver Emperor masks and handed three of them to the three women.

Although it couldn't completely avoid the nauseating stench, it could block most of it, and the remaining small portion could be somewhat ignored due to psychological effects.

Facing such a situation, Xiao Wu also lost her joking mood, her eyes extremely solemn.

Guang Ling even released his Sun Chasing Bow, holding the bow in his left hand and drawing the string with his right. A transparent spirit power arrow quietly condensed, constantly vigilant of the surroundings, observing if anyone was hidden in the dark.

The four continued to advance and saw cracks on the road ahead. Not far away, there was a large pit, and the surrounding buildings were almost reduced to dust.

"What kind of power can achieve such an effect?"

Xiao Wu couldn't help but exclaim.

The buildings in Slaughter City are very hard. A full-strength attack from an ordinary Spirit Saint would at most create a crack, but now a deep pit tens of meters deep has been blasted out, and the roads within a thousand meters radius are all shattered, and the houses are dilapidated.

"A Spirit Master focused on strength, and judging from the situation on site, their Spirit is something like a hammer." Tang San had already confirmed that the person who caused Slaughter City to be in such a state was Tang Hao.

It's just, why did he suddenly go mad and slaughter Slaughter City completely?

Speaking of which, the Slaughter King wouldn't have been killed by Tang Hao, would he?

Although the Slaughter King is Tang Chen, the Scarlet Nine-Headed Bat King cannot unleash Tang Chen's full strength. Could it be that the grandson killed the grandfather?

"Perhaps it's due to the Slaughter God Domain." Iliex reminded, "Although this old man has never seen the Slaughter God Domain with his own eyes, a Domain that can evolve through killing intent, accumulating quantity instead of quality, doesn't seem impossible, does it?"

"Indeed, that's possible." Tang San suspected that what he said to Tang Hao back then might have stimulated him, causing Tang Hao to "strive for improvement."

And if the Slaughter God Domain evolves, can it gain the Asura God's approval?

As long as one is a recipient of the Slaughter God Domain, one is one of the Asura God's candidates. Whether they can gain the Asura God's attention depends on whether they can evolve the Slaughter God Domain to a level recognized by the Asura God.

Putting aside distracting thoughts and returning to reality, Tang San continued to walk towards the central area of Slaughter City, ignoring the broken corpses of The Fallen along the way.

Xiao Wu, Guang Ling, and Lan Yinzi also gradually got used to the scene here.

Finally, Tang San arrived at the Slaughter Arena.

Climbing the stairs to the stands, he looked out at the arena. The field, over a thousand meters in diameter, was piled high with the corpses of The Fallen, forming a small mountain nearly twenty meters high, emitting waves of foul stench.

"Ugh~"

The first to be unable to bear it was Guang Ling. Even with the Blue Silver Emperor mask, she was still dry heaving to the side.

Tang San quickly handed her a bottle of water and patted her back, "Are you alright? Drink some water."

"Gulp, gulp!"

Guang Ling, gulping down water, finally looked a bit better, then handed the water pouch to Xiao Wu, whose face was also somewhat pale.

Seeing Lan Yinzi's face also look bad, Tang San took out another water pouch from his white jade belt and handed it over, saying, "You drink some water too."

"Mhm."

Lan Yinzi took it, pulled out the stopper, poured the water into her mouth, sipped for a while, and then swallowed it—

She actually had some guesses as to why such a situation had occurred in Slaughter City.

She was all too familiar with the attack traces from before.

Overbearing!

Fierce!

That was Tang Hao's style.

As for Tang Xiao... Lan Yinzi clearly knew the difference between the two. Tang Xiao's combat style was more cautious; with ten parts of strength, he would always hold back three parts for unforeseen needs.

And Tang Hao?

He would use as much strength as he had, never holding back.

It was this recklessness, this inability to hide, that made Tang Hao seem a bit "cute," "honest," and "courageous" back then, which ultimately led her to choose Tang Hao. After all, she herself had a heart for an attack system Spirit Master, and her Spirit Ability: Blue Silver Tyrant Emperor Spear, was the best proof of that.

However, she never thought that this "recklessness" would have such serious consequences... Although there were no good people in Slaughter City, what Tang Hao did was indeed a bit too much.

Perhaps, after experiencing the trials of Slaughter City and obtaining the Slaughter God Domain, Tang Hao's personality had already become twisted.

This place is the inheritance ground of the Asura God, but it has also been polluted by the Rakshasa God.

It is probably normal for a mortal's personality to be unknowingly twisted under the influence of a Divinity's power, especially for someone like Tang Hao, who is not good at thinking, to become even more stubborn, even insane.

"Let's go."

At this moment, Iliex quietly collected the undead gathered here and sealed them within the silver crystal dagger—a product of Spirit materialization, perfectly suited for storing undead.

Xiao Wu's mother's soul and bloodline factor aura are also currently sealed within it.

Receiving Iliex's message, Tang San naturally didn't want to stay in such a dreadful place for long. He would only return to transform this place when he had the corresponding ability in the future...

...

During their trip to Slaughter City, because Tang San and his group kept their whereabouts secret, they did not encounter any Titled Douluo sent by Spirit Hall to investigate, or perhaps the Titled Douluo who came to investigate had already returned.

Tang San was happy to have peace and quiet.

However, to soothe Xiao Wu and Guang Ling's "fright" from Slaughter City, Tang San spent day and night researching the method of dual cultivation of Qi and Blood with them on their way to Spirit City.

And the melodious sounds of "single dragon's roar, double phoenix's cry" also kept Lan Yinzi awake at night, giving her noticeable dark circles under her eyes.

In a blink of an eye, another half month passed.

Regarding the method of dual cultivation of Qi and Blood, Tang San had already achieved some success. Among them, Guang Ling benefited the most, with most of her Jade Bone condensed, only lacking her skull and spine. She would soon be able to forge a Jade Bone that could continuously improve with the enhancement of Qi, Blood, and spirit power, just like Xiao Wu.

With Tang San's help, Xiao Wu also tempered her internal organs with Qi and Blood and unblocked the meridians in her spine. Although her Divine Treasury had not reached completion, she also condensed Qi and Blood power in her lower Dantian, causing her physical strength to surge.

This way, she could last longer in contests and competitions with Tang San.

However, Xiao Wu was still very dissatisfied that she could only last a little longer.

"Third Brother, when I finish cultivating my Jade Bone, Divine Treasury, and Golden Muscle, how about a one-on-one contest?" Xiao Wu said with a grin, "Guang Ling can be the referee, and if I can't hold on, she can step in."

Hearing Xiao Wu's bold words, Guang Ling's face turned crimson.

She clearly knew what Xiao Wu meant by "contest"!

Was it really okay to say such things in front of Lan Yinzi?

What else could Lan Yinzi do?

She could only pretend she heard nothing, understood nothing, and knew nothing.

232: The manor given to Tang San by Emperor Xueye

Heaven Dou City.

Tang San and the others, after a long detour, returned here.

"Third Brother, after that grand event, Emperor Xue Ye bestowed upon you the title of Earl," Xiao Wu said, bringing up the matter. "Emperor Xue Ye even personally arranged a large manor for you in Heaven Dou City."

The noble ranks of the Heaven Dou Empire are divided into Baron, Viscount, Earl, Marquis, and Duke. Among them, Marquises and Dukes have the right to establish cities and found nations. They are independent in all internal affairs, only needing to outwardly pledge allegiance to the Heaven Dou Empire and pay annual tribute.

Those who performed exceptionally in the Continental Elite Tournament could be granted the title of Baron by the Heaven Dou Empire. And in this Continental Elite Tournament, with so many talents emerging, Emperor Xue Ye generously offered the title of Viscount.

All members of the Heaven Dou Royal First Team were granted the title of Viscount.

Tang San, however, was directly granted the title of Earl.

When this news first spread, it caused quite a stir. Platinum Bishop Salas even felt that Emperor Xue Ye was being a bit excessive, but considering that Tang San had been personally conferred as the Spirit Hall Saint Child by the Supreme Pontiff, he did not step forward to object.

After all, even Salas now had to bow when he saw Tang San.

"Captain Tang San, speaking of which, it seems you haven't even visited your manor yet," Lan Yinzi teased, wanting to see the manor Emperor Xue Ye had given her son.

"It's good to go and see," Tang San nodded, then chuckled, "I might be the only one who was granted a manor by an Emperor but didn't move in immediately. I even have to wait a month or so just to go and look at it."

"Hehe, doesn't that just mean you don't care about fame and fortune, Third Brother?" Xiao Wu praised.

"No, I do care about the title," Tang San shook his head. "It's just that once I have it, I don't care so much anymore... It seems what I like most is still researching Spirit cultivation theory."

Afterward, Tang San took out a map and led the three women towards the manor.

Upon reaching the entrance, they saw a wide, ornate iron gate.

Outside the gate stood two guards dressed in knight armor.

"Four more imposters," one of the knights grumbled, stepping forward and saying, "Please leave. This is the Silverblue Earl's manor. You can't just pretend to be him by dressing similarly."

Clearly, many people had recently dressed up as Tang San, hoping to sneak in, but both guards had discovered and driven them away.

"I am Tang San," Tang San helplessly took out an Earl's token from his white jade belt, inscribed with the words "Silverblue," proving his identity to the two. "If you still don't believe me—"

One yellow, two purple, one black, and one red—five spirit rings appeared.

Such a spirit ring configuration was undeniable proof!

"Greetings, Earl!" X2

The two guards immediately knelt on one knee, respectfully welcoming Tang San.

"Rise. There's no need for such a grand ceremony; I'm not quite used to it."

"Yes, Earl!" X2

The two rose, hastily opened the ornate iron gate, and with reverence, watched as Tang San, Xiao Wu, Guang Ling, Lan Yinzi, and the others entered...

This Silverblue Manor, like most manors in Heaven Dou City, had a Western European style.

Looking from afar, the main house featured towering white pillars, marble swirling with snow-white patterns, and ebony doors and windows that were intricately carved. Hidden by the surrounding trees, it appeared even more profoundly grand and beautiful. In front, there was a circular fountain pool, with a statue of a Blue Silver Emperor at its center. Water sprayed from a luminous pearl in the center, then cascaded down its twelve leaves.

Various plants were cultivated on both sides, and as it was the season for flowers to bloom, the entire manor seemed enveloped in a vast, misty fragrance of orange blossoms.

A gentle breeze wafted, and the fragrant scent of flowers made their minds and bodies involuntarily relax.

Around the main house, there was a large open area with many well-arranged houses of varying heights, which were prepared for the servants.

Behind the houses, there was also a garden filled with various precious and vibrant flowers.

When the servants saw Tang San and the others arrive, they immediately stopped their work and came to pay their respects. Tang San also took the opportunity to gather all the servants in the manor.

"Greetings, Earl!"

Everyone spoke in unison, pledging their loyalty to Tang San.

Rather than saying they were hired servants, it was more accurate to say they were slaves without self-will or numb thoughts. And how many of these people were spies sent by Xue Ye, Xue Xing, or Xue Qinghe?

However, Tang San still gave them due respect: working in this manor would earn them two hundred gold coins per month! Correspondingly, if anyone tried to shirk their duties, they would be dismissed after their wages were settled, their indenture contract returned, and they would be granted freedom.

Immediately, most of the servants became excited, promising to do their best and never slack off in the future.

As for freedom...

They might have thought about it at first, but now they understood that without strength, financial resources, or power, so-called freedom was just an empty dream, far less practical than being a servant in a noble family.

Although their lives were not their own, the dangers they faced were visible, even tangible—their master and other noble powers.

Moreover, being a servant under a noble meant they could at least eat and drink their fill, and the higher their master's status, the more these servants could even look down on lesser nobles.

Gaining freedom, however, meant they not only had to consider unknown threats to their life safety but also had to struggle for three meals a day.

Therefore, none of these servants wanted their indenture contracts back.

What about being the head of a chicken rather than the tail of a phoenix?

It was far less practical than three meals a day, not to mention that the Silverblue Earl before them had strength comparable to the Spirit Hall

Supreme Pontiff and was personally designated as the Spirit Hall Saint Child by the Supreme Pontiff himself.

Why would they want to leave?

Another situation was that this Earl's attitude was amiable, and he was willing to pay them salaries. Furthermore, if they made a mistake, he would only return their freedom and dismiss them... Other nobles would not be so generous; they might even kill a servant who made a mistake, and it would not violate Imperial law.

Because slaves had no human rights; if they died, they simply died. No one would care, and no one would attack a noble for such a thing... In this era, this was a perfectly natural concept.

It was just that Tang San was not used to it.

Now, he also had the right to make others conform to his habits.

After dismissing the servants, Tang San sighed and said, "Such a large manor needs a housekeeper. Otherwise, when we go to Spirit City later, we won't have time to manage it."

"I know there's a slave market in the southern part of Heaven Dou City," Lan Yinzi said. Her familiarity with Heaven Dou City far surpassed Tang San, Xiao Wu, and Guang Ling, who spent most of their time cultivating, researching, and fighting. After all, even when they visited Heaven Dou City, they mainly frequented the more famous streets.

"That's good too."

Tang San was not surprised by the existence of slave markets. It was impossible for slaves to only be auctioned off, right?

Only "rare goods" or slaves with special identities would be put up for auction at large auction houses.

As for disciples of large Sects or prominent families being captured and made into slaves... No one would do that while the large Sects or prominent families were still intact and powerful, as that would be a direct provocation, leading to an endless conflict between the two sides.

Even if Spirit Hall and Clear Sky Sect were enemies, openly, neither side would ever allow such a thing to happen, as the consequences would be catastrophic.

Unless the auctioneer was invincible.

And the so-called rare goods or special identities referred to individuals whose Spirits had mutated and affected their bodies, or those whose families were annihilated due to certain mistakes, thus implicating them.

Upon arriving at the slave market, Tang San's first reaction was that it was livelier than other districts. The people coming and going were either rich and noble or Spirit Masters; there were few ordinary people.

"Come and see, slaves from the North family of Salas City!"

"The Mary family of White Cloud City was annihilated by Spirit Hall for colluding with The Fallen. The family head's son and wife are all being sold cheaply, one thousand gold coins each."

"Look, the slaves here are strong and will definitely work hard!"

Listening to the bustling shouts around him, Tang San frowned slightly. Although he had anticipated it, he still found it a bit hard to accept such a situation.

Xiao Wu was the same: "It's really hard to watch people being sold like livestock."

If it were in the past, Xiao Wu would have rushed forward and released all the slaves.

But now, she understood that if she did that, not only would she be criticized and called naive, but the slaves she released would also be recaptured and subjected to even greater punishment.

Even if she opened the cages, most of the slaves would not flee, because they knew that if they dared to escape, they would be treated even worse afterward.

That was how the world was.

Guang Ling, on the other hand, was thinking, if she hadn't met Tang San back then, would she have suffered the same fate as these people?

[I'm afraid it would have been even worse. I might not even have had the qualifications to be a slave!]

"Where is the largest slave market here?" Tang San stopped a passerby, paid a silver coin, and asked.

The person's eyes lit up at the sight of the silver coin, and then widened in surprise when he saw Tang San's face. He became incredibly excited: "You are!"

"Shh~"

Tang San raised his index finger to his lips and pulled up his mask. "I prefer to keep a low profile."

"Sir, walk three hundred meters south, and you'll see an auction house. They specialize in auctioning slaves; you can go there," the person said, suppressing his excitement, and pointed the way.

"Thank you," Tang San was about to leave when the person suddenly called out, took out a pen and paper, and handed them over, asking hesitantly, "Could I have an autograph? I'd like to keep it as a souvenir."

Tang San took it, signed his name, then handed it back, smiling, "Don't spread the word. I don't want to be chased by a crowd for autographs."

"Absolutely! Absolutely!" The person took the pen and paper, repeatedly assured him, his face beaming with joy.

On the Douluo Continent, showcasing oneself in the Continental Elite Tournament was the best way to gain fame.

And celebrity worship...

With the large-scale production and spread of Sub-Mother Soul Guidance Photography Balls, it was becoming increasingly popular.

"Third Brother, you're really famous," Guang Ling said admiringly.

"Actually, it's quite troublesome. Every time I go out, I have to wear a mask, otherwise, a large group of people would surround me, and I couldn't handle it," Tang San pulled down his mask, leading the three towards the slave auction house indicated by the passerby.

And this auction house was named:

The Net!

233: Luowen Auction House: Twin Sisters

“Welcome to Luo Wang Auction House!”

The reception lady at the entrance stepped forward to greet them, a somewhat stiff, formulaic smile on her face. “Are the guests here to buy slaves, or to sell slaves?”

“We support both here.”

“Oh, by the way, in ten minutes, a new round of slave auctions will begin. Would you like me to guide you into the auction hall?”

Tang San asked, “Can we buy slaves directly?”

“Yes,” the reception lady smiled, confirming that Grandmaster Tang San and the others were there to buy slaves. “However, are you really not going into the auction hall? This round of auctions has two excellent items!”

“Excellent items? What excellent items?” Xiao Wu frowned, unable to resist asking.

“A pair of cat-girls, and—”

The reception lady drew out her words, waiting until Xiao Wu grew a little impatient before slowly revealing, “—a girl without a Spirit.”

“No Spirit?” Xiao Wu was startled, her first reaction was disbelief. “How can there be no Spirit? Could it be a Physical Martial Soul?”

“Although Physical Martial Soul are rare, because of Grandmaster Tang San’s new classification of Spirit, we have all heard of them. If it truly were a Physical Martial Soul, how could we not know?” The reception lady smiled slightly, then introduced the girl’s background. “She is currently only six years old and has been wandering for a long time. No one knows where she came from, but she is very delicate, even a woman with normal sexual orientation like me can’t help but want to get close to her.”

“But she is also extremely cold and shows no courtesy to anyone.”

“Moreover, despite having no spirit power, her strength is quite great. Even a Spirit Master cannot match her in pure strength.”

However, Xiao Wu’s focus was only on one thing: six years old.

So young, and already captured to be auctioned as a slave?

Truly inhumane!

The upper and lower limits of human morality are two complete extremes.

“Is that so? Then we shall see. We plan to participate in this auction. Lead the way.” Tang San gave the reception lady a silver coin and said indifferently.

“Four esteemed guests, please follow me!” After receiving the tip, the reception lady’s smile became much more sincere, and her tone became more enthusiastic. She asked, “Do you need a private room? It’s absolutely private, with excellent soundproofing, and also provides snacks, fruits, drinks, and towels.”

“No... actually, yes, we’ll take one.” He had intended to refuse, but considering the moods of the three women, Tang San decided to take a room, so they wouldn’t have to constantly wear masks or veils.

After arranging the private room for Grandmaster Tang San and the others, the reception lady withdrew. Before closing the door, she deliberately reminded, “If you need anything, you can pull the rope behind the door, and I can come over to serve the four guests at any time.”

The private room was not large, and its interior furnishings were simple. Sofas were placed on both sides, with a coffee table in the middle holding various snacks and fruits. Directly opposite the door was a small balcony from which one could view the auction hall.

“The view from this place is really good. Not only can you see the auction stage, but you can also see the seats below.” Xiao Wu leaned on the balcony railing, looking down at the people participating in the auction. “This is what they mean by ‘standing high, seeing far,’ right?”

“That is indeed the meaning...” Tang San held Guang Ling’s hand and walked to Xiao Wu’s side, resting his hands on the balcony railing. Suddenly, among the people below, he saw a few acquaintances.

Although most of the people participating in the auction were wearing masks, black robes, and cloaks, Tang San still recognized them based on certain habitual movements.

Xue Xing.

Xue Qinghe, Wang Chen.

And Ning Fengzhi.

Xue Xing’s purpose here was the simplest: to buy high-quality female slaves. However, this wasn’t the Heaven Dou Grand Auction House, so perhaps to keep a low profile, he hadn’t requested a private room.

Xue Qinghe, or rather Qian Renxue, was probably drawn by that little girl without a Spirit. After all, she was also cultivating talented individuals with high cultivation aptitude—that little girl had great strength, perhaps she possessed some unique bloodline.

As for Wang Chen, he was probably just following along as a personal bodyguard to join in the fun.

As for Ning Fengzhi's purpose, it should be similar to Xue Qinghe's; he was also there to investigate why the little girl who couldn't awaken a Spirit had such great strength.

"Ladies and gentlemen, welcome to the Luo Wang Auction House!"

As the lights shone, the Auctioneer slowly emerged from backstage, a confident smile on his face, holding a Spirit tool megaphone, and excitedly shouted.

"Our Luo Wang Auction House is committed to gathering the best and most superior slaves from across the entire continent to serve all noble aristocrats!"

"This auction will feature two excellent items!"

"Please look forward to them!"

"Now, let's welcome the first auctioned item of this auction!"

The curtain behind the stage was pulled open, and a black square cage was pushed out by two scantily clad maids. Inside, a pair of twins were confined, wearing collars around their necks, their eyes lifeless.

Under the Auctioneer's command, these twins were extremely obedient, showing no will to resist, like puppets rather than living people.

"These twins come from Soto City within the Balak Kingdom. They originally latched onto a young master, but unfortunately, that young master later abandoned them... and they could only choose to marry local nobles as concubines, but were ostracized by the noble's legal wife. After several twists and turns, they finally arrived here."

The Auctioneer introduced the twins' background with a smile, showing no sympathy whatsoever. "Alright, I won't say any more unnecessary words. They have been trained and are as docile as kittens."

"Starting bid: ten thousand gold coin!"

As soon as he finished speaking, someone shouted, “Twenty thousand!”

“Thirty thousand!”

“Thirty-one thousand!”

Listening to the bids from below, Xiao Wu was eager to try. She said to Tang San, “Third Brother, let’s save them, shall we?”

“Alright.” Tang San nodded in agreement, signaling Xiao Wu to bid.

“One hundred thousand!”

As soon as these words came out, it immediately caused quite a stir.

In the eyes of most people participating in the auction, these twins were worth at most a little over forty thousand.

If they were still virgins, the price could indeed be raised above fifty thousand.

One hundred thousand...

Do you have too much money at home, or what?

The Auctioneer didn’t care whether Xiao Wu had money at home or not and immediately began counting down: “One hundred thousand once, any higher bids? One hundred thousand twice!”

Bang!

“One hundred thousand thrice!” The Auctioneer brought down the auction hammer, sealing the deal, and shouted loudly, “Congratulations to the guest in Box No. 3 for winning the first auctioned item! The twin female slaves will be sent directly to your private room. You can pay immediately or after the auction ends.”

After the twin female slaves were won by Xiao Wu, the second “auction item” was pushed up. It was also a pair of twins, but this time, they were a pair of men in their thirties, covered in muscles, even their faces. According to the host's introduction, these brothers were said to possess the bloodline of the legendary Tai Tan Giants, an ancient inherited bloodline, and only these two remained, making them extremely rare.

Moreover, both of their Spirit were extremely rare Physical Martial Soul.

The elder brother was named Fan Niu, and his Spirit was his chest; the younger brother was named Fan Ma, and his Spirit was his back.

In terms of defense, they couldn't compare to powerful Beast Spirit, but their strength was immense, and both were Spirit Master, with spirit power reaching level twelve.

The reason these two ended up being put on auction was not because they offended someone or committed some unforgivable crime, but because they themselves discussed it and voluntarily became slaves, hoping to be taken in by a noble.

The reason?

They only became a one-ring Spirit Master in their thirties, with limited cultivation talent, but they ate a lot, and their family gradually couldn't afford to feed them. When they looked for work, they messed up jobs like moving bricks and carrying rice and flour because they were too strong.

They couldn't do the rough work of ordinary people either.

But in the Spirit Master's world, they also didn't know what they could do. When various large and small families heard that they were only level twelve at thirty, they didn't want to waste any words.

Originally, they wanted to join the Spirit Hall in the local small city, but the local Hall Master had already reserved the relevant positions for his own relatives and friends, so he refused them on the grounds that they ate too much.

Thus, being far from sufficient compared to Spirit Master and more than enough compared to ordinary people, and due to their lack of experience, they heard that working for nobles meant they could eat their fill.

So, they put their heads together and sold themselves, hoping that a wealthy lord would take them in and give them a job and food to eat.

“Tsk~ Endearingly simple.” Tang San was a little moved. He bought the two for fifty thousand gold coin, as owners of Physical Martial Soul were still relatively rare.

When the twin sisters and the twin Tai Tan brothers were delivered to the private room, Tang San directly swiped his card, settling the payment.

“You don’t need to be so reserved from now on.” Xiao Wu walked up to the twin sisters, unfastened the collars around their necks, and took out two white dresses from her white jade belt, putting them on the sisters.

“Thank you.” X2

A glimmer of light appeared in their eyes; they were quite flattered but also understood that they had met benevolent masters and that their future lives should be secure.

“You two are from Soto City?” After Tang San unfastened the chains and shackles from Fan Niu and Fan Ma, he turned to the two women and asked.

“Yes, Young Master.” The older sister nodded.

“Was the young master mentioned by the Auctioneer Dai Mubai?” Tang San asked curiously.

“How did you know?”

The younger sister exclaimed, then immediately realized her lapse in composure and quickly apologized, “I’m sorry... it was indeed him.”

“There’s no need to apologize. Your attitude just now let me know that you two haven’t truly become numb.”

Tang San released his Blue Silver Emperor, five spirit ring emerged, and his first spirit ring flashed, activating Endless Recovery to heal the bruises, scars, and even internal hidden injuries on all four of them. Then he placed the four contracts of servitude on the coffee table. “From now on, you can live in Silverblue Manor. If you don’t like it, you can also take your contracts of servitude, regain your freedom, and do what you yourselves want to do.”

Silverblue Manor?

The four of them froze, realizing something, and looked at Tang San in disbelief: “Are you that Martial Soul Theory Master, and also the captain of the Heaven Dou Royal Battle Team, the Spirit Hall Saint Child...?”

234: Luowen Auction House: Cat Girl and her daughter

As slaves, the twin sisters and the brothers Fan Niu and Fan Ma found it difficult to directly witness changes in the outside World, but they had heard about Tang San's deeds and great name.

Silverblue Manor was the residence the Tian Dou Emperor bestowed upon him!

"There's no need for so many titles; I also came from humble beginnings and can understand your situation." Tang San waved his hand, interrupting the long string of titles the four had reeled off.

"It's an honor to meet you!"

Fan Niu's voice trembled with excitement. He exchanged a look with his younger brother, instantly realizing that their decision back then had been correct—they had actually become the Silverblue Earl's servants!

It was truly a great honor!

"You mustn't deliberately publicize this, lest others imitate you and find themselves unable to control their own lives later on," Tang San warned, seeing the fanaticism in the brothers' eyes. "I only came here to find a butler to manage Silverblue Manor. For now, I can't change the slave trade industry on the continent."

"We naturally won't speak carelessly, Earl," Fan Ma hastily stated, assuring him they would keep their mouths shut and certainly not publicize it to avoid unnecessary trouble.

“We will definitely manage the Earl’s Manor well,” Fan Niu vowed confidently.

“While I’m willing to trust you two, unfortunately, the butler managing the Manor will definitely not be you,” It wasn't that Tang San looked down on them, but these two had dared to pull off the outrageous stunt of “selling themselves as slaves.” If Silverblue Manor were managed by them, who knew what a mess it would become.

Although the current Tang San wasn't short on such a small fortune, he couldn't squander it like that.

Compared to these two, Tang San actually trusted the twin sisters more. At the very least, they had been concubines to a certain noble in Soto City, so they should have some experience with managing the Manor’s various affairs.

“However, you don’t need to worry. Physical Martial Souls are rare, and I bought you because I wanted to study them. We’ll cooperate then, and it might be of great benefit to you.”

Fan Niu and Fan Ma exchanged glances. They weren't angry that Tang San had bought them to study their Spirit, but rather, their eyes burned with fervor.

It was well-known that Tang San was a Martial Soul Theory Master. Wasn’t it a great honor to be studied by him?

Perhaps they could leave a significant mark in history in the future!

As Spirit Masters, cultivation was for power, and having power was for living a good life. After that, it was the hope of gaining widespread fame.

When a person satisfied their material needs, they would naturally choose to satisfy their spiritual pursuits, and then, the realization of their self-worth.

The brothers Fan Niu and Fan Ma already had thoughts of pursuing spiritual fulfillment at this moment...

During Tang San's conversation with the four, the sixth "auction item" was brought onto the slave auction: a mother and daughter dressed as maids. However, their appearance was a bit peculiar: both had a pair of curled cat ears on their heads and a tail behind their waists.

Cat Girls!

One of the rare beauties the welcoming lady had mentioned.

"When a Spirit awakens, some people's Spirit will undergo an extremely rare mutation. But within this extremely small probability, there's an even smaller probability of mutation, and based on existing cases, it has only occurred in Beast Spirit users."

Tang San pushed up his detection glasses, explaining what he knew to Xiao Wu and the others.

"The Cat Girls before us have encountered such a probability. After their Spirit awakened, it completely integrated with their human bodies, causing them to possess feline characteristics."

"One could say they are constantly in a Spirit Possession state, or perhaps, the materialization of a Beast Spirit."

"But they cannot be called divine beasts; they can be called Beastmen."

Xiao Wu stuck out her tongue and said, "Beastmen, isn't that a bit insulting to others?"

"It's just used as a distinction for Spirits; essentially, they are still human, unlike the Wolftaken," Tang San chuckled and got to the point, "Xiao Wu, Guang Ling, what do you think of them? Although they have feline beast-like features, their demeanor is quite dignified. Before they became slaves, they should have been from a prominent family."

Xiao Wu complained, “Buying a butler at a slave market, we’re quite peculiar, aren’t we?”

Lan Yinzi, however, interjected, “Not peculiar at all. I’ve heard that some of the butlers in small families in Heaven Dou City were originally slaves who later gained their master’s trust and were promoted to the position of butler. Only in large Spirit Master families are the butlers direct clan members with the same Spirit.”

While the girls were discussing, the price of the Cat Girls below had already risen to 110,000.

In fact, this mother and daughter pair was being auctioned for the second time.

The first time was last year, at the Heaven Dou Grand Auction House. At that time, Prince Xue Xing was also present and wanted to buy them, but Xue Qinghe intervened.

After Xue Qinghe bought the mother and daughter, he didn't take them to the palace. Instead, he gave them some money and sent them away from Heaven Dou City, thus demonstrating his benevolence and integrity as the Crown Prince.

Unfortunately, as orphans and widows, even with money, it was difficult for them to survive after leaving Heaven Dou City. They were soon found again and, after some twists and turns, were brought back to Heaven Dou City.

Only this time, they were being auctioned at the Luo Wang Auction House, and most of the guests participating in the auction wouldn't even bother with superficial gestures.

“Crown Prince, weren’t these mother and daughter the ones you saved last year?” Wang Chen, sitting beside Xue Qinghe, asked softly.

“This is the sorrow of the weak.”

Xue Qinghe's tone was cold, betraying no emotion. "Without strength, one cannot even gain freedom. However, when I govern Heaven Dou, I will surely allow everyone to bask in the glory of the Seraphim."

Wang Chen understood the hidden meaning in Xue Qinghe's words: Below God, all beings are equal!

"One hundred fifty thousand!"

Prince Xue Xing stood up from his seat, loudly declaring his price, and pulled down his hood and removed his mask. "I hope everyone will give me some face!"

He did this because he had missed out last time.

This time!

He absolutely couldn't miss it again!

Anyway, the next Tian Dou Emperor was already decided, and there was no need for him, a Prince, to hide anything anymore. He might as well enjoy himself for a while before he died of old age.

"My 'uncle' has been playing the pig for so many years, and now he's truly going to treat himself like a pig," Xue Qinghe sneered repeatedly.

"Crown Prince, should we take this mother and daughter?" Wang Chen also had some thoughts about the mother and daughter.

"No need. It's not suitable for me to expose my identity as the Crown Prince at this Luo Wang Auction House."

Xue Qinghe didn't intend to conflict with Prince Xue Xing. "Otherwise, my 'uncle' might stir up more trouble... That little girl who can't awaken her Spirit but has strength comparable to a Spirit Master is my main target this time."

"Although her identity is unknown, her exquisite features already prove that she isn't an ordinary commoner; their bloodline couldn't produce such a beautiful appearance.”

“Moreover, those with innate divine force are usually robust in appearance. If her physique is weak, then it must be that her Spirit has affected her body.”

“The so-called ‘no Spirit’ might mean that ordinary awakening methods cannot make her Spirit manifest, and my God-level Spirit might be able to.”

“If this speculation is true, her cultivation talent is second only to mine!”

“But Tang San must be excluded.”

Hearing Xue Qinghe mention Tang San, Wang Chen now felt only sighs of regret, without a trace of fighting Spirit.

That was simply beyond normal comprehension!

A Spirit King fighting a peerless expert!

In the Douluo fanfiction of his previous life, such a thing would definitely be an explosive existence, surely getting him flamed to death. Yet, it had truly happened in this World!

Couldn't win!

Couldn't compare!

It was better to honestly be Qian Renxue's follower and not provoke the other party. Otherwise, Huo Yuhao's fate would be a cautionary tale for him—even a Transmigrator could die!

“One hundred sixty thousand.”

When the Auctioneer called out the number a second time, Xiao Wu shouted out.

“Hmph!” Prince Xue Xing snorted coldly, threatening, “Are you going against this Prince?”

“Prince Xue Xing, please be aware that this is the Luo Wang Auction House, and you cannot stop others...”

“Shut up!” Prince Xue Xing roared. “One more word, and this Prince will bring people to seal this place! Even if this Prince cannot truly shut this place down through Imperial law, I have plenty of ways to make it impossible for you to operate! If this Prince comes here to cause trouble every day or two, let’s see if your slave auction house can still continue to operate!”

The Auctioneer’s face immediately darkened, and he remained silent.

Although Prince Xue Xing’s attitude was utterly shameless, even losing his own face, how many of those present dared to spread it around?

To survive in Heaven Dou City, regardless of one’s personal feelings towards Prince Xue Xing, one had to give him face.

“Prince Xue Xing, aren’t your words a bit absurd?” Tang San removed his mask, revealing his true face. “The rules of the auction house must be followed. Your actions are those of forced buying.”

“It’s you!” Prince Xue Xing was startled, his pupils contracting slightly. He immediately realized that this was the real person, not one of the many imitators who had appeared in Heaven Dou City recently.

“It’s him!”

“The real one?”

“It should be fake, right? I heard he went to Spirit City...”

“It’s definitely real. The three girls beside him are Xiao Wu, Guang Ling, and Lan Yinzi. These are members of the Heaven Dou Royal Battle Team!”

“I didn’t expect them to come here too...”

“They’re probably here for that little girl with innate divine force. As a Martial Soul Theory Master, he must be very interested in people who cannot awaken their Spirit.”

Ignoring the crowd’s discussion, Tang San continued, “If His Royal Highness wishes to oppress others with power, then I can also oppress others with strength, Your Royal Highness. You cannot contend with me.”

As he spoke, five spirit rings—yellow, purple, purple, black, and red—emerged. Especially the hundred-thousand-year spirit ring, which caused everyone present to gasp.

Xue Qinghe, who witnessed this scene firsthand, widened his eyes and murmured, “What a truly brilliant fellow. If there is anyone in this World who can match a Seraphim, it is only Tang San before me!”

“Using the most insignificant Blue Silver Grass in the World to rival, and even surpass, the greatest Seraphim in the World!”

“Such a talent, I must obtain him!”

At this moment, Qian Renxue once again felt a surge of competitiveness, wanting to subdue Tang San, even at any cost.

Wang Chen: “...”

Do I still have a chance?

235: Luowang Auction House: Humanoid Soul Beast?

“Since Silverblue Earl has spoken, I will give him face.” Xue Xing had no choice but to sit down and stop bidding, only to wonder why Tang San was here.

Didn't he go back to his hometown to visit relatives?

After visiting his relatives, he should have gone directly to Spirit City. Why did he come to Heaven Dou City again?

It couldn't be that he specifically came to oppose him, could it?

There was no enmity between them.....

Unable to figure it out, Xue Xing decided not to think about it, only regretting that he couldn't get this pair of cat girls in front of him... Damn it, was he really fated to be without such rare goods?

This was the second time someone had disrupted the auction!

The Auctioneer shouted loudly, “One hundred sixty thousand once!”

“One hundred seventy thousand.” At this moment, Ning Fengzhi spoke, but deliberately lowered his voice, naturally to avoid revealing his identity among the crowd.

Someone actually dared to compete with Silverblue Earl?

Everyone looked at Ning Fengzhi, seeing him in a black robe and wearing a mask, they didn't know who he was, but they thought he must have some confidence.

“One hundred eighty thousand.” Tang San bid on behalf of Xiao Wu, nodding slightly to Ning Fengzhi.

Why did Ning Fengzhi do that?

Naturally, it wasn't because he fancied the cat girls, but to prevent Tang San from being labeled as bullying the weak.

Xue Xing had previously exposed his identity and used his power and status to pressure others. Although Tang San stopped Xue Xing, revealing his strength would also affect the bidding mentality of others.

Ning Fengzhi doing this was to save Tang San's face.

In this way, the world would only see Tang San as wealthy, not as someone who used force to oppress others.

As for buying slaves.....

All major Sects and families would buy slaves to serve as servants, and it would not be criticized. There was no concept of “human rights” in this era.

After one hundred eighty thousand, several more people bid, and the final price settled at two hundred thousand.

“Two hundred thousand once!”

“Two hundred thousand twice!”

“Two hundred thousand thrice!”

“Congratulations to the customer in private room number three for acquiring this pair of cat girls!”

The Auctioneer shouted excitedly, both thrilled that the cat girls were auctioned at such a high price and excited to have personally seen Silverblue Earl.

That was—

Martial Soul Theory Master!

Spirit Hall Saint Child!

Silverblue Earl!

The teacher of the spirit tool Master “Chasing the Sun”!

And, the captain of the champion team of the new All-Continent Advanced Soul Master Academy Elite Tournament!

When the cat girls in maid outfits were brought before Tang San, Tang San swiped his card, then unlocked their shackles and returned their indentures, saying, “Now, you are free.....”

“Please don't drive us away!” The older cat girl pulled the younger cat girl to kneel together, pleading, “We are willing to work in your Manor!”

“Don't be so nervous.”

Tang San helped them up, “Your freedom doesn't mean I'm driving you away. I can employ you... What are your names?”

“Reporting to Spirit Master, my name is Lingxi, and my daughter's name is Ling Meng.”

“Very beautiful names.” Tang San praised them, not asking what they used to do or why they became slaves, only asking, “Regarding the management of the Manor, do you, or rather, do you know how to do it?”

“Sir, I do. Before I became a slave, I was the housekeeper of the Sky Cat family.” Lingxi hastily said, “The Sky Cat family was very small. Before they were annihilated by their enemies, there were only thirteen direct descendants, so you might not have heard of them.”

“Sky Cat?” Tang San nodded, then suddenly asked, “So, can you do business? My Silverblue Manor will be empty most of the time, so you should have more free time in the future. And in Heaven Dou City, besides being a business partner with the Seven Treasure Glazed Tile School, I also have a legitimate spirit tool workshop. Can you manage it?”

“I can try.” Lingxi's eyes lit up, as if she had ideas about managing shops and workshops, but considering that she had just met this handsome young man, she didn't speak too confidently.

“Then, I officially hire you as the housekeeper of Silverblue Manor.” Tang San smiled and introduced the others to her, “These two are Xiao Wu and Guang Ling, also the owners of Silverblue Manor. This is Lan Yinzi, hmm~ in the future, you can listen to some of her reasonable suggestions, and ignore the unreasonable ones.”

Lan Yinzi was unhappy: “Hey, there's no need for such differential treatment, is there? Even if my body... I'm still a member of the Tiandou Royal Battle Team!”

Ignoring Lan Yinzi's “liveliness,” Tang San continued to introduce the other four: “These are Fan Niu and Fan Ma, who will serve as the captains of the Manor's guard team in the future. These two are... I don't know your names yet.”

The older sister said, “Earl, my name is Mu Yanluo.”

The younger sister said, “Earl, my name is Mu Qiluo.”

“These two will also be workers in the Manor in the future.” After Tang San finished speaking, he asked about the spirit power of the mother and daughter: “What level is your spirit power?”

Lingxi said, “Sir, my innate spirit power is level eight.”

“Level eight?” Tang San's eyes moved slightly, “If so, your cultivation talent should be good. By your age, even if you neglected it, your spirit power should have reached at least level thirty, right? Wait, your physical body seems comparable to a Spirit Elder.....”

With his powerful mental force, Tang San sensed Lingxi's physical condition, which was far stronger than ordinary people. The physical quality of Ling Meng next to her was also the same.

Could it be that when a Beast Spirit mutates, fully integrates with the human body, and solidifies, it causes the cultivated spirit power to act completely on the physical body, thus making it undetectable?

Moreover, such an improvement seemed to not require absorbing spirit rings.

But without self-created Spirit Abilities and unable to release spirit power, their strength was indeed much weaker than Spirit Masters.

“This... we don't know either.” Lingxi shook her head, “I have actually been cultivating all these years, but every time my spirit power reaches level ten, it inexplicably moves around in my body and merges into my body. Although it strengthens my body, I can never obtain a spirit ring and become a Spirit Master.”

“But there's also one good thing, which is that my appearance hasn't changed since I reached twenty years old. I'm almost forty now, but I still look about twenty.”

“My daughter has innate full spirit power. After level ten, her spirit power disappears and merges into her body. Therefore, after being tested with innate full spirit power, it immediately becomes innate zero spirit power, but she can cultivate again, and the cultivation speed is no different from the rumored innate full spirit power, but after cultivating to level ten, it disappears again... she can never obtain a spirit ring.”

“Like me, we are both cursed.”

“But my daughter and I have been cultivating, at least this can enhance our physical quality.”

Listening to Lingxi's description, Tang San's expression gradually became strange.

It felt like—

These two were not human, but rather humanoid Spirit Beasts.

spirit power reaching level ten and merging into the flesh... strengthening the physical quality might just be the surface. The true effect is very likely to purify the bloodline purity of the physicalized Spirit.

However, as humans, without obtaining spirit rings, they cannot enter the next realm. Each time, they can only accumulate Spirit Scholar-level spirit power and cannot break through this upper limit.

“I understand your situation and have a guess. After returning to Silverblue Manor, I plan to conduct a detailed examination for you. Perhaps, your situation is not a curse, but an extraordinary talent that ordinary people cannot compare with!”

Tang San believed his guess. If the upper limit could be broken, this mother and daughter would definitely be able to forge another path, and their strength could even rival a super Douluo, which would be nothing out of the ordinary.

However, the time to go to Spirit City would have to be postponed for a few more days.....

In a blink of an eye, an hour passed.

During the slave auction, Xiao Wu and Guang Ling bought the slaves they felt sorry for, after all, Silverblue Manor also needed to have its own people.

Finally, a little girl, whom the Auctioneer called a top-grade item, was pushed up by five big men.

The cage was actually made of mithril, extremely tough, but even so, the little girl shook it, and even the big men's hands were wearing gloves cast from fine iron.

Crack!

The little girl suddenly bit one of the big men's gloves, and with a pull, she actually bit off a small section of the finger guard.

Fortunately, the big man pulled his hand back quickly, otherwise his finger might have been bitten off!

“As expected, amazing!” Xue Qinghe's eyes lit up. He felt that his guess was correct; the little girl in the cage definitely possessed an unknown talent.

That physique, that face, innate divine force could not grow so delicate; she was simply an artwork carved by nature.

Unable to awaken a Spirit?

It was just that ordinary methods couldn't awaken it. His Angel Spirit would definitely help her awaken her Spirit!

And Tang San looked at the silver-haired, purple-eyed girl in the cage, squinting his eyes, and asked Iliex, “Illyasviel, have you seen anything?”

“Not human, but a Silver Dragon, most likely the Silver Dragon King.” Iliex said indifferently, “According to the ‘Douluo’ series in your memory, and the rules of this plane that I have investigated, with the God Realm still existing, she should not come out to cause trouble no matter what. At most, she would let those fierce beasts out.”

“But she.....”

After a moment of thought, Iliex seemed to have noticed something else and smiled, “So that's it, incomplete, just a body forged from a part of her origin and soul, not her true body... Perhaps, she was attracted by you.”

“Me?” Tang San frowned slightly, then thought of something, “You mean, the reason the Silver Dragon King expended a part of her origin and soul to come out is because of my third Spirit: Five Clawed Golden Dragon?”

“It should be. With my help, after you obtained your third Spirit, its pressure could be sensed by powerful beings on this continent.”

Iliex said with a chuckle, “This female dragon probably sensed it. She might have sent fierce beasts to search, and after no results, she found a way to create a clone... Hmm~ this isn't really a clone. It has the same memory and soul as the main body, but in terms of strength, it's much weaker.”

At this moment, the Auctioneer stopped building suspense and began the introduction.....

236: Luowang Auction House: My name is Gu Yuena!

“This will be the most precious slave at this auction!”

The Auctioneer’s eyes were filled with fanaticism. “She has no Spirit, no spirit power, but possesses strength comparable to a Spirit Master. Even a Spirit Grandmaster level expert would find it difficult to defeat her in a one-on-one fight!”

“When we found her, she was in the outer area of the Star Dou Great Forest, completely naked, like a wild beast, only capable of roaring, without any humanity.”

“At first, we thought this was a Ten-thousand year soul beast that had transformed into human form. For this, we even found a Spirit Douluo to examine her, but unfortunately, the final judgment was that she was not.”

“This is just a human child who grew up in the wild until the age of six, simply because she had no one to teach her, or perhaps she was raised by wild animals, or Spirit Beasts.”

Guang Ling looked at Tang San in confusion: “Third Brother, can a human be raised by ordinary wild animals or Spirit Beasts from a young age?”

“Yes.”

Tang San said decisively.

On Earth in his previous life, there were wolf children and ape children. In this Douluo Continent, if an infant were abandoned in the wild and then picked up and raised by a Spirit Beast, it wouldn’t be impossible.

Of course, the silver-haired, purple-eyed little girl in front of him wouldn't be in this situation.

The Auctioneer and the Spirit Douluo had already ruled out an answer that was close to correct.

“As you can see, this little girl is wild and incredibly strong. Only a cage made of mithril can contain her, and even iron gloves cannot withstand her teeth.” The Auctioneer became even more frenzied. “Furthermore, I can reveal a piece of information: the Spirit Douluo who examined this little girl was even torn a piece of flesh by her.”

“Who was that Spirit Douluo?” someone shouted, asking.

“Hehe, that’s a secret. Otherwise, our Luo Wang Auction House would offend a Spirit Douluo,” the Auctioneer smiled mysteriously, then continued, “Next, we will officially auction this girl. Starting bid: One hundred thousand gold coins!”

“Two hundred thousand!”

Ning Fengzhi was the first to bid, directly adding one hundred thousand. For such a unique girl, his thoughts were similar to Xue Qinghe’s; he believed she possessed an extremely powerful Spirit, but it was difficult to awaken through ordinary means.

Even if he guessed wrong, this girl possessed innate divine force and had a record of breaking through a Spirit Douluo’s defense—even in the worst-case scenario, that Spirit Douluo was a support system with no offensive capabilities, but still a Spirit Douluo!

When this girl grows up, in terms of strength, she should be comparable to a Spirit Douluo who does not use Spirit Abilities or spirit power.

A Spirit Douluo was already the second most important figure in the Upper Three Sects, apart from a Titled Douluo!

“Three hundred thousand!”

Xue Qinghe, in a female voice, which was her original voice, added another one hundred thousand on top of Ning Fengzhi's bid.

"Three hundred and twenty thousand."

Xue Xing was not to be outdone, also wanting to acquire this girl.

"Three hundred and fifty thousand."

"Four hundred and ten thousand!"

Other nobles and wealthy merchants also spoke up, causing the price to continuously rise, quickly reaching seven hundred thousand.

"One million!" Xue Qinghe directly added three hundred thousand, causing the entire venue to fall silent, wondering who this person was, to raise the price so high.

"One million two hundred thousand." Ning Fengzhi smiled slightly, adding two hundred thousand. In terms of financial resources, his Seven Treasure Glazed Tile School could now be said to be as rich as a nation, and even capable of rivaling both the Heaven Dou and Star Luo Empires simultaneously.

"Hmph! Two million!" Xue Xing snorted coldly, raising the price to two million, immediately scaring off a group of people.

Just as Ning Fengzhi was about to continue bidding, a person dressed in a black robe walked over and whispered a few words into his ear, causing his expression to change instantly. He immediately stood up and left the venue.

This scene led some people to believe that Ning Fengzhi, whose identity had not been revealed, might be a shill for the Luo Wang Auction House, whose purpose was to drive up the price and then withdraw after achieving the expected target.

But most people didn't care, as in their opinion, the price of the girl on stage was at least around ten million gold coins.

“It seems something happened to the Seven Treasure Glazed Tile School.”

Xue Qinghe naturally recognized Ning Fengzhi’s figure and knew that his abandonment of this auction must have been for other reasons. “However, it’s good to have one less competitor, otherwise I wouldn’t feel comfortable asking my teacher for it.”

“Now the only person I need to pay attention to is Tang San... If he bids, should I try to compete?”

Wang Chen also realized the identity of the girl on stage at this moment, and he was ninety percent sure in his heart: “Young Master, you must acquire her! She is crucial to you!”

“Is that so?” Xue Qinghe noticed Wang Chen’s excitement. The face beneath the mask was extremely gloomy. “I can’t believe you have thoughts about a little girl?”

“This subordinate wouldn’t dare!” Wang Chen quickly admitted his mistake, wanting to explain, but facing Xue Qinghe’s captivating gaze, he didn’t know how to explain for a moment.

After all, Qian Renxue’s possessiveness was extremely strong, so how could he explain that he knew the girl was the Silver Dragon King in human form?

Moreover, he wasn't entirely sure whether the little girl on stage was truly her.

After all, according to the Douluo Series, the Silver Dragon King was still in slumber at this time, and before the God Realm was swept away by the chaotic currents of time and space, would she dare to walk around?

The gods in the God Realm were very strict with divine-level powerhouses in the lower realms. If they didn't ascend within a hundred years, they would directly come down to deal with them, unless the divine-level powerhouse had been hiding in the dark since becoming a god and not causing trouble.

For example: Lie Yan in “God of Wine,” she had been hiding until she met Ji Dong. After she came out, she was discovered by the God Realm Committee, who then dispatched the God of Slaughter, Hypnos, to enforce the law.

“Then in the future, offer fewer baseless suggestions,” Qian Renxue issued her command, then began to bid: “Two million one hundred and ten thousand.”

“I bid three million!”

At this moment, the silver-haired girl in the cage spoke, as if she didn't understand the situation, as if she had heard others calling out numbers and was following suit.

“Sorry, as an auction item, your bid is invalid because you cannot produce three million.” The Auctioneer chuckled, striking the gavel once. “Two million one hundred and ten thousand, going once. Any higher bids?”

“Three million!”

This time, it was Xue Xing who spoke. He was determined to acquire this girl, but his gaze was directed towards Box No. 3, thinking to himself, “I hope Tang San didn’t bring that much money.”

“Why can’t I?” The girl became angry, shaking the mithril cage vigorously. Even the two iron bars she was holding were slightly twisted.

Her immense strength was evident!

The Auctioneer was startled and quickly ordered someone to bring a large platter of roasted meat and fruit, placing it in front of the cage.

Upon seeing the food, the girl’s eyes lit up. She dragged the platter closer, directly reached out and grabbed a piece of roasted meat, devouring it greedily, her mouth dripping with oil.

“This little girl is quite cute.”

Xiao Wu felt no fear towards this girl, who could be considered the ancestor of Spirit Beasts. She even found her quite adorable.

This was also because Xiao Wu had transformed into human form. Aside from her cultivation origin, which was still Spirit Beast in nature, she could be said to have no resemblance to a Spirit Beast in any other way.

Therefore, she couldn't sense it.

Perhaps only when her Spirit was possessed would Xiao Wu be able to perceive the unusualness about her based on the feedback from her Spirit.

“Indeed cute, and her bloodline is extraordinary,” Tang San smiled faintly. “Didn’t I say before that the Dragon race’s bloodline is very strange? This one possesses a pure Dragon race bloodline.”

“You mean—”

After Tang San’s reminder, Xiao Wu realized that the little girl, like her, might also be a Ten-thousand year soul beast that had transformed into human form, but she was a pure-blooded Dragon race member and possessed an aura that concealed her identity.

She just didn't know if it was related to Ditian and the others.

But without a doubt, this girl must be bought!

“Third Brother, how much should we bid?” Listening to the bids below getting higher and higher, even reaching five million, Xiao Wu couldn't help but ask, “How much money do we have?”

“You bid ten million first,” Tang San motioned for Xiao Wu to relax. Money was not an issue for them now.

“OK!” Xiao Wu made a gesture and shouted, “Ten million!”

Immediately, the venue fell silent.

Then, someone else bid: “Ten million and one hundred thousand!”

“Twenty million!”

Xiao Wu seemed to have no concept of money, directly doubling the price.

Some wanted to deliberately drive up the price, but considering the other party was the Spirit Hall Saint Child, and his own strength was there, they couldn't help but hesitate.

Although Tang San didn't want to oppress others with his identity and strength, once he possessed the corresponding status and strength, and his identity was exposed, others would inevitably have to consider these things.

Whether out of fear of him or a desire to curry favor with him.

Everyone present had to think twice before acting.

Just like in the natural World, the law of the jungle, survival of the fittest, and natural selection are natural laws.

In this human society, the weak need to adapt to others and to the rules of the larger social environment to survive; while the strong can influence the entire social environment, thereby changing the rules because of them.

Xue Qinghe sighed: “This time, I only brought twenty-five million. I’m afraid I won’t be able to get this girl.”

As the price of “twenty-five million” was called out, Xiao Wu directly raised the price to thirty million, finally winning the last “item” of this auction.

“Respected Earl, this is your slave and contract.” When the auction house staff brought the girl over, she was still in the cage, and they reminded him, “This little girl is very wild; we have no choice but to keep her like this.”

“Okay, you can leave. We want to talk with her.” Tang San waved away the staff, looking at the girl who was still gripping a piece of roasted meat and chewing vigorously. He then tore up her deed of sale and asked, “What’s your name?”

The girl ignored Tang San, but glanced at Xiao Wu, then continued to eat the bone she hadn't finished gnawing on.

“Looks like she’s quite stubborn,” Tang San chuckled. His hands transformed into Dragon claws, and a pair of Dragon horns grew from his forehead. An Eight Trigram spirit ring, transparent like crystal, appeared.

Instantly, the extremely strong Dragon might attracted the girl’s attention. She even dropped the roasted meat in her hand, and her whole being seemed to be captivated by Tang San. She murmured, “Who are you?”

“Let me introduce myself. My name is Tang San. What about you?”

The girl unconsciously said, “My name is Gu Yuena.”

237: Cosmic Meditation 10

Chapter 237: Cosmic Meditation 1.0

It really was her!

Tang San's heart confirmed her identity.

However, there was still one thing he needed to explain to Xiao Wu and Guang Ling: Why did he have a third Spirit?

"...That's roughly how it is." Putting away his Five Clawed Golden Dragon Spirit, Tang San used voice transmission to explain the origin of this third Spirit to Xiao Wu and Guang Ling, keeping it secret from the others. Then, he turned to Lan Yinzi and the rest, saying, "The matter of me having a third Spirit must be kept secret, or I'll expel all of you!"

Fan Niu and Fan Ma, the brothers, looked on with reverence; Ling Meng and Lingxi, the mother and daughter, were dumbfounded; Mu Yanluo and Mu Qiluo, the sisters, had eyes filled with longing. All of them promised to keep their mouths shut.

Subsequently, Tang San opened the mithril cage, and Gu Yuena walked out. She stared intently at Tang San, as if she understood nothing, and innocently asked, "Are you my relative? I feel a familiar aura from you."

Mutual attraction among Dragon species?

Wait!

She doesn't have the Silver Dragon King's memories!

Tsk~

The esteemed Spirit Beast co-lord certainly knows how to play; she isn't worried at all that her clone might be deceived by others, right?

"dragon king legend" is set closer to modern society, where Na'er becomes a wandering orphan. But in this Douluo Era, she was directly captured, treated as a slave, and put up for auction.

What if she lives a long time?

She's basically always in slumber, with almost zero experience from a million years of life. She's probably even more naive than Xiao Wu.

In fact, Tang San felt that the Gu Yuena standing before him now wasn't suffering from amnesia at all, but was genuinely pure, possessing only memories of the strong preying on the weak.

"Hiss~"

Tang San suddenly felt a sting on his finger and realized that Gu Yuena had actually bitten through the skin on his finger. She was glaring at him fiercely, "What are you doing? Ouch!"

"Hmph!" Gu Yuena released her mouth, raised her hand to wipe the barbecue grease from the corner of her lips, and lightly snorted, saying, "I felt like you were badmouthing me in your heart."

"Why does this child bite people?" Xiao Wu admonished.

But Gu Yuena completely ignored Xiao Wu, only saying to Tang San, "This young lady is hungry. Since you bought me, shouldn't you be responsible for this young lady's food, clothing, and shelter?"

"Oh, it seems she's learned some new vocabulary." Tang San pretended to evaluate, then pointed to the torn slave contract on the ground, "Here, you are free now, so you'll have to figure out how to survive on your own."

"I don't care!" Gu Yuena was being a bit unreasonable. "Anyway, I heard people say that whoever buys me has to feed me, clothe me, and house me."

"Heh heh." Tang San chuckled and said to Xiao Wu, "Just like you back then, she initially absorbed some bad information. It's truly a case of being influenced by one's surroundings."

Recalling the memory of his own unfiltered words when he first joined Notting Academy, Xiao Wu's face flushed. She said, "I'm not as shameless as her; at least I knew that buying food required Spirit coins."

"Not much different..." Tang San smiled, but then felt a pain in his waist. He saw Xiao Wu glaring at him with a threatening look, causing him to quickly change his words, "Hmm~ you are indeed a bit better."

Only then did Xiao Wu release her fingers from pinching Tang San's waist. She then leaned close to Tang San's ear and whispered, "Tonight, I'll research more blood and qi cultivation postures with you and Guang Ling."

"Good, the more knowledge about blood and qi cultivation, the better." Tang San nodded in a feigned serious manner, causing Lan Yinzi, who was nearby, to roll her eyes.

Gu Yuena, however, had an innocent expression, but felt a sense of displeasure at Xiao Wu's closeness to Tang San, as if her beloved toy had been snatched away.

So, she walked over, grabbed Tang San's arm, and said, "Those people said you have to be responsible for my food, clothing, and expenses."

"No problem, I also want to research you." Tang San smiled as he picked up Gu Yuena, stroked her chin, and released a wisp of spirit power infused with the Five Clawed Golden Dragon's aura, making Gu Yuena show an expression of enjoyment.

"Brother, it feels so good, release more." Noticing that Tang San had stopped releasing his spirit power, Gu Yuena became a little dissatisfied and began to act spoiled.

"Who taught you to call me that?" Tang San asked curiously.

"Those people who locked me in the cage. They said that from now on, as long as I say nice things, any man, no matter how old, should be called 'brother,' and any woman should be called 'sister.'" Gu Yuena immediately sold out the auction house's trainers. "When I didn't listen, they even whipped me, but those people have already had their hands and feet gnawed off by this young lady... Hehehe, but I call you brother because I genuinely mean it."

"I wouldn't dare to believe that." Tang San realized that this Gu Yuena was completely different from the one in "dragon king legend." Before meeting him, she had received too much information that a child of her age (human age) shouldn't have, making her much naughtier and more mischievous, even knowing how to use her cute appearance as a disguise.

A Ten-thousand year soul beast that has taken human form is already extraordinarily gifted. As long as they are willing to learn, their progress far surpasses ordinary humans, not to mention that this Gu Yuena is a part of the Silver Dragon King's separated soul and origin, which would only make her even more monstrous.

Despite this, Tang San did not put Gu Yuena down from his embrace; mainly because Gu Yuena kept holding on, so out of helplessness, he could only continue holding her...

...

Back at Silverblue Manor.

Tang San prepared changes of clothes, bedding, and arranged rooms for Fan Niu, Fan Ma, Lingxi, Ling Meng, Mu Qiluo, and Mu Yanluo.

The six of them were all amazed by the spaciousness of the manor. Even Lingxi and Ling Meng, who came from a small family, could hardly imagine that a manor could be this large.

In terms of area alone, it was comparable to some small villages.

And Gu Yuena?

She didn't show any amazed expression, only a little curiosity about the surrounding environment. Moreover, her identity was special; even the manor's owner was not a servant in the manor.

Tang San didn't make any special arrangements for her, only instructing the servants to treat her like Lan Yinzi—reasonable requests could be granted.

Night.

Tang San, Xiao Wu, and Guang Ling shared a bed. After finishing their research on the path of blood and qi, Xiao Wu, still flushed, asked, "Brother, who exactly is that Gu Yuena?"

If she were truly a Ten-thousand year soul beast that had taken human form, even with methods to conceal her aura, she should have been able to discern something, but she couldn't see any clues at all.

There was no so-called Ten-thousand year cultivation origin within that girl's body!

"Her specific identity is unknown, but before she took human form, she reached the God-level, and she is a Silver Dragon." Tang San hoped to reasonably explain the Silver Dragon King's identity.

Upon hearing this, Xiao Wu recalled that Da Ming and Er Ming had once told her that the co-lord of Spirit Beasts, hidden beneath the Life Lake, was a Silver Dragon King.

Could it be that Gu Yuena was that Silver Dragon King?

Xiao Wu, who had given her whole heart to Tang San, then revealed everything about Di Tian and the Spirit Beast co-lord, even disclosing that the Three-Eyed Golden Lion could sense fortune.

...

Outside the room, Gu Yuena was eavesdropping, her face full of confusion: "Blood and qi dual cultivation? What is that? Do humans also have major research on the cultivation of blood and qi power?"

"But why does the sound seem so strange?"

"It feels similar to the passion during Spirit Beast reproduction..."

Adhering to her inquisitive nature, Gu Yuena returned to the room Tang San had arranged for her, climbed out of the window, and stealthily scaled the protruding edges to Tang San's bedroom window.

Gu Yuena: "(OoO)..."

Humans are really playful!

And what kind of posture was that Soft Bones Rabbit striking?

Only the most powerful Spirit Beasts can relax their guard and enjoy pleasure during this process.

Are humans naturally strong?

Involuntarily, the co-lord of Spirit Beasts pondered this "philosophical question." Unable to understand, she climbed back to her own room, then found herself blushing, her mind constantly replaying the scene she had just witnessed.

Shaking her head vigorously, Gu Yuena calmed her emotions, thinking to herself, "Following this Tang San, I will surely learn a lot. I must also create my own Spirit. Should I choose a Tool Spirit like the Silver Dragon Spear, or a Beast Spirit like my true form?"

Early the next morning.

Tang San, Xiao Wu, and Guang Ling were still the first to wake up. After washing up, they began cultivating Purple Demon Eye. Tang San then passed the "Cosmic Meditation 1.0" that he and Iliex had created to the two girls, saying, "From now on, when cultivating mental force, follow this. Not only can you absorb the purple qi of the morning sun, but you can also absorb the starlight from the cosmos."

Subsequently, under Tang San's guidance, the two girls meditated once and found that the efficiency of absorbing purple qi was greatly enhanced, and they could even absorb sunlight.

However, the sunlight was too intense and extremely difficult to refine.

"For now, you can only absorb the starlight of the night sky on the basis of absorbing purple qi. The sun's light is too intense; you'll only barely be able to absorb it when you reach Spirit Saint." Tang San pressed his forehead against Xiao Wu's, drawing over the wisp of undigested sunlight she had absorbed, and warned the two girls.

"Understood." Xiao Wu stuck out her tongue, lightly pecked Tang San's cheek, and giggled, "Let's go have breakfast."

Guang Ling, unwilling to lose to Xiao Wu, also kissed Tang San on the other cheek and said, "Yes, Third Brother, I'm hungry after researching blood and qi last night."

238: The first lesson taught to Gu Yuena: Don't do anything without work

In the living room, on the table, the servants had already laid out breakfast.

There was bread, milk, eggs, ham, and more.

The quantities were quite large.

Spirit Masters consume more food than ordinary people, especially Tang San, Xiao Wu, and Guang Ling, who cultivate the Jade Bone Golden Muscle Divine Treasure method, requiring even more sustenance.

In fact, the ham was the thigh meat of a Spirit Beast with tusks, extremely rich in nutrients.

And now, Xiao Wu had no hesitation in eating meat, already considering herself a human, not a hundred-thousand-year-old Soft Bones Rabbit.

Of course, she still didn't eat rabbit meat.

Tang San understood this, and he and Guang Ling, to accommodate Xiao Wu's feelings, also avoided rabbit meat.

Besides, there wasn't much rabbit meat.

For this breakfast, besides Tang San, Xiao Wu, and Guang Ling, Gu Yuena ate the most, and her eating style was the wildest, directly using her hands.

"Na'er, since you look like a human, you should act like one," Tang San reminded her.

Gu Yuena: "???"

What was he talking about?

"I mean, you can use chopsticks, or a knife and fork," Tang San demonstrated how to use chopsticks.

"So troublesome."

Gu Yuena complained, but still picked up the bamboo chopsticks next to her plate, imitating Tang San, and though she was a little unaccustomed to gripping things with them for the first time, she became much more flexible the second time.

Her learning ability was evident.

"It's not difficult at all," Gu Yuena picked up a piece of ham with her chopsticks, tilted her head back, dropped it into her mouth, chewed a few times, and swallowed it, "The ham is so delicious."

She had eaten the meat of the tusked Spirit Beast before, but when prepared by human hands, it was incredibly tasty.

Mmm~ I've decided, once I have the strength to slaughter those annoying guys in the God Realm and become the ruler of the Douluo Continent, I'll have humans specially prepare such delicacies for me!

At this moment, a basket of steamed buns was brought up; the basket's diameter exceeded half a meter, containing nearly a hundred small steamed buns, each the size of a fist, almost stacked into a small mountain.

"I'll distribute them!" Gu Yuena smelled the aroma, directly jumped onto the table, speared one with her chopsticks, placed it on Tang San's plate, then gave one each to Xiao Wu, Guang Ling, and Lan Yinzi, and finally pulled the entire steamer to her own seat, saying, "Alright, you each get one, the rest are all mine!"

Crack!

Xiao Wu broke her chopsticks and gritted her teeth, "This little girl is really asking for a beating!"

If this guy weren't the co-lord of the Spirit Beasts, potentially capable of unleashing god-level power, she would have slapped her long ago, making her understand that there was only one co-lord of the Star Dou Great Forest, and that was her Xiao Wu Jie!

"You should be glad you're not my daughter, or else I'd spank your little bottom," Tang San helplessly picked up a bun, took a bite, and said to Lingxi, who was waiting beside him, "Sister Lingxi, your cooking skills are really good."

"Um, Lord Count, you don't need to call me Sister Lingxi, just call me by my name," Lingxi sighed inwardly, feeling that she had met a good master, but still thought it better to maintain a distinction of status.

"On this point, there's no need to be so formal; after all, I'm only fourteen, and if I were to call you by your name directly, it would have to wait until I'm an adult," Tang San smiled, telling Lingxi and Ling Meng, "Sit down and eat with us."

"This..." Lingxi hesitated a little.

"Consider it an order from me, your Lord Count."

"Alright then."

Lingxi pulled Ling Meng to sit down, but her movements were quite cautious, fearing she might mess something up.

Gu Yuena, on the other hand, made herself completely at home, giving Lingxi and Ling Meng a bun each, then asked Tang San, "When you eat this meat-filled dough, why don't you use chopsticks?"

"Because you can just pick it up with your hand and eat it," Tang San said with a smile.

"It seems like whatever you say makes sense," Gu Yuena speared a bun with her chopsticks, put it into her mouth, and pulled the steamer closer to herself again, as if fearing Tang San would snatch her food.

Originally, Tang San had no such intention, but seeing Gu Yuena's protective demeanor, he couldn't resist teasing her, so he picked up his chopsticks, and before she could react, he quickly reached out, picked up one, took it over, and placed it on the empty plate in front of Xiao Wu.

Gu Yuena: "(#`O´) Hey!"

"Eat, why aren't you eating the bun?" Tang San said with a chuckle, then reached out and picked up another bun, placing it in front of Guang Ling, then picked up two more, placing them in front of Lingxi and Ling Meng's plates respectively.

Seeing Tang San provoke her, Gu Yuena raised her hand to grab the pair of chopsticks, but Tang San twisted his wrist, pressed with his index finger, and one of the chopsticks slipped out of his hand, circling around Gu Yuena's hand.

And then—

Slap!

The chopstick was re-gripped by Tang San and tapped on Gu Yuena's hand, saying, "Although buns can be picked up by hand, when they are still in the steamer, you need to pick them out with chopsticks first."

Gu Yuena, narrowing her eyes, seemed to understand something, grabbed her chopsticks, and once again jumped onto the table, fiercely saying, "You're the first one who dared to snatch food from me!"

And while Gu Yuena was making threats, Tang San picked up another bun, held it in his hand, took a bite, and said, "If you keep talking, you won't even get one bun."

"Just you wait!"

Gu Yuena made threats, and seeing Tang San reach for the chopsticks again, she immediately used her own chopsticks to stop him, but his fingers were extremely flexible; the two chopsticks in his hand were like flying long snakes, parrying up and down, circling left and blocking right, thrusting forward and resisting backward.

It was simply impossible to guard against.

Sometimes, they would even fly out of his hand, attracting Gu Yuena's attention, and then the other chopstick would push aside her chopsticks, catch the falling chopstick, pick up a bun, and take it from the steamer.

At this moment, Gu Yuena seemed to understand something; she no longer fixated on the pair of chopsticks in Tang San's hand, but instead looked at her five fingers, squeezed her fist, felt the curvature of her joints, and the gaps between them, her eyes lit up, and she picked up her chopsticks again, looking at the steamer, only to find that there was only one bun left inside.

The rest of the buns had been shared by Tang San, Xiao Wu, Guang Ling, and the mother and daughter, Lingxi and Ling Meng.

"This last bun, I absolutely cannot give it to you!" Gu Yuena roared, like a dragon's cry, striking at the pair of chopsticks Tang San extended.

"Huh?" Tang San was surprised, then smiled, "Good progress."

"Hehe, there are many more things I can do to surprise you!"

Gu Yuena smiled and picked up the bun, but Tang San extended his chopsticks, passed them under the bun, and with a slight flick, the bun was tossed into the air.

Gu Yuena immediately went to pick it up, while Tang San stood up, his chopsticks like two dragon-snakes, blocking her chopsticks and catching the bun.

"Hmph!"

Gu Yuena suddenly struck her chopsticks downwards, knocking away the bun Tang San had caught, and she fell into the steamer, opening her mouth: "Ah~"

Just as the bun was about to touch Gu Yuena's mouth, Tang San reacted and once again caught the bun.

Seeing this, Gu Yuena suddenly stuck out her tongue and flicked the bun away.

"Ugh... This bun definitely can't be eaten now." Tang San's eye twitched slightly, but he still continued this "chopstick-bun-catching" game, using a fraction of the strength he used with Gu Yuena to teach her how to better control her physical strength, just like the master teaching Po in "Kung Fu Panda."

Gu Yuena's talent was even more terrifying than Po's.

The collision of their chopsticks was like two swordsmen each wielding two precious swords, competing for first place (the bun).

However, judging by their height difference, it was more like Tang San guiding Gu Yuena in a dance on the table.

Ultimately, after the "dance," Tang San, with better stamina, won, catching that one bun.

"You win, I don't want the bun!" Gu Yuena lay in the steamer, looking unhappy.

Tang San held the bun with his chopsticks, brought it to Gu Yuena's mouth, and said, "Open wide."

Gu Yuena involuntarily opened her mouth.

Plop~

The bun was released by Tang San and dropped into Gu Yuena's mouth.

Taking a bite, feeling the fluffy dough and the fragrant, tender tusked Spirit Beast meat, Gu Yuena comfortably narrowed her eyes and sat up straight from the steamer: "It tastes really good, I want more!"

Facing her eager gaze, Tang San could only helplessly push the buns on his plate towards her, saying, "Eat, but wash the dishes and chopsticks later."

"No problem," Gu Yuena grabbed a bun and stuffed it into her mouth, and only after all the buns on the plate were eaten did she愣愣ly ask, "What does 'wash the dishes' mean?"

"It means you can't eat for free; you need to work," Tang San lifted Gu Yuena by the back of her collar, pulling her down from the table, "Getting something for nothing isn't allowed with me."

"If I'm stronger than you, does everything here have to listen to me?" Gu Yuena didn't want to work; she just wanted to stay by Tang San's side and learn more things.

"Human society isn't simply about the strong preying on the weak... However, given that you're a 'wild child' who just returned to normal human society, I can give you a privilege: if you can defeat me, then everything here can listen to you," Tang San flicked Gu Yuena's nose, then said to Lingxi and Ling Meng, who had also finished eating, "Take her to familiarize herself with the dishwashing process."

Lingxi was a little worried: "She's only six, isn't she too young?"

"No, she's much older than you think, especially in terms of capability," Tang San hinted, making Gu Yuena momentarily alert, but then she felt she might be overthinking it—how could he possibly know her true identity? That rabbit couldn't possibly perceive my true identity either!

And Xiao Wu, who witnessed Gu Yuena's entire process from tension to relaxation, felt a bit wistful, as if she saw her former self, then suddenly became alert:

This co-lord of the Spirit Beasts, in the future, surely won't try to snatch Brother San from me, right?

Speaking of which, Brother San is getting stronger and stronger; even with Guang Ling, I can't subdue that giant dragon that makes them feel like they're in heaven and hell...

...

After the meal, Tang San planned to write a new theory and also have Fan Niu, Fan Ma, Lingxi, and Ling Meng come over to check it for him, but he suddenly received news that the Crown Prince was coming to visit...

239: Xue Qinghe's visit

When the Crown Prince came to visit, Tang San naturally needed to go out and greet him, even if this person was not Emperor Xue Ye's biological son at all, and wasn't even a son...

"Greetings, Your Royal Highness the Crown Prince!"

After welcoming Xue Qinghe into Silverblue Manor, Tang San led him to the living room. Xiao Wu, Guang Ling, and Lan Yinzi did not join them, but were busy with their own matters: researching medicine, researching spirit tools, and cultivating.

"Brother Tang has been quite carefree recently. There are quite a few private newspapers in the city reporting your romantic escapades." Xue Qinghe held his teacup and said with a smile.

Revealing his true identity at Luo Wang Auction House, and even going there to auction slaves, must have been spread by interested parties. However, news from such a place is open to interpretation.

So—

"That's right, it's all true." Tang San admitted it. After all, he had already had a threesome, what was there to deny? It just wasn't as exaggerated as the rumors outside.

"With great popularity comes much trouble, Brother Tang doesn't need to..." Xue Qinghe was about to offer some comfort, but suddenly felt that his ears might be malfunctioning. However, his composure was excellent, and he immediately smiled and said, "Brother Tang is truly a man of passion."

"Compared to the Crown Prince, I'm just more free." Tang San poured tea for Xue Qinghe, then got straight to the point and asked, "May I know why Your Royal Highness the Crown Prince has come to see me? Let me say in advance, I don't get involved in disputes within the imperial family; I only focus on researching what interests me."

"Brother Tang, am I the kind of person who is loyal to power?" Xue Qinghe feigned anger.

"My mistake." Tang San laughed, picked up his teacup, took a sip, and asked, "Then, may I ask why Your Royal Highness the Crown Prince has come to see me? It couldn't just be to catch up, could it? After all, it's rumored that Your Royal Highness the Crown Prince is also busy with 'concubines' every day."

"Actually, it's about my Imperial Father..." Xue Qinghe's eye twitched slightly, and he slowly explained the full story.

It turned out that Emperor Xue Ye had recently been gradually handing over the Empire's affairs to Xue Qinghe, preparing to become a retired emperor and enjoy a beautiful old age.

This should have been a good thing.

But when Xue Qinghe truly began to handle those imperial affairs, she realized that being an emperor was not so easy. It was fine for a short time, but over a long period, she felt physically and mentally exhausted.

This was completely different from the duties of the Spirit Hall Pope she had seen!

Bibi Dong only needed to spend a little time each day dealing with government affairs. At her busiest, it was only half a day. The rest of the time she could use for cultivation or doing things she liked.

However, the Heaven Dou Empire's emperor needed to constantly review memorials, and couldn't even rest at night. Only during festivals or major events could he have more rest time.

This truly caused Xue Qinghe, who was just beginning to learn how to be an emperor, to feel a strange sense of disillusionment.

The Supreme Pontiff and the Emperor are both the highest rulers of two major powers, so why is their workload so different?

If Xue Qinghe were to ask, Tang San could answer—

The methods of governance are different.

The governance within Heaven Dou is primarily based on checks and balances. As the supreme ruler, the Emperor naturally cannot just focus on enjoying himself. He must constantly pay attention to intelligence from various kingdoms within the territory, to prevent conflicts or even wars between them, or to guard against any ill intentions they might harbor towards the Heaven Dou imperial family, preparing for rebellion.

Moreover, the Emperor himself cares immensely about power, wanting to personally review every matter, big or small, not wishing for subordinates to conceal anything.

Thus, just handling the various affairs within Heaven Dou City each day was enough to exhaust the Heaven Dou Emperor—it was reasonable that Emperor Xue Ye became ill from overwork. However, Xue Qinghe also secretly had people administer a slow-acting poison, prematurely breaking several of Emperor Xue Ye's vital threads.

And what about Spirit Hall?

It is an organization similar to a church, whose members are all Spirit Masters. The strong are respected, and although it also involves faith and ideals, one cannot deny that: as long as one joins Spirit Hall and possesses sufficient strength, one can attain a higher status.

Back to the main topic.

Xue Qinghe's main reason for coming this time was a shortage of personnel, and she hoped Tang San could help.

Isn't this still recruiting people?

Tang San pursed his lips slightly, muttering to himself: However, it doesn't count as getting involved in imperial disputes. It's just that I'm completely clueless about handling government affairs.

"I apologize, Your Royal Highness the Crown Prince, you may have found the wrong person. I have no experience whatsoever in assisting with government affairs. If you were to ask me about Spirit cultivation, I could speak eloquently, but assisting you with governance is truly a bit... beyond my scope of expertise." Tang San said rather tactfully, "Since Your Royal Highness is destined to sit on that position, I presume many insightful individuals are inclined towards you. Why not seek them out?"

Xue Qinghe sighed, then fixed her burning gaze on Tang San: "They are all good-for-nothings, incapable of accomplishing anything. Moreover, their family's networks are complex, and I dare not fully trust them."

In fact, Xue Qinghe even planned to replace this group of people with her own after ascending to power!

How could she reuse them?

He couldn't trust them!

"Your Royal Highness's gaze truly flatters me." Tang San also sighed and said, "But I still want to say, my research is in Spirit theory, which doesn't mean I also have achievements in government affairs. Every profession has its specialty."

"In terms of governing a nation, Your Royal Highness need not be too fixated on Spirit Masters."

"Spirit Masters account for only one-twentieth, or even one-thirtieth, of the entire continent's population. Governing the Heaven Dou Empire is different from Spirit Hall's management style of 'as long as one is strong, one can have a higher status, and leave the weak to do the work.' It requires consideration of the people's livelihood."

"And the people's livelihood cannot be managed well simply by having a big fist. At most, it can scare them into not rebelling. But Spirit Masters themselves do not engage in production, and over time, many changes and problems are bound to arise."

This is probably one of the reasons why, after Spirit Hall established its nation in the original work, it caused widespread resentment and resistance from the Two Great Empires—managing the people's livelihood is completely different from managing Spirit Masters.

Managing Spirit Masters is easy; if your power is stronger than theirs, most Spirit Masters will obediently follow.

But managing a large number of commoners...

Let's put it this way, in the original work, Spirit Hall and the Spirit Empire not only failed to manage the common people well, but they didn't even train their armies effectively—during the final battle, the Heaven Dou army and Spirit Master army, with people of the same level in the same formation, had perfectly uniform spirit rings, while Spirit Hall's army had chaotic spirit rings, with only the Elephant Armored Academy and Sacred Dragon Sect being somewhat orderly.

Managing a Sect (gang) and managing a nation (state) cannot be conflated.

However, Xue Qinghe's gaze grew even more fervent.

Although Tang San repeatedly claimed not to understand how to govern a nation, his words revealed the essence of governing a kingdom: it is not an attitude of loving the people as one's children, nor is it extremely formidable strength, but rather the people's livelihood.

As long as the common people live and work in peace and contentment, a nation can be considered well-governed!

"Tang San, will you help me?" Qian Renxue extended the invitation again. "What Spirit Hall can give you, I can also give you, and I am willing to share the throne of the Heaven Dou Emperor with you!"

Immediately, the atmosphere in the living room fell silent.

A moment later, Tang San put down his teacup and said faintly, "To be honest, I still prefer freedom, rather than sitting in a confined room all day organizing documents."

Xue Qinghe was curious: "Don't you also sit in a confined room when you usually examine Spirit and Spirit Beast related materials?"

"The content viewed is different, so personal interest is naturally different. If I'm forced to look at something, it might be counterproductive." Tang San leaned back on the sofa, exuding a lazy aura, making Xue Qinghe unsure how to persuade him.

"Then let's forget it." Xue Qinghe felt that to win over Tang San, enticement would definitely not work. She had to conquer the man in front of her, just like Bibi Dong!

In terms of personal charisma, Qian Renxue believed that her disguised Xue Qinghe should not be inferior. However, if Tang San was indifferent to the identity of the Crown Prince, then this charisma would be close to zero.

As for martial prowess, Qian Renxue believed that only by becoming a God could she subdue him.

But with Tang San's ability, could he crush a God with a mortal body?

As soon as this thought emerged, Qian Renxue herself was startled and quickly changed the subject, saying, "Speaking of which, at that banquet, my sister Xue Ke had a great liking for you. My Imperial Father even wanted to bestow a marriage, asking you to be the imperial son-in-law, but unfortunately, you refused."

"Your sister is indeed shy and lovely, but feelings require a foundation." Seeing the other party's half-smile, Tang San feigned seriousness.

His refusal at the time wasn't direct, as that would have slighted Emperor Xue Ye. Therefore, when Emperor Xue Ye was about to speak, Tang San secretly blew the negative buff seed of his second Spirit Ability into his nose, causing him to fall asleep.

The negative buff could reduce all attributes of a Spirit Master.

Emperor Xue Ye's body was already not well, and under its influence, he naturally fell asleep.

Others might not have noticed, but Xue Qinghe must have been aware.

"As for feelings, they can be cultivated, you know." Xue Qinghe's phoenix eyes narrowed slightly, persistent, feeling as if she had caught Tang San's weakness.

"For ordinary people, it can indeed be cultivated, but for a researcher like me, if we cannot understand each other, forcing ourselves together is merely twisting two dry towels together. Without the nourishment of water, they will eventually separate."

This peculiar analogy left Xue Qinghe speechless. She could only give a dry laugh, making small talk, and said, "How long will Brother Tang be staying at Silverblue Manor?"

"I haven't decided yet, but it will be at least a month, and at most half a year." Tang San stroked his smooth chin, giving an ambiguous answer. "After all, on my journey from my hometown, I've seen many commoners' Spirits and conducted relatively detailed investigations and records, which has given me new ideas. Plus, I previously hired a pair of brothers with Physical Martial Souls, a mother and daughter whose Spirits and physical bodies had materialized, and a little girl who couldn't awaken a Spirit at Luo Wang Auction House. All of them require time for research."

"Oh? Materialization?" Hearing this new term, Xue Qinghe's eyes lit up, wanting to investigate further.

"That's right, materialization. Although currently it can only be corroborated by some unconfirmed legends..." Tang San kept her in suspense.

Xue Qinghe asked, "What legend?"

Tang San said, "Reaching level one hundred to become a God."

"God..." Xue Qinghe's pupils contracted. She realized that Tang San might already be thinking about breaking through to level one hundred in the future. She couldn't help but ask, "This should just be a legend, right?"

"That's why I said it's unconfirmed, but as a rigorous theoretical researcher, I won't completely deny that it's false." Tang San showed a confident smile. "God, I'm not sure, but as for breaking through to level one hundred, I do have some conjectures."

"What conjectures?" Xue Qinghe didn't even notice that her voice had become more delicate—Tang San had actually already had conjectures about breaking through to level one hundred!

"One of them is to materialize one's own Spirit!"

Tang San held up an index finger, "Spirit Master cultivation, increasing spirit power, breaking through to level one hundred, is to completely transform Spirit, this thing that exists between matter and energy, into energy or matter. In short, it can convert back and forth between these two concepts, rather than being in between them."

"From this, I deduced a new theory: besides allowing Spirit Masters to control extraordinary power, the more important purpose of cultivating spirit power is to gain control over the conversion authority of Spirit between matter and energy."

"Of course, this theory will only be published after I've tested it myself and found it feasible."

Xue Qinghe was stunned.

Although Tang San's description contained some new terms, she could understand their general meaning from the context, and it was precisely because of this that she was shocked!

This was touching the threshold of creating one's own God Position through one's own research!

However, Tang San overlooked an important condition: the power of faith.

Without the power of faith, Tang San's desire to break through to level one hundred and create his own God Position would be nothing but a pipe dream, because even if he broke through to ninety-ninth level and lived for a thousand years, he would simply be unable to accumulate enough energy to materialize his Spirit within his lifetime.

However, Qian Renxue still admired him.

After all, Tang San was only fourteen years old at the moment. In the future, he might realize the role of the power of faith, or find other methods to break through.

His future holds infinite possibilities!

"Then what's the second method?" After calming her emotions, Qian Renxue asked.

"If someone has become a God before, then latercomers might be able to inherit the God Position of their predecessors." Tang San did not hesitate at all, generously stating it.

"Inherit a God Position? That's impossible, isn't it?" Xue Qinghe took a sip of tea.

"After all, there are indeed some extremely peculiar places on the continent." Tang San lowered his finger. "For example: Slaughter City. This place has recently undergone significant changes. After hearing about it, I also went to investigate and found that the place seems to exist in another space, which is definitely beyond current human capability to create."

"It is rumored that by passing through Hell Road, one can be granted a Domain-type ability."

"To be able to grant a Domain, I think such immense power, for most people currently, only a God could achieve it."

"So, making a bold guess, is Slaughter City perhaps a city built by a certain evil God?"

240: "The Theory of Evolution of Martial Spirits"

“That's a truly bold guess.”

Xue Qinghe laughed heartily, seemingly inadvertently saying, “If that’s the case, then Spirit Hall might also have been established by a Divinity. After all, the Wu Hun Mountain in Spirit City is rumored to have been created by the Spirit Hall’s first Creator, the Angel God, who cut off a section of a mountain and transported it there.”

“There is indeed that possibility.” Tang San nodded seriously, “However, compared to inheriting a God Position, I’m more inclined towards Spirit materializing into a God Position.”

“That mother and daughter, their Beast Spirit has already materialized in an attached state.”

“It can be said that they are natural Gods.”

Xue Qinghe frowned.

Natural Gods?

Although the cat-girl mother and daughter’s Spirit did seem to be materialized, they were too weak, not even having ten levels of spirit power. How could they be natural Divinities?

“Do you find it unbelievable? Do you even find what I’m saying difficult to comprehend?” Tang San said decisively, “But their appearance truly indicates genuine Spirit materialization. The reason they are weak is simply that when their spirit power reaches ten levels, it is absorbed by their physical bodies, preventing them from obtaining a spirit ring and thus from improving their cultivation.”

“Is that so?” Xue Qinghe nodded slightly, not intending to delve deeper. After all, if they continued, Tang San might say that the mother and daughter’s talent was comparable to Spirit Hall’s Seraphim!

Furthermore, even if that mother and daughter were truly natural Divinities and could cultivate, their inability to obtain a spirit ring meant they would likely never succeed in their lifetime. If they were to truly focus on cultivation, the resources consumed would definitely be enormous.

This was definitely not a worthwhile endeavor!

Since it was now confirmed that Tang San would stay in Heaven Dou City for at least a month, she would have plenty of time to visit him during that month.

After sending Xue Qinghe off, Tang San began to organize the information he had gathered on his journey, preparing to write a theory about “the evolution of martial souls.”

The so-called evolution theory states that a Spirit can undergo corresponding evolution over long periods and through generations of accumulation, guided by a person’s will.

This shares a similar concept with “the compatibility between humans and Spirits” and is also a foundational theory Tang San needed to publish before his main theory. His previously published “The Primary and Secondary Relationship Between Humans and Spirits” was also foundational.

The basis for “the evolution of martial souls” was a village with distinct individual Spirit styles that Tang San and his companions encountered on their journey—

Daohua Village.

The villagers in this village primarily had three types of Spirits: hoes, sickles, and spades.

All were farming tools.

Tang San once asked an elder in the village, and learned that since the village's inception, when they intermarried with other villages, the people who married in generally had hoe Spirits, or Blue Silver Grass.

According to the elderly person, initially, this village only had hoe Spirits, but later, sickles and spades gradually appeared.

The appearance of these Spirits also puzzled the elder, as none of the people who married into the village had sickle or spade Spirits.

Then, Tang San further inquired about the village's early days.

Those elders said that initially, the village needed to build roads and reclaim land, and almost everyone in the village had hoe Spirits. Later, after the roads were built, the land reclaimed, and the crops planted, some children awakened sickle Spirits.

However, according to the comparison with the drawings the elder produced, the sickle was actually very similar to a hoe; its handle was just shorter and thinner, and the hoe blade was twisted, tilted, and sharpened on one side.

And then, the town near Daohua Village became a small city, and there was a demand for a certain type of fruit... and then, the spade Spirit appeared.

According to the drawings, the first spade Spirit to appear was also very similar to a hoe; only the hoe blade changed from horizontal to vertical, and the blade surface widened.

Changes in the environment and the longing for a better life caused the hoe Spirit to evolve with people's will.

However, this was just one case Tang San found.

Another example is a village built near a mine. A hundred years ago, the villagers relied on mining for a living, and their Spirits were all pickaxes. Later, when the ore ran out, for survival, their Spirits evolved over three to four generations into hoes, and the village then relied on farming for a living.

There were more than ten such cases.

Some villages, primarily with food Spirits, made their food taste and look better and better to sell it.

Or a village primarily with bow and arrow Spirits, originally relying on hunting for a living, but wild animals were hunted to extinction. Coupled with the influence of nearby city orchestras, some people wanted to earn a living through singing, so they influenced the new generation ideologically, for example: “If only my Spirit were a zither.”

Thus, the bow Spirit slowly evolved into a peculiar single-stringed zither.

Although the people in these cases either had no innate spirit power, or only half a level of innate spirit power, and could never break through the Spirit Master level in their lifetime, they yearned to become Spirit Masters and felt a disdain for their own Spirits.

Spirits possess sentience; if people don’t communicate with them, they don’t bother with people either. But a Spirit is ultimately a part of a person, and in the unseen, it will accumulate power and undergo slow changes for the owner’s better survival.

After organizing this “the evolution of martial souls,” Tang San summarized two rules for Spirit evolution:

Firstly, Spirits will change with people’s thoughts, but for ordinary people who are not Spirit Masters, the evolution of a Spirit requires at least three generations.

Secondly, when a Spirit evolves to adapt and satisfy human life’s needs, it will temporarily stop evolving to fix the Spirit’s form and achieve stable inheritance.

The above two points must exclude cases of sudden, non-universal mutations caused by external factors—such as special environments or special medicines.

After organizing the corresponding draft, Tang San bound it and found that its thickness exceeded two centimeters. He slapped his head and chuckled: “It’s so thick, it’s probably not suitable for publication in Wuhun News. Should I write a concise version?”

After much thought, Tang San still gave up.

After all, he was already famous now, and there was no need to focus solely on Wuhun News. Publishing a book directly was not out of the question. However, this theory still needed to be sent to the Wuhun News Agency, and for compensation, it couldn’t be a direct buyout as before; it needed to be a percentage... Tang San felt he could propose a signing and percentage cooperation model with the Wuhun News Agency.

Presumably, the Wuhun News Agency would give him, the Spirit Hall Saint Child, some face.

“What are you writing?”

Suddenly, a familiar child’s voice came from behind him. Gu Yuena had unknowingly entered the study, 趴 on the table, curiously looking at “the evolution of martial souls” on the desk.

She tried to reach for it but Tang San took it away first, saying, “Walking in without knocking is very impolite.”

“This is my home, I can do whatever I want.” Gu Yuena put her hands on her hips, lifted her chin, and stared directly at Tang San.

“What’s with your righteous attitude?” Tang San rubbed his forehead helplessly, “By the way, have you learned how to wash dishes?”

Gu Yuena loudly said, “I have!”

Tang San was about to nod, then he heard Gu Yuena say, “The bowls are all broken, so there’s no need to wash them. Am I not very smart?”

“...You are quite smart, but if the bowls are broken, you’ll need to spend money to buy new ones. This debt will accrue, and you can pay it back slowly later.” Tang San put “the evolution of martial souls” into his storage soul tool. “Let’s go, I’ll help you awaken your Spirit. Humans living in this World cannot be without a Spirit, unless ordinary methods cannot awaken it. Perhaps I can try to help you.”

However, Gu Yuena didn’t care much about awakening her Spirit. Instead, she stared at Tang San’s left hand, at his storage soul tool, and asked, “Is that a storage soul tool? Can you give me one?”

“People without spirit power cannot use a storage soul tool.” Tang San refused. “Besides, I bought you for thirty million gold coins.”

Gu Yuena pouted and snorted, “Stingy. When I grow up, a mere thirty million will be returned to you in the blink of an eye.”

“When you grow up, it won’t be just thirty million.”

“Why?” Gu Yuena asked, puzzled, “Are you going to make me pay more?”

“Interest will be added. And, during the time you grow up, you’ll eat my food, use my things, live in my home, and learn all sorts of knowledge from me. That’s another huge expense. At the very least, it’ll be over ten billion, right?” Tang San gestured with five fingers, as if genuinely calculating how many gold coins Gu Yuena would have to pay him back when she grew up.

Gu Yuena had some concept of numbers, and hearing “ten billion,” she immediately became indignant: “How can it be that much? Are you trying to trick me?”

“Congratulations, you guessed correctly. I am indeed tricking you, and you’ve already fallen into the trap!” Tang San chuckled.

“Hmph!” Gu Yuena turned her head away, puffing out her cheeks, having realized Tang San was teasing her, and was a little unhappy.

“Alright, don’t be so unhappy.” Tang San raised his hand to pat Gu Yuena’s head, but she dodged. However, how could she dodge Tang San’s large hand? In the end, Tang San still pressed down on her head.

“If anyone else dared to treat this young lady like this, I would have bitten them long ago. It’s only because you provide me with food and clothing that I won’t bother with you.” Gu Yuena had a tsundere expression, a blush appearing on her cute round face.

Tang San smiled, then suddenly asked, “This phrase, ‘this young lady,’ where did you learn it? Luo Wang Auction House wouldn’t teach such things, would they?”

“Before I was sent to that auction house, I heard a woman dressed in colorful clothes say it. I thought it sounded quite good, so I adopted it.” Gu Yuena said casually, “Let me tell you, this young lady has learned a lot on this journey, far beyond your imagination!”

“Is that so? Then how come you only learned to use chopsticks yesterday?” Tang San asked, feigning confusion.

Immediately, Gu Yuena’s face turned red, and she said, “That’s because I had never seen chopsticks. Those people would just bring the meat directly to me when they fed me.”

“How detestable! Those bastards!”

“When I grow up, I’ll definitely teach those guys at Luo Wang Auction House a good lesson!”

Tang San nodded: “Indeed, selling slaves is somewhat inhumane. Such an industry will eventually disappear with the development of the times.”

Gu Yuena looked at Tang San and said, “You are a good person.”

Tang San: “???”

241: Silver Dragon Spear Silver Dragon King

“Please don’t give me a good person card, thank you. I’m a big bad guy, specializing in abducting children.” Tang San tried to scare Gu Yuena.

Gu Yuena: “(¬▽¬ ~) Che~~”

Abducting children?

Hehe.

She wasn’t really a child, so how could she be abducted?

As for a bad guy...

Anyway, Gu Yuena felt that since she was a Spirit Beast, why should she care about the good and evil among humans? Besides, she thought Tang San was very good to her and had even taught her some principles of Life... It was just that sometimes his words were infuriating, but she didn’t particularly dislike him.

What an interesting person.

Then, the two arrived at the quiet meditation room for cultivating spirit power.

Tang San took out dozens of black round stones from his storage wristband; these were Spirit Awakening Stones.

According to Tang San’s research, this type of stone was also a spirit tool. Under the effect of spirit power, it could condense the energy between heaven and earth into golden, light-dot-shaped energy.

This energy could resonate with a Spirit, thereby drawing out the Spirit within the human body.

In Tang San's opinion, the principle of the Awakening Stone condensing heaven and earth energy could be replicated to create things like awakening formations, and it could also be applied to spirit tools, allowing them to automatically recharge.

Guang Ling was currently researching the patterns on the Awakening Stone...

“Stand in the center of the formation.”

Generally, for Spirit awakening, six Awakening Stones arranged in a circle were sufficient, but Tang San used thirty-six Awakening Stones to form a hexagram.

This was a placement method, tested with the help of Iliex, that could condense more golden light dots.

When Gu Yuena stepped into the center of the Awakening Stones, she immediately felt a difference—

Even without the injection of spirit power, the thirty-six Awakening Stones seemed to be condensing the energy of heaven and earth and converging towards her body.

“Is this the wisdom of humans?”

Gu Yuena was shocked. Then she saw Tang San release his Blue Silver Emperor, and five spirit rings—one yellow, two purple, one black, and one red—appeared. The red spirit ring even had two patterns on it.

Immediately, two adorable little girls emerged from within that red spirit ring.

Gu Yuena's pupils slightly contracted.

Those were the complete souls of Spirit Beasts, enveloped by energy, and through an unfathomable Life force, they condensed into physical forms in a peculiar way, thus coexisting with Tang San himself.

Was this a symbiosis between humans and Spirit Beasts?

Moreover, these two could progress alongside Tang San. If Tang San could become a Divinity, these two could also advance to the Divine level... Was there actually such a method?

“Calm your mind; I’m about to begin.”

After a reminder, Tang San injected spirit power into the awakening formation composed of thirty-six Awakening Stones.

Instantly, countless heaven and earth energies were transformed, condensing into a massive amount of golden light dots, forming a golden tornado that encircled Gu Yuena.

Standing within the dazzling tornado, Gu Yuena felt her innate essence tremble slightly, as if it was about to be guided out.

“Beast Spirit? Or Tool Spirit?”

Gu Yuena realized that she didn’t have much time to consider. With a thought, her essence floated to the surface of her body, transforming into a silver long spear. The spear body was entirely silver-white, covered with dense, oval-shaped dragon scales, each one flowing with colorful energy.

As for the spearhead, its length accounted for about one-third of the spear, and the spearhead was conical in overall shape, with a total of twelve grooves on it.

“Silver Dragon Spear?” Tang San thought, “As expected,” and then he saw the Silver Dragon Spear in Gu Yuena’s hand disperse. Countless dragon scales attached to her body, turning her hands into dragon claws covered in silver-white dragon scales. A pair of Silver Dragon wings, about two meters wide, grew from her back, and a pair of sharp Silver Dragon horns grew from her head.

twin spirits?

No!

It was the integration of Tool Spirit and Beast Spirit.

His Clear Sky Hammer, after Austin Griffin's possession, could transform into a Beast form. Similarly, an existence like the Silver Dragon King could naturally allow the Silver Dragon Spear Spirit to transform into a Beast Spirit. After all, this was originally part of the Silver Dragon King's essence, and mutual conversion between them seemed to pose no major problem.

Perhaps, a small portion of the more powerful Tool Spirits were transformed from Beast Spirits.

"Is my Spirit very powerful?" Gu Yuena narrowed her large eyes, waiting for Tang San's praise. With a raised hand, the Beast Spirit Silver Dragon separated from its possessed state and transformed back into the Silver Dragon Spear.

"Very powerful. This is the third Spirit I've encountered that possesses both Beast Spirit and Tool Spirit properties simultaneously," Tang San nodded.

"The third?"

Gu Yuena was puzzled, "Whose Spirit is similar to mine?"

"There's a Titled Douluo in Spirit Hall: Ci Xue. His Spirit is the Snake Lance, possessing both Tool Spirit: Spear, and Beast Spirit: Snake, two forms. However, in the snake form, he cannot possess his Spirit, but he should be able to exist within that energy-transformed snake form during his Martial Soul True Body state." After giving the example of Snake Lance Douluo, Tang San then released his Clear Sky Hammer, "And the second is me, but I'm a special case..."

The moment Gu Yuena saw the Clear Sky Hammer for the first time, her heart trembled, and she couldn't help but take a step back.

And the Clear Sky Hammer seemed to sense something as well. It trembled and split open, transforming into a five-headed earth dragon-like creature. The five heads curiously examined Gu Yuena.

“Let me introduce it. This is my second Spirit, the Clear Sky Hammer, and I've named it Nine Haos. It possesses extremely strong self-spirituality, even a soul.”

Tang San introduced the Clear Sky Hammer's situation, “If my Blue Silver Emperor represents Life, then Nine Haos represents Creation.”

Gu Yuena remained silent.

But she also realized that Tang San's ambition was great, wanting to simultaneously control Life and Creation. Moreover, this Clear Sky Hammer/Nine Haos, representing Creation, contained an extremely powerful energy, simultaneously controlling power and elements, no weaker than the Dragon God in its prime, and even particularly outstanding in the aspect of [Creation].

How could such a terrifying Spirit exist in the World?

If its will awakened, it would probably destroy the entire Douluo Continent!

“Nine Haos, don't scare the little girl.” Tang San stroked Nine Haos' five heads, retracted it into his body, and then took out a crystal ball, saying, “Although I've already sensed your spirit power fluctuations, let's still test it to give yourself an expectation.”

Gu Yuena came back to her senses and obediently placed her small hand on the crystal ball.

As Gu Yuena's spirit power was absorbed into the crystal ball, light covered two-thirds of the crystal ball.

“Innate Level 20.”

Tang San's crystal ball could test spirit power below Level 30.

"Why don't you have any reaction?" Gu Yuena was speechless, "I'm Innate Level 20! Are there many Innate Level 20s in the World?"

"Not many." Tang San was expressionless, "Actually, I have a poker face."

Innate Level 20?

This spirit power level was within Tang San's expectations. To be honest, even if Gu Yuena was Innate Level 100, he wouldn't be surprised, since this guy didn't need to cultivate at all.

Others cultivated diligently, striving to create a king-level account.

But Gu Yuena?

She was just creating a sub-account, and could directly inherit the experience from her main account. Her so-called "cultivation," before Level 100, was probably just for show in front of others.

Gu Yuena was suspicious but didn't dwell much on this topic, continuing, "Oh, right, when I awakened my Spirit, I saw a phantom of a Silver Dragon. She said she wanted to choose me as her successor, and that in the future, my spirit rings could appear on their own, without needing to hunt Spirit Beasts."

"Is that so?" Tang San still had a blank face, but he understood in his heart that this little girl wanted to find a suitable excuse for the origin of her future spirit rings.

This was good. Later, when they went to Spirit City, such an explanation might be considered wishful thinking by others, but Bibi Dong, as a Divinity inheritor, would believe it with over ninety percent probability.

"Why aren't you surprised at all?"

"I told you, I have a poker face."

“Liar! I clearly saw you and those two women having a great time last night!”

“Hmm?”

Tang San narrowed his eyes, “Your hidden ability is quite good, I didn’t even notice it. Why don’t you teach me?”

Gu Yuena was stunned: “Don’t you have any shame? Other people, when exposed, would blush and be very embarrassed. How can you be like this, even wanting to learn how to conceal your aura from me?”

“Oh, Na’er, at such a young age, you already know so much. But why weren’t you embarrassed when you were watching?” Tang San countered.

“Hmph, I’m still young, I don’t understand anything,” Gu Yuena’s face flushed, but the blush vanished in an instant. Then she said, “It’s not impossible to teach you the method of concealing aura.”

“But this is something I comprehended when I was a ‘wild child,’ it’s very precious.”

The implication was that an equivalent exchange was needed.

“You eat my food, use my things, wear my clothes...”

“Alright, I’ll teach you for free. Consider it me owing you. Can it offset that thirty million?” Gu Yuena rolled her eyes and presented her condition.

In the human World, one must use human ways of thinking.

If you owe money, you must repay it.

After all, she genuinely couldn’t defeat Tang San right now, unless she was willing to directly increase her cultivation, but then her disguise would be gone, which would be a net loss.

“A method of concealing aura that even I can’t detect is indeed very valuable, but to me, it’s dispensable, so it’s not worth thirty million, at most

one hundred thousand.”

These words made Gu Yuena’s eyelids twitch. She said, “How can you bargain like that?”

“Not as good as you, at the auction, you even bid up your own price.” Tang San spoke of Gu Yuena’s dark history, causing her teeth to clench, now that she knew how foolish she had been then.

Just then, Ling Meng ran into the quiet meditation room. Seeing Gu Yuena biting Tang San’s wrist, she paused for a moment before reminding him, “Lord Earl, the Master of Moon Pavilion, Tang Yuehua, wishes to visit you.”

“Let her in.”

Tang San tickled Gu Yuena’s armpit, making her itch and laugh, releasing his hand. She immediately leaped to the doorway and said to Ling Meng, “Please take care of this little girl. I’ll help her awaken her Spirit later... This little girl is very stubborn; she couldn’t stand it after just a few words and started biting.”

“Understood, Lord Earl.” Ling Meng smiled slightly, walked to Gu Yuena’s side, picked her up, and said, “Sister Na’er, shall we go swing in the backyard?”

242: Tang Yuehua visits the liar

Chapter 242: Tang Yuehua's Visit — The Deception

"Long time no see, Tang Xuanzhu."

Tang San received Tang Yuehua in the living room, poured her tea, and politely asked, "May I ask why you have come this time?"

"Little San, are you unwilling to call me Auntie?" Tang Yuehua's expression was slightly bitter. "Your father has returned to the Clear Sky Sect, and the Sect is willing to let you acknowledge your ancestors and return to the Sect..."

Here to relay a message?

Putting down the teacup in his hand, Tang San's eyes showed no ripples. He said indifferently, "If Tang Xuanzhu is only here to tell me this, then there's nothing more to say."

"To me, the Clear Sky Sect cannot compare to Spirit Hall."

"On the continent, apart from Sects like the Seven Treasure Glazed Tile School, which due to their auxiliary nature are willing to recruit outsiders on a large scale, the rest judge whether someone is a direct disciple by their Spirit, overly emphasizing bloodline inheritance."

"Of course, the Seven Treasure Glazed Tile School is only slightly better."

"This kind of family or Sect, based on Spirits, is excellent for a 'small family,' but for the 'big family,' which is the entire human collective, it's not a good thing."

"Because of my own experiences, my focus is on the 'big family.' So, don't let my thoughts be confined to the 'small family,' OK?"

Although it was the first time she had heard the English word "OK," Tang Yuehua realized its meaning: he did not want to be disturbed again.

But—

"The Clear Sky Sect ultimately gave you your bloodline! That is your root!"

Facing Tang Yuehua's earnest persuasion, Tang San still patiently said, "If the Clear Sky Sect is my root, then the Clear Sky Sect should be proud of me, rather than trying to confine me within the small Clear Sky Sect."

"Just like a tree, after it grows, it flowers and bears fruit, and the final seeds can grow into new large trees... It's impossible for a tree to swallow its seeds, right?"

"Furthermore, compared to the Clear Sky Sect, Saint Spirit Village is my root."

Tang Yuehua somewhat understood the meaning of the first two sentences but could not comprehend the third: "How can Saint Spirit Village be your root? The villagers there are not your kind at all!"

"Indeed, none of them are Spirit Masters. And in the eyes of you, Hao Tian Disciples, and some Spirit Masters, they might even be timid, stingy, calculating, with countless flaws, destined to toil in the fields their whole lives, never to rise above their station."

Tang San's tone slightly deepened.

"But, my childhood was there—"

"For those six years, I ate the same grain grown on the same land as them and drank the same water drawn from the same well."

"Although I no longer live there often, I go back to visit every year. Even now, perhaps ~ we might still meet in dreams."

Although his words were simple, Tang Yuehua heard Tang San's nostalgia for that period of his life.

If she had been born into such an environment, would she have the same mindset as Tang San?

Involuntarily, a hint of longing arose in her heart.

"For me now, memory is a person's foundation, not so-called bloodline."

Tang San spoke with conviction, touching Tang Yuehua's heart. "Spirit Hall, although initially also a bloodline inheritance with successive Supreme Pontiffs from the Angel lineage, since Bibi Dong took office, it seems to have adopted a 'merit-based' approach. I favor this 'the capable rise, the incompetent fall' promotion method, which is closer to fairness."

"This is also one of the reasons why Spirit Hall has grown stronger over the past decade or so since Bibi Dong took power."

"Of course, there are many problems within Spirit Hall itself... But which power doesn't have internal problems? At least, I see Spirit Hall striving to improve... As long as the Supreme Pontiff doesn't go mad, Spirit Hall, this great tree, can bear abundant fruit in the future."

Silence.

After he finished speaking, there was a period of silent contemplation.

After a while, Tang San continued to ask, "Tang Xuanzhu, I once analyzed the Ruyi Ring for you, but it seems you still haven't given up Moon Pavilion and are not living your own life."

Hearing this, Tang Yuehua opened her mouth and said with a bitter smile, "Indeed, I want to let go of my pride, but I don't even have the courage. This isn't pride at all; it's just pitiful self-esteem..."

At this point, Tang Yuehua suddenly paused, muttering "pitiful self-esteem." Her heart seemed to understand something, and she suddenly realized, "So, the pride of the Clear Sky Sect is just this pitiful self-esteem?"

"So that's it!"

"No wonder ever since Grandpa left the Sect, the Sect has never produced another peerless Douluo. My father, a dignified Titled Douluo, actually died of anger because he couldn't bear the psychological pressure... It wasn't because of insufficient talent, but because we hadn't yet emerged from Grandpa's protection and still believed the Clear Sky Sect was number one in the world!"

"But in fact, the number one in the world is my Grandpa, not the Hao Tian Disciples!"

"I understand! I understand everything!"

After understanding all this, Tang Yuehua seemed to let go of something as well. She felt the shackles on her body shatter, and a wisp of spirit power actually emerged within her, beginning to grow continuously.

"My spirit power has reached rank ten!"

Perceiving her own state, Tang Yuehua was torn between laughter and tears. "So, what you said is true."

"Congratulations, Tang Xuanzhu." Tang San offered his congratulations. "However, I observe that Tang Xuanzhu still hasn't fully let go. It's estimated that when you cultivate to rank nineteen, you'll be stuck for a long time again."

"To be able to cultivate to the Spirit Master realm, I am already content." Tang Yuehua shook her head, her heart already confirming that Tang San's analysis for her back then was correct.

Only by truly letting go of pride and understanding one's Spirit can one go further on the path of a Spirit Master.

However, how difficult is it to truly let go of pride?

Her current one-rank spirit power increase was merely due to some inner relief.

"San'er, how about Auntie stays at your house these days?" Tang Yuehua asked tentatively.

"To deliver messages to the Clear Sky Sect? To monitor me?" Tang San retorted unceremoniously. "Also, aren't you going to open your Moon Pavilion?"

"Just as you said, I want to live for myself." Tang Yuehua smiled.

"Is that so?"

Tang San couldn't discern Tang Yuehua's true intentions. He slowly rose, preparing to see her off, but then suddenly asked, "Has Tang Chen returned to the Clear Sky Sect?"

"How do you know...?" Tang Yuehua immediately covered her mouth, looking at Tang San in disbelief, not understanding how he knew this.

"It seems he has returned to the Sect."

After his trip to Slaughter City, Tang San had speculated whether Tang Chen had regained his sanity, but he wasn't sure if he would go to reminisce with his old lover Bo Saixi or return to the Clear Sky Sect.

Originally, Tang San had guessed the former, as Tang Chen had been Parasited by the Scarlet Nine-Headed Bat King. Even if he broke free, his body would be riddled with holes and he wouldn't live much longer.

But now, he didn't go to Bo Saixi but returned to the Clear Sky Sect—

It seems his body hasn't deteriorated to an incurable state. Perhaps it's different from the original story, and the toxins in his blood weren't activated by the Scarlet Swan Kiss... But Tang Chen shouldn't be in his peak condition either, otherwise the Clear Sky Sect would have announced its re-emergence with great fanfare.

"Please don't tell the Spirit Hall higher-ups, okay?" Tang Yuehua pleaded.

"Hmm ~ I seem to be a Spirit Hall Saint Child." Tang San's answer was off-topic, but he had already shown Tang Yuehua his stance: he stood with Spirit Hall.

"Just consider it for the sake of our shared bloodline, give Auntie some face." Tang Yuehua implored.

"The Moon Pavilion Master's face, of course, must be given." Tang San seemed to agree, but Tang Yuehua felt even more sorrowful, because this meant Tang San still didn't acknowledge her as his aunt.

Giving face to the Moon Pavilion Master.

Not giving face to his aunt.

My good second brother, what foolish things did you do back then?

"However, do you really think Spirit Hall doesn't know?" Tang San continued, "After all, Slaughter City has openly been under the surveillance and guard of Spirit Hall personnel."

"What does this have to do with Slaughter City?" Tang Yuehua didn't understand.

"It seems the Sect doesn't trust you much."

Noticing that Tang Yuehua seemed genuinely unaware of anything, Tang San revealed a mocking smile—

When Tang Chen returned to the Sect, even if he didn't say where he had been all these years, Tang Hao, who awakened him, would definitely know. Based on his understanding of Tang Hao, he would certainly tell Tang Xiao.

And Tang Yuehua's relaying of information must be in contact with Tang Xiao...

But now, it seems Tang Xiao didn't tell his sister Tang Yuehua where her grandfather had been all these years.

If it were an ordinary person, they would think it was to prevent the woman from worrying.

But for Tang Yuehua, who was born into the Clear Sky Sect, this was looking down on her!

In fact, things were even worse than Tang San imagined. Currently, almost all direct disciples of the Clear Sky Sect knew where Tang Chen had been all these years; only Tang Yuehua was kept in the dark.

Although she was also the biological child of the former Clear Sky Sect Master, her Spirit was not the Clear Sky Hammer, so she was ultimately treated differently.

"Tang Chen is the Slaughter King of Slaughter City." Tang San revealed the truth, then gave a piece of false information: "Do you think Spirit Hall wouldn't know about this? If it weren't for their fear of the Slaughter King's strength, with so many Titled Douluos in Spirit Hall, they would have long since taken down and controlled that city capable of bestowing the Slaughter God Domain upon others."

Tang Yuehua was stunned, secretly cursing herself for being foolish for not thinking of this.

"Something happened in Slaughter City recently; all The Fallen inside are dead, and the Slaughter King has disappeared. Do you think Spirit Hall wouldn't guess that Tang Chen has returned to the Clear Sky Sect, right?" Tang San continued to deceive, "Also, as a Spirit Hall Saint Child, I received another piece of news: the reason Tang Chen was in Slaughter City was to undergo the Asura God's Divinity trial, hoping to break through rank one hundred and achieve Divinity."

"You didn't know any of this, did you?"

"You can organize the information I told you as if you uncovered it from relevant Spirit Hall personnel and relay it to the Clear Sky Sect to see how your eldest brother reacts."

When Tang Yuehua left Silverblue Manor, her eyes refocused. She looked back at Tang San, who was waving at her, and suddenly realized that he was "sowing discord."

But this was a naked open conspiracy.

The other party had seized her weakness—proving her pride to the Clear Sky Sect and her desire to gain the recognition of all Clear Sky Sect members... If she didn't gain the Clear Sky Sect's trust, and they even concealed things from her, and even her brother and grandfather were unwilling to tell her the truth, then wouldn't her efforts for most of her life be utterly ridiculous?

For a moment, Tang Yuehua actually didn't dare to relay this "information" to the Sect...

243: Tiger-Bear Strengthening Technique: Bear's back and tiger's chest!

After sending Tang Yuehua off, Tang San called Fan Niu and Fan Ma, preparing to study their Physical Martial Souls.

After their Spirits possessed them, they looked no different from ordinary people.

Fan Niu's Spirit was his chest; after using his Spirit, his nipples disappeared, turning into pure muscle mass, looking extremely hard. His chest's defense was stronger than an ordinary person's, and he could even vaguely see an abstract face.

Fan Ma's Spirit was his back; after using it, the muscles on his back became robust, and combined with his shoulder blades, vaguely formed an even more abstract face.

After testing, both their overall strength doubled under the Spirit's enhancement. In terms of defense, Fan Niu's chest defense doubled, while Fan Ma's back defense doubled.

However, their flexibility decreased.

This was also a common problem for large individuals: tall and muscular, but with muscles too large, the flexibility of their limbs decreased. Even the range of motion of their arms was smaller than a normal person's, unable to reach certain areas of their back.

However, for Fan Niu and Fan Ma, their talent lay in their chest, back, and body muscles. If they focused on flexibility, it would be a step backward.

"What are your First Soul Skills?" Tang San asked.

"My First Soul Skill can harden my chest and make the face on my chest more realistic," Fan Niu said as his white spirit ring flickered. The muscles on his chest immediately bulged, and the tight muscles connected into a single mass, looking even more like a ferocious face.

Immediately afterward, Fan Ma activated his First Soul Skill. The demon face on his back also became more terrifying. Any ordinary person seeing it would surely be filled with dread. However, the effect was similar to Fan Niu's, also making the muscles harder.

How should I put it?

If it was merely about hardening, both brothers' First Soul Skills were very basic. However, after Tang San's inspection, he discovered that under the Spirit Ability's enhancement, their chests and backs became even more compact, and there was even a peculiar force of vital energy flowing through their chests and backs.

It was very faint, but it was a real force of vital energy.

In Tang San's conjecture, Physical Martial Souls should all have innate full spirit power. After all, this was a part of the human body, so how could it not be compatible with the person themselves?

However, the reason a Spirit is a Spirit is because it exists between matter and energy, inherently possessing spirituality, and is not truly one with the person. They must understand each other. Moreover, because a Physical Martial Soul is a part of the person themselves, it is closely related to the person's physical condition.

If one was malnourished and in poor physical condition before awakening their Spirit, their innate spirit power would naturally be extremely low.

"Lord Earl, how are our First Soul Skills? Are they very bad?" Fan Niu asked somewhat nervously, "Is there any chance in our lifetime to break through to the Spirit Grandmaster level?"

"In terms of Spirit Ability effect, it's very mediocre, but fortunately, it touches upon the force of vital energy. This might also be a specialty of Physical Martial Souls, making it even easier to grasp the threshold of vital energy than some powerful Beast Spirits." Tang San did not deny the brothers' judgment regarding the Spirit Ability's evaluation, but he also affirmed their strengths. "The force of vital energy is the key to your future cultivation. As for whether you can break through to Spirit Grandmaster, or even Spirit Elder, or Spirit Ancestor, that depends on your efforts."

After speaking, Tang San, based on the method of tempering muscles from the Jade Bone Golden Muscle Divine Treasure Method, personally created a simple cultivation method for the two that could drive spirit power circulation through vital energy. He said, "This is the Tiger Bear Body Tempering Art, which can help you cultivate a bear's back and a tiger's chest. In the future, when you hunt Spirit Beasts, choose bear-type and tiger-type Spirit Beasts, imitate the aura of tigers and bears, and perhaps you will have a chance to break through to Spirit King, or even higher levels."

"Thank you, Lord Earl, for your recreated kindness!" X2

The brothers excitedly knelt down and kowtowed to Tang San, "We, and our descendants, are willing to be at the beck and call of Lord Earl and Lord Earl's descendants for generations, never betraying!"

Tang San helped them up and smiled, "There's no need to be so serious. I'm just using you for an experiment to verify theories. We're both getting what we need."

Fan Niu's eyes were firm: "We are serious!"

Fan Ma echoed: "Brother is right!"

Tang San skipped this topic and led the two to an open space, teaching them how to cultivate the Tiger Bear Body Tempering Art. He instructed them on how to control their muscles by moving their limbs, and indirectly control that negligible force of vital energy, condensing vital energy with their chest and back as the core, and then transmitting it throughout their bodies.....

Both were over thirty, and their memory was a bit poor. Therefore, Tang San patiently taught them over forty times before they remembered the corresponding tricks.

"In the future, when you teach others, you must also be patient," Tang San stopped teaching as noon approached, and said to the two, "Before I go to Spirit City, I will come to teach you several times every day. Only after I confirm it, can you cultivate independently; otherwise, don't practice blindly."

"We understand." Fan Niu also knew that his and his brother's talent was poor, and their memory was not very good. If someone else came to teach, they would probably get impatient after three or five times.

Lord Earl actually patiently taught them nearly fifty times!

There was probably no one more patient and responsible than he in the world!

"Alright, no need for thanks. Go eat, then go stand guard at the main entrance. After all, I'm not a benevolent capitalist," Tang San's tone changed, "If you neglect your duties, I'll deduct your wages."

"Yes!"

"Going to eat immediately!"

Fan Niu and Fan Ma stood ramrod straight, their hands across their chests, solemnly accepting Tang San's command, then walked side by side towards the dining room...

...

After lunch, Tang San went to the Heaven Dou City Spirit Hall and handed "the evolution of martial souls" to Ma Xiunuo, hoping he would send it to Spirit City.

"Greetings, Lord Saint Son!" Ma Xiunuo hurriedly stood up and bowed to Tang San, but before he could bend half his waist, Tang San supported him.

"Grandpa Ma Xiunuo, what are you doing?" Tang San asked, torn between laughter and tears, helping him back into his seat. "I don't seem like the kind of person who forgets his roots once he gains power, do I?"

"Haha, I was just joking."

Ma Xiunuo stroked his grizzled beard, looking like an old mischievous child. "However, thinking about it now, I still feel like I'm dreaming. You actually became the Saint Son of Spirit Hall, and you can even be on par with Supreme Pontiff... In the path of Spirit cultivation, you are absolutely a heaven-blessed genius!"

"Even the legendary Level 100, you might be able to touch!"

Tang San smiled without speaking, made tea for Ma Xiunuo, and chatted about daily life: "Grandpa Ma Xiunuo, how have you been recently?"

"Not bad. Here in the Heaven Dou City Spirit Hall, thanks to you, although my position hasn't changed, my status is second only to Salas, the Bishop here. Sometimes, Salas even has to be polite when he looks for me." Ma Xiunuo laughed heartily, then sighed faintly, saying, "However, my son is disappointing. He often comes to me, saying he wants to take the opportunity to earn more money and then help him get promoted... After I refused, he secretly broke off with me... Hmph! What a useless fellow, not thinking about earning merits, but rather about taking shortcuts."

Tang San found it difficult to comment much on Ma Xiunuo's family affairs, only saying, "Don't be angry, young people, it's normal to go through a rebellious phase."

"He's over thirty, and still rebellious?" Ma Xiunuo became even more annoyed, picked up his teacup, took a sip to moisten his throat, "It's Xiao Tang, you, so young, yet so mature. If my son could be like you, I could save some worry and then go to Phoenix City to enjoy my later years."

"Unfortunately, my son..."

Listening to Ma Xiunuo continuously pour out his grievances, Tang San remained calm, listening, because he understood that at such times, Ma Xiunuo only needed someone to listen to him, not offer advice.

As long as he spoke it out, he would feel better.

Three hours later, Tang San finally emerged from Spirit Hall, stretched, and thought to himself, "Listening to the elders chat about daily life is more tiring than researching the path of vital energy with Xiao Wu and Guang Ling. That's a battle that gets more intense the longer it goes on..."

His thoughts returned to normal, and Tang San walked towards Silverblue Manor.

"Third Brother, long time no see. How have you been recently?"

Outside the manor, Ning Rongrong also happened to arrive. Seeing Tang San, she quickly walked up to him and said with a smile, "I heard you returned to Heaven Dou City, so I came to see you. I didn't expect such a coincidence."

Tang San smiled: "It's Rongrong. Come in and sit?"

Ning Rongrong giggled (#^.^#): "Perfect, I've never been to Silverblue Manor to play before."

Got it!

Still that pampered and lively little devil!

After Fan Niu, Fan Ma, and the other two guards watched Tang San and Ning Rongrong walk in, chatting and laughing, Fan Ma couldn't help but say, "Lord Earl is really popular with girls."

Fan Niu rebuked, "Don't talk nonsense. That's Lord Earl's friend."

"That's not necessarily true," a guard said mysteriously. "I heard that Lord Earl has had affairs with all the girls in the Heaven Dou Royal Battle Team, and those girls willingly climbed into Lord Earl's bed, even multiple women serving one man!"

Another guard also spoke with great seriousness: "I heard they just wanted to get Lord Earl's excellent seed to pass back to their families."

As Tang San's reputation gradually grew, some unavoidable scandals also spread widely in private...

...

"Third Brother, your people seem to be talking about your romantic exploits."

As Spirit Masters, even though they had walked some distance and the four had deliberately lowered their voices, Ning Rongrong still heard them. However, there was not much awkwardness on her face. Instead, she said with a chuckle, "How come I didn't know you had affairs with all the girls at Heaven Dou Royal Academy? Even Xiao Wu and Guang Ling, who are so close to you, are still virgins."

Tang San naturally couldn't lose face and said rather smugly, "That's naturally because my First Soul Skill can heal injuries and also restore one's virginity."

Ning Rongrong: "....."

244: Mu Tian was purged

“Although I believe your First Soul Skill does have that function, I’m certain you’ve never actually used it,” Ning Rongrong said, following Tang San’s words, stating what she considered to be a fact.

“You just haven’t seen me use it,” Tang San said, his eyebrows raised in amusement. “Do you want to try it?”

“Hmm?” Ning Rongrong paused, then smiled. “Okay, let me try. But I’m still a virgin right now, so how would we try? Should we just sleep together?”

“Seriously?” Tang San rubbed his forehead.

“Hehe~ Hahaha!” Ning Rongrong’s eyes squinted with laughter, feeling she had guessed correctly. “I knew it. You’re all talk, but when it comes to action, you’d definitely chicken out.”

“Alright, you win,” Tang San conceded defeat. There was no honor in winning a war of words with Ning Rongrong.

“Rongrong!”

Xiao Wu, who was practicing Three Swords Style assassination nearby, noticed Ning Rongrong. She put the two short knives in her white jade belt and jogged over. “Why are you here?”

“Well, I heard you guys returned to Heaven Dou City and bought three top-tier items at the Luo Wang Auction House, so I came to see if our captain had fallen into depravity,” Ning Rongrong said with a challenging glance at Tang San, grinning. “But I just tested him, and he doesn’t have the guts.”

“Cough, cough!” Tang San coughed twice, signaling Xiao Wu not to reveal their little secret, then said to Ning Rongrong, “Let us show you around this Silverblue Manor.”

“Perfect, I came here to have fun,” Ning Rongrong keenly sensed a little secret between Tang San and Xiao Wu. A hint of disappointment and jealousy flashed in her eyes, but it quickly vanished, and she became lively again. “By the way, where is Guang Ling? Is she cultivating elsewhere in the manor? Or is she researching spirit tools?”

“Of course, she’s researching spirit tools,” Tang San replied without hesitation. “Aside from the necessary daily routines like food, clothing, and shelter, most of her time is spent cultivating or researching spirit tool-related topics, as well as assisting Xiao Wu and me in researching the path of vital energy and blood...”

Seeing Xiao Wu threatening him with her eyes, Tang San cleared his throat and continued, “Xiao Wu and I are actually quite similar. It’s just that Xiao Wu’s main research focuses on medicine and the Three Swords Style assassination techniques, body techniques, etc., while my main research is on Spirit cultivation, self-created Spirit Abilities, and blacksmithing techniques.”

Tang San also planned to pick up blacksmithing again in the coming days. After all, Iliex had even passed on the forging method for the god seal throne to him. If he didn't produce a few artifact-level god seal thrones in the future, he wouldn't be worthy of that forging blueprint.

However, at that time, he could name them “Spirit Thrones,” after all, this was a World where Spirit was king.

“Besides cultivation, finding a topic or profession that interests you and delving into it, innovating?” Ning Rongrong pondered, deep in thought for a while. She couldn’t think of anything she could do besides cultivation, so she asked, “Third Brother, what kind of side job do you think I could find?”

“Your Nine Treasure Glazed Tile Pagoda has a sensitivity to gems, so perhaps you could become a treasure appraiser,” Tang San thought for a moment and offered a direction that aligned with her Spirit's characteristics.

"How do I put this? While I am interested in appraising gems, I feel like becoming a treasure appraiser for that reason would be a bit of an overkill," Ning Rongrong shook her head. "Besides, my father recently asked me to start managing some Sect affairs... I never imagined managing a Sect would be so exhausting."

"You're thinking of retiring before you've even truly started," Xiao Wu teased, then mimicked Tang San's tone, saying, "That won't do. If you only think about eating, drinking, and playing, then in the blink of an eye, this life will be over."

Ning Rongrong stuck out her tongue, somewhat speechless, and complained, "You two are starting to look more and more like a married couple."

"Cough!" Xiao Wu awkwardly cleared her throat. Seeing Ning Rongrong wearing a dark green cheongsam adorned with white plum blossoms, she suggested, "Why don't you try designing clothes?"

"Fashion design? That's a great idea!" Perhaps due to being born into a prominent family, Ning Rongrong was very fond of beautiful clothes, and her eyes lit up. "You're truly my good sister! I don't know how to repay you. How about we become true sisters?"

"Dream on!" Xiao Wu looked disgusted—don't think she didn't know what Ning Rongrong meant by "true sisters." Although Third Brother's vital energy and blood were terrifyingly abundant, even she and Guang Ling together found it hard to resist, but good things couldn't be shared that easily.

Ning Rongrong was a bit speechless. Her words weren't what Xiao Wu was imagining, though she did have that tiny, tiny bit of an idea.

"Oh, there's something I wanted to tell you, Third Brother," Ning Rongrong's expression suddenly became serious. "My Seven Treasure Glazed Tile School's Bone Douluo's disciple, Mu Tian, became one of The Fallen. Did you know about this?"

Yesterday—

Ning Fengzhi received a report from a Sect disciple and rushed away from the Luo Wang Auction House, returning to the Sect's驻地 in Heaven Dou City, where he met Salas, who had brought Mu Tian to him.

"Salas, what is the meaning of this? Why have you harmed a disciple of my Seven Treasure Glazed Tile School to this extent?" Ning Fengzhi questioned.

"School Master Ning, that's what I should be asking you," Salas chuckled sinisterly. "This disciple of yours has gone astray, becoming one of The Fallen and harming countless innocent villagers."

Before Ning Fengzhi could retort, Salas produced the evidence: photos and videos submitted by the Spirit Hall Branch Master of Phoenix City.

Ironclad evidence!

Ning Fengzhi was utterly powerless to refute!

He merely glared fiercely at the largely crippled Mu Tian, then immediately invited Salas into the main hall to discuss how to resolve the matter.

"School Master Ning, I'm coming to you for a private resolution out of consideration for His Holiness the Saint Son, and because your daughter has also joined Spirit Hall in her personal capacity," Salas implied throughout his words that he was considering Ning Fengzhi and the Seven Treasure Glazed Tile School, his attitude quite dismissive. "Otherwise, this matter would become common knowledge."

This was also due to the mass production of spirit tool cameras, spirit tool photography boxes, and Sub-Mother Soul Guidance Photography Balls, and the main manufacturer of these products was the Seven Treasure Glazed Tile School itself.

This was like shooting themselves in the foot.

However, Ning Fengzhi couldn't blame anyone else; who told Mu Tian to become one of The Fallen?

"How does Your Excellency Salas wish to resolve this?" Ning Fengzhi asked, biting the bullet.

"The person, I have already sent him to you. How you deal with him is up to you. Our Spirit Hall's demands are not many, just that in the future, for any publicity or similar matters, we hope your Seven Treasure Glazed Tile School can provide support, that's all." To Ning Fengzhi's surprise, Salas did not propose any excessive conditions.

This was good news...

"As for The Fallen... I presume School Master Ning also knows what kind of people The Fallen are. Their minds are already twisted; they cannot be called human," Salas finished his tea and stood up, preparing to leave. "If you consider your feelings, just imprison him for life and don't let him go out and harm others. It will also lighten our Spirit Hall's workload, as I have to deal with a pile of reports submitted by other Spirit Hall Branches every day."

The implication was that the Seven Treasure Glazed Tile School, as a large Sect, should also understand the concept of major right and wrong. Otherwise, Mu Tian's matter would spread throughout the entire Douluo Continent!

This was Salas's mockery.

But Ning Fengzhi was powerless to refute.

Even if the Seven Treasure Glazed Tile School could distance itself from Mu Tian, it would ultimately be labeled as "poor at judging character."

After sending Salas away, Ning Fengzhi's face was grim as he stared intently at Mu Tian, who was pressed before him, and questioned, "Why did you become one of The Fallen? With your talent, becoming a Titled Douluo would not be a problem!”

“How much time would that take? I must become strong as quickly as possible, then surpass Tang San! Why is he so outstanding?” Mu Tian’s eyes were filled with madness. “We’re clearly the same! Do you know? Ning Rongrong should be mine! Xiao Wu, Zhu Zhuqing, they should also be mine! And Huo Wu, hahaha!”

When Xiao Wu unleashed her Fifth Soul Skill, Blazing Flame Fist, Mu Tian couldn’t withstand it at all. The only reason he had a breath left was because the Scarlet Nine-Headed Bat King acted, using the Bright Moon Spirit as its origin to perform an initial fusion with his physical body.

This also caused a slight fusion between the Scarlet Nine-Headed Bat King’s will and Mu Tian’s soul, making his current mental will extremely deranged.

He even started fantasizing in front of Ning Fengzhi, displaying his dark, charred, and tiny male prowess.

Bang!

Even the gentle and refined Ning Fengzhi, at this moment, abandoned his usual composure. He kicked out, shattering all of Mu Tian’s teeth. “Innate full spirit power? How utterly ridiculous!”

At this moment, Ning Fengzhi realized that Mu Tian was a white-eyed wolf that could never be tamed!

They were both from common backgrounds, so why was their character so different?

“Haha! Hehehe!” Unexpectedly, Mu Tian even shouted, “Why didn’t you just let me get engaged to Ning Rongrong? A childhood engagement? If that were the case, how would I have ended up like this? It’s all your fault!”

“Shut up!”

Bone Douluo, who had rushed over upon hearing the commotion, roared and stomped on Mu Tian's right arm, breaking it. He said hatefully, "This stomp is punishment for disrespecting the Sect Master!"

Crack!

Then, Bone Douluo stomped on Mu Tian's left arm, cursing, "This stomp is because of your audacious boasting!"

Next, Mu Tian's legs were also successively broken by Bone Douluo, who lamented his inability to improve, saying, "These two stomps are because you failed to recognize yourself, envied others, and degenerated into evil!"

"How did I teach you in the past?"

"Did you copy the Sect rules for nothing, huh?"

"To actually become one of The Fallen, it's simply incomprehensible!"

At this moment, the most pained person was undoubtedly Bone Douluo.

This was his own disciple!

But he had fallen!

And he even displayed such a丑态 in front of the Sect Master... It wasn't just Mu Tian's face that was lost, but also his teacher's face!

How could he chat and laugh with Sword Douluo in the future?

Just as Bone Douluo's anger surged and he was about to stomp on Mu Tian's neck, Ning Fengzhi stopped him, saying, "Uncle Bone, forget it. Spare yourself. If word gets out that a teacher killed his disciple, it won't sound good after all."

"I'm sorry, Sect Master, it's my fault for not teaching him properly. I actually agreed to let him go to an academy like Shrek, which doesn't teach students basic moral values, and then I even let him venture out alone for training..." Bone Douluo's eyes were bloodshot. "This is my disgrace!"

In the end, under Ning Fengzhi's persuasion, Bone Douluo finally gave up on killing Mu Tian.

But Mu Tian didn't survive either—

Sword Douluo cleaned house on behalf of Bone Douluo...

...

“When I found out about this, I wasn't particularly surprised. After all, with his arrogant and bottomless personality, it's quite normal for him to go to extremes,” Ning Rongrong seemed unsurprised by Mu Tian's fall, but his extremism to the point of becoming one of The Fallen was indeed beyond expectation.

“I actually knew about this,” Tang San said. “When Xiao Wu, Guang Ling, and Lan Yinzi and I passed through Phoenix City, we were invited by the local Spirit Hall Branch Master and City Lord to jointly encircle and suppress a cult composed of Evil Soul Masters. Its leader was Mu Tian... But I didn't personally lay a hand on him; he was defeated by Guang Ling and Xiao Wu.”

This wasn't mockery, but rather an acknowledgment of Mu Tian's strength.

At least, as an Evil Soul Master, he required Xiao Wu and Guang Ling to work together to defeat him relatively easily.

After all, Xiao Wu and Guang Ling could both fight across ranks.

“Oh, so it was you guys who caused our Seven Treasure Glazed Tile School to be threatened by that Salas fellow!” Ning Rongrong puffed out her cheeks, looking very displeased.

“You can't blame us for this, can you?” Tang San shrugged, his expression becoming serious. “After all, who made Mu Tian fall? Those photos and videos, I presume you've secretly seen them too, right? Xiao Wu, Guang Ling, and I witnessed it firsthand: rows of mummified corpses—there were elderly, children, pregnant women...”

“If we hadn’t considered that Mu Tian was a member of the Seven Treasure Glazed Tile School, killing him directly might have caused conflict between the two forces. I think everyone present at the time would have been unable to resist dismembering him.”

Ning Rongrong naturally realized what kind of people The Fallen were and said, “I know, I just don’t like that Salas fellow.”

“Speaking of Salas, that guy is indeed quite arrogant. Many Spirit Hall Branch Masters and low-level law enforcement personnel have similar attitudes,” Tang San knew that this was also due to Spirit Hall’s insufficient management. Even with Sub-Mother Soul Guidance Photography Balls acting as “surveillance,” it was difficult to be “all-encompassing.”

The main reason was that Spirit Hall itself was a church organization, but not purely so; it was mixed with too many complex interests. Many of the Spirit Masters and grassroots personnel who joined Spirit Hall were commoners, and those who graduated from basic Spirit Master academies only knew common characters...

Perhaps they valued loyalty, but loyalty didn’t mean they were also of high quality.

In fact, most Spirit Hall personnel joined Spirit Hall simply to make a living, or merely to shout a slogan: “For the glory of Spirit Hall,” “Fight for Spirit Hall.”

But what exactly was the glory of Spirit Hall?

Tang San suspected that the vast majority of Spirit Hall’s high-ranking officials weren’t clear either. At most, they submitted to a certain person (the Supreme Pontiff/High Priest), admired their strength, and were driven by them, nothing more.

And the Two Great Empires?

At least they had a core: for the country and its people.

Regardless of whether they only paid lip service or actually implemented it, the common people on the Douluo Continent genuinely loved to hear this rhetoric from the Two Great Empires.

This was reality.

“Suddenly, I feel like I have a long and arduous journey ahead—”

In the 1990s and early 2000s, the quality and cultivation of police officers in some small cities were not as high as they are now.

By analogy, one can imagine what the grassroots personnel of Spirit Hall were like, and it’s also understandable why the Spirit Master army of Spirit Hall was so disorganized during the final decisive battle, and why the common people within the Spirit Empire didn’t care much for Spirit Hall—the original work has indirect descriptions.

Spirit Hall: No military talent, no talent for managing people’s livelihoods, and even less administrative talent. This was the drawback of Spirit Masters; they only knew how to rely on their fists.

But merely having a big fist only made one a boss in the corresponding circles; managing an entire nation was a completely different matter.

Economy, finance, military, food, etc., Spirit Hall had none that met standards, and no one even understood these things. Even if they did, they might not be given important positions due to low strength.

Perhaps, Spirit Hall in the original work wanted to launch a blitzkrieg, directly conquering the Two Great Empires, and then recruit talent...

But they also needed corresponding management talent of their own!

Relying entirely on other countries... The original setting states that after becoming a god, one can only stay on the mortal plane for a hundred years and doesn’t have the power to challenge the entire God Realm; they can only ascend.

The author even suspected that the God Realm also stipulated that gods could not extensively interfere with the lower World after becoming gods. Even if Tang San didn't exist in the original work, Bibi Dong and Qian Renxue would still be judged by the Asura God.

Afterward, without true management talent of their own, even if the Spirit Empire unified, it would fall apart after Bibi Dong and Qian Renxue disappeared.

245: This lady is chasing you!

For a moment, Tang San's thoughts diverged, thinking of many drawbacks of Spirit Hall.

If Spirit Hall was merely an organization similar to a church or a gang, where one could achieve status purely by strength, then these shortcomings would be inconsequential.

However, if it were to become a nation in the future, Spirit Hall would undoubtedly incur the wrath of the heavens and the resentment of the people if it did not change its strategy.

Perhaps some might say, sacrifice one generation for the benefit of future generations.

But who would be willing to be that sacrificed generation?

“It seems that for me, this Saint Son, to conduct my research peacefully, I must first establish a foundational philosophy for Spirit Hall,” Tang San thought to himself, “And this philosophy cannot be something like the Angelic faith, otherwise Bibi Dong would first become ‘estranged’ from me, this Saint Son. However, the specifics will have to wait until I go to Spirit City later and truly understand Bibi Dong.”

“This manor of yours is quite large,” Ning Rongrong interrupted Tang San’s thoughts, commenting on the size of Silverblue Manor, “Compared to my Seven Treasure Glazed Tile School’s manor in Heaven Dou City, it’s not much different.”

“The manor bestowed by Emperor Xue Ye is indeed a bit large,” Tang San smiled slightly, glancing at the sky where the sun was setting in the west, and said, “How about we have dinner before you go back?”

“Okay.” Ning Rongrong’s eyes lit up, completely forgetting the recent mention of Mu Tian’s death. “You’ll cook yourself?”

“My cooking skills aren’t very good; I can only make some ordinary home-cooked dishes.”

“That’s fine then. I’ve never eaten ordinary home-cooked dishes before.”

Tang San intended to refuse, but Ning Rongrong blocked his excuse.

Helpless, he could only agree.

After all, a guest is a guest, and some reasonable requests should be granted.

When Tang San went to the kitchen, Ning Rongrong pulled Xiao Wu’s hand and asked, “Are you and Tang San really practicing some kind of cultivation that only the most intimate people can do?”

“What are you talking about?” Xiao Wu’s expression was normal, and she put her hands on her hips, feigning anger.

“Haha, I was just saying, Tang San couldn’t possibly be that...”

“Of course we’re already husband and wife!” Before she could finish, Xiao Wu interrupted Ning Rongrong and gave her a definite look. “It’s just that when we were researching ‘Blood Qi Vibration,’ even with Guang Ling, it was still hard to suppress.”

“Eh?!” Ning Rongrong was stunned, her eyes glazed over. For a moment, she didn’t know if Xiao Wu understood her meaning, or if she was just joking? In any case, she couldn’t look directly at the term [Blood Qi Vibration] anymore.

This was too bold!

And, Guang Ling also joined?

Dual cultivation?

“Pfft!”

Seeing Ning Rongrong at a loss, Xiao Wu suddenly covered her mouth, and her slightly playful smile made Ning Rongrong realize that Xiao Wu was teasing her.

“Oh, you dare to talk to this young lady like that.” Ning Rongrong was speechless. “When we were at Heaven Dou Royal Academy, how did I not realize you were so bold?”

“There’s a lot you haven’t realized!” Xiao Wu said smugly, “Just like when I was practicing Three Swords Style, the assassination method, at Heaven Dou Royal Academy, I never showed it to you all.”

“However, Third Brother said that for this practice to truly reach perfection, it’s best to engage in actual combat.”

“Unfortunately, Mu Tian’s condition didn’t allow for it.”

Ning Rongrong rubbed her forehead and said, “You and Third Brother really look like a married couple. When it comes to cultivation, you can both speak so logically, even though cultivation is quite boring.”

“As long as you delve into it and immerse yourself, you will naturally experience the fun within.” Xiao Wu flicked her scorpion tail braid, and the air made a “snap” sound. The golden short sword at the end quickly thrust out, passing by Ning Rongrong’s neck so fast that she couldn’t react at all.

If that had stabbed her throat...

Hiss—

Ning Rongrong gasped, “Did Third Brother teach you this too?”

“Naturally.” Xiao Wu pinched her braid, caressing the golden short sword at the end. “And this short sword, although made of wood, is polished from an extremely precious wood. Normally, it feels unsharp, just a unique hair accessory, but with the injection of spirit power, it can cut iron like mud and split hair.”

“Can I learn too?” Ning Rongrong felt that move was very cool, and if used unexpectedly, it could add a very strong life-saving skill for herself.

“You can.” Xiao Wu extended a finger, her face serious, “First, you need to have long hair like mine, and be able to braid it.”

Ning Rongrong: “.....”

Alright, I might as well give up; I can’t learn it.

Ning Rongrong’s hair was not short, but it only reached her shoulders.

Female Spirit Masters, unless their strength reached Spirit King or above, or they were stationed in an academy, family, or as a Sect Master and did not often go out, generally would not keep their hair too long.

For the former, low spirit power meant long hair could easily affect their physical combat and expose weaknesses to others.

For the latter, not going out often meant not frequently engaging in fights, so they could naturally spend more time maintaining their hair.

“Xiao Wu, how do you maintain your hair? Do you spend a lot of time washing it every day?” Ning Rongrong asked curiously.

“It doesn’t take much time. My physique is special; I’m dust-free and pure.” Xiao Wu motioned for Ning Rongrong not to be envious, as this was her (100,000-year transformed Spirit Beast) talent.

In a flash, it was dinner time.

Lingxi, Ling Meng, and Tang San together brought the dishes to the dining table.

Mapo tofu, braised chicken, scrambled eggs with tomatoes, stir-fried greens, etc. Just as Tang San said, he only knew how to cook home-cooked meals.

However, under the control of powerful spirit power, these ordinary home-cooked dishes also brought a different experience to the girls, especially Gu Yuena, who directly shoveled the food into her mouth.

“Is this little girl the ultimate one without a Spirit?” Ning Rongrong looked at Gu Yuena, who was eating with a greasy mouth, and asked Tang San.

“She has a name, Gu Yuena.” Tang San introduced her to Ning Rongrong, “As for her Spirit, with my help, it has already awakened. Her Spirit possesses characteristics of both Tool Spirit and Beast Spirit. It’s a true dragon type; compared to it, the Blue Lightning Tyrant Dragon is like an ordinary sub-dragon compared to a true dragon.”

“A true dragon type Spirit even stronger than the Blue Lightning Tyrant Dragon Spirit?” Ning Rongrong was startled. “When this little girl grows up, she might be able to replace the Blue Lightning Tyrant Dragon Clan’s position as the top Beast Spirit.”

Replace?

Tang San secretly shook his head.

Even with only one Silver Dragon, even a Dragon King, it would be difficult to replace the Blue Lightning Tyrant Dragon’s position.

Family, bloodline, inheritance.

These three are the foundation for establishing the status of a top Beast Spirit.

Moreover, Gu Yuena herself seemed uninterested in titles like “top Beast Spirit.”

At this moment, Gu Yuena, who had already finished all the food in her bowl, directly pulled the wooden bucket used for serving rice, hugged it to her chest, and directly scooped a spoonful with the rice spoon, stuffing it into her mouth, making everyone present, including Tang San, stare in astonishment.

“This Gu Yuena is not polite at all.” Ning Rongrong suddenly felt that this little girl was quite interesting, but how could such a small body hold so much food? Did she digest it as soon as she swallowed it?

After dinner, Gu Yuena voluntarily started collecting the dishes and chopsticks, going to the kitchen with Lingxi and Ling Meng to wash up, while Tang San asked Ning Rongrong, “Shall I see you back?”

“It’s so late already, aren’t you going to ask me to stay the night?” Ning Rongrong countered.

“Isn’t it to avoid others misunderstanding?” Tang San smiled, then personally arranged a room for Ning Rongrong. “How about this room?”

“Not bad.” As for accommodation, Ning Rongrong actually didn’t have very high demands; as long as the bed had a soft mattress, and the bedding and pillows were brand new, breathable, and warm—is that called not high demands?

“That’s good then. I thought a young lady like you would have very high demands for accommodation.” Tang San made a small joke, then said, “If you are willing, you can stay here longer. I want to do more research on the Nine Treasure Glazed Tile Pagoda Spirit, and Guang Ling can also study the energy flow patterns on your Spirit.”

If the energy flow circuit of a pure amplification Spirit like the Seven Treasure Glazed Tile Pagoda could be analyzed, then perhaps the amplification efficiency could be normalized using spirit tools.

This was also one of Tang San’s goals.

“Of course, you don’t have to worry. During the period of being researched, you will definitely gain benefits. After all, your Nine Treasures, Nine Apertures, Nine Sun Array is not yet perfect; you can take this time to practice more.”

“Captain, is that all you wanted to say?” Ning Rongrong put her hands on her hips, pursing her lips. “However, it’s no wonder you’re so strong; it turns out you've been focusing all your energy on theoretical research and Spirit cultivation."

"While young, one should naturally engage in more research and cultivation... Uh! Hmm?"

However, before Tang San could finish his sentence, he was grabbed by the collar by Ning Rongrong, and a battle of wits and lips ensued.

After a long while, Tang San felt like he was suffocating when Ning Rongrong said with a flushed face, "Don't overthink it, this is just to thank you for helping my Seven Treasure Glazed Tile Pagoda evolve."

"Then your thank-you gift is a bit late." Tang San teased, after all, he was not a passive person; if someone took advantage of him, he would naturally get it back.

Suffer a loss?

Absolutely impossible!

"Whoosh~"

Just as Ning Rongrong was expecting Tang San to proceed to the next step, he suddenly stopped at the last critical moment and walked out of the room before she could react—

This also made Ning Rongrong realize that he was a responsible person and would not be driven by desire.

"Just wait, Tang San, this young lady is determined to pursue you!"

246: The Soul Beast's Dilemma

Leaving the room arranged for Ning Rongrong, Tang San saw Gu Yuena peeking from the corner, her forehead lined with black: "What are you doing here?"

Gu Yuena, discovered, showed no embarrassment. Instead, she said righteously, "I'm eavesdropping!"

"You're something else." Tang San was speechless, even wondering whether to expose her true identity. After all, their way of communication was nothing like that of a fourteen-year-old boy and a six-year-old girl.

However, for a genius, it's normal to have a strange temper and an unconventional way of speaking; they have the privilege of being understood by others.

"Of course!" Gu Yuena lifted her head and puffed out her chest, a proud expression on her face, then a hint of confusion appeared: "By the way, why did you suddenly give up?"

If it were in the Spirit Beast World, Gu Yuena was certain that no male Spirit Beast could resist the desire to mate with a female Spirit Beast. If given the chance, they would definitely go for it. Some weaker male Spirit Beasts would even secretly find the females belonging to powerful male Spirit Beasts when the latter were out hunting or exhausted, to pass on their own seeds and continue their bloodline.

You know, when she was imprisoned in the Luo Wang Auction House, she also saw some male humans forcefully taking the bodies of some lower-priced female slaves.

For Tang San to be able to hold back when the arrow was already on the string, it was truly strange!

"Because of hypocrisy, perhaps." Tang San blurted out, then assumed a thoughtful expression, "And, that tiny bit of unextinguished conscience?"

"However, it was mostly about resisting desire."

Saying this, Tang San pointed to his head and told Gu Yuena, "This is wisdom, being able to control the body's instincts and desires."

"Controlling desire is wisdom?" Gu Yuena pondered, recalling the ferocious beasts—only a few, like Di Tian and Bi Ji, could restrain their hunting desires. The others, especially Xiong Jun, ate many Spirit Beasts of non-bear species below ten thousand years, or even at the ten-thousand-year level, every day.

It wasn't to devour the Spirit Beasts' cultivation, but merely for the sake of appetite.

But in reality, those ferocious beasts could directly absorb the energy of heaven and earth to sustain Life and even increase their cultivation, so there was no need to hunt at all.

Spirit Beasts above one hundred thousand years have wisdom no weaker than humans, and even much stronger, yet they cannot defeat humans. Is it because they cannot control their own desires?

"That's right, this is one manifestation of wisdom." Tang San coaxed Gu Yuena, "Desires are necessary, but desires that are too intense and deeply rooted in the heart will obscure wisdom. Controlled desires are dreams, and if these dreams are not for oneself, but for others, they become ideals."

Gu Yuena didn't understand why, but a sense of shock inexplicably arose in her heart—is this what humans are? Compared to them, what do Spirit Beasts have that surpasses humans, apart from their innate strong physical strength and control over extraordinary powers?

But how can Spirit Beasts control their own desires?

Spirit Beasts below one hundred thousand years are basically fools; it's impossible for them to control their hunting desires or reproductive desires.

And Spirit Beasts above one hundred thousand years...

Physically, they no longer need to rely on hunting, but having lived for so many years, they are still affected by instinct and are very difficult to change.

At this moment, Gu Yuena seemed to see through the fate of Spirit Beasts—to become nourishment for humans.

This is a gap in wisdom!

How can Spirit Beasts become the masters of this World?

Gu Yuena thought for a while and came up with two plans.

Firstly, the God Realm would be destroyed, and then her Physical Martial Soul would forcefully act. Although her severe injuries had not healed, destroying a race without God-level powerhouses would not be too difficult.

But how could she contend against the God Realm?

Even to avoid the God Realm's detection of mortal star God-level power, she had to split her origin and soul to create such a clone, meticulously hiding her aura to be able to move in the outside World.

Therefore, with her current strength, this plan could only hope that the God Realm would be unlucky and encounter some spacetime turbulence. Otherwise, the Asura God of the God Realm would likely come down to enforce the law, and even take the opportunity to clear out the ferocious beasts in the Star Dou Great Forest.

Secondly, it was to transform into a human.

Even the Silver Dragon King had to admit that only by transforming into a human could one relatively perfectly shed their former beast nature—the Soft Bones Rabbit Xiao Wu was a typical example in recent times.

However, a transformed Spirit Beast was no longer a Spirit Beast; it was merely a human with a one-hundred-thousand-year cultivation origin who, if they died before their "maturity period," could yield a one-hundred-thousand-year spirit ring and Spirit Bone.

"Hey, what are you spacing out for?" Seeing Gu Yuena's chubby face looking "serious," Tang San raised his hand and waved it in front of her, then took her hand and led her to the room, changed her into pajamas, put her on the bed, and covered her with a quilt, saying, "Time to sleep. I'll teach you how to train tomorrow."

"Wait." As Tang San was about to get up, Gu Yuena suddenly pulled his finger, saying, "Tell me a story, otherwise I can't sleep."

"Then how did you fall asleep yesterday?" Tang San asked curiously.

"I read a story yesterday." Gu Yuena stared at Tang San with her large, watery eyes, her purple pupils as clear as crystal, making Tang San feel uncomfortable.

"Alright, I'll tell you the story of the Ugly Duckling." Tang San recalled for a moment, and combining it with Gu Yuena's identity, he described a story about [a young creature that was very ugly, but grew up to become a beautiful Emerald Sky Swan].

Gu Yuena was stunned as she listened, recalling the juvenile form of the Emerald Sky Swan; it indeed didn't look as elegant and beautiful as the adult. She then pondered the principles she had heard from others at Silverblue Manor that day, and said, "Does this story tell us that as long as we have confidence and are not influenced by others' words, we can eventually make a name for ourselves, stand out, and become a beautiful white swan?"

"No, this story tells us not to worry or mock others for no reason, just live your own Life." Tang San re-covered Gu Yuena with the quilt. "After all, the Emerald Sky Swan was born an Emerald Sky Swan."

"That makes so much sense..." Gu Yuena was stunned, feeling something was off but not knowing what. After all, Tang San wasn't wrong; an Emerald Sky Swan was born an Emerald Sky Swan, not a duck.

"Go to sleep!"

Once again covering Gu Yuena with the quilt: (3 []), Tang San said "Good night" and warned her not to sneak outside his room to eavesdrop again, then returned to the study.

Before discussing the path of vital energy and blood with Xiao Wu and Guang Ling, he wanted to organize the information he had obtained from Fan Niu and Fan Ma's Physical Martial Souls before midnight, to identify any omissions or deficiencies in the details of the Jade Bone Golden Muscle Divine Treasure method.

Subsequently, Tang San circulated his vital energy and blood. The Qi of the five viscera surged, appearing in his chest, then flowing throughout his body, converging at the top of his head to form a five-Qi canopy, enveloping his entire body, subtly exuding an aura of invulnerability to all methods.

The six Qi of the six fu-organs in his abdomen sank, gathering at the soles of his feet, transforming into a dark, spiraling aura, like a black hole, seemingly capable of devouring everything.

Thus, Tang San also possessed a hint of the demeanor of "topping the heavens and treading reincarnation."

"The five Qi protect the body, forming the shape of an umbrella and a bell, which can be called the Five Emperors Canopy; the six Qi condense, devouring the void, forming the momentum of reincarnation, which can be named the Six Paths of Reincarnation."

Having officially named these two divine abilities, Tang San retracted them and thought to himself: "However, for these two divine abilities to truly display the power worthy of their names, I still need to increase my spirit power and create methods to unleash the Qi of the five viscera and six fu-organs."

The five Qi of the five viscera can correspond to the Five Emperors and Five Elements, and in the future, can evolve into five great divine abilities!

The Six Paths of the six fu-organs can correspond to the Six Paths of Reincarnation, and in the future, can evolve into true Reincarnation divine abilities!

Unfortunately, the ideas are beautiful, but to truly create them would require a lot of time, perhaps even hundreds or thousands of years to create just one. After all, these are not like the "Five Emperors Great Demonic Divine Ability" or "Six Paths Reincarnation Fist" from novels he read in his previous Life, which could be created just by a sudden thought.

Those novels didn't describe how to cultivate them specifically!

Therefore, Tang San could only make countless attempts in the future, and even draw upon the wisdom of all beings, to create similar divine abilities...

...

The next day, Tang San got out of bed and, along with Xiao Wu and Guang Ling, finished washing up and began their usual cultivation and research.

Ning Rongrong, however, was yawning, her face full of resentment—

Last night, Ning Rongrong tossed and turned in bed, unable to sleep. Later, she wanted to find Tang San, but heard extremely absurd sounds of joy outside his door.

She didn't expect that what Tang San said was actually true!

However, Ning Rongrong could only think about such things in her mind, or grumble when she was alone with Tang San. To say it when there were many people... she would be embarrassed too.

After breakfast, Ning Rongrong said she didn't plan to leave immediately and intended to stay there until Tang San went to Spirit City. Her reasons were: she wanted to consult Tang San and Guang Ling more during cultivation, and also to be lazy, not helping her Sect father with Sect affairs, and incidentally, to find her true desired sideline during her cultivation breaks.

Tang San had no objections, nor did Xiao Wu or Guang Ling. Lan Yinzi even sighed, thinking she was about to have another daughter-in-law.

"Tang San, you said yesterday that you'd teach me how to cultivate." As everyone began to do their own things, Gu Yuena found Tang San's study, pulled his right hand, which was furiously writing, and spoke in a sweet, coquettish voice.

"Did I say that yesterday?" Tang San showed a puzzled expression.

"You did!" Gu Yuena's large, watery eyes stared intently at Tang San, as if she would immediately "wail" if he didn't agree.

"Then let's go, we'll practice in the backyard." Tang San smiled, stood up, and called Ling Meng, who was waiting nearby—she was responsible for grinding ink and organizing the books on the bookshelf.

The backyard of the manor's main house was a very large open space, where many servants were trimming the lawn and watering and fertilizing the shrubs and flowers.

"Greetings, Earl!"

The servants spoke in unison, clearly having received corresponding training before being sent by Emperor Xue Ye, their attitudes extremely "proper."

"Mm, you all go about your business." Tang San nodded, leading Gu Yuena and Ling Meng to the nearby artificial lake...

247: Evaluation and improvement suggestions for Gu Yuena's abilities

This artificial lake, with a diameter of over fifty meters, could even be called a small pond.

Alas, those wicked capitalists!

Huh? It seems this rich person is me?

Then it's fine.

Tang San, whose heart was slightly moved, refocused his thoughts and asked Gu Yuena, "You said you were chosen by a Silver Dragon, and your spirit ring was self-generated, requiring no hunting, so your Spirit Ability must be fixed.

In that case, I can't offer you any advice."

"You can't help with spirit rings or Spirit Abilities, but everyone here says you are a Martial Soul Theory Master, so you should be good at other things, right?" Gu Yuena mimicked Tang San's signature gesture, stroking her chin and saying with a feigned profound expression, "For example, the timing of Spirit Ability usage, or close combat techniques during battle."

"A Martial Soul Theory Master naturally only studies Spirit.

Other aspects, like close combat techniques and the timing of Spirit Ability usage, are actually not within the scope of knowledge managed by a Martial Soul Theory Master," Tang San corrected Gu Yuena's perception of a Martial Soul Theory Master, then changed the subject, "However, I can indeed train close combat techniques, or help a Spirit Master understand when is the best time to use their Spirit Ability.”

“Narcissist,” Gu Yuena turned her head and snorted softly.

“I’m confident,” Tang San decided not to argue with an “old mischievous one” who was older than him, and got down to business, “Have you obtained your spirit ring? Let me see.”

Hearing this, Gu Yuena released her Spirit, and the Silver Dragon possessed her, transforming her into a Dragon Girl.

Two peculiar light golden spirit rings floated around her body.

“Light golden spirit rings, huh? That’s really exaggerated.” Although he didn’t know the age of these two spirit rings, they were at least a million years old.

Tsk tsk, playing on a small account is just great.

“Of course,” Gu Yuena seemed quite pleased by Tang San’s praise, putting her hands on her hips and laughing loudly with her head tilted back.

“What are your Spirit Abilities?”

After this lively child finished laughing, Tang San continued to ask.

“My First Soul Skill is Water Element Control!”

“My Second Soul Skill is Fire Element Control!”

Gu Yuena raised both hands, and the power of water and fire elements in the world gathered into her hands, allowing her to control them and transform them into various forms, playing with great enjoyment.

“Is it the same when your Spirit is in the Silver Dragon Spear form?” Tang San asked curiously.

“That’s right.” As soon as her voice fell, the dragon scales on Gu Yuena’s body detached and transformed into a long spear completely out of proportion to her six-year-old height.

The water and fire elements, meanwhile, turned into two gems, one blue and one red, embedded in two of the twelve grooves on the spearhead, which occupied one-third of the entire spear.

In Tang San’s eyes, the Silver Dragon Spear looked less like a spear and more like a magic staff for controlling elements.

“This guy is a born mage!” Iliex exclaimed, “Unfortunately, her use of elemental energy is still only instinctive.

Although she controls it very flexibly, there’s not much difference from most Spirit Masters currently; she only knows how to stack elemental energy without more precise control.”

“Perhaps it’s due to her self-isolation... No, this guy can’t even be described as self-isolated.

If the settings in your memory can be used as a reference, she was severely injured by the God Realm Committee as soon as she was born, fled to the lower realm, concealed her form, and has been in a recovery phase... She just woke up!”

“Looking at it this way, it seems that apart from inheriting some of the Dragon God’s inherited memories, her own personality is truly just a little girl who is a bit mature in certain aspects.”

Listening to Iliex’s relatively fair evaluation, Tang San secretly nodded and said to Gu Yuena, “I understand your Spirit Abilities.

I estimate that future spirit rings will bring you control over other elements, which is quite similar to Guang Ling.”

“Guang Ling? The one whose Spirit is a bow?” Gu Yuena suddenly realized, “Indeed, I sensed four elemental powers on her: metal, light, lightning, and ice.”

The Silver Dragon King controls elemental power, but she hasn’t fully mastered metal and lightning elements.

In this regard, Guang Ling still has an advantage.

Moreover, Guang Ling’s Spirit Ability is an arrow, and its penetrating power is far beyond what Gu Yuena, who only controls elements, can compare to.

Even if Gu Yuena can control the elemental power within Guang Ling’s arrows, she cannot control spirit power.

If the two were to compete, Guang Ling’s probability of winning would be one hundred percent.

Nothing else, Guang Ling’s spirit power is more than twenty levels higher than Gu Yuena’s current level, plus she has also learned Tang San’s non-Spirit Ability ultimate techniques.

Even if Gu Yuena is a Spirit Ancestor, it would not be easy to defeat Guang Ling.

“In the future, you can ask her more questions.

Guang Ling is currently the true expert on the combination and reconstruction of elemental energy flow patterns.” Tang San offered his advice, “As for me, I can teach you close combat techniques and accompany you in battle to train your control over power.”

Although the Silver Dragon King focuses on elemental control, her physical strength far surpasses all Spirit Beasts on the continent.

After all, her main body’s strength is there; her so-called lack of proficiency in strength is only when compared to the Golden Dragon King sealed in the God Realm.

On the Douluo Continent, she can still use one claw to suppress Di Tian, leaving him powerless to resist.

And even if Gu Yuena is just a clone, her physical strength far exceeds that of ordinary people.

Therefore, learning some martial arts is not a bad thing, but the main goal is to deepen her control over elemental power and refine her precise manipulation.

“Is that so? Then how about we have a fight?” Gu Yuena showed a hint of fighting spirit, eager to see the gap between her current self and Tang San.

“Alright.” Tang San glanced at Ling Meng, who was standing beside him, signaling her to move further away to avoid being accidentally injured by Gu Yuena, who might not hold back.

“Here I come!”

Gu Yuena held the nearly three-meter-long Silver Dragon Spear with both hands, shouted loudly, and took small steps, moving surprisingly fast.

In the blink of an eye, she was in front of Tang San.

Hmm—

Mainly, the distance between Tang San and Gu Yuena was only about seven or eight meters.

Facing the thrusting spear, Tang San extended two fingers and pinched it.

“Hehe, you fell for it!” A hint of cunning flashed in Gu Yuena’s eyes.

She activated her spirit power, and the two water and fire gems on the Silver Dragon Spear, like two long snakes, coiled around the spear tip and charged towards Tang San’s head.

“Whoosh!”

However, Tang San simply inhaled through his nose and gently exhaled.

The exhaled airflow dispersed the water and fire elements, and the resulting air current even caused Gu Yuena to stagger backward.

She had no choice but to transform the Silver Dragon Spear back into a Beast Spirit, attaching it to her body, to barely stop herself.

“You lost.”

“Hmph, it’s only because I’m young.” Gu Yuena put away her Spirit and turned her head away.

She was very displeased that Tang San’s single breath had almost made her lose her footing, but she was also deeply shocked—a mere Spirit King could achieve such a feat, which was truly incredible.

And he also had three Spirits, especially the third Spirit: Five Clawed Golden Dragon, which came with a unique spirit ring.

She didn’t know what kind of exotic dragon it was, but its status seemed even higher than the Dragon God.

“Indeed, you are still young.” Tang San smiled, “From now on, I will practice with you every day.

I will use a little less strength and even suppress my spirit power to the same level as yours.

I hope you can improve faster.”

“Just you wait, this young lady will definitely make you grovel at my feet in the future!” Gu Yuena felt mocked and retorted to Tang San.

“Oh? Then you work hard.” Tang San nodded perfunctorily, then waved to Ling Meng, signaling her to come over, and performed a detailed examination of her.

Ling Meng's Spirit was a black cat, and because it was integrated with her body, it made her a cat girl.

"How old are you this year?" Tang San pinched Ling Meng's arms, thighs, neck, shoulders, and other parts to ascertain her physical strength, and incidentally asked her a question to divert her attention.

"Earl, I am fourteen years old this year." Feeling her body being kneaded, although he didn't touch any inappropriate body parts, Ling Meng still blushed.

One must know that even in slave markets and the Luo Wang Auction House, she had never been approached by a man... This was naturally not because people in those places had high morals or followed rules, but to sell her virginity for a good price.

"Fourteen years old? The same age as me." Tang San shifted his attention to the pair of cat ears on Ling Meng's head, reaching out to pinch them.

He found that the ears truly moved like cat ears, and Ling Meng's face turned even redder.

"Um, Earl, could you please not touch my ears?" For Ling Meng, her cat ears were very sensitive, and if someone casually stroked them, it would make her angry.

But being stroked by the person in front of her, there was a kind of itchiness, as if the other person's hand had magic, touching her heart.

Tang San released his hand, not noticing Ling Meng's fleeting resentment, and said, "I already have some guesses about your situation, and based on my examination, your current physical strength is already close to that of a Spirit Ancestor... These years, you must have been diligently meditating, hoping to increase your spirit power, right?"

"That's right." Speaking of cultivation, Ling Meng looked a bit dejected, but then her face brightened with hope, "Earl, you said, can I continue to cultivate?"

I was born with full spirit power, but because my Spirit merged with my body, making me a cat girl, my innate spirit power integrated into my body, preventing me from obtaining a spirit ring... Do you have a way to prevent my spirit power from integrating into my body after cultivating to rank ten?"

"Yes."

Tang San nodded.

Tang San indeed had a method to keep spirit power from integrating into the body: simply open up a space within the body specifically for storing spirit power.

Naturally, Tang San couldn't do this alone.

But he had Iliex's help.

This Necromancer had extensive experience in researching the human body, so creating a spirit power storage space was a piece of cake.

Moreover, the relevant principles could also be learned from the spirit power storage devices in the life spirit tools currently on the market.

However—

"Merely being able to store spirit power isn't a good thing for you.

I have a better way that will allow you to continue cultivating."

"Furthermore, this could open up a completely new path of cultivation."

"Are you willing to give it a try?"

248: The human body's self-condensing soul ring: Three flowers gather at the top

“Can I retain my spirit power?”

Ling Meng's eyes lit up. She was about to beg Tang San for help, but upon hearing the subsequent sentences, she hesitated.

Should she choose the safer method?

Or try a new cultivation method?

With the former, she could cultivate normally and become a Spirit Master.

With the latter, she might become the pioneer of a new cultivation method, but there was a possibility of failure.

How should she choose?

Ultimately, Ling Meng chose the latter.

There was no other reason; she simply didn't want to disappoint Count Tang San. He had given her and her mother a place to live, and even treated them as his own, granting them appropriate dignity.

If she didn't repay this kindness, how could she face her own conscience?

“To be a pioneer is worthy of respect.” Tang San bowed to Ling Meng.

“Count Tang San, what are you doing?” Ling Meng was a little flustered and quickly helped Tang San up.

“Perhaps you might think I’m being overly serious, but this is a necessary courtesy. After all, I am using you for an experiment, and you should be given due respect.” Tang San’s gaze was sincere and burning, causing Ling Meng’s heart to flutter. “After all, if you fail, you might not be able to continue cultivating spirit power.”

Ling Meng softly said, “If I can’t cultivate, it’s actually nothing. Anyway, I could never cultivate to the tenth level before.”

“That’s different. At least your physical quality can be strengthened... Never mind, I’ll introduce the new cultivation method I’ve arranged for you.” Tang San pulled Ling Meng down to sit cross-legged and motioned for her to meditate.

Ling Meng complied.

As meditation began, the energy between heaven and earth flowed into Ling Meng’s body, slowly raising her spirit power.

Tang San placed his hand on her glabella, sensing the circulation route of the spirit power within Ling Meng’s body with his powerful mental force. He thought, “It’s truly different from how ordinary Spirit Masters meditate to cultivate spirit power, similar to Zhu Zhuqing after she obtained the Dark Demonic Evil God Tiger spirit ring, possessing two spirit power circulation routes.”

“Moreover, compared to Zhu Zhuqing, whose Spirit was still the foundation, Ling Meng’s Spirit has integrated with her physical body, achieving the goal of materialization.”

“A congenital Divinity, or rather, a congenital Spirit Beast, is not an exaggeration.”

“As long as the energy meets the requirements and one’s own mental force is strong enough, one can reach the hundredth level.”

Iliex sensed the energy circulation route of Ling Meng that Tang San transmitted and said, “Indeed, such a mutation can be said to be an innate powerhouse. It’s just that due to the rule of this World requiring spirit rings for breakthroughs, it’s impossible to accumulate large amounts of heaven and earth energy to transform one’s Life force.”

“Illyasviel, assist me in condensing a unique spirit ring for her, how about it?” Tang San had only one arrangement for Ling Meng, which was to assist her in self-condensing a spirit ring.

Tang San had already learned the method of condensing a spirit ring from Xiao Wu. However, ordinary Spirit Masters lacked the ten-thousand-year cultivation essence, so even if they knew the method, they couldn't condense one, making it useless.

But over these days, Tang San and Iliex had experimented with some energies that could replace cultivation essence to condense spirit rings.

Blood, spirit power, mental force.

These three treasures of the human body, under a specific ratio, could fuse with each other and, under the influence of this World's rules, transform into a spirit ring, helping a Spirit Master break through.

However, according to their research, if one condensed a spirit ring from the three treasures of essence, qi, and Spirit, then one could only possess this one spirit ring for their entire Life, and this spirit ring would not carry any Spirit Abilities, requiring the Spirit Master to create their own using blood, spirit power, and mental force.

The benefit was that future cultivation breakthroughs would only depend on one's own accumulation and realm, no longer requiring reliance on a Spirit Beast's spirit ring.

Furthermore, this spirit ring could evolve along with the Spirit Master's essence, qi, and Spirit.

“No problem. I also want to try if I can truly bypass the rules of this World.” Iliex laughed heartily, his divine sense assisting Tang San’s mental force, together invading Ling Meng’s body, guiding her essence, qi, and Spirit.

Ling Meng’s spirit power was currently only at level eight, but her blood power and mental force were not weak. After all, even though her spirit power would be absorbed by her physical body, she was still able to meditate consistently for several years—her physical body strengthened by absorbing spirit power, and her mental force strengthened by the tempering over these years.

“It might hurt a little, but don’t be nervous. Bear with it; it will pass quickly.” Seeing Ling Meng’s body tremble, Tang San comforted her, “Remember the circulation route of those three energies I’m guiding within your body. In your future cultivation, focus on controlling the spirit power’s operation and let it drive the other two.”

In a blink of an eye, half an hour passed.

Ling Meng’s lower Dantian, middle Dantian, and upper Dantian all became full, each emitting three rays of light, red, green, and silver, representing blood, spirit power, and mental force respectively.

Among them, the white light representing spirit power was the weakest.

Gu Yuena, who had been yawning nearby, immediately focused intently on the three rays of light condensing, finally forming a unique spirit ring composed of green, red, and silver. The colors on it flowed in a gradient, like a glowing neon billboard.

And after this spirit ring appeared, Gu Yuena sensed the rules of the entire continent trembling. To avoid being noticed by Divinities, she quickly put a spatial shield around her soul.

It was just that the gods of the God Realm didn't notice the changes on the Douluo Continent at all. After all, as long as it wasn't a god-level power, they wouldn't pay too much attention.

However, Tang San himself was indeed noticed by the God Realm Committee, but as stated above, before he displayed god-level power, the Divinities would not deliberately pay attention.

After all, the God Realm manages one hundred and eight Life planets. How could they constantly stare at Douluo Star?

And after that spirit ring formed, ripples appeared in its center, and three flower buds of different colors actually grew: one blood-red, carrying a surging heat; one emerald green, like an ethereal mist, seemingly real and illusory; and one crystal clear, like a treasure crafted by nature, dazzling and mesmerizing.

These were the Three Flowers!

When Mysterious Heaven Skill is cultivated to its peak, it has the ability of Three Flowers Converging on the Summit. To greatly increase the success rate of condensing the spirit ring, Tang San and Iliex combined it into the spirit ring condensation method, so that the Three Flowers and the spirit ring coexist, fixed as twin births.

And after the spirit ring was completely condensed, nine black energy-like chains appeared out of thin air, coiling around the spirit ring, as if to bind it.

Crack!

In an instant, three chains snapped and shattered, their energy dissipating and flowing into Ling Meng's body, raising her spirit power to level thirty-eight.

"It succeeded?" Ling Meng sensed the three unique energies within her body. Apart from spirit power, the other two were very unfamiliar, but she could control them as easily as moving her arm.

Moreover, she felt that she had been reborn; her physical body and soul had both been cleansed, becoming as pure as a newborn baby, without a trace of impurity.

It was just that she was sticky all over and had broken out in a foul-smelling sweat.

To avoid losing composure in front of Tang San, Ling Meng immediately ran out. In a blink of an eye, she was gone. When she reappeared, it was five minutes later, and she had changed into a clean and tidy maid uniform.

“How did you do that?” Gu Yuena felt that the man in front of her was not human at all. He could actually help someone condense a spirit ring, and from the looks of it, this spirit ring saved Ling Meng the trouble of hunting Spirit Beasts for spirit rings in the future. Her spirit power increase was completely unrestricted... No, it should still be somewhat restricted. Those nine chains were similar to the heavenly tribulation that a Ten-thousand year soul beast had to face, but from the looks of it, breaking those shackles didn't require being struck by lightning.

For a moment, Gu Yuena was even a little happy, because this way, humans would no longer need to hunt Spirit Beasts to seek breakthroughs. The only things worth obtaining from Spirit Beasts for humans were Spirit Bones and materials from their bodies.

Without the corresponding demand, the conflict between Spirit Beasts and Spirit Masters would naturally ease...

But what Gu Yuena didn't know was that even if human Spirit Masters didn't need Spirit Beast spirit rings to break through, they would still cause trouble for Spirit Beasts.

From a small perspective, some Spirit Masters wouldn't think about creating their own Spirit Abilities, but rather about taking ready-made ones—how convenient is it that one spirit ring can bring one skill?

From a larger perspective, the population of the continent has been continuously increasing, and in the future, it will inevitably oppress the living space of Spirit Beasts.

This is the fundamental problem and contradiction.

It's impossible to implement a "family planning" policy on the Douluo Continent at this stage, right?

Tang San even thought the total population of the entire continent was too small.

"The human body has three energies that can achieve transcendence: blood, spirit power, and mental force." Tang San explained to Gu Yuena, "Blood can represent a person's Life force, which is real; mental force is a person's soul power, which is illusory; and spirit power is in between the two, serving as a mediator."

"Under my control, these three energies in her body combined in a certain way and, under the rules of the World, formed a spirit ring."

Gu Yuena seemed to understand, yet not fully, and asked, "Can it be popularized?"

"No." Tang San shook his head. "Only in her special case, where the Spirit is completely integrated with the human body and she continuously cultivates, possessing strong blood and mental force, can this kind of spirit ring be condensed."

"A six-year-old child, even if born into a large Sect, and having medicinal baths and dietary supplements in childhood, how much blood power do they have? Not even as much as a normal adult without spirit power."

"And this method of condensing a spirit ring is equivalent to consuming one's own essence, qi, and Spirit, which is to say, lifespan—when a Spirit Beast dies, its spirit ring condenses its Life's energy. Similarly, this type of spirit ring is the same."

Gu Yuena frowned: "So, she consumed her own lifespan to condense such a spirit ring?"

"You could say that, but she herself didn't lose any lifespan."

“Uh... why? Wasn't the spirit ring condensed using her lifespan, that essence, qi, and Spirit? Why wouldn't she lose lifespan?”

“Because she absorbed the spirit ring herself, of course.” Tang San said matter-of-factly, “It was originally her own essence, qi, and Spirit that condensed it. After absorbing it, it naturally returned to her body, with no rejection reaction whatsoever. In fact, in my observation, when the three chains on that spirit ring shattered, it could draw in heaven and earth energy for an infusion, and her lifespan might have even increased.”

Unlike the conspiracy theories of most fanfiction, this book's setting dictates that the God Realm doesn't know the Silver Dragon King is on Douluo Star. The reason is simple: if they knew, they would send people down directly to nip the problem in the bud. After all, the Silver Dragon King is also a God King-level powerhouse; how could they turn a blind eye?

They might even destroy Douluo Star at any cost if necessary.

As long as the planet remains in its stellar system, Life can be reborn after tens of millions of years.

The gods of the God Realm have all the time in the World.

Moreover, the rule that gods cannot descend to the mortal realm was decided by the five mischievous gods of the God Realm Committee, not some World rule or anything like that.

The ending of Heavenly Jewel Change has already proven that Tang San, after becoming a Divinity, could go wherever he wanted, as long as it was reasonable and compliant, or if he simply didn't let the other God Kings know, breaking the law knowingly—it's that simple.

Another example is how Ji Dong and Lie Yan were used by the Good and Evil Supreme God Kings for a gamble and amusement. Did these two Supreme God Kings care about the planar consciousness of the Wuxing Continent?

Not at all, okay.

A planar consciousness is at most equivalent to a second-level Divinity. Even if there were so-called planar rules, they couldn't stop these God King-level powerhouses who were intent on causing trouble.

249: Lingtang Technology Co., Ltd.

At this moment, Gu Yuena, lost in thought, was completely unaware of whether her numerous questions would arouse Tang San's suspicion and speculation about her identity.

Fortunately, Tang San already knew Gu Yuena's identity; he just hadn't revealed it.

“Thank you, Earl!”

Five minutes later, Ling Meng ran back, excitedly hugged Tang San, quickly kissed his lips, and then swiftly jumped back, maintaining the dignified posture of a servant, though her face was flushed, like a ripe apple.

It was no wonder she was excited; anyone who could directly advance from a Spirit Scholar to a Spirit Ancestor would be like this.

Although this peculiar spirit ring did not grant her any Spirit Ability, Ling Meng could sense that the spirit ring was one with her and could evolve continuously with her cultivation. Moreover, each time she circulated her spirit power in a specific way, the three flowers within the spirit ring would slightly open and close, as if pulsating, helping her refine the energy of the World faster.

With her innate full spirit power talent, becoming a Titled Douluo within fifty years was not a pipe dream!

As for the Spirit Ability issue, Ling Meng didn't care.

Titled-level spirit power was enough to deal with most Spirit Masters, and she was now a maid at Silverblue Manor. Although the deed of servitude had been torn up, the Earl had kept her and her mother through employment.

But how could she not repay this kindness?

She even wanted to offer herself in marriage... However, after these two days, she understood one thing: the Earl was a person who valued emotions. Perhaps he would joke around with her later, but he would not be as lustful as other nobles without the solidification of time; he would only make harmless little jokes.

Just like the young lady of the Seven Treasure Glazed Tile School, Ling Meng could tell that she also had feelings for the Earl, but the Earl's relationship with her was not as intimate as with Miss Xiao Wu or Lady Guang Ling.

As for Miss Lan Yinzi, Ling Meng was not quite sure what her relationship with Tang San was...

“No need to thank me. I just had a sudden idea and wanted you to experiment. Now it’s just a success.” Tang San interrupted Ling Meng’s thoughts and began to talk about the precautions for future cultivation, “When you reach level forty in your cultivation, the key to breaking through will be to shatter the chains with spirit power, vital energy, and spiritual energy combined.”

“You’ve felt the benefits of breaking the chains, haven’t you? It can directly infuse the energy of the World into your body, reducing some of the time spent cultivating spirit power.”

“However, I estimate that each time you break through a chain from now on, the energy required will be twice that of the previous time.”

Just like fierce beasts undergoing tribulation, Ling Meng’s situation was equivalent to a humanoid fierce beast, and she did not need to endure heavenly tribulation. As long as she was not killed by others and continued to cultivate, she could theoretically live forever.

Unfortunately, most people whose Spirit mutated like hers died young or were toyed to death because they lacked suitable cultivation methods, preventing their spirit power from breaking through level ten.

“I am already very happy that I can cultivate; how dare I ask for anything else?” Ling Meng shook her head, not minding this point, her eyes full of adoration for Tang San.

Next, Tang San tested Ling Meng's spirit power attribute, which was wind.

Then, he had someone call Lingxi over, helped examine her body, and then, as if it were routine, he condensed a three-flower gathering spirit ring for her, just as he had for Ling Meng.

However, the flower representing spirit power was mixed with blue and white.

Upon testing, Lingxi's spirit power attribute was lightning.

This mother and daughter, one lightning and one wind, complemented each other well.

“Thank you, Earl.” After condensing the spirit ring, Lingxi's spirit power reached level forty-nine, just one step away from Spirit King.

In addition to the World energy infusion from breaking the shackles, it was also because she had not neglected her cultivation for so many years, holding the belief that “even if the cultivated spirit power cannot break through the realm, it can improve physical fitness.” She worked tirelessly day after day, month after month, year after year, which allowed her to become a Spirit Ancestor overnight with Tang San's help.

Lingxi even had a feeling that after this peculiar spirit ring was condensed, her soul and body seemed to have been cleansed, renewed, and returned to the purity of a maiden.

It was as if she had been reborn!

For her, this feeling was very wonderful, as if she had returned to her youth, regained true youth, and even her soul had become younger!

When Lingxi and Ling Meng stood together now, it was impossible to tell they were mother and daughter; instead, they looked like a pair of shy and charming twin sisters!

It was truly incredible!

“Ling Meng, you look after Gu Yuena. I’ll take your mother to the spirit tool production workshop in Heaven Dou City.” Tang San instructed, then said to Lingxi, “Let’s go. Let’s see if you truly have talent in management.”

“This humble woman will certainly not disappoint the Earl.” Lingxi smiled gracefully, bowing slightly, her posture quite dignified, yet with a hint of playfulness.

It seemed that because her body and mind had been cleansed, her personality had also become livelier.

[It seems that condensing one’s own spirit ring still has some side effects...]

Tang San, deep in thought, left the manor with Lingxi and headed to the small workshop for producing spirit tools that he had acquired in Heaven Dou City.

Though called a small workshop, it was not small at all, covering an area of two thousand square meters with over a hundred employees, broadly divided into three categories: the financial management department, the procurement department, and the manufacturing and assembly line department.

As for the final sales, most were transported to the Seven Treasure Glazed Tile School to be handled by their industries, while a small portion was retailed in small shops opened within Heaven Dou City, sold at more affordable prices.

“Ling Tang Technology Unlimited Company?” Lingxi looked up and saw these words written on the plaque outside the workshop, somewhat puzzled, “What do ‘technology’ and ‘company’ mean?”

“Technology, it’s a kind of thing that can change the World, and a company, you can just think of it as a type of workshop.” Tang San explained the meaning of both in terms Lingxi could understand, then continued, “Originally, it should have been called a limited company, but after thinking about it carefully, I don’t need to be confined by reality. I directly chose the word ‘unlimited,’ meaning that spirit tool technology is unlimited, and we welcome anyone with common aspirations to join Ling Tang Technology Unlimited Company.”

“I see.” Lingxi seemed to understand, then asked, “What does ‘Ling Tang’ mean?”

“Ling, Guang Ling; Tang, Tang San.” Tang San patiently explained, “It means this is a joint Creation of mine and Guang Ling. Moreover, because Guang Ling researched the spirit tool camera, photography box, and Sub-Mother Soul Guidance Photography Ball, I only provided some theoretical support, and she did most of the research. Therefore, it is called Ling Tang; she must be placed before me.”

Lingxi chuckled, saying, “Ling Tang also sounds better than Tang Ling. The latter sounds like a person’s name.”

Upon entering Ling Tang Technology Unlimited Company, the doorman saw Tang San and immediately came forward, saying, “I’m sorry, unauthorized personnel are not allowed to enter here. Even if you disguise yourself perfectly, it’s not allowed.”

Tang San, not knowing whether to laugh or cry, could only extend his right hand, release his Blue Silver Emperor Spirit and its five spirit rings, and asked, “It seems that during my absence from Heaven Dou, many people have imitated me, trying to sneak in here.”

“Earl, it’s really you!” The doorman immediately became terrified, and his shouts also attracted the nearby supervisors.

“Earl, it’s my lax supervision. I’ll fire him immediately.” The supervisor first smiled apologetically at Tang San, then immediately scolded the trembling doorman, “You blind fool, can’t you even distinguish between real and fake? How can anyone disguise themselves to have the exact same appearance and demeanor? You can’t even tell that? Don’t come tomorrow...”

Tang San raised his hand to stop the other party from continuing, saying, “He is dedicated to his duty. What wrong has he done?”

“This...” The supervisor was dumbfounded. He used to be a supervisor elsewhere, and when encountering similar situations, he would scold his subordinates like this in front of the master, then deduct their monthly wages and kick them out... This was the first time he had met a master who spoke up for a subordinate who had made a mistake.

“How much is his monthly wage?” Tang San asked.

“Two hundred silver coins a month.” The supervisor replied.

“Two hundred a month, in Heaven Dou City where every inch of land is precious, is barely enough to live on.” Tang San analyzed, “His wages will be doubled, five hundred a month.”

“Thank you, Earl!” The doorman was overjoyed. He had expected to lose his job, but he never thought he would get a raise.

“However, these three hundred aren’t free.” Tang San smiled faintly, “If I raise your wages by three hundred for no reason, the other doormen might become jealous. Therefore, I give you two choices: first, this month, you take five hundred, and afterward, your wages return to two hundred; second, I promote you to doorman captain, managing all the doormen at this East Gate. Do you feel confident?”

The doorman showed a thoughtful expression, finally gritting his teeth and saying, “I’ll just take this one month’s.”

He knew he wasn’t cut out for managing others.

“Alright.” Tang San nodded, had the supervisor give him the three hundred silver coins in advance, and then led Lingxi into the financial management department of the spirit tool Technology Unlimited Company.

“Earl, that supervisor seems a bit arrogant?” Lingxi asked.

“Perhaps he was just afraid I would blame him, so he exaggerated the situation and pushed it onto the doorman.” Tang San saw through it clearly, “You observe him in the future. According to the ‘no more than three’ principle, if you see him being overly harsh on his subordinates more than three times within a month, fire him.”

“Understood.” Lingxi indicated she understood.

Subsequently, Tang San called all the personnel from the finance department and announced that Lingxi would become the head of Ling Tang Technology Unlimited Company, responsible for all company affairs.

Naturally, some people were displeased by Lingxi’s sudden insertion, but when Tang San stated that Lingxi was a level forty-nine Spirit Ancestor, everyone was convinced.

Spirit Master was the most noble profession on the continent!

Tang San could not change this notion, and moreover, this was a good thing for Lingxi, as it could greatly reduce instances of subordinates feigning compliance.

As long as Lingxi didn’t become overly engrossed in the privileges brought by her own power...

250: When encountering fire on the road, Wu Wu acts bravely when he sees justice

“This is roughly the situation of Ling Tang Soul Guidance Technology Unlimited Company.” After Tang San introduced Lingxi to the other supervisors in the company, he took Lingxi to carefully examine the conditions of each department, and then gave a plan, saying, “In the future, this place will also need to establish Soul Guidance Technology Research Department, Talent Recruitment Department, and so on, but those are for later, there’s no need to rush too much. People nowadays can’t accept ideas that are too advanced.”

Lingxi nodded like a chick pecking rice. After all, just understanding the meaning of the novel terms Tang San spoke out already made her a bit anxious.

How is this just ‘too advanced’?

It’s extremely advanced!

“Understood, Earl,” Lingxi finally understood and accepted Tang San’s new concepts, and developed a deep sense of admiration for him.

“Don’t think I’m amazing. In this regard, I only know the general idea, the surface. I’m not good at it myself. The specifics require your effort and the effort of everyone else here.” Tang San shook his head, “However, there is one thing you must remember: there is only one management method here: the capable rise, the incompetent fall. Those who are sneaky, lazy, or cheat should have their wages settled directly and then be kicked out.”

“As for old employees... humans are not heartless beings after all, but if incompetent old hands rely on their so-called ‘seniority’ to suppress talented and capable newcomers, then there’s no need to be overly sympathetic to the old ones. Just handle things according to the rules.”

“We don’t need ‘seniority based on time’ here, but ‘seniority based on knowledge, wisdom, and inspiration’.”

Lingxi hesitated and asked, “Although that makes a lot of sense, if we really do that, won’t it hurt the feelings of those ‘old hands’?”

“We are not a Sect, nor a family here. You work for me, and I give you the corresponding wages. That’s the employment relationship. They don’t need to risk their lives for us.” Tang San said indifferently, “Our wages here are the highest in all of Heaven Dou. For example, for a doorman, in other places, even in a place like Moon Pavilion where nobles and royalty study, a doorman only gets nearly a hundred silver soul coins a month.”

“But here, an ordinary worker who assembles soul guidance devices gets fifty golden soul coins per person per month. To enjoy this high salary, they must have corresponding ability. Otherwise, they should give up their position to someone capable.”

“That is true fairness.”

Speaking of this, Tang San paused and continued, “Paying too much attention to so-called ‘sentiment’ is the beginning of a force’s decay.”

“Of course, if the so-called old hands suppress others with ‘seniority’, out of consideration for old feelings, after dismissing them, I will compensate them double everything they have earned in their previous work. This can be considered me being as benevolent and righteous as possible... Maybe if I do this, many people will secretly say I’m a big fool.”

Lingxi laughed out loud, immediately apologized, and said, “Earl is truly Goodness.”

“Goodness? It’s just about benefits.” Tang San sighed, then teased, “Oh, and what I said about ‘the capable rise, the incompetent fall’ includes you too. If you don’t manage well, maybe I’ll replace you.”

“Please rest assured, Earl, I will definitely manage Ling Tang Soul Guidance Technology Unlimited Company well!” Lingxi put away her smile, her eyes sharp, “You have the grace of recreating me. I will certainly live up to expectations, and I am even willing to give everything for you, including my body and soul!”

Hearing this... why does it sound so much like she’s coveting his body?

Indeed, his charm is too great!

“Since that’s the case, then you can familiarize yourself here for a while longer. I’ll go back first.” Tang San instructed, “As the housekeeper of the manor, you only need to arrange what the servants in the manor need to do tomorrow before eight o’clock every night. The responsibility is not heavy. As for managing this place, with others assisting, for now, you have relatively more free time, which can be used for cultivating soul power.”

“From now on, come here after ten o’clock every day. Before ten o’clock, I can teach you and Ling Meng some techniques for controlling soul power, qi and blood, and even spiritual power, as well as train your martial arts.”

“Since you have already become a soul master, having only soul power is not enough. Learning some combat skills and enriching yourselves is always right.”

“Of course, I also need to collect some data from you. We both get what we need.”

Lingxi was deeply moved, feeling that good fortune had come for her and her daughter. Not only were they respected by Earl, but they could also cultivate soul power, and even received important positions from Earl.

She really wished she could—

Offer herself to him!

“Oh, one last thing, don’t put yourself through hardship. As long as you don’t commit an unforgivable mistake, I will always be your solid backing...”

Immediately, Lingxi’s Heart in her chest pounded, and the vertical pupils in her eyes seemed to turn into Heart shapes. At this moment, she had only one thought: Is Earl confessing to her? Should she accept, or accept, or perhaps accept? Oh, how shy!

“...But, don’t think that because you have me behind you, you can do whatever you want. If you do that, I will also severely punish you.”

Lingxi’s face was flushed o(////▽////)q: “Punishment?”

“Not the kind you’re thinking of.” Tang San, who immediately saw what Lingxi was thinking, was speechless, secretly sighing that he had underestimated this handsome face.

Or perhaps, the side effect of the Three Flowers Gathering at the Peak and Ring Condensing Method is indeed a bit significant, able to restore a person’s mindset to the stage of their youth... Speaking of which, is this a side effect?

“Cough, sorry, Earl, I got excited.” Lingxi also calmed down at this time, but there was still a trace of redness on her face, which was embarrassment.

However, Tang San didn’t bring up the topic again. After giving a few more instructions, he left.

“Illyasviel, the Three Flowers Gathering at the Peak and Ring Condensing Method is currently only suitable for soul masters whose martial soul and physical body are integrated and materialized, like Lingxi and Ling Meng. It doesn’t have universality. Applying it to other soul masters and myself seems a bit difficult.” On the way back, Tang San discussed this matter with Illex.

“Indeed, before the martial soul is materialized with the body, condensing such a soul ring is a big problem for you, not to mention you have three martial souls. The Five Clawed Golden Dragon can be put aside for now, but the other two are not very suitable for the Three Flowers Gathering at the Peak and Ring Condensing Method.” Iliex also discovered the limitations of this method.

However, it’s not impossible to cultivate.

According to Iliex’s idea, Tang San could later condense a corresponding qi and blood ring, soul power ring, and spiritual ring around the outside of the Qi and Blood Golden Core, Soul Power Core, and Spiritual Mindset after condensing them.

“Is that so?” Tang San was lost in thought, “It seems it is indeed possible. The energy circulation circuits within the human body are limited. If three corresponding ‘rings’ are condensed, and more complex and intricate energy circulation and transformation circuits are constructed within them, perhaps my Three Treasures of Essence, Qi, and Spirit can be converted more perfectly.”

“That’s the principle. Although the human body is still very complex, the conversion between the Three Treasures of Essence, Qi, and Spirit, relying solely on the human body, will always have shortcomings. It’s better to condense a corresponding ‘ring’ between each of the Three Treasures of Essence, Qi, and Spirit. We can construct various different energy circulation circuits within them.” Iliex once again marveled at the mysterious and magnificent aspects of this World, then continued, “Thus, the energy circulation routes of the Star Domain, the formation trajectories of the Zhou Tian Xing Dou Great Array, the divine patterns of the phoenix divine beast within the Feng Wu Tong, etc., that we recorded before, can all have more experimental space.”

“However, this also depends on me condensing the Golden Core, Heart Core, and Spiritual Mindset first.” Tang San understood that no matter how beautiful the theoretical deduction was, it needed corresponding experimental conditions later, otherwise it was just talking on paper.

“What are you getting involved in?”

Just then, a commotion came from ahead, attracting passersby to watch.

Tang San heard a familiar voice and, out of curiosity, also squeezed through the crowd, finding that it was actually Dai Mubai and Huo Wu, and nearby, the sisters Mu Yanluo and Mu Qiluo were also standing.

Looking at the two of them, their faces were a bit awkward, but the look in their eyes towards Dai Mubai was both fear and resentment.

And the person shouting was none other than Dai Mubai.

After the Continental Elite Tournament ended, although Dai Mubai had graduated from Shrek, he did not leave Shrek Academy, as he still couldn't face his good Dai.

“What do you mean getting involved?” Huo Wu put one hand on her hip, snorting coldly, “You're harassing decent women on the street, and I can't do anything about it? If this weren't Heaven Dou City, I wouldn't waste my breath on a playboy like you.”

As of now, it was a civil dispute. If they started fighting, the Spirit Hall and the Heaven Dou City patrol and security teams would intervene.

“They are my girlfriends. I'm just chatting with them. What do you mean harassing?” Dai Mubai reached out to hug the two women, but they dodged him, their eyes filled with anger as they looked at Dai Mubai.

“Haha, you call this girlfriends?” Huo Wu was so angry she laughed, “Everyone here can see that they are not close to you at all, they are even afraid... Come on, ladies, tell me, are you the girlfriends of this peerless lecherous tiger?”

Mu Yanluo hesitated for a moment, walked forward two steps, stood out, and stared at Dai Mubai, saying, “We have already broken up. Please don't bother me and my sister anymore, and don't flatter yourself. My sister and I came to this Heaven Dou City not to find you.”

Mu Qiluo glared fiercely at Dai Mubai and echoed her sister, “Sister is right, we have nothing to do with you now.”

Dai Mubai’s expression changed, becoming extremely ugly.

In this World, only he dumped others, how could others dump him?

When he left Soto City, he didn’t say goodbye to these two women... He didn’t dump these two women!

At first, when he saw these two women, he thought they had traveled all the way from Soto City to find him, and he was quite moved... But now, these two women actually said they wanted to dump him. It was simply unforgivable!

As the aura of a Soul Elder spread, Huo Wu also revealed a trace of Soul King level soul power fluctuations, mocking, “Oh oh, you’ve broken up, and you’re still thinking of using force? Hurry up and make a move, then I can also make a move legitimately, and take you to the Spirit Hall for punishment. At that time, it won’t just be you who loses face, but also the imperial family of the Star Luo Empire.”

Hearing this, Dai Mubai finally calmed down, glared at Huo Wu, turned and left, finally saying to the two women, “Hmph, without me, let’s see how you survive in this Heaven Dou City—”

“Being someone else’s maid, working tirelessly and being ordered around; or being my, Dai Mubai’s, woman, and being pampered.”

“You choose!”

251: Mixue Milk Tea Shop: Thoughts on Time Travel

Dai Mubai swaggered away, someone secretly took photos, documenting this matter and giving it an exaggerated title: "Shocking! Star Luo Crown Prince Actually Flirts with Respectable Girls in Heaven Dou City!"

However, such news would never appear in the "Tiandou Daily", only in some niche publications, where the information is a mix of truth and falsehood, primarily aimed at grabbing people's attention.

Traffic...

This term hadn't appeared on the Douluo Continent yet, but a portion of people had already begun to notice and grasp this point.

And the scene—

Huo Wu dispersed the onlookers, walked over to the two girls, and asked, "It's better for you to stay away from that Dai Mubai anyway, after all, he's an irresponsible scumbag. Many female students from Shrek Academy have been his girlfriends, all hoping to become Imperial Consorts of the Star Luo Empire, but none of them truly established a relationship with him; they were all played with and then abandoned."

Mu Yanluo was experienced and nodded, saying, "Yes, thank you for the Soul Master's reminder."

Mu Qiluo was more honest: "We didn't come to Heaven Dou City to find him in the first place."

Huo Wu noticed the maid outfits on the two of them and asked, "Where do you work as maids? I'll go find your master, buy you out, and have you come to my place."

It wasn't that Huo Wu wanted to be a good Samaritan, but rather she felt these two girls had some Spirit, were more individualistic than ordinary maids, and having been deceived, their minds were bound to be sharper than usual maids. Handling matters in the future would also be more worry-free for her, hence her delight at seeing them.

"In this Heaven Dou City, I still have some face."

As the direct descendant of the Huo Family and having joined the Spirit Hall, her status was second only to Platinum Bishop Salas due to her strength. Major and minor families in the city would more or less give her face.

"Thank you for Miss Huo Wu's kindness, but we don't want to leave, and although we are servants, we have an employment relationship with our master," Mu Yanluo refused Huo Wu's offer.

"Employment?" Huo Wu was surprised, not expecting that someone in Heaven Dou City would employ maids instead of directly buying them... This was the first time such an unprecedented thing had happened.

"Who is it? Take me to pay them a visit?" Huo Wu became interested.

"It's me." Tang San walked over, took off his mask, and greeted Huo Wu, "Long time no see, Huo Wu, I didn't expect to see you here."

"So it's Captain!" Huo Wu was happy, but she still suppressed her excitement, walked slowly to Tang San's side, and teased, "I thought the recent rumors were false, I didn't expect you to actually come to Heaven Dou City... Speaking of which, the city is full of rumors saying you have affairs with all the girls in the Heaven Dou Royal Battle Team."

"Wouldn't Yu Tianheng and Yu Feng be furious then?" Tang San also made a joke.

"Naturally not, after all, Yu Tianheng has been inseparable from Dugu Yan and is already engaged. To avoid offending the Blue Lightning Tyrant Dragon Family, those small newspapers have already excluded Dugu Yan," Huo Wu said seriously, "As for Yu Feng, he and Bai Chenxiang went adventuring on the Continent. This rumor only spreads in Heaven Dou City, so he can't hear it, and Bai Chenxiang isn't in Heaven Dou City either at the moment. Gradually, those small newspapers have also excluded her."

"You make it sound like I'm having affairs with all of you," Tang San said speechlessly, then extended an invitation to Huo Wu.

"Just right, I'm free every day now. Going there to practice with Xiao Wu and Guang Ling will also prevent my skills from becoming rusty," Huo Wu readily agreed.

"Don't you usually spar with your brother, Shui Bing'er from Heavenly Water Academy, Feng Xiaotian, and others?" Tang San asked.

"I wanted to do that, but my brother keeps making excuses to refuse; Shui Bing'er and Shui Yue'er from Heavenly Water Academy have been traumatized by me and stay indoors, so I can't very well go challenge them, especially since the relationship between the Four Elemental Academies is quite good; as for Feng Xiaotian, after the competition ended, he disappeared. I heard he went to the Great Rift Valley of Storms, preparing to temper himself there and further improve and refine his self-created Soul Skill, saying he wants to find an opportunity to challenge you again in the future."

Huo Wu stretched lazily, revealing her delicate waist, and glanced at Tang San's expression out of the corner of her eye. Finding that he was truly listening to her and not peeking at her skin, she silently cursed him as a "blockhead" and then continued, "So, now I can only walk on the streets every day and be a busybody."

"Oh, speaking of which, is there something you know? Mi Xue from Heavenly Water Academy opened a milk tea shop called Ice Snow Honey City Sweetness, which is the song she sang back then."

As they spoke, the two, along with the twins behind them, arrived in front of the milk tea shop.

The shop wasn't big, similar to an ordinary restaurant, but the selling window was very small, with a dozen people queuing to wait, and the price of the milk tea was also very expensive; the most ordinary Pearl Milk Tea actually cost one Silver Soul Coin per cup.

Good heavens, truly robbing money!

On the Continent, the currency exchange rate was one Golden Soul Coin for ten Silver Soul Coins, and one Silver Soul Coin for one hundred Copper Soul Coins!

Even if you're going for a high-end route, you shouldn't do it this way, right?

Moreover, for something like milk tea, to make a lot of money, you absolutely cannot go the high-end route!

Or is it because the servers are Soul Masters, so the price is also increased?

When it was Tang San and the others' turn, Mi Xue was startled, but she still showed a sweet smile and asked, "What kind of milk tea would the guests like?"

"Do you have Oreo Flavored Snow King Grand Sundae? We'll take four cups," Tang San asked to test the waters.

"Uh..." At this moment, Mi Xue was completely sure that the person in front of her was a transmigrator, and she slowly said, "Sorry, dear~ I don't have Oreos here yet, and I don't have any ice cream series either."

"Then your Ice Snow Honey City doesn't live up to its name," Tang San said.

"No choice, I haven't found substitutes for some raw materials yet," Mi Xue said with a resigned look.

Huo Wu looked confused, not knowing what riddle these two were speaking in, but she felt that they seemed to know each other, yet not completely.

"Then we'll take nine cups of Red Bean Pearl Milk Tea, with ice."

"OK!"

Mi Xue took out nine cup sleeves woven from Blue Silver Grass leaves, released her Martial Soul: Little Snowman, froze a layer of ice inside, then poured in tea and fresh milk, added red bean powder, and black jelly-like "pearls", then sealed the top with another layer of ice and shook it vigorously.

Finally, she inserted straws woven from Blue Silver Grass and covered with a layer of ice into the tops of the nine cups of Red Bean Pearl Milk Tea.

"Drink it quickly, or the ice will melt," Mi Xue kindly reminded after handing out the nine cups of Douluo Class Ice Snow Honey City.

Tang San handed a cup each to Huo Wu, Mu Yanluo, and Mu Qiluo, took one cup himself, then summoned Wu Lin to help maintain the ice layers on the remaining five cups.

And after selling these nine cups, Mi Xue stopped selling for the day and invited the four people inside.

However, it was mainly Mi Xue and Tang San who were communicating.

"You too?"

"Yes."

"Do you know how to go back?"

"I don't know, but as long as I live long enough, there will be a way."

"Is that so? I heard that after reaching level 100 and becoming a god, you can live forever?"

"That is indeed possible."

"Why do I feel like you're being perfunctory?"

"Not at all, I'm just speaking the truth."

"You don't know how much I miss TV, games, mobile phones, TV dramas, anime..."

At this moment, Mi Xue poured out her grievances to Tang San, and Tang San understood. This person in front of him was female before transmigrating, and her life was basically a two-point line between home and work, and she basically stayed at home on weekends watching dramas and playing games, not liking social interaction. The happiest thing was receiving a text message on her phone saying her salary had arrived.

"Do you know how you came here?" Tang San couldn't help but ask, thinking that there were too many transmigrators in this World.

"How would I know that?" Mi Xue shook her head, then her imagination ran wild, "Maybe it's like the plot in light novels, a wormhole opened between Earth and an otherworld, and someone accidentally transmigrated after death... Speaking of which, how did I die? I don't remember, could it have been sudden death?"

Regarding how he died, Tang San frowned because he found that he couldn't recall it either.

"Illyasviel, can you find anything from my memory?" Tang San sought help from Iliex.

"Sorry, I can't find anything... It seems that your transmigration, and that of other transmigrators, involves a Great Terror!" Iliex's tone suddenly became profound.

"Can you not joke like that?" Tang San was speechless.

"My apologies, it's just that there are too many classic lines in those novels in your memory, this old man couldn't help but want to learn," Iliex said,

"Thinking about these things now is pointless for you and me. It's not too late to consider such questions after you reach the corresponding level in the future."

"That's true."

Meanwhile, Huo Wu, Mu Yanluo, and Mu Qiluo on the other side had no idea what Tang San and Mi Xue were talking about, only understanding the term "Becoming a God at Level 100".

Could it be that Tang San and Mi Xue were discussing how to become a god?

As for Tang San, Huo Wu wasn't surprised that he had research on breaking through level 100, after all, he was a Martial Soul Theory Master. But Mi Xue? A Soul Grandmaster, she didn't look like someone who had research on Martial Souls. How did the two of them start chatting?

"How do you know that Mi Xue?" After leaving the Ice Snow Honey City milk tea shop, Huo Wu couldn't help but ask, "You're not secretly cheating behind Xiao Wu and Guang Ling's backs, are you?"

"How is that possible? Didn't you see me helping them bring milk tea?" Tang San pointed to the five cups of milk tea being levitated by Wu Lin, "Mi Xue and I, in a sense, could be considered fellow villagers."

Huo Wu nodded, realizing that Mi Xue might also be from Holy Soul Village, and didn't ask any more questions.

And when Tang San brought Huo Wu into Silverblue Manor, Fan Niu, Fan Ma, and the other two guards exchanged glances and quietly gossiped again.

"The Earl brought back another woman."

"It's even Miss Huo Wu from the Heaven Dou Royal Battle Team!"

"Could that rumor be true?"

"Needless to say? It's definitely not groundless. Maybe the Earl is very powerful in that regard, which is why he can make even proud female Soul Masters obedient!"

252: Tang Yuehua's changes

After Huo Wu arrived, she also stayed at Silverblue Manor, practicing daily with Xiao Wu, Lan Yinzi, and even Gu Yuena.

And what about Tang San?

Besides cultivating and researching, he checked the progress of the girls, taught Fan Niu and Fan Ma the Tiger Bear Body Forging Art, imparted Ghost Shadow Perplexing Track to Lingxi and Ling Meng, and had them create their own most suitable footwork based on the wind and lightning attributes of their spirit power.

As for Gu Yuena, she is currently practicing precise control over spirit power and learning about spirit tool-related knowledge. After all, she found that her methods of using elements seemed less precise than the spirit power flow patterns within spirit tools.

Although the Dragon God was powerful, Gu Yuena realized that her former “previous life” was merely dominant in strength, and never considered how to use that strength to unleash more powerful effects.

In short, it was all about brute force.

This point is indeed very effective for mortal-level strength, capable of showing a crushing trend, but for opponents of the same level, when strength levels are comparable, it depends on who uses their strength more skillfully.

The so-called simplicity of the Great Dao does not mean ignoring complex details, but rather moving from complexity to simplicity.

Just like a Spirit guidance lamp or a Spirit guidance fan, a simple flick of a switch can activate them, making them glow and spin, but the internal Spirit guidance patterns are not simple.

The simplicity of the Great Dao, the so-called simplicity, does not refer to the seemingly simple actions or forms on the surface; what is important is the complex essence within.

After Gu Yuena understood this, she also understood why the Dragon God was defeated by the Gods of the God Realm. It wasn't because the combined power of good and evil was stronger than the Dragon God, but because the Dragon God was inferior to those two in the precise control of power.

Therefore, she must make up for this point and learn from the Dragon God's failure.

In the blink of an eye, a month passed.

During this period, Xue Qinghe also came to visit several times, wanting to win over Tang San, but all in vain. There was even one time when Xue Qinghe dropped his disguise and came to recruit him as Xue Qinghe's maid.

He probably thought that since he was the Spirit Hall Saint Child, he was considered one of their own, so revealing his true self in front of him seemed to be no big deal... One can only say, he truly is a love-struck fool.

Moreover, counting the age, Qian Renxue also seemed to be in the period of nascent romantic feelings... It's barely understandable.

However, Tang San still declined with various excuses.

Besides that, "the evolution of martial souls" was officially published, stirring up another wave and making the World realize that a Spirit could slowly change according to its environment.

For a time, many commoner Spirit Masters without cultivation talent wondered if they could move to a harsher environment and propagate for three to five generations to see if their descendants' Spirits could evolve.

However, Spirit Masters from large families, through "the evolution of martial souls," realized that their inherited Spirits could not mutate further unless the external environment underwent significant changes.

Besides the Spirit being powerful, more importantly, because the Spirit itself has spirituality and its current form can already be stably inherited, then there is no need for further change.

Hmm—

Except for cases of mutation.

And a month later, Tang Yuehua came looking for him again.

After leaving that day, Tang Yuehua thought long and hard, and finally decided to treat the information Tang San told her as something she had investigated from Spirit Hall personnel, and passed it on to the Sect. For safety, she even personally returned to Clear Sky Sect.

And Tang Xiao's reaction was full of shock at Spirit Hall and her knowledge that Tang Chen had been in Slaughter City undergoing the Asura God's assessment all these years.

At that moment, Tang Yuehua understood that no one in the entire Clear Sky Sect had ever cared about her pride and self-esteem. Even her elder brother and second brother only had the most ordinary sibling affection, merely the responsibility of a brother to his sister. And everything she had contributed to Clear Sky Sect over the years was taken for granted; not even a single word of "thank you" was ever spoken.

Tang Xiao was an elder brother, so there was no need to say thanks, but why did the rest of the Hao Tian Disciples of Clear Sky Sect accept everything she gave with such peace of mind?

This is unfair!

Just because her Clear Sky Hammer mutated and didn't look like a hammer?

That pride...

No! That pathetic self-esteem! How ridiculous!

So, after Tang Yuehua returned, she didn't tell Tang Xiao and the others that she had broken through to level ten. Tang Xiao, Tang Hao, and the Five Great Elders also wouldn't deliberately sense her spirit power fluctuations, as she was a "waste" in Spirit Master cultivation.

This was also Tang Yuehua's test of them... Unfortunately, the result broke her heart. Including her elder brother Tang Xiao and second brother Tang Hao, not a single person cared about her spirit power level.

Listening to Tang Yuehua recount her experience of returning to the Sect, Tang San handed her a handkerchief and asked, "What do you plan to do next, Tang Xuanzhu?"

"If you don't mind, I could come here and be a housekeeper."

As soon as she spoke, Lingxi, who stood beside Tang San, narrowed her eyes and thought, "She's here to steal my job!"

"I already have enough rumors circulating in Heaven Dou City. If you also come here, who knows how many more rumors related to me will spread," Tang San flatly refused. "However, Tang Xuanzhu, if you wish to stay here for a short period in the future, you are always welcome. After all, in a few days, I will be heading to Spirit City, and it's good to have someone living here. After all, by bloodline, you are my aunt."

Tang Yuehua's eyes lit up: "You're willing to call me aunt now?"

Tang San took a sip of tea, didn't answer directly, and slowly stood up, saying, "Tang Xuanzhu, I need to go to the study to write a new theory. Please make yourself at home."

Watching Tang San and Ling Meng leave, Tang Yuehua didn't know if Tang San acknowledged her as his aunt or not.

"Tang Xuanzhu, let me show you around Silverblue Manor." After Lingxi understood the blood relationship between Tang Yuehua and Tang San, she secretly breathed a sigh of relief, realizing that the other party wouldn't come to steal her job, and the smile on her face became a bit more genuine.

"That's good," Tang Yuehua nodded. "Perhaps I'll live here from now on. I really should get familiar with it, consider it helping my nephew look after the house. What's your name? Are you the housekeeper here?"

"Yes, my name is Lingxi, a forty-ninth-level Spirit Ancestor." Lingxi smiled (* — ∪ —).

"Almost a Spirit King!" Tang Yuehua looked at Lingxi in shock, observing her youthful appearance. "You're truly amazing."

"No, Lord Earl is even more amazing!"

"???"

While Tang San was still living a stable life and developing steadily, in the Star Luo Empire, the Star Crown Sect was experiencing unprecedented ostracism.

All major families cut off ties with the Star Crown Sect, and due to the rapid spread of news, various rumors flew everywhere; even border cities of Heaven Dou heard some of the news.

For a time, the entire Star Crown Sect found itself in a difficult position.

Even Dai Legao began to suspect if he had gone too far.

Or, besides the Dai Family and the Zhu Family, there were others pushing this matter, hoping for internal strife in the Star Luo Empire.

"Who could it be?" Dai Legao first ruled out the major families within the Star Luo Empire. Although they were currently close to the Dai Family and the Zhu Family, they wouldn't be so deliberate.

So, there were only two targets:

Spies from the Heaven Dou Empire.

And spies from Spirit Hall.

Among them, Spirit Hall was the most likely, as they had branch halls in every city on the Continent. Only then could they spread the news so quickly in such a short time, relying on Spirit guidance photography equipment.

Of course, Dai Legao couldn't rule out that the Heaven Dou Empire's high-ranking officials paid Spirit Hall to do this. After all, ever since Tang San proposed concepts like "intellectual property" and "patent," Spirit Hall seemed to have become obsessed with money.

"Does the Star Crown Family have any statement yet?" Dai Legao thought for a long time and decided to start with the Star Crown Family—his idea was actually very simple: if the Star Crown Family had Xu Xing step forward and, under the recording of the Sub-Mother Soul Guidance Photography Ball, swear allegiance to Dai Weisi, this matter would pass, and his Dai Family and the Star Crown Sect would remain a harmonious Star Luo family.

However, the Star Crown Sect remained silent.

This also made Dai Legao suspicious, thinking that the Star Crown Sect truly had the idea of usurping the Star Luo imperial throne. After all, three hundred years ago, the Star Crown Sect seemed to have obtained something from the core area of the Infinite Desert...

Meanwhile, on the Star Crown Sect's side, due to public criticism, some young Star Crown Disciples blamed Xu Xing, believing that he was responsible for the Star Crown Sect's current predicament.

There was also an element of jealousy towards Xu Xing's talent.

Xu Xing had mostly recovered from the injuries sustained in the competition using the Sect's resources, but his spirit power had not improved much. To break through to the Spirit Ancestor level, he would probably have to wait until he was sixteen.

"Grandfather," Xu Xing found the Sect Master of the Star Crown Sect, "Did I cause trouble for the Star Crown Sect?"

"What nonsense are you talking about?" The Star Crown Sect Master shook his head. "Our only problem right now is that we are not strong enough."

"And the current Emperor of the Star Luo Empire is also blind, actually targeting us..."

"Don't they know that the Star Luo Empire was established by our ancestors together?"

"Perhaps, we can only find a way to leave the Star Luo Empire now, go to Heaven Dou, or join Spirit Hall."

However, for Xu Xing, whether it was relocating to the Heaven Dou Empire or defecting to Spirit Hall, both were inferior options.

There was only one reason:

He didn't want to see Tang San.

Although that guy was a transmigrator like him, he didn't want to work under someone else, and he was so severely injured, and it was the other party who did it, how could he be in a good mood?

Moreover, the era of [fellow countrymen meeting, tears in their eyes] had passed. Unless it was an infinite stream or main god space, it was better to kill the "fellow countryman."

This World only needs one transmigrator!

But the problem was that the current Tang San was simply too powerful, completely beyond his ability to contend... If he were a mouse at this moment, then Tang San would be a cat, and before catching him, he would tease him severely.

In this Douluo Continent, he simply had no chance to develop; he had to find a new opportunity!

"Grandfather, I think migrating to Heaven Dou or joining Spirit Hall is not the best strategy. As the saying goes: 'Better to be the head of a chicken than the tail of a phoenix.' If we abandon Star Luo, we will inevitably be criticized and not be given important positions," Xu Xing retorted.

The Star Crown Sect Master was puzzled: "Then what should we do?"

"Go to sea!"

253: Sea Fortress: Vast Sea Sky Boat

Ever since Tang San revealed the effects of whale glue, many forces have allocated a portion of their manpower and resources to the ocean, hoping to explore marine resources.

The Star Crown Sect was no exception.

"Exploring a new continent by sea?" The Star Crown Sect Master frowned deeply, considered it repeatedly, and sighed, "But what lies in the ocean is unknown; we cannot take that risk."

"If we go to the ends of the World and fall off, we'll all be smashed to pieces!"

Xu Xing explained, "Grandpa, please rest assured, we won't fall off, because the World is round."

"Why do you say that?"

"Uh... the sun is round, the moon is round, and the stars are also round, so the World we live in must also be round." Xu Xing didn't know how to explain, but in the end, he gave the most simplistic and absurd guess.

Evidently, this did not convince the Star Crown Sect Master; he even thought Xu Xing's injury hadn't healed and had affected his mind.

However, Xu Xing eventually persuaded the Star Crown Sect Master, not because he believed the World was a sphere, but because Xu Xing had a valid point: it's better to be the head of a chicken than the tail of a phoenix.

Moreover, their Star Crown Sect abandoning the Star Luo Empire would certainly be criticized, and perhaps even talked about for thousands of years... For large families and Sects, reputation is very important.

Subsequently, the Star Crown Sect Master took Xu Xing to the Star Crown Sect's treasury, arriving at its deepest part, where there was a circular stone platform with a model resembling an aircraft carrier placed on it, entirely black, with countless patterns on its surface.

"This is?"

"Three hundred years ago, a Titled Douluo appeared in our clan. Following the call of the Spirit Hall, he explored the core depths of the Infinite Desert... In the end, that Titled Douluo left this spirit tool for us descendants."

The Star Crown Sect Master's face was filled with emotion, as if marveling at the greatness of his ancestor, "This spirit tool is called the 'Haohai Sky Ark.' When spirit power is injected, it can travel freely in the ocean, and it even has countless offensive weapons loaded within. It is rumored that even a Ten-thousand year soul beast would flee upon encountering such an Ark."

"That powerful!" Xu Xing was excited. With this Haohai Sky Ark, their Star Crown Sect could completely become the overlord of the ocean!

"But unfortunately, for three hundred years, no one among us has figured out how to use the offensive weapons inside, and activating them requires massive amounts of spirit power." The Star Crown Sect Master sighed, "Moreover, this thing only works in the ocean, and our Star Crown Sect is located inland. In most cases, this thing is a mere trifle, considered a valuable collectible."

"I never thought it would have a day to be useful."

"After injecting spirit power, this Haohai Sky Ark can expand to nearly three hundred meters long, one hundred meters wide, and seventy meters high. One could say that when this thing is placed on the sea, it is essentially a small floating town."

Xu Xing's eyes widened, exclaiming, "So, as long as we prepare sufficient supplies, we can explore the ocean?"

"Theoretically, yes, but how many people have the courage to explore the ocean?" The Star Crown Sect Master's gaze was profound. "I don't know if my choice is correct..."

When the news spread that the Star Crown Sect was going to relocate its entire Sect to coastal cities around Star Luo, the entire Star Luo Empire was in turmoil. Other families pondered the reason for the Star Crown Sect's actions and observed the attitudes of the Dai Family and Zhu Family.

Dai Legao did indeed bring people to visit the Star Crown Sect, hoping they would not let the rumors within the Empire affect their rational judgment.

The Star Crown Sect Master had already prepared an excuse: to capture whale Spirit Beasts, explore ocean resources, and enhance the Star Luo Empire's foundation...

And so, the entire Star Crown Sect relocated to a coastal city, while Xu Xing and a portion of the Star Crown disciples, recruited sailors, and servants secretly boarded the Haohai Sky Ark and set off towards the ocean.

The Star Crown Sect believed this action was very secretive, hidden from everyone in the Star Luo Empire, and publicly announced that Xu Xing and some excellent disciples from the Sect had been dispatched for training across the continent.

But it was still discovered by one person.

When the Star Crown Sect was relocating its entire clan, Zhu Zhuqing felt that they might be an unstable factor, potentially causing trouble for her future cruel competition to replace the Star Luo Imperial Family. Therefore, she kept an eye on them.

It was precisely because of this vigilance that she discovered the Star Crown Sect actually had a giant spirit tool ship, like a sea fortress, and it came with spirit tool attack methods, with astonishing power.

And she also realized the Star Crown Sect's true purpose: on the surface, it was to explore the ocean for the Star Luo Empire; secretly, it was to find overseas islands, establish their own power, and even after establishing a kingdom in the future, they might even counterattack the Star Luo Empire.

After seeing the Star Crown Sect's actions, Zhu Zhuqing felt her guess was almost certainly correct, but she hesitated whether to tell Dai Weisi, Zhu Zhuyun, or Dai Legao about it.

After all, from the perspective of preventing the future recurrence of two Hell White Tigers competing, the older generations of the Dai Family and Zhu Family were all her future enemies.

Speaking of which, why would she oppose this cruel competition?

Was it to prevent the younger generation in the future from having to experience the same pain as her?

Or was it simply to let him see her valiant and heroic posture of living for herself?

Zhu Zhuqing felt it was both.

So, she didn't tell anyone in the Star Luo Empire about this matter...

Meanwhile, in Heaven Dou City, Tang San learned about this through a major event reported in the Wuhun News, guessing that Xu Xing was going to sea, but he didn't pay too much attention to it.

Leaving aside the conditions required for going to sea, even with an extra-large battleship, without corresponding navigation talent and sufficient preparation, completing a global voyage would only rely on luck.

Even if Xu Xing had that luck, he lacked the relevant navigation knowledge, and in this era, few people possessed such knowledge, especially with the fierce folk customs of the Star Luo Empire, making such talents even rarer.

"Brother Tang, what do you think about the Star Crown Sect moving to the coastal city?" Xue Qinghe visited Tang San again.

"Naturally, I look at it with my eyes," Tang San replied casually.

"Haha~ Brother Tang is truly humorous." Xue Qinghe smiled, her elegant demeanor, combined with that charming smile, displayed a certain enchanting allure.

"Speaking of which, Brother Qinghe, why didn't you bring that blonde maid with you this time?" As Xue Qinghe visited more often, their way of addressing each other became more familiar. Xue Qinghe called him Brother Tang, and he called her Brother Qinghe.

At least, after Tang San started calling her "Brother Qinghe," Xue Qinghe's visits became more frequent, and the smile on her face grew even brighter.

"Xiao Xue went home to visit relatives." Xue Qinghe stated a reason without changing her expression, then joked, "What, Brother Tang, are you interested in her? How about I give her to you?"

"Alright." Tang San nodded.

"I knew Brother Tang wasn't that kind of... Wait, what did you just say?" Xue Qinghe's smile froze, doubting if she had misheard.

"I said, alright." Tang San repeated, "Although I'm not a lecher, she, like Brother Qinghe, seems to have some Spirit resonance with my Blue Silver Emperor. Brother Qinghe, I wouldn't dare ask you to cooperate with my research, but your maid, there shouldn't be much of a problem, right?"

Xue Qinghe was stunned, a trace of cold sweat seeping onto her cheek. She thought, "Oh no, I forgot about this. Has he already discovered my secret? Although Tang San is the Spirit Hall Saint Child, and we are family, I don't want to be exposed to him right now."

Seeing Xue Qinghe nervous and unconsciously swallowing, Tang San found it amusing and decided to scare her a bit more, saying, "Speaking of which, Brother Qinghe's collar is always quite high, wrapped around his neck."

Why the high collar?

Naturally, it's because she can't disguise her obvious male features!

She can disguise her face, but not her Adam's apple!

"Brother Tang is joking. I merely caught a cold when I was young, and my throat developed a persistent problem, so my neck is more susceptible to cold." Xue Qinghe calmly wiped away the sweat from her cheek, and incidentally found an excuse for herself.

"So that's how it is." Tang San felt that teasing her was enough; being completely frank would only be awkward. So he pretended to understand and then introduced Xue Qinghe to the Lingling Medical Clinic in Heaven Dou City.

That was a medical clinic opened by Ye Lingling after she persuaded her family. It recruited many common Spirit Masters with healing abilities, as well as ordinary doctors who researched herbs. They researched better treatment methods while accepting everyone who came seeking medical attention.

Xiao Wu was also registered there, becoming a renowned medicine-pounding Grandmaster in Heaven Dou. Some people even went so far as to break their own hands and feet just to see Xiao Wu and seek treatment.

Unfortunately, Xiao Wu only stayed there for about an hour each day. As soon as the time was up, she would leave immediately... She wouldn't pay attention to those idiots who didn't cherish their own bodies.

"I will definitely go see it when I have time." Xue Qinghe remained composed, then asked, "By the way, when will Brother Tang be heading to Spirit City?"

"Counting the time, I've been here for nearly two months. Lingxi and Ling Meng are taking care of the Silverblue Manor's affairs, and I'm at ease." Tang San decided to set off soon. Various ancient texts, historical materials, and other information in the Supreme Pontiff Palace and the Library were waiting for him to cherish them.

"Then I wish the future Supreme Pontiff陛下 a smooth journey." The thought of Tang San living under the same roof with that woman for a long time made Qian Renxue feel uneasy. She had only one somewhat absurd thought: the person she needed to prove herself to had snatched the person she fancied... Uh, why did that thought feel a bit strange?

"Future Supreme Pontiff or whatever, that's too far away. I heard Spirit Hall still has two Holy Maidens."

The speaker had no intention, but the listener paid close attention.

Two Holy Maidens?

Could Tang San know that Spirit Hall had another Holy Maiden?

That's right!

During his battle with Bibi Dong, Gold Crocodile Douluo and her grandfather made a move. With Tang San's intelligence, it wouldn't be surprising if he guessed some things...

Suddenly received a message saying to work overtime tomorrow...

But being a full-time novelist is impossible.

The previous ten thousand words daily was actually because I wasn't busy during that period and had more time to slack off.

254: I only accept Tang San's bigness!

After sending off Xue Qinghe, Gu Yuena suddenly jumped out from the side, straddling Tang San's neck, and asked, "Why did you talk to that cross-dressing guy for so long?"

"Shh—"

Tang San motioned for Gu Yuena to quiet down, as Xue Qinghe hadn't gone far yet. "She is the Crown Prince. You must maintain due respect."

"Is that so?" Gu Yuena didn't seem to care. "But I don't see you as someone willing to be subservient to others."

"Therefore, all the bowing and scraping will have to be paid back in the future," Tang San's gaze was profound.

"What price? Will she be ridden by you?" Gu Yuena blinked her large eyes and asked curiously.

Tang San's breath hitched, utterly speechless. "I'm starting to wonder what you've been learning at that Luo Wang Auction House..."

"Humor, of course!"

Gu Yuena chuckled, looking up and fiddling with Tang San's somewhat peculiar "hair tie."

Even after the Nine-Section Emerald grew its tenth scale, with patterns of the sun and moon on each scale, becoming the Ten-section Emerald, it still dared not resist Gu Yuena's "provocation." It merely quietly coiled around Tang San's hair, terrified of being plucked off by this little devil and eaten like spicy strips.

"Alright, enough idle talk, and don't scare the Ten-section Emerald." Tang San pulled back, lifting Gu Yuena down, and walked towards the Manor. "Aside from in bed, neither Xiao Wu nor Guang Ling have ridden on my neck. If they saw you, they'd be jealous."

"Hey! Saying such things to a child like me, you're not a pervert, are you?" Gu Yuena stared with her clear, amethyst-like eyes, indicating that she was still a (baby).

"Is that so? How come I feel you're overly intelligent, not at all like a six-year-old child?" Tang San observed her with interest, his gaze seemingly composed of countless starlight, capable of seeing through everything in the world.

Although she felt seen through, Gu Yuena's expression remained unchanged. With her hands on her hips and pouting, she proudly declared, "Of course! I'm a child prodigy!"

"I should have known better than to introduce new concepts and vocabulary in front of you." Tang San now regretted it deeply. Gu Yuena only learned the bad things; her quick wit, however, was impressive.

Alas, regret it now...

The next day, after visiting Ma Xiunuo, Tang San set off for Spirit City.

Accompanying him, besides Xiao Wu, Guang Ling, and Lan Yinzi, were Ning Rongrong, Huo Wu, and Gu Yuena.

Ning Rongrong didn't want to be called upon by Ning Fengzhi to handle Sect affairs.

As for Huo Wu, she hoped to spar more with the three members of the Golden Generation from Spirit Hall.

At least, both of them had joined Spirit Hall in their personal capacities, so going with Tang San to Spirit Hall was a valid and reasonable excuse...
What the hell!

Anyway, Xiao Wu and Guang Ling both felt that these two were just lusting after their Third Brother's body.

And Gu Yuena, this one insisted on coming along, saying it was fun to be with Tang San, that she could learn many new and interesting things, and that she could also become stronger... but the main reason was still that it was fun.

This scene made Xiao Wu feel a bit familiar, as if she had also been tricked... oh no, attracted... by her Third Brother in the past. Will this little Silver Dragon also become Third Brother's person?

Huh?

That doesn't seem so bad either. The co-ruler of Spirit Beasts will have to call her 'Elder Sister' in the future. Such a scene seems a little exciting...
What the hell!

Dare to snatch my man?

Just wait and see how I'll teach you a lesson later!

When the group arrived at Spirit City, the guards at the city gate immediately knelt on one knee, shouting "Holy Son!" Hu Liena, as the Holy Maiden of Spirit Hall, personally came out to greet them with Xie Yue and Yan, clearly having already detected that they would arrive that day.

However, even Hu Liena couldn't help but gasp when she personally witnessed Tang San arriving with Xiao Wu, Guang Ling, Ning Rongrong, Huo Wu, Lan Yinzi, and the six-year-old girl with silver hair and purple eyes.

Was this guy here to take up his post in Spirit City?

Or was he here with his "harem" to enjoy himself?

"Holy Son is truly leisurely. It's taken you so long to arrive at Spirit City. A land of gentle embrace can erode one's will," Hu Liena said with a hint of sarcasm.

"I wasn't idle. I recorded the Spirit situations of many villages along the way. 'The Evolution of Martial Souls' wasn't something I just imagined out of thin air," Tang San smiled indifferently. "As for the land of gentle embrace, cultivation should combine work and rest. Being constantly tense won't help much in increasing spirit power. Perhaps one day that string will snap, and it can never be reattached."

These words seemed to have a hidden meaning.

Hu Liena understood and knew that Tang San wasn't truly immersed in a land of gentle embrace. She nodded slightly, led them into the city, and said, "The Supreme Pontiff has arranged an independent Manor for you, no worse than the Silverblue Manor bestowed upon you by Emperor Xue Ye. It's located at the foot of Wu Hun Mountain, near a tranquil lake. I'll take you there."

"Then I'll trouble you, Holy Maiden," Tang San nodded.

"No need to be so polite. Just call me Nana or Na'er. Those familiar with me all call me that," Hu Liena smiled sweetly. Although Tang San was admired by a large group of people, she still felt a fondness for him, not only for his unique Life aura and formidable strength but, more importantly, for his courage and wisdom in publishing his research findings.

All of this fascinated her.

"Na'er is not allowed!" Gu Yuena suddenly spoke, a dangerous glint in her eyes. "Na'er is exclusively mine."

"And this little friend is?" Hu Liena asked, puzzled.

"Gu Yuena," Tang San introduced Gu Yuena's basic information, but in his heart, he was secretly comparing her to Hu Liena in front of him, and a strange thought suddenly popped up: In the original Douluo Series, the reason Gu Yuena was called Gu Yuena was because the character 'Lie' from Hu Liena was removed, and the character 'Hu' was split into 'Gu' and 'Yue', right?

"That's right, it's me!" Gu Yuena took a small hop forward, hands on her hips, head held high, her proud demeanor like that of the super detective in "Winnie the Pooh."

Hu Liena: "....."

Forgive her, a native of Douluo, who couldn't understand why a little girl would strike such a pose.

But she quickly dismissed it; after all, children's minds are always very erratic, and it's not strange for them to do anything without any logic.

"Hello, little Na'er," Hu Liena squatted down and greeted her.

"You must call me Miss Gu Yuena. I only allow people I know to use the name Na'er now," Gu Yuena said earnestly.

"Alright, alright, Miss Gu Yuena." Hu Liena seemed to find the little girl very amusing and tried to pat her head, but Gu Yuena dodged her.

However, Gu Yuena didn't get angry. She stood up and continued to lead Tang San and the others.

Before long, they arrived at the foot of Wu Hun Mountain.

What greeted their eyes was a grand Manor with red bricks and black tiles, high gates, and wide walls. Inside, it was divided into three areas: the outer servant quarters, the middle guest reception area and simulated environment cultivation area, and the inner master's living quarters.

Overall, the architectural style of this Manor was similar to a palace but smaller, resembling an Eastern aesthetic, which gave Tang San a sense of familiarity.

"The Manor Emperor Xue Ye bestowed upon you has the architectural style of Heaven Dou. Therefore, the Supreme Pontiff ordered the construction of this Manor with the architectural style of Star Luo, named: Soul Martial," Hu Liena introduced the general layout of the Manor, her tone revealing a hint of envy. "It's even a tiny bit larger than my Holy Maiden Manor."

"Isn't that just the two characters for Spirit reversed?" Gu Yuena's perspective was unique. "But it does sound mysteriously grand."

Ignoring that point, Tang San looked at the servants coming and going in the outer area of the Manor, bowing to them, and asked, "I can feel the spirit power fluctuations on them. They're not high, but they're all Spirit Masters. Are these all servants?"

"Yes," Hu Liena said calmly, as if accustomed to it. "They were originally nobles, but because someone in their family or Sect offended the Heaven Dou Empire, Star Luo Empire, or the major families and Sects within Spirit Hall, their families were raided and exterminated. The survivors were sold as slaves."

"And those with some strength were sent to Spirit City."

"After all, everyone living in Spirit City is a Spirit Master, at least possessing spirit power. Larger families naturally need their servants to be Spirit Masters to show their status."

Regarding these servants, Tang San didn't intend to grant them freedom directly as he did at the Silverblue Manor in Heaven Dou City and then treat them as employees, because these were all Spirit Masters!

Moreover, having just arrived in Spirit City, even as the Holy Son, he couldn't do anything too outrageous right away. It was better to first understand the overt and covert rules of this place.

After Hu Liena finished showing Tang San and the others around the entire Soul Martial Manor, Tang San arranged a room for Xiao Wu, Guang Ling, Lan Yinzi, Ning Rongrong, Huo Wu, and Gu Yuena separately.

Hu Liena said faintly, "Actually, for Xiao Wu and the others, the Supreme Pontiff also ordered the construction of corresponding Manors, only they are a bit smaller in scale than this one."

Xiao Wu raised an eyebrow: "Small? Then I only accept Tang San's big."

Guang Ling: "I'll live here. It's close to teacher, and it's more convenient for discussions and research."

Lan Yinzi: "My Spirit is the same as Tang San's, so we can exchange more in cultivation."

Huo Wu: "Xiao Wu and I need to spar, and for self-created Spirit Abilities, I need to ask Tang San for advice."

Ning Rongrong: "My situation is similar to Huo Wu's. I need to ask about self-created Spirit Abilities, and living close by is more convenient."

Gu Yuena raised her hand and said loudly, "Me too."

Alright, everyone had their own reasons.

Hu Liena seriously suspected that the rumors about Tang San in Heaven Dou City: that he had a fling with all the female members of the Heaven Dou team, were highly likely to be true!

Except for Gu Yuena, as she was too young; it should be impossible to make a move on her.

On the other hand, Xiao Wu, for some reason, Hu Liena always felt that what she said had hidden meanings, and not the pure kind.

Work ended at 3 PM. Fortunately, the overtime wasn't long.

255: Conversation with Bibi Dong

After settling the girls, Tang San followed Hu Liena towards the Pope's Hall. Gu Yuena wanted to follow, but Xiao Wu pulled her back and said in the tone of a senior wife, "Don't cause trouble for Third Brother, you little mischief-maker."

"What do you mean, cause trouble? I just want to see what the Pope looks like!" Gu Yuena coldly snorted, secretly cursing this Soft Bone Rabbit for being a blockhead, not understanding things, and daring to lecture her, the co-ruler of Soul Beasts!

When she grew up later, she would definitely show her the power of the Silver Dragon King!

Arriving in front of the Pope's Hall, the "Douluo Continent" field had already been repaired and even expanded by a circle.

"Last time, when you fought with Teacher here, the aftershocks from just the clash of auras almost destroyed this place. Repairing it took a lot of effort." A look of admiration appeared on Hu Liena's face. "A Soul King fighting against a Title Douluo, and one who stands at the very peak of the entire Continent, is absolutely unprecedented and will have no successor."

"That's not necessarily true. Maybe someone's name is Title Douluo," Tang San said with a cold joke.

"That humor is a bit cold."

Hu Liena led Tang San towards the front of the Pope's Hall, with Xie Yue and Yan following closely behind.

Entering the hall for the first time, Tang San immediately noticed its spaciousness and brightness. On both sides stood stone pillars supporting the dome, on which were carved various powerful Soul Beasts and even Soul Masters.

Besides that, four Title Douluo stood around.

Chrysanthemum Douluo Yue Guan, Ghost Douluo Gui Mei, as well as Demon Bear Douluo and Ghost Leopard Douluo.

In addition, there was a female, Ling Yuan, who, although only at the Soul Douluo level, perhaps due to her exceptional talent or because Bibi Dong herself was relatively preferential towards females, was also qualified to stand among the ranks of Title Douluo in advance.

At this moment, Ling Yuan's eyes lit up upon seeing Tang San. A faint smile hung on the corner of her mouth, and she nodded slightly, acknowledging Tang San.

After all, Bibi Dong, seated high on the platform, had not yet spoken.

"Pope, Tang San has been brought." In such a relatively formal occasion, even though Hu Liena was Bibi Dong's disciple, she needed to address her as "Pope."

"Greetings, Pope." Tang San bowed, showing respect.

If it were an ordinary person meeting the Pope, they would surely kneel and kowtow to show the greatest respect to the Pope. Only powerhouses at the Title Douluo level could be exempt from kneeling and instead bow.

However, the four Title Douluo and one Soul Douluo present did not reprimand him at all, and even felt that Tang San doing this was only right.

Because his strength was evident, capable of contending with the Pope!

Even without using the Fusing Rings skill he had improved, he could still contend with these Title Douluo and Soul Douluo, and had already earned their respect.

In the Soul Master World, strength has always been paramount.

As long as you are strong enough, all rules can be surpassed and even changed.

"Na'er, you all may withdraw first." The Pope nodded slightly, dismissing Hu Liena, Xie Yue, Yan, and others. Her gaze turned towards Tang San and she said, "I won't say any pleasantries. I want to know if you have already guessed the future plans of Spirit Hall?"

Immediately, the eyes of the other five people, including Ling Yuan, became slightly sharp.

"I've roughly guessed some," Tang San admitted.

"Oh? Then tell me, what are the future plans of Spirit Hall?" Bibi Dong asked indifferently.

"To launch an attack on the Two Great Empires and then unify."

Bibi Dong couldn't quite figure out if Tang San's calmness, even complete lack of concern, meant he agreed or disagreed. She slightly furrowed her brows and said, "Three hundred years ago, the Two Great Empires were constantly at war, exhausting the people and resources. It was only with Spirit Hall's intervention that the Continent gradually became stable, but the Two Great Empires' minor skirmishes never stopped, and they even eyed Spirit Hall covetously."

"Therefore, our Spirit Hall wants to unify the Continent to provide the people with an absolutely stable environment. By then, everyone can live and work in peace."

Tang San nodded repeatedly, "The Pope's ideal is very great!"

However, Bibi Dong's brows furrowed even tighter, because she heard a hint of disbelief and mockery in Tang San's tone.

It wasn't surprising that Tang San was like this. After all, even Earth in his previous life didn't achieve absolute stability, let alone this Douluo Continent with a transcendent World?

More importantly, Spirit Hall essentially had no management talent. Calling it a church, it was essentially a gang. The reason it could have branch halls throughout the Continent and not be chaotic was because those branch halls had their own management rights and Spirit Hall's fundamental leadership style was "strength is respected," which aligned with the current concepts of people on the Douluo Continent. Otherwise, Spirit Hall City and the Pope's Hall simply couldn't manage so many branch halls.

If the Douluo Continent were in the early stages of chaos, then a force like Spirit Hall would be equivalent to the Yellow Turban Army at the beginning of the Three Kingdoms period, with dreams, but only equivalent.

At least, Zhang Jiao's dream was relatively pure, wanting to establish an era of peace and prosperity. Even if he ultimately failed, he was still praised.

And Bibi Dong's "dream" was a bit mixed.

If this World didn't have transcendent power, where the personal strength of a powerful Title Douluo could play a significant role in winning a war, Spirit Hall would have collapsed as soon as it was founded.

After all, no matter how bad Heaven Dou and Star Luo were, their internal army management, public sentiment guidance, and the emperor's highly centralized power were still decent.

What about Spirit Hall?

Besides having a large number of Soul Masters, it didn't have much of an advantage.

Moreover, Spirit Hall hadn't even resolved its internal conflicts before daring to establish a nation... Hmm, this indeed has the flavor of a "peasant uprising" – the great task wasn't completed, and internal division occurred first, or rather, it was divided from the start.

This is also why none of the "peasant uprisings" in the history of the previous life truly succeeded. As for Zhu Yuanzhang... that wasn't a peasant uprising in the complete sense.

"You think Spirit Hall won't succeed?" Bibi Dong's tone became heavier.

"If the Pope becomes a God and suppresses others with power, the Two Great Empires will naturally submit," Tang San stated a fact, as the power of a God is difficult for mortals to match.

"Is Spirit Hall not what the people desire?" Although Tang San spoke the truth, Bibi Dong was not very happy, because Tang San seemed to think that Spirit Hall could only rule the Continent through violence.

Now, as the soul within the Soul-Devouring Spider Emperor was gradually refined, her Spiritual Power greatly increased, and the madness deep within her heart gradually dissipated, thus giving rise to different thoughts.

At least, she was serious about unifying the Continent now.

"Actually, the vast majority of people on the Continent don't care who rules them," Tang San stated a fact that Bibi Dong found hard to believe, "They just want to live their own lives, that's all. Moreover, there is another fact before Spirit Hall, and that is that over ninety percent of the Continent's population are ordinary people."

"And Spirit Hall only recruits Soul Masters."

"This means that even if Spirit Hall successfully conquers the Two Great Empires, it won't know how to manage the conquered land and population."

"The members of Spirit Hall, who value strength, might be able to carry out law enforcement in their respective cities at the grassroots level, which involves apprehending criminals and assisting local city lords with public order management, because that doesn't require too much consideration. As long as they have strength, they can deal with illegal elements. But managing a country is not like this."

"Spirit Hall is too lacking in fundamental aspects."

Honestly, in Tang San's view, Spirit Hall's model was more similar to an organization that integrated professions like police, security guards, and urban management. Currently, it was only suitable for this type of work.

Bibi Dong was silent for a while, unsure if what Tang San said was correct. After all, she was a Soul Master, influenced by Spirit Hall's education since childhood, and believed that as long as one was strong enough, they could solve all problems.

"Ordinary people have great respect for Soul Masters. If Spirit Hall unifies in the future and provides a stable life, will they resist? Do they have the ability to resist?" Bibi Dong asked in a deep voice. This was also something she didn't understand.

"Respect?"

Tang San sighed, "Perhaps there is some, but the Pope sits high on the platform and rarely goes out to see, right? I think there's a word more suitable than respect—"

"Awe."

"There is both respect and fear, with the latter being more prevalent."

"Secondly, if Spirit Hall unifies, it will indeed provide a stable environment for the Continent, but how long can it last? Ordinary people currently do not have the ability to resist Soul Masters, but if Spirit Hall conquers the Two Great Empires, it's impossible to distribute all the money to them, right?"

"At the very least, they have to manage their food, clothing, housing, and transportation."

Bibi Dong was puzzled and asked a wise question: "Does an Empire need to manage the food, clothing, housing, and transportation of ordinary people? They cultivate, they earn money..."

"It needs to be managed," Tang San said resolutely. "There are many people in the World who work diligently their entire lives but still worry about three meals a day, or even one meal a day."

"Then what should be done?" Bibi Dong also knew this. After all, there were natural disasters and man-made calamities every year, with countless victims and tens of thousands starving to death.

"Learn the management methods of the Two Great Empires." Tang San deeply understood that directly jumping to a modern system was completely unsuitable in this era. This was even more outrageous than the DYJ!

"Isn't that just making Spirit Hall the same as the Two Great Empires?" Bibi Dong frowned.

"So, we should take the essence and discard the dross," Tang San said indifferently. "This is: taking what's useful, not directly robbing others of good things, but seeing that others have it and it's effective, then learning and imitating it, and then making appropriate changes based on one's own situation. Moreover, these changes cannot be one-time; they must be constantly modified as time goes on, and even if they become unsuitable one day, they can be directly discarded and new rules created."

Everyone was stunned, feeling that these words were so rebellious.

But they also sounded somewhat reasonable.

"If the Pope only wants to create an Empire that lasts for about a thousand years, conquering the Two Great Empires with strength and then cultivating some Peerless Douluo before ascending is enough."

Tang San's expression became serious, and he continued, "But if you want to create an eternal kingdom, relying solely on strength is not enough. People will always have ambitions, unless you don't ascend after becoming a God... but this requires you to have strength comparable to the entire God Realm. However, the unfortunate truth is that even if you achieve the position of a God Realm, in the God Realm, you are merely a first-level

God Realm. The Five Great God-Kings of the God Realm do not allow those from the lower realm to stay in the mortal World for too long after becoming Gods. The enforcer of slaughter, the Asura God King, can cause the Rakshasa to fall with just one move."

During the great decisive battle, when Bibi Dong had not yet become a God, she lost and was severely injured. The people from the Hall of Offerings jumped out and directly seized Bibi Dong's command, even giving her orders.

Even without mentioning the two "political powers" within Spirit Hall, there were also a multitude of grassroots problems. The vast majority of civilian Soul Masters recruited into Spirit Hall might have decent combat power, but they lacked corresponding military training and management talent.

If there weren't two Gods, it's estimated that even without the protagonist group from the original work, the Two Great Empires would only need to delay for a period of time, and the Spirit Hall army would fall into disarray on its own.

Spirit Hall's current model is only suitable for blitzkrieg, but after a blitzkrieg, there are a myriad of problems in the later stages. If the fundamental problem of their own grassroots productivity is not solved, there is no need to talk about rule.

As for the small countries that submitted to Spirit Hall in the original work, they were basically fence-sitters. Whoever won, they would defect to them, it was that simple. It was impossible for them to wholeheartedly serve Spirit Hall, because they understood that their small countries needed these small kings to lead them, at most they would abdicate afterwards and let their sons take over, providing an explanation.

256: Conversation with Bibi Dong (continued)

Ghost Douluo, Chrysanthemum Douluo, Devil Bear Douluo, Ghost Leopard Douluo, and Ling Yuan, the five of them felt their scalps tingle.

Divinity...

Was this something they were allowed to know?

Bibi Dong's expression flickered, but what Tang San said was true; unless she ascended according to the rules after becoming a God, the God Realm would definitely send people down.

Asura God, the enforcer of the God Realm, was also mentioned in the Rakshasa God's inheritance. He was a God King, extremely powerful. A first-grade Divinity facing him seriously would truly only be instantly killed.

Moreover, according to regulations, after becoming a God, one cannot extensively interfere with matters of the lower realm. Therefore, she must implement her plan to unify the continent before becoming a God.

But if it's as Tang San said, Spirit Hall must first prepare all the foundations, but how much time would that take?

Bibi Dong had also learned about the founding history of the Two Great Empires. The Heaven Dou Empire was established through the efforts of six generations, while Star Luo took five generations. Even if each generation is calculated at fifty years, it would take two hundred and fifty to three hundred years.

If Spirit Hall were to learn from them, it would need to change the core governing philosophy within Spirit Hall, imitating the Two Great Empires, which would take at least a hundred years.

A hundred years... she was only two trials away from achieving the Rakshasa God Position: completing the spirit rings for the Soul Eating Spider Emperor and inheriting the God Position.

Even if delayed, calculating based on the maximum time required for God trials, it would only be twenty years.

Twenty years, even if they fully imitated the management style of the Two Great Empires, would be a pipe dream, let alone having to adapt it to their own characteristics.

How much time would this require?

"The problem of Divinity can be set aside for now. The management issues after future unification can also be put on hold for now. The biggest problem currently facing Spirit Hall is that, apart from Spirit City at the foot of the mountain, Spirit Hall has no truly owned cities of its own."

Tang San returned to reality, "Most of the population belongs to the Two Great Empires. Even if Spirit Hall helps those people awaken their Spirit, they will consider themselves Heaven Dou people or Star Luo people, not people of Spirit Hall."

"The so-called popular support is actually that simple."

"When awakening Spirit, most people do not have innate spirit power and cannot become Spirit Masters. So, according to the current general environment, what they need to consider is life, not cultivation and becoming stronger."

"On this point, although the Two Great Empires set relatively high taxes, leaving ordinary farmers in a state where they can't starve to death but also can't eat their fill, those high-ranking officials and nobles are very good at propaganda. Therefore, most commoners are more willing to trust the Two Great Empires."

"After all, although everyone hopes to awaken a Spirit that can cultivate, ordinary people actually understand in their hearts that the chance of their ancestral Spirit having spirit power is almost zero. To some extent, this also reduces their gratitude towards Spirit Hall for helping them awaken their Spirit."

"Moreover, Spirit Hall's annual free assistance in awakening their Spirit has become common knowledge."

Tang San's words truly struck Bibi Dong like a thunderclap.

Is this why ordinary people don't side with Spirit Hall?

They have expectations of becoming Spirit Masters, but they know that their descendants are highly unlikely to have innate spirit power, so the favor of awakening Spirit is not that important. They consider life, and even survival, more.

And the so-called common knowledge... is because Spirit Hall helps them awaken their Spirit for free every year, leading them to form a concept of dependence. So, most commoners feel that it is only natural for Spirit Hall to help them awaken their Spirit.

And for things that are taken for granted, there is no need for gratitude.

Suddenly, Bibi Dong felt she understood the key to the problem. Moreover, in her conversation with Tang San, she also saw Tang San's thorough understanding of human nature.

Things given for free will not be valued.

"So, in the future, Spirit Hall will also require ordinary people to pay money to help age-appropriate children awaken their Spirit?" Bibi Dong understood this point, but she hesitated about whether to implement it.

Leaving aside the overall perspective, Bibi Dong felt that if this were done, it would inevitably lead to a change in the people's faith in Spirit Hall, which actually aligned with her idea of destroying the Angel lineage of Spirit Hall.

But if that old man in the Hall of Offerings found out, he would surely not be able to sit still and would jump out to stop it.

"For now, it will remain as usual."

Tang San lowered his eyes, "Sudden changes will not be adapted to by everyone on the continent. Moreover, the economic base determines the superstructure. Currently, the continent's economic base is based on agriculture, which is not suitable for immediate change. But we can add a rule:

Each year, there are bound to be children who miss Spirit awakening, or some children who are six years old and can't wait for Spirit Hall personnel to arrive and want to awaken their Spirit in advance—these children can be brought by their elders to the local Spirit Hall in small cities and towns, pay the corresponding remuneration, and ask Spirit Hall personnel to help with the awakening."

"This is a more appropriate method and can appropriately increase Spirit Hall's income."

"Along my journey, I found that some Spirit Halls in small cities, where Spirit Masters help people awaken Spirit in their extra time, would demand exorbitant prices, ranging from fifty bronze coins to a hundred gold coins... This will tarnish Spirit Hall's reputation. If it were like this: His Holiness the Supreme Pontiff directly sets a price, and has people announce it throughout the continent via Sub-Mother Soul Guidance Photography Balls, then even if the branch hall masters continue as before, the common people will be able to distinguish whether it's the individual reason of the local branch hall master or the entire Spirit Hall sucking their blood and sweat."

The Sub-Mother Soul Guidance Photography Ball could even be used in this way!

Bibi Dong was surprised. She suddenly felt that Tang San, in order to join Spirit Hall, had considered various internal problems of Spirit Hall very early on and already had general solutions.

"What does 'the economic base determines the superstructure' mean?" After a moment of thought, Bibi Dong asked for the meaning of this somewhat incomprehensible sentence.

"What does His Holiness the Supreme Pontiff think it means?" Tang San countered.

"I can only understand that governing a country requires money, and a lot of money. Is that what it means?" Bibi Dong hesitated for a moment, but still stated her opinion.

"A very simple idea, not wrong." Tang San felt that Bibi Dong still had some political acumen, it's just that under the influence of Spirit Hall's 'might makes right' concept, she might be a bit pigheaded.

But he could contend with her, so she should listen to some of his suggestions.

"The so-called economic base refers to the sum of production relations determined by the productive forces at a certain stage of development within a society, or rather, a country." Tang San explained, "The so-called productive forces can be understood as the ability of farmers to cultivate land and grow food, and also includes the production of various items that can be traded, such as clothes, furniture, tools, weapons, and so on."

"And production relations refer to who owns these produced things, how they are exchanged, how they are distributed, and so on."

"The superstructure is only divided into two: politics and ideology."

"Politics, needless to say, refers to the management methods, armies, judgments, and other organizations or institutions derived from the so-called economic base, in order to protect and ensure the stable development of the economic base."

"To give a simple example, a group of people cultivate food, which they can eat and sell for money to live a good life. But another group of people wants to come and seize it. To ensure that the first group of people can continue to live a good life, some people need to be pulled out to form an army to resist foreign enemies. Then, to grow more and better food, some people need to be pulled out to manage others and research better ways to grow food."

Immediately, Bibi Dong and the others were astonished.

They had never thought that the essence of governing a country was as simple as "growing food."

But once enlightened, they thought about it and it seemed to be true.

"It's just that, in this process, some people want to reap without sowing, so nobles appeared." Tang San sighed, "Why are nobles noble? Perhaps because their ancestors made efforts, but their descendants do not have the corresponding talent. Are they truly qualified to enjoy the same treatment as their ancestors?"

"Spirit Hall is essentially no different from the Sects on the continent. The strong are respected. Being a Sect is fine, but to become a country that governs the continent, the most basic foundation that must be achieved is only one: the capable rise, the incompetent fall."

"This is different from 'the strong are respected,' after all, most of the older generation of Spirit Masters are quite arrogant and will not delve into matters unrelated to improving their cultivation unless they are interested."

"The 'capable' in my words refers not to strength, but to skills in various aspects such as internal affairs, military, agriculture, industry, and so on."

"If this cannot be achieved, even if Spirit Hall is unified, as long as you are not present, it will immediately fall into chaos."

"After all—"

"Human hearts are selfish, only differing in degree."

Bibi Dong was silent for a while, then asked, "What does 'ideology' refer to?"

"This is more abstract, such as laws, morals, art, beliefs, and so on." Tang San replied, "Essentially, it is also to maintain the economic base, but unlike practical things like armies and organizations, it is more illusory. Whether one obeys it or not completely depends on individual beliefs."

"But laws and morals cannot be absent. These can unite people's hearts and gather their Spirits, leading to unity of purpose."

Bibi Dong slowly stood up, walked down from the Supreme Pontiff's chair, and came before Tang San. She waved her hand, dismissing the five people, her eyes filled with admiration for Tang San: "I originally thought you only had outstanding talent in the path of Spirit Masters. I never expected you to have such unique insights into the governance of an Empire as well."

"Just talking on paper." Tang San spoke truthfully, "How to do it specifically still requires His Holiness the Supreme Pontiff to experiment herself. I know nothing about politics, don't count on me."

For a moment, Bibi Dong was speechless and could only say, "You are truly honest. What if I really want you to manage it?"

"Then, is this Spirit Hall yours, or mine?"

257: Fooling Bibi Dong into being a test subject

For Bibi Dong, it didn't matter who Spirit Hall belonged to, as long as it didn't belong to the Angel lineage.

However, after so many years of hard work, handing it directly to Tang San was ultimately a bit difficult to part with, and Tang San was more inclined to research Martial Soul cultivation theory rather than manage the vast Spirit Hall.

Therefore, Bibi Dong finally decided that she still needed to manage Spirit Hall herself, with Hu Liena assisting her, but Tang San needed to provide some general guidance on the direction.

"No problem."

Tang San agreed, which was exactly what he wanted; he didn't need to do everything himself, he just needed to focus on the areas he was good at.

"I can postpone the God-test at most for twenty years."

Bibi Dong brought up the matter, "After twenty years, whether the foundation of Spirit Hall is ready or not, I will launch the unification."

"Gods cannot interfere too much with human affairs... Overall, it's still because I'm not strong enough.

Just as you said, my strength alone cannot contend with the entire God Realm."

If not for the existence of the God Realm, why couldn't she alone suppress the World?

Moreover, as her understanding of the Rakshasa God position deepened, Bibi Dong also learned some things, which was that the previous Angel God and Rakshasa God had already fallen— Before ascending to the God Realm, the Rakshasa God left a wisp of divine sense in the Asura God's inheritance ground, which violated the dignity of the God King.

After ascending to the God Realm, he was directly punished by the Asura God, leaving only the Rakshasa God position and a wisp of divine sense remaining.

After all, the Rakshasa God was also a God of Slaughter and was under the jurisdiction of the Asura God; the other Five Great God-Kings of the God Realm couldn't say much, and the strength between the Five Great God-Kings was evenly matched, so there could be no internal strife, and this matter just passed.

As for the previous Angel God...

That was the main reason for the Asura God's descent.

A thousand years ago, the first Angel God and Sea God became Gods at the same time.

The Sea God gathered the faith of the sea to nourish the divine artifact condensed by his Martial Soul, and the Angel God did the same.

However, there were not many people in the sea, and the Sea God mostly stayed overseas.

Those who contributed faith to him were mostly Sea Soul Beasts, which had no impact on the development of the Continent's civilization and were not judged by the God Realm.

But the Angel God was different.

Her source of faith was the humans of the entire Continent, which greatly affected the self-development process of human civilization.

Therefore, the Asura God descended to stop the Angel God's actions and ordered her to ascend to the God Realm.

But the Angel God insisted on resisting the Asura God and was instantly killed by one move.

Both her divine soul and divine body were destroyed, leaving only the divine artifact, the divine armor that had degenerated into a Soul Bone, and the Angel God Position.

This history was erased by Spirit Hall.

But the fear of the Angel's fall was still passed down, so that for thousands of years, Spirit Hall only focused on helping people awaken their Martial Souls and assisting the major powers in managing the order of the cities: patrolling, guarding, capturing The Fallen, etc.; but did not widely spread the faith and glory of the Angel, because they were afraid that large-scale gathering of faith for the God of Angels would cause the Asura God to descend again.

Combining this with what Tang San had told her before, that he had refused the inheritance of the God Kings of Destruction and Life in the God Realm... Perhaps, becoming a God meant entering the tiger's den, and one's fate was no longer their own.

"Regarding becoming a God, I have another suggestion."

Tang San said, "With the talent of the Pope's two Martial Souls, perhaps it is possible for two Gods to coexist."

"Two Gods in one body?"

Bibi Dong was startled, then shook her head and said, "My body is not as strong as yours and cannot bear two God Positions, and I currently cannot find the inheritance grounds of other Gods."

"Pope, you have two Martial Souls, the Death Spider Emperor and the Soul-Devouring Spider Emperor.

The Soul-Devouring Spider Emperor can carry the Rakshasa God position, and the Death Spider Emperor can carry the death God Position."

Tang San analyzed, "As for whether you can withstand the positions of two Gods, I have a cultivation method here that can continuously purify the three treasures of the human body.

In addition, I also know that there is a Deep Sea Demon Whale King in the sea with a cultivation level close to a million years.

Kill it, obtain its Whale Jelly and whale pearl, and consume them in an appropriate way.

The Pope's physical body will undoubtedly be incomparably strong."

"As for the position of the God of death, this position does not exist in the God Realm, or you can comprehend the true meaning of death yourself and then create your own God Position."

Bibi Dong looked at Tang San for a while and said faintly, "You are really bold enough to make me your experiment... By the way, what are the three treasures of the human body?"

"Qi and blood, Soul Power, Spiritual Power..."

Tang San explained the theory of the three Dantians and the transformation of essence, qi, and Spirit, "...In reality, I myself have already tried it, and even at the moment of constructing the three theories, I saw through every inch of the human body.

That feeling was like looking up at the starry sky, with an incomparably calm heart."

"I once heard someone describe a passage—"

"All the material basis that makes up our World could not have been born out of thin air.

The iron in our bodies comes from the explosion of brilliant stars; the zinc in our blood comes from the dust sprayed into the universe after stars collide; that trace amount of copper requires witnessing the death of a star, and even the insignificant cobalt comes from nebulae billions of light-years away."

"We humans ourselves are a microcosm of the universe."

"The nitrogen elements in our blood factors, the calcium elements in our teeth, the iron elements in our blood, and the carbon elements in all the food we eat are all scattered from the countless stars in the universe.

Every inch of our flesh and blood, every cell, writes the history of the entire universe."

"When we gaze at ourselves, we also see the outline of the entire universe!"

Although there were many new terms in this passage, Bibi Dong was silent for a long time, as if she had realized the truth of the World.

The human body is the universe!

And cultivation is a process of recognizing, controlling, and dominating one's own universe, and then reflecting the external great universe with one's own small universe!

"Qi and blood correspond to substantial Life; Spiritual Power is an illusory thing; and Soul Power is the bridge connecting these two.

Matter is the foundation, energy is the source, and the mind is the guide."

Bibi Dong's breathing quickened.

She had never thought that true cultivation could be so exaggerated!

Even according to Tang San's theoretical research, once the energy conversion circuit between essence, qi, and Spirit is completely constructed, and one fully recognizes oneself and can communicate with the external great universe, not only will one's lifespan be as long as the sky (universe), becoming immortal and indestructible, but one will also be able to achieve a certain degree of omniscience and omnipotence.

It felt—

Like a dream.

"You're not trying to draw a big picture for me so that I can experiment with your cultivation theory, are you?"

Bibi Dong narrowed her eyes, but couldn't help but hope in her heart that this theory was true.

"Cultivation always needs pioneers.

If my Soul Power didn't meet the requirements, I would have experimented myself.

And as the strongest Soul Master on the Continent at present, isn't it only right for the Pope to take the lead?"

Tang San was performing a serious moral kidnapping on Bibi Dong.

"Heh heh!"

Bibi Dong naturally wouldn't agree just like that.

She let out two cold laughs and said, "We can talk about this later.

What level are you now?"

"Reporting to the Pope, I am level fifty-seven.

I haven't wasted this time."

Tang San replied, "Because I am in the physical development stage, my Soul Power cultivation speed is also fast, so I can break through to Soul Emperor around June next year."

"Your cultivation speed cannot be explained solely by being in the physical development stage."

Bibi Dong hinted at something, but did not ask Tang San to reveal his cultivation method, instead asking about the choice for his sixth Soul Ring.

"Thank you for your concern, Pope.

For my sixth Soul Ring, I have already made a choice.

It is a Cloud Tree located in the White Cloud Forest in the Baiyun Plain outside White Cloud City."

Tang San said slowly, "Its age has already reached over ninety thousand years, extremely close to Ten-thousand years.

Because my Martial Soul is special, I can communicate with it and let it sacrifice itself to me."

Bibi Dong's breathing hitched, and then she remembered Tang San's fifth Soul Ring: "Did you get that Ten-thousand year Soul Ring this way too?"

"Exactly.

And this way, the soul of the Ten-thousand year soul beast can transform into a Soul Spirit and improve with me.

When fighting, they can also come out to assist."

Tang San released Wu Lin and Wu Tong and introduced them to Bibi Dong, "The blue-haired one is Wu Lin, and the red-haired one is Wu Tong.

They are like my daughters."

"Are they lives created based on vitality, similar to Martial Souls?"

Bibi Dong examined the two and stated their essence, "They are indeed peculiar existences.

Will your sixth Soul Ring also exist in this form?"

"Naturally."

Tang San said without hesitation, "Ten-thousand year soul beasts have human intelligence and are no different from humans.

But I don't want to wrong myself, so I can only let them choose whether to follow me in this way."

"That's a novel idea."

Bibi Dong was stunned, but thinking of Tang San's Blue Silver Emperor's overflowing vitality, any Ten-thousand year level plant Soul Beast would probably yearn to follow Tang San, right?

This saved him the trouble of hunting.

"Oh, there's one thing I need to mention.

This time I also brought a six-year-old little girl.

Her Martial Soul is a Silver Dragon and Silver Dragon Spear, a fusion of both a tool Martial Soul and a beast Martial Soul."

Tang San spoke about Gu Yuena's situation, "She has innate full level twenty Soul Power.

According to what she herself said, she has already been chosen by a certain God, and when she reaches the corresponding level, she can obtain a God-bestowed Soul Ring.

Currently, both of her Soul Rings are light gold, with an age of at least a million years or more."

Bibi Dong was stunned.

A million years?

All Soul Rings are God-bestowed?

Why didn't the Rakshasa God position she inherited have so many blessings?

"Are you kidding me?"

"No."

Tang San shook his head, "According to my examination, she is not some ten-million year Soul Beast, she is indeed human, but whether she is someone who ran down from the God Realm and lost her memory or something, it's hard to say."

"Is that the case?"

Bibi Dong, who had received incorrect information, was thoughtful, then said, "Since she came to Spirit Hall City with you, then she must also be a person of Spirit Hall."

For Bibi Dong, having one more genius in Spirit Hall meant one more Title Douluo in the future, and perhaps Gu Yuena might even help her contend against the other Gods in the God Realm in the future...

In the original work, the Sea God was very generous to the protagonist group, giving God-bestowed Soul Rings and increasing the age of Soul Rings.

This is likely related to the amount of faith.

Qian Renxue was okay.

After becoming a God, her Soul Rings became six black, three red, and one gold.

Bibi Dong was miserable.

The age of her Soul Rings did not increase at all.

She just gained a golden God-level Soul Ring after becoming a God.

The Angel God might still have some faith left.

The Rakshasa God probably had no faith at all.

Therefore, the setting of this book is that the first Angel and Rakshasa have already fallen, leaving only their God Positions, which also explains why the Asura God would come to the Douluo Continent and leave an inheritance ground; it was done incidentally while descending to enforce the law.

After all, in the original work, when Bibi Dong saw Tang San achieve the Asura God, she initially lost the will to fight, clearly knowing the power of the Asura God, while Qian Renxue, upon seeing the Asura God, didn't recognize him at all and felt that they had more people, so the advantage was theirs.

If the original author changes the setting or adds other settings, the fan setting in this book will prevail.

258: Everyone has different thoughts

“Oh, there’s one more thing.”

Tang San interrupted Bibi Dong’s thoughts and revealed a truth, “The Slaughter King of Slaughter City is Tang Chen of the Haotian Sect. He has already returned to the Haotian Sect.”

“It’s him!” Bibi Dong was startled. She had thought the Slaughter King was some kind of priest or worshipper in Slaughter City, similar to Qian Daoliu or Posey of Sea God Island. She never expected it to be that peerless expert from the Haotian Sect.

Could it be that he received the Asura God's trial?

Was it because of the content of the divine trial, or perhaps a problem with the trial, that he had to change his appearance and stay in Slaughter City for a period?

If so, the events in Slaughter City were caused by Tang Chen.

However, since he has returned to the Haotian Sect, why hasn't he announced the Sect's re-emergence? With his pride, he shouldn't have remained silent for so long.

“From the news I got from Tang Yuehua, Tang Chen seems to be injured,” Tang San didn't hesitate to sell out his aunt, after all, that group of people in the Haotian Sect was too unstable.

If Tang Chen weren't around, and the Haotian Sect remained in seclusion, the problem wouldn't be too big. After all, a Sect whose backbone was broken, even with five more Title Douluo, wouldn't make much difference.

But Tang Chen had returned, and with the pride of that group, even if the Haotian Sect was still in a sealed state, who knows to what ridiculous extent they would become arrogant.

During the two months he stayed at Silverblue Manor, Tang San also heard that Hao Tian Disciples had been active outside, helping a small village eliminate a group of bandits.

Clearly, they wanted to show the influence of the Haotian Sect.

Those old fellows couldn't sit still.

“Injured?” Bibi Dong’s eyes lit up. If her guess was correct, Tang Chen had been undertaking the Asura God's position assessment all these years. However, this God King's assessment was too demanding, making it difficult for Tang Chen to succeed after so many years.

Qian Daoliu and Tang Chen knew each other well, but for the sake of his daughter's future breakthrough to godhood, he might come out of seclusion to deal with Tang Chen.

If the two could perish together, it would be perfect.

At that time, Tang Chen wouldn't be able to become a god, and with Qian Daoliu's death, he wouldn't be able to sacrifice himself to open the final Angel's Ninth Trial for Qian Renxue. Qian Renxue would never be able to become a god in her lifetime!

At that time, as long as she kept Qian Renxue from having offspring and waited for her to die of old age, the Angel's bloodline would be cut off, and her revenge would be realized!

Just that—

[Why can't I be happy?]

Bibi Dong didn't understand, she just said, "Even if Tang Chen is injured, he is difficult to deal with, but thank you for the information you provided."

From then on, Bibi Dong's trust in Tang San was second only to Hu Liena.

And Tang San's impression of Bibi Dong also gained another point: hesitation.

This is not a trait a qualified king should have...

...

After leaving the Pope's Hall, Tang San saw Hu Liena, Xie Yue, and Yan at the entrance. They were waiting for Tang San outside, while the four Title Douluo and Ling Yuan were nowhere to be seen.

For powerhouses at the Soul Douluo and Title Douluo level, if there were no other important matters, cultivation was the primary goal, striving to break through to higher Soul Power levels.

"Tang San, what did Teacher tell you?" Hu Liena asked.

"Some matters of state."

Tang San's answer left Hu Liena a little speechless, but she also felt it was reasonable, as she knew what her Teacher planned for the future.

Besides becoming a god, it was to unify the entire Douluo Continent.

"You..."

"Nana, come in!"

"Yes, Teacher." Just as Hu Liena was about to ask for more details, she heard the voice calling her from inside the Pope's Hall. She immediately responded and ran inside.

Meanwhile, Xie Yue and Yan waited outside the door.

Because Bibi Dong only called Hu Liena and did not call their names, they were not allowed to leave without special circumstances or follow Hu Liena inside.

In terms of talent, Xie Yue and Yan were actually no less than Hu Liena, but they had respectively apprenticed under Chrysanthemum Douluo and Ghost Douluo, and thus could not apprentice under Bibi Dong like Hu Liena.

The main reason for this was related to Bibi Dong's experiences.

“Then I’ll be leaving first, see you later.” Tang San greeted the two and walked past the “Douluo Continent” sign, heading down Wu Hun Mountain.

“This guy possesses the Haotian Hammer Martial Soul after all, we need to be careful.” Although Yan greatly admired Tang San, he was also very unhappy with him, because after the Continental Elite Tournament, Hu Liena had an additional reason to reject his advances: Wait until you catch up to Tang San in strength.

Isn't that asking too much?

But in Yan's mind, Hu Liena was not wrong, so the only one who could be wrong was Tang San.

“Spirit Hall welcomes anyone to join, even Soul Masters with the Haotian Sect bloodline, it doesn't matter.” Xie Yue's attitude towards Tang San was much better, and he even thought that his sister being with Tang San was much better than being with Yan, it was just that there were too many girls around Tang San.

However, it seemed that none of them had fully established a boyfriend-girlfriend relationship with Tang San, so his sister could also try. If it didn't work out, he would persuade Hu Liena to make do with Yan later.

After all, Yan seemed more honest.

Yan: “???”

Although Xie Yue's words were very pertinent, he didn't know why, but he always felt that Xie Yue was thinking about something very rude towards him...

...

Upon returning to Soul Martial Manor, Tang San informed the girls of the general content of the conversation under their questioning.

“You just sold me out like that?” Gu Yuena glared at Tang San, puffing up her cheeks, very displeased—that Bibi Dong was a successor to a God Realm!

Although she wasn't familiar with that aura, she was still a god. What if her information was spread to the God Realm?

The God Realm is far from the mortal stars. Without corresponding coordinates, even God King level powerhouses find it difficult to see clear scenes of the mortal stars directly, only able to see things like destiny.

And to see the mortal world clearly, the successor of a divine position is the best coordinate.

To use a more appropriate analogy, the God Realm and the gods are equivalent to a signal receiving tower. To see the situation on the mortal stars, a signal transmitting point is needed.

And to transmit a “signal” to the God Realm, there are two main ways.

First, is to leave a place of inheritance on the mortal star. The gods in the God Realm can naturally see everything in the God Realm's place of inheritance clearly.

Second, is to use the person who accepts the divine position inheritance as the signal source to observe things near the inheritor.

Besides these two methods, there is another method: a god can split a trace of divine sense and descend to the lower realm, thus naturally being able to see the specific situation of the lower realm.

Now, Tang San had actually told Bibi Dong about her. Wasn't that exposing her identity?

“If I didn’t say that, every time you reveal your Soul Rings in the future, people would suspect you are a million-year Soul Beast transforming into human form.” Tang San patted Gu Yuena’s head, his words carrying a double meaning.

“Hmph!” Gu Yuena turned her head away, ignoring Tang San, but she also understood the intention behind his actions. After all, she needed a suitable reason for being able to condense her own Soul Rings.

Moreover, she also wanted to test which first-level god Bibi Dong had inherited, so she could treat the symptoms accordingly in the future.

Subsequently, Tang San began planning everyone's cultivation:

First was Xiao Wu—

Cultivate methods such as Jade Bone Golden Muscle Divine Treasure Method, Carefree Wind Riding, Mystic Heaven Skill, Cosmic Meditation, practice Three Swords Style, and apply her Soul Skills to her sword techniques. Then, she should research medicine.

Besides this, she also needed to learn Fusing Rings.

Because Xiao Wu's Soul Rings were also condensed in a way that they could complement each other, although the attributes of the five Soul Rings were different, they did not conflict, and the effect of each Soul Ring was related to her body.

Her waist, facial features, spine, legs, and hands are all parts of the human body, and she would definitely be able to achieve Fusing Rings like Tang San.

“Can I learn Fusing Rings now?” Xiao Wu couldn't help but get excited. She had always remembered wanting to give Di Tian a good beating.

“Yes, based on my observations during this period, your Spiritual Power is steadily increasing, and you should be able to perform meticulous control. Moreover, your physical fitness can withstand the explosive energy generated after the fusion of your Martial Soul and Soul Rings.” During their time at Silverblue Manor, while researching the method of cultivating both qi and blood with Xiao Wu, Tang San was not just enjoying the pleasure; he was truly helping Xiao Wu strengthen her physical fitness.

At this time, Xiao Wu's Divine Treasure cultivation was not yet complete, but she had cultivated her Golden Muscle. Her physical fitness was already at the level of a defense-type Soul Douluo.

“That’s great!” Xiao Wu excitedly hugged Tang San and couldn't help but kiss him. Then she realized there were other people here and immediately jumped away, explaining without blushing or a racing heart: “I was just a little excited just now, and this is how a younger sister expresses affection to her older brother.”

The others were speechless.

After all, they had all stayed at Silverblue Manor for a while and knew about the “trivial matters” between Tang San, Xiao Wu, and Guang Ling.

“Next, it's Guang Ling.”

To avoid awkwardness, Tang San immediately began analyzing the next person.

Guang Ling’s situation was actually similar to Xiao Wu’s, except that the awakening gap of each Soul Ring was a bit large, making it impossible to complete Fusing Rings in the short term.

Furthermore, she herself preferred to research Soul Guidance Devices.

Therefore, Tang San's suggestion for her cultivation, besides not neglecting the same cultivation methods as Xiao Wu, was to constantly strengthen her control over Soul Power. This way, when using multiple Soul Skills simultaneously in the future, she could rationally distribute the amount of Soul Power for each Soul Skill, thereby forming various arrows with different effects.

On this point, Guang Ling could also verify this with the Soul Guidance patterns within various life Soul Guidance Devices.

Besides this, what Guang Ling needed to strengthen was her close-quarters combat ability. After all, the advantage of the two sharp blades on her Sun Chasing Bow Martial Soul needed to be utilized. She could practice with Xiao Wu or seek guidance from Soul Masters in the Spirit Hall who had related Martial Souls.

“I understand, Third Brother.” Guang Ling had already known the path she would take in the future. After all, she was Third Brother's disciple, how could she not know the path she was about to take?

Third Brother saying it in front of everyone now was just to make sure she wasn't overlooked.

Afterward, it was Huo Wu, Ning Rongrong, Lan Yinzi, and others...

Based on the performance in the original Douluo Dalu 1 and 2, the methods used by the gods in the God Realm to observe the lower realm are indeed limited to these few.

In Douluo Dalu 1, Asura and Sea God in the God Realm watched the battle between Tang San and Qian Renxue and Bibi Dong because Tang San inherited both the positions of Sea God and Asura God.

In Douluo Dalu 2, the God King level Tang San could initially only sense that a Child of Destiny had appeared on the Douluo Continent, but he didn't know it was Huo Yuhao and couldn't see overly specific scenes.

It is estimated that only after meeting Wang Dong, this signal transmitting source/Wang Dong with Sea God's divine sense provided a clear scene, allowing Tang San to confirm that Huo Yuhao was the Child of Destiny in Douluo Dalu 2.

The Golden Ancient Tree of Shrek Academy and Da Ming and Er Ming of the Haotian Sect were likely the means Tang San used in Douluo Dalu 2 to observe the lower realm.

Logically speaking, it makes sense... As for Huo Yun'er's soul problem, it was just a later supplementary setting, a common problem with long novels...

259: Bibi Dong talks secretly with Hu Liena

"Nana, what do you think of Tang San?"

Inside the Pope's Hall, Bibi Dong's voice echoed above the beams.

"Confident, easygoing, and with a bit of subtle humor."

"Powerful, confident, containing a gentle heart."

Hu Liena thought for a moment and gave the above evaluation, then continued, "As for whether he is hiding something, I don't know, but he is undoubtedly qualified to be the Spirit Hall Saint Child."

"Yes, he is undoubtedly qualified, but you, this Saintess, have not yet been recognized by those guys in the Elder Hall." Bibi Dong's tone shifted, and her voice deepened.

Tang San has the strength, so conferring him the title of Saint Child was accepted by those guys in the Hall of Offerings. Although he possesses the bloodline of the Haotian Sect, he is exceptionally talented and grew up outside, unaffected by the Haotian Sect's ideology, making him someone with a clean background.

Moreover, Qian Daoliu also had a different idea, which was to treat Tang San as insurance—

If Qian Renxue did not successfully inherit the Angel God position (Setting in this book: Due to the death of the previous Angel God, the inheritance failed, but she will not die), then she could combine with Tang San. The offspring born from the union of two exceptionally talented Soul Masters would inevitably have even better talent, and due to the domineering and powerful nature of the Angel Martial Soul, the descendants' Martial Soul would definitely be the Angel Martial Soul.

Even if they had Twin Martial Souls, one of them would definitely be the Angel.

And what about Hu Liena?

Although she was conferred the title of Saintess by her, those guys in the Elder Hall did not recognize her, and that group of Spirit Hall members who followed the Angel lineage were also secretly defying her as the Pope.

If not for some scruples (Qian Daoliu's strength, Qian Renxue's feelings), she would have killed Qian Daoliu long ago!

Hu Liena's heart sank, and she said, "The offerings from the Elder Hall are indeed a bit troublesome."

Unless one day Bibi Dong has the final say in the Spirit Hall, she will always only be a Saintess in name. Even if the great undertaking is achieved in the future, she will not be able to succeed to the throne.

"Although they are all old immortals, their influence in the Spirit Hall is still above mine. You must gain their recognition, and the best way is to showcase your talent." Bibi Dong said seriously, "Previously, when I discussed the great undertaking of unification with Tang San, he said that productivity determines the relations of production, and the economic foundation determines the superstructure..."

Hearing these contents, Hu Liena was like a shriveled sponge, rapidly absorbing this knowledge, her eyes almost bursting with brilliance, and she murmured, "He actually sees so clearly! I am inferior! But—"

"But what? Say it. It's just you and me here. You are my disciple, and we are like mother and daughter. There's no need for any reservations." Bibi Dong gave her an encouraging look, "In the future, if the Spirit Hall establishes an Empire, it will also be left to you, and Tang San... I can see that he is a pure person, focused on research, cultivation, and not on power."

Hu Liena was deeply moved and slowly said, "It's just that, according to what Tang San said, our preparations are far from enough, or rather, the direction of our preparations was wrong from the start."

"Even without considering other things, just considering the army—"

"Spirit Hall has a vast number of Soul Masters, and with Tang San joining Spirit Hall, many civilian Soul Masters across the Continent have also joined Spirit Hall, but this is only an advantage in numbers."

"In terms of discipline, because each branch hall has considerable independence, although the methods of training grassroots personnel are largely similar, they are ultimately different. There is no coordination. It might be fine in a single city, but when combined, there is no cooperation between them, which will inevitably be very chaotic, and they may even throw themselves into disarray during the process of campaigning against other countries."

"Spirit Hall City is better, but the number of Soul Master armies here is not enough."

In short, even in terms of the army, although Spirit Hall has more Soul Masters than the Two Great Empires, if they were to fight head-on, they might not necessarily be able to defeat the Two Great Empires.

Moreover, Hu Liena also noticed that for Spirit Hall to unify the Continent, they must end the war as quickly as possible, because Spirit Hall simply hasn't accumulated much grain and fodder.

The members of Spirit Hall are all Soul Masters and do not engage in production. Their past finances mainly came from the Two Great Empires. If they cannot end the war in a very short period, their internal resources will be depleted first, and a mutiny is bound to occur.

War is the most costly in terms of money and lives. Except for merchants who make war fortunes by selling weapons, no one wants the war to continue for a long time.

Spirit Hall is the one that can least afford to drag it out.

In fact, according to Tang San's statement—the productivity of the Spirit Hall force is close to zero. It relies on the productivity of the Two Great Empires for development and growth. Once war is initiated, the economic foundation is completely severed!

And a force without an economic foundation will absolutely not last long!

This is also Spirit Hall's fatal flaw!

Although currently, due to Tang San's proposal of so-called "intellectual property" and "patents", the Seven Treasure Glazed Tile School, the Blue Lightning Tyrant Dragon Family, and other large and small Sects and Clans pay a considerable amount each year, connecting them into a network of interests.

But if Spirit Hall initiates war, it is unknown how many threads in this network will break.

Spirit Hall's foundation is severely insufficient!

Under such circumstances, even if the Two Great Empires are quickly taken down, it will be of no avail and they will not achieve true unification.

"Productivity determines the relations of production, and the economic foundation determines the superstructure."

Hu Liena came back to her senses, rubbed her temples, and sighed, "These two sentences can be said to reveal the pattern of the rise, development, strength, decline, and eventual demise of all Sects, Clans, and countries that have appeared throughout history."

Suddenly, she felt attracted by Tang San's talent, with an impulse to understand him more deeply.

Why wasn't Bibi Dong the same?

It's just a pity that Tang San doesn't want to participate in these major affairs. Instead, he focuses on the theories of Martial Souls and personal cultivation. Furthermore, the cultivation theory of [controlling one's own microcosm using the three treasures of human essence, qi, and Spirit, reflecting the external macrocosm] even shocked her, and she even wanted to try it.

This is the instinct of a Soul Master pursuing a higher realm!

"Teacher, how should I treat Tang San in the future?" Hu Liena suddenly asked.

"You are the Saintess, he is the Saint Child, naturally you share weal and woe." Bibi Dong smiled slightly, "What does it matter if those Elders in the Hall of Offerings don't recognize your Saintess status? Now and in the future, I have the final say in Spirit Hall!"

"Yes..."

Hu Liena lowered her head, a blush appearing on her cheeks. She naturally unconditionally accepted her Teacher's arrangements...

..."

Huo Wu, you should still focus on researching gravity. Don't try Fusing Rings."

Compared to Xiao Wu, Huo Wu's body was significantly weaker. Without the Jade Bone Golden Muscle Divine Treasure Method, her physical strength was only comparable to a Soul Emperor. Practicing Fusing Rings would definitely be difficult for her body to bear, harmful rather than beneficial. It would be better to specialize in the path of gravity.

Huo Wu knew that her physical strength was not as good as Tang San's, and the path of gravity was vast and profound, enough for her to study her whole life, leaving her no extra time to temper her body.

Moreover, during the process of researching gravity, Huo Wu also discovered that gravity could be used as a special force that could passively and comprehensively strengthen her bones, organs, and muscles.

Thus, there was no need to specifically temper her body.

For Ning Rongrong, Tang San's suggestion was: "Rongrong, you should continue as usual, improving your Spiritual Power, practicing control over your Soul Power, and making your Nine Treasures Nine Apertures Nine Day Array more perfect."

"Then, practice the most basic hand-to-hand combat."

"On the Continental Elite Tournament, this weakness is not important because you have teammates protecting you, and you won't be in danger, but outside the arena, it's not necessarily the case."

Ning Rongrong smiled sweetly and said, "No problem, but will Third Brother personally guide me?"

"Naturally—"

Tang San glanced at the looks Xiao Wu and Guang Ling cast over and immediately changed his words, "No. Xiao Wu and Guang Ling can accompany you. They have received my true teachings and can teach you the most basic hand-to-hand combat."

Ning Rongrong pursed her lips and let out an "Mmm", thinking to herself: It seems that to win over Third Brother, I must first handle Xiao Wu and Guang Ling, these two "good sisters."

Afterward, Tang San looked at Lan Yinzi and said, "As for you, you already have your own plans, right? I won't say much more."

"Saying that makes me so sad, waah waah waah!" Lan Yinzi put on this face (ㄥ ^ ㄥ), her tearful appearance making her look pitiful.

But Tang San, Xiao Wu, and Guang Ling showed no reaction.

Huo Wu and Ning Rongrong were a bit surprised, not knowing what was going on, but they chose to ignore it. After all, one less competitor was also a good thing.

"Damn, a bunch of heartless guys. I'm crying so miserably, and not one of you is comforting me." Lan Yinzi wiped her tears and stared at Tang San with a mournful gaze, as if he owed her a million, saying, "At least say something. If you're this biased, I'll really be jealous."

"Alright, my suggestion is to strengthen the practice of Strong Wind Resilient Grass. That aligns with your heart's desire to be a Battle Soul Master." Tang San said very perfunctorily.

Although he was a transmigrator, facing his biological mother, even when he was just a soul, he would feel a strange sense of awkwardness... It must be because his moral bottom line was too high. If this were an eighteen-plus novel, Lan Yinzi would have been taken down long ago!

Putting aside his wild thoughts, Tang San sighed and said, "Your Soul Skill attributes are the same and can complement each other. You can practice Fusing Rings, but your body is too weak. You can train with me then."

Tang San planned to pass on the Jade Bone Golden Muscle Divine Treasure Method to Lan Yinzi as repayment for the favor of birth. As for whether Lan Yinzi would pass it on to others later, such as Tang Hao.

Tang San was not worried.

In fact, everyone's bones, muscles, organs, etc., look similar, but in reality, due to various reasons such as lifestyle, habits, Martial Soul influence, soul personality, etc., slight differences exist. When Xiao Wu and Guang Ling first learned the Jade Bone Golden Muscle Divine Treasure Method, Tang San personally circulated it for them over a hundred times before they barely grasped it.

Even though Xiao Wu has now condensed Jade Bone and studies medicine, having a good understanding of the human body, due to her Spiritual Power not being strong enough, she is currently unable to fully teach this method to others.

And incomplete teaching, circulating blood and qi casually, will likely lead to problems.

Let's mention it again:

Productivity is the basis of everything.

Spirit Hall's productivity is close to zero—[the supplements given to civilian Soul Masters are requested from the Two Great Empires] is the best proof.

Such a force suddenly declares independence and establishes a nation, and then there are not many people internally who understand how to manage the country's people's livelihood, economy, politics, and military.

This kind of force is only suitable for blitzkrieg, and even after a blitzkrieg, the damaged foundation must be rebuilt in a very short period—which is likely impossible. With the hatred of a nation destroyed and families ruined, people with relevant talents will inevitably slack off, and Spirit Hall's own Soul Masters do not understand the corresponding knowledge, but they must grant rewards and promotions based on merit, otherwise they will discourage them... This is a dead end.

In short, Spirit Hall's productivity foundation and economic foundation are extremely poor!

Coupled with the setting of Gods in the original work, Spirit Hall establishing a nation is a dead end—Hmm~ However, one thing is certain, at least Bibi Dong in the original work did manage to destroy Spirit Hall.

[These few chapters mainly discuss the future development trend of Spirit Hall, but it will not be heavily described afterward, or only a few chapters will be used for a general overview, equivalent to laying the groundwork for the appearance of related background settings in future chapters]

260: Homemade forging: pattern forging

"What about me?" Gu Yuena was a little displeased when Tang San skipped over her after he finished speaking.

"You?" Tang San glanced at her. "You're already excellent; don't discourage others."

This Silver Dragon King's clone, whose Spirit Ability of the spirit ring was merely a facade, focused primarily on elemental control, so there was no need for him to worry too much. She only needed to practice physical combat more often or help Guang Ling research spirit tools.

Once the trust between him and her reached a certain standard in the future, he could help her recover from her injuries, which would be a truly great benefit for the Silver Dragon King.

"Haha, don't say that; I'll be shy." Gu Yuena's personality was very lively, but inwardly, she was thinking that she needed to catch up with these people's progress quickly to avoid being looked down upon.

While everyone was busy, Tang San went to Spirit City and found some architects, masons, and workers. He hired them to build a blacksmith shop in the middle area of the Soul Martial Manor, near the artificial lake.

Although these people were not Spirit Masters, they all had spirit power above Level Five. Therefore, the house was built in less than a day, and the corresponding blacksmith's furnace, bellows, etc., were also purchased and placed in their respective positions.

"It is our honor to serve the Holy Son; there is no need to pay." Seeing Tang San hand over a large bag of gold coins, the architects all refused.

"How can I let you work for nothing? Take it." Tang San stuffed the money into the architect leader's hand. "Distribute it to the others; after all, you also have families to support."

"Thank you, Holy Son." The architect leader was grateful, distributed the money, and then bid farewell to Tang San.

Tang San lit the furnace and pulled the bellows. After the iron block turned red, he took it out and began to hammer it, constantly refining the impurities within it by leveraging force and vibration frequency.

In a short while, the iron block continuously shrunk, changing from a reddish glow to silver, and even gave birth to an energy that Spirit Masters could perceive, as if it possessed spirituality.

However, Tang San continued to hammer, his blood qi flowing, subtly forming a long river, emitting a scorching aura beyond ordinary people, but it was confined to his body; otherwise, if it erupted, the entire blacksmith shop would likely vanish instantly.

When the last hammer strike was completed, the blood qi force injected into the silvery-white metal, causing a peculiar pattern to appear on the fist-sized silvery-white metal, forming an energy circuit that possessed extreme spirituality, even capable of autonomously devouring the energy of Heaven and Earth for enhancement.

According to the forging level classification in "dragon king legend": Ordinary Forging, Rare Metal Forging, Hundred Refinements, Thousand Refinements, Spirit Forging, Fusion Forging, Soul Forging, Premium Soul Forging, and Heaven Forging.

This "iron" forged from an ordinary iron block actually reached the level of Premium Soul Forging, even approaching Heaven Forging.

But in reality, this was somewhat different from that classification system.

If Tang San were to define it himself, this thing was even more powerful than Heaven Forging, capable of continuously absorbing the energy of Heaven and Earth to evolve, and even had the potential to become a material for a Super Divinity or even surpass Super Divinity material.

"Illyasviel, did you see how that peculiar energy circuit on the surface of this metal was formed?" Tang San asked.

"What a blessed World!" Iliex exclaimed again, then said, "When the metal's density reaches a certain stage, it emits a peculiar magnetic field, resonating with the energy of Heaven and Earth, attracting the energy of Heaven and Earth to flow into it, and then, under the blessing of your blood qi and spirit power, and under the corresponding rules, it automatically forms an energy circuit. Simply put, the rules of this World will help process it... To be honest, I never expected metal to reach such a level."

"Originally, I thought that things like Divinities having spirituality were already the pinnacle, and the so-called artifact Spirits were just remnants of other Divinities' divine souls."

"However, when the metal developed an energy circuit, I realized that this thing might truly give birth to its own Life at some point in the distant future."

"Creation of Life! This is a right only Divinities possess!"

Tang San shook his head: "This doesn't count as Creation of Life. Essentially, this thing is still a piece of metal at the moment, just extremely spiritual."

"That's true, but I understand some things now. The laws controlled by those Divinities are nothing more than utilizing the laws of the universe, and their efficiency is definitely not high. Otherwise, they would be able to control the entire universe, not just a hundred and eight Life planets." Iliex no longer held reverence for the Divinities of the God Realm. He then asked, "What do you plan to name this type of forging? After all, you could be considered the founder."

"The forging system in 'dragon king legend' is more suitable for other blacksmiths in this World. As for my method... how about Pattern Forging?" Tang San raised his hand, and the spiritual silvery-white metal actively floated into his hand. "I have a premonition that there can be multiple energy circuits on it. The more energy patterns there are, the faster it absorbs the energy of Heaven and Earth, and the more spiritual it becomes."

"One-Pattern Forging, Two-Pattern Forging... and so on. The number can be continuously added, and it's easy to remember."

Iliex nodded: "Easy to understand, good."

Afterward, Tang San took out the other metals from his storage bracelet and began to practice Pattern Forging and comprehend the method of vibration. In just one morning, he finished forging all the metals.

The most outstanding work was a piece of patterned copper forged from red copper, which had five energy circuits on it. The speed at which it absorbed the energy of Heaven and Earth was sixteen times that of one-pattern copper.

According to Tang San's research, the efficiency increase of absorbing Heaven and Earth energy for different patterns of different metals is indeed fixed: each additional pattern provides a fixed multiplier increase.

For example:

For an iron block, one-pattern iron, if the efficiency of absorbing Heaven and Earth energy is set to one, then the absorption efficiency of two-pattern iron is two, and the absorption efficiency of three-pattern iron is three.

And so on, the increase for patterned iron is a progressive increase in absorption efficiency for each additional pattern.

What about copper blocks?

One-pattern copper, the absorption efficiency is also set to one, two-pattern copper is two, three-pattern copper is four, and four-pattern copper is eight.

The multiplier increase for copper material is a doubling increase; each additional pattern doubles the absorption efficiency compared to before.

From this, it can be concluded that after Pattern Forging, the enhancing effect brought by the patterns on each type of elemental metal is different, but Tang San found that the size of the Pattern Forging does not affect its efficiency in absorbing Heaven and Earth energy.

Although for metals with the same Pattern Forging, the larger the volume, the more Heaven and Earth energy is absorbed, that is merely a quantitative accumulation; the absorption efficiency is essentially the same.

Moreover, after cutting this Pattern Forged metal, Tang San discovered that the energy circuits on it were not broken as a result; they still existed.

This made him realize that the method of Pattern Forging might have already involved the atomic level, and the energy patterns flowing on the surface were just a peculiar "decoration."

Subsequently, Tang San conducted more tests on Pattern Forged metal and found that among the same type of metal, different numbers of Pattern Forged energy circuits would repel each other; however, if the number of Pattern Forged circuits was the same, they could merge with each other to become one.

Between different Pattern Forged metals, there were also two situations: mutual attraction and mutual repulsion, but these were unrelated to the number of Pattern Forged energy circuits; instead, it was a matter of compatibility.

"I'm already looking forward to what kind of god seal throne you will forge in the future." Iliex's divine soul burst forth with brilliance. To be able to witness familiar things in a foreign land was, for him, both a remembrance of the past and an anticipation of the future.

"You will see it." Tang San smiled, a hint of excitement also showing in his eyes—if a god seal throne were forged entirely from this Pattern Forged metal, then even a Spirit Saint level powerhouse controlling it would be able to rival Divinity-level power, right?

How exciting!

In a blink of an eye, half a month passed quickly.

Tang San's schedule was also very full: cultivation, research on Spirit cultivation theory, spirit tool patterns, forging, guiding the cultivation of the female disciples, and incidentally, giving pointers to the three members of Spirit Hall's Golden Generation.

After that, he frequently held secret discussions with Bibi Dong, guiding the overall direction.

"Supreme Pontiff, if Spirit Hall wants to establish a nation, it needs to make up for its foundation, but one thing is even more important: establishing a core ideology." Tang San spoke eloquently.

"Is 'For the Glory of Spirit Hall' not a valid ideology?" Bibi Dong asked, puzzled.

"It's too vague and impractical." Tang San shook his head. "I estimate that most people, including several Titled Douluo from outside the Hall of Offerings, don't truly understand what the glory of Spirit Hall refers to, or perhaps they think that the so-called glory means: letting the glory of the angels illuminate the continent?"

Immediately, Bibi Dong's expression darkened. She wished she could exterminate the angels; if only she weren't her own daughter...

"Then what do you think the glory of Spirit Hall should be?" Bibi Dong felt that replacing "angels" was not impossible. After all, she originally wanted to destroy the angel lineage, so destroying their faith first... Hmm, Tang San's suggestion perfectly suited her taste.

"To establish Spirits for Heaven and Earth, to forge souls for all living beings." Tang San's words resonated powerfully, echoing in the Supreme Pontiff Palace and lingering for a long time.

"What does that mean?" Bibi Dong could perceive the profound meaning in these two sentences, but she still wanted to see what explanation Tang San had.

"As I said before, if Spirit Hall wants to establish a nation, its foundation is far from sufficient. To make up for it within twenty years would be hundreds, even thousands of times more difficult than you, Supreme Pontiff, beating up the Five Great God-Kings after becoming a Divinity."

Bibi Dong: "... You really don't need to compare me.

"Then, we can only take a shortcut: awaken the numb minds of the World's people, who bully the weak and fear the strong, and passively accept their fate. Based on this, let Spirit Hall become the light in the hearts of the World."

"We will open up a bright World."

"In that World, the weak can also rise. They don't have to listen to those who give up on themselves. They can do what they can do, say what they can say. If they have a bit of warmth, they emit a bit of light. Even a faint, tiny firefly can shine in the dark night."

"Awaken the will of the World's people and make them understand one truth: there's no need to wait for a torch. If the torch goes out, then we are the new torch!"

The method of governance can be slowly improved.

But as for ideology, it can indeed take a bigger step, painting a grand vision for those in power. Spirit Hall originally had some philosophical foundation. The biggest difference from other Sects was that it was a Sect with religious characteristics...

261: The City of Blacksmiths: Gengxin City

Listening to the powerful words, Bibi Dong's heart quickened, as if she had witnessed the greatness of an idea.

Everyone is a torch?

That is to say, even if the Spirit Hall ultimately fails, as long as this will is inherited by someone, people will rise again, advancing one after another, moving forward fearlessly.

If that is the case, then the Spirit Hall will no longer be the Spirit Hall of the Angel lineage, but the Spirit Hall guided by that idea and will!

So that's it—

Revenge can also be so magnificent and grand!

It's just, does such an idea truly exist?

Tang San continued, "The ants on the ground are small, while the swans in the sky fly high. We must spread the word: even if one is born like an ant, they should aspire to the ambition of a swan."

"Even if a Martial Soul has no Soul Power and cannot become a Soul Master, one can still utilize their own talents."

"I believe, Pope, you know best that ordinary people, apart from their Martial Soul talent being inferior to Soul Masters, are not weaker than Soul Masters in other aspects, especially their minds."

"It is only because they cannot access advanced knowledge, have not experienced corresponding education, and are limited by poor and impoverished environments that they are looked down upon by nobles."

"The Spirit Hall is based on Soul Masters, but the largest group in this world is ordinary people. Ninety-nine percent of all the wealth on the Continent is created by them, and they are also the foundation of productivity."

"If the Pope wants to establish a nation, they must be the foundation, not the Soul Masters."

Bibi Dong's mind was shaken. After a while, she recovered and asked, "Then how should we promote it?"

"According to what I've said, Pope, you can discuss it with others in the Spirit Hall, make adjustments and modifications, publish it, then arrange corresponding personnel for promotion, and send grassroots members of the Spirit Hall to the countryside to establish Wuhun Academies... As I've traveled, I've found that many members of the Spirit Hall are relatively idle. It's time to let them do more work."

Bibi Dong: ".....The Spirit Hall's funds are insufficient."

"You can apply to the Two Great Empires. After all, didn't the Spirit Hall do this in the past? At that time, Pope, you can hold a press conference, saying it's for the people, to help the residents of the Continent better understand some common sense, and talk to the Emperors of the Two Great Empires," Tang San offered a 'bad' idea. "At that time, residents of major cities will be able to see it. If successful, the people will lean towards you, and the Spirit Hall will naturally gain popular support; if it fails, they will feel it is the fault of the Emperors of the Two Great Empires."

"Sub-Mother Soul Guidance Photography Ball? This thing has truly changed the situation on the Continent," Bibi Dong sighed softly and said faintly, "But, in this way, my mysterious veil as Pope will probably be completely lifted."

"Whether it is the current Pope of the Spirit Hall or the Emperor after the nation is established in the future, they must frequently appear in the public eye. Otherwise, how would the people know who the Pope or Emperor is? Perhaps in some remote areas, they wouldn't even know that the Pope or Emperor has changed," Tang San, however, had his own set of arguments.

This was indeed a problem.

Furthermore, Bibi Dong knew that a small number of Hall Masters of Spirit Hall Branches in some cities only found out that she was the current Pope of the Spirit Hall more than a year ago.

It is estimated that if it weren't for the emergence of Soul Guidance Cameras, Soul Guidance Photography Boxes, and Sub-Mother Soul Guidance Photography Balls, that small number of Spirit Hall Branch Hall Masters would never have known what happened in Spirit Hall City in their lifetimes.

And the rapid spread of news also brought about a problem, which is that even if the Spirit Hall were to establish a nation and wage war in the future, it would need a more appropriate and justifiable reason.

"Alright, the world should recognize me as the Pope of the Spirit Hall!" Bibi Dong pondered for a while, nodded in agreement, and then brought up another matter, "Tang San, I want to marry Nana to you. What do you think?"

"I do not accept arranged marriages," Tang San said righteously.

"Furthermore, I am not familiar with her. Let's talk about it after we become more familiar."

Bibi Dong was speechless for a moment.

Did he accept?

Or did he refuse?

"Forget it, I won't force it," Bibi Dong asked about another matter, "I heard that you have been forging recently. I wonder if you have forged any divine weapons or sharp tools?"

"I am just tempering metal," Tang San took out the patterned metal, lifted it with Soul Power in front of Bibi Dong, and introduced his unique patterned forging method.

Bibi Dong listened carefully, injecting Soul Power into the three pieces of patterned metal in front of her. She found that their conductivity for Soul Power was extremely good, especially the five-patterned copper, which was so full of spirituality it was like a living being.

"Speaking of which, if this kind of metal truly develops Life later, can it be killed? Will it drop a Soul Ring after death?" Bibi Dong suddenly had this thought.

"Uh..." Tang San hadn't really considered this point, but considering that the non-human and cultivable creatures on the Douluo Continent can drop Soul Rings, he speculated, "It should be possible, but it's probably very difficult to kill. After all, even if it develops Life, its essence is still metal. To kill it, you would need to convert the metal into other substances, or destroy the energy flow patterns on it. In that case, this piece of patterned metal would probably be useless."

"Probably so," Bibi Dong nodded, her beautiful eyes carefully examining the patterned metal, and exclaimed, "If weapons were forged from such metal, and the weapons could grow automatically, they could probably become true divine artifacts!"

"Even, weapons forged from this kind of metal can already be called divine artifacts!"

Tang San was humble: "It's not quite, but I do want to forge divine artifacts... Pope, you can look forward to it."

"Oh? Then I want to see what kind of divine artifact you can forge," Bibi Dong waved her hand, and the three pieces of soul-forged metal fell back in front of Tang San, who put them into his storage soul tool.

"Please rest assured, Pope. The divine artifact I want to forge can allow Soul Saint level powerhouses to contend against hundred-level powerhouses!" A glint of light flashed in Tang San's eyes...

...

Gengxin City.

Three days later, Tang San and Ning Rongrong rushed quickly and arrived at this city of blacksmiths located within the Star Luo Empire.

Compared to other cities, this place had a bit of the flavor of the industrial revolution.

The buildings in the city had the appearance of modern high-rise buildings, square and upright, filled with steam and rotating gears everywhere, as if the entire city was a living fortress.

However, this also made the temperature of this city one or two degrees higher than the outside world.

"It's time for you to show your divine might, Miss Rongrong."

Tang San led Ning Rongrong to the ore market, stepped aside, and invited her to choose ores.

Ning Rongrong, born in the Seven Treasure Glazed Tile School, could sense valuable minerals and gems with her Martial Soul. Therefore, she was brought along for this procurement trip.

"Hmph, my talent can finally be put to use!" Ning Rongrong walked to a stall and bought a piece of black metal.

Tang San could sense the Fire attribute energy within it... In fact, with Tang San's current Spiritual Power, he might not recognize all metals, but he could sense the density of the metal and the attributes it carried. His treasure-hunting ability was no worse than Ning Rongrong's.

The reason he brought her was naturally because having an extra person to help made it easier and allowed them to purchase more rare metals.

This time, he and Ning Rongrong had brought storage soul tools capable of holding nearly ten thousand tons of goods!

Of course, it wasn't one storage soul tool, but a pile of storage soul tools. After the procurement was completed, they could have the Hall Master of the local Spirit Hall transport them to Spirit Hall City.

This was also the convenience of the Spirit Hall's ruling model—no matter what they bought, they could have the local Spirit Hall transport it, saving time and effort.

And the large-scale procurement by Tang San and Ning Rongrong also attracted the attention of the local forces in Gengxin City.

Blacksmiths' Association.

A tall, muscular young man found the short, stout old man who was swinging a hammer, causing sparks to fly from the Mithril on the forging platform.

This person was the recognized Divine Craftsman of the Douluo Continent: Lou Gao.

The young man was his disciple, Si Long.

Knowing that Lou Gao was single-minded when forging, Si Long did not disturb him, but simply stood aside and waited for Lou Gao to finish forging.

An hour later, Lou Gao stopped swinging the forging hammer and laughed heartily, "Not bad, I've forged another piece of Thousand Refinements Mithril, and it even faintly developed a trace of spirituality. It seems my forging technique has improved again."

"Congratulations, Teacher!" As Lou Gao's disciple, Si Long also devoted everything to forging. He was naturally happy that his teacher could make further progress in forging, because it meant that his own forging technique could also improve in the future.

"Haha, just a slight improvement, not worth mentioning," Lou Gao suddenly became serious again and educated Si Long, "At this time, aren't you practicing your blacksmithing technique? Why are you here looking for me? Everything I can teach you, I have taught you. This method of forging metal to produce a trace of spirituality is something I only recently explored, and I haven't figured out how to achieve 100% success yet... By the way, when did your information become so well-informed?"

Facing his teacher's suspicion, Si Long looked sheepish and said, "Teacher, it's not that. Two people have come to the city and are purchasing large quantities of rare metals."

"Large quantities?" Lou Gao's expression became serious, but his voice carried a hint of mockery, "Only two people. It seems like a secret procurement. Could it be that the Two Great Empires are going to war? I haven't heard any rumors?"

"This disciple doesn't know, but I do know the identities of those two people. They are the champions of last year's Continental Elite Tournament," Si Long said. "One of them is Ning Rongrong from the Seven Treasure Glazed Tile School, who joined the Spirit Hall in her personal capacity. The other is Tang San, the Captain of the Heaven Dou Royal Battle Team. He is of commoner birth but possesses Clear Sky bloodline, and is very likely the son of that person. He is now the Spirit Hall Saint Child."

"Tang San, it's him!" Lou Gao was startled.

Speaking of Tang San, Lou Gao had only one thought:

Not human!

A Soul King fighting a level ninety-eight Super Douluo... Isn't this skipping levels a bit too much?

However, what Lou Gao cared about most was Tang San's strength. Through the Continental Elite Tournament videos that were still being broadcast, he could keenly sense that Tang San was also a blacksmith, and his use of strength was extremely subtle, even surpassing the Clear Sky Sect's Chaotic Cloak Hammer Technique.

"Invite him to the Blacksmiths' Association..."

"No! I'll go myself!"

During the Douluo I period, Lou Gao's forging technique could be called that of a Divine Craftsman, but compared to Douluo III, at most it was Soul Forging, which is only a level five blacksmith.

Finally, in order to forge the Peacock Plume, he threw himself into the furnace as a sacrifice, perhaps reaching the level of Fusion Forging.

262: Dousan's blacksmith classification, Lou Gao's excitement

After seven days of procurement, Tang San and Ning Rongrong had a bountiful harvest. Among the many rare metals, there was even a piece of Life Gold the size of a human head.

Life Gold, though extremely hard, cannot be said to be entirely metal. Instead, it is a marvel produced by the convergence of vitality, which can be consumed and refined by a Spirit Master to directly enhance spirit power, strengthen physique, and even mental force.

Of course, it is also excellent for shaping into weapons and the like.

Tang San did not intend to absorb this piece of Life Gold; instead, he planned to use it as the core of a 'god seal throne' in the future.

"Brother San, next time, can you go a little slower? Please, I can't take it anymore," Ning Rongrong complained in a soft voice, lying on Tang San's firm and powerful chest in the early morning.

During these seven days, besides procurement, Ning Rongrong also treated it as a date with Tang San. She eventually climbed into Tang San's bed and took him, giving him her everything.

And Ning Rongrong finally understood why Xiao Wu would willingly be with Guang Ling.

His physical strength was too formidable!

He was like a perpetual motion machine!

"Is that so? Who was it that said to go faster last night?" Tang San asked, feigning confusion, and in Ning Rongrong's gasps, he began his morning exercise. "Your physical body is a bit weak. Let me use my vital energy to help you cultivate!"

"Oh~"

Amidst soft moans, the room was filled with joyful laughter...

...

When the two finished tidying up, the blush on Ning Rongrong's face had not yet faded. Seeing Tang San wanting to exercise with her a second time, she recoiled in fright, but there was a hint of anticipation in her eyes: "No, we're already dressed."

"That's what makes it fun."

"I didn't expect you to be this kind of person!"

"I haven't hidden it, and besides, don't you like it?"

"I like it, but it's already daytime now."

However, their playful teasing did not continue, as Tang San sensed someone outside.

"Knock, knock, knock!"

The door opened, and Tang San saw a young man over two meters three tall. Beside him was an old man with a white beard, only about one meter six tall, but he looked a bit stout.

However, Tang San judged from the bulging muscles on his arms that the horizontal growth was not fat, but muscle.

More importantly, on the chest of this short, stout old man was the emblem of the Blacksmiths' Association's president.

Without a doubt, the person before him was Divine Craftsman Lou Gao!

"Hello, little brother Tang San, may I invite you to visit the Blacksmiths' Association?" Lou Gao got straight to the point, inviting Tang San.

"Of course." Tang San readily agreed.

If possible, he wanted to win Lou Gao over.

Although Gengxin City is located within the Star Luo Empire, it is one of the few independent cities, not directly governed by the Star Luo Imperial Family.

As the president of the Blacksmiths' Association, Divine Craftsman Lou Gao commands the respect of most blacksmiths on the Douluo Continent. If he could join Spirit Hall, then Spirit Hall could at least have its own weapon production factory.

However, what Tang San valued most was the blacksmiths' craftsmanship and production capacity.

As long as industrialization is achieved and mechanical equipment suitable for the Douluo Continent's development model is established, efficiency will undoubtedly greatly improve.

These people are the foundation of industrial development!

"However, please wait a moment, both of you. Rongrong and I need to take the rare metals we procured to the local Spirit Hall to send them to Spirit City," Tang San continued.

"No problem." Lou Gao indicated he had plenty of time, and he kicked Si Long beside him, saying, "What are you standing there for? Give us a hand!"

"Ah? Oh!" Si Long reacted, immediately pushing the large pile of storage soul tools out of the room, following Tang San and Rongrong as they left the inn and headed towards Spirit Hall.

The head of the Spirit Hall Branch in Gengxin City was Nora, a female Spirit Saint-level powerhouse, though a bit old, already fifty-six.

She had only taken office in the last six months.

The previous branch head was replaced because he had embezzled too much, and evidence, such as filmed footage, was sent to Spirit City, leading Bibi Dong to order his replacement.

Such incidents have been common recently, with many Spirit Hall Branch heads being replaced, punished, or even expelled from Spirit Hall.

This also made the local, simple residents realize that there are differences between Spirit Halls and within Spirit Hall; there are good people and bad people.

Originally, Si Long had no good feelings towards Spirit Hall, as the previous head of Gengxin City's branch was too arrogant, constantly bothering the Blacksmiths' Association for no reason.

But now, after Spirit Hall changed to another branch head, the overall atmosphere in Gengxin City improved significantly. This also made Si Long realize that the previous disdain of Gengxin City's blacksmiths for Spirit Hall was due to the former branch head's personal reasons, and not because the entire Spirit Hall acted so arrogantly.

It must be said that one bad apple spoils the barrel.

"Greetings, Saint Child." Nora bowed in welcome.

"No need to be so polite. Just help transport these storage soul tools back to the Soul Martial Manor in Spirit City." Tang San took the pushcart from Si Long's hand, pushed it in front of the local branch head, and then took out a Spirit card. "This is the shipping fee, ten thousand gold coins."

"How dare this old woman ask for a fee from the Saint Child?" Nora was flustered, but under Tang San's persuasion, she finally accepted the Spirit card, and the sincerity on her face became a bit more natural, as she said with even greater respect, "Please rest assured, Saint Child, this old woman will definitely have someone send them to your manor."

After leaving Spirit Hall, Lou Gao sighed, "Even the Spirit Hall Saint Child pays for transporting things; I've truly seen something new."

"After all, I haven't made any contributions yet. I'd feel bad if I let others transport them for free," Tang San said with a smile. "Moreover, for a major power, details must be handled well. Otherwise, once they get used to ease and freeness, it will be difficult to change later."

Lou Gao heard the hidden meaning in his words, but he was not interested in such matters. Instead, he began to introduce the history of the Blacksmiths' Capital, saying, "This Gengxin City was established by the first Blacksmiths' Association and has a history of a thousand years. It's a pity that it's becoming increasingly desolate now. Only during wartime are we most popular here."

In this era of cold weapons, a place that gathered the most blacksmiths in the World, to develop, naturally could only pray for the outbreak of war. Only then could they receive large orders for weapons, armor, and the like.

During ordinary times, most blacksmiths could only make a living by forging farm tools, kitchenware, and other items. Only a small number of blacksmiths did not have to worry about food, clothing, housing, and transportation, and could continue to specialize in forging.

"Although it's not quite right to say this, the fact is that most blacksmiths in Gengxin City yearn for war to break out on the Douluo Continent," Lou Gao sighed. "With Spirit Hall's growth over the past three hundred years, there have only been minor skirmishes between the Two Great Empires, and Gengxin City has become increasingly dilapidated. My father once told me that three hundred years ago, Gengxin City was very prosperous. Even the emperors of the Two Great Empires would personally visit the Blacksmiths' Association, but now, the local city lord rarely comes, and only the previous Spirit Hall Branch head frequently came to assert his presence."

"Does Senior Lou Gao also long for war?" Tang San asked softly.

"Naturally, I don't long for it." Lou Gao immediately shook his head. Not to mention that he himself was a person who specialized in forging techniques, even if he truly longed for war, he couldn't say it aloud.

Otherwise, it would be anti-human!

However, for most people in this city, war was the best time to showcase their talents and earn a lot of money.

"The Saint Child is also a blacksmith, aren't you?" Lou Gao changed the subject. "I watched the Continental Elite Tournament videos, and your use of power is extremely subtle. I wonder if you can perform Thousand Refinements?"

"Even Soul Forging is possible." Tang San revealed a confident smile.

"Soul Forging? What is that?" Lou Gao instinctively realized that it was a realm of forging. His breathing quickened, and regardless of whether it was true or not, he stared intently at Tang San, hoping he would explain clearly.

"Forging, I have divided into the following realms: First, ordinary forging, which means that forged iron can be used to make farm tools, kitchenware, and the like; second, rare metal forging, which means being able to perform preliminary purification of rare metals; third, Thousand Refinements. Metals of this level can be used to manufacture weapons and armor. The armor and weapons of the Spirit Master knight orders of Spirit Hall, Heaven Dou Empire, and Star Luo Empire are all of the Thousand Refinements level."

"And the fourth stage is Thousand Refinements."

"Thousand Refinements has Spirit. Weapons and armor forged from such metal are already extremely precious and can conduct spirit power. If they can cooperate with one's own Spirit, they can enhance a Spirit Master's defense and attack power."

Lou Gao nodded repeatedly, saying, "That's right, I can achieve Thousand Refinements."

Seeing Lou Gao's self-satisfied expression, Tang San suddenly realized that the Divine Craftsmen of this era, when placed in Douluo Dalu III, seemed to be equivalent to only level 4-5 blacksmiths.

"And after Thousand Refinements, there is Spirit Forging."

"That is, imbuing the metal with the energy of heaven and earth, making it truly exude spirituality."

"After that, there is the sixth stage, Fusion Forging, which is infusing one's own essence, spirit power, or will into the metal."

"The seventh stage, Soul Forging, is equivalent to imbuing the metal with a soul, but it does not mean making the metal produce true Life; it is just a metaphor. It probably means making it extremely spiritual, capable of producing divine anomalies. It can already be used to forge true divine artifacts, not the kind of divine weapons you imagine, but the kind of divine artifacts controlled by those who achieve godhood at level 100!"

"The eighth stage is still Soul Forging, but under normal circumstances, only powerhouses at the Titled Douluo level can achieve it. Therefore, to simplify things, it is called Supreme Soul Forging."

"And the final step is Heaven Forging, which is imbuing the metal with planar laws, making it a true divine metal."

Even without knowing exactly how to do it, Lou Gao trembled all over as he listened, as if he were about to enjoy a 'great treasure sword' service, so excited he couldn't control himself.

On the other hand, Si Long felt that Tang San might be bluffing, but considering his identity as the Spirit Hall Saint Child and Martial Soul Theory Master, he still did not voice his refutation.

When a person's identity and status are established, no matter what others say or do, they must think twice before acting.

263: Soul forged iron! Lou Gao becomes a disciple!

“Can I try?”

After entering the Blacksmiths' Association, Tang San was looking around the building, which resembled a tulou, when Lou Gao led him to a forging room.

The internal space was vast, covering over a hundred square meters.

The massive furnace was more than ten meters high, and the bellows beside it were over five meters high.

According to Tang San's observation, this set of furnace + bellows was also a Soul Guidance Device.

“This furnace of mine has been passed down for a thousand years, named the endless wind and fire furnace.

It can autonomously absorb the energy of heaven and earth to maintain operation, and the bellows beside it can adjust the wind force by injecting Soul Power.”

“This furnace has been operating continuously.

The pipes above can transmit heat to the boiler underground, turning water into steam to power the machinery of most of Gengxin City.”

“It can be said that this is the energy lifeline of Gengxin City!”

Tang San hadn't expected that such a small furnace could generate so much energy.

Moreover, the endless wind and fire furnace clearly showed signs of modification; it definitely wasn't connected to those pipes from the beginning.

But the people here could think of using steam, which was truly extraordinary.

He marveled, "What a powerful Soul Guidance Device.

The wisdom of our ancestors is not to be underestimated."

"That's natural."

Lou Gao became proud, smiling and saying, "If everything you said before is true, then I will give you this endless wind and fire furnace."

"Teacher!"

Si Long, who was beside them, became anxious.

It wasn't because he coveted the furnace, but because the endless wind and fire furnace was related to the lifeline of the entire Gengxin City!

"I am the President.

Everything in this Blacksmiths' Association is naturally decided by me."

Although Lou Gao was not interested in anything other than forging, he wasn't completely unaware of the situation on the Continent, and he knew that Spirit Hall wanted to recruit him.

However, he only admired forging Master stronger than himself!

If Tang San could prove that what he said earlier was true, let alone giving away this endless wind and fire furnace, what if he even became his disciple?

His morals were flexible.

But in order to pursue a higher forging skill and realm, he could give up everything, even his own Life and soul.

Furthermore, he also had a thought—

If the Spirit Hall Saint Child possessed such high forging skills, Spirit Hall's attitude towards blacksmiths would definitely not be bad.

By then, couldn't he just call upon the blacksmiths of the entire Blacksmiths' Capital to relocate to Spirit Hall City?

As for the conflict between Titan, the Vice President of the Blacksmiths' Association, and Spirit Hall... what did that have to do with him?

He wasn't from the Li Zhi Clan, and that Titan hadn't been here for three or five years, so he wasn't qualified to dictate to him.

If it weren't for the fact that the other party's forging skill was second only to his, and he himself was a Soul Douluo, plus the past relationship, Lou Gao would have long since expelled him from the Blacksmiths' Association.

“In that case, I will make a fool of myself.”

Tang San stepped forward, picked up the forging hammer, and weighed it.

Feeling it was a bit light, he released his Haotian Hammer.

Then, he casually threw more than twenty pieces of unrefined iron from the side into the furnace.

“You're going to forge so many at once?”

Si Long was startled, thinking Tang San was being reckless, but the skillful way he flipped the iron pieces made him realize that Tang San might actually know how to forge.

After the more than twenty pieces of iron turned red-hot, Tang San poked at them, causing them to collide slightly, making a clinking sound.

At first listen, it was noisy, but upon closer listening, it was surprisingly pleasant to the ear.

Lou Gao seemed to be looking at the sparks that were emitted from the contact, both surprised and delighted, and exclaimed, “Is that vibration?”

Using vibration to make the iron pieces collide in the scorching flames for initial purification, what a genius idea!

Why didn't I think of it?”

“Hehe, Third Brother was the first to think of this.”

Although Ning Rongrong didn't understand how to forge, she could hear a certain rhythm in the sound of the iron pieces colliding and couldn't help but feel proud.

After all, Tang San was her man!

Tang San was focused.

Feeling that the temperature was about right, he used fire tongs to take out all twenty-odd pieces of iron and placed them on the forging platform.

Si Long was puzzled, “Is he going to forge these twenty-odd pieces of iron at the same time?”

No one answered.

Even Lou Gao was puzzled.

After all, forging wasn't just about hitting with a hammer; it also required fixing with fire tongs.

How could these twenty-odd pieces of iron be fixed at the same time?

There were no such fixing clamps here.

After all, this forging room was a place where Lou Gao improved his forging skill, relying only on forging techniques.

At most, he would prepare a good pair of fire tongs to facilitate his fixing.

Bang!

Tang San moved, and with one hammer strike, the more than twenty red-hot iron pieces instantly melted together, indistinguishable from each other, turning into a flat iron pancake.

“What powerful strength!”

Lou Gao exclaimed, and at the same time, he saw Tang San's purpose.

“He's not forging twenty-odd pieces of iron at the same time, but combining twenty-odd pieces of iron into one to hammer!”

“This is too exaggerated, isn't it?”

The twenty-odd pieces of iron combined are nearly the size of three human heads...”

Just as Si Long thought this was impossible to accomplish, he saw Tang San directly discard the fire tongs, and the Haotian Hammer in his hand struck the red-hot iron pancake again.

Buzz~

Using the recoil force, the large iron pancake was sent flying into the air.

Si Long's eyes changed, and he murmured, “He actually threw away the fire tongs, and the iron piece is flying up.

Even beginners wouldn't do this.

Is he really forging?

And his next hammer strike is going to hit the side... Won't the iron piece fly out?"

Lou Gao also became puzzled.

However, something unexpected happened that surprised the master and disciple— When Tang San's side strike hit the edge of the iron pancake, a huge sound was produced.

The iron pancake didn't fly out; instead, it remained suspended in the air, and both sides were even indented.

“Too amazing!”

A strong aura erupted from Lou Gao's body, and he trembled all over.

“He actually struck both sides of the iron pancake simultaneously in an instant, stabilizing it in the air.

What powerful strength!

What exquisite force!”

And while Lou Gao was speaking, Tang San had already struck around the iron pancake hundreds of times, turning it into a round iron ball, completely red-hot, with not a single impurity visible on the surface.

“Three seconds, Hundred Refinements!”

Si Long saw at a glance that the iron ball the size of three human heads had already completed Hundred Refinements, and his mind was shaken.

“Is this the strength of the Spirit Hall Saint Child?

It's too terrifying!

I shouldn't have doubted!”

Bang!

The Hundred Refinements iron ball flew up again, and Tang San swung his hammer again.

In just six seconds, he had struck around it thousands of times, causing the iron ball to shrink by nearly half.

Amidst the red-hot high temperature, a hint of pure white silver was revealed.

Thousand Refinements, completed!

“Six seconds!

Just six seconds!”

Lou Gao went crazy, grabbing his beard, his eyes looking at Tang San filled with fervor, as if a lecher had seen the naked body of a beautiful woman, his whole body became excited!

At this moment, he already believed the forging levels Tang San had mentioned!

Then, Tang San continued to hammer the iron ball and used Soul Power to guide the energy of heaven and earth, which integrated into the iron ball as he refined it.

In just three minutes, the entire iron ball shed its reddish color and turned silvery-white, suspended in his palm under Tang San's Soul Power control, as if a dead object had become a living one.

“Soul Forging!

This is Soul Forging!”

Lou Gao's eyes widened, and he wanted to reach out to touch it, but he was startled by the intense heat emanating from it, realizing that this was a red-hot piece of iron, only the fiery red was covered by silvery-white.

It was truly—

“Too mysterious!”

“This is simply the truth of the world!”

After completing Soul Forging, Tang San's hand movements didn't stop.

He continued to hammer and dripped a drop of his own blood into it.

Instantly, the Soul Forging iron ball seemed to undergo a chemical reaction, changing from silvery-white to red.

Unlike being burned red by fire before, this time, it was like a small sun, full of spirituality.

“Melting!”

Lou Gao exclaimed, his mouth wide open.

However, Tang San's movements still hadn't stopped, and the speed at which he swung the Haotian Hammer became faster and faster.

He himself also began to dance, like a God or a demon.

Clink, clink, clink, clink...

Lou Gao, Si Long, and even Ning Rongrong were all attracted by Tang San's movements.

That forging hammer technique was like art, just like an old farmer holding a hoe to cultivate the fields and plant crops— Thump!

Accompanied by a dull sound, Tang San stopped his hand movements, wiped the sweat from his forehead, and exhaled, “Soul Forging, it's done.”

The iron ball was only the size of a fist, and it had turned silvery-white again, but it gave people a sense of crystal clarity, and its surface was radiating a golden, warm luster, which was eye-catching.

Ning Rongrong's sense of treasures was the most acute.

The vibration transmitted to her by the Nine Treasure Glazed Tile Pagoda was extremely strong, which meant that this piece of Soul Forging iron, forged from iron, was worth more than all the treasures she had ever seen before!

He was truly her man!

He could actually turn waste into treasure!

With pious eyes and a pilgrimage-like mindset, Lou Gao reached out to hold the piece of Soul Forging iron.

“Teacher, this metal hasn't cooled down yet!”

Si Long exclaimed.

However, when Lou Gao touched the Soul Forging iron, he was not scalded by the high temperature.

“This?”

Si Long didn't understand.

Even if metal dissipated heat quickly, it shouldn't be this fast, right?

Moreover, Tang San had struck it tens of thousands of times in such a short period.

Even an iron piece that hadn't been heated in the furnace would have a very high temperature from the hammering, right?

But why wasn't Teacher scalded at all?

“Soul Forging has spirituality, which is equivalent to the metal having a soul.

Although it's just a metaphor, this level of metal can already sense the intentions of others... It might sound a bit mystical, but that's the reality.”

Tang San put away his Haotian Hammer and explained to Si Long, “This kind of metal can already be used to forge true divine artifacts.”

“Perfect!

Too perfect!”

Lou Gao suddenly cried out, and actually knelt directly towards Tang San, holding his leg.

“Please accept me as your disciple, Teacher.

I am willing to be your disciple and serve you tea and pour water.

Please don't dislike my age.

Actually, my mindset is still very young!”

Tang San quickly helped Lou Gao up and said, “Senior, you don't need to do this, do you?

If this scene gets out, I'll be labeled with a reputation for ‘bullying the old and weak’.”

“What Senior, Teacher, you can just call me Gao'er.”

Lou Gao's face was shy, and his attitude was extremely humble.

Lou Gao's personality in the original work was indeed a bit comical.

264: Bibi Dong: I must be crazy!

Tang San was also helpless with Lou Gao, this old eccentric. Only after much persuasion did he change his mind about becoming a disciple, but in the end, they addressed each other as peers.

That is, I call you "Senior," and you call me "Dai." We'll address each other as we see fit.

In the concept of a blacksmith grandmaster like Lou Gao, the capable are teachers, regardless of age. Since Tang San was unwilling to accept him as a disciple, he would unilaterally call Tang San "Dai." This way, Tang San couldn't possibly mistreat this 'younger brother', could he?

Hehehe!

"Dai, this endless wind and fire furnace is for you, consider it a gift from your younger brother."

"Senior, let's forget about this."

Although he was very curious about the endless wind and fire furnace, if he took it away, the energy operation system of Gengxin City would be废 (rendered useless).

It's an ancient city that has existed for nearly a thousand years; it shouldn't be abandoned just like that.

"I said I'm giving it to you, so I am. Anyway, we can just burn coal in the underground boiler later," Lou Gao didn't care at all what would happen to Gengxin City in the future. "Besides, after I join the Spirit Hall, most of the people here will follow along. We can just rebuild a city in Spirit Hall City, or outside of it. I have the blueprints for the entire Gengxin City."

"That's really—"

"Carefree."

Lou Gao stroked the small braids he had woven from his beard and burst into laughter, "I am just such a free and unrestrained person. A mere Gengxin City cannot restrain me at all."

Tang San was speechless, only asking at the end, "Without this endless wind and fire furnace, can Gengxin City still continue to operate?"

"Naturally, the boiler below is burning water," Lou Gao guaranteed with certainty. "Later, we can just have people add more coal. Anyway, after I go to Spirit Hall City, most of the blacksmiths here will also follow one after another. The power will be slightly weakened, but it's not a big deal."

Seeing this, Tang San stopped saying anything more and tacitly accepted the fact that the endless wind and fire furnace would be moved out of Gengxin City.

It only took one day for Lou Gao and Si Long to dismantle the endless wind and fire furnace from the pipes and call other members of the Blacksmiths' Association to transport it to the Spirit Hall, asking Nora to help transport it to Spirit Hall City.

After learning that Lou Gao was convinced by Tang San and joined the Spirit Hall, Nora was filled with emotion: "When Saint Child acts, it's truly different, making Lou Gao willingly submit."

"There's nothing I can do. Who told me my forging skills aren't as good as your Saint Child?" Lou Gao didn't mind Nora's teasing at all. Instead, he generously admitted that he couldn't compare. "Dai, how about we have a competition to see who reaches Heaven Forging first?"

"Senior, I'm afraid we can't compete. Even for Soul Forging, it requires control like mine at the very least."

Tang San's implication was that Lou Gao's strength was too weak and he didn't even have the qualification to perform Soul Forging.

Furthermore, in Tang San's vision, Lou Gao would likely have to pay the price of Life to perform Fusion Forging.

Unless Lou Gao's strength improved in the future, he could only stop at Spirit Forging before paying the price of Life.

However, even the Spirit Forging level is very impressive. The metal forged at that level is enough to become the material for crafting a lower-grade god seal throne.

"Strength?" Lou Gao fell silent, saying, "Strength and the level of forging complement each other. Without strength, I don't even have the qualification to forge... Woo woo woo, I'm so angry!"

"Senior, don't be so sad. Don't you still have a disciple?" Tang San nodded towards the excited Si Long, and continued, "I see that Si Long's talent is good. As a Teacher, one always hopes that the student surpasses the teacher. Perhaps in the future, he can reach a higher forging realm."

"Uncle-Master is right, I will definitely work hard, Teacher, don't worry."

Si Long patted his chest, guaranteeing with certainty.

"That's true, but I still hope I can have the chance to forge Soul Forging, or even Heaven Forging."

Lou Gao showed a look of hope, "Heaven Forging, injecting plane laws into metal, what kind of realm is that? I'm afraid only God can do it, right? I really hope to forge the corresponding metal and use it to cast a true divine artifact."

Three days later, Tang San returned to Spirit Hall City with Ning Rongrong, and behind him were Lou Gao and Si Long.

The other blacksmiths from Gengxin City would arrive at Spirit Hall City gradually later.

At Tang San's persuasion, Bibi Dong personally met with Lou Gao and his disciple and planned a blacksmith area for them in the city. However, Lou Gao did not want to live in the city, but rather wanted to build a brand new metal city outside of Spirit Hall City.

"Is that so?" Bibi Dong was considering whether to agree to Lou Gao's suggestion. After all, although Spirit Hall City was large, except for the area near Wu Hun Mountain, the rest of the places were already inhabited. Forcibly demarcating a piece would affect the people who originally lived there. Rebuilding a small city on the outskirts might not be impossible.

"Regarding the construction of the outer city, I have a suggestion."

Tang San suddenly said, "Spirit Hall City has six walls, so six cities can be built on the outskirts, creating six different characteristics. For example, a city managed by blacksmiths can be called the City of Forging, while the other five can be the City of Medicine, the City of Cuisine, and so on."

"The closer to the Inner City, which is the six walls, the more distinct the characteristics will be. In the future, as the population increases, it can be expanded outwards in a radial manner."

Bibi Dong nodded: "A good idea. At that time, Spirit Hall City will be located in the very center, occupying the position of stars surrounding the moon."

Because Tang San joined the Spirit Hall, many civilian Soul Masters on the Continent also chose to join the Spirit Hall, causing the personnel of each Spirit Hall Branch to be nearly saturated.

In order to avoid affecting others' enthusiasm for joining the Spirit Hall, Bibi Dong felt that some Soul Masters could be transferred here to build the city... How did Tang San put it?

That's right, providing employment opportunities.

Thus, Spirit Hall City began a large-scale expansion in full swing. Personnel from other branches and within Spirit Hall City were mobilized to participate in the construction work.

And as the construction began, the funds accumulated by the Spirit Hall decreased at a visible rate, which made Bibi Dong feel a pang of pain. She even suspected whether Tang San wanted to exhaust the Spirit Hall's already limited foundation.

Then, at Tang San's suggestion, Bibi Dong publicly promoted the Spirit Hall's new concept: "Establishing Martial Soul for Heaven and Earth, Forging Soul for all living beings!"

[Spirit Hall City is currently expanding and recruiting various talents from the entire Continent. Whether you are a Soul Master or not, as long as you have a skill, whether it's farming, blacksmithing, or understanding medicine, you can come to Spirit Hall City!]

[The Spirit Hall will surely treat you well!]

[In addition, in order to allow the people of the Continent to eat and dress warmly and live a happier Life, the Spirit Hall has decided to open Wuhun Academy in every city, and even in villages.]

[This academy, if in a city, will cooperate with the local primary academy and be responsible for teaching illiterate children to read; if opened in a village, it will be responsible for teaching villagers to read, and even guiding villagers on how to better cultivate land, farm, hunt, weave, forge, and other skills.]

[To raise funds, the Spirit Hall Pope is preparing to personally visit the Emperors of the Two Great Empires, hoping they can donate a trivial amount of Golden Soul Coins that they use for pleasure...]

Bibi Dong felt that she must have gone mad to do this under Tang San's persuasion. She would definitely be laughed at by the higher-ups of the major powers—

Star Luo Empire, when Dai Legao received the video footage projected on the advertisement by the Spirit Hall in Star Luo City, his mind was a little slow to process: "Is the Spirit Hall crazy? Or is it that the current Pope is crazy?"

The ministers in the hall looked at each other, also not knowing how to express their feelings.

Dai Legao stepped forward and expressed his opinion: "Your Majesty, according to my son's scouts, Tang San brought Lou Gao from Gengxin City to Spirit Hall City, and Lou Gao suggested building another city outside Spirit Hall City. The current Pope agreed under Tang San's persuasion, but as everyone knows, the Spirit Hall does not engage in production, and its funds basically come from our Star Luo Empire, as well as the Heaven Dou Empire, which is hostile to us, and then those small countries."

"So, the Spirit Hall is out of money?" Dai Legao felt that he had guessed the truth. "Then, if the Spirit Hall Pope personally visits, how many Golden Soul Coins should be given?"

Giving is definitely necessary. After all, the Spirit Hall also used the reason of "opening Wuhun Academy and seeking a better Life for the people of the world." If he didn't give, or gave too little, he would probably lose the support of the people.

Now is not the past. The appearance of soul guidance cameras, soul guidance photography boxes, and Sub-Mother Soul Guidance Photography Balls... Why didn't we think before that these things would have such a big disadvantage to the Empire's rule?

Information spread quickly, the knowledge of the common people also increased, and it was not easy to fool them anymore—

Unfortunately, it's too late to prohibit it now.

Sigh~ I hope the Spirit Hall doesn't ask for too much when the time comes. It's not that he's stingy, but that if there's a first time, there will inevitably be a second, third, and countless times.

But he can't not give.

Damn!

This must be Tang San's idea!

"Actually, this son feels that this is not necessarily a bad thing."

Seeing Dai Legao's worries, Davis was confident. "As long as the Spirit Hall cannot fulfill its promises, it will inevitably be despised by the world and make a rod for its own back."

"That's also true. The amount of Golden Soul Coins the Spirit Hall wants will definitely not be small. If this king were that Pope, I would definitely embezzle it and use it for myself."

Why was Dai Legao so certain?

The reason was simple.

For Empires like Star Luo and Heaven Dou, most of their financial income comes from taxes, especially agricultural taxes, which are the most important.

Where does agricultural tax come from?

Naturally, from the commoners who work the land.

No matter how much they look down on those commoners, curse, belittle, and mock them, they will ensure that most of them do not starve to death, because they all understand that ordinary people who grow food are the true foundation for an Empire to function. Cities built relying on Soul Beast forests are secondary.

And the Spirit Hall?

All of them are Soul Masters.

Soul Masters have always looked down on ordinary people.

Soul Masters from large Sects are better, they have some upbringing, at least they do a good job on the surface. When they go out to train, they often perform chivalrous deeds and gain a good reputation.

But the Spirit Hall?

There are indeed many branches, but each branch is independent of each other. It can be said that each branch has its own style of behavior.

Even most of the Soul Masters in the Spirit Hall in small cities and towns are more caring towards their own people, and much colder towards those who are not related by blood or friendship. Sometimes they even openly show favoritism towards their own people on matters of right and wrong.

True nature?

If it were just an ordinary freelance Soul Master, or a disciple of a Sect who was out training, this point would be fine, there would be no major fault. But having joined the Spirit Hall, this so-called "righteousness" is criticized, and it may even implicate the Spirit Hall itself.

Officials of the Two Great Empires favor their own people. In formal occasions, they at least have to find some suitable reasons to gloss over it.

It is only because the Spirit Hall helps common children awaken their Martial Soul, and the continuous cleaning up of corrupt elements within the various branches recently, that it has truly started to improve.

In the past, after Bibi Dong took office, the Spirit Hall began to expand and develop, but it was not really taken seriously by the Two Great Empires. They were only wary of the Title Douluo in Spirit Hall City.

Now, they have truly entered their sight.

On the other side, the higher-ups of the Heaven Dou Empire also had similar thoughts...

265: Two years have passed by in a hurry

Xue Qinghe only felt that Bibi Dong was insane to do such a thing... it must have been Tang San's suggestion, but why did she agree?

The Spirit Hall Pope.

Noble, elegant, dignified, and mysterious.

Her appearance at the Continental Elite Tournament was already unprecedented; he never imagined she would also negotiate with the emperors of the Two Great Empires, "pleading for the people"... If it was eventually achieved, that would be fine, but if it was all talk and no action, and the money obtained was all used to build the outer city, then Spirit Hall would probably be resented by everyone on the entire continent.

Did Tang San really join Spirit Hall, or was he trying to throw Spirit Hall into chaos?

"Qinghe, if the Spirit Hall Pope truly comes, I will send you to negotiate. How about that?" Emperor Xue Ye pondered for a moment, asking Xue Qinghe for his opinion, but his tone was declarative, with a hint of unchallengeable authority.

"Please rest assured, Imperial Father, your son will certainly not fail in his mission." Xue Qinghe respectfully bowed, his attitude deferential, but in his heart, he was thinking about what kind of attitude he should adopt when he met Bibi Dong... He hoped he wouldn't lose his composure, after all, he had to prove himself to that irresponsible mother!

On the other side.

Spirit City.

Soul Martial Manor.

Compared to the various intentions of the major powers, Tang San was currently teaching the three girls how to cultivate the path of vital energy and blood.

Ning Rongrong had the weakest physique, and her cultivation lasted the shortest time.

Guang Ling was second.

Xiao Wu was much stronger; having cultivated Jade Bone, possessing a robust physique, and even having the True Spirit Bone Spirit Ability, she persevered for several hours before finally becoming exhausted.

Finally, Tang San caressed Guang Ling's face, who was still awake due to special care, and spoke of the main topic, "In a few days, the endless wind and fire furnace will be transported to Spirit City. You should research that thing first, and I will also find time to research it with you—actively absorbing the energy of heaven and earth, with flames that never extinguish for a thousand years. If we can replicate the corresponding Soul Guidance patterns, that will be the foundation for providing energy to the Soul Guidance industry. Combined with the way Spirit Awakening Stones absorb and transform the energy of heaven and earth, Spirit Hall's foundation will be partially replenished."

"No problem, I also want to research how that furnace actively absorbs the energy of heaven and earth," Guang Ling said with a slight smile, then continued, "However, it's not very realistic to research Soul Guidance power in the short term. It needs to be combined with the working principle of steam, just like the steam engine you mentioned, Big Brother San."

"That doesn't matter. Development always involves upgrades and replacements; it's impossible to get fat in one bite." Tang San hugged Guang

Ling tightly and said seriously, "I neglected you just now, which caused your vital energy and blood cultivation to fall behind Xiao Wu and Rongrong this time. You need to catch up, otherwise, you'll blame me for not giving you special tutoring."

"Come on, I must catch up with Xiao Wu Jie and Rongrong's cultivation progress." Guang Ling was also serious.

Tang San showed a teasing expression: "Didn't you used to call her Rongrong Jie? Why is it Rongrong younger sister now?"

Guang Ling's expression remained unchanged, her mouth slightly open, (#^O^#): "After all, I came first, so she can only be a younger sister."

The night's splendid scenery, let's not mention it for now.

The next morning, Tang San imparted profound arts such as Mysterious Heaven Skill, Jade Bone Golden Muscle Divine Treasure, Cosmic Meditation, Controlling Crane Catching Dragon, and Carefree Wind Riding to Ning Rongrong.

"So many powerful self-created Spirit Abilities!" Ning Rongrong exclaimed, quickly covering her small mouth, afraid that others might hear, but the reverence and adoration in her eyes deepened, "As expected of Big Brother San, to be able to create so many powerful Spirit Abilities, each one is an invaluable treasure!"

After speaking, Ning Rongrong explained the Heart Separation Control method of the Seven Treasure Glazed Tile School.

This Heart Separation Control method of the Seven Treasure Glazed Tile School has a total of five realms: Three Aperature Governing Heart, Four Aperature Constant Heart, Five Aperature Scattered Heart, Six Aperature Wishful Heart, and Seven Aperature Exquisite Heart.

In short, it is a method that allows one to multitask.

Tang San had also practiced multitasking and once thought that the Heart Separation Control of the Seven Treasure Glazed Tile School was merely similar, but now that he saw it, he found it to have some merit, involving the conversion between spirit power and mental force, especially effective in assisting mental force cultivation. However, its effect was not as good as the Purple Demon Eye before it evolved into Cosmic Meditation, but it excelled in having a method for separating mental force.

"Compared to your self-created Spirit Abilities, Big Brother San, our Seven Treasure Glazed Tile School's Heart Separation Control method is far inferior." Ning Rongrong felt that her Heart Separation Control method was like a firefly compared to a Bright Moon when compared to Cosmic Meditation; it simply couldn't compete.

"No, the Heart Separation Control method also has its advantages. It gave me a bit of inspiration; perhaps it can be incorporated into Cosmic Meditation." Tang San felt that this Heart Separation Control method still needed improvement; it could be supplemented with the first and second apertures, and in the future, it could evolve into eight and nine apertures, corresponding to the nine apertures of the human body: two ears, two eyes, two nostrils, one mouth, the urinary tract, and the anal canal.

This way, it could both perfect Cosmic Meditation and supplement the Jade Bone Golden Muscle Divine Treasure Method, killing two birds with one stone.

Subsequently, Tang San began to teach Ning Rongrong how to cultivate.

And Ning Rongrong had already cultivated the Heart Separation Control method to the Five Aperature Scattered Heart, and her mental force was already extraordinary, so learning was naturally quick. In just three or five repetitions, she had memorized the Mysterious Heaven Skill's circulation method.

However, when cultivating the Jade Bone Golden Muscle Divine Treasure Method, she encountered difficulties. After all, there were too many details to remember. Ning Rongrong even felt that even if she reached the realm of Seven Aperature Exquisite Heart, she would not be able to master it all at once. She could only slowly circulate it under Tang San's supervision, according to her physical condition, to become proficient through practice and first allow her body to form an instinctive reaction...

...

In the blink of an eye, two years had passed.

The outer city of Spirit City had been completed, forming a super-large outer city composed of six cities:.

The City of Forging, specializing in forging—Soul Guidance Technology City.

It replaced the original Gengxin City and became the new holy land revered by all blacksmiths in the world!

The City of Delicacies, famous throughout the world for its cuisine—Min Shi Liang Du.

Here, one could see all sorts of novel delicacies, and it was also Spirit Hall's base for researching high-yield grains.

The City of Medicine, gathering over sixty percent of all doctors and pharmacists on the continent—Medicine Pill City.

Most of its residents had Spirits related to medicine, or were themselves interested in healing, saving lives, and researching medical arts. The pinnacle product of medicine was elixirs, hence, this city was named "Pill City."

The City of Art, promoting Spirit Hall's concepts and ideals through new-era arts: sculpture, painting, film, etc., and guiding the development of entertainment—Fantasy Film City.

Most of the people here were art masters and Grandmasters from the Two Great Empires.

Walking in this city, one could even see paintings, sculptures, screen films, and even body art (this type was strictly prohibited by Spirit Hall's enforcers, but related artists repeatedly defied the ban) in various streets and alleys.

Of the remaining two cities, one was named Soul Martial City. Its residents were mostly Spirit Masters, and the martial arts culture was prevalent. Almost every street had a martial arts arena for Spirit Masters to spar and compete.

The other was a modern commercial city, named Economic Capital, which was considered a relatively conventional city.

Not to mention Bibi Dong, even Tang San did not expect that in just two years, Spirit City's outer city would not only be built but also developed, even generating over a hundred billion gold coin in tax revenue for Spirit Hall in just half a year!

Of course, this was also inseparable from Bibi Dong's efforts over the past two years, as she genuinely used the gold coin obtained from the Two Great Empires to build enlightenment academies in various cities, towns, and villages.

Furthermore, at Tang San's suggestion, Bibi Dong even publicly disclosed how every single gold coin borrowed from the Two Great Empires was used, clearly posting the ledgers outside. Branch Masters of Spirit Hall branches everywhere actively publicized this, making the local populace understand that Spirit Hall had not embezzled any money.

After all, any Branch Master who dared to embezzle, once reported, would be immediately punished severely by Spirit Hall, and a new Branch Master would be appointed.

As for the academies used for enlightenment, in most cases, Spirit Hall dispatched older generations nearing retirement to teach. After all, Spirit Hall was ultimately a Spirit Master organization, and the younger generation of Spirit Masters tended to be arrogant, while the older generation of Spirit Masters were mostly more amiable and easier for villagers and children to get close to.

Correspondingly, the heartfelt gratitude of those villagers and children towards these older generation Spirit Masters also brought them psychological satisfaction.

Moreover, for most older generation Spirit Masters, having grown accustomed to the prosperity of the city, spending their later years in scenic rural areas and small towns was also a good choice—Spirit Masters of Spirit Hall, except for those in Spirit City who formed large and small families and needed to consider the future development of their family members, members of other branches were mostly small families, and their offspring might not necessarily awaken innate spirit power... Different environments, different lifestyles, and thus different directions of thought.

And in such an environment, Tang San published his theory of "Understanding One's Own Spirit," which advocated to the world the six-dimensional diagram method for understanding one's own Spirit.

Strength, Speed, Defense, Energy, Stamina, Special.

Such a simple and easy-to-understand six-dimensional diagram method shocked countless Spirit Masters and ordinary people. They had never imagined that understanding one's own Spirit could be so simple.

Besides publishing this point, Tang San also strongly advocated that people should utilize the strengths of their own Spirits...

266: The Confidence of Emperor Xue Ye

“I never thought Spirit City would actually develop so much, cough, cough!”

In the Heaven Dou Imperial Palace, Emperor Xue Ye looked at the Wuhun News in his hand, which reported Tang San’s new theories and how Spirit Hall had established new Spirit Enlightenment Academies in various villages.

Compared to two years ago, the wrinkles on his face had increased, his hair was whiter than before, and he often coughed, his health deteriorating.

Xue Qinghe also matured gradually over these two years, stepping into the public eye. Because Spirit Hall was increasingly popular with the common people, she even had to frequently visit Spirit Hall and cooperate with Ling Yuan, the new Platinum Supreme Pontiff of Heaven Dou City.

As for Salas?

Half a year ago, Ma Xiunuo found evidence of him embezzling nearly three hundred million gold coins and reported it to Spirit City. He was personally dismissed by the Supreme Pontiff. Ma Xiunuo, for his successful report, could not be promoted due to his age, but he received a reward of one million gold coins. Furthermore, because of his recognition of Tang San’s talent, no one dared to speak ill of him.

However, Ma Xiunuo did not become arrogant because of this; instead, he worked diligently, hoping to witness the true prosperity of Spirit Hall before his retirement.

Ma Xiunuo's story was widely spread, causing many lower-level personnel in the Spirit Hall Branches to consider their options. In addition to their work, they began to look for evidence of corruption from their own branch masters, vice-branch masters, and leaders.

As for human relations?

How could it compare to the practicality of a million gold coins!

Even some Spirit Hall personnel in small places would sell their colleagues for a few hundred gold coins, let alone branch masters they rarely met?

This was also promoted by Bibi Dong, with the aim of clearing out the worms within the various large and small branches.

However, she never expected that there were so many people in Spirit Hall across the entire continent who were corrupt, even forming complex networks of interests.

Initially, Bibi Dong was worried that pushing too hard would lead to chaos, but Tang San suggested uprooting them—

Then Bibi Dong immediately agreed.

After all, Tang San had helped her earn nearly a hundred billion, and the money from those worms wouldn't reach her hands. Directly removing them and confiscating their embezzled money would be used for the construction of Spirit City and Spirit Enlightenment Academies.

Moreover, Bibi Dong discovered that after these people were cleared out, those Spirit Hall Branches did not lack personnel, as more and more commoner Spirit Masters joined Spirit Hall.

This also led Bibi Dong to initiate a larger-scale anti-corruption campaign. Anyone, including commoners, could supervise Spirit Hall personnel, and once verified, informants would receive rewards, even the qualification to reside in the outer city of Spirit City.

This measure further strengthened and expanded Spirit Hall, and even its previously insufficient foundation was gradually being made up.

“Alas, is Spirit Hall going to establish a nation?” Emperor Xue Ye closed the Wuhun News, threw it onto a nearby table, and after much thought, summoned Xue Qinghe.

“Father Emperor, why have you summoned your son? Is there something important?”

At this moment, Xue Qinghe had dark circles under her eyes, and her skin had lost some of its luster, making her look listless.

For two years, Xue Qinghe had grown accustomed to handling government affairs. However, in the past six months, various kingdoms, duchies, and independent cities within Heaven Dou had reported Spirit Hall’s actions. Various documents piled up like mountains in her study, and coupled with trivial matters, she had no time even for cultivation.

Of course, even without cultivation, her skin wouldn’t become rough, or dark circles appear.

This was just a facade for Emperor Xue Ye.

“These days, you’ve worked hard.” Emperor Xue Ye sighed, “However, it might be even harder in the future. Tang San, of Spirit Hall, is like a fish in water. He is no longer rootless. The foundation has gradually been solidified. In the future, it’s not impossible for them to establish a nation or proclaim an Empire.”

Xue Qinghe also sighed.

She once suspected that Tang San was trying to bring down Spirit Hall, but in just two years, his actions had changed their perception, even expanding Spirit City’s area by nearly two hundred thousand square kilometers.

Today’s Spirit City, with its six outer cities plus the Inner City, covers nearly three hundred thousand square kilometers, with a population of nearly ten million, mostly commoners who are not Spirit Masters, but all possess a skill.

It was precisely these commoners who made up for Spirit Hall's insufficient foundation.

As for where so many people came from?

Ever since Spirit Hall issued the "Talent Recruitment Order," many commoners and Spirit Masters from the Two Great Empires who believed they had a skill traveled thousands of miles, crossing mountains and rivers, to Spirit City to showcase their talents.

Spirit City welcomed all comers; even those without talent were allowed to stay and were recruited as laborers to contribute to Spirit City's construction.

Furthermore, Spirit Hall even took in various disaster victims, offering work instead of direct relief—

Xue Qinghe admired Tang San's wisdom. He didn't directly give charity to disaster victims but gave them work, allowing them to earn compensation with their humble abilities, which not only allowed them to survive but also gave them dignity.

He did not treat disaster victims as beggars!

"That scoundrel, he even said he wasn't interested in government affairs!"

Xue Qinghe cursed inwardly, but on her face, she showed natural shock, saying incredulously to Emperor Xue Ye: "Does Spirit Hall intend to establish a nation?"

"In the past, perhaps they only had such thoughts, but no foundation. But now, the foundation on Spirit City's side has been solidified." Emperor Xue Ye secretly shook his head, thinking Xue Qinghe was still too naive, but he couldn't blame her.

In the past, all major forces could guess that Tang San joining Spirit Hall would lead to its expansion, but they only considered that Spirit Hall might gain a few more Super Douluo or super Douluo in the future, thus affecting the continent's格局.

But they never thought about the changes in Spirit Hall's system.

Moreover, the Soul Guidance Technology City in Spirit City was researching advanced industrial spirit tools, mechanical equipment, and assembly line forging, making Spirit City a completely different World from other places.

Just the current scale of Spirit City is larger than the territory of most kingdoms and duchies within Heaven Dou!

If he were the Spirit Hall Supreme Pontiff, he would also have the ambition to establish a nation!

“What should be done then?” Xue Qinghe feigned anxiety, as if worried about Heaven Dou's future.

“No worries. Thanks to the rapid spread of information nowadays, if Spirit Hall wants to establish a nation, it must have a legitimate claim recognized by the World.” Emperor Xue Ye showed a hint of confidence, “There are only two Empires on the continent: Heaven Dou and Star Luo. Although Spirit Hall also has a long history, the foundation for managing an entire country cannot be prepared in two years. Now, they have only made up for the population foundation.”

“Secondly, the inheritance of an Empire requires bloodline!”

“Originally, the Supreme Pontiffs of Spirit Hall were all from the Angel lineage. Now, Bibi Dong, who is not from the Angel lineage, holds the position. Moreover, she is female and has no descendants, only one disciple: Hu Liena, who is the Holy Maiden.”

“Although Tang San is the Holy Son, he has not hidden his aversion to power and focuses only on cultivation and research. It's unlikely he will become Supreme Pontiff in the future.”

“Therefore, Hu Liena is most likely to be the next Spirit Hall Supreme Pontiff. And if she follows Bibi Dong’s example, wouldn’t the position of Emperor be rotated among people?”

“This will certainly not last long.”

In Emperor Xue Ye’s view, only bloodline inheritance could stabilize people’s hearts; otherwise, who would obey the next successor?

Xue Qinghe also nodded. After all, the Supreme Pontiff lineage of Spirit Hall originally belonged to the Angel lineage! And only an Angel ruling Spirit Hall could ensure that Spirit Hall would flourish endlessly after establishing a nation, even for thousands of generations!

Returning to the Crown Prince’s Palace, Xue Qinghe summoned Porcupinefish Douluo and asked: “How has Spirit City been developing recently?”

“Reporting to Young Master, Spirit City is in a period of vigorous development, and its scale is still expanding further. However, according to the High Priest’s estimate, it will reach saturation within three years.” Porcupinefish Douluo respectfully said, “By then, Spirit City will have a population of over ten million, which will certainly be the foundation for establishing a nation!”

This was unimaginable in the past!

Although shocking, Porcupinefish was not too concerned, as most of them were not Spirit Masters. For him, he trusted his own strength more than population.

Of course, if these ten million people were determined, united, and fearless of death, then even he, a Titled Douluo, would have to retreat and be unable to contend, as Titled Douluo are also human, and their spirit power will eventually run out.

“Tang San is truly a prodigy!” Xue Qinghe increasingly wanted to bring Tang San under her command, but now he had been taken by that woman, and her mood couldn’t help but darken—“How is that woman doing now?”

Ci Xue lowered his head, not daring to say much. After all, he knew the relationship between Qian Renxue and Bibi Dong, and precisely because he knew, he dared not speak presumptuously.

He couldn’t afford to offend either of the two women at the moment!

“Forget it, no need to talk about it.” Qian Renxue knew Ci Xue’s thoughts and gave him an out. Then her gaze sharpened, and she said: “I also need to speed up. I must quickly complete the task of seizing the Heaven Dou Empire’s imperial power, and then go back to complete the Angel God’s trial. Otherwise, I won’t be able to compare to that woman.”

Compared to Bibi Dong, who had already learned some secrets of the God Realm and was delaying her progress to become a god, Qian Renxue still felt that becoming a god was more secure and could conquer the entire continent with overwhelming power. However, due to her own dignity and wanting to prove something to that irresponsible woman, she had to actively postpone the Angel God’s assessment.

Ci Xue wanted to persuade her, but he opened his mouth and ultimately didn’t know what to say...

...

Over the past two years, Tang San’s spirit power had reached level sixty, but because he usually focused on forging, research, and assisting Bibi Dong and Hu Liena with management, he hadn’t gone to obtain his sixth spirit ring.

Xiao Wu and Huo Wu had also reached level sixty but had not obtained their sixth spirit ring.

Guang Ling, Ning Rongrong, and Lan Yinzi had naturally broken through to the Spirit King realm.

Guang Ling was level fifty-four, Ning Rongrong was level fifty-two.

Gu Yuena, at the age of “eight,” became a Spirit Ancestor, simultaneously controlling four elements: water, fire, wind, and earth. Her spirit power reached level forty-nine, just one level away from Spirit King.

This cultivation speed made Huo Wu, Ning Rongrong, and others envious.

But only Tang San and Xiao Wu knew that this guy’s cultivation was just a pretense and could not be used as a reference for ordinary people’s cultivation.

“Let’s go. I’ve already applied for a long leave from the Supreme Pontiff. We can go out for a while to hunt Spirit Beasts! To obtain spirit rings!”

267: The Sixth Soul Ring: One Hundred Thousand Years

After bidding farewell to Guang Ling and Ning Rongrong, and giving instructions all night, Tang San took Xiao Wu and Huo Wu and set off, leaving Spirit Hall City and heading towards the Star Dou Great Forest.

After agreeing with Xiao Wu on the time to return to Spirit Hall together outside the Star Dou Great Forest and spending a tender night with her, Tang San and Huo Wu headed towards White Cloud City.

On the road away from the Star Dou Great Forest, Huo Wu asked speechlessly, "Are you really that comfortable leaving Xiao Wu alone?"

Among the girls, only Huo Wu currently hasn't had a substantive relationship with Tang San, so she naturally didn't know Xiao Wu's true identity, hence her confusion.

"Her situation is special; she comes from a 'Hidden Family', so I'm naturally at ease," Tang San said casually. "In the Star Dou Great Forest, no Ten-thousand year soul beast can do anything to her."

What kind of confidence did Xiao Wu have?

Naturally, the aura of her Ten-thousand year cultivation origin was enough to scare away the vast majority of Ten-thousand year soul beasts.

As for soul beasts that feed on consumption, like the Man Faced Demon Spider or the Earth Pit Demon Spider, they might take a risk, but with Xiao Wu's current strength, killing such Ten-thousand year level guys is more than enough.

Not to mention, the Sky Blue Bull Python and the Titan Giant Ape are Xiao Wu's bodyguards... oh no, they are her brothers. As long as nothing unexpected happens, every time Xiao Wu goes home, they will come out to protect and escort her.

Now, in the Star Dou Great Forest, fierce beasts like Di Tian have appeared. Without the intervention of a Peerless Douluo, the probability of an accident is infinitesimally close to zero.

"Is that so?" Huo Wu tilted her head, showing a cute and innocent side, but inwardly she had different thoughts—her relationship with Xiao Wu, Guang Ling, and Ning Rongrong was good. Could it be that Xiao Wu was deliberately creating an opportunity for her and Tang San to be alone?

Over the past two years, as she had more contact with Tang San, she became more and more infatuated with him.

He was gentle within his strength, and revealed dominance within his easygoing nature.

In addition to his extensive knowledge and outstanding appearance.

Except that sometimes he was a bit too serious... but even when serious, he would consider others' feelings and tell some humorous little jokes.

The flaws did not overshadow the virtues.

The more she thought about it, the hotter Huo Wu felt her face become.

So, should she seize this opportunity to win over Tang San? According to the information she got from Xiao Wu and the others' slip of the tongue, they all initiated the relationship at first, and Tang San was passive...

...

By the edge of Life Lake.

Seeing Xiao Wu arrive again, Di Tian's massive head lowered, gazing at the seemingly mature Xiao Wu, and asked in confusion, "Haven't you brought the Child of Destiny yet?"

"No, his sixth Soul Ring needs to be obtained from a Cloud Tree. The environment of the Star Dou Great Forest is not suitable for that kind of plant soul beast," Xiao Wu's meaning was simple, which was that the Star Dou Great Forest didn't have the soul beast Tang San needed, so there was naturally no way to bring him here. "I can't possibly tell him that I'm a Ten-thousand year soul beast who has taken human form and want to bring him here to look at goldfish, can I?"

Di Tian frowned, but saw the Three-Eyed Golden Lion walk up to Xiao Wu, sniffed her, and said in surprise, "You have the aura of the Master on you."

"You've met the Master's external avatar?" Di Tian transformed from his beast form to human form, and his attitude became solemn.

"Master?" Xiao Wu furrowed her brow, thought for a while, and feigned doubt, "Is it that little girl with silver hair and purple eyes? I once suspected she was a Ten-thousand year soul beast who had taken human form..."

"The Master is not comparable to a Ten-thousand year soul beast; she is a born God!" Di Tian's tone sank, and then he said, "Since you have seen the Master's avatar, then protect her well and obey her commands, understand?"

"Yes," Xiao Wu lowered her head, but thought to herself: The co-ruler of the soul beasts, Gu Yuena, a born God... Hmph, so what? Isn't she still obediently managed by Third Brother?

Maybe in the future, she'll even have to call her Xiao Wu "Jie"!

"Go condense your Soul Ring," Di Tian said.

"Da Ming."

Xiao Wu called out to the side, and the Sky Blue Bull Python immediately lowered its head and took her to the center of the Life Lake.

"Xiao Wu Jie, is your aura concealment skill so strong now? I can't feel any corresponding aura at all," the Sky Blue Bull Python said as it swam.

"Who told Xiao Wu Jie she's a genius?" Xiao Wu chuckled lightly, glanced back at Di Tian, Bi Ji, Zi Ji, the Three-Eyed Golden Lion, and Xiong Jun behind her, and thought to herself: I wonder if after condensing the sixth Soul Ring and using Fusing Rings, I can compare with fierce beasts?

The Sky Blue Bull Python continued to ask, "Xiao Wu Jie, this time, what kind of rabbit soul beast's Soul Ring do you want to condense? How many years?"

"As for the years, Ten-thousand years."

When she came back last time, after absorbing the energy within the Heaven Dream Iceworm, the origin of her cultivation reached nearly three hundred thousand years. Spending one hundred thousand years to condense a Soul Ring wasn't a waste, and her body was also enough to withstand a Ten-thousand year level Soul Ring.

"As for the species, I choose the Spirit Sky Rabbit."

The Spirit Sky Rabbit, this was also a type of rabbit soul beast recorded as extinct in the "soul beast encyclopedia".

According to records, the Spirit Sky Rabbit had two attributes: Spiritual Power and space.

Moreover, Tang San judged based on the description in the book, "numerous blood vessels like a net," that the Spiritual Power attribute of the Spirit Sky Rabbit was effective based on its developed nervous system, allowing it to better control its body.

Xiao Wu now possessed cultivation techniques like Mystic Heaven Skill, Jade Bone Golden Muscle Divine Treasure Method, Cosmic Meditation, Carefree Wind Riding, and Controlling Crane Capturing Dragon. Her Soul Power, physical body, and Spiritual Power were already close to perfect.

But her Martial Soul still needed to be strengthened to develop her own advantages to the extreme.

Waist, facial features, spine, legs, arms.

In terms of her body, Xiao Wu had already completed strengthening through the first five Soul Rings. What she needed to do next was to use her existing skills more reasonably.

By obtaining the Ten-thousand year level Spirit Sky Rabbit Soul Ring, Xiao Wu could not only strengthen her Spiritual Power but also enhance the spatial origin she possessed.

Strengthening Spiritual Power was naturally for cultivating Fusing Rings.

For two years, Xiao Wu had also been cultivating this super strong skill, but even with Cosmic Meditation, she found it difficult to perfectly piece together the Soul Rings due to insufficient Spiritual Power, unable to clearly understand the Soul Power flow path within each Soul Ring.

Although the second Soul Ring also strengthened her brain, it mainly strengthened her facial features and her perception of the air. The three-second future prediction of the Soul Skill Listening to the Wind was also just perceiving information in the air and then simulating it in her brain.

However, the Spirit Sky Rabbit could specifically strengthen her Spiritual Power and even strengthen her entire nervous system, allowing her to better control every inch of muscle tissue in her body. In the future, she might even be able to perceive the rhythm of every single cell in her body.

In addition, improving the spatial attribute origin was also very important. After all, Xiao Wu wanted to awaken a space-type innate Domain after condensing her Life Soul Ring at the Soul Saint level.

In short, the Spirit Sky Rabbit's Soul Ring was still paving the way for her future!

When that blood-red Soul Ring was condensed, Xiao Wu got up from the Sky Blue Bull Python's head and noticed that she seemed to be able to perfectly control every inch of her body's tissue.

With a clenched fist, flames burst out; with a stomp of her foot, faint yellow electric arcs flickered.

In the past, controlling flames and electric light required first controlling Soul Power with Spiritual Power, and then letting the Soul Power transform into energy of the corresponding attribute. Although it was an instantaneous matter, it was the result of practice making perfect.

But now, a Spirit Sky Rabbit Soul Ring had strengthened her brain and her entire nervous system. With just a thought, Soul Power could transform into the corresponding attribute, with meticulous detail, as if controlling her own arm.

Soul Rings truly could help Soul Masters save most of the effort of training!

Sighing inwardly, Xiao Wu jumped off the Sky Blue Bull Python's head, landed on the water surface, and walked step by step towards Di Tian and the others. Her steps, as if walking on flat ground, greatly surprised Di Tian and the other fierce beasts.

Although they all had the ability to fly, even Xiong Jun could detach himself from the ground with his immense cultivation, but walking on the water surface like Xiao Wu, perhaps only Di Tian could do it with his powerful cultivation.

But did Xiao Wu have that kind of cultivation?

"Is this a technique you learned from humans?" After Xiao Wu came ashore, Di Tian couldn't help but ask, "Can you teach it to the fierce beasts?"

"Only humans can learn it."

Xiao Wu, who was familiar with the human body structure, knew that although soul beasts were different from humans, except for insects and legless reptiles, the overall body structure of other soul beasts was actually quite similar to humans. After all, they all had skeletons, internal organs, brains, facial features, etc. Therefore, in the case of Di Tian and the others, they could actually learn a little bit.

But Xiao Wu wouldn't teach them, after all—

They weren't close.

"Big stupid bear, how about we have a fight?" Xiao Wu scanned the surroundings and found that the other fierce beasts were not there, so she decided to pick on the softest target and challenge Xiong Jun to test her own strength.

"Just a mere Soul Emperor, and you want to challenge this great one?" Xiong Jun seemed to have heard a joke and laughed angrily towards the sky, "Little rabbit, I have to say, you are very brave."

"I'm super brave, okay?" Xiao Wu held her head high and puffed out her chest. Six Soul Rings, one yellow, two purple, two black, and one red, appeared, and the aura they emitted actually vaguely reached the level of a Soul Douluo.

"Not bad. Although your Soul Power is only at level sixty-one, relying on that Ten-thousand year Soul Ring, you might be comparable to a Soul Douluo," Di Tian didn't stop them; instead, he commented with great interest, "After taking human form, you have broken the limitations of the Soft Bone Rabbit bloodline. By tracing back the origin of your cultivation, you can condense the Soul Rings of other powerful rabbit soul beasts and constantly evolve... Perhaps you have indeed found a path that might break through level one hundred."

Over the years, Di Tian had also seen some clues, but he himself didn't have the courage to take human form, and a soul beast that takes human form has, in terms of bloodline, already abandoned its identity as a soul beast.

As a proud member of the Dragon Clan, he would never abandon this identity that represented supreme glory and brilliance!

"Perhaps it's not her, but the Child of Destiny who influenced her," the Three-Eyed Golden Lion yawned, squatted on the ground, and raised a hind leg to scratch her ear.

Clearly, she had just observed the changes in destiny again.

"Di Tian, if I win, can I eat this rabbit?" Xiong Jun maintained his beast form, his massive mouth wide open, saliva dripping from his lips.

"No."

268: How did the son of luck die?

Hearing the words “no,” Xiong Jun's small eyes widened. His limited brain capacity then realized that he was going to be a sparring partner, and might even have to suppress his cultivation to the same level as Xiao Wu.

"I really don't want to do this."

He said that, but due to Di Tian's Dragon's Might, Xiong Jun could only suppress a portion of his cultivation, reaching a level similar to Xiao Wu's. "Alright, my current cultivation, according to human Spirit Master's spirit power Rank, is at the Spirit Emperor level. However, I am a Dark Gold Terrorclaw Bear, and I can fight a ten-thousand-year Spirit Beast after only a hundred years."

"Little rabbit, I'll give you a chance. Surrender to this lord, and I'll spare you."

"I'll give you some time to con—"

Before he could finish speaking, Xiong Jun only felt his vision blur. Xiao Wu, who was in front of him, had already disappeared. He was on alert, but suddenly his eyes were about to split, and his massive body knelt on the ground.

Xiao Wu successfully distorted the face of an un-transformed bear with her actions.

Di Tian's eyelids twitched as he watched, and he couldn't help but put his hand behind his back.

Bi Ji, Zi Ji, Three-Eyed Golden Lion, and others were also dumbfounded.

The Star Dou Great Forest has a diverse range of Spirit Beasts, and naturally there are also “butt-diggers,” but for Vicious Beasts like Di Tian, battles should be fought honorably. How could such methods be used?

It's not like they're hunting for food, right?

Bah!

Even if they were hunting, they wouldn't do such a thing!

Xiong Jun's massive body, over twenty meters tall, tremblingly got up and stared fiercely at Xiao Wu, saying, "Bastard, you actually attacked my defecation spot. Are you a scavenger dog?"

Scavenger dogs are canine Spirit Beasts living on the edge of the Star Dou Great Forest. They primarily survive by scavenging rotten prey left behind by other Spirit Beasts and also attack small herbivorous Spirit Beasts. However, their main attack method is “butt-digging,” tearing at the anal canals of those herbivorous Spirit Beasts with their claws and fangs, which is extremely vulgar.

Xiao Wu sneered at Xiong Jun's taunt, saying, "Rabbits are very cunning, you know. And the Vicious Beasts' weaknesses are also very obvious."

"Roar!"

Xiong Jun was enraged. His Aura reached the Titled Douluo level, pressing down on Xiao Wu. "Now is not the time for jokes. This old man will teach you a good lesson today, you rabbit who doesn't know the immensity of heaven and earth!"

"Hehe, is being tall so great?" Xiao Wu noticed that although Xiong Jun's Aura was comparable to a Titled Douluo, his cultivation was still equivalent to a Spirit Emperor.

Tsk, he's quite disciplined, or is it because Di Tian is nearby, so he has to consider his feelings?

That's right, Di Tian is the king of these Vicious Beasts.

Facing Xiong Jun, who was charging on all fours like a spirit tool steam locomotive, Xiao Wu naturally wouldn't foolishly meet him head-on. Instead, she leaped up.

Her second spirit ring flashed with purple light.

Immediately, a vision of the future three seconds later appeared in Xiao Wu's mind—before she even landed, Xiong Jun suddenly twisted his body and swatted at her with a claw, sending her flying a thousand meters away. Five huge gashes appeared on her abdomen.

Snapping back to reality, Xiao Wu, who had leaped into the air, suddenly twisted her body, dodging the giant claw that suddenly twisted and swatted from below. She also flicked her head, and her long hair at the back of her head wrapped around the base of one of those claws.

Using the momentum from the flick, Xiao Wu jumped onto Xiong Jun's shoulder. Her hands swept across the gems on the white jade belt at her waist, and two red-backed silver-bladed short swords appeared.

These two swords were forged by Tang San over the past two years using Five-Pattern Copper and Five-Pattern Iron. Five-Pattern Copper was used for the spine of the blade, and Five-Pattern Iron for the edge. These two patterned forged metals were the best combination.

With the injection of spirit power, the ten energy circuits on the two short swords began to operate, continuously drawing in the surrounding heaven and earth energy. This combined with Xiao Wu's own spirit power, forming twenty flowing flame-like energies.

At this very moment, her third, fourth, and fifth spirit rings all shone simultaneously.

True Spirit Bone activated, and two symmetrical golden Dragon patterns spread from her spine, covering her entire torso and even beginning to extend to her limbs and head.

Electric Light Flash activated, causing Dragon scale-like patterns to appear on Xiao Wu's legs, emitting faint electric light.

Blazing Flame Fist activated, and the Spirit Ability's energy was injected into the short swords in her hands, making the flames on the blades even more intense.

Clap!

At this moment, Xiong Jun, who had reacted, immediately raised his claw and swatted at the shoulder where Xiao Wu was standing, but he felt nothing.

"Didn't hit her?"

Just as Xiong Jun was wondering, he suddenly clutched his nose and let out a howl.

"What's going on?" Three-Eyed Golden Lion saw two wounds about half a meter deep appear on Xiong Jun's nose, but couldn't see Xiao Wu's figure. She only saw electric and fire lights constantly flashing around Xiong Jun, followed by scorched gashes appearing, emitting wafts of roasted meat aroma. She couldn't help but swallow, but still suppressed the urge to eat, and asked Di Tian beside her.

"That's extreme speed!"

In reality, Di Tian also couldn't clearly see Xiao Wu's true form at this moment. He could only see Xiao Wu rapidly flashing around Xiong Jun, and he could even hear explosive sounds.

That was running on air!

"Dragon Rabbit, this kind of Spirit Beast, is inherently extremely fast and can temporarily run in the air for nine steps. She inherited this ability. In addition, her fourth spirit ring condensed a Dragon Scale Rabbit, her fifth spirit ring condensed a Blazing Flame Rabbit, and her sixth spirit ring—although she didn't use a Spirit Ability, it has both mental and spatial attributes, so it should be a Spirit Sky Rabbit."

"It can be said that while strengthening the Soft Bones Rabbit itself, it also continuously enhances her speed, especially the sixth spirit ring, which further enhanced her spatial Origin."

"Her speed has already reached the Peak, or rather, the Peak as we know it. If she continues to strengthen, she can become even faster in the future."

Three-Eyed Golden Lion wondered, "Is being fast that impressive? Even Xiong Jun isn't her opponent?"

"If it were merely fast, it naturally wouldn't be impressive." Di Tian shook his head. "However, her strength is not weak either, or rather, her physical quality is also extremely strong."

Bi Ji wondered, "Logically speaking, she is a true Incarnation, so her physical body shouldn't be that powerful. The strongest aspects of a human body are spirit power and mental force, not blood Qi."

Zi Ji was also puzzled: "This Incarnation rabbit's strength is already comparable to a ten-thousand-year-old Dragon—is it because of her spirit rings?"

"No." Di Tian shook his head again. "We Spirit Beasts don't use knives, and spirit rings can't strengthen the body that much. That should be a method of improving physical quality and attack techniques learned from humans—Golden Lion, have you noticed anything?"

"What can I notice?" Three-Eyed Golden Lion showed a speechless expression for the first time. A hint of inexplicable longing flashed in her eyes, but it quickly disappeared. She said, "At most, I can tell that she is entangled with that Son of Luck. Hmm~ it's probably similar to becoming the Son of Luck's spouse?"

At this moment, Xiong Jun suddenly erupted with a powerful Aura, and his suppressed cultivation burst forth. The enormous wave instantly sent Xiao

Wu flying, and also caused the Three-Eyed Golden Lion beside Di Tian to tumble.

"Hmm?" Di Tian's eyes flashed with anger. He instantly transformed into his Golden-Eyed Black Dragon true form and pressed down on Xiong Jun with a claw. With a crack, Xiong Jun's right arm broke. "You harmed the Star Dou Great Forest's Luck!"

"Spare me, Di Tian, I was wrong!" Xiong Jun realized that his sudden outburst had caused the Three-Eyed Golden Lion nearby to suffer a minor injury, and immediately begged Di Tian for forgiveness.

Moreover, he would have to find a way to appease the Three-Eyed Golden Lion afterwards. Otherwise, as the Incarnation of the Star Dou Great Forest's Luck, if he accidentally injured her, he would suffer a backlash from the entire Star Dou Great Forest's Luck.

At that time, all sorts of unlucky things would happen to him!

No! The backlash had already begun!

His right arm was broken by Di Tian, with some bones shattered and muscles necrotic. Without Bi Ji's help, it would take at least a thousand years to fully recover from this injury!

This was the best proof!

"Hmph, I'll spare you this time, but don't let it happen again." Di Tian loosened his Dragon claw and looked at Xiao Wu, who was dusting herself off nearby. Seeing that she was not injured, he nodded slightly and said, "Since you have already condensed your spirit rings, you can leave."

"Are you that unwelcoming of me staying here?" Xiao Wu walked up to the Three-Eyed Golden Lion and raised her hand to pat its head. "This is my home too."

Di Tian saw that the Three-Eyed Golden Lion was displeased with Xiao Wu's petting. It wanted to bite, but seemed afraid. He frowned deeply, then finally sighed and said, "Alright, do as you please. If you want to train, I'll have Zi Ji, Red King, and Demon Spirit accompany you. Their tempers are a bit better—Oh right, there's something I don't know if you know?"

"What is it?" Xiao Wu directly rode onto the Three-Eyed Golden Lion's back. This bold action stunned all the Vicious Beasts, including Di Tian.

After a while, Di Tian finally reacted and asked, "The Ice Jade Emperor Scorpion from the Extreme North Land seems to be missing. Do you know why?"

"You have contact with the Vicious Beasts of the Extreme North Land?" Xiao Wu was surprised.

"We have contact, but the Vicious Beasts there don't obey my commands." Di Tian spoke truthfully. "But all Spirit Beasts are the Lord's subjects. She transmitted a message to me three years ago—"

Three years ago?

It was during the Spirit Master Tournament—meaning, Gu Yuena's Clone and her sleeping main body couldn't communicate, or perhaps, they couldn't communicate beyond a certain distance.

After all, Gu Yuena had seen Wu Lin and Wu Tong, and knew of the existence of the Ice Jade Emperor Scorpion, Heaven Dream, and Heaven Dream.

Or perhaps, the main body, the Silver Dragon King, never intended to inform Di Tian of the outcome?

"I naturally know about the disappearance of the Ice Jade Emperor Scorpion, and I also know that she died." Xiao Wu thought for a moment before revealing the truth.

"Died!" Di Tian was shocked. "How did she die?"

"She appeared at the Spirit Master Tournament, along with that Tianmeng Iceworm, and chose a human. It seemed they wanted to help him Break through to Rank 100, and then get revenge on you." Xiao Wu said, stating facts that even Di Tian found fantastical.

But Di Tian thought carefully and realized that this might indeed be something that worm would do. Breaking through a million years with insufficient Origin, a weak Aura that couldn't be perceived by the God Realm, and wanting revenge, choosing a human to cultivate into a god was not impossible—compared to Incarnation Spirit Beasts, this was true betrayal!

Xiao Wu continued, "Unfortunately, the chosen human was too stupid and was punched to death by the Son of Luck."

Di Tian and the other Vicious Beasts: "—"

So casual!

269: Reasons why soul-guided weapons are not suitable for development

"This place hasn't changed at all."

Looking at the boundless grassland before her, Huo Wu put on her tall boots and gloves, then turned to look back at the outline of White Cloud City in the distance, "But White Cloud City has expanded a bit in the past two years."

Following the expansion of Spirit Hall City, major cities within Heaven Dou and Star Luo territories also began establishing new industries under the leadership of the local Spirit Hall, developing vigorously.

And with the various nobles enjoying the benefits, they naturally wouldn't stop it; instead, under the promotion of the Spirit Hall, they joined in and invested a considerable amount of capital.

It can be said that the establishment of industries by the various Spirit Hall Branches is inseparable from the "funding" of these nobles; it's just that these nobles don't know that in the near future, they will no longer be nobler than ordinary people.

After all, compared to commoners who can create wealth, nobles are parasites who consume resources without doing anything practical, and are targets that need to be cleaned up.

Have any nobles realized the Spirit Hall's development model?

Yes, but they don't believe the Spirit Hall would target nobles, because limited by the era, their mindset leads them to think this way—even if the Spirit Hall establishes a nation in the future and conquers the entire Continent, they would still need these nobles to manage the vast population.

Although the Spirit Hall has many people, they are basically Soul Masters; they are fine as enforcers, but in terms of managing the population, not causing the people to become displaced would already count as qualified!

As for the population of the six major cities outside Spirit Hall City... nobles who haven't personally visited Spirit Hall City will only believe that the Spirit Hall has exaggerated the figures.

After all, imperial cities like Heaven Dou City and Star Luo City only have a population of nearly a million.

Ten million?

Heh heh!

Not all nobles have such foresight; the "long-term vision" of most nobles is only relative to ordinary people living in poverty.

Just like how the Spirit Hall announced the population of Spirit Hall City to the entire Continent through the new version of the Soul Guidance Camera Ball, except for the high-level officials of the Two Great Empires, the personnel of the various Spirit Hall Branches, and the vast majority of commoners, the remaining nobles of all sizes would not believe that Spirit Hall City truly has that many people.

As for seeing is believing?

These nobles believe that the images broadcast through the camera ball are not real, similar to Soul Guidance movies, and some even believe that the battle between Tang San and Bibi Dong after the Continental Elite Tournament was also a movie, and the fighting scenes were special effects.

However, no matter what these people say, it cannot change the fact that Douluo Continent has already begun to change under the efforts of Tang San, Bibi Dong, and all the members of the Spirit Hall.

Just like White Cloud City behind Tang San and Huo Wu at this moment, it has also begun to expand.

To be honest, Tang San felt quite proud!

After all, this World changed because of him!

"This is also thanks to Guang Ling's improvement of Soul Guidance steam power, which greatly improved the productivity of the Spirit Hall," Tang San said.

Huo Wu naturally also understood the concept of productivity, but she was more focused on Soul Guidance Devices: "Speaking of this, people probably wouldn't have imagined that mere steam could generate such strong thrust, driving machinery to operate; it's simply incredible."

"However, Soul Guidance Devices are still more miraculous; different combinations of basic Soul Guidance attributes can actually form so many Soul Guidance circuits and produce various effects similar to those of Soul Skills."

"It's just, why aren't Spirit Guidance Weapons being researched?"

In fact, when the Soul Guidance Technology City was established, after Lou Gao learned about the twelve basic attributes of Soul Guidance Devices, he wanted to research Spirit Guidance Weapons, but he was stopped by Tang San.

"The reason is simple, because this will cause an unprecedented impact on the Soul Masters of this era," Tang San said, taking out an offensive Soul Guidance Device similar to a pistol—its surface was jet black, gleaming with metallic luster, and it had golden Soul Guidance patterns converging at the muzzle.

Pointing it at a large tree about a hundred meters ahead, as thick as a person, Tang San pulled the trigger.

Bang!

With a loud bang, a bowl-sized penetrating hole was blasted open in the trunk of the large tree.

The two of them leaped to the tree, and Huo Wu examined the wound, assessing the destructive power, and exclaimed, "What a powerful attack! If it can penetrate a tree, it can penetrate a human body. Unless it's a defense-type Soul Elder with a top-grade Martial Soul, they cannot withstand such an attack."

"Yes, the effect is that astonishing."

Tang San inverted the Soul Guidance pistol and pressed the protruding blue part below the grip with one hand.

With a "click", an oval cylindrical object popped out, entirely blue, with a long glass strip on the side, nine-tenths green and one-tenth white.

Huo Wu knew that this was a Soul Guidance energy storage device, also known as a Soul Power battery, or a 'milk bottle'.

If the Soul Power is full, the glass strip will appear entirely green.

That one shot just now consumed one-tenth of the Soul Power within it. This type of Soul Power battery is enough to condense ten Soul Power bullets.

"Just a mere Soul Guidance pistol, with the Soul Power of a level ten Soul Scholar, can break through the defense of a Soul Elder. If research continues, will it be possible in the future to create offensive Soul Guidance Devices that threaten Soul Douluo, or even Title Douluo?"

"Soul Masters will absolutely detest this kind of thing, because it makes their diligent cultivation seem like a huge joke—"

"Under normal circumstances, a slightly talented Soul Master needs to be around thirty years old to cultivate to Soul Elder. Starting cultivation at six years old, twenty-four years later, they become a Soul Elder. Then, a Soul Master holding a Soul Guidance pistol pulls the trigger, and with a bang, the Soul Elder's twenty-four years of cultivation turn into nothing."

Only then did Huo Wu realize how great an impact Soul Guidance type weapons would have on the profession of Soul Master, and whether even ordinary people obtaining such pistols could threaten Soul Masters?

Spirit Guidance Weapons are indeed too dangerous.

"Of course, the most important thing is that the Spirit Hall's current promotion system is based on strength," Tang San said, handing the Soul Guidance pistol to Huo Wu, "Although after the establishment of the six outer cities, there is now the selection of 'talented and capable individuals' under the principle of 'specialization in one's field', Soul Masters still highly value their own strength and use it to distinguish status."

"However, Spirit Guidance Weapons are not without research; some personnel in the Soul Guidance Technology City and the Spirit Hall are researching Spirit Guidance Weapons, but it is not suitable for large-scale production at the moment, nor is it suitable for mass distribution to the members of the Spirit Hall."

"Otherwise, the Spirit Hall would fall into chaos first."

"Now is not the time..."

When would it be suitable for large-scale research and mass manufacturing of Spirit Guidance Weapons?

Naturally, it would be when war breaks out!

Only during such times would Soul Masters not have the leisure to care about the impact of Spirit Guidance Weapons on their status.

And during peacetime, the only way is to first try to improve the overall moral cultivation of Spirit Hall personnel, allowing existing Soul Masters to accept the fact that lower-level Soul Masters can defeat higher-level Soul Masters by relying on Soul Guidance Devices.

Otherwise, weapon-type Soul Guidance Devices cannot be researched and developed on a large scale.

It's just that improving the quality education of all Soul Masters in the Spirit Hall is not as simple as building six cities in two years; it requires the accumulation of time...

...

"So that's how it is," Huo Wu said, playing with the Soul Guidance pistol in her hand, "Can you give me this pistol?"

"No problem," Tang San said nonchalantly. After all, this Soul Guidance pistol was just one of the defective products researched by Guang Ling—any Soul Guidance Device that couldn't automatically absorb World energy to recharge was a defective product in Guang Ling's eyes.

It must be said that Guang Ling's requirements for Soul Guidance Devices are a bit high.

But only by pursuing perfection can one continuously improve, rather than being dominated by the idea of "it's fine as long as it works," leading to increasing relaxation.

"Thanks," Huo Wu said, putting the Soul Guidance pistol into her storage soul tool. Following Tang San into the White Cloud Forest, she felt the warm tones of the forest and suddenly laughed, "I found that this place seems very suitable for dates. Why haven't the nobles of White Cloud City tried to develop this place? After all, the ten-thousand-year Soul Beasts here have all been consumed by that Blood Sword Norman."

"You yourself said that Blood Sword Norman appeared here, so for those nobles, perhaps some terrifying legends about Blood Sword Norman will spread here. For example, after Blood Sword Norman died, his wraith still remains in the White Cloud Forest, specifically devouring the souls of Soul Masters who come to hunt for souls in this forest," Tang San told a cold joke.

"Oh dear, I'm so scared!" Huo Wu looked left and right, her eyes flickering as if she were truly frightened. She jumped onto Tang San's back, wrapped her arms around his neck, and clamped her legs tightly around Tang San's waist.

Tang San said speechlessly, "I strongly suspect you're taking advantage of me."

Huo Wu awkwardly loosened her legs and jumped down from Tang San's back. She coughed, thinking to herself that she really wasn't suited for that kind of forward nature, and then changed the subject, asking, "What kind of Soul Beast is suitable for me to obtain my sixth Soul Ring from?"

Huo Wu's first five Soul Skills were: Sun Star Ring, Sun Ascent, Fire Dance Bright Sun, Fire Sun Armor, and Twin Suns Across the Sky. It can be said that the attributes of each Soul Skill were the same, and they could also be combined with each other to cultivate Fusing Rings.

It's just that her physical quality wasn't strong (compared to people like Tang San, Xiao Wu, and Guang Ling), so she couldn't perform Fusing Rings like Tang San. She could only unleash all the energy in the Soul Ring through an explosive mode.

This is the traditional Fusing Rings mode.

The risk is extremely high!

Therefore, after Tang San guided her in creating Soul Skills related to gravity, Huo Wu gave up on Fusing Rings and focused on the application of gravity. For this, she even frequently asked Tang San for related knowledge, causing Tang San to rely on the simple physics formulas he still remembered to perform complex deductions, and then simplify them, picking up most of the physics knowledge he had forgotten from his previous life.

Therefore, the Soul Beast suitable for Huo Wu's sixth Soul Ring, in addition to the essential Light/Fire attributes, must also possess attributes similar to gravity.

Such as gravity.

Or buoyancy.

The main purpose was to allow Huo Wu to deepen her understanding of gravity by using the Sun Goddess's Soul Skills, thus progressing faster and more steadily.

And among the Soul Beasts recorded in the soul beast encyclopedia that simultaneously possess these conditions, there are only three types—

"A variant of the Titan Giant Ape: the Titan Blazing Fire Giant Ape."

"The Bright Crystal Beast."

"The Light Flame Cloud Smoke Bird."

270: When do we start?

Huo Wu put her hands on her waist, deep in thought: "Titan Fire Ape, Bright Crystal Beast, Light Flame Cloud Smoke Bird, they all sound suitable for the Light and Fire attributes of my Sun Goddess."

"Of course, I wouldn't choose a Soul Beast that doesn't match the basic attributes of your Martial Soul."

Tang San smiled confidently, "Although gravity and similar concepts are experiments, even if these three Soul Beasts cannot help your gravity cultivation, they can maximize the strengthening of your Fire attribute or Light attribute."

"First, there's the Titan Fire Ape. This Soul Beast lives in the Molten Volcano Zone in the extreme south of the Douluo Continent. It's a variant of the Titan Giant Ape, controlling the power of lava. The Titan Giant Ape itself controls gravity, so its variant must also possess this ability. If you obtain its Soul Ring, your Martial Soul is very likely to also control gravity, which will be remarkably effective for your future development of gravity."

"The only problem is whether this Soul Beast still exists; it's an unknown."

As a variant of the Titan Giant Ape, the number of Titan Fire Apes is also extremely scarce, possibly even extinct.

After all, there is only one Titan Giant Ape in the Star Dou Great Forest.

Moreover, the Titan Giant Ape's strength is extremely powerful, not to mention its variant, the Titan Fire Ape, which also controls the power of lava.

Coupled with its existence in places like molten volcanoes, it gains environmental buffs, allowing it to exert even greater power.

This Soul Beast is relatively difficult to hunt.

Of course, with Tang San's strength, hunting a Titan Fire Ape is not a problem; the only uncertainty is whether this Soul Beast still exists on the Douluo Continent.

According to the records of the Spirit Hall, the last recorded appearance of a Titan Fire Ape was a thousand years ago.

Its cultivation was fifty thousand years, and it was hunted by a quasi-Title Douluo from the Spirit Hall whose Martial Soul was Flame Ape.

This person obtained its Soul Ring and Soul Bone, and its related skills were respectively—

Soul Skill: Lava Burst.

According to its description: shattering the earth, controlling magma, erupting volcanoes.

Tang San estimated that the essence of this Soul Ring, in addition to controlling Fire and Earth elements, also included gravity.

Otherwise, relying solely on Soul Power, it would be impossible to pull the underground lava to the surface.

Soul Bone Skill: Gravity Control.

This doesn't need much explanation; it's the Soul Beast's inherent ability.

As a variant of the Titan Giant Ape, possessing the ability to control gravity is within reason.

"This is indeed a good option."

Huo Wu was tempted.

After all, this is a variant of the Titan Giant Ape. Even if the Martial Soul attributes don't match, as long as it can be hunted, most Soul Masters wouldn't refuse.

The boost it provides to a Soul Master is enough to outweigh the incompatibility with the Soul Master's Martial Soul.

"It can be considered a backup, since we don't know if it still exists."

Tang San brought up the second type of Soul Beast, "Bright Crystal Beast.

This is a Light-attribute Soul Beast that lives in the Storm Grand Canyon.

Its form is like crystal, and it has the characteristic of floating.

It is said that even after death, it will remain suspended above the ground and will not fall to the ground."

"Also, they like storms and thunder, and will appear in large numbers during storms..."

"'Where Are the Amazing Soul Beasts,' a book different from the 'soul beast encyclopedia,' records: Bright Crystal Beasts are gentle in nature and like thunderstorm weather.

They wish to completely break free from the earth's restraints using the storm, fly into the sky, and enter the sun..."

"Perhaps limited by thinking, the descriptions of Soul Beasts in this book carry a hint of fantasy.

And I have never truly seen a Bright Crystal Beast, so I cannot determine whether this so-called suspension is due to controlling gravity or some kind of magnetic field effect."

It's not surprising that Tang San would guess this way.

After all, the point about "liking thunderstorms" instinctively made Tang San, who came from modern times, think of the Bright Crystal Beast's suspension ability in terms of "magnetic levitation."

But ultimately, he would have to personally find a Bright Crystal Beast to study.

If it wasn't suitable, he would give up.

"Is that so?"

Huo Wu looked thoughtful, "Then the Bright Crystal Beast at least has the Light attribute, right?"

"Yes, it definitely has the Light attribute.

Our predecessors were certainly able to sense the Light element of this type of Soul Beast.

However, whether the Light element is truly pure is hard to say."

Tang San's gaze was deep.

After all, according to the records in the book, except for an opaque core within its body, the Bright Crystal Beast's body is like true crystal...

Crystal can transmit Light, scatter Light, and focus Light.

Perhaps this Soul Beast merely relies on Soul Power to borrow external Light, thereby acquiring the Light attribute over long periods.

If the above speculation is true, then even if a Soul Master with a Light-attribute Martial Soul obtains the Bright Crystal Beast's Soul Ring, they won't be able to gain its true inherent ability.

"And the third one is the Light Flame Cloud Smoke Bird."

Tang San continued, "This kind of Soul Beast, just by hearing the words 'Light Flame,' you know it possesses Light and Fire attributes, which are very compatible with your Sun Goddess.

The words 'Cloud Smoke' describe how this bird is like a combination of Light and Fire elements, with flames constantly burning on its surface and Light flowing, resembling cloud smoke.

Moreover, after its death, it never touches the ground, possessing the characteristic of floating."

"This is good."

Huo Wu's eyes lit up, "Is that floating also gravity?"

"Not sure, but even if it's not, it doesn't matter.

This Soul Beast feeds on lava and can also directly absorb the power of Light to increase its cultivation."

Tang San shook his head, then a sharp glint flashed in his eyes, and he said, "Even if you cannot inherit its floating characteristic, it will absolutely enhance your Martial Soul's ability to absorb Light and Fire elements."

"Furthermore, the possibility of you not inheriting its floating characteristic is extremely low, as your Sun Goddess already possesses the characteristic of floating."

The Light Flame Cloud Smoke Bird and the Sun Goddess both have the characteristics of Light, Fire, and floating.

Even on the point of "floating," Tang San is not yet certain about the principle behind the Light Flame Cloud Smoke Bird's floating, but it is highly likely related to gravity.

After all, the Light Flame Cloud Smoke Bird, like the Titan Fire Ape, lives in molten volcanoes where the magnetic field is chaotic.

There are also no relevant records indicating that this type of Soul Beast would fly into the smoky clouds with faint electrical arcs during a volcanic eruption.

However, this Soul Beast is also a super Soul Beast; a thousand years of cultivation can rival ten thousand years.

Furthermore, since it can fly, hunting it would likely take a considerable amount of time.

Even just searching for it might take several months.

Fortunately, Tang San took half a year of leave for this trip.

As the two talked, they had already arrived in front of the Cloud Tree.

Three years ago, this Cloud Tree had blood-red branches and leaves, exuding a terrifying aura.

But now, the blood color had faded, and the nine layers of cloud-like crown had turned snowy white again.

Under the sunlight, there was even a silver-blue halo, which was dazzling and captivating.

"So beautiful!"

Huo Wu couldn't help but exclaim, "Compared to before, this Cloud Tree has truly been reborn, transforming this area into a wonderland."

"Papa!"

The Cloud Tree trembled, and the energy of heaven and earth gathered.

A cute little girl appeared, with eyes like gold, and silver-white hair cascading down her back, nearly twice as long as her entire body.

"You've come to pick me up!"

"Do you know how long I've been waiting!"

"I think about Papa every day, longing to merge into one with Papa!"

"Speaking human language!"

"A Ten-thousand year soul beast!"

Huo Wu was shocked.

She hadn't expected this Cloud Tree to become a Ten-thousand year soul beast within three years.

Little did she know, this was because Tang San had injected a bit of the Golden Ancient Tree's aura into the Cloud Tree, allowing her to receive the Golden Ancient Tree's gift.

"Of course! This baby is very powerful!"

The little girl, transformed from the Cloud Tree, jumped into Tang San's arms.

Her golden eyes examined Huo Wu, confirming her identity as one of the humans who helped her three years ago.

She then showed a proud smile and said to Tang San, "Papa, when do we start?"

271: A ray of creative power

Tang San examined the Cloud Tree avatar in his arms, finding that she was different from the energy materialized forms of the Xian Cao (Immortal Herbs) in the Ice and Fire Yin Yang Well. When he touched her, she felt real, like a true infant.

But the Cloud Tree before him still stood tall, meaning she hadn't truly materialized.

"Your guess is correct. The Cloud Tree indeed has the effect of turning the ethereal into the tangible," Iliex suddenly spoke, his tone filled with awe. "Drawing upon the power of the earth below, receiving the light of the stars above, and then utilizing the energy between heaven and earth to materialize Spiritual Power through their operation... This is absolutely controlling the authority of Creation, and for the Cloud Tree, it's even instinct!"

"It's just a pity that facing Soul Beasts, this one would face a heavenly tribulation, and the Cloud Tree has no offensive capabilities whatsoever. Although its inherent defensive power is decent, it's not enough to resist the lightning with the attribute of Destruction."

Tang San held up the Cloud Tree avatar, his attitude solemn, and said, "I came this time to obtain a Soul Ring. Therefore, I ask you: Are you willing to sacrifice yourself to me and witness the future with me?"

"I am willing!" The Cloud Tree avatar didn't hesitate, flying up. Her physical body dispersed, transforming into energy, emitting a strong silver-white light that enveloped the entire Cloud Tree.

At this moment, all the surrounding Cloud Trees began to sway, their dense leaves rustling, as if seeing off the king of the White Cloud Forest.

The nine layers of cloud-like crown successively fell, but they didn't drift to the ground. Instead, they flowed into nine silver-white ring-shaped objects, covering the bare trunk.

Under the rhythm of the nine halos, the trunk slowly dissipated like metal melted by fire, turning into tiny golden light spots that converged at the center, forming a silver-white sphere.

Buzz—

At this moment, the leaves of all the Cloud Trees in the entire White Cloud Forest also began to fall, transforming into the purest white energy, injecting into the silver-white core.

All the Cloud Trees in the entire White Cloud Forest were contributing their own energy!

Thirty seconds later, the entire White Cloud Forest became bare, transforming from its original beautiful, dreamlike state into a sinister, terrifying place.

And at this moment, the nine silver-white halos merged into the silver-white core, bursting forth with a crimson glow, finally forming a scarlet Soul Ring!

However, compared to the typical deep red of a hundred-thousand-year Soul Ring, this one had nine silver-white patterns on it, with a golden ring line on the inner and outer edges.

The Blue Silver Emperor Martial Soul automatically emerged, and that Soul Ring also actively attached itself.

The absorption of the Sixth Soul Ring began—

Tang San circulated the Mystic Heaven Skill, Cosmic Meditation, and Jade Bone Golden Muscle Divine Treasure techniques, rapidly refining the energy within the Soul Ring. He also combined the Cloud Tree's Soul Bone origin with the Cloud Tree's soul, and under the impetus of immense Life force, transformed it into a Soul Spirit like Wu Lin and Wu Tong, or even a more real existence.

In just half an hour, Tang San had already absorbed all the energy in the Soul Ring. And the age of this Cloud Tree's Soul Ring, bolstered by the entire forest, reached the level of two hundred thousand years!

Therefore, Tang San's Soul Power directly reached level sixty-two.

Compared to others, Tang San's Soul Power at each level was greater in quantity and higher in quality. If it were a normal person, absorbing a two hundred thousand-year Soul Ring at the Soul Emperor level could reach at least level sixty-five; but for Tang San, it was only level sixty-two.

The effect brought by the greater quantity and higher quality of Soul Power was that Tang San could fight above his level. At this time, he could calmly deal with any Title Douluo below level ninety-five.

If he used the power of Fusing Rings, Tang San estimated that he could already contend with a level ninety-nine Peerless Douluo, and even surpass them in explosive power.

The First Soul Ring gave the Blue Silver Grass the effect of absorbing the power of the earth; the Second Soul Ring gave the Blue Silver Grass the ability to produce seeds; the Third Soul Ring gave the Blue Silver Grass the ability to absorb light to grow and evolve, and under the effect of the Golden Ancient Tree's Life force, it displayed its true form: the Blue Silver Emperor Martial Soul.

The Fourth Soul Ring came from the Nine Revolution Soul Reviving Herb, and besides bringing a "Revival" Soul Skill, it also gave the Blue Silver Emperor Martial Soul the ability to be reborn detached from the ground, meaning that if a leaf was cut off, it wouldn't dissipate, and once it fell to the ground, it would re-root itself in the earth.

The Fifth Soul Ring was the fusion and sacrifice of the Octagonal Black Ice Grass and the Scorching Apricot, adding ice and fire attributes to the Blue Silver Emperor Martial Soul, which was equivalent to giving the Blue Silver Emperor Martial Soul a small Ice and Fire Yin Yang Well of its own.

It can be said that every one of Tang San's Soul Rings could enhance the basic foundation of the Blue Silver Emperor Martial Soul itself, and the Soul Skills could also complement each other.

The Sixth Soul Ring was also like this.

Just as Tang San had guessed, the Cloud Tree controlled a sliver of the authority of Creation. After obtaining its Soul Ring, the Blue Silver Emperor Martial Soul was like a true plant, capable of truly being planted on the earth and existing for a long time.

As long as Tang San had sufficient Soul Power, he could condense multiple such Blue Silver Emperor Martial Souls.

Moreover, Tang San discovered that the condensed Blue Silver Emperor Martial Soul was like his external brain, capable of storing Spiritual Power... To use a more appropriate analogy, it was like a signal base station, perfectly capable of receiving his Spiritual Power.

After all, this was his Martial Soul.

"Isn't this a Spiritual Power network?" Tang San exclaimed, countless flashes of inspiration bursting in his mind—

As a Soul King, he could make his Spiritual Power manifest on ordinary Blue Silver Grass, but due to the fragility of ordinary Blue Silver Grass, the large consumption of Spiritual Power, insufficient Soul Power, and other reasons, Tang San tried a few times and temporarily gave up on related development, focusing on the cultivation of Spiritual Power.

He hadn't expected that after obtaining the Cloud Tree's Soul Ring, the Blue Silver Emperor Martial Soul could materialize and be planted. The range of rooting was no different from the First Soul Skill, and he didn't need to use extra Soul Power to maintain it.

When he was injured or his Soul Power was insufficient, the planted Blue Silver Emperor Martial Soul would actively repair and replenish him.

If this materialized Blue Silver Emperor Martial Soul were planted all over the entire Continent, with the roots below connected in a continuous expanse, he wouldn't have to worry about Soul Power consumption at all!

Hmm~ This can only be said to be a super enhanced version of the First Soul Skill: Endless Recovery.

More importantly:

Once formed, this would be the Blue Silver Emperor version of the Spiritual Power network!

As long as he and Iliex thoroughly researched the fundamental reason why Spiritual Power could manifest within it, and then made some adjustments, could they also allow others to enter it?

Could a virtual World be created within the Blue Silver Network in the future?

"What a bold idea!"

In shock, Iliex tore off a strand of beard from his chin, then leaned in again and said, "If it were in your previous Life's World without any extraordinary power, the network World in computers, no matter how real, would ultimately only be virtual data, unable to interfere with the material World. But in this World, there are many extraordinary powers such as Soul Power, spiritual energy, and faith. In the future, after the Blue Silver Network is built and the virtual World is created, catalyzed by the thoughts and faith of all beings, and with Soul Power, Spiritual Power, and heaven and earth energy as energy providers, it might truly be possible to create a dimensional World existing in another dimension!"

"Such a World will be a true plane, not a material World similar to a planet!"

The more he spoke, the more excited Iliex became, as if he had already seen Tang San's future "act of Creation"!

He, the Undead Saint Mage God, death Catastrophe, would definitely be able to participate!

Although he had a demiplane, it was only a demiplane and could not be considered a truly qualified Undead World. And in the near future, he would be with Tang San—

Create a true World!

It was incredibly exhilarating!

As for his demiplane... For now, it could only serve as a super large storage space, but perhaps it could be added to that virtual World in the future.

Who knows~ they might be able to create a God Realm that belongs solely to them!

As for the God Realm above the Douluo Continent?

At that time, finding the spatial passage and coordinates connecting the God Realm to Douluo Star, severing the spatial connection, and erasing the corresponding coordinates would be enough.

The entire universe is constantly in operation. Without a spatial passage and without coordinates, those God Realm would probably not even be able to sense the "signal base stations" (places of inheritance) left in the lower realm—it would be tens of millions, or even tens of trillions of years later, before the God Realm finds Douluo Star again.

"Even if it can be done, that's a very distant future." Tang San took a few deep breaths, calming his excited mood, and released his Blue Silver Grass Martial Soul—

272: Illusory Starry World: Twelve Heavens

After absorbing the Soul Ring of the Cloud Tree, the Blue Silver Emperor underwent another transformation. The golden veins were now dotted with dreamlike, misty patterns, adding a touch of mystery.

However, the most important change was the bright pearl at the top. The nebula formed by the convergence of the Sun, Moon, and stars within it had transformed into twelve clusters. An energy-like phantom of the Blue Silver Emperor connected these twelve nebulae, as if supporting twelve layers of heavens, seemingly already automatically evolving into a phantom miniature universe.

“Perhaps, establishing a phantom World won't be that difficult,” Tang San murmured.

“Tang San, what is your Sixth Soul Skill?” Huo Wu interrupted Tang San's thoughts. She looked at the Blue Silver Emperor in Tang San's hand, then at the one planted in the ground. There was no difference. “Can your Martial Soul manifest multiple copies like a food system Soul Master? Is this the Soul Skill brought by the Cloud Tree?”

“Of course not, this is just a passive enhancement brought to my Blue Silver Emperor by the Soul Ring,” Tang San explained with a smile, pointing at the Blue Silver Emperor planted in the ground. “This Blue Silver Emperor has become a physical entity, but it is still my Martial Soul. It can be recalled into my body, but it can also exist independently without being restricted by my Soul Power, just like a real plant.”

Huo Wu stepped forward, touched the Blue Silver Emperor, and snapped off a leaf. She found that sap seeped out: “It really turned into a physical entity! But what's the use of that?”

Just becoming a physical entity seems quite useless, right?

“Drop the leaf you snapped off.”

“Oh.”

Huo Wu did as she was told and found that after the leaf landed, it began to take root at a speed visible to the naked eye, and then another Blue Silver Emperor plant grew.

“This is a passive ability of my Blue Silver Emperor after being enhanced by six Martial Souls. These Blue Silver Emperors also exist. My Fourth Soul Ring brought the passive 'Falling Leaves Take Root' to the Blue Silver Emperor, and these Blue Silver Emperors naturally inherited it.”

Tang San began to explain. Then, with a thought, countless Blue Silver Emperor leaves sprouted within a thousand-meter radius. “Moreover, the Soul Skills I can use, these two Blue Silver Emperors can also use, but they require my control.”

“In addition, I can use Spiritual Power to manifest energy entities within these Blue Silver Emperors. I call them: Thoughtforms.”

“It can be said that as long as I plant my Martial Soul throughout the entire Continent, the Thoughtforms I condense with Spiritual Power will be able to manifest throughout the entire Continent and exert strength not inferior to my main body.”

“After all, the Blue Silver Emperor can absorb the power of the earth, and the Thoughtforms are not real bodies, so I won't get injured.”

“It can be said that just the passive abilities brought by the Soul Rings, coupled with the previous abilities of my Martial Soul, and relying on my strong Spiritual Power, are enough to allow me to know everything in the World in the future without leaving my home.”

Huo Wu was amazed and then smiled: “The consumption of Spiritual Power must be very large, right?”

“Based on the current situation, the consumption of Spiritual Power does not increase with distance,” Tang San performed the Nine Heavenly Steps from Carefree Wind Riding, instantly leaping a thousand meters away, and then returned to Huo Wu's front in the blink of an eye. He looked at the Blue Silver Emperor planted in the ground, stroked his chin, and then looked at the sky. “Perhaps it's because the essence is my Martial Soul, so I can ignore distance, or perhaps it's because its root system is developed and covers a very wide range, so I can sense it... I just don't know if I can sense this type of Blue Silver Emperor if I leave the planet one day.”

“What an exaggerated ability... Speaking of which, after becoming a physical entity, that bright pearl on the Blue Silver Emperor should be considered a fruit, right? Can it be eaten? What are its effects?” Huo Wu raised her hand to pick the bright pearl on the Blue Silver Emperor, but found it was very firm. No matter how hard she tried, she couldn't pick it off.

“I haven't researched that yet,” Tang San saw Huo Wu struggling, took out a dagger, handed it over, and said, “Cut it off and see.”

Huo Wu took the dagger and, with great effort, only managed to scratch a little bit of the skin of the stem below the pearl fruit.

“So hard!” Huo Wu returned the dagger to Tang San, released her Sun Goddess Martial Soul, and used her First Soul Skill, Sun Star Ring. However, with enhanced control, the rapidly rotating Sun Star Ring was controlled by Huo Wu to be only the size of a palm, and she manipulated it to cut the stem below the pearl fruit.

Ten minutes later, the stem was finally cut off.

Plop!

After the pearl fruit fell, the entire Blue Silver Emperor instantly withered and dissipated. Tang San could even sense that the roots underground had turned to nothing in an instant.

As Huo Wu just stood up, her foot slipped, and she almost fell. Just as she was about to study the use of the bright pearl with Tang San, a bird flew overhead and dropped a blob of bird droppings, which landed on Huo Wu's exposed shoulder.

Tang San's eyes narrowed slightly, and he thought: "Illyasviel? Is Huo Wu a bit too unlucky?"

Iliex gave his own opinion, saying, "When your Blue Silver Emperor is planted in the ground, it can absorb the Light of the Sun, Moon, and stars and convert it into energy beneficial to the earth, and even increase the concentration of the World's energy."

"For the entire Douluo Star, your Blue Silver Emperor is its opportunity for advancement. The Continent's luck will be bestowed upon you and your Blue Silver Emperor. She cut off a Blue Silver Emperor you planted, which is equivalent to damaging the luck of Douluo Star."

"It's like the plot of a movie called 'Final Destination' in your past Life's memory."

"However, it shouldn't be that serious for her. She will probably only be unlucky for a day or two, after all, the plane will of Douluo Star shouldn't have such high 'intelligence'."

"Moreover, I don't have much research into things like luck, I'm not very clear..."

Huo Wu took out a handkerchief in disgust, wiped the bird droppings off her shoulder, and cursed: "Don't let me find that bird, or I'll definitely roast it and eat it!"

Caw! Caw!

Just then, a flock of crows flew over.

Huo Wu, who was in a fit of pique, had no good temper. With a raise of her hand, her Third Soul Skill, Fire Dance Dazzle, activated, and beams of Light shot out, knocking down all the crows.

“This is probably what so-called luck backlash is like,” Iliex continued, “As long as you are strong enough, you can suppress bad luck... Tsk tsk, it has the meaning of suppressing luck.”

Tang San didn't think too much about it, he just took the bright pearl that Huo Wu handed over and found that the stem underneath had fallen off, and the entire bright pearl was perfectly round, like a work of art.

Its texture was hard, like diamond.

Tang San used all his strength and found that he couldn't crush it. He said, “It's very hard. Even a Title Douluo cannot destroy it. It is estimated that only a Super Douluo above level ninety-five can destroy it, and—”

As Soul Power was injected, the phantom of the twelve layers of heavens within the bright pearl emitted intense but not dazzling Light. If placed in the night, it would definitely be able to illuminate the space within a certain range, and even make that area as bright as day.

So, this is a natural Soul Tool lamp?

Tang San, not believing it, injected Spiritual Power into it again and found himself in a phantom Starry Sky World. A Blue Silver Emperor with twelve leaves connected the surrounding barriers, and each leaf supported a misty galaxy.

“So, this is the key to the existence of the phantom World!” Tang San returned to reality, injected Spiritual Power into another Blue Silver Emperor, and sank into that bright pearl. He found that he had come to the phantom Starry Sky World again, which was no different from the previous one.

A wisp of Iliex's divine sense also came over at this time, observed it for a while, and said, "It is indeed the same place, that bright pearl is just the key to enter it."

Tang San and Iliex both realized that the main body of the phantom Starry Sky World existed within the origin of the Blue Silver Emperor inside Tang San, seemingly real and illusory. The key was to find a way to solidify it into reality.

At that time, Tang San would become the master of that World!

"What's wrong?" Seeing Tang San stare at the bright pearl for a while, Huo Wu said strangely, "Could it be that you don't even know the function of this pearl?"

"Of course I know, this is the cornerstone for laying the foundation for the future!" Tang San handed the bright pearl over and asked Huo Wu to concentrate and see if she could enter that Starry Sky World.

Huo Wu took the bright pearl suspiciously, looked at Tang San again, wondering if he was trying to see her make a fool of herself, but in the end, she still complied. After all, Tang San couldn't possibly "sneak attack" her while she was concentrating, could he?

Although she would be willing...

Concentrating, Huo Wu stared at the bright pearl in her hand and suddenly found that there seemed to be a suction force within it. Then, her eyes blurred, and she found herself in a strange Starry Sky World—

Outside, Tang San observed Huo Wu's body and found that her eyes were unfocused, as if she had lost her mind, standing still, and her Soul Power was also being consumed.

Based on the current Soul Power consumption, if Huo Wu could not eat, drink, or rest, she could last for six months. Calculating based on a month having thirty days, on average, one level of Soul Power could last for three days.

This consumption doesn't seem too bad.

However, considering that for every level of a Soul Master's Soul Power, the higher the level, the more Soul Power is required, a normal Soul Master in the tens of levels of Soul Power can only last for a maximum of two hours.

Is this reasonable game time?

Putting aside distracting thoughts, Tang San woke up Huo Wu and asked, "How do you feel?"

"It's wonderful." After coming back to her senses, Huo Wu felt completely relaxed, as if her soul had been cleansed by the Starry Sky, and her Spiritual Power had also increased by a negligible amount. "And, it seems it can also enhance Spiritual Power."

"Indeed it can. The more people who enter, the more benefits I seem to gain." After Huo Wu entered the Starry Sky World, Iliex had been observing and found that as Huo Wu moved around in there, some impurities would dissipate from her soul, which is why she felt her Spiritual Power had increased.

This enhancement is not a sudden boost but rather assists in refining the impurities within her soul. Afterwards, when her soul is purified, her Spiritual Power can naturally grow.

As for the soul impurities left in the Starry Sky, they can be refined by the illusory Starry Sky World, becoming nutrients for its expansion. Perhaps in the distant future, Life unique to this Starry Sky World might even be born.

Soul impurities, for a Soul Master like Huo Wu, are dross, a roadblock hindering her Spiritual Power progress. But for Tang San's illusory Starry Sky World, they are sweet nectar that strengthens its origin!

Just as human excrement is despised, for plants, it is excellent fertilizer, able to be transformed into what they need for growth, ultimately yielding abundant fruit.

Huo Wu's mouth formed an "O" shape, and after a while, she propped up her chin and said, "What an incredible ability. Then what is your Soul Skill?"

"My sixth Soul Ring's true Soul Skill..."

Tang San drew out the sound, then smiled and said, "A hundred-thousand-year Soul Ring has two Soul Skills. When the Cloud Tree sacrificed itself, it gained the energy of the entire White Cloud Forest, reaching a cultivation of two hundred thousand years, but it still only has two Soul Skills. The first, I named: Twelve Heavens Starfall!"

As soon as he finished speaking, Tang San's sixth Soul Ring lit up, and the cloud patterns on it emitted a golden Light.

In an instant, the bright pearl atop the Blue Silver Emperor shot out dazzling blue-gold Light, and an illusory Blue Silver Emperor nearly a hundred meters tall appeared, supporting twelve starclouds, covering an area exceeding a thousand meters.

Those withered Cloud Trees were nourished by Life force and regrew white cloud leaves. In just three minutes, the entire White Cloud Forest was revitalized.

"Under the cover of these Twelve Heavens Starfall, my first five Soul Skills can undergo a qualitative change, their effects increasing to six times their original power, and this increase can grow with my Soul Power." Tang San said, "Taking the power of the second Soul Skill's positive and negative buffs, after I reach level sixty-two, the percentage of all-attribute enhancement/weakening reaches sixty-two percent, and under the amplification of these Twelve Heavens Starfall, the percentage reaches three hundred seventy-two percent!"

"Just taking the Soul Power enhancement from the positive buff alone, if you, a level sixty Soul Power Soul Master, are amplified, this more than three times, nearly four times Soul Power enhancement of mine can directly make your Soul Power comparable to a quasi-Title Douluo around level ninety!"

Huo Wu's breathing became rapid because Tang San had already used his second Soul Skill, and the positive buff ring was already suspended behind her, causing her entire body's attributes to explode.

Her Soul Power fluctuation was infinitely close to level ninety-one!

Besides this, her speed, defense, strength, attributes, attack, and so on, all increased by nearly four times!

"Also, this Soul Skill can directly pull the enemy's mind into the Starry Sky World you entered before, leaving their physical bodies standing outside, as if they were scared silly."

This ability might be related to how Blood Sword Norman used a secret technique to allow the souls of other ten-thousand-year Soul Beasts to invade the Cloud Tree's body, thereby allowing the Cloud Tree, after being "washed clean of lead" later, to gain the ability to refine soul impurities and even seize people's minds.

"Doesn't that just turn the enemy into a living target?" Huo Wu was startled, realizing the horror of this Soul Skill, and then she was delighted, after all, Tang San was one of her own.

"You could say that. The most important thing is that after my Blue Silver Emperor gained the Cloud Tree's Soul Ring, it finally has a skill similar to energy projection." Tang San dispersed the phenomenon of the massive Blue Silver Emperor supporting the Twelve Heavens Starfall, and began to demonstrate the sixth Soul Ring's second skill—

Accompanying the second flash of the two-hundred-thousand-year Soul Ring, the Blue Silver Emperor emitted a blue-gold halo in a 360-degree, omnidirectional manner, enveloping Tang San and Huo Wu.

Countless starlight points appeared out of thin air, operating in a peculiar pattern, forming twelve small starclouds, which then rotated around Huo Wu in sequence.

As the starlight points sprinkled down, Huo Wu felt her Spirit receiving an unparalleled enjoyment, as if her soul had merged with the Sun Goddess, basking in the warm sunlight.

When she opened her eyes again, she perceived that her Spirit was incredibly full, and her control over Soul Power was even more exquisite... This was her Spiritual Power increasing!

At this time, Tang San also withdrew his Martial Soul and said, "This is the ability of my sixth Soul Ring's second Soul Skill. It can temper a person's soul, making it more condensed, and even with accumulation over time, it might be possible to materialize one's soul. At that time, a person's soul might reach the God level."

It can be said that with this Soul Skill, Tang San's soul can transcend the mundane before his physical body, and even, as long as he receives the tempering of this Soul Skill for long enough, he can achieve the immortality of his divine soul!

It can enhance soul strength!

This is the true divine skill, already comparable to his Cosmic Meditation. Combined, it might even be possible in the near future to strengthen his Spiritual Power and soul to a point that even the Gods in the God Realm would be beyond reach.

"This is truly—"

Huo Wu was already unable to describe the power of this Soul Skill with words. In her crimson-gold eyes, there was only admiration and reverence for Tang San.

Support system Soul Master?

No!

The man in front of her was a God, and even if he were a God, he would be far from being able to compare to him!

"What is this Soul Skill called?" After calming down, Huo Wu couldn't help but ask.

"I named it: Starcloud Forging divine soul." Tang San thought for a moment and then named the sixth Soul Ring's second Soul Skill. "Isn't my fifth Soul Skill called Ice Fire Alchemy Body? Then this will be called Starcloud Forging divine soul, corresponding to it, forming a 'God-making' system that assists others in shaping their alchemy body and divine soul."

Weak support system Soul Masters can only amplify and heal, with low combat power themselves.

But a powerful support system Soul Master like him can not only heal and amplify but also fight instinctively, and even has the potential to directly create Gods in the future.

"Alchemy body, forging divine soul... Thinking about it carefully, it really seems to be able to provide a Soul Master with the foundation to break through to Title Douluo." Huo Wu was thoughtful, even feeling that Tang San's fifth and sixth Soul Skills, when used on ordinary people who are not Soul Masters, could completely transform them, allowing them to embark on the path of Soul Master cultivation.

This is completely a skill that changes people's fate against the heavens!

"Dad." At this moment, the Cloud Tree's human form jumped out of Tang San's body, happily called out, and said, "I don't have to hide in the Soul Ring anymore! Also, Dad's body has two little sisters."

As she spoke, Wu Lin and Wu Tong also popped out, sitting on Tang San's shoulders one on the left and one on the right, happily saying, "We have a new good sister!"

After the Cloud Tree became Tang San's Soul Spirit, she still had long silver-white hair, but her body was much smaller, just like Wu Lin and Wu Tong, only palm-sized, like a lifelike ragdoll.

However, also because the Cloud Tree inherently possessed a wisp of creation authority, Wu Lin and Wu Tong also became much more real, and they could all change into the size of normal little girls...

273: The time traveler appears again!

Before leaving the White Cloud Forest, Tang San used his First Soul Skill: Endless Recovery, and then his Sixth Soul Skill: Twelve Heavenly Nebula. Relying on the vast Life energy, he restored the entire White Cloud Forest to its original state. The Soul Beasts that had run away because the Cloud Leaves withered also returned to the forest.

He had used the Twelve Heavenly Nebula once before when testing his Soul Skills, causing the forest to regain its vitality. Now, combined with his First Soul Skill, the phenomenon of the Blue Silver Emperor supporting the Twelve Heavenly Nebula was even grander, reaching a height of a thousand meters and covering an area of nearly a thousand li.

Under the effect of the abundant Life force, many Cloud Trees grew along the edges of the entire White Cloud Forest... The area of the whole forest expanded by nearly thirty percent.

"Daddy is amazing!" The Cloud Tree Soul Spirit sat on Tang San's head, clapping its little hands, feeling its Cloud Tree subjects "resurrect" and their vitality even surpassing before. It clapped its little hands joyfully.

"Don't call me Daddy anymore, call me Valley Master. Although you're not from the Ice and Fire Yin Yang Well, you're similar to Wu Lin and Wu Tong, both are plant Soul Beasts." Tang San left a Blue Silver Emperor Martial Soul at the original location where the Cloud Trees grew, then held the Cloud Tree Soul Spirit in his palm. "How about I give you a name? Let's call you Ling Yun. What do you think?"

"Thank you, Daddy, oh no, Valley Master. It's a very nice name, I like it very much." Ling Yun jumped from Tang San's head to his shoulder, kissed Tang San's cheek, and said playfully, "This is a reward for Daddy."

After speaking, it drilled into Tang San's right hand along with Wu Lin and Wu Tong, leaving Huo Wu looking at Tang San with the expression of someone seeing a "scumbag."

"Ahem, Soul Beasts are relatively simple." Tang San explained, but his voice got softer and softer until he finally changed the subject: "Let's go, we'll stay in White Cloud City for a night, and then tomorrow we'll head to the Extremely South Lands of the Douluo Continent to help you hunt for a Soul Ring."

Upon arriving in White Cloud City, the residents were all discussing the Twelve Heavenly Nebula phenomenon they had seen earlier. Some people were panicking, and out of necessity, Tang San could only go to the local Spirit Hall first, explain the situation, saying it was a phenomenon after he obtained a Soul Ring, and then ask the Hall Master of the Branch Hall to lead people to appease the city's residents.

However, Tang San did not stay in the room prepared for him by the local Spirit Hall Branch, but instead found an inn.

One reason was that he didn't want to trouble the local Hall Master to go to extra expense for him, and the second was that Huo Wu felt the inn's space was a bit larger and they could see the street scenery through the window.

For various reasons, the two eventually chose the inn.

"Welcome to White Cloud Inn."

As soon as they entered the inn, the service staff behind the counter put on a formulaic smile, bowed slightly to the two, and said, "Would the two of you like to book a room?"

"We'll take two rooms, facing the street." Tang San took out two silver Soul Coins.

"Okay, please..." The service staff was about to record it but saw Huo Wu next to Tang San constantly winking at her. She immediately understood something -- a woman chasing a man... This man wearing a mask, his eyes are so beautiful, he must be very handsome when he takes off the mask, but it seems his personality is a bit slow-witted.

"Please wait." After casually flipping through the ledger, the service staff showed an apologetic expression, "I'm sorry, two guests, we only have one room facing the street left here."

Tang San's gaze glanced at Huo Wu, who naturally turned aside and was looking at the lobby's layout, and asked, "Should we try another place?"

"No, this is fine, I'm already very tired." Huo Wu yawned, "And a spring bird even pooped on my shoulder earlier, it stinks, I need to take a bath quickly and change clothes."

"But there's only one room..."

"Please rest assured, guests, the beds in every room at our White Cloud Inn are very large, enough for four grown men to sleep on simultaneously, more than enough for the two of you to rest." The service staff smiled slightly, assisting Huo Wu -- helping others achieve their goals, I'm truly a Goodness person.

Tang San gave the other party a speechless glance, just about to say something, but Huo Wu spoke first: "You are a gentleman, you wouldn't cross the line, right?"

"You think too highly of me, and besides, I seriously suspect you're after my body." Tang San tightened his clothes, his eyes full of vigilance.

"Do you think you're very humorous?" Huo Wu feigned disdain and said to the service staff, "This room is fine, I believe in this guy's integrity."

"Wait, isn't this my room?"

Just as the service staff was taking out the key, a slightly arrogant voice came from behind Tang San and Huo Wu.

Tang San turned around and saw a young man who looked about the same age as him, holding a black-haired woman with a well-developed figure, a wicked smile hanging on his lips.

【This plot, why does it feel a bit familiar?】

"Young Master Feng!" The service staff was startled, then said, "I'm sorry, Young Master Feng, you misunderstood. The room you booked has been kept. These two only wanted a room with a window facing the street."

The young man called "Young Master Feng" was stunned, and the woman in his arms laughed, which stimulated him even more, making his face angry, and he said, "Then I'll take all the rooms here!"

"Also, you little chick, you look good, take off your mask and let this young master take a look?" Young Master Feng's gaze fell on Huo Wu, sizing up her figure, talking flirtatiously, and laughed, "This young master is the eldest legitimate son of the Feng Family in White Cloud City. I have plenty of money, and I'm also a thirty-sixth level Grand Soul Master. Do you want to follow me? The person next to you probably hasn't even grown all his hair yet, right? Hehe!"

"Two guests, I'm sorry, please go somewhere else." The service staff looked apologetic, then quietly explained to Tang San and Xiao Wu: "Although first come, first served is the rule, Young Master Feng is from the Feng Family, which is a Soul Master family. There's a Soul King in their family, and we ordinary people can't afford to offend them. It's better to stay somewhere else."

"I heard you." Young Master Feng grinned, pointing at Tang San, "You can leave, but the woman next to you stays."

"What if I say no?" Tang San wouldn't proactively cause trouble, but if someone provoked him, he wouldn't just laugh it off. After all, mosquitoes buzzing in your ear are also very annoying.

"Oh, you dare to challenge this young master, you're the first." Young Master Feng sneered, let go of the woman in his arms, stepped forward two steps, Martial Soul possessed, a pair of blue wings grew from his arms, and a red fleshy comb also grew on his head. It was a top-grade Soul Beast: Blue Feather Chicken!

The so-called top-grade didn't mean that the Blue Feather Chicken was a unique species like the Titan Giant Ape, but rather that this Soul Beast was one of the few poultry that could be raised by ordinary people. Its meat was delicious and nutritious, and its reproductive ability was extremely strong. One Blue Feather Chicken could lay nearly fifty eggs a month.

However, according to the author's deduction in the Spirit Hall's book "Confidential Talks on Avian Soul Beasts," the Blue Feather Chicken was actually a phoenix species, but its bloodline had degenerated.

And three Soul Rings surrounded Young Master Feng: yellow, yellow, purple. The first Soul Ring was extremely light yellow, clearly just over a hundred years old.

"Now, kneel down and apologize to me, or don't think about leaving here unharmed."

"Are you this arrogant? Does the Spirit Hall know?" Tang San's tone was slightly heavy as he looked directly at the other party, "Fighting is not allowed in the city."

"Rules are dead, people are alive, let alone our Feng Family is the largest family here, even the Spirit Hall has to give us face." Young Master Feng chuckled coldly, "Now, you only have two choices: either kneel down and crawl under my crotch; or be beaten up by me. You choose, and I don't want to say it a third time."

Boom!

In just an instant, Young Master Feng was pressed to the ground by an invisible aura, his bones cracking as if they would break at any moment.

Tang San took off his mask, and six Soul Rings appeared: yellow, purple, purple, black, red, red. Especially the last two blood-colored Soul Rings, which frightened everyone present except Huo Wu.

"You are..." Young Master Feng's pupils shrank violently, looking at Tang San in horror, unable to believe it.

"Have you learned to speak properly now?" Tang San's tone was calm, without any trace of emotion, but it was this calm tone that instantly made Young Master Feng's face as white as paper pulp, without a trace of blood.

This person is truly someone you cannot afford to offend!

He could contend with the Spirit Hall Pope with the strength of a Soul King, and now he has become a Soul Emperor, and his Sixth Soul Ring is even at the hundred-thousand-year level. His strength must be even greater!

With such an identity and such strength, even if he killed him on the street, no one would say anything against him, after all, his reputation in White Cloud City wasn't very good to begin with.

And the other party?

His strength is great, no one dares to say anything against him.

He has many identities: Martial Soul Theory Master, whose theories have benefited the vast majority of common Soul Masters on the Continent; Spirit Hall Saint Child, meaning the local Spirit Hall will naturally side with him; Silverblue Earl, personally bestowed the title by Emperor Xue Ye, and the Lord of White Cloud City is his colleague and will definitely support him.

With just a word from the person before them, the Lord of White Cloud City and the Spirit Hall would unite to take down the entire Feng Family, punishing them for disrespecting a Heaven Dou Earl and offending the Spirit Hall Saint Child.

"Please spare me!"

Sensing the pressure on his body dissipate, Young Master Feng ignored the churning in his internal organs and quickly kowtowed in apology, saying, "You are a person of great magnanimity. Please treat me like a fart and let me go."

"No, I am a petty person," Tang San said lightly.

Bang!

Huo Wu, on the other hand, kicked him out to the entrance of the inn, sneering, "You dare to speak to this old lady like that? Do you think I'll let you off so easily?"

"You are truly the first person to make the Spirit Hall Saint Child crawl under your crotch."

Ignoring the injury on his mouth, Young Master Feng quickly crawled over and continued to kowtow, the thudding sounds echoing in the hall, non-stop: "Please forgive me!"

At this moment, Tang San had already withdrawn his Soul Ring and said, "Forget it. You must follow the rules from now on, understand? I don't think you wouldn't understand the principle of first come, first served, right?"

"I understand! I understand!" Young Master Feng quickly kowtowed, a sigh of relief in his heart, thinking, 'Good, this one is more easygoing. If it were someone else, the Feng Family would be finished!'

"This kind of guy is just cheap. If you ask me, just break his hands and feet," Huo Wu, however, was unrelenting, wishing she could just kill the other party, "He almost ruined my good deed, how could I..."

"What good deed?" Tang San asked.

"Cough, nothing." Huo Wu immediately changed the subject and shouted at Young Master Feng, "Why are you still kneeling here? You're an eyesore, get out!"

"Yes, yes, yes!" Young Master Feng immediately pulled his female companion, who was mesmerized by Tang San, and left, afraid of angering these two...

"You are Master Tang San!" The service staff's eyes sparkled with little stars. They nervously took out a notebook and a quill pen from under the counter, and with an excited and anxious heart, stammered, "C-can you... give... me... an autograph?"

"Yes." A natural smile appeared on Tang San's lips. He took the notebook and quill pen and wrote his name on the pure white cover with flowing strokes. Then he handed it back, "Let's make a deal. Don't tell anyone that Huo Wu and I are here. After all, we came to hunt Soul Beasts."

"Please rest assured, unless it is an enforcement team investigating, we will not disclose any information about guests to others." The service staff took the notebook and pen, their face serious. Then they took out a Soul Guidance camera and quietly asked, "Can I take a photo with the two of you?"

"No problem." Huo Wu readily agreed and pulled Tang San along to take a photo with the service staff.

"Are there really no other empty rooms here?"

After taking the photo, Tang San asked calmly.

"This..."

"There aren't any, right?" Huo Wu pinched her shoulder, a hint of threat in her questioning tone, which scared her into realizing that this photo wasn't taken for free. She immediately nodded, "Saint Child, there really are no empty rooms left. Although Young Master Feng left, he didn't cancel the room he booked."

"Alright, one room it is." Tang San decided to sleep on the sofa...

...

"That was close, I almost died."

After Young Master Feng ran out of the White Cloud Inn with his female companion, he ignored the strange looks from passersby on the street, rubbed the wound on his forehead from the kowtowing, grimaced in pain but was full of relief. He said to his female companion, "You go back first. I'll find you next time."

"Young Master Feng..."

Before the female companion could finish her words of concern, Young Master Feng ran towards his family's direction.

"Dai, what's wrong?" At the entrance of the Feng Family mansion, a young man who looked seventy percent similar to Young Master Feng walked over, with a hint of confusion between his brows, "Could it be that you were flirting with a respectable woman and got beaten? That's strange, who would dare to offend our Feng Family?"

"They are outsiders! And they are both Soul Emperors!" Young Master Feng rubbed his forehead, "Hiss--Let me tell you, those two are really powerful. They were members of the previous Heaven Dou Royal Battle Team, Tang San and Huo Wu!"

"It's them!"

The young man's eyes darkened as he recalled what happened three years ago—

At that time, Blood Sword Norman was causing trouble outside White Cloud City. He wanted to ask his father to send people to join the City Lord and the Spirit Hall to剿灭 the Evil Soul Master.

However, the Feng Family Patriarch, who was also his father, did not agree and told him:

[The family is centered around direct disciples with the same Martial Soul. Even the great Sects and families value their direct disciples greatly, let alone small families like theirs?

The Life of every member in the family is very precious!

Simple financial support is enough! Protecting the city and the common people is the responsibility of the City Lord and the Spirit Hall Hall Master, it has nothing to do with small families like them!]

Finally, Blood Sword Norman was surrounded by the City Lord of White Cloud City and the Hall Master of the Spirit Hall Branch in Baiyun Plain and White Cloud Forest. Later, news spread that Blood Sword Norman had a Soul Bone. After that, Blood Sword Norman and other Evil Soul Masters became one of the famous achievements of the three main battle teams: Heaven Dou Royal Academy, Star Luo Royal Academy, and Spirit Hall Academy.

However, there was one thing that confused him at the time, and that was why Tang San and others joined the Heaven Dou Royal Academy?

And Huo Wu, Guang Ling...

At that time, he only had one thought: the plot of Douluo Continent was messed up. Tang San might be a transmigrator like him. He even equated Tang San, who wrote the theory of "Soul Master Self-Positioning Analysis," with the protagonist of this Douluo 1...

And the subsequent Soul Master Tournament confirmed his guess.

That Tang San was really a transmigrator, and there were quite a few transmigrators who appeared in that Continental Elite Tournament. Just the people he discovered included Mu Tian from Shrek, Xu Xing from Star Crown Academy, Wang Chen from Heaven Dou Second Team, Mi Xue from Heavenly Water Academy, and Huo Yuhao, who he didn't know if he was from a parallel universe.

It was terrifyingly real that this Douluo Continent existed, but there were also so many transmigrators, and that Huo Yuhao was even killed by Tang San with one punch in the arena!

And it was Huo Yuhao who had transformed into an Ice Jade Emperor Scorpion!

It was from that moment on that he began a more "profound" concealment—Douluo is too dangerous. Not only are there threats from the natives, but there are also threats from other transmigrators. He must lie low!

"Brother Feng Ming, what's wrong? Your face is a bit gloomy!" Young Master Feng saw his face was as black as charcoal and thought he was going to seek trouble with Tang San and Huo Wu. He quickly advised, "You mustn't be impulsive, otherwise our Feng Family will be finished! If we really offend them, even if our entire family is wiped out, no one will care about us!"

"I know, Dai!" Feng Ming naturally wouldn't be foolish enough to seek death in front of Tang San. After all, this was not a mindless novel. The other party was also a transmigrator like him, not that semi-native Tang San. He had already gained power and was the Spirit Hall Saint Child. If he went up to him, it was possible that the other party would kill him without any reason in broad daylight, and nothing would happen—both the Spirit Hall and the Heaven Dou Empire would stand by Tang San and whitewash him.

Public opinion has always been dominated by those in power.

However, it was really annoying, this situation where he was angered but couldn't vent. The one who was clearly wrong was... it seems it really was his good older brother: Feng Lie.

Feng Ming understood his older brother's personality, which was exactly the same as Dai Mubai's. He was full of tricks and had been through countless flowers since he was twelve.

However, Dai Mubai at least had some strength, while Feng Lie... was completely a bully who feared the strong and picked on the weak. When he encountered a slightly stronger Soul Master, he would surrender without a word.

"Speaking of which, I was beaten by Huo Wu and survived. Can I brag about this for a lifetime?" Feng Lie suddenly touched the shoe print on his mouth and asked Feng Ming.

[He also has a bit of a comedic temperament...]

Feng Ming showed a speechless expression and said, "You can indeed brag about it for a lifetime, but you should cultivate properly. In this World, strength is king!"

"I naturally know that, but, you know, my Martial Soul is just a Blue Feather Chicken, and my innate Soul Power is not high. Now I'm just a Soul Grandmaster... Speaking of which, where have you been cultivating hard for the past two years?"

274: The volcano is about to erupt! The land of the extreme south!

Compared to two years ago, the night in White Cloud City was brighter, with the upgrading of Soul Guidance lamps and the slight roar of the Soul Guidance steam engines in the factories outside the city, giving it a more industrial feel.

Tang San sat on the roof of the inn, looking up at the starry sky, observing the position of the stars in the sky with Iliex, constantly adjusting and improving the Cosmic Meditation to make it more suitable for himself.

Everything in the universe is in motion, but relative to humans, that speed is too slow, so slow that it takes a thousand years for people to notice the stars in the sky moving slightly.

If no one studied the stars in the night sky, it is estimated that even after ten thousand years, they would not know that the stars in the sky are actually constantly moving.

As a Demigod, Iliex could detect the movement trajectories of the stars in the night sky and perform a cosmic simulation in Tang San's upper Dantian, thus jointly deducing the perfection of the Cosmic Meditation with Tang San.

"Currently, this kind of simulation is the only way; to observe the true trajectories of the stars in the universe, I'm afraid you can only break through level 100 first," Iliex looked at the miniature cosmic model condensed with Spiritual Power, deep in thought. "However, for you at the moment, 'Cosmic Meditation 1.0' is enough."

Tang San was noncommittal, stopping the cultivation of the Cosmic Meditation, his brain actively refining the starlight he had just absorbed, while his eyes looked at White Cloud City, which was still busy despite being past midnight, and suddenly asked, "Illyasviel, do you think I'm being selfish? To be able to enjoy myself and see the scenes from my previous Life, I've made the entire Douluo Continent enter a 'fast-paced Life,' and I don't know how many people have had to change their routines because of me."

Iliex was silent for a moment, then laughed heartily and said, "When did you become so sentimental? To be honest, yes, it's quite selfish, but isn't human nature inherently selfish? Compared to those who seize wealth by force, you can even be called a Saint!"

"That's true," Tang San smiled, lay down on the eaves, looked up at the starry sky, "I just didn't expect that I could also change this World..."

"Why aren't you sleeping in the room? What are you doing on the roof? Don't tell me you want to peek at my body?" Huo Wu jumped up from the side of the eaves, her steps light, and sat down next to Tang San. "I didn't expect you to be this kind of person!"

"Wasn't it because I was afraid of being disturbed?" Tang San sat up, his gaze lingering on Huo Wu for a while before he suddenly asked, "Speaking of which, it's already midnight, how did you know I wasn't in the room? I was clearly sleeping on the sofa and even used a pillow as a disguise, and the toilet is next to the bedroom..."

"Cough, I got up to drink water and checked on you by the way. Who knew you were gone?" Huo Wu's face was slightly red, but she immediately found an excuse, then her expression became resentful, "Speaking of which, do you really hate sleeping with me?"

"Do you know what you're saying?" Tang San narrowed his eyes, his aggressive gaze immediately made Huo Wu embarrassed, and she laughed awkwardly, "Uh, I was just kidding, um~ maybe I just woke up and my head is a bit muddled~"

As if!

A Soul Emperor, whose soul had also been strengthened by his [Sixth Soul Skill: Nebula Forging divine soul], and whose Spiritual Power was also slowly increasing, how could she be muddled?

However, Tang San was not unaware of Huo Wu's thoughts; she just desired his body, but—

"To be honest, I like you very much."

Faced with the sudden confession, Huo Wu was stunned, suddenly at a loss, and said, "Uh, I like you too."

As she spoke, Huo Wu's voice became smaller and smaller, her head lowered, and even in the night, through the few strands of hair covering her cheek, her face was flushed with shyness.

"Speaking of which, I already have Xiao Wu, Guang Ling, and Rongrong. Can you still accept me?" Tang San asked, "I am a person who loves widely."

"Hmph!"

The blush on Huo Wu's face disappeared, she snorted coldly, then seemed helpless, sighed, and said, "Most female Soul Masters are proud and cannot accept sharing a husband with multiple women, but who told you to be so outstanding? You make such powerful, beautiful, and excellent women like me dizzy! Of course, the most important thing is that I am so familiar with Xiao Wu, Guang Ling, and Rongrong, and we've long been good sisters who can talk about anything."

"Moreover, coming out to hunt Soul Rings this time, we can be alone together, maybe it was even their joint plan."

With that, without waiting for Tang San to speak, Huo Wu pushed Tang San down onto the roof, using him as a mattress.

They looked at each other.

Contending with each other, coming and going, neither giving way.

A minute later, only a thin, crystalline line remained between the two~

The藕断丝连 (lotus root broken but fibers connected) ...

...

Early the next morning.

The Feng Family's Patriarch, along with Feng Lie and Feng Ming, quietly arrived at the White Cloud Inn, bringing a thousand-year Fire Ganoderma to apologize for Feng Lie's offensive behavior yesterday.

"Feng Family Head, what is this?" The inn manager wiped the sweat from his forehead, his face fawning.

"This is none of your business, we are waiting for someone," the Feng Family Head did not want to say more to the inn manager, walked to the counter, and asked the service staff, "Excuse me, which room did those two guests stay in yesterday? We are willing to wait at the door!"

This kind of behavior was very humiliating.

But who told his foolish son to offend that person?

Although that person seemed not to care, he couldn't relax like this; he had to apologize and take care of everything, otherwise, if the other party just moved their lips, their Feng Family would have no place to stand in White Cloud City.

Feng Ming was very disgusted by this.

Although his older brother was the one who was wrong at first, since the other party didn't care, there was no need to lower their status like this, right? That thousand-year Fire Ganoderma was one of the family heirlooms, and they actually brought it out!

More importantly, he was dragged along.

He didn't want to see Tang San at all; God knows if this fellow could see through his true identity.

"I'm sorry, both of them got up at five and checked out," the service staff said, "Such a prominent figure shouldn't care about your son's offense."

"Is that so? That's good, that's good," the Feng Family Head felt much more relaxed inside, and seeing Feng Lie also breathe a long sigh of relief, he immediately got angry and glared at him fiercely, saying, "Hmph, a useless thing, don't mess around in the future, or if you offend someone, the entire Feng Family will be implicated by you."

After scolding for a few sentences, the Feng Family Head stopped, after all, family scandals should not be spread abroad, and left the White Cloud Inn with Feng Lie and Feng Ming.

"Xiaoyun, who did Young Master Feng offend yesterday?" the manager asked curiously.

"That was a prominent figure from Spirit Hall!" the service staff deliberately lowered her voice, "It was that Martial Soul Theory Master!"

"It was that person! No wonder the Feng Family..." the manager inhaled sharply, then felt a pang of regret for missing the opportunity to meet Tang San, "Why didn't you tell me yesterday?"

"That esteemed person said to keep it a secret, how could I dare tell you? I can't even say it now. Manager, you mustn't speak of this," the service staff instructed.

"Naturally not, do you think I'm like you?" the manager snorted coldly and turned to leave, and three days later, a piece of news spread in the White Cloud Inn: the Martial Soul cultivation theory Master, the Spirit Hall Saint Child, had once stayed in the White Cloud Inn for a night!

Therefore, many people came because of his reputation, vying to book the room that Tang San and Huo Wu had stayed in!

Seeing this, other inns also started promoting that their inns had also been visited by Tang San, and even other industries started using Tang San as a "gimmick."

It wasn't until the local Spirit Hall began to rectify the situation that this chaotic business phenomenon subsided.

And Tang San himself did not know about these things; at this time, he had already gone to the Extremely South Lands with Huo Wu, and with full acceleration, in just half a month, the two arrived at the Molten Volcano Zone.

Along the way, Tang San also planted his Blue Silver Emperor Martial Soul in relatively remote areas—the plan to take root throughout the entire Douluo Star, build the Blue Silver Network, and create a virtual World was underway!

And as the Blue Silver Emperor Martial Soul was continuously planted, Tang San also discovered that his Martial Soul could affect ordinary Blue Silver Grass, causing them to start evolving.

Tang San had not thoroughly researched the specific situation, but according to Iliex's estimation, once these ordinary Blue Silver Grass connected with the roots of his Martial Soul, they could also become "portals" for others to enter the Starry Sky World.

"Is this the Molten Volcano of the Extremely South Lands?" Under Tang San's First Soul Skill, Huo Wu recovered the Soul Power consumed by traveling, looking at the vast expanse of scorched earth before her, and smelling the unpleasant odor in the air, she couldn't help but frown, "This place is truly barren; you can't see any trace of Life."

Tang San planted a Blue Silver Emperor Martial Soul, and after taking root, its leaves turned from blue to red, and the Fire attribute aura was extremely obvious—

After the Blue Silver Emperor obtained the Soul Rings of Wu Lin and Wu Tong, it gained both Ice and Fire attributes. When it was still a Martial Soul, it had great resistance to external ice and fire, and after transforming from virtual to real and becoming a materialized plant, it could change according to the environment.

In this Molten Volcano Zone, the Blue Silver Emperor could absorb not only the power of the earth but also Fire attribute energy, so it naturally transformed into a Blue Silver Emperor with a very strong Fire attribute.

"Okay, now there are plants here," Tang San said with a smile.

"You're really humorous," Huo Wu glanced at the crimson Blue Silver Emperor, then suddenly looked at the towering volcano in the distance, her eyes narrowing, "The surrounding Fire attribute elements are becoming chaotic, and the ground is slightly shaking. Is that volcano about to erupt?"

"It is indeed about to erupt," Tang San had already detected with his powerful Spiritual Power that the lava in the crater more than a hundred miles away was beginning to rise.

Rumble!

275: Large eruption period of lava volcano

Accompanied by an earth-shattering roar, rocks flew and tumbled, and intensely hot magma, like ferocious fire dragons, erupted from underground, rising and swirling within the dark smoke, then spilling down the mountainside, devouring everything in its path.

In an instant, with the volcano as the center, an area spanning dozens of miles was enveloped in a thick mist of smoke.

Gazing at the magnificent scene, Huo Wu exclaimed, “The power of a volcanic eruption is terrifying! Even I can’t withstand such high temperatures. Can a Titled Douluo-level powerhouse withstand this great power of nature?”

“Currently, among the known Titled Douluo on the continent, those below ninety-fifth rank cannot,” Tang San shook his head. “Above ninety-fifth rank, I estimate they wouldn’t be able to endure it for long either, unless their Spirit is a Spirit Beast that can swim in magma, or a Tool Spirit like a protective罩.”

“What kind of Spirit Beast can swim in magma?” Huo Wu became interested.

“According to Spirit Hall’s ‘Volcanic Observations,’ there’s a Spirit Beast called the Fire Spirit Snake that can survive in magma and directly absorb fire-attribute energy as food. However, once it leaves the magma, its body rapidly cools, leading to immediate death.”

Tang San described the habits of this Spirit Beast: “Accustomed to the high temperature of magma, suddenly coming into a low-temperature environment, it naturally cannot adapt. The same goes for Spirit Beasts.”

“Low temperature?” Huo Wu was puzzled. “Is the air temperature low?”

“This is a relative question. The air temperature suitable for us humans is not suitable for the Fire Spirit Snake. It’s like a fish coming onto land; it won’t flop around for long. Spirit Beasts can’t change this either,” Tang San gave an example. “Of course, it’s not just about temperature. The magma environment is different from the air environment, just like when a person’s hand is put into water, they can feel the water pressing on their skin, and the deeper it is, the heavier this pressure becomes.”

“Magma is the same, even more viscous.”

“Fish suffocate when they leave water; in fact, it’s not that they can’t breathe in the air, but mainly that their internal organs can’t adapt to the air environment. Similarly, the Fire Spirit Snake cannot adapt to a non-magma air environment.”

Huo Wu suddenly understood and said, “So, you mean every Spirit Beast has an environment suitable for its survival, and once it leaves, it will die, right?”

“The former is correct, but the latter is a bit extreme. After all, the general living environment that most Spirit Beasts adapt to—temperature, humidity, air density, gravity, etc.—is similar to that of humans.”

Tang San corrected her, looking at the still erupting volcano in the distance, and ended the discussion on “environment and organisms.”

“According to the locals, the volcanoes in this Molten Volcano Zone frequently erupt, usually lasting between one and three hours. And each time a volcano erupts, it leaves behind many extremely hard ores.”

“In addition, some fire-attribute Spirit Beasts will also go afterwards to devour those ores, refining the fire-attribute energy within them to enhance their cultivation.”

“At that time, we’ll just wait for them to come.”

The two slowly walked towards the volcano. Three hours later, they arrived at a place fifty kilometers near the volcano. Through the thick smoke, they saw the other volcanoes.

Counting carefully, there were about one hundred large and small volcanoes in total.

And the erupting volcano was not just the one in front of them; three other volcanoes a hundred miles ahead also showed signs of eruption, with thick grey-black smoke rising from their tops.

Between these volcanoes, there were thick folds of volcanic magma, interlacing to form large and small ravines, but without a doubt, there was not a trace of Life here.

“This volcano hasn’t stopped erupting yet.” Another hour passed, and Huo Wu frowned tightly. “Didn’t they say it usually only lasts for a maximum of three hours? It’s already four hours.”

“Accidents are inevitable.” Tang San didn’t mind, after all, weather forecasts in his previous World often had errors, let alone in this alien World without even artificial satellites?

However, when night fell, the volcano’s eruption still hadn’t stopped. In fact, the other volcanoes also began to tremble, as if they were about to erupt together.

Left with no choice, Tang San could only take Huo Wu and move away from the volcano first, returning to a hundred miles away.

He estimated that this eruption in the Molten Volcano Zone might be a rare major eruption, occurring once in a century, something that cannot be sought but can be encountered.

Spectacular, dazzling.

But it did affect their “waiting for the rabbit” plan.

However, Tang San believed that after this eruption, there would be more valuable ores left behind, and afterwards, it would certainly attract more Spirit Beasts to forage.

“The smell of sulfur in the air is getting stronger and stronger.” Huo Wu covered her nose and fanned it dismissively.

“Here.” Tang San wove two masks from Blue Silver Emperor. After obtaining his sixth spirit ring, the Blue Silver Emperor could materialize from nothing. Masks woven from Blue Silver Emperor leaves could also filter out harmful substances and gases from the air.

After putting on the mask, Huo Wu took a deep breath, feeling the air she inhaled into her lungs was exceptionally fresh, and sighed, “Your Blue Silver Emperor is truly versatile.”

Tang San also put on his mask, smiling without a word.

As the two discussed setting up tents for the night, a hundred miles away from them, a large group of people, wearing trench coats, hoods, and veils, were rushing towards them.

“Those shouldn’t be people coming to hunt Spirit Beasts, right?” Huo Wu said with uncertainty. “I’ve never heard of a Spirit hunting team with over a hundred people.”

In reality, a Spirit hunting team with more than twenty people was already considered large.

During Spirit hunting, too many people would create too much commotion, which could alert Spirit Beasts, causing the desired Spirit Beasts to sense danger in advance and flee, increasing the difficulty of Spirit Masters’ hunting.

“They shouldn’t be people coming to hunt Spirit Beasts; they are people from Molten City in these Extremely South Lands.” Through his mental force detection, Tang San judged their identity based on their skin, which was darker than people from other places.

Molten City is located thousands of miles away from these molten volcanoes.

Before coming to these molten volcanoes, Tang San and Huo Wu had also gone there to purchase relevant medicines and equipment. Their current attire was similar to that of this group of people, wrapped quite tightly.

After the hundred people approached, Tang San and Huo Wu exchanged glances and went to meet them.

“Hello, we are here to hunt Spirit Beasts, but the volcano has been erupting continuously. What is the reason? And what are so many of you doing here?” Tang San stopped one of them, seeing him carrying a large basket filled with neatly stacked empty bags of various sizes, and holding a mining pickaxe in his hand, asking about the situation.

“You must be from out of town, right? I can tell by your accent,” the person said. “The volcanoes here have a major eruption every three hundred years.”

“Presumably, you’ve also heard that each time the volcano erupts, it leaves behind various precious ores. Our Molten City developed by selling the ores from the volcano.”

“In the past, we mainly sold them to Gengxin City, but now, we sell them to Spirit City.”

Huo Wu asked, “So, you’re here to mine ores?”

The person nodded: “Besides this, what else could we be doing? None of us like staying here. Speaking of which, I used to think the major volcanic eruption every three hundred years was a myth, but I never expected to actually see it! My Life is complete!”

Tang San was puzzled: “Some Spirit Beasts feed on the ores after a volcanic eruption. Not many of you are Spirit Masters, right? Aren’t you worried about being killed by Spirit Beasts?”

“Of course, we’re scared.” The person shivered, then continued, “But whenever we mine ores, we always wait until those Spirit Beasts are full before we act.”

“We’ll do the same after this major eruption.”

“We can’t compete with the Spirit Beasts, but what they leave behind is enough for us to sell for a good price. Moreover, the feces excreted by most ore-eating Spirit Beasts are not much different from purified metal, which saves us processing time; we can just pick up the ready-made stuff.”

Tang San nodded inwardly. For the Spirit Beasts here, consuming ores requires the minerals and fire-attribute energy, and earth-attribute energy within them. Metals, for them, are impurities, even toxins, and need to be expelled from their bodies.

“And, regarding this major eruption, our Molten City also has a legend!” The person suddenly deliberately lowered his voice, piquing Tang San and Huo Wu’s curiosity.

“That’s an old story. Don’t try to fool outsiders.”

Just as Tang San was about to ask, another person walked over and slowly said, “We have a legend here, that beneath the molten volcano there is a Molten World. Every three hundred years, when the volcano has a major eruption, the earth will crack open, revealing a passage to the inside... But a legend is just a legend, completely unbelievable. Isn’t there just magma under the volcano? If people go in, they’ll be burned to ashes, or even roasted before they get close.”

“So that’s how it is.” Tang San thanked him.

This legend, in fact, was also recorded in an ancient book in Spirit Hall’s library. Spirit Hall even dispatched a Titled Douluo to investigate three hundred years ago, but unfortunately, that Titled Douluo never returned.

Tang San had only briefly glanced at it at the time, not remembering much, but now recalling it, he felt that the Molten World might actually be real.

After following the crowd for nearly ten miles, the hundreds of people set up tents nearby, waiting for the volcanic eruption to subside.

Some even took out Spirit-guided cameras and Spirit-guided photography spheres, beginning to photograph the volcanic eruption scene.

Either for souvenirs.

Or to sell to relevant newspapers for money after returning.

“I’ve clarified it; this volcano will continue to erupt for seven days and seven nights.” Tang San walked out of the tent cluster and came to Huo Wu’s side. “Within seven days, residents of Molten City and its nearby towns and villages will also rush over.”

Huo Wu asked, “Are we staying here too?”

“Our main purpose is to hunt Spirit Beasts, not to mine,” Tang San shook his head, taking out a map, which was the explored area of this Molten Volcano Zone. “Light Flame Cloud Smoke Bird, Titan Fire Ape, and the like, are probably only found in deeper areas. We’ll use these few days to investigate the flow of the volcano’s magma, and use that to plan a safer route to enter the deeper regions of the Molten Volcano Zone...”

276: Parasitic plant in magma: crystal lotus

Seven days passed in a flash.

The magma eruptions in the Molten Volcano Zone had ceased, and the smoke and dust, carried by strong winds, soared high into the sky, forming thick, dark clouds. On the ground, magma flowed, crisscrossing and converging in the ravines between the volcanoes.

It was a scene of utter apocalypse.

And within that molten rock, some golden, red, and silver crystalline ores also emerged, emitting a scorching fire element aura and shimmering with a faint glow under the molten light.

Buzz—

The ground near the Molten Volcano trembled, and countless beasts and birds came from afar, some glowing with light flames, others emitting fire, arriving at the molten zone where the volcanic eruption had ended. They either clawed open the semi-solidified magma or picked up the crystals within with their sharp beaks, each displaying their unique abilities.

At this moment, even Spirit Beasts that had a “prey” and “predator” relationship did not conflict, focusing on finding various ores and then consuming them.

The human side, meanwhile, observed from a distance, waiting for these Spirit Beasts to be full before they could act.

In a sense, this group of humans pursuing volcanic minerals were the earliest observers of volcanic ecology on the Douluo Continent. It was a pity that almost no one was interested in the connection between these Spirit Beasts and volcanoes; their minds were solely focused on excavating minerals afterwards and collecting the Spirit Beasts' excrement.

And the Spirit Beasts, at this moment, ignored the two-legged beasts observing their eating, drinking, and defecating from the periphery, concentrating on finding energy-rich ores to enhance their cultivation.

Tang San and Huo Wu had already found a path to deeper areas within these seven days. Ignoring these hundred-year and thousand-year Spirit Beasts, they headed straight for the deeper regions of the Molten Volcano.

After advancing about five hundred li, another volcano appeared before them, approximately a thousand meters high. A deafening beast roar emanated from it, followed by a clear phoenix cry.

“What kind of Spirit Beast is that calling?” Huo Wu asked.

“Our luck is good.” Tang San’s mental force had already detected the appearance of the two Spirit Beasts. With a slight curl of his lips, he took the lead and began to climb the volcano.

Huo Wu quickly followed.

Upon reaching the edge of the crater, the magma below was slowly receding, revealing fan-shaped platforms of black rock, each more than two hundred square meters in area.

And on the rock wall, there were golden crystals the size of a head, with golden energy flowing within them. The ripples that emanated solidified the surrounding air.

“According to Lou Gao’s classification of metals and ores, this golden crystal is called Sun Crystal. It exists on the inner wall of volcanoes and is born from thousands of years of magma nurturing. It contains surging fire-attribute energy, and its explosive power is extremely strong, like a sun falling onto the earth.”

Tang San explained, “Because it is difficult to collect and prone to explosion, blacksmiths used to dislike this crystal. However, with the establishment of the Soul Guidance Technology City and the research into soul guidance patterns, this crystal has found new uses: it can serve as a power source for energy.”

“However, harvesting it is still a big problem.”

“Nevertheless, some fire-attribute Spirit Beasts can directly swallow this crystal to refine its energy and improve their cultivation.”

Currently, two Spirit Beasts were collecting and consuming Sun Crystals.

One of them was over twenty meters tall, like a large gorilla, but without any fur. Instead, it was covered in an outer shell similar to molten rock, with faint red firelight emanating from the cracks.

It gripped the black rock fragments, swung its arms, and continuously leaped, collecting the Sun Crystals, occasionally roaring at the other giant bird, which was entirely composed of flames and light, as if proclaiming its sovereignty.

That bird was precisely the Light Flame Cloud Smoke Bird.

It was gnawing on the Sun Crystals on the volcanic rock wall while simultaneously spewing fireballs at the Titan Fire Ape, seemingly wanting to drive it away as well.

“Perfect, when the snipe and clam fight, the fisherman benefits.” Huo Wu rejoiced, feeling that their luck was good this time. “How old are they?”

“The Titan Fire Ape’s cultivation year limit is judged by its size; from the looks of it, at least fifty thousand years. As for the Light Flame Cloud Smoke Bird’s cultivation, it’s judged by the phoenix feathers on its head—one feather grows every ten thousand years. This one has six, so it’s at the sixty-thousand-year level.” Tang San distinguished the cultivation years of the two, then asked, “Have you decided which one to choose? The Titan Fire Ape? Or the Light Flame Cloud Smoke Bird?”

The Titan Fire Ape is fire-attributed, inherently possesses gravity control abilities, and has extreme strength.

The Light Flame Cloud Smoke Bird is light and fire dual-attributed, inherently possesses floating skills, and its entire body seems to be composed of energy.

“The Light Flame Cloud Smoke Bird, I suppose. No matter how I look at it, it matches my Sun Goddess better. Although I do prefer the feeling of direct combat, I also have to consider my Spirit.” Huo Wu hesitated for a moment, but ultimately chose the Light Flame Cloud Smoke Bird.

“Alright then, let’s wait for them to both suffer losses.” Tang San watched the battle between the two giant beasts below, and he and Huo Wu waited patiently for the best moment to act.

Bang!

In its rage, the Titan Fire Ape accidentally crushed a black rock fragment with a little too much force, instantly losing its balance and tumbling downwards.

But fortunately, its arms were flexible. It plunged them violently into the inner wall of the volcano, restraining its body, but then the inner wall suddenly shattered, revealing a massive洞□.

The Titan Fire Ape’s nose twitched, and it gave up on continuing its fight with the Light Flame Cloud Smoke Bird, running into the opening without looking back.

And the Light Flame Cloud Smoke Bird also seemed to catch a scent that attracted it, and it flew in as well.

In the blink of an eye, both vanished from sight.

“What do we do now?” Huo Wu was startled, not expecting such a turn of events. The Titan Fire Ape had actually broken through the barrier and found an opening.

“Let’s go, let’s go in and take a look.” Tang San decided to investigate, leaping into the crater and jumping along the black rock platforms on the edge, heading towards the dark opening.

Huo Wu followed closely behind.

Upon reaching the entrance of the cave, Huo Wu felt an extremely rich fire-attribute heaven and earth energy, mixed with light-attribute energy, causing her Sun Goddess Spirit to tremble, as if urging her to enter quickly.

“There must be a treasure with both light and fire extreme attributes in here!” Tang San took out a soul guidance illumination device, similar to a flashlight, from his storage wristband and led Huo Wu inside.

Following the footprints left by the Titan Fire Ape on the ground, the two quickly advanced. In less than ten minutes, Tang San realized that he and Huo Wu were running downwards along the inner wall of the entire volcano, circling it.

Within this volcanic inner wall, there was actually a spiral staircase leading downwards!

However, the entire volcano was conical. For every ten meters they descended, the circumference they needed to run for one circle increased. But fortunately, both were Spirit Masters, and on the way to the Molten Volcano Zone, Tang San had already taught Huo Wu various unique skills. The Walker’s Running Method from Carefree Wind Riding: Nine Steps to Heaven, when used, their speed was incredibly fast.

In about half an hour, the two had already circled the spiral inner wall of the volcano and saw the exit ahead, which was a hundred meters high and about fifty meters wide.

A dense crimson light shone at the entrance of the cave, emitting a scorching aura.

Tang San looked around and saw several magma flows hanging down like waterfalls, but below was not the imagined magma pool, but a large island made of Sun Crystals.

And in the center of the island made of Sun Crystals, there was a huge golden lotus-shaped plant, entirely brilliant gold, shimmering under the reflection of the molten firelight.

The Titan Fire Ape and the Light Flame Cloud Smoke Bird were running towards that lotus.

“What is that thing?” Huo Wu asked. “Is it a rare treasure, similar to the Immortal Herb you brought back from the Ice and Fire Yin Yang Well before?”

“I’m afraid so.” Tang San nodded, but he wasn’t sure what it was, so he split off a trace of his consciousness and asked the omniscient being in his mind.

“This old man is really not omniscient.” Iliex complained, then carefully examined the lotus with his divine sense, sighing, “I didn’t expect such a thing to actually exist!”

“What exactly is this?”

Tang San pressed, “I can only tell that even if a Spirit Master who isn’t light or fire-attributed consumes this, they can gain immense benefits, even evolving their Spirit, and it will be an extreme evolution towards the light and fire attributes.”

“When this old man was still alive, I once found a secret document that recorded peculiar lotus-shaped plants similar to this one.” Iliex sat cross-legged in Tang San’s upper Dantian, resting his chin, and slowly recounted what he knew, “Legend has it that every World is an unawakened Life. The earth and oceans are Her skin, the rock layers are Her muscles, the magma is Her blood, and the core is Her soul.”

“And the living beings that reside in the earth and oceans, including humans, are merely insignificant Parasites, or not even considered Parasites.”

“The true ‘Parasites’ are existences that feed on Her blood energy—”

“Crystal Lotus.”

“A peculiar plant that draws energy from magma to survive.”

“Places with such plants usually have large-scale volcanic groups, which are the means by which the World’s will tries to remove them from its ‘blood’...”

“This Crystal Lotus should have originally been in a deeper position within the magma, but due to this volcanic eruption, it was pushed to an area closer to the outer layer of the earth.”

“Now I do believe this is real, and it’s similar to what you told Huo Wu earlier about organisms adapting to their environment. Just like fish cannot leave water, and fire Spirit snakes cannot adapt to air, this Crystal Lotus also cannot adapt to a non-molten survival environment.”

“Originally, this Crystal Lotus should have been ejected and then withered and died in the air, but this one was lucky. It was blocked by magma in this area, instead of being directly spewed out from that large opening. However, the temperature here, compared to the inner layer of magma, is very low. It’s like a person suddenly going from a normal temperature environment to a low-temperature environment of minus ten degrees Celsius.”

“It is estimated that this causes great harm to the Crystal Lotus, and it will take three hundred years to recover... This also created the legend about this Molten World in the Molten City outside.”

By the time Iliex finished speaking, the Titan Fire Ape and the Light Flame Cloud Smoke Bird had already approached the Crystal Lotus...

277: Huo Wu's sixth soul skill: Sun Fire Lotus

Roar!

The moment it approached the Crystal Lotus, a scorching energy, like the sun, erupted from within, sending the Titan Fire Ape and Light Flame Cloud Smoke Bird flying. The scorching high temperature even made it difficult for the two unique Spirit Beasts to get up immediately.

One of the Light Flame Cloud Smoke Bird's wings was even broken, and the flames and flowing light on it diminished, revealing its brilliant golden-red feathers.

"So strong!" Huo Wu's eyes narrowed. "Does that thing attack on its own? Is it a plant-type Spirit Beast?"

"That's a Crystal Lotus, a plant that can only survive in magma..." Tang San briefly introduced the Crystal Lotus to Huo Wu, his brows tightly furrowed. "From the current situation, this Crystal Lotus has indeed become a Spirit Beast, possessing a vast spirit power fluctuation, at least reaching the hundred-thousand-year level."

Hundred-thousand-year level Spirit Beasts are equivalent to a Level 95 Titled Douluo.

Not to mention, this Crystal Lotus is a plant that lives within the planet's magma. Unique species like the Titan Fire Ape and Light Flame Cloud Smoke Bird simply cannot compare to it.

Even though the Crystal Lotus is currently in a debuff environment, it is not something these two ten-thousand-year Spirit Beasts can contend with. Just one move made them dare not attack again at will.

"Hundred thousand years!" Huo Wu's eyes lit up as she asked, "While traveling, you and I also practiced dual cultivation of qi and blood, and my research into gravity has also continuously strengthened my body. Is it possible for me to withstand a hundred-thousand-year spirit ring?"

"You can't withstand it." Tang San shook his head. "If it were an ordinary hundred-thousand-year spirit ring, I could continuously restore your body with the Blue Silver Emperor's Life force, and you might have a chance to absorb it. But this Crystal Lotus is a hundred-thousand-year level, and it's a unique among uniques. Although for the entire World, it's a Parasite that hinders the World's improvement, for us humans, it can also be called an innate being nurtured by the plane."

If a comparison were made, Tang San could say that this Crystal Lotus is on the same level as the Silver Dragon King in terms of origin, but its cultivation is far inferior. Moreover, this thing is detested by the entire Douluo Star, yet it is rooted in the magma, and the plane's will can only destroy this kind of Crystal Lotus through volcanic eruptions.

With Huo Wu's current physical quality, without external help, she can at most withstand an eighty-thousand-year spirit ring.

As for this Crystal Lotus's spirit ring...

Unless it sacrifices itself, even with Tang San's help, Huo Wu has no possibility of successfully absorbing it.

"But, I can feel the Sun Goddess craving that Crystal Lotus." Huo Wu released her Spirit. The Sun Goddess, who looked exactly like Huo Wu, had her face turned towards the Crystal Lotus.

Even though the Sun Goddess's eyes were closed, Tang San and Huo Wu could both feel her "unblinking" gaze.

Even when manipulated by Huo Wu to turn her lower body, her head remained motionless, facing the Crystal Lotus, even actively opening her arms as if to pounce and embrace it.

"Perhaps she can try."

Iliex suddenly spoke, "Although that Crystal Lotus possesses immense energy and has become a Spirit Beast, it only has instinct and no intelligence whatsoever... As a plant Parasite in the 'blood' of the World, the plane's will instinctively suppresses the birth of its intelligence. If such a plant were to develop intelligence, it would likely actively draw energy and become a true menace to the World."

"The Sun Goddess's attributes are extremely compatible with that Crystal Lotus. If Huo Wu can control the Sun Goddess to land on that Crystal Lotus, perhaps the Crystal Lotus will instinctively believe that Huo Wu is the intelligence it gave birth to."

Tang San pondered for a moment and decided to let Huo Wu try. After all, it was just letting her Spirit go over. Even if there was danger, she could immediately retract it, making the risk smaller.

"Then let's try it!" Huo Wu stretched her wrists, controlling the Sun Goddess with her mind to fly towards the Crystal Lotus.

The Titan Fire Ape and Light Flame Cloud Smoke Bird noticed the Sun Goddess and became more vigilant, but they did not attack. Instead, they wanted to see how this human-like Spirit Beast would deal with that large flower.

The Crystal Lotus was entirely brilliant gold, yet transparent. As the Sun Goddess slowly approached, it actually opened its petals.

Counting carefully, there were thirty-six petals. At its center was a crimson lotus pod, on which nine round, golden lotus seeds slowly emerged from the lotus receptacle, carrying golden halos, suspending themselves around the Sun Goddess, and actively drilling into her mouth.

The Sun Goddess also instinctively opened her mouth, swallowing the nine lotus seeds one by one, then her entire body ignited with golden flames, and she sat into the lotus platform of the Crystal Lotus.

The thirty-six petals also gradually closed, enveloping the Sun Goddess.

At the same time, Huo Wu also sat cross-legged on the spot. The bottleneck of her Level 60 spirit power began to break through, golden energy flowed through all the meridians of her body, and her entire physique slowly grew stronger.

"It really succeeded?" Tang San was surprised.

"My suggestion is worth trying." Iliex laughed. "However, what's more important is that this World possesses magical Spirits and Spirit Beasts. Otherwise, she would at most be able to use that Crystal Lotus to strengthen her body and improve her cultivation. But now, I estimate she can use the Sun Goddess to obtain everything from the Crystal Lotus. In the future, she might even be able to master the ability to swim in magma."

At this moment, the two Spirit Beasts below couldn't hold back and wanted to attack the Crystal Lotus, but Tang San wouldn't allow them to do so. He released his Clear Sky Hammer, which transformed into the Nine Haos, and directly lunged towards the Titan Fire Ape, tearing at it.

After Tang San broke through to Spirit Emperor, the Nine Haos also grew a sixth head, with gray eyes, representing the death attribute.

The Titan Fire Ape, whether in terms of strength, defense, or control over flames, was far inferior to the Nine Haos. In just three rounds, one of its arms was broken, and then it was fiercely trampled underfoot.

The Light Flame Cloud Smoke Bird, on the other hand, was entangled by Tang San's Blue Silver Emperor, its body controlled and bound to a protruding Sun Crystal pillar.

Wu Lin and Wu Tong were released. One was responsible for cooling down the Light Flame Cloud Smoke Bird, and the other was responsible for interfering with the fire element energy within its body, preventing it from condensing energy.

Two ten-thousand-year Spirit Beasts, both capable of contending with Titled Douluo, were defeated and controlled by Tang San in the blink of an eye. Although both had been injured by the Crystal Lotus's energy impact earlier, even if they hadn't been injured, with Tang San's current strength, without using spirit ring fusion secret art, he could still deal with them relatively easily.

While Huo Wu was cultivating and absorbing the Crystal Lotus, Tang San collected a lot of fur, feathers, and blood from the Titan Fire Ape and Light Flame Cloud Smoke Bird, and then used his First Soul Skill to heal them, saying, "You are unique among Spirit Beasts, and your intelligence should be higher than that of ordinary ten-thousand-year Spirit Beasts. You understand what I'm saying, right?"

"Behave yourselves. Once my companion finishes absorbing the Crystal Lotus, we will leave. We won't kill you."

The two great Spirit Beasts felt their injuries recovering and the Life aura from the human in front of them. They calmed down and stopped struggling.

Half an hour later.

The Crystal Lotus suddenly bloomed, its petals opening one by one, revealing the figure radiating infinite light and fire.

As the flames receded, Tang San lowered the hand covering his face.

The Crystal Lotus petals scattered, circling the Sun Goddess in a peculiar trajectory, constantly approaching and shrinking, connecting to her waist, forming a golden lotus-shaped glazed mini-skirt.

Yellow, yellow, purple, purple, black, five spirit rings emerged from the Sun Goddess. As the final red spirit ring appeared, the Sun Goddess's tightly closed eyes slowly opened, her golden pupils extremely agile, as if the entire Spirit had come to Life.

At her glabella was a lotus-shaped pattern, dotted with nine sesame-sized crimson-gold dots, as if containing the power of a true sun.

"What? You don't recognize me?" The Sun Goddess spoke, her voice that of Huo Wu, but with a hint of etherealness, truly as grand as a deity.

"It's not that I don't recognize you, it's just that you seem to have gained a lot of benefits, actually being able to use your Spirit as another body." Tang San observed the Sun Goddess for a while, then looked at Huo Wu's true body sitting cross-legged at the cave entrance. "Can you still control your original body?"

"Yes." The Sun Goddess nodded, the agility in her eyes not dissipating, while Huo Wu stood up, leaped down, and came before Tang San.

Both of their gazes were equally agile, like one person, yet they could do different things.

"How do you feel now?" Tang San pinched the Sun Goddess's skin, finding it no different from a real person, even smoother than Huo Wu herself.

"How should I put it?"

Huo Wu and the Sun Goddess spoke in unison, "Both are me. Controlling two bodies with one soul, this feeling is very strange, I don't know how to describe it, but it should be considered a very advanced art of multitasking."

As she spoke, the Sun Goddess approached Huo Wu, her figure becoming illusory and overlapping with her. Subsequently, Huo Wu's hair began to dance, the lotus-shaped pattern appeared on her forehead, and a black, form-fitting bodysuit, similar to a leather suit, appeared on her body. Golden patterns were engraved on it, forming a golden sun pattern at the cleavage.

At her waist, there was also the lotus mini-skirt made of thirty-six golden crystal petals, shimmering with a faint golden-red glow. Upon closer inspection, each crystal petal had a sun-like pattern within it, as if it were the most brilliant work of art in the World.

"How do you think I am now?"

Huo Wu's voice was much more normal. Then, with just a raise of her hand, a golden Crystal Lotus condensed. It had thirty-six petals, and golden flames flowed on them. At the center were nine thumb-sized, round spheres, like lotus seeds, containing extremely terrifying energy.

"Is this the First Soul Skill of your sixth spirit ring?" Tang San observed curiously. "I can feel the immense energy within it. If it explodes, its power will probably be enormous."

"That's right, this is the First Soul Skill that the hundred-thousand-year spirit ring gave me, a range-based explosive damage. The range and power probably can't be tested here, but I've already thought of a name: Sunfire Lotus!"

278: Say this in front of an "eight" year old girl

Chapter 278: Saying such things in front of an “eight”-year-old girl.....

With meticulous control over her spirit power, Huo Wu dispersed the Sunfire Lotus, then condensed another lotus.

Compared to the previous fire lotus, this one had no golden flames on its petals, was more crystal clear, and emitted a faint white light.

“This is the second Spirit Ability of my sixth spirit ring: Sun Space.”

Huo Wu threw this lotus towards the Light Flame Cloud Smoke Bird. When it floated above the Light Flame Cloud Smoke Bird, its thirty-six petals immediately spread out, enveloping the opponent, connecting to each other with rays of light, continuously closing in on it.

In a short while, the entire Light Flame Cloud Smoke Bird, along with the Sun Crystal Pillar, was enveloped by the thirty-six petals and began to shrink, finally transforming into a palm-sized lotus bud.

“The effect is this: it can seal Spirit Beasts, and even people, within it. Moreover, the sealing effect is extremely powerful; as long as this lotus bud is not broken, they can remain sealed indefinitely.”

“More importantly, I can transform this Sun Space Lotus into a Sunfire Lotus and explode whatever is sealed inside.”

After speaking, Huo Wu withdrew from her Spirit possession state, and the Sun Goddess returned to Huo Wu’s body. A trace of sweat seeped from her forehead. “Phew~ Using two Ten-thousand year Spirit Abilities consumes quite a lot.”

After Tang San replenished her spirit power, he took the lotus bud, squeezed it slightly, and found its hardness was excellent. He asked, “If it’s not violently broken, how do you open it?”

“I just need to infuse spirit power.” Huo Wu reached out her hand above the lotus bud and infused a trace of spirit power. The lotus bud quickly opened, and the Light Flame Cloud Smoke Bird flew out, returning to its original size.

“Quack! Quack!”

The Light Flame Cloud Smoke Bird, having returned to its original size, shook its neck and let out a crow-like cry at Huo Wu.

The Titan Fire Ape nearby also showed fear, directly lying on the ground and playing dead, hoping to avoid being tormented by these two terrifying bipedal apes.

Watching the lotus bud in his hand dissipate, Tang San also realized that the seal of this Spirit Ability was one-time. Once the seal was released, the sealing medium would dissipate and could not be reused; Huo Wu would need to cast the Sun Space Spirit Ability again.

“Does this Spirit Ability have any limitations?” Tang San asked.

“Yes, it can only be cast thirty-six times a day. After all uses are exhausted, even if spirit power is sufficient, it cannot be used and requires thirty-six hours of recovery.”

Huo Wu sensed the spirit power circulation route of the second Spirit Ability within the Ten-thousand year spirit ring. Although she couldn't see it very clearly, she still observed thirty-six nodes with her mental force. One of them was already broken but was slowly recovering, which would take about an hour.

This kind of recovery could not be accelerated by spirit power; it could only rely on the spirit ring's own power to restore.

“That’s still good.” Tang San nodded. “Especially your Spirit has also evolved. It can possess you, or exist independently as your clone.”

“It’s just in terms of gravity—”

Before he could finish, he was interrupted by Huo Wu’s “Humph humph~” She said, “After absorbing the Crystal Lotus, my control over gravity has also increased!”

“Is that so?” Tang San pondered for a moment and expressed his opinion, “Perhaps it’s because the Crystal Lotus, as a plant Spirit Beast, originally grew in magma, closer to the planet’s core, and thus was slightly affected, or perhaps it’s because it can move up and down within the mantle layer, and therefore inherently controlled an ability similar to gravity?”

Tang San didn't know the specifics, but he was happy for Huo Wu.

“And there’s more!”

Huo Wu said proudly, “After absorbing the entire Crystal Lotus, its immense energy exists within my Spirit. For my future seventh, eighth, and ninth spirit rings, I won’t need to hunt Spirit Beasts. As long as I reach the corresponding level, I can condense them with the help of my Spirit.”

“The cultivation age of this Crystal Lotus is not just the Ten-thousand years you guessed; it’s nearly one million years!”

Hearing that the Crystal Lotus contained so much energy, Tang San was also shocked. He then smiled and said, “Isn’t that great? In the future, it will save us the trouble of hunting Spirit Beasts, and we can concentrate on cultivation or delve into auxiliary professions.”

Speaking of auxiliary professions, besides studying physics, Huo Wu also practiced forging.

However, unlike ordinary blacksmiths who forge with hammers, Huo Wu used flames to melt metal, and then, relying on her research in gravity, continuously compressed the molten metal liquid.

This method was much more efficient than ordinary forging Grandmasters. She could forge nearly half a ton of Hundred Refined Iron at once.

However, for most blacksmiths in Soul Guidance Technology City, this was cheating; the Hundred Refined Iron refined this way had no soul!

“Indeed, by then, I might even become a forging Grandmaster.” Huo Wu put one hand on her hip, her gaze falling on the Titan Fire Ape and the Light Flame Cloud Smoke Bird, and asked, “What should we do with these two Spirit Beasts?”

“Let them go.” Tang San glanced at them both and said slowly.

The Titan Fire Ape secretly opened one eye.

The Light Flame Cloud Smoke Bird also looked at Tang San.

“Let them go? These two Spirit Beasts are both rare variants, and one has a cultivation of fifty thousand years, the other sixty thousand years. The chance of them dropping Spirit Bones is much higher than other fifty thousand-year Spirit Beasts.” Huo Wu smiled as she looked at these two Spirit Beasts, who showed human-like expressions of fear, finding it quite amusing.

“Alright, stop scaring them.” Tang San shook his head. “We don’t need their spirit rings, so there’s no need for wanton killing. After all, Ten-thousand year Spirit Beasts on the continent are one less for each one killed.”

Under the gaze of the Titan Fire Ape and the Light Flame Cloud Smoke Bird, Tang San and Huo Wu left through the original cave entrance. The two of them exchanged glances, both exhaling like humans, as if relaxing their guard. But soon they roared and chirped like beasts again, quarreling over the territory here, finally taking the original location where the Crystal Lotus grew as the boundary, not interfering with each other, and began to gnaw on the island made of Sun Crystal they stood on...

...

“If those two Spirit Beasts eat up the island where the Crystal Lotus grew, their cultivation should increase rapidly, right?” Huo Wu was still thinking about the Spirit Bones of those two Spirit Beasts, licking her lips. “When they reach Ten-thousand years, should we kill them for their bones?”

“Spirit Bones are a special kind of material, but currently, they are not that important.” Tang San stated that Spirit and spirit rings were enough for a Spirit Master to immerse themselves for a lifetime, and to research spirit tools through the principles of spirit ring Spirit Abilities.

And Spirit Bones were relatively rare, impossible to obtain on a large scale, and Spirit Beasts were also a rare resource, so they could not be wantonly slaughtered to obtain Spirit Bones.

Not to mention, Xiao Wu was also a Ten-thousand year Spirit Beast in human form!

Even if a transformed Spirit Beast, from a racial perspective, had already betrayed the Spirit Beast race, they still had a leaning towards Spirit Beasts in their thoughts.

Therefore, if they could avoid wanton killing, they would.

Secondly, Gu Yuena’s feelings also needed to be considered. In the future, he hoped that humans could break free from the limitations of Spirit Beast spirit rings, and even one day live in peace with Spirit Beasts... Hmm~ This point was not very realistic, but at least there should be a tendency for mutual respect, rather than plundering Spirit Beasts and merely using them as resources for their own advancement.

And there’s one more thing—

“You’ve already been taught the Jade Bone Golden Muscle Divine Treasure Method, what do you need Spirit Bones for?” Tang San asked strangely.

“Spirit Bones, for Jade Bone, can be said to be impurities. However, looking at your situation, it seems Jade Bone doesn’t reject external Spirit Bones much. Is it because external Spirit Bones can also evolve? This point is worth considering.”

“Alright, let’s talk about that later. Now, I want to have a hearty battle with you!” After walking a circle in the spiral volcanic inner wall passage, Huo Wu suddenly leaped in front of Tang San, pressed him against the wall, and released the Sun Goddess. The two of them pressed tightly against Tang San, one on each side, and began to move their hands up and down him.

“Here?”

Tang San was surprised. He didn't expect Huo Wu to be so bold, wanting to perform the great act of propagating Life in this place, and even releasing her Spirit... What was she trying to do now?

“I want to see if, with your strength, you can fight one against two?” Huo Wu smiled charmingly, then said seriously, “And help me test if this Spirit body is exactly like a real person.”

“Joke, how dare mere two challenge me? Even if there are ten, I can handle them!” Tang San disdained (￣_￣), responding to Huo Wu’s enthusiasm, and began a protracted tug-of-war with her...

...

Spirit City.

Soul Martial Manor.

Gu Yuena found Guang Ling and studied knowledge related to spirit tools with him.

As the co-lord of Spirit Beasts, she had already realized that the strength of humans lay in their wisdom, and spirit tools were the crystallization of human wisdom. As long as she learned this knowledge, then she could also lead Spirit Beasts to rise!

Unfortunately, Gu Yuena was too naive in this regard.

Leaving aside the intelligence of Spirit Beasts, if Spirit Beasts wanted to rise, they would first have to abandon the hierarchy on the “food chain,” not prey on each other, all become vegetarians, and even not eat plant Spirit Beasts.

Otherwise, even if humans categorized all plants and animals with spirit power as Spirit Beasts, Spirit Beasts were not a true race in a meaningful sense. They included Blue Silver Grass, Soft Bones Rabbit, lone wolves, white tigers, phoenixes, Man Faced Demon Spiders, and many other different races. The relationship between them was simply: eat or be eaten.

Even Ten-thousand year Spirit Beasts, possessing human intelligence, if they didn't transform or leave their original living areas, they would never know change, and their hard-won intelligence, comparable to humans, would only stiffen over a long period of time.

At this time, Gu Yuena had not yet realized this, but perhaps even she herself didn't know that one day when she truly returned to the Star Dou Great Forest, she might find the environment there very uncomfortable.

“Guang Ling, aren't you afraid that Tang San will also take Huo Wu as a spouse?” While studying spirit tool patterns, Gu Yuena suddenly asked this question. “You and Xiao Wu's sisters might have one more!”

Guang Ling looked at Gu Yuena strangely and said as a matter of course, “It's very normal for an excellent man to be liked by girls.”

“Xiao Wu and Rongrong and I are not jealous. Besides, Huo Wu is so familiar with us, and we also know she has feelings for Brother San.”

“Furthermore, Brother San is very strong~”

“We will all be happy.”

Gu Yuena: “???”

You are not right!

279: Xiao Wu's One Hundred Thousand Year Soul Skill (Part 1)

Nerve

Tang San, fighting one against two, ultimately achieved the final victory.

After getting dressed, Huo Wu lay on Tang San's back, her face flushed, and softly said, "I'm tired, carry me out."

The Sun Goddess had also been confirmed by Tang San; it was said to be a Spirit, but also like an energy-materialized clone of Huo Wu, having reached the level of turning illusion into reality.

It could only be said that it was indeed a Crystal Lotus, a Parasite plant within the planet's blood, always unexpectedly powerful.

Faced with her coquetry, if they hadn't had relations, Tang San could have righteously refused, but since they already had the "reality of husband and wife," he could only "compromise."

After carrying Huo Wu out of the volcano, Tang San looked at the cave entrance on the inner wall of the volcano, and then at the continuously descending lava, saying, "It seems that this place will not have large-scale volcanic eruptions in the future. Molten City's once-every-three-hundred-year major volcanic eruption period is about to disappear."

This might cause Molten City to lose a festival held every three hundred years, but for Molten City, there would be no need to worry about the Molten Volcano Zone suddenly having a super-large eruption, leading to the entire Molten City being covered by lava.

In the future, the humans here can develop in peace.

"By the way, after the Crystal Lotus is gone, will the volcanoes in the Molten Volcano Zone gradually disappear?" Huo Wu suddenly asked, "Will the Spirit Beasts here go extinct?"

It wasn't that Huo Wu cared about the Life of the Spirit Beasts, but without the Molten Volcano, most of the Spirit Beasts here might go extinct, and there would be one less place for Spirit Masters to hunt Spirit Beasts in the future.

Although human development is about seizing the living space of Spirit Beasts, Spirit Beasts are also important resources!

"No," Tang San said decisively, "The volcanoes here are continuous; for them to extinguish, it would probably take hundreds of thousands of years. Besides, the planet's plates are already moving, and the volcanoes here are also considered heat vents."

As the two chatted, they had already descended the volcano and were heading towards the outer perimeter of the Molten Volcano Zone.

Along the way, they saw many Spirit Beasts searching for and refining ores, but compared to before, there were already fewer. However, the people waiting at the outermost perimeter still dared not approach, waiting for these Spirit Beasts to disperse on their own.

Tang San and Huo Wu, being bold due to their high skill, directly entered the Spirit Beast group and began to pick out various precious ores and metals.

Although those Spirit Beasts were wild, they were all searching for ores at this time to increase their cultivation. Even the upper and lower levels of the food chain did not interfere with each other, let alone humans?

As long as Tang San and Huo Wu did not actively attack, the Spirit Beasts would not attack at this time either.

After all, the ores were hidden in semi-soft, semi-hard lava. If they solidified, the ores they needed would sink into the lava, making them much harder to excavate.

This volcano ore feast lasted for three days and three nights, and the Spirit Beasts began to disperse. The humans waiting on the periphery then moved in, carrying picks, shovels, and other tools, and began to search for ores and collect the high-quality metallic mineral excretions left by Spirit Beasts after consuming ores.

Commonly known as: poop gold.

Perhaps this was also why the Spirit Beasts here would not harm humans at this time; after all, there was a lot of excretion, and the Spirit Beasts themselves couldn't handle it. At this time, if someone could come and clear away the excretions, wouldn't it save them the trouble of waiting for the excretions to be naturally covered by lava, allowing them more time to search for ores?

Huo Wu looked at a warm, silver piece of poop gold and sighed, "Spirit Beasts are truly amazing; they can actually purify metal. A silver block like this is already close to the Hundred Refinements level."

"Nature's uncanny craftsmanship is indeed astonishing, but only human wisdom can achieve something even greater."

Tang San knew that for most blacksmiths, the purity of the poop gold excreted by the Spirit Beasts here after consuming ores far exceeded the effect they could achieve by hammering metal hundreds or thousands of times.

But only humans could forge metal into weapons, armor, tools, and so on.

However, it had to be admitted that the Spirit Beasts evolved in this environment had extremely strong digestive abilities for ores, making them natural "metal purifiers."

It was just a pity that humans currently could not actively utilize this point, only passively benefiting from these Spirit Beasts.

After spending seven days, Tang San and Huo Wu had collected many precious metals and intended to leave. The person Tang San had previously asked for information found them and asked, "Do you want to participate in Molten City's grand event? This time we had a great harvest of metal ores, and the City Lord is preparing to hold a grand banquet!"

"Alright, then please tell me, what are the events at the banquet?" Tang San became a little interested, not out of curiosity, but to understand the local customs and collect Spirit data of most people in the city to infer the evolution of Spirit in Molten City, thereby increasing the validation of existing theories and providing arguments for future new theories.....

Half a month later, Tang San and Huo Wu arrived at the small town outside the Star Dou Great Forest and met Xiao Wu at the agreed-upon inn.

"I knew it, you two definitely did it!" Xiao Wu smiled playfully and said to Huo Wu, "Having gotten your wish, shouldn't you thank us properly, Fourth Sister?"

In terms of age, on the surface, Huo Wu appeared to be the oldest among them, but there was an order of precedence, and truly, in terms of age, Xiao Wu was a Ten-thousand year soul beast who had taken human form, so she was naturally the oldest!

"Hmph, what does it have to do with you all?" Huo Wu declared that she would absolutely not call Xiao Wu, Guang Ling, Ning Rongrong, and the others "Elder Sister"!

However, regarding the address "Fourth Sister," Huo Wu did not refute it.

Who told her she was behind?

"Let's not talk about these," Tang San awkwardly changed the subject, asking about Xiao Wu's sixth spirit ring, "How many years has your sixth spirit ring condensed, and what is its Spirit Ability?"

Xiao Wu put one hand on her hip, her Spirit naturally possessed her, a pair of rabbit ears popped out of her head, two tufts of golden fur like burning flames grew from her wrists, and white rabbit fur appeared on her snow-white legs, showing dragon-scale-like patterns.

Subsequently, six spirit rings appeared in succession around her body, trembling slightly. The sixth spirit ring was a blood-red Ten-thousand year spirit ring.

"Indeed, you are also at the Ten-thousand year level." Huo Wu also possessed her Spirit and released her spirit rings. The aura emitted by her red Ten-thousand year spirit ring contended equally with Xiao Wu's.

"How did your Spirit appear in possession?" Xiao Wu was a little curious. Huo Wu's Spirit used to be an external type, and she also had more golden sun patterns on her body and a lotus-shaped golden Crystal Lotus short skirt at her waist.

Had her Spirit evolved again?

But how could Huo Wu withstand a Ten-thousand year spirit ring?

And from which Spirit Beast did this Ten-thousand year spirit ring come?

"It can also separate." Huo Wu's lips curved. The Sun Goddess detached from Huo Wu's body and actively embraced Tang San's back, resting her chin on Tang San's right shoulder. Her golden eyes even blinked at Xiao Wu, with a hint of playfulness.

How could Xiao Wu not understand now?

Huo Wu's Sun Goddess had evolved again, and Huo Wu's consciousness most likely entered this Spirit body, as if she had an extra body.

"That's pretty amazing." Xiao Wu asked, "What Spirit Ability?"

"Sunfire Lotus, an area-of-effect explosive Spirit Ability, but there's no suitable place to test it." Huo Wu retracted the Sun Goddess and held up two fingers, "The second Spirit Ability is Sun Seal, which can seal everything. On the way back, Tang San even found a naturally deceased Spirit Beast to test it, and it can even seal spirit rings. After unsealing, that spirit ring can be drawn by any Spirit Master who needs a spirit ring, bypassing the requirement for the Spirit Master to personally kill the Spirit Beast to absorb the spirit ring."

"That's truly amazing." Xiao Wu blinked, "You can sell spirit rings for money in the future!"

"Get lost!"

Huo Wu rolled her eyes, then remembered something and said, "Tang San has already told me your identity, and I'm afraid you might have some strange emotions, so I'll proactively tell you that my Ten-thousand year spirit ring came from a Crystal Lotus that grew by absorbing the energy of the mantle's magma. It had no intelligence, and because its attributes were extremely compatible with my Spirit, it instinctively fused with the Sun Goddess, and that's how my sixth spirit ring came to be."

"Moreover, this Crystal Lotus contained nearly a million years of cultivation, so my seventh, eighth, and ninth spirit rings can be condensed autonomously with the help of the Sun Goddess in the future."

Xiao Wu breathed a sigh of relief, then smiled, "Really, no need to explain... But I'm so envious of you, not needing to hunt Spirit Beasts for your last three spirit rings. I'll tell you how to condense spirit rings... But it'll be difficult for me; I'll have to figure out a way for my eighth and ninth spirit rings."

"No need to worry, there will definitely be a way in the future," Tang San comforted her.

"Mm, I believe in Brother San." Xiao Wu nodded, then spoke about her sixth Spirit Ability: "My first Spirit Ability is called Nerve Network."

"As you said, Brother San, the Spirit Sky Rabbit strengthened my entire nervous system, not only enabling me to control qi and spirit power to an unparalleled degree, but also greatly enhancing my mental force. Now, I can walk on water as if on flat ground."

"Furthermore, I can now contend with weaker Ten-thousand year soul beasts in the Star Dou Great Forest. If I use spirit ring fusion, I can even contend with the other fierce beasts outside of Ditian!"

"While the Nerve Network skill doesn't directly give me offensive capabilities, it can activate all my nerve tissues and allow me to perceive the movement patterns of every inch of my body."

This skill sounded rather useless, but only Tang San, Xiao Wu, Huo Wu, and others understood how powerful this skill was for Xiao Wu.

With it, Xiao Wu could perfectly control her entire body, better utilize every bit of strength generated by her bones and muscle movements, and achieve the strongest effect with the least effort.

In addition, the pulsations of her internal organs could also be perceived by Xiao Wu, which would better assist her in cultivating the Divine Treasure part of the Jade Bone Golden Muscle Divine Treasure Method and provide help for her research on [Medicine: The Microscopic Structure of the Human Body].

"Let's try it."

280: Xiao Wu's One Hundred Thousand Year Soul Skill (Part 2)

Space

“Let’s try it.”

After Tang San finished speaking, he quickly reached out and grabbed Xiao Wu’s right hand. His speed was so fast that even a Spirit Emperor would find it difficult to see clearly.

But unexpectedly, Xiao Wu’s right arm instinctively opened outwards by about twenty degrees, just enough to dodge Tang San’s grab.

“Oh?”

Tang San noticed a hint of surprise in Xiao Wu’s eyes; she clearly hadn’t reacted to it herself.

So, he reached for her wrist again, and found that her arm seemed to have a mind of its own, instinctively dodging Tang San’s grasp.

“It seems your sixth spirit ring’s enhancement of your nervous system has combined with your second spirit ring, allowing your body to automatically dodge others’ attacks.” After trying three times, Tang San withdrew his hand. “If you can control it, you might be able to master an extremely powerful body technique—”

“Autonomous Ultra Instinct!”

Tang San had watched “Dragon Ball” in his previous life. Autonomous Ultra Instinct was a divine technique mastered by its protagonist, Kakarot, after Super Saiyan Blue.

Pseudo-fans believed that only by reaching a power level like Super Saiyan Blue could one access that technique.

But in reality, the principle of this technique is actually very simple: it relies on various parts of the body for conditioned reflex movements, requiring no thought from the brain, maximizing movement speed and reaction ability.

That is to say, the body does not need to transmit information through the brain; it can automatically judge danger, dodge, and launch attacks simultaneously.

Therefore, this technique does not actually require one's strength to reach a universe-destroying level to be used. As long as one's reaction ability is super strong, forming a situation similar to instinct, one can meet the standard and touch the threshold.

That is, to maximize the utilization of one's inherent power!

As for the white-haired transformation in the manga, it is most likely a Saiyan-specific trait; others who master Autonomous Ultra Instinct would not be so dazzling and exaggerated.

Truly powerful skills always have a low entry barrier, and their principles are very simple, but to truly achieve the corresponding effects of such a divine technique requires countless hours of practice, as well as that tiny bit of talent and inspiration.

As for whether Xiao Wu can master Autonomous Ultra Instinct in the future...

Tang San felt there was still a possibility. After all, the spirit ring's enhancement and upgrade of her Spirit and physical body had made her nervous system far surpass ordinary people!

At least in terms of conditioned reflexes, Xiao Wu had already surpassed him.

“That powerful?” Xiao Wu herself hadn’t expected that the first skill of her sixth spirit ring would give her the foundation to reach the pinnacle of body techniques. “Does this mean that if I learn Autonomous Ultra Instinct, I can fight against a Super Douluo above ninety-fifth rank at the Spirit Emperor level?”

“Fight?” Tang San chuckled, as if disdainful, then said, “Currently, Spirit Masters’ utilization rate of spirit power is actually very low. Even relying on Spirit Abilities from spirit rings, it’s still the same. If you can master the realm of Autonomous Ultra Instinct, conservatively estimated, you would only need a Spirit Scholar’s ten levels of spirit power to easily crush a hundred-level powerhouse!”

“Hiss—”

Xiao Wu gasped, then burst into laughter, as if she had already learned Autonomous Ultra Instinct and could punch Di Tian, kick Silver Dragon, and the entire Star Dou would prostrate at her feet!

“Don’t be too happy too soon. This is just a concept; I don’t even know how to practice it specifically.” Tang San interrupted Xiao Wu’s fantasy, pulling her back to reality. “Even if we figure out a slight method in the future, you’d probably have to reach the Titled Douluo level to learn it.”

“I’m a genius, you know! It’s just Autonomous Ultra Instinct. Just watch Xiao Wu Jie master it for you.”

Xiao Wu remained optimistic, then began to talk about the second Spirit Ability brought to her by her hundred-thousand-year spirit ring. “My second Spirit Ability is Space Perception. The Spirit Sky Rabbit also enhanced my spatial origin, but in order to awaken a space-type Domain when I become a Spirit Saint, I condensed the Spirit Ability into a perception type. It allows me to perceive everything within dozens of miles, including the operation of heaven and earth energy.”

“This is a reconnaissance skill, and it can also radiate in a straight line, with a range of about one hundred kilometers.”

“As an agility-attack system Spirit Master, reconnaissance methods are essential. This also makes up for my deficiency, making me an agility-attack system Spirit Master who is versatile in interference, assassination, and reconnaissance.”

However, Tang San felt that combining Space Perception with the nervous network could maximize the enhancement of Xiao Wu’s subjective reactive awareness.

In that case, it seemed to be of greater help for cultivating Autonomous Ultra Instinct?

“Excellent planning. And because the Space Perception skill also requires the nervous system, it won’t overlap or cause significant conflict with previous spirit ring skills, allowing you to continue practicing spirit ring fusion.”

Temporarily setting aside the idea of Autonomous Ultra Instinct, Tang San objectively evaluated Xiao Wu’s two sixth Spirit Abilities, only—

“For your seventh spirit ring, you can only choose Soft Bones Rabbit, and its spirit ring will inevitably be at the hundred-thousand-year level. Besides Martial Soul True Body, for the remaining Spirit Ability, you can choose to condense a space-related skill to complement the space-type Domain you will awaken as a Spirit Saint.”

“I’m not very clear about what space-type skills the Soft Bones Rabbit has, as there are no related records in Spirit Hall’s data. Can you tell me?”

Xiao Wu said, “The Soft Bones Rabbit possesses spatial abilities: Teleportation and Paragon Golden Body.”

“Golden Body-type skills are applications of spatial power?” Huo Wu asked in surprise.

“Otherwise?” Xiao Wu rolled her eyes. “Mental-type skills mostly convert spirit power into spatial power, condensing it into a thin film to isolate the outside World, thereby achieving an invincible effect. It doesn’t actually make a person indestructible. It's different from Brother San's method of tempering the body with ice and fire refining Golden Body."

Speaking of this, Xiao Wu paused for a moment and slowly said, "Besides these two abilities, in reality, the Soft Bones Rabbit has the ability to create a small space. When my mother was alive, she could create a one-cubic-meter space to store some items, but after my mother died, that space could no longer be opened."

"Cannot be opened?" Tang San keenly caught the key point.

"That's right, it can't be opened. Although my mother died, the space she created actually still exists." Xiao Wu nodded. "My mother once said that although the Soft Bones Rabbit is weak, it also has its own advantage, which is that the spaces it creates can exist forever."

"The spaces created by Soft Bones Rabbits who cultivated to the hundred-thousand-year level throughout history, when the Soft Bones Rabbit is alive, the space is independent and controlled by that hundred-thousand-year Soft Bones Rabbit; when the Soft Bones Rabbit dies, these spaces will merge with each other and continuously absorb other high-quality spatial fragments to grow... My mother even said that perhaps one day, these spaces could form a relatively illusory demiplane attached to the Douluo Continent."

"It's a pity that when I hadn't yet taken human form, I was more playful and didn't create a corresponding space. Moreover, after taking human form, I came into contact with human society and felt that this was just a more convenient 'storage soul tool'. Also, while the Soft Bones Rabbit is still alive, it cannot obtain items from spaces created by other deceased Soft Bones Rabbits through its own created space, so I didn't feel it was very important."

A hundred-thousand-year Soft Bones Rabbit can create independent spaces. After the Soft Bones Rabbit dies, its spaces can merge with each other and then absorb high-quality spatial fragments from cosmic space to grow.

And this space is attached to Douluo Star. It can be said that as long as it continues to grow, it can continuously strengthen the entire World.

“This ability must be obtained!”

281: Return to Wuhun Palace, the Pope invites you!

“For the extra Spirit Ability from your seventh spirit ring, choose this one: Spatial Expansion,” Tang San shared his thoughts. “The seventh spirit ring primarily grants a Martial Soul True Body, and besides, the spatial perception of your sixth Spirit Ability can serve as a good foundation, so there’s no need to worry about this Spirit Ability affecting your spirit ring fusion later.”

“Beyond that, we might have a way for you to control the spaces left behind by other Soft Bones Rabbits. By then, you might be able to control the wealth left by generations of Soft Bones Rabbits.”

Tang San hadn't truly delved into the Dao of Space, but his upper Dantian housed a holy necromancer from another World, Iliex, who had traveled through space and time to arrive here. Coupled with Iliex being a summoner himself, he undoubtedly possessed a profound understanding of space and would surely have a way to help Xiao Wu control those spaces.

Moreover, in the future, this space might even be integrated into the Stellar Space he planned to create.

“Illyasviel, you think too highly of me!” Iliex was speechless but also eager to try. When it came to understanding and utilizing space, the Silver Dragon King was merely showing off in front of him. “However, being too outstanding is also a mistake. Who told this old man he could pluck stars with one hand?”

“Speaking of which, after understanding the true size of stars, can Illyasviel still pluck them?” Tang San teased, “I bet even the Creator God of your World can only gaze at the stars with a sigh.”

“Cough! Well, a person always needs ideals. But extraordinary power can truly limit one’s thinking at certain times, even to the point of ignoring the principle that things appear smaller when far away.” Iliex coughed awkwardly, growing more in awe and longing for the World Tang San had lived in during his previous life.

It was a World without any extraordinary power, yet it managed to create science and develop technology through its own wisdom, even observing and understanding the universe.

If they were to encounter extraordinary power, they would undoubtedly be able to explore, discover, deduce, summarize, and innovate, making them a civilization with immense potential.

After finishing his casual chat with Iliex, Xiao Wu asked about Tang San’s sixth spirit ring.

Upon learning about the effects of the Twelve Heavens Nebula and Nebula Forging divine soul, Xiao Wu couldn’t help but exclaim, “Brother San, are you going to create a World? Maybe our two spaces can connect in the future.”

“That’s exactly what I was thinking... What are you doing?!”

Seeing Xiao Wu suddenly pounce on him, Tang San’s breathing quickened, and he was a bit speechless. “Huo Wu is still here.”

“We’re good sisters anyway, what’s there to be afraid of?” Xiao Wu tugged at his clothes, looking unconcerned. “It’s a good chance for her to experience sleeping together, so she won’t be shy when she’s with Guang Ling and Rongrong later.”

Huo Wu’s face flushed crimson as she walked towards the door, shouting, “I’m not going to be depraved with you two...”

However, before she could finish speaking, Xiao Wu flicked her head, and her scorpion braid bound Huo Wu's right arm. With a pull, she yanked her onto Tang San's back, and with the momentum, the three of them tumbled onto the spacious bed together...

...

When the three returned to Spirit City, Hu Liena rushed over upon hearing the news. She didn't care about his spirit ring or Spirit Ability, only asking about the development of Spirit City.

After the establishment of Soul Guidance Technology City, Min Shi Liang Du, Fantasy Film City, Medicine Dan City, Spirit City, and Economic Capital, a large number of work reports were submitted daily. Hu Liena, Xie Yue, and Yan, apart from their necessary cultivation time, spent every day dealing with various affairs alongside other Elders of Spirit Hall.

Even Supreme Pontiff Bibi Dong became increasingly busy.

The nearly a hundred newly established departments within the Supreme Pontiff Palace, such as the Administrative Department, Economic Department, Industrial Department, and Civil Affairs Department, were all understaffed.

Hu Liena had initially thought that under Tang San's influence, the voluntary joining of common Spirit Masters from across the Douluo Continent to Spirit Hall would increase the number of available personnel in Spirit Hall. However, in reality, most Spirit Masters could only engage in relatively simple, mechanical tasks, and the number of Spirit Masters truly capable of handling complex matters was very small.

This also made Spirit Hall truly realize the inadequacy of its high-level personnel.

Therefore, currently, Spirit Hall could only continuously promote its ideals and formulate more complete rules and promotion channels to stimulate the ambition of grassroots personnel, enabling them to independently learn relevant management skills.

“Currently, Spirit Hall is developing steadily. If we look again in ten years, this place will definitely become the center of the entire Douluo Continent,” Tang San said to Hu Liena.

“Ten years? That’s too long,” Hu Liena hoped for a faster pace.

Tang San asked, “Have you heard of ‘pulling up seedlings to help them grow’?”

“No, what does that mean?” Hu Liena shook her head, knowing he was about to tell another self-created anecdote to educate her, but she very graciously chose to listen.

“There was an old man who, when farming, felt that his crops were growing too slowly, so he chose to pull up all the seedlings in the field a bit higher. The next day, the seedlings all withered and died because their roots had been pulled out of the soil,” Tang San explained. “It sounds a bit foolish, as if no one would do that when growing crops. But compared to Spirit Hall, two years is just enough time for the roots of a stable nation to take hold. And what you call ‘speeding up’ is essentially pulling up those roots.”

Hu Liena’s expression changed, realizing she was being too eager for quick results, but she still said, “But the Two Great Empires are also catching up to us. What if they imitate us?”

“They can at most imitate the surface, it doesn’t matter,” Tang San said indifferently. “Their core will inevitably be to serve their emperors, while our Spirit Hall, with the core ideal of ‘Establishing Spirit for Heaven and Earth, Forging Souls for All Beings,’ develops based on concepts like ‘Spirit for Human Use’ and ‘Soul Guidance Technology.’ The object of our service is no longer the Supreme Pontiff, but the common people of the entire Douluo Continent.”

Indeed, the Titled Douluo of Spirit Hall could still receive unearned “salaries” at present.

This was, after all, an extraordinary World, where greater strength meant access to more resources. However, at Tang San’s suggestion, the concept of “distribution according to work” had been incorporated.

To this, the Titled Douluo of Bibi Dong’s faction had no objections, as they had all been subdued by Bibi Dong previously and would not betray her. Moreover, they all had law enforcement responsibilities and held higher positions.

It was the Offerings of the Hall of Offerings who had some opinions.

Because Bibi Dong, citing their “inactivity” and lack of significant contributions to Spirit Hall, had reduced their salaries, and Qian Daoliu could only endure it.

Golden Crocodile and the other Offerings could only endure the slight with him, not daring to challenge Bibi Dong.

Before Qian Daoliu spoke up and before Bibi Dong was severely injured, Gold Crocodile Douluo and the others truly dared not be too boisterous in front of Bibi Dong.

“You’ve changed the core of Spirit Hall!” Hu Liena couldn’t help but tremble.

“Isn’t that what Supreme Pontiff wants?” Tang San shrugged, looking indifferent. “Besides, I’m just offering suggestions; I’m not the one doing the actual work.”

Hu Liena was momentarily at a loss for words, as she knew her teacher greatly disliked the Angel lineage, even wishing to eradicate it.

She didn’t know the specific reason, but as a disciple, she naturally had to side with her teacher.

“Is there anything else? If not, I need to go forge, research the essence of vibration, and train my body...” Tang San was preparing for experimental forging of the god seal throne in the upcoming period, which required his full concentration.

“Yes.”

“What is it?”

“The Supreme Pontiff requests your presence.”

282: Bibi Dong's dual-core meditation method

Inside the magnificent Supreme Pontiff Palace, Bibi Dong sat on the exquisite Supreme Pontiff's chair, looking at Tang San, who had been brought in by Hu Liena, a slight curve appearing at the corner of her mouth as she asked, "Has the Spirit Hunt returned?"

"Yes, Supreme Pontiff," Tang San replied, releasing his Blue Silver Emperor, revealing six spirit rings in sequence: yellow, purple, purple, black, red, and red, with the sixth spirit ring, in particular, displaying cloud patterns and two golden patterns.

"Why are your 100,000-year spirit rings all so dazzling?" At this moment, only three people were in the Supreme Pontiff Palace: the Supreme Pontiff, the Holy Son, and the Holy Maiden; thus, Hu Liena was a bit bolder.

"Perhaps the Spirit Beasts that sacrificed themselves to me were special, coupled with my extensive research into cultivation, and the overflowing Life force of the Blue Silver Emperor Martial Soul," Tang San said, releasing Ling Yun and introducing it to Bibi Dong and Hu Liena, "This is the plant Spirit Beast that sacrificed itself to become my sixth spirit ring, Cloud Tree. Speaking of which, Hu Liena, you might have even seen it before; it grew in the White Cloud Forest where Blood Sword Norman was hunted."

Ling Yun seemed a little shy upon seeing Bibi Dong and Hu Liena but still greeted them, "Hello, I am Ling Yun. My father... oh no, the Valley Master gave me this name."

"So it was that Cloud Tree," Hu Liena realized.

“How many years of cultivation has this spirit ring reached?” Bibi Dong asked curiously.

“Two hundred thousand years,” Tang San answered, also clarifying the situation of the two Spirit Abilities, “However, most importantly, my Blue Silver Emperor has gained a wisp of Creation power, allowing the Spirit to materialize from nothing and enabling people to enter a illusory starry World. I plan to plant my Spirit inside and outside Spirit City, and I hope the Supreme Pontiff will permit it.”

After experiencing the ethereal starry World, Bibi Dong understood a great deal, realizing that Tang San's Blue Silver Emperor roots already had the ability to cover the entire Douluo Continent.

Once the coverage was complete, Tang San could use the Blue Silver Emperor to manifest so-called thought forms anywhere, and as long as the details of mental force were handled properly, then in the not-so-distant future, Spirit Hall could use this to control information across the entire continent.

What a terrifying ability!

“Granted,” Bibi Dong nodded, “Special green plant protection zones will be established both inside and outside Spirit City for the cultivation of your Blue Silver Emperor Martial Soul.”

“Thank you, Supreme Pontiff,” Tang San bowed.

At this point, Bibi Dong waved her hand, signaling Hu Liena to withdraw first, then slowly rose from the Supreme Pontiff's chair and walked to Tang San, saying, “Speaking of which, you have kept me quite busy for the past two years, even neglecting my cultivation time.”

“Supreme Pontiff, you jest. A Spirit Master has limited time each day to cultivate spirit power; exceeding that time causes the meridians to swell and ache. Any extra time spent on other things doesn't delay anything,” Tang San smelled the faint fragrance emanating from Bibi Dong but remained expressionless, responding earnestly, "If the Supreme Pontiff has no other matters, I will take my leave now?"

"What? Being alone with me makes you nervous?" Bibi Dong smiled.

"Not at all, it's just that my daily schedule is very full," Tang San said unhurriedly, "You know, I'm quite uninteresting."

Bibi Dong was speechless.

Uninteresting?

If that were truly the case, he wouldn't have so many girls liking him, and all of them powerful Spirit Masters.

"Alright, let's get to the point," Bibi Dong dismissed the irrelevant thoughts in her mind, her eyes becoming serious. "The cultivation theory you mentioned regarding qi and blood, spirit power, and mental force, I've pondered it for two years and tried to convert without relying on Spirit Abilities, and indeed found that it can benefit oneself. However, there are some areas I still don't understand."

Tang San raised an eyebrow, asking faintly, "So?"

"So, for the next period of time, I can cooperate with your cultivation theory experiments," Bibi Dong looked directly into Tang San's eyes. "We both have twin spirits. At that time, I can also explain the key points of cultivating twin spirits to you. What do you think?"

"Cultivating twin spirits, the key lies in the conversion of different attribute spirit power between the two Spirits, right?" Tang San expressed his view on twin spirits cultivation.

Bibi Dong showed an appreciative gaze, nodding, "That's right, the key is indeed conversion. However, I do have a better method that might inspire you."

With that, Bibi Dong released her first Spirit: Death Spider Emperor.

Immediately, her upper body skin was covered with a layer of purplish-black armor, and even her face was obscured by a carapace.

Below her eyes, four small eyes had grown out.

Her lower legs disappeared, and her abdomen transformed into a massive spherical shape, from which eight thick, long legs grew, covered with large tufts of green hair.

“This is my first Spirit, Death Spider Emperor.” Due to the Spirit Possession, Bibi Dong’s height reached nearly three meters at this moment, looking down at Tang San. “It’s ugly, isn’t it? Under normal circumstances, I wouldn’t use my Spirit; I would only rely on my immense spirit power and physical combat to crush enemies.”

“How should I put it? I think it’s quite alright; it has a peculiar kind of beauty,” Tang San, however, felt that Bibi Dong at this moment had a striking similarity to the spider girl in “So I’m a Spider, So What?”, except for the colors. The spider girl was white and pink, while Bibi Dong was purplish-black and green, and came with her own armor, looking more majestic.

Bibi Dong was startled. She had intended to threaten Tang San, but she never expected him to find her appearance good... Was his aesthetic sense problematic? It didn’t seem so, after all, Xiao Wu, Guang Ling, Huo Wu, Ning Rongrong, and others were all beauties. Even if Guang Ling was a bit less attractive, he was still the type that became more appealing the longer one looked.

“And then, this is my second Spirit: Soul Eating Spider Emperor.” After regaining her composure, Bibi Dong switched to the Soul Eating Spider Emperor possession state:

She reverted to human form, with dark green spiderweb patterns on her forehead, a layer of shimmering dark green light spreading from her body, three pairs of dark green spider legs appearing behind her, and her arms also transforming into similar dark green spears. Her lower body was completely enveloped in a layer of dark green light, as if she were wearing a battle skirt.

“Hmm~ this one is a bit more conventional, and I sensed a fluctuation exceeding spirit power. The Rakshasa God’s inheritance is primarily carried by this second Spirit, isn’t it?” Tang San briefly commented on Bibi Dong in her Soul Eating Spider Emperor state, then asked about the Rakshasa God’s inheritance.

“Indeed,” Bibi Dong marveled at Tang San’s powerful mental force, capable of detecting divine force fluctuations, and then said, “However, now is not the time to discuss these things. Did you discern the trick to my Spirit switching?”

“Yes, I did,” Tang San narrowed his eyes. “It’s not just the nature of spirit power transforming. Even with the similar characteristics of death and Soul Eating, it’s impossible to transform so rapidly...”

After all, Bibi Dong didn't have an internal cultivation method as balanced and peaceful as Mysterious Heaven Skill to balance the different attribute energies between her two Spirits.

Therefore.

Bibi Dong had found another excellent method for cultivating twin spirits—

The Dual-Core Meditation Method!

283: Soul Twins Meditation

The so-called twin-core meditation method was merely Tang San's playful name for it; Bibi Dong, however, named it the Soul Power Twin Cultivation Method.

Meditation is a cultivation method that allows one to perceive their Spirit, enabling it to help the Spirit Master absorb the energy of heaven and earth, refine it into spirit power, and raise the Spirit Master's rank.

In this process, when the Spirit refines the energy of heaven and earth, it requires the assistance of the body's own meridians for circulation.

Some exceptionally talented Spirit Masters recorded the trajectories of this circulation and, by studying them, deduced more advanced meditation methods that could be passed on to people with the same Spirit, thereby accelerating the speed of meditation.

It can be said that the meridian routes through which each Spirit refines the energy of heaven and earth are not entirely the same.

According to the Spirit Hall's data, the stronger the Spirit, the more numerous and complex the spirit power routes flowing within the human body, and the higher the efficiency of meditation.

It's a pity that very few Spirit Masters bother to summarize these circulation routes.

Major Sects and prominent families do summarize them, but the summarized spirit power circulation routes are inevitably most suitable for the direct descendants of that family; for people with other Spirits, the effect might even be inferior to the most basic meditation methods.

Getting back to the main topic.

Bibi Dong's twin meditation method was based on the different body meridians used in the meditation cultivation of her two great Spirits, consolidating the overlapping parts and dividing the non-overlapping parts into two independent spirit power circulation routes.

To use a simple analogy, it's like welding two rings together; there are overlapping areas, but they are relatively independent of each other.

The same spirit power exists within Bibi Dong's Dantian, but under conscious manipulation, it can flow into one of the circulation systems according to her own thoughts.

To switch Spirits, there's no need to immediately convert the spirit power attribute within the currently used spirit power circulation route; simply activate the other spirit power circulation route.

The spirit power remaining in the previous spirit power circulation route will then flow back along the circuit into the Dantian where spirit power is stored.

One can only say—

Bibi Dong is indeed a heaven-sent genius in spirit power cultivation; her current strength was definitely not obtained through the rewards of the Rakshasa God's trial.

Moreover, the Rakshasa God seemed to give Bibi Dong the fewest rewards in the original work, unable to even increase the spirit ring's age limit...

"Not bad, you actually figured it out." Listening to Tang San's explanation, Bibi Dong was slightly surprised, but remembering that the person before her was a Martial Soul Theory Master, and had even proposed the cultivation method of the three treasures of essence, qi, and Spirit to her, a hint of admiration appeared in her eyes—this was someone who could rival, or even surpass, her in spirit power cultivation.

“This has indeed enlightened me; many thanks, Supreme Pontiff.” Tang San expressed his gratitude, feeling that the details of condensing the Spirit Core had been further supplemented, and joy welled up in his heart.

“Since that’s the case, then let’s begin your experiment with the three treasures of essence, qi, and Spirit cultivation.” Bibi Dong smiled slightly, “I look forward to becoming even stronger.”

“Now? Here?” This time it was Tang San’s turn to be surprised.

“Is that not possible?” Bibi Dong asked, “Thanks to you, I’m getting busier and busier now, and this is the only free time I have. You, on the other hand, can spend most of your time on cultivation, research, and teasing your little girlfriends; I’m truly envious.”

Tang San chuckled, skipping over the topic, and said, “Since the Supreme Pontiff is free, then I naturally won’t be polite. However, during the experiment, it might be necessary to touch skin to perceive your spirit power circulation. I wonder if the Supreme Pontiff minds?”

“I don’t mind.” Bibi Dong’s eyebrows raised slightly. She had always been rather averse to men, but she had no such reservations towards Tang San before her.

Moreover, due to the mutually reinforcing and restraining nature of the Death Spider Emperor’s death force and the Blue Silver Emperor’s Life force, there was a tendency for them to merge.

This caused Bibi Dong to instinctively develop a favorable impression of Tang San.

Even after Tang San obtained his sixth spirit ring and the Blue Silver Emperor’s vitality became even stronger, the death force became more sensitive to the Life force.

This favorable impression stemmed from the influence of the Spirit; even though Bibi Dong herself was a super Douluo, it was difficult for her to completely erase this feeling. However, Bibi Dong felt that she simply didn't dislike Tang San.

“Since that's the case, let's start now.” Tang San also didn't stand on ceremony. He directly took Bibi Dong's hand and injected a trace of spirit power, sensing the two spirit power circulation circuits within Bibi Dong's body.

Bibi Dong also noticed that the wisp of spirit power Tang San injected into her body carried no attributes, being neutral and harmonious, as pure as plain water: “Such strong control! To be able to remove the Life attribute from spirit power.”

“That's the only thing I'm worth praising for.” Tang San focused on manipulating his spirit power, circling through the routes of the Soul Power Twin Cultivation Method, guiding the core storage points of those two streams of spirit power to ascend upwards.

“What are you doing?” Bibi Dong felt her spirit power become active and immediately controlled a portion of her spirit power to follow the route of Tang San's wisp of spirit power, arriving at a place where spirit power had never stayed before.

When the spirit power reached this point, the original place where spirit power was stored actually actively squeezed the spirit power there upwards, as if the new place that portion of spirit power had just reached was the most suitable space for spirit power storage.

“Is this the middle Dantian?” Bibi Dong realized that if all her spirit power were transferred to the Tanzhong acupoint, the circulation routes of her Soul Power Twin Cultivation Method would also need slight adjustment... This would be a massive undertaking, not something that could be completed in a day or two.

At this moment, Tang San had already released Bibi Dong's hand and once again explained the concept of energy conversion in the three great Dantians to Bibi Dong: “The lower Dantian is the Guanyuan acupoint, storing essence, which is blood and qi; the middle Dantian is the Tanzhong acupoint, storing qi, which is spirit power; the upper Dantian is the Yintang acupoint, and in the Supreme Pontiff's view, it can also be called the Sea of Spirit, naturally used to store mental force."

"Blood and qi, spirit power, and mental force each occupy their respective positions and can transform into one another autonomously, forming a small human body universe cycle: blood and qi ascend to become spirit power, spirit power ascends to increase mental force, and mental force can passively strengthen one's own soul, and when the soul is strong, the physical body will instinctively seek to become stronger."

As he spoke, Tang San removed his upper garment, revealing his firm and powerful chest. He circulated his blood and qi, spirit power, and mental force, emitting streams of spiritual light throughout his body. The three great Dantians glowed simultaneously, and the intricate network of meridians appeared on the surface of his body, dense and like a web, with countless glowing star-like points.

Among them, the three most dazzling points were three inches below the navel, the center of the chest, and the center between the two eyebrows.

These were precisely the locations of the three great Dantians.

Bibi Dong saw the dense circulation routes of blood and qi, spirit power, and mental force, as if she had witnessed the most profound truth, and even faintly felt that the entire World was resonating with Tang San's body.

It was as if where Tang San stood was the center of the entire World!

【What an incredible mortal!】

【If he can achieve rank 100, he might reach the God King level, or even higher!】

【Once I figure out how to tie him and Bibi Dong to the same boat, then... hehehe~】

【Shura! You're finished!】

284: Xuan Tian Gong evolves! The Scripture of Creation and Destruction!

“You've already experimented on yourself?” After Tang San put his clothes back on, Bibi Dong secretly revealed a hint of disappointment, as if sighing over not being able to witness the “Diagram of the Human Microcosmic Cycle” again, and a strange emotion inexplicably arose in her heart.

“For experiments, you always have to do them yourself first to ensure there are no problems, so that others can try them with more confidence,” Tang San straightened his collar and slowly said, “I have a unique method for spirit power circulation, a technique for qi and blood cultivation, and a skill for mental force meditation, and they are all from the same origin and form a complete set, but Supreme Pontiff will need to rely on her Soul Power Twin Cultivation Method to modify and create corresponding qi and blood and mental force cultivation methods.”

Bibi Dong frowned deeply.

Qi and blood, spirit power, mental force—these three complement each other, so naturally, a set of cultivation methods that work together is best. But over the years, she had only created a Soul Power Twin Cultivation Method, which primarily cultivates spirit power, and while it does have a slight enhancing effect on mental force, her own mental force was mainly improved through her experiences in Slaughter City—by devouring the flesh and souls of many The Fallen.

Even when she confronted Tang San previously, her mental force became pure and transparent, and she gained much clarity on certain matters, due to his Life force (as Bibi Dong believed).

As for the cultivation of qi and blood, she had no idea where to even begin.

Could it be forging?

“Supreme Pontiff actually doesn't need to worry too much. With your physical constitution, when your Dantian's spirit power completely ascends to the Upper Dantian, qi and blood will naturally generate in the Lower Dantian. At that time, a most basic cycle will naturally form between the three, just like an infant is born knowing how to breathe, feed, and excrete.”

Seeing Bibi Dong lost in thought, Tang San naturally knew what she was worried about, so he opened his mouth to remind her, “As for constructing more complex qi and blood circulation circuits and mental force flow circuits later, you can take your time. With Supreme Pontiff's talent, plus my theoretical assistance, you will certainly be able to complete the preliminary version within three years.”

“Three years? It's not short, but it's acceptable.” Bibi Dong hesitated for a moment, then nodded slightly, feeling that she could hand over future Spirit Hall affairs to Hu Liena and others.

Disciples should always consider their teacher and prioritize the overall situation...

...

After returning to Soul Martial Manor, Tang San didn't immediately research materials or start forging the materials needed for the god seal throne. Instead, he began to ponder Bibi Dong's Soul Power Twin Cultivation Method.

He now had three Spirits: Blue Silver Emperor, Clear Sky Hammer, and Five Clawed Golden Dragon.

Among them, the Five Clawed Golden Dragon could be temporarily ignored. This was a special Spirit, already a complete evolution, naturally possessing a peculiar “Bagua” spirit ring. It didn't require additional spirit rings, nor was it easy to add them.

Moreover, this Spirit accepted spirit power, qi and blood, and mental force of all his attributes, so it could be excluded.

Thus, the only things that needed to be considered were the spirit power refinement routes of the Blue Silver Emperor and Clear Sky Hammer.

Thinking of this, Tang San temporarily gave up on cultivating Mysterious Heaven Skill. He used his mental force to communicate with the Blue Silver Emperor, actively allowing it to absorb the energy of heaven and earth and refine spirit power, to see which meridians in his body would be used.

The effect was beyond his expectations. The meridians used for meditation with the Blue Silver Emperor accounted for nearly ninety percent of the meridians used in cultivating Mysterious Heaven Skill.

Subsequently, Tang San used his mental force to sense the Clear Sky Hammer for meditation and found that it also occupied nearly ninety percent of the Mysterious Heaven Skill meridians.

Comparing the two, there were many overlapping areas. The only non-overlapping meridians were the primary spirit power circulation paths of the two Spirits. One carried a strong vital energy, while the other carried a tyrannical aura of destruction and annihilation, along with a hint of death attribute.

After noting these two meridians, Tang San then activated Mysterious Heaven Skill and simultaneously sensed both Spirits, commencing meditation.

With both Spirits operating simultaneously, the two energies of different attributes circulated according to their respective methods. Under the harmonization of Mysterious Heaven Skill, they actually converged and entered the Middle Dantian. And the cultivation route of Mysterious Heaven Skill also gained two additional paths, separately circulating the spirit power with the unique properties of the Clear Sky Hammer and Blue Silver Emperor.

He had mastered the Twin spirit power Meditation Method!

Moreover, Mysterious Heaven Skill did not conflict with either of them; instead, it encompassed them, which also confirmed that it was truly a Taoist cultivation method, like the sea embracing all rivers with its vastness.

“What a miraculous cultivation method.” Iliex also marveled at the power and wonder of this secret method, then joked, “According to your memory, at the fifth step, this cultivation method seems to be able to seize the bloodline of 异类种族 (alien races)?”

“At least, this version of Mysterious Heaven Skill doesn't have such powerful ability. Moreover, seizing the bloodlines of other races easily makes one's own bloodline extremely impure. Even if it truly could be seized, it could only be imitated and transformed to suit one's own situation, not fully absorbed,” Tang San stopped cultivating and secretly shook his head, “I haven't yet reached the point of unifying all things.”

“Indeed, it's better to be pure. If it's too mixed, there won't be enough energy to cultivate each aspect to its peak.” Iliex strongly agreed with this. Even if he were to revive in the future and truly cultivate Mysterious Heaven Skill, Jade Bone Kidneys, and Cosmic Meditation, the core would still be primarily based on the three elemental attributes of light, undead, and space.

“By the way, since your Mysterious Heaven Skill has already changed according to your two Spirits, should you change its name?”

“As for the name, let's call it Creation and Destruction True Scripture.” Tang San thought for a while, naming it based on the path he would take in the future, taking the meaning of “Creation” and “Destruction.” “Later, it can be further subdivided into Life and Creation True Skill and death and Destruction True Skill. What do you think?”

“I have to say, you're terrible at naming things.” Iliex complained, then seriously analyzed, saying, “However, it does sound easy to understand, and people will know what kind of cultivation methods these two are just by hearing the names.”

Just as Tang San and Iliex were chatting, the consciousness slumbering within the Clear Sky Hammer stirred slightly, awakening. It sensed that its source of destructive power was continuously absorbing and replicating the energy of heaven and earth, which was then refined by this host.

[An interesting World! An interesting host! He actually allowed me to give birth to a death-attributed head, and he can also combine the power of destruction with the power of Life... Wait, a wisp of Creation aura?]

Austin Griffin's Spirits immediately lifted. He separated a wisp of his consciousness and entered Tang San's Middle Dantian, examining the power of Creation within the intensely vital aura. He couldn't help but sneer, “What a formidable fellow, actually wanting to control death and Life, Creation and Destruction simultaneously. Is this host trying to defy the will of the entire World? I and that damned Creator God cannot coexist. The Creator God was ultimately left with only a wisp of remnant soul, while I am constantly reborn through destruction...

“But, I also hate the aura of Creation!”

This wisp of Austin Griffin's consciousness prepared to obliterate the power of Creation within the vital aura.

But no matter how much destructive power he injected, a portion of it would be transformed into the power of Creation, instead strengthening that wisp of Creation. In the end, the Middle Dantian even began to actively seize the destructive power within this wisp of consciousness, converting it into the power of Creation, bringing it to a state of balance with the original destructive power.

[What kind of cultivation method is this, exactly?]

[And what exactly is going on with this World?]

Working overtime...

285: Austin Griffin's Thoughts

Chapter 285 Austin Griffin's Thoughts

Austin Griffin, who was slumbering within the Clear Sky Hammer, was now fully awake. However, due to Tang San's spirit power only being at level sixty-two, he couldn't exert much strength. Furthermore, the Clear Sky Hammer Spirit itself belonged to Tang San, connected to his soul and bloodline, making it incredibly difficult for Austin Griffin to break free.

If his fusion with the Clear Sky Hammer hadn't been too deep, Austin Griffin could have easily separated, just as he had transferred from Mu Tian's Earth Fire Lizard to Tang San's Clear Sky Hammer previously.

But now, his power of destruction had completely merged with the Clear Sky Hammer, and Tang San's Mysterious Heaven Skill had evolved into the Creation and Destruction True Scripture, constantly refining the spirit power of Creation and destruction. In his middle Dantian, there was even a tendency for it to compress into a core.

If Austin Griffin wanted to stop the generation of Creation power, he could only destroy Tang San's Blue Silver Emperor Spirit, but this thing also awakened from his bloodline.

Therefore, he had to kill Tang San.

However, at this moment, Austin Griffin couldn't kill Tang San.

He had not fully recovered at this time, and being parasitic in the Clear Sky Hammer, he was naturally under Tang San's control.

Although from a soul perspective, Austin Griffin was a divine soul, he was limited by Tang San's sixty-two levels of spirit power and could not exert much power.

More importantly, he sensed a demigod's divine soul in Tang San's mental force sea, which was currently transforming into a true divine soul. Moreover, Tang San's mental force sea seemed to have a very powerful mental array, even stronger than the array formed by the seventy-two demon pillars. If his divine soul rashly entered, he might be caught like a turtle in a jar.

As for interfering with Tang San's cultivation... Austin Griffin had never seen such a powerful cultivation method, capable of balancing and merging the powers of destruction and Creation.

There was no way to start.

Also, this host's body was abnormally strong, even comparable to his beast transformation state, and if he were to become a God in the future, even without a God Position, he might be able to contend with a Divinity who possessed one.

Furthermore, he vaguely sensed that the three energies—bloodline, spirit power, and mental force—within the host's body were transforming into each other. A single cycle was like a person experiencing from life to death, and from death to life, or like the universe being born from a Big Bang and returning to nothingness in cold silence.

[Is this guy a child of the universe?]

Austin Griffin had this doubt and decided to observe for a while. He would make plans after the other party reached the God-level and his own strength was fully restored.

If he couldn't beat him then...

Austin Griffin laughed, mocking himself, "How pathetic for the dignified God of Heavenly Condemnation to have such thoughts... Even when facing the Creator God, I was never afraid. How could a mere human make me afraid?"

In fact, Austin Griffin really felt a hint of fear, as even the Creator God did not have such a cultivation method.

[For now, I'll wait and see. When he achieves God-level, I'll make my move. How can I, the God of Heavenly Condemnation, be outplayed by a human?]

[Also, that old Creator God's chair has also arrived in this plane. I need to be vigilant...]

[Speaking of which, what exactly happened with that temporal turbulence? It even surpassed the will of the universe's origin, and many people from different planes were swept into other planes...]

At the same time, Tang San, who had finished talking with Iliex, sensed the change in his middle Dantian's spirit power and noticed that the power of Creation had strengthened. He thought to himself, "Is it because of the Creation and Destruction True Scripture? It can actually transform the power of destruction refined from the Clear Sky Hammer into the power of Creation. It truly lives up to its reputation as a Daoist cultivation technique!"

"Diminishing the abundant and supplementing the insufficient, perhaps that is the best interpretation of the Creation and Destruction True Scripture."

Afterward, Tang San meticulously checked his body and, finding no problems, completely relaxed. He found Xiao Wu and the others and told them about combining the meditation method with Mysterious Heaven Skill.

"By refining the energy of heaven and earth according to your own Spirit, perceiving its spirit power circulation route, and combining it with the Mysterious Heaven Skill's circulation route, you can achieve higher results."

Xiao Wu didn't pay much attention, as she had relied on instinctive meditation before cultivating Mysterious Heaven Skill. After learning Mysterious Heaven Skill, she felt that the two could be combined and had already started trying. Before joining Heaven Dou Royal Academy, she had completed the combination, and could even call the brand new cultivation method: Soft Bone Art.

Huo Wu and Ning Rongrong were a bit surprised, not expecting their own spirit power meditation method to be combined with Mysterious Heaven Skill.

Guang Ling, on the other hand, had never thought of relying on his own meditation to improve his spirit power; he always relied on Mysterious Heaven Skill.

"What are you discussing?" Gu Yuena suddenly interrupted Tang San and the four girls' discussion. "What cultivation method? I want to learn too! You can't favor one over the other! I was bought by you!"

"I can't believe you can say that so righteously." Tang San massaged his forehead, feeling that this Silver Dragon King was beyond saving. The Spirit Beast race having such a master made their future worrying.

"What? Am I wrong?" Gu Yuena, however, showed no self-awareness. Instead, she showed a smug little look, "Anyway, I want to learn too, otherwise, I'll cry for you!"

Over the past two years, Gu Yuena had learned a skill unique to human infants: crying.

This trick, with Hu Liena, could be said to be foolproof.

"Here." Tang San handed over a tissue. "Now you can start your performance."

However, this trick didn't work on Tang San.

Gu Yuena stared with wide purple eyes, a bit speechless, and finally gave up, saying, "Forget it, I won't bother with you. In the future, you'll definitely beg me to teach you."

If he didn't teach her now, when she grew up and her strength improvement wasn't as exaggerated among human Spirit Masters, she would definitely give this hateful guy a good lesson to make him understand who was the boss here!

The girls present couldn't help but smile at Gu Yuena, who showed all her thoughts on her face, especially Xiao Wu, who even pinched Gu Yuena's cheek and said, "Call me Big Sister, and maybe Big Sister will teach you."

Gu Yuena slapped her hand away, puffed up her face, and glared fiercely at Xiao Wu, thinking, Others are fine, but you, this rabbit, want to rebel against the heavens?

She decided that when she returned to her true form in the future, she would eat a thousand Soft Bones Rabbits every day!

"Alright, don't be angry." Tang San patted her head, "Girls should be a bit stronger, don't cry at every turn. How about I accompany you to practice marksmanship?"

"Okay." Gu Yuena immediately beamed, took Tang San's hand, and walked towards the training ground. Finally, she turned back and stuck out her tongue at Xiao Wu and the others, pressing tightly against Tang San, as if declaring her sovereignty.

Xiao Wu laughed in exasperation, "This girl..."

So young, and already daring to snatch a man. What would she be like when she grew up?

Must be vigilant!

286: Gu Yuena's confession: I want a hundred!

Tang San was not proficient in spear techniques, but he wasn't completely clueless either. After all, he often sparred with Spirit Masters from Spirit Hall during his six years in Nuoding City and had gained some understanding.

Furthermore, this was Spirit City. As the Holy Son, it was more than enough to summon a few Spirit Masters skilled in using long spears to teach Gu Yuena.

And Gu Yuena, through her practice over the past two years, had made significant progress in spear techniques and gained a deeper understanding of human wisdom.

Although in terms of power and elements, none of these humans could surpass her, the skill in wielding a spear and the control over force were beyond her reach, and even the Dragon God would find it difficult to compare.

Or perhaps, the Dragon God never considered such detailed aspects, relying on immense power, and rarely even used elemental power.

“Whoosh~”

After practicing the long spear more than ten times, Gu Yuena stopped, dismissed the servants who were teaching her, and walked towards Tang San, who seemed to be deep in thought, asking, “How is my progress?”

“You know, I’m not proficient in spear techniques, but in terms of speed, ruthlessness, and accuracy, you’ve already met the standards. With your Spirit Ancestor level strength, you should be invincible among those of the same rank, and even able to fight against higher-ranked opponents.”

Tang San commented, “However, to truly master spear techniques to an extraordinary degree, you still need to experience them on the battlefield. Actual combat is always the best teacher.”

“It’s just a pity that the time for war to break out hasn’t arrived yet.”

“And perhaps—”

In this Douluo Continent, which had been gradually changed by his influence, whether war could still break out was an unknown.

In Heaven Dou Empire, Xue Qinghe, disguised as Qian Renxue, had gained the trust of Emperor Xue Ye and was now beginning to manage Heaven Dou affairs. Xue Beng, having lost a finger and being physically disabled, no longer had any competitive power.

Her ascension to the Tian Dou Emperor was already a certainty. The final step would be Emperor Xue Ye being poisoned to death, or directly announcing his abdication.

As for the Star Luo Empire, they were currently imitating the development in Spirit City, mainly by establishing institutions for researching spirit tools, but this was indeed opposed by many families.

Spirit Hall was overtly researching spirit tools for civilian use, so Spirit Masters wouldn't oppose it too strongly, as these tools also enriched and facilitated their daily lives.

However, the Star Luo Empire was overtly researching weaponized spirit tools, and had even developed an explosive spirit tool bomb—a researcher accidentally combined two unrelated spirit tool circuits and discovered that injecting spirit power would continuously condense it, then explode with a “bang.”

Consequently, relevant personnel began to focus on explosion research, eventually developing a spirit tool bomb the size of an orange, with an explosion radius of about five meters.

It didn't sound large, but the power of that explosion was difficult for even a Spirit Ancestor to withstand!

And besides the explosive damage, this spirit tool bomb also caused secondary damage from fragments splattering during the explosion, and this secondary damage was even more troublesome.

It could be said that this was a weapon of war!

However, this kind of offensive spirit tool also greatly aroused the displeasure of the various families in the Star Luo Empire.

They had established their families based on their own powerful Spirits, and now a single spirit tool bomb could blow a Spirit Ancestor into pieces. How could they accept this?

Although some high-ranking members of these families must have understood that Spirit Hall would certainly also research offensive spirit tools, people always had a glimmer of hope.

What if Spirit Hall didn't research them?

Moreover, what their Star Luo Empire needed to guard against most was the Heaven Dou Empire!

At the very least, the emergence of Spirit Guidance Weapons diminished the role of these families, threatening their actual status within the Star Luo Empire.

Therefore, the various families in the Star Luo Empire were all opposing the spirit tool research institutions established by the Dai Family and Zhu Family, and some chaos had already begun to appear...

“So the situation on the Continent is so complicated.” Gu Yuena listened, stunned, put away her Silver Dragon Spear, and secretly thought, “In this regard, Spirit Beasts are much simpler.”

“Ultimately, it’s one sentence: human hearts are selfish.” Tang San stroked Gu Yuena’s head, “It’s just a distinction of the size and quantity of selfishness. Selfless people are very rare in the world.”

Gu Yuena felt that she was quite selfless. For the future of the Spirit Beast race, she had even split off a part of her origin to condense this clone, and now she had to listen to this guy’s lectures.

If Tang San knew her thoughts, he would certainly scoff a few times.

After all, although the Spirit Beasts of the Star Dou Great Forest all recognized her as their co-ruler, how many would genuinely thank her afterward was unknown.

“Speaking of which, didn’t you have a guess about my identity?” Gu Yuena’s expression suddenly turned serious, a silver halo appeared in her purple eyes, and her aura became heavy.

“Do you want to hear the truth, or a lie?” To Gu Yuena’s surprise, Tang San didn’t look solemn. He seemed certain that she wouldn’t attack, and instead showed a trace of intrigued expression.

Immediately, Gu Yuena understood that her identity had been somewhat guessed by the other party, but considering that the other party had no intention of harming her, she dispersed her aura and asked speechlessly, “What’s the lie?”

“You’re just a gifted little girl.” Tang San said without hesitation.

“Hmph!” Gu Yuena turned her head away and snorted coldly, saying, “Do you know my true identity?”

“A Ten-thousand year soul beast transformed into human form?” Tang San blinked.

“Did that rabbit tell you?” Gu Yuena was curious how Tang San had guessed a bit of her identity. “Then she’s quite impressive, to be able to see through my concealment.”

In fact, Gu Yuena didn't really believe that Xiao Wu could see her true form.

Even with only a part of her origin, she was still a god-level being!

How could a mere Soft Bones Rabbit see through her? Only the person in front of her, who possessed an incredibly powerful dragon-type Spirit, could sense some clues about her.

“Xiao Wu did guess a little, but it was mainly my own confirmation. After all, as a Ten-thousand year soul beast in human form, you initially had more beastiality. Although those people at Luo Wang Auction House gave you a ‘grew up in the wild’ setting, generally speaking, children raised by wild animals basically cannot adapt to human society and have extremely poor learning abilities.” Tang San wasn't sure if the situation from his previous life applied to the Douluo Continent, but using it to fool Gu Yuena at this moment was no problem, as the other party didn't know the specific situation either.

Information asymmetry was everywhere.

As expected, Gu Yuena was stunned, her face falling: “Darn it, did my learning ability expose me?”

“No, more importantly, I don't quite believe that someone was chosen by the so-called Silver Dragon God in their infancy.” Tang San revealed the truth, “I was also talking nonsense just now, and now you've revealed it yourself.”

Gu Yuena's face darkened, and she said coldly, “Humans are truly cunning!”

“Don't be angry. How about I take you to Spirit City to buy candied haws?” Tang San comforted her.

“Am I that kind of gluttonous person?”

Gu Yuena turned her head away, her face flushed with anger, and then said,
“I want a hundred!”

287: Xiao Wu's 20 version

Chapter 287: Xiao Wu's 2.0 Version

"How are you going to deal with me?"

Gu Yuena walked beside Tang San, holding a sugar-coated hawthorn skewer in one hand, down a food street in Min Shi Liang Du. She licked the skewer as she asked.

"You make it sound like I'm going to butcher you like a chicken or duck later." Tang San couldn't help but roll his eyes at her. "My Blue Silver Emperor isn't suitable for Spirit Beasts."

"Don't you still have a hammer and a Five Clawed Golden Dragon?" Gu Yuena bit off a hawthorn fruit and looked at Tang San with a wary expression. "Who knows if your purpose in keeping me is to 'execute me on the spot' when you need a spirit ring later, killing the dragon for its ring and bones."

"Firstly, my Five Clawed Golden Dragon is already perfect and cannot acquire any more spirit rings. Secondly, my Clear Sky Hammer is in a special situation, and until its problem is resolved, I most likely won't add any spirit rings to it." Tang San explained for a moment, then chuckled, "Besides, I'm not as powerful as you. How could I possibly execute you on the spot?"

"That's true." Gu Yuena nodded, then suddenly froze, her face darkening. She asked, "You know you're no match for a Ten-thousand year soul beast that has taken human form?"

It is well known that a Ten-thousand year soul beast that has taken human form is weak in strength; if the enemy is even slightly powerful, the Spirit

Beast might not even be able to self-destruct.

Yet Tang San actually said he couldn't defeat her!

Had she guessed her deeper identity? But how could he know?

"Uh... I was just joking, but looking at you, it seems like you really could make it so I can't defeat you?" Tang San blinked curiously, as if he had seen through everything about Gu Yuena.

"You hateful guy!" Gu Yuena's face flushed red as she crunched on the sugar-coated hawthorn skewer, secretly cursing herself for being foolish. Then she asked, "Guess how many years old I am as a Spirit Beast?"

"Judging by your spirit rings, all four of your spirit rings are light gold. And as far as I know, for Spirit Beasts above Ten-thousand years, for every hundred thousand years they cultivate, an additional golden pattern appears on their spirit ring. Assuming your light gold spirit rings are all million-year level, then you must be close to ten million years of cultivation, right?"

Tang San analyzed unhurriedly. "Spirit Masters can become Divinity at rank 100, so Spirit Beasts can also become Divine Beasts at a million years. From this perspective, your previous self must have been extremely powerful, even surpassing ordinary Divinities."

"You're really amazing, you guessed it all." Gu Yuena was very pleased with Tang San's overt and covert praise, even pouting slightly. "Actually, I am the ruler of the Star Dou Great Forest. All Spirit Beasts must obey me. Impressive, right?"

"Mm, very impressive." Tang San nodded perfunctorily.

"I'm telling the truth!" Seeing Tang San's indifferent expression, as if he didn't believe her, Gu Yuena immediately pouted, huffing, "As long as I give the order, all Spirit Beasts will bow down!"

"Is that so? Do sea Spirit Beasts also listen to you?"

At this question, Gu Yuena's voice faltered. She turned her head and snorted coldly, "Most of the Spirit Beasts in the sea worship the Sea God. A few who don't submit to the Sea God don't pay much attention to my commands either. After all, if they hide in the sea, I can't stir up the entire ocean."

Having recovered from her severe injuries, she could tunnel through Douluo Star's continental plates to reach the planet's core and destroy the entire World by disrupting the core, but she still couldn't explore the entire ocean area.

If the Sea God hadn't been born, she could have, as she controlled the water element.

Unfortunately, the Sea God had appeared, and that was now his territory.

Severely injured and not yet fully recovered, facing that First-rank Divinity who commanded the faith of almost the entire ocean, there was no other possibility for her but death.

"Heh~"

"What are you laughing at? I'm really not joking!" Gu Yuena grew anxious, eager to prove her abilities in front of Tang San. "Aside from those guys in the ocean who don't obey me because of the Sea God's faith, other Spirit Beasts, with just a word from me, will all meekly kneel down."

"I believe you."

"I still feel like you're being perfunctory." Gu Yuena felt a bit dejected. She then finished the sugar-coated hawthorn skewer in her hand, tilted her neck back, and extended her hand to Tang San, just like the gorilla emoji she had seen on her phone in her previous life, reaching out to tourists for food—except Gu Yuena was more refined and beautiful; there was no other difference.

Tang San took out a sugar-coated hawthorn skewer from his storage soul tool and handed it to Gu Yuena.

Gu Yuena, upon receiving the skewer, noticed the two storage soul tools on Tang San: the white jade belt and the storage soul tool.

Xiao Wu and Guang Ling also each had one of these two storage soul tools... Gu Yuena, licking her sugar-coated hawthorn skewer, felt that she should also have one, so she said, "Tang San, I also want a storage soul tool."

"Alright."

Tang San nodded and led Gu Yuena to the Seven Treasures Pavilion located within Min Shi Liang Du.

The service staff immediately recognized Tang San and ushered him and Gu Yuena to the inner hall lounge, respectfully asking, "Saint Son, what would you like to purchase?"

"A storage soul tool."

"A set!" Gu Yuena corrected him. "I want two of them!"

"Do as she says." Tang San told the service staff.

"Please wait a moment."

The service staff withdrew, while Gu Yuena took the pastries and fruits from a nearby counter and began to eat them unhurriedly, just like Xiao Wu had done back then.

But when Tang San looked at the pastries on the table, Gu Yuena, like a "dragon guarding its treasure," pulled all the pastries in front of her, as if afraid he would snatch them. Then she took out a piece of cake the size of a baby's fist and pushed it towards Tang San, saying, "Here, stop staring at the pastries on my big plate."

"You're much stingier than Xiao Wu. She used to share half of everything with me, and now she gives me everything to eat." Tang San picked up the cake, speechless at Gu Yuena's possessive behavior over food.

"I'm a dragon! As everyone knows, dragons never share!" Gu Yuena righteously stuffed various pastries into her mouth, eating with great satisfaction.

Looking at the dwindling pastries in the surrounding counters, Tang San estimated that after leaving the Seven Treasures Pavilion, he would gain a reputation for "taking advantage."

When the service staff returned to the lounge with more than a dozen sets of storage soul tools, they were stunned to see the almost empty counter.

"I'll pay for it later." Tang San said.

The service staff quickly smiled apologetically, "Not at all, the pastries are complimentary. It's good as long as Saint Son's friend is happy."

After speaking, he immediately had the staff behind him place the boxes containing the storage soul tools on the table and began to introduce them one by one...

"Which one did you choose?" After the service staff finished their introduction, Tang San motioned for Gu Yuena to choose.

"This one." Gu Yuena looked at the two black pouches displayed, each about the size of a palm. According to the introduction, each had thirty cubic meters of storage space and could even store living creatures.

More importantly, the drawstrings at the top of the pouches were one gold and one silver, which had a fatal attraction for Gu Yuena.

"Alright, this one it is." Tang San spent three hundred and fifty thousand gold coins to buy this pair of gold and silver treasure pouches and the pastries there. Then he left with Gu Yuena.

Gu Yuena, playing with the two treasure pouches, suddenly handed the silver-stringed treasure pouch to Tang San, saying, "Here, it's for you."

"Thank you very much." Tang San took the silver-stringed treasure pouch and hung it on his white jade belt. "You used my money to buy me a gift and took half for yourself. Tsk, tsk, that's a good business deal."

"If you don't want it, give it back to me." Gu Yuena reached out to grab it, but Tang San dodged.

"That won't do. A gift once given is like spilled water; it can't be taken back."

"Hmph!"

288: Soul Seal Throne of Wisdom and Spirit (Part 1)

Time flies like a fleeting arrow.

Half a year had passed since Gu Yuena and Tang San confessed to each other.

During this period, Tang San's Life was very regular—

Cultivating, researching, forging, assisting Bibi Dong in researching the three treasures of essence, qi, and Spirit, planting Blue Silver Emperor Martial Soul in Spirit City, guiding the women in cultivation, and researching the path of qi and blood at night with everyone except Gu Yuena.

It was on this day that Tang San was finally about to complete the forging of the first god seal throne.

Inside the forging room, Tang San looked at the formed seat in front of him. It was entirely black and smooth, but upon closer inspection, its surface had countless spirit tool patterns, and above the backrest, there was a circular groove, as if something was missing.

This was a throne forged from patterned metal! And the patterned metal had all reached the sixth forge level, including patterned iron, patterned copper, patterned silver, patterned cloud steel, patterned secret gold, and more.

After testing, these patterned metals could combine relatively harmoniously, and their six-forge patterns could connect with each other. Combined with Iliex's god seal throne forging method and the spirit tool patterns of Douluo Continent, this god seal throne, unique to this World, was created.

“Third Brother, there are still two steps left.” Guang Ling wiped the sweat from her forehead, a smile appearing on her face—she had played an indispensable role in engraving the spirit tool patterns on the god seal throne.

“As long as the final energy gathering core is inlaid and the Spirit imprint is injected, this throne can be used by someone!”

Compared to the god seal throne of Saint Magic Continent, this one currently did not have concepts and laws like “fear,” “protection,” “slaughter,” “wisdom,” or “order” engraved on it. Even its designation as a “divine artifact” merely referred to its powerful might, surpassing ordinary weapons.

However, this god seal throne could autonomously absorb the energy of heaven and earth to evolve. In the long years to come, as long as it was not destroyed, it might truly become a divine artifact.

Currently, it could only be called a semi-divine artifact.

According to Tang San's estimation, only a god seal throne forged entirely from seven-pattern forged metal could reach the true divine artifact level, while a god seal throne forged from eight-pattern or nine-pattern forged metal should be able to reach the super-divine artifact level.

“I plan to give this throne to Spirit Hall. After all, it’s Spirit Hall’s credit that we were able to obtain so many precious ores and metals,” Tang San decided.

As for whether anyone in Spirit Hall would use this throne against him in the future, Tang San was not worried. Every piece of patterned metal he forged instinctively gravitated towards him.

Even if the throne was controlled by others, when facing him, its “creator,” it would instinctively reduce its power to the lowest level.

“I’ll listen to Third Brother.” Guang Ling was very considerate, as she knew that he would definitely give them something even better in the future.

“You go back and rest first. You’ve been tired these past few days. I’ll make sure to replenish your energy tonight.”

Tang San kissed Guang Ling’s forehead, making her face flush. She said, “Third Brother is so naughty. Not only do you make me work during the day, but you also make me exercise at night... If I can’t recover fully, I won’t let you off.”

After Guang Ling left, Tang San took the throne to the Supreme Pontiff Palace. Along the way, the Spirit Hall guards and knights all showed him respect and bowed in greeting.

Tang San, without the airs of a Saint Son, greeted everyone one by one, even being able to call out the names of all the Spirit Hall personnel he met along the way.

This made these guards feel extremely moved and proud!

“Is this the divine artifact you forged?” When Tang San placed the throne inside the Supreme Pontiff Palace, Bibi Dong couldn’t help but frown.

Although this throne exuded extremely powerful energy fluctuations and possessed strong spirituality, she didn’t understand why it had to be made into the shape of a chair?

Wouldn’t it be better to make it into armor, or some other weapon?

How could such a chair attack?

Or was this chair a supportive type, capable of greatly enhancing a Spirit Master’s strength?

But sitting on it, wouldn’t one be a living target?

Yue Guan, Gui Mei, Demon Bear, and Ghost Leopard, the four Douluo, were also in the Supreme Pontiff Palace at this time, curiously examining the throne, waiting for Tang San's introduction.

“This throne was forged using my self-created patterned forging method. The materials are all six-forge metals, so it can only be called a semi-divine artifact,” Tang San stated confidently. “According to my estimation, as long as one can control this seat, even a Spirit King can contend with a Super Douluo above ninety-five levels, or even a Super Douluo.”

Hiss—

The four Titled Douluo gasped, all wanting to try it out, but then they heard Tang San continue, “However, this seat has not been completely forged yet; two steps are missing.”

“What steps?” Bibi Dong asked.

“On the backrest of the seat, there is a groove, lacking an energy-concentrating core. This is also the core for adding attributes to it,” Tang San said, pointing to the groove. “Once truly completed, this seat will display its true power. Anyone below the Titled Douluo level will be unable to resist the pressure it emits.”

“Oh? Then I look forward to it!” Bibi Dong got up, taking Tang San and the four Titled Douluo out of the Supreme Pontiff Palace and to the “Douluo Continent” arena. She placed the throne in front of the arena and asked, “What does the core need?”

“Spirit Bone,” Tang San said. “Some special metals and ores can also work, but I only have a piece of Life Gold on hand. If I use it, I’m afraid no one in Spirit Hall currently would be able to gain the recognition of a throne with Life attributes. Therefore, I ask Supreme Pontiff to use a Spirit Bone instead.”

Spirit Bone, a treasure dropped by a Spirit Beast, contains the Spirit Beast's skills from when it was alive. It must contain the Spirit Beast's most fundamental attributes, and the Spirit Bone itself can also be used to store energy.

As for the issue of the Spirit Bone not matching the groove... The six-forged patterns inside the god seal throne and the spirit tool patterns jointly constructed by Tang San and Guang Ling could absorb the energy of heaven and earth, refining the Spirit Bone into a shape that fits the groove.

From Lan Yinzi, Xiao Wu, and Gu Yuena, Tang San learned that the type of Spirit Bone could actually change according to the Spirit Beast's own thoughts. A Ten-thousand year soul beast would definitely drop a Spirit Bone, and the Spirit Bone would certainly be one that the Spirit Master who hunted the Ten-thousand year soul beast did not possess, unless that Spirit Master already had a full set of Spirit Bones, in which case it would be random.

Based on how Spirit Beasts condensed Spirit Bones, Tang San, Guang Ling, and Iliex conducted reverse research. Through spirit tool patterns, they enabled the god seal throne to have the ability to “re-melt” Spirit Bones.

Bibi Dong ordered someone to bring a Spirit Bone, which was one of the rewards from the Continental Elite Tournament—the Mind Condensing Wisdom Skull, with a lifespan of up to fifty thousand years.

The three Spirit Bones were given to Bibi Dong by Tang San as compensation for challenging the Supreme Pontiff's authority. However, Bibi Dong did not directly bestow them upon Hu Liena, Xie Yue, and Yan.

After all, it was a fact that those three did not win the championship. If Bibi Dong were to directly give them the competition prizes, she might be criticized. Therefore, she temporarily stored them, waiting for them to make contributions to Spirit Hall in the future before rewarding them based on their merits.

At this moment, she took out the most precious one...

In the original work, Tang Hao had a full set of Spirit Bones; the two pieces for his broken arm and leg were inherited Spirit Bones from the Sect.

As for the Spirit Bone dropped by the death of a Ten-thousand year soul beast, it must be a Spirit Bone that the Spirit Master who hunted it did not possess. This is a setting from the original work, not a fan-made setting.

The specific chapters where this setting appears are the ones where Titan Giant Ape and Sky Azure Bull Python sacrificed themselves for Tang San.

Did Douluo Dalu 2 and 3 retcon this setting—

Irrelevant to this book.

289: Soul Seal Throne of Wisdom and Spirit (Part 2)

Seeing this 50,000-year-old skull again, Chrysanthemum Douluo, Ghost Douluo, Devil Bear Douluo, and Ghost Leopard Douluo all revealed a hint of greed in their eyes.

Spirit Bones, especially 10,000-year Spirit Bones, are extremely precious even for Titled Douluo.

What's more, this was a 50,000-year head Spirit Bone!

If these four present hadn't known their limits, they would have already started fighting for it.

Bibi Dong hooked her finger, and that 50,000-year-level Spirit Bone was pushed into the groove of the Throne.

Bang!

The Throne, sensing the Spirit Bone capable of storing energy, actively absorbed it, attaching it to the groove.

Immediately, the World energy around the "Douluo Continent" arena began to surge violently, continuously converging into the Throne, making it flow with countless silver-white light streams, which continuously injected into the Mind Condensing Wisdom Skull, causing it to slowly melt, and then fuse into a silver-white crystal, embedded in the groove.

At this moment, the four Titled Douluo all sensed that this Throne was subtly connected to the energy of the entire World, possessing an inexplicable profoundness.

Even Bibi Dong felt a slight suppression.

Although the Throne only had an extra silver crystal and the rest remained entirely black and relatively simple, it gave an indescribable mental sense of oppression.

In addition, this seat seemed to have come alive, and the silver-white crystal was like its eyes observing the new World, sensing a hint of 灵动 from Bibi Dong.

Is this truly not some unique Life form?

"You said there were two steps, so what's the second step?" Bibi Dong had already realized that this thing might truly be a semi-divine artifact; the fluctuations connected to the energy of the entire World and its newborn-like spirituality were the best proof.

Perhaps, just as Tang San said, if a Spirit King controlled such a divine artifact, even if he remained motionless, he could contend against Super Douluo above rank ninety-five.

"The second step is to gain its recognition, infuse the Spirit Master's Spirit aura, and engrave the Spirit imprint."

Tang San said in a deep voice, "You just need to place your hand on that gem and inject spirit power. This seat can automatically acquire Spirit information and brand it, which is the so-called recognition of ownership."

"However, because that core is formed from the Mind Condensing Wisdom Skull, only Spirit Masters with a mental attribute Spirit, or Spirit Masters with extremely strong mental force, can gain its recognition."

"Other Spirit Masters whose mental force is not strong, or whose Spirit does not have a mental attribute, will likely be repelled as soon as they touch it."

"Everyone yearns for divine artifacts, but divine artifacts also choose their users."

Bibi Dong nodded, not stepping forward herself, and said to Ghost Douluo: "Here, besides Tang San and my strong mental force, your Spirit has a mental attribute. Why don't you step forward and try?"

"As you command, Supreme Pontiff." Ghost Douluo, with excitement, slowly walked towards the Throne, eager to gain its recognition.

However, sensing Ghost Douluo's approach, the Throne emitted a strong mental force, impacting Ghost Douluo's mental force like a tsunami, forcing him to retreat three steps.

"What a powerful mental pressure!" Ghost Douluo only felt that the Throne before him had become as towering as a mountain. To gain its recognition, he would have to climb this high mountain.

But could he climb this majestic mental mountain?

As soon as this thought arose, Ghost Douluo found that the mountain had grown taller again, even emitting a scorching light from its peak, causing his mental force to vibrate.

That feeling was like being roasted alive in a furnace, pure torture.

"Hmph!"

Ghost Douluo retreated three steps, his eyes filled with awe and lingering fear as he looked at the Throne. He bowed to Bibi Dong and said, "I apologize, Supreme Pontiff, I've disappointed you. I cannot gain this Throne's recognition. That mental pressure is like a mountain connecting heaven and earth, and its vast light conflicts with another attribute of my Spirit."

The primary attribute of the Mind Condensing Wisdom Skull is mental, but its other attributes lean towards light and Life. Dark and death attributes, like Gui Mei's, are not recognized by the god seal throne.

Of course, this situation of conflicting attributes doesn't mean it's impossible to be recognized by the god seal throne; it just requires achieving a perfect balance with it.

Spirit Masters can adjust the attribute balance between their respective Spirits by controlling their own spirit power to meet the requirements of Martial Soul Fusion Skill, but the god seal throne will not compromise—

Not compatible with "me"?

Get lost!

"It seems the Throne has very high requirements for its master." Bibi Dong, however, did not blame Ghost Douluo for his lapse but pondered for a moment, then summoned the three members of the Golden Generation.

"Greetings, Supreme Pontiff!" X3

The three bowed in salute. In such a setting, Hu Liena could only address Bibi Dong as Supreme Pontiff, not the more intimate "Teacher."

"No need for formalities." Bibi Dong motioned for the three to rise and said to Hu Liena, "Nana, your Spirit is Charming Fox, and you possess a relatively strong mental attribute. Why don't you give it a try?"

Hu Liena looked at the Throne, then glanced at Tang San with some confusion, feeling that this thing was related to him.

"This is the Throne I forged; it is a semi-divine artifact. Because its core is formed from the Mind Condensing Wisdom Skull, it possesses an ultimate mental attribute. To control it, one must also have accomplishments in mental force." Tang San briefly explained to Hu Liena, "Now, you can try to see if you can gain its recognition."

Hu Liena didn't know what to say at this moment.

Tang San could even forge divine artifacts?

That was a bit too exaggerated!

However, no matter how surprised she was, the fact was laid out before her, leaving her no choice but to believe it and try to see if she could gain the recognition of this divine artifact... this semi-divine artifact.

As Hu Liena approached the Throne, the Throne also began to release mental pressure, a mountain-like pressure, which was similarly exerted on Hu Liena.

Compared to Gui Mei, Hu Liena's mental force was significantly weaker, but for her, the mountain-like mental pressure was not as uncomfortable as a furnace; it even slowly tempered her mental force, making it purer.

One step, two steps, three steps...

The further she went, the greater the mental force pressure Hu Liena felt. By the sixth step, her body began to tremble, and her bones creaked.

Although this was only mental pressure and not real spirit power oppression, mental force could also affect the human body by causing others' consciousness to produce illusions.

Hu Liena now believed she was climbing a mountain that reached no end. With every step forward, the pressure on her body became heavier, and her body became increasingly sluggish.

The mental illusion affected her physical body in reality as well.

However, Hu Liena still gritted her teeth and pressed forward, relying on a sense of unyielding pride—

When Hu Liena took her ninth step, she had already reached the front of the Throne. The mental pressure had dissipated, and she collapsed onto the Throne...

290: Soul Seal Throne of Wisdom and Spirit (End)

“Alright, then~ Whew~ What should I do next?” Hu Liena struggled to sit up, her clothes already drenched in sweat, and turned to Tang San, asking, “Have I been recognized by this Soul Imprint Throne?”

“You've passed the first test.”

In reality, if Tang San hadn't secretly assisted her with his mental force, Hu Liena wouldn't have even passed the first test.

Although the Charming Fox had a mental attribute, it wasn't pure, and with her mental abilities, she couldn't have gained recognition. The reason she passed was mainly because the Soul Imprint Throne's spirituality gave face to Tang San, its “Creator.”

The reason Tang San did this was because this Soul Imprint Throne was originally a gift for Spirit Hall, and Bibi Dong had also offered a 50,000-year mental attribute skull.

It was clear that Bibi Dong definitely hoped Hu Liena would use this Soul Imprint Throne.

For this, Tang San didn't mind lending a small hand.

“Next, place your hand on the gem of the Soul Imprint Throne, release your Spirit, and infuse it with spirit power. It will automatically engrave the imprint of your Spirit, and this Soul Imprint Throne will then belong to you.”

Upon hearing this, Hu Liena took a deep breath, her Charming Fox Spirit possessed her, growing fox ears and a tail. Following Tang San's instructions, she infused spirit power into the silver-white gem.

In an instant, the entire Soul Imprint Throne vibrated, continuously absorbing Hu Liena's spirit power until it was almost depleted before stopping.

Thump, thump, thump!

Hu Liena stumbled back seven or eight steps, her face pale, staring intently at the cracked Soul Imprint Throne, not even noticing a Blue Silver Emperor Binding around her waist, her spirit power rapidly recovering.

At this moment, everyone present was watching the Soul Imprint Throne, light emanating from its cracks.

As the black surface peeled off and dissipated, an ancient and grand Soul Imprint Throne appeared before everyone. It was entirely silver-white, engraved with golden patterns that converged at its silver-white core.

Heaven and earth energy intertwined with it, lifting it to float nearly fifty meters high in the air. The silver-white mental energy transformed into a vast ocean, covering an area of nearly a thousand meters.

“Ying you!”

A clear beast's cry echoed throughout the Supreme Pontiff Palace. A silver-white nine-tailed fox leaped out from the Soul Imprint Throne's core, ran across the silver ocean, and finally returned to the Soul Imprint Throne, condensing into a fox head relief at its core. The nine tails, each about ten meters long, extended from behind the Soul Imprint Throne, curling into nine rings, emitting strong mental fluctuations.

Magnificent!

Sacred!

Invisibly, silver-white steps condensed, descending before Hu Liena.

“Go up, you will be crowned King!” Tang San said to the somewhat bewildered Hu Liena, “Become the first master of this Wisdom and Spirit Soul Imprint Throne!”

god seal throne?

No!

Since it was Creation on the Douluo Continent, it naturally needed a new name: Soul Imprint Throne!

“Mm!”

Facing the encouraging, excited, or envious gazes of Bibi Dong, Tang San, the four Titled Douluo, Xie Yue, and Yan, Hu Liena nodded vigorously and stepped onto the first stair.

Water-like patterns rippled from the steps, and the mental force emanating from the Soul Imprint Throne intensified slightly.

As Hu Liena climbed higher, the mental pressure grew heavier. Xie Yue and Yan could no longer bear it and half-knelt on the ground.

When Hu Liena reached the Wisdom and Spirit Soul Imprint Throne, Xie Yue and Yan were already prostrate on the ground. The bodies of the four Titled Douluo also crackled, struggling to resist the powerful mental pressure, but their faces were filled with excitement and reverence.

“Is that the power of the Soul Imprint Throne?”

“It's too powerful!”

“It hasn't even been sat upon, yet its pressure is already difficult for even us Titled Douluo to bear!”

“I can sense that there's a unique energy protecting Hu Liena. Even a Titled Douluo above Rank 95 would find it difficult to harm her in the slightest before she sits on it!”

The four Douluo's faces were fanatical.

Only Tang San and Bibi Dong remained calm!

When Hu Liena reached the Soul Imprint Throne and slowly sat down, an invisible mental pressure suddenly erupted, causing the four Titled Douluo to directly kneel, unable even to lift their heads.

Moreover, the range of this mental pressure covered not only Wu Hun Mountain but also the entire Spirit Hall Inner City. Residents within it stopped their work at that moment, involuntarily looking towards the Supreme Pontiff Palace on Wu Hun Mountain, at the silver-white glowing Soul Imprint Throne.

At this moment, all residents of the Spirit Hall Inner City could see the Soul Imprint Throne and Hu Liena sitting upon it!

“Is that the Holy Maiden?”

“Dignified! Elegant! And sacred!”

“Wu Hun Mountain is more than ten kilometers from here. How can I see it so clearly? Could I be dreaming?”

“Could it be that the Holy Son has developed another spirit tool? Is it just being tested over there?”

The city residents discussed amongst themselves, each with their own opinions.

In the Spirit Hall Outer City, Lou Gao, the city lord of Soul Guidance Technology City, also noticed the silver light on Wu Hun Mountain in the Inner City and saw the Soul Imprint Throne, trembling with excitement.

“Is that the Soul Imprint Throne Big Brother has been building? It's simply —”

“Too beautiful!”

Comparing his previous works to it, Lou Gao felt they were all trash. Even his proudest work, the Eight Treasures Ruyi Soft Armor, was just slightly more refined trash.

That Soul Imprint Throne was the true treasure! The true divine tool!

“No, I must go to the Inner City and discuss it with Big Brother, otherwise I won't be able to sleep tonight.” Lou Gao temporarily handed over the city lord's affairs to Si Long and quickly ran towards the Inner City...

...

Meanwhile, on Wu Hun Mountain, in the Hall of Offerings at the peak, High Priest Qian Daoliu opened his eyes. Sensing something, he led the other offerings out of their meditation place.

“What are Bibi Dong and that Tang San up to now?” Gold Crocodile Douluo, as a Rank 98 powerhouse, could also perceive the vast mental force carried within the silver light on the mountainside. He frowned deeply, “High Priest, are we still going to let them continue? The position of Spirit Hall Pope should not belong to a non-Angel lineage.”

“Bibi Dong has already confessed her Rakshasa inheritance to us and will inevitably become a Divinity in the future, so we cannot offend her.” Qian Daoliu clearly knew that activating the Angel God's inheritance would lead to his death by sacrifice. Tolerating Bibi Dong was not only because his son had made a grave mistake and he felt guilty, but also to provide a way out for Gold Crocodile and others.

After all, Bibi Dong only targeted the Angel lineage. Others, as long as they didn't provoke her, would not be in danger of Life. Moreover, even a tiger doesn't eat its cubs. Even if Bibi Dong became a Divinity, she wouldn't kill her own daughter.

At that time, Gold Crocodile and others would be the confidence to assist Qian Renxue in contending for power with Bibi Dong.

Although he would prefer to see Bibi Dong and Qian Renxue, mother and daughter, united in heart, then Spirit Hall, with two Divinities, would surely be able to suppress all dissent in the world.

It's just a pity—

Qian Daoliu held no expectations.

“High Priest, what's going on down below?” Qian Jun Douluo asked about the current situation, his face full of solemnity, “That mental force, like a vast ocean, among us, I'm afraid only you and the Second Offering can resist it. In the future, it might not be very beneficial for Miss's return to lead Spirit Hall.”

His unstated meaning was that Bibi Dong's faction was growing stronger and stronger, and would be difficult to deal with in the future. Even if they didn't force Bibi Dong, they would have to find a way to weaken her or take the benefits.

“Forget it, we are all members of Spirit Hall, there's no need for you to contend with me. When Xue'er returns and inherits the Angel God Position, I will tell her the truth. Even if the relationship between them remains the same, at least Xue'er will understand, and there won't be too much power struggle.”

Qian Daoliu could only think positively at this moment, but he secretly thought: Xue'er, hurry back, inheriting the Angel God Position is key. Only by becoming a true Divinity will you have the right to speak!

Halfway up the mountain.

In front of the Supreme Pontiff Palace.

Hu Liena sat on the Wisdom and Spirit Soul Imprint Throne, feeling as if she had an inexhaustible supply of spirit power. In terms of mental force, she could even perceive everything on the entire Wu Hun Mountain and in the Spirit Hall Inner City. Even in the Spirit Hall Outer City, she could perceive a certain range.

Within this range, everything appeared in her mind, meticulously detailed. Even a mosquito's wing vibrations during flight could be clearly “seen.”

Moreover, she discovered that she could share these perceived scenes with others, and also share the mental power of this Soul Imprint Throne with those she wished to contribute to.

More importantly, sitting on this Soul Imprint Throne, her brain seemed to become smarter, operating very quickly, which would definitely be very convenient for assisting her in handling various affairs... Uh, could Tang San have given her this Soul Imprint Throne just so she could handle more affairs?

Subsequently, Hu Liena controlled the Wisdom and Spirit Soul Imprint Throne to dissipate the phenomenon. The pressure vanished instantly, but the moment she stood up, the Soul Imprint Throne transformed into a silver-white battle armor, attaching itself to Hu Liena's body—

She wore a silver circlet on her head, with a silver-white core at its center containing a nine-tailed fox phantom. Two extensions reached her crown, forming a pair of silver-white fox ear-shaped decorations. A handsome fox head relief condensed on her chest plate, with golden patterns flowing over it. Around her waist was a silver-white belt and nine battle skirts resembling fox tails. Her limbs were covered by skin-tight shoulder pads + armguards + gloves, and leg armor + knee pads + battle boots.

At this moment, Hu Liena was heroic and dashing, like a high-spirited female general. The energy emanating from her entire body was unfathomable, especially the mental force fluctuations, which even warped the surrounding space.

“This power is simply incredible!” Chrysanthemum Douluo murmured.

“Indeed, it's unbelievable.” Ghost Douluo couldn't imagine that a Spirit Emperor, by acquiring a Soul Imprint Throne, could rival or even surpass his and Chrysanthemum Douluo's power.

Is this the power of a semi-divine artifact?

291: Kill the Titled Douluo instantly!

Hu Liena had never felt so comfortable; an almost infinite force circulated within her body, as if she were connected to the entire World, able to borrow the power of the whole World!

This point, of course, was also Tang San's principle of borrowing Zhu Zhuqing's "Refining Circuit" and "Maintaining Circuit" to allow the Soul Imprint Throne to have the power to move the energy of the entire World with its own strength.

"Very powerful, but I don't know the specifics," Bibi Dong mused.

"Supreme Pontiff, we are willing to give it a try!" Yan volunteered, wanting to bring Xie Yue along to test how powerful Hu Liena was in her armored state.

Xie Yue opened his mouth, suspecting that Yan might have been stunned by his sister's immense mental force just now.

How could they be opponents?

They would be instantly killed!

"Alright," Bibi Dong agreed.

Xie Yue had no choice but to go with Yan to face Hu Liena, but after the battle began, Hu Liena only needed one glance, and both of them rolled their eyes and fell straight down.

After Ghost Douluo's examination, their mental force was scattered, and they had already fainted.

Spirit Emperor, in front of Hu Liena at this moment, was no different from an ant!

"Supreme Pontiff, I want to challenge four Titled Douluo to test the power of the Soul Imprint Throne," Hu Liena bowed, her gaze sweeping over Chrysanthemum Douluo, Ghost Douluo, Devil Bear Douluo, and Ghost Leopard Douluo.

The most suitable opponent to challenge was actually Tang San, but Hu Liena didn't want to attack him at this time. After all, the Soul Imprint Throne was crafted by Tang San, and as its Creator, he would surely understand the Soul Imprint Throne more, so she might lose, thus failing to demonstrate the true power of the Soul Imprint Throne.

"What do the four of you think?" Bibi Dong gave the choice to the four Titled Douluo beside her. Although Hu Liena's action was somewhat disrespectful, she also wanted to see the true power of the Soul Imprint Throne.

"I'm willing to fight," Chrysanthemum Douluo was the first to speak, a smile playing on his lips, "I want to see how much this semi-divine tool can enhance Holy Maiden and her combat power."

Ghost Douluo echoed, "I also want to know how powerful this semi-divine tool that I missed out on is."

Devil Bear Douluo and Ghost Leopard Douluo naturally could only agree.

Thus, with Bibi Dong's nod, the four Titled Douluo and Hu Liena went to the center of the "Douluo Continent" arena.

Devil Bear Douluo's Spirit possessed him, transforming him into a giant bear over three meters tall, and in an instant, he used his Martial Soul True Body, his massive body reaching twenty meters tall!

Ghost Leopard Douluo followed closely, also unleashing his Martial Soul True Body, transforming into a leopard over ten meters long.

Both remembered the mental pressure from before and dared not be careless, so they used their Martial Soul True Body from the start, but neither initiated an attack.

After all, Hu Liena was a junior.

Moreover, what if the armored form of Hu Liena's actual boost was not as strong as the Throne form? If they suddenly attacked and the opponent was killed, that would be their fault.

Chrysanthemum Douluo and Ghost Douluo, on the other hand, released their Spirits, and the spirit power between them reached a certain balance, as if they would use a Martial Soul Fusion Skill at any moment, just in case.

"Since that's the case, I'll make the first move," As soon as Hu Liena finished speaking, she slightly raised her hand, and a vast mental energy instantly spread out, almost materializing, solidifying everything in the arena in an instant.

The four Titled Douluo found that the air seemed to be still, and even their bodies seemed to be confined in place, unable to move. Although the spirit power in their bodies was still flowing, it was like a snail's pace.

However, what was most shocking was that they felt their mental force was also restricted in their sea of consciousness, unable to be projected out, and it kept vibrating, as if an invisible large hand was gripping their brains—

In their line of sight, they seemed to see a hundred-zhang tall fox woman, who just slightly raised her hand towards them, and that powerful pressure was as heavy as the entire Wu Hun Mountain, making them unable to resist in the slightest... No, they dared not even harbor any courage to resist!

Even though they clearly knew this was fake, a mental illusion, they just couldn't make themselves sober up, as if they had fallen into an inescapable mental illusion.

Moreover, they clearly understood that if they died in this mental illusion, their physical bodies in reality would also suffer from the mental delusion, leading to a rampage of spirit power and a chaotic mental force, thus causing their muscles and bones to twist, their internal organs to churn, and ultimately leading to their demise.

Spirit can affect reality!

Pfft!

Among the four, Ghost Douluo, the weakest in individual strength, was the first to spit blood, kneeling on the ground and saying, "Holy Maiden is mighty, I am ashamed of my inferiority, I concede!"

Ghost Leopard Douluo and Devil Bear Douluo followed closely. Chrysanthemum Douluo, whose Spirit was Strange Velvet Sky Chrysanthemum, lasted the longest, but finally also knelt on the ground, having to admit that the power of the Soul Imprint Throne was incomparably strong.

For a time, the four Titled Douluo were all convinced, but their gazes towards Tang San became fervent.

One must know that this person was the Creator of the Soul Imprint Throne!

If he could craft one, could he craft a second, third, or fourth one based on their own attributes?

Perhaps, in the near future, they too could possess a Soul Imprint Throne!

Bibi Dong's gaze was also fervent. As long as she could possess multiple Soul Imprint Thrones, how much longer could those old fogeys in the Hall of Offerings control the Douluo Hall?

Excluding Qian Daoliu, her own faction of Titled Douluo could completely crush the other six Offerings!

"Ahem, the forging of the Soul Imprint Throne requires a lot of time, and the preparation of various patterned forged metals also takes a considerable amount of time. Currently, only I can craft it. Even Lou Gao's forging level is not up to par at this time."

"Therefore, crafting multiple ones is not very realistic."

Tang San rejected Bibi Dong's idea of him becoming a Throne-crafting machine and continued, "However, weapons and armor below the Soul Imprint Throne can be crafted to enhance the strength of excellent Spirit Masters, while the future allocation of grassroots personnel should still rely on the research and development of spirit tools."

By demonstrating the power of the Soul Imprint Throne, the Spirit Masters of the Spirit Hall would not be too resistant to the research and development of basic Spirit Guidance Weapons, but rather would crave, admire, and aspire to the culmination of forging and Spirit Guidance research—the Soul Imprint Throne!

Bibi Dong's gaze remained fervent. After all, with Tang San's ability, crafting multiple ones was not a problem; they could just research it more with Lou Gao and the others later.

Moreover, she had already seen that this Soul Imprint Throne was indeed a semi-divine tool. After transforming into armor, it was also semi-divine armor, and it did not exert its full power when fighting the four Titled Douluo just now.

More importantly, this semi-divine tool could autonomously absorb World energy and evolve. Over time, it was not impossible for it to become a divine tool.

At this moment, the Soul Imprint Throne armor on Hu Liena dissipated, transforming into a silver-white belt hanging on Hu Liena's waist. Its front was a fox head relief, and the main body of the belt seemed to be compressed and curled from nine tails. At first glance, it was not very noticeable, but upon closer inspection, one could detect faint golden patterns outlining it, with some peculiar energy circulating within.

"The Soul Imprint Throne is a semi-divine tool that can change its form according to the user's Spirit, making it convenient for the user to carry," Tang San explained to everyone, "Moreover, it also contains a space one thousand meters long, wide, and high. Its current function is similar to a storage soul tool and can store living beings."

"Currently?" Hu Liena asked, "Will it have any other functions in the future?"

"Because the Soul Imprint Throne was just created, the space is only that large, but as it grows automatically, one day in the future, it is possible for it to transform into a semi-plane, a true plane," Tang San pushed up his slightly slipping detection glasses and explained with a smile, "If you have the opportunity in the future, it is not impossible to create that space into a real World like this Douluo Continent."

Hu Liena's breathing quickened involuntarily. She hadn't expected that this semi-divine tool, with such a large storage space, wouldn't be enough; it could even grow and evolve into a real World!

It was truly astonishing!

"However, for now, this is just a storage space that can hold living beings," Tang San pulled Hu Liena back to reality, but she was still excited, eager to immediately begin her "act of Creation."

"Nana, how was the consumption just now?" Bibi Dong asked about Hu Liena's condition.

"Reporting to Supreme Pontiff, the consumption was not significant. When using this Wisdom and Spirit Soul Imprint Throne, my spirit power automatically recovers, and my mental force does as well. Only my physical strength is a bit lacking, but with the boost of spirit power and mental force, it's not a big deal," Hu Liena checked her body and replied.

"The Soul Imprint Throne can connect to World energy, and it can naturally be converted into the user's spirit power and mental force, but physical strength comes from the body, and this cannot be supplemented. A semi-divine tool level Soul Imprint Throne does not yet have the ability to convert World energy into tangible matter, and a person's cultivation, before reaching a certain level, cannot rely on natural energy to sustain Life without eating."

Tang San gave a detailed explanation and believed that as a Spirit Master's spirit power increased, reaching the Titled Douluo realm, especially above Level 95, all their organs, tissues, and cells, under the long-term influence of spirit power, began to change, gradually evolving towards being able to directly absorb World energy for activity.

This was also why Level 95 Titled Douluo rarely ate; they could already practice inedia.

However, to truly feed on World energy, one would probably need to reach Level 100.

"Nana, it seems you'll have to exercise your physique more in the future," Bibi Dong smiled, "Spirit Hall still has ten-thousand-year-level whale glue, which will be given to you first. I hope that in addition to your work, you will not slack off in your cultivation and strive to become a Titled Douluo within ten years. Do you have confidence?"

"I will not disappoint the Supreme Pontiff!" Hu Liena was full of confidence. With the Soul Imprint Throne, she found that World energy would spontaneously gather around her, without her needing to actively draw it in.

Her future cultivation speed would undoubtedly be extremely fast!

Becoming a Titled Douluo within ten years was not impossible!

292: What happened to Bibi Dong: Lost his mind!

“Tang San, you have forged such a divine weapon for Spirit Hall. What reward do you desire?”

After the four Titled Douluo and Hu Liena withdrew, Bibi Dong led Tang San back to the Supreme Pontiff Palace and asked him what he wanted.

“No reward is necessary. After all, this Soul Imprint Throne is merely the first experimental piece,” Tang San shook his head. “Observing Hu Liena’s usage, I also learned some more detailed things.”

“That won’t do,” Bibi Dong smiled. “Rewarding merits is one of Spirit Hall’s basic tenets.”

“Since that’s the case, Supreme Pontiff, please reward me with some storage soul tools. Currently, my research into spatial spirit tools has hit a bottleneck. Disassembling more storage soul tools might allow me to thoroughly study the spirit tool patterns formed by their spatial spirit tool runes, as well as what materials can better carry the corresponding spatial spirit tool patterns.” Tang San thought for a moment and stated his request—although he had brought a large number of storage soul tools when purchasing ores in Gengxin City, those were borrowed from Spirit Hall and not truly his own, so he couldn't disassemble them for inspection.

Storage spirit tools are relatively sturdy, but when damaged, the patterns inside are also more severely damaged, making them thousands of times harder to replicate than the patterns of other everyday spirit tools.

Therefore, to research spatial spirit tools, the initial stage will likely require countless storage soul tools to be scrapped.

“I grant it. From now on, whenever you need storage soul tools, you can go directly to the spirit tool storage room. All kinds of spirit tools inside are yours for the taking!” Bibi Dong understood that only in the hands of Tang San, Guang Ling, and the people in Soul Guidance Technology City could spirit tools continuously innovate. In her opinion, this wasn’t even considered a reward.

Compared to the Soul Imprint Throne, mere spirit tools were simply not worth mentioning!

“Currently, all my spirit power has gathered within my middle Dantian, and my lower Dantian generates Qi and Blood on its own. The three have indeed spontaneously achieved a certain balance, even slowly increasing my overall strength, and my lifespan has also greatly increased. Before becoming a God, as long as I’m not severely injured, it seems I can live for ten thousand years.” At this moment, Bibi Dong spoke of her own cultivation.

To be honest, Bibi Dong herself hadn't expected that the autonomous circulation of energy in the three Dantians would have such an effect, allowing her vitality to become so long-lasting.

Ten thousand years! Even if she didn't become a God, she could accumulate energy comparable to or surpassing a God within ten thousand years!

If going to the God Realm meant being constrained, then living freely in the mortal world for ten thousand years was not necessarily a bad choice!

“Regarding how to continuously perfect the transformation between the three from now on, what are your thoughts?” However, Bibi Dong now wanted to know more about how to achieve perfection within herself.

“The automatic circulation between the three is the foundation. To achieve greater perfection, one needs to continuously explore in the future, understand the function of all the body’s meridians, and utilize them all,”

Tang San said calmly. “However, with Supreme Pontiff’s powerful strength, you can first condense the Qi and Blood Golden Core, Soul Power Core, and Spiritual Mindset, and then deduce backward through your entire body, observing which meridians need to be used. This will also provide verification for my future cultivation.”

“You really are treating me as a test subject,” Bibi Dong laughed, not angry. Instead, she took the Soul Core condensation method Tang San handed her and began to try.

Relying on her formidable strength, Bibi Dong believed that even if she made a mistake, it wouldn't be a big deal.

Among mental force, spirit power, and Qi and Blood, spirit power was the strongest, mental force second, and Qi and Blood third. For this, Bibi Dong decided to start with Qi and Blood.

According to the Soul Core condensation method, Bibi Dong carefully controlled the Qi and Blood in her body to gather in her lower Dantian, refining it in a rotating manner and merging it into a single point.

Boom!

When the Qi and Blood condensed into a spherical shape, a powerful vitality bloomed, dyeing Bibi Dong’s skin with a faint reddish-gold glow, and her entire body emitted a fervent heat originating from Life.

Bibi Dong keenly perceived that after the Qi and Blood Golden Core was condensed, all the blood vessels in her body seemed to become active, constantly pulsating and strengthening her physique at all times.

Next, Bibi Dong focused on mental force, beginning to refine it into a Spiritual Mindset in the same manner.

Hum!

In an instant, Bibi Dong felt as if she could “see” every part of her body, from her brain to her entire being. A network different from blood vessels connected every part of her body.

All her Life activities were controlled by the brain transmitting information through this intricate, body-wide network.

The initial condensation of the Qi and Blood Golden Core and Spiritual Mindset made Bibi Dong fully believe Tang San's theory: once the three Dantians and three types of energy in the human body are in place, they can form a miniature human universe, thereby resonating with the greater universe outside.

If she were to also initially condense the Soul Power Core at this moment, even if she hadn't become a God, could she possess God-level power?

After calming her mind, Bibi Dong began the final condensation of the Soul Power Core. However, when the spirit power gathered into a Soul Core, the two attributes of Death Spider Emperor and Soul Eating Spider Emperor suddenly erupted, simultaneously injecting into it, attempting to contend for control of the Soul Core.

Bibi Dong frowned, immediately activating the spirit power Twin Life Meditation Method, which she had revised many times over the past six months, striving to maintain a balance between these two attributes.

However, the Soul Eating Spider Emperor was the primary Spirit carrying the Rakshasa inheritance, and it gradually overpowered the Death Spider Emperor, even attempting to devour it and transform it into Rakshasa power.

If it were in the past, Bibi Dong would have felt it didn't matter if the Death Spider Emperor was devoured; strengthening the Soul Eating Spider Emperor and increasing Rakshasa power would greatly help with the inheritance God Position examination.

But now, she didn't want to become a God so quickly. Moreover, Tang San had once mentioned the God of death, which gave her a glimmer of hope—if two Gods could coexist, wouldn't she be even stronger in the future?

Therefore, Bibi Dong continuously tried to control the Death Spider Emperor's attribute power, balancing it with the Soul Eating power of the Soul Eating Spider Emperor.

[If this continues, there is indeed a possibility of carrying two Gods, but the God Position of death does not exist in the God Realm.]

That wisp of divine force remaining from the Rakshasa God appeared within the middle Dantian, observing the contention between the two Spirits, Soul Eating Spider Emperor and Death Spider Emperor, as well as the hatred and malice contained within the Soul Eating Spider Emperor—

[Although the souls previously devoured by the Soul Eating Spider Emperor have all been digested, the pure malice and hatred have been preserved. If there is a way to control them, they could become Bibi Dong's aid, but if not, these malice and hatred could affect her sanity one day in the future.]

[That old man back then didn't make it more thorough...]

However, this wisp of residual soul of the Rakshasa God also understood that taking away a soul and allowing the Soul Eating Spider Emperor to digest the previously devoured souls was a huge advantage for Bibi Dong.

Unfortunately, Bibi Dong was too greedy now, not wanting to give up any Spirit.

Find another inheritor?

The Rakshasa God didn't know if she would have another chance to find a suitable person in the future. Tang San's talent was the best, but unfortunately, his spirit power attributes were completely incompatible with her God Position. Moreover, his semi-divine level soul was much stronger than her wisp of residual thought. If she went there, she would be discovered immediately, and his other Spirit seemed to contain an extremely profound original existence. At that time, her wisp of residual soul might not be preserved.

She had to find a way—

Bibi Dong was diligently circulating her spirit power to condense the Soul Core when she suddenly found that her two streams of spirit power had become agitated, affecting the Qi and Blood Golden Core and Spiritual Mindset.

“Damn it!”

“Is it because the attributes of the two Spirits cannot merge? Or is it that the Rakshasa God's inheritance is too overbearing, only allowing one attribute to exist?”

At this moment, Bibi Dong suddenly felt that the Rakshasa God's inheritance was not as wonderful as she had imagined; instead, it cut off her possibility of further advancement.

Sensing that the death attribute was continuously weakening, Bibi Dong suddenly thought of Tang San's Blue Silver Emperor Life attribute, which could merge with her spirit power, perhaps helping her retain the Death Spider Emperor and the death attribute.

Tang San, who was observing the circulation of Qi and Blood, spirit power, and mental force within Bibi Dong, hadn't reacted yet when he was startled by Bibi Dong suddenly opening her eyes. Just as he was about to say something, Bibi Dong grabbed his right hand and said, “Release your Blue Silver Emperor. Let your spirit power with the Life attribute merge into my body to help me balance the power of death and the Soul Eating power supported by Rakshasa divine force.”

In just an instant, Tang San sensed that the spirit power in his body was being automatically absorbed by Bibi Dong.

“As expected of the Soul Eating Spider Emperor, bearing the name ‘Soul Eating’.”

While marveling, the Endless Grassland was already released, and the power of the earth transformed into spirit power, replenishing Tang San, while Tang San's spirit power continued to be absorbed by Bibi Dong.

As the spirit power with rich Life attribute merged into her body, Bibi Dong felt as if she had consumed a supreme medicinal treasure; her entire body trembled comfortably.

“More! (spirit power) More!”

“I want more (spirit power)!”

Helplessly, Tang San could only continuously increase the amount of spirit power he supplied to satisfy Bibi Dong's (spirit power) demands.

However, during this process, Tang San also observed the circulation of spirit power within Bibi Dong in more detail, even discovering that his own Life-attributed spirit power and the death-attributed spirit power intertwined. That mutually generating and counteracting fluctuation simultaneously touched both their bodies and minds, as if they were about to completely merge into one.

“Supreme Pontiff, how about another day...” Tang San was about to say something when he found Bibi Dong's eyes becoming hazy, and she actually embraced him.

But strangely, their spirit power was still circulating, as if some force was propelling it all.

“Something's not right!” Tang San's heart grew wary. He released his mental force, wanting to awaken Bibi Dong, but when his vast mental force poured into Bibi Dong's sea of consciousness, it couldn't stir any ripples, as if some higher-essence power was obstructing it all.

Rakshasa divine force!

Tang San immediately realized this point and tried to break free, but then he heard a “rip” sound, and his clothes were directly torn by Bibi Dong.

“...Illyasviel, help! I'm going to die!”

Tang San could only turn to Ilyas now. After all, he didn't want anything to happen with Bibi Dong; this woman was a true black widow. If something really happened, he might be devoured!

And it would be his flesh and blood being devoured!

And now, a part of him had already been physically engulfed by Bibi Dong...

293: Different parties have different opinions

Inside the magnificent Supreme Pontiff Palace, a purplish-black light mass and a blue-golden light mass stood in opposition, powerful energy filling the entire hall, colliding and rubbing against each other.

The radiating halo seemed to flow with the essence of Life and death, as if even space would tremble and be annihilated by it.

This powerful fluctuation naturally attracted the attention of the Titled Douluo, but the emanating pressure prevented them from advancing even an inch, making it impossible to even enter the Supreme Pontiff Palace.

Even Hu Liena, who possessed the Soul Imprint Throne, could not enter the hall at this moment. The Wisdom and Spirit Soul Imprint Throne also dimmed, as if fearing the energy within.

"What's happening inside?"

"Why is there such powerful pressure?"

"Are the Saint Son and Supreme Pontiff researching some powerful self-created Spirit Ability?"

"It might be a Martial Soul Fusion Skill. I feel the attributes of Life and death intertwining... That is definitely a power beyond mortal imagination!"

"Teacher, Tang San, what exactly are you researching?"

Qian Daoliu, located at the peak of Wu Hun Mountain, also abruptly opened his eyes, looking down, sensing the cycle of Life and death, his face instantly turning ashen.

Qian Daoliu had also researched Martial Soul Fusion Skill. The harmonious spirit power fusion before him was definitely not a powerful Spirit transforming other attributes of spirit power, but a deeper, perfectly blended fusion.

This meant one thing: Bibi Dong had betrayed Qian Xunji!

Although Qian Xunji had forcefully taken her body back then, no matter what, Bibi Dong was considered his daughter-in-law. Yet today, she was acting so... unchaste!

Tang San was acknowledged as the Saint Son by these High Priests, and he was also prepared as a husband for Qian Renxue in case she couldn't complete her God Position trials. He was a seed for the Qian family to produce even more outstanding descendants!

But now, he actually—

Absurd!

Incomprehensible!

Qian Daoliu's face flickered between dark and light, his spirit power surged for a moment, but eventually settled down.

Firstly, their Angel lineage had wronged Bibi Dong. He himself was in Spirit Hall at the time and never thought to stop Qian Xunji from doing that, so he felt guilty.

Secondly, Bibi Dong was, after all, Qian Renxue's mother, and he couldn't leave too many flaws in Xue'er's heart; she had to live.

Thirdly, this time might have been an accident, and it wasn't that Bibi Dong truly wanted to do that. It was highly likely that it was their first time performing spirit power fusion, which led to both parties being unable to control themselves...

However, the most important point was that the energy below covered a smaller area than the previous silver-white one, but its quality was higher, and its origin was more profound, already extremely close to the hundredth level.

If he were to rashly interrupt, the energy explosion would annihilate the entire Spirit City, including him, in an instant... For Xue'er's future, everything could be sacrificed, but he could not be sacrificed. The last inheritance of the Angel needed his sacrifice as a devout believer of the Angel God to truly open!

"High Priest, what new trouble has erupted down there?" Gold Crocodile Douluo couldn't discern the essence of it, only feeling that the energy transmitted from halfway up the mountain was more profound, and that familiar fluctuation made his body instinctively tremble, recalling the memory of being jointly suppressed by Tang San and Bibi Dong with a single punch, almost dying without a burial place.

"It's nothing, just Bibi Dong and Tang San practicing a self-created Spirit Ability." Qian Daoliu suddenly looked at Gold Crocodile Douluo, feeling that he should add another safeguard and find a way to help Gold Crocodile Douluo also break through to level ninety-nine.

This way, even if Bibi Dong were to cause trouble for him in the future, leading to an accident that prevented Qian Renxue from undergoing her final Ninth Trial... Gold Crocodile could serve as his substitute to initiate the final assessment. After all, Gold Crocodile Douluo was also a devout believer of the Angel God...

...

Within Bibi Dong's spiritual sea, Iliex saw that wisp of Rakshasa God's remnant divine soul and coldly snorted, "The gods of the God Realm are truly shameless, daring to scheme even against their own inheritors."

"A last resort." The Rakshasa remnant divine soul scrutinized Iliex, sensing his aura that was out of place in this World, and said, "Does the God Realm manage foreign visitors from beyond the World? Judging by your appearance, becoming a God of death is but a trifle for you. Why did you give it up?"

"In my World, becoming a God means being one with the World," Iliex said.

"Divine body and divine soul elementalization?" The Rakshasa remnant divine soul seemed to recall something and spoke faintly, "It seems the rules of your World are very powerful. Gods serve as sustenance, allowing the World to continuously grow, and perhaps eventually become a solidified God-star, surpassing the God Realm."

"Let's not talk about that for now. What exactly is your purpose?" Iliex asked.

"To intertwine Life and death, and help my inheritor condense the God Position of death." The Rakshasa remnant divine soul stated her thoughts, "But she cannot accomplish it alone; external help is needed."

The God Position of death did not exist in the God Realm, so Bibi Dong had to condense it herself. However, with Bibi Dong's talent, she wouldn't have that opportunity, so she had to find a way.

Moreover, the Rakshasa remnant divine soul also hoped Bibi Dong would become stronger, hoping to regain face from Asura in the future, and even kill Asura God once, allowing him to experience the taste of becoming a remnant divine soul.

"Condense the God Position of death? Heh heh, do you know how to do it? This isn't something that can be achieved by simply having a lot of death attribute energy." Iliex sneered, his divine soul trembled, scattering the divine sense that the Rakshasa divine soul had Bound, and he chuckled coldly, "Don't even think about taking anything from this old man. If you were in your prime, this old man might not be your opponent, but with just a mere remnant divine soul, you want to seize the aura and laws of the God of death from this old man? Isn't that a bit too fanciful?"

"As expected of a powerhouse from another World, truly impressive... How about we make a deal?" The Rakshasa remnant divine soul sensed that she was about to dissipate, marveling at Iliex's strangeness, and also stated her request, "You and I help Bibi Dong condense the seed of the God of death, and I'll tell you how to use the power of faith, how about it?"

"Power of faith?" Iliex feigned disdain, "Becoming a God in this old man's World doesn't require such a thing."

"Don't look down on it. Faith is the belief of all living beings, a manifestation of mental power, possessing various immense powers. The gods of the God Realm also have an extremely low utilization rate of it, but based on my initial observation and conjecture of those God-Kings, they themselves are manifestations of mental power." The Rakshasa remnant divine soul explained some of her understanding of the power of faith.

"You've even met God-Kings?" Iliex could largely confirm that this Rakshasa remnant divine soul before him was not a stray from the God Realm, but rather a fragment left in the mortal realm by her main body before ascending to the God Realm.

But as far as he knew, a mere wisp of divine soul couldn't contact the main body, could it?

"My true self has seen them, but she has already been annihilated by Asura God. The crime was that my true self affected his inheritance ground left in this Douluo World." The Rakshasa remnant divine soul was filled with resentment, her remnant divine soul scattered, and it took a while for her to calm down, slowly saying, "Bringing up old matters always makes me a bit emotional. Back to business, before my true self fell, she had some research on the power of faith, and transferred some memories to this wisp of my remnant divine soul, giving me some related memories."

"Of the Five Great God-Kings: Life, Destruction, Asura, Goodness, and Evil, which two do you think are the most abrupt?"

Iliex frowned and said, "This old man hasn't seen them with his own eyes, but just by hearing their names, Goodness and Evil are quite special. Life and Destruction are two laws, and Asura should be in charge of killing intent. As for Goodness and Evil, they seem to be concepts in the true sense."

"That's right, Goodness and Evil are the most abrupt. These two guys are also the Supreme God-Kings of the God Realm, in charge of good thoughts and evil thoughts."

The Rakshasa remnant divine soul sighed, "As long as people in the World are not heartless and emotionless, then the fluctuations emitted by their thoughts can be categorized into the two concepts of [Goodness] and [Evil]. Therefore, even if the two of them don't leave inheritance grounds in the mortal realm, and even if the World doesn't know of their existence, they can instinctively provide them with the power of faith."

"The essence of the power of faith is the power of the mind, and the thoughts generated by intelligent creatures, whether they do good deeds or evil deeds, will strengthen the power of those two."

"Even if the two of them don't deliberately collect it, causing most of these thoughts to dissipate the moment they are generated, it still makes their strength superior to the other three God-Kings."

Now, Iliex confirmed one thing: the gods of the God Realm, as he had previously guessed, utilized the power of faith just like Spirit Masters, accumulating quantity without considering quality, and their methods of utilization were extremely primitive.

However, was the essence of the power of faith truly the power of the mind?

Faith comes from the heart...

Seeing Iliex deep in thought, the Rakshasa divine sense continued, "This wisp of my remnant divine soul is about to dissipate. Could you do me a favor? Just consider it helping your daughter-in-law?"

Iliex: "???"

"Bibi Dong, as my inheritor, is like my daughter, and you staying in Tang San's spiritual sea, doesn't that make Tang San like your son?" the Rakshasa remnant divine soul said.

"Now that you put it that way, it really is." Iliex put on a smile, taking advantage of Tang San, then asked, "What if this woman gets angry afterward?"

"Don't worry, Bibi Dong already has a good impression of Tang San, and with their spirit power fusion, their Spirits and bodies intertwined, they will instinctively lean towards each other. There won't be any major problems." The Rakshasa remnant divine soul's voice grew fainter and fainter, and her form became increasingly ethereal, "In the future, she will definitely be able to become Tang San's helper."

"Aren't you afraid we'll just take what we want and leave?" Iliex pursed his lips, feeling that the Rakshasa remnant divine soul was a bit too naive. Neither he nor Tang San were entirely good people.

"I can tell that you two will not submit to the God Realm Committee." The Rakshasa remnant divine soul felt that this alone was enough.

"You really see through things so damn clearly!"

Iliex had to admit that any existence capable of condensing a God Position on their own truly had some real skill and a profound understanding of human nature.

The Rakshasa remnant divine soul, however, was surprised that a demigod-level powerhouse would actually curse...

294: Rakshasa God's final explanation

Bibi Dong felt like she was dreaming, sometimes swimming in the vast ocean, sometimes soaring in the boundless sky, and sometimes galloping on a boundless prairie. The drizzling rain on her face brought her an unparalleled sense of ease and enjoyment, as if her entire being had become much more transparent.

However, happy times are always short-lived.

As the red sun set in the west, Bibi Dong woke up to find herself exposed to Tang San, their eyes meeting. Her face first flushed red, then turned pale, and she said coldly, "What are you doing?"

Tang San immediately jumped away, dressing himself within a second, and said, "Supreme Pontiff, what just happened? I seem to have lost my memory?"

"Lost your memory? Why does this Supreme Pontiff remember?" Bibi Dong also changed her clothes in an instant, and with her spirit power, turned the clothes and water stains on the ground into ash and steam.

Tang San understood that Bibi Dong didn't want to let this matter go so easily, and immediately felt a headache—after all, it wasn't him who was audacious, but Bibi Dong who had "rectified" him on the spot.

He was the "victim"!

"Cough, Supreme Pontiff, maybe I misremembered, I remember everything that just happened." Tang San gave a wry smile, "But you can't blame me, you tore my clothes, and you even hugged me willingly...”

Seeing Bibi Dong's face turn ashen, Tang San immediately stopped speaking, only secretly glancing at Bibi Dong, sensing that she wasn't truly angry... Could it be that Bibi Dong also had feelings for him?

How was that possible!

With her current personality, if she hadn't been influenced by external factors, how could she possibly like someone else again?

When he challenged Bibi Dong before, a few jokes were fine, but now that it actually happened, it would be strange if she didn't kill him... But the current situation was indeed a bit strange.

“Supreme Pontiff, are you alright?”

Four Titled Douluo and Hu Liena burst in from outside, asking with concern.

“It's fine, you all retreat first. I have something to say to Tang San.” Bibi Dong's tone was beyond question, and the five, helpless, could only retreat.

Only Hu Liena noticed that Bibi Dong seemed to have changed her clothes, and her legs were slightly trembling...

Could it be that Teacher and Tang San were really practicing their self-created Spirit Ability earlier, to the point that even their bodies were affected? But why did Tang San look so refreshed?

And there seemed to be a strange scent in the air that only her keen nose could detect...

After the five left, Bibi Dong slowly rose from the Supreme Pontiff's chair, looking directly at Tang San, and suddenly asked out of nowhere, “Does this mean I've conquered you?”

“Ah?” Tang San was slightly stunned, then coughed twice and said, “Supreme Pontiff, I don't think so? It was just an accident, and I'm not tired yet.”

They were frivolous words, but for some reason, Bibi Dong couldn't bring herself to be angry, and the more she looked at Tang San, the more she found him... cute.

Moreover, for some unknown reason, after her spirit power and Tang San's spirit power merged, the death Power of the Death Spider Emperor seemed to undergo a qualitative change, giving birth to a power on par with Rakshasa divine force.

Could that be the power of death?

Why did it appear?

Was it because it borrowed Tang San's spirit power, which had the attribute of Life?

However, it was precisely because of this that the two powers could balance each other, and it even seemed that the Rakshasa God's inheritance had undergone a slight change, transmitting a piece of information to her:

Accumulate spirit power to the hundred-level, and you can accept the God Position and become the Rakshasa God.

Now, her spirit power, which had decreased by one level due to the inheritance, had also recovered, and her own cultivation had returned to ninety-ninth level. Moreover, the Spirit Bone she absorbed was undergoing an autonomous transformation under the influence of the two powers contained within the Death Spider Emperor and the Soul Eating Spider Emperor, beginning to transform towards a divine armor.

“Hmph! Don't let it happen again!” Bibi Dong didn't know what she was saying, but finally gave Tang San a fierce glare, stood up, and walked towards the back hall.

In the misty bath, Bibi Dong, stripped of all her clothes, recalled her previous experience, her face flushed, and all she could think of was Tang San's strong and firm chest.

“What on earth am I thinking?”

Bibi Dong's heart was in turmoil. She tried hard to keep herself clear-headed and began to meditate. She immediately noticed that the Soul Power Twin Cultivation Method was running much faster, her vitality had greatly increased, and her mental force was as pure as crystal. When released, it was like a spider web, capable of covering the entire Spirit City, inside and out. Everything was within her sight, and when condensed to a single point, the linear range she could detect extended up to thirty thousand kilometers.

With Spirit Hall as the center, Bibi Dong could completely scan over half of the Douluo Continent!

However, this linear detection consumed an extreme amount of mental force.

“The effect is actually this powerful?” Bibi Dong was surprised by the transformation of her mental force. Just as she was about to scan the Douluo Continent, her mind suddenly sank into her Upper Dantian.

“Where is this?”

Bibi Dong could be said to know her own situation like the back of her hand, but why had she suddenly come into her Upper Dantian?

“My inheritor, meeting for the second time, do you still recognize me?”

The phantom of the Rakshasa God appeared, causing Bibi Dong to focus, and her entire Spiritual Mindset trembled, as if ready to launch an attack at any moment to obliterate the other party.

“Not bad, as my inheritor, you even think of destroying me, your predecessor. That's truly excellent.” The Rakshasa God was not angry, but rather praised, “Only then can you exert the strongest power when you control the God Position I left behind in the future, and even advance it further.”

Bibi Dong gritted her silver teeth and questioned, “Was all that before your doing? You actually made me do such a thing! I could be his mother!”

The Rakshasa God paused for a moment, then suddenly laughed: “So what you care about is the age difference, then that's nothing. After a thousand years, this nearly forty-year difference will be like one or two days. After ten thousand years, this difference will be equivalent to one or two hours.”

“It really was your doing!” Bibi Dong was so ashamed and angry that she wished she could tear the guy in front of her into pieces.

“Don't be so agitated. Look on the bright side, although he's a bit of a playboy, he's very serious about relationships, and you alone can bear...”

“Shut up!” Bibi Dong shouted, “Is this how a Divinity is?”

“Who says a Divinity can't be flirtatious?” The Rakshasa God chuckled, “We just use a power that is a little more advanced than a Spirit Master, but essentially, we are the same as humans, still having seven emotions and six desires, joys, angers, sorrows, and delights... Back to the main topic, you should have noticed the other power within your body, right?”

“What is your purpose?” Bibi Dong's voice sank.

“Naturally, it is to make my inheritor, which is you, stronger.” The Rakshasa God said sincerely, “Tang San once told you about matters related to the God of death, but there is actually no God Position of death in the God Realm. Therefore, I used the process of your union with him to help you forge the core of the God of death Divinity, and to carry your love and good intentions...”

When Ilyas and the Rakshasa remnant soul helped Bibi Dong condense the core of death, they also considered the hatred and evil contained within the Soul Eating Spider Emperor.

It was extremely difficult to expel those two powers.

For this reason, Ilyas had a suggestion: to gather the various thoughts emitted by Bibi Dong herself (this was naturally done by the Rakshasa remnant soul, who had a greater understanding of the power of faith), distinguish the good intentions and love within them, and inject them into the Death Spider Emperor, echoing the Soul Eating Spider Emperor, forming a cycle of intertwined love and hate, good and evil, to achieve balance.

In this way, when Bibi Dong becomes a Divinity in the future, she can also control the laws of love and hate, and the principles of good and evil.

After becoming a Divinity in the future and absorbing enough Immortal Spiritual Energy, she can directly reach the God King level, or even surpass a God King.

And this is only the bonus brought by the two God Positions. If her three Dantians can truly communicate with the great universe outside, she might be able to become an immortal True God in the universe!

“What love and good intentions? I don't have such things at all!” Bibi Dong vehemently denied, but her mind was shaking, causing the Spiritual Mindset within her Upper Dantian to vibrate, which in turn stirred up towering waves in the mental star sea surrounding it, surging towards the Rakshasa God in front of her.

However, the Rakshasa God was not affected in any way.

“Don't waste your effort, my remnant soul has already dissipated after helping you condense the God Position of death. This is just an illusion, and once it has delivered its message, it will disappear forever.” The Rakshasa God's gaze was calm, “Your hatred stems from Qian Xunji's beastly actions and Yu Xiaogang's incompetence and inaction, thus producing evil, wanting to retaliate against everything, to destroy everything; your love, on the other hand, comes from your disciples' concern for you, and from Tang San's nourishment of you before...”

“Shut up!” Bibi Dong shouted. The former was fine, she admitted it, but the latter half of the sentence, what did it mean her love came from Tang San's nourishment? Was she the kind of woman who would sink into pleasure?

But the Rakshasa God ignored her and continued, "...Therefore, you changed the core of Spirit Hall, developing good intentions towards the world, hoping to unify the continent and end the disputes."

"Even if you don't admit it, you can't deny that during the time Tang San joined Spirit Hall, you had a natural good impression of him, and because he brought change to Spirit Hall, he also brought passion to your Life."

Passion?

Bibi Dong only knew that Tang San's suggestions had greatly increased her workload; she had never been so busy!

"At least, amidst the busyness, you witnessed the changes in Spirit City, and you saw scenery you had never seen before. All of these caused your thoughts to subtly change."

The Rakshasa God's phantom slowly dissipated, and gave a final warning: "Cherish the hard-won happy Life you have now, after all, Tang San doesn't belong to you alone."

"If you're going to die, die quickly! Don't be an eyesore in front of this Supreme Pontiff!" Bibi Dong, whose mood had somewhat calmed, was once again stimulated by the Rakshasa God and roared.

The Rakshasa God was now only a head, but still said, "Oh, and the matter between you and Tang San, it wasn't all controlled by me. At most, I provided some guidance. The subsequent events were entirely your own doing..."

Bibi Dong took a deep breath and shouted loudly, "Shut up, you old hag!!!"

295: Electrolux's understanding of the power of faith

After leaving the Supreme Pontiff Palace, Tang San's mind sank into his upper Dantian, his gaze profound: "Why didn't you respond at all earlier?"

"Wasn't I afraid of spoiling Brother Tang's good deed?" Ilyas winked, then coughed, and said seriously, "But let me tell you, I didn't see anything—"

Unlike the previous Rakshasa God's remnant soul, who was a complete fujoshi, watching with great relish.

Ilyas even suspected that if the former Rakshasa God had a physical body, she would definitely have participated!

And just like that, she suffered retribution, her soul scattered.

Tang San naturally didn't hear the last three sentences, but at this moment, his brows were tightly furrowed, and he increasingly felt that Ilyas was becoming more and more improper. Could it be because he was influenced by him?

That's completely unnecessary!

It's just—

"I don't believe you did nothing during the process earlier. The balance of attributes within Bibi Dong's body was restored, it couldn't have just been because of our dual cultivation." Tang San said in a deep voice, "Although I also gained benefits, my blood, spirit power, and mental force all showed tendencies to condense into a core, and my spirit power even broke through to rank sixty-five..."

Half a year ago, Tang San obtained his sixth spirit ring, and his spirit power reached rank sixty-two. Half a year later, it increased by one rank, reaching rank sixty-three.

Now, a dual cultivation session with Bibi Dong caused his spirit power to break through two more ranks.

But Tang San believed that Ilyas had definitely been secretly causing trouble, otherwise, he wouldn't have this attitude. Usually, when he was intimate with Xiao Wu and others, this guy wouldn't say a word. Why would he explain like this now?

"Alright, I'll tell you..."

Listening to Ilyas slowly recount the transaction with the Rakshasa remnant soul, Tang San's eyes narrowed into slits: "The origin of the power of faith, the devout thoughts emitted from the heart?"

"That's right, power originating from the heart. This is also a power that only intelligent beings can produce. Non-intelligent species cannot derive it."

Ilyas said in a solemn voice, extremely seriously, "However, the power of faith generally cannot be directly absorbed. It will be subtly influenced by the thoughts of all beings and cannot be directly utilized. Most Divinities rely on divine tools to carry it. For example, the Sea God of Sea God Island uses his own divine tool, the trident, as the core for gathering faith."

"According to the Rakshasa remnant soul, besides the two Supreme God Kings, Goodness and Evil, who are unaffected, only Angels and Rakshasa can avoid it."

"Angels represent all good qualities in the human World."

"Rakshasa, on the other hand, is the exact opposite."

"This is because the faith absorbed by both is relatively pure, with a clear distinction between good and evil. Correspondingly, Asura's killing intent is more complex. This is also one of the reasons why the Asura God wanted to abandon his God Position, not just because he wanted to explore a vaster cosmic space, or because he was restricted by other God-Kings."

"As for the Life and death God-Kings, their fundamental core is the law of Life and death. They don't need the power of faith. Among the one hundred and eight Worlds governed by the God Realm, there are no legends related to them."

"In fact, among the Five Great God-Kings, except for the special cases of Goodness and Evil, the other three do not require the power of faith. It's just that Life, death, and Asura are enforcers.

Especially Asura, every time there's a mission, he and his subordinate Divinities and divine officials are responsible for deployment. Life and death merely stay in the God Realm, responsible for initial judgment and decision-making...

Therefore, there are legends of the Asura God in the lower realms, but no deeds of Life and death, because most of the divine-level powerhouses who violated the God Realm's laws were eradicated by the Asura's line of enforcers. Those brought to the God Realm to receive initial judgment from Life and death are extremely rare."

"And it is precisely because Asura frequently appeared in the lower realms to enforce laws that he gained renown there, and the gathering of the power of faith, even when transmitted to the God Realm and becoming extremely scarce, subtly changed his personality."

Hearing these secrets, Tang San pondered, then asked: "Goodness and Evil are special?"

"Indeed special, because they are the very concepts of good and evil."

Ilyas nodded, "They can grow by relying on the good and evil thoughts of all beings, and they will not be affected by the good and evil thoughts of the human World, their minds are as sincere as children... Hmm~ Honestly, such existences are actually very dangerous. For example, it's like two children controlling the nuclear bomb's switch button—I seem to understand why these two guys in the Douluo Series in your memory abandoned their positions in the God Realm to experience love in the mortal World."

Only love can truly make a person grow.

That kind of perseverance, constantly honed through Life and death, in Ilyas's view, merely cultivated a mercenary and hard-hearted disposition.

"If Ji Dong and Lie Yan truly exist on the Wuxing Continent, then even if they inherit the positions of Goodness and Evil in the future, they will never reach the height of their predecessors."

Ilyas continued, "Because they are human after all, their seven emotions and six desires are too complex, while Goodness and Evil are the original essence, formed from the two thoughts of good and evil of the Creator God who opened up the God Realm."

"From this perspective, for humans, inheriting a God Position is not advisable, unless the previous God completely dies, like the Rakshasa God. Otherwise, in terms of understanding the Divinity's origin, they will never surpass their predecessor, unless they find another path, only pursuing power enhancement and bonuses, similar to the original you in the novel, who didn't consider understanding laws, only pursuing the superposition and qualitative change of energy, but ultimately, they are all using the inheritance left by their predecessors."

Tang San was speechless: "Don't lump me in with him. I'm far more scummy... Oh, no, I'm more benevolent."

Ilyas: "...I've talked so much, and that's all you care about?"

"Let's get serious." Tang San changed the subject, "So, the power of faith is useless to us, right?"

"For now, yes." Ilyas said, "But don't think I lost out. I exchanged information about the power of faith from the Rakshasa remnant soul, which can help you manage the illusory World of the Blue Silver Emperor in the future."

"How to manage?" Tang San was curious. When did the power of faith become an "intelligent housekeeper"?

"Didn't you read many novels in your previous Life? 'Yang God,' 'Star River Emperor'..."

"Stop!" Tang San interrupted Ilyas's detailed enumeration, and asked in confusion, "Can these really be used as reference?"

"Certainly not, after all, there are no detailed descriptions, but I found that the power of faith indeed has corresponding properties. Perhaps it can be condensed into something similar to a virtual Heavenly Dao." Ilyas spoke eloquently, "When your illusory Starry Sky World is fully constructed in the future, with your and my mental force, plus the mental force of your women, it will still be difficult to manage the entire scope. Why not directly use the power of faith to create an [Administrator] to assist us? Wouldn't that be wonderful?"

This suggestion indeed sounded very good, but at present, even the illusory Starry Sky World only had a "texture" of a starry sky. To truly open up an illusory World would probably require a lot of time and effort.

Secondly, even if the power of faith could truly be made into something similar to a incense-fueled divine body, a Dharma body, or even a Heavenly Dao, it would probably require tens of millions or even hundreds of millions of experiments.

Tang San's evaluation of this was only four words: promising future.

However, one point was still unclear—

"How do you know the properties of the power of faith? The Rakshasa remnant soul shouldn't know such specifics, right? Or did you research the power of faith? Where did you get it from?"

"You might not believe it, but you have the power of faith within you, and there's even a continuous stream of the power of faith entering your body from the outside." Ilyas recounted a fact he had observed, "This might be related to you being a Martial Soul Theory Master, plus being a powerful Spirit Master who can rival the Spirit Hall Pope. People's admiration for you and their desire for strength cause their power of faith to gather on you."

Tang San frowned, worried that the power of faith would have a negative impact on his mind and personality, or even distort them.

Perhaps it had already caused an impact!

For example, he now felt no guilt whatsoever about having a harem!

"Please rest assured, this has absolutely nothing to do with the power of faith."

Although Ilyas only had his divine soul left, he couldn't help but twitch the corner of his mouth at this moment, "You're a lecher yourself, what does that have to do with the power of faith?"

"Also, this energy, the power of faith, can only be absorbed by existences that have condensed a divine soul. It's equivalent to existing in another dimension. You can't perceive it at all, and it merely gathers within your body."

"Perhaps one day you die unexpectedly, and this power of faith might be able to protect your soul from death, and even over units of millions of years, you could become a God of Faith, but whether you would still be 'you' at that time is an unknown."

Mortals cannot perceive faith, nor can they utilize it, so naturally, they cannot enjoy the improvement in their strength from the power of faith.

But Tang San breathed a sigh of relief.

He could accept the increase in spirit power from dual cultivation with Bibi Dong, after all, Bibi Dong was stronger than him, and he was passively "absorbing yin to supplement yang." But the power of faith was different; it subtly influenced one's consciousness.

It truly echoed the old saying: Faith is poisonous!

Returning to Soul Martial Manor, Tang San first went to the bathroom to take a shower, removing the scent from his body, before joining the others, who were either training, researching, or shopping, for dinner.

"Third Brother, I heard you chatted with the Supreme Pontiff all afternoon today?" Xiao Wu asked curiously while eating fatty beef, "Was it because of that throne?"

"Mainly to teach her the Three Dantian Method and see the effect." Tang San felt that this wasn't lying, after all, during that primitive and ancient exercise, Bibi Dong truly condensed death and Soul Devour dual-attribute spirit cores.

"You're the first person to dare to experiment on the Supreme Pontiff." Ning Rongrong covered her mouth, then joked, "Speaking of which, you wouldn't have even taken down the Supreme Pontiff in the end, would you?"

Tang San's expression didn't change, instead, he followed Ning Rongrong's words: "Of course not, your man is very powerful."

"Bah, conceited!" Huo Wu threw a flirtatious glance at Tang San.

"Haha, eat up~"

296: Blue silver rhizomes are all over Wuhun City: Blue Silver Network

“The last Blue Silver Emperor Martial Soul has finally been planted.”

Half a month had passed since he last emerged from the Supreme Pontiff Palace. During this time, Lou Gao specifically sought him out to inquire about the Soul Imprint Throne, but Tang San was busy with another matter:

Planting the Blue Silver Emperor Martial Soul.

Within these past two weeks, the flowerbeds and green spaces in the Spirit Hall Inner City, as well as the green zones of the six major cities in the Spirit Hall Outer City, had all been planted with Tang San's Blue Silver Emperor Martial Soul.

Its roots delved deep underground, forming a dense, continuous network that covered the entire Spirit City, even extending hundreds of miles beyond the city walls.

Where the root systems intertwined, they also connected with the roots of other wild Blue Silver Grass, causing them to undergo a transformation as they were jointly nourished by the Blue Silver Emperor Martial Soul, the power of the earth, and the essence of the sun and moon.

Under the influence of the Blue Silver Emperor, the land where Spirit City was located became more stable, and the natural energy within the city grew denser. Even ordinary people, nourished by this natural energy over many years, could live longer, and their descendants would have a much higher probability of possessing innate spirit power upon awakening their Spirit.

Of course, for Tang San, the most important thing was that his mental force could move unimpeded within Spirit City. With just a thought, his mental force could transfer through the underground Blue Silver Emperor Network and then manifest from a Blue Silver Emperor Martial Soul plant, using its energy to condense a materialized thought-body.

One could say that the Blue Silver Emperor roots underground were the communication channels, while the Blue Silver Emperor Martial Soul plants were the computer terminals, signal towers, and signal receivers.

As the owner of the Blue Silver Emperor Martial Soul, Tang San's mental force could transfer from any location, while others needed to go through a Blue Silver Emperor Martial Soul plant to enter that illusory Starry Sky World, and they required Tang San's permission, which meant recording their mental force fluctuations—i.e., granting access.

Moreover, others could not condense thought-bodies or transfer their mental force through the Blue Silver Emperor.

This was a privilege of Tang San, the owner of this Spirit!

Of course, in the future, as Tang San grows stronger and gains more understanding of the Blue Silver Emperor and that Starry Sky World, he might be able to grant others corresponding abilities and permissions.

“Your Holiness, the Blue Silver root network has been initially completed in Spirit City. Within the confines of Spirit City and the covered areas hundreds of miles outside the city, anyone whose mental fluctuations I have marked can conduct real-time mental force communication.”

After the Blue Silver Network was initially covered, Tang San and Ilyas researched it together. Currently, for Bibi Dong and others, this Blue Silver Network could only be used for real-time communication.

As for the Starry Sky World, although it was constantly expanding, it could not be fully opened yet.

“Not bad, it's much more convenient than a spirit tool camera.”

Bibi Dong conducted a test, having Ghost Douluo fly outside Spirit City and communicate with him via the Blue Silver Network. She found that it was indeed real-time communication with no delay; as soon as she spoke, Ghost Douluo heard her.

“Actually, it can be even more convenient.” Tang San raised his hand and swiped it in front of him, and a transparent, illusory panel appeared, displaying Guang Ling's face.

“Greetings, Supreme Pontiff.” Guang Ling on the panel stepped back a few paces, revealing her whole body, and bowed to Bibi Dong. The other Titled Douluo present could also discern from the background behind Guang Ling that she was located at Soul Martial Manor.

This meant that Guang Ling was at the foot of Wu Hun Mountain!

And they were halfway up the mountain!

This Blue Silver Network could actually do things like a spirit tool camera?

It was truly incredible!

Was it really as Tang San said, that spirit tools were actually researched from a Spirit Master's spirit ring and Spirit Ability? Was it some kind of “bionics”?

“This is another function of the Blue Silver Network: it allows visual communication. And under the Blue Silver Emperor's marking, it can also assist relevant personnel in recording the mental fluctuations of people they know, thereby allowing them to add each other as friends, create dedicated group chats, and protect personal privacy to prevent malicious harassment from others.”

Listening to Tang San's introduction, Bibi Dong and the three Titled Douluo present felt that Tang San was overthinking it; no one would use the Blue Silver Network for harassment.

“However, currently, it can only perform such simple visual communication. The essence of mental force is still unclear and requires time to research.”

“Processing the mental force of others also requires a lot of time. We are currently trying to devise corresponding mental force management procedures...”

“However, for grassroots personnel in Spirit City, once their mental force fluctuations are recorded, communication between them will be extremely swift. If a problem arises anywhere, a single word is all it takes for personnel in other areas to immediately know, allowing for corresponding arrangements and deployments, greatly improving efficiency.”

At this point, Tang San paused for a moment and said, “Moreover, within the Blue Silver Network, there is actually an illusory Starry Sky World that is constantly expanding. In the future, it might become a second World, second only to the real World.”

“Starry Sky World?” Bibi Dong wanted to experience it.

“Supreme Pontiff and the four Titled Douluo, please follow me.”

At this moment, Ghost Douluo also rushed back to the Supreme Pontiff Palace.

Tang San then released his Blue Silver Emperor Martial Soul, using his mental force to guide the five individuals, and together they entered the Starry Sky World.

A deep starry sky.

A vast universe.

Compared to Tang San's first entry here, the Starry Sky World at this time had grown considerably. By the six people's estimation, its diameter exceeded ten million kilometers.

Countless stars floated around them, some as small as sesame seeds, others as large as houses, all spherical and emitting a soft glow, causing everyone's minds to involuntarily calm down.

“This is the illusory Starry Sky World within the Blue Silver Emperor. Each sphere is a World, but it hasn't been fully constructed yet. In the future, this will be a vast and boundless illusory myriad of Worlds.” Tang San spread his arms, introducing it to the five, his face filled with pride.

Bibi Dong was silent for a long time but was the first to break the silence, sighing, “This shouldn't just be illusory, right?”

“At least for a long time in the future, it will be illusory. To turn it into reality, without some great fortune, it would probably require calculations in units of ‘billions’.”

Tang San said very seriously, “However, after this illusory space expanded, I found that some spatial fragments existing in another dimension were also drawn in and integrated into it, causing it to constantly stabilize and grow.”

“This will indeed accelerate the process of the illusory space becoming real, but to truly turn it into reality, it will probably still require calculations in units of ‘billions’.”

Tang San estimated that these so-called spatial fragments were mainly from the great war between the Dragon God and the gods of the God Realm long ago, which led to the instability of the God Realm, causing it to shatter and drop some spatial fragments.

Perhaps this illusory Starry Sky World, like the storage space opened by Xiao Wu's 100,000-year Soft Bones Rabbit, could absorb spatial fragments from the void to grow.

“This is already very good. In the future, you have hope of Creation!”

At this moment, Bibi Dong also understood Tang San's pursuit—

Creation!

He wanted to become a God who creates Worlds!

297: Immortal True Spirit and Soul Embers (Part 1)

Leaving the Starry Sky World, Chrysanthemum Douluo, Ghost Douluo, Devil Bear Douluo, and Ghost Leopard Douluo felt a blur before their eyes, and then they were back inside the Supreme Pontiff Palace, an inexplicable sense of unreality arising within them.

Is this real?

Within the Starry Sky World, Tang San had even taken them to the largest star, using his mental force to conjure a Spirit City, though it was devoid of any human presence.

But even with just the architecture, it was terrifyingly real.

Even for Bibi Dong, a super Douluo, who knew it was an illusion created by mental force, a false entity, the tactile sensation, the material, and the feedback when her own mental force touched it, all gave her a misconception:

That it was a truly real Spirit City, only the people had disappeared!

It wasn't until she returned to true reality and Bibi Dong released her mental force to investigate the entire Spirit City, inside and out, that she slightly relaxed, knowing she had truly returned to the real World.

“That’s right, your Starry Sky World is indeed no different from reality. In fact, I perceive that even if people die, their souls can probably be preserved within it, correct?” Bibi Dong possessed the two Spider Emperor Spirits of death and Soul Devour, and with the blessings of the Rakshasa and death God Positions, her perception of souls was the most acute.

“That is indeed the case.” Tang San admitted, “This is also something I only recently discovered, because the souls of those who died of old age in Spirit City entered it…….”

Based on this, Tang San felt that in the future, he could specifically create a World within it for storing souls, connecting it with Ilyas’s demiplane, and as for the entrance in the real World... it could be set up in Slaughter City, that place is built underground, and could perfectly serve as the Douluo Continent version of “Underworld Gate of Hell”.

As for whether Asura God would care?

It is well known that the location of Slaughter City belongs to all living beings of the Douluo Continent and does not belong to Asura God; Slaughter City was also an illegal structure built by Asura God when he descended to the lower realm.

For the development of the Douluo Continent, demolishing and rebuilding an illegal structure, Asura God should be able to understand, after all, they are humans, not gods, and Asura God cannot violate the rules and descend because of this.

Of course, to be on the safe side, he would wait until he had the strength to punch a God King to death before going.

“Then how did you deal with those souls?” Bibi Dong asked.

“According to the Blue Silver Network, I can observe that after ordinary people die, their souls dissipate very quickly, from one or two minutes to as long as seven days. The dissipated souls should have transformed into some basic particles similar to the energy of heaven and earth, integrating into a certain field of the entire World, and then when newborns appear, they re-converge to form the soul origin, and then transform according to their own growth experiences.” Tang San spoke eloquently, “From this point of view, for all living beings in the World, whether human, Spirit Beast, or ordinary plants and animals, all are equal.”

Chrysanthemum Douluo and others: “……”

Who am I?

Where am I?

What are we listening to?

Every single word and phrase is understood, but when strung into a sentence, why does it become incomprehensible?

Why are humans, Spirit Beasts, and ordinary plants and animals equal in terms of souls?

Incomprehensible.

Bibi Dong, however, understood some of it, and motioned for Tang San to continue.

“And the increase in Spirit Master’s spirit power and Spirit Beast’s cultivation can both strengthen mental force, but in essence, the soul has not become ridiculously powerful due to the strengthening of mental force; it is still very fragile in essence, only the mental force is strong. Therefore, mental force has become the foundation of Titled Douluo, and the future cultivation to break through Level 100 is only to transform mental force into divine consciousness. The soul, on the other hand, is not very important, after all, for beings who have reached that level, the soul is essentially only used to carry memories.”

“And as long as there is divine consciousness, one can be reborn……”

“But, is the self after rebirth through divine consciousness truly the original self?”

“Probably not, the soul is the most fundamental thing that governs a person.”

Speaking of this, Tang San paused, took a deep breath, and a glimmer of inspiration burst forth in his eyes, “After those old souls entered that Starry Sky World, I placed them on a star, creating the scene of their lives for them, making them believe they were still alive and continuing to live…….”

“Why don’t Supreme Pontiff and the four Titled Douluo guess what happened to those souls?”

Chrysanthemum Douluo frowned and looked at Ghost Douluo, after all, his Spirit was Gui Mei, which could be called his own soul, so he should have some say, right?

“Souls live forever within it, eternally happy and joyful?” Ghost Douluo, seeing Devil Bear and Ghost Leopard also looking at him, could only bite the bullet and make a guess.

“No.” Tang San shook his head and looked at Bibi Dong.

“Could it be that souls also die of old age?” Bibi Dong pondered for a moment before uttering a guess that even she found absurd, but for some reason, she felt this guess was true.

“As expected of Supreme Pontiff.” Tang San subtly flattered Bibi Dong, then said, “Those old souls, in the same environment as their lives, gradually aged, and finally their souls automatically collapsed and died, leaving behind two things—”

As he spoke, Tang San used his mental force to construct the process of the old souls shattering and perishing in a certain illusory World within the Starry Sky World after the Blue Silver Network was established—

Initially, the soul had a human form, then the skin rotted, the muscles dissolved, leaving only a pale skeleton, but at this point, the skeleton could still move, no different from a normal person, just weaker than before.

After that, the skeleton weakened, and golden light emanated from its entire body until it covered the whole body, then it turned into nothingness in the golden flames.

This scene left a profound impression on the six people present, including Tang San.

Especially Bibi Dong, under the influence of the death God Position seed, she was able to comprehend more, even perceiving a hint of the true meaning of Life and death.

And after the soul completely perished, two things were left behind:

An eternal and indestructible ball of light.

Its color was indescribable, but it was incredibly dazzling, as if eternal and immortal, existing since ancient times.

The other thing left was incredibly dark ashes, as if capable of devouring all light, like a black hole in the universe.

When Tang San dispersed the image constructed by his mental force, Bibi Dong came back to her senses and asked, “What are those two things? I have an instinctive premonition that they are greatly beneficial to the soul.”

“That light, I call it the Immortal True Spirit; it is the foundation of a soul, pure and flawless, eternal and indestructible, unable to be extinguished by any means.” This was not Tang San exaggerating, but Ilyas had tested it; that thing truly could not be destroyed by any means, not even restrained.

According to him, even a God probably couldn't see that origin deep within the soul.

Only in Tang San's illusory Starry Sky World could one see this Immortal True Spirit, which originates from the essence of the soul!

“This is also why I say that all living beings are born equal, because the deepest origin of the soul possesses this Immortal True Spirit.” Tang San also had to sigh, after the Blue Silver Network was established, he was actually able to discover this phenomenon, “Perhaps from a societal perspective, due to objective and subjective factors such as family, bloodline, and Spirit, people are born unequal, but for the entire Continent, or rather, for the entire universe, all living beings are equal, and that trace of Immortal True Spirit deep within the soul is the best evidence.”

“For us, a person’s memory of themselves is cognition, the origin of the soul; but for the entire great universe, perhaps this trace of Immortal True Spirit is the fundamental confirmation of a living being.”

“And through this, I also have a conjecture—”

The path taken by the gods in the God Realm, condensing divine soul and strengthening divine consciousness, was actually misguided.

They should engrave all their memories into that Immortal True Spirit, making it the foundation of their entire existence, rather than the external divine soul and divine consciousness.

Although these two sentences were not spoken by Tang San, Bibi Dong’s breathing became rapid, clearly understanding that the trace of Immortal True Spirit deep within the soul was the foundation of her entire existence.

It was just how to find her own Immortal True Spirit?

Tang San himself was not quite sure about this……

298: Immortal True Spirit and Soul Embers (Part 2)

Honestly, after learning about the existence of the undying true Spirit, Tang San began to question who he really was... Was he a soul carrying a true Spirit across? Or was it just external memories?

He couldn't figure it out...

So, Tang San temporarily put the question aside and stopped thinking about it.

However, Tang San also didn't know how to find his own true Spirit. Even the Starry Sky World could only observe that a cluster of undying true Spirit would emerge after a soul died of old age.

Then, that wisp of undying true Spirit would directly vanish into the void, leaving no trace. It was impossible to investigate or research, only simply concluding that the undying true Spirit could be observed through the Starry Sky World and could not be destroyed or captured by any known means.

After learning this information, Bibi Dong also sighed slightly and asked about the black ashes left behind after a soul's death: "What is that cluster of black substance left after a soul's death?"

"I call it: Soul Cinders." Tang San named it, then spoke of its currently discovered effects after experimentation, "These cinders look profoundly black and don't seem like anything good, but in reality, they can strengthen a person's soul, which is to say, enhance the outer shell beyond the undying true Spirit, without any side effects."

“The effect manifested is that it can make one's mental force stronger.”

“Furthermore, it can even strengthen the spirituality of a Spirit. Although it hasn't been tested yet, according to my deduction, there is a kind of affinity connection between people and Spirits. Strengthening the Spirit's spirituality, allowing it to communicate better with people, has a high probability of allowing people who are born without spirit power to develop spirit power.”

“But I'm not sure if, should a Spirit's spirituality become too strong, it might take over and cause the Spirit to control the human's will. After all, there are quite a few Spirit Masters on the Continent whose personalities are influenced by their Spirits.”

Bibi Dong agreed with this point, as Tang San's published “On the Primary and Secondary Roles of Humans and Spirits” cited many examples of people whose temperaments became fiery, aloof, taciturn, or lewd due to the influence of their Spirits.

Moreover, since Soul Cinders can increase the strength of the soul, it would be best to use them directly on the soul. There's no need to overly strengthen the Spirit's spirituality.

As for whether this counts as devouring human souls...

Bibi Dong stated that she had even devoured living people, let alone these mere Soul Cinders?

Furthermore, vegetables also need to be watered with excrement and urine to grow vibrant and succulent. What's wrong with humans devouring the cinders left after the death of another's soul?

Besides, souls would naturally dissipate into the world anyway, so it's better to utilize them.

Moreover, in Bibi Dong's view, Tang San was too kind. Instead of directly annihilating souls, he allowed them to experience natural death while enjoying a life similar to their pre-death existence—

“I allow your soul after death to enjoy all the blessings you never experienced in life. After your soul dies, your true Spirit reincarnates, and your Soul Cinders belong to me. It's nothing more than an equal exchange.”

“It's only natural!”

“How many people in the world care about what happens to the souls of their deceased loved ones?”

“So, why not just shatter the souls?” Bibi Dong's mental force touched the Soul Cinders that Tang San passed to her through the Blue Silver Network. She immediately felt a profound joy from within, and her mental force, strengthened by the soul's enhancement, became more condensed and substantial... This feeling of becoming stronger made her unable to stop!

At this moment, how she wished Tang San's Blue Silver Emperor Martial Soul could be planted all over the Douluo Continent!

So many people died every day. If all souls could be utilized, how powerful would her and Tang San's souls become?

It was simply unimaginable!

Perhaps, in just a few years, they could, with the might of their souls, fear no Divinity from the God Realm!

However, Tang San shattered Bibi Dong's fantasy, saying, “Only naturally deceased souls can leave Soul Cinders. I experimented with the souls of The Fallen executed by Spirit Hall's judgment. Shattering their souls directly, besides the undying true Spirit escaping, leaves no Soul Cinders whatsoever. Those soul fragments directly dissipate.”

“Is that so?” Bibi Dong was a little disappointed. She had thought they could obtain Soul Cinders on a large scale to continuously strengthen their souls.

“There's no need to be so pessimistic. We have plenty of time in the future to slowly research why souls naturally dying leave cinders, using the souls of those who committed many evil deeds in life for experiments.” A glint flashed in Tang San's eyes. “Those who committed evil in life shouldn't get off with just death. Their souls after death must also receive corresponding punishment. Consider it a contribution to our research.”

The four Titled Douluo, Chrysanthemum, Ghost, Bear, and Leopard, all shivered, realizing the hint of “madness” hidden deep within Tang San's heart.

But Bibi Dong's eyes were filled with admiration: “Indeed, those who are utterly evil cannot appease public anger by merely dying. More cruel methods are needed to make them pay the corresponding price.”

Chrysanthemum Douluo: “...” The Supreme Pontiff truly hates evil as if it were her own enemy.

Thus, in the following period, Bibi Dong issued an order to all branch halls: all criminals sentenced to death must be escorted to Spirit City. The Spirit Hall's Enforcement Hall in Spirit City would publicly try their crimes before the entire Continent, presenting irrefutable evidence, and then, via live broadcast, execute them in front of the entire Continent!

The purpose of this was not only to allow these criminals' souls to enter the Starry Sky World but also to proclaim Spirit Hall's fairness and justice to the entire Continent, thereby achieving the goal of uniting people's hearts.

Spirit Hall even used this opportunity to suggest to the Two Great Empires that when they judged criminals, they should also, like Spirit Hall, publicly broadcast the criminals' evidence and the imperial officials' trial process to the entire Continent, so that the people of the Continent could know what crimes the criminals had committed and what kind of punishment they would receive.

This could also increase the trust of the people within the Two Great Empires towards their respective Empires.

On the Heaven Dou side.

Crown Prince Xue Qinghe knew that, on the surface, Spirit Hall was considering the Two Great Empires, but secretly, it was sowing discord regarding the trust of the people within the Two Great Empires towards their Empires.

Good and bad are always determined by comparison.

What Spirit Hall was doing would undoubtedly gain them immense popular support, while the imperial officials of the Two Great Empires, by not allowing the common people to understand the specifics of their trials, would likely cause great distrust among them.

“Tang San, you really know how to stir things up.” Xue Qinghe rubbed her forehead. Ever since Emperor Xue Ye delegated power, she had been constantly busy. She had even reduced the dosage of poison she administered to Emperor Xue Ye, fearing he would die too soon, leaving all the burdens on her alone.

Being an Emperor truly wasn't easy.

More importantly, she couldn't cater to Spirit Hall now. After all, the Heaven Dou Empire couldn't conduct public trials like Spirit Hall, nor could it produce absolute evidence.

After all, the interests among the nobles were intricately intertwined, making it difficult to completely eradicate them. If exposed, it would be easy for people to find all sorts of questionable points.

Spirit Hall was different. Although there were also intricate webs of interest among its major internal families, it never shielded The Fallen. Moreover, each branch hall was almost independent and autonomous, and their inter-branch interest networks were not as tight. Compared to the Two Great Empires, it was much more enlightened.

Furthermore, the Supreme Pontiff Palace was currently rectifying the corruption within the various branch halls, and Spirit City was a picture of clarity.

The entire Spirit Hall organization was flourishing!

“Imperial Father.” Xue Qinghe found Emperor Xue Ye in the royal garden, admiring flowers with his concubines, and sought his advice. However, seeing his leisurely posture, her fists in her sleeves involuntarily clenched—it seemed she needed to increase the dosage of the medicine.

“Qinghe, are you here to see your father for something?” Emperor Xue Ye immediately understood that the other party was certainly using the excuse of reminiscing to get him to deal with affairs again.

He was semi-retired!

However, he ultimately couldn't completely let go of Heaven Dou.

“It's like this, Imperial Father. Spirit Hall is now suggesting that we publicly try criminals. Should we adopt this?” Xue Qinghe threw out the question.

Although he now managed all matters, big and small, in Heaven Dou, if this matter wasn't handled well, it could cause the common people to blame him. It was better to let Emperor Xue Ye take the blame.

Emperor Xue Ye was silent for a moment, then asked, “Did Spirit Hall send someone personally?”

“No, they only mentioned it during the live broadcast of The Fallen's trial. However, your son believes that if it's not handled well, it might cause the people within the Empire to be disappointed in Heaven Dou.” Xue Qinghe's face showed worry.

299: The reaction of the two empires

“Since Spirit Hall didn’t send anyone personally, there’s no need to pay attention to them,” Emperor Xue Ye said indifferently. “The people’s trust in the Empire won’t be lost because of Spirit Hall. After all, we are the ones who provide them with land to live on, and Spirit Hall is merely punishing The Fallen, which has little to do with the common people’s daily lives.”

Food, clothing, housing, and transportation.

In Emperor Xue Ye’s eyes, these four were the most basic requirements for residents within the Empire; everything else could be managed, and there was no need to pay too much attention to it.

Although the current Spirit Hall had found a new path, it couldn’t cause too much impact on the Empire—at least for the past two years, within Heaven Dou, aside from the people having a bit more knowledge and them having more matters to handle, it seemed there wasn’t much difference from before.

Perhaps they had been too wary of Spirit Hall before.

For the Heaven Dou Empire, the Empire they needed to worry about most was still the Star Luo Empire, which was a military power, even currently researching offensive spirit tools with considerable power. However, this affected the status of Spirit Masters in the large and small families within Star Luo, thus causing some internal strife...

This was an opportunity.

However, with news spreading quickly now, starting a war required a suitable reason. If an unjust war of aggression was launched, it would be bad for Heaven Dou's reputation.

"Since that's the case, your son knows what to do." Xue Qinghe retreated, pretending not to hear the suggestion made by Spirit Hall in their broadcast. Heaven Dou still judged criminals as usual...

...

Star Luo Empire.

Dai Legao also ignored Spirit Hall's suggestion. For him, the most important thing at the moment was to persuade the various families and nobles within the Empire to jointly research offensive spirit tools.

The power of Spirit guidance bombs had already shown Dai Legao the wars of the future—whichever force had powerful Spirit Guidance Weapons would be able to become the ruler of the Continent and possess absolute say!

Spirit Hall must be researching in secret!

The Heaven Dou Empire might also be researching in secret!

Then their Star Luo Empire certainly couldn't fall behind!

"A bunch of short-sighted fools!" After another unpleasant discussion with his ministers, Dai Legao flew into a rage in the palace, then sighed wistfully, saying, "Offensive spirit tools are the future! Unfortunately, those guys don't understand..."

Dai Weisi said, "Perhaps we were too eager. We brought it up openly, while Spirit Hall and the Heaven Dou Empire haven't released any corresponding news, presumably all researching in secret."

The implication was that they also needed to research in secret. On the surface, it would be better to research lifestyle spirit tools.

This could also prevent Spirit Hall and the Heaven Dou Empire from finding reasons to unite against them if they truly developed highly destructive Spirit Guidance Weapons in the future.

“That is possible.” Dai Legao actually knew that weapon-type spirit tools would significantly impact the status of Spirit Masters, and they naturally wouldn’t be willing.

But since it had already been brought into the open, wouldn’t it make them more wary if it were later moved into secrecy?

It wouldn’t be worth the gain!

Since he, the Emperor, had already proposed it and had been researching it for some time, if he were to suddenly announce that he would stop researching it now, wouldn’t it appear on the surface that he had been subdued by the various families within the Empire?

Star Luo’s folk customs were fierce; if it happened once, it would happen a second and third time, and the imperial family’s prestige would be greatly affected. He couldn’t set this precedent!

Even if the imperial family was truly wrong, before the matter became serious to a certain extent, they could only continue to be wrong and then shift the conflict outside the Empire.

For example, find a random reason, say a soldier on the Star Luo Empire’s border went missing, and then declare war on Heaven Dou!

The Star Luo Empire had always wanted to conquer the Heaven Dou Empire. In the past, the common people didn’t much care about the justice of a war. Although influenced by the atmosphere on Heaven Dou’s side, they were slightly more peaceful now, but they were still warlike.

After all, only through war could soldiers and generals gain military merits, get promoted, and achieve great accomplishments.

However, with Spirit Hall's existence, launching a war was simply unrealistic. Spirit Hall would definitely intervene under the pretext of "protecting the safety of the Continent's residents" and prevent the Star Luo Empire from launching an unjust war.

If this continues, the Empire's future is worrying...

Dai Legao sighed, looking at Dai Weisi, feeling that he should also start managing affairs, after all, that old man Xue Ye had already delegated power to his son...

Heh, he actually had such a thought!

Was he also getting old?

With a self-deprecating smile, Dai Legao said, "Weisi, from now on, I will gradually let you take over the Empire's affairs. You can do it, right?"

"I will not fail in my mission!" Dai Weisi knelt on one knee excitedly, his heart pounding—was his Imperial Father finally going to truly delegate power to him? He had waited too long for this day!

【Back then, I seemed to have also knelt on one knee before my Imperial Father like this, with an excited face... This is the inheritance of the Star Luo Empire!】

Involuntarily, Dai Legao recalled the past, then said, "The research on Spirit Guidance Weapons cannot stop. This concerns our Dai Family's prestige in the Star Luo Empire."

"Naturally." Although Dai Weisi felt that researching Spirit Guidance Weapons openly was unwise, his Imperial Father's consideration was also good. To move it into secrecy now would undoubtedly be telling others: 'There's no silver here, three hundred taels.'

Since it was wrong, then be wrong to the end.

Nobles are never wrong.

The royal family is even less wrong!

“Mm.” Dai Legao nodded, knowing that Dai Weisi still understood some royal principles, then said, “Speaking of which, what has Zhu Zhuqing been doing lately?”

“Most of her time is spent cultivating, or going to Spirit Hall in Star Luo City to take on missions, hunting The Fallen, pursuing Evil Soul Masters, eliminating bandits, and also, in her free time, she imparts concepts like ‘resisting fate’ and ‘women should strive for self-improvement’ to the younger generation of the Zhu Family.” Dai Weisi seemed somewhat disdainful, but also showed a hint of admiration—

Zhu Zhuqing wanted to change the cruel competition of the Dai Family and Zhu Family!

This point was known by members of both families, but besides the younger new generation, everyone else scoffed at it, only daring not to show it in front of Zhu Zhuqing.

The reason was simple: Zhu Zhuqing’s current strength had already reached Spirit King, and her spirit power had even reached fifty-seventh rank!

One must know that his, the Star Luo Crown Prince’s, spirit power had only reached fifty-fifth rank in the nearly three years since the Continental Elite Tournament!

At the Spirit King stage, the spirit power required for each rank was far greater than before.

But Zhu Zhuqing had actually reached Spirit King within this period, and her spirit power rank had surpassed his, which was simply incredible—according to her, everything was due to the Spirit evolution brought by her third spirit ring.

What kind of Spirit Beast was the Dark Demonic Evil God Tiger after all?

“In the past, I didn’t pay much attention, just considering her a cultivation genius, letting her join Spirit Hall in a personal capacity to befriend Tang San...”

Dai Legao sighed, “...But now, she doesn’t go to Spirit City; instead, she stays in Star Luo City, and hasn’t seen Tang San for over two years. I’m afraid their relationship has also become distant.”

“Originally, I still hoped she could have something happen with Tang San... The Continental situation is turbulent, and to avoid uncertain situations, to leave a path for the Dai and Zhu families.”

Dai Weisi said, “Actually, Zhu Zhuqing misses Tang San very much. According to Zhuyun, she is also practicing painting, and for two years, she has drawn countless portraits of Tang San. Besides that, she is also practicing playing the zither, hoping to play it for Tang San the next time they meet.”

“That is truly infatuated.” Dai Legao’s tone revealed no emotion, and then he asked about Dai Mubai: “Is that useless fellow still not planning to come back?”

“No, it seems the psychological trauma I left him with was very severe.” Dai Weisi’s eyes were filled with nothing but disdain. In his opinion, that was a useless good-for-nothing who lacked responsibility. His possession of the Dai Family’s White Tiger bloodline was simply a disgrace to the imperial family.

When the patriarchs and ministers of those families opposed the research of Spirit Guidance Weapons, they would also bring up Dai Mubai.

This caused Dai Weisi to sever the last bit of brotherly affection he had for Dai Mubai.

If they met in the future and Dai Mubai didn’t obey his orders, he would definitely not show mercy.

Moreover, there was no kinship to speak of in the royal family!

For the royal family, even if the male and female parties were lovers or husband and wife, it was the same, unless they possessed a Martial Soul Fusion Skill, influenced by Martial Soul Fusion, their feelings would then be more genuine.

“Is that so?” Dai Legao was also completely disappointed with Dai Mubai, his gaze gradually turning cold as he said, “Give him one last message: I’ll give him three more months. If he still doesn’t return, I will submit relevant letters to the Heaven Dou Empire and openly arrest him! By then, he won’t even think of entering the White Tiger Sect!”

“If he carries the royal bloodline, he must bear the royal responsibility!”

“He’s already an adult, and he’s been dissolute for too long...”

Tang San wasn’t concerned with the worries of the Two Great Empires’ high-ranking officials. Cultivation, researching Spirit theory, forging the Soul Imprint Throne, adjusting and perfecting the Blue Silver Network, and other matters already occupied most of his time.

Not to mention, after nightfall, he still had to accompany the girls to research the path of qi and blood. Every day was so fulfilling; how could he have time to pay attention to the trivial matters between the Two Great Empires?

After finishing his proper business—

Tang San stroked Xiao Wu’s languid face, recalling his journey so far, a hint of pride inevitably rising in his heart. He then smiled and slowly said, “Next, there’s something I need to tell you—”

Xiao Wu, with a languid expression, looked puzzled...

...

300: The double meaning of long-term love

"What is it?"

Xiao Wu asked, puzzled, "Is it about the Blue Silver Network? Didn't you give some mental force Spirit Masters from Spirit Hall access? With their help, shouldn't the research be progressing quickly?"

Tang San shook his head slightly, "It's not that."

No matter how muddled he was, he wouldn't hand over mental force-related research to Xiao Wu.

Having cultivated Cosmic Meditation, Xiao Wu's mental force naturally wouldn't be weak, but she currently had her own directions: medical research, the application of Spirit Abilities, Three Swords Style training, and experimental training towards "Ultra Instinct."

These tasks alone were enough to occupy most of Xiao Wu's time. If she were to research mental force as well, Xiao Wu would probably just give up and expect him to support her for life.

"It's about research into the soul—"

Tang San explained the essence of the soul to Xiao Wu: "The soul can be divided into three layers. The outermost layer is mental force. As long as it's a living creature, it has it. The only difference is whether or not one knows how to use it. For ordinary people, to judge whether a person's mental force is sufficient, one only needs to look for a spiritual glow in their eyes. People with strong mental force often have bright, piercing eyes. You, I, as well as Guang Ling, Rongrong, Huo Wu, and others, are all like this. It has little to do with the type or attribute of one's Spirit."

"Even Ghost Douluo, who always has a gloomy face, still has a spiritual glow in his eyes."

Xiao Wu pondered, saying, "From a medical perspective, the eyes of most patients are dull and lifeless, and they look listless, which also stems from insufficient mental force."

"Exactly. A normal person's essence, qi, and Spirit are in a balanced state. It's just that an ordinary person's qi, compared to a Spirit Master's spirit power, is of very low quality."

Tang San nodded and continued, "The second layer of the soul is the soul shell, composed of certain universal soul particles and memories."

"Normally, a person's self-perception is determined by the memories experienced throughout their life. Even a god is merely someone who has transformed this second layer of the shell into a divine soul, and transformed mental force into divine force, to carry all previous memories."

Gods only perceive the second layer of the soul?

Xiao Wu was amazed, and regardless of how Tang San knew this, she unconditionally trusted her man—perhaps one day, what was called a god would simply be a transitional stage in his Spirit cultivation theory.

"The third layer is the most fundamental core of the soul: the Indestructible True Spirit."

After explaining that every living creature possesses an "Indestructible True Spirit," Tang San saw that Xiao Wu seemed to have no reaction, so he explained it more clearly.

"From the perspective of the great cosmos, the Indestructible True Spirit of every living being is the foundation. The external mental force, memories, and the soul shell composed of soul particles—which is what we previously understood as the concept of the soul—are merely energy that we haven't thoroughly researched yet."

"What determines who a creature truly is, is that most fundamental core: the Indestructible True Spirit."

"However, the Indestructible True Spirit is pure and flawless. After an ordinary creature dies, this wisp of true Spirit directly escapes into the void, disappearing without a trace. Perhaps it randomly descends upon a newly born creature, and then, based on its experiences and memories, condenses into a brand new soul."

Tang San explained this in such detail to tell Xiao Wu one thing: even if her mother were resurrected, and her soul shell was identical to before her death, her most essential core had already been lost.

Even after resurrection, a blank true Spirit would naturally integrate into her from the void, making the soul complete, but the person resurrected would never be the original one.

The Indestructible True Spirit is what truly determines the essence of a living being, not external memories and the soul... Because when Tang San and Iliex were researching soul embers, they also discovered a terrifying truth they hadn't told Bibi Dong and others—

Using soul embers as basic particles to replicate a person's memories and experiences could actually shape that person's soul shell! And it could be duplicated multiple times!

Therefore, Iliex also realized that his demigod-level soul, which had gradually grown from a wisp of remnant soul, was not the original Necromancer Saint Mage or death Calamity; he merely possessed most of the memories of his "previous life."

However, Iliex was not disappointed, because this meant he was a brand new existence, no longer needing to constantly lament the experiences of his "previous life." He could even completely abandon the tragic experiences of his "previous life" and embark on his own life of seeking truth.

"So, my mother can never be perfectly resurrected in the true sense?" Xiao Wu guessed a part of it, that the moment her mother's physical body died, her soul might have remained intact, but during the process of being absorbed by a Spirit Master, the soul would inevitably be damaged, and then the Indestructible True Spirit must have returned to the void... She couldn't help but feel a little sad.

"When a spirit ring is absorbed by a Spirit Master, even if the soul can be preserved, it will only be the second of the three soul categories I mentioned: the soul shell composed of soul particles and memories." Tang San sighed, "Her Indestructible True Spirit is currently impossible to find. Perhaps it has already been reborn as another living being, condensing a brand new soul."

"I've actually found your mother's soul. As long as I reach the Spirit Saint level, I can begin the resurrection, but whether the person resurrected then will truly be your mother herself is a matter of opinion."

From the perspective of memories and soul particles—

Yes.

But this situation was truly like what Tang San had once tricked Xiao Wu with when he was six years old, similar to cloning, except the only difference was that the core of the soul had changed.

Although every Indestructible True Spirit looked identical and pure and flawless, as if it could be replaced at any time, Tang San and Iliex, who had both seen the Indestructible True Spirit with their own eyes, felt an instinctive fear—if a person's Indestructible True Spirit were replaced, even if the soul shell was the same, it would not be the same person.

Resurrection from death could only be the resurrection of the soul; the Indestructible True Spirit had already returned to the void, most likely to be reincarnated anew... This was the true meaning of reincarnation.

Reincarnation and rebirth at the soul level were merely special cases of possession.

"You've already found my mother's soul?" Xiao Wu was a little disappointed that her mother couldn't be perfectly resurrected in the true sense, but she felt that Third Brother had already done a good job. It was just that her mother's soul had actually been found... This meant that the person who killed her mother was in Spirit City!

Who was it?

Xiao Wu thought about the people Tang San frequently interacted with and realized that only one person was possible.

The current Supreme Pontiff of Spirit Hall: Bibi Dong!

twin spirits!

If her first Spirit already had a 100,000-year spirit ring, then her second Spirit would inevitably also seek to obtain a 100,000-year-level spirit ring.

"Yes, it's her."

Honestly, not telling Xiao Wu about this would have been the best choice, but Tang San felt that he hadn't completely become a scoundrel, and he didn't just want to sleep with Xiao Wu's body.

He had experienced both meanings of "love grows over time."

He couldn't hide it...

301: Uproar

“How did you get my mother’s soul from her?”

To Tang San's surprise, Xiao Wu didn't ask about her mother's resurrection again. Instead, she narrowed her eyes, staring intently at Tang San, her blood qi vibrating faster and faster.

“After the Continental Elite Tournament, didn’t I challenge Bibi Dong once? It was then that I took the opportunity to ask Illyasviel for a small favor.” Due to the large amplitude of Xiao Wu’s cultivation movements, Tang San’s breathing became slightly disordered, but he still articulated clearly, describing the sequence of events to Xiao Wu, after all—

This was the truth.

“Speaking of which, is Iliex watching right now?” Xiao Wu suddenly stopped her blood qi vibration cultivation.

“He resides within my upper Dantian. For him to see what’s outside, he needs my permission.” Although Tang San trusted Iliex’s character, some privacy was still necessary.

“Hmph!” Xiao Wu snorted, but her heart felt warm, for she now understood that Tang San had challenged Bibi Dong with three Spirit Bones as the stakes precisely to find a way to extract her mother’s soul from Bibi Dong, even exposing the powerful secret art of “spirit ring fusion” for it.

Even if others learned it, they couldn't master it, because the spirit power flow paths within the spirit rings couldn't align, the Spirit Abilities couldn't perfectly match, and they couldn't achieve the powerful effects like Big Brother San and her. It was even questionable whether spirit ring fusion itself would succeed.

But to challenge Bibi Dong for her sake, for a Spirit King to fight a Titled Douluo, one at the pinnacle of Spirit Masters—how could such a man not be worth relying on?

Moreover, becoming his woman didn't mean she had to stay at home and not show her face, but rather that he nurtured their respective strengths, not letting their personalities be buried.

“Although it’s only a soul, since we’ve obtained it, then let’s revive her. At least, the memories and soul particles are the same.”

Xiao Wu ultimately still wished to see her mother again, deciding to deceive herself this once. “Since the Immortal Herb is pure and flawless, then let’s treat it as a replaceable core. For us, perhaps in the next ten thousand or even a hundred million years, we won’t be able to fully understand what a true Spirit truly is. It shouldn’t affect Mother’s normal state either.”

“Do you really think so?”

Tang San frowned slightly. After all, in his opinion, even if every Immortal Herb was exactly the same, with no differences, if the core was replaced, would it truly still be the same person?

It wasn’t some spirit tool battery providing energy!

Although from the surface, the three layers of the soul—mental force corresponds to the effects produced by a spirit tool’s operation, the soul's outer shell corresponds to the spirit tool’s casing and internal spirit tool patterns, and the deepest core of the soul corresponds to the spirit tool’s spirit power storage device, i.e., the spirit tool battery.

But if it were truly that simple, he and Iliex wouldn't have felt a deep-seated dread when they personally witnessed the Immortal Herb after a soul's natural disintegration in the Starry Sky World.

However, looking at Xiao Wu’s determined gaze at this moment, Tang San understood something, then chuckled twice and said, “Since that’s the case, then let's revive her.”

That's right, for them, why think so much?

To consider such a situation, they would at least need to live for hundreds of millions of years and have more research on the Immortal Herb. Otherwise, living in the present was the most important.

And for those living in the present, memories and emotions were the most important things.

Having understood this, Tang San suddenly perceived his own mental force becoming completely clear, and even his soul became crystalline. The Cosmic Meditation actually began to operate on its own, actively drawing in stellar energy through the room's ceiling. Not only did it illuminate the brain within his skull like a brilliant star, but the blood qi and spirit power within his body also began to circulate on their own.

Vaguely, Tang San once again entered that state of enlightenment, able to clearly perceive the Life activities of every single cell within his body. Under the combined action of blood qi, spirit power, and mental force, they were undergoing transformation, emitting a faint white light from his soul's perspective.

Creation and Destruction True Scripture, Cosmic Meditation, and Jade Bone Golden Muscle Divine Treasure Method, these three divine arts, all began to operate at this moment, subtly showing a tendency to merge.

If successful, then in Tang San's future cultivation, for the three treasures of essence, qi, and Spirit, no matter which one improved, the other two would also follow suit, thus achieving balance.

However, these three arts ultimately failed to fully merge. They still relied on the body's instinctual transformation; the only difference was that the efficiency was somewhat faster than before.

In addition, his spirit power also increased by one level, reaching sixty-six.

More importantly, Tang San now realized that he could actively absorb the energy of heaven and earth to replenish his body's energy, thereby achieving inedia.

Feeding on qi!

Tang San was excited, but quickly calmed down. After all, the efficiency of this “inedia” was very low; it couldn’t be considered a “staple food.” He still needed to eat, otherwise he would starve to death.

But at this moment, Tang San already knew the path he needed to take next: fusing the three cultivation methods together!

The Creation and Destruction True Scripture originated from Mysterious Heaven Skill, altered by the spirit power circulation paths of his two Spirits that refined heaven and earth energy; the Cosmic Meditation originated from Purple Demon Eye, improved and strengthened by adding the energy movement trajectories of Xu Xing's Star Domain and the stellar movement laws within the Zhou Tian Xing Dou Great Array; the Jade Bone Golden Muscle Divine Treasure, on the other hand, originated from Mysterious Jade Hand, initially tempering bones through a practice method, and later transformed by adding the paths for refining corresponding heaven and earth energy from various Immortal Herbs within the Ice and Fire Yin Yang Well.

Mysterious Heaven Skill, Mysterious Jade Hand, and Purple Demon Eye, these three shared the same origin, all secret arts from the Mysterious Heaven Treasure Record, and thus could naturally be perfectly integrated and used together.

The Creation and Destruction True Scripture, Jade Bone Golden Muscle Divine Treasure Method, and Cosmic Meditation, as improved by Tang San, although each individually far surpassed the original three, their compatibility with each other was much worse than that of Mysterious Heaven Skill, Mysterious Jade Hand, and Purple Demon Eye.

As for Carefree Wind Riding, although it was also improved from Ghost Shadow Perplexing Track, it could only be described as a footwork, executed by spirit power, similar to Controlling Crane Catching Dragon.

“It seems that in the path of cultivation techniques, besides continuing to perfect the three, I also need to fully integrate all three cultivation methods based on my own physical condition.”

Tang San saw the path ahead, feeling only a bright future. Even during the sudden enlightenment just now, he vaguely touched upon a method of how to imprint all his memories into the Immortal Herb.

Although he still hadn't found where the Immortal Herb was within his soul, he just had that inexplicable feeling; it was truly profound and mysterious.

At the same time, Xiao Wu, being one with Tang San in body and mind, also benefited, and her own spirit power increased by half a level, reaching sixty-five.

After all, her spirit power cultivation progress was second only to Tang San's. Previously, her spirit power was sixty-four, and she was only half a step away from sixty-five.

“Big Brother San, your blood qi seems to be getting more and more abundant, oh~” As her spirit power increased, Xiao Wu excitedly cried out, thrilled and trembling.

“To solidify your foundation, I’ve decided to stay up all night with you tonight to research and train in the way of blood qi.” Amidst Xiao Wu’s exclamations, Tang San chuckled mischievously.

Overwhelming the great uproar.....

302: The working days of girls

Night faded, and dawn broke.

Tang San and Xiao Wu had researched all night, but with Endless Recovery, Xiao Wu naturally showed no signs of fatigue. Guang Ling, Rongrong, Huo Wu, and the others were also full of vigor and radiant.

After breakfast, everyone went to attend to their own affairs.

Huo Wu and Guang Ling went to the Soul Guidance Technology City.

Guang Ling, of course, went to research spirit tools.

Huo Wu, on the other hand, went to understand metal forging, intending to create her own refining method. She could also use those metals to practice gravity manipulation, as she saw hammering metal and using gravity to crush impurities within metal as the same principle.

This could both train her gravity manipulation and allow her to create her own refining method, killing two birds with one stone.

Ning Rongrong went to the Economic Capital. After its construction, a Heaven and Earth Commerce was established there, a collaboration between Spirit Hall and the Seven Treasure Glazed Tile School. There were also branches in the other five outer cities, responsible for managing all financial circulation within and outside Spirit City, as well as approving and stamping the establishment and cancellation of various businesses, and assisting Spirit Hall personnel in collecting commercial taxes.

Moreover, the headquarters of this Heaven and Earth Commerce had an auction venue, jointly registered and certified by Spirit Hall and the Seven Treasure Glazed Tile School, ensuring its credibility.

Ning Rongrong's original duty was to manage the headquarters of the Heaven and Earth Commerce and handle auction matters, which kept her quite busy. However, after the Blue Silver Network was established, she could communicate with her subordinates at any time, greatly improving efficiency and giving her more free time.

Therefore, in addition to necessary cultivation, she recently started designing clothes and appraising treasures, finding joy in it. She became a renowned clothing design Grandmaster and appraiser within and outside Spirit City.

Even many nobles from Heaven Dou and Star Luo traveled thousands of miles to order a custom-designed garment from her, spending heavily.

However, Ning Rongrong deeply understood the principle of scarcity, deciding to design and produce only one set of clothing per year.

As soon as this news broke, her works were hyped to exorbitant prices, with one set of clothing even reaching one hundred million gold coins!

The Sect Master's daughter of the Seven Treasure Glazed Tile School.

The director of the Heaven and Earth Commerce.

A member of the champion team of the previous Continental Elite Tournament.

One set per year.

Such a gimmick naturally led to extreme pursuit by some nobles of the Two Great Empires.

After Ning Fengzhi learned of this, he was stunned for a while before muttering, "Rongrong's designed clothes, one hundred million gold coins for a set?"

"It's indeed quite exaggerated," Sword Douluo said, also in disbelief.

"As expected of Rongrong, she's amazing." Bone Douluo, who had now recovered from the matter with Mu Tian, praised her, then asked Ning Fengzhi, "Fengzhi, with Spirit Hall's current trend, is there a possibility of them dominating the Continent?"

Ning Fengzhi was silent for a moment, then said, "I took Xue Qinghe as a disciple, it seems I made a mistake... However, Rongrong has now joined Spirit Hall, and I am also an honorary Elder of Spirit Hall. Even if it truly comes to that point, our Seven Treasure Glazed Tile School will have room to maneuver. At most, we will remain neutral."

"If we have to lean towards one, which one do we choose?" Sword Douluo asked.

"Spirit Hall."

Ning Fengzhi answered without hesitation. The original Spirit Hall had a severe lack of a national foundation. Unless Bibi Dong achieved godhood and crushed everything, no insightful person would have been optimistic about them.

But now, Spirit Hall's foundation has begun to be rectified. They are even accumulating vast wealth through a path he never imagined and have begun establishing grassroots facilities and supplementing basic subsidies. They are currently developing rapidly, and perhaps in a few years, they will truly be able to rival the Two Great Empires in terms of foundation.

After all, Spirit Hall possesses the largest number of Spirit Masters on the entire Continent.

Especially after Tang San joined Spirit Hall, commoner Spirit Masters flocked to them, and even the personnel in Spirit Hall's various sub-halls were already at saturation.

Of course, the above are objective factors. The most direct subjective factor is that Spirit Hall made the Seven Treasure Glazed Tile School rich. The Sect's treasury, specifically used to store gold coins, has accumulated into hundreds of small mountains, nearly fifty meters high.

[Sorry, my beloved Heaven Dou. Spirit Hall just gives too much!]

Ahem!

Back to the main topic!

As for Xiao Wu, she went to the Medicine Dan City, as her side profession was related to medicine. But before she left, she said to Tang San, "I won't comment on the grievances between humans and Spirit Beasts. Besides, I am human now, and my last two spirit rings also require hunting Spirit Beasts... But as a daughter, I must seek justice for my mother, unless my mother gives up revenge after she revives."

"I believe Auntie is a reasonable person," Tang San said, hugging Xiao Wu to comfort her.

"My mother is indeed an easy-going person."

Xiao Wu knew her mother's gentle temperament. After her revival, considering their current situation, it was indeed possible that she would give up on retaliating against Bibi Dong. "But how will you persuade that old woman Bibi Dong? You can't just let my mother hide in the shadows after she revives, can you? That won't do."

"Auntie will be a true human after she revives, after all, I can't restore that hundred-thousand-year origin as well. At most, I can only restore her strength from before her death." Tang San sensed the effect of [Fourth Soul Skill: Nine Deaths Revival] and smiled, "At that time, Auntie will no longer drop spirit rings or Spirit Bones, so it won't be worth it for Bibi Dong to hunt her again, as Spirit Masters hunt Spirit Beasts only for those two things."

"Who knows," Xiao Wu snorted, flicked her scorpion braid, and skipped towards the Medicine Dan City, clearly in a good mood because Tang San had specially taken care of her last night...

Finally, Lan Yinzi stayed in the Soul Martial Manor, acting as a housekeeper, responsible for all matters big and small in the Soul Martial Manor, and taking care of Gu Yuena, preventing the little girl from being too lively.

Speaking of which, Gu Yuena couldn't discern anything about Lan Yinzi's situation, only feeling that she was an ordinary human. She had no idea that this was the Blue Silver Emperor taking over a body and being reborn.

"Speaking of which, both your and Tang San's Spirits are the Blue Silver Emperor, so why is your Life aura so much weaker than his?" This was what puzzled Gu Yuena the most.

"Because I'm on the attack system and control system path." Lan Yinzi instinctively wanted to become a powerful attacking Spirit Master. She was tired of her lack of strong offensive power during her Spirit Beast period. Moreover, the Blue Silver Emperor is also a top-tier Spirit, so there was no need to consider whether the spirit ring attributes perfectly matched the Spirit, unlike with ordinary Blue Silver Grass.

Furthermore, after her rebirth and body possession, the Spirit Beasts she chose were all plant-type, but they were more inclined towards control and attack, with vitality being secondary.

This did not conflict with her Spirit.

Moreover, her current five Spirit Abilities could also cooperate and progress sequentially:

First Soul Skill: Lan Yin Seed, releasing a sea of seeds capable of absorbing spirit power.

Second Soul Skill: Blue Silver Network, allowing the seeds to sprout and form a large net, physically binding and controlling enemies.

Third Soul Skill: Blue Silver Cutting Array, making the leaves of the Blue Silver Network sharp, like soft swords, intertwining and moving to cut enemies.

Fourth Soul Skill: Blue Silver Illusion Array, obtained by hunting the Demon Eye Magic Tree, capable of confusing the enemy's mind and making them fall into an illusion. When used in conjunction with the Blue Silver Cutting Array, it could make people die unknowingly.

And the final Fifth Soul Skill was the Blue Silver Spirit Gathering Array, which had three uses: first, to condense heaven and earth energy around oneself to assist oneself and other Spirit Masters in accelerating cultivation; second, to inject the gathered heaven and earth energy into the first four Spirit Abilities, enhancing their power by nearly twofold; and third, to lay the foundation for the subsequent Sixth Soul Skill.

For the future Sixth Soul Ring, Lan Yinzi's planned Spirit Ability was still the Blue Silver Overlord Spear—a spear body formed by a net of seeds, with the sharpness of leaves concentrated at the spearhead, accompanied by mental illusion damage, and further enhanced by condensing heaven and earth energy.

Lan Yinzi still yearned for attack-oriented skills.

"Attack?"

Gu Yuena pouted, somewhat disdainful. In her opinion, the Blue Silver Emperor focusing on attack completely failed to maximize its greatest advantage. Currently, it could only deal with Spirits that were not top-tier.

It was excellent at bullying weaker opponents, even top-tier ones.

But when encountering overly powerful Spirits, it couldn't play much of a role, such as Huo Wu's Sun Goddess, Bibi Dong's Death Spider Emperor, and Soul Eating Spider Emperor.

Even Xiao Wu's current Soft Bones Rabbit could violently tear apart Lan Yinzi's Blue Silver Network.

At Gu Yuena's sharp tongue, Lan Yinzi's expression fell, and she thought to herself, "Who compares themselves to those monsters? It's enough for me to be better than most people."

"However, you might be able to find a way to connect your Spirit with the Blue Silver Network that Tang San currently has set up throughout Spirit City and its surroundings." Gu Yuena offered her suggestion, "After all, they are both Blue Silver Emperor, so perhaps you can use its roots to unleash a more powerful effect."

"That's certainly worth a try." Lan Yinzi thought it was feasible. After all, Tang San's Blue Silver Emperor was inherited from her. Although her current Blue Silver Emperor evolved under her manipulation after this body devoured her original body, making it a brand new entity, it was still the Blue Silver Emperor and should be able to coexist with Tang San's Blue Silver Emperor.

However, she couldn't act directly; she had to talk to her good son first. Otherwise, if the Blue Silver Network had problems and he had to rearrange it... she, as a mother, would feel incredibly guilty.

[Sigh~]

[If it were any other mother, perhaps they wouldn't even ask and would just try it directly. But who told me I was a gentle, considerate, kind, amiable, and beautiful mother?]

After admiring herself for a while, Lan Yinzi took Gu Yuena to Tang San, who was writing diligently in his study. On his desk lay a transparent anatomical diagram of a human body, marked with various blood vessels, meridians, nervous systems, acupoints, internal organs, and the brain, which looked a little creepy.

"Captain Tang~"

"No, just call me by my name, it sounds strange." Tang San stopped writing and halted Lan Yinzi's sweet voice. "After all, our relationship... is quite complicated."

This was also why Tang San hadn't formally called Lan Yinzi by her name after their frank discussion (always using "you" or simply not addressing her).

"Alright, there's something I need to discuss with you." When not joking, Lan Yinzi didn't know how to address Tang San, so she gave up on a title and just looked at him, indicating she was serious.

"What is it? Is Gu Yuena too mischievous?" Tang San glanced at Gu Yuena, who was glaring at him, finding her puffed-up little face rather cute, and couldn't help but pinch it.

Gu Yuena, realizing what happened, froze for a moment, then angrily retreated three steps, roaring like a dragon.

"Hmm~ This girl is indeed very mischievous." Tang San raised his hand and held Gu Yuena's forehead. No matter how she swung her arms, she couldn't touch Tang San's body.

The difference in height and arm length was fully evident at this moment.

A flicker of envy crossed Lan Yinzi's eyes, and she immediately said, "It's like this, I want to try if our Spirits can fuse."

"Spirit Fusion?"

Tang San raised an eyebrow.

Tang San naturally had a sense of Lan Yinzi's Spirit. After all, they were both Blue Silver Emperor, and he focused on amplification, recovery, healing, and enhancement, while she focused on attack and control. Both also had Life attributes, and Life attributes were different from other attributes like water, fire, wind, and earth; they didn't need to achieve a certain balance with each other. As long as the main attribute was Life, the probability of fusion between them should be very high.

After all, taking Tang San's own Blue Silver Emperor as an example, its Life attribute seemed capable of producing corresponding attribute fusion, or rather, inclusion, with most Spirits.

The Life attribute could accommodate most attributes; only when facing an opposing attribute like death did it need to achieve balance.

Therefore, the success rate of fusing with Lan Yinzi's Spirit could be said to be one hundred percent.

However, Tang San didn't want to do that.

After all, Spirit Fusion would affect a person's temperament... Although Tang San felt he perfectly controlled his Spirit and based himself on it, so he wouldn't be affected, Lan Yinzi was another matter.

No matter what, she was his birth mother...

Spiritually—

Speaking of which, after the Blue Silver Emperor sacrificed itself, it was essentially dead once. Even after rebirth, would the soul be more solidified, but would the immortal true Spirit deep within the soul be the same one?

Most likely not, so...

Tang San immediately cut off the thought of "dutiful son and kind mother," but Lan Yinzi shook her head and said, "Not Spirit Fusion. If I were to say, it should be Spirit Ability Fusion."

"It's about letting my Blue Silver Emperor take root in your Blue Silver Network to see if it can increase my cultivation speed or the power of my Spirit Abilities."

If it was just that, Tang San could agree, saying, "That's a good idea, but the Blue Silver Network can't be used by you directly. We need to test it first, otherwise, it might disrupt the Blue Silver Network's communication."

Although Tang San's guess was that the materialized Blue Silver Emperor Spirit was no different from a real plant, and its root network was incredibly tough, so Lan Yinzi's Blue Silver Emperor couldn't affect it, it was better to be safe than sorry.

Now that the Blue Silver Network had begun to be used, if the signal suddenly cut off, it would cause great chaos. It was better for him to release a separate Blue Silver Emperor to test it.

Moreover, as a researcher, rigorousness was an essential quality.

"That's great! Let's go test it now."

Lan Yinzi was as excited as a little girl, directly pulling Tang San's hand and leading him out of the study towards the Soul Martial Manor's training ground.

Gu Yuena scratched her ear, not understanding why Lan Yinzi was so happy. She thought to herself, "I always feel like Lan Yinzi is a bit off. Her affection for Tang San is somewhat like that of a Soft Bones Rabbit, but not entirely the same. It's more like the kind of affection some Spirit Beast mothers show when caring for their Spirit Beast cubs..."

303: Arrangements for Lan Yinzi

Tang San released a Blue Silver Emperor Martial Soul, planting it in the center of the training ground. Its roots immediately plunged into the earth, but under Tang San's control, this part of the roots did not connect with the Blue Silver Network underground.

"Alright, give it a try." Tang San let Lan Yinzi begin her demonstration, but then thought of another question, "By the way, can your Blue Silver Emperor take root?"

Lan Yinzi's five spirit rings did not grant her the ability to take root. How could she connect with his Blue Silver Emperor's roots?

Could it be—

"Grafting." Lan Yinzi released her own Blue Silver Emperor Martial Soul. Compared to Tang San's, it was less brilliant, with only nine leaves and golden veins on them.

As Lan Yinzi approached the Blue Silver Emperor planted by Tang San, the Blue Silver Emperor in her hand wrapped around it, Binding itself to the stem of Tang San's Blue Silver Emperor, with its bottom leaves connecting to the stem.

"It really is grafting." Tang San was thoughtful, suddenly feeling that the nature of plant Spirits was not too different from real plants. And because Spirits have variability, the grafting range between plant Spirits was probably much wider than real plant grafting.

Looking back at Lan Yinzi, he found her face flushed, and her entire essence, energy, and Spirit seemed to have risen to a level she had never reached before.

Because of this, Tang San had to control the Blue Silver Emperor plant to reduce the energy transferred to the part of the Blue Silver Emperor she grafted.

"So full! So bloated!" Lan Yinzi finally came to her senses, patting her chest and exhaling, "I almost choked to death just now. Your Spirit has so much energy."

"Don't say such ambiguous things, alright?" Tang San rolled his eyes and asked about the effect, "Are there any changes?"

"Just a little joke between mother and son, no need to take it so seriously." Lan Yinzi pursed her lips, her expression becoming serious as she sensed the effects of the Blue Silver Emperor and Spirit Ability. She said, "I can feel that within the range covered by the roots of your Blue Silver Emperor plant, the effect of my Spirit Abilities has been greatly enhanced. The range is the same as the area covered by your Blue Silver Emperor's roots, and my mental force seems to be able to move freely within it, just like coming home."

"And now?" Tang San snapped his fingers with a "pa" sound.

"Uh... my mental force is obstructed." Lan Yinzi's eyes showed resentment

It was clearly her own Blue Silver Emperor that she inherited, yet it was repelling her mental force.

Her son had grown up, had his own secrets, and didn't even want to share them with his mother. Wuwuwu, it was truly heartbreaking~

Tang San ignored this "pitiful" act and directly explained: "My Blue Silver Emperor can transmit mental force for communication, but only I can perform true mental transfer through the Blue Silver Emperor plant, and incidentally condense thought bodies and such. But for now, it seems you can too, as long as I grant a certain level of permission."

"However, after your Blue Silver Emperor combines with mine, it can indeed strengthen all of your Spirit Abilities, and it's an all-around enhancement."

"After all, our Spirits are considered to be from the same root... this point still needs to be researched in detail in the future. As for now, you won't affect the communication of the Blue Silver Network; instead, you can become a guardian of the Blue Silver Network."

Lan Yinzi excels in the attack system and control system. If her deficiencies in Life and energy are compensated, even when facing those top-tier Spirits, she would possess the power to attack, and even the power to kill.

Moreover, with the aid of the Blue Silver Network's roots, Lan Yinzi's Blue Silver Cutting Array, Blue Silver Illusion Array, and Blue Silver Spirit Gathering Array can be performed even more perfectly. In the future, if she thoroughly researches the flow between these three Spirit Abilities and extracts them individually, she might even become a Grandmaster of formations.

Xiao Wu studies medicine and makes pills.

Huo Wu studies forging and attempts to refine artifacts.

Now, with Lan Yinzi's research into formations, it can be said that the three arts of cultivation: pill, artifact, and array, are all gathered. Plus Guang Ling's Spirit tool research and Ning Rongrong's treasure-hunting ability, Tang San has already seen an even brighter future!

"Oh, so you're making me, your mother, do research!" Lan Yinzi listened to Tang San's suggestion, put her hands on her hips, and jutted out her butt, feigning anger.

"Using your brain more will be good for you, and it'll prevent you from being bored with too much free time." Tang San felt that for a somewhat lively woman like Lan Yinzi to achieve greater accomplishments, she first needed to settle down, and then find something to do.

"I am the housekeeper of this Soul Martial Manor!" Lan Yinzi stated that she was very busy.

"Is that so? How come I feel like you're the idlest person here?" Tang San unceremoniously stated that he had seen Lan Yinzi wandering around Spirit Hall Outer City many times—the housekeeper of Soul Martial Manor? Honestly, with the servants arranged by Spirit Hall, Lan Yinzi didn't need to manage much. Every day, besides cultivation, she had plenty of free time.

Lan Yinzi's face flushed, and she pretended to cough, saying, "That was for gathering intelligence in the Outer City..."

Tang San said faintly, "But you seem to be spending my money."

Lan Yinzi snorted, "It's only natural for a mother to use her son's money! Forget it, I'm idle anyway, so finding something to do is fine. Who told my son to be so petty with his mother?"

"Tsk~" Tang San smiled playfully and turned back to the study.

"How's the research with Lan Yinzi going?" Gu Yuena had stayed in the study since she came with Lan Yinzi, examining what Tang San had been writing furiously earlier. She was very interested in the human anatomy diagram and had memorized it completely. Now, seeing Tang San walk back, she immediately pretended to put it back in its original place.

"Don't change the subject, I saw it. No need to be sneaky. If I truly didn't want you to see it, I would have put them in my storage wristband when Lan Yinzi and I went to the training ground." Tang San walked to the chair, lifted Gu Yuena, and sat down himself, preparing to continue his work—researching the commonalities of the Creation and Destruction True Scripture, Jade Bone Golden Muscle Divine Treasure Method, and Cosmic Meditation, to deduce the direction for perfectly integrating the three in the future.

As for Gu Yuena seeing it...

She just saw it.

This was just a detailed human diagram, without any marked routes for blood and qi circulation, spirit power operation, or mental force rotation.

Gu Yuena pouted, slipped under Tang San's arm, and sat on his lap. She leaned her head on the desk and asked, "What are you drawing? The spirit power circulation routes?"

"Oh, not bad, you even know about spirit power circulation routes." Tang San's face showed surprise, but his eyes were calm: it would be strange if the dignified Silver Dragon King didn't have corresponding divine force circulation routes! Even instincts require certain techniques to use one's power more skillfully.

At least, the Silver Dragon King, representing the Dragon God's rationality and wisdom, should consider this point.

"Don't treat me like a child, alright?" Gu Yuena said discontentedly, "I've lived for so many years, even if I was mostly sleeping, I still have more experience than you."

What kind of "more experience"!

Tang San was speechless. If she was always sleeping, where would the experience come from? At most, she just knew more about some divine-level matters, which could barely be considered extensive knowledge...

304: The true meaning of equivalent exchange

“Do you want me to teach you?” the Silver Dragon King turned around, winking at Tang San. “Let me tell you, my spirit power circulation cultivation method is definitely much better than the meditation methods on the continent, and that Mysterious Heaven Skill you’re hiding from me.”

Tang San just wanted to tell a joke:

The Mysterious Heaven Skill of Douluo Dalu 5’s protagonist can be cultivated to the God-King level (though it seems to have been improved).

However, Tang San was indeed a bit curious about the Silver Dragon King’s cultivation method, so he nodded: “I’d like to hear the details.”

“Oh my, you’re really shameless,” Gu Yuena said, her mouth wide open in surprise. “Can’t you tell I’m being sarcastic? Do you really want it?”

“To use your words, you were bought by me, and I’m responsible for your food, clothing, housing, and expenses, so you belong to me. Therefore, everything about you also belongs to me,” Tang San continued to mark on the human body diagram, stating it as a matter of course.

“Are you confessing to me?” Gu Yuena stared at Tang San for a while, then suddenly asked.

“I’m not so absurd as to confess to an eight-year-old girl, even if your true age might be similar to that of human ancestors.” Tang San stared intently at the human anatomy diagram, answering while contemplating how to perfectly fuse the three cultivation methods, feeling that it still needed to rely on the form of spirit rings.

“I feel like you’re mocking me for being old...” Gu Yuena glared with her purple eyes, and after a long while, she turned her head away and said, “I can teach you, but don’t blame me if you can’t learn it.”

As the Silver Dragon King, she naturally possessed a method of controlling elements, spirit power, and mental force that belonged solely to her, but it was only suitable for her; others would simply be unable to learn it.

Even if that person possessed multiple elements like her, without her personal guidance, it would be difficult to get started.

A divine-level cultivation method was not something mortals could control.

“Tell me, if I think it’s acceptable, I can teach you my cultivation method.” Tang San stopped his charcoal pencil, moved the human anatomy diagram on the table aside, and then picked Gu Yuena up onto the table, letting her sit on the edge facing him.

Unexpectedly, Gu Yuena crossed her legs and lifted her skirt, a playful expression on her face: “Isn’t the view below so wonderful that it makes you burn with desire?”

Tang San: “???”

Don’t tell him the cultivation method is hidden in her thermal underwear.

Seeing Tang San unmoved, Gu Yuena felt a bit frustrated and said disappointedly, “Is it because I’m too young and my body hasn’t developed yet, so I don’t have the charm of a mature woman?”

Tang San’s hands moved quickly, blocking Gu Yuena’s not-so-forceful random attacks, but his face showed a surprised expression: “Isn’t this me cooperating with you? I thought a million-year Spirit Beast like you would be used to such things.”

Gu Yuena cursed angrily, “You’re the one who’s used to it! Your whole family is used to it! Also, I never admitted to being some million-year Spirit Beast; that was your guess at the time.”

The Silver Dragon King was born in the God Realm, brought into existence by the death of the Dragon God.

After escaping to the lower realm, her body was severely wounded, and she had been in a deep slumber, with no time to find a male dragon.

Non-divine male dragons, even those with powerful bloodlines like Ditian, she wouldn’t even consider...

Bah!

She almost got her thoughts led astray by Tang San!

“Alright, don’t be angry, I was just joking. But since you’re not a million-year Spirit Beast, then what are you?” Tang San leaned back in his chair, gazing at Gu Yuena with great interest. “Could it be a legendary divine beast?”

“You know quite a lot.” Gu Yuena placed her crossed legs on the table, sitting cross-legged, but still didn’t admit it. Instead, she pressed her forehead against Tang San’s forehead and transmitted a burst of mental force. After feeling resistance, she said, “Don’t resist. I’ll directly transmit my cultivation method to you. Explaining it would be too much trouble, and I don’t even know how to explain it.”

Divine-level cultivation methods involve the core of the divine nucleus, requiring consideration of too many pathways, and even some energy flow routes need to be shaped by oneself, making them complex and varied.

Therefore, transmitting it via mental force was more convenient than speaking it aloud.

This was also possible because Tang San’s mental force was strong; otherwise, if an ordinary person’s brain were to be infused with such cultivation data, they would likely be unable to bear it, bleeding from their orifices, and ultimately becoming an idiot or even facing death due to brain overload.

Tang San released his mental force protection and accepted the information transmitted by the Silver Dragon King, a surprised look appearing in his eyes. He said, “Your cultivation method is quite good.”

The Silver Dragon King’s cultivation method primarily focused on elemental control, supplemented by strengthening mental force, while its effect on strengthening one’s own vital energy and blood was the weakest.

However, the three were perfectly integrated, inseparable from each other.

“Is it about unifying the primordial chaos?” Tang San pondered for a moment, then uttered this phrase. “Gathering the three treasures of essence, qi, and Spirit into a core, and using it to connect the entire body... This is indeed a path, saving extra trouble. The only drawback is that, due to the conditions of one’s Spirit, or rather, the state of the main body, it’s considered a semi-abandonment of physical strengthening.”

“A fresh term, but my cultivation method is incomplete.” Gu Yuena mimicked Tang San, rubbing her chin. “My true form is actually incomplete. As long as I can find the missing part and devour and refine it, I will certainly be able to make up for it, and I will become the supreme Super God-King in the world!”

“At that time—”

Among the Five Great God-Kings of the God Realm, aside from Kindness and Evil being a bit troublesome, the remaining three, including Shura who once severely wounded her, could only die with regret.

“Hahahaha!”

Tang San looked at Gu Yuena, who was suddenly laughing loudly, as if she were an idiot. He disdainfully took out a handkerchief, wiped the drool from the corner of her mouth, and said, “Stop laughing. Anyone who doesn’t know would think you’ve gone mad.”

“Cough, cough, I just thought of something happy,” Gu Yuena said, feigning profundity. “By the way, can you cultivate? Shouldn’t you let me see your cultivation method?”

Tang San raised his hand and pulled Gu Yuena’s forehead back to his own brow, transmitting Mysterious Heaven Skill, the Jade Bone chapter of Jade Bone Golden Muscle Divine Treasure Method, and Purple Demon Eye. He said, “This is my initial cultivation method.”

After coming back to her senses from being immersed, Gu Yuena sighed at human wisdom, then remembered something and asked, “Initial?”

“Yes, what I transmitted to you is just the basics. For anything more complex, you’ll need to create it yourself.” Tang San playfully flicked Gu Yuena’s upturned nose, a slight curve on his lips.

“No way, I’ve shown you mine, so you have to show me what you’re cultivating now,” Gu Yuena protested. “This is equivalent exchange!”

“Equivalent exchange means that the value of two things is the same.” Tang San (o(— —)o), “Although your cultivation method gave me some inspiration, the valuable parts for me are only comparable to the three I gave you.”

“This is the true meaning of equivalent exchange!”

305: Gu Yuena let go of her last grudge

No matter how Gu Yuena cried, pleaded, or even used a honey trap, Tang San showed no interest. Finally, she could only threaten, “Alright, you just wait. When I become strong in the future, I’ll definitely ride you like a big horse!”

Tang San picked up Gu Yuena, letting her legs straddle his head and hang on his shoulders. He supported her back to prevent her from falling backward, keeping her balanced, and chuckled, “You don’t need to wait for the future; you can ride on my neck right now. Isn’t it comfortable?”

“Comfortable my foot!” Gu Yuena was overcome with shame and anger. She grabbed Tang San’s hair and pulled for a while. Seemingly tired, she finally compromised and said, “Don’t tell me, riding on your shoulders is actually quite interesting. Looking down from here, it’s different from usual; the view is wider. It’s just a bit stuffy being in the study. How about we go outside for a walk? Take me to Min Shi Liang Du to stroll around and buy me delicious food, and I’ll forgive your rudeness just now.”

“That’s a very good suggestion, but let me finish what I’m doing first,” Tang San twisted his neck, finding the Gu Yuena-brand pillow quite comfortable, and responded verbally.

At first, Gu Yuena didn't notice anything amiss and kept asking Tang San about the various acupuncture points on the human anatomy diagram. However, as time passed, by noon, Gu Yuena felt her bottom and legs going numb. Only then did she realize the problem. Her expression turned sour, and she exhaled cold air into Tang San's ear, saying eerily, “I say, you wouldn’t be using me as a cushion or something, would you?”

“How could that be? I was just immersed in my research, and you didn’t remind me earlier, did you? Weren’t you also researching with me? What’s more, you were the one who wanted to ride a big horse at first; I was just helping you fulfill your dream!” Tang San looked up, meeting Gu Yuena’s eyes, and gave her an innocent look.

“So, this is my fault then?” Gu Yuena snorted lightly and didn’t continue to argue with Tang San. She said, “I’m hungry. Take me to eat, and then this afternoon, take me to Min Shi Liang Du. Otherwise, I won’t forgive you so easily.”

“Oh, you dare to rebel!” Tang San put down his charcoal pencil and reached his hands into Gu Yuena’s armpits, gently tickling her, which made her laugh uncontrollably.

“Hehe! Hahaha~”

“What’s going on? Haha, I shouldn’t be laughing this loudly... Haha, I’m a Spirit Ancestor.”

Since she had transformed into human form, her body was also that of a human, and naturally, Gu Yuena was sensitive to human sensitive areas and would laugh.

In Tang San’s eyes, transformation was the true mastery of the conversion of matter and energy.

For a Spirit Beast with such a massive body to transform into a tiny human infant, the material changes and energy conversions involved were probably beyond even a god’s comprehension.

It was simply the rules of the World.

Even the Silver Dragon King could not change this and had to obey.

Even if this body was only formed from a portion of her original essence...

“Stop! Ha~ If you continue, I’ll really get angry!” Gu Yuena squeezed Tang San’s arms tightly, her face flushed, not from shyness, but from laughing too hard, causing her blood to churn and her body to heat up.

“You’re clamping my hands, how can I let go?” Tang San moved his arms, signaling Gu Yuena to release his shoulders, then he lowered his hands, got up with Gu Yuena on his back, and headed out of the study.

“Ow, what are you doing!” Gu Yuena suddenly felt her vision elevate and was startled. Although her main body was larger and could see more when standing upright.

But at this moment, she was in human form, and being suddenly lifted by someone gave her the illusion that her main body was also being held up, hence her slight panic.

This was completely different from being held in one's arms.

“Taking you to eat.”

Tang San secretly thought that Gu Yuena was putting on quite an act. He walked out of the study and headed towards the dining hall.

Passing by the training ground, he found that Lan Yinzi was still there, studying the Blue Silver Emperor Martial Soul plant that Tang San had left behind, and she was also experimenting with her fifth Spirit Ability: Blue Silver Spirit Gathering Array.

The Heaven and Earth energy filling this training ground, nearly a thousand meters in radius, was even denser than the Heaven and Earth energy in the entire Spirit City.

“My Blue Silver Spirit Gathering Array has become incredibly powerful with the enhancement of your Blue Silver Emperor plant!” Seeing Tang San walk out with Gu Yuena on his back, Lan Yinzi quickly jogged over, her face beaming with joy, “If this Blue Silver Emperor plant can connect to the Blue Silver Network, I might be able to make the Heaven and Earth energy in the entire Spirit City nearly twice as dense!”

“A good ability, but that was just an initial test. It cannot be immediately connected to the Blue Silver Network, and besides, the Heaven and Earth energy in Spirit City is already plentiful enough,” Tang San slowly shook his head, then asked Lan Yinzi about her research on the spirit power flow routes within the spirit ring, “Do you have any insights regarding formations?”

“I’m not too confident about that. I estimate I’ll have to ask Guang Ling after he returns. I originally wanted to ask you, but I saw you teasing a child through the window...” As Lan Yinzi spoke, her eyes darted to Gu Yuena, who was riding on Tang San’s neck, and her face suddenly turned red, most likely because she had seen the scene where Gu Yuena’s skirt was lifted—

“She was actually eavesdropping outside the window! She might know my secret now.” However, Gu Yuena’s eyes were cold, completely disregarding the other party’s fear, and she said coldly, “How about we kill her? What do you think?”

“Don’t scare her, she won’t tell anyone.” Tang San raised his hand backward and lifted Gu Yuena from his neck to the ground, just like lifting a chick.

“Um, actually, I was once a Ten-thousand year soul beast that transformed...”

Lan Yinzi hurriedly explained her identity, worried that this Spirit Beast co-lord would kill her without a word. Now, she was completely human; if she died, she could never be resurrected or reborn.

“So that’s how it is!” Gu Yuena circled Lan Yinzi a few times, truly not expecting this to be a transformed Ten-thousand year plant Spirit Beast. It was just that her original body after rebirth was eaten by humans, and then her soul will took over a human body... It was truly a bit peculiar, but if a fragmented soul were to reside within a Spirit of the same type, subtly influencing the memories and soul of the human possessing that Spirit, it might indeed achieve the effect of “possession.”

This Blue Silver Emperor was quite lucky; with such a low probability, she actually succeeded. One must know that other Spirit Beasts would at least need to cultivate to the million-year level to possess even a slightly imperfect possession ability.

However, what shocked Gu Yuena the most was that this Lan Yinzi was Tang San's mother!?

"I can't believe it, so you also have half Spirit Beast bloodline," Gu Yuena looked at Tang San with a strange gaze, finally letting go of the last trace of resentment in her heart towards him. She felt that he was also half of her subject, and even thought that he, possessing both human and Spirit Beast bloodlines, was the key to changing the human Spirit Master's need to hunt Spirit Beasts for advancement.

After all, she had personally witnessed Tang San helping Lingxi and Ling Meng condense their exclusive spirit rings...

306: News about Yu Tianheng

“You're overthinking it. I'm human, with no Spirit Beast components whatsoever.”

A Spirit Beast transforming into human form means they are human, merely possessing the original power of a hundred-thousand-year cultivation. Otherwise, a mere Blue Silver Emperor plant couldn't have resulted in a person like him.

Reproductive isolation, in most cases, still exists in this World.

Moreover, self-perception lies in memory, not in so-called bloodline. If one only focuses on bloodline, then their thinking becomes narrow.

“Don't deny it, you do!” Gu Yuena chuckled, her gaze towards Tang San softening even more. Then she extended her small hand, “Now, take my hand and let your King lead you to dinner.”

Tang San looked at Gu Yuena strangely for a while before slowly saying, “I didn't realize you were so chuunibyou.”

“What does chuunibyou mean?” Gu Yuena asked, bewildered.

“It means cool.”

“So it means cool... do you take me for a fool?” Gu Yuena puffed out her cheeks, suddenly saying angrily, “Your eyes gave it away! This clearly means mockery! You hateful fellow, how dare you treat your King like this, I will definitely teach you a good lesson!”

With that, Gu Yuena bit Tang San's left hand.

“Hiss—”

Tang San vigorously shook his hand, causing Gu Yuena's body to sway in mid-air. “Let go quickly, why are your teeth getting sharper? It hurts a little!”

“Pop~”

Gu Yuena, having released her bite, was flung away. She flipped twice in the air, landed steadily, propping herself on one knee on the ground, and looked up at Tang San, chuckling, “Now you know how powerful I am, right? This is the price for mocking this young lady!”

Tang San glanced at the rapidly healing wound, then at Gu Yuena kneeling on the ground, and couldn't help but ask, “By the way, does that superhero-style landing not hurt your knees?”

Gu Yuena: “.....It really doesn't hurt.”

“I almost forgot, you're not an ordinary little girl.” Tang San rubbed his forehead, walked over and pulled her up, then called Lan Yinzi to go to the dining hall together, and then asked Gu Yuena again, “By the way, does my blood taste good?”

Gu Yuena paused, acting thoughtful, as if truly savoring the taste. She couldn't help but lick her lips and said, “The taste is indeed quite good, sweet and sour, very delicious.”

Are you treating it like lemonade?!

Tang San drooped his eyelids, deep in thought, and said, “Don't bite me again in the future. I don't know if Xiao Wu has developed something like a Rabid Dragon Vaccine.”

What is Rabid Dragon Vaccine? Gu Yuena didn't know, but she knew that Tang San was definitely itching for a beating again—humph, a mere subject dares to disrespect her, the co-ruler. After she conquers him, she will make him offer his essence blood daily!

Tang San, who cultivated Cosmic Meditation, Creation and Destruction True Scripture, and Jade Bone Golden Muscle Divine Treasure Method, had undergone further evolution in his body, gradually moving beyond the non-human, and his blood naturally contained special energy.

In Gu Yuena's perception, if she could consume it for a long time, she might be able to comprehend the path of power without having to devour the other half of the Dragon God.

Besides that, Gu Yuena also detected extremely faint stellar power within his blood. In the future, she might also be able to comprehend the laws of the stars.

However, Gu Yuena was still hesitating whether to have Tang San provide blood long-term—she had a vague premonition that her destiny was already somewhat entangled with Tang San's. If she consumed it long-term, this entanglement would deepen, making it extremely difficult to break free, unless this body was completely destroyed and she did not return to her main body.

But for the main body, this was also unacceptable, because this clone was a part condensed from its origin. How could it be abandoned so easily?

If it were abandoned, even if the main body's injuries fully recovered in the end, it would not reach the strength it had at birth. To contend with the gods of the God Realm would be nothing short of a fool's dream...

...

Dining hall.

Xiao Wu, Guang Ling, Ning Rongrong, Huo Wu, and others also returned to Soul Martial Manor. Everyone ate together, discussing their insights from work and research.

“Oh, right, I saw Yu Tianheng this afternoon.” Huo Wu said, “That guy actually came to Spirit City two years ago. I thought he had been staying in the Blue Lightning Tyrant Dragon Clan meditating, or perhaps went somewhere for training.”

Ning Rongrong was puzzled: “Since he came two years ago, why didn't he come to find us? None of us knew he was here. Could it be that he's on his honeymoon with Dugu Yan?”

“Yu Tianheng said that after he came to Spirit City, he was personally received by the Supreme Pontiff, who then assigned him a mission with more than a dozen Spirit Ancestor-level enforcement teams from Spirit Hall... It's been two years, and it's still not completed,” Huo Wu said. “Dugu Yan also went with him.”

Yu Tianheng joining Spirit Hall in his personal capacity must have been at the instruction of the Blue Lightning Tyrant Dragon Clan. Spirit Hall would not overlook this point, and Tang San felt that Bibi Dong also had the intention of preventing Yu Tianheng from having too much contact with him, which is why she assigned the mission, so much so that none of them knew Yu Tianheng and Dugu Yan had already arrived here after they came to Spirit City.

It's just, with the strength of Yu Tianheng and Dugu Yan, plus over a dozen Spirit Ancestors, has the mission still not been completed in over two years?

“What mission is it?” Tang San became a little interested.

“Hunting down a team of The Fallen.” Huo Wu rubbed her fists together, “Yu Tianheng said that in that team, there are three Spirit Kings, and the rest are Spirit Ancestors.”

Xiao Wu was surprised: “Doesn't sound strong. Has Yu Tianheng been so useless these two years?”

With the strength of Yu Tianheng and Dugu Yan, combined with their self-created Spirit Ability, fighting above their level against a Spirit Saint was not a problem. Why would a mere three Spirit Kings require two years?

“At first, I thought the same, but after listening to Yu Tianheng's explanation, I understood why it hasn't been completed in two years. Those three Spirit Kings possess a Martial Soul Fusion Skill. Although its power isn't strong, its effect is extremely bizarre. It can stimulate people's resentment, greed, hatred, and so on. Even with good mental force, one can be affected,” Huo Wu said mysteriously. “Of course, the most important thing is that those three guys seem to be able to resurrect. According to Yu Tianheng's speculation, as long as you don't kill all three of them simultaneously, they will revive.”

Ning Rongrong exclaimed: “Resurrect? Are they still human? Or is it the effect of a Spirit Ability? Can the fusion skill of three Spirit Kings be that strong? Then Titled Douluo would die of shame.”

One must know that even a Spirit like Nine Hearted Sea 棠, which focuses on healing, usually cannot achieve the effect of resurrection!

How could a mere Martial Soul Fusion Skill of three Spirit Kings do that?

“It should be a Spirit Ability,” Tang San analyzed. “But it's not 'resurrection' in the true sense. Rather, the three Spirit Kings are merely appearances; in reality, there should only be one, and that Spirit King's Spirit Ability can create clones or similar things, and these clones can exist for a long time... My Blue Silver Emperor is an example. It's not strange that The Fallen used some secret method to give their Spirit and Spirit Ability similar effects.”

“However, if he can control three clones simultaneously, then his Heart Separation Control ability is probably even more formidable than the highest realm of the Seven Treasure Glazed Tile School's Heart Separation Control Method: the Seven Apertures Exquisite Heart.”

Ning Rongrong also nodded in agreement.

If the reality was truly as her man analyzed, that The Fallen's Heart Separation Control ability was indeed very powerful. After all, the Seven Treasure Glazed Tile School's Heart Separation Control Method only assisted direct disciples to better use multiple spirit ring abilities simultaneously, while that Fallen directly used one mind for three purposes, transforming into three individuals!

307: Visiting Yu Tianheng (Part 1)

After the meal, everyone present, except for Ning Rongrong, who had to go back to work at Heaven and Earth Commerce, focused on their own cultivation. Tang San, however, after asking Huo Wu about Yu Tianheng's whereabouts, decided to pay him a visit.

Gu Yuena, who had been cultivating Mysterious Heaven Skill for a while, also followed along, wanting to join in the fun and see the difference between a true dragon Spirit like the Blue Lightning Tyrant Dragon and a real Blue Lightning Tyrant Dragon Spirit Beast.

“Speaking of which, do you have any special insights from cultivating Mysterious Heaven Skill?” Tang San asked curiously on the way.

“It’s alright, just a tiny bit worse than my cultivation method,” Gu Yuena said truthfully. “However, this cultivation method is quite unique. It can evolve different paths based on a person’s physique, attribute, and Spirit. If the spirit power cultivated through it doesn’t pass through the Spirit, the spirit power won’t have any attributes, much like plain water... So, this cultivation method allows even people with zero innate spirit power, as long as they aren’t elderly individuals with declining vitality, to cultivate spirit power, right?”

“Theoretically, that’s correct.” Tang San didn’t deny the superiority of Mysterious Heaven Skill. “This point is something no other meditation method can compare to, not even your divine skill.”

“Who says mine can’t?” Gu Yuena turned her head. “I can directly implant spirit power seeds or elemental power into people, allowing them to cultivate.”

“Then what’s powerful is you, not your cultivation method.”

“Hmph, anyway, my cultivation method is as powerful as I am!”

As they spoke, the two arrived at the manor arranged by Spirit Hall for Yu Tianheng and Dugu Yan. It was also located at the foot of Wu Hun Mountain, though it was three miles away from Tang San’s Soul Martial Manor.

And the name of this manor was Hengyan Manor.

As the name suggested: Yu Tianheng and Dugu Yan’s manor.

The guards at the entrance immediately knelt on one knee upon seeing Tang San, their eyes filled with admiration and respect: “Greetings, Saint Son!”

“No need for formalities.”

Tang San nodded slightly, “Please inform them that an old friend has come to visit.”

“Yes!”

One of the guards immediately went inside.

Soon after, Yu Tianheng personally came out with Dugu Yan. Upon seeing Tang San, his face lit up with joy and he said, “Captain, it really is you! I knew that you would be the only old friend who would visit me in Spirit City.”

Dugu Yan smiled and said, “Let’s talk inside. Why would we make Captain wait at the main entrance?”

“Haha, you’re right.” Yu Tianheng hooked his arm around Tang San’s shoulder, and they walked into Hengyan Manor together, while Gu Yuena followed behind Dugu Yan.

“Captain, oh no, I should call you Saint Son now,” Dugu Yan teased in the living room as she poured tea for Tang San and Gu Yuena. “Who is this little sister?”

“Don’t call me Saint Son, it sounds too formal. Just call me by my name,” Tang San smiled, introducing Gu Yuena. “Her name is Gu Yuena, a relative of Xiao Wu’s family. Her Spirit is also a true dragon type. She heard that Tianheng’s Spirit is the Blue Lightning Tyrant Dragon, so she came to take a look.”

“True Dragon!” Yu Tianheng’s eyes lit up. He pushed a plate of exquisite pastries in front of her and asked curiously, “What kind of dragon is your Spirit?”

“Silver Dragon.” Gu Yuena didn’t even glance at the pastries, only intently observed Yu Tianheng. Suddenly, her Spirit possessed her, transforming her into a small dragon girl. Every silver-white scale on her body emitted a seven-colored glow, and a powerful dragon’s might emanated from her, instantly making Yu Tianheng feel suppressed.

His Blue Lightning Tyrant Dragon Spirit within him was actually suppressed!

Not only him, but Dugu Yan, who was beside him, also felt a slight discomfort. However, her Spirit was the Nine-Headed Bi Lin Snake Emperor, also a top-tier Spirit, and it was based on the Bi Lin Dan Bead, using it to plan her own poison cultivation route. Its attribute was poison, an attribute not possessed by the Silver Dragon King. Therefore, its resistance to dragon’s might was actually a bit stronger than Yu Tianheng’s true dragon-type Spirit.

In short, in one sentence, although the Nine-Headed Bi Lin Snake Emperor also contained a trace of dragon bloodline, it was not a direct subordinate of the Silver Dragon King and could choose not to obey.

“What a terrifying Spirit.”

A bead of cold sweat appeared on Yu Tianheng’s forehead. He had never imagined that there could be another dragon-type Spirit in the World that could suppress the Blue Lightning Tyrant Dragon in terms of bloodline.

This made him recall the dragon's might he had sensed when he was still at Heaven Dou Royal Academy, and he wondered what connection it had with the girl in front of him.

Could it be the same person?

"I see you have some potential. Do you want to be this young lady's little brother?"

"Bang!"

As soon as these words left her mouth, Tang San gave her a "chestnut," making her cover her head in pain and say angrily, "You dare to defy your superior! I'm going to teach you a good lesson today!"

With that, she bit Tang San's hand.

"Don't mind her, this child's brain hasn't fully developed yet," Tang San explained to Yu Tianheng and Dugu Yan, ignoring the bite. He then asked about their mission, "I heard from Huo Wu about your situation. Is that group of The Fallen very troublesome?"

"Sigh~ I didn't expect that a mere few Spirit Kings would take us this long," Yu Tianheng sighed. "Now, I finally understand the greatness of Spirit Hall..."

In the past, influenced by his family, he only felt that Spirit Hall was a competitor to his family. Even when viewed objectively, he only considered them the largest force.

But now, he understood one thing: Spirit Hall was at least truly making an effort to combat The Fallen, whereas the various great families would not. For them, the most important thing was the inheritance of the family bloodline.

Over the past two years, during the pursuit of that group of The Fallen, he had experienced a lot, and his horizons had broadened. His judgment of the various forces on the continent also became more objective.

“Speaking of which, when I first returned to Spirit City, I thought I had come to the wrong place. In just two years, Spirit City has actually been divided into Inner City and Outer City, especially the Outer City, which even has six major urban areas... Now that I think about it, I’ve accomplished nothing in these two years, while Captain, you’ve indeed helped Spirit City establish six Outer Cities. I really can’t compare,” Yu Tianheng lamented.

“Don’t flatter me. I just moved my lips. The people who truly built the six cities are the residents in the Outer City; they all participated,” Tang San said, sipping his tea, not taking credit. He then asked, “How long will you stay this time? Do you still need to continue the mission of pursuing that Fallen team?”

“Of course, we have to continue, otherwise I’ll be laughed at. This time, we mainly came back to purchase some resources for auxiliary cultivation from Spirit City; the medicinal herbs here are the best,” Yu Tianheng explained the reason for their return. “After all, I heard that Spirit City has even developed elixirs... I heard that the most famous healer and pharmacist in Medicine Dan City is Xiao Wu!”

“Speaking of which, cultivating medicine in addition to cultivation, do you have enough energy?” Dugu Yan was a bit worried that this would affect Xiao Wu’s spirit power cultivation progress.

“Don’t worry, Xiao Wu’s cultivation won’t be affected by her side job. On the contrary, medicine and cultivation are interconnected. Currently, her spirit power has already reached sixty-five,” Tang San said.

“Sixty-five!” X2

308: Visit Yu Tianheng (Part 2)

Yu Tianheng and Dugu Yan exchanged glances, never expecting Xiao Wu to have already reached Spirit Emperor. Her cultivation speed was much faster than theirs.

Then, the Tang San in front of them, his spirit power must have also reached the Spirit Emperor level, right?

“That’s right.” Tang San admitted to their question and asked, “What is your current strength?”

Yu Tianheng laughed and said, “I can’t compare to you and Xiao Wu. I am currently a Spirit King, spirit power level fifty-eight. It might take another year to break through to the Spirit Emperor level. As for Yan Yan, her spirit power is also fifty-eight. After her Spirit evolved, her cultivation speed is even a little faster than mine. If I hadn’t cultivated diligently, she might have surpassed me.”

“That’s not bad. With your cultivation speed, you can both become Titled Douluo before the age of forty.” Tang San’s words were not sarcastic. After all, this was the spirit power increase speed for top Spirit owners without the addition of a God’s Trial. If the two of them hadn’t consumed Immortal Herbs, this time would have to be pushed back.

Moreover, the youngest Titled Douluo currently announced on the Douluo Continent, Tang Hao, was forty-four years old.

“Then thank you for your auspicious words.” Yu Tianheng was clearly very happy, and Dugu Yan was the same.

“Oh, right, when you continue the mission, let me know, and I’ll join too.” Tang San stated the second purpose of his visit, “I also want to see The Fallen that even the two of you together couldn't handle."

"Haha, that would be great." Yu Tianheng breathed a sigh of relief and said, "To be honest, not completing the mission for over two years, I feel a bit ashamed. After returning to Spirit City, I was thinking whether I should visit you. Now it's good, it saves the time of visiting."

Gu Yuena released Tang San's hand, licking the blood from the corner of her mouth, and said, "I want to go too."

What are The Fallen?

In these days, Gu Yuena had also learned something—

A type of intelligent, distorted creature that abandoned their human identity, yet was not a Spirit Beast, and only knew how to kill.

Tang San knew she was curious. He rubbed his hand, which had returned to normal, and said, "You can, but if you get captured by The Fallen then, don't blame me for not saving you."

"Hmph, is this young lady afraid?" Gu Yuena jumped up from her seat, clenched her hands, and a Silver Dragon Spear appeared in her hand, twirling it with impressive force, "One stab from this spear will surely leave the opponent with no chance of survival."

"twin spirits?" Yu Tianheng exclaimed. Seeing the Silver Dragon Spear, his Blue Lightning Tyrant Dragon Spirit trembled once again, "This girl's talent is the same as yours!"

"No, she only has one Spirit." Tang San shook his head, "It's just that her Spirit has two states: Beast Spirit for possession and Tool Spirit for holding."

"What a peculiar Spirit." Dugu Yan examined the shimmering Silver Dragon Spear, as if remembering something, and said, "I heard my grandfather say that Spirit Hall seems to have a Titled Douluo named Snake Lance, whose Spirit, the Eighteen-Foot Snake Lance, also seems to have both Beast Spirit and Tool Spirit states, but his Spirit doesn't seem to be able to possess."

"Spirit Hall does have such a Titled Douluo, but he is not currently in the Elder Palace. They say he went to perform some secret mission." Tang San naturally knew what Snake Lance Douluo was doing, but he couldn't say it at the moment, "Otherwise, we could find him to study. I suspect that some more powerful Tool Spirits might have evolved from Beast Spirits."

This was also a direction of "the evolution of martial souls": animal Spirits evolving into Tool Spirits.

Based on Snake Lance Douluo's Eighteen-Foot Snake Lance Spirit, Tang San had reason to suspect that those Tool Spirits with animal-like features in their names, as long as the Spirit Master didn't just make up the name, were most likely related to Beast Spirits.

After all, Gu Yuena could freely condense her own origin into Beast Spirit and Tool Spirit, with no problems in their mutual transformation... Of course, this couldn't be used as a reference, as it involved divine power. Changing the appearance of a Spirit might not be difficult for a divine existence, as Wang Dong in Douluo Dalu 2 possessed a Bright Goddess Butterfly.

Therefore, Tang San's research on Spirits would exclude uncertain factors, and then, through existing data or on-site investigations, conduct large-scale sampling.

Otherwise, all Spirit theories developed by humans would be worthless in the face of gods, because divine power could arbitrarily modify a Spirit Master's Spirit and attributes.

At that time, it would be reduced to one theory: creationism, meaning that no matter how incredible something was, it could be attributed to a god, and all causes originated from deities.

This kind of thinking and fallacy must not exist!

Otherwise, the theories of this World would be illogical!

“When it comes to theories, Captain gets serious.” Seeing Tang San’s slightly serious expression, Dugu Yan chuckled, then worried about Gu Yuena’s strength, “If she comes along, is her strength enough?”

“She is already a Spirit Ancestor.”

After Tang San finished speaking, Gu Yuena controlled her spirit rings to appear. The four light gold spirit rings left the two of them dumbfounded, not knowing what level of spirit rings these were.

“According to her, she was chosen by the God of Silver Dragon and is receiving a legacy. Each spirit ring will be bestowed, and golden spirit rings, under no special circumstances, are only possessed by Spirit Beasts that reach the million-year level.” Tang San naturally would not tell the two of them Gu Yuena’s true identity.

“Chosen by a god? Four million-year spirit rings?” Yu Tianheng could now understand why his Blue Lightning Tyrant Dragon was suppressed. It turned out that this little girl in front of him was destined to become a god!

Dugu Yan was also dumbfounded: “Truly exceptionally talented.”

However, the two of them only marveled for a while. After all, they had also encountered divine power—the life-and-death arena of the Dark Demonic Evil God Tiger, that was what left a deep impression on them.

And Gu Yuena’s four light gold spirit rings only looked a bit peculiar in color. Moreover, in terms of peculiar spirit rings, Tang San’s fifth spirit ring also had crimson and ice-blue patterns.

“Don’t praise her, she’ll get arrogant.” Tang San stroked Gu Yuena’s head. Seeing her smug expression, he picked up a piece of pastry and put it into her mouth, “By the way, when are you two getting married?”

When the topic of “marriage” came up, Yu Tianheng chuckled and said, “Yan Yan said that once we get married, we’ll have to consider having children and other miscellaneous chores. For now, cultivation is the priority. At least, we'll talk about it after both of us reach the Spirit Saint level."

The two of them also knew their respective elders' situations. If they got together too early, they would definitely be urged to have grandchildren. It was better to wait a bit longer to avoid delaying their cultivation time.

"Captain, when are you going to marry Xiao Wu and the others?" Dugu Yan said with a hint of mockery, "Tianheng and I heard from people in Spirit City that you live in the same manor as Xiao Wu, Guang Ling, Rongrong, and Vice Captain Huo Wu. Don't tell me nothing happened between you. Your romantic rumors are flying everywhere in secret."

"You said they were rumors, can you believe them?" Tang San shrugged, as if indifferent, "When I was in Heaven Dou City, I also heard that all the female members of the Heaven Dou Royal Battle Team had something going on with me."

Yu Tianheng's expression changed. He immediately nodded and rephrased, "I believe this is absolutely false. Yan Yan, you've always been with me, how could you have something going on with Captain?"

"Yan Yan, you have to believe in Captain's character! He definitely only has a relationship with Xiao Wu and Guang Ling!"

Tang San: "....."

He suddenly felt that Yu Tianheng's skin was a little itchy, and he needed to help him with his Blue Silver Emperor.

Dugu Yan laughed, "I was just joking, why are you so anxious? Are you really afraid that Captain and I have something going on? That's not a bad idea. If you ever fool around, I'll go find Captain."

"Cough, don't drag me into this. I don't meddle in other people's family affairs." Tang San said with a serious face.

"....."

Wang Dong'er's Bright Goddess Butterfly

The Dark Demonic Evil God Tiger born under the influence of the Evil God's power

These examples all prove that a Spirit Master's top Spirit and ultimate attributes are simply not worth mentioning to a divine existence. Spirits and attributes, as long as a god wishes, and can bypass the God Realm Committee, or is already a member of the God Realm Committee, can be bestowed upon non-divine existences.

309: Set off! Hunt the Fallen!

Before leaving Hengyan Manor, Tang San and Yu Tianheng and Dugu Yan agreed on a departure time, then took Gu Yuena to Min Shi Liang Du for shopping. During this time, he also made a call to Hu Liena through the Blue Silver Network to explain the situation.

"You're not trying to sneak out and be lazy, are you?" Hu Liena's suspicious tone came from the other end of the Blue Silver communication. "Or are you taking your little wives to enjoy the scenery and have fun?"

"What are you talking about? I'm just going to help Yu Tianheng deal with that team of The Fallen," Tang San replied. "Also, I usually just do research. Besides establishing, managing, and maintaining the Blue Silver Network, which is a proper duty, other times are arranged by myself. As long as I'm not cultivating or researching, I have a lot of free time."

Hearing this, Hu Liena was filled with envy, even jealousy, and gritted her teeth, "After you leave, the Blue Silver Network won't have any problems, will it?"

"No."

The Blue Silver Emperor Martial Soul, which can be cultivated from illusion to reality, was already no different from a real plant. Tang San even felt that if he died, he could use this Blue Silver Emperor Martial Soul plant to activate his Fourth Spirit Ability and achieve Nine Deaths Revival.

However, Tang San swore he would never try it.

After realizing the existence of the Indestructible True Spirit, Tang San regained the respect for Life that he had set aside after acquiring the Nine Deaths Revival skill.

After hanging up the communication, Tang San focused on accompanying Gu Yuena as they strolled along the street. At least, Gu Yuena was currently only interested in various delicacies, and he could still handle that.

If she became interested in clothes in the future, then he could only let her shop by herself. Tang San definitely wouldn't accompany her...

...

After hanging up the Blue Silver Network, Hu Liena contacted Bibi Dong and relayed the news that Tang San was leaving Spirit City.

"That team of The Fallen is indeed quite troublesome."

Bibi Dong had indeed sent Yu Tianheng and Dugu Yan to deal with that team of The Fallen partly to prevent them from meeting Tang San and the others. However, her original plan was to give Yu Tianheng a continuous stream of tasks, and she hadn't expected the first task to last for over two years.

According to the Spirit Ancestor who accompanied Yu Tianheng on the mission, Yu Tianheng and Dugu Yan had not neglected their duties. On the contrary, they were very eager to take down that team of The Fallen.

It was just that those three Spirit Kings were too difficult to deal with. They possessed a Martial Soul Fusion Skill, and it was the third type among Tang San's three classifications of Martial Soul Fusion Skills: Martial Soul Fusion. Moreover, it seemed that unless all three were killed at the same time, they could not be truly killed and would always "revive" afterward.

"Teacher, should we approve Tang San's leave?" Hu Liena asked.

"If I don't approve, won't he just sneak out anyway? You know, he can now use the Blue Silver Network to condense a thought body indistinguishable from a physical entity using his mental force." Bibi Dong knew that with Tang San's abilities, no one could stop him from escaping Spirit City, including herself.

After all, he was the one who planned the areas of the six outer cities; he knew the routes best.

"Understood." Hu Liena stamped Tang San's application, then asked about Yu Tianheng, "Now that Tang San has made contact with Yu Tianheng, should we arrange other tasks for him after his current mission is complete?"

"No need. The Blue Lightning Tyrant Dragon Clan currently has a vested interest with our Spirit Hall. The development of Spirit Hall needs their support, even if it's just verbal."

Bibi Dong thought for a moment and decided to change her policy.

"Moreover, since Tang San already knows that Yu Tianheng arrived in Spirit City long ago, he must have guessed our initial purpose in sending Yu Tianheng on the mission. If we were to continue doing that now... to use Tang San's words, it would be 'burying one's head in the sand' and treating him like a fool. It's better to let nature take its course."

"As for Yu Tianheng and Dugu Yan, you should dedicate a portion of your energy to observing them for a period of time with the Wisdom and Spirit Soul Imprint Throne. If they genuinely have a slight fondness for Spirit Hall, send more people to visit them. In the future, Spirit Hall could gain two more Titled Douluo."

Hu Liena agreed, "As Tang San said, as long as we treat others with sincerity, others will naturally treat us with sincerity. If we only want to exploit others or be ungrateful, and we pursue accountability afterward, the other party will have nothing to say morally, especially in this era of extremely fast information dissemination. They will surely be scorned by all!"

"Exactly." Bibi Dong hung up the mental communication connected through the Blue Silver Network with satisfaction, but in her heart, she thought:

Treating others with sincerity also has a prerequisite: one must possess absolute strength to suppress the evil in human nature and deter malevolent forces, otherwise others will only think we are easy to bully...

Two days later.

After Tang San had thoroughly indulged the four women, he was urged by Gu Yuena, who was eavesdropping, to leave Soul Martial Manor and head towards Hengyan Manor.

"Is it really that interesting? You all look so tireless!" Gu Yuena began to grow curious. "I've seen Spirit Beast reproduction, and it's always very short."

"Children aren't allowed to know about these things yet."

"Can't I be precocious?" Gu Yuena rolled her eyes. "Besides, if we're talking about age, I could be your great-great-great-grand-aunt..."

"Alright, my dear countless-cubed-generation great-grand-aunt, you're eight years old now, so you still need to act like an eight-year-old, at least to pretend for others, right?" Tang San coaxed her as if she were a child.

"That makes sense." Gu Yuena actually appeared to be deep in thought, then grabbed Tang San's wrist and said with teary eyes, "I'm tired. Carry me, or I'll cry for you to see!"

"A normal eight-year-old would indeed act like you, but you're a genius." Tang San had another reason for Gu Yuena's "coquetry." "Geniuses can be precocious."

Gu Yuena: "...". Anyway, no matter what I say, you're always right, aren't you?

In the end, Tang San still carried Gu Yuena on his back. After all, this little girl was different from Xiao Wu. If she truly erupted, he might not necessarily be her match, so he had to humor her a little.

Of course, he couldn't spoil her too much, lest she take an inch when given an ell.

Outside Hengyan Manor.

Yu Tianheng and Dugu Yan were already waiting, along with fifteen Spirit Ancestors nearby. Upon seeing Tang San, they all bowed respectfully, saying, "Greetings, Holy Son!"

"No need for formalities. Yu Tianheng is still the team leader. I am just a regular member, just like all of you." Tang San waved his hand casually, still a bit unaccustomed to such reverence, and explained his situation.

"Yes, Holy Son!"

Everyone became even more respectful.

Tang San was helpless. Yu Tianheng, however, didn't mind this "usurping of the host" at all. After all, strictly speaking, he himself had to call Tang San "Holy Son" in public. He laughed and said, "What do you mean 'regular member'? You're our captain. This time, we'll need your guidance and analysis of what's going on with those three Spirit Kings."

"Actually, two days ago, when Huo Wu told me about your situation, I had already analyzed it, but without seeing it with my own eyes, I couldn't confirm my guess." Tang San nodded. "One of the purposes of coming with you this time is to confirm it and see if I can categorize it into my self-created Spirit Ability for training mental force..."

310: The degenerates jumped into the river en masse?

Three Shura Town.

After leaving Spirit City, Tang San and the others spent a week reaching here—mainly to accommodate the travel speed of the fifteen Spirit Ancestors; otherwise, they could have arrived much faster.

The local Spirit Hall personnel had already surrounded the area within a fifty-kilometer radius centered on Three Shura Town.

This place is relatively close to the Infinite Desert; another ten kilometers forward, and one can see the yellow sands.

"Greetings, His Highness the Holy Son, and greetings, Lord Yu Tianheng and Lord Dugu Yan." The person in charge of the local Spirit Hall Branch came forward to greet them.

"Has anyone left this area in the past few days?" Yu Tianheng asked.

"No," the Branch Master shook his head. "We have already cooperated with the local City Lord to completely surround this fifty-kilometer radius. If anyone were to leave, we would certainly know."

"Moreover, since the incident at Slaughter City, the passage from Three Shura Town to Slaughter City has already been blocked with various fillers. Unless they can burrow through the ground, it's impossible for them to enter Slaughter City."

Yu Tianheng nodded, "That's good....."

While Yu Tianheng was learning more detailed information from the Branch Master, Dugu Yan, however, asked Tang San about another matter: "Tang San, since Slaughter City has been abandoned, what will Spirit Hall do with The Fallen they capture in the future?"

"Kill them directly."

This is Spirit Hall's current attitude towards Evil Soul Masters.

In the past, Spirit Hall escorted The Fallen to Slaughter City, letting them kill each other and attracting some of The Fallen to enter voluntarily. This was also a measure to deal with The Fallen, though it was unknown to the public... Perhaps there was also a reason for providing fresh blood to open the Hell Road, as if anyone in Spirit Hall wanted to challenge the Hell Road and obtain the Slaughter God Domain, the first step required the Slaughter King to sacrifice the lives of most of The Fallen.

Now that something has happened to Slaughter City, and Spirit Hall is flourishing, with its manpower and resources rapidly increasing, it naturally cannot send The Fallen to Slaughter City as it used to.

Instead, it will judge The Fallen one by one in a public trial across the continent and execute them in public.

This can greatly enhance Spirit Hall's prestige.

"Indeed, killing them is best, a clean sweep." Dugu Yan didn't think as much as Tang San; her thoughts were simpler: those who commit unforgivable sins must pay the price with their Life.

"What kind of place is Slaughter City?" Gu Yuena had been silent until now, always feeling that this place name sounded somewhat familiar, as if she had heard someone mention it during a period of her main body's slumber, and her divine soul even instinctively detected unease, causing her to have a nightmare.

"The inheritance ground of the Asura God." Tang San used sound transmission, hiding it from Yu Tianheng and the others, and transmitted his voice to Gu Yuena, asking with a slightly teasing tone, "Does your Silver Dragon God's inheritance mention what kind of Divinity Asura is?"

"Yes!"

Gu Yuena gnashed her teeth.

How could she not know the Asura God?

That guy who severely wounded her with one sword... No wonder she found the place name familiar; it turned out to be the inheritance ground left by that scoundrel in this World.

However, despite her hatred, she understood at this moment that it was better not to enter Slaughter City. If she did, she would definitely be discovered by that old bastard, the Asura God.

That scoundrel might be looking for an excuse to descend to the lower World.

"It seems the relationship between the Silver Dragon God and the Asura God isn't very good." Tang San smiled, and seeing Yu Tianheng approach, he said, "What's the specific situation?"

"That team of The Fallen is within this fifty-kilometer radius," Yu Tianheng said. "Besides that, there's another important piece of intelligence: there's an underground dark river in this area. Although the entrance is extremely hidden, according to the Branch Master, the Evil Soul Master team might escape through it. This dark river is said to lead to the core area of the Infinite Desert."

The Branch Master then said, "If they enter, that would actually be the best scenario. The only exit of that dark river is at the core of the Infinite Desert; there are no other exits along the way. The river's current is extremely swift, and even a Spirit Saint cannot withstand it for long. And this place is nearly ten thousand li away from the core area of the Infinite Desert."

The implication was that if The Fallen ran into the underground dark river, it would save them trouble, as they would be torn apart and leave no corpse under the impact of the current.

Dugu Yan, however, shook her head and said, "They have been pursued by me, Tianheng, and others for over two years. Their will is far stronger than ordinary people's. They wouldn't commit suicide by jumping into the dark river just because they've been trapped here for a few days."

"You can't say that, after all, the thought process of The Fallen is also different from ordinary people. Perhaps they think they can withstand the surge of the current?" Tang San, adopting the perspective of an Evil Soul Master, proposed a different suggestion, "Moreover, we can't just let them fall into the dark river. If they carry any poison and contaminate the water source, this area might face a water shortage crisis."

"This!"

The Branch Master panicked. This place was already close to the Infinite Desert, with a hot climate, and water resources were extremely precious. If the dark river's water were contaminated, the people here would likely live a Life worse than death.

The situation of water being more valuable than gold was not uncommon near the Infinite Desert.

"Quickly take us to the entrance of the dark river!" Yu Tianheng said urgently.

"Yes!"

The Branch Master also understood the seriousness of the situation and personally led Tang San, Gu Yuena, Yu Tianheng, Dugu Yan, and others towards the entrance of the dark river.

The dark river entrance was not within Three Shura Town but located in a natural cave about ten kilometers outside the town.

When everyone arrived at the cave entrance, more than ten Spirit Hall knights had already fallen in pools of blood, their faces distorted, some in terror, some in resentment, some laughing wildly, some weeping, a myriad of expressions.

"The guards stationed here have all been killed!" The Branch Master panicked. "Why didn't they send a signal! I gave orders that if anything unusual was discovered, they were to transmit a message using a soul-guided photographic device!"

"They might have been mentally affected and didn't have time to send a signal." Tang San crouched down, carefully examined the bodies, and used his mental force to investigate, discovering that their brains had all turned into a paste—

Caused by a mental impact!

Moreover, before their actual death, they should have fallen into a mental illusion.

"Cremate the bodies, bury them properly, and give their families sufficient compensation." Tang San stood up and instructed the Branch Master.

"Yes, His Highness the Holy Son." The Branch Master immediately had people help collect the bodies, then asked, "Should we send people in to investigate?"

"The four of us will go in; the rest will wait outside. The other entrances and exits must be given more importance to prevent The Fallen from using this as bait for a diversion." After speaking, Tang San led Yu Tianheng, Dugu Yan, and Gu Yuena into the cave.

The further they walked inside, the heavier the humidity became. The ground was mostly pitted with puddles, and they even heard faint sounds of water.

Gu Yuena, holding a soul-guided lamp, twitched her keen nose and said, "I smell blood, very faint, it must have been left about ten minutes ago. It's also mixed with an unpleasant odor, like undigested food residue and feces, which makes me a bit disgusted."

"You can smell all that?"

Yu Tianheng was astonished. If he didn't know that Gu Yuena's Spirit was a true Dragon, he would have thought her Spirit was a dog or wolf.

One must know that the moisture here was so heavy, and with the underground dark river flowing, constantly stirring the nearby air, the scent of blood would quickly dissipate!

Even he, a Spirit Emperor, hadn't smelled any scent.

Gu Yuena said, "What's so surprising? Isn't this the instinct of a true Dragon Spirit?"

Yu Tianheng: "....." According to her, his Blue Lightning Tyrant Dragon Spirit wasn't a true Dragon then?

"Splash!"

After walking nearly a thousand meters forward and turning two corners, the group finally arrived at the entrance of the underground dark river.

Under the illumination of the soul-guided lamp, they looked out—

The river surface was nearly a hundred meters wide, with surging waves creating splashes. The mountain walls on both sides were mostly smooth, caused by the impact, flow, and friction of the river water, and their hardness was comparable to profound silver.

Except for the platform they were on, there was no way to gain leverage elsewhere.

"With how turbulent this dark river is, even if The Fallen's thinking is different from ordinary people, they wouldn't court death, right?" Dugu Yan muttered, not believing that The Fallen would be foolish enough to commit suicide.

Those kinds of guys had no faith; their only purpose in living was to pursue power by any means necessary.

"But what about the blood smell Gu Yuena detected?" Yu Tianheng asked. "The members who died outside were all the guards; no one went missing."

Although infighting among The Fallen was common, under siege, one less person meant one less bit of strength... Wait, could it be that they wanted to devour their companions' power to enhance their strength?

Involuntarily, Yu Tianheng recalled the former Blood Sword Norman.

Although Tang San's mental force was powerful, he couldn't reconstruct what had happened ten minutes ago based on the environment here, so he couldn't help but look at Gu Yuena.

Seeing this, Gu Yuena proudly lifted her chin and said, "Based on the scent, I can confirm that a total of twelve people entered here."

"That's right, that team of The Fallen should only have twelve people left. Originally there were over thirty, but over the past two years, we've constantly hunted them down. Except for Spirit Kings who can 'resurrect', the others have become fewer and fewer." Yu Tianheng realized that Gu Yuena's nose was even more sensitive than a dog's, and he couldn't help but get excited, "Did they go out after coming in?"

"Based on the scent I smelled, they all jumped into the river. Five of them were killed before jumping... I suspect their bellies were cut open." Gu Yuena analyzed, her eyes becoming strange. "It seems The Fallen are truly similar to wild beasts, drinking blood and eating the internal organs of their own kind."

Wild beasts and Spirit Beasts below one hundred thousand years old did this; those above one hundred thousand years mostly swallowed whole, cleanly.

Yu Tianheng and Dugu Yan frowned deeply.

Cannibalism?

The Fallen were already murderous and devoid of humanity; doing such a thing was not strange. But why eat here?

For coolness?

"Perhaps, it was for the intestines and stomachs of those five people." Tang San looked at the turbulent river below, as if he had thought of something, and his heart couldn't help but feel cold.....

311: Using the intestines as a raft

“This river leads to the core area of the Infinite Desert. If they are still alive, can they really last that long?” Yu Tianheng wondered. One must know that it was nearly ten thousand miles from here to the core of the Infinite Desert.

Out of the twelve people, five were killed for unknown reasons. Of the remaining seven, three were Spirit Kings, but they couldn't have lasted that long. Their best outcome would have been to leave no bones behind.

The only thing that couldn't be determined at present was whether they carried any toxins that might pollute the underground dark river, causing problems with the water sources in this vicinity.

“Should we go down and investigate?” Dugu Yan looked at Tang San. Although she and Yu Tianheng were the core leaders of this mission, they trusted Tang San unconditionally.

With a pillar of support, their brains had already given up on most thinking.

“Go down.” Tang San made a decision. However, before going down, they first went out and explained the situation to the local Branch Master, asking, “There are really no other exits for the underground dark river in other places that lead directly to the core area of the Infinite Desert, right?”

“I swear on my Spirit, absolutely not!”

The Branch Master said decisively, “Three hundred years ago, Spirit Hall once organized a large-scale exploration of the Desert's core. Among the explorers responsible for investigating all passages into the core area was my great-great-grandfather.”

“At that time, after he discovered this dark river, he ordered people to pour a massive amount of pigment, ground from an edible purple seaweed flower, into the dark river... Afterwards, the survivors of Spirit Hall said that as long as the water source in the core area turned purple.”

Although this testing method could not completely prove it, considering the hard and smooth walls of this underground dark river, there was a greater possibility.

Moreover, the flow rate of the underground dark river was too fast, and it was unknown if there were undercurrents inside, making it impossible for people to go down and investigate.

As for powerhouses of the Spirit Douluo and Titled Douluo levels...

They all had the arrogance of powerhouses and disdained doing investigative work. Making them go into that gloomy and oppressive underground dark river was worse than challenging a Ten-thousand year soul beast.

“Then for this period, you all should still guard outside and patrol strictly, just in case.” Tang San instructed, “The four of us will go down and investigate.”

“Holy Son, Lord Yu Tianheng, won’t this be too risky?” The Branch Master asked worriedly.

“No, if there’s danger, I will blast open the top rock and soil layers of the dark river and lead them to safety. With my strength, at full power, even an ordinary Ten-thousand year soul beast can be extinguished with a flick of my hand.” Tang San’s confidence stemmed from his usual strength, which was comparable to a Titled Douluo, and the explosive power in his spirit ring fusion state, which could rival a peerless one!

If there was danger, he would simply overturn the underground dark river!

Returning to the edge of the dark river, Tang San wove a small boat with Blue Silver Emperor and lowered it, sensing the river’s flow rate, which was indeed very turbulent.

Even a Spirit Saint would be shattered if they fell in...

This was no exaggeration.

After the four of them boarded the Blue Silver small boat, Tang San used his mental force to sense the front of the dark river's flow direction and said, "With my current mental force, I can sense a range of about three thousand li ahead. This dark river is not straight; it has nearly a hundred larger sharp turns, as well as some small bends, and there are also stalagmites emerging in the river."

Yu Tianheng said, "Just break the stalagmites."

"Cannot break them." Tang San shook his head. "Although this river water is turbulent, it only produces splashing sounds in this larger area where we are. This might be because this area has air flow and intersection with the outside World. The other places are relatively quiet, and the surrounding inner walls are enclosed. Too much noise might cause stalactites on the cave ceiling to fall."

"So that's how it is." Although Yu Tianheng didn't understand, in the past two years, while pursuing The Fallen with Dugu Yan, he had also entered caves with stalactites. When the sound was loud, the sharp stalactites above would fall... The principle should be similar; it couldn't be too loud.

"Sit tight, I'm releasing the fixed Blue Silver Emperor. Hold the soul guide lamps firmly and be responsible for lighting."

Although Tang San had mental detection, for humans, maintaining clear vision was also very important, as there was not a single bit of light along this entire path, and there were no glowing crystals or similar things on the surrounding cave walls.

As Tang San released the Blue Silver Emperor leaves that were entwined with the platform, the Blue Silver small boat moved forward rapidly like an arrow with the current.

Yu Tianheng's Spirit was attached to him. He held a paddle woven from Blue Silver Emperor in one hand, constantly alert for potential obstacles and sharp turns ahead.

Dugu Yan was at the stern of the boat, also with her Spirit attached, using the tail of the Nine-Headed Jade Phosphor Serpent Emperor as a rudder to assist in controlling the direction.

Tang San sat in the middle, connecting the front and back, controlling twelve nearly ten-meter-long Blue Silver Emperor leaves extending from both sides of the boat, using them to sense the river's flow rate and assist the boat in turning.

And Gu Yuena was the most relaxed, sitting in Tang San's arms, holding a soul guide lamp in each hand, responsible for lighting.

If the river water were not so turbulent, the soul guide lamps could be fixed to the bow. However, the river water was too turbulent, and when the soul guide lamps ran out of energy, replacing the soul guide batteries would be troublesome, very likely leading to capsizing. It was best to hold them by hand; if they ran out of power, spirit power could also be injected to sustain them.

In this way, the three moved forward. In this turbulent river, they spent nearly two days traveling nearly three thousand li, and saw a wall beach densely covered with stalagmites, with an area of only about fifty square meters.

Those stalagmites were very small, only as thick as a thumb and three to four centimeters long.

Tang San used Blue Silver Emperor to entwine the stalactites on the ceiling of the dark river, bringing the boat closer to the stalagmite wall beach.

"This is the body of The Fallen." Yu Tianheng looked at the body carelessly thrown on it. Its abdomen was cut open, and the internal organs were still inside, but the stomach and intestines had been dug out. And according to the intestinal residue left on the edge of the wall beach, it was clear that the inside had been cleaned out.

Although the air here carried no scent due to the dark river, the few of them still felt a different kind of nausea, especially Gu Yuena, who retched in disgust and said, “These guys are truly disgusting... Tang San, you guessed right, they might really use human intestines and stomachs as rafts.”

Before setting off, Tang San had speculated that The Fallen might use the intestines and stomachs of their own kind to make rafts.

The stomachs of some animals can be inflated and used to hold water, or even serve as rafts...

Then, in this World, after being nourished by spirit power, a Spirit Master's flesh and blood, intestines and stomach, must be tougher than ordinary animals. The Fallen have no humanity, so using a Spirit Master's intestines and stomach as an inflatable raft is not impossible.

Moreover, The Fallen might have some secret method to make a Spirit Master's intestines and stomach tougher, allowing them to last longer.

However, from the current perspective, there was still wear and tear.

“It's just, why didn't the other Fallen resist?”

312: The scent of golden ancient trees

After boarding the boat, Dugu Yan was puzzled as to why The Fallen who were killed didn't resist. When Blood Sword Norman killed his own kind earlier, they had also found traces of resistance from other Fallen, but there was absolutely none here. She then asked, "Is it some kind of fanatical belief?"

"Possibly." Tang San nodded and explained the madness of those Evil Soul Masters to the two, using the Holy Spirit Cult as an example.

"Holy Spirit Cult?" Yu Tianheng sighed, "I didn't expect that fellow Mu Tian to become one of The Fallen. His talent was quite good, so there was no need for him to pursue the cultivation methods of The Fallen, right? And he even calls himself an Evil Soul Master. He must be out of his mind."

"Perhaps his mentality became unbalanced." Thinking about it now, Tang San believed that Mu Tian's fall was probably due to realizing that Austin Griffin was residing within his Clear Sky Hammer, which drove him mad... But he couldn't be blamed for this. How Austin Griffin chose was not something he could decide.

Moreover, if he were Austin Griffin, he wouldn't choose a "brainless protagonist" like a Dragon-Slaying type, because people with such personalities, if they don't possess absolute power themselves, will invite countless troubles, creating many unnecessary problems for their own development and growth.

"Is it jealousy?" Yu Tianheng agreed with this point, "On the competition field, Mu Tian's gaze towards you was indeed full of jealousy. If he truly fell because he felt he couldn't compare to you, then his Spirit is truly fragile. Not only did he harm himself, but he also damaged the reputation of the Seven Treasure Glazed Tile School."

Although there is currently no related negative publicity on the market, Yu Tianheng understood that this was because Ning Rongrong was close to Tang San, so Spirit Hall was giving the Seven Treasure Glazed Tile School face.

Otherwise, the entire continent would surely explode with increasingly absurd news such as "The Seven Treasure Glazed Tile School actually harbors Evil Soul Masters!" "The leader of the Holy Spirit Cult is actually Bone Douluo's disciple!" "Bone Douluo's true identity is also one of The Fallen!" and so on.

Rumors are like tigers; once they spread, if the Seven Treasure Glazed Tile School tries to deal with them, they will instead be told, "See, it's true!" "I knew the Seven Treasure Glazed Tile School wasn't good!" "They're feeling guilty!" and so on.

When a bad person does a good deed, countless people will praise them.

Conversely, when a good person does a bad deed, no one remembers their past good deeds, and they are cursed relentlessly, as if doing so can demonstrate their righteousness and nobility.

And the Seven Treasure Glazed Tile School appears to be a good entity, so no bad things can happen openly.

This is true for all major powers on the continent; if something happens, they must find ways to cover it up to avoid their reputation being tarnished.

It used to be fine, but now that information spreads quickly, people from various major forces dare not reveal their true colors anymore...

In the blink of an eye, three more days passed.

The flow of the underground river became gentle, and the space ahead opened up, nearly a hundred meters high from the top. There were also stone beaches at the edges, and the cave walls were covered with luminous moss.

Gu Yuena turned off her Soul Guidance lamp, her eyes sparkling with brilliance, and said, "I smell a strong Life aura, somewhat similar to yours."

"I feel it too." Tang San looked up, his mental force spreading out, connecting to the core of the Golden Ancient Tree. That purest natural energy was directly transmitted through spatial teleportation, actively entering the Blue Silver Emperor within his body.

Yu Tianheng and Dugu Yan felt their Spirits lift, and the fatigue from their journey disappeared. It was as if they were not in this dim underground long river, but rather wandering through a vibrant grassland, with fresh fragrance in the air.

Gu Yuena, however, perceived more. She detected that Tang San had established a connection with a highly vital existence somewhere above, and Tang San even held the dominant position.

That aura was very familiar, what was it?

That's right!

The Golden Ancient Tree!

At this moment, Gu Yuena felt her whole body boiling, wanting to break through the rock layer above and bring the Golden Ancient Tree back to the Star Dou Great Forest.

With it, her main body's recovery would be much faster!

But as soon as she thought about returning to her main body, Gu Yuena hesitated. After all, she was reluctant to leave human society and Tang San... If she returned to her main body, would the memories she had experienced in such a short time compare to those of her long slumber?

They would probably be diluted and forgotten in an instant, eventually transforming her back into the rational and wise Silver Dragon King.

This was not the outcome she wanted!

"Wait a little longer. After all, the Golden Ancient Tree has a connection with Tang San. If I suddenly take it, I might be subjected to the backlash of the entire continent's luck. If the God Realm notices, I'll be in trouble."

Gu Yuena found excuses for herself in her heart, "I need to find a way, subtly, step by step, carefully, not too impulsively. After all, Tang San said that impulse is the devil and can easily make one lose their rationality."

"I am the embodiment of rationality!"

"That's right, that's how I am. It's definitely not to spend more time with Tang San, absolutely not... Speaking of which, Tang San, who possesses half of the Blue Silver Emperor bloodline, is also my subject, so I am also doing this to persuade him."

But at this time, Tang San had no time to pay attention to Gu Yuena's facial expressions, which changed from excitement to hesitation, then to relief, and finally to realization and determination. His gaze fell on a nearby stone beach with a cave entrance, beside which a white inflatable raft was tied. It was made from human intestines, filled with air, and streaked with blood, looking extremely disgusting.

Tang San and the others approached the stone beach and came ashore.

"There's no humanity at all." Dugu Yan released a blue toxin at the intestine-made raft, causing it to dissolve and dissipate.

This was Dugu Yan's second Spirit Ability: Azure Scale Blue Poison, also known as Paralysis Poison.

When used on herself, it could eliminate pain and enhance defense; when used on other objects, it had corrosive properties, especially effective on organs like intestines.

And with Dugu Yan's cultivation over the past two years, she had gained a better understanding of her Spirit's poison. Using this Azure Scale Blue Poison only had corrosive effects, not polluting ones, and would not affect the water quality of the underground river.

Afterwards, everyone headed into the cave.

"Initially, there were twelve people. Gu Yuena said that five of them had their stomachs cut open and died at the very beginning. Later, we found a corpse halfway. So, excluding the possibility that they killed their own kind and threw the bodies into the underground river along the way, they still have at least seven people, three of whom are Spirit Kings, and the remaining four are Spirit Ancestors." Yu Tianheng analyzed the situation, "Spirit Ancestors are just small fry, not worth mentioning, but we need to pay attention to those three Spirit Kings, as they have a Martial Soul Fusion Skill."

Dugu Yan said, "However, if it's truly as you, Captain, guessed, that those three Spirit Kings are so-called long-lasting clones, then we need to find the main body. He might be among the three Spirit Kings, or he might have disguised himself as a Spirit Ancestor, hidden among the remaining ten Spirit Ancestors."

"When the time comes, I'll use Endless Grassland to bind them." Tang San felt the hardness of the ground, and thinking that the Blue Silver Emperor could take root, he expressed his idea, "For me, having more opponents is actually a disadvantage. As long as they can't uproot the Blue Silver Emperor, they can only become fish on our chopping board."

313: The time traveler reappears

As they delved deeper into the cave, Tang San realized they were ascending and quickened his pace.

Gu Yuena, Yu Tianheng, and Dugu Yan followed closely behind.

The former two were surprised by Gu Yuena's speed and stamina, which were no less than their own, but they quickly understood when they remembered her identity as a “Miraculous Inheritor.”

Yet, upon further thought, she was only eight years old, and a hint of jealousy inevitably arose in their hearts...

Tang San himself couldn't help but recall a shred of memory from his previous Life, then fiercely bit the tip of his tongue to clear his head, thinking, “Illyasviel, those three The Fallen are definitely problematic. At a time like this, it's impossible for me to recall memories from my previous Life.”

Moreover, the past events he recalled were all the joys of his previous Life—the smooth progress in studies, work, and earning money, the unwillingness to be scolded by parents, teachers, and leaders, and the unreasonable tantrums and arguments with elders at home when he lost control, regardless of the reason.

It was completely unprovoked!

“There is indeed a big problem,” Iliex said in a deep voice, “I don't have such thoughts, perhaps it's because I am a half divine soul... You must always be vigilant and warn the two behind you.”

“That little Silver Dragon, however, doesn’t need it. Although her thoughts are naive, her origin is divine, and nothing can influence her thinking except human emotions and a stronger source of power than hers.”

Tang San looked back and indeed found Gu Yuena’s eyes clear, while Yu Tianheng and Dugu Yan’s eyes held a peculiar look.

“Calm yourselves!”

With this soft shout, Tang San’s mental force pierced into their brains, making them instantly clear-headed. He said, “You have been affected by some kind of mental force. Do not be misled.”

Yu Tianheng felt a chill down his spine and said, “So that’s it. No wonder we often made mistakes when cooperating with others in the past few times. We were all very irritable back then... Now that I think about it, it’s probably some kind of mental force emitted by those three Spirit King-level The Fallen interfering with our minds.”

“Have they discovered us?” Dugu Yan asked coldly.

“Probably not. If they were merely Spirit King, they couldn’t have such strong mental force, even if they are The Fallen...” Tang San frowned deeply and slightly slowed his pace.

Just like that, with Tang San’s continuous stimulation, Yu Tianheng and Dugu Yan remained clear-headed and finally arrived at the exit—inside was an extremely spacious underground area, almost comparable in size to a small city.

A quick scan revealed that the area was semi-circular, with countless roots, thick and thin, densely covering the surrounding walls like a net, completely encircling the place.

At the very top, countless spherical objects emitted white light, whether they were luminous stem lumps growing from the roots or some kind of luminous spirit tool, illuminating the area below as brightly as day.

Within this space, there were streets extending in all directions, with various types of houses built on both sides, all domed and densely packed, resembling peculiar mushrooms.

In the center of the city, there was a glass column connecting to the dome, estimated to be over five hundred meters high and over fifty meters in diameter.

“What is this place?” Yu Tianheng was stunned, unable to imagine that someone would build a city underground. “An ancient ruin?”

“I have to say, it’s quite dreamy here,” Dugu Yan exclaimed, admiring the scenery.

Tang San and Gu Yuena, however, looked up at the dome.

The Golden Ancient Tree was directly above!

“Let’s go, I’ve found the location of those people.” Relying on the Golden Ancient Tree’s roots and Life aura, Tang San’s mental force received a qualitative enhancement, easily detecting the whereabouts of those seven The Fallen...

...

“A scenic elevator? The Douluo Continent was truly advanced during a certain ancient period.”

In front of the massive glass column, seven figures clad in black robes stood, three of whom were at the very front, but the one who spoke was a middle-aged man among the remaining four.

The remaining three Spirit Ancestor, however, had dull eyes, as if they had lost their minds, like puppets.

“Last time I came to the Golden Ancient Tree, I even encountered the protagonist couple...” This person murmured, recalling his last accidental entry into the core area of the Infinite Desert, where he met people from the Star Crown Sect, Sacred Dragon Sect, and Defense Clan, and even cooperated with them to challenge and acquire spirit tool.

When he saw Tang San and Xiao Wu that time, he knew that the plot had deviated in a direction he didn't know...

But he didn't care about any plot. His view of the protagonist was just one: as long as there was no absolute conflict of interest, he would never provoke them proactively.

And the reason he became one of The Fallen was only one: his extremely poor talent.

Coming to such a World with extraordinary power, he could not tolerate himself being a waste Spirit and wanted to become a Spirit Master—the Spirit he awakened was a triangular prism-shaped crystal, with only level one innate spirit power. According to normal meditation cultivation methods, he would never become a Spirit Grandmaster in his entire Life.

After all, he wasn't born into a prominent family, nor did he have the advantageous conditions like Yu Xiaogang.

As a result, he only cultivated to level ten by the age of twenty... By then, he had already been expelled from the elementary academy and couldn't ask a teacher to lead a team to hunt Spirit Beast. He himself had no background, no influence, and even less money, so he couldn't get a Spirit Hall order. Unable to enter the Hunting Spirit Forest, he could only go to the Star Dou Great Forest to try his luck.

To obtain a spirit ring, he spent all his savings and hired a not-so-famous small Spirit hunting group to help him hunt Spirit Beast. At that time, he didn't even want a hundred-year spirit ring; a several-decades-old Spirit Beast would have satisfied him—his money was only enough for the Spirit hunting group to hunt a ten-year Spirit Beast.

And twenty years of experience had already made him understand that once he abandoned the Life of an ordinary person and entered the World of Spirit

Master, without strength and talent, he truly couldn't make others feel any sympathy for him.

Perhaps fate was on his side. After that ten-year Spirit Beast died, in addition to giving him a white spirit ring, it even dropped a Spirit Bone.

A several-decades-old Spirit Beast actually dropped a Spirit Bone!

At that moment, he even suspected he had become the protagonist!

However, he was too happy too soon. The Spirit hunting group immediately plunged a knife into his stomach, passing through his back—even a Spirit Bone from a several-decades-old Spirit Beast was a priceless treasure for a Spirit Master, not to mention that the probability of a ten-year-old Spirit Beast dropping a Spirit Bone was almost zero.

Even if not absorbed, its collection value was comparable to a thousand-year-level Spirit Bone!

At that moment, he truly experienced the evil of human hearts.

And after he fell to the ground, that team, for that Spirit Bone, began to kill each other. The brothers, sisters, and couples within the original Spirit hunting group, at that moment, had only greed and anger in their eyes. They all wanted to kill everyone and monopolize that several-decades-old Spirit Bone.

It was at that very moment that his Spirit, the triangular prism crystal, actively emerged, as if attracting some energy, continuously repairing his severely injured body.

When he recovered, that Spirit hunting group had also turned into seven withered bones, crumbling easily with a light touch, very brittle. He was also surprised to find that his spirit power had increased to level thirteen, and his physical fitness had also improved.

At that moment, he truly understood that he also had a golden finger: his awakened Spirit could absorb human emotions: anger, resentment, hatred, etc.

All are negative emotions.

Moreover, only extremely strong negative emotions could be absorbed by his Spirit—

For him, who wanted to achieve transcendence, this had already eliminated any chance of becoming a good person.

314: But it's a piece of cake!

“Whoosh!”

Just as The Fallen were about to approach the sightseeing elevator, countless Blue Silver Emperors suddenly burst from the ground, Binding the seven individuals.

“I didn’t even think of provoking you, yet you dared to actively seek trouble with me,” the three Spirit King-level Fallen said in unison, producing an eerie harmony.

Hearing this, Tang San’s heart stirred, but his gaze fell upon the middle-aged man who was releasing a triangular prism Spirit. He narrowed his eyes and said, “I advise you to surrender. I think you should know that if we really fight, your chances of winning are zero.”

The middle-aged man’s breathing hitched.

He didn’t want to admit it, but it was indeed the truth.

This Tang San, at the Spirit King level, could fight Bibi Dong at level ninety-eight... Although the video was blurry, it was still faintly possible to judge how terrifying the power he unleashed was.

Unstoppable!

But if he surrendered, could he survive?

Now, Spirit Hall’s attitude towards The Fallen was no longer to escort most of them to Slaughter City, but to directly slaughter them, and even publicly broadcast the executions to establish prestige and gain the trust of the continent’s people!

Originally, for him, Slaughter City was a good place, but he had always hesitated. After all, that was the inheritance place of the Asura God, and with his Spirit Ability, it was impossible for him to be chosen by the Asura God, who possessed an extremely strong killing intent.

And passing through Hell Road to obtain the Slaughter God Domain...

He had no one backing him!

As a Transmigrator, he clearly knew that the Slaughter King of Slaughter City was Tang Chen, whose strength had significantly declined after being Parasited. The Nine-Headed Blood-Colored Bat King didn't want to see anyone obtain the Slaughter God Domain.

If anyone dared to mention it, the possibility of being directly killed was higher.

Tang San and Hu Liena in the original work could do it because they both had people behind them. Bibi Dong and Tang Hao had both threatened the Slaughter King.

The Slaughter King didn't even dare to arrange them into the same life-and-death battle.

As for Tang Hao and Bibi Dong being able to obtain the Slaughter God Domain, it should be because their own spirit power levels were already relatively high before entering Slaughter City, and their own abilities were not much affected by the sealing of spirit ring skills—

Tang Hao's inherent strength relied entirely on the Rampaging Wind Technique, the Clear Sky Nine Absolutes, and the Great Sumeru Hammer. spirit ring skills were irrelevant. Even if Spirit Abilities were sealed, the spirit rings still existed, and there was a high probability that Ring Explosion could still be performed;

As for Bibi Dong, she possessed two Spirits, and both Great Spider Emperors naturally carried potent venom. Even without using Spirit Abilities, the full power of the toxins unleashed would probably be no less than the city-slaughtering power of Dugu Bo in the original work.

Based on these two points, it was estimated that the Slaughter King only allowed Tang Hao and Bibi Dong to challenge Hell Road after weighing the pros and cons.

And now it seems that it was right for him not to enter Slaughter City, as Slaughter City has now, for unknown reasons, had all of The Fallen killed off.

If he had gone, he would probably have died without a complete corpse.

But now it's even worse; he's directly facing a death sentence from Spirit Hall. In fact, these three individuals will most likely kill them all directly and only bring back their heads.

How can this be?

He hadn't even reached the peak of this World yet!

"No need to waste words." In a flash, the middle-aged man thought a lot. Four spirit rings, one white, one yellow, and two purple, appeared. The Blue Silver Emperor Binding him was corroded by an invisible force. The triangular prism crystal in his hand rotated, and the skin of the other three Spirit Ancestors quickly shriveled, turning into bones and ashes. Streams of energy, a mixture of vital energy, spirit power, and mental force, flowed into it, causing three gray patterns to be outlined on the three faces of the crystal.

"What a bizarre method, is that his Spirit Ability?" Yu Tianheng felt his mental force vibrate and clenched his fist. The dragon claws, after his Spirit possessed him, tore the skin of his palm, using the pain to keep himself awake.

Dugu Yan lightly bit the tip of her tongue, concentrating.

“There are three defilements in the human World: greed, hatred, and delusion.” The middle-aged man raised the triangular prism Spirit in his hand, emitting three rays of light that condensed into three beast forms: tiger, wolf, and deer.

The three beast-shaped phantoms emitted extremely intense spirit power fluctuations, each injecting into the bodies of the three Spirit Kings.

“Roar!”

“Howl!”

“Bleat!”

In an instant, with the roar of a tiger, the howl of a wolf, and the bleat of a deer, yellow, green, and white spirit power currents erupted from the three Spirit Kings, tearing off their black robes and revealing their true forms.

To Tang San and the others’ surprise, it seemed not to be a Spirit possession state, but truly animal bodies, just with a near-human appearance.

“Is it similar to a cat-girl situation? It just looks wilder,” Tang San thought to himself, wary of the opponent’s mental abilities, and paid no attention to these three strengthened individuals.

Even if their spirit power fluctuations reached the Spirit Emperor level, they were no match for him.

“Go! Destroy them!”

With a command from the middle-aged man, he put away the triangular prism crystal and ran towards the sightseeing elevator door. The three Spirit Kings roared and pounced on Tang San and the others, truly like ferocious beasts.

“Rise.”

Tang San pulled his hand, and the Blue Silver Emperor on the ground grew again, Binding the three. Just as the three struggled to break free, Yu

Tianheng had already made his move, his body wrapped in blue lightning, like a Thunder God descending. His two claws instantly pierced through the heads of the “tiger” and “wolf.”

On the other side, Dugu Yan had quietly arrived behind the “deer” and injected all five poisons into its body.

In less than five seconds, the three Spirit Kings had fallen to the ground, lifeless.

“Captain, thanks to your control, they couldn’t form a Martial Soul Fusion, otherwise they would have been difficult to deal with.” Yu Tianheng felt the mental force affecting him weaken after the three died, and he relaxed, looking at the middle-aged man violently smashing the glass pillar. “There’s still one amplification-type support system Fallen left.”

“That’s the true body of these three Spirit Kings.” Tang San manipulated the Blue Silver Emperor to bind him, but at that very last moment, the opponent smashed open the elevator’s glass door, jumped inside, and supporting himself against the inner wall of the glass pillar, continuously jumped and climbed upwards.

This passage seemed to lead to the internal space of the Golden Ancient Tree—

“Na’er, it’s your turn to act.” Tang San led Gu Yuena to the sightseeing elevator, tapped it, listened to the response to judge its hardness, and said to Hu Liena, “Control the wind element and pull it down.”

“No problem.” Gu Yuena chuckled, extended her small hand into the glass passage, and continuously rotated the wind element. The green airflow stirred the entire airflow inside the glass pillar.

Yu Tianheng and Dugu Yan, who were present, also witnessed an extremely spectacular scene: driven by the green wind element, the air above also began to rotate, turning into a white tornado, which quickly covered the middle-aged man who was continuously climbing upwards.

“Ah!”

The middle-aged man screamed as he fell into the whirlwind. If he didn't have some special Spirit Ability, he would probably be torn into minced meat by the tornado inside this glass pillar...

315: thank you for your gift

“What a terrifying ability.”

Looking up at the middle-aged man spiraling erratically and constantly descending in the whirlwind, Yu Tianheng suddenly felt that it might not be a good thing for a girl with an underdeveloped mind like Gu Yuena to control such powerful strength.

If Tang San hadn't restrained her, Gu Yuena would probably destroy cities at will, right?

Dugu Yan shared the same sentiment.

However, if Tang San knew what these two were thinking, he would definitely feel that they were overthinking it—

If Gu Yuena wasn't restrained by him, she wouldn't cause such large-scale destruction. After all, her own identity was a huge problem. If she used her power recklessly and caused too much commotion, attracting people she shouldn't, or even catching the attention of the God Realm, she would be finished.

But at this moment, Tang San was staring at the middle-aged man spinning in the whirlwind, thinking to himself, “This body is quite good; it can last this long. However, the three root causes of evil—greed, anger, and ignorance—are being used in such a way that I don't even know how to complain... Is his method wrong, or is the effect just this?”

“Am I going to die?”

The middle-aged man felt the tearing sensation of the airflow on his body, experiencing intense pain all over. But soon, the pain dissipated because blood continuously seeped from the torn areas, and his face was already pale, no longer feeling any pain.

However, his mind did not faint; it was incredibly clear at this moment. He recalled everything from his past and asked himself, “Was I wrong?”

His Life after transmigration:

In his childhood, he had parents. Although they were poor, they managed. After awakening his Spirit, he had one-level spirit power and could cultivate. His parents and the village chief were very happy, but he himself was not satisfied...

Entering the junior academy, he was bullied by other strong work-study students and noble students. He had no power to resist. No matter how eloquent he was, he was no match for a punch from those little brats. Normal children simply wouldn't listen to so much coaxing...

At fifteen, he still hadn't reached ten-level spirit power and was expelled from the junior academy...

He wanted to join Spirit Hall, but they wouldn't accept him.

At twenty, his spirit power reached ten-level. He used his savings to hire a small Spirit hunting team to help him hunt for a Spirit, obtaining a spirit ring and a Spirit Bone. This aroused the greed of the Spirit hunting team members. Later, he discovered that his own Triprism Crystal Spirit could absorb others' greed, anger, and ignorance, comprehensively strengthening himself.

Seduced by power, he degenerated into an Evil Soul Master...

Initially, he only targeted villains who bullied men and women. Later, as he toyed with more people, he developed a disregard for Life and began to seek people based on his mood, spiraling out of control...

At twenty-five, to obtain a spirit ring, he came to the Infinite Desert and accidentally discovered a secret passage that led to the core area. For the first time, he met the protagonist of this World...

At thirty-one, his cultivation reached forty-nine-level, encountering a bottleneck. No matter what he did, he couldn't break through to fifty-level. He began to indiscriminately attack Spirit Masters, nobles, and remote villages. This later attracted personnel sent by Spirit Hall, among whom were Yu Tianheng and Dugu Yan.

For two years, he had been hiding, and even after devouring countless Lives, he still hadn't broken through. Instead, the Triprism Crystal became increasingly solid, as if it were a real object.

But he was already impatient and planned to explore the Golden Ancient Tree again, hoping to break through his current level by devouring its vast energy and Life force.

Last time from within the Golden Ancient Tree, he obtained a map-like spirit tool that marked the specific locations of the Golden Civilization's main city and the entire Infinite Desert, along with various route maps.

The underground river near Three Shura Town was his initial target, not that he was forced to this place by Yu Tianheng, Dugu Yan, and others. He just needed some time to find the entrance...

“After experiencing so much, how could I be wrong?”

The middle-aged man's recollection came to an abrupt halt. He gritted his teeth and roared, flames burning in his eyes. He released his Spirit with both hands, injecting all his vital energy, soul, and spirit power into it, hissing through clenched teeth.

“I just want to gain wealth, status, beautiful women, power, and strength! What's wrong with that?!”

On one side of the Triprism Crystal, patterns quickly connected and combined, forming the character “Greed.”

“Why do others have such good talent? Such high innate spirit power? Why do I only have innate one-level spirit power? I'm a transmigrator! I should look down on everyone!”

The patterns on the second side lit up, combining into the character “Anger.”

“The people I killed deserved to die: bullies who preyed on men and women, officials who exploited the common people, and Spirit Masters who didn't distinguish between good and evil and only cared about their own pleasure. Why could they possess vast wealth and status while I could only walk in the darkness?”

On the last side, a large character “Ignorance” appeared.

At this moment, the middle-aged man's entire body exploded, turning into ashes in the wind. The peculiar Triprism Crystal also split apart, transforming into the three large characters “Greed,” “Anger,” and “Ignorance.” They directly drilled out of the glass pillar without causing any damage to it, as if they had no physical form.

Seeing the “Three Poisons” shoot towards him, Tang San hastily used his mental force for defense and asked Iliex for help. But even his divine force couldn't stop them... Using the word “stop” isn't very precise; it should be “touch.” Even his divine force couldn't touch them, as if they were conceptual entities.

Gu Yuena wanted to stop them, but she had no way. She could only watch as the three large characters entered Tang San's glabella and disappeared.

Tang San immediately closed his eyes and entered his upper Dantian, sensing the three characters of greed, anger, and ignorance. He could clearly “see” them, but his mental force couldn't touch them, as if they existed in another dimension.

Immediately after, the three characters of greed, anger, and ignorance began to deform, turning into human figures cast entirely from crystal, reflecting a face identical to Tang San's own.

One had a cunning expression, one showed anger, and one was dumbfounded, yet with a hint of strange determination in their eyes.

Suddenly, Tang San became vigilant. Iliex, beside him, also condensed his divine force, ready to control these three bizarre existences at any time.

“Tang San, this is the price you must pay!”

The middle-aged man's figure slowly emerged from the three crystals, with expressions of greed, anger, and ignorance rotating on his face. “I have no grievances with you, yet you forced me into a desperate situation. Why must you be like this?”

“Police and criminals inherently have no grievances; it's a matter of duty.” Tang San noticed that this figure could be captured by mental force. With a thought, three hundred sixty-five stars appeared in his Sea of Consciousness, forming the Zhou Tian Xing Dou Great Array.

This was precisely a mental thought forged by condensing the light of stars through the Cosmic Meditation. It was vast and bright, and using it as the array core, it formed a formation, completely stripping him from the three peculiar human-shaped crystals.

“No! Impossible! What kind of method is this?” The middle-aged man's soul was continuously torn apart and then expelled by Iliex from Tang San's upper Dantian, maintaining the purity of his mental force.

Tang San calmly said, “Zhou Tian Xing Dou Great Array.”

The middle-aged man was stunned, then finally gave Tang San the middle finger: “I don't regret losing, but for a deity from the Primordial Chaos to come to this... little... Douluo World, isn't that... a bit bullying?”

“I hate it!”

“So unwilling! Why are you the protagonist?”

As his voice fell, the middle-aged man's soul completely dissipated into nothingness. The three crystal figures, whose faces previously reflected Tang San's appearance, now fully transformed into Tang San's likeness. Then, they merged, forming a figure with three heads and six arms, sitting cross-legged, but the three faces were still filled with cunning, anger, and obsession.

“Protagonist? Since childhood, I have been kind to others, diligently studied, and while adapting to the rules of this World, I tried my best not to let the World change my inner self. This cannot be simply summarized by the word ‘protagonist’... However, thank you for the gift you left behind...”

Just as Tang San was about to taunt the dead man whose soul had scattered, his mind suddenly froze. He blinked and found that his perspective had changed. He had actually entered this peculiar three-headed, six-armed mental body and realized that he could absorb greed, anger, and ignorance.

“Tang San, is that you?” Iliex asked cautiously from a distance.

“It's me. After that person's soul scattered, this three-headed, six-armed crystal body was completely controlled by me, and the three thoughts of greed, anger, and ignorance can also be controlled by me.” Tang San thought, and his figure reappeared. On the face of this three-headed, six-armed body, three pairs of eyes, either joyful, angry, or determined, slowly closed.

Iliex observed Tang San for a while. Seeing that he was truly fine, he breathed a sigh of relief. Then, he looked at the three-headed, six-armed crystal body and said, “This thing is transformed from that guy's Spirit. I never thought it would be so miraculous, capable of absorbing people's resentment, anger, greed, obsession, and so on. It's already considered a natural Divinity! But it's an evil god!”

“Indeed.”

Tang San nodded, but he was somewhat wary of this thing. He didn't want to use it too much, as the three thoughts of “greed, anger, and ignorance” were not good things in themselves and needed to be suppressed and eliminated by “precepts,” “concentration,” and “wisdom.”

Precepts refer to a moral, regulated, and harmless standard of living, cutting off the attachment and greed that arise from clinging to external objects.

Concentration is aimed at inner cultivation and the development of self-patience; introspecting first in all matters and seeking within; avoiding outward impatience and anger caused by demanding others.

Wisdom is a thorough and harmonious understanding of the various realities of the universe and Life, thereby escaping ignorance; no longer confused by principles, or lost in cause and effect; skillfully understanding the continuity of worldly causes and conditions, comprehending the root of the cycle of birth and death, with no attachments in the heart and no fear.

Tang San was regulating himself through precepts and concentration during his cultivation and research, but as for wisdom, he couldn't achieve “no attachments in the heart.”

If he were a naturally conceptual Divinity or demon of “greed,” “anger,” and “ignorance,” then it wouldn't matter, and he wouldn't have such thoughts and worries.

But he was human, and he himself had the three thoughts of greed, anger, and ignorance, which could not be completely avoided. If he used the abilities of these three without restraint, thereby stimulating or even expanding his own three thoughts, his temperament would probably be greatly affected.

At that time, whether he controlled these three thoughts of greed, anger, and ignorance, or whether his own temperament was dominated by these three root causes of evil, would be an unknown.

“As you say, these three abilities indeed cannot be used much; it's very easy to lose oneself.” Iliex once again grew wary of this bizarre thing...

316: The crystal of three poisons, three dirts and three evil roots

After opening his eyes, Tang San exhaled a turbid breath, and his entire body and mind relaxed.

The three-headed, six-armed crystal puppet could also absorb his own three thoughts of greed, anger, and delusion, thereby allowing him to enter a "desireless and emotionless" rational state.

This was a good effect.

However, Tang San felt that even this function should not be used frequently; otherwise, he might truly become emotionless and asexual in the future, or the three thoughts of greed, anger, and delusion within the puppet might erupt, and he would likely become irritable, possess strong obsessions, and desire to seize good things upon seeing them, among other similar personality traits.

This was not advisable.

"Tang San, are you alright?"

Yu Tianheng and Dugu Yan were about to ask, but Gu Yuena instinctively pounced into Tang San's arms, insisting that he hold her, and spoke first, her eyes full of concern, her anxious appearance showing fear that something had happened to him.

One must know, this was half of her subject!

He was much smarter than those brawny fellows like Di Tian, and nothing could happen to him!

"I'm fine; that guy injected his Spirit into my mental force sea, but I've already defeated him, and my guess was correct: those three Spirit Kings before were his clones or something similar." Tang San stroked Gu Yuena's head, feeling that he hadn't raised this little guy in vain; at least she cared about her "shit shoveler." Then he explained the middle-aged man's Spirit effect to the three of them—

The three-sided crystal prism was named by Tang San as: The Crystal of Three Poisons, Three Defilements, and Three Evil Roots.

"Such a long name," Gu Yuena stuck out her tongue.

"This name, it shouldn't be something you just casually made up, Captain, right?" Yu Tianheng showed a curious look, "It shouldn't just have the ability to create clones, right?"

"Clones are just the surface; the essence of his Spirit is actually very profound, representing the three concepts of greed, anger, and delusion."

Tang San put Gu Yuena down and slowly explained, "Greed is the craving for favorable circumstances, where one must obtain it, or else, their heart is unwilling and displeased; anger is the hatred that arises towards unfavorable circumstances, where one loses their temper when things don't go their way, becoming irrational and impulsive; delusion is the inability to understand matters, distinguishing right from wrong, good from evil, taking things upside down, giving rise to obsession, and acting beyond the bottom line of law and morality."

"Thus, you can imagine how powerful this ability truly is, right?"

"As long as one gives rise to thoughts of greed, anger, or delusion, a certain mysterious power can be absorbed by it, and if these three emotions are not handled well, one's very being can even be controlled by that middle-aged man."

"It can be said that the members of this The Fallen team were all controlled by that middle-aged man through his own Spirit."

Dugu Yan shivered and said, "That's so eerie?"

Greed, anger, and delusion—these three can cover everyone unless someone is mentally ill, has abnormal logical thinking, or possesses a truly noble heart like a lotus emerging unsullied from mud; otherwise, they cannot escape its control.

Are there saints in the World?

Yes.

But Tang San knew that he would absolutely not be one.

"Captain, did you obtain his ability?" Yu Tianheng couldn't help but ask.

"I did, but I won't use it unless absolutely necessary."

Tang San admitted, but then shook his head and sighed, "After all, I myself can lose control of my emotions at times, and my inherent three thoughts of greed, anger, and delusion have not been eradicated. If I rashly use it, I'm afraid I'll end up like the The Fallen we're pursuing. He was consumed by greed for status, wealth, power, and authority, then by anger when others' talents surpassed his own, and finally, to break through his realm, his mind fell into a quagmire, unable to extricate himself."

"I don't want to become a guy like him..."

Greed, anger, delusion.

These three are not something he can touch right now; at least not until he breaks through level one hundred. In fact, Tang San even had a premonition that to fully control these three, in addition to gradually cultivating "precepts," "concentration," and "wisdom," he would also need to first find the indestructible true Spirit that exists deep within his soul.

After all, "wisdom" requires one to be able to see through all the myriad realities of the universe and comprehend cause and effect.

He couldn't even see through his own soul, so how could he speak of using greed, anger, and delusion?

"Then, if his Spirit exists in your mental force sea, won't there be other problems?" Dugu Yan worried.

"Currently, no, and it's still unknown whether that thing can even be considered a Spirit," Tang San said conservatively, "Moreover, for me, there's also a benefit: it allows me to multitask, not like the Heart Separation Control method of the Seven Treasure Glazed Tile School, but rather to create thought-forms similar to clones that can think independently."

"However, to truly develop it, I'll need to research it for a while longer..."

Yu Tianheng laughed heartily and said, "As expected of the captain, as soon as he talks about research, he starts lecturing... By the way, how do we get back now? If we return the same way, with the flow rate of that underground river, we can't swim upstream."

If the underground river was only a few hundred kilometers long, then a few of them could try swimming back, treating it as a struggle against nature.

But this underground river is nearly ten thousand li long...

They were still young.

They didn't want to risk their lives.

"Of course, we won't swim back." Tang San looked up at the sightseeing elevator, using his mental force to probe, and based on the information transmitted by the Golden Ancient Tree, he decided on a plan, "We'll climb up through this sightseeing elevator and enter the interior of this Golden Ancient Tree; perhaps we can gain something."

"Golden Ancient Tree?" Dugu Yan was puzzled.

Tang San explained the origin of the Golden Ancient Tree to the two, then pushed up the detection glasses on his nose and said, "My third spirit ring was obtained here in the Infinite Desert; I once entered the core area here and obtained these glasses from the treehouse of the Golden Ancient Tree, which can detect the spirit power fluctuations within a Spirit Master's body."

"The main body of the Golden Ancient Tree is directly above this ruin... In ancient times, a kingdom called the Golden Civilization was established relying on the Golden Ancient Tree, but it has now perished."

"The reason for its demise is unknown, but within that Golden Ancient Tree, there are countless spirit tools, or other treasures."

"Under normal circumstances, one needs to pass the trials of those mechs outside to enter it. Perhaps today we can use this passage to directly reach the interior of the Golden Ancient Tree."

Yu Tianheng and Dugu Yan exchanged glances, then became excited: "So, we're really in luck."

"According to my perception, there are no dangerous mechanisms or the like." The Golden Ancient Tree could even be said to be his clone, under his control, so whether there was danger was naturally up to him, its master.

At least, inside the Golden Ancient Tree, as long as they didn't provoke the mech guards outside the Golden Ancient Tree, there would definitely be no danger.

However, when they left later, they would need to walk from above and avoid the detection of those mech guards; otherwise, if all those steel monsters were activated, even if he went all out, he would find it difficult to cope.

In terms of danger, those things were incomparable to Bibi Dong, a super Douluo; once all activated, they could completely cleanse the entire Douluo Continent.

Unless Gu Yuena erupted.

But if divine force were used, the God Realm might react and leave behind an eye—if it was just a temporary burst of power, like a Martial Soul Fusion Skill, the God Realm probably wouldn't care too much; but if it was a God in a normal state, and a Silver Dragon King at that...

Oh-ho, if she had been hiding under their noses all this time, Asura God would definitely descend personally to deal with it.

Need to find a way to avoid those mechs...

There's a conspiracy theory that the Gods of the God Realm actually knew the Silver Dragon King was on Douluo Star, but just didn't care...

I don't know how to comment, I just want to say, the God Realm had just ended a great war at that time, and they must have been very exclusive of dragons, especially God-level dragons. They even sealed the Golden Dragon King, so how could they ignore the Silver Dragon King if they discovered her?

Those guys in the God Realm were all very bored; some sought entertainment (Goodness and Evil played with Ji Dong and Lie Yan's love and made a bet), some fought for power (after Goodness and Evil stopped managing the God Realm, they began to contend with Tang San for power), some lay flat (Goddess of Life, weak-willed, constantly flip-flopping), and some secretly slipped away (Asura God and Sea God, abandoning their God Positions and directly running away, because they knew that with such unconventional God Kings in the God Realm, the God Realm was bound to be doomed! /Just kidding~), Especially Asura God, to leave the God Realm, during the process of enforcing the law against the Angel God on the Douluo Continent, he left behind a place of inheritance to facilitate finding a successor—although this was not mentioned in the original work, this speculation should be more consistent with the logic of the God Realm's Worldview in the original work.

317: The second floor of the ancient golden tree

Jumping continuously upwards along the glass tube, the group quickly arrived at the very bottom roots of the Golden Ancient Tree, where there was a door cast from沉银 on its inner side.

If it were a normal elevator, it would automatically open upon arrival.

But now, they could only force the door open.

Tang San inserted a Blue Silver Emperor leaf into the narrow gap, then pulled forcefully to both sides, and the沉银 elevator door slowly slid open, allowing Gu Yuena, Dugu Yan, and Yu Tianheng to enter one by one.

Bang!

When Tang San passed through and let go, the two doors behind him quickly closed, as if springs were installed on the inner sides of the doors and the Golden Ancient Tree's walls.

“Is this the interior of the Golden Ancient Tree? I feel an extremely rich and pure energy of heaven and earth here, so pure that I don’t even need to refine it.” Yu Tianheng could sense his Spirit cheering, continuously absorbing the incredibly pure energy of heaven and earth here. “Cultivating here will yield twice the results with half the effort. I even feel like I can break through to Titled Douluo before I turn thirty!”

Dugu Yan had a similar feeling, and her entire body felt as if it were bathing in an ocean of Life energy, bringing an unparalleled enjoyment to both her body and mind.

Gu Yuena was the most excited of them all. The Life aura here could allow her avatar, formed from her original essence, to advance further. Upon returning to her main body, it would surely elevate her main body's comprehension of the path of Life to a new level.

However, she hid her small expressions very well, feigning a look of confusion. If Tang San hadn't noticed her purple eyes, which were brighter than usual, he would have truly believed this little girl was unmoved.

“Let's go up.”

The group was located on a narrow spiral staircase. With each turn, they could see a door on the inner wall of the Golden Ancient Tree.

Tang San knew that these were the doors leading to the cultivation spaces in the roots of the Golden Ancient Tree, a total of one hundred and eight of them. Each was embedded with spatial spirit tool runes, forming a structure similar to a formation.

If analyzed from a God's perspective, on the surface, each cultivation room was only about one hundred cubic meters in size. However, due to a structural design similar to a storage soul tool, the internal space could accommodate nearly a thousand people cultivating together, with each person still having a gap of nearly ten meters.

Moreover, the staircase they were currently ascending was the main root of the Golden Ancient Tree. The other auxiliary roots also had corresponding cultivation spaces or storage rooms, but the space in those rooms was not as large as the one in the main root.

Thirty minutes later, the group finally saw the exit ahead. The space of the internal staircase of the main root also became increasingly spacious, and the doors on the side of each turn became more numerous.

The large door at the entrance was a single-push model, made directly from the Golden Ancient Tree.

One push.

The wooden door opened without making any sound, and the group arrived on the first floor.

Stepping out of the passage, Tang San looked at the familiar hall, took a deep breath, and murmured, “This is my second time here. It’s truly nostalgic.”

Then, without waiting for Yu Tianheng, Dugu Yan, and others to curiously look around, he directly led them to the passage on the left, arriving at the storage room for storage soul tools, and said, “There are spirit tools in here. Please help me pack them up. I plan to take all of these back for research. Of course, if you like any, you can keep them for yourselves.”

Yu Tianheng looked at the various spirit tools on the shelves and couldn't help but exclaim, “So many? Our storage soul tools won’t be able to hold them all, will they?”

“There are also storage soul tools in here. You can use them. If you really can’t fit them all, it’s fine if you don’t take them.” Tang San didn’t care how many spirit tools they could take back or what types they were. Anyway, most of them would definitely be disassembled by him, Guang Ling, and Lou Gao, along with other researchers, for study.

As long as they figured out the spirit tool patterns within them, they could have as many of these spirit tools as they wanted.

The Douluo Continent definitely did not lack resources for mass-producing spirit tools; it was just that the methods for utilizing those resources were relatively crude.

Afterward, Tang San prepared to go up to the second floor to take a look.

Gu Yuena followed along as well.

The entrance to the second floor had a metal door frame, similar to a detection device, but at this moment, Tang San was “illegally invading,” and he wasn't wearing the “permit” (a wristband) that the mech guards outside issued.

Therefore, even if this metal door frame detected him as an intruder and could sound an alarm, it couldn't expel him... The mech guards outside seemed to be programmed not to be allowed to enter the Golden Ancient Tree. Otherwise, when Spirit Masters entered the Golden Ancient Tree to retrieve items, a humanoid robot should follow them, instead of issuing a wristband to serve as identity proof and a temporary threat bomb.

Why was it set up this way?

Tang San guessed that it might be because those mechs had enough destructive power to damage the Golden Ancient Tree, while human Spirit Masters, even if they self-destructed, would likely struggle to cause harm to the Golden Ancient Tree.

Even if the humans who entered here could eliminate the threat of the wristband to their own lives by cutting off their hands, the loss caused would only be taking a few more hidden treasures from within the Golden Ancient Tree.

And once the other party left the Golden Ancient Tree, they would inevitably be detected by those mech guards, and then—

Killed in one blow!

Walking through the metal door frame, the long, breathing light-like patterns on it immediately flickered, and the mech guards outside the hall were also triggered, but they could not enter the Golden Ancient Tree, causing no trouble for Tang San and the others.

After climbing one turn, Tang San arrived at the entrance to the second floor. As if sensing Tang San's arrival, the large door carved from the Golden Ancient Tree automatically opened.

This was naturally not a so-called smart sensor; others entering the second floor required an entry permit and a key. But then again, why was the door here carved from the trunk of the Golden Ancient Tree?

For Tang San to come here was like coming to his own home. These metal spirit tool devices left behind by the already destroyed Golden Civilization, on the contrary, seemed like foreign objects forcibly inserted inside.

The second floor was a library. As far as the eye could see, rows of bookshelves were neatly arranged. The outermost bookshelves were directly carved and polished into the tree trunk, and there were also more than twenty sliding long ladders.

And at the very center was the core of the Golden Ancient Tree, about twenty meters in diameter, perfectly smooth and flawless, surrounded by wooden railings, with four doors beside it:

Evidently, this was the Golden Ancient Tree version of an elevator!

“What a magnificent library!” Gu Yuena had also seen the library in Spirit City and the scripture pavilion in the Supreme Pontiff Palace, but none were as magnificent as this one.

“It is indeed quite magnificent.” However, Tang San was more concerned with the environment here, which was filled with Life energy and could constantly keep people in a state of calm, which would undoubtedly greatly improve learning ability.

He casually took a book from the shelf and found it was a comic called “Mech Warrior,” which told the story of a poor mech pilot who, relying on his powerful talent, assembled a god-tier mech from various second-hand parts, participated in a mech competition, and finally won the championship.

Just as Tang San was wondering why such books could appear here, he turned to the last page of the comic, and on the back cover was a line of text: “Combining work and rest allows one to go higher. The enrichment of the Spirit and mind is far more important than physical strength!”

“The Golden Civilization not only focused on superficial material and energy, but also had considerable research into human psychology.” Tang

San put the comic back on the shelf and took another book from the nearby [Catalog Bookshelf] category...

318: golden civilization golden calendar

There are twelve catalog bookshelves, each with ten layers, and each layer contains nearly 150 books.

The books on them are records of the library, the classification of various bookshelves, and the names of the books within each classification, primarily to help readers find books of interest in a short amount of time.

And the number of such catalog books is over eighteen thousand.

“The wisdom of the ancients!”

Tang San sighed, searching for categories that interested him, as it was impossible to read so many books all at once.

Even with Tang San’s powerful mental force, it would take him over a hundred years to read all the books here.

Of course, if he were just skimming, he could use his mental force to imprint all the content of these books, which wouldn't take long at all—he could finish it all within three days.

But if he did that, Tang San estimated he wouldn't have time to think about anything else; just digesting these books would be enough to give him a headache.

“Speaking of which, the writing on Douluo Continent doesn’t seem to have changed much?” Tang San suddenly thought of this.

How long ago was this Golden Civilization?

Unknown.

According to Tang San's estimation, it was at least tens of thousands of years ago, and the time the Golden Ancient Tree appeared... Although the Golden Ancient Tree has been controlled by Tang San, he doesn't know exactly how many years it has grown, but to grow so large, it must be nearly ten million years old, or even its age needs to be counted in hundreds of millions.

However, the writing on Douluo Continent seems to have not changed.

The common writing on the continent today is almost in the same lineage as the writing in these books, with some differences, but the gap is very small—just slight variations in stroke structure.

Literate people on the continent would not have much difficulty reading the books here, only a little trouble understanding the meaning of some specific terms.

If one were to think from this perspective, the Golden Civilization actually did not go extinct; all the people on Douluo Continent are descendants of the Golden Civilization.

And judging whether a civilization is extinct is not only from the perspectives of technology and bloodline, but from culture.

After all, no matter what, modern people have inherited the writing and some spirit tools used in daily life.

However, the mode of thinking is far behind that of the former Golden Civilization.

Coming back to his senses, Tang San searched for the relevant historical catalog of the Golden Civilization and went to the history bookshelf.

Seeing the continuous stretch of history books, he couldn't help but feel a headache.

He could only quickly scan with his mental force, and according to the corresponding catalog book, he found a copy of “Overview of the Golden Civilization’s Development History” —

【In the year 30,000 BCE of the Golden Calendar, various nations were constantly at war, and were finally unified by the Soul Dou Nation, establishing the Soul Dou Empire, which covered all habitable areas of the entire continent.

However, the Soul Dou Empire perished in its second generation.

This nation unified too quickly, with internal and external troubles that could not be resolved in one generation.

However, the second emperor was absurd, and his ministers rebelled; the governing policies did not change at all, and coupled with the incitement of the remnants of the fallen nations, there were many uprisings within the country, causing the Soul Dou Empire to disintegrate after only fifty-two years of its establishment.

However, the first monarch of the Soul Dou Empire unified the writing, weights, and measures, and laid roads, making his contributions indispensable.】

Looking at this passage, which was similar to the template of the Qin Dynasty's unification in his previous life, Tang San guessed that next, various Empires would appear on the stage, performing stories of long separation leading to unity, and long unity leading to separation, enacting a cycle of dynastic changes.

And the facts were indeed as Tang San had guessed.

After the disintegration of the Soul Dou Empire, one after another, charismatic figures, Empires, and dynasties appeared, constantly updating and replacing but the core of their rule remained unchanged: shepherding the people.

Until the year 29,000 BCE of the Golden Calendar, when spirit tools were developed, ordinary people gained the possibility of resisting powerful Spirit Masters, and formed the “Golden Association” based on the people.

Its main tenet and rising slogan were: All living beings, that is, commoners, are the true masters of this continent, the most brilliant gold; nobles are merely Parasites parasitic on commoners, and the era of Spirit Masters lording over others with their powerful Spirit is about to pass!

And this “about to pass” lasted for nearly a thousand years.

For this thousand years, countless people advanced one after another, secretly researching spirit tools, inventing and Creation, and established the Golden City, composed of ordinary people (those with spirit power below ten ranks), constantly innovating with wisdom.

And the Spirit Masters were arrogant, disdaining to interact with this city, until the Golden City invented spirit tools that threatened even Titled Douluo above rank ninety-five, and issued the “Golden Declaration” to all nations on the entire continent, demanding that monarchs of all countries must treat everyone as human beings, not engage in slave trade, and Spirit Masters should not have privileges, and so on.

The nations scoffed, and then —

The Golden City directly declared war on the entire continent, to liberate the people, the commoners, and give them human rights!

The major kingdoms didn't take it seriously, but in the end, no one expected that the Spirit Guidance Weapons researched by the Golden City were excessively powerful; with just a pull of the trigger, a crimson ray could penetrate the defense of a Titled Douluo.

The crushing power caused the Golden City to continuously grow, eventually establishing the Golden Empire.

In the first year of the Golden Calendar, the Golden Empire was established.

The entire country was governed by ordinary people, and Spirit Masters also had to abide by the rules, losing all their privileges.

But how could Spirit Masters be willing?

They secretly allied, preparing to overthrow the leaders of the Golden Empire, but little did they know that the Spirit Masters' actions were always under the surveillance of the Golden Empire's reconnaissance spirit tool.

In the second year of the Golden Calendar, the Empire confirmed that Spirit Masters were all unstable factors and ordered the arrest of all Spirit Masters across the continent for research — from then on, Spirit Masters were reviled by everyone on Douluo Continent, and these Spirit Masters could be said to have made “significant contributions” with their own bodies to the Empire's various advanced spirit tool research.

In the 120th year of the Golden Calendar, the Empire revoked the Spirit Master arrest warrant; no Spirit Masters could be found openly, and the Empire began to research Spirit cultivation...

In the 200th year of the Golden Calendar, the Empire had a deep understanding of Spirit, realizing that Spirit had sentience, and that everyone could have innate full spirit power, but it was due to different states of mind caused by the growth environment, which led to varying degrees of compatibility between the Spirit and the person themselves.

In the 400th year of the Golden Calendar, the Empire realized the importance of personality and mind, and for this purpose, launched large-scale psychological research experiments and began to strengthen the quality education of the entire population.

In the 1600th year of the Golden Calendar, within the Empire, everyone who awakened a Spirit possessed innate spirit power; those with zero innate spirit power were extremely rare.

In the 3000th year of the Golden Calendar, within the Empire, the number of Titled Douluo reached nearly ten thousand, but because the entire population became Spirit Masters, the number of Spirit Beasts on the continent drastically decreased.

The representative of the Spirit Beast race, an existence named Dragon God, launched a challenge against the Golden Civilization...

“Dragon God!” Tang San’s eyes moved, and he thought, “It seems the time period of this Golden Civilization’s existence is even more ancient than I imagined; did it even contend with the Dragon God?”

Discovering that he still had nearly two-thirds of the content to read, Tang San also had a conclusion about the outcome of this challenge:

The Dragon God lost to the Golden Civilization!

And the facts were indeed as Tang San expected —

In the 3001st year of the Golden Calendar, the Spirit Beast race was defeated.

The Dragon God wanted to seek peace, but the loser had no right to make demands, and because the Dragon God was difficult to kill, the Empire used space-type offensive spirit tools, preparing to banish it to the cosmic void outside the continent...

“Divine force...” Tang San muttered to himself, “It seems this Golden Civilization has developed to a certain extent, and has already begun to explore the divine force.”

319: The winner is the king and the loser is the bandit? No! The Dragon God is a narrow-minded person

In the fifth millennium of the Golden Calendar, the number of Spirit Beasts once again decreased. In order to obtain enough spirit rings for all the residents of the Empire to advance, the Golden Civilization began research on Spirit Beasts, starting to replicate their bloodlines and establishing Spirit Beast protection organizations to severely crack down on Spirit Beast poachers.

“Alright, Spirit Beasts have become protected animals. Is this reincarnation?” Tang San chuckled, continuing to read on—

In the sixth millennium of the Golden Calendar, the ecology of various Spirit Beast habitats recovered. The Golden Empire searched the seas and land, finding nearly a thousand powerful Ten-thousand year soul beasts, forcibly compelling them to transform into human form to study how they condense spirit rings on their own. This was to allow humans to overcome the flaw of needing Spirit Beast spirit rings to advance.

In the eighth millennium of the Golden Calendar, humans achieved a major breakthrough in self-condensing spirit rings, no longer needing to be restricted by Spirit Beast spirit rings. From then on, the Golden Empire entered a new era, and the Golden Civilization was truly born!

In the ninth millennium of the Golden Calendar, the number of Titled Douluo among humans grew exponentially, with various Titled Douluo emerging one after another. Therefore, the Empire began to unify the realm divisions, based on spirit rings, dividing them into One-ring Spirit Masters ~ Nine-ring Spirit Masters, collectively known as: Spirit Masters.

In the tenth millennium of the Golden Calendar, the Civilization continued to grow and was preparing to explore the stars. The representative of the Spirit Beast race, the Dragon God, returned with a more powerful demeanor, and controlled the Creation and Destruction Godhood. With overwhelming power, he once again challenged the Golden Civilization!

This time—

The Golden Civilization lost!

Tang San found that the text that followed was handwritten, no longer printed, making it somewhat difficult to read.

That was truly power beyond the gods. We could not defeat him... Pressure can make people progress quickly, but that powerful force is beyond human capability. We need stronger power!

The Golden Civilization was defeated! All Civilization achievements were destroyed, and the World once again became a paradise for Spirit Beasts...

But perhaps out of that ridiculous self-esteem, after his victory, the Dragon God also used some special means to erase the memories of all the people at that time, as well as his own memories of being exiled into the void by the Golden Civilization... I feel my memories fading. No, I must record this!

However, the most fortunate thing is that the Golden Ancient Tree is under our control. Even the Dragon God does not dare to contend with the will of the entire planet, and cannot destroy the Golden Ancient Tree and everything near it, otherwise he will suffer the karmic backlash of the entire Douluo Star's luck. But most of the people here have dispersed. Can the Golden Civilization still exist? I hope future generations can remember what happened in ancient times. If capable, prove to the entire cosmic Civilization that humans are the greatest beings, and races like the Dragon Race, who possess intelligence but only rely on brute force, will eventually become a thing of the past!

I only regret that we did not have enough time to develop, otherwise, we would definitely be able to mass-produce god-level powerhouses!

By the way... who... am I?

Flipping to the end, Tang San only saw this question, and a trace of inexplicable sadness arose in his heart. He sighed, “The Dragon God initially only possessed the seven elements of water, fire, earth, wind, light, dark, and space. The later Creation and Destruction were obtained by chance. It turns out he only had the opportunity to come into contact with them after being exiled from Douluo Star by the Golden Civilization.”

“Moreover, the Dragon God also erased his humiliating memories of defeat. It is estimated that he not only erased those of humans, but also those of the Spirit Beast side, and perhaps he even deceived himself.”

“Tsk tsk, quite petty. He doesn’t leave himself any dark history.”

“Also, if we refer to the settings of the Douluo Series, the rule that Spirit Beasts cannot become gods seems to have been set by the Dragon God, saying that unless the Dragon Race reappears the Dragon God, other Spirit Beasts are not allowed to become gods... Until the protagonist of Douluo 4 achieved the position of Dragon God, this rule was lifted, and Spirit Beasts could then become gods through cultivation.”

At this moment, Gu Yuena walked over with a romantic manga titled “Cats, Mice, and Dogs,” and asked, “This manga is quite interesting. It tells a love story between a female mouse, a male cat, and a female dog disguised as a male.”

Tang San (￣△￣ ;): “What the heck?”

He snatched the romantic manga, quickly flipped through it, and then put it into his storage wristband, saying, “This is not something a little girl with an incomplete worldview like you should read. I’ll keep it for you for now.”

Gu Yuena: → _ →

But Tang San ignored her small expression. Instead, he handed her the “Overview of Golden Civilization Development History” in his hand, saying, “Look at this. Perhaps you might know the Dragon God...”

Before Tang San could finish speaking, Gu Yuena, hearing the words “Dragon God,” immediately snatched it and began to read. At first, she was fine, but later, seeing that the Dragon God actually erased his memories of being defeated by the Golden Civilization, she couldn’t help but blush.

“It seems you have some connection with the Dragon God,” Tang San said, knowing full well.

“No connection, absolutely no connection,” Gu Yuena now only felt that her “previous life,” or rather, her “father,” was truly dishonorable.

It was just a defeat, there was nothing to dwell on, right?

Erasing human memories was one thing, but he also erased the relevant memories of the Spirit Beast race, and even she, his “daughter” and “reincarnation,” had no relevant memories.

Truly shameless!

Suddenly, she felt that the Dragon God being cut in half was well-deserved; his mentality was truly too poor...

“Your reaction doesn’t suggest there’s no connection,” Tang San smiled, and walked back to the catalog bookshelf, searching for catalog books related to Spirit research. He found that there was no information related to Spirit cultivation, nor any research data on spirit tools. He only found a note inside one catalog book, which read:

After the Golden Civilization was destroyed, the Dragon God found this place and ordered the remaining people to take out all the Spirit cultivation and spirit tool research data for unified destruction...

“Burning books?”

Tang San frowned tightly, losing all goodwill towards that Dragon God.

Before, one could say that the winner writes history, as the victor and the vanquished.

But now, this guy had cut off most of the research data left by the Golden Civilization. The remaining ones included agriculture, industry, economy, education, medicine, military, and culture, but nothing related to Spirit cultivation and scientific research.

This completely blocked his shortcut to rapid development as a successor.

“Whew~ What I gain is my fortune, what I lose is my destiny. Since the Golden Civilization failed, then even if I imitate it, at most I would only reach the level of the former Golden Civilization. The current Douluo Continent still needs to forge a path forward that conforms to this era.” Tang San closed the book and walked through the agriculture, medicine, economy, education, and military areas, putting all the basic parts into his storage wristband.

Gu Yuena also followed to help. After seeing that note, she also inexplicably felt a sense of guilt and felt that she needed to do something to compensate.

One could only say that she was too influenced by humans...

320: Gu Yuena gave up thinking

Chapter 320 Gu Yuena gave up thinking...

After packing the books, Tang San took Gu Yuena and left the second floor, continuing up the stairs to the third floor.

The third floor was also a library.

Therefore, Tang San did not look closely, taking Gu Yuena further up. The fourth, fifth... up to the twelfth floor were all libraries, but with fewer and fewer books and more and more space for spirit tools, ranging from second-tier to ninth-tier spirit tools.

Gu Yuena put some into her Golden Rope Treasure Bag, especially the shiny spirit tools; she accepted everything.

From the thirteenth floor up to the twenty-fourth floor, all were for rest, living, and research, including canteens, kitchens, living rooms, bedrooms, laboratories, and so on.

But there were no restrooms.

It wasn't that the people living inside the Golden Ancient Tree at that time didn't need to use the restroom, but rather to prevent harmful substances from human waste from polluting the Golden Ancient Tree. Public restrooms were built near the edge of the Golden Ancient Tree.

It could be said that at that time, everyone who wanted to use the restroom had to leave the Golden Ancient Tree first...

From the twenty-fifth floor to the final thirty-sixth floor, each floor was a vast space, equivalent to an unformed plane, in the process of gestation.

Tang San, who controlled the Golden Ancient Tree, knew that these twelve floors were the truly precious places. As long as this initial Golden Ancient Tree continued to grow, one day, one hour, one moment in the future, it would be able to root itself into the endless void, absorbing dimensional energy from the universe, continuously strengthening the Douluo Continent World, and gestating these twelve half-planes into true miniature cosmic planes.

For the Golden Ancient Tree to gestate true miniature cosmic planes, only the first-generation tree species grown from a seed could do it. Golden Ancient Trees grown from cuttings were considered second-generation and no longer had the ability to gestate planes.

In addition, during its gestation period, the first-generation tree species must not be greatly disturbed, meaning it cannot be pulled out and replanted elsewhere. That would cause the unformed half-plane to collapse, and the entire tree would consume a great deal of its origin, perhaps even losing the ability to gestate new half-plane spaces.

However, as the Golden Ancient Tree grows and its roots penetrate the cosmic void, it might also expose the Douluo Continent's plane coordinates, leading other races from the universe to invade Douluo Star.

It was both an opportunity and a challenge.

If it were a more conservative person, they might forgo the twelve half-planes gestated by the Life Golden Ancient Tree and replant this Golden Ancient Tree elsewhere, to ensure the Douluo Star's safety for a longer time.

But Tang San felt that it was better to let nature take its course. Misfortune and fortune always accompany each other, how could there be any talk of absolute stability?

The greatest hymn of humanity is courage!

Without courage, they are weeds hindering the development of civilization, and can be directly crushed. Dying is what they deserve!

Besides, this Golden Ancient Tree is now his, one could even say it's another body. Whoever dares to harm it, he will destroy them!

These thoughts suddenly popped into his mind, and Tang San immediately came back to his senses, shaking his head vigorously. He thought, "No, how could I have such thoughts? I haven't reached that level... Could it be that even if I don't use the three heads and six arms of greed, hatred, and delusion, it will still constantly influence my thoughts and stir up my evil intentions? If so, then in the future, when I think about problems, I must not be too active, or try to think as objectively as possible."

Seeing Tang San silent, Gu Yuena was puzzled and asked, "Aren't we going up?"

"The twelve floors above are all half-planes gestated by this Golden Ancient Tree. Although the surrounding tree trunk has living spaces, there's really nothing more to see." Tang San briefly explained the situation and prepared to take Gu Yuena down, to the floors below the twelfth, to see if there was a way to avoid those mech guards.

"Half-planes?" Gu Yuena mumbled, "The Golden Ancient Tree actually has such an ability? It's truly amazing. If we take it, it might become a place where Spirit Beasts can live peacefully in the future."

Tang San, however, said coldly, "Born in sorrow, die in ease."

Gu Yuena pouted, not very happy, and said, "How can you say that? I just want my Spirit Beast subjects to have a stable living area."

"I think, to achieve that goal, you first need to clear out all other creatures besides Spirit Beasts." Tang San shook his head, "And even if you succeed, you still have to consider internal competition... Speaking of which, you Spirit Beasts also prey on each other, right? If you can't change that, Spirit Beasts will always be the oppressed party by intelligent creatures like humans, because your unity is only superficial, or rather, limited to the Ten-thousand year soul beast. So, in terms of population... beast population, you are at a natural disadvantage, not to mention in terms of thinking."

"Spirit Beasts are very smart, aren't they?" Gu Yuena said angrily.

"I didn't say Spirit Beasts are stupid, but you've also lived in human society for a few years, you should have recognized the difference between Spirit Beasts themselves and humans, right? Spirit Beasts are accustomed to the power contained within their bodies and lack human creativity... or rather, they are accustomed to the way of Life they've developed over ten thousand years and don't seek progress."

Tang San explained in detail some of the differences between Spirit Beasts and humans, "This is the difference between Spirit Beasts and humans: whether to be content with the current environment, or to transform the environment to suit one's own survival. Two attitudes, two choices."

"Of course, it's not necessarily that the human way is superior. The ultimate goal is survival. Perhaps one day we humans will destroy ourselves, and Spirit Beasts will still be living well."

"But I think that even if humans disappear, a portion of Spirit Beasts will inevitably choose to evolve towards the human form, thus leading to the reappearance of the human species in this World."

"However, the greatest possibility is that before humans destroy themselves, Spirit Beasts will have already disappeared."

Gu Yuena's mind trembled, and she couldn't help but worry about the future of Spirit Beasts.

After all, what Tang San said was true. Spirit Beasts don't have the same intelligence as humans, or rather, they lack human creativity. They are content with the status quo. Even when they explore, they only fly around the World, not bothering to carefully examine the environment of those places. And if they encounter danger in certain areas, they will never go there again.

But humans will continue to explore until they conquer that area.

This is the gap.

Even if future Human Spirit Masters no longer need Spirit Beast spirit rings to advance, as the human population increases, it will inevitably squeeze the Spirit Beasts' living space.

That's a struggle for survival!

Of course, coexistence is also possible, where Spirit Beasts become domesticated pets, like ordinary cats, dogs, or parrots, dependent on humans. However, Spirit Beasts are wild and difficult to tame. Only a very small number of Spirit Beasts with extremely weak bloodlines can be tamed by humans. For other Spirit Beasts to be tamed, perhaps only after she, the Silver Dragon King, achieves Dragon God status, can all Spirit Beasts be subdued...

Hmm?

Why did she think that way?

Gu Yuena pondered, was her way of thinking becoming more and more human-like, and less like a Spirit Beast's?

Spirit Beasts were clearly her subjects!

However, in the human World, there are so many delicious, fun, and beautiful things. Although there are also people with ill intentions, there are also those who sacrifice themselves for others.

Spirit Beasts don't have the concept of "self-sacrifice for others." Perhaps Di Tian and others might go through fire and water for her, but that's because they are fierce beasts, whose intelligence is no less than humans'. The vast majority of Ten-thousand year soul beast and below are completely controlled by their bloodline instincts. Their first reaction to danger is to flee.

Moreover, the environment of the Star Dou Great Forest has remained unchanged for thousands, even tens of thousands of years, making it extremely monotonous.

Of course, more importantly, Tang San wasn't in the Star Dou Great Forest...

[So annoying!]

Gu Yuena brainstormed for a while, got annoyed, and decided to give up thinking.

[Anyway, I'm just a clone. I'll let my main body think about it then...]

Half a day later, Tang San, Gu Yuena, Yu Tianheng, and Dugu Yan gathered in the Golden Ancient Tree's first-floor hall. Both Yu Tianheng and Dugu Yan were laden with storage soul tools, having gained a rich harvest.

"How do we get out now?" Yu Tianheng looked at the main door, where a tall mech stood, blocking the entrance. From the hall, he could only see its steel-cast legs, but he estimated its height to be at least twenty meters.

Moreover, in the hall, Yu Tianheng used his electromagnetic hyper-frequency ability, unleashed his fourth Spirit Ability, Blue Lightning Divine Dragon Dash, and condensed an electromagnetic storm dragon cannon to attack the steel leg.

But the moment the electromagnetic storm dragon cannon hit the steel, the lightning was absorbed, unable to cause any damage.

"According to the data on the tenth floor, these mechs only follow certain procedures. As long as we hold a piece of Golden Ancient Tree wood or a branch, they won't attack, because their program has a setting that they cannot harm the Golden Ancient Tree in the slightest, even a branch will trigger their prohibition command."

After Tang San finished speaking, he proposed a second method, "Besides that, it's to gain authority over those mechs and become their new masters."

"There are two ways: one-on-one defeat a giant mech in full power mode, and correctly answer the questionnaire given by the mech."

The Golden Civilization's method of selecting successors was very simple: civil and martial.

Civil, meaning correctly answering the questionnaire. According to relevant information, the one hundred questions were not all related to spirit tool knowledge, but also included humanities, geography, astronomy, mathematics, chemistry, physics, and so on.

Martial, meaning a one-on-one duel, but against a giant mech, and a mech in full power mode had the strength equivalent to a ninety-ninth-level Peak Douluo!

The material of these mechs was at least of the fusion-forged level, truly steel bodies, possessing intelligent combat AI and large-scale destructive weapons capable of carpet bombing.

Tang San estimated that unless it was a crushing power at the God-level, challenging them would be like lighting a lamp in a restroom—seeking death.

These two were also the Golden Civilization's basic requirements for selecting future successors—

If all the intelligent AIs of those mechs were integrated, it would be the most precious treasure left by the Golden Civilization: the Heart of Gold, similar to the intelligent optical computers in the sci-fi novels Tang San read in his previous Life, containing all the Golden Civilization's research data and achievements, including the data that the surviving members handed over to the Dragon God for destruction.

One could only say that the Dragon God didn't understand technology and its power...

321: How to leave the Golden Ancient Tree

“Captain, can you defeat a mech?” Yu Tianheng stared intently at Tang San, his eyes full of anticipation, hoping he would say yes. Otherwise, they might have to live in this Golden Ancient Tree for the rest of their lives.

Although the cultivation environment here was excellent, without food reserves, they would starve to death after a while. And this Golden Ancient Tree didn't seem to bear fruit?

That was tragic.

“I can’t defeat it.”

In reality, if it came down to it, he could put up a fight. However, the 'Greed, Hatred, and Ignorance' in its current three-headed, six-armed state had extreme uncertainty. He couldn't maintain a calm emotional state during combat, nor could he use 'Greed, Hatred, and Ignorance' to absorb his various negative emotions just to maintain his sanity.

He needed to cultivate himself for a period to slowly study the roots of those three great evils.

“That’s troublesome then.” Dugu Yan frowned tightly. “These things can’t be corroded by poison either. When my poison touches them, it’s similar to Tianheng’s lightning; it gets converted into spirit power and absorbed.”

The Bi Lin Snake Emperor's poison was also converted using spirit power. For the mechs left behind by the Golden Civilization, it could naturally be converted into spirit power, or other types of energy.

If Dugu Yan's poison cultivation, built upon her 丹珠, was as profound as Dugu Bo's, then the snake venom might be able to materialize.

The Golden Civilization must have also researched Spirit materialization, but those mechs were already in “energy-saving mode,” so their efficiency wasn't high... it's just that Dugu Yan's current strength couldn't achieve it.

“Then should we look for the branches and leaves of the Golden Ancient Tree?” Yu Tianheng suggested. “It's just that the tree trunk here seems to be very hard; my Dragon Claws can't even tear off a small piece.”

“This method also has a problem. This is the core area of the Infinite Desert. There's a layer of storms blocking the outside. Even if we break through and enter the deeper regions of the Infinite Desert, we'll encounter many Ten-thousand year soul beasts, and even Ten-thousand year soul beasts.” Tang San shook his head. “Although I know there are many underground passages directly leading to the outside beneath the lake at the edge of this island, they should all be filled with water by now.”

Last time, Tang San was able to take Xiao Wu, Guang Ling, Huo Wu, and Fire Phoenix through the underground passage because he used the impact of the water flow. But now, the water there wouldn't flow.

If they were to take those passages, they would have to swim nearly ten thousand li, and they wouldn't be able to breathe during that time.

Tang San clearly didn't have the ability to breathe underwater at the moment... Wait—“Na'er, can you breathe underwater?” Tang San suddenly remembered that they had a “master” who could control water elements here.

“I can, but for such a long journey, I'd have to use my full power.” Gu Yuena emphasized “full power,” hinting to Tang San that she didn't want to reveal her identity.

Not only was she worried about Yu Tianheng and Dugu Yan discovering her Spirit Beast identity, but she was also afraid that the God Realm would notice the God Realm aura on Douluo Star and trace it back.

She wasn't ready to face the gods of the God Realm yet—even in her prime, she couldn't defeat Shura, let alone now, with her main body's injuries still unrecovered.

“Is that so? Then forget it.” Tang San also realized that Gu Yuena couldn't use her full power, so he said to Yu Tianheng and Dugu Yan, “She can't use her hidden power right now; it will attract more troublesome existences. But there's no need to worry; perhaps we can return the way we came... Na'er and I also collected some spirit tools on the upper floors. Maybe there's a spirit tool that can travel underwater.”

Immediately, everyone took out all the spirit tools they had collected and began to try them one by one.

Although there were relevant introductions in the original places where the spirit tools were placed, in order to collect them quickly, everyone just stuffed them into their storage soul tools without looking closely. Now that these spirit tools were piled together, they could only test them slowly.

However, fortunately, Tang San could at least determine the main function of the spirit tools based on their appearance, which could speed things up.

Three hours later, Gu Yuena found a palm-sized spirit tool that looked like a small boat, but with three fish-fin-like paddles on each side, and a transparent crystal-blue cover protecting the top of the boat body.

“I remember, the introduction for this spirit tool was: Hailand Fish Boat. It was made to resemble the Hailand Fish in appearance and part of its physiological structure. Underwater, it can travel three thousand li a day.” Gu Yuena's memory was excellent; she could be said to have photographic memory.

“Three thousand li a day! Then it won't take many days for us to return the way we came along that underground dark river!” Dugu Yan said excitedly.

“Then let’s test it.” Tang San was a man of action, and he also found other boat-shaped spirit tools, one of which might be even faster.

They walked down the spiral staircase, then violently pulled open the elevator door again, and the four people filed in.

“Eh? What is this?” Gu Yuena found a scroll, only the size of an index finger, in the bloodstains beneath the pipe... Earlier, when that middle-aged man was torn to pieces, the ground was full of bloodstains, and no one investigated. Now that the bloodstains had dried a bit, things that weren't torn apart by the wind element emerged.

Gu Yuena controlled the power of the water element to clean the bloodstains, picked up the index-finger-sized scroll, and injected spirit power into it. She found that it became thicker and longer, and when pulled to both sides, a three-dimensional topographic map appeared.

Dugu Yan curiously touched it, but found that it was just an illusion, and the spot she touched was directly magnified, with its internal structure clearly displayed.

“This should be a three-dimensional holographic map.” Tang San had experience. He supported the map with his Blue Silver Emperor and continuously slid his hands across it, finding that the map of the entire Infinite Desert was included, and it could also provide precise positioning based on the user.

How was precise positioning achieved?

Tang San thought of two possibilities:

Firstly, there was still a satellite or similar device launched by the Golden Civilization in space that could provide precise positioning.

Secondly, the depths of the entire Infinite Desert were densely covered with devices that sensed this map, thereby enabling precise positioning of the user—the item being positioned was this map, not the user.

Considering the underground passages in the Infinite Desert, the second possibility was more likely.

And the probability of the first possibility was extremely small.

After all, there were many more uncertainties in space than on Douluo Star itself, and targets were relatively obvious. Moreover, the Golden Civilization would certainly have to consider the Dragon God and the God Realm.

“With this map, does it mean that we won’t get lost in the Infinite Desert anymore?” Yu Tianheng asked excitedly.

“For now, yes, but the principle of this thing should be similar to the Blue Silver Network I established in Spirit City.” Tang San nodded. “This thing should only be similar to a sensing device. Once there’s a major change in the Infinite Desert, it will become ineffective. But for us right now, it can indeed clearly detect the terrain of the Infinite Desert.”

After sliding on the holographic map for a while, Tang San returned the map to Gu Yuenan and said, “Currently, there are many ways to leave the core area, but the safest one is still from that dark river...”

322: Bionics reference for Hai Lan fish boats: Hai Lan fish

While testing various spirit tool boat types, Tang San unexpectedly discovered over twenty super-large spirit tool ships similar to aircraft carriers in Gu Yuena's Golden Rope Pouch of Treasures, named the Haohai Sky Ark.

Each one could be considered a maritime fortress, capable of housing the population of a small town.

“How powerful was the Golden Civilization before its destruction?” Yu Tianheng’s eyes nearly popped out when he saw the enormous Haohai Sky Ark.

Gu Yuena was not much better, as the Haohai Sky Ark’s size was almost as large as her true form.

The Golden Civilization...

This destroyed nation, in that even more distant era, truly defeated the Dragon God before he obtained the two divine forces of Creation and Destruction... Gu Yuena no longer had any doubts about this point.

Putting away the Haohai Sky Ark, Tang San said to Gu Yuena, “Take out the Hailand Fish Boat. This Haohai Sky Ark is too big; the underground river can’t fit it.”

Gu Yuena nodded obediently, took out the Hailand Fish Boat, and infused it with spirit power, transforming it into a small fishing boat about twenty meters long.

Screech!

The cover on the side opened, and the four people entered in single file. The cover then automatically closed and slowly submerged.

Tang San sat in the driver's seat at the very front, holding the instrument similar to a steering wheel, controlling the boat to swim upstream. He found that its speed was not slow at all. The water coming head-on was repelled by the spirit tool patterns on the Hailand Fish Boat, and even with the thrust of the water flow, the forward speed was even faster.

"It truly borrows the structure of the Hailand Fish." Tang San sensed the water flow around the Hailand Fish Boat with his mental force and couldn't help but exclaim, "The research and Creation of spirit tools are essentially bionics."

"Bionics?" Gu Yuena asked, puzzled.

"It means inventing and creating by imitating the characteristics of animals and plants, not limited to spirit tools, but also including various things made by humans," Tang San explained to Gu Yuena. "Didn't you memorize the introduction of this Hailand Fish Boat? It was invented and created by imitating the appearance and some structures of the Hailand Fish."

"The Hailand Fish is a very weak Spirit Beast, almost none reach the thousand-year level. For most sea Spirit Beasts and a small portion of land Spirit Beasts, this Spirit Beast is a delicacy."

"But it also has advantages that other Spirit Beasts do not, which is that during its annual breeding season, it lays a great many eggs. A single adult female Hailand Fish can lay nearly ten thousand fish eggs at once."

"It's similar to a Spirit Beast called the Iron Tooth Fish in this Infinite Desert. It gave up strength and chose survival, and even more thoroughly."

Gu Yuena pouted, "Then what's the use of this kind of Spirit Beast? Isn't it still eaten?"

“Yes, it’s eaten, but by relying on their numerical advantage, perhaps in one hundred thousand, one million, or ten million years, the Hailand Fish will still exist as a species, while other powerful Spirit Beasts, especially those like dragons, phoenixes, and Qilins, will no longer be seen, or even be extinct,” Tang San said calmly. “From the perspective of species survival and reproduction, the Hailand Fish has evolved very successfully. At the very least, they existed during the prosperous era of the Golden Civilization and have continued to this day.”

Gu Yuena’s mind trembled. She suddenly realized that if one merely wanted Spirit Beasts to survive and reproduce, it was actually not very difficult; one only needed to give up strength.

But how could Spirit Beasts give up evolution?

Yet, what was evolution for?

Survival.

But once one possesses wisdom, how could it merely be for survival? One would inevitably pursue higher, faster, stronger!

“I suddenly realized that this World is full of contradictions.” Gu Yuena began to think in philosophical terms.

“Snap out of it.” Tang San pulled her back. “I hope you think more, but don’t think too much. That’s not a good thing for someone like you whose worldview isn’t fully developed yet.”

Psychological age has little to do with how many years one has actually lived.

Tang San only hoped she wouldn’t be too fixated on the distinction between Spirit Beast and human. After all, Spirit Beasts couldn’t even be considered a single large race; different types of Spirit Beasts couldn’t be of one mind.

Moreover, he felt that those ferocious beasts that could transform into human form were also deceiving themselves.

Even if it wasn't a true transformation, after transforming into human form, their physical bodies were identical to humans. Aside from being able to revert to their beast form, what part of them couldn't be called human?

Don't tell him that the internal organs in their massive beast form were the same size as the organs inside their two-to-three-meter-tall human form... Just thinking about it makes it impossible, right?

However, from this perspective, a ferocious beast that has survived a heavenly tribulation should have mastered the conversion between matter and energy... But Tang San felt that they themselves didn't know what was going on; they only knew that ferocious beasts could turn into human form and could instinctively use it...

“Hmph!”

Gu Yuena snorted coldly, then asked, “By the way, weren't we talking about bionics? How did we get to the Hailand Fish?”

“High reproduction is just one characteristic of the Hailand Fish, and the reason I mentioned it is because their breeding grounds are in freshwater river areas,” Tang San said, describing the breeding process of the Hailand Fish, which has similar habits to salmon. “Hailand Fish usually live in the ocean. Every breeding season, they will swim in schools against the currents of large rivers flowing into the sea, returning to calm freshwater river areas to mate and reproduce there.”

“And the flow rate of large rivers entering the sea is much faster than the flow rate of this underground river. Even sea Spirit Beasts of ten thousand years or more find it difficult to swim upstream for too long a distance.”

“But these Hailand Fish, which at most only live for a hundred years, are able to swim upstream in schools. Even Hailand Fish that are only ten years old can achieve feats that ten-thousand-year sea Spirit Beasts cannot.”

“Moreover, this swim is a journey of nearly ten thousand li—”

“A book in the Supreme Pontiff Palace titled ‘Interesting Tales of Mountain and River Spirit Beasts’ records: In early January, along the East Sea coast, Hailand Fish swim upstream in a vast, mighty procession, like a silver dragon, traversing ten thousand li over two months to lay eggs in Lingyuan River. The fish eggs are delicious... Ahem, that’s another story.”

“The Hailand Fish can accomplish the feat of swimming upstream that even ten-thousand-year sea Spirit Beasts cannot, because their bodies are shaped like a flattened triangular pyramid. The water flow that impacts them flows over their bodies, becoming a propelling force for them rather than resistance.”

“In addition, they have three pairs of fins that can manipulate water flow, further accelerating their upstream speed.”

“This Hailand Fish Boat borrows these two characteristics of the Hailand Fish, mimicking its shape in bionics, and then engraving spirit tool patterns primarily of the water attribute.”

Gu Yuena was deeply moved. She had never thought that the Hailand Fish, a Spirit Beast she had never paid attention to and considered merely food, would possess such great abilities.

For survival and reproduction, it abandoned evolving towards strength, and instead evolved super strong reproductive capabilities, as well as a body shape capable of swimming upstream and fins primarily used to manipulate water flow, all for the sake of reproduction.

If a Hailand Fish could reach the one-hundred-thousand-year level, perhaps its singular method of manipulating water flow would be even more exquisite than hers, the Silver Dragon King’s?

323: Inspiration to Gu Yuena

“Perhaps, you could learn from the movement of the Hailand Fish and their control over water flow. It might allow you to use water elements more exquisitely.”

This was Tang San’s ultimate goal in saying so much: to make Gu Yuena set aside her pride as a Silver Dragon and observe Spirit Beasts, and even ordinary creatures, that she had previously disregarded.

Their bodies, evolved over millions, tens of millions, or even hundreds of millions of years, also possessed admirable qualities, and some of their specialties were far beyond what she, the Silver Dragon King, who had fallen into severe injury and slumber shortly after birth, could compare to.

Aside from cultivation, strength, and elemental control, the Silver Dragon King was practically useless.

If her three abilities were the strongest in the entire universe, not mastering those techniques wouldn't matter, as everything would be a matter of one claw strike from her anyway.

But unfortunately, the Silver Dragon King was not invincible. If she couldn't let go of the Dragon Clan's pride, she would only be able to bully weaker opponents, no different from Xiao Wu in the original work.

Oh~

There was still a slight difference; this fellow's bloodline was stronger than that of the Soft Bones Rabbit, allowing her to bully a few more 'weaker opponents,' and she had endless flashy maneuvers, even able to split herself in half—

Speaking of which, she is split in half now, isn't she?

"I feel like you're thinking something bad." Gu Yuena was intelligent, and having been influenced by Tang San since she was six, she had taken his words to heart and understood his meaning: observe more, learn more, imitate more. However, her sixth sense was also extremely keen, and through his shifty eyes, she could perceive that he was thinking something impolite.

"Misconception." Tang San remained expressionless, focusing on driving.

"Captain is still the same. Whenever it comes to research, he always goes on and on." Dugu Yan sat on another seat, smiling slightly.

"Maybe it's a habit from childhood." Tang San chuckled and couldn't help but tease Dugu Yan and Yu Tianheng about their relationship, "Speaking of which, what do your families think about your relationship?"

Yu Tianheng coughed and said seriously, "I joined Spirit Hall in my personal capacity, so my family can't control me. And truthfully, Yan Yan's Nine-Headed Azure Jade Serpent Emperor also possesses dragon bloodline, so my family won't object."

It would be strange if the Blue Lightning Tyrant Dragon Clan objected. After all, Dugu Yan has Dugu Bo, a Titled Douluo, standing behind her. If the two combine, Dugu Bo would also lean towards the Blue Lightning Tyrant Dragon Clan.

The powerhouses of this clan are indeed very arrogant, and most of the younger generation look down on Spirit Masters with other Spirits, but that doesn't mean they would be foolish enough to push away a Titled Douluo who has hope of leaning towards the Blue Lightning Tyrant Dragon Clan.

"Me too, and Grandfather isn't strict with my upbringing." Compared to Yu Tianheng, Dugu Yan was much freer, and influenced by Dugu Bo, she was also a bit unconventional. "Speaking of which, the most unrestrained person here is you, Captain. We heard that in Spirit City, you, the Holy Son, have a large amount of free time, at most offering suggestions to the Holy Maiden, Supreme Pontiff, and others. It's quite relaxed."

Tang San gave an awkward smile and said, "I'm not exactly idle, am I? Most of my time is spent researching, cultivating, and guiding others, as well as maintaining and updating the Blue Silver Network. Every day is very busy. My only relaxing moments are the few hours of rest at night."

Gu Yuena: → _ →

Although Tang San wasn't lying, she always felt something was off. He was clearly very busy when he was in Spirit City... Right, it was about being 'busy.'

During the day, he was busy with his work, research, life, and cultivation, and at night, he was busy with Xiao Wu and the others' bloodline cultivation...

Suddenly, she realized her thoughts were not pure.

"This isn't idle?" Dugu Yan asked enviously, "Tianheng and I have been roughing it for the past two years, tirelessly pursuing The Fallen teams. We haven't dared to slack off at all. For us, time spent cultivating is the most leisurely time."

Dark swamps.

Dense jungles.

Desolate Gobi.

In the past two years, the environments Dugu Yan and Yu Tianheng had visited were not very friendly, a stark contrast to Spirit City where Tang San was.

How could they not be envious?

"Haha, you two can live in Spirit City in the future too." Tang San felt that Bibi Dong likely sent Yu Tianheng and Dugu Yan out to avoid contact with him, but now that they had met, he naturally couldn't pretend not to see them. Moreover, when they go out to perform tasks like pursuing The Fallen in the future, they shouldn't encounter such troublesome enemies.

Transmigrators, there are indeed quite a few on this Douluo Continent...

...

Three days later.

Aside from Gu Yuena, the three of them took turns piloting the Hailand Fish Boat, finally arriving at the entrance of the underground river.

After going ashore, Tang San put away the Hailand Fish Boat and led everyone out.

The local Branch Master heard sounds from inside and was initially alert. After seeing Tang San and the others, he immediately joyfully led his men to surround them: "Holy Son, Lord Yu Tianheng, have you found anything?"

"That team of The Fallen has been brought to justice, but there's no way to bring them back for trial." Tang San smiled faintly, "But you should have records of their appearances, right? Just transmit them to Spirit City, and they will be criticized along with other The Fallen."

"Of course." The local Branch Master bowed, then asked, "Would you all be willing to rest at my place for a few days?"

"Tianheng, Yan Yan, what do you two think?" For Tang San, the sooner he returned, the better, as there were a large number of researches waiting for him in Spirit City, especially the Blue Silver Network, which required his personal adjustment. However, he also had to consider the opinions of Yu Tianheng and Dugu Yan, after all—

They had been out for so many days, a few more wouldn't matter.

Yu Tianheng stretched lazily, naturally putting his arm around Dugu Yan's waist, and said, "Let's not. We're not used to the Desert environment here.

It's better to leave quickly. Yan Yan and I both need to go home. It doesn't feel right not to visit our families after being away for so long."

"That's true." Tang San nodded, declined the Branch Master's kind offer, and directly left Three Shura Town with Yu Tianheng, Dugu Yan, and the few Spirit Ancestors who had come along.

Along the way, Gu Yuena suddenly asked, "Why didn't you ask me if I wanted to stay and rest for a few days?"

"The minority obeys the majority. I, Tianheng, and Yan Yan all don't want to, so your agreement or disagreement is irrelevant." Tang San realized he had previously overlooked Gu Yuena's feelings, but he immediately found a reason and said, "Next time, I will definitely ask for your opinion."

"Hmph, if you don't ask for my opinion next time, I'll drain your blood." Gu Yuena snorted, her fierce yet adorable expression making Tang San unable to resist pinching her cheek.

"Alright!"

"Definitely next time!"

324: Current status of Lingtang Technology Co., Ltd. (Part 1)

When they passed through Heaven Dou City, Yu Tianheng and Dugu Yan wanted to go home to take a look, and Tang San also planned to visit Silverblue Manor, so he let the remaining Spirit Ancestors return to Spirit City first.

"This place is much more prosperous than before." Gu Yuena compared Heaven Dou City from her memory two years ago and found that besides the usual street layout, there were many new things.

For example, the spirit tool steam locomotive.

Although there were many novel spirit tools for daily life here, they were basically outdated versions that had flowed out from Spirit City, making them relatively backward.

However, this spirit tool steam locomotive was unique to Heaven Dou City. It was said that Crown Prince Xue Qinghe had cooperated with Ling Tang Technology Unlimited Company within two years to develop a vehicle similar to a bus.

For this, Heaven Dou City even specially built tracks for this spirit tool steam locomotive, which could be said to have changed the way people traveled within Heaven Dou City.

Even Spirit City began to cooperate with Ling Tang Technology Unlimited Company to obtain permission to produce spirit tool steam locomotives... This was also because Ling Tang Technology Unlimited Company belonged to Guang Ling and Tang San; otherwise, Spirit Hall would have many ways to acquire the entire company.

"Lingxi manages things quite well." Arriving in front of Ling Tang Technology Unlimited Company, Tang San observed the scale, which was nearly 1.5 times larger than two years ago, and couldn't help but sigh, "It seems she has a lot of talent in this area, but I wonder what level her spirit power has reached."

Lingxi and her daughter both possess self-condensing spirit rings. They improve their cultivation based on the three treasures of essence, qi, and spirit, without needing to hunt Spirit Beasts; they only need to break the shackles on those self-condensing spirit rings.

In two years, Lingxi has probably broken through to the Spirit King level.

And Ling Meng has a high probability of becoming a Spirit Ancestor.

The guard at the door happened to be the one who had stopped Tang San before. Seeing Tang San standing outside for a while, he walked out. After getting closer and seeing his appearance clearly, he tentatively asked, "Are you Earl?".

"It's me, we met before." Tang San naturally recognized this person, smiled, and said, "How have you been these past two years?"

"Thanks to Earl, I'm already a squad leader of the guards!" Not many people knew about that small incident back then, and they wouldn't spread it, so this person understood that the person in front of him was the real Earl, not some clumsy imitator. He immediately became excited, "I heard you were in Spirit City. Is this return for...?"

"Nothing, I just completed the [Pursuit of The Fallen] mission. On my way back, I passed by here and just came to take a look." Tang San indicated that the other party didn't need to alarm anyone else; he and Gu Yuena would just go in and look around.

"So that's how it is..." This person had naturally heard of The Fallen and looked indignant. Then he remembered something and said, "Earl, Crown Prince has also come here and is currently discussing cooperation on spirit tool products with Lingxi. Would you like to meet him?"

Qian Renxue?

As Tang San walked along, he also learned from the prosperity of Heaven Dou City that Xue Qinghe had gradually gained real power in Heaven Dou City... Now, the city's residents highly praised Xue Qinghe, and even Spirit Hall began to actively cooperate with the Royal Knights in law enforcement—how could they not cooperate? They were all family.

But in the eyes of those who didn't know, this was proof that Xue Qinghe was capable and had reached cooperation with the new Hall Master of Spirit Hall in Heaven Dou City, even making them submit to the Heaven Dou Imperial Family.

Moreover, Xue Qinghe was also quite interested in daily life spirit tools, so he cooperated with Ling Tang Technology Unlimited Company—if it were other nobles, they would probably use their power to oppress people and seize things by force.

Of course, everyone in Heaven Dou City knew who was behind Ling Tang Technology Unlimited Company, and no force dared to do that.

But at least Xue Qinghe's method of cooperation, coupled with his previously established benevolent image, and the frequent reports in the Tian Dou News over the past two years about "Xue Qinghe handles government affairs until two or three in the morning every day" and "Crown Prince is so overworked that his mental force is depleted," indeed won the trust and goodwill of nearly 90% of Heaven Dou City's residents.

"If Crown Prince visits and I, as the host, don't go to see him, it wouldn't be right." Tang San decided to go take a look and, incidentally, ascertain Qian Renxue's current strength.

"Then should I announce your arrival?" The guard took out a spirit tool similar to a telephone receiver from the security booth.

"No need, I'll go myself." Tang San stopped him and led Gu Yuena towards the office building.

Compared to two years ago, this office building had also been expanded, reaching a height of nine floors. Inside, there was an elevator-like lift located on the side of the lobby.

Gu Yuena pressed the button, the light above the lift lit up, and a cylinder below began to roll. The front displayed nine numbers, from nine to one. When the number stopped at one, the lift door slowly opened, revealing a square, narrow space.

"It's really convenient." Gu Yuena took the lead and walked in.

Tang San followed closely, pressed the number nine button on the side, and the lift door slowly closed.

"By the way, the glass pillar under the Golden Ancient Tree, its principle and function are similar to this spirit tool lift, right?" Gu Yuena could feel herself ascending and confirmed the situation of the glass pillar at the base of the Golden Ancient Tree's main root with Tang San.

"The principle and function are indeed the same, but the technical content is much higher than this kind of lift. At least we haven't found a platform for people to stand on there." Tang San stomped his foot, and a thudding sound came from below. "Perhaps when the lift at the Golden Ancient Tree activates, it can directly lift the human body with some kind of energy. At least, under my mental force perception, that transparent glass contains dense spirit tool patterns..."

Ding!

Upon reaching the ninth floor, the lift door opened, and Tang San and Gu Yuena stepped out one after another.

Unlike the spacious lobby on the first floor, many people were sitting at desks processing various documents, looking very busy, truly resembling a modern company.

When these people saw Tang San and Gu Yuena, they only glanced briefly and then paid no further attention, continuing with their work.

"You, as the 'owner,' aren't very well-received, are you?" Gu Yuena secretly chuckled.

"What owner or not owner? The relationship between the people here and me is not that of slaves and slave owners." Tang San was quite particular about this point, pulling Gu Yuena to walk past the edges of these office desks towards the independent office.

Just about to knock on the door—

"Wait, who are you?" Someone called out to him, "That's Ling Meng's office. She's currently discussing further cooperation matters with Crown Prince and cannot be disturbed... By the way, are you also an admirer of Earl? You're dressed quite similarly, but how did you get in?"

"Logically, the guard shouldn't let an imitator of Earl in."

Tang San smiled faintly and said, "Is there a possibility that I am the real one?"

The person was stunned for a moment, and those nearby also stopped their work, staring intently at Tang San.

"You're really Silverblue Earl!?"

325: Current status of Lingtang Technology Co., Ltd. (Part 2)

"What's all the noise about? Don't you want to work anymore?"

The office door suddenly opened, and Lingxi appeared furious, but upon seeing Tang San for the first time, she was initially startled, then delighted, saying, "Earl, is that really you?"

"Cough, cough." Tang San coughed twice and said, "Isn't it inappropriate to talk here? The Crown Prince seems to be in the office too."

"This... that... I got a bit excited." Lingxi was a little flustered but immediately suppressed her excitement, stepped aside, and invited Tang San and Gu Yuena to enter.

"Brother Tang, long time no see. You didn't even send me a message; I've missed you so much." Xue Qinghe was sitting at the tea table at this moment. Upon seeing Tang San, he immediately stood up, smiled, and came forward, making a gesture to hug him, but then seemed to remember something, lowered his arms, laughed heartily, and pulled Tang San to sit down.

But for some reason, Tang San could detect a hint of resentment in her eyes...

Lingxi stood by, pouring tea and serving snacks for the two of them and Gu Yuena, a natural smile unconsciously gracing her lips—she had thought Tang San wouldn't return for at least five years after going to Spirit City, but unexpectedly, he was back in Heaven Dou City after only two years.

It truly made her happy! Even excited!

"This isn't about being busy with cultivation and research. This time, I just finished tracking down a team of The Fallen and passed through Heaven Dou City, so I came back to take a look."

Tang San briefly explained his situation, then praised Xue Qinghe: "It's you, Crown Prince, who has become increasingly mature. Emperor Xue Ye must feel that he has a worthy successor."

The so-called maturity wasn't just Tang San's words; compared to two years ago, Xue Qinghe's dark circles were heavier, making him look perpetually sleepy.

It's likely that over these two years, as Emperor Xue Ye gradually relinquished power, Qian Renxue had to handle more and more affairs. Coupled with needing to outwardly consider the development of Spirit City and now cooperating with Ling Tang Technology Unlimited Company, if he weren't exhausted to this sleepy state, he wouldn't be worthy of his Crown Prince identity!

However, Qian Renxue's true mental state remains unknown. After all, Seraphim is a god-tier Spirit, a true all-rounder in every sense. It's impossible for her to be exhausted to this state by mere Empire affairs, right?

Probably.

"Alas, speaking of my Imperial Father, his health has been deteriorating recently. It's all because he overworked too much in his youth, which tired him out." Xue Qinghe suddenly sighed.

"Being an Emperor isn't that easy." Tang San knew that Emperor Xue Ye's declining health was definitely related to Xue Qinghe, and he even suspected that because Qian Renxue had gradually become familiar with Empire affairs and wanted to quickly obtain the throne, he reminded her, "There are so many affairs every day, it's extremely busy."

"Indeed."

Xue Qinghe nodded in agreement, clearly not understanding Tang San's underlying meaning—that her foundation wasn't strong enough and she needed to cultivate more people truly loyal to her.

"May I ask if the Crown Prince has taken a wife or concubines this year?" Seeing this, Tang San didn't dwell on the topic but asked about her lifelong matter, "For a Tiandou Royal child, not marrying and having children at this age can lead to gossip."

This was also Tang San's kind reminder: a Crown Prince who isn't interested in women, under the age of eighteen, can be said to have strong self-control. But over eighteen, people will start to wonder if there's a problem in that regard or if their sexual orientation is different from the norm.

For the Tiandou Royal family, this is a big problem.

"My Imperial Father has also mentioned it to me, but as soon as I think about people in the Empire who can't eat enough, can't dress warmly, and can't find a wife, what face do I have to marry and have children?"

Xue Qinghe was full of worry, displaying a posture of caring for the country and its people, which made Gu Yuena, who was eating snacks nearby, roll her eyes repeatedly—

How can you, a woman, marry and have children? Are you going to borrow a man's seed to give birth yourself? Or are you going to pretend to find a woman and then adopt a child?

In the latter case, if it's not your biological child, can you truly care?

Oh, I almost forgot, there's no family affection in the Tiandou Royal family; a lack of care is normal.

